Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rafee Jajou Investing is ownership. When I own a share of a business, I deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Some argue that fewer reports would reduce costs. Maybe. But in an age of AI and increasingly efficient disclosure tools, even that point won’t be effective. Others argue it would ease the pressure to manage quarter to quarter. But short-termism comes from how people react to information, not from the information itself. Taking the reports away doesn't make anyone more patient. It just makes everyone less informed. Less information rarely creates better-informed owners. Imagine owning a business that operates daily but an owner receives updates from their managers only twice a year. They would be less informed about its performance. This is essentially the proposal. This will weaken our economy and confidence in our US markets, not strengthen it. This proposal will open the door to more corruption and conflict of interests in business.

Raff DiVitto — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Raff DiVitto Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 to maintain transparent and consistent market accountability. Regular reporting provides investors with a steady flow of data to track financial health, while frequent disclosures curb insider information advantages and promote well-informed, stable investment decisions

Sent from my iPhone

Raffaello Sacerdoti — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Raffaello Sacerdoti I do not support this measure to reduce reporting requirements from 4 per year to 2.

---

raghu charr — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: raghu charr We have faced catastrophy in 2008 (GFC) etc due to poor self governance, I therefor oppose the proposal to proposalallow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two.

Rahul Aggarwal Affiliate Chartered Accountant — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rahul Aggarwal Can't think of any real benefit of less transparency on sharing information with investors. With the increased risk globally, it is of utmost important that we become more and more transparent then reducing the frequency of reporting.

---

raine370 — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: raine370 Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Lorraine Swedo, Entrepreneur. No blackouts. Gives time to hide/ disguise stuff. The state and Feds require Quarterly reporting (and payments). Also we have the right to know how our companies are doing and to watch trends, its our money . So keep Quarrterly reporting

Sent from my Galaxy

Rainer Garcia Aldama — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rainer Garcia Aldama Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their investors. short-termism is not related to reporting but to education. Better educated investors make better long-term bets.

Rajesh F Bhalla — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rajesh F Bhalla I am not in favor of reducing transparency to public companies, financials, and operational metrics. This is not the best interest of investors. I will gladly have my investments, bear the burden of a small amount of overhead for this transparency.

Ralph Barnes none — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ralph Barnes Less reporting will result in less transparency, a greater window to hide info, etc. etc. Also, recently reducing timing in the IPO rules I believe is a huge mistake, paving the way for insiders to take advantage of the investing public. Hard to believe the SEC allowed this. Needs to be investigated...anyone at the SEC profit from this? Any congressmen? Any hedge funds? Any insurance companies? Any unions? Any brokers? I'm sure I missed something...

Ralph Heimann N/A — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ralph Heimann Investors need timely and transparent information to make intelligent investment decisions, do not reduce the current reporting requirements. Investors need more information from management, not less. Thank you for your consideration.

Ralph Phillips None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ralph Phillips Keep the current process. More transparency is better.

RALPH RODGERS — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: RALPH RODGERS I DISAGREE WITH SEMI ANNUAL REPORTING

Ralph Segal — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ralph Segal Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I'm Ralph Segal Executive Producer and I want more transparency. Why would we go in the other direction?

Sent from iPhone 12 Pro Max

---

ralph smith — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: ralph smith Absolutely against such a move. Especially in an age where results are easily assembled... and usually assembled monthly.

Rama Inampudi — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rama Inampudi Investing is ownership, and owners deserve regular, transparent communication from the businesses they fund. Reducing reporting to twice a year weakens that connection and leaves investors with less timely insight into company performance. Cost-saving arguments are uncertain in an era of AI-driven disclosure tools, and reducing reports will not solve short-termism. Behavior drives short-term reactions — not the existence of information. Less reporting simply means less-informed owners. Companies operate every day. Strategies succeed or fail, customers are gained or lost, and risks emerge continuously. Under this proposal, shareholders would receive only half as many official updates about these developments. Less transparency does not reduce uncertainty — it increases it. When information arrives less frequently, surprises tend to be larger and market reactions more volatile. Quarterly reporting remains essential for informed ownership and market stability.

Ramez Abdalla Assistant professor of Radiology, Northwestern University — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ramez Abdalla Against the proposal that allows companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. If I own shares in a company, knowing how this company is performing only twice a year doesn't provide enough time to adjust my investment portfolio and strategies

---

Ramiro Curiel Life Insurance Agent — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ramiro Curiel The less transparency and access to information that exists, the greater the opportunity for misunderstandings, omissions, and misrepresentation. When facts, data, and relevant details are not readily available or openly shared, it becomes increasingly difficult to verify claims, assess accuracy, and make informed decisions. In such environments, the risk of misinformation, selective disclosure, and intentional or unintentional misrepresentation rises significantly. Transparency promotes accountability, while limited visibility often creates conditions where inaccuracies can go unnoticed and trust can be compromised.

Ramiro F Jimenez Individual Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ramiro F Jimenez I am very concerned about the loss of transparency in the proposed reduction of company reports from 4 to 2 annually. I would ask the SEC not to consider any legislation that would reduce this. Thank you for your consideration.

Ramon Monroe — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ramon Monroe Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is just criminal. Why, what good comes from this?

Ramses Cruz — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ramses Cruz Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
In my opinion, a change of that kind would add more volatility to an already highly volatile market; if that happens, I will likely pull my money out of the stock market.

Ranae Hagen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Ranae Hagen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Stop the insanity! Continue to make CEOs report every quarter so that they're not tempted to take money that's not theirs, from people who worked hard to get what they could. Say yes to continuing quarterly reports!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Randall Kenney N/A — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Randall Kenney All investors need more information on companies or entities they have invested in.

Randall Krum — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Randall Krum I oppose this proposal, strongly! As an owner of any company, I want more information, not less. Less transparency doesn’t eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater.

Randall Snipes Senior Pastor of Oak Grove Baptist Church — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Randall Snipes We do not need less information or less transparency. The quarterly reporting is a form of accountability that is critically important to the investor. Additionally, semi-annual reporting would allow those have a tendency toward laziness or tardiness to grow less disciplined.

Randell Sharpe Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Randell Sharpe I am a single person investing for myself and my family. It is extremely important to me to have accurate and timely information to make investing decisions. Changing reporting requirements from quarterly to semi-annually would make it much harder for individuals to make informed decisions. The current quarterly reporting by publicly held companies should remain the minimum regulatory requirement.

Randi — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Randi Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Randi Opp, bookkeeper, randiopp@centurylink.net Stop making fraud easier. People need and deserve to know the state of their investments

---

Randi Greenberg — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Randi Greenberg Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Charlatans with no conscience should not escape accountability for what they do with OUR money! You will destroy any remaining confidence in the market if you do this!

Sent from my iPhone

Randolph Brooks — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Randolph Brooks Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Randolph Brooks, private contractor and business owner (psychologist). SEC filings and reports need to remain quarterly because it helps me make decisions about where to invest my money.

Sent from my iPhone

RANDOLPH LATTIMER — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: RANDOLPH LATTIMER Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Randolph Lattimer. I am an Architect running a small practice in North Carolina. People keep getting richer beyond imagination through manipulation and bending the law. There is so much blatant corruption taking place in business and our government. Manipulation and fraud by business here has already cost my wife and I dearly. There are laws in place that are not being enforced, as a result companies have no hesitation breaking the law. And, Often when they do, they are given a get out of jail free card by the very officials that are supposed to protect us. There should be no excuses made or reduction of powers. Are you really that stupid.

Randolph Weil Retired Executive — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Randolph Weil As a former senior executive at Fortune 500 companies, I can assure you that this is a step in the wrong direction. Companies already have to have this information to manage their business. I am "old school", even when I was a COO, President or EVP, I was not confused about the shareholders being the owners of the company and me being hired help. There are many executives that ARE confused and think they are entitled to whatever they can help themselves to in spite of the owner's wishes. Informing the shareholders is an inconvenience in that process. I doubt that shareholders are interested in this move. I'd bet the support comes from the same executives who use the shareholders money along with their own for political contributions in the hopes of stacking the deck further in their favor.

Randy — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Randy Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it the same so everyone can see it and if they want to invest we all can have a chace

---

Randy Adams — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Randy Adams Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The only reason to drop the signed quarterly reports to the SEC is to provide cover for those organizations that choose to engage in fraud. That is not an acceptable ploy, and it not only does not serve the average American but actually undermines and damages them and the nation as a whole.

Sent from my iPhone
Randy Adams

Randy B. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Randy B. Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Good for small companies, which make up a large portion of the USA workplace.
Bad for big companies who report this to shareholders.Not as many of these as there are small companies.Shareholders need quarterlies,privately held companies do not.

Randy Berenson

Randy Foster — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Randy Foster Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting,, one set of rules for everybody. Randy Foster, tool and die technician.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Randy Geese — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Randy Geese Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The current financial reporting is necessary for all investors. Do not change to every 6 months. Continue with quarterly reporting.

Randall Geese

Randy Janes — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Randy Janes Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports

Sent from my iPhone

Randy L Worthington — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Randy L Worthington I am against semi-annual reporting. This would leave me in the dark on how and what companies that I have invested are doing for 6 months a year. That is not transparency. Do not approve semi-annual reporting.

Randy Satchwell CPA & retired internal revenue agent — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Randy Satchwell Less information to twice a year is unacceptable. Quarterly comparisons are vital to investors historical data to value investments and performance of management. Without that corruption like Enron will happen.

Randy Schulz stock holder — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Randy Schulz Please don't change the way stock are reported. This information is always useful in making decisions on trades. Cutting information to just 2 times a year would be wrong as a lot of things happen in a 1/4 that could change investment decisions.

Randy Smith — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Randy Smith Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The result of this proposal results in less transparency and in the event of a company’s demise, the public and investors are in the dark. You want the investment money, you do the needed paperwork, it’s part of the process and should not be changed unless it’s to more frequent reporting.

Thanks,
Randy

Randy Smith
206-755-8916

---

randy syme — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: randy syme Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I. Want my money back . If they refund all the.money maybe then we could consider. Randy syme, retire business owner. Lake odessa ,mi... however i think they need to stay in prison till the last party they screwed out of thier saving has pasted away.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

---

ranowsky — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ranowsky Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The retail investor has no other protections. Keep the current reporting requirements.

Get Outlook for Android

Raphael Lasar — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Raphael Lasar Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting requirements protect investors, particularly small investors. Cutting reporting requirements to six rather than three months is anti-consumer and anti-corporate integrity. Trust in the financial system is already low, don’t make it worse with this regulatory change.

Raphael Lasar
Matawan, NJ
Librarian

Ravindra Prakash — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ravindra Prakash I believe that public companies should disclose their financial statements promptly to ensure transparency. I strongly encourage honest communication from these entities. Given that modern companies maintain digital accounts and balances in real-time, it is essential that they publish their financial results on a quarterly basis to keep stakeholders informed.

---

rawiarda — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: rawiarda Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Not right if it's a public company the information needs to be public and current.

Sent from my Galaxy

Ray Armstrong — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ray Armstrong Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Ray Armstrong, President Armstrong Enterprise Another way of letting Enron boys back in.

Ray Malyala — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ray Malyala The proposal now on the table to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. I think that’s a mistake! At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Some argue that fewer reports would reduce costs. Maybe. Although in an age of AI and increasingly efficient disclosure tools, even that point is debatable. Others argue it would ease the pressure to manage quarter to quarter. But short-termism comes from how people react to information, not from the information itself. Taking the reports away doesn't make anyone more patient. It just makes everyone less informed. What isn’t debatable is that less information rarely creates better-informed owners. Imagine owning a business and getting updates from your managers only twice a year. It would still run every day. You'd just know far less about how it was doing. That's effectively what's being proposed here. Companies will continue operating every day. Products will be launched. Customers will be won and lost. Strategies will succeed and fail. Yet under this proposal, owners would receive only half as many official updates about the businesses they own. Less transparency doesn’t eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater. That greater volatility is not good for the market and investors. Therefore, I am AGAINST less reporting.

Ray Nordstrand — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ray Nordstrand Do NOT reduce reporting requirements.

Ray Phillips — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ray Phillips As an individual investor, I’m opposed to semi-annual reporting. I rely on quarterly reporting as a key metric to inform my investing decisions. Owning shares of a company effectively makes me a part owner. And as a part-owner I feel I have the right to know how my investments are doing at regular intervals. Why would I want to be less informed? Also, lessening the frequency of reporting would likely make the reporting periods far more volatile. A lot can happen in six months, both good and bad. Let's do everything in our power to keep markets stable and transparent for all investors. Less information means more uncertainty and less stability. Please keep the requirements for quarterly reporting. Thanks for your consideration.

Ray Roberts — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ray Roberts Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 What if instead we require monthly reports? Cutting reporting is going in the WRONG DIRECTION! Increasing the reporting rate will be better. What I am saying is reduced reporting increases risk and corruption. When the next crash happens it will be your fault for having promoted this foolishness.

L. Ray Roberts L.Ray.Roberts@gmail.com 412-439-3484

Ray White — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ray White Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 What a bad idea. —Ray White, public relations director for an international nonprofit.

— Ray White

---

raydee80 — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: raydee80 Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly!

Sent from my Galaxy

Raymond Briggs — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Raymond Briggs Hello, I am supportive of the change to semi annual. However would like to iterate the need for transparency and not allow analysts to get access to information outside of the disclosure unless public Thanks Ray

---

Raymond Domingue — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Raymond Domingue Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Changing quarterly earnings reporting to semi-annually is a bad idea. Don't allow a greater opportunity for fraud to negatively impact confidence in the financial markets. Don't be naive. If reporting is relaxed their be greater fraud.

Raymond E Steck Retired Small Business Owner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Raymond E Steck Investors need current information to make good investing decisions. In today's volatile markets, major changes happen daily, and six months is too long to wait for updated information.

Raymond Hill The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Raymond Hill I do not support the proposal to reduce the number of publicly traded company reports from 4 per year to two per year. I believe the proposal would lead to less transparency, would create the opportunity for a company to engage in questionable accounting practices (especially those that are financially unprofitable/unstable) which potentially would not be discovered for at least 6 months, could lead to fewer retail investors and greater market volatility.

Raymond Hoyt — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Raymond Hoyt Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is wrong and puts investors at risk from companies who will use this loophole to hide pertinent information from investors that would be manipulated on false information and current market and financial data.

Sent from my iPhone

Raymond Lee — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Raymond Lee A proposal is now on the table to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. We think that’s a mistake! At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Some argue that fewer reports would reduce costs. Maybe. Although in an age of AI and increasingly efficient disclosure tools, even that point is debatable. Others argue it would ease the pressure to manage quarter to quarter. But short-termism comes from how people react to information, not from the information itself. Taking the reports away doesn't make anyone more patient. It just makes everyone less informed. What isn’t debatable is that less information rarely creates better-informed owners. Imagine owning a business and getting updates from your managers only twice a year. It would still run every day. You'd just know far less about how it was doing. That's effectively what's being proposed here. Companies will continue operating every day. Products will be launched. Customers will be won and lost. Strategies will succeed and fail. Yet under this proposal, owners would receive only half as many official updates about the businesses they own. Less transparency doesn’t eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater. Reducing the number of quarterly reports to just twice annually would be a mistake and doesn’t serve the needs or interest of investors.

Raymond Legg — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Raymond Legg Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Corporations need to continue reporting quarterly. Semiannual reporting allows CEOs to more easily hide fraud and theft. As a stockholder I rely on quarterly reporting to ensure my investments remained financially sound. The only reason to return to semiannual reporting is to hide nefarious conduct.

Raymond L. Legg
Attorney at Law
Law Office of Raymond L. Legg, LLC
1103 Pollock Road
Mexico, MO 65265
Phone: (573) 721-3837

Raymond Markiewicz Private Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Raymond Markiewicz Quarterly reports to the stock holders force management to be more accountable. Otherwise, there would be no pressured on management to make the numbers on a timely basis.

Raymond Sauro Retired Financial Analyst — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Raymond Sauro It is a mistake to reduce the number of reports, or information of any kind, that a public company must provide to shareholders and the public. I say this as an investor, concerned with making informed decisions for my future, and as a private citizen, concerned with the decisions and actions of corporations as they impact our society. Thank you.

Raymond Sejas President & CEO — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Raymond Sejas At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Some argue that fewer reports would reduce costs. Maybe. Although in an age of AI and increasingly efficient disclosure tools, even that point is debatable. Others argue it would ease the pressure to manage quarter to quarter. But short-termism comes from how people react to information, not from the information itself. Taking the reports away doesn't make anyone more patient. It just makes everyone less informed. What isn't debatable is that less information rarely creates better-informed owners. Imagine owning a business and getting updates from your managers only twice a year. It would still run every day. You'd just know far less about how it was doing. That's effectively what's being proposed here. Companies will continue operating every day. Products will be launched. Customers will be won and lost. Strategies will succeed and fail. Yet under this proposal, owners would receive only half as many official updates about the businesses they own. Less transparency doesn't eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater.

Raymond Sotelo — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Raymond Sotelo Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it Quartly. Haven't you people had enough Perks. Haven't you people made enough money. Stop with the Selfishness already.Play it straight be Kind and keep it Quartly. Ray Sotelo

---

Raymond W Jones N/A — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Raymond W Jones I have accounts that provide quarterly reports and some others are monthly. I think twice a year is not enough.

RDLT Consulting LLC Engineering Consultation — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: RDLT Consulting LLC I believe that reducing the reporting requirement from quarterly to semi-annually will reduce corporate transparency leading to a less informed public and stock ownership. Having more information rather than less information is important to be able to make informed decisions.

---

real self — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Proposed Rule S7-2026-15 From: real self Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Regarding Proposed Rule S7-2026-15

As an ESG investor I want more, not less of the facts from any company I invest in. I'd prefer a proposal to a fait accompli when it comes to the direction a business wants to move in, and I want to keep track of the essentials when it comes to financial health.

Please do not allow this veil of secrecy to descend over the workings of our preferred investments. Six months is a long time to catch up with what's been happening, three months is workable.

Thank you,
Nick Thabit

Rebecca A Schrope None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca A Schrope I am a minimal investor but I look forward to quarterly reports. I think the "little" guy loses out if this change takes place. But then, we are being pushed down every day.

Rebecca Ando — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rebecca Ando Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Rebecca Ando, Retired, City of Panama City Planning Administrator & concerned citizen. We don't need to lessen their accountability!

Rebecca Broadaway — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rebecca Broadaway Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The people who are investing in these companies need to be kept aware! Twice a year is not enough. That’s like saying the business you own doesn’t require your attention. That’s plain stupid.

Sent from my iPhone

REBECCA BURGMAN — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: REBECCA BURGMAN Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Absolutely not. We should be informed not robbed. Continently for the fraudsters ie trump and rich. Enough is enough. .

Sent from Beck’s iPhone

Rebecca Clayton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Clayton Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Why would you allow politicians to break laws even our president this is mad and should be held accountable all the time period.

Rebecca Clayton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Clayton Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The law was in place for reason. Keeping it quarterly keeps honesty well we hope actually should raise the time instead of taking away
This is just more corruption from the top to the bottom. Our we living in a twilight zone. This law doesn't need changed many things need change but this isn't one. Guy Clayton American citizen in Missouri

---

Rebecca Clayton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Clayton Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The law was in place for reason. Keeping it quarterly keeps honesty well we hope actually should raise the time instead of taking away
This is just more corruption from the top to the bottom. Our we living in a twilight zone. This law doesn't need changed many things need change but this isn't one. Guy Clayton American citizen in Missouri

Get Outlook for Android

Rebecca Compher — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rebecca Compher Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 absoulutely quartely reporting

---

Rebecca Cortez — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rebecca Cortez Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It is more important than ever we main accountability on all corporate and government levels. Corruption is blatant. We need more transparency on corporate and all levels of government. This affects all of us.

Sent from my iPhone

Rebecca d'Alessio — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rebecca d'Alessio Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Insane to consider changing this!!!!!

Sent from my iPad

Rebecca Dalmaa — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rebecca Dalmaa Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 After what happened to Johann’s fabrics, every move a company makes supports all things through transparency. Responsibility comes with awareness. Stifling that breeds choices that generate long term consequences. Such consequences determine the quality of life for the children to come and earth’s many and diverse beings that humanity cannot live without. Numbers never lie. Knowing them mirrors what leads to deterimental consequences so that future choices are realized that accept only what is best for all.

Sent from my iPhone

Rebecca Emery — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Emery Semi-annual updates reduce transparency on how companies run day-to-day. Less transparency increases uncertainty and potential market volatility as investors may make knee jerk decisions if bi-annual statements show surprising results, strategic upsets or customer losses. Greater frequency of information allows investors more data points to assess company health and a clearer view of shifts.

Rebecca Foster — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rebecca Foster Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Do not change it. The public has a right to this info quarterly!

Rebecca Franks — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Franks I firmly believe that reducing the number of reports required each year will only increase anxiety and volatility in the markets when the less-frequent reports are provided. With AI reporting tools available, quarterly reporting should be easier now than it has been in the past, so easing the burden on companies is not an adequate rationale for making a change from quarterly to biannual reporting.

Rebecca Geckle — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Geckle Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
The thought of cutting corners to allow bi-annual reporting is alarming at best! People work hard for their money that they place in a stocks and/or retirement funds. Please, no more gaslighting hard working people!

Rebecca Genovese — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Keep it quarterly From: Rebecca Genovese Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Rebecca Genovese Flight Crew
Honesty in business matters to all of us!
The economy demands that corporations have transparency from the top down. CEO’s should not get passed by for 6 months. Quarterly reviews must continue!

Rebecca Jackson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rebecca Jackson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Why are you making private corporations less transparent? The shareholders need to know, quarterly, what is going on! I'm

---

Rebecca Kimmel The Motley Fool Commmunity — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Kimmel I am originally from Houston, TX and lived there when Enron went bankrupt due to lack of transparency. I, along with 10s of thousands still remember the number of people who lost their retirement savings, their job, and a few their life. It is NOT too much for a company to file 4 times/year. The law was put into place to protect the company, the companies that do business with it, and the people who work and invest in it. Our trust is of utmost importance, and filing 4 times a year helps to retain and maintain that trust.

Rebecca Leach — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rebecca Leach Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Rebecca Leach, GIS Analyst

I oppose the proposal to eliminate quarterly reporting requirements for public companies. As a small investor, quarterly reports are one of the few reliable and standardized sources of information available to help me evaluate a company's financial condition, performance, and risks. Reducing reporting frequency would make it harder for individual investors to make informed decisions and would increase the information advantage already held by institutional investors, analysts, and insiders who have access to more resources and alternative sources of information.

Quarterly reporting promotes transparency, accountability, and market efficiency. Without regular updates, investors could go much longer without learning about significant changes in a company's business, financial health, or outlook. This could lead to greater uncertainty, increased stock price volatility when information is finally released, and reduced confidence in U.S. capital markets. While companies may argue that less frequent reporting would reduce costs, those savings should not come at the expense of investor protection and equal access to timely information.

Rebecca Lee — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Lee While I understand that quarterly reporting is time consuming, it is imperative for investors to have consistent and frequent information from companies about their activities and profitability. Moving to semi-annual reporting would break down the trust between investor and company. It would also not allow investors to invest based on current data, as data that is 5-6 months old is NOT current in today's economy. I oppose changing frequency of financial reporting by SEC regulated companies from 4 to 2 times per annum. Thank you

---

Rebecca Loeve — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rebecca Loeve Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Rebecca Loeve. My job title is Environmental Supervisor. This proposed reduced financial reporting system does nothing to protect the public, it only serves to hide the activities of the companies for a longer period. Quarterly reporting is the standard and must remain. Countries who have adopted this reporting frequency are experiencing serious problems and have either returned to quarterly reporting or are in the process of returning to quarterly reporting. First and foremost, all actions by the SEC should be to ensure that the public is protected. A reduction in company reporting frequency does nothing to protect the public but instead it increases the likelihood for companies to hide critical information and data that is needed for me and others to make informed investment decisions. I am not a wealthy person but I have been able to invest over the years which will be used to support my retirement. With the majority of Americans not having a pension, it's even more important that company information remain current and accessible to public. Company pensions are almost completely gone for most Americans, which is or will be detrimental to the survival of so many American people. The SEC must continue to ensure that protections for the public are maintained. Reduced reporting frequency only gives protection to companies who intend or may intend to conceal critical information and are counter productive for the public. Keep companies accountable by not reducing quarterly reporting.

Sincerely,
Rebecca Loeve

Rebecca Loukota — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rebecca Loukota Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Rebecca Loukota, Visual Inspector, Incog BioPharma

---

Rebecca Olinde Retired Executive Assistant — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Olinde I am an investor, stock holder, and would prefer to see quarterly financial reports, rather than a bi-annual report as some others have suggested. Please require quarterly reports from companies,to help us, as investors, to see potential risks more timely. Thank you, Rebecca Olinde

---

Rebecca Potter — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rebecca Potter Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is absolutely necessary. We saw what happened when it was not in place. Enron anyone?
My retirement is in Fidelity, General Motors. The quarterly reporting is nessecary. To keep everything above board & flowing to the correct people.
Thank you

Rebecca S Potter

Retired from General Motors, 2001
Drive School Bus because I enjoy it since 2011

Rebecca Reinke — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rebecca Reinke Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is dangerous. Everyone should have a fair chance. This puts everyone at a disadvantage that is not an insider.

Rebecca Shawver — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Shawver Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Illiminating quarterly reports allows for more opportunities for scams, lies, theft, etc., to go unnoticed for a longer period of time making it more difficult to catch the culprits/ thieves. When you work with the FBI & Secret Service, they will tell you that they need reports of thefts ASAP in order to catch the culprits.

I personally was scammed out of $1.6 Million. Once involved, the Secret Service were sent out immediately to catch local thieves. International thefts were chased down by the CIA. Had these thrives had more time, they may have escaped. As it was, the one closest in the USA did get away. Only a very small (.050 %) was recovered. Time was of the essence. .
Collecting data/ financial reports to keep owners from faking reports or hiding contributions gives them less time to fraud late reports and go undetected. Don't do this!
PLEASE do not eliminate quarterly reports.
Thank you.
Becky Shawver

Rebecca Sutton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Sutton DO NOT allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two!

---

rebecca VanderHart — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: rebecca VanderHart Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Hello, my name is Rebecca Siddall, and I am an office manager. In a world where information can travel instantly, accountability should move at the same pace, instantly. We should be creating checks and balances that take that into account. In an ever increasing void between those with resources and those without giving those with power more room to take more is a gross injustice. Not to mention with the rise of A.I. accountability becomes a non-negotiable but a necessary fact of life. If we as tge public are now not afforded real privacy, why should the billon and trillionaires have more?

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Rebecca W — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca W It is a mistake to reduce the number of public-company reports. Less transparency doesn’t eliminate uncertainty. It increases it.

Rebecca Wood — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Wood Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 With the criminal endeavors that are going on in the government today this is more important than ever for people to have to reveal their quarterly information. It should happen with all politicians before they run for office and also also while they’re in office nonetheless corporations please help keep people and corporations honest!

Sent from my iPhone

Rebecca Yost — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rebecca Yost Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please please no more Enron fiascos. Keep accountability quarterly!

Recycling Mama D. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Recycling Mama D. Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Donna Mendez, Mother,Grandmother. Need to keep it Quaryerly we need to be informed ADAP we need more transparencey

---

Reed Hayne None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Reed Hayne Retail Investors need MORE information, not less. Please do not cut back on quarterly reports.

Reese Fondren — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Reese Fondren Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My Opinion Is..
.WHOEVER PROPOSED This Proposterous Idea Should Be Voted OUT Of Office NOW !!!
I'M SICK And TIRED Of Criminals Getting A PASS To Keep On COMMITTING THEIR CRIMES !!!
No One Is ABOVE The Law And It's Time We " Explain It" To Them !!!

Reese Fondren — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Reese Fondren Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My Opinion Is..
.WHOEVER PROPOSED This Proposterous Idea, Should Be Voted OUT Of Office NOW !!!
I'M SICK And TIRED Of Criminals Getting A PASS To Keep On COMMITTING THEIR CRIMES !!!
No One Is ABOVE The Law And It's Time We " Explain It" To Them !!!

Reggie Mays The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Reggie Mays Hello Sir or Ma’am: I hope you are well today. I’d like to speak on the issue at hand. We do not need less transparency. That’s the problem so many professions and industries now. There are already many back room deals that will happen regardless, but to have less reporting than 4 times a year is asinine. This is driving down a one way street. You are bound to destroy something. Please, if anything, increase the number of reports.

Regina Awe — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Regina Awe Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
You should be taking measures to prevent fraud not encourage it by reducing reporting requirements. People need to have faith in the markets and you should be protecting the interests of the American people and the health of economy not undermining it!

Regina Brown — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Regina Brown Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I work for a Broker Dealer and you have always monitored the quarterly reporting, stop letting thieves still from ordinary people.

Regina F Brown

Regina Cotter — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Regina Cotter Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am a retiree with investment income. I say NO to anything less than quarterly accountability and reporting.

Regina Kammes — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Regina Kammes Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep required quarterly reporting. Protect the rights of small private investors.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Regina McNerney — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Regina McNerney Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
There should be "Absolution No Reduction" by corporations in their Signed Quarterly Reporting. If a change needs to be made, then it should be to make them MONTHLY SIGNED REPORTS. After all, with computers and new technology, it is easier than ever to gather that information for the CEO to sign, Monthly. We need to assure investors that corporations are being honest and ethical. Everywhere we look the Gilded Age and all the corruption of that era is about us and growing. This is No Time to loosen public reporting. Did none of you folks following History and all that lead up to the Crash of 1929? The SEC of all agencies should be thoroughly aware of the aftermath. If you need a refresher I recommend reading Andrew Ross Sorkin's book "1929". So to again state my position, there should be No Changes to the Quarterly Signed Reports as they currently are.

Regina Nepsha — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Regina Nepsha Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Monthly and quarterly reporting are necessary for investors to make informed decisions.
It is beyond me how this proposal could even be seriously considered, unless of course, you lack a moral compass.

Regina Stein — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Regina Stein Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reports are vital. It is imperative that no changes be made to the timing of the reports.

Sent from my iPhone

Reginald Ankrom Small Business Owner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Reginald Ankrom A proposal now before the SEC would allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. We think that's a mistake! At its heart, investing is ownership. When one owns a piece of a business, he or she deserves regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners.

Regis F. Burke — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Regis F. Burke Please DO NOT reduce the reporting frequency or standards of publicly traded registrants.

Renae Edwards — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Renae Edwards Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please continue to report quarterly the financial reports. It's important
Thank you

Renaissance Property Group owner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Renaissance Property Group It's imperative that quarterly reporting requirements remain in force for publicly traded firms. Relaxing the rules to allow semi-annual reporting would reduce transparency, undermine market efficiency and worse, increase the potential for market fraud and deception. The proposed change serves little valid purpose, is widely opposed by investors and isn't even being sought by the regulated community.

Renee Alessio — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Renee Alessio Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My husband and I are retired and we depend on not just social security but all the savings in our IRA accounts to live. We are not the only seniors who depend on our savings in retirement. Please keep quarterly reporting. Keep the quarterly reporting. Don't change something that is working.
Thank you
Renee B Allessio

Sent from my iPhone

Renee Bunn — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Renee Bunn Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Small Investors in the stock market should have the quarterly information to ability to adjust their portfolios based on performance to protect their assets or maximize profits. I'm a small Investors I'd like to keep what I have. Why give what little I have away. Sounds like you want big corporation to prosper but not anyone else.

Renee Chalfant — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Renee Chalfant Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Renee Chalfant. Considering the rampant misuse of funds in the corporate world, I think we need this level of over site at a minimum.

Sent from my iPhone

Renee Garcia — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Renee Garcia Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We need transparency

---

renee holt — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: renee holt Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 & how is the next generations supposed to support themselves.?

Renee Lagala — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Renee Lagala Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Renee Lagala, retired. This matters because I depend on investments for my future. Six months is too long - it will hide issues if they arise. I can decide to weather a downturn or not. After all, it’s MY MONEY.

Sent from my iPhone

Renee Mathews — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Renee Mathews Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The SEC must retain the current reporting requirements. Not to do so puts at risk the investments of millions of American citizens.

Renee Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Renee We need more information to make informed decisions; not less information.

---

renee myers/motley fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: renee myers/motley fool At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Some argue that fewer reports would reduce costs. Maybe. Although in an age of AI and increasingly efficient disclosure tools, even that point is debatable. Others argue it would ease the pressure to manage quarter to quarter. But short-termism comes from how people react to information, not from the information itself. Taking the reports away doesn't make anyone more patient. It just makes everyone less informed. What isn't debatable is that less information rarely creates better-informed owners. Imagine owning a business and getting updates from your managers only twice a year. It would still run every day. You'd just know far less about how it was doing. That's effectively what's being proposed here. Companies will continue operating every day. Products will be launched. Customers will be won and lost. Strategies will succeed and fail. Yet under this proposal, owners would receive only half as many official updates about the businesses they own. Less transparency doesn't eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater.

Renee Prince — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Renee Prince Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Hey, SEC: Keep it Quarterly. Keep it Honest.

Sent from my iPhone

Renee R Small — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Renee R Small Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Hi, Stop the fraud. The American people dont deserve anymore taxes and carrying corporate lies misusing our money. We have a right to know how our money is being spent. Renee Small Cashier

---

Renee Ray — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Renee Ray Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep quarterly reports !

Renee Turner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Renee Turner Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I want the quarterly reports to continue.

Renee's — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Renee's Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Another way to screw over the lower class so the rich can try to buy islands and scam the world of their last dollar. Is there no end to the blatant grifting?

Sent from my iPhone

---

reneenasca — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: reneenasca Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No less than quarterly reporting, please!

Sent from my Galaxy

Renette Cranford — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Renette Cranford Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My retirement is dependent on how well my stocks perform. Leave the reporting on a quarterly basis!

Sent from my iPhone

Retired CFO — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Retired CFO Semi-Annual reporting will not reduce costs. With the implementation of AI reporting in most publicly traded businesses, costs have been dramatically reduced on the financial side of the business. Daily, weekly, monthly and quarterly reporting will still go on. Basically SEC reporting twice a year allows a business to hide its problems.

Reuben Roberts — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Reuben Roberts Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 SEC, I would hope you would want true transparency in our investments! Quarterly reporting has been very effective in keeping investors informed of timely events in a company, thus preventing investment decisions made on current information. Please keep the reporting quarterly to keep the ordinary investor safe!

Rev. Joy Khoury Minister — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rev. Joy Khoury To better control and end fraud by CEOs it is best to have quarterly signatures rather that twice a year.

Rex Morgan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rex Morgan Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reporting. If it is not broken, don't fix it.

Rey Bordthauser — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rey Bordthauser Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Instead of ending the quarterly reporting, we should end the careers of those who proposed this idiotic idea. How stupid does the SEC think we are. Furthermore, they should require monthly reporting. Maybe then the market would evolve into an honest entity instead of existing as a glorified casino.

Reynold Meyer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Reynold Meyer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please protect investors by keeping the quarterly reporting rule.

Sent from my iPad

RGJohnson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: RGJohnson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Good now, good tomorrow!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Rhonda ! — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rhonda ! Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 STOP doing only for corporations & the upper 2%!!! Make them accountable & pay their fair share...now!!!!!!!

R Trejo

Rhonda Anthony — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rhonda Anthony Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Some analysts challenge the data and don’t believe the numbers are adding up. This change is a ploy to protect your “trillionaire “ (the wealthy) from reporting the true numbers/truth about their companies. . .confuse the investors and muckup the market data. They are lying . He wants to control the narrative by controlling the SEC. Quarterly outlook reporting should remain the same.

Rhonda

Rhonda McAlister — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rhonda McAlister Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Why would anyone keep investing their hard earned money into companies they can no longer trust? This could ruin the market.

Sent from my iPad

Rhonda McKinney — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rhonda McKinney Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 STOP ENCOURAGINVG CORRUPTION. We need more transparentcy not less

---

Rhonda OConnor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rhonda OConnor Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Why does the SEC think this is something they should do, do not report quarterly owner of insurance agency this will adversely effect my I monthly commissions do you like trump think you can change anything anytime you want go against the citizens of the US

Sent from my iPad

Rhonda Richards CPA (retired) and the motley fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rhonda Richards i strongly oppose changing reporting from 3 months to 6 months. Timely information is essential in order to make informed financial decisions whether it be an owner or department head or other decision maker leading to the success of running a business, no matter how larger or small. As a CPA for over 45 years, I know this to be true based on the success or failure of my clients business and it is imperative the rules are no changed. No good, even cost cutting, will come of it. Thank you for your courtesy in considering my comments. Rhonda Richards, CPA Retired

---

Ric Netter — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ric Netter Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I see both side I purpose reports be done every 4 months an easy compromise!

Ric Silver — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ric Silver Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 WTF

Ric Silver
Appointed Tenant Commissioner
President of the Tenant Organization of
The Town of Groton CT Housing Authority

Riccardo Fagiani — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Riccardo Fagiani I think reduces quarterly reporting to semiannual is a mistake and reduced information for investors

---

Rich — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rich Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We need to keep it 6 months is too long. I think every 4 months would be perfect.

Sent from my iPhone

Rich Alberto Motley Fool community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rich Alberto With regards to reducing the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two, I believe this is a mistake as less informed investors will create a lack of transparency and trust with companies.

Rich Clarke Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rich Clarke A proposal is now on the table to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. We think that’s a mistake! At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Some argue that fewer reports would reduce costs. Maybe. Although in an age of AI and increasingly efficient disclosure tools, even that point is debatable. Others argue it would ease the pressure to manage quarter to quarter. But short-termism comes from how people react to information, not from the information itself. Taking the reports away doesn't make anyone more patient. It just makes everyone less informed. What isn’t debatable is that less information rarely creates better-informed owners. Imagine owning a business and getting updates from your managers only twice a year. It would still run every day. You'd just know far less about how it was doing. That's effectively what's being proposed here. Companies will continue operating every day. Products will be launched. Customers will be won and lost. Strategies will succeed and fail. Yet under this proposal, owners would receive only half as many official updates about the businesses they own. Less transparency doesn’t eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater. Right?

---

rich glesmer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: rich glesmer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We need to stay with quarterly reports. I want to know what my retirement is doing more than twice a year.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Rich Gordon — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rich Gordon Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the Quarterly reporting for these Public Traded Companies , While I do understand that there's usually a reason and a rhyme for doing something like eliminating that reporting I guess I just don't understand the reason behind this one and I absolutely Do Not have the time to try and read through it all and understand it !

Rich Gubera — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rich Gubera Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep PUBLIC companies PUBLIC. Companies can go PRIVATE if they want less disclosure.. This is insane. We need MORE accountability not less.
Thank you

Rich Lawrence Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rich Lawrence Please keep quarterly reporting, it’s necessary as an owner to see what’s happing in our companies.

Rich Marshall — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rich Marshall Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Why would you allow less public awareness for what insider traders are doing for potential fraud to occur while the public stock holder gets screwed?
This cost to file is small vs any savings passed on to the executives or compared to what public stock holders could lose!
Please protect my investments, Thank you.

Sent from my iPhone

Rich P — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Rich P Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Too much shady dealing could take place with relaxed requirements.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Rich Penner Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rich Penner This is an idea which benefits no one. Providing shareholders and the public with less information is clearly not in the public interest. This will not save money and will lead to a less informed public.

Rich Segrin Retired business manager — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rich Segrin This proposal is a mistake. Investors need more frequent reporting not less.

Rich Troy The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rich Troy We need all the details we can get

---

Richard — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard I am very much opposed to this proposal for the following reasons. Investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Some would argue that fewer reports would reduce costs. Maybe. Although in an age of AI and increasingly efficient disclosure tools, even that point is debatable. Others argue it would ease the pressure to manage quarter to quarter. But short-termism comes from how people react to information, not from the information itself. Taking the reports away doesn't make anyone more patient. It just makes everyone less informed. What isn't debatable is that less information rarely creates better-informed owners. Imagine owning a business and getting updates from your managers only twice a year. It would still run every day. You'd just know far less about how it was doing. That's effectively what's being proposed here. Companies will continue operating every day. Products will be launched. Customers will be won and lost. Strategies will succeed and fail. Yet under this proposal, owners would receive only half as many official updates about the businesses they own. Less transparency doesn't eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater. If this proposal passes I believe it will only weaken how companies are managed how they perform and damage investor confidence and trust. Thank you for your attention to this matter 🇺🇸

Richard A Wade — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard A Wade Please keep business stocks and bonds reporting at 4 times per year. Thank you.

Richard Askins — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Askins Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the Quarterly Reporting Rule. The longer between public reports, the greater the possibility for fraud and larger immoral actions to occur. Better yet, make Public Reporting mandatory on a monthly basis.

Richard Atkinson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Atkinson I urge the SEC to continue to have public companies report four times per year instead of two. More information is better for investors.

Richard Barnes — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Barnes I am writing as an individual investor to express my strong opposition to the proposal that would allow public companies to reduce their financial reporting frequency from quarterly to semiannually. At its heart, investing is ownership. When an individual purchases shares in a public company, they become a part-owner of that business. As owners, we deserve regular, transparent, and timely communication regarding the health and direction of our investments. Reducing official updates to just twice a year significantly weakens the vital connection between a company and its shareholders. While proponents of the rule argue that semiannual reporting would reduce corporate costs, this benefit is highly debatable in an era where artificial intelligence and digital disclosure tools have made data collection and reporting more efficient than ever. Furthermore, the argument that quarterly reporting fuels corporate "short-termism" misdiagnoses the problem. Short-term thinking is driven by how the market reacts to information, not by the existence of the information itself. Depriving the market of data will not inherently breed investor patience; it will simply leave investors less informed. A business operates, competes, wins and loses customers, and executes strategies every single day. Cutting official communication in half does not eliminate market uncertainty—it amplifies it. With a six-month gap between reports, information vacuums will inevitably develop. When data is finally released, the surprises will likely be larger, leading to sharper market reactions and increased stock volatility, which ultimately harms the individual investor. Less transparency rarely results in better-informed owners. I urge the Commission to maintain the current quarterly reporting framework to preserve the transparency, integrity, and fairness of our public markets. Thank you for your time and consideration of the individual investor perspective.

Richard Bolf — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Bolf Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep businesses on the stock market reporting every quarter.

Richard C Weston None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard C Weston Please do not reduce the reporting requirements for companies. In the age of AI, reduced reporting should not be considered. Extra volatility from fewer reports per year is not beneficial to the market.

Richard Calvert — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Calvert Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting was established to keep close track ofexactly what publicly traded companies are doing with public funding. It has squat to do with long term qoals and planning. But more to do with shadowing loose trading.

Richard Carnwath Manager of a family office and part of the Motley Fool Community, formerlly VP Wellington Management Co., and Chairman of the Pension Committee at Vulcan Materials Company. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Carnwath This is a terrible proposal designed to hamper access to important information to individual investors while leaving institutional investors their access to far more relevant information albeit not from the public company. Executives get MONTHLY reports, not quarterly let alone every 6 months. If the goal is to lower the administrative costs of being a public company, surely there are many ways to do that without cutting off the flow of relevant investment information to the individual investor. Ask any private equity investor if they would be willing to let their companies report semi-annually. (Not one!) A more meaningful step would be to remove unproductive SEC regulations, as well as lower the likelihood of frivolous law suits.

Richard Charney — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Richard Charney Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep things as they are why would you decrease our safety?
Especially the for seniors

Sent from my iPad

Richard Coe Richard Coe — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Coe In this age information is paramount. 6 monthly reporting is hopeless the information is almost unconnected with current times. The extreme pace of growth in some areas such as Ai make even quarterly reports seem out of date.

Richard D Marshall — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard D Marshall I do not support a reduction in reporting to semiannually. Quarterly reports are much needed by an investing public. The proposed reduction would increase investment risk significantly.

Richard Dean — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Dean I am not in favor of the proposed move to Semi-Annual Reporting. One of the strengths of the US stock market is its effort at transparency and dissemination of information in a timely manner and regular frequency to investors. I believe a move away from mandatory Quarterly reporting to anything that is less frequent denies investors of useful information to make informed investing decisions. I believe it also reduces business transparency as well as management accountability. I believe the 'cost' argument being offered is weak given the systems and technology available today and I believe the 'forces management to manage to quarterly results' is also spurious as there are many examples of companies whose management does not cater to investor whims and manage their businesses in a responsible, long term fashion. Please do not move to Semi Annual Reporting. It harms investors.

---

richard dorn — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: richard dorn Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I as you as an investor and concerned citizen to please keep quarterly reporting in place. It is a necessary practice offering some assurance investors have come to depend on, thank you. Richard Dorn, marketing manager Phillips Petroleum (retired)

Get Outlook for iOS

Richard Dresser — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Dresser I do not think that public corporations should be allowed to cut back on information supplied to their owners by 50%. This is a false savings in corporate expenses. The information gaps would probably drive more speculation and volatility in the markets as information is withheld.

Richard Dressner The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Dressner Please do not decrease company reporting rules and timing. This is the worst time to do this. Maybe focus more on insider trading?

Richard E Barone The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard E Barone Less transparency is never better than more transparency. As an avid investor, I would definitely NOT want to get less information. This sounds like a REALLY bad idea.

Richard F. Pratt retired educator — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard F. Pratt email

Richard Fein — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Fein I am writing in opposition to S7-2026-15, which would reduce the number of reporting periods from 4x to 2x. As an investor in many securities, both directly and through mutual funds/ETFs, I value the need for frequent, transparent reporting. Changing to 2x reporting will reduce tranparency. It will also prevent the market from working most productively, adjusting prices on INFORMED decisions.

Richard Ford — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Ford Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Moving away from quarterly reporting is going to be bad. I rely on this to make reasonable moves in the market. Moving to semi annual allows insiders information not available to the general public. I'm pretty sure Europe regrets attempting to make this some kind of standard. Remember American exceptionalism. This country does not need to follow a failing European standard.
R.S.
Ford CMDCM (SS SW) USN (ret)

Yahoo Mail: Search, organise, conquer

Richard Fowell — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Richard Fowell Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The absence of robust transparency and open communication creates an environment ripe for significant risks within any organization. Such an opaque operating model invariably fosters conditions conducive to financial impropriety, operational malfeasance, and a profound dereliction of the fundamental duties owed to those who entrust us with their capital. Our primary obligation is to uphold the highest standards of fiduciary responsibility, ensuring the ethical and effective stewardship of shareholder and investor assets. Consequently, every strategic decision, every operational adjustment, and every significant change implemented must unequivocally serve the best interests of our owners, our valued stockholders, and all capital providers. Furthermore, these actions must also contribute positively to the enduring health, integrity, and sustainable growth of the broader industry they help to finance and empower.

Richard Freist — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Richard Freist Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Don't let those criminals get off easy. Keep them reporting quarterly.

Richard H. Buxton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard H. Buxton If adopted, this proposal would make it easier for companies...but not better for investors. It would give us, as investors, less information about the companies in which we choose to invest. Waiting six months for a report is far too long to react to the important decisions we need to make.

Richard H. Wilson none — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard H. Wilson Cutting information by 50% - from 4X/yr to 2X/yr would NOT be helpful as an individual investor. I urge that quarterly reports be maintained.

Richard Hackmann None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Hackmann Maintain the quarterly reporting for public-company reports.

Richard Haley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Richard Haley Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Don't tryto fix something that ain't bromen! God, you're supposed to be smart - trying acting like it for 9nce.

Richard Harney The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Harney I am not in favor of getting rid of quarterly reporting for companies in the USA. As a shareholder in many publicly traded companies I feel that more information is better for all owners. Thanks you.

Richard Harris — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Harris Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is unconstitutional

Sent from my iPhone

Richard Hug — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Richard Hug Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am a retail investor and the quarterly reports have been a reliable source of information to help me decide on current and future investments.regarding my retirement savings.
Please maintain this requirement.
Thank you.

Richard Joseph Bennecke — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Joseph Bennecke I do not think it is a good idea to reduce the number of Financial Reports a company has to make, from four to two. As a retail investor and retiree, I find that I am better able to make important financial decisions when more information is available to me, not less. Thanks for allowing me input on what I believe is a monumental mistake if this recommendation is approved.

Richard K Clark Retired — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard K Clark This is a reckless move. I want to know how the companies where I invest are doing. That means more information than just their stock price. I use the quarterly earnings reports to determine what stocks to buy, hold, or sell. This proposal would rob investors and potential investors of information they need.

Richard Kenyon — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Kenyon Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Richard Kenyon, Accountant, The only way the stock market works is if everyone has the same opportunity to make informed decisions. Enron, Worldcom and the other big fraud cases have already shown us what happens when transparency doesn't exist. Not to mention that this movement would also lower the need for accountants at the corporate level, likely leading to many layoffs in the industry.

RICHARD L SESSLER N/A — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: RICHARD L SESSLER I invest in the US stock market due to the regulation and transparency. By reducing the reporting requirements for companies, that lessens the advantage in investing in US companies, pushing investors like myself toward companies in other stock exchanges.

Richard Lake NA — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Lake Less transparency doesn’t eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater. I am against the proposal to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two.

Richard Langhorne — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Langhorne Less transparency is going to create additional risks for investors. As a share holder of the company it's in my interest to have more updates on how the company is performing, to mitigate surprises and volatility. This will only benefit the c-suite at the corporations, not the investors.

Richard Levin The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Levin Moving the required reporting for public companies from 4-times a year to 2-times a year would provide less transparency. I need to know the financial health of the companies I invest with. Too much can happen to a company in 6-months that could negatively affect such investments. I urge you to keep the quarterly reporting requirement for public companies!

Richard Loyd — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Richard Loyd Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 4 times a year is for the best, if not more.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Richard Lumb ICAEW — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Lumb As an amateur investor I would prefer to keep to the rigours of quarterly reporting. After a lifetime of investing I have finally developed regular reviews of my portfolio and wish to keep up to date with news that affects my investment.

Richard M. Lilly Member of Motley Fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard M. Lilly As a member of Motley Fool I would like to strongly object to reducing financial reports of companies to only twice a year. This would be a major reduction in information and transparency.

Richard Mauser — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Richard Mauser Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Investors OWN their share of a publicly traded company and we need to know how it is performing. Quarterly reports are a minimum IMO. Do not keep the owners in the dark for 6 months.

Richard Mauser

9 1 Pinnacle Road
Rochester NY 14620

Richard Mayes — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Mayes I strongly disagree with the proposal to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. Less transparency doesn't eliminate uncertainty. If the reporting period is extended, when information from companies finally does arrive, the surprises to individual investors are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the reaction of investors will be more volatile. Insiders and professionals will always have access to information that we individual investors do not. Please do not reduce the reporting requirements and provide these insiders with even greater benefits. Sincerely, Richard A Mayes

---

Richard McGowan Invester — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard McGowan I can see where reducing the reporting to owner/investors might be nice for those for companies. But in this age of fast turnaround in stocks, I think this is going in the opposite direction. Instead of less reporting, there should be more reporting. With AI taking over our daily lives, it will mean there is more to go wrong with investments in companies. There is not a day that goes by where we don't see companies with LONG term histories filling for bankruptcy. And with that comes the lack of competition in the market. All it takes is for one large company/institution to not report for six months, and the United States/World is looking at fiscal disaster, which would affect investments great and small. Not to mention the insider trading that could happen because one hand doesn't know what the other hand is doing. PLEASE do NOT allow the reduction in reporting to happen. I see no real benefit to this rule change

---

RICHARD MLYNSKI — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: RICHARD MLYNSKI Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I want accountability in my investments. Quarterly filings are the only way that happens.

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Richard Mosley N/A — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Mosley The government's efforts to reduce costs where possible is admirable but reducing the amount of information from companies reporting to their investors is a very small savings at best due to the information having already been accumulated and should only require a small amount of effort to digitally to disperse it. in this age of fraud and smokescreens more required reporting should be the norm not less. Quarterly reports have been shown to increase investor knowledge and therefore produce a more positive result. Please continue to report quarterly at the least, it as part of the reason we use your services to begin with!!

Richard Mulvey — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Mulvey I believe both sides of this proposal have valid arguments. Moving to a twice-a-year earnings submission would relieve corporation of the time and expenses of what must be a laborious exercise. For larger entities, I would imagine starting on the next quarter filing begins shortly after the current quarter. On the other hand, a lot could happen in a 6 month period that could have a major impact on investment decisions. In the spirit of compromise, I submit for your consideration, 3 filings per year. As an individual investor, I could live with that. I would leave it up to the company to provide any critical information during the 4 month period.

Richard Narveson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Richard Narveson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly reporting information is crucial in my decision making process about my investments it is essential to continue

---

Richard Nathanson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Nathanson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Richard Nathanson, retired newspaper reporter: I am opposed to changing the rules from quarterly to twice yearly. It creates more opportunity for corporate fraud. Historically, when twice a year reporting was in effect, small investors, people like me who count on that income in retirement, see smaller returns. Also, after seeing how Donald Trump and his wealthy supporters conduct business, you have to acknowledge that transparency is not their strong point. Figures that this proposed rule change comes under a Trump administration. Taxpayers and investors want more transparency, oversight and protection — not less.

Sent from my iPhone

Richard Nichols — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Richard Nichols Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Richard Nichols local government official and stock
Owner. Businesses need to be transparent- small businesses are required to pay quarterly taxes. Businesses should have to report their status to shareholders.

Without disclosure- there is no trust.

Regards,

Richard Nichols
(508) 254-1200

Richard Nighbert — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Richard Nighbert Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Why change a rule that has served the public well for a long, long time??? Greed knows no bounds -- so keep 'em in check!!! Richard Nighbert, retired.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Richard P Christie the Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard P Christie Investors need more information, not less. Proposals to lessen reporting requirements and accountability only serve to empower those trying to hide unfavorable or surreptitious behavior. I urge you to keep the current quarterly requirements in place.

Richard P Wolenter — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Richard P Wolenter Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 As a stockholder of publicly traded companies and corporations I believe that more transparency is better than less transparency. Keeping quarterly reports is in the best interest of both stockholders and companies' or corporations' employees. It is much better to know what is happening on a regular basis. I do not consider 2 times a year as a regular basis. Accountability is important and necessary.

Richard P Wolenter
805 Irenic Ct.
Norristown PA 19403

Richard Parkinson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Parkinson Investors are not getting enough information on their stocks already! We need transparent information on our investments!

Richard Pompa — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Richard Pompa Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Allowing a publicly traded corporation to lag from quarterly financial disclosure to biannual reporting is a corruption of good sound ethics. Working class investors without licencing or other accreditations are at a disadvantage already. To lessen the access they have quarterly is immoral. What is the intended purpose of such an action? One can only assume the SEC is a corrupted bureaucracy that functions only to serve conglomerate interest.

Richard Quillen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Richard Quillen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Richard Quillen,

Construction Laborer, Finance B.S. 41/m
My main concern with this bill is that it decreases the transparency of publicly held companies. A lot can happen in 6 months time. This is a step in the opposite the direction for everyday investors and creates a lower standard for accountability and ethics. I mean if the SEC would like to bear that responsibility for them I suppose it would work? Does the SEC intend to hold bad actors accountable when the market collapses and if so how would less reporting help avoid this scenario? Are you guys long on Volatility 😀 cause that's another thing, stocks won't make consistent moves like they used to, instead they make sharp moves up and down twice a year and it's more of a gamble than actual investing.

Richard Reck — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Reck Investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners.

Richard Riedel Riedel Audio & Acoustics — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Riedel Keep the existing quarterly reporting and do not reduce it to two times a year.

Richard Roblin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Roblin The requirement for quarterly reports should remain unchanged. The utility of more current information about company finances outweighs the "more work" factor.

Richard Ruite — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Ruite Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Stop the steal and keep sec as currently set. Deny and block everything the white house tries to reform for his own political benefit.

Richard Rutledge Motley Fool investor community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Rutledge Believe reduced reporting is a disservice to the investing public. If anything we need more transparency, not less. If companies want to be public entity to raise money to secure their business, they owe investors clarity on how their business is performing and reducing that clarity is irresponsible.

Richard S Amado The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard S Amado As an independent investor I have ownership in a number of companies through the shares of stock I own. I am opposed to reducing the quarterly reporting of publicly traded companies because I want to know what is happening financially in the companies in which I have invested. Allowing these companies to report only twice a year increases uncertainty and reduces the amount of information available to investors for decision making. Thank you in advance for not allowing companies to reduce public reporting from 4 times a year to two times a year.

Richard Sandruck — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Richard Sandruck Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Not fair at all.

Richard Selvig Retired — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Selvig The idea of reporting on a semi-annual I'm not in favor of. A lot can happen in that timeframe within a publicly traded company. An informed stockholder would want to be kept apprised of changes. I vote yes to keep reporting at a quarterly cadence. Thanks.

Richard Sendrovitz — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Richard Sendrovitz Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 As a retired finance professional I endorse quarterly reports.

Richard Sendrovitz
6 Mitchell Avenue
Plainview, NY 11803
917-579-6725
Sendro4rich@gmail.com

Richard Small — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Small Please do not allow or vote to pass the ability for companies to only release and reports twice a year versus four times a year. It doesn't make people more patient. It makes investors less informed. Corporations already hide their deeds and financials as much as they can already and limiting it twice a year just makes it worse. This is a massive mistake and in the age of AI, this is not a cost savings for them in any meaningful way, just a way for them to report out less than they already do.

RICHARD SMITH — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: RICHARD SMITH Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Richard Smith. Architect. Investor.

This country is moving further and further away from fiscal responsibility. This is another example. The markets require transparency and accountability to avoid being any more of a casino.

Im already in the verge of pulling my money from this rigged casino and investing in foreign markets.

Help me feel more comfortable.

Sent from my iPhone

Richard Smith — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Richard Smith Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Richard Smith Network Engineer public companies should not be able to hide finanicial information absolutly no excuse for a six month blackout in fact any public company wanting to shield their fininaces should immediatly be under investigation

Richard Smith
214-534-7395
Sent from my iPhone

Richard Spangler N/a — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Spangler Please continue with Quarterly Investment Reporting requirements.

Richard Stubbs — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Stubbs I do not agree with the proposal to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. I think that's a mistake! When I invest in a business, I become a part owner. I deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens my ability to make decisions about my ownership. It is very important to me to have regular and continuous information on how the business is performing. Less transparency doesn't eliminate uncertainty. It increases it.

Richard T Atmar — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard T Atmar Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Requiring quarterly reports is not a burden for businesses. Keep the requirement.

Sent from my iPhone

Richard Tessier — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Tessier Keep the quarterly disclosure for transparency.

Richard Tsujimoto Emeritus Professor of Psychology — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Tsujimoto Semiannual reporting is a terrible idea!

Investors need timely information to make good decisions. Quarterly reports are essential!

Richard Tuntland — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Tuntland Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Inside trading is so prolific now this would make it even easier to rip off the American public helll no...

Richard Vitello — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Richard Vitello Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Please protect access to timely information for the retail investor. Do not eliminate quarterly reports. And with the combination of computers and AI it should be simple for every publicly listed company to produce monthly financial reports easily, efficiently and inexpensively.

Richard W Dinwiddie Jr — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard W Dinwiddie Jr I want to be informed of the state of businesses that I have interest in or am interested in. I find it hard to believe that you may not feel the same way. AI is making it very easy for companies to provide this information and that will only improve over time. The only upside in reporting less is that companies will have less work. If anything we need more transparency, less surprises, less volatility. I recommend to keep the reporting requirements as they are, no to the Semi-Annual Reporting.

Richard Whiteside — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Whiteside Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep Quarterly Reporting!! Investors need timely information to make appropriate & timely investment choices! Would really prefer monthly reporting, but likely too much of a cost burden!!!

Richard D. Whiteside, semi-retired investor! Dallas, Texas

Thanks!

Richard Wilbourn Attorney and investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Wilbourn Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Less information rarely creates better-informed owners. Less transparency doesn’t eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater. I oppose making reporting semi-annual. Thank you for your consideration.

Richard Wilson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Less reporting means less transparency. Why would anyone in their right mind want that?
Please explain.

Richard Woodcock — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Richard Woodcock Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Richard Woodcock, retired, woodyrichearl@yahoo.com. I remember Enron in 2002 and other companies full of fraud, lying about revenue. Keep quarterly reports and CEO's having to sign and verify. Prison sentences if you lie!

Sent from my iPhone

Richard Young None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Young The public needs quarterly reports to have more information and to have a better understanding of the companies we invest in. Semiannual reports are bound to create more volatility than we have now, which is excessive.

---

richkpromo — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: richkpromo Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 More current information to the public without access to insider info is best for the daily personal traders/investors trying to compete with the big guys here all the time. -RichK former computer programmer, now trying to hold onto or build family wealth instead of using it up during hardships.

Sent from my Galaxy

Rick Bennett — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rick Bennett Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep financial reporting quarterly

---

Rick Brookens None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rick Brookens I am against the proposal to reduce required business reporting from four to two times a year. We need greater transparency not less.

Rick Eynon — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rick Eynon Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It's already been proven that the inspector generals are not allowed to go after anybody. All they're doing is making this the tech bro industry. You should not change the quarterly reporting, this is drastically going to hurt the people at the bottom that are investing. And don't you think that the rich people are making enough already. They couldn't spend it if they tried to.

Rick Fleischman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rick Fleischman Keep reporting requirements as they are--it is not in the public interest to have less reporting!

---

rick hayward — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: rick hayward Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please keep quarterly report requirements. They are the only thing helping retail investors do their homework before and while investing. If anything, we should go to bi-monthly or monthly reporting. Thank you for your consideration.

Rick Henes — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rick Henes Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Leave the stock market alone!!

Rick Huizenga CEO EGLtech, Inc. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rick Huizenga Dear SEC. This note is in response to a proposed changed to public company reporting requirements. Lowering reporting standards and requirements would be very damaging for individual / non-professional investors as myself. We rely on regular, quarterly reports to judge the value and performance of our investments. Without the insider knowledge and relationships professional firms often enjoy, reducing the reporting requirements of public companies would be a huge detriment to our ability to invest wisely. So please consider maintaining current reporting requirements for public companies. With the use of AI tools, generating detailed reports requires far less overhead than ever before; and most reports can be generated in a fraction of the time compared to even a year or two ago. This simply means public companies should not claim a burden on their administrative overhead when generating reports. It is simply not the case considering technology changes in the past few years. Finally, waiting an additional three months to be made aware of potentially major changes in a company's leadership retention, cash flow, cybersecurity breaches and more, could be disastrous to investors like me. As an owner of the company, I depend on this information. Thank you for your work and for your consideration. Blessings on your day.

Rick Knerr — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rick Knerr Less info or info less often is worse for investors!

Rick Knight — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rick Knight Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 leave it alone.

Rick Moore — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Rick Moore Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Piss poor idea, giving the already slack reporting requirements.

Sent from my iPhone

Rick NORTON — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rick NORTON Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Richard L Norton
Retired Vice president Proprietary Product Development
Quarterly report should be retained in order to keep stockholders aware of the status of a corporation's finances in a timely manner

Sent from my iPhone

Rick Osswald — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rick Osswald Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Things are fine the way they are. Transparency should always win.

Sent from my iPhone

Rick Pedersen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rick Pedersen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is a must. Do Not revert to semi-annual reporting. What, exactly, are you thinking?

Sent from my iPhone

Rick Saunders — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rick Saunders Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Do the right thing for all American's, not just the billionaires.

Rick Simpson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rick Simpson We need more information, not less! Keep the current reporting requirements!

Rick Stockton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rick Stockton Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reports are very important to those of us who scraped enough to invest many years ago and now seeing quarterly reports help us to react quickly. If we can’t see quarterly reports then I could very quickly lose my nest egg before I realize there is a problem. I can’t afford to lose my nest egg! Please keep the reporting on a quarterly basis. Thank you!

Sent from my iPad

Rick Tucker — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rick Tucker Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 my name is Rick and recently retired. I want you to keep the quarterly reporting and would actually like it at least monthly so we can keep an eye on our investments.

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Rick Waldroupe — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rick Waldroupe Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 You work for the stockholders. I want to keep the reporting quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

Ricki Colliflower — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ricki Colliflower Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
The proposal to remove quarterly reporting is incredibly concerning. Please do not do this. It can greatly affect our ability to prevent fraud or protect our retirement funds.

Rickie Mendoza — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rickie Mendoza Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Rick Mendoza, Realtor: Don't change it. If it ain't broke don't try to fix it. We need the accountability.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Ricky Hooper — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ricky Hooper As an individual investor and a member of The Motley Fool Community, I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposal reducing public-company financial reporting from quarterly to semiannually. Investing represents true business ownership, and a six-month gap between updates leaves investors significantly less informed while widening information gaps that only heighten market uncertainty and stock volatility. In an era thoroughly supported by efficient digital disclosure tools and artificial intelligence, the argument that quarterly reporting is too costly or burdensome is no longer persuasive. I urge the Commission to maintain the current quarterly framework to preserve market transparency for individual investors. Respectfully, -Ricky

---

rina.g.rodriguezgmail.com Scruffyrg — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: rina.g.rodriguezgmail.com Scruffyrg Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reports provide transparency and help investors make informed decisions. Let’s keep them.

Sent from my iPhone

Ring Doorbell — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ring Doorbell Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This matters to be because I believe that democracy should be open and accountable to all. As a citizen who has never missed an election, and participates in the democratic process, I don't want these issues hidden from us. Sharon Shneyer, Philadelphia Pennsylvania

---

Rini Friend — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rini Friend Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Why change what is working? It sounds like there will be more problems with a change of this nature. Corporations staying transparent to the average person is the right thing to do, even though it seems the people with power in this country want the opposite to get away with wrongdoings toward us.

Rishi D — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Rishi D Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 RD, investor. Flagstaff AZ
We need accountability not evasion.. save quarterly reporting.

Get Outlook for Android

---

rita blanchette — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: rita blanchette Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it quarter ly enough is enough

---

Rita Broad — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rita Broad Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Absolutely not. Stay as is. Do away with insider trading! Or is trump controlling you too?

Rita Brown — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rita Brown Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
It is extremely important that quarterly reports continue for investors who cannot be engaged in day to day stock activity through their employment or connections. It is difficult enough to absorb and react to the data from three months in order to ensure companies are still in compliance with my interests and values. Companies move quickly and longer delays in disseminating information would make it impossible to make timely, effective decisions. This is critical for my financial stability and the integrity of the stock market.

Rita Casey — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rita Casey Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
File S7-2026-15 Stop with the games. This is far to important and will impact our retirement funds, it will impeed competition, open the door wider for insider trading which is against the law and unfair to the rest of the citizens. Is there no good faith or fair mindedness amongst those who want to keep us all in the dark? The savings to the SEC as they are trying to pass a sob story would be minimal while the impact will be detrimental to the rest of us. Keep the reporting as it is and do your jobs keeping us informed and the SEC doesn't get any unfair advantages. I am 77 years old and have never seen such corruption or thoughtlessness about the 99 percent of the rest of the country. Selfishness and greed have engulfed our present government and then they want us to sanction it. That is not going to happen.

Rita Pope — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rita Pope Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Rita Pope Grandma Keep it Quarterly. Do what is right for the people, not the billionaires.

Roam — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Roam Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is extremely vital to the continued survival of a fair and free market.We must keep it that way. If it is not broken, why change it?

- Jay

Rob Arteaga — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rob Arteaga I'm not in favor of changing reporting requirements to 2 times a year. I prefer to keep them at 4 in the spirit of transparancy.

Rob Ayers — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Rob Ayers Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 While most of us (I believe) try to act honestly in our daily lives, CEOs tend to see numbers that are just an abstraction to most of us. Who knows how well any of us would act in their shoes?
Additionally, I'm inclined to believe that people drawn to that career path may not be of the highest moral fiber.
We need to hold them accountable.

Rob Jenkins — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rob Jenkins Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This does nothing but provide a paved and well lit road to more efficiently exploit smaller investors, myself included. Boo. My wife and I both work in public service jobs which means we're already under compensated, changing from quarterly reporting is injurious and insulting.

Rob Jenkins, Educator

Rob
"...and in the end, the love you take is equal to the love you make."
P. McCartney

Rob Kop — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rob Kop Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 QUATERLY REPORTING!! Stop using RETAIL as EXIT LIQUIDITY.... ITS SICK AND UNFAIR AND YOU KNOW IT.... STOP CATERING TO BIG MONEY....

Rob Lombardo Retired health policy consultant — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rob Lombardo DO NOT WEAKEN financial reporting and the oversight, the requirements that protect Americans who invest, from loss. IT's just as simple as that.

Rob McKechnie Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rob McKechnie Keep company reports to shareholders on a QUARTERLY basis in Canada.

Rob Runett Motley Fool Ventures — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rob Runett As one of 130 million U.S. citizens who invest in public companies, I depend on the quarterly reporting cycle to ensure that my investing thesis remains intact. With no direct line to the CEO, CFO, or other C-suite leaders, my decision making relies on the data shared in quarterlies and access to CEO/analyst calls. I understand that quarterly filings require significant time, money, and staff resources. Public corporations would rather shift those resources to revenue-generating opportunities. But a four-times-per-year reporting cycle is a minimum standard of communication that should not be altered. As owners of these companies, regardless of the percentage, retail investors should have access to essential revenue and expense details. One potentially damaging outcome of restricted data: Market volatility for the company with 2x annual reports due to surprising performance (on the up or downside). Earnings season could be especially precarious across the greater market, and potentially create distrust and lower participation from retail investors. For companies that argue the 4x cycle is too challenging, there have been huge strides in financial reporting with AI, and this same intelligence could be applied to quarterly reporting. The best, most scrupulous actors will continue to deliver quarterly reports because they value the trust and loyalty of their shareholders, in good times and bad. Please do not change the rules to give less honest leadership teams the ability to introduce opaque practices that dampen visibility, and potentially participation, in the wider market.

Rob S — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Rob S Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it, AT A MINIMUM, to quarterly financial reporting. Almost everything required for accurate clearly detailed accounting statements is automated, or AI enhanced. It is also probably practical and prudent to require them bi-monthly. Americans are NOT going to witness another Enron debacle. There is so much money in the markets, that we don’t dare let any corrupt business executives to simply help themselves and cover their tracks. They’re earning the “big bucks”, now they just have to endure the stress and sweat it out. Additionally, NO MORE BAILOUTS!!!

Rob S — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Rob S Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep required filing, AT A MINIMUM, to quarterly financials. Almost everything required for accurate clearly detailed accounting statements is automated, or AI enhanced. It is also probably practical and prudent to require them bi-monthly. Americans are NOT going to witness another Enron debacle. There is so much money in the markets, that we don’t dare let any more corrupt business executives to simply help themselves and cover their tracks. They’re earning the “big bucks”, now they just have to endure the stress and sweat it out. Additionally, NO MORE BAILOUTS!!! “Furnished” statements MUST BE FILED AS COMPLETE QUARTERLY STATEMENTS WITHIN 59 DAYS OF QUARTERLY DEADLINES. Once filed, these statements must be certified by and through a registered, bonded and functionally operating public accountancy that is legally authorized to represent clientele in the same state of corporate domicile of the company or entity that is required to make timely, quarterly, legal financial filings.

Rob Shaw — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rob Shaw Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Corporations and individuals who possess large amounts of wealth or even small amounts need continuous monitoring and things need to remain as they are. As a hardworking blue collar individual I am required to follow the rules regardless of personal inconvenience and I don't think anyone deserves exception. Certainly not people who have been in and around financial institutions and Wallstreet their entire lives.

Get Outlook for Android

Rob Warmka — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rob Warmka Do not lessen the information flow to owners about companies they own.

Rob Yoder — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rob Yoder Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Dear SEC members.

I'm writing because I OPPOSE changes to the reporting rules for corporations. We have too many shenanigans happening and relaxed rules are an invitation to fraud and malfeasance.

Keep the reporting rules quarterly!

Rob Yoder
Managed Services Solutions Architect
Amateur investor

Robbie Gonzales-Ramos — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robbie Gonzales-Ramos Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Robbie L Gonzales, Retired
This should matter to us all. Letting big businesses off the hook for 6 months is a crime in itself. There can be too many accounting errors or forgetfulness during a 6 month time period. Oh, as just down right criminal.

Robbie
Sent from my iPhone

Robbie Minton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robbie Minton Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reporting in place as it is.

Robbie Wilson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robbie Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is the only way to keep corporations accountable. Once again big money is trying to dodge regulations that are in place for a reason.

Robby Schaner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robby Schaner Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 KEEP QUARTERLY

Roben Schmidt — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Roben Schmidt As an individual investor I believe it is a bad idea to make a change on the number of reports companies need to make. Transparency is important to make sound investing decisions, and this change negatively impacts the amount of information investors have in order to make good decisions.

Robert & Linda Brown — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Robert & Linda Brown Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We would like to request that you do not make changes to the quarterly mandated reporting. Such a change would negatively impact our retirement income. We stand for transparency in reporting.

Robert A Gepfert — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert A Gepfert For the good of our economy, please keep quarterly reporting of public-company reports (versus changing to two times a year). One reason is that it will keep management of companies accountable to investors (e.g. stockholders and bond owners) on a more regular basis. Less information rarely creates better-informed investors and results in more uncertainty.

Robert A Horton The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert A Horton Corporations should continue to report their earning and losses on a quarterly basis. As an investor in the stock market, it is very important that I get timely financials. A lot can happen in 6 months that one will not know about if you allow reporting only twice a year. The quarterly reporting as work well for years. No reason to change it, just so corporations can save a little money, and hide problems longer.

Robert A Larsen Retired physician — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert A Larsen Less information does not help individual investors or those with a fiduciary responsibility for investing. This bad for the vast majority of individual investor and will undermine a strength of the USA economy and its stature across the investing world.

Robert A. Beers — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert A. Beers Receiving information about the businesses I invest in is critical. Receiving it less often only causes more uncertainty and volatility. Please do not reduce the reporting requirements.

Robert Aebi — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Aebi Dear Sir, please keep number of Public Company Reports to four times a year. Not receiving regular reporting requirements weakens the communication link betwen companies and their owners. Thank You Robert Aebi

---

Robert Albert — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Albert Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 …SEC… and fellow henchman… how do you sleep at night and if you do fall asleep peacefully they're seriously something wrong with you God help you

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Alvarez — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Robert Alvarez Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
In all fairness, there should be no private sector if tax payers are the in part investing in companies in any format available. Therefore, all information should be visibly transparent... not that's my kind of reckless!

Robert Annas — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Annas Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 If Enron didn't teach us anything else, it should teach us that when money can be stolen with no consequence it will be

Mike Annas

Robert Bartelt — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Bartelt This change would reduce our knowledge of companies performance.

---

robert bent — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: robert bent Investors can just avoid stocks that refuse to issue quarterly disclosures. Indexes should drop non-compliant companies.

ROBERT BLANKENSHIP. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: ROBERT BLANKENSHIP. Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This invites illegality.

Just another example of the administration's abject corruption/criminality.

RHB

Robert Branscombe Invester — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Branscombe Why in the world would anyone want to invest in a company that only reporting twice a year. Its a slap in the face from company and sec to even consider such. Thinking we need to consider changing the sec management for such a crazy and absurd option. Really! We really need to do better!

Robert Brock — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Brock Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We are on a fixed income. We depend on our investments to keep our projected profits just to keep a roof over our heads. WE NEED TO KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING INTACT. I BELIEVE IN QUARTERLY REPORTING SO WE DONT LOSE VALUE ON OUR INVESTMENTS. WE HAVE TO KNOW IF WE ARE LOSING SO WE CAN ADJUST TO THE MARKET BEFORE IT IS TO LATE !!! Sincerely, Robert Brock

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Brockmyer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Brockmyer This change from quarterly reporting to semiannual isn't meant to help investors but only benefits a few corporations that may just be disingenuous. If reliable financial disclosures are withheld from the investing community, these uninformed individuals will then turn to a very unreliable source for this data, THE MEDIA. I am just a small individual investor. I rely on information to make choices for everything in my families lives and will continue to do so no matter what happens but, changes of this magnitude will filter down into areas that will affect our daily life choices. So, choose wisely. And we know what happens when the media gets involved in anything important. It's called misinformation, over exaggerated and lately FAKE NEWS. So, give this decision more consideration to the long term effects on our investing journey that we all are on. Thank you for this opportunity to respond, Robert Brockmyer

---

Robert Bruce — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Bruce Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I say NO!

Robert Bucher — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Bucher Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Robert Bucher. I am a woodworker and father of two. When I was younger, every dollar I made stretched so much further than it does now. You did not need two jobs or to become an active investor. You could put your money in ETF or something and let it sit there, but inflation is out of control and you need to work three jobs or actively trade in order to stay afloat in the real world . This may not be a major issue for those making over 174,000.but for us we need to make our savings last as long as possible. It angers me deeply that congress clearly is around information that members of the public Do Not get to have and they are allowed to trade. Now that they see regular people are copying their portfolio and trades. They are making an attempt to block people from seeing their trades as opposed to stopping the insider trading. It is completely unbelievable that we elected visa folks to a position of Power, I am appalled by the way our government is treating the average person in America right now. absolutely appalled. I mean the fact that you are trying to not allow the average person to see stock trade history when you are clearly involved in insider trading blows my mind and it steals absolutely zero confidence in any of our leaders. And if you didn't read any of this, and just looking for my answer, I vehemently oppose the ability for anyone to not disclose stock trades for any longer than is already "legal"

Sent from my iPhone

---

robert buck — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: robert buck Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Why would you change this! It leaves more room for fraud and deception and that is the last thing we need now days. Please don't let this happen.

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Robert Chea — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Chea I have been a long time investor and like getting quarterly updates from companies. As an investor, I want to get more updates, not less from them, so I do NOT support the idea of moving to semi-annual updates.

Robert Cohen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Cohen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please continue the quarterly reporting requirement. We deserve transparency from our investments.

Robert Connor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Robert Connor Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Reducing reporting requirements for corporations is a large step in the wrong direction. Transparency is necessary for a fair stock market. A six-month blackout would be a window for fraud to go undetected.

Robert Cook — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Cook Semi-Annual reporting is a very poor idea. The money it might save is minimal compared to the frantic stock sales created by surprise reports. With investors accustomed to quarterly reports the change will be very unsettling. Perhaps the sec is more concerned about the ETF, mutual fund and index fund managers. That would be understandable but that is the group that would cause much more disruption than the retail investor. A mass movement could easily be started by the fund managers being surprised by a poor report. Once started the momentum of this type of move could easily become contagious. It is my belief that this move would be much more unsettling than settling.

Robert Corbin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Corbin Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Everything should be made public to anyone who's invested half a red cent and anyone who comes out of a "dark period" richer should be investigated.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Robert Cowan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Cowan Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Enough corruption

I do not send wiring instructions for real estate transactions via email. Please contact the title company handling your transaction by telephone or in person for the correct wiring instructions. Please do not convey your financial information via email to me, and contact me via telephone regarding any suspicious or inconsistent communications.

Robert Cranage The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Cranage I am not in favor of allowing companies to choose or to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. I am in favor of maintaining the number of public-company reports at four times a year.

Robert Cudworth — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Cudworth Do not reduce the number of reports. Reports equal information, information equals actionable intelligence, actionable intelligence equals opportunities, and investor protection

---

Robert Cunard None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Cunard Please keep reports quarterly. Don’t change to twice a year.

Robert D'Alto — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert D'Alto Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Transparency is of the utmost importance importance. Quarterly reporting is transparent and hold people accountable.

Robert D. Johnson, MD Retired — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert D. Johnson, MD In this age of automation and AI there should be no problem with having reports quarterly and the expense should be going down. For long term buy and hold stock owners twice a year might be ok, but as I do both buy and hold as well as trade even in retirement there is no problem with the current amount of information generated quarterly.

Robert Dado — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Robert Dado Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting. Without it I fear our markets will collapse and us little investors will be the biggest losers.

Sent from my iPhone

Robert de Varennes — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert de Varennes To whom it may concern, I am not in favor of semiannual reporting and I would like quarterly reporting to be maintained. The costs to maintain quarterly reporting are borne by stockholders such as myself; this is a cost I am prepared to pay. Some would argue that quarterly reporting causes management to focus on the short term performance of the company. I believe that competent management can focus on the longer term even if it reports out quarterly. The management that cannot do this likely has incentives that are too focused on the short term performance of the company stock. Thank you for your attention, Robert de Varennes

---

Robert Ferger — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Ferger Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 If we are to invest in businesses we deserve transparency. I support keeping reporting quarterly. Robert Ferger-retailer - trader

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Ferguson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Ferguson This proposal would allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. I think that’s a mistake! At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners - the investors. Taking the reports away doesn't make anyone more patient. It just makes everyone less informed.

Robert Flynn — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Robert Flynn Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Today's market has a massive amount of private investors, many of whom are managing their own IRA's. reduced reporting will hurt those private investors, much more than institutional investors. I do not support changing the reporting frequency!

Robert France — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert France As an individual investor, I would be put at a significant disadvantage compared to large institutional investors if the requirement for earnings transparency was cut in half. The current quarterly earnings structure is a protection for smaller investors, without the sway of large sums of money, to receive regular updates on how their investments are performing. Large investors are already privy to one on one conversations with executive leadership within the quarterly earnings cycle. Extending this timeline to semi-annual releases would only prolong the time period that smaller investors are left “in the dark” on potential large shifts in business performance. If anything the SEC should be pushing for MORE FREQUENT earnings releases to promote transparency and the free-sharing of information (especially in today’s digital age), and not less transparency for investors, the true owners of these businesses.

---

robert frey — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: robert frey Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Absolutely not, no justification for this. Everyone loses except we know who!

Robert G Tomazic — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert G Tomazic Please please vote down S7-2026-15, Semiannual Reporting as it would make us as shareholders less informed than we currently are. Thank You

---

Robert G. Frame — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert G. Frame Complete and transparent information is essential and the present four annual reporting needs to be in place..

Robert Gannon Retired — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Gannon Reducing oversight is wrong

---

Robert Garbush — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Garbush Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Corporate GREED, FRAUD, DECEPTION, & NON REGULATORY PROTECTIONS HAS GONE RAMPID & IS OF EPIC

PROPORTIONS THAT IS RAPIDLY LEADING TO COMPLETE GLOBAL DESTRUCTION & MUST STOP NOW! START BY RELEASING THE COMPLETE UNDOCTORED COURT ORDERED EPSTEIN FILES NOW & LOCK THEM THE FUK UP IN THE CONCENTRATION CAMPS THEY ARE CONSTRUCTING FOR US AS WE SPEAK!

Robert Garbush — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Garbush Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Corporate GREED, FRAUD, DECEPTION, & NON REGULATORY PROTECTIONS HAS GONE RAMPID & IS OF EPIC PROPORTIONS THAT IS RAPIDLY LEADING TO COMPLETE GLOBAL DESTRUCTION & MUST STOP NOW! START BY RELEASING THE COMPLETE UNDOCTORED COURT ORDERED EPSTEIN FILES NOW & LOGK THEM THE FUK UP IN THE CONCENTRATION CAMPS THEY ARE CONSTRUCTING FOR US AS WE SPEAK!

Robert Geiger — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Geiger Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Robert J Geiger. Retired iron worker local 25. The SEC is supposedly set up to serve and protect the people, not corporations from shady business practices. We need accountability to keep us safe from CEOs attempting to give falsified information. DO NOT CHANGE TO BI ANNUAL, KEEP IT QUARTERLY.

Robert George Rice Retired Teacher/School Administrator — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert George Rice Comments on S7-2026-15 Reducing corporate reporting to shareholders from 4 times a year to 2 times is not in our interest. We shareholders need quarterly reports to keep us abreast of each companies financial condition. We don't need regressive legislation. Please reject these proposed changes.

Robert Gillingham — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Gillingham Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep Americans informed! Don't change the rules! Thank you.

Robert Gilman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Gilman Reducing reporting will reduce transparency. As an individual investor who does my own diligence, I rely on quarterly reports. Going semi-annual takes away 1/2 my tools for responsible investing. The increase in uncertainty is not acceptable.

Robert Golden — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Golden Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Continue Quarterly reporting should legitimize historical comparisons. Make No Changes!

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Gough — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Gough Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We've run this experiment before. It resulted in lower returns. Why does the SEC want this? Its all part of the plan to degrade America. Wake up folks

---

Robert Graus Senior Project Manager — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Graus I am absolutely against the reduction in company reporting to twice a year. At a minimum they should report 4 times a year or more. As an owner, shareholder, of companies I want to know how those companies are competing in their respective market sectors and their current financial status.

Robert Graves — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Graves Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Robert Graves, Owner/Operator of a small transportation business. And requiring Accountability by potential business partners is imperative for me to be able to succeed. And having very real punishment for fraudulent business practices continues to be very needful! Do NOT change the consequences of illegal business reporting & practices!!
In this Day & Age of official "camouflage" regarding acts of illegal actions & practices pervading our society, from the highest political office down to the lowest, plus illegal & fraudulent corporate practices reported in the news regularly, how can you even contemplate doing away with a very important & needed tool for maintaining accountability in business practices?!

Robert Gray N/a — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Gray In a world when data is more available and refreshed faster than ever, this move towards semi-annual reporting is a step backwards in time. The lack of transparency presented by less frequent results represents a significant risk to retail investors in particular, who are less able to absorb losses or react to wins. Whatever minor efficiency gains might come from halving public reporting is not worth the lack of transparency. Public companies have a responsibility to their shareholders to provide timely updates. Please scratch this rule and retain quarterly reporting.

Robert Harpur — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Robert Harpur Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Why am I commenting on the SEC Quarterly versus Semi-Annually Reporting issue?
Because I (Bob Harpur) am a retired public schools AP World History teacher in Arizona and I understand the great value of quarterly reporting on my students growth and progress compared to a 6 month semi-annual report.

How does one (the teacher, parent, and student) or (individual investor) evaluate and provide the opportunity for growth and success when one doesn't have the strength of numerical and strategic solutions (from reporting and evaluations) to counter a failure in the performance of the student (company, entity)?

Why would we want to extend that quarterly reporting and source of valuable data to a six month period and miss the opportunity to self-correct at the source in a timely manner.

Unless it is in the interest of the school system (the company insiders and owners) to "manipulate the numbers and information so to speak" to their benefit (make themselves look better to the outside world and not help the individual student / investor).

Reducing corporate reporting frequency from Quarterly to Semi-Annually would likely - Hurt market efficiency... Hurt the student / investor.

Reduce transparency... Hurt the parent and student / investor.

Increase informational advantages for insiders and large institutions... Hurt our personal investment in our future.

Provide little benefit to individual investors... Create a vacuum that deters important growth and timely increase in a student's / investor's knowledge and opportunity to make corrections to ensure success.

Thank you for the opportunity to express my views.

Robert Harvey Motley Fool disciple — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Harvey under this proposal, owners would receive only half as many official updates about the businesses they own. Less transparency doesn’t eliminate uncertainty. It increases it.

Robert Holden — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Holden Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Given the advances in technology companies especially s&p companies and NYSE Fortune 500 companies should be able to report monthly, not quarterly. Giving them semi-annual reporting opens the door to corruption and fraud the likes of which we've never seen. Many of these companies have also fired a tremendous number of people because of AI and now they want a 6-month blackout period? Just say no.

Robert Holmes — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Holmes Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 You have something that works! Keep it in place!

Sent via the Samsung Galaxy S21 FE 5G, an AT&T 5G smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Robert Hughes — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Hughes Changing reporting requirements to just 2x per year is the wrong approach. More frequent reporting provides increased transparency and visibility. Thank you.

Robert J Lewellyan Motley Fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert J Lewellyan This is an egregiously wrong proposal. To limit such information to twice yearly deprives investors of necessary information.

Robert J Mitchell Motley Fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert J Mitchell Another authoritarian move by the Trump administration to disenfranchise people from an open free society. Do not let this happen. You know it's wrong. And it will backfire. As everything Trump touches does.

Robert J Nolan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert J Nolan Reducing reporting to the stockholders of a company gives us much less information on the operations of the company we invest our money into. With automation and computers producing reports, the cost savings would have to be minimal while the loss in regular reports to owners would create much greater anxiety and volatility. Please do not reduce reporting requirements to semi-annual from quarterly. Thank you.

Robert J Rudig — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert J Rudig Given modern accounting systems, software tools and computing power employed by the affected entities, transparency should be increasing not decreasing as would be the case if reporting periods are lengthened.

Robert J Smith — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert J Smith I believe reducing the quarterly reporting for companies to twice per year would be a poor decision. Greater information is always better for investing in general. I oppose this suggested change.

Robert J Varga Jr — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert J Varga Jr Less transparency doesn't eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. When information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater. As an investor managing all of our own retirement funds based on quarterly reports, this proposal is bad and I am absolutely against it.

Robert Jolicoeur N/A — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Jolicoeur I believe it would be a mistake to go to semi annual reporting. I was in a retail industry for 29 years and results got worse when they went from inventory once every six months to once a year. I believe semi annual reporting would be bad for companies and bad for Investors.

Robert Jones The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Jones Investing is ownership and we deserve regular, transparent communication from those businesses. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners.

Robert Keefer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Keefer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting helps keep these guys honest,

---

Robert Kingsbury — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Kingsbury I would like to voice my preference that publicly traded companies continue to be required to release quarterly financial reports. Reducing the requirement to semi-annual reports is not in the best interest of the public. Thank you.

Robert Kirk — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Kirk Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Do not allow the SEC to begin semi annual reporting. It didn't work the first time. I vote! Don't forget that.

Sent from my iPhone

Robert LaRosa — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert LaRosa Please keep the requirement for Quarterly filing reports. Semi annual reports are not in the public interest. Thanks

---

Robert Lin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Robert Lin Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Bad actors live in the shadows. The best disinfectant is light.
I think the benefits still outweigh the cost of quarterly reporting.

Robert Loftus — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Loftus Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep ceos accountable on a quarterly basis. It's what make the American Corporation great.

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Long Individual investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Long Do not reduce the company and corporate reporting requirements from quarterly to semiannual. Too much time would pass between reports. Very bad move for investor research, for persons such as me.

Robert Lorbeski — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Lorbeski Dear SEC, I oppose the change from quarterly to semiannual reporting. Investors, as owners of the business, must be able to remain informed about the operation and performance of the companies they own. Semiannual reporting does not provide sufficiently timely information on the key performance indicators. I oppose the change. Robert Lorbeski

---

ROBERT M MCCRACKEN — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: ROBERT M MCCRACKEN I am opposed to 2X Annual reporting. We can't reduce investor communication !

Robert M. Rosenberger — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert M. Rosenberger As an accredited investor, I feel that quarterly reports are needed to assure transparency and fair play. Semi-annual reporting would remove confidence in American securities, leading to more conservative capital allocation with less support for innovation.

Robert Mackie — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Mackie Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This FASCIST TAKEOVER is NOT GOING TO LAST….
It’s TIME FOR YOU RICH BASTARDS TO BE ARRESTED, CHARGED AND JAILED!!!😡🔥

Robert K. Mackie

Robert Masterw Retired USAF Officer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Masterw Please reconsider changing public corporation filing requirements from 4 times a year to 2 times. Visibility is key to successful investing in American companies and less visibility can only negatively impact both private and fund investment confidence. There are a multitude of investment opportunities beyond corporate stock ownership.

Eroding the confidence in stock ownership can only result in decreased opportunities for U.S. companies to obtain funding.

Robert Morris — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Morris Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is reasonable and good
Please keep it. I am a retired CPA.

Robert
c: 612-247-0641
rdmorris.54@gmail.com

Robert Nacario — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Robert Nacario Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reports are vital for the general public who own managed assets to work with their portfolio managers. This ensures everyone is doing their due diligence in maintaining integrity in the industry and keeping the economy strong.

Robert Nacario
Retired
Elk Grove, CA

Sent from my iPad
Robert Nacario

Robert Ohlemiller — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Ohlemiller Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Accountability and transparency demand that the SEC continue to require reporting on a quarterly basis. Certain activities should be required to be reported immediately.

Robert Ohlemiller
President
Sylvan Ridge Lakes HOA
Indianapolis

Robert Onder — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Onder As an investor, I am a part owner of publically traded companies that I have purchased shares of, albeit a very small fraction of ownership. As part owner, I should be entitled to regular and transparent communication from those businesses. Reducing communication to biannual would lessen the amount of information available from the company and decreases transparency to average investors only.

Robert Pounders — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Pounders We need to keep quarterly reports in place.

Robert Prichard The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Prichard I oppose the suggestion to change reporting requirements from four times a year to two. Fewer reports equals less transparency.

Robert R. Gaines — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Robert R. Gaines Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Trust has failed and w✉ Send Email to SEC → https://keepitquarterly.org/enron/?utm_source=facebook&utm_medium=paid&utm_campaign=keep_quarterly_enron&fbclid=IwZXh0bgNhZW0BMABhZGlkAas4yM32YQtzcnRjBmFwcF9pZAwzNTA2ODU1MzE3MjgAAR7iIwU5sJhBG5Z5_77dBxmUkzL3MpnMKPnDmnQWm5kz-mly7a22y_PxQqiy6w_aem_FMFrapeFqFfjSHAzGYSBCQ&utm_id=120252240978590747&utm_content=120252249558890747&utm_term=120252240978610747#ill fail again unless we keep Quarterly Reporting in place.

Robert

rgaines@rgaines.com
816.668.6331
rgaines.com
ShowMePhotography.org

Robert Reeves — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Reeves Let's get the idea out of our heads that less reporting makes companies stronger. Public Corporations making a product, or selling a service, have no reason to keep their fundamentals from the investors. Quarterly reports help everyone keep their "eyes on the ball." No news isn't good news.

Robert Regan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Regan I understand that a proposal is being considered to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. I think that is a horrendous mistake! As owners (stock holders) of companies we need greater transparency, not less. This proposal, should it pass, would definitely obscure the financial health of the entire publicly traded market from the people who most require insight into them - the shareholders.

Robert Reischl Mötley Fool community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Reischl Email!

Robert Roark — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Robert Roark Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 More reporting is better than less. We have a criminal regieme that is lowering ethical standards already, so it's a green light for Corporate evasion of the laws. The SEC has enough trouble prosecuting complex cases without making it more difficult. Most top executives have a criminal streak according to psychologists exerywhere. We need protection from the Wolves of Wall ST.

Robert Robb — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Robb I agree with the Motley Fool's assertion that reducing reporting to twice a year will result in larger and more "surprising" changes between reports, thus increasing speculation and market volatility. Quarterly calendar benchmarks are already volatile times of year when we see increased trading and subsequent price movement. In an age of interconnectedness, real-time streaming information, and ai, we should be moving toward more reporting, more data, more transparency, and more timeliness - not less. Take the Iran conflict for example. Or the Tariff Tantrums. Markets reacted to an unknown with high volume trading and volatility, only to eventually correct because earnings and profits continue to rise. Would they have reacted that way had they real-time financial information of the supposedly affected companies? Investors were left guessing which companies would be impacted and by how much, since they weren't informed until the next quarterly report.

Robert Robertson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Robertson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep quarterly reports!!!!!

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Robert Roy — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Roy Dear Commissioners, I am writing as an individual investor to express my opposition to the proposal to allow public companies to reduce their reporting frequency from quarterly to semiannual. At its core, investing represents ownership. Shareholders rely on timely, consistent disclosures to understand the performance, risks, and strategic direction of the companies they own. Reducing reporting to twice per year would significantly weaken this essential flow of information. Less frequent reporting would not reduce uncertainty—it would increase it. When updates are delayed, information gaps widen, and market participants are more likely to react sharply when new data finally becomes available. This could lead to greater volatility and reduced confidence in the fairness and efficiency of the markets. Proponents argue that reducing reporting frequency may lower costs or discourage short-term thinking. However, advances in technology and disclosure tools have already improved the efficiency of reporting. Moreover, limiting access to information does not address short-termism; it simply leaves investors less informed. Quarterly reporting provides a regular cadence that supports transparency, accountability, and investor trust. Moving away from this standard risks undermining these principles and weakening the connection between companies and their owners. For these reasons, I respectfully urge the Commission to maintain current quarterly reporting requirements and reject the proposed shift to semiannual reporting. Thank you for considering my views. Sincerely,

Robert Roy

Robert S Woodard — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert S Woodard We need more, not less transparency!

Robert Sacks Robert Sacks — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Sacks I am not in favor of having company report only twice annually. My own many stocks and as an owner, I feel it is important. II am not in favor of having company report only twice annually. My own many stocks and as a owner, I feel it is important. I understand the performance of companies at least on a quarterly basis.

Robert San Socie — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Robert San Socie Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please keep reporting to every three months.With current penalties.
Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Robert Schmelter — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Schmelter Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Corporations are driven by profit and the bottom line. There is no morality in their decisions. Keep it Quarterly!!! I have been downsized and screwed by companies after years of service! They have no empathy for their employees.
R Schmelter retired middle management.

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Schmidt — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Schmidt Please do not allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. As an investor, I strongly believe that I deserve more regular, transparent communication from businesses. Thank you.

Robert Schmidt — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Schmidt Investor need more and more frequent information, Not less.

Robert Seaboldt The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Seaboldt Please do not reduce the reporting requirements aimed at investors. Investors need as much information as possible to make informed decisions.

Robert Sensat — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Sensat Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No change to quarterly reports. They steal enough already. Crooked politicians will be hanged ,no prison. THATS COMING.

Robert Shriner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Shriner Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Do not pass this law there is way too much secret stuff going on even now give the working people a fair chance . Enough insider trading gong on now. If you pass this stupid law put you name on a public list so we can vote you all out

---

Robert Siniscalchi Individual investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Siniscalchi I am against semi annual public company reporting. As a shareholder and owner of a company I deserve to be updated on the progress of the companies I own at least 4 times a year as it is now. To be updated every 6 months would put too much time in between updates and consequently could have an adverse effect on investors because in this day of fast developments a downturn could be an unwelcome surprise.

Robert Stabe — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Stabe Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It seems any organization involved in stock market oversight should report frequently, not less. Just another proposal to make big business and our government less transparent.
I am a small investor

Sent from my iPad

Robert Stanley Fidelity and Schwab account — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Stanley Strongly against this change. Will only increase and encourage shady dealings and misinformation.

Robert stein — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert stein In the interest of transparency, quarterly reporting is essential. As an investor, I am an owner of the business. I am also the owner of a small business. In both cases, I need frequent updates on the state of affairs. Anything less than quarterly strikes me as absurd.

Robert Stolz None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Stolz As crooked as Democrats and Liberal Republicans are, would only increase the fraud if decrease to 2 reports. Besides AI will only make reporting easier. Keep reporting at 4x per year

---

Robert Strawbridge — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Strawbridge I oppose semi annual financial statements.

Robert Sullivan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Sullivan Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I think that you should let the insiders win. You're going to anyway.

Robert T Petrine — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert T Petrine Sunshine is the great disinfectant. Robust, clearly written quarterly financial reports coupled with vigorous oversight are the primary means of ensuring the public has the means to make informed decisions about doing business with registered companies either as an investor or a consumer of the business' goods and services. The associated expense of producing those reports is a justified cost of doing business in the US and is immaterial to the total costs of running those businesses.

---

robert taylor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: robert taylor Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Robert c. Taylor retired .Keep the quarterly reporting ! Too Protect the investors and the integrity of the market .

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Thatcher — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Thatcher Maintain 4 times a year.

Robert Trager — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Robert Trager Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 If it is correct 4 signings should not be but 30 seconds with a long name.

Robert Trager

ROBERT VICTOR BARON Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: ROBERT VICTOR BARON Why stop at reducing the reporting to twice a year. Maybe it should be once or less. I means seriously, once the process is established it should not be a hardship to generate the data every quarter of every month. This would be especially true as AI is coming into force. So keep the existing standard.

Robert Walton-Sharp CEng MIStructE — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Walton-Sharp I support semi-annual reporting. As a small business owner I am swamped with bureaucracy. Soon making tax digital will force greater admin costs, and accountancy costs on me and my business. The idea that it will be simple is a political deceit. It won't increase revenue merely add to cost reducing profit and thus reducing tax. The time spent on compliance will be time lost to productive work. While this proposal semi-annual reporting does not strictly apply to me, I have US investments and I sympathise with larger companies and so I support semi-annual reporting.

Robert Wancha — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Wancha Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I'm Robert Wancha from Michigan. As a retired psychologist I am concerned about reduced transparency of corporate financial operations. Please maintain the quarterly reporting requirements on business.

Robert War — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert War I object to the proposed change. The more information provided, the better investors are informed.

Robert Weber — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Robert Weber Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Yes sign quarterly lets not go through this crazy * again!

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Wellemeyer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Wellemeyer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 What is wrong with quarterly reports. A I now does accounting work, computer companies provide business programs, most taxes are submitted by computer. Quarterly reporting should not be that difficult. Think State of Minnesota and failed documentation of sales, then keep quarterly requirements.

Robert Wells Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Wells I am disturbed to hear the consideration of reducing the reporting of public companies to the public. Making is less than more is creating greater uncertainty and potentially the opportunity for companies to hide relevant information to the public. In fact I would prefer to see more frequent reporting. Therefore, it can be shorter and to the point vs. the effort of preparing for quarterly calls. monthly or every other month would be preferred. I come from the world of public companies and appreciate the level of effort to prepare for these calls.

Robert Westendorff — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Westendorff Information is the power Needed to make the best decisions! Don’t limit it.

---

robert williams — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: robert williams Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Y'all screwed us back then and we had to bail you out! Never again? Keep the reporting as is,4 times a year! We don't trust you period! Rob Williams -citizen- Colorado.

Robert Wright Retired — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Wright I totally agree with the proposal to only report twice each year

---

Robert Zacharski — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Zacharski I respectfully oppose the proposal to reduce public-company reporting from quarterly to semiannual, as it would diminish transparency and weaken the ability of investors to make informed decisions. Regular quarterly reporting provides timely insight into a company’s performance, strategy, and risks, helping maintain market efficiency and investor confidence. Reducing the frequency of disclosures would not eliminate short-term focus but would instead increase uncertainty, amplify market volatility when updates do occur, and disadvantage individual investors who rely on consistent, standardized information. In today’s environment—where technology has made reporting more efficient, not more burdensome—there is little justification for scaling back a framework that supports accountability and fair access to information for all market participants.

Robert zgraggen Motley fool community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert zgraggen I disagree with semiannual statements from companies. Quarterly statements allow individual investors to make more informed decisions and reduce volatility.

Roberta Dobbins — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Roberta Dobbins Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is essential for keeping up with market changes and preventing abuses. We are retirees and depend on our investments for retirement income and major life goals. We are counting on SEC to ensure openness and security in the investment sector.

Respectfully,

Roberta Castro Dobbins
Retired

Sent from my iPhone

Roberta Elford — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Roberta Elford Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I am an elderly retired woman and my. Income depends on the status of my portfolio. I need to keep up with my quarterly reports. Keep the quarterly reports required.
Roberta Maurer

Sent from my iPhone

Roberta Gruber — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Roberta Gruber Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Bad idea!!!!

Roberta H Gruber
Associate Professor, Dept. Of Design
AWestphal College of Media Arts & Design
Drexel University

www.drexel.edu/westphal

Sent from my iPhone

Roberta Uible-King Walgren — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Roberta Uible-King Walgren Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep it way it has been. Companies must been. Protects the average stockholder. Roberta Walgren

Sent from my iPhone

Roberta Ward — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Roberta Ward Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting at least gives the investors some indication of which way things are trending. If companies wish to eliminate it, then they should go private. They shouldn't have other people's money without being transparent about what they are doing with it.
Roberta L. Ward, MBA retired.

RobertCSteinmetz — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: RobertCSteinmetz We should go to zero required reporting since all companies are screwing everyone at all times.

Robertkathryn Longo — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Robertkathryn Longo Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:you are a bunch of crooks. If you are honest you wouldn't want this. There is a special place in hell for the ones trying to pass this. Your money won't save you in the end.

Roberto Pillitteri — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Roberto Pillitteri Dear Sirs, as an Italian investor in US equities and Motley Fool member, I expect that SEC reliquinshes the intention to suppress quarter information for investors. Here in Italy it is normal to have such quarter public documents (maybe copied from you!!), albeit (if one considers the solar year) the ones following the quarters ending in March and September may be leaner and simplified . Plus, some companies (e.g. Brunello Cucinelli, the ultra-high luxury company) separately publish 4 times a year a specific communication concerning sales worldwide and make comments on such ongoing activities and perspectives (as Taiwan Semi Manufacturing Company does). Transparency and information are to be increased, not decreased and suppressed , and I firmly believe in this, expecially speaking as a foreign investor. I trust SEC will avoid any error on such crucial issue Best regards Roberto

---

Roberto R. Thomae Reture CFO, nasdaq company — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Roberto R. Thomae Reducing compliance overhead is all good.. ...10Qs are mostly boilerplate for most filers.....important material events should be discussed in timely press releases, as important things happen...social media makes keeping up with company activity very easy...

Robin (individual) — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robin (individual) Four reports per year are just right. Two annual reports are two too few. Businesses work on quarterly cycles. Keep the integrity.

Robin Bennett — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Robin Bennett Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting required. For transparency in assessing financial stability. Useful for updating choices on my retirement folio.

R. Bennett, Executive Assistant (retired)

Robin C. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robin C. Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Do you want people to ever trust you or Trump again? Then, keep quarterly reporting.. wwwe know your tricks: keep us ignorant so the CEOs and dirty pols win by insider trading, stealing our money.

Trust you? Not if you do this.

Robin Carlson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robin Carlson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Leave the quarterly as it is. The SEC needs to stay transparent. If you really want to help change the reporting to every 2 months. That might keep you all honest. Robin Carlson, Retired, I don't want SEC playing with the money I worked so hard for .

Robin Daley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robin Daley Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 As a stock market investor and a concerned American citizen, I demand and expect to KEEP COMPANY REPORTING ON A QUARTERLY BASIS. Investors expect transparency and accountability from the companies they choose to invest in. We also expect transparency and accountability from the government agency monitoring company activity (the SEC). I DISAPPROVE OF THE SEC'S PROPOSAL FOR ANY LESS-FREQUENT COMPANY REPORTING THAN QUARTERLY.
Roberta L Daley - American Citizen and Stock Market Investor

Sent from my iPhone

Robin DeLaurier — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robin DeLaurier Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the reporting as is ! We need more transparency not less of it.

Sent from my iPhone

Robin Dilger — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robin Dilger Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Robin Dilger, retired educator: keep the transparency!!! Six months is criminal!

Robin Eisemann — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robin Eisemann Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep Quarterly Reporting

---

Robin Floyd — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robin Floyd Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting. Transparency is critical to top tier market performance!

Robin Gross — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Robin Gross Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
The elimination of the quarterly reporting is a ridiculously bad idea which will lead to investors incurring dramatic losses, with no meaningful opportunity to prevent or redress those losses. Companies with nothing to hide should not be concerned with the need for transparency- this change will only reward fraudsters and make it easier for them to mislead the investing public.

Robin Hartman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robin Hartman Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 PLEASE keep quarterly reporting. Doesn't the average American go through and lose enough already? We need the transparency.
Robin Hartman, registered nurse

Sent from my iPhone

Robin Jenkin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robin Jenkin Reduction in reporting frequency is likely to cause larger markets shifts when contrarian results are reported. It may also create a two-tier system where those companies reporting less often are considered more "risky". If a company is large enough to be listed it should be able to easily absorb the work necessary to produce financial statements once a quarter. Reducing reporting frequency widens the opportunity for malfeasance and irregularities. Investors should be protected by keeping strict reporting schedules.

Robin Kiggins — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Robin Kiggins Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
When is this country going to start holding the real criminals accountable?! I am ashamed of my country currently. The rich ripping off the hard working American people is a complete disgrace! Do not change what is currently in place!

Robin Loporchio — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Robin Loporchio Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please keep quarterly reporting requirements intact as investors need to have faith in the accuracy of earnings reports in a timely manner. The future of a fair and efficient stock market depends upon it.

Robin Lumb — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robin Lumb Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Transparency and accountability demand quarterly reporting. Publicly traded companies have a duty to keep their investors full informed.

Robin Lyon — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robin Lyon Keep SEC reports at four times per year. Twice is not enough.

Robin Meekins — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Robin Meekins Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not approve the 6 month blackout. Transparency matters. This will breed corruption and insider wickedness.

Robin Miller — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robin Miller Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Robin Miller, business owner & individual investor. Companies must be held to a high standard of accountability. If quarterly reporting is eliminated, we will not have enough information to invest and companies will be hurt.

Robin Poteet — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robin Poteet Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 As a retired individual, my financial resources represent my sole means of support for the remainder of my life. This crucial reality elevates the consistent and transparent oversight of my investments from a mere preference to an absolute necessity for my long-term well-being and security.

The quarterly statement is an indispensable tool in my financial management process. It provides me with a comprehensive and clear overview of how my account is performing, enabling me to accurately assess the effectiveness of my investment strategy. This regular insight is critical for me to make well-informed decisions regarding my financial planning, whether it involves adjusting allocations, understanding market trends, or simply ensuring my funds are working optimally to meet my ongoing needs.

Any deviation from the established schedule for these statements, or a lack of detailed reporting, would significantly impair my ability to monitor my financial health and respond proactively to changes. Such disruptions could lead to uncertainty and potentially hinder my capacity to adapt my personal financial plans effectively.

Therefore, I kindly request the continued and uninterrupted provision of my quarterly statements. Their timely delivery is fundamental to my ability to maintain vigilant oversight of my finances and ensure the stability I require in retirement. Robin Poteet
Retired

Robin Scurr — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robin Scurr Allowing only financial 2 reports per year would be devastating for the economy and investors. As shareholders, we are ultimately in charge and MUST know what is happening with a ompany. I urge this proposal to be rejected

---

Robin Snyder-Drummond — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robin Snyder-Drummond Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I have had to pay quarterly Self Employment taxes. There's little or no reason to change the required quarterly reports. It's too easy to let huge corporations report only twice a year, each six months. I can do quarterlies, you can, too.

Robin Snyder-Drummond
Ellsworth, ME 04605

Robin Stetler — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robin Stetler Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please don’t.

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTICE: The information and all attachments contained in this electronic communication are confidential and proprietary, some or all of which may be protected health information as defined by the HIPAA Privacy Rule, and may constitute trade secrets under applicable laws. They are intended solely for use by the individual or entity to which they are correctly addressed and were intended to be sent. Any review, use, dissemination, distribution, printing, or copying of this communication by anyone other than its intended recipient is strictly prohibited and may violate applicable law. If you received this message in error, please notify us immediately by return email to the sender’s address and permanently remove any copies of this message from your system and do not retain any copies, whether in electronic or physical form or otherwise.

BEWARE OF FRAUDULENT COMMUNICATIONS: There is a significant risk posed by cyber fraud, specifically affecting email accounts, bank account, and payment details. Check all emails carefully to ensure that there is no question of impersonation by a fraudster. Certain individuals might approach you by falsely presenting themselves as our employees, affiliates, agents, or representatives and might try to gain access to your personal information or to acquire money or other valuables from you. Fraudulent activities are frequently committed via email, the internet, text message, and phone. Emails sent by anyone in our organization will come only from the efyc.com, gatehospitality.com, jaxriverclub.com, gatehospitalitygroup.com, pvresorts.com or pvclubrealty.com domains and not from any variation of them, nor from any other domain address. If you receive an email which purports to come from someone at our organization but which does not originate from our exact domain name, DO NOT RESPOND, DO NOT REPLY, DO NOT CLICK ON LINKS OR IMAGES, and DO NOT OPEN ANY ATTACHMENTS. Contact us immediately by telephone to inform us and we will investigate without delay.

BEWARE OF FRAUDULENT PAYMENT INSTRUCTIONS: Never trust wiring or payment instructions sent via email. Cyber criminals are hacking email accounts and sending emails with fake wiring and payment instructions. We will NEVER notify you of a change of banking or payment details or instructions by email, post or text message. If you receive notice or payment instructions of any kind, or changes to previously provided instructions, even if it appears genuine, always speak to the person dealing with your matter before transferring any money by calling our main office number listed below. Fraudulent communications may also contain fake contact telephone numbers. Under no circumstances will our organization or its affiliates or subsidiaries be liable or responsible for any claims, losses, damages, expenses, or other inconveniences resulting from fraudulent activities.

NO BINDING AGREEMENT. This email does not constitute an agreement to conduct transactions by electronic means and does not create any legally binding contract or enforceable obligation unless and until approval and execution is provided in a formal writing by an authorized officer of our organization set forth in a separate document.

GATE HOSPITALITY, 200 Ponte Vedra Boulevard., Ponte Vedra Beach, Fl 32082, 904-285-1111, GateClubs@gatehospitality.com

---

Robin Ulas — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robin Ulas Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It’s outrageous to think that as an investor, I won’t have quarterly knowledge of how my company is doing!

Sent from my iPhone

Robyn A. Smithson Accounting Professional / Enrolled Agent — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robyn A. Smithson As an accounting professional as well as someone who invests in the market I do not think dropping the quarterly reporting down to semi-annual is a good idea. Every company and their investors need to be aware of what is going on regularly. You cannot make good business or investing decisions without that information.

Robyn Bashaw — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robyn Bashaw Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is effective. There is no honorable reason to shift away.

Robyn

Robyn Benjamin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robyn Benjamin Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Report quarterly!! Protect our investments!

Sent from my iPhone

Robyn DAVIES — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robyn DAVIES I dont support twice yearly reporting. Please retain requirement for quarterly reporting for transparency and to enable investors to have sufficient information for planning.

Robyn Hudson Pooser — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Robyn Hudson Pooser Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Keep the quarterly reporting and signing off.

Robyn Rogers — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Robyn Rogers Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Make corporate CEOs continue to sign quarterly reports. It is helpful for smalltime investors and helpful for keeping them honest.
Thank you,
Robyn Rogers

Robyn Snyder — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robyn Snyder Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Caleigh Robyn Snyder, 25 y/o, Payroll Admin- This matters to me because I am young and starting to invest for my retirement and to build a life. Having the information to make safe and smart investment options is imperative to me as I go through these major milestones in life. Hiding this information is only going to exacerbate the current ruse in insider trading which will benefit the wealthy who take US money outside the country and debilitate the everyday person like me who keeps money circulating in the US and keeps the economy afloat.

Rochele Ostrander — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rochele Ostrander Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 HEY, SEC:Keep it Quarterly

---

Rochelle Goodson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rochelle Goodson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I want my quarterly report to continue.

Rocky Lawdahl — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rocky Lawdahl This proposal is absurd, especially in the electronic era. It makes no sense to provide less information about companies that evolve quicker than quarterly. The proposal is akin to families getting ICU updates weekly instead of daily.

Rodge D Starkey None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rodge D Starkey In six months a board of directors can get away with a lot. Individuals need the protection of quarterly reports. Thank you.

Rodger Morris — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rodger Morris Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep filings quarterly. This change is designed to skew/delay “The Truth “.
There is NO BENIFIT to the people who RULE YOU to file bi-annual Rodger Morris ,citizen & TAX PAYER

Sent from my iPhone

Rodney Berry Motley Fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rodney Berry I think it would be a great injustice too the transparency the stake holders have enjoyed for years. Reduced reporting would be a big mistake. Let's please stop this.

Rodney Curry — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rodney Curry Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We don’t need to open the door to more fraud and corruption for a GOP president to pardon…keep us as informed as possible and keep them accountable. And remove any president that pardons these criminals! We clearly need more regulations in the markets as we now have a trillionaire that doesn’t pay dividends to shareholders. That should be illegal in itself!

Sent from my iPhone

Rodney Groen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rodney Groen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Investors and the general public need to feel that corporations are being held accountable (a word this administration does not like or understand) at all times, nothing wrong with quarterly reports!!

Rodney H. Johns — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rodney H. Johns All companies should disclose the health and direction of their company so that investers can know what they are investing in !!! The numbers have to be tallied anyway so to say it's a burden makes NO scense. The only reason not to is if information is being hidden.

Rodney Harris — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rodney Harris Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting period!

Sent from my iPhone

Rodney Haynes — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rodney Haynes The lack of quarterly reporting was corrected back in the 50's because it was a system that was not working properly. The thought to break something that worked and has been working ever since, is ludicrous! Leave well enough allow, please.

Roger Baxter — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Roger Baxter Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Sirs,

I, Roger Baxter, Brunswick County, North Carolina, lost significant investments because I believed false reports (Enron) in the past. The guys who make the big bucks need to have their feet held to the fire by taking responsibility and signing their company's quarterly reports verifying the trustworthiness of the reports issued by the company they head ... or face the consequences if they dare lie. We investors shouldn't be the only ones damaged by their fraud. More frequent (quarterly) signed reports force those who lead the companies to verify the accuracy of the reports on a more timely basis ... and keep closer and more timely knowledge of what is going on within their company. And this, hopefully, results in more accurate reports. Keep the quarterly sign off requirement in effect!

--
Roger Baxter

Laptop@RogerBaxter.com

Roger Bennett — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Roger Bennett Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Roger Bennett MBA This change will destroy confidence in reporting and hurt the USA.

Sent from my iPhone

Roger Bernstein Attorney, Bernstein & Gordon LLP — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Roger Bernstein Making corporate information available only twice a year is a real disservice to investors. The circumstances facing most companies can change in far less than six months. Investors need to know at least some of what the insiders in the company already know.

Roger Blain — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Roger Blain I am against any change to the current 4x a year company filing. Frequent transparancy and communication with the shareholders of any business is imperative, whether a small shop with 10 employees or a multi-national company with thousands. Less transparancy is the road to financial fraud. Please do not consider or vote for any change to the current 4x a year rule for company filings. Thank you.

Roger Boulay — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Roger Boulay Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Stop the new proposal to end quarterly reporting for companies.

Roger Bowman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Roger Bowman Regarding the proposed changes to reduce the frequency of corporate reporting, I'm against this initiative. Investing results in ownership, and an ownership stake demands frequent updates from management to remain informed of the condition of our ownership stake. Reducing the reporting period by one-half to twice a year is too infrequent to remain up to date with constantly - and rapidly - changing business conditions. Please keep the frequency at quarterly. Thank you Roger Bowman

---

Roger Buchanan Motley Fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Roger Buchanan I’m for MORE communication and not less. When we have open dialogue we can work together to achieve better results.

Roger DiGregorio The Motley Fool Community. — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Roger DiGregorio Please keep current 4x a year reporting. Companies manage their finances by quarter so why not let the public and investors know how they are doing. More reporting translates to more transparency for investors to make sound investment decisions.

Roger F. Van Brussel The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Roger F. Van Brussel To Whom It May Concern: It is my understanding a proposal is now in front of the Commission to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. I do not agree with this proposal and believe it to be a mistake. I run a small business in Connecticut and have our financials run once per month and at times more frequently. I understand there is a significant difference, not only in size but complexity, between publicly traded companies and small businesses. Nevertheless, information and transparency are cornerstones of shareholder confidence in the understanding of organizational performance. I respectfully ask that you leave the reporting structure as is. Thank you

---

Roger Gomez — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Roger Gomez Of course accountability is necessary for all agencies. This is especially true when public money is involved. With the current lack of trust in business and government agencies, it is especially true now.

Roger Herrington Private Investor - no professional affiliation — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-13 From: Roger Herrington I want to register my opposition to this proposed change in reporting requirements. The need to maintain the current quarterly reporting should be apparent with the changing market conditions in our current economic situation. The only beneficiaries seem to be those who are required to file, not people like me who depend on more timely reporting.

Roger Lodermeier — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Roger Lodermeier Please do not reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two

---

Roger Marton Retired — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Roger Marton I am opposed to the proposed rule change because more information is needed to keep investors informed of the business activity that is necessary for an informed owner/investor.

Roger Michener — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Roger Michener This proposal is not an improvement for investors, but, maybe, just a savings for companies -- both in actual processing and accountability and transparency -- resulting in a higher cost for investors in time and effort to understand a company. Is this part of a trend to reduce investor knowledge or something akin to the NASDAQ change in listing new issues. Also, not to be cynical, but if something is going amiss with a company, more time to hide it. Or, at least, not report it. Not in favor of this proposal.

Roger Pinion — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Roger Pinion Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Enron. WorldCom. Madoff. The run-up to 2008. Every major modern accounting scandal was enabled by gaps and opacity in financial disclosure. Quarterly filings don't prevent fraud, but they dramatically shorten the window in which it can fester before someone outside the company can see it. What if Enron only had to cook their books twice a year? Roger Pinion, Retired Bed & Breakfast Owner

---

Roger Smith — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Roger Smith investors deserve regular, transparent communication from whatever business they have purchased stock in. Who wants to invest in a stock where there’s little information issued about a company. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Some argue that fewer reports would reduce costs. Maybe. Although in an age of AI and increasingly efficient disclosure tools, that point is arguable. Taking the reports away doesn't make anyone more patient. It just makes everyone less informed. What isn’t debatable is that less information rarely creates better-informed owners. Just poorer investors.

Roger Sturdy — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Roger Sturdy Reducing reporting by half leads to less information available to stockholders which leads to uncertainty as to where the company is headed. It also can lead to expanded time periods where a company, if it is “cooking the books” has more time to work without reporting anything. More reporting is much more likely to be truthful and transparent.

Roger Tarrant — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Roger Tarrant I advocate for maintenance of the requirement for Quarterly reporting by public companies. Biannual reporting would leave investors inadequately informed, more of the time. Thank you.

ROGER TREACE — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: ROGER TREACE Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly!

Sent from my iPhone

Roger W Provenzano — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Roger W Provenzano With the already overvaluation of so many companies where stock price doesn't align with profits and value the company provides it's critical to maintain transparency for stockholders and potential investors. Do not pass a bill allowing semiannual reporting. Quarterly should be a minimum.

Roger White Retired — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Roger White Reducing the amount of information available to the shareholders makes the shareholders vulnerable to short sellers who generate false information about a company by driving down of price of the shares.

Roger William Hill — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Roger William Hill Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Do not change the reporting process.

Roger Williams — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Roger Williams Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep SEC reporting quarterly. It is worth the extra cost to have the information available to us. Government cannot run on autopilot.

Roger Williams
479 Sandpiper Ct, Chestertown, MD 21620

Rohan smith Motley fool investors — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rohan smith As mentioned I think we are part owners of the business we invest in and I for one would NOT like to see companies moving to 6 monthly reporting . I think the status quo is working well for us (the investor and part owner)

Roland Buck — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Roland Buck Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the quarterly reviews

---

Roland Smith — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Roland Smith We disagree with the proposal to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two semi-annual reports. Investing is ownership and we own a piece of the business. We deserve timely, regular and transparent communication from the business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between the company and the owners and raises the chance of a disappointing surprise when the reporting does come.

Rolanda Turner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rolanda Turner Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please do not end quarterly reports! We need all the information to make sound, informed decisions. Six months is simply too much time for things to go wrong.

Rolanda Turner
Sent from my iPhone. Please excuse any brevity or typos!

Rolf Taylor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rolf Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 If corporations did not have a miserable record (see the Great Recession) perhaps once a year would be enough. As it is, they cannot be trusted and quarterly must be maintained. The costs of such reporting are the direct result of past nefariousness . Sadly those costs are shared by honest companies, but that is the price to protect the public and the financial stability of our country.

Rolfe Klint — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rolfe Klint Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 SEC, I want the reporting to be kept quarterly. Don't cater to the large corporations and their CEOs.
R. Klint
Las Cruces NM

Rolfe Klint — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rolfe Klint Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly!

Do not change the requirements that corporations make their reporting quarterly.

Roman Rufanov — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Roman Rufanov Hi, please do not not reduce quarterly reporting requirements. Less transparency doesn’t eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater. Please keep current rules in place. Thanks, Roman R

Romeo Yankee — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Romeo Yankee Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Dear SEC members. I’m writing because I OPPOSE changes to the reporting rules for corporations. We have too many shenanigans happening and relaxed rules are an invitation to fraud and malfeasance.
Keep the reporting rules quarterly!
Rob Yoder
Managed Services Solutions Architect / Amateur investor

Rommel J. Sangalang — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rommel J. Sangalang Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Rommel Sangalang
Indirect Sourcing Leader, IT & Telcom

Like many others I monitor and change my RothIRA as data dictates. I read the filings of companies I'm investing in. Not knowing how they are actually performing except for two dates annually is a bad situation for any investor.

-Rommel Sangalang

Ron — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ron Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My investments are my life blood. My wife and I are retired and absolutely depend on our investments to live.
The reporting must stay quarterly to protect the average American taxpayer.

Ron — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ron In this day and age using the "reduce cost factor" doesn't hold water when reducing the number of reports from 4-2. The information is already available and with the AI software tools in the market place the cost factor should be reduced not increased. Reporting twice a year can increase the amount of surprises in share price resulting in larger price fluctuations and panic

---

Ron Almond — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Ron Almond Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Stop tampering with what is not broken. IIABDFWI

Ron Bolton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ron Bolton By owning shares in a company, I am a joint owner and should have access to information that shows how the company is performing. Reducing the number of reports limits the performance data that is diseminated to the owners.

Ron Dee — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ron Dee Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 6 months is too long for investors to wait for information! Fraud, poor trends, good trends, all will go unnoticed for a half a year if quarterly reporting stops. With AI being pushed down our throats, there's no reason to discontinue this trend. Poor management is the only beneficiary of such a change. As a CPA, and a Controller, and a stock investor, I support keeping quarterly reporting.

Ronald Dee, CPA and Controller
Red Bank, NJ

Ron Hodges — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ron Hodges Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It is imperative that quarterly reporting be maintained in order to provide all investors with the transparency necessary for markets to function correctly. Changing this requirement is an invitation to multiple Enron-style frauds with catastrophic consequences. Please work to preserve market integrity rather than risk implosion and economic devastation.

Ron Hodges

Ron Hoffert — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ron Hoffert Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep the reporting quarterly

---

Ron Knapp — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ron Knapp Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Ron knapp retired, never go back, progress goes forward leave it alone.

Ron Miller, Member, Motley Fool US Army Corps of Engineers, Retired Engineer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ron Miller, Member, Motley Fool Reduction from ;quarterly to semi=annually reporting has zero benefit to the public at large and to the majority of investors. I strongly recommend against its adoption! PS: I also vote!

Ron Nichols stockholder — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ron Nichols Information 4 times a year is not too much, it keeps everyone on their toes

---

Ron Schuler — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ron Schuler Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 A lot of theft and fraud can be committed in the dark in one month let alone six. Corporations have shown they cannot be trusted to treat the public fairly unless they are watched constantly. Please do not allow six months "darkness".

Ron Sommer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ron Sommer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 In life everyone needs to be held accountable ! In life, business, friendships because people have the tendency to take advantage ! You don’t want to leave things unwatched, un censored. That’s like leaving a bank vault open and anyone having free access with video cameras on it as security and only looking at the video every 6 months. The quarterly system appears to be working so why would you change it ?

Sent from my iPhone

Ron Spencer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ron Spencer As a shareholder/owner of a public company it is critical to ensure transparency by that company to report at least quarterly. Knowledge is power and is vitally important in making investment decisions. Less frequent reporting in an age of information would create uncertainty for all investors. I strongly recommend that companies make at least quarterly reports.

Ron Wenaas — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ron Wenaas Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 There is absolutely NO reason to change the quarterly reporting requirement of the SEC. Companies run these financials on a daily basis. They publish them to their boards at least quarterly and usually more often. The reports exist and they should be made public. That's why they're call "public" companies. Reducing this transparency can only cause harm to consumers, investors and the country.

Ronald Wenaas
American Citizen

Ron Wilson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ron Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 In no situation is less information a good thing. Under no circumstances should any entity have free reign to do as it pleases with other peoples money. Ryan weaver Owner this should matter to everyone period.

Ronal DuPont The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ronal DuPont Providing less information to shareholders it's totally unacceptable. The excuse of eliminating quarter to quarter managing is absurd. The companies should be managing for the long-term. That is a company management choice regardless of reporting.

RONALD — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: RONALD Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep existing system!

Sent from Ron's iPad

Ronald Arledge — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ronald Arledge Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Transparency and ethical business practices are key . Economic stability over potentially stacked decks .quarterly is key also . Business evolves at speeds that in real time would devastate a business that is trying to find niche and key path to growth and stability Transparency and open ethical trading is the only real path.

Ronald Belcher retired — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ronald Belcher We need that information to make more timely decisions.

Ronald C Nelson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ronald C Nelson It is imperative that investors continue to receive quarterly reports to assist in managing investors management of their portfolio. Please vote to maintain this valuable quarterly source of investor information.

---

ronald delo — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ronald delo Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Stop trying to screw the investors, I'm retired and still holding and letting it grow. And let's start investing in our country again.

Sent from my iPhone

Ronald Dobis — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ronald Dobis Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 As a retired senior I need to know if something in my portfolio is in trouble. Please keep quarterly reporting so that we small guys don't get left holding the bag aft er insiders have gotten out. Ronald Dobis New Lenox Illinois

---

Ronald E. Johnson, CFP(R) Equity Protection Advisors,LLC — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ronald E. Johnson, CFP(R) Changing the reporting requirements would be a mistake because it would lessen transparency. "I am not worried about a company whose dirty laundry is on the front page of the newspaper"; a wise man once stated. With all the noise inundating investors, we need regular access to fundamentals. There is no valid reason why public companies cannot easily produce quarterly reports.

Ronald Earls Jr. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ronald Earls Jr. At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business.

Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Reducing reporting to just two times a year lessens the information for me to make informed decisions. Please don’t pass this

---

Ronald Hyman The Motley Fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ronald Hyman We need full reporting four times a year. The SEC has begun folding to industry pressure. The change of rules for the Space X IPO is unforgivable. Time to stand up for the public interest and retail investors.

Ronald J Martin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ronald J Martin I would urge you to vote against the proposal to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public company reports from four times a year to twice a year. At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. It makes everyone less informed. Less transparency doesn’t eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. Imagine owning a business and getting updates from your managers only twice a year. The company would still run every day. You'd just know far less about how it was doing. That's effectively what's being proposed.

Ronald Martin Motley Fool Group — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ronald Martin Less transparency is never good for an investor and is a vehicle for fraud. With available software and other technology, the cost to produce is minimal. And it should help the decision makers in their daily operation decisions.

Ronald Meyer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ronald Meyer I feel all businesses should formally continue to report earnings at least quarterly. It would be a major mistake to reduce reporting requirements. Actually, I believe they should report formally monthly.

Ronald Newman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ronald Newman Semiannual reporting for public companies will leave too much information unknown until it may be too late to respond. The current FD quarterly reporting system for companies insures most information reaches everyone at the same time. A lot can happen in 3 months. Wise people created the current system of reporting. Changing reporting to semiannual would be informationally regressive to all investors.

Ronald Nifong — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Ronald Nifong Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 CEO'S and companies need to be held accountable. 💯💯💯💯

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Ronald R Walsh — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ronald R Walsh Please keep the requirements for Quarterly Reports. Transparency for individual investors is needed for timely decisions.

Ronald Smith — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ronald Smith Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly's are one of the more important tools I use.Why would this be a thought anyone who buys stock uses revenue as a big way to invest in a company or not .Are you wanting retail investors out of the market . Remember we still call this place a free America .

Ronald Spero — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ronald Spero Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I do not support eliminating quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Ronald Wong — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ronald Wong Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not change the quarterly financial reporting requirements. We need more transparency and accountability , not less in a fast moving market with AI having a huge impact on the future.

Ronald Zwart — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ronald Zwart As an investor I strongly disagree with this proposal.

Ronda Campbell — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ronda Campbell Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We the people demand ongoing and continued transparency and we are untitled this info to help keep our families

---

Ronda Lanham — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Ronda Lanham Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This should stay quarterly.

Fines & Jail Time should be greater!

Ronette — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ronette Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Ronald Rogus, Retired… I don’t want my investments shrinking. As a retiree, I need to keep an eye on the market.

Sent from my iPhone 12

Roni Wheeler — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Roni Wheeler Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Always Full Transparency in a timely manner. We, the People, must know what our Elected officials are doing.

namaste'
Roni

Ronney Davis — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ronney Davis Expecting the average person to invest in this stock market without full reports is absolutely ridiculous. The rich and well connected already have an unfair advantage. And you want to give them more by removing information, ridiculous.

Ronni Johannes — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ronni Johannes Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Everything needs to be transparent if you're hiding something for any reason then apparently there's something going on that maybe shouldn't be going on. So everything just needs to be transparent. There's no issues with this.

Ronnie Becker — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ronnie Becker Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not change to biannual reporting! Leave it at quarterly!

Ronnie Lavergne — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ronnie Lavergne Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Leave it alone it's working

---

Ronnie Weatherly Jr — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ronnie Weatherly Jr If I am a share holder then I deserve quarterly reports taking this down to twice a year will not make businesses more transparent just longer for them to lose more of my money before we see lead indicators showing otherwise. This is a bad investment principle for smaller investors.

Ronny Sanders — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ronny Sanders Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Ronny sanders. Business owner. We need full transparency. For a free and honest market. Tired of all the corruption. The SEC, needs to do their jobs and quit looking the other way. Retail investors get robbed by the market makers, daily and now they only want to report 2 times a year. We have to show full transparency. Actually need them to report monthl and not quarterly. Stop all the corruption now!

Rory — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rory As a business owner, I can't imagine receiving only half the information I normally rely on and still being expected to make informed decisions about what's happening in my business. Nor can I imagine learning about something six months after the fact and still being able to evaluate, in a timely and effective way, what changes may be needed to keep things running smoothly and growing. With the rise of AI, reporting is becoming faster, easier, and less expensive than ever. It seems reasonable to assume that should be true for any well-run business or organization.

Rory Racey Ellis — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rory Racey Ellis Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it Quarterly

---

Rosalind Brooks — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rosalind Brooks Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It is vital that transparency and full disclosure remain intact as integral parts of our economic systems.

Sent from my iPhone

Rosalyn Jo — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rosalyn Jo Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Please disclose quarterly reports. Transparency matters in fair markets we are seeing this repeated again in real time. Americans deserve better.

Rosanne Ripper — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rosanne Ripper Do not go backwards removing protections!!!

Rosario Provenza Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rosario Provenza Less reporting (Semiannual review) is not good for investors. Leave reports to quarterly.

Rose Ann Rabiola Miele Shares Facts and Food — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Rose Ann Rabiola Miele Shares Facts and Food Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Get out of jail free cards have been the norm for years and you know it. This is criminal and disgusting. Deregulation, de-supervision and decriminalization is what you promote out in the open and it MUST STOP! My name is Rose Ann Rabiola Miele and I live in Nevada. I'm 78 years old and have lived through decades of corruption. I am a managing partner of the Clean New Deal and work with experts in the DOJ, academics, a former AG and many others who know the criminality and corruption going on. This can and must stop with those in the SEC showing integrity and courage.

Rose Ann
Rose Ann Rabiola Miele

702.339.9082

"When plunder becomes a way of life for a group of men in a society, over the course of time they create for themselves a legal system that authorizes it and a moral code that glorifies it." --Frédéric Bastiat, Economist, 1848

ROSE BERTIAUX — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: ROSE BERTIAUX Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No don’t hide it.

Sent from my iPhone

Rose Both — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rose Both Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do a better job of protecting shareholders and abandon your recent reckless proposal that would result in underreporting of corporate financials.

Rose Friedlander — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rose Friedlander Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Keep transparency and quart reporting

Rose Hernández — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rose Hernández Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Rose Hernandez and am a teacher. Keep those CEOs and companies accountable because it's necessary for the public to know how our money is handled.

Rose Herrmann — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rose Herrmann Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It would be absolutely disastrous because there would be so much fraud and lying going on and it would be horrific and let criminals escape

Sent from my iPhone

Rose Lobel — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rose Lobel Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is an invitation for corruption and fraud.

Rose Rosetree — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rose Rosetree Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Is it a joke, the new SEC proposal that would end quarterly reporting?

Please keep requiring this. Thanks from this voter and taxpayer and citizen!

Rose Tatar — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Rose Tatar Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep them accountable.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Roseann Dumont — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Roseann Dumont Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting. Investors deserve to have frequent reporting to help with making investment decisions with their money.

Roseanne Caboor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Roseanne Caboor Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the

Securities and Exchange Commission:
We want transparency and quarterly reports are part of that.
Keep the reporting knowledge is power for the people

Roselyn Beck — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Roselyn Beck Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Truth and honesty are essential to keeping our finances safe and in order. When we let go of our money to others, we expect and trust they will manage it for our family and community's well-being, and our country's prosperity, not their own. Transparency and consistency in reporting, according to required and enforced standards, assures us and ensures that our money is well-managed. Keep the quarterly reporting regulations and see enforce them if not followed. I don't have much money invested, but what I have is part of my lifeline. Thank you. Submitted by Roselyn Beck, School Counselor, Navajo Nation

---

Rosemarie Marchiano — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rosemarie Marchiano Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is essential to make solid decisions in such a global economy where the domino effect is real. It encourages transparency and accountability both for investors and companies.

Sent from my iPhone

Rosemarie Zaplinski — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rosemarie Zaplinski Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I do not want less accountability from the companies whose stock values will determine whether or not I will be able to retire, I want more, but the least you should do is maintain the market accountability that is already in place and has proven successful over decades. Please keep the quarterly reporting requirements in place so that ordinary working Americans like me can know the status of their investments."

Rosemary Hall — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rosemary Hall Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is essential for investors and the companies. I'm against changing to six monthly reporting.

Ros Hall

Sent from my iPad

Rosemary Mabeus — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rosemary Mabeus Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 You need to keep quarterly reporting on all stocks and mutual funds. A lot can change very quickly in the stock market and the people who own stock need to be kept informed. Do not change to reporting only twice a year!

Sent from my iPhone

Rosemary Meyer Hairdresser — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rosemary Meyer Please keep filings quarterly

---

Rosemary Szczygiel — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Rosemary Szczygiel Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep quaterly reporting in place, with high penalties for failoure to do so. The American people deserve to have existing standards kept in place. Protect our economic integrity and ensure the people who are involved in American industries and government maintain and develop healthy habits. Send a clear message to corporate leaders that American expectations for honesty remain strong. Don't replace what presently works well with lax oversight and the potential for criminal abuse. "If it ain't broke, don't fix it". Thank you.

Thank you from Rosemary Szczygiel

Rosemary Taylor retired — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rosemary Taylor Please continue reporting on a quarterly basis. We need more transparency, not less.

Rosierita — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rosierita Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 “If it ain’t broke, don’t fix it!”

Roslynn Budoff — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Roslynn Budoff Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I oppose this. It's another scam to make the rich richer and everyone else gets screwed.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Ross Crawford-d'Heureuse — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ross Crawford-d'Heureuse Investing is ownership, even if only a little. Imagine owning a business and getting updates from your managers only twice a year. It would still run every day. You'd just know far less about how it was doing. That's effectively what's being proposed here. Companies will continue operating every day. Products will be launched. Customers will be won and lost. Strategies will succeed and fail. Yet under this proposal, owners would receive only half as many official updates about the businesses they own. Bad idea

---

Ross Hathaway — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ross Hathaway Four times a year is reasonable for companies and provides greater insight to owners. Please keep it this way.

---

rowland blake — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: rowland blake quite simply to reduce the amount of information released to shareholders is absurd and insulting

---

Roxanne Dober — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Roxanne Dober Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Roxanne Dober, Retired Account - No absolutely not. We need more accountability not less. The amount of malfeasance and fraud that is bring exposed currently is the wake up call

Sent from my iPhone

---

roxanne schaaf — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: roxanne schaaf Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep quarterly

Roxy

Roxanne Smith — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Roxanne Smith Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 to the Securities and Exchange Commission:Please keep the quarterly reports!!!

Roxanne WHITE — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Roxanne WHITE Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 RWhite, Account Manager... Please continue quarterly reporting.

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Roxie Boyce — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Roxie Boyce Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This seems pretty sketchy. "We The People" already don't have Trust in Corporate America. Or the Goverment for that Matter. I hope Our President will address this, this gives the underhanded congressman and Senators even more opportunity to be sleezeballs

---

Roy — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Roy Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quartery certified reports keeps bad actors from gaming the system, we do not need more Enron type incidents.

Roy Appugliese, Retired

“A people that values its privileges above its principles soon loses both.”

“Never let yourself be persuaded that any one Great Man, any one leader, is necessary to the salvation of America. When America consists of one leader and 158 million followers, it will no longer be America.” —

Dwight D. Eisenhower

Roy Green — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Roy Green Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 NO! I want to know what companies are doing QT. I worked for a public company, i know how they operate and fudge numbers.

Thanks,

Richard Green

Please excuse brevity and typos sent from my iPhone

Roy Jenkins — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Roy Jenkins Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports. The corporate corruption MUST STOP!!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Roy Laux Motley Fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Roy Laux Do not go to semi-annual reports

---

Roz Prince — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Roz Prince I don't understand the need to change reporting from quarterly to semi annually. I feel investors are entitled to as much information as possible not less. That puts the consumer in a worse position doesn't it?

Rozina Karimali — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rozina Karimali Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please don't allow it.

RPG INFERNO — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: RPG INFERNO Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Trump ran on transparency, yet every time we turn around, the government is overturning and making laws that require less transparency for large corporations. Ending quarterly reporting will surely benefit the ultra rich and continue to silence and impoverish the middle class. I am a teacher who cannot afford to have my retirement funds and investments depleted by billionaires.
Patricia Moratori

Sent from my iPhone

---

rsginsberg — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: rsginsberg Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY!!!

rsginsberg@aol.com

Sent from my Galaxy

Ruben Carbajal — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ruben Carbajal In an age where hype, misinformation, and outright fraud have never been more pervasive, investors deserve more transparency, not less. A reduction in public reporting is exactly the wrong direction we need right now.

Ruby Jean Brentlinger — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ruby Jean Brentlinger Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
SHAME on all of you at this time to do that to the people who depend on some kind of honesty in this cut throat world with so many corrupt politicians ! How many of them had a hand in this?

Ruby Macdonald — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ruby Macdonald Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As an ordinary investor with my stock portfolio, retirement funds and personal savings at stake, I strongly oppose the SEC proposal to stop quarterly reporting by public companies. We must have transparency with quarterly reporting to level playing field between insiders and regular folks like me who are already vulnerable as we know much less about ins/outs of fraudulent activity and more to lose. Less frequent reporting would more likely allow nefarious activity to occur at disadvantage of ordinary investors like me. Please Continue current quarterly SEC reporting to maintain stability of stock markets and economy in general.

Rudolf Streif The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rudolf Streif To Whom It May Concern: Transparency is paramount for investors to make educated decisions. Financial markets move at the speed of communication technology and business climate and conditions change rapidly for any company, whether operating domestically only and/or internationally. Therefore publicly listed companies should continue to be required to report financial data and corporate outlooks quarterly. The new proposal to reduce the number of reportings to two a year is not sufficient. Typically, even quarterly reports are often delayed until the end of next reporting period. Cost savings for companies are an insufficient argument. These reports follow standard formats that can be easily created with the support of AI supplied with corporate data. The companies have this data readily available because they need it to base their own decisions on. I respectfully as the SEC to reject this proposal.

Rudolph Geisaka — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Rudolph Geisaka Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please do not allow corporations to reduce their accountability. Our investments are not negotiable and full quarterly should remain.

Ruowen Wu — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ruowen Wu At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners.

Russ Feeser — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Russ Feeser Please do not allow a reduction in corporate reporting. Investing is ownership. Owners need to know how their companies are doing. AI reporting should have reduced corporate costs of report generation! Keep the USA a place where we can expect corporate transparency for investment purposes.

Russ Gresham — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Russ Gresham I am opposed to reducing the current reporting requirement to twice per year. Please leave current regulations as it. Thanks for your attention and consideration.

Russ Hampton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Russ Hampton Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I believe that quarterly reporting is even more relevant in the current financial market. It should be no secret as to how a CEO finances his/her company(s).

Russell Hampton, retired data network technician, Ozark, Missouri

Sent from my Samsung Galaxy S22 Ultra

Russ Tepper — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Russ Tepper Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 There’s a reason for quarterly reporting- to prevent another Enron and hold CEO’s accountable. Don’t increase the reporting requirement.

Get Outlook for iOS

Russell Goodson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Russell Goodson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is bad for small investors such as my self We live in a digital age where everything operates in real time and transparency is very important Leave it alone

Sent from my iPhone

Russell Larrabee — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Russell Larrabee Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: to help stop against fraud because you know that's what will be happening there's a reason they made the quarterly reviews and they shouldn't get rid of them man everything will look just like the reflecting pond or the White House lawn building and everything else if you do it

---

Russell Miles — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Russell Miles Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Big business has no credibility in the world's eyes about the credibility of its ability to keep the real financial decisions open to its shareholders and the government oversight - it has shown this repetivly and ,we the people and shareholders are not just going to along with this situation 🙄 rule-comments@sec.gov

---

Russell Miles — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Russell Miles Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Big business has no credibility in the world's eyes about the credibility of its ability to keep the real financial decisions open to its shareholders and the government oversight - it has shown this repetivly and ,we the people and shareholders are not just going to along with this situation 🙄

Russell Panneton retired — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Russell Panneton Increasing the reporting interval from three to six months will only give insiders an even greater opportunity to benefit at the expense of outside investors. While a company should plan on a much longer time frame, requiring quarterly reporting provides visibility into changing financial posture. Increasing the interval to six months fails to allow the required visibility into public company's financial health, especially given how quickly economic conditions evolve.

Ruth Anderson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ruth Anderson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Ruth Anderson, Retired Purchasing Manager. Why would you give companies another way to cheat people? Why would you want to break a tried and true system that works? You are inviting FRAUD to happen.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Ruth Ann — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ruth Ann Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Ruth Sanders, data Analyst. I think the protective measures put into practice less than 20 years ago should remain common practice. We must continue to receive quarterly information because keeping upto date on personal finance is a best practice for all. If its a hassle to inform share holders quarterly then the board is not respecting share holders right to know. This creates distrust and the question arises: "what else are we not being told". Open door policy on financial status is imperative. And having paper copies is essential in these digital times because account changes can occur that are fraud related. Having paper copies is essential for legal actions against fraud. And "what i thought i saw in my digital statement" does not count in court of law.

Ruth Barbetta — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ruth Barbetta Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No. Needs accountability. Allowing this change would open up a greater chance for fraud.

Sent from my iPhone

Ruth Burchatzki N/A — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ruth Burchatzki I believe that this will make cooking the books & fraud easier. I also think that this will hurt the retail investor rather than helping them because things are less transparent.

Ruth Cooper — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ruth Cooper I am writing to oppose reducing the reporting requirement from 4 times per year to two. A lot happens in a quarter, and investors are owners who deserve to be informed about the actions of the companies in which they are invested, or in which they are considering investing. Anyone who would only look at their finances twice a year would be considered rather neglectful. When it comes to investing, information is power. Reducing company reporting to two times per year will only further wealth disparity in our country.

Ruth Duffie — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Ruth Duffie Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 NO ONE IS ABOVE THE LAW! HONOR OUR LAWS AND ENFORCE THEM OR LOSE YOUR AUTHORITY AND RESPECT FOR OUR LAWS! AND FURTHER LOSE LAW AND ORDER WHICH WILL UNDERMINE AND DESTROY THIS NATION! TRY THEM - FIND THEM GUILTY - AND LET THEM PAY THE FINE OVER TIME! BUT DO NOT IGNORE OR DISMISS THE GUILTY AND DIMINISH AMERICA'S LAWS! HIRE MORE ATTORNEYS AND PAY THEM WITH THE FINES THEY GET. DO SOMETHING - BUT DON'T IGNORE THE LAW OR YOUR RESPONSIBILITY TO ENFORCE IT!

Respectfully,
Ruth (Duffie) Natello

Ruth Heinz — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Ruth Heinz Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports in place, please. “White collar” abuse causes terrible trouble for victims. Scaring the would-be fraudsters with real punishments for lying and cheating makes them count the cost t themselves. Don’t let up!

Sent from my iPad

---

ruth helm — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: ruth helm Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I question who is in control at the SEC right now pushing for the reduction in reporting from quarterly to twice a year. Who benefits from this change?
Quarterly reporting became part of the law after the Enron debacle. So many common investors lost their retirement funds from the flagrant corporate fraud at Enron, which prompted the increased frequency of SEC reporting.

Changing the rule benefits insider traders and ruthless CEOs who seek to line their own pockets. It allows more time for cover ups. The more time between reporting dates reduces current information available to public investors.
We cannot allow this.

Ruth Howell — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ruth Howell Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Ruth Howell and I am a retired school administrator. I depend on my investments for retirement income and I prefer to be informed about what is happening at reasonable intervals. Quarterly works well and it should continue as it is.

Ruth JOYNER — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ruth JOYNER Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it quartly

Sent from my iPhone

Ruth Lerner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ruth Lerner The reporting requirements for public companies should not be reduced to semi-annually. Semi-annual reporting would greatly diminish the investor's ability to make decisions based on current information. If the current 45 day filing deadline is maintained a semi-annual financial statement would be available 7.5 months after the previous report. That is simply too much of a time lapse and provides too long a window of opportunity for fraud as well as hiding negative operating results.

Ruth Linn — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Ruth Linn Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I'm retired. But the quarterly reporting rule is extremely important to maintaining healthy businesses, healthy investing and maintaining an integrity in the "invisible hand" by making, and keeping, it more visible. Please maintain quarterly reporting and CEO signatures! Thank you. Ruth Linn

---

Ruth Marra — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ruth Marra Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
It's absolutely ridiculous idea of ending quarterly reporting!! I don't want this change. I think it's dishonest and puts every day investors, like me at risk!

Ruth Miles — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ruth Miles Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 extending the time period will promote fraud and incompetency by giving people too much time to cover up and/or hide both. A competent, honestly run business should have no problem with filing papers quarterly.

Ruth Rivera — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ruth Rivera Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The proposal to end quarterly reporting and only require semiannual reporting is deeply flawed and does nothing to keep investors safe. Please do NOT implement this.

Ruth Rosenthal — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Ruth Rosenthal Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep quarterly reports! Keep companies accountable!

Sent from my iPhone

Ruth Sanders — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ruth Sanders Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Continue quarterly.

Ruth Sanders — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ruth Sanders Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep quarterly.

Ruth Simmons — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ruth Simmons Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it as it currently is.

Ruth Wenzel — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ruth Wenzel Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 More government scamming of the public. Shouldn’t government be protecting all the people? Or now that the wealthy are in charge, the rest of us are fair game to be destroyed?

Sent from my iPhone

Ruthann Rackawack — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ruthann Rackawack Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly requirements. Semiannual leaves too much time to doctor books and hide issues. I was a CFO for White County Georgia.

Ruthbea — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ruthbea Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting. The United States has some of the most powerful and important companies in the world and a business ecosystem of millions of suppliers, other businesses, investors and consumers depend on quarterly reporting.

Ruthbea Yesner
IDC, Group Vice President

Sent from my iPhone

Ruthie Petitto Individual investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ruthie Petitto I disagree with the proposal to reduce the times per year that companies need to disclose their public reports. This is crucial information for those of us who are risking our own funds without institutional investment behind us. Do not change this! It will only hurt those of us who want to remain individual and informed, leaving room for those companies we are investing in to obscure their success or failures. We demand transparency.

Ruthie S. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ruthie S. Quarterly reporting helps to keep the public companies honest.

Ryan Buxman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ryan Buxman I oppose cutting reporting from 4 times per year to 2 times each year. Less transparency is a negative for investors.

Ryan Cawelti — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ryan Cawelti Nothing good comes from reducing the transparency of corporate earnings reporting. The companies will still likely be tracking this quarterly anyway because no competent leader is going to look at these numbers only twice a year. This isn't being proposed for cost savings, this is being pushed to avoid transparency and is now being supported by the very agency that is supposed to be protecting its citizens. I know people in this administration are inclined to do the bidding of those lining their pockets, but I am going to challenge you to actually do the right thing for once and hold corporations accountable and continue the quarterly reports. I don't think you will but would love to be wrong about this administration, just once.

Ryan Colgan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ryan Colgan Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please help save the little guy! As an individual investor, I rely heavily on quarterly reporting to help determine my portfolio decisions. Eliminating this reporting will only empower the super wealthy to become more powerful and shut out the little people like me.

thank you for your consideration,
Ryan Colgan

Ryan Moffett — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ryan Moffett I am an individual active investor and request to keep quarterly reporting active. I rely on these to make informed decisions. I believe that reducing these reports to twice per year will create greater volatility and reduce transparency.

Ryan O — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ryan O Please keep SEC filings quarterly. Less information makes investing riskier not safer. These guidelines were put in place for a reason and only by maintaining them can we prevent abuses like those that happened at Enron from happening again. I would even advocate for monthly reports. The security of people's retirement and the entire stock market depends on frequently updated analytics. The more informed an investor is about the companies they buy shares in- the better. Thank you, Ryan O.

Ryan Porter Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ryan Porter Please keep the current rule requiring companies to report quarterly. The average American saving for retirement depends on this information to make good investment choices, and reducing reporting to semi-annual decreases our visibility in real-time and makes it more difficult for us to make informed decisions.

Ryan Simpson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ryan Simpson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Transparency is necessary to prevent fraud and also prevent irrational and unacceptable risk.

I work in a financial environment and cannot stress how important quarterly reporting is.

Thank you,
Ryan Simpson, MBA
Former holder of a Series 6 license

S A — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: S A Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 bi annual is plain wrong, keep it at quarterly or make it monthly!!

S Brown — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: S Brown How do you make financial decisions without knowing what businesses are doing? Only hearing how a business is doing twice a year isn't good, especially in this current climate of 'screw everyone, and pocket the gold.' It doesn't make sense to take the foot off the gas now, businesses will leverage that especially here in America. We must hold ourselves to higher standards. We must hold these businesses accountable. They can wreck our economy so quickly by tanking. Having them running is a great thing, but they need to stay accountable.

S Capps — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: S Capps Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 If quarterly is working, let it alone. Companies need to be accountable to their shareholders.

S Engel Phillips — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: S Engel Phillips Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 There is absolutely no justification for cutting either the number or frequency of reports. The three months interval seems to have worked well for the last 50 years. So let's leave it that way.

Sent from my iPhone

S Kania — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: S Kania Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
So you're moving with the current administration to be more corrupt. More ways to make the wealthy richer and life harder for the average person. Don't allow this change, we've seen to many bad decisions for the American people. Don't allow for another one. Leave this alone.

S L Simpson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: S L Simpson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I am retired. I depend on my invested money. I need to know as quickly as possible if my investments are in trouble. Quarterly reporting is what helps make money decisions.

Sent from my iPad

S La Pierre — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: S La Pierre Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Enron. WorldCom. Madoff. The run-up to 2008. Every major modern accounting scandal was enabled by gaps and opacity in financial disclosure. Quarterly filings don't prevent fraud, but they dramatically shorten the window in which it can fester before someone outside the company can see it. What if Enron only had to cook their books twice a year?

Respectfully,

J.S. Stone

S P — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: S P Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I don't support less than quarterly reporting of public companies. I can't imagine why the SEC would allow more ways for companies to grift. Of wait, I forgot, you're all in on it.

Signed,

A middle class realist!

S Rivera — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: S Rivera Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Hi! My name is Stephanie and I work for local government as a program assistant. Prior to my current position I worked in the private sector ensuring licensing was in compliance. I am fully aware of the burden on companies that government regulations can cause. However, that must be balanced with protection for the public. This proposal provides very minimal benefits for legitimate businesses while only protecting shady entities and potentially harming anyone with retirement or educational investment accounts. This proposal should not be implemented.

S T — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: S T Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The only reason to change this is to allow corporations to hide activity from investors. I strongly disagree with this proposed change and urge you to do the right thing and reject it

---

S Townley Retired banker — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: S Townley I agree with other Motley Fools that this is. Poor idea to only have financial statements twice a year. Too much can happen in six months that is not visible to the investor and these reports are one of the few objective sources of data that we have. Thank you for considering keeping a quarterly reporting. For most companies.

S. Bluestone Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: S. Bluestone I don’t believe less is better. As a shareholder/owner, I want to be informed at least quarterly.

S. Ennis No professional affiliation — Jun 23, 2026 Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: S. Ennis This proposed change of rules will not benefit the public - it will only benefit corporations. The United States needs to get back to the business of protecting it's citizens from predatory corporate practices. This is simply unacceptable.

S. S. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: S. S. Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it to quarterly! We all want to know what's happening!! My name is Shawna Southern, I'm retired. This matters to me because I want to know what's going on!

Sent from my iPhone

S. Sun — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: S. Sun Transparency and open access to information are the keys to a healthy economy, and to financial markets. In the long run, it will benefit us all. With limited information and unfair practices, retail investors will view it as a higher-risk option and eventually keep away from investing in stock markets.

S. Swink — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: S. Swink Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 DoTo the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not do away with quarterly reports!!!

Sabine Cray — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sabine Cray Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Why give up something that has worked well and effectively? Keep the status quo.
Sabine Cray
Retired director of Communications and Marketing, UMass
Amherst, MA

_____
Sabine Cray
(413) 275-8146

Sabrina Denton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sabrina Denton Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 As someone not in finance, quarterly reports help me understand the decisions I'm making and in my opinion are absolutely essential to a free market. It is about horrible idea to strip that away and give more power and secrecy to large corporations. I live in San Jose California and am in the environmental field.

Sent from my iPhone

SABRINA TRUESDELL — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: SABRINA TRUESDELL Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Now, more than ever, financial transparency is paramount. As consumers and investors, quarterly reports are a non negotiable. How will that action instill consumer confidence? Continue quarterly reports. You can hold virtual meetings and share electronically, which is not be a burden of effort, unless you are trying to hide something.

Sachiv Mehta — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sachiv Mehta Please keep the reporting to be frequent (4x yearly) in order to maintain equal levels of information between ordinary investors and insiders and their stakeholders.

Sadona Harris — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sadona Harris Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 So much is it stake! Keep them quarterly and the public could have more assurance of what we are being told! It is our livelihoods that matter!

Sent from my iPhone

Safiya Jeremiah — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Safiya Jeremiah Transparency is vital to safety. Please protect US citizens.

Sage Clack — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sage Clack Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Dear [Recipient Name],

It appears that the current direction prioritizes large corporations and billionaire investors at the expense of everyone else. This approach seems incredibly short-sighted and only serves to benefit those looking to exploit the system. By moving forward this way, it looks like you are simply handing them a win.

Sahill Yadav — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sahill Yadav Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING!!!

Saibal Saha — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Saibal Saha The current practice of quarterly reporting by US companies is much more useful and valuable to investors than the European system of Semiannual reporting with bare bones disclosure in between. It also holds company management more accountable by requiring them to provide detailed commentary by line item on the financials compared to their outlook. This quarterly reporting practice should thus be continued in the interests of all investors as well as other stakeholders in US listed companies.

Said Belali — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Said Belali La volatilité ou le coût du capital augmentera par les résultats d'entreprises émergentes pour les opérations d'initiés et les rachats d'actions car l'évaluation des investisseurs aides les dirigeants de se concentrer sur des objectifs à long terme puisque moins de publications financières signifient des fenêtres plus restreintes si les entreprises continuent à publier pour satisfaire leurs analystes la charge de travail administrative ne diminuera pas réellement cela libère les dirigeants par une flexibilité bienvenue du fardeau réglementaire des petites capitalisations mais elle risque d'allonger les périodes de black-out boursier.

Said G Signor Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Said G Signor I believe a semi annual corporate performance reports to be wholly inadequate and would substantially increase market volatility and fester the rumor mill. As an investor/ owner of many companies my only credible source of information is the corporate entity itself. Also the benefits to investors, markets, regulators and government entities by far exceeds any potential cost savings. Furthermore such delayed reporting could foster corporate complacency and stale information could cause great harm to the integrity of any business especially as it pertains to mega and large corporations where a significant number of constituencies rely on quarterly updates. Thank you for your consideration. Respectfully, Said Signor

---

Saleem A Khanani Motley fool community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Saleem A Khanani I prefer quarterly earnings report to stay better informed about the company financials.

Saleem Nasser — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Saleem Nasser Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I want to keep statements quarterly, semi annual is too long of time frame for keeping accurate records.

Sent from my iPhone

Sallee McDermitt — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sallee McDermitt Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

As. highly educated MBA and CPA I implore you NOT to stop wiarterly SAeC reporting. I research compsniews for a living as an underwriter and know the importance of tracking quarterly trends. This is particularly important with companiees with limited liquidiry snd high cash burn.

Further Inestors need transparency . I can predict major swings in the stock market because of semi annual reporting due to predictable surprises. And it invites fraud.

Keeo quarterly reporting!

Salli Slaughter — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Salli Slaughter Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I am a small investor, and this change would be highly detrimental to me and other investors like me. There is no GOOD reason to do this, and plenty of BAD ones. Every time the SEC lets go of the reins, most of us lose. Don't do it.

Sent from my iPhone

Sally DeHaven — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sally DeHaven Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The SEC must continue to submit quarterly reporting.
I am Sally DeHaven.
I am a retired law enforcement officer.
This matters to me because I have worked hard for the money I've saved and wish to keep it!

Sent from my iPhone

Sally Lamm — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sally Lamm Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
why? How much are you pocketing to do this for Trump and his goonies?

Sally M — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sally M Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The quarterly reporting was made law for a reason. I'm sure nothing has changed to justify making any CEO LESS a ccountable. Leave it the way it is!!

Sally Metzler

Sally Ribeiro — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sally Ribeiro Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Report quarterly reporting. We need to go forward not backward. Come on!
S

Sally spires — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sally spires Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is detrimental and also creates an unequal advantage.

Sally VanZandt (ASGT) — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sally VanZandt (ASGT) Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting has been crucial for maximum transparency in corporate operations. Please don’t change this if you care at all about the average stockholder!

Sally VanZanst
Get Outlook for iOS

Sam Angelos — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sam Angelos Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We do not need more corruption from corporations and we need more people paying taxes so we don’t go bankrupt over trumps big beautiful bill. Thank you

Sent from my iPhone

Sam Beane — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sam Beane Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I think we should keep quarterly reporting. Do not change to six month reports.

Sam Beane

Sent from my iPhone

Sam Blankemeyer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sam Blankemeyer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I rely on quarterly reporting when investing in a company. If companies start hiding their financials I will sell all of my stock.
The old saying "If it ain't broke don't fix it. " most certainly applies here.

Sam Egger None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sam Egger Please keep quarterly reports. Help keep stock owners tracking how companies are doing.

Sam Garcia — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sam Garcia In an age where we need more transparency than ever, the worst thing we can do is leave us even more in the dark on what is happening in our economy. Some would prefer to keep the public out the know all together, but this is anti American and further feeds into what those in power want and give us retail buyers less information to make decisions on what to do. We already have problems with insider trading information and we would give these people even more power than they already have by leaving us in the dark. Don't erode the public's already eroding trust in our economic system. Transparency is one of the few things we can shine and showcase the world how it's supposed to work Best Regards, Sam, hospital supervisor

---

Sam Howard — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sam Howard Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No because this will fuel dark money into elections.

Sent from my iPhone

Sam Islam — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sam I need quarterly reports

---

Sam Munasinghe The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sam Munasinghe Investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners.

Sam Politinsky — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sam Politinsky Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The SEC has a duty to protect the people do your job. It's unacceptable.. don't let companies make their own rules. Have a spine.

Sent from my iPhone

Sam Scarbrough Motley Fool Client — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sam Scarbrough See no benefit to fewer reporting periods. All these corporations have received huge tax benefits at the cost of citizens and services. They are making the highest profits in history. Transparent frequent reporting is a necessity for investors trust. Such is the service we expect through timely ethical responsibility and communication of significant events and actions.

Sam Sehdev O.D. — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sam Sehdev I am deeply concerned about the recent proposed shift to biannual financial reporting. Decisions like these are often against the interests of retail traders like myself. We feel increasingly as though these decisions benefit the richest people and corporations and keep retail investors in the dark even longer. We deserve to know how a business that we "own" is performing throughout the year. If it were up to me, I would want reports every month; if the CFO can get them anytime he or she wants, why are proposals to limit disclosure for retail investors even being entertained.

Sam Steele The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sam Steele I am against the reduction in reporting that companies currently have to abide by. When I invest in a company and become an owner in it I need reports that keep me up to date on how the company is doing. I need regular transparent communication in what is going on with the company I am invested in. Thank you for taking the time to consider this letter. Sincerely, Sam

---

Samantha LaClair — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Samantha LaClair The reduction in frequency of reporting will only reduce the information we owners have. I do not support the movement toward semi-annual reporting. This would reduce accountability and transparency.

Samantha Shelton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Samantha Shelton Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep quarterly.
Samantha
Pharmacy

Samantha Wilson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Samantha Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Further altering rules to benefit corporate wants has become the everyday in this country. We are pitied, feared, hated. The world knows this is all wrong. You do too. Big business doesn't need more assistance. Obscene doesn't begin to cover it.

Samara Chapple — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Samara Chapple Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I am a sociology instructor who teaches about white-collar crime, corporate misconduct, and the social harms that can result when powerful institutions operate without adequate oversight and transparency.

For this reason, I oppose proposals that would reduce the frequency of corporate reporting requirements.

Quarterly reporting is not merely an administrative requirement. It serves as an important mechanism of accountability by providing investors, regulators, journalists, researchers, and the public with timely information about corporate performance and risk. While no reporting system can completely prevent fraud or misconduct, more frequent disclosures increase transparency and make it more difficult for serious problems to remain hidden for extended periods of time.

In my courses, students often learn about corporate scandals, financial crises, environmental harms, and other forms of elite deviance. One of the recurring lessons is that accountability mechanisms matter. Transparency does not eliminate misconduct, but it helps identify warning signs earlier and allows stakeholders to respond before problems become larger and more costly.

Reducing reporting frequency would provide less information to investors and the public, increase information asymmetries between corporate leadership and other stakeholders, and potentially delay the discovery of significant financial or operational concerns. The individuals most affected by these failures are often not executives or major shareholders, but employees, retirees, consumers, communities, and taxpayers.

From both an educational and public-interest perspective, quarterly reporting represents a reasonable and valuable safeguard that promotes market transparency, informed decision-making, and public trust. I encourage the Commission to maintain existing quarterly reporting requirements.

Samara Chapple
Instructor

Samuel Alford None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Samuel Alford Corporate financial reports are essential to keep investors informed. Reducing the number of these reports is not in the best interest of the investing public. Reports should continue to be issued quarterly.

Samuel Amoia — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Samuel Amoia Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The SEC needs to keep quarterly reporting with Wall Street. You cannot give them a big gap like that and again we have to go after corporations they have become the real enemy of America and the American people need to smarten up before they have someone telling them what time you gotta get up what time you’re going to bed? What time you gotta shut your lights off because this is where Republicans are bringing us?

Sent from my iPad

Samuel Foley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Samuel Foley I think it would be a dire mistake to reduce the number of reports from companies down to two. Remember Enron and that catastrophe. lets not repeat ourselves again.

Samuel M Bowden — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Samuel M Bowden Reducing the quarterly reporting to twice-per-year is taking a step backward from financial transparency. I fully support keeping the current reporting frequency and processes. As an investor, I deserve to know how the companies I invest in are doing on a frequent, regular basis in order to avoid keeping ownership in a business that's not doing well. It will also be costly for companies to change their current reporting systems and practices.

Samuel Shepard — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Samuel Shepard Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Why does the benefit of quarterly reporting outweigh the cost?
First off, I think we are all aware that the world economy moves at a faster pace than it ever has. This, by itself, indicates that a culture of quarterly check-ins is needed more than ever before. Secondly, as a financial analyst who worked 8 years within CVS Health, my opinion is that it is helpful internally for a company to take their own pulse every quarter as well as helpful to investors. Third, as an economist, I know that these reports are a critical data point for how the economy is and where it is headed. This will become even more true with the help of AI, which will increase the ability of analysts to digest quarterly reports even more efficiently, helping the US to maintain its status as the most dynamic economy in the world.

Samuel Smith — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Samuel Smith In my opinion it is not prudent to reduce communications to stock holders from four communications a year to two.

Samuel Zweifel — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Samuel Zweifel Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting via form 10-Qs. Retail investors need as much information as possible.

Cheers,
Samuel C Zweifel
Samuel.Zweifel@gmail.com

Sande Raabe — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sande Raabe Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 As an investor I depend on the quarterly statements to make investment decisions. Please keep quarterly reports.

Sande Raabe retired educator

Sande Raabe
Sandehill Farm
Somerville, Ohio

Sandeep Arya — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sandeep Arya I would Like to keep current quartery reporting structure intact.

---

sander b shipper Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: sander b shipper As a successful long term investor, quarterly reports are a bare minimum. My ability to make decisions is based on information, more information allows me to make informed decisions. The cost savings would be negligible if any. Keep the reports quarterly!

Sandi Cather Retired — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sandi Cather I am against companies reporting just two times a year. Four times a year helps us keep better informed. Even MORE would be fine with me. Do not cut this down to two times a year! I feel this is very important. It is important that we all stay informed! Please leave the reporting from companies at four times a year. Thank you!

Sandi Milam — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandi Milam Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep quarterly

Sandi Milam

Sandra — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Consumers need quarterly reports. The information is critical and if a company is up to nonsense a lot can happen in a year!

Sandra Aiken — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra Aiken Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting to maintain integrity for all. Accountability is essential in corporations as well as transparency. Who is behind this change and why??
Sandra Aiken, Retired former Medical Insurance employee

Sent from my iPhone

Sandra Aiken — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sandra Aiken Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No! Accountability matters! Transparency is needed! Things can happen affecting citizens without reporting. Keep the quarterly reporting!!

Sent from my iPhone

Sandra Anjard — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sandra Anjard Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I have worked as an accountant at publicly owned companies. Some of them play fast & loose as it is. If anything, we need stricter rules and more accountability, not less.

Sandra Bowers — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sandra Bowers Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Do not go back to. Bi yearly reports As an 84 year old stock I need to stay aware of my investments

Sent from my iPhone

Sandra Brand — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sandra Brand Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep checking the records Quarterly.

Sandra Bryant — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sandra Bryant Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It Is Not Right, We Are Not Stupid People. We Will NEED This Money Way MoreThan You Ever Will. It Is Rotten What This Thinking says So Very Wrong and GOD IS WATCHING ALL.
At First
I could not believe what I was reading.

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Sandra Carlos The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sandra Carlos I disagree with the proposal to allow semiannual reporting. As an investor I want to know the financial condition of the companies each quarter.

Sandra Caster — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra Caster Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reports are critical for investors to monitor the progress and veracity of their companies and management.

¯ˡ·.˳˳..><((((º>.·´¯ˡ·.˳˳.·´¯ˡ·.˳><((((º>˳.·´¯ˡ·.˳. ,.
.·´¯ˡ·..><((((º>˳.·´¯ˡ·.˳.·´¯ˡ·...˳><((((º>˳.·´¯ˡ·.˳. ,

---

sandra celli — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: sandra celli Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Dudes, really? How stupid do you think everyone is?

Sent from my iPhone

Sandra Counard Stowell — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sandra Counard Stowell Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Sandra Counard Stowell, retired and let's keep information available to be accessible to make good decisions.

Sandra Cripps — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra Cripps Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep Quaterly reporting. I would think you'd want it for your own sakes. Would you not want to know before you invest that that stock or heavily loaded find is about to tank? Did Enron mean nothing?

Sandra Dillon — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Do not change reporting rules From: Sandra Dillon Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To whom it may concern, CEOs and CFOs need to sign the financial reports of their corporations every quarter to ensure the stability of our economy. Transparency is necessary to prevent long term fraud from impacting our economy.

Sincerely
Sandra M Dillon
506A Piccadilly St
Edinburg, VA 22824

Sandra Dillon — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sandra Dillon Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
To ensure transparency in the financial markets, corporations must submit financial reports every quarter. Fraud and mismanagement hide in the darkness. Investors must be informed of corporate actions.
Sincerely,
Sandra M. Dillon

Sandra Faust — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sandra Faust Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I am retired, lost my house in the 2008 fiasco, don't change the system to this worse schedule. Keep companies accountable to the public.

Sandra Foster — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra Foster Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep them accountable.

Sent from my iPhone

Sandra Galanakis — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra Galanakis Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Don't do it! Stop working against the average individual/family. I worked my entire life and fought to save anything at all. I have done without to try and have something to live on in retirement. I worked past 72 until my hands were plagued by arthritis. I've done all I can to not be a burden to those I love. This change would devastate me, and those like me, in the last chapter of our lives. Just don't do it!

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Sandra Greene — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sandra Greene Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Donot roll back this provision. It’s thr least you can do for hard- working people

Sent from my iPhone

Sandra Harrison — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sandra Harrison Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I use quarterly reports to make decisions about my retirement and savings. Please continue with the quarterly reports.
Sandra Harrison

Sandra Kazandjian — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sandra Kazandjian Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 If you don’t have anything to hide from why are you wanting less notifications?? Something very fishy here!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Sandra Moore — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sandra Moore Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This should stay the same. Businesses should be required to report quarterly.
Thank you,
Sandra M Moore

Sandra Porras — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sandra Porras Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: stop him from ruining our country before its too late. His lying to the American people, now this...stop him now...Thank you..

SANDRA PRUNIER — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: SANDRA PRUNIER Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep it quartly

Sent from my iPad

Sandra Q Woosley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sandra Q Woosley Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Who's side are you on??!

Sandra Q
goodnewsfromgabriel
May all your news be GOOD NEWS

Sandra Roberts — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sandra Roberts Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Please do not limit reports to investors to every 6 months. The more often investment earnings/losses are reported, the more inverstors can keep track of the well being of their investments.

---

sandra robinson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: sandra robinson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 You are either as crooked as the insider traders, or your bought off, investigate bank accounts and fix this💯😡

Sent from my iPhone

Sandra Valdivia — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sandra Valdivia Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly reports are necessary to keep everyone informed and have the same information.

Sandra Walker — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra Walker Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No way! More blatant corruption!

Sandra Webb — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sandra Webb Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Truth and transparency with timely knowledge transmission to investors is THE key for us to make good decisions! Fairness across the board means we can support the businesses we deem relevant and important. There is already WAY too much fraud and cheating by insiders. Without investing, we cannot hope to grow our retirement nor keep savings from dwindling. There is plenty of bad advice and insider trading. What we REALLY NEED is to STOP INVESTING by government insiders whose only goal is to get rich quick, thereby running the stock market. Every day we see and hear about insiders investing in whatever so they can "push" something (drones come to mind), thereby influencing everything within that reach. This should NOT happen.
Thank you, sincerely,
Sandra Webb

Sandra Weiten — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sandra Weiten Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Going dark for 6 months does not promote transparency and allows insider trading and fraud to expand.It allows misrepresention to employees,investors,and others that are not "in the know."

Sandra Weitkamp — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sandra Weitkamp Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not change the way securities change reporting. The general public needs this information on a quarterly basis not 2x a year

Sandra weitkamp

Sandy — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandy Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Sandra Smith, retired investor! Do not go back to 1950’s! Keep the quarterly reporting! With all of the fraud going on, we must not give them more time to steal our limited funds and get away with it!

Sandy Agee — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sandy Agee Please do not pass S7-2026-15 to limit reporting to two a year! As an investor I need to stay current on a business's activities to know if their performance is acceptable or if reconsideration of my holdings might be mandated. I strongly oppose limiting information to only twice a year. Sincerely, Sandy Agee

---

SANDY CURRY — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: SANDY CURRY Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Yes quarterly

Sent from my iPhone

Sandy Foley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sandy Foley Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 If this is shut down to every 6 months, it would make it impossible to keep track of my investments. This is not feasible. I would lose control. Which means goverment is trying to take control

`A`ohe pau ka `ike i ka hâlau ho`okâhi.
All knowledge is not taught in one school.
One learns from many sources.

Sandy Gill — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandy Gill Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It is just wrong to let companies go dark for 6 months. My vote is no!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Sandy Kramer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandy Kramer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Too much can happen in three months, favorable or not. We need to be kept apprised of the company's status for the safety of our investment and peace of mind.

Sent from my iPad

Sandy Locke — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandy Locke Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is needed so that investors can determine the health of the companies in which they are looking to invest. Visibility is a key to smart investing! Why change a system that is working well?

Sandy O'Gorman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sandy O'Gorman Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is key to accoubtai

Sandy O'Gorman
sandy.ogorman@gmail.com
+1-408-888-5956 mobile

Sandy Reed — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandy Reed Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The transparency of quarterly reporting is a necessity. Keep the current schedule.

S. Reed
Retired

Sent from my iPhone

Sandy Scardino — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandy Scardino Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Sandy Scardino, senior citizen. You are endorsing theft. And those aren't victimless crimes. The ripple effect of theft at this level flows out to people like me, who struggle to get by. If anything, you should be examining these CEOs more often, not less often. Or does EVERYONE have their hand in the till?

Sent from my iPhone

Sandy Taylor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sandy Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly is the minimum that should be allowed. Retirement plans are at risk at a time when Social security is too! Too much can change in 6 months.

Sandy Taylor, CFO of a Credit Union that has to report quarterly.

Sandy Weitkamp — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandy Weitkamp Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Do not change these rules. As an investor who does not have access to inside infirmation, I need to have regular updates (
1/4ly) not by monthly
Sandy weitkamp

---

sandy wheeler — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: sandy wheeler Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please SEC leave reporting as it is. We need the transparency during these times.

Sandy White — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sandy White Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is not a burden on companies to publish quarterly. This keeps them a bit more honest and allows us more transparency in trying to grow our savings.

Sandy Williams — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sandy Williams Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is irresponsible and highly suspectt in its intent. You all know this is a horrible idea so who is really pushing it! Which one of the donor class has bought them out.

Sandy Woods — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandy Woods Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep Company reporting at Quarterly. We need more transparency, not less. Look what happened with Enron. Do not make this change could be devastating to investors as we've learned in the past.
Sandra Woods
Retired/American Airlines

Sent from my iPhone

Sanford Pereira — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sanford Pereira I'm against the change from quarterly to semi annual reporting. The lack of transparency will erode investor trust in a system that's already being doubted upon due to the visible apparent insider trading and market manipulation by the POTUS.

Sanford Watson The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sanford Watson I believe it is a mistake to reduce the number of times to report to two a year instead of 4. Monthly would be better for investors, but might prove to be too onerous for those who have to prepare the reports. Reducing the number of times per year a company has to report reduces transparency.

Sanjay Mishra — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sanjay Mishra The proposal allowing companies to optionally report semiannually is detrimental to transparency, corporate accountability, and risks insider trading. While some international regulatory agencies have moved away from quarterly reporting, the U.S. stock market is much larger and more influential than those of its peers. Quarterly updates guarantee that the market has continuous, decision-grade data. Less frequent reporting will increase information gaps, which can lead to larger, more dramatic stock volatility when hidden issues are finally revealed. Quarterly reporting ensures that corporate executives are consistently held accountable for their financial performance and strategy, preventing prolonged periods of poor management from going unnoticed. Moreover, more frequent public reporting significantly reduces the advantages of private information, thereby reducing the potential for insider trading.

Sanjay shah The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sanjay shah There should be no changes in the reporting requirements

---

Santiago Leon — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Santiago Leon Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Mistrust of business and government are at an all time high. Disclosure is like sunlight-it cleans and makes things bright. A quarterly report is the least we can expect from our spoiled oligarchs . Posted by Santiago Leon of Pinecrest, Florida. I am a retiree dependent in part on investments in public companies.

Santiago Leon - 305-439-4338 - sleon@sleonsolutions.com - Sent from my phone

---

Sara Bernard — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sara Bernard Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reports are really important when it comes to determining whether a business is on track or not. Maintain it a steady drumbeat keeps leadership accountable. Please don’t end it.

Thank you,
Sara Bernard
1600 23rd ST SE
Washington, DC 20020
Sent from my iPhone

Sara Cecil Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sara Cecil This is such a bad idea that its perpetrators are not even trying to hide how bad it is. Do the right thing, people.

---

sara clark — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: sara clark Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting must be continued. It levels the playing field for non-institutional investors and those managing their retirement income. Anything less than this is an attack on the common people in favor of those who seek to be fiduciarily irresponsible.

Sara Dixon — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-22 From: Sara Dixon Please do not lengthen the time between financial disclosures to six months..there is already far too much fraud this will just add more chances to hide it at our expense. If the gov entities actually were good stewards of our hard earned money that would be one thong..but when spent willy nilly because its just numbers on paper to them and no one bothers to ensure its going where its supposed to, then this is a ridiculous ask to further blind us. Get your act together. We budget and manage our finances. If you cant do it right, then stop taxing us until you can.

Sara Eneboe — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sara Eneboe Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the quarterly as a solid check through the year. Small business does this and more. Keep accountability with ALL large corps.

Sent from my iPhone

Sara King — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sara King Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Sara King
Mammography Technologist
Of course reporting should remain quarterly. Transparency is better served with more frequent reporting!

Sent from my iPhone

Sara Magee — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sara Magee Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This quarterly requirement was established for a reason. There is no reason to remove it now especially with the Trump administration in power. Everyone is aware of the graft and manipulation of this presidency. We need all the information we can get to try to keep matters clear to the public.

Sent from my iPhone

---

sara oneillaroune — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: sara oneillaroune Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We must have quarterly reporting!! Anything less is suspicious and concerning!!

Sent from my iPhone

Sara R Seals — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sara R Seals This is my response. Sara R Seals . comments attached

---

Sara Sinclair — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sara Sinclair I'm commenting about the proposed Semiannual Reporting rule. I expect the companies I invest in to be transparent in their communications to me. Going from 4 reports a year to 2 will make them less transparent. This is not acceptable to me.

Sara Steelman Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sara Steelman The Motley Fool Community exists to help members make informed choices about investments. As a member, I cannot approve of a federal policy that would reduce corporate reporting requirements, giving investors less information on which to base a decision. Please do not adopt this policy.

Sarah — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sarah Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Dear SEC,

I am Chief Strategy Officer for AITrack Solutions, a division of Bureau Veritas.

I am an individual investor and I make decisions based on quarterly reporting. I need transparency and this rule change would be an absolute step backwards.

Americans deserve a well regulated market. Less frequent financial reporting would be bad for business as well. Can't imagine the big 4 or an just financial professional supporting a less transparent and well regulated market.

Sarah

Sarah Belgrad — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sarah Belgrad Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I strongly oppose the proposal to shift from quarterly SEC reporting to a semiannual schedule. Reducing transparency at this stage would materially increase regulatory risk, undermine investor confidence, and signal instability at a time when consistency is critical. Maintaining quarterly reporting preserves compliance integrity, supports valuation, and avoids the appearance of going dark. I urge the committee to keep the current quarterly reporting cadence in place.

Sarah Belgrad, PsyD
Licensed Clinical Forensic Psychologist
Dr.Sarah.Belgrad@gmail.com
818-235-6990

Sarah Davol — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sarah Davol Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please continue quarterly reporting. Quarterly reports help to prevent fraud and insider trading. The SEC has upheld fair trading and protected investors. Please continue that legacy.

SARAH FRASER Nonprofit work — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: SARAH FRASER Transparancy is key to having a safe and ethical financial climate. We need to know exactly what is going on in companies in order to feel good about investing in them. Please use good judgement and keep the reporting to 4 times/year. ~ Thank you!

Sarah Gale — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sarah Gale Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission Trash the plan for stopping quarterly reports There is too much risk of fraud which would harm citizens.Stop this now

---

Sarah Hamann — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sarah Hamann Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No to hiding them for 6 months. Full disclosure is an absolute must.

Sarah Hudson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sarah Hudson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It is important to continue to have transparency from corporations, therefore I would prefer to see quarterly reporting .

Sarah Hudson

Sarah Kern None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sarah Kern Quarterly reporting enhances the information available to individual investors. This transparency is particularly important in a period when the Federal Reserve is reducing forward guidance. Thank you.

Sarah Kherief — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sarah Kherief Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To Whom It May Concern,

It's unfair to the consumers and those buying into the stock to keep the financial details a secret until half a year in and should definitely not be legalized.

Professor Sarah Kherief
Get Outlook for Android

Sarah Kieffer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sarah Kieffer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This policy seems so obviously wrong to me, why would they want to do something that would hurt so many hard working Americans.

Sarah Knudsen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sarah Knudsen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No way man!

Sent from my iPad

Sarah lincoln — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sarah lincoln Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I worked hard to invest and I want to feel like it isn’t a gamble with dark characters. The fact that they want LESS accountability is highly suspicious making me want to not invest at all . Please keep the reporting quarterly.
Thank you
Sarah Lincoln clinical social worker

Sent from my iPhone

SARAH LONGAZEL — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: SARAH LONGAZEL Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly reporting helps everyday investors keep track of what's at stake to us. The stock market should be fair to everyone. It's something that we should all have access to the most up to date information on.

Without having frequent reporting it makes it that much harder for the everyday person to invest wisely. A well funded future/retirement can only help the economy which is a primary concern for any government agency seeing as how our taxes pay for your existence.
Taking away quarterly reporting makes no sense for yourself. Our taxes pay for your existence. The more money we have the more stable your are.

Sarah Peters — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sarah Peters Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The SEC is self agrandizing and lying already at the quarterlies no to half time reports. Too much leeway for worse reporting and openly criminal activity.

Sarah Peters
216-496-9918

Sarah Pratt The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sarah Pratt Quarterly updates are a critical part of investor relations and corporate transparency. Investors rely on regular reporting to monitor company performance, assess risks, and make informed decisions regarding their investments. Reducing updates from quarterly to semiannual would significantly limit investors' ability to conduct timely due diligence and evaluate the company's progress throughout the year. A six-month gap between updates is simply too long for investors to remain adequately informed about material developments affecting their investment. I strongly oppose the proposed change and encourage the SEC to maintain the current quarterly reporting schedule. Doing so demonstrates a continued commitment to transparency, accountability, and investor confidence.

Sarah Richardson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sarah Richardson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Knowledge is power. Quarterly reports help us to know what is going on fiscally with the companies we work with or for, invest in for later benefit.
Keep the accountability.
Keep open reporting.

Sarah Richardson
KI5PZF

Sarah Van Roo None — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sarah Van Roo I am writing to object to the reduction of required corporate responses to two per year. The need for transparency more often is clear because more information is always good. In this day of AI such a report could be easily drafted with a bit of human oversight. There's really no sensible purpose in reducing the number of reports in the name of some kind of efficiency when companies have slashed so many of their functions using AI and improving efficiency.

Sarah Whitcomb — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sarah Whitcomb Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Sarah Whitcomb, Financial Advisor, we need quarterly reporting to keep Wall Street honest.

Sarah Wright — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sarah Wright Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting stays. If less it gives the ones with shady records time to hide evidence. QUARTERLY only.

SARAVANAN SADAIYAPPAN — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: SARAVANAN SADAIYAPPAN More public disclosure of information is good.

Saskia Schott — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Saskia Schott Reducing the timing of reporting from quarterly to semi-annually is not in the interest of the public, nor the investment community. It is far easier to manipulate numbers during a six month period. An informed public and an informed investment community is in the interest of all, businesses who compete, the greater economic community, as well as the investors.

Satin Mirchandani Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Satin Mirchandani As a buy-and-hold investor, I do not react very much to individual quarterly reports. However, the aggregate information provided is CRITICAL to making informed decisions about the macro investing environment. For example, Costco's voluntary reporting same store sales monthly is a huge benefit to the investing public. Taking quarterly reports away will result in all of us being less informed. Reporting costs matter, of course, but new AI tools are driving those down every day. This is a no brainer. If you are committed to the health and vibrancy of the public markets, please do the right thing and do NOT decrease reporting frequency. Respectfully, Satin H. Mirchandani

---

Satish Gujar — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Satish Gujar I respectfully request to maintain public companies financial quarterly reporting frequency instead of proposed semiannual reporting. This ensures greater transparency and accountability to small investors.

Saundra Syma — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Saundra Syma Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Dear sec,

I am writing as a retired telephone operator with 28 years of service with Southwestern Bell/AT&T and as a member of the CWA.

I am strongly opposed to any changes that would reduce the frequency of our financial reporting. It is vital that we maintain at least quarterly reports to properly monitor our investments and protect our hard-earned savings. In fact, monthly reporting would be even more effective in preventing fraud and mismanagement.

Decreasing the frequency of these reports is a strategy that has failed in the past. We cannot afford to lose money due to a lack of oversight. I urge you to prioritize the financial security of retirees by maintaining frequent and transparent reporting.

Sincerely,

Saundra Syma
417 Victoria Ave.
Taft, TX 78390
Phone 361-877-0087

Saurabh Tiwari Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Saurabh Tiwari I dont have mich to say. All I want to say in world on network and tech things move very quickly in corporate world. Therefore information of those happenings should be available to people concerned ASAP. Therefore, current system of corpotate filings should stay. Infact should be made more quicker of possible. Especially in a world where you got president like Trump who is very active and makes lot of things happen in short amount of time. Thank you.

---

saxxon — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: saxxon Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 With electronic accounting it should be possible to see how a company is doing minute to minute It only would require software used to relay/post summations on demand. Making reporting less frequent creates uncertainty for anyone not an insider, but without a 6 month blackout on trades for all insiders they can take advantage of the public making stocks in general a bad investment.

James Mapes
Brighton, Colorado

Sent from my Galaxy

SC — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: SC I am against reduced reporting requirements. 4x per year should remain the requirement.

Scarlet Haggard — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Scarlet Haggard Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 How can a person properly invest if we don't have information quarterly? Six months is too much time between reports.

Regards,
Scarlet L Haggard

Get Outlook for Android

Scholarly Roadside Service Motley Fool Community, Small Business Owner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scholarly Roadside Service This is a very anti-shareholder proposal. Reducing the annual requirement of reporting to shareholders is a move away from transparency and an opportunity for poor management or changes in supply/production to continue longer with no opportunity for shareholder oversite. As a shareholder, I have a right to regular and frequent reporting of the financials of the company I have a vested interest in. Proposing this regulation change threatens my ability to hold accountable in a timely fashion any company I invest in. As the government increases the pressure on both the employer and employee to invest more (both by fiat and encouragement through advertising) into SEC governed businesses and other stock market entities, the proposed report slacking becomes even more counter-intuitive. To encourage investing but decrease the timing accountability is oxymoronic and serves no purpose. The argument of "cost-saving" is irrelevant against the uncertainly and the loss of connection and transparency with the shareholders (company owners). Bottom line, very bad idea and should be dropped immediately. There is enough opportunity for companies to mislead their shareholders. They don't need a new one.

Scot Anderson NA — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scot Anderson I oppose the proposal to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. Investing in a company is taking ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Imagine owning a business and getting updates from your managers only twice a year. It would still run every day. You'd just know far less about how it was doing. That's effectively what's being proposed here. Companies will continue operating every day. Products will be launched. Customers will be won and lost. Strategies will succeed and fail. Yet under this proposal, owners would receive only half as many official updates about the businesses they own.

Scot Armstrong — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Scot Armstrong Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting in place. The ability for investors to respond to changing market conditions quickly outweighs the small overhead gains companies will get from reporting less frequently. Our economy has shifted from pensions and social safety nets to private investments to fund retirements, and we need more visibility to corporate performance, not less. - Stephen Armstrong, Sr. Director, Manufacturing Engineeting, Cincinnati, OH

Scot Roberts individual stock owener — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scot Roberts individual At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners.

Scott A Taylor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scott A Taylor Cutting the company requirements for reporting to 2 times . yearly is a . bad idea. As an investor and therefore an owner of different company stocks I want to know as much as possible about what business is going on in the company. Limiting my access to information about these companies is unfair and bad business.

Scott A. Howard — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scott A. Howard I am a stockholder and disagree with making the information less frequent and therefore less available. We need more information not less. In our current state of technology, and AI tools, we should be promoting more meetings and sharing more information not cutting the meetings and information. Quality information shared more frequently is how we make better informed decisions.

Scott Barraclough none — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scott Barraclough Investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Less transparency doesn’t eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater.

Scott Bradley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Scott Bradley Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is essential.Do not remove it.

Scott.

Scott Broome — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Scott Broome Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is the minimum. It protects the investor and the system !

Get Outlook for Android

Scott Brustein — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Scott Brustein Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Disgusting that greedy republicans are doing this

---
Scott Brustein
Scott.brustein@gmail.com

Sent from my iPad

Scott Callow — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Scott Callow Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Scott Callow, retired. California. I am writing to demand that Quarterly Reporting be maintained. As someone who has managed my retirement investments for decades, accurate and timely information has been critical to me for making decisions and weathering down times in the market. Transparency is also critical for limiting fraud. There is no reasonable reason to eliminating the current policy, with the exception of impoverishing the American Public.

Sent from my iPhone

Scott D. The Motley Fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scott D. Think how this would affect other companies, people and organizations. Not a good decision.

Scott Emery none — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scott Emery I learned about the opportunity to comment from The Motley Fool, to which I subscribe, but had previously read about the proposal to reduce corporate reporting requirements in the Financial Times. It is my belief that reducing the information for investors is contrary to the transparency required for ownership of a corporation. If ownership is the point, information is crucial. If equities were to be simply a gambling opportunity then it might not matter as much. The cost of reporting, at this point with the tools available, should be insignificant in comparison with the cost to long term owners of less information. If widespread corporate ownership is part of our national interest, then the proposal to reduce reporting requirements should be rejected.

Scott Fleming — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Scott Fleming Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Scott Fleming, officer and director, and consultant to 38 different Companies, LLCs, Corporations, and 501c nonprofit organizations. I believe quarterly reports should remain in place. Transparency = accountability.

Sent from my iPhone

Scott Gilbert Retail Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scott Gilbert It seems to me that these changes will save corporations very little money, as they still need to do all the same accounting over a slightly longer time. However, it will become more difficult to find errors and illegal activity. If implemented, I believe the net result will be harmful to investors, especially small retail investors. We will have less insight to the health of the businesses. Thank you for your consideration.

Scott HALEY The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scott HALEY Keep the transparency for individual investors do not reduce keep it four times a year.

Scott Hamonds — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Scott Hamonds Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I think this law should stand

---

Scott Hartshorn — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Scott Hartshorn Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To whom it may concern:

The ascent of AI technology allows companies to track metrics in real time. This should be a time for more transparency, not less. Anytime an institution has less transparency there will be a rise in corruption. Why not add mid-quarter unofficial reports. They have access to the information. This added to the official quarterly reports would increase transparency. Again, with AI this is not a burden. It’s a choice. Make the right choice for the American people.

Sincerely,
Scott Hartshorn

Sent from my iPhone

Scott Henderson The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scott Henderson Reducing public-company reporting requirements from quarterly to semiannual filings would diminish transparency at a time when investors need timely, reliable information to make informed decisions. Quarterly reports promote accountability, help identify emerging risks before they become larger problems, and contribute to fair and efficient markets by ensuring all investors have regular access to material financial information. While reducing reporting frequency may lessen administrative burdens for companies, the loss of transparency and investor confidence would likely outweigh those benefits. Maintaining quarterly reporting strikes an appropriate balance between corporate efficiency and the public's need for accurate, current information.

Scott Hofer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scott Hofer Reducing the reporting requirements from 4 times per year to 2 times per year reduces investors (owners) timely knowledge of what is going on with a company. This opens opportunities for less informed decisions, more mistakes, and more risk to the investor. It also creates opportunity for more fraud. Reducing the reporting requirements is arguably no longer as large a savings to companies with the advent of AI tools and other supporting tools for reporting. As an investor I am always looking for more information on the companies I own or am evaluating. Less timely information makes investing more difficult and more risky. Please do not reduce the reporting requirements.

Scott Irving — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Scott Irving Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting has been working far better for investors than the semi-annual reporting. Information and transparency is extremely valuable to us as investors. It is the job of the SEC to help insure this. It is not the job of the SEC to do the bidding of corporate boards and upper management.

Scott Irving

Scott Johnson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Scott Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We seen what DODG FOUND OUT ABOUT GOVERNMENT TRUST NO ONE

Sent from my iPhone

Scott Johnson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Scott Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Scott Johnson, CEO, Texas.

CEOs don't need to sign off every quarter, semi-annually is sufficient and a good balance between accountability and productivity, as I have many tasks to complete.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Scott Jones — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Scott Jones Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I am a retired CPA and am baffled by your proposed rule change. Why are you considering changing the rule requiring publically-traded companies to be less transparent with their finances by changing the quarterly reporting requirement to semi-annual? That makes no sense! It will delay the disclosure of important information which investors, creditors, and others rely upon to make timely and accurate decisions about these companies. Less timely information will result in worse decision making and lower market valuations because people have less confidence in the numbers which they rely upon.

Please do not do this!

Scott Jones
Melbourne Beach, Florida

Scott Kane — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Scott Kane Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Scott Kane. I am a 75 year old retiree with a background in tech. I am strongly opposed to the idea of lengthening the reporting portal from 3 months to 6 months.
At this time of rampant corruption and speculation, when a cut-throat AI arms-race is leading the stock market, no part of this new rule is prudent.
The current Administration and the present moribund Congress elicit NO confidence; this, meanwhile, enables the wealthy people who it serves to hide even more from the stock-buying investor public.
It is a reckless policy and a step in the wrong direction. Please rescind this proposal!
Sincerely yours,
Scott F. Kane,
Niles, Ohio 44446

Scott Lampe None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scott Lampe I think this is a bad idea. Less reporting will not improve corporate short termism. 6 months is not really any longer than 3 months. And companies are preparing internal reports so there won't be any material cost savings. And to the extent companies are spending money to produce filings that they are not producing internally, that is the real problem you should focus on. There should not be anything special about what the SEC requires that a public company would not produce in the normal order.

Scott Lewis — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scott Lewis As an individual investor owning shares of dozens of companies I want to continue to receive reports quarterly that let me know how the companies that I own part of are doing. Semi-annual reporting would make it harder to keep track of how companies that I own part of are doing.

Scott Martin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scott Martin Investing is ownership in a company. I believe reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Less information rarely creates better informed owners. Reporting twice a year is not enough.

Scott Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scott I do not agree with the reduction of reports. In business reports are crucial to knowing how effective the company is doing.

Scott Mroczkowski President SJM Electric Corporation — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scott Mroczkowski Less transparency doesn't eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater. Right?

Scott Mvdaniels Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scott Mvdaniels I understand there is a proposal on the table to reduce reporting requirements for publicly traded companies from quarterly to semi annually. Big mistake guys, investors are constantly seeking accurate information to make investing decisions. Any effort to reduce transparency is not a benefit to any anybody. For many of us older retired people investing and the stock market is our lifeline, please don't screw it up.

Scott Nelson Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scott Nelson I oppose the SEC proposal to replace quarterly reporting with semi-annual reporting. Investors have been using quarterly reports for decades to determine where to invest their hard earned money. Semi-annual reporting reduces transparency and increases risk for investors.

Scott Panzer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Scott Panzer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Scott Panzer - cybersecurity analyst (retired) - quarterly reports are essential for transparency and accountability. Do not change to semiannual, which places the financial plans of retirees like me at risk!

Sent from my iPhone

Scott Parrish — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Scott Parrish Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the law intact - if anything, strengthen it!

Scott Parrish
Illuminight Lighting, Inc.
www.illuminightlights.com
Ph 312-685-4448
Let Us Brighten Up Your Life!

Scott Patton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scott Patton We work hard to follow our investment relationships with public companies. Transparency for individual investors bacame greater and appreciated and respected when the requirement for quarterly company reports became a requirement. PLEASE preserve it!!

Scott Savage stock owner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scott Savage I appose the change to the current regulations.

Scott Swisher — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Scott Swisher Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Stop the madness. Protect the investors

Scott Turner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Public Comment: Strong Opposition to Reducing Public Company Reporting Frequency From: Scott Turner Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission,

I am writing to express my strong opposition to the current proposal that would allow public companies to reduce their financial reporting frequency from quarterly to semi-annually.

As an individual investor, I believe that transparency is the bedrock of fair and efficient markets. Cutting public disclosures in half would create major information gaps, making it significantly harder for retail investors to track market trends, perform timely technical and fundamental analysis, and manage risk effectively.

Reducing reporting frequency only serves to shield corporations from accountability while leaving individual investors in the dark for six months at a time.

I strongly urge the Commission to reject this proposal and protect market transparency by keeping quarterly reporting mandatory.

Sincerely,
Scott Turner

(980) 275-0444 (cell)
scottturner123@gmail.com

Scott Walton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Scott Walton Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the Quarterly reporting. With so much fluctuation in the economy, once every six months is not enough information to monitor and regulate the industry, not to mention individual investments.

Oversight needs to be INCREASED, not decreased. This is NOT a wise move. As a taxpayer, I am very much against reducing the required reporting to every six months.

Scott Walton

Scott Willis None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scott Willis The proposal on the table to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two is a mistake! Investing is ownership.I own a piece of a business, I deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Taking the reports away makes everyone less informed. Less information creates poorly-informed owners. Less transparency increases uncertainty. This proposal should be tanked and never should have been submitted in the first place. Thank You for allowing me to comment. Scott Willis

---

Scotti Siebert — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Scotti Siebert Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Transparency is a must, to avoid corporate malfeasance and failure to properly fund retirement funds. As a retired HR executive, I know that when budgets are tight, employee benefits are always the first targets for cutting corners, reducing or eliminating funding. Why should this change be made if it doesn't pose any real hardship to corporations?? It's just the cost of doing business.
Scotti Siebert

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

---

sdinick — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: sdinick Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 leave the quarterly reporting , getting company information every six months is not good for the investors,

Sent from my Galaxy

---

sds — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: sds Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 You already know this change is bad for the investors and just generally a poor decision on your part. Please keep it Quarterly!

Thank you for your time
Stephen DeSantolo
Sr. Director of Operations - retired
Fair Oaks, CA

SE — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: SE 4 times a year , don't fight the seasons 😎

Seadish — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Seadish Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly. People have a right to know when investing their money in the stock how the company is doing.

Marlo Russell

---

sealonthebeach — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: sealonthebeach Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Are you kidding me? Too much fraud in the world to sit back and take a break. Don’t you get paid?

Dana Jones

Sean Craig — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sean Craig While I fully support legitimate efforts aimed at eliminating needless tasks throughout our lives and businesses, the idea to eliminate corporate reporting is wholly inconsistent with this principle. All that will be accomplished is fraud and mismanagement will be made easier. Abandon this foolish effort immediately.

Sean Hutchinson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sean Hutchinson I think reducing fillings from quarterly to semi annually is a big mistake.

Sean Jarrett — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sean Jarrett Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Sean Jarrett, Plant Manager. Please keep the report quarterly. I am an investor and rely on quarterly reports to provide me with the information needed for my analysis to determine whether or not to invest in a company.

Sent from my iPhone

Sean Kassebaum — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sean Kassebaum Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting makes it so difficult to be nefarious. Waiting a half a year to find evidence of miss dealings is ludicrous.

Sean Kovarovic — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sean Kovarovic Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Sean. I am an entrepreneur. My personal savings is tied up in investments. If a CEO from another company can escape accountability and is not being ethical, we are not accurately being updated on thier business practices and not privy to insider information. We could think they are doing great, while they lose everything, and so do we. The rich are just as responsible for transparency as the rest of us.

Sean MacRae N/A — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sean MacRae I oppose the proposal to reduce public company reporting from quarterly to semiannual. As an individual investor, regular and transparent reporting is essential for making informed decisions. Less frequent reporting would reduce transparency, increase uncertainty, and potentially lead to greater market volatility when information is finally released. Investors are owners of these businesses and deserve timely updates on their performance. I believe quarterly reporting should remain the standard.

Sean McLaughlin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sean McLaughlin Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their shareholders. In an age of AI and increasingly efficient disclosure tools, reducing reporting would not reduce costs. Taking the reports away doesn't make anyone more patient. It just makes everyone less informed. Less information creates less-informed owners. Less transparency doesn’t eliminate uncertainty. It increases it.

Sean O'Neil — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sean O'Neil To Whom It May Concern, I am an individual investor and a member of The Motley Fool Community. I strongly oppose the proposal to allow public companies to reduce their reporting requirements from quarterly to semiannual reporting. As a shareholder, I am not merely a trader—I am an owner. Owners deserve timely, consistent, and transparent information about the businesses they own. Quarterly reporting has long been a cornerstone of that transparency and has helped create one of the strongest and most trusted capital markets in the world. Supporters of this proposal argue that reducing reporting frequency may lower costs and reduce short-term pressures on management. However, withholding information does not create better long-term investors. It simply leaves shareholders less informed. Companies will continue making important operational, financial, and strategic decisions every day, regardless of how often they report those developments to owners. Reducing official disclosures from four times per year to two times per year would increase information gaps, create greater uncertainty, and potentially lead to larger market surprises when information is finally released. Transparency reduces uncertainty. Less transparency increases it. As an investor, I rely on regular financial reporting to evaluate management's execution, understand changing business conditions, assess risks, and make informed decisions regarding my investments. Quarterly reports provide important accountability and help maintain trust between public companies and their shareholders. The U.S. markets have long benefited from robust disclosure standards. Rather than moving backward and reducing transparency, the SEC should continue to support policies that ensure investors have access to timely and meaningful information. I respectfully urge the Commission to reject the proposed Semiannual Reporting rule and preserve quarterly reporting requirements for public companies. Thank you for considering my comments. Sincerely, Sean O'Neil The Motley Fool Community

---

Sean Prugger — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sean Prugger Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Dear SEC,

We all know how unfair this new law will be to make companies only report every 6 months! The stock market is already rigged against us with massive ownership by private equity.

We've seen enough over the years to know that there is a great conflict of interest in crossovers between SEC chairpeople becoming CEOs of the companies they were governing over.

This might be the straw that broke the camel's back….

Pease do the right thing

Sebastian E — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sebastian E I do not believe that in this day and age where mis and dis information is rampant we should have less investor transparency. Reporting should remain quarterly

---

Sebastian Gutierrez Market Infrastructure Professional — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sebastian Gutierrez I believe reducing reporting requirements would only hurt investors, with no significant reduction in volatility or costs. It would be a significant step back in investor protection and one that would be most regrettable and would just erode investor trust.

Sebastien Royal — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sebastien Royal At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Some argue that fewer reports would reduce costs. Maybe. Although in an age of AI and increasingly efficient disclosure tools, even that point is debatable. Others argue it would ease the pressure to manage quarter to quarter. But short-termism comes from how people react to information, not from the information itself. Taking the reports away doesn't make anyone more patient. It just makes everyone less informed.

---

secret sailor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: secret sailor Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 keep it QUARTERLY.

Sehendley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sehendley Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Shirl Hendley here, Consumer and former Auditor. Quarterly reporting is essential for transparency. Please keep it.

Cheers,
Shirl Hendley
202-246-3533

Selby Clark — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Selby Clark I think it is highly disingenuous and disadvantageous to all private investors that they are not able to get information except semi-annually. Changing the rules from quarterly reporting would be a serious disservice to the investing community. Please do not let it happen.

SELF Motley Fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: SELF I am supportive of the half yearly reporting proposal, but it must come with better reporting by companies in terms of consistency of definitions (eg underlying, normalised etc) must be regulated and removed. The issue of "one time" costs (eg restructuring, M&A) needs to be removed as a mechanism for smoothing results or claiming better performance than is suggested by free cash flows and standard accounting measures. On closer inspection most of the "one time" costs are simply normal expenses which arise only from time to time but they are nonetheless normal and to a degree expected (eg restructurings are normal if you sell a part of the enterprise, M&A is normal if you are looking to grow in new areas. Remove these vagairies with better standards or legislation and the half year reportoing will be a lower cost to business and more transparent to investors

---

Self None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Self Your latest proposals suggest that you are not acting in the interest of small individual investors. This is wrong. You are ignoring one of your fundamental duties as a regulatory authority. Please do not abandon this primary function of your organization.

Seller — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Seller Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting!

I have stock in companies and quarterly reporting makes it less easy for a company to hide or tweak financials. It provides some assurance that my money is used responsibly and, hopefully, a business is being run with integrity.

C. Burton, retiree

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Sentinel Director — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sentinel I believe the proposal to reduce disclosures from 4 to 2 serves no one. It is a bad idea and should be reconsidered.

Sera Hirano — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sera Hirano Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Sita Hirano living in Las Vegas now for 11 years. I'm a retired English teacher. I've lived extensively abroad 7 years in Korea and Japan and 20 years in Brazil. I have seen all kinds of business practices and regulations and lack of them. Our rules, laws and legislation here in the USA impact far more than what is inside our own physical borders. We here in America need to be our own watch dogs. We need to keep our business practices clean. I am now back in the States and am starting only now my own small business language school. We all need to be accountable. We have the most beautiful country. We cannot and must not take it for granted. All the small businesses need to keep things clean and true. The big established players also need to be accountable. There is so much good opportunity. Don't mess it up. Out with the scammers. KEEP IT QUARTERLY.

Sincerely,
Sita Hirano

Seth J Downs — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Seth J Downs The new proposal creates 2 major issues. Only reporting twice a year instead of quarterly provides current and potential shareholders with less information and less frequently to make informed decisions about their investments and potential retirement funding. Secondly, reducing the reporting would potentially allow companies that are insolvent or failing from disclosing this information timely. We have seen historically companies fail in a very short period of time or have significant issues. Allowing these situations to be kept secret from shareholders and investors for extended periods of time would allow for greater fraud and potentially significant losses for everyday investors and shareholders while allowing insiders to take advantage of reduced reporting requirements. This is a terrible idea and will result in negative impacts across all sectors of the economy.

Seungkui Han — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Seungkui Han For better transparency of corporate America, and interest of retail investors, we need to have access to quarterly reports of public companies. That will also benefit our younger generation by having society with enhanced ESG.

Shaida Libhart — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Shaida Libhart Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I'm an everyday, normal-person investor and I rely on quarterly reports to make decisions about my investments, including my child's 529 account and retirement savings. Do not get rid of that reporting requirement.

SHANAN — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: SHANAN Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Oversight is paramount to stopping this fraud. We demand that the top people in every corporation have OVERSIGHT over the money. FRAUD HURTS EVERYONE.

Shane Motley Fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Shane This is a terrible idea. I would like quarterly reports to know my businesses are doing more frequtntly

Shane Johanson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Shane Johanson Total against the number of company reports being reduced to 2, as a stock owner we have a right to more information.

Shane Lamson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Shane Lamson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Let's keep the quarterly reports with accountability. Anything else should be considered a crime against investors.

Sent via the Samsung Galaxy S24 Ultra, an AT&T 5G smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Shane Russell — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Shane Russell Maintain transparency

---

Shane Smith The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Shane Smith Dear Sirs, The requirement to report quarterly is a very important regulatory requirement for stock owners and I believe it should be maintained going forward. Owners need to know how their companies are performing and being run by management. Please retain this regulation.

Shannon Collier — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Shannon Collier Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Transparency is key to a healthy economy and society. Liars and cheats like to hide things and information. Trustworthy people and institutions have nothing to hide.

Shannon Collier
US Resident

iPhone - Typos likely.
Be well. Accept life. Share love. Honor your 💖. Play. Free your Self. ✨🙏✨

Shannon Edwards-Myslicki — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shannon Edwards-Myslicki Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We the People need to know what the financials are on a quarterly basis so we can protect our money , and keep everybody honest

sincerely a Montana Voter

Sent from my iPhone

Shannon Huntley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Shannon Huntley Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Shannon Huntley, retired, Garner, NC. Given the state of greed in our national leadership, there should be no question that there is a need for strong safeguards to keep the greedy in check. KEEP THE QUARTERLY REPORTS.

Shannon Johnson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Shannon Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
we all found out what happened the first time banks were deregulated please listen to Elizabeth Warren. Small investors like the bulk of the American people need and deserve to be protected. Please.

Shannon Lynn — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Shannon Lynn Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Why is this what our government spends its time doing? Being more secretive and less transparent, less accountable, and it's unacceptable. Quarterly reporting should be the bare minimum as elected officials throughout America are taking advantage of this country with no regard for citizens and future generations.

Shannon Lynn

Shannon Rose — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shannon Rose Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Continuing to keep the United States people in the dark while corporation destroy the country is insane. This administration has no concern for the general public, our needs, or our safety. The idea that a nation that is perpetually racking up debt, dismantling regulations, and destroying everything the unites states was thought to be, wants to highfive his corporate goons and allow them extra cracks to continue their destruction of our planet, our country, and now our finances.
Get your head out of your ass, disrespectfully.

Sharhonda Lyons — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharhonda Lyons Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I think that changing this rule would be a mistake.

Shari Munkres Stock holder — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Shari Munkres More and easily available oversight by investors is necessary to ensure that light is readily available to those of us who wish to stay informed .

Shari Nomady — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Shari Nomady Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep quarterly earnings reports. We need these to make good decisions on investing. Without these reports either people won't invest because it's too risky. Or they will invest and when they lose everyone loses. Less money means less to spend on the economy.
Shari Nomady
Sent from my iPhone

Shari Schubauer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shari Schubauer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Stop the 6 month blackout!

Sharol Ewers — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharol Ewers Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Don't change it

---

Sharon Adams — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sharon Adams Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I am a retiree, age 76, and I will never be able to manage if the SEC changes its reporting in favor of the billionaire class. Give regular Americans consideration as you make this decision. Many people are about to be hurt (again) by the disastrous favors given to people who do not deserve them. Sharon Adams,

---

Sharon Bates — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sharon Bates Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Yes keep quarterly reporting!!

Sharon

Sharon Bayes — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sharon Bayes Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not end quarterly reporting! I'm a retail investor and I need quarterly reports to understand what's going on with my investments!
Why would you even consider ending these reports when there is already so much fraud everywhere? You would be giving insiders opportunities to commit fraud and hurting regular working people who struggle to get ahead! We need this information!

Thank you!

Sharon Brenner Cadalzo — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sharon Brenner Cadalzo Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Keep Quarterly notifications. Semi annual isn't frequent enough. You are making enough money

---

Sharon Bromham — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sharon Bromham Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is insane . This is not capitalism - it’s pure greed

Sent from my iPhone

Sharon Carkhuff — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sharon Carkhuff Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Sharon Carkhuff, Finance Administrator, Maryland. As someone who is looking to retire in couple of years, I want the info quarterly so I can be informed on how my portfolio is performing and if I need to make any adjustments. Why would the SEC even consider changing the reporting when it would so drastically affect people? Transparency isn't something that we should have to give up, and for what reason?

Sharon Downing — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sharon Downing Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Sharon Downing, Medicare broker. This matters to me because my whole family has investments as most do of some sort and the fraud is not acceptable to us. This is a reckless decision that will end up hurting a lot of innocent people. Why is this happening... why is this allowed, why is this even being discussed?

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Sharon Eastman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sharon Eastman Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
It's essential to keep quarterly reporting. You're are leaving individuals open to fraud and corruption and disinformation .

Sharon Enck-Welch — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sharon Enck-Welch Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This flies in the face of review....and we know it! We intend to VOTE YOU ALL OUT AND WHEN WE ARE BACK, LOOK FORWARD TO JAIL TIME !!!!!!!

Sharon Garry — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sharon Garry Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the reporting or face more Enron's and a volatile market.

Sharon Gonzo — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Gonzo Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Time to burn it all down

---

Sharon Harris — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Harris Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We need to know what is happening with our money every quarter so we can move it if needed to do better in the markets. I'm into growing my money, not losing it.

Sharon Hendee — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sharon Hendee Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Government is in place to help and protect Americans- that's you're job. Let's not have another crisis to understand controls need to be in place. Keep quarterly Reporting. Sharon Hendee, Citizen

---

Sharon Karpinski — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sharon Karpinski Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly reporting keeps the players honest---or at least it tries to. The urge to "cheat the system" will always be with us. We need to perpetually curb that tendency.

Sharon Lewis — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sharon Lewis Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I can see no benefit in changing from quarterly reporting other than fraud or mishandling of funds. Do not ignore the lessons learned over time. Continue quarterly reports!!
Sharon Lynn Lewis , retired educator, Covington, GA

Sent from my iPhone

Sharon Lichliter — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Lichliter Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Sharon Lichliter, Attorney. I want the reporting to remain at quarterly. In today's fast paced world, that shouldn't be a problem to maintain quarterly reporting. There are too many things that could affect the status and 6 month intervals are too far apart.

Thank you,
Sharon Lichliter

Sharon G. Lichliter
Lichliter Law and Mediation
9040 Garden Arbor Drive, Suite 203
Germantown, TN 38138
901.255.7000 Office
901.255.7970 Fax
901.300.0139 Mobile + Text slichliter@lichliterlaw.com

Sent from my iPhone

Sharon M Smith — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sharon M Smith At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Some argue that fewer reports would reduce costs. In an age of AI and increasingly efficient disclosure tools, that point is debatable. Others argue it would ease the pressure to manage quarter to quarter. But short-termism comes from how people react to information, not from the information itself. Taking the reports away doesn't make anyone more patient. It just makes everyone less informed. What isn't debatable is that less information never creates better-informed owners. Imagine owning a business and getting updates from your managers only twice a year. It would still run every day. You'd just know far less about how it was doing. That's effectively what's being proposed here. Companies will continue operating every day. Products will be launched. Customers will be won and lost. Strategies will succeed and fail. Yet under this proposal, owners would receive only half as many official updates about the businesses they own. Less transparency doesn't eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater.

Sharon Mackner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sharon Mackner Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We already are at such a disadvantage with the wealth gap, AI, etc. We lose ground with our retirement and really even everyday living, everyday. We need more transparency and accountability not less. The market is not a guarantee but it is a ray of hope to some of us that otherwise wouldn't be able to make that little extra here and there. Don't take what little hope and options we have and make that even harder and scarier than it already is. I honestly don't understand the reason for this other than rich people want to do shady things to make themselves richer.

Sharon magnusson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon magnusson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We need to have more transparency and quarterly reporting! This as it stands at 6 months is not good and will lead to more corruption and harm to the American people.

Sent from my iPhone

Sharon McEwen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon McEwen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly

Sent from my iPhone

Sharon Meyer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sharon Meyer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting in place. We all know there are many shenanigans that can go on when no one is looking. Quarterly reporting makes it harder to misbehave and 6 months gives them lots of opportunity. Thanks for listening.

Sharon Meyer, retired from a Director position at a US manufacturing company and still heavily invested in the market.

Sharon Mleko — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sharon Mleko Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I think they should keep it I don't know much about quarterly reporting but it sounds important to me

---

Sharon Myers — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sharon Myers Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly is the maximum citizens and investors should go between quarterly reports. Please don't allow reporting to go longer than quarterly.

Sharon Robinson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Robinson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 There was a reason for changing the SEC rules after ENRON. That reason still exists. CEOs need to be held accountable every 3 months! DO NOT LET THIS SLIDE !

SHARON ROSE MAY — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: SHARON ROSE MAY Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting must be continued in order for transparency and for public comments to be timely.

Thank you.

Sharon May

Cleveland, Ohio
44143

Sharon S. Wright Dean, Tulsa Community College, retired — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sharon S. Wright I strongly object to the proposed reduction in the number of required reporting deadlines from quarterly to semi-annually. Any time we reduce transparency, we also reduce honesty. At the very least, when a company is not at optimum performance on a given date, it is simply human nature to make claims that do not have to be supported immediately and hope for the best, or a miracle, to arrive before an extended deadline arrives. This fact makes allowing fewer, more distant reports completely outside the public interest. The SEC is supposed to guard the public interest, so please stand up for continued frequent reporting that demands quarterly accountability.--sw

---

Sharon Siville — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Siville Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 CEO's have harmed and continued to harm others. Anything that holds then accountable for their actions must stay in place. More control is needed. Poor actions harm their corporation, employees and millions of investors.
Sharon Rodney
(retired Program Manager, Nokia)

Sent from my iPhone

Sharon Smith — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sharon Smith Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 More time between reports allows for misrepresenting the companies value. Quarterly reporting in the digital age is not as time consuming as it once was and paperless reports are almost free.

Sent from my iPad

Sharon Tuggle — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sharon Tuggle Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Greetings
Disallowing quarter reporting reduces transparency in the markets and this in turn facilitates insider trading. Please reconsider these proposals.

Sharon Washington — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: SEC File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sharon Washington Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026
KeepItQuarterly.org · A public-interest campaign for retail investor transparency.
hello@keepitquarterly.org
Not affiliated with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. The SEC's official proposal page is at sec.gov.

SEC File No. S7-2026-15 · Public Comment Period began May 5, 2026.
Let me start by saying, remember Enron? Do you even remember the 2008 bank bail out? How about the Wells Fargo fake accounts and cross-selling, remember any of that? So, shall we have more of the same on steroids? Is it F the people, let's make money? Yeah, I guess that's "America" now, the people have become chew toys while fingers are pointed at other countries.

Sharon Washington

Sent from my iPhone

Sharon Wolfsohn — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Wolfsohn Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Do not make it even easier for these companies to cheat. Enough is enough.

Sharon Young — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sharon Young Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports! Less opportunity for lying and cheating! Also retired people depend on the honest reporting!

Sent from my iPhone

Sharon young — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon young Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Another self serving policy. I believe quarterly reporting is imperative to honesty of transactions. This administration is so corrupt.

Sharyl Montague — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sharyl Montague I am opposed to cutting corporate reporting in half. I follow Motley Fool and trust their advice. We don't need more surprises in this awkward time in America.

Shaun Kudah — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Shaun Kudah Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
You guys are a joke only under a corrupt administration like this would anyone ever let you put this kind of stunt you're going to sink the entire global economy to satisfy your own greed... You are despicable even for just thinking about doing this. ..

Shaunna Tonelli — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Shaunna Tonelli Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 More transparency from companies, not less. More accountability to the consumer, not just the bottom line. American businesses used to have integrity. Deregulation has ruined our economy. Stop the spiral to the bottom.
Require quarterly reporting.
Sincerely,
Shaunna Tonelli

ShaVonne Richardson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: ShaVonne Richardson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We need transparency to protect the savings of the People instead of lining billionaires' pockets. We have already seen what less reporting does so don't let history repeat itself!

---

shawn — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: shawn if they do this, I will sell all stock and never invest again until rule goes back. hard to invest in a company that now limits reports so in the middle time anything can happen. won't lose money, this is on the criminal side.

Shawn Boudreaux — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shawn Boudreaux Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it Quarterly

Shawn Boudreaux Houma Louisiana Shawnt59@live.com

Shawn Dennison — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shawn Dennison Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Stop the steal. Don't let big money wipe out retail investors.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Shawn Ervin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Shawn Ervin Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is SHAWN ERVIN and I own a small logging company. I believe that there is not enough accountability as it is and graft slips through the cracks .Don't let the cracks get wider again make it monthly reporting

---

Shawn Flynn — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shawn Flynn Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep Quarterly reporting

Shawn M. Flynn

Shawn Gooden Compliance Director — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Shawn Gooden As a small individual investor and stockholder for more than 15 years, I strongly support maintaining and strengthening investor transparency requirements. While I am not a professional trader and do not spend every day actively managing investments, I understand the fundamental principle that makes public markets work: investors must have access to accurate, timely, and transparent information in order to make informed decisions. Transparency is not a luxury, it is the foundation of trust in our financial system. Over the past several years, many Americans have watched confidence in institutions decline. At a time when concerns about corporate influence, market concentration, and unequal access to information are growing, reducing transparency would move our markets in the wrong direction. It would create an environment where large corporations and well-connected interests have advantages that ordinary investors simply do not. The stock market was designed to provide individuals with an opportunity to participate in economic growth and build financial security. Weakening transparency protections undermines that purpose. It limits accountability, reduces investor confidence, and makes it more difficult for everyday Americans to evaluate risk and protect their investments. Transparency benefits everyone, not just investors. It promotes fair competition, encourages responsible corporate behavior, and helps ensure that markets operate efficiently and honestly. Without meaningful disclosure and accountability, opportunities for misconduct, conflicts of interest, and corruption increase. As someone who believes in the importance of fair and accessible markets, I urge policymakers to preserve and strengthen investor transparency requirements rather than weaken them. The integrity of our financial markets depends on ensuring that all investors, not just the wealthiest or most powerful, have access to the information necessary to make informed decisions. A fair market is a transparent market, and transparency remains essential to protecting investors, fostering trust, and preserving equal opportunity.

Shawn Lustig The motley Crew — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Shawn Lustig Keep the current reporting system in place. I am against reducing the number of filings from 12 annually to 6 annually

---

Shawna Wilde Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Shawna Wilde As an investor, I believe owners of a company deserve transparency to make stock decisions. Cutting out reporting makes investors unable to be informed about important decisions regarding their own financial health!

Shay Miller — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Shay Miller Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Investors need transparency on how their investments are performing and to stay engaged. Without transparency and a knowledge investments will stagnate and could risk the stability of the market

Sent from my iPhone

Shea Moore — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shea Moore Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep businesses accountable with quarterly reporting!

Sent from my iPhone

Shehzad Jiwani The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Shehzad Jiwani Please have the quarterly reporting i.e. 4 times a year to have better transparency of information

---

Sheila Antoon-Allen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sheila Antoon-Allen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Sheila C Antoon-Allen, retired. Please keep Quarterly Reporting! Americans are tired of Congress's insider trading & you cannot convince me otherwise. The everyday American is as deserving of a chance to learn & invest with Their Own money. Six Months is too long for progress reports.

Sheila C Antoon-Allen

Sheila Archer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sheila Archer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not undermine citizens' life savings and investments.

Sheila Bingham — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sheila Bingham Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep quarterly reports
Sheila Bingham
Little Rock AR

Sent from my iPhone

Sheila Bridges — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sheila Bridges Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 What is it- let's celebrate FRUAD because the moron in the oval office is bleeding the country dry? So its a free for all . Just make the rich richer and destroy our lives ? Hasn't h e already taxed us enough with tariffs

---

Sheila Collins — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sheila Collins Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting MUST continue. Large biz owners cannot be trusted to only report twice per year.

Sheila S. Collins. Small business owner
Stock portfolio holder
Seneca Falls, NY

Sheila S. Collins
President & Owner
SC Surfaces, LLC

M: 417.300.0698
E: sheila.collins@scsurfaces.net
W: www.scsurfaces.net

This message contains confidential information and is intended only for recipient. If you are not the named addressee you should not disseminate, distribute or copy this e-mail. Please notify the sender immediately if you have received this e-mail by mistake and delete this e-mail from your system. Finally, the recipient should check this email and any attachments for the presence of viruses. The company accepts no liability for any damage caused by any virus transmitted by this email.

Sheila Decker — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sheila Decker Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 There's already enough corruption, CEO's need to be monitored.

Sheila Ehlers — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sheila Ehlers I oppose the rule change to semi annual reporting by publicly traded companies. Quarterly reporting provides me, as an investor, with much more information and better protects me financially.

Sheila Elkin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sheila Elkin Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I think a huge correction is coming to a certain class of people. Bad move.

Sheila Heal — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sheila Heal Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it Quarterly. Wasn't this administration promising to promote transparency?

Sheila Hill — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sheila Hill Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The ONLY reason for changing this reporting is to enable companies to HIDE SOMETHING!!!
%0%4%C%0%4%C%0%4%C%0%4%C

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Sheila M — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sheila M Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I'm living in retirement. I rely on quarterly reports for my longevity goals. In my position I need to know how my investments are doing.

Sheila Marowitz — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sheila Marowitz Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is illegal in many ways. The proponents who came up with this should be fired immediately. Not at all surprised if it were Republican's doing this shady B.S!

Sheila Mcinnes — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sheila Mcinnes Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly is the best for transparency. It needs to stay this way to protect investors. Also members of Congress should be barred from stock trading. And members of the executive branch as well.

---

sheila radtke — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: sheila radtke Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It is imperative that the regular individual investors have these reports so we can make informed decisions. Quarterly

---

Sheila Spurlock — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sheila Spurlock Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 n0ubx@yahoo.com, Richard K. Spurlock, retired.
I want to see where my investments stand as often as possible. I have to follow the rules, so crooked insider traders should not get such a jump on the market. There is absolutely no reason to lengthen the reporting period.

Sheila Stone — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sheila Stone Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Sheila Stone Hayes and I'm a retired property manager. There is way too much fraud and theft in our country today. Most of the time the everyday American is left holding the financial bag and that's not right. I'm asking that you continue to make companies report on a quarterly basis to protect the people. Thank you for your consideration.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Sheila T Barnes — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sheila T Barnes Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 QUARTERLY reports have worked! Keep the quarterly reports active, and available for accountability!

Sent from my iPhone

Sheila Tatone — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sheila Tatone Please preserve the transparency level we currently have. Please do not reduce the number of public reports to twice a year.

Sheila Taylor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sheila Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Absolutely NOT! We have enough corruption that the tax payers will need to bail us out of and we don’t need more. Keep it Qtrly!

Sent from my iPhone

Sheila_in_SoCal — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sheila_in_SoCal Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting should be retained. Problems and errors MULTIPLY if not caught early, turning fixable issues and honest mistakes into disasters.

Small investors like myself are some of the most vunerable. I am retired and can't afford unnecessary risks. Prudent investing and responsible regulatory oversight are the pillars that protect those like me.

Sheila Andersen
Retired Associate Warden,
State of California

Shelley Browning — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Shelley Browning I do not support proposal S7-2026-15 regarding semiannual reporting. As an individual investor, I rely on regular company reporting to understand how well companies are performing, whether management is executing effectively, and whether my investments remain appropriate. Reducing the frequency of reporting would make it harder for investors like me to make informed decisions and would decrease transparency in the market. Frequent reporting is especially important because many companies operate with tight cash flow, short planning cycles, and just-in-time budgets. A company's financial condition can change quickly, and investors should not have to wait six months to learn about meaningful changes in revenue, expenses, debt, margins, or liquidity. In addition, much of financial reporting today is likely supported by automated accounting, compliance, and investor-relations systems. While reporting does require effort, I do not believe reducing transparency for investors is the right way to address that burden. Public companies should continue to provide timely financial information, so investors have a clear and current view of company performance.

Shelley Bryan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Shelley Bryan Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Shelley Bryan -- retired
Small investor....Enron catastrophe showed clearly we need maximum, not minimum, transparency where our finances and investments are concerned. NOT debatable.

Shelley Cross — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Shelley Cross Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please allow small investors the ability to know how companies are doing and their financial position every quarter. Decreasing financial reporting periods to six months will increase a company's likelihood of predating & postdating invoices to increase results for the six-month reporting.

Shelley Cross, CPA

Shelley Hansley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Shelley Hansley Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Shelley Hansley. I'm a professional in the insurance industry and I live in Houston Texas. I want you to STOP reversing things that were implemented for the good of the people. I remember people lost their entire life savings because of ENRON. Save quarterly reporting! You're supposed to protect the people. Keep protecting us. Save quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Shelley Hobbs — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shelley Hobbs Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Shelley Hobbs
Vice President
Retired Banker

Without quarterly reporting fraud will evolve quickly. All businesses & non-profits are required to have quarterly reporting and it is prudent and effective. Do not change what works well!

---

shelley staib — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: shelley staib Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Shelley Staib, retired. Keep the same practice in place, it’s a necessity for transparency and honesty in the face of blatant corporate greed and corruption

Shelley Staib

Shelley Urban — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shelley Urban Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Any company who trades or has stock holders needs to open and honest about what's going on. Going dark for 6 months is ridiculous and unfair to the American people. Big companies have proven over and over that they can not be trusted if their given time to not tell their investors what's going on.
Please don't let this happen.

Shelley Vernon — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Shelley Vernon I do not agree with reducing the number of reports that giant companies make public. Quarterly reports allow the company itself to understand how it is doing. Good management means keeping track. They have plenty of staff, so I think they can manage it...

Shelley Wainrib — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Shelley Wainrib Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We need transparency in what companies are doing!
On another topic, what has happened to monopolies being illegal!!! The media is becoming a monopoly and spewing many untruths and hiding news that is unfavorable to Trump and his antics.

Shelva Trahan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Shelva Trahan Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Shelva Trahan. I am the Manager, Compensation & Benefits for a privately held company. I have worked for both publicly held as well as privately held companies. In that capacity
I was privileged to know the inner workings as well as corporate Financials. This information is hidden to investors until the company Financials come out. It makes the leaders behave ethically and holds them accountable. Without the requirement of making this public, I along with any other investor would not have the opportunity to know the wins or losses as well as the struggles of a corporation. We must keep this knowledge public on a quarterly basis.

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Shemia Brewer — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Shemia Brewer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 They must be accountable Four times a year , Ms. Brewer

---

Sheree Rodriguez — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sheree Rodriguez Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We need quarterly reporting, or even more frequently! Not less!!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Sheri Fatout — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sheri Fatout Comments attached.

Sheri Horn Hasan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sheri Horn Hasan Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 As an investor, I want more transparency, not less, with quarterly reporting. Anything less does NOT represent adequate transparency. Sheri Horn Hasan, Retired, New Jersey

---

Sheri Jones — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sheri Jones Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We need more disclosure, not less! A six month blackout opens up the possibility of fraud!

Sheri Mongeau — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sheri Mongeau Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the quarterly signature. We live in fast moving times, This law was implemented for a very good reason. It is still needed. Quarterly will remain a superior safety net to the proposed every 6 months.

Sheri Mosley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sheri Mosley Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 So which maga rep made this suggestion??? Was it a Jared connection?? Y'all just going out of your way to let maga make as much illegal money they can under the current administration. Shameful…

SHERI SISON — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: SHERI SISON Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Sheri Sison. I am a high school English teacher. Reducing quarterly reporting allows time for fraud to occur. The rich continue to enrich themselves at the expense of others.

Sent from my iPhone

Sherie Niebauer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sherie Niebauer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Stop finding reasons to protect the big money folks and start protecting the little guys. Six months to hide fraud and insider selling is outrageous. With AI they could report monthly at minimal cost. Sherie Niebauer - Retired

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Sheril Miller — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sheril Miller Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I don't even have stocks! Yet this is outrageous and could highly effect many folks I know. Please don't let this happpen.
Thank you,
S. Miller

Sherre Holmes — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sherre Holmes Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not eliminate quarterly reports. A valid justification for the change has mot been provided, and given the actions of the current Administration, the change provides an opportunity for us to be duped AGAIN by those most likely to benefit.

Sherri Brennan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sherri Brennan I am against reducing public company reports from four to twice a year. I want the additioal transparency. Thank you.

Sherri Graw — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sherri Graw I believe companies should remain with quarterly reports and not move to quarterly reports. I believe this is in the best interests of their investors.

Sherri Merrick — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sherri Merrick Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The answer is hell no!

Sherrie Cichetti — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sherrie Cichetti Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 QUARTERLY!!
We the people need and want TRANSPARENCY!!

Sent from my iPhone

Sherrie Jones — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sherrie Jones Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Stop the fraud, waste & abuse. I rely on quarterly information to make decisions, (2) longer gaps create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders, (3) "optional" doesn't fix the problem because companies that opt in are often the ones whose investors most need frequent updates, (4) the savings to companies aren't worth the cost to me. This didn’t work in the EU, it’s unethical & unfair.

---

sherrie moss — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: sherrie moss Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Stop trying to steal from the hard working citizens of our country. You’re all shameful charlatans.

Sherrie Moss

Sherrie Olson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sherrie Olson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please continue the quarterly reporting of our accounts. Changing this information to twice a year reduces the protection Americans rely on. Thank you.

Sherrie Olson
Raymond James Financial Retiree

Sherrie Sink — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sherrie Sink Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY !! I can not trust anything because if the evil, greed and theft happening e erywhere. Please keep what safeguards that ha e worked. Don't go back ti what had failed before!

Sent from my Galaxy

Sherry A Andrews — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sherry A Andrews Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The only reason to do less reporting to the American people is cover up corruption!! Please keep the reposting as it should be QUARTERLY!! Thank you as there is no legitamate reason to stop this practice!! We the people demand this to have accountability!!! THANK YOU!!!

Sherry Brower — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sherry Brower Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
There is a law in effect that works just fine. Keep it. We don't need any lazy or crooked business men trying to steal from their customers. Why tempt them unless you are the same?

Sherry Cooper — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sherry Cooper Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Keep quarterly reports!!

Sherry Dampier — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sherry Dampier Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Seriously? Today's citizen has zero morals or values. Corruption is rampant. And now you want to reduce oversight? Makes perfect sense if you want to rob Americans hard earned money and personally profit from that theft.

We can all say no. It wont matter. You will do it anyway. I am disgusted by people that are supposed to be leaders. You are supposed to represent the people and protect us and defend us from predators like these corporate oligarchs.

We all saw what happened when there was no oversight. We are all seeing what's happening today. Since you have basically stopped even reviewing the quarterly reports and everyone knows it's just for show and probably is a carbon copy of the last 10 they submitted the accountability factor equals a 2. They are still doing what they shouldn't be doing but now you use more lax requirements ending in acquittal on those counts or reliances on other charges... so now we should just remove the barrier and let them all run amok?

When was the last time a ceo was held accountable for sarbanes oxley law?

Around 2010, with the sentencing of Jerry Dale Cash (former CEO of Quest Energy Partners/Quest Resource Corporation) serving as one of the clearest and most prominent examples of criminal accountability under the Sarbanes-Oxley Act (SOX).

archives.fbi.gov

On November 12, 2010, Cash was sentenced to 9 years (108 months) in federal prison and ordered to pay $5 million in connection with a false SOX certification. He had pleaded guilty earlier that year to violating 18 U.S.C. § 1350 (SOX Section 906) by certifying financial statements that were inaccurate—he failed to disclose his diversion of about $10 million in corporate funds. This was not just for the underlying misconduct but specifically tied to the false certification.

archives.fbi.gov

Context on SOX AccountabilitySOX (2002) strengthened CEO/CFO personal responsibility via Sections 302 and 906, requiring certifications of financial reports and imposing criminal penalties: up to $1M fine/10 years for knowing false certifications, or up to $5M/20 years for willful ones.

en.wikipedia.org

Criminal prosecutions under the false-certification provisions have been relatively rare, especially for high-profile cases. Early post-SOX examples (e.g., HealthSouth's Richard Scrushy) often ended in acquittal on those counts or relied on other charges. Cash's case stands out as a direct SOX certification conviction leading to significant prison time.

reuters.com

More recent enforcement (post-2010) has leaned toward civil SEC actions, clawbacks of compensation (even without personal misconduct by the executive under Section 304), officer/director bars, fines, and settlements rather than frequent criminal convictions for pure SOX certification violations. Examples include cases involving WageWorks (2021) and Synchronoss (2022), where clawbacks occurred, or QSGI (2014 civil charges against a CEO for internal controls misrepresentations).

acfe.com

Analyses (as recent as 2025) note limited standalone SEC enforcement of certification rules and few high-profile criminal cases in recent years, with broader fraud charges often used instead when accountability occurs.

clsbluesky.law.columbia.edu

In short, while SOX has led to many civil and regulatory consequences for executives, high-profile criminal accountability for CEOs specifically tied to its certification provisions has been infrequent since the early post-Enron era, with Cash's 2010 sentencing as a notable benchmark. Enforcement continues through other means (e.g., securities fraud statutes). For the absolute latest developments, checking DOJ/SEC announcements would be advisable, as cases can take years to resolve.

You people that are responsible for upholding our laws all fail here on earth. You can answer for your behavior when you meet your maker. And when you do, I want you to tell them this. "I failed because I lost my moral clarity. I allowed myself to accept bribes for my votes. I stopped caring about other humans who would be absolutely crushed by the abuses committed against them by the elite and powerful. I was a coward who was too weak to stand up for the rights of others when I was in a position to stop it." Save your apology. We know you don't mean it.

Sherry Dampier

Sherry Lumley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sherry Lumley Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I believe quarterly reporting is necessary to maintain the quality of financial information that markets and investors rely on in making informed decisions. As a former bank examiner I have seen first hand what can happen with inaccurate or insufficient financial reporting. It allows those committing fraud time to hide their crimes and makes it more difficult to prosecute in a timely manner. I believe it will also cause riskier behavior as it gives corporations time to smooth over negative earnings reports, if the risks taken result in losses. This can encourage behavior that can result in losses to investors and those saving for retirement. Please do not change the current reporting standards. It makes no sense doing so.
Thank you for your consideration.

Sherry Lumley
Cape Coral, FL.

Sent from my Galaxy

Sherry Nephew — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sherry Nephew Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Sherry Nephew, Educator. They are stealing our money .

Sherry Rickett — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sherry Rickett Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting keeps investors better informed and the companies more likely to be forthcoming on any issues before it's to late, which in turn makes the market ha v e more stability.

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Sherry Studley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Business Quarterly Reporting Rule change proposal. From: Sherry Studley Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Sherry Studley and I am currently retired and take care of my disabled adult daughter. I was working when the ENRON disaster happened and it affected my family and many others I know personally. The transparency that is required through quarterly reports is a necessary step to keep the shareholders and the economy healthy as a whole. In the current economic climate it's madness to think that this change is seriously being considered.
The possibility of a company losing money, having out of control debit and other financial problems is always a risk however in the unstable economic situation here in the US, paired with the instability of global shipping and manufacturing, the risk is much higher and let's face it risk is what finance is all about.
In closing it seems the SEC who is supposed to mitigate risk, if I'm not mistaken, is considering increasing the risk to consumers in favor of the Companies "saving a few dollars"? Maybe some refresher training in what the SEC's actual purpose is needs to be scheduled.
Thank you for taking the time to read this comment I hope the comments received will assist this body with making the right decision for the Citizens of this country and others who's investments are the reason most of these companies are still profitable.
Sherry Studley

Sherry Williamson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sherry Williamson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I am an investor and rely on quartet reporting. Other have tried yearly and it didn't go well.
This will harm all facets of the economy.

Sherrye — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Hey SEC - Keep it Quarterly!!! From: Sherrye Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Who are you kidding? What are you trying to hide? A lot of things can happen - good and bad in three months time. This is not a good idea! I am retired and have been investing in different areas when I was working. How can I make a valid decision when the information is almost six months old?

Sherrye

---

sherrykhannah — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: sherrykhannah Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Th Please keep the company's on the stock exchange reporting quarterly, not for me as I have no stocks but for the all the other little investors that could get bamboozled by hidden things going on!

Sent from my iPhone

Sherwana Richardson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sherwana Richardson I am anti “ Semi Anual Reporting “ for (3) CRITICAL reasons dealing with ALL Securities below; - Transparency - Relationship - Economic’s The preceding is CRITICAL for ALL type of investors. Quarterly reporting sustains ethic’s, stakeholder retention & ethical accountability to companies tangible assets that are driven by scarcity. As a recommendation, I propose; mail quarterly postcards to Investors, whereby we have the option to print out Quarterly Reports (accessible with a personalized digital code ONLY via Website) or companies set a pre- determined tier. Alert Investors in a one time letter; Quarterly Reports will only be provided if the company is above or below a predetermined tier set. This proposition mitigates cost; while meeting both tangible & intangible challenges in our world. We’ve got to KEEP our Quarterly Balancing Act; “Semiannual Reporting “, promotes subtle complacency (a no win in Securities).

Sheryl Bartel Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sheryl Bartel I believe this is a misguided proposal. As stockholders we own a piece of the business. Business owners should have timely information on how the business is doing. More transparency rather than less transparency. When I was running a small business not only did I have daily results, but a monthly synopsis on which to base decisions. I don't want to see less information on the businesses I hold stock in.

Sheryl Bryant — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sheryl Bryant Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting needs to continue. Irregularties can be caught sooner. Those intent on theft, crooked deals, etc can be limited with frequent reports.
Sheryl Bryant
NEVADA
Sent from my iPhone

Sheryl Chapman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sheryl Chapman Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I’d like to see the quarterly exporting as I am an investor. I can’t work without information, and I don’t trust corporations to do the right thing by its investors. As an accountant, I’ve seen too many corporations try to “cook the books”. THAT IS WRONG. Unless regulated, corporations will be corrupted.

Sincerely,

Sheryl Chapman

Sheryl Davis — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sheryl Davis Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reports are already 30 days old, at times,too long to save a product, service or an entire business. Semi annual reports are not worth the paper they are printed on. As a CPA/business consultant, I am amazed that the SEC would even consider this proposal

Sheryl Davis

Sheryl Heen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sheryl Heen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep quarterly reports

Sheryl Heen

Sheryl Lyon Johns — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sheryl Lyon Johns Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Sheryl Johns Retired
Doing this report twice a year does not keep people honest. Keep 4 times a year

Sent from my iPhone

SHERYL Pieper Motley Fools Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: SHERYL Pieper Please do not reduce information to twice a year.

Shevohn Floyd — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shevohn Floyd Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No company should be allowed to do that. All companies' financial docs should be accessible.

Shikha Merchia — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Shikha Merchia Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting please

Sent from my iPhone

Shirley Ashby — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Shirley Ashby Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not approve ending quarterly reporting! Keep the playing field even for every day investors!

Computers do this work and a change is not needed!
Whoever is behind this proposal is being greedy with the very companies they invest with.

Shirley Freeman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Shirley Freeman Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Why would you hide this information from investors? Isn't your job to PROTECT INVESTORS?

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Shirley Rose — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Shirley Rose Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Why would you want to not let people know what is going on? I think that borders on corruption. Keep the quarterly reporting!
Shirley L. Rose, Paralegal

Shirley Summer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shirley Summer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep the reporting quarterly. My name is Shirley Summer and I am 82 years old. I need my Broker to be able to advise me in a timely manner.

Shirley Thompson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Shirley Thompson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please keep quarterly reporting. It helps us keep in touch with our investments we don't get invited to corporate meetings. Thank you for listening.

Shon Delgado — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Shon Delgado Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Shon Delgado-retired As a person with my life savings invested in the stock market, I depend on quarterly reports for guidance. This appears to create a system designed to benefit insiders only leaving regular investors in the dark. No thanks!

Shonda Taliaferro — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Shonda Taliaferro Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 At a time when private equity firms are rapidly buying up accounting firms such as the one I worked for, it seems like we need more safeguards, transparency, and oversight rather than fewer. Reducing reviews from quarterly to semiannual sends the wrong message. Do the right thing by the people.

Shonda Taliaferro
Operations Systems Manager

---

shopping Online — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: shopping Online Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep financial reports quarterly so that CEOs and CFOs are accountable on an ongoing basis, and investors are protected. - Joy Fieldstadt, retired, PA resident

---

Shrondra Clevenger — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Shrondra Clevenger Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I don't believe this should be allowed! If they are doing criminal activity then they need to be prosecuted and sent to prison just like anyone who breaks the law or constitution!!!! If this passes there will be alot more corruption and we the people of the United States are DONE paying for their mistakes and corruption!!!!

Si Matthews — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Si Matthews Four company performance reports per year must be maintained in the interest of owner investment transparency.

Siddhartha Singh None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Siddhartha Singh It will be more informative to continue the four times a year reporting. Besides being transparent to Investors, USA is a benchmark for global markets and this change would be a bad precedence or benchmark for other geographies.

Signe Knutson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Signe Knutson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 S. Knutson, retired teacher here. I reported back to parents quarterly. They expected it. I expect the same from govt. You report to your boss - the American people.

Signe Roscoe — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Signe Roscoe The proposal now on the table to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two isn't in the best interest of stock owners, and should be rejected. At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Might this reduce costs? Maybe. Although in an age of AI and increasingly efficient disclosure tools, even that point is debatable. Others argue it would ease the pressure to manage quarter to quarter. But short-termism comes from how people react to information, not from the information itself. Taking the reports away doesn't make anyone more patient. It just makes everyone less informed. What isn't debatable is that less information rarely creates better-informed owners. Please reject this motion in favor of the ongoing guardrails you've historically preserved. And keep up the good work of protecting both companies AND we, the people.

Sigrun Aschoff — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sigrun Aschoff We live in volatile, unpredictable, fast moving times. Quarterly reporting provides more timely awareness and oversight, the abilty to act more effectively. AI should be used as a tool to enable more responsive reporting whilst reducing costs, so, not an issue. I request to retain quarterly reporting for these reasons.

Silver Raven — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Silver Raven Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Allowing companies to slide on quarterly reporting is allowing graft and dishonesty. JEEP QUARTLY REPORTING!

Respectfully,
Pamela KinCaid

SilverFox 55 — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: SilverFox 55 Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Dear SEC,

I am writing to request that we increase our meeting frequency from twice a year to four times per year.

Significant developments can occur during the intervening months, and I believe a quarterly schedule is necessary to remain vigilant and properly managed by security and exchange commissioners.

Best regards,

Cynthia Faulkner

Sim Neko — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sim Neko Dear friends at the SEC, Please continue to require companies to report 4 times a year instead of changing it to 2. As an investor who is in the Motley Fool community, I am trying to stay informed and invest intelligently in good companies long term. Therefore I consider myself as an owner of the company and need to receive frequent updates. Thank you for your attention. And thank you for all you do to help.

Simeon Brown — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Simeon Brown Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It’s important that the street knows as much as possible about financial performance. If anything there isn’t enough information about public companies. To suggest we need a world where there’s less information about publicly traded companies is confusing to me. As an investor information rewards companies who do well and increases my trust.

Sent from my iPhone

Sid Brown
sidbrown210@me.com

Simma Chester — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Simma Chester Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Let there be light. Financial reporting on a timely basis is crucial. Open the books

Sent from my iPhone

Simon Davison — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Simon Davison Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
My retirement is based on having access to quarterly reports. I don't want insiders having a huge advantage over individual investors.
regards,
Simon Davison

Simon Hall Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Simon Hall I believe the Semiannual Reporting proposal will have a negative impact on investors and lead to poor decisions and mistrust in the companies they are invested. Governments should be maintaining and increasing publication of company performance, not reducing it.

Simon McRae The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Simon McRae Investing in shares is about ownership and any proposal of reduced reporting on a company ultimately harms and impedes confidence and transparency on how that particular company operates and performs. Should this proposal be allowed to proceed, both investor's and listed companies' will be sullied and disadvantaged by more cynicism and distrust accompanied with less integrity and faith in the investing landscape. Investor's will ultimately seek other alternatives where there are mechanism's and standards in place that preserve and enforce ethical functioning of capital markets. There is already a widely held view that politicians and elected officials are far too beholden to powerful company interests that write out big checks to help their electoral prospects rather than focusing on the right environment for their constituent's - if this proposal goes ahead it will confirm to many that America has lost its way because of greedy and powerful interest groups who erode standards for the public good and instead rewards selfish and narcissistic behaviours of an unethical few.

Simon Mitchell — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Simon Mitchell This is a horrible change for all investors in public companies. This reduces the visibility that investors will have in the companies that they have invested in which will mean that reactions will only be larger in nature due to the extended timeframe of reporting. Privateoy owned companies have to report monthly to their stakeholders, public companies should be held to stricter standards not more relaxed. Public companies are already audited only once per year to ensure they are reporting accurately and no fraud is being committed. Reducing further reporting guidelines will only increase the opportunity for fraud and abuse in these companies that have sway over the markets.

Simon Shaw — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Simon Shaw Disclosures should continue 4 times a year.

Simone Luke — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Simone Luke Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Simone Luke Commercial Director

Please keep the reporting quarterly. It is a superbly imperative tool to keep business honest and forthright.

Thank you
Simone

Simply Trusting — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Simply Trusting Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep The Reporting Quarterly. Do not continue with this evil plan to allow the public to be ripped off even more.

Sent from my iPhone

Sincere Chatham — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sincere Chatham Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Stephanie Nero, Citizen, This is vital information to all citizens when making decisions. Regular reporting is crucial to everyone. Even our government. We must keep consistent regular reporting.
I do not agree with hiding reporting for companies for six months.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Sinclair — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sinclair Stock Owners need as much transparency as possible. Financial reporting availability on a quarterly basis is critical to that transparency. Please do not change that requirement to fewer financial reports per year. I have worked as an accountant for many years and know that legitimate companies internally produce these financial reports on a monthly basis for their decision makers. It is very little extra effort for companies to publicly provide financial reports on a quarterly basis. Stock owners not having quarterly information will only make the stock market more volatile.

Siobhan Conroy — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Siobhan Conroy Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Protect investors not those who are accountable

Sent from my iPhone

Sioux Hepburn — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sioux Hepburn Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We are retired boomers one of which is working part time. We are conservative seniors by nature and because of the economic landscape it is absolutely necessary to survive. Keep it transparent and quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

---

sj-davis — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: sj-davis Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 In this dy of so much fraud we need to keep this in place and verify that it IS TRUE! Thank you for your attention to these matters.

Steve Davis, BA, MDiv., MA, EdS
Retired

Skip Ferry — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Skip Ferry Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Lee Ferry, retired minister dependent on equity- based pensions. Reducing the frequency of required reporting in a financial world that moves ever faster and reducing transparency will hinder the hard-working people at my denomination's pension boards who seek to keep their pensioners' investments safe.

Skip Jackson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Skip Jackson Being an informed investor requires quarterly updates from the businesses we invest in. When we own a piece of a business, we deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Please keep the quarterly reporting requirements.

---

skippy_tina — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: skippy_tina Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 T. Littlefield, CFO Littlefieldmice LLC.
So now the government wants to make insider trading legal? It sure seems like it.
If only people on the inside know the financials of the company, they can make corrections to their personal portfolio, leaving the outside investors in the dark until it's too late.
This is a terrible idea. Do not do this.
Keep company books transparent.

Sent from my Galaxy

Sl Mustain — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sl Mustain Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 SHEREY L MUSTAIN RETIRED PROFESSIONAL
WE NEED MORE SUPPORT HERE FROM OUR GOVERNMENT NOT REDUCED REPORTNG.
Quarterly results are a vital source of information and promote accountability to investors, all we small investors. The ‘ time and money’ savings are negligible in comparison. This is not something President Trump would support given he’s the ‘PEOPLES PRESIDENT.’
DON’T DO IT SIR.
KEEP IT QUARTERLY.

Warm Regards,
Sherry L. Mustain
907-903-5912 (Cell)

Sent from my iPhone

---

slavingsc — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: slavingsc Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 DARK, what are they hiding? No dark time No hiding. Full transparency!

Sent from my Galaxy

---

slider1630 — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: slider1630 Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 it's absolutely necessary to protect American investors, the ones who have no access to insider knowledge. the ones trying to build a strong framework for their families. Karen Vasquez, retired, living decently and honestly and within my means. I deserve protection from the vultures on Wall St.

Sent from my Galaxy

Smith Joe — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Smith Joe Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep transparence vote NO keep the lights on. Fo not go dark let the light shine keep honesty with the investers to the forfront.

Snake Sabo Musician — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Snake Sabo As an individual investor I rely on transparency and as much pertinent information as possible to make educated decisions regarding my investments. I feel that reducing financial reporting from quarterly to semi- annually would impede my ability to make well-informed choices. I feel that as an investor I am also a fractional owner in the companies I invest in and thus believe that quarterly reports serve in the best interest of all investors.

Snow monkey — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Snow monkey Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 One year in office and you become rich with inside knowledge and influence….

Sent from "The iPhone" that owns me.

Société D'INVESTISSEMENT ARIANE inc. The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Société D'INVESTISSEMENT ARIANE inc. Nonsense, totally against protection of shareholder's interests

---

Sofia A Funes Physician and Professor of Osteopathic Medicine — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sofia A Funes To the Securities and Exchange Commission, I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposal that would allow public companies to reduce their reporting frequency from quarterly to semiannual. Investor transparency should be increased, not diminished. In the current era of advanced AI and efficient disclosure tools, the administrative burden of reporting has significantly decreased, making more frequent reporting—even on a monthly basis—entirely feasible and appropriate. Reducing reporting to only twice a year is an antiquated and lazy approach that disadvantages individual investors. Furthermore, a semiannual reporting cycle creates a significant information gap. This lack of transparency invites unscrupulous behavior, specifically providing an opening for insider trading by those with up-to-date knowledge of internal company figures while the public remains in the dark. I urge the Commission to reject this proposal and prioritize the needs of investors by maintaining or increasing current reporting requirements. Sincerely, Sofia A. Funes, DO, MPH

Soham — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Soham Quarterly reporting allows investors to receive timely information about how their investments are doing. This transparency allows informed investor decision making, and actually lowers volatility. It also lowers the propensity for Wall Street and insiders from knowing more than retail investors and effectively extracting more money at retail investors' expense.

---

soldano1 — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: soldano1 Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Stop it,things are f-up why don't you make things worse.

Sent from my Galaxy

Somara Zwick — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Somara Zwick Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 As a retired financial services accountant the importance of quarterly reporting to investors is of prime importance. Do not decrease the frequency of these reporting requirements. In my opinion there should be more not less transparency and public information.

Sincerely,
Somara Zwick

Sent from my iPad

Sondra L — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sondra L Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Small investors deserve to know what the companies are doing. Retirement plans are tied to the market and if people are forced to rely on investments then there should be maximum security and transparency. Keep filings quarterly.

Sonia E Orlando — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sonia E Orlando Less communication or disclosure about an investment is wrong. I need to know more no less about my investment .

Sonya P — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sonya P Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This 6 month plan is so shortsighted and foolish. Quarterly records help consumers and businesses. And when you milk all your stockholders by the end of year 1, who will you play your little game with?
Destroying the economic well being of stockholders destroys your company long term.

Sonya Slezak Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sonya Slezak I am writing to express concern for reducing reporting to investors. I do not approve of the decrease in transparency. I also expect even worse swings on reporting days and do not consider this responsible to the markets in general or beneficial to investors who make informed decisions as to where to invest their hard earned money. Big issues can be hidden in quarterly reporting and so much more on semiannual reports. So much happens in even 2-3 months. We need to have as much stability as possible to maintain investor confidence in companies. And companies that do not produce confidence, a reliable balance sheet, or reflects solid fundamentals in their operations do not deserve to be invested in. It's better to find this out every 3 months and lose 10% than every 6 months and lose 20-30%. Based on this, the only responsible course for the SEC is to maintain reporting schedules as they have been. Thank you for your time, Sonya Slezak

---

Soria Armando Soria Armando — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Soria Armando Keep things as they are 4 times a year

---

Spark Simon — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Spark Simon Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 plesae do not let companys go dark for six months at a time.

Sparks And Magic PLLC Consultant — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sparks And Magic PLLC Prefer 4 reports per year instead of only two so we can detect issues early.

---

spcdaveb — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: spcdaveb Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No on S7-2026-15, or it's time to change SEC members.
I am opposed to another obstacle for helping my financial security.
David Barbera

Sent from my Galaxy

Spencer Beard — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Spencer Beard Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Spencer Beard. sbeard528@gmail.com Small invester here. The need for transparency here is absolutely essential.

Spencer Modica — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Spencer Modica This proposal to reduce reporting will reduce the ability of individual investor like me to assess the financial status of companies

---

Spiffy1055 — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Spiffy1055 Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I am retired and depend on my investments. This will open the door to fraud and may hurt me, and many others in my situation.Vote NO!

Carroll Trainum

---

srcummingss@gmail.com — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: srcummingss@gmail.com This proposed rule change is an abomination!

Sriram Ramanathan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sriram Ramanathan I heard from Motley Fool that you are planning to reduce from quarterly reporting on publicly traded companies to once in 6 months. I am not in favor. In the age of AI, many of these reporting tasks can be automated. It is not onerous to get a report once in 3 months about the state of the business. Sure some people will sell on a bad report. Many others are looking for a trend of bad news over multiple quarters. We have so many senior management making good money with fantastic severance packages and the least they can do IMHO is to report on how the company is doing once in 3 months. Thank you.

SSGT Unknown — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: SSGT Unknown Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This will only encourage rampant fraud and pump and dump schemes. Both as business owner and investor I greatly disapprove this measure.

JF

Stacey — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stacey Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 They get away with enough already. They need quarterly to hold some kind of accountability.

Stacey Goodman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stacey Goodman Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep doing the quarterly reporting. Something has to be done right!

Stacey Hawks — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stacey Hawks Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I do not want to go back to allowing corporations to pull shenanigans and hide it for six months. KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING in place!

Stacey Hawks

Stacey Laub — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stacey Laub Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Allowing companies to not share their information for 6 months is a terrible idea for investors and makes it so that investors don't have the information they need to be wise in their investment decisions. It is unacceptable to allow this to happen.
Thank you for allowing me to comment.
Stacey Laub

---

stacey prater — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: stacey prater Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The regular saving public deserves to know how their investment funds are being used.
Making this happen only every 6 months will allow bad actors to keep smaller investors from having any input as to where their money goes. This makes All big business look like MAFIOSO.

---

stacey prater — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: stacey prater Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The regular saving public deserves to know how their investment funds are being used.
Making this happen only every 6 months will allow bad actors to keep smaller investors from having any input as to where their money goes. This makes All big business look like MAFIOSO. And MAYBE THEY ARE!!!!

Stacie Scheurich — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Stacie Scheurich Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Corporations making record profits can afford to and must report quarterly. Less transparency means more fraud. Don't harm the American people any further, while we are struggling to put food on our tables and pay our rent/mortgage. You will drive the final nail in the coffin of the American dream. Do not remove the requirement for quarterly reporting!

Stacy Israel Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stacy Israel I am not in favor of reporting twice vs every quarter . I believe you have a responsibility to ensure I am informed and kept current with the company’s financial information

---

Stacy Moore — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 comment: this is a ridiculous idea. How can we the people know what they the company is doing with less reporting? Please stop this nonsense. From: Stacy Moore Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Stacy Moore

---

Stacy Streen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stacy Streen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Stacy Davis, business owner trying to retire. This is a hard no from me, I do not see a reasonable benefit or reason for this to be acceptable.

Sent from my iPad

Stacy Streen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stacy Streen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Stacy Davis, business owner trying to retire. This is a hard no from me, I do not see a reasonable benefit or reason for this to be acceptable.

Stacy Wisner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stacy Wisner Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It must remain quarterly to monitor for fraud and hold individual people who hold all of the power accountable! Stop making room to defraud the people! Longer gaps create an unfair advantage to corporate insiders.

We, the people, are systematically being oppressed, lied to and stolen from. KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING AND ENSURE PERSONAL ACCOUNTABILITY TO INDIVIDUALS WHO ARE REQUIRED TO SIGN OFF!

Stacy Wisner
Chandler, AZ

Stacy Wisner

Stan Heard President of Zamora Engineering, Inc. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stan Heard This proposal for two reports per year instead of four should not be passed. It decreases investor visibility of a company's operations. As an individual investor, I have a right to know how operations are performing. This reduced transparency is dangerous to me as a stock holder.

Stan Madro — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stan Madro The frequency of public-company reports should NOT be reduced. Investors need more communication and transparency, not less.

Stan Racis — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stan Racis Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Dr. Stan Racis, retired prof, I do my own (and my family's) investing. ..... The LESS transparency, the greater the risks! I would simply NOT invest in any company offering less that quarterly detailed fiscal reports. This sort of legislation would also cause me to withdraw/not support (votes) any legislator going along with lower fiscal reporting requirements for corporations.

Stan Trump — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stan Trump Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please tell all citizen investors the benefits of changing from quarterly reporting to semi annually !

Sent from my iPhone

Stan Wawrzyniak — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stan Wawrzyniak Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it as it is

Get Outlook for iOS

Stan Witman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stan Witman Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is absolutely absurd. Investors need to have timely, reliable information regarding a company's performance before making purchases of their stocks. Extending the reporting time frame raises questions about potential manipulation about a company's market performance, their cash position and their debt.

Stanley Makarevic — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stanley Makarevic Please retain the current reporting rules. Investors need this information to make sound and reasoned decisions on investing.

Stanley Morgan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stanley Morgan Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY! Even more often is better.

Stan Morgan

---

stanley Oneal — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: stanley Oneal Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep the filings reports quarterly. This has worked. Bi annually hasn't. You either are for transparency or you're not. Your actions will indicate which path you chose to take.. thank you

---

Stanley Stone — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stanley Stone I do not favor reducing reporting of public companies from quarterly to semi-annually. I don't believe this will achieve the stated goals of reducing costs appreciatively or change the focus to longer term. What it will do is reduce the information available to the shareholders, making it more difficult to invest knowledgeably. Systems are in place already for quarterly reporting--don't screw with it.

Star Lord — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Star Lord Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please reconsider the impacts of this on retail investors and keep the current rulings in place. Do not let companies hide what is currently transparent. Thank you!

Sincerely,
Bora Ercan

Star Maiden — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Star Maiden Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 With the modern world moving so much faster now we need up to date information as fast as possible. If anything, monthly reports would make more sense rather than slowing information down to a crawl. Insiders would know problems in plenty of time to control their own investments, making an unfair advantage even greater. Keep the current reporting timing.

Starr Gephart — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Starr Gephart Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Insanity. Unacceptable.
Do NOT make reporting semiannual !
Starr Gephart
DoD / EPA auditor ret'd
Lima Ohio

StaticJolts — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: StaticJolts Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 maybe people should stop betting on the market all together and find another investment for their portfolios

Stefan Spann — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stefan Spann Keep quarterly reports for investor confidence and knowledge.

Stefani Mccullah The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stefani Mccullah As a new investor, I rely on consistent, transparent information to make informed decisions. Going down to two reports per year leaves a large gap in which a lot can change. My vote is to keep four reports. Thanks for your consideration.

Stella Stroud — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stella Stroud Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly for accountability and transparency.

Sent from my iPhone

Steph Ken-Ton Meals on Wheels — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Steph Ken-Ton Meals on Wheels Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep this quarterly. Semi - annually enables the crooked CEO's and could severely affect investment outcomes. I feel that this is another ploy by the Trump administration to bilk more money from the citizens before they are even aware.

Steph Oh — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Steph Oh Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep public companies reporting quarterly.

Steph R. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steph R. Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I'm a BIG "NO" to doing this garbage. Businesses have more than enough than getting to HIDE anything!!

Stephanie — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephanie Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It is absutely outrageous and worthy of investigation that SEC officials are trying to help corporate execs cheat shareholders. There is no otner reason toto allow the companies you are supposed to be policing this much freedom to cheat the system. Who are you protecting? You are supposed to answer to and bear protecting the majority tax payers who pay ypur salaries, not the corporations who are no doubt, bribng you. Or promising you lucrative positions when you leave the SEC, and following directions from politicians tbat are owned by corporate interests and billionaires.

Stephanie — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephanie Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It would be far more effective to hold CEO's personally responsible the way China does, instead of giving them more leeway to behave badly. Are you trying to create another ENRON style rip off of the people? Cause thats how you do it.
China executes executives who perpetrated fraud , maybe you should be heading in that direction instead of giving corporate crooks more opportunities to steal the life savings of American citizens, and then skip off with a slap on the wrist. Do your jobs as gaurdians of the Anerican investors, not lapdogs of corporate interests.

Stephanie — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephanie Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It would be far more effective to hold CEO's personally responsible the way China does, instead of giving them.more leeway to behave badly. Are you trying to create another ENRON style rip off of the people? Cause thats how you do it.

China executes executives who perpetrated fraud , maybe you shpuld be heading in that direction instead of giving corporate crooks more opportunities to steal the life savings of American citizens, and then skip off with a slap on the wrist. Do your jobs as gaurdians of the Anerican investors, not lapdogs of corporate interests.

Stephanie — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stephanie A proposal is now on the table to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. As an investor who is part of a small business and has worked at a Fortune 500 company, I believe that’s a mistake! At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Some argue that fewer reports would reduce costs. Maybe. Although in an age of AI and increasingly efficient disclosure tools, even that point is debatable. Others argue it would ease the pressure to manage quarter to quarter. But short-termism comes from how people react to information, not from the information itself. Taking the reports away doesn't make anyone more patient. It just makes everyone less informed. What isn’t debatable is that less information rarely creates better-informed owners. Imagine owning a business and getting updates from your managers only twice a year. It would still run every day. You'd just know far less about how it was doing. That's effectively what's being proposed here. Companies will continue operating every day. Products will be launched. Customers will be won and lost. Strategies will succeed and fail. Yet under this proposal, owners would receive only half as many official updates about the businesses they own. Less transparency doesn’t eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater.

Stephanie B — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephanie B Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It’s a bad idea to do away with quarterly reporting. Investors are entitled to transparency with their money

---

Stephanie B Kind — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephanie B Kind Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting open. No delay on information and with full transparency. I do not want to be left holding the bag after insiders get the information and would be able to make trades or sales with an unfair advantage of information before everyone. Keep it open so all have the same opportunities. S. Buckler

---

Stephanie Blackton The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stephanie Blackton I think it would be a HUGE mistake to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. Quarterly reports are important! The nominal benefits of two reports as compared to four per year do not begin to compensate for the lack of important information to be gained in quarterly reports. Taking the reports away makes everyone less informed. Less information adds to uncertainty. As a shareholder in over 100 companies, it matters to me that I know how they're doing. Thank you. Stephanie Blackton

---

Stephanie Button — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephanie Button Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We need more accountability, not less! The only people this administration serves are the wealthy…

Sent from my iPhone

Stephanie Comer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Stephanie Comer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: keep transparency for a fair and honest stock market- remember Enron too many struggling American have there money invested and can't afford a dishonest market

---

Stephanie Hazlett — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stephanie Hazlett Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Billionaires hiding money and stealing from people needs to stop. SEC needs to stop benign the knee to this Administration and their corrupt ways of dealing. Every day Americans like myself are struggling to live while they wipe their asses with hundred dollar bills. It needs to stop. Thank you for reading Stephanie Berens United States Postal Service Rural carrier

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

STEPHANIE HINES The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: STEPHANIE HINES I am STRONGLY OPPOSED to this proposal. It is my right, as a financial investor, to be able to make informed decisions regarding my money based on timely information from public-company reporting, i.e. Quarterly Reports and any other details effecting my investments. This proposal says nothing but laziness and a severe lack of transparency. Not with my money!

Stephanie Jennings — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stephanie Jennings Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The only reason you would want to go dark publicly for six months is, so you can do shady deals in the dark.The dark is where you do things that you don't want other people to see.So what are you hiding

---

Stephanie Manuel — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Stephanie Manuel Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

This STINKS and is transparently weighted toward big money. DO THE RIGHT THING. Keep everyone informed.

Stephanie Martin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stephanie Martin Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This matters because if these companies are allowed 6 months between reporting it makes it easier to hide their inside information from not just stock holders but also the government. Why would they give you the real information when they have 6 months to fabricate?

Sent from my iPhone

Stephanie Martin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stephanie Martin Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly.

S. Martin

Stephanie Taylor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stephanie Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Everyone has the right to know what companies are doing. We are investing in these companies as well. And that citizens this should be public information not hidden for any length of time. Ethics alone should prevent you from doing this.

Get Outlook for Android

Stephanie Thomas — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stephanie Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Knock it off. Reporting transparency more often is ALWAYS better.

Sent from Samsung Galaxy smartphone.
Get Outlook for Android

Stephanie Todd LLC Business Owner and Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stephanie Todd Do no reduce the reporting requirements of companies to only twice a year. The public and investors need transparency. Reducing the reporting periods will have no effect on business expenses because businesses monitor their activities on a monthly basic and will continue to have internal reports. This proposed rule change would only help companies that have something to hide.

Stephen Amaza — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Amaza Hello, I'm of the opinion that changing disclosure filings to be biannual is a mistake. We need as much information as we can be getting, not less. And in the age of AI and so much more effective intelligence tools, we should be pushing for more frequent filings if anything is to change, not less. Yours respectfully

---

stephen bishop — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: stephen bishop Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Don't try to fix something that's not broken.

Stephen Carlson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stephen Carlson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly statements and reports are important to minimize fraud AND allow for timely information needed for investors like me. Keep the rules requiring quarterly statements.

Stephen Carlson MD, retired

Stephen Chiodo — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stephen Chiodo Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Don’t let this happen. It’s a gift to inside traders and fraudsters.
Stephen Chiodo

Sent from Gmail Mobile

Stephen Clark — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Clark I am writing in opposition to the proposed Semiannual Reporting rule, File No. S7-2026-15. As an individual investor, I believe regular public-company reporting is essential to informed ownership. When investors buy shares in a company, they are not simply trading symbols on a screen. They are becoming owners of a business. Owners deserve regular, consistent, and transparent information about how that business is performing. Reducing required reporting from quarterly to semiannual would weaken the flow of information available to individual investors. Companies continue to operate every day. Customers are won and lost, products are launched, strategies succeed or fail, risks develop, and market conditions change. Receiving official updates only twice a year would leave investors with less timely information about businesses they own. I understand the argument that less frequent reporting may reduce costs or reduce short-term pressure on management teams. However, I do not believe the solution to short-term thinking is less information. Short-termism comes from how market participants react to information, not from the existence of the information itself. Taking away regular disclosures does not make investors more patient. It simply makes them less informed. Less transparency is especially harmful to individual investors. Institutional investors often have access to management meetings, alternative data, analyst networks, and other resources that ordinary investors do not. Quarterly public reporting helps level the information playing field. Reducing that reporting would likely increase the gap between professional investors and individual shareholders. I also believe that less frequent reporting could increase uncertainty and volatility. If important developments are disclosed less often, the eventual surprises may be larger and market reactions may be sharper. Regular reporting provides a cadence of accountability and helps investors evaluate companies over time. For these reasons, I respectfully urge the Commission not to adopt the proposed rule allowing companies to reduce public reporting to a semiannual schedule. Public markets depend on trust, transparency, and equal access to material information. Quarterly reporting remains an important part of that framework.

Stephen Degler — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stephen Degler Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep business honest and protect shareholders, retain quarterly reporting please.

Stephen Deiss Individual Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Deiss As an investor it is difficult enough to get insight into the state of a company for investment purposes when there are only 4 reports a year. If they decrease to only two we will be rediced to gambling without access to transparent fundamentals. Please do not allow this to happen.

Stephen Dorsett — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Dorsett At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Please do not reduce the reporting requirements.

Stephen Dudley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Dudley To the Securities and Exchange Commission: I am writing as an individual retail investor to strongly oppose File No. S7-2026-15, the proposal to allow public companies to replace quarterly Form 10-Q reporting with semiannual reporting on new Form 10-S. Quarterly reporting is one of the few tools that gives ordinary investors timely, standardized, comparable information. Reducing required reporting from quarterly to semiannual would not eliminate the need for information; it would simply make that information less available to the public and more available to insiders, institutions, analysts, and sophisticated market participants who already have advantages over retail investors. I understand the desire to reduce unnecessary burdens on public companies. But Form 10-Q reports are not unnecessary. They provide disciplined, reviewed, structured, and comparable information about a company's financial condition and operations. Earnings releases, investor presentations, and conference calls are not substitutes. They are often selective, less standardized, less complete, and more promotional in tone. This proposal would also harm comparability. If some companies continue quarterly reporting while others switch to semiannual reporting, investors will have a harder time comparing companies across industries and over time. That inconsistency would make markets less transparent, not more efficient. The proposal may be framed as giving companies flexibility, but the real question should be whether investors benefit. Public companies receive the privilege of accessing public capital markets. In return, they should provide regular, reliable, public information to the investors whose money they use. Quarterly reporting also supports accountability. Six months is a long time in modern markets. Business conditions can change quickly, especially in technology, finance, energy, healthcare, consumer markets, and smaller growth companies. Investors should not have to wait half a year for basic interim financial information. If the Commission is concerned about short-termism, the better solution is to address quarterly earnings guidance and market incentives directly, not to reduce mandatory public disclosure. Less transparency is not a cure for short-term thinking. It is a gift to those with better private access to information. I respectfully urge the Commission to withdraw or reject the proposal. At minimum, the Commission should not permit any company to move to semiannual reporting unless investors approve that change and unless the company is required to provide quarterly financial information that is standardized, reviewed, filed with the SEC, and structured for easy comparison. Retail investors need more transparency, not less. Stephen Dudley

---

Stephen E Wilson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stephen E Wilson The basis of all decisions is information. Any attempt to reduce the availability of information merely enables the probability of bad decisions and the opportunity for fraud.

Stephen Erland — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephen Erland Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is a no-brainer. Why on earth would you want to do this other than to allow for more rip offs?

Stephen Erland
360-434-4338

Please note: I am sending this email at a time that is convenient for me. Please read and respond at a time that is convenient for you and that fosters a healthy work-life balance.

Stephen Fleischer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephen Fleischer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Real transparency starts with frequent reporting...semi annually is not frequent. Quarterly is better and easier than monthly...a good compromise.

Stephen Hurley Sr. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Hurley Sr. I am a long-term investor in both individual companies and mutual funds. Further, I read as much as possible about the individual companies which I am invested in. To cut that reporting in half makes no sense and allows poor performance or other problems t go unnoticed. This would be a huge disservice to the investing community and I believe more reporting is better than less reporting. Thank you Steephen

---

Stephen J deMauriac — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stephen J deMauriac As a recent new subscriber to The Motley Fool I have found their information to be a valuable tool for investing. Consequently I have used that information to achieve financial improvement in my investment assets that would not have occurred otherwise. Therefore it is obvious to me that more information, not less information, is what is necessary if anyone's objective is to make better informed decisions regarding their financial well being. Reducing a public company's financial reporting requirements as proposed in this legislation is not at all helpful to investors and I urge that this proposal be scrapped. My belief is that if this proposal is adopted it will have a negative effect on investing in company's, just the opposite of what the SEC should be all about.

Stephen Karl Rassin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Karl Rassin Do not change the rules on quarterly reporting for companies!

Stephen Kenney none — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Kenney Reducing reporting requirements for corporations will reduce transparency and increase the likelihood of corruption. Please do not reduce reporting requirements.

Stephen Kovach, CFA CFA Institute — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Kovach, CFA Having spent over 30 years in the banking, finance and registered investment advisor community, I believe this is a horrible mistake to limit reporting and transparency to investors and shareholders. Public filings and quarterly reporting are essential reporting and informational materials to assist investors and markets make informed investment decisions. In a world where corporate malfeasance, crypto fraud and other forms of cooking the books are becoming more frequent - I cannot imagine the need to pull back on regular and monitored investor reporting for our financial system.

Stephen Laseau The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Laseau As an investor, I need regular, transparent communication from each publicly traded business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. We, the main street investors, are critical to the overall investing arena. I implore the SEC to not enact the Semiannual Reporting rule. Less information is not better for those investing. Quarterly reporting is necessary.

Stephen Limauro — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Limauro As a former Fortune 500 CFO I have considerable experience in both financial reporting and financial analysis. I believe quarterly reporting is essential for assessing corporate operations, providing ongoing current information to analytical and regulatory communities and keeping owners informed. As an investor I believe quarterly reporting provided essential information in support of active and ongoing investment analysis. In an environment where skepticism is, and must be, the norm it seems counterproductive to lessen the frequency of vital analytical information.

Stephen M Rathe — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Stephen M Rathe Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 There is no major exec who can't take the time to show that they are operating within ethical guidelines.
I'm a producer in public broadcasting and adjunct professor trying to pass on what I have learned, and unfortunately one of the great lessons is from Ronald Reagan: trust but verify. And that is especially true where behavior and great sums are involved.

Steve Rathe

973 325 1585
Srathe@gmail.com

The test of our progress as a nation is not whether we add more to the abundance of those who have much; it is whether we provide enough for those who have too little.

Franklin D Roosevelt

STEPHEN M. GOODMAN, SR. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: STEPHEN M. GOODMAN, SR. I am against S7-2026-15 because it does not give me, an investor, the proper amount and timeliness of information/reports to be able to completely, accurately and fairly evaluate where I want to invest or continue to invest or to sell. In todays world quick, thorough information is so very important without which I believe the market will fail as investors will not have quarterly information to act upon. SMG, SR

---

stephen marks — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: stephen marks Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 NO, you all know this is wrong!
You also know HOW wrong,
Please do not strip away more protections for the average consumer.

Stephen Neumeier Neumeier Capital Management, Inc.. — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Neumeier Please keep the rules requiring quarterly reporting. For markets to be efficient, we need honest transparency.

Stephen Parks — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephen Parks Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep reporting intervals quarterly. There is very minimal benefit to longer periods, while there are large potential downsides and potential for abuse. There are reasons reporting is currently set to quarterly, and the reasons are still valid.

Thank you for your consideration.

Stephen Parks
Missouri City, TX

Stephen Pherigo Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Pherigo Keep quarterly disclosures intact.

Stephen Pohl — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Pohl Reducing reporting requirements to semiannual instead of quarterly will only reduce trust in the investment environment, except for insiders! The average investor will be the one that gets screwed.

Stephen Professor of History — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Less transparency doesn't eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater.

Stephen R Schafer Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stephen R Schafer I would prefer more transparency, not less. In this AI digital age, it should be easier to do.

Stephen Richmond — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Richmond Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Stay with quarterly reporting

Stephen Siemer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Siemer Please do NOT allow corporations to report only twice per year. In fact, as the owner of multiple companies (equity holder in the companies) I already find the quarterly dispensation of information to be frustratingly inadequate. The CEO knows what is going on within the organization daily (one would hope) and while I don't think that level of insight is appropriate, I do feel that any argument about the cost of, or onerous work required to, report earnings and progress on strategies, programs and projects quarterly is spurious and disingenuous. Reporting tools and AI have made the process much more efficient and, if these same organizations can budget what I assume is millions of dollars to advertise on F1 race cars and inside FIFA WC stadiums, they can certainly set aside some small amount to keep owners informed. Further, the idea that informed shareholders leads to short term thinking is inaccurate. In fact I would argue the opposite. Poorly run organizations with boards and "C Suite" executives who act on information to create the appearance of short term positivity results in lies and prevarications which will be checked by a well informed shareholder community. Truthful, honest and timely information can only make the organization more (not less) accountable and thus, effective and profitable. Thank you.

Stephen Tropp — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stephen Tropp Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 As someone who works in the financial industry, I can testify first hand that this is a bad idea, it will only lead to corruption and more corporate failures.

Sent from my iPhone

Stephen Turbyfill Sr — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Turbyfill Sr Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: keep the required quarterly reporting

---

Stephen Wasula CPA — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Wasula I am against such a measure because it only makes it more difficult to see what's happening to a company. Maybe, going to 3 times a year would be less of a problem.

Stephen Weir — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephen Weir Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Absolutely necessary

Stephen J. Weir
917-757-0968

Steve — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve Opposed. After read the Motley Fool’s analysis, it is clear that this is not a good idea.

Steve & Kristen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Steve & Kristen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Why? How does this benefit people? How does this create stability for investors? You should be ashamed. You know this is not going to end well for many hard-working, middle-class Americans.

Steve A Morgan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve A Morgan Keep 1/4 ly reports! If they need to save money they can stop the printing but keep accessible digestible on line.

Steve Adkins FCMA — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve Adkins This reduction of communication with the owners of a business is a mistake. It will and can only, result in management understanding LESS about what they are doing with someone else's money. If less is understood, people that should be fired, won't be. And people that should be promoted also won't be. As Charlie Munger said - the guy with an IQ of 120 will kill you if he thinks its 150.

Steve Albury The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve Albury I believe that shareholders are entitled to quarterly reports.

Steve Austin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Steve Austin Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Corporate America are the last people that should be trusted. Look at the Food Industry, Banking, Pharmaceutical Companys

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Steve Ayraud — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve Ayraud Please don’t reduce the reporting requirements from 4 to 2 per year. These information in these reports is important to receive on a timely basis.

STEVE BALDASSANO — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: STEVE BALDASSANO I am against this change. less transparency would give me less information to rely on when investing. I am in agreement with the analysis of the motley fool in opposing this change.

Steve Bartlett — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steve Bartlett Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We seniors have worked hard all our lives to invest but I'm one that will leave the stock market if this happens. What possible reason except accountability would you do this?

Steve bidwell — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve bidwell I do not support less information than quarterly reporting. It will not save any significant costs and serves to make it more difficult for investors to monitor and make decisions on continued ownership

---

Steve bliss Retired ship captain — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve bliss 2 reports per year means less transparency. No change is necessary

---

Steve Boehm — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Steve Boehm Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Steven Boehm, Investor. I don't want the negative results that reporting less frequently would bring about. AI is making reporting easier.....doesnt make sense to reduce the data that is available.

Steve Bryan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve Bryan "Comments attached" Companies should report earnings and the health of its business to its shareholders at least 4 times a year. Anything less is taking advantage of an investor or potential investor.

Steve Churchill — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Steve Churchill Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Protect our economy and investors by keeping a mandate to deliver quarterly reports!

Thank you.

Steve Cook — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Steve Cook Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I’m retired and our income depends on the SEC keeping strict rules in place to prevent malfeasance which would jeopardize our investments. Predatory practices cost us our life savings in 2008. It is the government’s job to protect citizens from incompetence and corruption. Strengthening regulations is a good idea. - Steve in CA

1. The arts allow practice discerning value, making decisions, and creating without absolute criteria through a process of analysis, synthesis, visualization, and action.
2. Avoid an irreversible path when faced with uncertainty.

Steve Cooley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Steve Cooley Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I believe that companies need to have proper accountability and accounting of the actions and activities of the sales and purchases in the stock marketplace. Having been left holding the bag and losing a significant amount of my pension fund from the junk real estate investment fiasco years back I don't want anyone or myself to suffer a horrific loss and set back again.
Steve Cooley
CEO Steve's Cat Music, Tax Payer, US Citizen
Louisville Ky

Steve Daly Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve Daly Reducing the number of "reporting periods" for publicly traded companies is fundamentally moving in the wrong direction. At some point in the spectrum, "excess reporting" is real and costly, however, four reporting periods a year is not "excessive" and moving from four to two reporting periods a year borderlines on irresponsible and negligent information sharing. This is information for owners, not the casual public. Thank you.

Steve Dorrough CPA Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve Dorrough CPA I have been investing for many years. As a member of the financial community, I think it is a major mistake to reduce the number of reporting periods for publicly held companies. Many things can and do happen within these companies and for investors / owners to have 6 months go by without the information can be devastating to the investor / owner. The better informed we are, the more likely we are to help in correcting mistakes or potential mistakes. We vote with our dollars and need the information to make the wise decisions. Please do not pass this bill that would reduce the reporting from 4 times a year to 2 times a year.

Steve Dupuis None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve Dupuis The reporting period should remaine as is. The reason is transparency to see how a a company or stock is really doing over a respectable amount of time as in quarterly. Indiviguals and corporations that want to go back to one time a year are hidding a financial problems that a quarterly report would expose

---

Steve Etrheim — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve Etrheim Information is power to act or stay the course in the stock. Reducing information to semi annual reporting vs quarterly makes us less informed and therefore less smart when making decisions on stock ownership.

Steve Gady — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Steve Gady Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reporting. I am just a small investor and I feel the current administration is making the populace more worried about our investments.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Steve Gentry N/A — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve Gentry I am not in favor of going to biannual reporting, please leave it as quarterly.

Steve Guess — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Steve Guess Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I've said this before, some CEOs look forward to demonstrating how their leadership is driving the business forward, the others feel they have to attempt to obfuscate the most recent period, but that takes constant eye-on-the-ball and the other on the vultures around them.

Steve Guess
Fuquay-Varina, NC
"When the Power of Love overcomes the Love of Power, the world will know Peace." Jimi Hendrix

Steve Hayworth Motley Fool community, investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve Hayworth Less information doesn't help owners of companies, we the investors stay up to date on our invested companies, plans, investments and progress. These are essential communications needed to evaluate our invested(owned) companies. Quarterly reporting is not a burden but an essential part of running any business.

Steve Hindman None — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve Hindman I'm am against the proposed change. Reducing reporting requirements, in conjunction with the newly implemented pattern day trader rules, will give markets more of a casino atmosphere, due to lack of recent information. You can eliminate requirements for forward looking earnings estimates, which encourage managers to use financial tricks to make earnings meet expectations.

Steve hughes — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve hughes We need quarterly reports on the businesses we own. Thank You

---

Steve Jensen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Steve Jensen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is a ridiculous option that basically hides success and failure from investors. It benefits on my the corporation

Sent from my iPhone

Steve Johnson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve Johnson This is a BAD IDEA.

Steve Jones — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steve Jones Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 There is no need to change quarterly reporting except to give people less information. Truly a bad idea!

Steve Jones
Oak Island, NC

Sent from iPhone

Steve Kollasch — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steve Kollasch Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting for publicly traded companies!

Steve Kuchta — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Steve Kuchta Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 6 mo. Bad idea!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Steve Kurtz — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Steve Kurtz Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The Mushroom Theory of Management is well known. Keep them in the dark and feed them manure!

I use technical analysis, as much fundamental information fits the GIGO formula. But something is better than nothing for traditional analysts.

Former derivatives expert, with currencies my specialty.

Steve Lessor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve Lessor I respectfully oppose the proposal to reduce public-company reporting from quarterly to semiannual. As individual investors, we rely on regular, transparent communication from the businesses we own. Investing is ownership, and ownership requires information. Cutting the number of required reports in half weakens the connection between companies and their shareholders. Some argue that fewer reports would reduce costs or ease short-term pressure. But in an era of AI-driven efficiencies, the cost argument is increasingly uncertain. And short-termism is a behavioral issue, removing information doesn't make anyone more patient; it simply makes everyone less informed. Less transparency doesn't reduce uncertainty. It increases it. Companies will still operate every day, launching products, winning and losing customers, succeeding and failing in real time, yet investors would receive only half as many official updates. That means bigger surprises, sharper reactions, and potentially greater volatility when information finally arrives. Transparent markets depend on informed owners. Reducing reporting frequency moves us in the opposite direction. For these reasons, I urge the SEC to maintain quarterly reporting requirements and preserve the level of transparency that individual investors depend on.

Steve Lewis n/a — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve Lewis as an owner of public company shares, I need to know how the company is doing on a regular, quarterly basis. Please continue reporting requirements

---

Steve Malany Construction company Owner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve Malany A proposal is now on the table to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. We think that's a mistake! At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Some argue that fewer reports would reduce costs. Maybe. Although in an age of AI and increasingly efficient disclosure tools, even that point is debatable. Others argue it would ease the pressure to manage quarter to quarter. But short-termism comes from how people react to information, not from the information itself. Taking the reports away doesn't make anyone more patient. It just makes everyone less informed. What isn't debatable is that less information rarely creates better-informed owners. Imagine owning a business and getting updates from your managers only twice a year. It would still run every day. You'd just know far less about how it was doing. That's effectively what's being proposed here. Companies will continue operating every day. Products will be launched. Customers will be won and lost. Strategies will succeed and fail. Yet under this proposal, owners would receive only half as many official updates about the businesses they own. Less transparency doesn't eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater.

Steve McBay — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steve McBay Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Trying to rob the poor and pay the rich scheme !

Steve McCracken — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve McCracken Truth and Transparency are virtues that have value in many areas of life...marriage, relationships and business. The reasons given for "less transparency" usually nefarious. Whether it's a deceptive ice cream label or concealment of damaging developments in most contexts, it is usually hidden for a less-than-laudable reasons. It is my plea that we admit the "real reasons" for less reporting and keep the current requirements of quarterly reporting in place! If you want to make a real "confidence-building" decision...increase reporting requirements to monthly rather than quarterly! If your answer is "no", then plan to answer the follow-up question, "Why, what are you afraid of?!"

Steve Miller — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve Miller Quarterly reports are essential to maintain knowledge of a company. Twice a years is not reasonable or practical.

Steve Mohn Retired — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve Mohn It's tough enough for individual investors to get information on companies whose stock they own, reducing reporting to 2 times a year instead of quarterly will only make that more difficult. Companies' management teams run through financials at least monthly, the least they can do is share financials and answer questions quarterly,

---

Steve Moran — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Steve Moran Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reporting. If it works, why change it? Thank you.

Steve Moran

Sent from my iPhone

Steve Moran — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Steve Moran Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reporting. If it works, why change it? Thank you.

Sent from my iPhone

Steve Neumann — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Steve Neumann Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is important for public transparency. Changing this rule is going to allow more insider trading and corruption. Regular investors deserve the same standard of reporting that has been the standard for years. With AI tools available, quarterly reporting is easier than ever, and the only reason for this change is to support corruption, grift, and Epstein class destruction of the world.

Steve Pokorra — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve Pokorra In the modern age of automation the argument that it reduces reporting workload is negligible at best. As an investor I see myself as an owner, and transparency is what every owner wants and deserves.

Steve Purgahn American Institute of Certified Public Accountants — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve Purgahn I think reducing the number of reporting requirements for publicly traded companies does not allow investors and the general public to know on a timely basis not only the financial aspects of the companies but also other impacts, such as lawsuits, trade issues, management changes, new products and so on. Investors deserve to be informed on a more frequent basis than every six months.

Steve Quinn — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Steve Quinn Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please continue to keep companies on the up and up with quarterly reporting. It seems a minor but important step for stock holders and the public.

Thank you for the opportunity to comment.

Steve Quinn

Sent from my iPhone

Steve Scoggin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Steve Scoggin Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Too many loopholes for overpaid crooks like y'all. Should have 2 year term limits, there are people interested in doing what's right for the country requardless of money. Need to get rid of career politicians. Get paid 2000 dollars a .month for 2 years, no secret service protection for life and no paycheck once you leave office. Y'all need to be checked every 2 months, not less!!! With out lobbyists and insider trading. Which should be a treasonous offense punishable by the firing squad. The only way to get rid of corrupt politicians is to take the money out of politics!!!

Steve Scoggin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Steve Scoggin Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Too many loopholes for overpaid crooks like y'all. Should have 2 year term limits, there are people interested in doing what's right for the country requardless of money. Need to get rid of career politicians. Get paid 2000 dollars a .month for 2 years, no secret service protection for life and no paycheck once you leave office. Y'all need to be checked every 2 months, not less!!!

Steve Silvester — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve Silvester I just learned about this from my Motley Fool community. More reporting is wise. There must be checks and balances here. We need more reporting to make informed decisions. Quarterly reporting is common sense.

Steve Skrsinks — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve Skrsinks Dear Commissioners, I write to urge that you not adopt a regulation reducing the number of times per year a publicly held business must report to its shareholders (owners). I have been an individual investor for over 70 years. Timely information is necessary for making buy, sell, and hold decisions. My investment advisers need and evaluate these quarterly reports even more. Any significant cost savings are highly dubious in the age of AI. Please don't reduce the number of times businesses must repot to their owners. Thank you for considering my comment.

Steve Stevenson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Steve Stevenson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Dennis Stevenson, Ph. D.
Retired
I am against the semiannual reporting. It will hide important information.

D. E. Stevenson, Emeritus Associate Professor, Clemson University.
"Those who know, do. Those who understand, teach," Aristotle.
"The limits of my language mean the limits of my world," Wittgenstein.
"Always ask 'if' before you ask 'why'."

Steve Tansey Motley fool community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steve Tansey If greater information can be provided (to counter balance) the reduced reporting may offer a reasonable alternative but it’s doubtful this would address the need for full transparency

---

Steve Turnipseed — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steve Turnipseed Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Steve Turnipseed and I am a restaurant worker. DO NOT change the rule, to make it easier for these parasites to play games and steal our wealth. I will be watching to see how you vote. And I will continue to watch after.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Steve Vogt — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steve Vogt Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Steve Vogt. Laboratory Metallurgist. In my position, I must be sure my lab complies to many standards, such as ISO 17025: 2017, NADCAP, and many company and industrial standards. Financial reporting should also be Subject to transparency. Keeping financial reporting as a quarterly requirement is not a burden, but an excellent way to keep a company in compliance and reduce corruption and bad decision making.

Steve Wagner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Steve Wagner Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 S. Wagner, retired I'm a retired business owner and investor of 45 years. Quarterly reporting is extremely important. It's much easier to hide financial problems if reporting is only 6 months. Investors want this quarterly frequency and investors vote. KEEP THE REPORTING QUARTERLY.

Steve Wolkis — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Steve Wolkis Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Things happen quickly. I would prefer monthly required reporting.

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Steve Zaehler — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Steve Zaehler Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We need to keep it like it is or report more often the American people deserve and have the right to know as much as possible

Sent from my U.S.Cellular© Smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

STEVEN A. RAUSCH Retired/Disabled Accountant — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: STEVEN A. RAUSCH I will support politicians who support transparency. Quarterly reports improve transparency and allow investors to know more about the companies they invest in.

Steven Blount Retired Asst. District Attorney — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steven Blount More “info” is good. Less “info” is ALWAYS BAD. Frankly, you are crazy to even consider allowing public companies to reduce their reportings.

Steven Buoni — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steven Buoni I think the public reporting should remain quartely, It seems a lot can happen in 6 months and a quartley report would be more helpful.

Steven C Hauk The MotleyFool Company — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steven C Hauk Keep reports Quarterly. Semi-annual reports is to limited and could magnify stock volatility.

Steven Cowley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steven Cowley Please no. We (shareholders)need more information not less. Two reports per year isn't enough and is more likely to make the market more volatile.

Steven Dickey — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steven Dickey I can not believe you are even considering reducing the reporting requirements , we need more transparancy not less. Less transparency doesn’t eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater.

Steven Garrison — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steven Garrison As a retired person but still active investor, I believe this will reduce transparency and confidence in corporate reporting with little benefit.

Steven Gross — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steven Gross Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is essential for the security of my monthly retirement check pension fund! Without that my home mortgage would essentially be held hostage by the whims of Wall Street inside traders! Above submitted by retiree, Steven P. Gross.

Steven Guilmette Retired — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steven Guilmette Do you're fucking job and look out for the citizens who elected you and not the corporations that have purchased your loyalty!

Steven J Funk Motley Fool Investment Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steven J Funk Reducing the reporting frequency of publicly traded companies would be a big mistake. More information generally produces better decisions. This is certainly true for investing. If financial reports are reduced to semi-annual reports, when the information does come out, we can expect to see bigger price swings of stocks, bonds, mutual funds and various derivatives. The proposed change would clearly be a step in the wrong direction.

Steven Jasper — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steven Jasper Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Not a good idea. These are the types of controls that protect investors. Remember Enron?

Sent from my iPhone
914-882-1100

Steven Johnson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Steven Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: quarterly reporting is not an excessive burden. If we have sarbanes-oxley then qrtly is nothing. What is to be gained except opportunity for crooks to get a headstart. Please do not losen reporting requirements.

Steven Knight — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steven Knight Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 At what Chief officers are compensated they should be held accountable for their actions. They are all responsible for overseeing.

---

steven l shapiro CPA and Personal Financial Specialist — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: steven l shapiro I am an investor who depends on the company reports for my investment decisions. Reducing the 4 times per year to just 2 severely will limit the insight to which I depend on for facts so I can make intelligent directions.

Steven M. Cunningham — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steven M. Cunningham Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Proposal? No, it isn't. It's acute anxiety disorder anything but sobered & clean. Sue them for everything & then some including jail time. Imprisoning those criminal about it as the settlement out of court too...for the rest of their lives. Liquidated & all.

Steven Markham — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Steven Markham Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 my old boss didnt pay anything but witheld our taxes. then he took amnesty and they audited all the workers. what a joke our government is. i dont believe in the FDA as they are political not factual like the blue pool.

Steven Martin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steven Martin Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Mr Steven Martin Owner/Operator
Georgia Resident

I oppose making six-month reporting optional for public companies. Ordinary investors deserve timely access to financial information, not delayed disclosure that benefits insiders and large institutions. Transparency and equal access to information are fundamental to fair markets. The SEC should preserve quarterly reporting requirements.

Steven Martin

Sent from my iPhone

Steven Mitsch — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Steven Mitsch Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Steven Mitsch, Custodian, Garden Grove, CA, -Please save quarterly reporting. Don't give fraudsters a bigger window to hide misdeeds. Enron made their employees buy stock in them even though they knew they were doing badly.

Steven P. Brattain — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steven P. Brattain Quarterly reporting allows investors to better understand the direction a company may be moving in and protects investors in that way. To require reporting only twice annually is unfair, particularly to small investors

---

Steven Rasmussen Motley Fool community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steven Rasmussen Bad idea

Steven S Smith Retired Financial Analyst from HP — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steven S Smith Reducing financial reporting is NOT in the best interest of the public. If Lehman Brothers, Enron, WorldCom, Tyco International, HealthSouth, and others can manipulate financial reporting on a quarterly basis, just think how you would complicit in new fraud. Let us not forget the infamous Arthur Anderson. Reducing financial reporting is to increase financial fraud. Do the right thing to keep confidence in our financial system. There are good reasons not to adopt Europe's financial reporting.

Steven Sainte none — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steven Sainte I come from the accounting discipline and rely heavily on the quarterly reports of public companies when making my investment decisions. Reducing the frequency of reports will also reduce transparency and make it more difficult for retail investors to accurately evaluate companies financial prospects. It's simply a bad idea.

Steven Shore — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steven Shore Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I write in support of maintaining quarterly reporting. As a retiree, diligent & timely review of investments is part of the two-way contract that sustains & nurtures capitalism. Robust advances in accounting software and the addition of AI makes reporting a matter of smart keystrokes efficiently reported, so far removed from the tedious entries in ledger books of the past. Plus, I have chosen paperless as the means of receiving my documents in order to reduce the paper & postal burden. America is a global technology leader and an economic powerhouse that attracts capital because of the faith in and stability of our economy. Thank you for the opportunity to comment.
Steven Shore, Retired
Apex, NC

Steven Silver — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Steven Silver Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Come on people, let’s keep it the way it is !
Make it better for individual investors, not worse !
Follow your heart ❤

Steven Singleton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steven Singleton It would be a mistake to reduce reporting requirements for public companies from quarterly to only twice per year. Investors' needs for transparency outweigh any arguable benefit from reducing the effort of providing such reports. Companies are very used to providing them. No change is needed.

Steven Szymoszowskyj — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steven Szymoszowskyj There is enough corruption in the Financial sector. There have been too many incidents leading to collapse over the past few decades, and maybe more on the way. We need more transparency not less. Do not allow less reporting. You are supposed to protect us, not corporations.

Steven Tichenor None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steven Tichenor Don't allow this. Many companies are already doing some unethical book keeping. This will make it easier. corporate profits and stock valuations are at an all time high so why is a change needed?

Steven V. McGonagill Motely Fool community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steven V. McGonagill I do not agree with allowing semi-annual reporting of company public reports versus quarterly reporting. I believe semi-annual reporting would leave investors less informed and not result in any benefit out weighing the need of investors to be more informed.

Steven VanWinkle Electrician — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steven VanWinkle To Whom it may concern, Taking away my right has an investor to have information about a stock I own or research ing to own is absolutely ludicrous. This move will only bring fear in buying and an unstable market. It also will force retail buyers to stick with big companies that are stable and more predictable. Small businesses will suffer. Please do not take away my right to be informed.

Steven Walters The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Steven Walters The Motley Fool Community I am opposed to the proposal to allow public companies to report semi-annually instead of the current four times per year. As an owner of a business, I feel it is the reponsibility of companies to update the status of the company to the principles of the business at least quarterly. The same should hold for public companies many of whom have thousands of investors that are essentially partial owners of the company. Please don't allow a decrease in transparency of public companies that would keep investors in the dark about how the company is doing on a regular basis. Your consideration is much appreciated.

SteveSusie Broun — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: SteveSusie Broun Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is 100% necessary for trust in the markets and investors to believe that they have a chance investing. The Dow and corporate profits are setting records- quarterly reporting is NOT an obstacle, it's not unreasonable, it's not oppressive regulation. It's fair, t's been in place through the markets' greatest runs and is about the only protection left to the individual investor. This serves no individual investor and it will reduce trust and transparency in our markets.

Stevie Free — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stevie Free Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Stephanie Free, governess
It is crucial for us to KEEP this QUARTERLY REPORTING. We are living in a time of extreme fraud, cheating and hoarding of wealth which negatively affects millions of families and Democracy, itself. This quarterly reporting will help keep the cheating down. That is why they want to have it 50% less often
KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING !!

Stockholder Stockholder — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stockholder I am very much opposed to allowing public companies to reduce the number of reporting requirements from 4 to 2.

Stuart Adams — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stuart Adams Please leave quarterly reports as mandatory, very important for consumer confidence, and informed investing. We desperately need more investment in this state, and country for the matter. Regards Stuart Adams

---

Stuart Griffin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stuart Griffin Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Stuart Griffin -Retired: I am heavily Invested in companies and am dependent on those investments for my future and the future of my children. I think the more frequent accounting should continue. If not there are more opportunities for corruption, mismanagement , loss of visibility and loss of $ for the average investor. Please continue the process we currently have . Thank You Stuart Griffin Durham, North Carolina

---

Stuart King Motley Fools follower — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stuart King Keep the quarterly reports - as an investor this is all I get to make decisions re buy or sell

---

Stuart Miller — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stuart Miller This measure would do little to reduce expenses for reporting companies, and would result is less transparency (a tenet of public stock exchanges), less shareholder control (shareholders = owners), and increase insider advantage. It is merely a new way to fleece the retail investor and transfer wealth to insiders and institutional investors.

Stuart Robb — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Stuart Robb It will be wrong to reduce reporting requirement to twice a year. This will deprive investors / owners of information needed to monitor the ongoing performance of companies and their Directos.

---

studley wellhung — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: studley wellhung Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Just another means of making the rich richer and the average investor just more of a means to support the company"s bad decisions monetarily and pay to support the company's bad researching agenda while allowing the failed researchers to "cash out" before the bad decision's bill comes due.

Sue — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sue Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Hello,
Please keep quarterly reporting. It is safer for us as individual investors and for nonprofits. Also semiannually appears to favor the wealthy and insiders.

(1) we rely on quarterly information to make decisions,
(2) longer gaps create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders,
(3) "optional" doesn't fix the problem because companies that opt in are often the ones whose investors most need frequent updates,
(4) the savings to companies aren't worth the cost to us

Sent from my mobile device

Susan Nathan

Sue — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sue Requesting that you leave the business financial reporting as a quarterly report. This is a protection for the public investors. Remember why it was implemented. Thank you

---

Sue Breeden — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sue Breeden Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 we need more oversight, not less. Keep the reporting quarterly if not more often

Sent from my iPhone

Sue Breeden — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sue Breeden Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 we need more oversight, not less. Keep the reporting quarterly if not more often.
Sue Breeden,PT
healthcare worker and investor

Sent from my iPhone

Sue Cummings — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sue Cummings Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Sue Cummings, retired: We need quarterly reporting! It's too easy for fraud to slip through with longer reporting periods. -- Sue Cummings, retired,

---

Sue Dietzman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sue Dietzman Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it Quarterly. Don't want what I have invested to go into their pockets. The Rich Republicans have stolen enough money from me. Vote 🪠 BLUE all the way.

Sue Dolsen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sue Dolsen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the law. It is honest and fair.

SUE DORLACK — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: SUE DORLACK Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Do not allow 6 month reports- keep it to quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPad

Sue Farnham — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sue Farnham Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Sue Harmon — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sue Harmon Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As a person who is nearing retirement age this proposal would be devastating to me. It sounds like a shady attempt to hide what greedy corporations are doing behind our backs. Why on earth would this even be considered? Please strike down this prposal. It's the right thing to do if you care anything at all about We the People.

Sue Hum — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sue Hum Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Sue Hum, professor:this matters because the general public deserve to know what and how companies and the economy are doing for our best interests. The rich keep writing the rules to benefit them only. We the people must be in the game too. The rich shouldn’t be allowed to use us, make money of us and run.

Sue Johnson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sue Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Susan L Johnson, retired, quarterly reports keep everyone informed and accountable. What is the purpose of eliminating it? Feels like the rich get richer and the poor..... It's not right.

Sue Kroeger — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sue Kroeger Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I rely on quarterly reports to inform my investment decisions. A semi-annual reporting system would allow bad actors to hide problems.

Sue Kroeger
314-750-5810
skroegersales@gmail.com
suekroeger@charter.net

Sue Leonetti — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sue Leonetti Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
My husband and I have worked, saved, and carefully invested our entire adult working lives. We are now retired and want our investments to be secure so we may enjoy our retirement without financial worry. Perhaps, even leave something for three our adult sons.
Please do not suspend quarterly reporting. This action could impact smaller investors by limiting timely review and valuable information. Meanwhile, providing an open opportunity for insider fraud.
The SEC must prioritize equal transparency for all investors. Ending Quarterly reporting is not in the interest of equal access. Excluding a portion of investors from full reporting would be an invitation to abuse the system.
Thank You for the opportunity to address such concerns.
Sincerely,
Sue Leonetti

Sue Miller — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sue Miller Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it like it is... quarterly. More chance for fraud if it's changed. We're being robbed enough as it is

---

Sue Moore — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sue Moore Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly. We need up to date information to make investment decisions.

Suzanne Moore
Retired

Sue Penrose — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sue Penrose Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We are a retired couple that have saved our entire lives. We have worked in corporate America and been part of the quarterly reporting process. It helps prevent fraud and makes EVERYONE MORE AWARE of issues. Keep reporting as it is now!

Sue Reynoldson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sue Reynoldson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Plain and simply, leave the reporting as is!

Sent from my iPhone

Sue Rockey — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sue Rockey Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I want Quarterly Reporting. No change!

Sent from my iPhone

Sue Sauer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sue Sauer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We must keep quarterly recording. Why go back to 1955. If anything we should have more strict requirements. Our retirements are all in these funds. Thank you,

Sue Sauer
102 Williams St, Hartwell GA 30643 suesauer21@gmail.com
863-397-2918

Sue Smithereen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sue Smithereen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep reporting. Don't stop. Don't let the scammers win

---

Sue Sweeney — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sue Sweeney Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We need to Keep Watching Big Business from Hiding Profits from Us the People of the USA!!

Sent from my iPhone

Sue Vosen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sue Vosen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly. Hold cheater accountable! Sue Vosen retired realtor.

Get Outlook for iOS

Sue Whitfield — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sue Whitfield Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I am Susan Whitfield, product compliance engineer and keeping it quarterly is what it should be it is easy to steal the longer you have to hide the facts. Keep it as honest as possible. I hate to see any more corruption happening in our government.

Sue Wuthrich — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sue Wuthrich Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We need you to keep the quarterly reporting. Thank you, Sue Wuthrich

Sent from my iPad

Suebee — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Suebee Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I believe making reporting every six months is a very very bad idea. It's going to hurt everybody's portfolio if our financial advisors are not on top of things. So don't do it for a little bit of savings, it's may cost me a lot of money in my retirement. Sue Snyder, Emmaus, PA, retired.

Sent from my iPhone

Suellen Zimmer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Suellen Zimmer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I am an individual investor and I read almost every day about the stocks that I hold. I would feel very uncomfortable. I would take my money out. That makes me feel more uncomfortable as to how am I supposed to grow my retirement. I have to be accountable. They have to be accountable. They're holding our money.

Suhail Khawaja Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Suhail Khawaja investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners

---

Suj Menon — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Suj Menon Less transparency doesn't eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater. Public-company reports currently at four times a year can be efficiently achieved in this age of AI and increasingly efficient disclosure tools.

Sula Tedesco — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sula Tedesco Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Report Quarterly must be the RULE FOREVER!!!'

Suleiman Essoh — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Suleiman Essoh I respectfully oppose the proposal to replace quarterly reporting with semiannual reporting. Public markets function best when investors have access to regular, transparent, and standardized information. Reducing reporting frequency would weaken transparency, increase uncertainty, and make it more difficult for shareholders to evaluate the companies they own. Investors should not receive less information about public companies in the name of efficiency. Strong disclosure requirements support accountability, market integrity, and informed decision-making. The SEC should preserve quarterly reporting requirements and continue to prioritize transparency for all investors.

Summer Van Mun — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Summer Van Mun Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 SummerVanMun. Founder of a non-profit to aid women through life transitions. Keep SEC reports quarterly. 6 months is too long to go without showing investors what the company is going through.

Sent from my iPhone

Sun-Tech Computers Sun-Tech Computers — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sun-Tech Computers Sun-Tech Computers Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We MUST be able to SEE what is happening to our money just as YOU choose to do! Keep transparent quarterly! Better yet MONTHLY! ROSE HINKLE

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Suni Best — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Suni Best Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: what the hell is your thinking behind this? DO NOT STOP QUARTERLY REPORTING! Are you toadies of Rasputin?

Sunil Varghese — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sunil Varghese I would like to express my opposition to changing the requirement to only semi-annual reporting. When I invest in a company, I expect transparency and accountability from that company, and quarterly reporting is crucial in meeting those objectives. It would be a huge mistake to allow companies to only have to report just twice a year. Thank you.

Sunny Jamshedji — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sunny Jamshedji Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I don't trust any company to be honest so this is just a bad idea. Too many greedy people driving nice cars! In fact, instead of quarterly you shud switch it to monthly. More regulation will keep the honest.

Superior Automotive and RV — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Superior Automotive and RV Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Boardroom and corporate accountability are of primary importance for a trusted economy. Fo better now worse!

Steve Marlborough, President
Superior Automotive and RV
19280 Monterey Rd
Morgan Hill Ca, 95037
408-778-3899

Suresh Rivera — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Suresh Rivera I’m not in favor of the proposed rule to allow companies to report earnings etc. twice a year instead of four times a year. Less transparency doesn’t eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater.

Suryakant Patel The Motley Fool community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Suryakant Patel I don’t think it is helpful to reduce reporting requirements. As investors, we need to be informed in a timely manner - every 6 months is too long.

Susan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Susan Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep Quarterly reporting. This equates to transparency for investors. I am a retired, 77 year old and have most of my savings in the stock market. I have been able to grow it by being able to track companies by their quarterly reports.

Susan Aguiar — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Susan Aguiar Quarterly reporting is essential for individuals to invest with confidence. anything less will encourage/tempt a company to hide poor performance for too long, putting individual investors like myself at unfair risk.

Susan and Ed Sisola (consumers) — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Susan and Ed Sisola (consumers) We are part of the Motley Fool community, and support our combined efforts to maintain the higher level of communication with consumers/individuals by corporations. Less communication, less information is not a positive step. In fact, it is a negative step for all concerned. We, who are on the receiving your products/ services need to understand what is happening with you company/corporation functions and how it impacts us. Our input, when invited, allows feedback that should be useful in corporation's ultimate functioning. Without consumers, there are no corporations.

Susan Anderson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Anderson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 There is no compelling reason to discontinue quarterly reporting. Transparency is crucial. Refusing to share information with the public further deteriorates the public trust, which is a pillar of our economy.

Susan Arnold — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Susan Arnold I object to the proposal to only require companies to report 2 times a year. Keep the 4 times a year reporting. Too much can happen in 6 months that investors need to be aware of.

Susan Austin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Susan Austin Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The quarterly reporting should continue.

Susan Austin
3969 Londonderry Ln
Medina, OH 44256

Susan B Nesbitt — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Susan B Nesbitt Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Do not end the these, we must have complete transparently from Tthe Securities and Exchange Commission. It is our right!

Susan B Nesbitt — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Susan B Nesbitt Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Quarterly reports are vital to keeping people fully informed.

Susan Baumgartner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Susan Baumgartner Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To whom it may concern: I am writing to oppose changing the reports to investors to a twice a year event. As a small investor, I rely on my quarterly statements from my investments to determine my direction. I do not have the information available to me like the very wealthy or staff working for me. I am however, a taxpaying, voting citizen of this country, and I still have rights. I'm getting sick and tired of having to fight for them every blessed day!!!
Sincerely,
Susan Baumgartner

--

Susan Baumgartner (Susie)

Keller Williams Realty Living
130 W Grand River Ave.

Brighton, MI 48116
Cell Phone: 517-404-6511
Brighton Office: 810 227 5500

Email: sbaumgartner@kw.com
CLICK HERE TO SEARCH FOR HOMES

Susan Becker — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Susan Becker Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting. to maintain corporate responsibility. Susan Becker- retired Rio Vista. CA.

Susan Berzill — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Susan Berzill Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly report by the FCC is the obligation to the tax payers and the citizens of the United States. Transparency is required of all Federal agencies Do your job legally and ethically. Susan Berzill Citizen of the United States of America.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Susan Bradford — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Susan Bradford Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Incompetent idea. Too many flaws. Dangerous.

Sent from my iPad

Susan Caldwell — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Susan Caldwell We need more transparency to financial results, not less. Reporting is already in place, and has been budgeted by businesses. Business's potential minuscule savings are not going to go back to stockholders. This also brings into question whether the SEC is protecting consumers/buyers, as they should be, or the businesses themselves.

SUSAN CARDEN — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: SUSAN CARDEN Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Nope. They should be held accountable MORE often!

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Chapman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Susan Chapman Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am against the change from quarterly reports to semi annual reports. I truly believe as a small investor that this will harm me. I believe this will provide an opportunity for large trading firms to hide insider trading and possible fraud, among other things. reporting was put in place for a reason. Keep it.

Susan Clemitus — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Susan Clemitus Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I want quarterly reports to continue. It allows me to make the most informed decisions I can. It should not be taken away.

Susan Coker — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Susan Coker Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Do not mess with quarterly reporting unless it’s to make it MORE frequent! In these tumultuous times less information seems like a REALLY BAD IDEA…unless you’re one of those profiting from it - then it’s a good way to NOT BE ELECTED AGAIN!

Sent from my iPad

Susan Coleman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Coleman Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Susan Coleman and I am retired. I am tired of seeing all the money go straight to the top, but we should still have the opportunity to see the numbers and every 3 months is fair.

Susan M Coleman

Susan Collinsworth — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Collinsworth Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting needs to continue. Consumers and shareholders should have this information. 6 months is too long! It's not a burden to companies to provide the information.

Susan Craig Motley Fool Could mmunity — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Susan Craig I'm against the proposed semi-annual reporting rule. Transparency is critical to protect investors.

Susan Deane — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Susan Deane Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep reports quarterly. More information, not less,

---

Susan Finn — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Susan Finn Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Susan Finn, and I am retired and living off investments. I believe in keeping the current quarterly reporting so I can ensure financial stability throughout my retirement. With the current economy I have already seen losses in my nest egg. I feel now more than ever that making quick financial decision is important, so it's vital to have the most up to date information.

Sent from my overpriced device

Susan Fisher — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Susan Fisher Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Hello, my name is Susan Fisher. I'm a teacher and I'm within 5 years to retirement. I want to keep my updates quarterly so I know how my money is doing as I near retirement.
Thank you!

Susan Fulchino — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Susan Fulchino Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: STOP JUST STOP INFRINGING ON MY/OUR FREE SPEECH !
REMIND YOURSELVES THAT WE WERE BORN INTO THESE UNITED STATES AND THAT PRIVILEGE CAME OUR CONSTITUTION OUR BILL OF RIGHTS... I AM HERE TO READ THESE WORDS TO YOU IF YOU ARE HANDICAPPED IN ANY WAY.
AGAIN JUST STOP I VALUE PROGRAMING LIKE THE "VIEW"!
SUSAN FULCHINO

Susan Ghea — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Susan Ghea I am a female close to 80 years of age with budgeting and book-keeping history. It is important to me that I remain educated and knowledgeable about any company who is holding my funds, and twice a year reporting is NOT ACCEPTABLE to achieve that outcome. Please keep quarterly reporting as is currently required.

Susan Giordano — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Giordano Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting. Keep it honest.

Susan Giordano

Susan Goggin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Goggin Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Are you kidding me? This doesn’t sound like a good idea!!

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Gould — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Susan Gould Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 If we are to move forward as a country, we ALL need to be informed. Taking steps backwards seems to be the modus operandi of this administration as other nations move forward in an effort to grow and survive. Going backwards in time with decisions makes us less prepared for the future. All of us need to be privy to what is going on in every aspect of our lives, so we can be prepared to face what the future has in store. Ignorance is not the answer. Don't make us even more ignorant.

Susan Grahan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Grahan Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it at quarterly reporting. We’re retired and it helps us decide how we spend our money. Susan G.

Susan Greenberg — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Susan Greenberg Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is so important to financial stability. For our country as well as for the globe. The only reason this is even being considered is that we have hoodlums in charge. Do not jeopardize ever family in the world by approving this action.

Best,

Sue Greenberg

Susan Greene — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Susan Greene Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the current standard of quarterly inspections. To not do so encourages fraud by CEOs and we already have too much!

Susan Grove — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Grove Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is critical to maintaining accountability. Do not change this expectation!

Susan Harbert — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Susan Harbert Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Do not change this rule. If something isn't broken(current rule) it doesn't need to be fixed(to benefit the wealthy).To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Susan Hoffman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Susan Hoffman Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly filings are essential especially in the the present misled corrupt political system. It is not okay. The American people will have a hard time trusting again. Don't make it impossible.

Susan Horn — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Horn Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 With the advent of AI, plus all the other technologies made available since the quarterly rule was enacted, it’s easier than ever to provide accurate reports. We should be getting them more often, not less. Make it monthly!! Seriously, keep the quarterly reports for now.
Sincerely,
Susan E Horn

Susan K. Zwiebel — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Susan K. Zwiebel In my opinion, the financial services industry is already under scrutiny for fairness and accuracy. Reducing reporting periods will only fan those flames and create opportunities for those with lesser morals and ethics. Keep the quarterly reporting. If anything, tighten the rules. We should never loosen them. Our country is fraught with corruption - let's not aid that fire.

Susan Kalodner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: SEC reporting change From: Susan Kalodner Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Given prior histories with businesses less reporting and financial issues, the SEC should not reduce business reporting. In order to not cause a financial crisis for investors, reporting must remain quarterly.
Concerned retired investor, S. Kalodner

Susan Klemesrud — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Klemesrud Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Semi-annual reporting makes it far too easy for corporate insiders to profit off small investors. I do rely on quarterly information, and would be at a disadvantage if this changed. The SEC has a responsibility to keep fraud at bay. Abandoning quarterly reporting invites fraud. I am against this proposal. Susan Klemesrud, RN, retired. Indianapolis, Indiana

---

Susan Lee Wilson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Susan Lee Wilson No secrecy is trustworthy. Transparency and public reporting is essential.

Susan Lock — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Susan Lock Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep Quarterly reporting! It's essential for this to happen! Susan Lock from Wisconsin. I'm retired.

Susan Lynch Motley Fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Susan Lynch I am writing to request that the proposal to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two, be stopped. The current reporting requirement of 4 times a year is needed for good investing. I ask that this NOT be changed to semi-annual reporting. At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Some argue that fewer reports would reduce costs. Maybe. Although in an age of AI and increasingly efficient disclosure tools, even that point is debatable. Others argue it would ease the pressure to manage quarter to quarter. But short-termism comes from how people react to information, not from the information itself. Taking the reports away doesn't make anyone more patient. It just makes everyone less informed. What isn’t debatable is that less information rarely creates better-informed owners. Imagine owning a business and getting updates from your managers only twice a year. It would still run every day. You'd just know far less about how it was doing. That's effectively what's being proposed here. Companies will continue operating every day. Products will be launched. Customers will be won and lost. Strategies will succeed and fail. Yet under this proposal, owners would receive only half as many official updates about the businesses they own. Less transparency doesn't eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater Susan Lynch

---

Susan M Ostrander Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Susan M Ostrander This is yet just another avenue for big business to screw the modest investor. Enough!

Susan McBrien — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan McBrien Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Susan McBrien Retired School Secretary. I worked in schools for over 30 years so I could retire with dignity and a respectable pension. Some of that is invested in stocks. Don't take away my retirement savings!

Sent from my iPhone

Susan McCorry — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Susan McCorry Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please keep quarterly reporting, so we know what to do with our investments! Thank you, Susan

---

Susan McCoy — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Susan McCoy Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We should have quarterly reporting at least. They want us to invest our money they should show us how it is doing.

Susan McCoy

---

susan miller — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: susan miller Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Small investors need to know what is happening regularly!!

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Mulvihill — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Susan Mulvihill Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly reports. I am personal investor and helps keep upto date information on companies I own.

Sent from my iPad

Susan Murphy — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Susan Murphy Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Knowledge has always meant power, KEEP THE REPORTING QUARTERLY. We deserve the very best info that protects all Americans

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Nawbary — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Nawbary Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Do not become swamp monsters! Keep SEC transparent!

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Pierce — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Susan Pierce Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Been following and investing in the market for 50 years. Owned Enron and others. More transparency and management accountability needed, not less.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Susan Pohlmann — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Susan Pohlmann Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

If the Rich & Powerful can report their income every other time, then that sets a precedent for the rest of US citizens to do the same.
If this becomes law I will feel emboldened to declare my income every other year. It's only fair.
Susane Pohlman

Susan Prattis — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Susan Prattis Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 DO NOT REMOVE QUARTERLY REPORTING & EXECUTIVE CERTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS FROM THE REGULATIONS!!! We learned from ENRON that dishonesty thrives in darkness, vague language and lack of line responsibility for corporate actions. Do not go back to where we were when ENRON staff and auditor inappropriate and unethical actions were effectively prosecuted. Many people suffered as a result of their corporate actions. These regulations have done a great job to date preventing that debacle from happening again in the same way.
SP, Medical Professional, IL

Susan Primmer — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Susan Primmer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Twice yearly reporting invites hiding relevant information needed by stick holders ti make buy ling and selling decisions and an un fair advantage to industry and political insiders.

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Rakusin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Rakusin Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Our lives and the economy depend upon the quarterlies. Don't break a system that works. Think of US for once!

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Rasmussen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Susan Rasmussen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission,
As an individual investor in the US stock market I urge you to vote against this proposal that would allow big companies to hide their financial picture from the public for six months.
This will only allow public companies more time to shield their activities from public scrutiny. It could allow more insider trading and other nefarious acts to the disadvantage of small investors like me.
My investments in the stock market are an important part of my retirement income.
Please do not put my investments at a disadvantage while giving more advantages to large public companies.

Susan Rodgers — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Rodgers Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Dear SEC,,

I recommend that we maintain a quarterly schedule for these updates. By learning from our history and ensuring everyone has access to this information, we can continue to support the success of our community.

Best regards,

Susan Rodgers
Surprise, Arizona

Susan Roper — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Susan Roper Keep the reporting quarterly. The public needs more transparency not less.

Susan Ryan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Ryan Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is a very bad proposal. The public needs more transparency from publicly traded companies, not less. Do the right thing for the investors

Sent from my iPad

Susan Schimmel — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Schimmel Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is what we want for responsible financial management.

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Schissler — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Susan Schissler Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Please leave sec alone. We already have been through 12 years of loss.

Susan SHAFER — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Susan SHAFER Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
SEC needs to continue current reporting system.
This new protocol is just another way to stop people from knowing what is happening.

Susan Shaffer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Susan Shaffer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We cannot trust CEOs at all anymore. They are acting like the robber barons of old. Make them report quarterly or even more frequently! I don't trust any of them as far as we can throw them!

Susan Steider — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Susan Steider Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Susan Steider, librarian, Libraries are all about providing access to information. Information should be shared and not hidden. Keep Wall Street’s information available, don’t let them go dark.

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Stevens — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Susan Stevens Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I personally know people who worked for Enron and lost their life savings, along with their jobs when Enron folded. Enron “offered” their employees bargain stock to buy into, getting even more of their savings, then went under. I retired from AT&T, Chicago area, IL, as a repairman. Dick Notebaert became CEO of Ameritech (one of the AT&T subsidiaries after divestiture). Mr. Notebaert put NO money into maintaining the network for FIVE years, falsely increasing the value in order to sell us, at a huge profit to himself. Plains Marketing, Atmore, AL, an oil company based in Texas, as an administrative assistant. Many of the Plains supervisors and drivers were former Enron employees. Keeping the CEO's honest is SO important to protecting the companies, and employees. Enron should never happen again!

Susan Stevens
Brewton, AL

Susan Stricker — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Susan Stricker Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Don't. Do. IT 😎. It's Not RIGHT 😎 Read ON please 💜❤️🥰

Susan Strong-Dowd — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Strong-Dowd Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 As an investor and citizen, I want to know what is going on inside companies that I choose to invest in every 3 months, otherwise I am not making an informed decision. Please keep the existing rules and require companies to report their earnings every quarter. I am a senior citizen and having this information is vital to my economic security.
Thank you.
Susan Strong-Dowd
Retired Educator

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Thornton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Thornton Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Absolutely NOT!! Corporate America was trusted once, then came Enron. Fool us once, shame on you; fool us twice, shame on us.

Susan Thornton

Susan Torres — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Susan Torres Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am against stopping quarterly reports. Transparency is always better than darkness. Where insider trading and fraud, which seems to be an unfair advantage can flourish! Stop this and not being transparent with my money. Perhaps we all need to take our money elsewhere to be safe if you follow through with this nonsense.

Susan Torres

Susan Wagner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Wagner Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it Quarterly reporting

---

Susan Walker — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Susan Walker Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: The Stock Market isn't a game. Trumps policies and his weaponized officials are criminalizing our financial institutions and making grifters into insiders to destroy the middle class and give power to the top 1 percent. Transparency matters in the stock market and in government institutions.

Susan Walls — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Walls Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No way! Leave it like it is!

Sent from my iPad

Susan Walters — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Susan Walters Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
1. Please continue to require quarterly reporting
2. I am a retiree w my savings in a portfolio, I want to see continued regulation that requires quarterly reporting
3. This will help prevent fraud and decrease volatility
4. Please help everyday investors like myself rather than caving to the big corporations that want deregulation

---

Susan Wands — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Wands Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Susan Wands, tax payer

We need to keep track of our public companies profits in order to stay on top of our investments. We're the backbone of the U.S. investing in the future of our country and it's public profit margins and we deserve accountability.

Susan Wands

Susan Weis — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Susan Weis Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We need honest, quarterly reports!!! Thank you, Susan Weis. Wisconsin. 06-22-'26

Susan Wigfield — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Susan Wigfield Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Transparency should be mandatory on a quarterly basis at the very least.

Susan Williams None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Susan Williams If I have a financial stake in a business, I should be getting more information detailing processes, operations, and outcomes for that business, not less. Reducing transparency doesn't increase confidence, it increases misinformation and duplicity.

Susan Z — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Susan Z Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly performance reporting is essential for keeping the middle class's investments, retirement plans, and pensions on equal footing. We need fewer billionaires, and more transparency into the economy.

Thanks
Susan Zanghetti

Susann Smith — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Susann Smith Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am completely appalled about any consideration of eliminating CEO accountability especially after the rampant fraud and abuse in government that DOGE uncovered. Everyone with any responsibility for other's funds or property MUST be held accountable for those responsibilities ALWAYS. That is a basic premise for holding such positions.
And anyone even considering that change (including members of the SEC) should be fired.
Stop this insanity of no accountability!!!
Make Accountability Great Again!!!
Report back HONESTLY to We The People that you represent!!!

Susanna Westen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Susanna Westen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As a retiree reliant on my pension and investment income, I resent the idea that such a proposal is even being considered. What's needed is more transparency and accountability as a way to decrease the potential of fraud. Please keep quarterly reporting in place as a way to help protect the investments of ordinary Americans.

Susanne Lowman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Susanne Lowman Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is just a horrible idea.
Accountability and Transparency are vital for a healthy check and balance system.
JUST STOP IT RIGHT NOW 😡!!!
Susanne M Lowman
Retired

SUSIE NESBITT — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: SUSIE NESBITT Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We must continue to receive these reports! Please do not change the quarterly reports. Thank you for all you do to keep us informed!

Susie Russo — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Susie Russo Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 There's far too much corruption now. Keep the signatures required QUARTERLY!

Sent from my iPhone

Susie Wodarczyk — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susie Wodarczyk Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 STOP passing laws (or removing previous laws) that make it easier for fraud and corruption. Previous laws were put in place for a reason!!! Those who don't know history are doomed to repeat it.

Susie Wodarczyk
Sent from my iPhone
440-221-0434

Suz — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Suz Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I monitor my investments and do so on a quarterly basis. I would like it to remain that way. Changing to every six months would not provide the clarity that quarterly does. Suzanne Wayson

Sent from my iPhone

Suzanna Morris — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Suzanna Morris Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please continue to require quarterly reports

Sent from my iPhone

Suzanna Van Meter — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Suzanna Van Meter To who it may concern, Please leave current company quarterly financial reporting requirements in place. Investors need to know how their investments are performing at least quarterly to make timely investment decisions.

Suzanne Andrego — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Suzanne Andrego Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 S Andrego, CEO, I want to be able to analyze our investments every 3 months not twice a Year!!!!!
As a small business owner I can maker better decisions with more knowledge more often!

Sent from my iPhone

Suzanne Ashe — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Suzanne Ashe Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Stop the corporate greed and grifting! You should be ashamed of your corrupt and greedy behavior!!!! We will not tolerate it!

Suzanne Ashe, retired college professor

Suzanne Bolton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Suzanne Bolton Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 If you all keep robbing the public, how do you expect us to have money to spend enriching you. KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING!!!

Sent from my iPad

Suzanne Chandley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Suzanne Chandley Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Why should billionaires be given the privilege of hiding their wealth? We have a President who has lied consistently about his financial situation for numerous years and look what he has done to our country? Ordinary tax payers get audited all the time for everything they do.
Suzanne Chandley, retired secretary in Kansas

Suzanne Choquette — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Suzanne Choquette Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
There need to be checks and balances in business as well as government. People's moral compass has eroded so much in the last decade and the U.S. needs to make sure there are measures to hold greed and corruption in taking over.

Suzanne Dam — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Suzanne Dam Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We need to know what's happening in the market on a quarterly basis. Don't change what's not broken!

Suzanne Dam

Sent from my iPad

Suzanne Dam — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Suzanne Dam Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 That would be a big NO!

Sent from my iPad

---

suzanne ellis — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: suzanne ellis Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It seems as though quarterly reporting is a good thing. We all know people will do what's in their best interest, not the good of others, if given an opportunity. Quarterly reporting gives less chances, keep it.

Regards,
Suzanne Ellis

Sent from my iPhone

Suzanne Hill — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Suzanne Hill Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
DO NOT END QUARTERLY REPORTING!!!! IT WILL ALLOW FRAUD AND OTHER ILLEGAL PRACTICES TO BECOME RAMPANT!!!

Suzanne Jackson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Suzanne Jackson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please keep quarterly report requirements for publicly traded companies. These rules protect stockholders who have their life savings invested. Companies need to be transparent. Companies in trouble will not do the right thing, remember Enron? How about the 2008 financial housing crisis. Let's keep honest people honest, don't give them extra time to cover up their errors.

Suzanne Kostic — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Suzanne Kostic Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the status quo of quarterly reporting. It exists for a reason. It has been proven that without this requirement the temptation to financially misbehave is too great for even the best of humans. Protect ALL of us and our financial health - keep the regulations for quarterly reporting. Suzanne Kostic, Omaha NE 68137

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Suzanne Maxey — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Suzanne Maxey Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
The American people deserve transparency and a guarantee that the money they've saved for retirement is there when they need it. I am 💯 against this action.

Suzanne McLean — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Quarterly reports From: Suzanne McLean Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 https://keepitquarterly.org/?fbclid=IwZXh0bgNhZW0CMTEAc3J0YwZhcHBfaWQKNjYyODU2ODM3OQABHm3dYfUcczbq-WID4qJtmJaEA1vweHNhlaM6-eKThC1Wm3Ub7v43xvf-9Rf8_aem_aQGhXyfuBPdI0yVh0OaQPQ#

SUZANNE SALINETTI — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: SUZANNE SALINETTI Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 If a company wants the public to invest in their business then they must ensure their “owners” are able to review their success or failure with that investment. That will allow their shareholders to invest further or divest to protect their interests. Every small business does this for partners. It’s imperative to have these reports available to trade honestly and confidently. I see insider trading becoming rampant without consistent quarterly reporting and this suggested change in practice only hurting those who are not close to each investment (ie “insider”). It weakens the trust in this “institution”.

SUZANNE SHEUERMAN — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: SUZANNE SHEUERMAN AS A RETIRED INVESTMENT EXECUTIVE, I KNOW THE IMPORTANCE OF QUARTERLY REPORTING. THINK OF IT THIS WAY: YOUR CHILDREN'S REPORT CARDS COME OUT QUARTERLY. IF THE SCHOOL DISTRICT SUDDENLY ANNOUNCED THAT YOU HAD NO VISIBILITY INTO YOUR CHILD'S PROGRESS FOR 6 MONTHS, YOU'D BE PRETTY UNNERVED. CHECKS AND BALANCES ARE KEY TO OUR MARKETS.

Suzanne Stack — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Suzanne Stack Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

We need quarterly reports! Don't let things get out of control by eliminating these important reports. I live on a fixed income and need my investments to be protected as much as possible. Please do the right thing for investors.

Suzanne Weber — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Suzanne Weber Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We need to see how are investments are performing on a quarterly basis not just twice per year. Please keep quarterly reporting in place. A quarterly report is not to much to require from large companies. Suzanne Weber. Retired

Sent from my iPhone

Suzanne White — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Suzanne White Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 !!! KEEP IT QUARTERLY !!!

Sent from my iPhone

Suzanne Yuskiw — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Suzanne Yuskiw Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Transparency is essential. Advisors make a substantial percentage of our portfolio in fees. They need to keep us informed. I am a client of fisher investments and expect the best service for what I pay them . Suzanne Y.

Sent from my iPad

Suzette Goolsby — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Suzette Goolsby We need clarity about who purchases stocks.

Suzi Johnson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Suzi Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We need yo know more, not LESS..

Suzi VanHoose — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Suzi VanHoose Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting keeps them HONEST. Without this, they will do exactly as they please. This sounds VERY much like pressure coming from the current presidential administration… similar to other ways they have corrupted the checks and balances in the many systems put in place. If you bow down to the current administration YOU are just as despicable as they are!!!! Seriously makes me wonder how much of a KICKBACK you are getting!

SUZY LEVINE — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: SUZY LEVINE Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I prefer quarterly reports for the general public. It’s responsible mgmt. Thank you

Suzy Levine
214-850-3408

Suzy McLaughlin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Suzy McLaughlin Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Suzy McLaughlin Business Manager
I am in the home stretch of my career and have a short time horizon to save as much money as I can. Don’t risk my investments! I’ve worked hard for 50 years to make sure I can retire independently.

Sent from my iPhone 🌸🌺

Suzy Theisen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Suzy Theisen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: do not change the reporting rules or timelines!

Suzzette Schmit — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Suzzette Schmit Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No. Quarterly Reports are needed for investors. Gee, quarterly reporting sounds like a job for AI.

Sweet Artcat — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sweet Artcat Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 As someone who has lost money in a supposedly "safe" mutual fund, it's critical to the overall financial health of every investor in the United States that reporting be kept quarterly. In the case of my mutual fund, I had no idea the fund was failing. Quarterly reporting is the very least reporting window to ensure scams are not occurring.

Sincerely,

Wynn Avocette
3081 SW River View Dr.
Pendleton, OR
503-335-9090

Get Outlook for Android

Sybil E Schlesinger — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sybil E Schlesinger Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Sunlight is the best disinfectant.

Sincerely,
Sybil Schlesinger
Moretown Vermont

Sydney Couch — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sydney Couch Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Report monthly and keep everything public.

Sydney Morgan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sydney Morgan Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Sydney Morgan, Senior Business Analyst, Quarterly reporting helps me make informed decisions when investing for my family. Less transparency and I'll have less resources to grow wealth for me and my children

---

Syed Mehmood Motley fool community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Syed Mehmood I think we should keep the way things are and have four reporting periods -twice a year, although easier for the companies may hide malfeasance and delay the knowledge available to the investors versus the insiders

---

Sylvia C Bean None. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sylvia C Bean The proposed change in company quartly reporting wil make it much more difficult to judge the worth of their stock-the advisability of owning it.

Sylvia Escobedo — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sylvia Escobedo Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Knock it off! We as Americans deserve checks and balances.

Sylvia Maria Yeargan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sylvia Maria Yeargan Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I request quarterly reporting.

Sylvia Matthews — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sylvia Matthews In order to promote financial knowledge, efficacy, and reasoning the goal should not be to reduce the flow of information but to promote it. In this day of technology, it is easy to share information in a timely, less costly manner which means reducing the number of reports simply does not make sense for astute financial planning. Please do not support this reduction of information.

Sylvia Tedesco — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sylvia Tedesco Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Sylvia Tedesco.. .taxpayer
Tired of being screwed..gattopardo120@gmail.com

---

t m — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: t m Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reports help investors to see if the company is continuing to be solvent. Scenario: Would you ask your teenage children to report to you weekly vs. monthly or monthly vs semiannually? That could mean a teenage pregnancy or severe abuses undetected under your watch..

T None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: T I request full transparency by providing detailed reports quarterly, four times a year.

Ta'Wone White — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ta'Wone White Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Good morning:

How are you maintaining checks and balance and remaining transparent to the stock holder?

Ta'Wone White — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ta'Wone White Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Good morning:

This is no good.

How are you maintain checks and balance and remaining transparent to the stock holder?

Tabitha McCauley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Tabitha McCauley Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
People have a right to know how best to protect their investments. Failing to report as often may obscure or lead to loss. Leave reporting requirements alone!!!

---

tableof_5 — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: tableof_5 Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep Quarterly Reporting!

Sent from my Galaxy

Tachae Jackson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Tachae Jackson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not stop quarterly reporting. It's only going to make everything worse!

---

talbot monk — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: talbot monk Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 As a hardworking American, for years I have had to take training and follow all kinds of company policies to avoid even a hint of malfeasance around insider trading, etc. It continually feels that our representatives in congress and corporate C-suite execs have the inside track to expanding their wealth. The everyday American is impacted by what these people do and for the wealth they are making, the least they can do is be transparent. Allowing this reporting requirement to be reduced would be a poor decision. Even if the change did not result in an increase in fraud, the perception alone will undermine faith in the system.

Regards,
David Child, IT Manager, Dallas, TX.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Tam Macdonald Dedicated, small, private investor with skin in the game. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tam Macdonald Politicians and regulators must remember that us little guys depend upon them to guard our interests and should not be persuaded by the blandishments and self-interest of many of the top nebbies in the investment universe. We commit our hard earned pennies, supporting small, medium and large businesses but too often see that the interests of the business and its investors are overlooked by the board or senior management looking for short gain to enhance bonuses.

Tamara Anderson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Tamara Anderson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Better transparency is key for a fair stock market for investors. Investors need more information, not less. Therefore, I oppose ending quarterly reporting.

Thank you,

Tamara Anderson

Tamara Castano — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tamara Castano Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My husband and I have worked and saved our entire lives. We have invested saved and looked after our families. We watched 2008 happen when the housing market wasn't watched. Rules were not in place and ruthless people cheated and regular people like my Husband and I were left holding the empty bag. These rules for oversight are there for reasons. There is no reason to let a company go dark with no oversight for 6 months when so many people could be effected by their decisions and possible GREEDY intentions!!
LEAVE IT ALONE!! LEAVE THE REPORTING PROCESS IN PLACE AS IT IS!!!!!

Tamara Beddow
Livonia,Michigan

Tamara Grimes — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tamara Grimes Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 After having to bail out these massive companies over the years, reducing transparency & oversight would be a grave mistake. These companies have procen time & again that they'll put their profits over doing what's right, leaving citizens to bear the repercussions. Quarterly financial reporting should stay the requirement for CEOs to report & sign, at a minimum.

Tamara Grimes
850-490-3461

Tamara Jetton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tamara Jetton Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep transparency and keep the quarterly reports. This will ensure accountability.

Tamara Jetton

Tamara Jex-Mayrend — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Tamara Jex-Mayrend Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To Whom It May Concern;

I support maintaining monthly investment notifications rather than moving to quarterly reporting. Monthly notifications provide timely transparent information, allowing investors and regulators to identify trends, risks, and material changes sooner. More frequent reporting enhances market transparency and investor confidence while helping ensure that investment decisions. Reducing the reporting frequency to quarterly could delay the availability of important data and lessen the effectiveness of oversight and monitoring.

Tamara Maddux Tamara Maddux — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Tamara Maddux Tamara Maddux Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
In order to maintain transparency, you have always ensured that those companies listed on the exchange are transparent in their reporting in their financial statements every 3 months. As someone who has studied the markets both in college and out, I feel it is imperative that you keep the reporting standards at 3 months. Many people rely on those filings to make sound financial decisions and which companies to invest in. If you go to only twice a year, you give companies the opportunity to hide financial problems and/or to correct them in a manner that would not be ethical. Please, do not change the reporting requirements in favor of protecting corrupt business owners.

Tamara Schultz — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tamara Schultz Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is necessary for oversight. Keep the quarterly reporting!

T S

Tamara Seyhun — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Tamara Seyhun Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please continue to report. To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Tamara Strahan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tamara Strahan Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 You will lose many investors if you switch to 6 month reporting. I need quarterly reporting personally to feel comfortable investing and I am near a 7 figure net worth personally, with decades in the market. Please do not change your policy on this matter.

Tamara Strahan

Tamera Barnaby — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tamera Barnaby Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Leave it the way that it is it is very effective. Just do your job and leave us alone.

Tami Case — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tami Case Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No change, keep the safe guards quarterly. Too many rich CEO's and politicians trying to screw everyone over.

TamLyn — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: TamLyn Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Barbara Sambol, CEO & CFO of Ocean-Inspired Massage, LLC ….keep this report quarterly so the PUBLIC can see how THE WOLVES work!

Tammi Forsyth — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tammi Forsyth Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I think us consumers should be the FIRST to know not the last, we make your business. Stop doing us dirty

---

Tammi Georgianna — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tammi Georgianna Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it as is. I'm so tired of the ultra rich benefitting at everyone else's expense.

Tammi Sloan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tammi Sloan Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 As an investor in stocks, I want to know how the companies I am entrusting my hard earned dollars are fairing. Quarterly filings are the best way for me to know that. I am an accounts payable specialist for my local school district. I don't make a ton of money, and I can't depend on my tiny pension or social security alone in my retirement years. My investments are more valuable and more risky - especially if companies are allowed to file semi-annually. Please don't change how companies report their financial status. That only benefits insiders. It's time to protect to majority, not the minority!

Tammi Sloan
3221 E Harbor Rd, Langley, WA 98260

www.mybrownwren.com - Handcrafted Jewelry and Wearable Art custom designed and created in mixed metals and vitreous enamel.

Tammy Bousman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tammy Bousman Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 History shows this is a very bad idea and the financial impact to the average American will be devastating. I have been a small business owner for over 30 years (as were my parents). We have ALWAYS had to report monthly, quarterly and annually. Why should this be any different? LEAVE IT THE WAY IT IS. We want to know what's happening with OUR money.

Tamara L Bousman
Small business owner and retiree living on a budget with SS and saved money from our small portfolio.

Tammy Hardy — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tammy Hardy Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Make it monthly. I am a retired principal that made way less and I had to disclose.

Tammy Osborne — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tammy Osborne Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Corrupt CEOs are known to manipulate their companies in order for these CEOs to secrecly make millions; leaving the company destroyed and investors financially ruined. This affects all of society. Government needs to protect it's citizens from these vile parasites!!
Tammy Osborne, retired teacher, mother of 4 college educated adults

---

Tammy Parravani — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tammy Parravani Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting allows for the right amount of monitoring.
Monthly reporting is too frequent and doesn’t really give a good snapshot while a six month window is too broad. Fraud and other problems can hide for too long during that six month period. There really is no GOOD reason to NOT report quarterly.
You say,” we want to keep up with global standards.” Check out what has happened with the 6 month reporting: companies hiding fraud, losses….
Vote NO on changing quarterly reporting

Sent from my iPhone

Tammy Reed — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tammy Reed Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Companies need to be transparent to the Country and their stock holders. Just like the Government.

Tammy Thompson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tammy Thompson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it Quarterly. We need more accountability not less

Sent from my iPhone

Tammy Tucker — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tammy Tucker Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep transparency!

Sent from my iPhone

Tammye Evans — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Tammye Evans Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Every financial crisis we have had in my lifetime has come from the financial community taking advantage. Trying to rob the public, cook the books or sell off bad debt. Unless you guys are in on the next crash, what possible reason would you lessen oversight??? More reporting not less!! While you're at it why aren't you looking at Congress's stock trading as well as all government employees including this president? My God you sent Martha Stewart to jail, I am pretty sure all of Washington is complicit in insider trading. Is there one rule for them and another for common people. Do your jobs!! Make companies report so common shareholders have information!! Make them report to keep them honest.

Tammye Evans

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

TampAdore YAH — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: TampAdore YAH Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Some things just don't need to change. You mean I could potentially be investing in the blind. Stop this now it will hurt the little man. Like it's always said small businesses make the country. Don't leave us out to dry. You have the power use it for humanity sakes.

Tamsin Falcone — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tamsin Falcone Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 As an American citizen who's earnings & taxes are delegated to some of these coroprations, I find the bill they are attempting to pass in order to delay the disclosure of their profits, taxes, & investments wafts of embezzlement & laundering. Why else would a legitimate corp/co. need to further delay reported earnings at this time & in this economy? This shows that their interest remain strictly private, & show no concern for the American public they rely on. This is deceptive and unacceptable. Business earnings, investments & their diversity should remain scheduled AS IS in order to allow the American people a fair & equal right to choose who, where, & when we invest or spend our limited resources. To take this right away is a slash democracy & sends us toward coporatocracy/oligarcy. That is un-

American & un-democratic. Thank you for your time, concern & consideration. Sincerely, A Financial Advisor

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Tanner Scott The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tanner Scott Reducing reporting requirements on corporations does not help the people of the United States. Individual investors, once again, would be harmed in this scenario. Our open and free markets are what makes this country great and I don't want to see us move backwards when it comes to information that is shared for the benefit of all shareholders. By reducing the reporting requirements for companies you would put the power in the organization rather than in the owners of that company. When this happens you risk increased volatility due to surprises piling up between long reporting periods.

Tanya Colvin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tanya Colvin Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We need to keep the reporting quarterly. Do not change this up and hide the truth from the public. .

Sent from my iPhone

Tanya Mayer-Mlekush — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tanya Mayer-Mlekush I have worked in banking and finance my entire adult life, I have seen first hand how being transparent is useful and essential. So many "think" they know how things work when they actually do not. Educating the consumer on a product is priority, when you own shares in a company the continuing education information flow must not be hindered. We must be kept informed, the funds the everyday investor has in these companies is for their retirement security and must be carefully considered and monitored by advisors and the investors. Do not allow this rule to pass it is unjust for the investor.

Tanya Sullivan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Tanya Sullivan Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Tanya Sullivan. My husband and I are small business owners from Oklahoma. As a small business, we are under the microscope from several entities, including the IRS, etc. It seems small businesses are held accountable more than large corporations in many ways so keeping a thumb under them a little bit doesn't hurt. Keep accountability QUARTERLY!! Don't give them a chance to hide information. Too much dishonesty is going on as it is.

Thank you,
Tanya Sullivan

Tara Dickson — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tara Dickson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Why let someone else control what you have and what you lose? This sounds so illegal. I bet somehow Trump is wanting this to happen. Quit following what that POS is trying to control.

Sent from my iPhone

Tara Lingg — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Tara Lingg Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
How about something that benefits citizens instead of corporations who are only interested in benefiting themselves and have no interest in transparency.
Tara Lingg

Tara McCraw — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Tara McCraw Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
No,No,No, This idea sounds like you wish to scam investors out of their money.Do you go 6 months without seeing your pay check or how it's leaving your bank accounts 🤔 Why would you think those investing their $$ would want to go that long without seeing returns on investments . When people feel scammed or cheated they will No longer invest & we will have a decline if not a crash in the market like we had in 2008 again. This is an Awful idea .This sounds like a Socialist idea to steal $$$ from the hard working people or manipulate the numbers so their investments show less growth while others pocket the $$$. Its bad enough everything is computerized but if we cant see it or have proof of OUR EARNINGS the stealing of investments just keeps getting worse (like in California Minnesota and NewYork) My answer is NO .Quarterly reviews are necessary. Not to mention What if we wanted to adjust what we were investing in or move our money to something different (more or less $$) Not being able to see it would make that impossible/difficult. This is a Bad Idea.

Tara Sabato IT -Retired — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tara Sabato Please continue to require quarterly reporting. It is even more critical now to have the information available since I am retired. I want to be able to handle appropriate funds so I can live the rest of my life without living in panic always. Thank you.

Tara Short — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Tara Short Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This decision is extremely alarming. Investors and companies must be transparent the market relies on it.

---

tarponlake — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: tarponlake Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The SEC is well aware what happened the last time Wall Street was given free reign, it did not go well. Do your job and keep the current regulations in place. You are endangering people's income, future and lives.

Sharon Mcauley
Safety Harbor, Florida

Sent from my Galaxy

Tasha M — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tasha M Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is completely disgusting! Stop following behind people corruptions and use your own brains. This is wrong and we the people will suffer as always

---

Tawanna Rowlett — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tawanna Rowlett Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Corporations and major CEO's do not need relief from proper paperwork and reporting of operations, income and profits. Quarterly reporting keeps them a little bit more honest or there wouldn't be people in jail that caused the rule to be set in the first place. Change of rule just implies the SEC is no longer honest. Tawanna Rowlett

---

Taylor Howard — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Taylor Howard Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Taylor Howard, Financial Advisor, Ada, OK 74820

Quarterly reporting needs to remain the standard or go to more rigorous reporting standards such as monthly or bi-monthly. The data these companies report are vital to investors and investment professionals to be able to make timely and educated investment decisions. If we go to bi-annual or annual reporting only we will be blindsided as investors and investment professionals. So I am asking that at a very minimum you keep quarterly reporting. If you want to make a change make reporting happen more frequently than quarterly, not less frequently. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Taylor

Thank you! I hope you have a fantastic day.

Taylor Howard

Taylor Kingsley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Taylor Kingsley Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 How about we tar and feather whoever thought this was a good idea. I'll save the rest of the comments for myself thank YOU very much

---

Taylor MacCallum — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Taylor MacCallum Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My opinion against quarterly reporting is that this change will allow companies to make decisions based on the opposite of transparency, which will give investors fake confidence. Per past rulings, companies are required to put shareholder value above else. Unless this older policy is being repealed, this new act would be in breach of the policy and should be disbanded outright. The old policy I refer to is the 1919 Michigan Surpreme Court case of Dodge vs Ford Motor Co which created the supremacy clause that this new policy is challenging

Sent from my iPhone

Team Pancho Barracuda DeborahS — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Team Pancho Barracuda DeborahS Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I suffered through Worldcom / MCI debacle. Quit making it easier for white collar crime and corporate leadership to hide behind less accountability and transparency. Leave the reporting quarterly.

Best,
M D Scanlon
Huntington Beach, CA

Sent from my mobile device.
Please forgive the brevity

Teara Forsythe — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Teara Forsythe I am writing as an individual investor and a Human Resources and Compliance professional with responsibility for governance, policy, risk management and organisational compliance. In my professional role, I regularly work with directors and senior leaders to improve transparency, accountability and governance within organisations. One principle remains consistent across every area of compliance: good governance relies on timely, accurate and regular reporting. For that reason, I oppose the proposal to reduce public company reporting from quarterly to semi-annual reporting. As shareholders, we are owners of the businesses in which we invest. Ownership should be accompanied by regular access to information that allows us to understand performance, assess risk and make informed decisions. Reducing the frequency of reporting does not reduce risk; it simply reduces visibility of that risk. I am not persuaded by arguments that less reporting will encourage long-term thinking. Long-term investors still benefit from timely information. In fact, long-term decision-making is strengthened when investors have a clearer understanding of how a company is performing throughout the year. From a governance perspective, less frequent reporting may also weaken accountability. Companies continue to make operational, financial and strategic decisions every day. Shareholders should not have to wait six months to receive formal updates on matters that may significantly affect the value and direction of the businesses they own. In my experience, transparency builds trust. Reduced transparency often creates uncertainty, speculation and avoidable risk. The same principle applies to public companies. Technology and modern reporting systems have significantly reduced the administrative burden associated with producing information. As a result, I do not believe any potential reduction in reporting effort outweighs the benefits of maintaining regular communication with shareholders. I therefore respectfully urge the SEC to reject this proposal and retain quarterly reporting requirements.

Ted Antal — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ted Antal Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is important

---

Ted Evans — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ted Evans Financial reports are very easy and cheap. How can we watch our investments if you cut the reports to bi-annual? Please leave well enough alone.

Ted Glover — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ted Glover Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Necessary to keep corporate honest and reduce the chance of greed. The last time this was tried it did not work and history does repeat itself.

Life is a daily adventure ride - Enjoy it!

Ted King — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ted King Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Ted King and I am an instructor at a trade school. My retirement is dependent upon accurate reporting of stock performance. Quarterly reporting ensures the most accurate valuation of stocks. Millions of Americans will suffer if the SEC changes reporting requirements.

Please, do what’s best for the working class. Just this once.

Sincerely,

Ted King

Sent from my iPhone

Ted McElroy The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ted McElroy As an investor, I own part of the companies in which I buy stock of. As such, timely information is crucial to making good business decisions. I feel as though decreasing the amount of reporting times will lead to less transparency of my investments. Less transparency will lead to more uncertainty and more volatility of the market. Please do not decrease the reporting periods from quarterly to semiannually.

Ted Mills — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ted Mills Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Eff no! More transparency, not less!

Sent from my iPhone

Ted Sauerland — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ted Sauerland Do you want to be remembered for helping the people or helping businesses? "Speak up for those who cannot speak for themselves" - Proverbs 31:8–9

---

ted turner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: ted turner I vote for quarterly reports which equal greater transparency.

---

tedur — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment - KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING From: tedur Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Fr. Ted Durst - American investors deserve to have the truth and full financial disclosure!

Sent from my Galaxy

TEMPEST BOOTH — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: TEMPEST BOOTH Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The quarterly reporting is necessary to keep companies motivated and meeting objectives due to accountability! Investors need to know! It’s our money investing in these companies so they need to have upmost accountability by giving reports at least every 3 months !

Sent from my iPhone

Temple — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Temple Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The reporting should be no less than quarterly! Maybe more often.

Sent from my iPhone

---

temujin111 — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: temujin111 Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Less frequent visibility is inviting negative consequences. Keep the reporting quarterly

---

Terence Henderson UK Based Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Terence Henderson Please retain quarterly filing. The information is essential for decision making.

Terence Stevenson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Terence Stevenson I am writing as both an individual retail investor and a Harvard-trained attorney to express my opposition to the proposal that would allow public companies to reduce their regular financial reporting from quarterly to semiannual reporting. Over the course of my legal career, I have had the opportunity to represent publicly traded companies. In my experience, the discipline of quarterly reporting encourages management teams to remain focused, accountable, and results-oriented. While no reporting system is perfect, the regular cadence of quarterly reporting creates meaningful checkpoints that promote thoughtful execution, timely evaluation of strategy, and accountability to shareholders. As an investor, I view myself as an owner of the businesses in which I invest. Owners deserve regular, transparent updates on a company's financial performance, strategic direction, material risks, and management's execution. While reducing reporting frequency may provide some cost savings for issuers, I believe those savings are outweighed by the benefits of transparency. Advances in technology, automation, and artificial intelligence have significantly reduced many of the administrative burdens associated with preparing periodic reports, making the rationale for reducing disclosure less compelling today. I am also not persuaded that less frequent reporting would meaningfully reduce short-term thinking. Long-term investing is shaped by corporate leadership and investor behavior—not by withholding information. Reducing the frequency of public reporting does not encourage patience; it simply leaves investors with fewer reliable facts on which to base investment decisions. Less frequent reporting could also increase uncertainty, widen information asymmetries between institutional and retail investors, and contribute to greater market volatility when significant information is finally released. Predictable, regular disclosure promotes confidence in our capital markets by ensuring that all investors have access to comprehensive, standardized information on a consistent schedule. As someone who has advised public companies and who now invests my own capital as a retail shareholder, I believe quarterly reporting strengthens corporate accountability, supports investor confidence, and enhances the integrity and efficiency of our public markets. For these reasons, I respectfully urge the Commission to retain the existing quarterly reporting framework. Thank you for your consideration.

Teresa Ashworth — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Teresa Ashworth Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
To Whom It May Concern:
I am writing to you today as a concerned citizen and as an investor. Please keep the quarterly reporting so that our investments are transparent and we can know what is going on financially with the corporations we support. Thank you for your consideration.
Sincerely,
Teresa Ashworth

Teresa Cook — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Teresa Cook Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Teresa A, retired……We need to maintain quarterly reporting…. We do not want to squeeze out new investors or Retirees who live to see growth, with their money…not fraud.

Teresa ~

Teresa Fultz — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Teresa Fultz Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: I am a everyday investor. This is how I survive. This plan benefits a few. Do no approve !!!

Teresa Girard — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Teresa Girard Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep reporting quarterly. We need to know what is going on.

Teresa H Hanak — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Teresa H Hanak We are against reducing corporate financial reporting from quarterly to twice per year.

Teresa Hernandez — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Teresa Hernandez Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 longer gaps create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders.

---

teresa johnson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: teresa johnson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The American people already have enough from our government hidden from them. Let the SEC be the light!

Teresa Johnson

Teresa Kohl — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Teresa Kohl Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We've allowed far too many actions, laws, what's fair about granting time to hide, manipulate and cheat? You all know that allowing them more latitude will only be an invitation to take liberties and get creative. YOU, the SEC know this. You will be held responsible event for laying down a yellow brick road to temptation for insiders who will think you're fools but gladly accept the gold brick leaving regular investors dog paddling. Please restore our faith a bit in an already corrupted and failing system. Rock steady and use you power wisely.. PLEASE protect Main Street Market and save the yellow brick road for OZ!

Teresa Lopez The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Teresa Lopez Keep the public company reports at four times a year for more transparency and to help me make wise, informed investments. Thank you.

---

teresa louise hensley tlhbliss — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: teresa louise hensley tlhbliss Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I am Teresa Hensley, a retired attorney living just outside of Austin. I'm 74 and retired.
What we need is more accountability. Not less. No, it is not acceptable to have quarterly reports taken away from us. My own finances are checked monthly. I would prefer to see monthly rather than quarterly. But semi-annually is simply not acceptable!

Teresa Miller The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Teresa Miller Please keep communication flowing on a quarterly basis. Thank you!

Teresa Norton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Teresa Norton Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Why would you even think of not being transparent as often as possible. I expect quarterly or more often. Fewer problems would arise if it’s quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

Teresa Pearson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Teresa Pearson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Keep a close eye on them, check them quarterly.....

Teresa Ramirez — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Teresa Ramirez Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Businesses should have more transparency not less. Even 3 months is a very long time to hold their books. 6 months would give ample time for any cover ups to take place. Changing the guidelines for reporting is adding ways to build more corruption.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Teresa Retired public servant — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Teresa The true definition of business is; lie, cheat and steal from ALL. Honesty was killed decades ago. Naturally, they want to hide truth.

Teresa Riska-Hall — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Teresa Riska-Hall Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I believe quarterly reporting is much needed in order to plan and prepare throughout the year. This is very important not only for individuals contributing into their IRA's, retirement plans, etc. but also to nonprofit work where company's timely quarterly reporting help assess the trajectory, stability, and other advances that are needed to make good decisions.

Companies already have to do their books, so the savings if anything is minimal while the transparency provided in quarterly reports is necessary and also provides the added benefit of less opportunity for disingenuous maneuvering.
Teresa Riska-Hall, Retired NonProfit Executive

Sent from your iPhone

Teresa Roberts — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Teresa Roberts Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly for sure, but monthly would be better.

Teresa Tippett — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Teresa Tippett Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To whom it may concern,

Please keep company reporting quarterly. It is well known how companies/executives use loopholes in rules and regs to hide fault from share owners just to enrich themselves. They don't need extra time to hide more financial information from shareholders and the public. Keep companies as honest as you can! We cannot go back to the 1920's when the Morgan's, Rockefellers, Mellon's, and Livermore's ruined our financial system. We need more constraints not less!

Thank you for your time,
Teresa Demosky-Tippett
Concerned citizen

Teresa Webb — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Teresa Webb Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Teresa Webb, retiree Companies need to keep their reports quarterly to safeguard the valuation of retirement accounts .

Get Outlook for iOS

Teri Alberico — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Teri Alberico Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The SEC must keep quarterly reporting. Stop falling into drumpf's criminal ways of doing business! Keep the reports coming so WE can make decisions on our own investments.

Teri Heyman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Teri Heyman Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I'm horrified that you are even thinking about this. Companies are already getting away with so much. I bet that if you look into many of the companies further, you'd find that their "accounting" is cooked up. They should also not be able to contribute politically. I don't feel that a politician should be beholden to a corporation. I'm a longtime voter and feel this country has declined so far down because of not being accountable. Please, be accountable and keep the quarterly reporting.
Thank you!
Teri Heyman,
Florida

Teri Obole/Kulla — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Teri Obole/Kulla Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We need to have quarterly reporting!!

Envoye de mon iPhone

Teri Rosenzweig — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Teri Rosenzweig Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: do not reduce corporations reporting from quarterly to twice per year. This would bring chaos to the stock market!

Teri Slick — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Teri Slick Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 As a person who lives on a fixed income, my investments are important to me. I depend on the quarterly reports to determine if they remain profitable as well as being able to see where the company has been and what their future holds. In this ever changing world, it is important to know the position of the company and the thoughts of other investors.

Teri

Terrence Pershall CEO Haute Shelter Property Mgmnt,Inc — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Terrence Pershall Reducing reporting to twice a year is a bad idea. If anything investors need to be kept up to date on a regular basis. The lack of timely reporting and disclosure opens the door to mismanagement and malfeasance.

Terri Bagley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Terri Bagley Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Terri bagley, us citizen, this matters to me because we are retiring soon and need to stay abreast of all the indicators in the companies we invest in. Please do not throw us little guys under the bus!

Terri Flickinger — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terri Flickinger Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reporting. The new rule hurts nonprofits and small investors.

Terri Maldonado — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Terri Maldonado Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I believe Quarterly’s are absolutely necessary. Makes it easier to catch fraudulent transactions!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Terri Mellor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Terri Mellor I strongly oppose reducing company reporting to twice a year. Investors deserve consistent, timely information, and cutting reporting frequency weakens transparency. When updates are less frequent, the size and impact of business changes—good or bad—grow larger, making it harder for investors to protect themselves. The SEC's role is to safeguard market integrity, and maintaining quarterly reporting is an important part of that mission.

Terri Slaughter — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Terri Slaughter Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep quarterly!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Terri Stumpf — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Terri Stumpf Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We red quarterly reports!
it's one way to keep tabs on my money.
KEEP QLUARTERLY REPORTS!

Terri Thomas — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Terri Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 If you want people to invest in companies and the stock market, you first need to ensure it is transparent. Wide fluctuations occur on a quaterly basis and investors will have absolutely no gauge on company performance and their investment until it is too late to act. Go back to the reasons quarterly reporting was implemented in the first place. Please do the job you were elected to do. The people have spoken, they want quarterly reporting to continue.

Sent from my iPhone

Terri W — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Terri W Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting!

My name is Terri Watson and I'm retired. I prefer to be able to see how my investments and retirement income is doing in a timely fashion so my investment advisor and I can make adjustments in a timely manner. Continuing to require quarterly reporting allows this.

As I am retired, I live on a fixed income and this oversight is crucial. The more information we, as consumers, have the better decisionmaking options are available to us.
Thank you. Terri Watson

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Terrie Supancic — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Terrie Supancic Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Please do not cheat investors of proper oversight!

Terry Blank — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Terry Blank There should be quarterly reporting so that there is more transparency to investors

---

Terry Callahan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Terry Callahan As an investor, I'm making my decisions based on the quality of organization, its people and its current and future objectives. I rely on regular, transparent communications from that business. Reducing reporting requirements will dramatically impact my ability to track my investment in that company as an owner. Less transparency ultimately leads to more uncertainty, more volatility, and more surprises on a larger scale. Markets are volatile enough, let's not shy away from accountability at a time when it's needed most. Less information clearly will not make me a better informed owner.

Terry Carpenter — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Terry Carpenter I believe it is very important as an individual investor to allow me the opportunity to as much transparency and information on the companies that I invest in. I am already at a huge disadvantage to the large institutional investment groups and taking the reporting to 6 months will make that worse. Thank you.

Terry Cole — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Terry Cole Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Terry Cole. Someone who lived through Enron, and doesn't want to see it again. They abused it last time, why would you think they wouldn't this time, especially as the top 10% is getting bigger. They aren't going to police themselves. They aren't hiding it vacate they are being honest.

Terry Davis — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Terry Davis I do NOT want to lose the transparency of businesses providing me updates 4 times a year when I am investing in them. Keeping the status quo is not a financial burden to those companies when the benefit from my invested funds and I have a right to as much information as possible to determine whether to stay invested and for purposes of determining my actions at Shareholder meetings.

Terry Gasper — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Terry Gasper I am opposed to any change in policy that allows less transparency for the companies I own.

Terry Geesner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terry Geesner Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Continue with current Quarterly Reporting. Retired. Important for my IRA income. Removing this reduces future purchasing power which will reduce corporate profits as millions of retirees will have less money to spend.

Sent from my iPhone

Terry Green — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Terry Green Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Better accountability for account holders.

Terry M. Green

Terry J. Norris n/a — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Terry J. Norris We need more transparency not less. A lot changes in six months, informed decisions are key to investing. The digitization of records has streamlined the reporting process a great deal and AI promises to do so even more. Cost savings is not believable excuse for curtailing reporting the financial health of a corporation half as often. If anything, one would expect an almost weekly or even daily reporting giving the advancement of technology. Reporting only twice a year only helps corporate boards hide bad news from investors. KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING!

Terry Keizer The Motley Fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Terry Keizer The Motley Fool Eliminating 2 reporting sessions decreases transparency. No matter what the companies are saying who support this, there will be more problems than solutions.

Terry Livingston — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Terry Livingston Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No monopolies in America!

Terry Livingston
Powell, TN

Terry Luciano — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Terry Luciano Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Another benefit for Millionaires and Oligarths!!!

Terry Michael None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Terry Michael As a small investor I am against this new rule change. Quarterly reports are still needed and the existing rules should not be changed.

Terry Olsen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Terry Olsen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Why WOULDN'T a CEO want to proudly confirm that his/her company is running everything properly? I would think it's a point of pride for any leader with integrity. If a company is being traded publicly, then the public who is funding it is entitled to know how things are being done, at the end of every accounting period - quarterly. Again, why wouldn't you?

Terry S — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Terry S Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 You report QUARTERLY. I am a retired RN and worked for the State of New York. We all need to see how we are doing quarterly so adjustments can be made. Teres Swartz RN Upstate New York

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Terry Talbot — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Terry Talbot Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Stop the madness and corruption! When the house of cards falls you are at the top!

Sent from my iPhone

Terry Thomas — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terry Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Hell no

---

Terry Tyson None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Terry Tyson A proposal is now on the table to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. I think that's a mistake! Investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Less information rarely creates better-informed owners. Less transparency doesn't eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater.

Terry Vance — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Terry Vance Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it Quarterly, we need Honest CEO,s some people depend on them! Terry Vance Adkins Tx (retired)

Eph 2:8-10

Terry Walkling — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Terry Walkling Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I want to know how well my portfolio is doing on a much more timely basis. YOU as a government agency are supposed to be looking out for ME as a citizen. DO YOUR JOB!! Stop allowing those corporate bastards get away with this!

Sent from my iPhone

Terry Wilson Retired Investor - Formerly Wealth Management Advisor and Manager — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Terry Wilson As an investor who believes in ownership it is important to get current accurate information. Quarterly reports keep the investor current while semi-annual reports lets too much time elapse before the owner/investor receives information.

Terry Wooding — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terry Wooding Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is necessary to protect investors & the public in general. Period. Changing it to every 6 months allows too much time for downturns & fraud to remain hidden, and threatens the economy of our country.

Terry “ChiefShoeless” Riley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Terry “ChiefShoeless” Riley Instead of building the trust of the investors you are burning the bridges of transparency. Leave the four times a year reporting alone!

---

terrylynn Dupree — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: terrylynn Dupree Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I am the president of an investment club, and we make investment decisions using access to quarterly reports. There is no need to hide information or lower expectations when corporations already keep detailed records of their performance each quarter. Shareholders and potential shareholders deserve access to that information as well.
We need to stop making things easier for corporations at the expense of transparency. Oversight and regulations exist for a reason. Proper safeguards help promote accountability, protect investors, and reduce opportunities for corruption.

Tess Zigo CFP CPA — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Tess Zigo CFP CPA Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
What's at stake: My portfolio, life savings, and retirement future of the many clients we serve Having worked both in corporate finance/accounting and in financial planning, information transparency is key. Corporations have an obligation to provide information to their shareholders on a quarterly basis to make sure we are kept informed of financial details that is current. Just like a household needs to look at financials often, corporations need to be held accountable to their stakeholders. This not only keeps them honest but allows free markets to function as efficiently as possible. I think giving them a 6 month pass is just an excuse to lower their expenses, let them reduce workforce and not provide timely information. As a shareholder and financial advisor I say NO. Thank you for your time, Tess

---

Tessy Novak — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tessy Novak Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We don't want to go back to the fraud times! Let's keep it where "We the people " see what's happening quarterly!
M. T. Novak

Texan Taxpayer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Texan Taxpayer To whom it may concern, Less reporting means less transparency and wilder swings in the markets. There is only one reason to have less transparency, and that is to promote corruption. Less reporting hurts investors and lessens trust in institutions. If anything, we should be pushing for MORE reporting, not less.

Texascountryboy59 — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Texascountryboy59 Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 What are you doing. We all know. Protecting the ones that own you and the banking system. It is getting harder to hide your hijinks.

Sent from my iPhone

Thaendra Christenson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Thaendra Christenson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Supporting businesses and the economy is one thing. Supporting fraud and crime in general is quite another. It isn't clear how this is even legal. Even the Constitution says all men are created equal.

I guess the SEC must not support the Constitution or regulations/ laws in general.

Look back to when and why the SEC was created^^ (see below for a brief reminder). There's no reason to stray from those initial directions.

^^
The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) was created in 1934 by Congress to restore public confidence in the financial markets following the 1929 stock market crash and the onset of the Great Depression.

The primary reasons for its establishment include:

-  Combating Fraud and Manipulation:
Prior to the SEC, oversight was virtually nonexistent. Widespread unethical trading practices, insider trading, and unchecked "bucket shops" heavily contributed to the 1929 market crash.

-  Enforcing Corporate Transparency:
Investigations (such as the Pecora hearings) revealed that financial institutions were misleading investors. The SEC was created to require public companies to disclose meaningful, accurate, and truthful financial information.

-  Protecting Investors:
The agency's core mission is to protect investors from fraud and ensure that average individuals can trust the information provided by those seeking their investment dollars.

-  Regulating Market Intermediaries:

The SEC was established to oversee stock exchanges, brokers, dealers, and mutual funds, making the markets fair, orderly, and efficient.

Congress codified this mandate through the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, establishing the SEC as the first federal regulatory agency for all U.S. securities markets.

Congress should be the only one to change this mandate.

Thalor Greenhorn — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Thalor Greenhorn Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I think it should be increased to a monthly report. Keep it Quarterly, don't let businesses hide stuff from their shareholders and consumers.

The Bass Player — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: The Bass Player Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep quarterly.

The Diserio's — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: The Diserio's Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep a Quarterly reporting.

Pat Diserio.
Licensed Mental Health Counselor

Sent via the Samsung Galaxy S25 Ultra, an AT&T 5G smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

The Hurds — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: The Hurds Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 So many of my generation have invested in wall street to help finance their small businesses or family holdings and now there may be a period of no reporting to let them decide on what stocks to keep buy or sell. I say not fair and should not be allowed
LJ Hurd

Sent from my iPhone

The Law Office of David S. Fabrikant — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Proposed change from quarterly to semi-annually From: The Law Office of David S. Fabrikant Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To whom it may concern,

I am an attorney in South Florida and I have to tell you that the idea of reducing the reporting from quarterly to semi-annually is insane. On every basis, Accountability, Lending, Accuracy for Investors, Safety, Evidence, Investigations, this reporting needs to be as often as possible. You have to weigh the potential damage from not reporting, against the costs to the company. The balance is heavily in favor of keeping the quarterly reporting. Changing it invites fraud, and deception and delays the ability of people to correct errors or change directions. It makes everything riskier with no upside, and further tells the world that those at the top will no longer be held to the same standards as the rest of us.

Sincerely,

David S. Fabrikant, Esq.
Law Office of David S. Fabrikant, P.A.
5500 Military Trail, Suite 22244
Jupiter, FL 33458
(561) 841-6955
dsfabrikant@gmail.com
www.helpinglawyer.com

The Motley Fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Please keep quarterly reporting. We need more information as we navigate our companies in this fast- moving economic world. Having specifics is very helpful in making decisions.

The Motley Fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Email requesting my assistance

---

The Motley Fool Co — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Co As an investor, I am against S7-2026-15 reducing the reporting requirements from 4 to 2 times per year . this creates less information and transparency. Investors will be less likely to purchase specific stocks and funds due to receiving pertinent financial information only twice a year. Much less transparency.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community investors need to know this information and the tools are available already to make this is cost effective process. Keep it to four annually or make it monthly!

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community I disagree with reducing the frequency of company financial reporting. I need more information, not less, to make decisions for my future retirement income and lifestyle. Thank you for your consideration.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community Companies reporting less often will not help the individual investors. Six months is a long time to go when monitoring the status of a company. The current system is much better, not too frequent to be a burden on a company, not too far apart to be a surprise to investors.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community Less disclosure of financial statements is not good for investors. Quarterly reporting should be the minimum reporting to investors. More disclosure not less!

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community I feel strongly that timely information is essential to good investing. With that in mind, I feel strongly that publicly traded companies MUST report on at least a quarterly basis.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community This is a wildly concerning slippery slope that is being considered. It should NOT be approved.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community It must remain the required 4 times a year. Stop looking for ways to rip off retail investors.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community This proposal cuts my information flow from the companies I'm invested in, in half. It will make company performance much more uncertain and therefore investing itself more uncertain. It would be more helpful and more accurate to have reporting monthly rather than quarterly.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community To the Securities and Exchange Commission, I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposal to reduce public-company reporting requirements from quarterly to semiannual. At its core, investing is a form of ownership; therefore, reducing reporting requirements weakens the vital connection between companies and their owners. I believe these changes are part of a worrying trend that serves to keep average citizens in the dark. True market integrity relies on transparency, not the restriction of information. Less transparency does not eliminate uncertainty; it increases it, leading to bigger surprises and greater market volatility when information finally does arrive. This move seems to run counter to the foundational values of this country. The founding fathers recognized that transparency and an informed citizenry were essential to the nation. They recognized that holding institutions accountable is a cornerstone of liberty—a principle that defined the search for a more open and equitable society. By limiting the regular flow of information, this proposal moves in the opposite direction, undermining the spirit of accessibility and informed participation that remains essential to our economic freedom. I urge you to reject this proposal and maintain the current reporting standards.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community Reducing the number of yearly reports will only reduce transparency, lead to more volatility and help insiders while damaging everybody else. The little savings companies can gain from skipping two reports a year are not worth it.

The motley fool community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The motley fool community I feel companies should be accountable to shareholders so twice a year for reporting does not seem reasonable

---

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community I 100% oppose this proposal. 1/4 ly reporting is critical to individual investors as owners of publicly traded companies.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community I believe quarterly reporting should continue to be required for public companies to maintain adequate transparency to shareholders.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community Having been on the internal side of reporting at multiple F500 companies, the quarterly lift is light. Your finance org already runs these numbers, and if you’re big enough to be public, you have finance and investor relations teams who can handle it. Transparency is your debt to shareholders. Stop trying to default.

The Motley Fool community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool community I strongly object to this proposal as it would be detrimental to investors. Reducing reporting requirements will lead to disastrous consequences that will result in ruination for investors while corporate executives profit at their expense.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community Maintain transparency with quarterly reports for public companies. Companies already produce them for its internal use, the cost of making them public is marginal and maintains the trust. Investors understand the cyclic nature of business more transparency is better.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community Please do not cut the number of public company reports. I'm fighting for retail investor transparency. Thank you, Brian Bush

---

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community A proposal is now on the table to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. We think that’s a mistake! At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Some argue that fewer reports would reduce costs. Maybe. Although in an age of AI and increasingly efficient disclosure tools, even that point is debatable. Others argue it would ease the pressure to manage quarter to quarter. But short-termism comes from how people react to information, not from the information itself. Taking the reports away doesn't make anyone more patient. It just makes everyone less informed. What isn't debatable is that less information rarely creates better-informed owners. Imagine owning a business and getting updates from your managers only twice a year. It would still run every day. You'd just know far less about how it was doing. That's effectively what's being proposed here. Companies will continue operating every day. Products will be launched. Customers will be won and lost. Strategies will succeed and fail. Yet under this proposal, owners would receive only half as many official updates about the businesses they own. Less transparency doesn't eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community As an individual investor and member of The Motley Fool Community, I oppose reducing public company reporting from quarterly to semiannual. Regular reporting provides transparency and helps investors make informed decisions. Receiving fewer updates would increase uncertainty and make it harder for shareholders to understand how the businesses they own are performing. I believe maintaining quarterly reporting better serves investors and promotes accountability. Thank you.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community As a shareholder I expect to know everything about the businesses I'm investing in, otherwise I would feel a lot less comfortable buying shares. Meaning, this move will only take away shareholders and lose companies millions of dollars. I vote against moving company updates from four times a year to only two times a year.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community I am an individual investor and I believe that quarterly reports for corporations should be maintained. Providing quarterly information does not place any hardship on corporations. Regulation fair disclosure should be kept at quarterly report filings.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community Transparency is key to understanding whether a company is succeeding or not. Biannual as opposed to quarterly reporting may in principle decrease the burden on companies but it may also decrease accountability and increase the risk to investors. Already too much occurs behind closed doors…information rather than faith is required to invest in companies as we attempt to secure our financial futures.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community This is deleterious to individual and professional investors. This will result in more limited transparency, higher volatility with limited financial benefits to firms.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community Please retain the requirement that regulated companies prepare quarterly reports of financial performance. I typify the mom-and-pop investor class on whom the capital markets depend on for a measure of stability against algorithmic traders, and day-traders, and of course market manipulators. S7-2026-15 will create an unfair advantage for employee and professional investors with the resources to scrutinize visible operations in between reports. ESOP participants and corporate officers will be able to plan their trades, even when restricted to regulatory windows, based on a more current business awareness, These unfair advantages contradict the efficient information hypothesis at the root of the investment marketplace. Less frequent financial reporting would also increases the significance of insights investors derive from each report, which can be expected to increasing the volatility of capital flows and share price when reports are released. I find no credibility in the argument that significant corporate resources will be saved by abandoning quarterly reports. Corporation must establish and operate accounting systems report their financial performance, regardless of frequency. In the age of computing, financials are just a periodic snapshot of the state of these accounting systems. The cost of collecting each snapshot is de minimis. I also reject the argument that quarterly reporting forces companies to abandon long-term strategies because investors will punish the share price for the short-term financial pain that such strategies sometimes require. Patient investors are not concerned by short-term dips in financial metrics which are facilitate longer-term strategies; we just need to have confidence that dips are a consequence of those strategies, and that they are on-course. Corporations and financial industry employees and officers compensation is frequently tied to short-term improvements in share price, which creates a class of impatient investors. The root cause of their impatience is not quarterly reporting; it is the short-term bias baked into their compensation plans. While that’s a private matter, SEC rule making should not kowtow to that short-term orientation. I also hear complaints that SEC reporting requirements place companies at a competitive disadvantage to private or foreign corporations that are not required to exhibit the financial transparency presently required by the SEC. The solution is not to facilitate a race to the bottom by allowing the companies you regulate to be less transparent. The solution is to maintain and improve the transparency of the companies you regulate, attracting capital from investors worldwide that value that transparency. Statesman-like encouragement of increased transparency in foreign capital markets will lift the tide for all investors. This rule is the top of a slippery slope toward driving patient small investors out of the marketplace. I respectfully but strongly urge you to reject the proposed rule and to retain quarterly reporting. Thank you for considering my comments.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community There needs to be checks and balances in this industry and by reducing quarterly reporting, we have no idea if changes to a company are good stewardship decisions.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community The lack of transparency for a publicly traded company is unacceptable. You would not want to own part of a company if you did not know what was happening financially with that company

---

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community More reporting, more transparency. We own parts of companies, we deserve to know!

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community As investors and nominal owners of public companies we need quarterly information thst would be denied under this rule change.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community Less reporting = less transparency. As shareholders, investors are business owners and deserve transparency in the way their businesses are being run. Semiannual reporting kills transparency. It’s not the way to go!

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community Investors should be kept informed about the business quarterly.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community I believe semi-annual reporting is not in the best interests of shareholders or the general public. I can't fathom why someone would want less transparency for shareholders. If the company wants less transparency, they should go private.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community Investors want more transparency, not less. Six months is a long time in today’s business environment and if companies are allowed to report on a bi-annual basis unnecessary risk is being added to the marketplace. Allow me to put it another way, if companies have nothing to hide they don’t mind reporting on a quarterly basis. Frankly, companies should release financials on a monthly basis!

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community Please keep Public Company reporting transparent. I believe mandatory quarterly reporting is the way to do this.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community I support quarterly reporting. Quarterly reporting allows us to know about the progress of companies we are investing in regularly. 6 months is too long a period to understand companies plans and execution.

The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community I do not support receiving less information regarding potential investments of mine. As an “middle class working American” I rely heavily on this information so I can make well informed decisions regarding investments that are not fun money, but is critical to supporting and enabling a financialy solid retirement. Thank you.

The Motley fool community Professional trader — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley fool community I support companies reporting no less than 4 times a year for continuing transparency in these trying times

---

The Motley Fool Community Series 10 Supervisory Principle — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community We need disclosure. Do not allow these companies to get away with even LESS disclosure

---

The Motley Fool Community - Scoobeydo Retired Accountant — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community - Scoobeydo I am a CPA by profession and look forward to each of the four financial reports issued by the companies I invest in. I pay attention to which Directors have investments in the company and how much long-term debt the company has. I also look for errors in the financials. I don't want the companies to only file financials twice a year.

The Motley Fool Community 401k is in stocks — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community This is about less transparency to protect those who abuse the system (insider trading is a disgusting reality and a crime). Stock owners own part of the company and have a right to be informed about it. Knowing less about those companies is a clear disadvantage to stock owners by increasing risk. People like us, will logically have to pull out of stocks to reduce risk and protect our retirement funds that took a lifetime to earn. The markets will feel this pullback and reflect a subsequent drop. We need MORE transparency not LESS!!!

The Motley Fool Community Certified Public Accountant, Pennsylvania — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community Please DO NOT move away from quarterly reporting. Greater transparency helps individual investors understand how the companies they have entrusted with their money are performing and is in completely in keeping with the Securities and Exchange Act of 1933.

The Motley Fool Community Ex Chartered Accountant England & Wales — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community The proposal is ridiculous. Since when was less transparency better? As a part owner I of a business I want more informaton not less and I want fellow owners to be fully informed.

The Motley Fool Community Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community Please DO NOT LIMIT the number of reports any company can produce and send out to their investors. More transparency will always be better than less. The cost savings for printing and sending out less reports would be negligible at best.

The Motley Fool Community Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community In this age, increased meaningful communication is vital.

The Motley Fool Community N/A — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community Please make all publicly traded companies adhere to quarterly filings, 2 x yearly is an awful way to conduct buisness transactions when it comes to investing in the stock market!! Thank you for your time... Mr. John Davis

---

The Motley Fool Community Non — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community Please retain the quarterly reporting requirements for investors. Transparency is everything, from investing to personal relationships. The SEC needs to model an open market and culture in our time of increased deception and volatility.

The Motley Fool Community None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community I am against the proposal of twice yearly reporting

---

The Motley Fool Community none — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community I believe that a requirement for reduced reporting would be a retrograde move as it would reduce both transparency of companies and the likelihood of timely regulation.

THE MOTLEY FOOL COMMUNITY NONE — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: THE MOTLEY FOOL COMMUNITY less information will lead to more volitile markets and more confusion on the part of investors as to the condition of their investments and it value.

The Motley Fool Community Subscriber — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community I do not support the reduction of required Company reported financial information from 4 times to 2 times a year. Investors need a line of sight as to company financial performance in order to make informed investment decisions. The reduction in reporting will create a lack of transparency and lessen and investors' ability to make informed decisions and increase their risk exposure.

The Motley Fool Community The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community I don't agree to having less information from the companies I'm investing in, by reducing the reports.

The Motley Fool Community The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community Less information, especially towards ownership of any thing, is almost never (if not always) bad in end of itself. Any argument for such a move, not withstanding baseless claims that it might be better for the environment, seems to genuinely be hiding an agenda that does not bode well for the leadership of such a company. Moreover, arguments based on efficiency and cost also do the company no good since it, again, reflects poorly on that company's work ethics, values, and commitment (if any) to transparency. Ownership in a company means something. Taking away the insight that comes with the ownership (i.e., less reporting of the financial health of said company) deters anyone from even wanting to seriously own any part of that company and by extension, seems to be very anti-capitalist. In a nuthsell, less information is a bad idea to begin with. I hope publically listed companies keep reporting their health every quarter and keep their shareholders well informed!

The Motley Fool Community The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners.

The Motley Fool Community The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community We need more transparency, not less, in financial reporting. The proposed rule changes are VERY detrimental to being able to follow and understand a companies financial path. There is enough fraud under the current rules. We don't need to let it grow even bigger by this proposed rule change. The Motley Fool Community

---

The Motley Fool Community The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community As a foreign investor and the sheer number of listed companies, it is important to have regular reporting by companies so that investors like myself are able to review the businesses

---

The Motley Fool Community. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community. As an individual investor and member of The Motley Fool Community, I support maintaining quarterly reporting requirements for public companies. Regular, transparent communication helps shareholders make informed decisions and strengthens the relationship between companies and their owners. Reducing reporting frequency would decrease transparency and could increase uncertainty and market volatility. Investors deserve timely access to information about the businesses they own.

The Motley Fool Community. The Motley Fool Community. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community. transparency for all investors

---

The Motley Fool Community/ none — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Community/ That less information rarely creates better-informed owners. Dont change reporting. Leave it alone. It involves expending time and effort on a mission that has no hope of success or offers no worthwhile return.

The Motley Fool Comunity — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Comunity In this day, the pace of change has dramatically increased, the speed at which companies succeed or fail has become frantic, and news, new laws and geopolitical events have now a more direct impact on the management of most companies, specially the ones that are leading the Stock Market, restricting the information of business affairs to its shareholders will only increase the uncertainty and magnify surprises, making the Stockmarket more susceptible to larger, and sudden corrections. If it's not broken, why fix it, IA will only make quarterly reports easier. Please keep the current state of affairs.

The Motley Fool Comunity none — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool Comunity We need 4 reporting dates for transparency and up to date information.

The motley fool Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The motley fool 4 times a year. Don't get lazy.

The Motley Fool investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool investor I'm a small time investor however I like to keep up on what is happening with my investments and reducing the reporting time from 4 to 2 times is not a positive decision. A lot can happen in 6 months that can change how I stay invested.

The Motley Fool The Motley Fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: The Motley Fool A proposal is now on the table to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. That's a mistake! At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Some argue that fewer reports would reduce costs. Maybe. Although in an age of AI and increasingly efficient disclosure tools, even that point is debatable. Others argue it would ease the pressure to manage quarter to quarter. But short-termism comes from how people react to information, not from the information itself. Taking the reports away doesn't make anyone more patient. It just makes everyone less informed. What isn't debatable is that less information rarely creates better-informed owners. Do not change the rules for fewer public-company reports.

The Names M — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: The Names M Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is bull *! And you know it

Sent from my iPhone

The Preisler Family — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: The Preisler Family Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This latest exercise in insider generosity will make it more rather than less likely that my confidence in the U.S. stock market will ever be sufficiently restored to begin investing again. Please get real and increase rather than decrease reporting frequencies of all publicly traded corporations.

Regards,
Joel Preisler
Professional Skeptic

Sent from my iPhone

---

the.yooper — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: the.yooper Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Lengthening The Reporting period instead of keeping it quarterly will be dangerously lacks in the needed oversight to keep financial reports open and above board for regulation and prevention of financial crimes. I strongly oppose anything longer than quarterly filings.

Sent from Proton Mail for iOS.

Theodore Seeber — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Theodore Seeber Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Wrong direction. What we need is automated AI reporting on a 15 minute SLA. With that it will become impossible to hide anything, and is to short of a cycle to affect R&D.

Theophilus G. Smith The Motley Fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Theophilus G. Smith While moving to a longer interval between corporate reporting requirements may reduce the paperwork required by those corporations, it also lessens the amount and currency of information that stock holders are given. It also reduces the accountability that financial news organizations and interested and involved industry representatives, not to mention stock holders now can demand during quarterly calls. This also handcuffs prospective buyers of the corporations stock because the information they need to make buying decisions can get stale. It will cause a lull in stock trading in the corporations during the extended reporting period since old information may not be actionable.

---

thepazmores — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: thepazmores Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Deborah Passmore, retired. This legislation was initiated to keep companies honest and require transparency. The chance for corruption in this area is large, and cutting reporting in half will generate exactly the corruption this law prevented! Do not allow it. Please.

Sent from my Galaxy

Theresa — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Theresa Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting for the following reasons: Longer gaps create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders. As small investors, we are the least in the know and longer reporting times make us more vulnerable to deception and manipulation by insiders with vastly more resources. Making semi-annual reporting "optional" is meaningless because companies that opt in are often the ones whose investors most need frequent updates. Finally, the savings to companies by less reporting aren't worth the cost to small investors like me.

Theresa — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Theresa Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is a minimum acceptable accountability. With massive amounts of $ being transferred daily, there must be visibility to the public! This appears a further control of the upper echelon in the financial world playing with the livelihood of the masses. If transactions are legitimate , there should be no reason for this measure. It is ludicrous in this age of tech to claim this is for simplifying processing of $ information.

Sent from my iPhone

Theresa Gelchie Retired Director of Human Resources — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Theresa Gelchie I vote to continue quarterly reporting

---

Theresa Gram — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Theresa Gram Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We're seniors invested in the stock market. We are adamantly opposed to changing the quarterly reporting period. You know dang well insiders will have access to information at our expense. That not only affects us and our heirs, it affects the economic health of our rural communities. This is a campaign issue and we're going to be loud.

Theresa Gram — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Theresa Gram Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We're seniors invested in the stock market. We are adamantly opposed to changing the quarterly report. You know dang well insiders will have access to information at our expense. That not only affects us and our heirs, it affects the economic health of our rural communities. This is a campaign issue and we're going to be loud.

Theresa Jones — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Theresa Jones Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep up t quarterly!!

Sent from my iPhone

Theresa Kircher — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Theresa Kircher Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I object to switching the rules of the game to quarterly reports. Individuals and Families need to know where their finances stand on a regular basis. If a fund is losing money we can't wait 3 months to find out. It's a nice Advantage for the rich but it doesn't help the average American. Theresa Kircher, Hotel front desk clerk. I'm 69 years old and need to know what's happening with my finances. Please stop catering to the rich. They are just fine. The rest of us are hurting more than ever.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Theresa Konwinski — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Theresa Konwinski Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It's already too easy to shirk accountability...keep these reports quarterly!

Theresa M Winter Retired Hlth Care Manager — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Theresa M Winter I do not support the change from qrtly to semi-annual reporting because most healthcare providers function on a very tight budget. Not being aware of affiliated business downturns for several months could greatly affect the bottom line.

Theresa Maier — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Theresa Maier Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I appreciate the checks and balances in place to protect investors…wuartetly catches lots of issues….do not change!

Sent from my iPhone

Theresa Mccoy — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Theresa Mccoy Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I think it needs to stay quarterly

---

Theresa Rothrock — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Theresa Rothrock Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I want quarterly reports to help reduce fraud.
T Rothrock

Sent from my iPhone

Theresa Smith — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Theresa Smith Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Theresa Smith investor Keep it Quarterly!

Theresa T. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Theresa T. I think transparency is important for investors, and regular intervals throughout the year provide necessary insight. Thank you for all you do to protect everyday investors.

Theresa Tocci Retired CPA — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Theresa Tocci As a retired person trying to be as little burden to society at large as possible, my investments are very important. I watch my portfolio activity carefully. Way too much fraud, insider trading, and general mismanagement can happen when financial reporting is limited to one time a year.

Theresa Williamson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Theresa Williamson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep them honest. Report Quarterly.

Therese Rubink — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Therese Rubink Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Therese Rubink. Business owner. We need quarterly return details to track profit and loss information. Don't go back to the dark ages.

Therese. Gilbert — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Therese. Gilbert Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
My own personal teacher retirement I invested in Ky. Was a stock portfolio that went missing by a broker Tiffany Mock .Said she was with another company sent to keep my investment in USSA in TX. Never sent my info or anything to keep track in 2005 . It's all 8 had for retirement and after divorce, stolen .

---

thetravelingpage — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: thetravelingpage Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Mary, Front Desk Supervisor Marriott, this would be a grossly unfair practice for all people involved except the insiders, so many people will lose, all financial information should be transparent and available to everyone quarterly, not just the few. Ordinary people rely on their retirement funds and investments that they have put their money into for years to have a chance of fraud happening and taking away their investment is not fair or equal.

Sent from my Galaxy

Thi Ban — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Thi Ban Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I strongly oppose any proposal to reduce public company reporting from quarterly to semiannual filings.
Quarterly reporting is essential to maintaining transparency and investor confidence in our capital markets. Six months is a long time in business. During that period, companies can experience significant changes in financial performance, liquidity, debt levels, litigation exposure, customer retention, and operational stability. Without quarterly disclosures, retail investors would effectively be investing blindly.
Regular reporting also serves as an important deterrent to fraud and mismanagement. While quarterly filings cannot prevent every corporate failure or scandal, they substantially reduce the time during which material issues can remain hidden from investors and regulators.
Most importantly, reducing reporting frequency would disproportionately harm retail investors. Institutional investors and corporate insiders often have greater resources, access, and analytical capabilities to obtain information outside of public filings. Retail investors rely on timely, standardized disclosures to make informed investment decisions and participate on a more level playing field.
Transparency is the foundation of fair and efficient markets. Quarterly reporting is not merely a compliance exercise—it is a critical investor protection mechanism that promotes accountability, trust, and market integrity.
Respectfully,
Thi Ban

Thiru Ilanchelian — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thiru Ilanchelian We have an opportunity to help preserve greater transparency for individual investors.

Thom Courtney — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thom Courtney Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Giving companies the ability to hide transactions is irresponsible and would welcome graft and corruption

Sent from my iPhone

Thom Stevenson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thom Stevenson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I rely on quarterly information to make decisions, (2) longer gaps create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders, (3) "optional" doesn't fix the problem because companies that opt in are often the ones whose investors most need frequent updates, (4) the savings to companies aren't worth the cost to me - Jackson Johns, CFO

Thomas A. Shell Owner, TSI Consulting LLC — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas A. Shell I am appalled that the SEC would consider eliminating quarterly reporting. At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Some argue that fewer reports would reduce costs. Maybe. Although in an age of AI and increasingly efficient disclosure tools, even that point is debatable. Others argue it would ease the pressure to manage quarter to quarter. But short-termism comes from how people react to information, not from the information itself. Taking the reports away doesn't make anyone more patient. It just makes everyone less informed. What isn't debatable is that less information rarely creates better-informed owners. Do not eliminate quarterly reporting. Thomas A. Shell Investor, Taxpayer, & Voter

---

Thomas B. Reavis None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas B. Reavis I am asking that you continue to require companies to report earnings every quarter instead of twice a year. The current quarterly reports is certainly more advantageous to Mom & Pop retail investors. Thank you for your consideration.

Thomas Bailey — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Bailey I strongly disagree with changes allowing companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two.

THOMAS BELL — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: THOMAS BELL Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Really? Something stinks really bad in your agency, I suggest you determine who it's coming from and give them a bath .Regulation needs to STAY in place. Can you be trusted? This makes me believe that's questionable.

Sent from my iPhone

Thomas Benner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Thomas Benner Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep Quaterly reporting! It's ridiculous to roll back rules meant to protect the average investor!

Tom Benner
Sent from my iPhone

Thomas Bruce The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Bruce I urge you to preserve the current reporting requirements. As a shareholder and owner, I know first hand the benefit of steady and regular reporting. It promotes market stability and steadiness of ownership.

Thomas Bylund — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Bylund Reducing the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two times a year is a bad idea.

Thomas C. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas C. Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 ABSOLUTELY, NO WAY SHOULD IT BE CHANGED!! I TURNED 77 YEARS OLD TODAY. I SAY KEEP IT QUARTERLY! I HAVE SEEN HOOK AND CROOK ALL MY LIFE. GREED IS ONE OF THE MOST DISGUSTING THINGS I HAVE EVER HAD TO DEAL WITH!

Thomas Clayton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Clayton Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I see no reason to change the quarterly reporting.

Thomas E Darnell Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas E Darnell This possible change would leave open to investors the potential of a company experiencing difficulties and not receive any knowledge for a possible considerably length of time.

Thomas E. Harris III — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas E. Harris III I am a private investor, and I firmly believe that receiving quarterly financial reports from the firms that I own is an absolute necessity. Moving to a semi-annual schedule will reduce my view into the progress of the companies that I own toward the goals those companies have stated and upon which my investment is based. These companies need, and can afford, to report at least on a quarterly basis.

Thomas E. Odle Retired banker, individual investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas E. Odle Sirs: I have read about the proposal to lessen certain reporting requirements to semiannual instead of quarterly and would like to voice my thoughts. I believe the SEC should retain the current quarterly reporting requirements. Quarterly reporting provides investors with timely, standardized, and decision-useful information that supports market transparency, price discovery, and management accountability. Moving to semi-annual reporting would increase the length of time between required disclosures, potentially increasing information differences and reducing investors' ability to assess emerging risks and changes in financial performance. The benefits of maintaining quarterly reporting outweigh any potential reduction in compliance burden associated with semi-annual reporting. I regularly read quarterly data and make decisions based upon these reports and would hate to lose that information for my investing decisions.

Thomas Edgar — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Edgar Semiannual reporting does not lay well with me.

I do not want to be less informed about my finances. Stock holder owned entities need to be more transparent, not less.

Thomas Elliott — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Elliott Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Sirs:
No! Don't even think about changing the quarterly reporting!!

Thomas Fine — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Fine I am writing in opposition to the proposal to permit companies to reduce their public reporting requirements from 4 times a year to 2. Public companies operate for the benefit of their shareholder owners. Providing updates to those shareholders is essential to enabling them to understand how their investment is operating. While burdens and expenses imposed on companies are relevant concerns, those concerns must be balanced against the interest of financial transparency. The quarterly reporting is a balance that has functioned well for many years. As the pace of technological change accelerates, corporate transparency should not be reduced.

Thomas G Martin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas G Martin Please do not allow reports every six months.

Thomas Goldberg — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Goldberg Please do not eliminate the quarterly reports.

Thomas Goodrich — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Thomas Goodrich Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep them accountable and afraid too!

Yahoo Mail: Search, organise, conquer

Thomas Hale Former Chief Credit Officer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Hale Reducing the reporting requirements to twice yearly is ridiculous to me. When I was analyzing business financial statements as a Senior Credit Officer it was nearly always difficult to obtain quarterly reports within a timely manner. Any problems within the business are already months past having occurred. This proposal would add at a minimum an additional 90 days lag time. The sooner a regulator, a tax consultant or a bank officer can read the financial statements, the better they can act to help improve a business’s problem. From a regulators perspective the time delay worsens the negative impact for shareholders if regulatory action is needed. I would definitely recommend this proposal be turned down.

Thomas Hartman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Hartman Don’t go to semi-annual reporting. This will harm investors. If you owned a business, would you allow your managers to report vital information to you only twice per year?

Thomas Haworth — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Thomas Haworth Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The quarterly reporting requirement is essential to the stockholders & tax payers staying up to date. Any attempt to change to twice a year is criminal. This is just the SEC shirking their duties. It is not to be allowed. Do your duties as the law states, not just what the executive branch wants.

Thomas Haworth,
Taxpayer and Stock Holder

Sent from my iPad

Thomas Honsa — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Honsa Please reconsider this proposal. Too many people depend on quarterly reports, especially as they approach retirement. This is a growing percentage of the population according to Georgetown University (https : / / cri . georgetown . edu / the-aging-of-america-a-changing-picture-of-work-and-retirement /) . They need the most current information to make important decisions about their futures. Additionally, too few people have the investments that will allow them to retire according to the Schwartz Center for Economic Policy Analysis (https : / / www . economicpolicyresearch . org / research / most-americans-do-not-have-enough-to-retire) . If the financial sector wants to encourage Americans to invest and save, they should provide information as often as they practically can. Quarterly reports do not seem to be a burden to investment professionals at this time, so there seems to be no urgent reason to change this policy. Thank you for your consideration.

Thomas J McNamara Retired — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas J McNamara I'm against reducing corporate financial information. The market is changing quickly and regular information is important.

Thomas J Mulyca — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas J Mulyca I believe the public markets should continue to report the basic numbers on a quarterly basis to provide a consistent flow of information.

Thomas J Schroeder — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas J Schroeder Please let us see quarterly reports

---

Thomas J Sundheimer None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas J Sundheimer Please do not allow companies to publicize their results less often than quarterly! Doing so would reduce transparency and put both current and potential investors at a disadvantage.

Thomas James McEwan The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas James McEwan I have been a share holder for almost 50 years and I value receiving quarterly reports to keep me informed. I reject the argument presented by some executives that it would be a cost saving to reduce reports to twice a year. It would also be a significant cost saving to reduce or completely eliminate many other cost elements associated with producing a good or service but those items are what make up the cost of conducting a business. Keeping the owners informed is vitally important. In a related item, there is a movement afoot to only provide virtue annual meetings in place of actual , in the flesh meetings which I have sometimes attended. We should provide both. Thank you. Thomas James McEwan, shareholder

---

Thomas Jefferies — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Thomas Jefferies Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Ever since the current president has begun his 2nd presidency there has been a virtual fleecing abounding. Keep the quarterly reporting in place to keep businesses honest and transparent. There has been quite a lot of insider trading going on lately. The President, many members of his administration, his family, and his political supporters have engaged in and profited from insider trading prior to information being publicly released.

Sent from my iPhone

Thomas Koecher — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Koecher The proposal to shift from quarterly to semi-annual reporting would reduce the timely financial and operational insights investors rely on. Despite the abundance of information available online, meaningful scrutiny of management typically occurs during scheduled earnings calls. As the pace of new information continues to accelerate, quarterly reports remain essential. Extending the reporting interval by three months would place investors at an unnecessary disadvantage.

Thomas Leineweber — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Leineweber Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The less frequency of revelations /or being observed..the more chance of mischief.
Being " in the dark" longer is not conductive to safety and may trigger malfeasance.

Thomas M Auchter — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas M Auchter I am strongly against the proposal to reduce corporate financial reporting to only 2 times per year. Less publicly available information will be disadvantageous to investors and increase uncertainty in the market. Any changes which would now be delayed in being made public under the semiannual reporting proposal will only enable more potential for insiders to take advantage of public shareholders. Volatility will increase as a direct result of the larger changes which will inevitably occur. If anything, we should be moving to require more frequent financial reporting. After all, every company will already prepare monthly financial reports for internal use. Providing the additional scrutiny required for making that information available to the public would not increase costs significantly and would be very worthwhile.

Thomas M Leech sr none — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas M Leech sr A proposal is now on the table to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. I think that's a mistake! At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Less transparency doesn't eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater. So I want the rule to stand as it is today Thank you Tom Leech

---

Thomas Mitchell — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Thomas Mitchell Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Let's get real and not make same mistake as in 1955. Keep books open dudes

---

thomas nikko — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: thomas nikko Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING!
Thomas Nikko
Cloquet, MN

Thomas Nofziger — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Nofziger As an American and a lifelong investor and businessman please do NOT change the public company reporting requirements to semiannual. We need more transparency NOT less. Thank you very much for listening.

Thomas Northern Insurance Agent — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Northern While I understand the reasoning behind the corporate requests for this bill, I truly feel like this action will be deleterious to individual investors like myself, who need as much information as possible.

Thomas Polk — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Polk Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This six month blackout is a scam to allow SEC cronies to manipulate our funds without our permission or oversight! Disband the SEC for providing opportunity for malfeasance.

Thomas Raithel — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Raithel Reducing the reporting down to only two per year is NOT a GOOD IDEA. Investors need information, this is not the way to provide that.

Thomas Reilly — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Reilly It is ridiculous to lessen the reporting, in an age where more tools are available and consolidating information and reporting is easier. If anything we should be going to Monthly reporting, it is unreasonable to believe that companies are not already reporting at the Monthly, even weekly level. If they are not, how can they effectively manage their business? Transparency is essential to investment decisions, less reporting will mean unnecessary volatility in stock prices

---

Thomas Schilling — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Schilling This seems to be a very ill conceived idea. How can less information be valuable to any investor in a company. Corporate accountability and progress on business plans and spending needs to be divulged more frequently than semi annually.

Thomas Schwarz — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Thomas Schwarz Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly has been the ACCEPTED standard forever. I worked for a smaller privately held company with 6 “owners”. We went over the financials monthly and made course corrections as needed. Let’s stick with quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

Thomas Snyder — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Snyder Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the securities and exchange commission
I think it's very important for listed exchanges to produce quarterly reports so the shareholders know what's going on!
it's equally important to do this to have clear and transparent communication communications that is required by law to prevent securities fraud
Please 🙏 don't end this great ruling that has worked for many years for the country and investors
Thomas Snyder

Thomas Stephens — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Stephens This administration is focused on more secrecy and deceit in government than any other I've witnessed in my 70+ years as an American. The idea that this is a cost cutting measure is ludicrous given the fraud and waste that we witness almost every day. We need more transparency, not less!!!

Thomas Stoll — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Stoll I argue against semiannual reporting. Less information rarely creates better-informed owners. Less transparency increases uncertainty. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Thank you for the opportunity to raise this concern in public.

Thomas Sykes — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Sykes Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 As a retiree, why would you even consider going back to a program that failed in the past. Deregulation of finance institutions is never good for We the People. Just look at what happened in 2007 after the banking regulations implemented in 2004.

Thomas Sykes
Bowie, Maryland

Thomas Van Ess Fools — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Van Ess Not a responsible idea to eliminate quarterly reporting

---

Thorsten Kiparski — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thorsten Kiparski Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To whom it may concern,

The SEC should maintain quarterly reporting requirements because timely disclosure is fundamental to fair, transparent, and efficient capital markets.

Reducing reporting frequency from quarterly to semiannual would leave investors operating with significantly less information for extended periods of time. In six months, a company can experience material changes in its financial condition, including failed product launches, rising debt levels, litigation exposure, customer losses, or operational setbacks. Quarterly reporting ensures that investors receive regular updates and helps prevent situations where insiders possess material information long before the broader market.

Quarterly reporting also serves as an important safeguard against fraud and financial misrepresentation. While no disclosure regime can eliminate fraud entirely, more frequent reporting shortens the period during which inaccurate or misleading financial information can remain undiscovered. History has shown that major accounting scandals often thrive in environments with limited transparency and delayed disclosure.

Although a semiannual reporting framework may be described as voluntary, market dynamics suggest that widespread adoption by large companies would create pressure for others to follow. Over time, investor expectations would adjust to a lower standard of disclosure, effectively reducing transparency across the market as a whole.

Finally, the benefits of eliminating quarterly reports appear limited when compared to the costs imposed on investors. Companies must still maintain accounting systems, prepare internal financial information, and report to their boards. The primary savings would consist of modest legal and compliance expenses, while the resulting information gap would be borne by shareholders, retirement savers, pension funds, and other ordinary investors who rely on timely and accurate information to make informed investment decisions.

For these reasons, quarterly reporting remains a critical component of investor protection, market integrity, and public confidence in U.S. capital markets and needs to be upheld.

With kind regards,
Thorsten Kiparski

Tiana Tozer Transportation Safety Analyst, Oregon Department of Transportation — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tiana Tozer Reporting needs to remain quarterly. Investors deserve transparency and accountability. It also makes it easier for fraud to be committed. Keep quarterly reports.

Tiffany Hale — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Tiffany Hale Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
WE NEED TRANSPARENCY! There is TOO much corruption and fraud in these sectors of government and finance! This is not legal, nor is it ethical! I object to this attack on the people in this country, and worldwide interest of all. We stand against this unlawful decision. I must ask, what are you attempting to hide? Because its obvious, there's something you don't want the public knowing?
Tiffany H

Tiffany Manzella — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tiffany Manzella Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting required. Our retirement and education funds depend on it!

Tiffany Williams — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tiffany Williams Any move to make investors less informed about their money is clearly not in the interest of the average person. Allowing publicly traded companies to shield their activities from the literal owners of the company (no matter how large or small of a stake they own) will only benefit those at the top tiers.

---

tiggerandmax1 — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: tiggerandmax1 Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Beth Miller, Physician, transparency for companies is necessary since most of us will be retiring using our savings. Twice yearly reporting is not nearly enough transparency.. otherwise we will run into catastrophic outcomes like Enron. If I'm helping a company with my investment and I own a small piece, you * will better show me the numbers every 3 months.

Sent from my Galaxy

Tigz Tar — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tigz Tar Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Bridgette, copy editor from Illinois, and I am writing to voice my concern over the nonsensical idea that wall street needs more ways to hide instead of less. Keep filings QUARTERLY!

Tim — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Tim Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 If the signature rules are rolled back, then the CEOs, CFOs, COOs should be held personally liable as individuals for losses incurred, whether they knew or not. It’s embarrassing that you have such contempt for average Americans that you would even consider stopping this policy.

Sent from my iPhone

Tim Barringer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-22 From: Tim Barringer Quarterly reports are necessary to maintain a proper understanding of how a business is performing. Although some companies may find this burdensome, there is NO compelling reason to change to Sammy annual reporting. To reiterate, quarterly reports are NECESSARY!

Tim Davidson Retired investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tim Davidson Reporting earnings only twice a year is a bad idea for investors and could cause a serious market decline as rumors and speculation about a company's health would be rampant in an age of instant communications!

Tim Ewertz — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tim Ewertz Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 More oversight, not less! I'd prefer to see it monthly.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Tim Gardner Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tim Gardner Reducing reporting from 4 times a year to 2 is just a scam by trying to hide transparency and screwing investors. It sounds like jist another Trump inspired move to line his pockets and cost the public billions! When is everyone going to wake up and realize what is happening and why? This is totally absurd. I respectfully say with all of my sole that if this happens, it will cost the public and only benefit politicians. Please wake up!!!

Tim Golbuff — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tim Golbuff Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We don’t need more slack given to big businesses. KEEP THE QUARTERLY REPORTS!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Tim Hamm — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tim Hamm Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Tim Hamm, my wife and I are retired and live off our earnings from stocks and bonds along with our S.S. If the reports are not available for 6 months the market trends will allow our investments to possibly diminish in value greatly before we are able to adjust . Leave the reporting at every 3 months so we can stay informed.

Tim Ihde — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tim Ihde To me, this is going in the wrong direction. As an investor, I want more information, never less. With improvements in technology, the cost associated with preparing these reports should be decreasing. Requiring more than quarterly reports would probably be overkill, but I certainly don't buy that it is overly burdensome or more burdensome now than it has been in the past.

Tim Jana Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tim Jana I do NOT support q6 month financial reporting for companies. This proposal lifts guardrails against companies that wish to subvert and avoid public scrutiny. I am an individual shareholder for numerous public companies; I NEED to be informed of the company financials that I invest in otherwise I cannot make educated decision about these companies and my future investments.

---

tim klein — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: tim klein Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It must be quarterly! Anything less is cheating te retail investor.

Sent from my iPhone

Tim Klein — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tim Klein Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The way big companies steal and lie they should remain on Quarterly reporting. Tired of all the dishonesty

---

Tim Laurent None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tim Laurent The reporting should remain at once a quarter--more frequent communications to shareholders is important. Maybe the reporting requirements themselves could be reviewed for potential trimming.

Tim Lynch Retired business owner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tim Lynch I prefer the current standard quarterly reports now used. While no one report tells an individual everything, the quarterly reports show trends better and allow individual investors to make informed decisions on their own. Tim Lynch

---

tim marakovits The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: tim marakovits Most retail investors don't have access to as much company information that larger investors, such as mutual fund companies, pension funds, etc. Limiting our access to semi-annual reports instead of quarterly would limit our access to specific company preformance metrics and put the retail investor at an even bigger disadvantage. Please keep quarterly reporting a requirement.

Tim Matheny — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tim Matheny Quarterly reporting must continue to ensure transparency to investors, and to maintain a sense of accountability for corporate officers. Cost reduction is an insufficient reason to reduce reporting. Efficiently run companies should be able to generate needed data on a continuous basis in real time throughout a quarter. It is the same information required to operate the business. Cost of final Report compilation should be minimal.

Tim McCartney — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tim McCartney I would vote to keep reporting quarterly, more reporting equals better communication to the investor community.

Tim Miracle — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Tim Miracle Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The rich don't pay the same amount of money for taxes that we do, and they cry about it all the time. You make more you pay more. If I pay 10 cents on the dollar SO should they.

Tim P — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Tim P Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 For the sake of transparency, please keep earnings quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

Tim Patrick Judge — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tim Patrick Judge Report but two times a year is insane. This is easily the most "ripe for manipulation" tactic we could have. Please vote No on this idea. Quarterly reports are perfect the way they are. Tim Judge

---

Tim Payne — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tim Payne Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 There is to much corruption in the US and the world to be lax on this now. Instead of taking away safeguards there should be more ! How long does it take to write a signature ?

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Tim Porcelli N/A — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tim Porcelli I don’t believe the shift to bi-annually from quarterly will benefit investors. At the end of the day, transparency is the most important thing for a public company to be clear to investors on how they are doing amid headwinds such as global market conditions. For example, with the memory chip shortage in tech, many manufacturer stocks are surging as they continue to report better than expected numbers. On the other side companies with higher operational costs are faced with challenges that impact their bottom line. To know the position of both sides is important to both investors and employees of those organizations.

TIM RICE — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: TIM RICE Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Yes we must keep the quarter reporting alive. It must not be changed!

Sent from my iPhone

Tim Sill Retired Electrical Engineer and Individual Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tim Sill I believe it is a publicly traded companies fiduciary as well as operationally responsibility to provide as much information quarterly, at a minimum, about the companies business operations, financial status, as well as company health. This allows not only institutional investors, but more importantly individual investors that make investment decisions based upon old information which can more dramatically effect portfolio performance in a negative aspect if a company is not sharing recent data/events/finacials.

Tim Swift — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Tim Swift Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is a standard. Changing it to semi-annual only help the companies trying to hide something and needs more time to deceive stock holders. Don't do it.

Tim Tucker — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tim Tucker Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Have we fogotten Enron? We need more confirmation of truth, not less. Be part of the solution and not the problem: keep quarterly reporting. Americans need more confidence in their government, not less. Your proposed change helps only the rich.

Tim Tucker

Tim Walker — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tim Walker Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it intact, why do you want less reporting so you can cover up even more corruption . Maybe it should be every two months the. I am a retired instructor and I want more accountability. Tim Walker

Sent from my iPhone

Tim Wallace — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tim Wallace Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Businesses should be held accountable on a monthly or even a daily schedule to prevent fraud

---

Tim Waterloo — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tim Waterloo I oppose the move to two reporting periods per year. As a stockholder/business owner I crave accurate and regular reporting so that I can judge whether to continue my ownership. Less reporting by a company equals less timely information for stockholders which is detrimental to stockholders. And, there is no additional cost to public companies to keep the standard at quarterly reporting since they already do so.

Tim Wojno The motley fool community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tim Wojno Do not change the companies from reporting 4 times a year to 2. Things need to stay the way they are.

Tim Yauch — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tim Yauch Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I would prefer that earnings were reported monthly. However, I will accept quarterly earnings. Anything less than quarterly will result in people pulling out of the retirement accounts and companies will experience a loss in revenue.

Thank you,
Tim Yauch
La Plata, MD

Thank you,

Tim Yauch

Timothy Retired — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Timothy I disagree with letting companies only report two times a year. It will provide less visibility and reduce confidence in the market.

Timothy Ayres — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Timothy Ayres Investors, as business owners, are better served by quarterly reporting than by semi-annual reporting. The motivation for making shareholders less informed is dubious and leans away from the spirit of sound, mutually beneficial investing.

Timothy Barkwill The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Timothy Barkwill The proposed measure to reduce the reporting requirements of companies from four time per year to two, feels like a step backwards in our goal of transparency and accountability. Please reconsider.

Timothy Bly — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Timothy Bly I am opposed to the new proposal S7-2026-15 which would allow companies to release a semiannual report rather than a quarterly report. As an investor/owner this will not give me enough information to make educated decisions in regard to my investments.

Timothy C Harvey None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Timothy C Harvey I think reducing publicly owned companies reporting requirements to semi annual is the dumbest idea I've ever heard from the SEC. As an owner of a company, I demand quarterly earnings reports. I believe this has been and will continue to be the fairest method of shareholder information. Please table this semi-annual nonsense.

Timothy Day — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Timothy Day Hard to understand relaxing transparency requirements of public companies, particularly in this day and age of AI. With the advent of AI, these reports should be easier to generate and this time consuming. As a retail investor, and as someone who also relies on institutional investors to handle my funds properly, I prefer that companies continue to provide quarterly reports. Let's keep everyone honest.

Timothy Gillis The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Timothy Gillis Informed investors are savvy investors, and reducing the reporting requirements is a disservice to all interested parties. Changing from quarterly to semi-annual reports is a terrible idea which will deprive actual and potential investors of critical information needed to make informed decisions. Do the right thing and come down on the side of investors, not corporations.

Timothy Johnson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Timothy Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To whom it May concern at the SEC,

Please keep financial statement reporting quarterly.

I am just an average American citizen with a small investment portfolio in E-Trade. I believe that filing every 6 months would give companies too much leeway to bury some of their dirt and the impacts to the market would be much more exaggerated every semi annual report vs what we currently have.

Thank you for your time.

Respectfully,

TJ

Timothy Jones — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Timothy Jones Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 keep quarterly reporting

---

Timothy Kenyon — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Timothy Kenyon Less transparency doesn’t eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater. It will be harmful to the investing public to reduce the reporting requirements to twice a year. That is not sufficient frequency to be able to evaluate performance and trends.

Timothy Leslie private investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Timothy Leslie I believe it is not in the long term interests of investors to no longer have access to 4 quarters of financial reports. Especially in an ever changing economic atmosphere that seems to move faster than ever before, it is prudent for public companies to be as transparent as possible. To only see twice a year, what is or is not taking place in any company that I have an interest, seems to only be distancing ourselves from genuine and regular transparency.

---

timothy palmer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: timothy palmer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep Quarterly Reporting! Keep them honest.

Timothy Potter — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Timothy Potter I am against this proposal. We need companies to report quarterly

---

Timothy Prime — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Timothy Prime I fully support the proposal. It is clear that "free and fair markets" is just rhetoric. American investors need help to be cheated out of their savings. This will go a long way to undermining the national economy and unseat this minority population from a position that is harmful the the global economy, as a whole.

Timothy Psaledakis — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Timothy Psaledakis Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Lack of oversight has brought the US economy into hard times repeatedly. PLEASE keep the reporting requirements quarterly.

V/R
Timothy W. Psaledakis

Timothy Robinson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Timothy Robinson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Companies need to report every 3 months. do not change anything now.

Tim Robinson

TIMOTHY SNEED — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: TIMOTHY SNEED Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep this quarterly to maintain accountability.

Sent from my iPhone

Timothy W. Fangman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Timothy W. Fangman Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I am sorry, but seriously! Stop the ignorance and keep it as legal and open as it always is was. Stop the insanity!! NO!
They should always report quarterly!

Sent from my iPhone

Timothy Watkins Motley Fool subscriber — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Timothy Watkins Fewer reports equals less information and this could be in some cases drastic

---

Timothy Wood — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Timothy Wood Do NOT the REDUCE number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. That’s a mistake! Stop giving wealthy criminals more advantage.

Tina Arnold — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tina Arnold I think Public companies should continue providing public-company reports four times per year. My investment is my ownership in the company and communication from them is the only way I can know how it is doing. If there is a problem that needs to be addressed within the company, then it would be better for it to be revealed earlier rather than later. The longer the time with no accountability can allow for potential problems to become even worse. Then again, if the company has positive reports that the business is doing well, it would be beneficial to share that information too. Either way its only right for the investors to know what is going on with the companies they have invested in and in a timely manner. Six months between communication is too long.

Tina Bull — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Tina Bull Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Companies don't need relief. They have been doing it quarterly for years. During those years computers are faster, programs help gather etc info and now AI is the super fast and smart gatherer. Leave quarterly also maybe should be every 2 months since the capability exists. No hiding or stepping back.

Sent via the Samsung Galaxy A13, an AT&T 4G LTE smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Tina DeGeorge — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tina DeGeorge Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Tina DeGeorge, I'm an IT Manager, and remember well the Enron fiasco. Corporations have proven time and time again they can't be left without proper oversight, and when they are, everyone pays the price.
Do the right thing: keep quarterly reporting requirements in place!

Tina Dover — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tina Dover Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Tina Dover - self-employed. Keeping quarterly reporting is necessary in order for investors to stay informed and up-to-date on what is going on. Ù

Tina Duell — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tina Duell Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please continue requiring quarterly reporting.

Sincerely
Tina Duell

Sent from my iPhone

Tina Jones — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tina Jones Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Given what has happened in the past, I don’t understand the reasoning to go back to six month reporting. I have worked extremely hard and did without to have some income coming in after retirement. I stand firm in my commitment to ensure quarterly reports remain the standard. I am willing to do what it takes to make sure the American people are not fleeced out of what is rightfully theirs.

Tina Jones
Sent from my iPad

Tina Loureiro — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Tina Loureiro Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keeps them all more honest less chance of hiding things.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Tina Vaughan Young — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Tina Vaughan Young Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do your job. Make the regular reports. Do not allow fraud and volatile stock prices to destroy the market.

Tina Vrabec Associate Professor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tina Vrabec I completely oppose this change. This will only result in a lack of transparency and increased likelihood of insider trading. The motivation for this is "increased regulatory flexibility". The entire purpose of regulations is to provide structure to ensure transparency. Historic data has shown that the US operates more effectively with investments to the most productive companies when data is freely available. In today's economy, 6 months is a very long duration to go without information. A company could easily hide poor performance which would normally cause a course correction due to market forces. The current stagnation of our economy will only accelerate with this proposal.

Tina Wherry — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tina Wherry Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Do what is right what can be checked and not Missed used

Sent from my iPhone

Tiona Gundy — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tiona Gundy Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep the quarterly rule in place!

Tiona Gundy

Tisha Mitchell The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tisha Mitchell I believe reporting should be required quarterly

---

Titanium — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Titanium Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Maintain quarterly review. Remember Enron.

TJ Roberts SolarKings — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: TJ Roberts I've written over 100 articles on ENPH, SPWR, ETRN (now EQT), CSLR (now SPWR), PROF, AOSL, KPLT, AMPX, ENVX et al. Quarterly reporting for companeis on the stock exchanges is critical for the investors. However, the insider trading corruption visible in our goverment without ay accountability (Pelosi, Litkoff, et al) is really making me consider whether I should even file any longer. When the wealthy elite are cheaters, then the whole system is corrupt, and it's time to end it. That is where we are now, and without accoutability, the common people will stop playing the game, and the system will break down. Therefore, the communists should not be allowed to change the longstanding rules, for they know what they are doing. What should be done is for Pelosi and other shill pols get arrested for insider trading and corruption. Yes, let's focus on that accountability aspect first.

---

tjo8022 — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: tjo8022 Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep required corporate reporting quarterly, not every 6 months. This matters to me and my wife because as retired people, much of our income is derived from investments. We prefer to make intelligent investments and it would put us at a disadvantage to corporate insiders and large institutional investors who have frequent access to how well the companies are doing.

Tim and Irene Olnick
Retired Navy Civilian employee and retired State of Maryland accountant, respectively

Sent from my Galaxy

TKU — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: TKU Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I’ve saved and invested for retirement. Please do not let that be in vain. No one can depend on social security, so my only hope is a strong portfolio.

Tamara Uppendahl
Human Resources
Portland, OR

TL Favors — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: TL Favors Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
There's already enough grift and corruption going on in this administration. Also, trusting business/industry to "regulate itself" is always a catastrophe.

TL Morbach — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: TL Morbach Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it every three months. Investing requires updates on portfolios of companies.

Tlm Drouin Motley Fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tlm Drouin What an absolutely stupid idea..... you want volatility, you want less disclosure, you are nuts.

TMF Community None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: TMF Community Quarterly reports should not be changed.

Toby Powell — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Toby Powell Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I have a share in the ownership and count on the quarterly to keep on track.

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Tod Planert The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tod Planert I want to maintain quarterly filings. This maintains a high level of transparency so critical to the way the US manages business.

Todd Bauer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Todd Bauer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Todd Bauer I have a family that I take care of. Investing in companies is critically important to our families goals. Knowledge is king and if you don’t allow these disclosures to be seen every quarter there will be less money invested into these companies that we question whether they’re honest and have great integrity. That’s the important part integrity and honesty. You’re telling individuals to take a gamble and not question whether you’re doing the right thing or not for your family. No, I’m not throwing my money into a Wishingwell that doesn’t work.

Sent from my iPhone

Todd Boze Certified Financial Planner/Financial Advisor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Todd Boze Less transparency is not useful for the investor. AI will speed up and reduce cost of reporting. Do not take the visibly into the companies away from the individual investor.

Todd Burkitt — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Todd Burkitt Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it Quarterly. No hiding the numbers. Don't screw the investors.

Sent from my iPhone

Todd Carson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Todd Carson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Open book 100% of the time for all publocally traded companies.
Giving them time to hide and cook the vooks is corruption in the rules. Say no!

Todd Cole — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Todd Cole Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am writing to the SEC to request that the commission maintains quarterly reporting requirements for corporations. This is important for transparency and keeping investors informed.

Todd El-Taher The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Todd El-Taher Please keep this to quarterly reports. If we shift to semi annual reporting the SEC can inadvertently jeopardize retirements as investors rely on consistent quarterly reporting to understand trends, shifts and dynamics that inform us when making investment decisions. Reporting is the cost of doing business for a publicly traded company, the function of the SEC is not to reduce corporate overhead.

Todd Hall — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Todd Hall Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep quarterly CEO reporting!

Todd Hall
Sent from my iPhone
508-838-1383

Todd Hubert — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Todd Hubert Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 NO ONE should be allowed to "game" the system. Open, transparent, and legal. Otherwise will screw up a very good system. Elected officials should be barred from owning or purchasing or selling any stock. Divesture before sworn in, or not sworn in.

Todd Insler — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Todd Insler Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 As an active investor, the proposal to eliminate quarterly reporting us unacceptable and will damage the market. Do not do it.

Todd Insler

Todd Jennings — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Todd Jennings Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Are you guys just trying to ruin the world. No

Todd E. Jennings,MBA
U.S. Army (RET)
Phone: 407-360-6480
E-mail: lightoxx@gmail.com
"A person who never makes mistakes never tries or makes anything."

Todd Keller — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Todd Keller As a shareholder, I view this proposal as a step in the wrong direction. U.S. markets have long benefitted from transparency and accountability, and reducing reporting frequency from quarterly to semiannual would diminish both. Less information does not create more value - it increases uncertainty, widens the information gap between insiders and investors, and could ultimately lead to lower confidence and higher volatility. Public companies exist to serve their owners, and shareholders are generally better served by more disclosure, not less. And, as a long-time retail investor, I AM NOT in favor of this current proposal.

Todd Media Sales — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Todd Please fight for investor transparency. Less information does not create a better-informed owner. Therefore, I ask that you continue to require quarterly reporting. More informed stock owners are better owners!

Todd Morrison — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Todd Morrison Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Todd Morrison Retired I have lots invested in the stock market and want to know what my investments are doing quarterly KEEP IT QUARTERLY!!!

Todd Nickels — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Todd Nickels Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I deserve the right to quarterly updates from companies with stocks I own.
Sincerely,
T. Nickels, Pr exec, NYC

Todd Porter — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Todd Porter Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 These regulations exist because American business demonstrated that they cannot be trusted to operate in integrity and transparency without them. If people want to do business in the United States, we expect integrity and transparency at every level of the enterprise, especially the C-suite. This is one of the ways we achieve that. Do not reduce the requirement. We've already seen what happens without this requirement and we cannot afford to do that again.

Todd Porter

Todd Romeiser — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Todd Romeiser Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is a terrible idea and will reverse essential progress, which isn't surprising as that is what this administration is doing with everything. One more way to keep us uninformed and controllable.

Sincerely
Todd Romeiser

Todd W — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Todd W Dear Commissioners, Please keep quarterly reporting requirements in place. Thank you

---

Todd Waldman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Todd Waldman Please keep the quarterly reports. As an investor whose retirement is tied to owning companies, I find the quarterly information helpful as an owner.

Toddy Littman Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Toddy Littman Hi and thank you for your time, For what I understand this rule is really about some sort of saving of money for the reporting entities we invest in. The old expression of "leaning over to pick up a penny while tripping on a quarter" stands here. Informed Investors are the most important point of the SEC and disclosure rules help assure full disclosure informs all "public private partnerships" as well. So the idea of cutting the amount of information Investors get will of course foment uncertainty but will also fuel even more corruption and fraud. When there is no necessity to provide information that causes uncertainty then rumor, innuendo, etc. become effective tools, with less upfront and disclosed costs by those doing it, that will become the status quo more than it is now, a "Chicago way" mentality will prevail and it will be equivalent to George Bush's fight (POTUS 43) getting unions to publish their information annually that no one had made sure was done for the Pensioners up to that point in time. This new rule cutting information requirements to the public will be a costly jin to get back in the bottle when you discover it must be reversed. Many of us on fixed incomes or investing through financial advisors will be less trusting of everything, more likely to just pull our money out when things aren't good and assume when thigs are good it's not current information so the risk-to-reward should be greater. All of this will be under the excuse given when we lose money of "well we didn't know since the reporting was cut in half" which will be the deferral to blaming the reporting entity by Financial Advisor and Wealth Management groups. In fact let's understand Investors need more information in light of DOGE, in light of frauds throughout the government including insider trading. Consider, in recent news and publicized by Elon Musk, Ro Khanna who went into Congress with net worth of $26-27 million, obviously not poor, yet, in 8 years he's amassed around $230 million in net worth! How many Americans not in government have done that and compare that to almost the entirety of 535 members of Congress (House and Senate) having this very same "success story". Yet Congress in a strong bipartisan voice votes to not disclose information to us about their financial dealings. Understand the suspiciousness in light of Ro Khanna appearing to have made 38,000 stock trades in those 8 years in Congress, that's 38,000 trades in 8 years or 13 trades a day for a 365 day year. We, the Investors, would really like and honestly it appears have a right to see more information not less, such as, without political party or naming particular members in disclosure gross total investment of all members of Congress for every company listed. I suggest to include a breakdown disclosing the entire percentage of stock owned in aggregate by members of Congress with graph of date and time of the the ebb and flow into and out of that investment from the very first year for every company listed. Fraud in government has prompted this interest, fraud that can be done because there is no reporting requirement for Congress. I hope this helps illustrate the problem, that cutting information disclosure requirements in half will essentially provide a new haven for fraud and such a rule fails to show respect for the property rights of Investors. We have to report every year right? Does anyone care about lowering our expense to make such reports? So let's be grounded and honest that what is being proposed helps no one and nothing but the more shady be able to operate in even darker shadows. Again I thank you for your time. Respectfully submitted.

Tom — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tom Less information cannot create better-informed owners/investors. This proposed diminution of communication is a bad idea.

Tom — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Public Comment: Oppose Proposed Rule S7-2026-15 (Semiannual Reporting) From: Tom Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

I am writing to oppose proposed Rule S7-2026-15, which would allow public companies to report financial results semiannually rather than quarterly.
I am a retail investor and marketing professor who actively manages a portfolio that includes individual equities and private investment vehicles. I rely on quarterly filings to evaluate company performance, assess risk, and make informed decisions about when to hold or exit positions. A six-month reporting window is not a minor adjustment – it is a material reduction in the information available to investors like me.

My concerns are as follows:

First, information asymmetry. Corporate executives, major institutional investors, and insiders have continuous visibility into business performance regardless of what the SEC requires companies to disclose publicly. Retail investors do not. Quarterly reporting is one of the few structural mechanisms that narrows that gap. Extending the blackout period to six months widens it substantially, and does so in a way that directly benefits the people who are already best-positioned to trade on non-public information.

Second, fraud risk. Extended disclosure gaps don't prevent problems – they allow them to compound. The Wirecard collapse in the EU, which operated under a lighter disclosure regime, is a clear example of how longer gaps between required filings give fraudulent accounting more time to grow before anyone outside the company can detect it. Quarterly reporting is not a guarantee against fraud, but it meaningfully shortens the window.

Third, the "optional" framing does not hold up under scrutiny. Once large companies begin filing semiannually, competitive and investor-relations pressures will push smaller companies to follow. A company that continues quarterly filing while its peers file twice a year will face questions about why it needs more oversight, not less. What is proposed as a voluntary option will function in practice as a new default. The Commission should be clear-eyed about this dynamic rather than relying on the optional framing to neutralize the rule's real effects.

Fourth, the claimed benefits do not accrue to investors. The administrative savings from eliminating two quarterly filings per year are modest and flow entirely to the company. The cost – worse information, longer gaps, reduced ability to respond to material changes – falls on the investors the Commission is statutorily required to protect.

I urge the Commission to reject this proposal and maintain the current quarterly reporting standard.

Respectfully,
Tom Ainscough

TOM ATHOS MOTLY FOOL — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: TOM ATHOS I USE THE FINANCIAL INFO FOR MY DECISIONS

Tom Atlaw — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Tom Atlaw Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly earnings report should be mandatory. Keep this rule in place

---

Tom Avalon tax preparer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tom Avalon less financial reporting is not good and not necessary. quarterly financial statements keep the public and owners minimally informed. reporting less often will lead to greater shock reactions in our stock market. this only benefits arbitragerists. do not reduce the required number for reporting company finances.

Tom Avino — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Tom Avino Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I want you to save quarterly reporting. These executives need to be responsible for what they do.

Tom Beauchamp — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom Beauchamp Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 How unfair is this change. It’s what out country is allowing and it is not only unfair it is so wrong!

Sent from my iPhone

Tom Dadian — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tom Dadian Leave it as is. There's no need to reduce transparency!

---

tom dunham — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: tom dunham Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Protect the consumer, we ARE the economy!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Tom Ecobelli — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom Ecobelli Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Hell no. More accountability not less.

Tom Ecobelli
310-651-4099

Tomecobelli@gmail.com

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTICE: This e-mail transmission, and any documents, files or previous e-mail messages attached to it, may contain confidential information that is legally privileged. If you are not the intended recipient, or a person responsible for delivering it to the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that any disclosure, copying, distribution or use of any of the information contained in or attached to this message is strictly prohibited. If you have received this transmission in error, please immediately notify us by reply e-mail at tomecobelli@gmail.com or by telephone at (310) 651-4099, and destroy the original transmission and its attachments without reading them or saving them to disk. Thank you.

Tom English — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom English Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It shouldn't be ma huge endeavor to report what's going on in the company. Therefore we should keep reporting at least quarterly. In my opinion it should be monthly, that way everyone really knows what's going on in companies so often that these reports carry less weight. Market fluctuations are less jarring and market volatility is reduced. The trends in how a company is doing are much easier to spot, so my feeling is definitely keep company financials coming quarterly as it has been for a long time!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Tom Florman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tom Florman As they say "the more you know, the better informed you are", this not just in investing but in life as well. If I'm only thought important enough to be advised how my investments are doing with a company twice a year, then unless the company is paying 15 or more % interest on my accounts then they're mistaken. Because of the volatility of the market, being kept informed of the health of stock or other investments is vitality important. If a company decides I'm not important enough to be kept informed then maybe they don't need investments bad enough to keep them going. They aren't worried about what it takes but whats not going into "their pockets". I'm sure that if they can show that's it costing them "millions of dollars to provide this information" then investors may look twice at the notifications but I don't think that's the case. Just call it a lazy inconvience and let it go at that!

Tom Gar way — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom Gar way Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No less than quarterly please. What a travesty to force anything less on the public.
I invest, and I’m not going to stay or have anything to do with the SEC under your new proposal. I will diversify my investments elsewhere.

Thomas Garceau
Insurance agent/manager

Thomas Garceau

Tom Goff — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tom Goff As a investor in US stocks, I find this proposal alarming. Less transparency = bad; More transparency = good. This proposal sounds like a Trump effort to mislead people. Stop the madness, stop this proposal.

Tom Harrington — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tom Harrington Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Whereas it can be a burden, quarterly reporting keeps corporations “on point”.

Tom Harrington

Tom Heron — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tom Heron My concern is a lack of timely, reliable data severely impacts the essential requirement for me as an investor, and technically part owner, in an organisation, to monitor the performance and well-being of that organisation.

Tom J Tabone retired — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tom J Tabone Reducing reports from publicly traded businesses from 4x/year to 2x/year would be a mistake. I own part of many of these businesses and I need to be able to see what they are doing more than 2x year. I think doing this would only empower wall street insiders even more than they are already empowered. Please! Don't they have enough of an advantage already.? I mean you could maybe talk me into 3x/year but 2x/year is definitely not even information to make informed decisions.

Tom Lincoln — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tom Lincoln Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterlies matter to the small investor. Please keep quarterlies.
Thank you.

Sent from my iPhone

Tom Ludwig Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tom Ludwig I understand the desire to allow companies to think more long term but as an investor we need transparency. Going to twice a year feels like a step backwards. Please keep the quarterly report.

Tom Messner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom Messner Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it Quarterly! We would never know a company's inner workings until it is too late!

Tom Murphy — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tom Murphy Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 In this day and age way too much can happen in 6 months . Please keep quarterly reporting in place.
Thomas Murphy
Ocean City NJ.

Tom Murphy — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tom Murphy Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 In this day and age way too much can happen in 6 months . Please keep quarterly reporting in place. Thomas Murphy Ocean City, NJ.

Tom Nyren — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom Nyren Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Why change something that has worked for 50 years. Keeping it quarterly is no big del for those involved. The only reason to change it is because there is something underhanded going on we're not being told!

Tom Rands — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom Rands Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I've been in the stock market for over 27 years as an independent investor and I rely on these quarterly reports for my financial information and decisions. I would like MORE information, not less.

iPhone

Tom Rice Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tom Rice I am strongly opposed to cutting reporting requirements in half. In my opinion there should be MORE reporting, not less. With the technology and automation we have available, reporting should be done monthly so investors have a better picture of what is going on with their investments. The reduction of reporting that is proposed will leave investors with less information. Easy to see that more reporting is good in this situation and less reporting is BAD.

Tom Rogers Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tom Rogers I disagree with the proposal to limit reporting of publicly-traded from quarterly to semi-annually. In this day and age of information, it shouldn't be any issue for companies to continue to report 4 times a year to their stake holders.

Tom Rottmayer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tom Rottmayer Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it a quarterly!

Tom Ryan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tom Ryan Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 SEC Quarterly reporting is a bare minimum and absolutely vital for accountability. Please stand up for the great people in our country and do the right thing by maintaining quarterly reporting. Thank you. Thomas A. Ryan

Get Outlook for iOS

Tom Rydz — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tom Rydz No! Quarterly reporting is the norm. The president wants to hide and help those who help him to hide. It's the digital AI age and the truth from companies on a regular basis will help keep them honest.

Tom Saefke — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Tom Saefke Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep the reporting quarterly. This is an important operation and we need it done well.

---

tom steinback — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: tom steinback Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Every 3 months is best. Yes it is more work but accountability has to be maintained.

Sent from my iPad

Tom String Retired Registered Rep — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tom String Less transparency only creates more risk for fraudulent behavior. The cost savings to the corporation is minimal. So why make it easier for investors to get ripped off.

Tom Strome — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Tom Strome Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The passage of this reduction in the frequency of oversight on Corporations leaves time stamped WITNESS to what is seen as corruption of a system ALREADY UNDER EXISTENTIAL THREAT. Respectfully, Don't push it over the edge.

Sent by TS

Tom Thornton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tom Thornton Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep Quarterly reporting. Do not change to twice a year.
Thank you,
Tom Thornton

Sent from my iPhone

Tom Walker — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom Walker Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We need more transparency, not less. They can't be trusted. God only knows what crooked sh!t they'll do with 6 months dark. Tom, Retired investor.

Tom Walton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tom Walton As a small individual investor It is imperative that I get as much information as is possible. To reduce corporate Reporting By 50% cuts the information available to me in half. Please retain the status quo on corporate reporting.

Tom Wiggins — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom Wiggins Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 keep quarterly earnings report.

Tomas Revesz CEO, Cognius Inc — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tomas Revesz As a former executive in a public company, I can appreciate the burden of public reporting and the management pressures it creates. But as a lifelong investor, I can't imagine how I would make rational investments in public companies with such a long delay between updates. Taking public investment $, in my view, comes with a degree of accountability and transparency that should not be taken lightly and reasonably frequent transparency is a fair exchange for such a funding mechanism to exist. I strongly oppose a reduction in the required reporting frequency for public companies.

Tommee Carlisle — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tommee Carlisle Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We remember the Enron crooks. My cab driver’s parents lost all their pensions and had no financial way to survive. Shame on them. Every quarter. Make them sign off every quarter.

Sent from my iPhone

Tommie Weber — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tommie Weber Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is a joke. It extends their ability to hide trades and money movement and gives them more time to cover any potential wrong doing.

Sent from my iPhone

Tommie Zabrowski — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Tommie Zabrowski Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting and be diligent with it. I can only boycott so many corporations, yet I will continue to boycott them. There are way too many crooks in big business!

Thank you for your work on our behalf!

Warmest Wishes - Tommie

Tommy Pavletic — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tommy Pavletic A proposal is now on the table to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. We think that’s a mistake! At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Some argue that fewer reports would reduce costs. Maybe. Although in an age of AI and increasingly efficient disclosure tools, even that point is debatable. Others argue it would ease the pressure to manage quarter to quarter. But short-termism comes from how people react to information, not from the information itself. Taking the reports away doesn't make anyone more patient. It just makes everyone less informed. What isn’t debatable is that less information rarely creates better-informed owners. Imagine owning a business and getting updates from your managers only twice a year. It would still run every day. You'd just know far less about how it was doing. That's effectively what's being proposed here. Companies will continue operating every day. Products will be launched. Customers will be won and lost. Strategies will succeed and fail. Yet under this proposal, owners would receive only half as many official updates about the businesses they own. Less transparency doesn’t eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater. Right?

Toni Neill — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Toni Neill Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Why make it harder for us little people to make money. You know what this feels like two steps forward and five steps backward. This not just for lower income it goes for everyone but harder for the middle class. Darn if you do and darned if you don’t.

Toni Owens — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Toni Owens Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Already in past took so many working class savings and gave it special names and excuses. How about everyone quit investing period and only the ones millions and billions trade each others money. I guarantee you won't let them go a day without them knowing where their money is. Stop the fraud but is it too late?

Sent from my iPhone

Toni Pakay — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Toni Pakay Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Dear [Recipient Name],

I am writing to express my concern regarding the proposal to discontinue quarterly reporting. In light of recent disclosures concerning organizational oversight (corruption), maintaining these regular updates is essential.

The public expects and deserves full transparency. I urge you to reconsider this change to ensure continued accountability.

Sincerely,

Antonette Pakay
Retired USPS

Toni Spieth — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Toni Spieth Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting

Sent from my iPhone

Toni Williams — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Toni Williams Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep the reporting quarterly. Us small, older investors need the help to keep CEO's honest.
Toni Williams

Sent from my iPhone

Tonia Howell — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tonia Howell Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Dear Members of the SEC,

I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed shift from quarterly to semiannual reporting.

Limiting reporting to a semiannual basis would make it extremely difficult to manage our multiple family trusts, which rely on quarterly data to inform critical investment decisions. In an era of instantaneous information, this change feels like a significant step backward.

If we are forced to rely solely on semiannual reporting, I fear that our family—and many others managing significant portfolios—will consider withdrawing capital in favor of other markets. Such a pullback could lead to monumental market disruption, potentially triggering a recession or the collapse of businesses that depend on consistent investment growth.

I trust the Commission understands the gravity of these consequences and will maintain the current quarterly reporting standards.

Sincerely,

Tonia Howell
Caregiver and Small Business Owner

Tony — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tony Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The fact you wanna cut it means it needs to be increased. It should be done six times a year. Once every 2 months. That way , more fraud would be caught.

Tony Barts CPA — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tony Barts At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners.

Tony Brown — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Tony Brown Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Don’t allow any reporting changes to cripple the market. QUARTERLY earnings reports are a MUST!

Sent from my iPhone

Tony C — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tony C Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 More CEOs, and board members need jail time when they or their company do illegal things . Having quarterly reports is a minimum to help stop them early if fraud is involved .

I was an employee and got screwed by MCI/WorldCom and Bernie Ebbers, losing my pension and savings

Tony Cygan
Sacramento, CA 95818
xtonyc@gmail.com

Tony Eli — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Tony Eli Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not extend these deadlines!!

TONY F ORTIZ — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: TONY F ORTIZ Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 There should be no situation in which a public company is given six months to avoid , without oversight. There is no reason to change the system, except for fraudsters.

Sent from my iPad

Tony Hudson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tony Hudson I understand the extra work required to submit quarterly report, but this information is what makes me an informed investor and gives me a better chance at making better investment decisions. 4 reports a year has historically worked and I would not advocate for more often, but to cut it to twice a year will not provide the steady flow of info needed to make decisions and will mask/delay much of the seasonality or other shifting trends. Thanks for considering my feedback which is to continue to require 4 reports per year.

Tony Littleford — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tony Littleford I do not want a reduction in the number of reports

---

tony on — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: tony on Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it Quarterly!

Sent from my iPhone

Tony Priester — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tony Priester Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It is important for me and for everyone that this remains timely so as to prevent misuse

---

Tony Ritter — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tony Ritter I dont support the proposal to reduce public reporting to only twice per year. Management should make their performance more transparent not less.

Tony Schwartz — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tony Schwartz Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Anthony Schwartz - Industrial Engineer 6 month reporting would cause great volatility in stocks, and it would push "would be" investors away. Volatility only attracts gamblers, not investors.
What will be eroded is the bedrock of the markets. The general safe haven of systematic growth over time. We will see much greater blind spots, which in turn begets volatility and fear.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Tony Walton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment Anthony Shaun Walton. Lincoln, Nebraska. From: Tony Walton Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Sounds like a poor excuse for bad behavior. It lacks accountability.

Tonya McCarty — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tonya McCarty Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the current reporting periods. The financial transparency is imperative. Too many American citizens have been hurt by prior financial institutions not having to make clear disclosures. We cannot have another crash. Please keep the requirements for financial institutions to make clear quarterly reports. It is needed to protect all Americans and their financial assets.
Thank you
Tonya Yost

Sent from my iPhone

---

tonylwat3 — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: tonylwat3 Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Corporate greed is well known. How can we trust them, why would you sell us out. Your selling out your very children's future...why? I ask you to vote no, don't not pass this bill. Thank you for you time and ear.

Torey Olsen Personal investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Torey Olsen As an investor, I rely on quarterly updates, and earning releases and projections to help me understand risk, changing business conditions, and business results. Eliminating 50% of this information as extending the amount of of time for results to become stale has a real material impact to individual investors like me, who’s only insight into company results comes via the quarterly earnings releases.

Tori Boyle — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tori Boyle Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I want it to remain quarterly. I’m retired and heavily invested. I want to stay on top of how the companies are doing.

Sent from my iPhone

Tori York — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tori York Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Victoria York. I am retired. I want to receive my reports quarterly. Thank you.

Torrie Bentley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Torrie Bentley Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 If you are investing your hard earned money into the market, you are already taking a gamble. This choice would make investing even scarier for the average person. We should not be changing the length of time corporations are able to keep information from those who are putting their finances at potential risk. Keep It Quarterly!

Tovia Kohn — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tovia Kohn Maintaining quarterly reporting is essential for fostering transparency and trust in the investing community. Reducing reports to twice a year could weaken connections between companies and their stakeholders. Consistent quarterly updates not only build investor confidence but also enhance market stability. Moreover, frequent reporting encourages a culture of accountability, ensuring that employees remain motivated and engaged. Ultimately, keeping the reporting frequency intact is crucial for nurturing innovation and navigating the ever-evolving business landscape effectively.

Tracey Fottrell — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tracey Fottrell Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting, twice a year is not enough.
T Fottrell

Sent from my iPhone

Tracey L. Kennedy — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Tracey L. Kennedy Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting to prevent fraud and abuse. Accountability is needed!

Tracey Margeson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Tracey Margeson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
It needs to stay quarterly! Let's not have a repeat of 2008. Apparently some people think everyone will forget and not care. This is key to transparency, that "everyone" talks about. Without it our investments are at greater risk. If you don't want people to rely on the government for retirement funds, stop "fixing" all the other avenues to benefit only the big investors.

Tracey Parker — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tracey Parker Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This matters! I am a newly retired RN who invested 38 years on 12 hour shifts in the CCU! I need access to my accounts. My name is Tracey T. Parker

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Tracey Schatz — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tracey Schatz Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting and transparency in place!

Sent from my iPad

---

tracey smith — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: tracey smith Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Reporting needs to be quarterly for accountability.

Tracey Stokely — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tracey Stokely Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We don’t want to make it easier for billionaires to cheat! Please keep reporting at a minimum of quarterly.

Tracey Stokely

Sent from my iPhone

Tracey Trujillo — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Tracey Trujillo Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Tracey Trujillo, Research Administrator, reducing reporting will allow for more fraud and this administration is already corrupt enough. We need to keep this reporting to ensure any fraud or corruption is not covered up.

Sent from my iPhone

Traci Cheadle — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Traci Cheadle Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No, no, no! People are barely getting by now. Don’t jeopardize their retirement too!

Traci Cheadle

Tracie Zefel — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Tracie Zefel Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
stop - do your job.

Tracy Bridges — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tracy Bridges Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is not right this will allow more time for fraud to grow. Shame on you and having some integrity would be nice. Remember, God is watching and you will have to answer for your deception.

Sent from my iPhone

Tracy Casaday — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tracy Casaday Semiannual reporting only increases uncertainty and limits transparency. Please keep quarterly reporting requirements to keep investors informed.

Tracy Dahl Editor, The Motley Fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tracy Dahl I strongly oppose this rule. When I invest in a public company, I expect regular information about how it's performing. The 10-Q forces this transparency. Doubling the length of time between required reports is particularly misguided now that AI enables daily business transformation. With changes coming ever faster, investors need all the data they can get, the soonest they can.

---

tracy hartman-bradley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: tracy hartman-bradley Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No, I don’t feel this is good for the country.

Sent from my iPhone

Tracy Herriott — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tracy Herriott Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 As an investor and small business/personal bookkeeper I think it's a bad idea to o stop quarterly reporting. People need to know how their investments are faring in order to make informed decisions.

KEEP
Quarterly REPORTING.

Tracy Herriott

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Tracy Holland — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Tracy Holland Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly has worked all these years leave it Quarterly. If it ain't broke don't fix it. 😠

Tracy Lucas — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tracy Lucas I insist securities/ stocks/ financial companies that offer public offerings continue reporting each quarter at a MINIMUM. 2 times per year allows more insider trading and fraud from the companies we invest in.

Tracy OBrien — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: From: Tracy OBrien Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 In a time our country is gasping for breath, we need laws holding the rich ACCOUNTABLE.... KEEP it QUARTERLY!!

Tracy Personal Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tracy Quarterly earnings reports are a key part to investment decisions. ‘Publicly traded’ requirement for quarterly reporting seems appropriate and I would like it to stay in place

---

Tracy S — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Tracy S Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We need accountability. Keep quarterly reports.

Tracy Vainisi — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tracy Vainisi Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Transparency is instrumental in protecting our players. It is imperative that the public are aware of what our young people are being subject to.

Tram Tran-Ryan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tram Tran-Ryan Reporting twice a year is good with me. Reporting more just create short term interests that have more to do with the stock prices than with the actual working of the companies.

Trang Ouk — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Trang Ouk Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the quarterly disclosures as they are now.

Thank you.

Travis Connolly — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Travis Connolly As an individual investor, I oppose the proposal to reduce public company reporting from quarterly to semiannual. When I invest in a company, I become a part-owner, and I believe owners deserve regular updates on how their business is performing. Receiving official reports only twice a year would make it harder for investors like me to stay informed and make sound decisions. I also don't believe that less transparency will encourage long-term thinking; it simply means investors have less information for longer periods of time. In fact, longer gaps between reports could increase uncertainty and lead to larger market swings when new information is finally released. The strength of our markets depends on transparency, and I believe maintaining quarterly reporting better serves individual investors and promotes confidence in the companies we own.

Travis Dennis — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Travis Dennis Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Yes And we have most corrupt Administration from top to bottom and no one is doing anything about it..

Sent from my iPhone

---

travis klein stock owner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: travis klein I think it is absurd to reduce reporting to only twice a year. As business owners we should be informed of the businesses we own at a minimum every 3 months in my opinion. I would think about reducing my stock investments and move into real estate if this legislation is passed.

Travis Winn — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Travis Winn Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As an investor and someone who has previously worked in technology in the asset management industry, I wish to express my thoughts on the upcoming proposal. It is very dangerous for you to consider taking away quarterly reports. Please do not do this for everybody's sake. Thank you.

Travis Winn

Tree Amigos Charlotte NC — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tree Amigos Charlotte NC Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Since Covid in 2020 and the clear message that the general public expects large companies, the SEC and the stock market to have as much transparency as expected from the US government, I would think there would be more reporting requirements NOT less! And more officers of a publicly traded company should be required to attest to reported performance NOT just the ceo!

Sent from my iPhone

---

treshas3 — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: treshas3 Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Transparency matters. This would leave the door wide open for fraud.

Sent from Proton Mail for Android.

Trevor Coventry Previous CPA (Australia) — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Trevor Coventry As a regular investor I would find it difficult make informed decisions without regular reporting. Twice per year is hardly sufficient.

Trevor Cumberbatch The Motley Fool Community. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Trevor Cumberbatch Please leave the reports on a quarterly basis. As a stockholder in today's fast-moving information age, we should have more reporting. So that one can react faster to the unnecessary noise.

Trevor Jennewine Author for The Motley Fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Trevor Jennewine Semiannual reporting requirements deprive investors of information. Moving away from quarterly reports is a bad decision and it would likely be most harmful to retail investors.

Trevor Knight Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Trevor Knight I do not agree with the proposal to reduce the required SEC reporting to semiannually. It should stay quarterly. As a stock owner, I want to be informed regularly on the companies I have ownership in.

Trevor Wooten — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Trevor Wooten Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please continue the close monitoring and reporting in place.

TRINA CANNADY — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: TRINA CANNADY Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Trina Cannady, Nurse. It matters to me because I am an investor and I need to know quarterly what my stock is doing.

Sent from my iPhone

Trina Dykster — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Trina Dykster Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports!
Keeping is the honest way to do it if you’re not hiding anything! Trinadykster sec of outfitting business! No one trust the people in government because of all the changes they want to make. No more hiding money,

Sent from my iPhone

Trina Vaughn — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Trina Vaughn Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 NO ! AS AN INVESTOR, I HAVE EVERY RIGHT TO QUARTERLY REPORTING AND NOTHING LESS. I AM NO BILLIONAIRE. STILL IN AMERICA I SHOULD HAVE THE RIGHT TO QUARTERLY REVIEWS. I’VE WORKED HARD FOR WELL OVER 50 YEARS FOR EVERYTHING I HAVE. I’VE BEEN CAREFUL AND ATTENTIVE TO MY INVESTMENTS AND WOULD LIKE TO CONTINUE DOING SO. DO NOT TAKE THAT RIGHT AWAY FROM ME!

TRINA VAUGHN,
AMERICAN CITIZEN.

Sent from my iPad

Tring Enterprises LLC Owner of Tring Enterprises LLC, and HNC Mech Eng., UK. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tring Enterprises LLC As a shareholder of several companies, I find the quarterly reports very useful to give me frequent information on the progress of my investments. Anything less could allow a company's plans to get sidetracked or influenced by business, market or government. An investor needs to have current information and not learn of a problem "after the fact".

Trish Bronk — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Trish Bronk Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 For God's sake, keep the quarterly reporting. America deserves that. Don't change something that works for us!

Patricia Bronk
Bradenton, Fl
941-557-4339

Trish Butler — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Trish Butler Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Unbelievable that you would ok less reporting. Quarterly is minimally needed. Companies need to be held accountable. More than less. I have lost thousands with companies that you oversee. So be on consumer side please. Patricia Butler..retired.

Trish

Trish H — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Trish H Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Why take the quarterly reports away now? With all the fraud that has been found over the past few years, we need more checking, not less!

Patricia Hoitt
Retired

---

trisha faisst — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: trisha faisst Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I do not want reports delayed. Keep them quarterly. Transparency is imperative.

Tristan Cullop — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Tristan Cullop Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I rely on this information to make educated decisions about the companies I want to buy equity in. As a shareholder, the companies earning reports are imparitive to how many manage my position. I feel that taking away quarterly reports will create more volitility every six months and leave the average trader in the dark for time in between.

Tristan Cuthbert — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tristan Cuthbert Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting.

Individual investors depend on this information!

Tristan Cuthbert

Tristan Cuthbert — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tristan Cuthbert Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting.

Individual investors depend on this information!

Troy Callaway — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Troy Callaway Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The people who are making the most money should be the ones that are held the most responsible. This is just another favor for the rich. We need accountability now more than ever, especially with AI on the rise.

Troy Cocioppo — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Troy Cocioppo If I own a piece of a business, I deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners (me). I can't see how less information would keep me better informed? Less transparency doesn’t eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater. Right? I think this is a mistake to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two.

Troy Hargrove — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Troy Hargrove Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I am responsible for my actions everyday. Why shouldn't they, unless they have something to hide. To big to fail, my foot!

Troy Personal — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Troy Personal Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This should be mandatory quarterly filings keep companies honest

Sent from my iPhone

Troy Schasker — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Troy Schasker Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Don't slack on the ruling. Real consequences must be enforced .
.

Troy Sneed — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Troy Sneed Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I do not trust these corporations to do what is right, ever. They must continue to do quarterly reports. The fraud and corruption this helps to prevent, must not be cut in half.

Tru Entrtprises LLC — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tru Entrtprises LLC Do Not Reduce the number of reports a company that is traded publicly must submit to the SEC. As an investor, the transparency of 10K quarterly reports is extremely useful.

Trudy Coombs — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Trudy Coombs Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it. I'm retired and trying hard to hold what I have before this administration bankrupts us all. Ms. Trudy Coombs - Retired Wisconsin citizen

Trudy

Tucker Winter — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tucker Winter Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is a terrible idea! What are we hiding? Why are we giving complainers more ways to hide their financial dealings? If all is on the up and up, why wouldn't they be comfortable reporting it? This is a way to allow them to cook the books with no accountability. No way!
Tucker Winter
Virginia
Sent from my iPhone

Turtle Time — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Turtle Time Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Accountability and transparency must start at thr top. The companies at the top of the stock market are siphoning the wealth of the entire world, we must have insight into what they are doing. Do not allow them to hide what they are doing from the public.

Do not allow the SEC to cut the quarterly earnings reports.

Turtle Anuweh
Zip code 97520

Twinette McDonald — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Twinette McDonald Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep companies reporting quarterly. As a retired teacher I depend on the quarterly reports to help me see how to invest. I also feel that it keeps companies accountable to the government, investors, employees and consumers.

Thank you,
Twinette McDonald, retired

Sent from my iPhone

Two Twisted Posts Winery Owner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Two Twisted Posts Winery Reducing the reporting to semi-annual does not allow me to make knowledgeable investment decisions

---

TYERELL BOUGHAN — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: TYERELL BOUGHAN Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Dear [Recipient Name],

I am writing to recommend that we adjust our current schedule from a quarterly to a monthly basis. It is often best to address matters promptly rather than delaying them. Waiting for six months can create unnecessary opportunities for oversight or wrongdoing.

Thank you for your consideration.

Best regards,

Daughter of the Most High God, Mother, Grandmother, Former MH Therapist, Tyerell Boughan, AAB, BA, MSW
(University of Northwestern Ohio, The Ohio State University)

Tyler Combs — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tyler Combs Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Companies have proven time and time again they do not do well with self-governance and voluntary transparency practices. Verifiability of assertions lends credibility. Everywhere you look in modern society, decisions are made based on real-time information. If changes are to be made in reporting practices, the change should be going the other direction; toward more frequent reporting. In medicine, our efforts are immediately published for end-users' (our patients) scrutiny via patient portals. More than a week's delay in reporting results in delinquencies with serious consequences. No longer should there be double standards for companies when compared against individuals.
-Tyler Combs, physician

Tyler Harding Motley Fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tyler Harding Please continue to require public companies to report their quarterly results.

Tyler Turley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tyler Turley Please continue to require companies to update investors four times a year instead of two, this helps us to stay informed and make the best decisions with our finances.

TyRone Nicksic — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: TyRone Nicksic Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Approving this new rule is bad for transparency therefore bad for the market and it's participants. I urge you to leave quarterly reporting as is for sake of transparency.

Tyson Henderosn No affiliation — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tyson Henderosn At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Some argue that fewer reports would reduce costs. Maybe. Although in an age of AI and increasingly efficient disclosure tools, even that point is debatable. Others argue it would ease the pressure to manage quarter to quarter. But short-termism comes from how people react to information, not from the information itself. Taking the reports away doesn't make anyone more patient. It just makes everyone less informed. What isn’t debatable is that less information rarely creates better-informed owners. Imagine owning a business and getting updates from your managers only twice a year. It would still run every day. You'd just know far less about how it was doing. That's effectively what's being proposed here. Companies will continue operating every day. Products will be launched. Customers will be won and lost. Strategies will succeed and fail. Yet under this proposal, owners would receive only half as many official updates about the businesses they own. Less transparency doesn’t eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater.

U.N. Owen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: U.N. Owen Public company reports are meant to keep investors updated and informed of theirs investments. Investing in a company is taking ownership no matter how small. Less reports means less information and transparency between a company and it's investors. A less informed investor and owner is never beneficial.

Ulrich Wackerbarth Distant Teaching University of Hagen, Germany — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ulrich Wackerbarth There is no question that less frequent reports make investors less informed about the companies they co-own. This can never be a good thing while the suggested rule results from the same line of thought that purports investor trading as a good thing. In fact it will lighten the risks of insider trading. So I do hope the savings in cost will be weighed against the additional cost for investors of not being adequately informed.

---

update@emaildl.Aol.com — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: update@emaildl.Aol.com Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep reporting every quarter.

USA.com — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: USA.com Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The Quarterly reports help keep companies from defrauding their investors. Anything less gives insider fraud a chance to grow.

James & Caroline Stewart

V Campbell Motley fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: V Campbell Semi annual reporting for a public company is totally insufficient since major changes or performance could occur within that time putting public investors at a significant disadvantage. This would also facilitate increased insider trading because of the uninformed public. Quarterly reporting should be continued.

V.J. Link — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: V.J. Link Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It's hard enough to trust our government these days, with the rampant corruption going on in full view of the public. We need the SEC to ride herd on these corporations, especially in light of the Supreme Court decision which gave unlimited campaign contributions from corporate "citizens."

Valarie Dixn — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Valarie Dixn Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reports!!!!

Valencia Wallace — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Valencia Wallace Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 In this highly charged political environment, this is NOT the time to further erode confidence with institutions! Keep the reporting AS IS!!

Sent from my iPhone

Valentin Kunin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Valentin Kunin When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Keep 4 reports per year.

Valentina Kostitsyna — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Valentina Kostitsyna No semiannual reporting!

Valeria Wells — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Valeria Wells Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 VG WILBORN
I believe, changing the quarterly report structure, compromises the transparency that individuals have the right to access to maintain and manage their investments. In the current climate, in which illicit and improper processes are constantly a foot, the lack of integrity, the lack of transparency, the lack of information compromises one's ability to invest and be informed in how investments are managed.

Valeria Wells
Sent from my iPhone

Valerie — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Valerie Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the disclosures quarterly. There is enough corruption as it is.

~V

VALERIE A. DASPIT — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: VALERIE A. DASPIT Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The reporting needs to be done as often as possible ❗

Sent from my iPhone

Valerie bALTZER — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Valerie bALTZER Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Why would a corporate CEO not want to sign their quarterly reports?
What are they trying to hide? Or does it give more time for insider trading?

Sent from my iPhone

Valerie Burch — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Valerie Burch Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
It is unwise and careless to change the requirement of quarterly signatures to every 6 months. The longer wrongdoing takes place, the higher the occurrence of damage and more difficult it will be to rectify the situation. Please DO NOT CHANGE the quarterly requirement!!

Valerie Flores-Cadena — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Valerie Flores-Cadena Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Why would we invest in companies that don't report? If they go bankrupt the whole economy could collapse and people could end up in the streets. Is that what we want? More corruption, and homeless folk?

V.F.C.

Valerie Freiermuth — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Valerie Freiermuth Eliminating quarterly reporting is a bad idea. A more informed investor makes better decisions.

Valerie Glowinski — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Valerie Glowinski Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do NOT change the reporting. In a world with things changing daily, we need reporting regularly. Six months is TOO LONG!

Valerie Hayes — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Valerie Hayes Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I am against the new SEC proposal that would allow companies to report only twice a year. It is to their advantage not the average American investor. A lot can happen in six months. It would give more time for fraud to grow undetected. It would be a tiny savings for companies that would not be shared with stockholders. It would go to company executives. Companies still have to keep their books. They should continue reporting quarterly.

Valerie Lykes — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Valerie Lykes Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Valerie L., investor. I rely on quarterly reporting to ensure my investments are well balanced. Changing to a 6 month time window reduces the transparency I expect by corporations

Valerie Lykes

Valerie Mawdsley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Valerie Mawdsley With all the AI enhancements in business, it makes no sense to short-change us investors about the state of the companies we invest in by 50%. This is important information and I believe you should keep the quarterly reporting requirement in place.

Valerie Newkirk — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Valerie Newkirk Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Valerie Newkirk - retired.
I began working at our local hospital as an aide, at age 15. After completing high school, and Radiology school, I worked in healthcare, mostly in mammography, until age 63, when long covid took me out of the workforce.
My husband had 2 careers. The last one was 27 years as the Athletic Director in our city parks & rec dept. He and I worked hard for many years, invested wisely, and have a comfortable retirement. We do NOT want to see ours and other couples' nest eggs, that we worked most of our lives for, to go into the pockets of greedy, unscrupulous people, who have no compassion for the working class! I'm begging everyone who has any power in this matter, to PLEASE vote to continue quarterly reporting! The American people have already seen the damage that the lack of transparency and oversight can do. We don't want to go through another Enron type experience, ruining the lives of many more families! PLEASE do the right thing, and continue quarterly reporting!
THANK YOU!

I'm left, I'm right, I'm black and white,
I'm everything in between. I'm AMERICA.

Valerie Newkirk — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Valerie Newkirk Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Dear SEC members,

I began working in our local hospital as an aide, at age 15. After completing high school, and Radiology school, I worked in healthcare, mostly in mammography, until age 63, when long covid took me out of the workforce.
My husband had 2 careers. The last one was 27 years as the Athletic Director in our city parks & rec dept. He and I worked hard for many years, invested wisely, and have a comfortable retirement. We do NOT want to see ours and other couples' nest eggs, that we worked most of our lives for, to go into the pockets of greedy, unscrupulous people, who have no compassion for the working class! I'm begging everyone who has any power in this matter, to PLEASE vote to continue quarterly reporting! The American people have already seen the damage that the lack of transparency and oversight can do. We don't want to go through another Enron type experience, ruining the lives of many more families! PLEASE do the right thing, and continue quarterly reporting!

THANK YOU!

Valerie Newkirk, retired
Waynesville, NC

I'm left, I'm right, I'm black and white,
I'm everything in between. I'm AMERICA.

Valerie Phillips — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Valerie Phillips Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I think is is under handed and it should not be allowed. If it is I will find a different way to invest my money. Like small mom and pop businesses. Valerie Phillips owned Stained Glass Creations for nearly 50 years . vcphillips77@gmail.com

Valerie C. Phillips
Stained Glass Creations, LLC
8163050770 www.stainedglasscreationsllc.com
IG: vcphillips77

Valerie Spring — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Valerie Spring Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Transparency is the backbone of trust. I urge you to NOT change the present quarterly reporting for CEO's. It is a terrible idea which sets the stage for MORE insider trading, with less visibility.

Quarterly reporting forces companies to regularly disclose financial health, risks, and operational changes. Without it, investors would operate with longer information gaps.

That increases uncertainty, volatility, and risk premiums, and it will be the smaller investors like me, not the insiders, who are hurt the most.

Executives and insiders will still see real-time performance, but public investors would be flying blind for longer periods.

This widens the gap and raises the risk of insider trading advantages, selective disclosure, and market manipulation.

Sincerely,

Valerie A. Spring
Goshen, NY

Sent from my iPhone

Valerie Thoennes — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Valerie Thoennes Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Dear SEC,
We need quarterly reporting for accountability for our savings and investments. With all the technological advances, this is a very simple computer calculation to complete. Then also, must people probably have gone paperless, so it is not much work to mail the few that want paper. Please hear our concern and keep the quarterly reporting.

Thank you.
Valerie Thoennes
Married and first time grandmother from Minnesota. B.S. degree in Business with focus on finance. Career in banking and mortgage banking.

Valisha Adams — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Valisha Adams Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It's precisely your DUTY to keep the public abreast of what's going on, in a timely manner. Keep the quarterly reports coming!

Valoris L Forsyth : Investor Family assets manager over 58 years — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Valoris L Forsyth : Investor I disagree with the over simplification philosophy this agency is attempting to justify. I disagree with reducing the frequency in reporting. A provision that would severely limit the transparency of financial progress a company reports. A quarterly report provides the progress to plans defined by the management team. Data that directly impacts business fundamentals and the quantitative analytics that are associated with those fundamentals. Information that influences and forms the basis for free market trade. The burden of reporting has existed for decades, longer than I have been in the market. The infrastructure cost are fully comprehended within the business. From time to time corruption and malfeasance is exposed in the process. In all cases quarterly financials provide some visibility into how the business is managed and the market reacts accordingly. Why would a government choose to hide or not disclose that information to the financial community or the public. Why would they desire to limit that information to a once or twice a year update? Is the motivation underway point to something more sinister? Is this more of the insanity expressed within the political arena. Another notch in the persecution nonsense ...hate the rich! Is it more of the deceit and deception continually expressed by the left? Stop with the power / control insanity. Quit trying to limit a free market.

Van Anderson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Van Anderson Please keep company reporting every quarter, not semi annually. It is best for the markets and investors alike. Keep America’s markets strong!

Van Johnson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Van Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Colin Johnson, I do not want you to backtrack the sec with your hateful charges! Retired!

Sent from my iPhone

Vander Bonachuck — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Vander Bonachuck This will hurt transparency and accountability for small individual investors. The SEC should be advocating for more accountability not less.

Vaneat Bellizzi — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Vaneat Bellizzi Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I just turned 66 and retired. I worked hard for me and my husband who has been disabled for the past 30 years. We were very steadfast and conservative in our investing. Social security will not meet our monthly needs to sustain us, so we depend on investment income to supply the lack. While I trust my advisor but I am not his only client and it's my responsibility to know what's happening with my investments. The ability to monitor them on a quarterly basis to make crucial decisions is paramount for me. From my perspective reporting 2X a year would be an injustice and likely devastating.
Thank you for your attention to this very crucial matter.

Vaneat Bellizzi

Vanessa Alile — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vanessa Alile Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 These public companies are keeping too much information from investors. Reporting should be MONTHLY!

Vanessa Ancillary Healthcare — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Vanessa It's so important to keep executives accountable. They can't keep those positions, salaries, and bonuses if they are not held accountable for the actions of their company. Enron's defense was "I didn't know." Congress closed it. Enron's executives claimed ignorance of their own books, so Congress made ignorance impossible to claim. Every quarter, the CEO and CFO certify that they personally designed and evaluated the controls that surface bad news, and that they reported any weaknesses or fraud to the auditors. The law claws back executive bonuses even without proof the boss was personally involved. Halve the filings, and you halve the quarters where "I didn't know" is off the table. That opens the door for fraud and misleading investors for their own gain. People have their life's savings and retirement invested in all these companies, and deserve to hold someone accountable for accurate and honest numbers. It costs the CEO and CFO nothing to certify as long as they are doing their due diligence.

Vanessa Fenton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vanessa Fenton Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 There is enough corruption going on. Do not remove the ability for people to protect themselves and their retirement savings. Shame on you for removing the checks and balances from the oligarchs.

Sent from my iPhone

Vanessa Fortune — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vanessa Fortune Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I do believe this is not the way to treat American people .

Vanessa Johansen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Vanessa Johansen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I strongly disagree with eliminating quarterly reporting for publicly traded companies.

Vanessa McAtee — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Vanessa McAtee Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Everything needs to be transparent and we're tired of letting people in power take away those law !!! To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Vanessa Orasky — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Vanessa Orasky Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It is not onerous to expect companies to keep doing what they have been doing for years. I run a small business myself. If you want to be publicly traded you owe the public timely and accurate information about how your business is doing. -Vanessa Orasky

---

Vanessa Saenz none — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Vanessa Saenz I these days when the government is lying to us constantly about everything, we need more transparency not less. we need quarterly disclosures as we need to keep informed on what these companies are doing.

---

vanessanoblegang — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: vanessanoblegang Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It' imperative to keep these reports quarterly...!

Sent from my Galaxy

Vangie Schoening — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Vangie Schoening Given less information is never optimal for one's financial health. Please strongly consider keeping the quarterly report format in place.

Vasileios Galanis — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Vasileios Galanis I deserve regular, transparent communication from a business. Public-company reports should take place four times a year.

Vatsal Sanghavi — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Vatsal Sanghavi As an individual investor, I strongly oppose reducing public reporting to twice a year . Cutting updates in half creates dangerous information gaps and gives institutional insiders an unfair advantage over retail investors . Less frequent data will not force long-term patience; it will simply cause larger surprises and higher market volatility.I urge the SEC to protect transparency and maintain the existing quarterly reporting framework.

Vee Woods Roberts — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Vee Woods Roberts Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Historically, quarterly earnings reports ensure stockholders are well informed, price manipulation down, and executive issues to a minimum. Keep them quarterly!

Sent from my iPhone

---

velencia tripp — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: velencia tripp Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep quartet. We cannot stop oversight of our economy

---

Venise Brown — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Venise Brown Investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners.

Vera Churilov The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Vera Churilov Reporting regularly is important

---

Vera Mount — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Vera Mount Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the integrity of quarterly reporting!

Vera Stelter — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Vera Stelter I do not believe that a change to twice a year financial reporting by companies is in the best interest of its shareholders and other investors and do not believe the current requirement of reporting four times a year should be changed. It is hard enough to keep track of what companies are up to, let alone have any meaningful in put into decisions that affect the value of my investments. Companies want investors and need to be encouraged and reminded that they do have a responsibility for regular, detailed reporting of what they are doing with investor money to support that investments are made with knowledge of what and how the company is conducting business.

Verily Vera Leigh — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Verily Vera Leigh Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Uh, why are we reporting to authorities when we're the ones getting robbed blind. It's backwards and upside-down. Anyone with 2 eyes should be able to see this ship caught fire & capsized way before 2020. Let's just rebrand the cow "Divided Nations" and call it a day

---

Verna Funk — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Verna Funk Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Verna Funk, Retired Newnan Georgia As an Investor that relys on your reporting, You are either setting up personal to be replaced by Ai, or you want to Hide underhanded dealings that benefit YOU and the other Highly Paid via profits that Only YOU Control. Ever since the 2009 collapse of the market from non Automotive sales. Which I was greatly effected, where the Automobile industry..was BAILED OUT; then those making POOR MARKET DECISIONS had The BAILOUT TAXPAYERS Paid FUNDING to REWARD your POOR DECISIONS. Millions of Dollars were given to your High ELITES. It was people like me for Several years ended up using my Funds, to Pay my TAXES to pay to survive then pay more taxes on paying to survive after what YOUR POOR DECISIONS were REWARDED for.

Now with the past presidents elections, we see/read WALL STREET using Our Money to PAY/ BRIBE Politicians running for or to stay in office. NOW I try to PAY ATTENTION to What you use my Money for. I truly believe when computers are doing the Jobs that you receive HUGE COMPENSATION for, those HIGH dollar salaries are never justified. I live simple. My last vacation was one of 2 for pleasure 9 years ago. Most of my funds used, have been for helping others. THIS REPORTING thing; i don't want to rely on catching up to what is on the internet. My life should not be staring at a computer devices. I try to make LIFE count and PRAISE GOD for putting Simple things onto my path. STOP the underhanded business. As you get to Play with my funds, Do it wisely. Again, you are HIGHLY COMPENSATED. Do the RIGHT think by us little people. Verna Funk Newnan Ga

---

Verna Gore — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Verna Gore Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No! Do not change back! We want the laws to stay with more transparency the way it is now!

Sent from my iPhone

Verna hansen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Verna hansen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not change !!!

Vernon Primeaux — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Vernon Primeaux Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the Quarterly reporting. I own stock and am fearful of the corporation becoming corrupt.
Vernon Primeaux, retired nurse
vernprim@hotmail.com

Veronica Adams — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Veronica Adams Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No freaking way!
Sell out working Americans even more than you have,
corporate titans -- WE will remember each of you.

Please excuse any typos from my (sometimes) smartphone. 😎

Veronica Adams — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Veronica Adams Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No freaking way!
Sell out working Americans even more than you have,
corporate titans -- WE will remember each of you.

Veronica Adams — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Veronica Adams Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No freaking way!
Sell out working Americans even more than you have, corporate titans -- the pendulum will swing. We rhe people's will remember each of you. Businesses need customers.

Veronica Adams — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Veronica Adams Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No freaking way!
Sell out working Americans even more than you have, corporate titans -- The pendulum will swing. WE the people, we will remember each of you.

Veronica Adams — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Veronica Adams Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The pendulum will swing. There will be consequences from the American people you continue to sell out.

Veronica Lewis — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Veronica Lewis Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We need more oversight, not less! Did the mortgage crisis teach you nothing?

Veronica Perdue — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Veronica Perdue Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Who does this matter to , Are you phishing?

Sent from my iPhone

Vic Miranda Motley Fool subscriber — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Vic Miranda With a fast moving markets as they are today it's even more critical that we receive information about our Investments at least on quarterly basis anything less would be ludicrous. We want more disclosure not less.

Vic None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Vic I am opposed to the S7-2026-15 proposal to reduce corporate reporting to semi-annual. Quarterly reporting is a key requirement to measure accountability.

Vic Phillips — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vic Phillips Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reports are saner and more helpful. The only reason to go back, is to aid the cover of financial shenanigans.

Vic Ranzetta — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Vic Ranzetta Shareholders in a company are the owners of a company and as such have a right to be informed of the company’s activities and status financial and managerial. Quarterly reporting achieves this to a great degree. Reducing this to a half-yearly activity is not in the best interests of shareholders. In the modern era information can be gathered, collated and shared in a timely manner without increasing costs and expense and effort, especially with the rapid advances in AI technology, at no additional expense to the companies that are duty bound to keep owners and the market fully informed. This makes the argument of reducing costs for companies by allowing twice yearly reporting meaningless.

Vicki Bell — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Vicki Bell Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Business trends are more easily spotted on a more frequent reporting basis allowing for corrections to be made sooner.

The public needs to be informed on a quarterly basis.

Sent from my iPhone

Vicki Benedix — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Vicki Benedix Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Am reading The House of Morgan by Ron Chernow. Secrecy was held in highest regard before SEC established. King Charles III is evidently going to reveal his tax returns. TRANSPARENCY IS A GOOD THING as Martha Stewart would say.😊

Sent from my iPhone

Vicki Heckman none — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Vicki Heckman I encourage the continued process of quarterly reports and transparent communications between companies and their investors. Quarterly reporting give investors a much better picture of the health of the company being invested in, and allows for better more informed decisions. Please do not move to a semi-annual reporting status.

Vicki Jackson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vicki Jackson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is not a good practice and doesn't seem honest at all

Sent from my iPhone

Vicki Langfield — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Vicki Langfield Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Obviously, if there are no boundaries with consequences, then cheaters will cheat!!!
Yes, make it quarterly!!!🇺🇸

Vicki Perizzolo — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Vicki Perizzolo Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We deserve to know!!

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Vicki Santigian — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Vicki Santigian Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please preserve quarterly reporting. In America, if we want to remain strong, we must respect information and make it available so that people can make informed decisions. This is not information that should be hidden from all but the wealthiest. A thriving democracy depends on equal access to correct information.
Vicki Santigian

Vicki Steinwurtzel — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Vicki Steinwurtzel As a stock investor of many years, the prospect of reducing public-company reports from four times a year to two is a terrible idea. Less information rarely leads to better results. I prefer transparent communication from the companies I invest in, and as an investor, I am a partial owner. Reducing investment reporting communication will weaken the connection between those companies and their owners. Please keep the public-company reports at four times a year. Thank you.

Vicki Williams — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Vicki Williams Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
There are millions of retirees that keep careful watch on their retirement funds and their independent investments. In most cases, those independent investments are not large, but to us they are very important. You must not black out reporting on quarterly reports! The big investors might love this, but they have plenty of money and to some its just a game. For us, investing is still important and something to be followed, checked on, and discussed. If it becomes too dangerous or undependable, we will all drop out. Given a fair shot, we feel safe to talke a chance. But take away the guard rails and we will walk. We got to retirement because we could weigh the odds and make good decisions. We know when we are being snookered. Don't take away quarterly reporting!

Vicki Williams-Andrade — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Vicki Williams-Andrade Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the quarterlies quarterly.Help keep the fraudsters out of business, and the CEOs and CFOs accountable and on top of things. Vicki Williams, (Retired)Regulatory Compliance Assistant, Waste Management, McKitrick Waste Treatment Site.

Vickie Haynes — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Vickie Haynes Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This needs to be reported every 6months we have a right to know what is going on with our money.To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Vicky Brandt — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Vicky Brandt Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
It's absurd that the SEC is considering ending quarterly reporting, at a time when fraud and deception are rampant, the concentration of wealth has accelerated to astronomical speeds, and it's already hard enough to sort through the deluge of junk information circulating online and even in once-trusted news media.
Corporate scandals where investors lose their money are often the result of gaps in financial disclosure. Small retail investors like me who are counting on their retirement savings--especially in light of the coming crisis in Social Security--cannot afford to lose even a small percentage of our investments due to deceit, which is rampant nowadays. Quarterly filings don't prevent fraud, but they dramatically shorten the window in which it can fester.
After all, a lot can go wrong in half a year: ballooning debt, lawsuits, vanishing customers. Quarterly filings force all these into the open.
Retail investors need clear, accurate and timely information to make informed investment decisions. Insiders and institutional investors will always have the resources and relationships to get the information they need. Without quarterly reporting, the playing field becomes even more uneven.

Vicky Stata — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Vicky Stata Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We need to keep this fair and legal and protect investments for all, please do not do away with quarterly reports!! I'm counting on my investments to see me through retirement and to have a little left when I die for my children. Thank you for your consideration and please do the right thing for the average American. We are counting on you!

Victor F Randolph Doctor of Medicine — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Victor F Randolph A proposal is now on the table to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. I think that would be a grave mistake and a disservice to every investor in our country!

Victor Mathijsen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Victor Mathijsen Dear Commissioners, Can you please keep quarterly reporting requirements in place to keep the market as transparent as possible for all investors and not just the big institutions. Thank You.

Victor Mun — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Victor Mun Definitely a bad idea. As a shareholder, I want to be informed more, not less. Stop with this nonsense! It is a terrible idea!

Victor Wang CPA AUSTRALIA — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Victor Wang Please keep the rules to have current listed companies provides quarterly financial reports that available to shareholders, which is part of the transparency protocol. The listed companies belongs to shareholders and shareholders deserve to know the financial performance from time to time considering the value of money that each investor put in.

Victor Wittmann — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Victor Wittmann Don't change the rules about frequency of financial reporting by public institutions. More information, not less, should be made available to investors.

Victoria Beckner — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Victoria Beckner Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I am a stockholder in several companies. I am also on Social Security. Why would the SEC take away my ability to know how my investments are performing?
Doesn't the reporting work FOR the people, not the executives?

Victoria Eddy-Helenek — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Victoria Eddy-Helenek Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Computers make it very simple to do accounting and reporting. There is no reason to reduce frequency of reports. If anything it should be increased.

Best regards,
Vicky

Victoria J Eddy-Helenek

NYS Master Teacher, Emeritus, Capital Region

Victoria Garcia — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Victoria Garcia Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Victoria, senior director of talent. This change only benefits people in the know and wrecks the rest of us. Quarterly reporting keeps businesses honest and it’s the right thing to do. Why would the SEC even consider changing it. This only hurts people.

Sent from my iPhone

Victoria Langdon — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Victoria Langdon Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting will make it harder for companies and individuals who depend on the information provided to make sound judgements on where they should focus their efforts to plan for the future.
Victoria Llynn.
Stock holder
in Transport company.

Sent from my iPhone

Victoria Miller President, Thriving Life Institute — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Victoria Miller This is a profoundly inappropriate proposal. If anything, reporting, should be more frequent, not less.

Victoria Nadler — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Victoria Nadler Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We have rights! This is our opportunity to understand what's going on for negligence if we do due diligence.
Our rights not yours.

Victoria Nadler. Hopatcong NJ

Victoria Slocum — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Victoria Slocum Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This is a horrible idea. This is absolutely ridiculous. Increases the risk of fraud and public to get screwed over big. No!!!!!
Victoria Bellis

Get Outlook for iOS

Viki Hollander — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Viki Hollander Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Decreasing accountability is the wrong decision. Scuttle this terrible change. Corruption succeedswhen there are not effective checks and balances. Viki Hollander, Business partner We-ROC llc.

Sincerely,

Viki S. Hollander
Science not only purifies the religious impulse . . .but also contributes to a religious spiritualization of our understanding of life. Religion without science is blind. Albert Einstein

---

Vikki Folino — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Vikki Folino Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
You must NOT end quarterly reporting. Help Americans keep this from happening. Thank you

---

Vimal Desai — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Vimal Desai Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Please do not allow 6 month reporting of financial results, stick to the quartely.

Thank you

Vincent LaRosa — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Vincent LaRosa At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners, thereby increasing uncertainty.

Vincent Prunier — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Vincent Prunier Limiting the information available to shareholders is a huge mistake. I DO NOT support the proposed change to semi-annual reporting. Quarterly reporting is necessary to make informed decisions. We are the owners of these companies.

Vincent Stolo — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Vincent Stolo I am reiterating what the fine folks at The Motley Fool so eloquently stated: At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Some argue that fewer reports would reduce costs. Maybe. Although in an age of AI and increasingly efficient disclosure tools, even that point is debatable. Others argue it would ease the pressure to manage quarter to quarter. But short-termism comes from how people react to information, not from the information itself. Taking the reports away doesn't make anyone more patient. It just makes everyone less informed. What isn’t debatable is that less information rarely creates better-informed owners. Imagine owning a business and getting updates from your managers only twice a year. It would still run every day. You'd just know far less about how it was doing. That's effectively what's being proposed here. Companies will continue operating every day. Products will be launched. Customers will be won and lost. Strategies will succeed and fail. Yet under this proposal, owners would receive only half as many official updates about the businesses they own. Less transparency doesn't eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater. I am against reducing the Semiannual Reporting Proposal

---

Vinodh R — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Vinodh R Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Data and information is the new currency and removing quarterly reports will make it really hard for retail investors like myself to judge companies perromance. This change smacks of contempt towards the everyday investor. My personal savings and retirement accounts are already affected by changing rules to accommodate the big companies(SPACEX) and removing this would make it easier for those big companies to remain opaque and lead to fraud.

Vinton Foughty — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vinton Foughty Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 No rigging the already rigged system

---

Viola Pendergraf Owner/Operator, Kingdom Konsulting LLC — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Viola Pendergraf Viola Pendergraf, small business owner. Keeping these people and big corporations accountable will help the market and smaller corporations as well.

Viraj Naik — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Viraj Naik I would like SEC to maintain the current rule of publishing the public company reports four times a year. We need more transparency not less. Reducing the reports from four times a year to just two will be a mistake! If the companies need to cut cost - they can publish the report online (no print and postage cost) With advent of AI, companies can look at other means of cutting costs, or becoming more efficient but not cut the published reports from 4 times a year to two. Please remind companies and yourself - Lack of transparency breeds distrust.

Virendra Swar Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Virendra Swar At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. DO NOT reduce the number of public filings and reports.

Virginia Anton — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Virginia Anton Please do not allow public companies to report semi-annually rather than quarterly. Business conditions change rapidly and investors need to be able to track the health of companies in order to protect their investments. No competitive business would want to decrease the information available to make their decisions. The expense of collecting information is already a cost of doing business and not producing quarterly reports is really withholding it from the investors, or actually hiding it. Please do not change the rules that have served us well for years.

Virginia B Retiree — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Virginia B Do not change the quarterly reporting requirements; protect individual investors. Corporations must meet accounting standards and need to be held to those standards and report them publicly and quarterly. We don’t need another Enron especially on light of the huge mergers occurring and no protection from Congress preventing these .

Virginia Beard — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Virginia Beard Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This new rule will hurt American citizens and only help corporations not honestly report their financial status. Six months is too long of a gap! Please do not pass binannual reporting! Quarterly reporting has worked fine. Don't take away more power from everyday people trying to invest for their families. Powerful corporations and their one percenters that run them have already taken advantage of us plenty enough, thank you. The working man is tired of being taken advantage of!

Sincerely,
Virginia Beard Concerned Citizens

Virginia F Thompson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Virginia F Thompson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not cancel the quarterly reports due from public companies. This is critial information that investors need to make educated decisions.
Thank you,
Sincerely,
Virginia F Thompson

Virginia Freedman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Virginia Freedman Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It will encourage people to do insider trading. How can people on Main Street bet on a stock if they have the wool pulled over their eyes with only reporting on how a company is doing 1/2 a year.A lot can change for a company in 6 months.

Virginia Freedman

Virginia LeCounte — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Virginia LeCounte Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I want my quarterly reports to stay quarterly. Every 6 months is too far in between.

VIRGINIA REICH — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: VIRGINIA REICH Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I WANT MY QUARTERLYS !!!!!!!!!!!

Virginia Shaw — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Virginia Shaw Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The quarterly reporting needs to stand as is!

Sent from my iPhone

Virginia Soltis — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Virginia Soltis Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Reporting matters, Transparency matters. Responsibility and honesty matter, too. I check my portfolio every day to be sure my investments are in good order. please keep reporting on a quarterly basis so I can be sure I am doing what is right and responsible with my assets.

Thanks.

Virginia Valencia — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Virginia Valencia Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I do not want the SEC to change their reporting scedule. We need to keep informed about the ongoing activities. More information is a good thing.

Virginia Wilbur — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Virginia Wilbur Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We need complete transparency and trying to get out of regular reporting is dangerous!! Do NOT allow this to pass!!!

Vishal modia The motley fool community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Vishal modia Reducing companies providing financial information from 4 report to 2 a year would be a mistake and discourage future investing.

Vito F Rutigliano/Motley Fool None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Vito F Rutigliano/Motley Fool I agree with the Motley Fool's position that quarterly reporting should continue. I would be open to reducing paper costs of reporting but believe that quarterly helps companies remain aware of goals.

Viveca Axelsen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Viveca Axelsen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: hiiii

---

Vivian Ehresman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Vivian Ehresman Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Why would you eliminate quarterly reports. Transparency should be a priority if there is nothing to hide from shareholders!
Transparency is a right!

Vivian Helm — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Vivian Helm Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep fincial information. Reporting quarterly! I started my career in communications for a bank holding company in 1979. Lived thru the 90s financial crisis which resulted in necessary changes. Please keep those guardlaines & reqirements in place!
Thanks, Vivian Helm, St Louis, MO Retired

Vivian Helm
Freelance Communications
cell: 314-398-1946

Vivian.helm@gmail.com

Vivian Helm — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: From: Vivian Helm Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep fincial information reporting quarterly! I started my career in communications for a bank holding company in 1979. Lived thru the 90s financial crisis which resulted in necessary changes. Please keep those guardlaines & reqirements in place!
Thanks, Vivian Helm, St Louis, MO Retired

Vivian Helm
Vivian.helm@gmail.com

Vivian James — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Vivian James Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING!!
It's BETTER FOR AMERICANS!!
This just gives these CEO's more time to CHEAT!!

Vivian James!

Vivian Mott — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Vivian Mott Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 As an American citizen, accountability and integrity are dear to my heart.

---

vmceng — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: vmceng Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We don't want to give CEO's breathing room for making wrong decisions.
The economic impact created by the Enron mismanagement can't be tolerated. Many of us lost jobs and drove many to ruin while those CEO filled their pockets.

Silvestre Gonzalez
PE

Sent from my iPhone

Vo Newell — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Vo Newell Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please continue quarterly reporting. Our retirement is in investment funds, and we'd like to make sure it is working for us.

Voll Hockey Co. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Voll Hockey Co. Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 History has proven that the market is far leaner upon semi annual reporting compared to quarterly reporting. We the people compell you not to interfere with the current standard of quarterly reporting. Please take heed of the past, present and future before going back to the 1955-1970 years of market depletion due to lack of transparency. At record market highs, we MUST remain transparent, and on track. A quarterly reporting system will DERAIL hard working American citizens retirement investment savings accounts, and possibly set us back decades. For everyone's sake. We implore you to follow Warren Buffet,s advice, and continue to do what's right in the best interest of the people

Sincerely,

Market Investing Americans!

Greg Voloshen
Corporate Sales & Distribution

Voll Hockey U.S.A.

6706 Woodruff Ct.
Middleburg Hts., Oh. 44130

Tel: 440.299.7825 (Puck)

e-Mail: vollhockey@gmail.com e-Commerce: www.vollhockey.com

Google Business Listing/ Reviews: https://g.page/r/CZ9w9a-JkymmEB0/review

---

VP — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: VP If I own stock in a company, I'm an owner of the company because the companies vision and goals align with my priorities. I need to be appropriately informed with the happenings of the company. Allowing a company reduce the number of official correspondence with its owners is unprofessional and opens up opportunities by the company to make questionable decisions that would lack accountability. Our companies unfortunately compensate executives ungodly amounts of money. Cost cutting by reducing the number of official earnings releases is an excuse, not reasonable management of my investment.

VR Liguez — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Quarterly reporting -keep it From: VR Liguez Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep quarterly reporting.it makes good business sense for entrepreneurs and instills confidence (therefore investments) for stock holders and consumers. If you end this practice it will further destabilize our economy.

---

vsfield — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: vsfield Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting should continue to keep accountability high and maintain customer confidence. Virginia Field, a retired investor.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

W. Vincent Dice — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: W. Vincent Dice I feel transparency is more important than ever, not less so. This rule is equal to my Director reporting the status of my companies twice a year. An owner or investor can not make an informed decision without data and disclosure. Please consider the investors. Thank you.

W. W. O'Bryan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: W. W. O'Bryan I am opposed to the reduction of the number of public company reports from four times a year to just two. As an investor-owner I have a right to regular, transparent communication from the businesses I invest in. Less information rarely creates better informed owners. Do not allow the recucaiton of the number of reports.

Wade Buckley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Wade Buckley As an individual I take ownership in the companies I purchase stock in. I rely on the quarterly reports to help me determine what to do with my investments. I feel that decreasing reports to twice yearly will be too far apart to adequately determine the necessary actions I need to make as this is less transparency from the companies that I invest my money in. Please keep the quarterly report mandatory.

Wade Cherry The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Wade Cherry Fewer reports and disclosures result in a less-informed public and, consequently, less-informed shareholders among those who own the company. While I recognize that reducing reporting requirements has benefits such as potentially lowering compliance costs, I do not believe those benefits outweigh the value of the information and transparency provided by quarterly reports.

Wale Investments Pty Ltd MNIA — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Wale Investments Pty Ltd Reporting arrangements and regulations to remain as they are

---

Walt Livingston — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Walt Livingston Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Walt Livingston, retired. I strenuouslt object to granting corporations double the time to bilk investors. Oversight is the only thing holding them back from wholesale fraud. Even quarterly is insufficient; semi-annual reporting all but guarantees harm will come to ordinary citizens.

Walter — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Walter Please keep the quarterly report s in vigor. More information makes for better understanding of what’s occurring in any company.

Walter — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Walter Reducing reporting frequency will make investors less informed. It was also increase advantages of insiders who have access to non-public information, hurting the average investor in the process. In the age of increasing automation, filing quarterly financials has never been easier. Don’t do away with it to satisfy the small few who stand to benefit at other’s expense.

Walter and Diane Allison — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Walter and Diane Allison Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Please keep OUR REPORTING QUARTERLY as we must see our investments work!!!

Walter Elmore The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Walter Elmore As investors in public companies, we are owners and as such have the obligation and the responsibility to stay abreast and aware of their strategy, their activities, and the outcomes of their activities. And to do so on a frequent basis. One way this occurs is via quarterly reporting. Moving to semiannual reporting we would reduce the transparency that management should have with us owners and allow them to act with less accountability. The advent of more automated reporting and AI should help mitigate any cost concerns of quarterly report. Please stay with quarterly reporting to maintain the transparency for the US market - the deepest and broadest investment market in the world, due in large part to its transparency!

Walter Hanni Continental Development Corp . PO — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Walter Hanni I am an investor and manage my own retirement account. I look closely at the Quarterly reports. I make decisions based on earnings and the projections given by the companies. I am for less government regulation; when it comes to financial disclosure I feel it serves a purpose. A public company is owned by the stock holders they should be kept informed quarterly. Thank you for considering my opinion.

WALTER HAUKE — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: WALTER HAUKE Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I would prefer 3 month reporting.

Sent from my iPad

Walter Hermenau — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Walter Hermenau Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
How would this be a good thing for us regular investors?
It appears to be another way for the owners to make a buck.
Please don't do away with quarterly reporting. I read them and I can see that I will have even less knowledge of a companies financials v. the insiders if they are eliminated.
Thank you.
Walter

Walter Holden — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Walter Holden Please keep quarterly reports mandatory. Reducing the requirement will save very little and increase anxiety in investors. We want to know what is happening so that we can respond accordingly.

Walter Kloefkorn — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Walter Kloefkorn I comment to strongly OPPOSE Rule S7-2026-15, Semiannual Reporting, the proposed relaxing of signed reporting requirements. This would be a tiny, insignificant savings for companies, not that I buy into any argument that they need regulatory relief. It is just a reduction in accountability. At a time when we quite obviously need more accountability. This sounds like exactly what executives planning to abscond with investors' money would want. With the precarious bubbles hanging over the market, now is NOT the time to give scoundrels an extra three months head start. The SECs obligation is to make investing as safe and secure as possible, with honest information available to average investors. Not to make life easier for overpaid corporate executives and save giant corporate entities a few pennies.

Walter Kraw None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Walter Kraw More information is better than less as well as transparency

---

Walter Ripps — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Walter Ripps Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Being up front is a mandatory requirement of a public held organization

Walter Ripps sent this

Walter W. Steesy Motley Fool community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Walter W. Steesy I am against reducing the present quarterly reporting to bi-annual reporting. The quarterly summery that I can read on the companies that I own stock in help me understand what they are doing and thus helps me set my investment activities.

Walter Wolf — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Walter Wolf Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly!!!
Do not change.
Please.

Wanda Bartlett — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wanda Bartlett Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Financial reporting by corporations needs to continue to be done quarterly. My father was one of the individuals that ended up broke because of the Worldcom scandal. What Worldcom, Enron and Madoff did to the public and their employees was an atrocity and I don't want to ever see that happen again. It's disgusting how individuals and corporations use the system to exploit people who trust them. We try to save and save and save for our retirement since it's become obvious that Social Security cannot be depended on to be there when we retire and not only do individuals find loopholes to scam people who trust them. But our government does it too by raiding our Social Security. I've paid into Social Security since I was 16 years old, but what I get when I retire is based on only my top 20 highest earning years. WHY?!?!? I paid in for over 50 years. My monthly Social Security should be based on

ALL of my earning years. The government created Social Security for us since they figured we can't be depended on to save for ourselves. And now it's being raided by the government agencies that put it in place to protect and help us in what is supposed to be our golden years. STOP ALLOWING THE PUBLIC YO GET SCREWED BY INDIVIDUALS, CORPORATIONS AND OUR GOVERNMENT!!!!!!!!

Wanda Borman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wanda Borman Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 All corporations should be required to post quarterly reports. Wanda- Program Manager at a nonprofit.

Sent from my iPhone

Wanda Gross — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wanda Gross Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Wanda Gross transportation provider,care giver this matters to me because I am READY

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Wanda Kilkian — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Wanda Kilkian Coming from a leadership position, it would be unacceptable to only receive semiannual status reports. The only ones that benefit from this are those who are trying to hide problems, troubling trends, and missed performance metrics. As a leader (or someone with an ownership stake in a company), I want to know how the business is doing and the future outlook. Quarterly reporting does provide important information and should continue. I would think that anything less could lead to lower participation in the market due to lack of timely data.

Wanda Nelson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wanda Nelson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please Keep quarterly

Sent from my iPhone

Wanda Woodworth — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wanda Woodworth Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting for transparency sake. Corporations cannot be trusted to be honest. They've proven that time and again (i.e., Enron, et al).

Wanda Woodworth, MA
Wanda Woof Dog Training RETIRED

Cell 972-841-3550

Volunteer, DFW/Austin Boxer Rescue
Volunteer, Boston Terrier Rescue North Texas

"The greatness of a nation and its moral progress can be judged by the way its animals are treated" Mahatma Gandhi

"Dog training that uses pain is like a nuclear bomb - You might not see an immediate impact but there is definitely fallout at some point." - Steve White

---

wany joseph III The motley fool stocks investments trades and market maintenance services stocks investments trades — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: wany joseph III Stocks investments trades and market maintenance services stocks investments

---

Warner Smidt — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Warner Smidt Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Warner Smidt, I am retired but a former small business owner.

Reporting needs to remain quarterly. Granted that the time of CEOs of large corporations is more “expensive” than that those of smaller companies; but that is no reason for less accountability. It’s actually the opposite.

Plus, when the rank & file employees know their upper management also has regular accountability it sends a powerful message. The same holds for the general public at large. Accountability helps build confidence in a company.

---

warren anderson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: warren anderson Keep the quarterly reports for companies. It will help keep me informed about what I own and keep them honest, mostly.

WARREN PRICE — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: WARREN PRICE Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly.

Sent from Warren’s iPad

Warren Sainvil — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Warren Sainvil Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep it how it is

--
Warren Sainvil, MBA
Business Analyst
Photographer

561-567-5332
Warren.sainvil@gmail.com

Warren Smith — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Warren Smith To whom it may concern, I find it rather disturbing to see less transparency being advocated than is currently on offer. Companies need to report 4 times a year to keep investors properly informed rather than just twice a year. Investors have a tough time as it is without making it even tougher by lowering reporting standards. I sincerly hope this new regeime is NOT introduced. Kind Regards, Warren Smith

---

Wayne — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Wayne My dad always said “ I can take good news and I can take bad news. What I can’t take is no news” . I cannot make a timely monetary decision if I only get updated news on business twice a year. If it ain’t broke don’t try to fix it.

Wayne Decker — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Wayne Decker Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My retirement investments are important to me. I need to know the state of the companies I invest in. Quarterly reporting is imperative. Wayne Decker, Retired

Sent from my iPhone

Wayne Dettmann The Motley Fool community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Wayne Dettmann Please do not extend communications from companies out to 6 months. Keep at 3 month for much better updates. Thanks for taking time to hear my thoughts.

Wayne Evancheck Retail Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Wayne Evancheck Good Evening, As a retail investor for many years, I would plead with you not to change the quarterly reporting to semi-annual. I strongly feel that doing so would be a disservice to all investors I rely on these reports to make important financial decisions and feel anything less would hamper my investing abilities. Thank you for considering my views. Wayne Evancheck

---

Wayne Gunter — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Wayne Gunter Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My investments are monitored daily. In today's seesaw market a finger in the wind for six months does not seem prudent.

Wayne Kurzen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: DON’T. S7-2026-15 Comments From: Wayne Kurzen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 In an era of massive fraud, why have less restrictions and make cooking the books easier??? BAD IDEA!

Wayne

Wayne Kurzen
678-362-7734
Sent from my iPhone (excuse typos)

Wayne Ptasinski — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Wayne Ptasinski Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We need to keep quarterly reporting, it's stood the test of time and allows for business transparency, particularly for the private investor.

Wayne Schneider Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Wayne Schneider We need this reporting

---

Wayne Zhou — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Wayne Zhou Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Stop allowing for the shedding of accountability! If anything how about you require monthly reporting? Reign in the greed and the fraudsters.

WeatherGems — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: WeatherGems Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Jam Fred. Retired investor.
Don’t cave to the potus and the billionaires and protect the average stock market investor. Why revert to a time prior to 1955 when the worst crash of all time occurred. In this age of digital data financial reporting should be available daily and you want 1/2 a year to go by so the rich and insiders make more money. UNBELIEVABLE! Make a stand for the millions who invest for retirement and livelihood.

Sent from my iPhone

Wei Chang The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Wei Chang The proposal to reduce frequency of public company reports will be detrimental to transparency between companies and investors. The perceived benefits of cost and management reduction are unfounded. Please maintain the quarterly reporting requirement.

Wellington Investment Co Pty Ltd The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Wellington Investment Co Pty Ltd Dear SEC, WE expect as investors to get quarterly updates. As business owners its not too much to expect the CFO and CEO to report the numbers once a quarter. By all means make the length of the reporting and compliance less onerous but numbers are numbers and business owners deserve to see the results on their investments every 90 days. I run my own business and top line report weekly and monthly as well as quarterly.

Wendall Milliken — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Wendall Milliken Reducing reporting requirements is not helpful to financial investors. Less information does not make customers better informed.

Wendell Garrett — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Wendell Garrett Hello. I am asking that you keep the number of public company reports transparent and to report quarterly. It's important that we as share owners know what is going on and not to hide the reports so that I can make an informed decision. Having gaps in reports is an unfair if only the corporate insiders have this knowledge and not the public. I am willing to pay for the disclosure of the reports as not having the reports really isn't saving me money. Please consider disclosing the reports to quarterly and to be transparent. Thank you, Wendell Garrett

---

Wendi Smith — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Wendi Smith Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reports keep things straight...letting corporations hide activity for half a year is asking for trouble

---

Wendi Smith — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Wendi Smith Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reports keep things straight...letting corporations hide activity for half a year is asking for trouble

---

Wendie Jones — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Wendie Jones Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This is an abysmal idea. We need to keep quarterly reporting. For transparency, and the ability to get information, and to make decisions. A lot happens in 6 months and a lot of money can be lost. To the average investor it could be the difference between retiring at 65 or 70.
Not to mention the fraud that can occur in six months and not be caught. Theres a reason these rules were changed and I cannot for the life of me understand why your trying to change them back. Unless you're doing more of what our current government seems to be doing daily, which is helping the rich to get richer while watching to hard working Americans fight even harder to keep the money they've worked hard for in their pockets!!! Enough is enough. Theses rules help everyone! Leave them be! We are the ones who will be the hardest hit by not receiving the information we need regularly as opposed to twice annually!

Wendy — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Wendy Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly. Only reporting 2 times per year is not enough.

Wendy Pavlics
2428 Shelburn Rd.
Millville, NJ 08332-9643
Waep@comcast.net

Sent from my iPad

Wendy Barbaris — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Wendy Barbaris Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Wendy Barbaris, retired registered nurse. This is important to me because as I age in this country and economy, I need to be as confident as possible in the checks and balance system of those who are still out there and the money game.

Sent from my iPhone

Wendy Boeger — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wendy Boeger Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly!

Sent from my iPhone

Wendy Bolduc — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wendy Bolduc Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I rely on investments for income. Without quarterly reporting myself and managers will be at a disadvantage in the marketplace encouraging insider trading. These companies need to be held accountable quarterly as they have been.

Wendy Bolduc

Sent from my iPhone

Wendy Brown — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Wendy Brown Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
When will you start working for the people who elected you and not the oligarchs?

Wendy Carels — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wendy Carels Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Wendy; physical therapist; share holders have the right to know the financial data about the companies they own stock in. Three months is a reasonable amount of time to begin to see trends and allow a response. In six months trends have become realities and it is too late to respond.

Wendy Carels

Wendy clemens — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wendy clemens Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This will lead to more corruption. No do not do it!!!

Wendy Hesd The Montley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Wendy Hesd Respectfully request that companies maintain quarterly reports not just for accountability but investors need company information to make informed decisions. More information, not less, is vital. Thankyou.

Wendy Kamm — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Wendy Kamm Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Public companies should be required to report quarterly because there is way too much temptation to hide true records and assets. Let's keep them honest.

Sent from my Galaxy

Wendy Nash — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Wendy Nash Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Wendy Bellinger, video producer Ford Motor, retired. Corporate action happens fast. We don't need less communication, we need more.

Wendy Tien — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Wendy Tien Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is integral to transparency and the very minimum for garnering investor confidence. There is already a large segment of the population that does not invest monies in equities, and backing off from quarterly reporting will not encourage new investors and discourage existing ones. In fact, I am someone who has invested the bulk of my earnings into the stock market and am now questioning whether that was a foolish decision with these proposed changes. Should these changes pass, I will most certainly be redirecting my monies and rethinking my investments.

Wendy Tien, MD
Altadena, CA

Sent from my iPhone

Wendy Tsao The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Wendy Tsao Do not reduce number of reports from 4 to 2/ year. We require these timely reports in order to make informed decisions regarding our investments

---

Wendy Van Dyke — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Wendy Van Dyke Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the SEC: It is extremely important to keep companies' actions and worth transparent and updated quarterly. Six months is too long for companies to operate secretly, which would only benefit insiders, not the average stakeholder. Six months would give too much time for fraud to grow. Every major contemporary accounting scandal was enabled by “blackouts” in financial disclosure, and while a 3-month window won’t prevent fraud, it would allow a lot less time for it to grow. And although the wording states that the twice yearly reporting is “optional”, market forces will soon allow it to become the new normal, as small companies will follow the larger companies’ lead on the smaller reporting frequency. And the small amount of savings that companies will gain by reporting less frequently is not worth the potential costs to the ordinary investor. As a retiree, I need to know what the few investments I have are doing, and when. I strongly urge you to keep companies reporting quarterly.

Sincerely, Wendy Van Dyke

Wendy Whittemore — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Wendy Whittemore Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I want to stay in touch with what's happening to my investments, especially my IRAs. Keep up with the quarterly reports, please!!

Sent from my iPhone

Wes Richardson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Wes Richardson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities andYoi must keep quatterly reporting. Exchange Commission:

WESLEY G PERICONE, CPA PC LICENSED CPA IN NY PA AND NJ MEMER OF NY S S OF CPA — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: WESLEY G PERICONE, CPA PC I believe it would be a big mistake to allow corporations to only report semiannully. Since we have advanced to the computer age all corporations are well positioned to monitor their records monthly and also they are well aware to perform interanl audits to identify any material issues within their operation. No investor will be conformable not knowing a companies operations until the six month period. As a former executive in a major corporation, I would not think our company could operate profitable if we made decisions based on a six month analysie instead of three months. Furthermore, I do not believe the time savings is cost justified. (if there is a cost savings) Thank you for the opportunity to voice my opinon

---

Wesley Pedersen Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Wesley Pedersen Some argue that fewer reports would reduce costs. Maybe. Although in an age of AI and increasingly efficient disclosure tools, even that point is debatable. Others argue it would ease the pressure to manage quarter to quarter. But short-termism comes from how people react to information, not from the information itself. Taking the reports away doesn't make anyone more patient. It just makes everyone less informed. What isn't debatable is that less information rarely creates better-informed owners.

---

wfaye1 — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: wfaye1 Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I am a retired school teacher and I need this quarterly statements to stay informed about my investments that are keeping me going in my old age. Those small investments from my teachers paycheck are all I have now. Keep the quarterly statements, please!

Faye Guarienti

Sent from my Galaxy

---

whamilton379 — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: whamilton379 Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Trump appointed the head of the SEC just for this purpose, if it's corrupt then it will be done. As always Trump doesn't care about the American people, only about corporate bribery

Sent from my Galaxy

Whitney Davis — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Whitney Davis Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 This proposal is blatantly attempting to legalize insider trading for the elite and cutting the 99% out of the profit. Heinous. This would not be allowed under a real democratic government.

Whitney Davis

Whitney Merchant — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Whitney Merchant Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Whitney Merchant, Creative Project Manager. It matters because I'm counting on my investments in retirement.

Wilford E Webster — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Wilford E Webster Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
It is pass time to work for the average everyday investors! This is becomming a big deal to voters and they are being organized.

Will Nash — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Will Nash Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I say NO on semi annual reporting. Keep the QUARTERLY!

Will Thomas — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Will Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reports are the ONLY thing keeping some of these thieves from robbing from people who do not have it to lose. Keep them honest or delete their jobs.

Willaim Opfermann — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Willaim Opfermann Please continue current quarterly company reports rule. I have needed them and continue to use them! Thank you.

Willard Hashimoto American consumer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-21 From: Willard Hashimoto I am writing to express my strong support for the SEC's proposal to allow public companies to opt into a semi-annual reporting schedule via Form 10-S. The current mandatory quarterly reporting framework places a heavy administrative and financial burden on American companies. This administrative drag compromises their ability to compete effectively in a fast-moving global economy. Major international markets, including the European Union and the United Kingdom, have long operated successfully under semi-annual disclosure models without sacrificing market integrity. Furthermore, the pressure to meet quarterly expectations forces corporate leadership into short-term decision-making. Transitioning to a semi-annual schedule will allow American businesses to prioritize long-term value creation, invest deeper into research and development, and reduce redundant compliance costs. I urge the Commission to finalize this rule to modernize our capital markets and strengthen the global competitiveness of U.S. corporations.

Willard Merkel The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Willard Merkel As a small investor I rely on 4 times per year data. I feel it is necessary to give small investors an even playing field.

William B. Charlton — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: William B. Charlton Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 There is NO good reason to change the current quarterly reporting requirement.

Investment accounts we set up with our daughters' baptismal monies were cut in half by the cheaters at Enron and took decades to recover; why make it easier for scum like that to maintain their fraud?

Thank you;

- WBC

William B. Charlton
Boonton Township, NJ

William Baker — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Baker As an individual investor with more than 50 years of experience, I strongly oppose any proposal to reduce or eliminate the current obligation of public companies to report quarterly. More information is better than less, as a clear rule. As for concerns that quarterly reports may induce management to operate on a shorter term basis than would be ideal, that is simply a failure of management, not of information, and should not be a regulator's concern. Investors should know if management is fearful of managing for the longer term; the SEC should not protect poor managers by removing their current disclosure obligations. I am a part owner of each public company in which I hold stock, and I want to know how the company is doing at least quarterly, not less so.

---

william balding — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: william balding Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 bad idea for America - don't allow the truncation of information. We all need it - including the companies themselves. Pensions need it. Individuals need it. etc etc - another bad trump idea

---

William Banning Motley fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Banning Changing the reporting schedule from 4 times a year to 2 is a big mistake and I'm my opinion, will make volatility increase. It also opens the door to lack of visibility making investments much riskier than at present.

William Battle None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Battle Changing reporting requirements from quarterly to semi-annually will reduce transparency and make it harder for investors (read owners) to know what's going on. Since most companies produce monthly statements internally, reducing filing requirements won't save much. It will, however increase the focus on those statement and likely exacerbate stock market swings for missed earnings. More volatility tend to reduce multiples, leading to further losses.

William Bellingham The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Bellingham Less transparency doesn’t eliminate uncertainty. It increases it. And when information finally does arrive, the surprises are likely to be bigger, the reactions sharper, and the volatility greater.

William Beyer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Beyer Do not reduce corporate reporting requirements. If anything, more data should be available to the public.

---

william blevins Banker — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: william blevins Quarterly financial reporting is a must for individual investors to have faith in the stock market and the financial reports. If you do away with this requirement and go to 2 times a year only the "Wall Street" individuals will really know what is going on with publicly traded companies.

William Bond — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Bond Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Leave it the * alone

---

William Burre — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Burre As a long-term individual investor, I oppose reducing public company reporting from quarterly to semiannual. Transparency is a fundamental part of ownership, and more frequent reporting helps investors make informed decisions based on accurate information rather than speculation. While companies may argue that fewer reports reduce costs or encourage long-term thinking, limiting disclosure does not eliminate short-term market reactions—it simply leaves investors with less information and greater uncertainty. Public companies have a responsibility to communicate regularly with their owners, and quarterly reporting remains an important part of maintaining trust, accountability, and market efficiency.

William C Smith Retired CFO — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William C Smith I am a retail investor. Yes, 4 times a year would probably be more expensive but is not that the price you pay for selling your Company to many owners. If I were an absentee owner of a Company with say 3 partners, and I was, I wanted monthly reports and a seat in the Board room. I may own .03% in a big Company but to me that is thousands of dollars and financial security. I know in these quarterly calls you are never getting the whole picture from management. I know some of the "accounting" is dubious as a CFO and an auditor for Price Waterhouse. Do not let public companies be less transparent to their owners. Thank you. WCS

William Chapman Retired Property Casualty Broker — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Chapman Information technology today allows for accurate and timely presentation of data at a greatly reduce cost. The technological platforms allow for greater depth of data at a reduced cost. There is no reason to restrict the presentation of financial data other than to the advantage of the presenter. Accurate and timely presentation of date secures and maintains investor participation and confidence. Thank you, William

---

William Clay — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: William Clay Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 A change in the corporate reporting laws is not in the best interest of investors. It is that simple.

William Cline — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Cline Investors are given information about corporate conditions four times a year. These updates are important for making investing decisions: wait to buy, buy, sell, hold. Learning about a corporation's condition only twice a year would make investing decisions more difficult. Thus, keeping a four times a year reporting requirement is helpful to most of us who invest.

WILLIAM D. McEachern Mötley Fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: WILLIAM D. McEachern Respectfully, I believe that reducing quarterly reporting of financial information to semi annual reporting is a mistake and will not benefit the investor. Information is the key to proper investing. Deprivation of that information reduces the ability to make an intelligent and informed investment. The cost of quarterly reporting is not so great that it outweighs the need of investors to know. Particularly, with the advent of AI, it is easier and easier to report financial information. An informed investor is the best investor. Do not reduce our ability to obtain information.

William D. Nay Oklahoma Bar Association, Motley Fool Investor Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William D. Nay As an investor with substantial money in the market and as an attorney in private practice (principally corporate and commercial law) for over 50 years, I believe the proposed reduction in reporting requirements is detrimental to a safe and efficient capital market for investing.

William Davis — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Davis Communication is the cornerstone of all relationships. As an investor, these quarterly reports are a way to get timely, accurate and validated information. Corporate transparency for investors is crucial to make a better decision to become and maintain ownership through shares. Reducing the frequency will only leave a larger gap of time between validated communication for making timely decisions about an investment.

William Dawson none — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Dawson quarterly reports are necessary.

William Edwards The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Edwards To Whom It May Concern: The recent proposal to modify the reporting period for public businesses from the present quarterly reporting to instead a semi-annually reporting period is NOT in the best interest of a free and open society. Such a move would most certainly have a widespread negative effect on the everyday investors by delaying critical financial performance information -- either good or bad-- to investors, specifically and to the public, generally. In the investment world, clear and frequent communication is a must, and is something that cannot be compromised. It is simply the cost of doing business, and it needs to remain as it is now, with quarterly filings, not semi-annual filings.

William Ellis — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Ellis Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Do your job - keep reporting as you usually have in the past.

Sent from my iPhone

William F Wu Jr — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William F Wu Jr The shareholders are partial owners of the company. To reduce reporting requirements to semi-annually is a disservice to the owners. As owners they deserve to be apprised more frequently than a mere two times per year.

William Franklin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Franklin Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 “News Flash! SpaceX Stock Plunges to Lowest Price Since IPO Day.” This is one of the many reasons why we need quarterly reporting. Are we willing to live through 2008 again? I’m not.

KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING!

William Garnett Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Garnett Less information leads to less informed investment decisions and potential corruption, particularly in this current administration. Stay with quarterly reports.

---

william gokey — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: william gokey Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep reporting 4 times per year.

Sent from my iPhone

William Gutierrez — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Gutierrez Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Especially during present times, accountability is a must for this generation and beyond. Quarterly is a must.

Sent from my iPhone

William H — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William H Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is William Hammonds II, I work in the Security field and I am a Veteran. I DO NOT agree that the SEC should stop quarterly reporting. I think that is a that would lead to fraud on a massive scale. That's my opinion on that subject.

William H Fearn Former IT Manager, Las Vegas NV, BS Mathematics — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William H Fearn I feel that, since companies are now moving quickly towards the adoption of AI and are increasingly more productive, this allows for an increase in the ability tro report more frequently. However, there are still increased repoting costs due to HITL auditing verification. This leads me to believe that four reporting periods should be optional with only two manditory, as long as companies use their AI-driven capabilities to flag material shifts in real-time via an unscheduled material event filing, (Form 8-K), rather than waiting for a rigid quarterly calendar date.

William Haberlandt — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Haberlandt As a proud citizen of the United States, I am being asked over and over again to accept the responsibility of shouldering MORE and MORE of the of costs of democracy (police, fire, military, public and religious education, social services, etc.) at the same time as receiving FEWER and FEWER benefits of a democracy (dirtier air, dirtier water, plastic garbage in everything, extreme weather conditions, unprovoked war, etc.). The only way to sustain shouldering these costs is to invest in the stock market, and this cannot be done wisely without full corporate transparency. The "Regulation Fair Disclosure" proposal is exactly the opposite of it's name. Please keep the rules "as is", and if anything, look to improve transparency requirements, not weaken them. Thank you for your consideration.

William Hall Entrepreneur — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Hall Do not change frequency

---

William Hogrebe — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: William Hogrebe Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Leave it alone. 90 day filings should be kept in place.

Sent from my iPhone

William Howe — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: William Howe Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting please. Thank you. William Howe

Sent from my iPhone

William Humcke Retired Market Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Humcke Do not change the law that stands for corporations to report Quarterly. No one needs to get financials only twice a year. Please, this does not help shareholders in the least!

William Hutton n/a — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Hutton I believe that moving to twice a year reporting instead of quarterly reporting is a mistake! More not less transparency is needed

---

William J Bufe CPA Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William J Bufe CPA Transparency with quarterly reporting, please.

William J Shepard, Jr. W.J. Shepard Consulting, L.L.C. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William J Shepard, Jr. Greetings. I am responding to the SEC proposal allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. I think that’s a mistake! What in the world are you thinking? How is this possibly good for the investing public? I spent a 30-year career in a Fortune 500 publicly traded business, and the process for quarterly reporting was smoothly and repetitively efficient and effective in communicating with shareholders. I don't buy at all the argument that more frequent reporting causes corporate managers to focus too much on short term earnings rather than long-term growth. Are you really saying with a straight face "well, the best way to get companies to focus more on long-term growth is by withholding information from their investors"? Please stop this nonsensical proposal in its tracks, now. Thank you.

William J. Spangenberger — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William J. Spangenberger Full disclosure is better than limited disclosure !

William Johnson Motley Fool. — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Johnson I favor maintaining quarterly reporting: it provides more opportunities to detect both fraud and ordinary business deterioration before losses become much larger.

William Jordan — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Jordan Quarterly reports are critical for individual investors. Allowing publicly traded companies to report only biannually is a disservice to the investing community. We should be looking for more transparency, not less.

William Kennedy Uemura Attorney at Law — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Kennedy Uemura The reporting requirements should stay the same (or even increase, in the Age of AI). Even in combat, lieutenants report higher frequently – and they can be pretty busy. The lieutenants' convenience wasn't part of the equation. Today's corporate officers for publicly traded companies have more resources than the lieutenants ever did. Frequent reporting is better for the company. It's better for the owners. It's better for the world. Only for the feckless is it not better.

William Kenny N/A — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Kenny Good morning. I am writing today to ask the SEC to NOT reduce the number of public reports required from US public companies. Investors rely on information from companies to make decisions about their investments. It is my belief that more the more information available, the better those decisions will be. Therefore, please keep the required reporting time frame as quarterly, not semi-annually. Thank you.

William Knowles — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Knowles Allowing a reduction in required public company reports. I see no upside. Reducing quarterly reporting to bi-annually allows for more room for smoke without facts. Reducing accountability for the sake of efficiency fails to acknowledge the stock owners need for transparency to make good investing decisions. There is a lack of explicit trust that causes me to want the transparency of quarterly reports. Also, biannual reporting expands the rumor mill by lengthening the reporting frequency. Is there a savings to businesses by reporting less frequently? I believe it's negligible compared to the value of quarterly transparency.

William Little retired — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Little I oppose the commission decesion to reduce the reporting proposal is now on the table to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. I think that's a mistake!

William Lohmann — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Lohmann I prefer to maintain transparency of public company quarterly reporting. I believe moving to bi-annual reporting is a hindrance to investors.

William Longua — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Longua This proposal is unsafe for American investors, will allow for more fraud and abuse by fiduciaries. We need to maintain the current reporting structure and increase oversight if anything, especially in today’s environment.

William M Rasberry — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William M Rasberry I strong oppose this rule change and can't believe it's even being considered.

William M. Chapple — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William M. Chapple I am a 76 year old individual investor. I completely disagree with the idea of doing away with quarterly reporting in favor of semiannual reports. I worked for a Fortune 500 company before retiring, and I have attended many meetings of the Board of Directors in NYC and in the home state of the company. As an individual investor, I read quarterly reports and follow the trends of the entities I invest in. Quarterly reporting is good for the companies, and the investing public, especially small investors.

William mackin Private investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William mackin Please do not lessen reporting responsibilities. We need publicly traded companies giving at least quarterly reports. Semi- annual reports will bo allow private investors sufficient information to compete in the market with insiders and well- funded institutions.

William McCarthy — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William McCarthy Please keep the Quarterly Report requirement for publicly held Corporations.

William Moloney — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Moloney As an interested investor, I find the suggesting of moving to biannual reporting to be disconcerting. I feel I will be less informed about my companies performance and of any changes that may materially affect my opinion.

William Motley — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Motley Semiannual reporting would represent a significant regression of transparency, and be a direct impediment to informed investing. A publicly traded company is responsible to the public. Reporting is a critical mechanisms for holding a company to those responsibilities. Weakening that mechanism serves no beneficial purpose.

William Moul — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Moul Informing stakeholders is, and should be, a cost of doing business. A well functioning market is one key to economic success and that functioning depends on relevant and timely information. Frequent reporting was expensive before the advent of electronic data processing but not so much in the 21st century. Semi-annual reporting is a step backwards for economic health. Do not approve the semi-annual rule.

William O'Brien self-employed insurance agent — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William O'Brien I am an individual investor holding about thirty (30) stocks and ETFs in my portfolio. These investments are the essence of my retirement plan in addition to holdings in IRAs. I depended on regular information from these companies in deciding whether to further invest or sell my holding. Quarterly reporting is essential to my investments. The more information available to me aids in making these determinizations as to whether to buy, hold or sell. Less reporting would make this more difficult for me and all investors. Please keep public companies accountable to the public with regular quarterly reporting.

William Osborn — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Osborn Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Look this is a terrible idea and everyone knows it. So I will not waste time trifling with regurgitated obvious reasons, instead I will simply encourage you to go ahead and do it. Burn baby burn and never forget this is what you want when the consequences come for you.

William Paseman — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: William Paseman Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly reports help me make better investments.
Please don't end them.

WILLIAM R DEYO The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: WILLIAM R DEYO SEC Chairman Atkins and CFTC Chairman Michael S. Selig I have been informed that there is a proposal now on the table to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. How can this be beneficial to investors? Less pertinent information could be disastrous to the investment community. How can one make informed decisions on investments if there is insufficient information available to make those decisions. Keeping the public un-informed is pretty close to excluding them from the ability to participate in what is remaining of the United States investing system.

William R. Keller Personal investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William R. Keller Less information is harmful to individual investors. While I agree that long-term investing is a noble goal, reducing corporate disclosure is not a way to achieve this. Opacity in corporate finances will lead to less informed decision making, bigger surprises, and more volatility. Please retain the quadrennial reporting requirements for publicly traded companies.

William Rueth — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Rueth I strongly disagree with the proposed reduction in required reporting requirements (twice a year vs. quarterly). As an investor, I expect to be kept up-to-date regarding the companies in which I hold shares. To receive information less frequently leaves me in the dark while reducing management's transparency. Please reject this proposal.

William S Mills Motley Fool — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William S Mills Please continue frequent reporting. Under-reprting means less informed investors.

William S Nottingham Retired — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William S Nottingham Please do not reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to two. I depend on my investments to live and need all the information I can get to make decisions. Thank you.

William Sanford — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Sanford Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We need quarterly reports to protect investors and retirement funds. It is a bad idea to revert to semiannual reports since if investments in your portfolio go bad just after the last report, you won’t know for six months, well after any problems occurred. It would be devastating to small investors and retirees to see that things went south and they were not able to respond quickly to minimize losses. The larger corporations will be able to respond quickly as they will have access to the information, essentially insider information. Imagine ending the year with a million dollars in your investment portfolio then six months later, it’s down to half of that without any way to respond. Another attempt to give away the little guy’s money.

Bill Sanford. Sent from my phone.

William Schoen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Schoen Leave reporting quarterly

---

William Settle — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Settle Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It's a very dangerous thing to allow to happen in today's economy the only reason for this is to allow businesses to hide their real financial situation

---

William Simmons — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Simmons I think it is a very bad idea to change from quarterly reporting to 6 month or annual. Things change much too fast today to force investors to wait 6 months to see the financial position of public companies. As usual, this change will favor the wealthy, who will have more access to the company's officers.

William Singer — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Singer I believe that a reduction reports is a horrible decision and I would like to maintain the current structure of four times a year. this lines up with quarterly reports and I believe that all investors should know what is going throughout the year.

William Skrocki Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Skrocki Do not change the rules from quarterly reports to anything less. Any change would benefit a few, priviliged people.

William Smith None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Smith 4 times a year is best.

William Stevenson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: William Stevenson Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is vital!

William Taylor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I have been retired for 19 months and, as a retail investor, I rely on quarterly reports to manage and make decisions regarding my retirement accounts. A reduction in required transparency further opens the door to ever-increasing corporate - and government- corruption. William Taylor , retired airline pilot

Sent from my iPhone

William Timothy Mallory None — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Timothy Mallory The education of investors is of the most important tool we have to make sound knowledgeable secessions. It should be increased not suppressed.

William Vandermarel — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Vandermarel As an active investor, I depend on quarterly financial reporting to make informed investment decisions. Reducing this to twice a year is inadequate, especially with rapid changes due to AI implementation. This is even more crucial in the tech sector, where companies building AI infrastructure make major decisions that can quickly impact their financial position. Please do not make this change. Quarterly reporting is essential for understanding my investments.

William Weaver Retail Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Weaver As a retail investor, I rely on quarterly reports in order to make sound financial decisions. By allowing a reduction to the frequency of the required reporting, it puts me at a disadvantage along with all other investors. This is a bad decision for anyone or organization that invests in the future of any publicly traded companies and I do not support this idea. We need more transparency as partial owners, not less.

William Werkmeister — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: William Werkmeister Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep quarterly reports

Sent from my iPhone

William Wheatley Multiple Stock Holder — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Wheatley In an age where transparency seems opaque at best and companies are reporting record profits, I believe it would be a step in the wrong direction to reduce quarterly reports to semiannually. Keeping investors up to date Monthly does seem extreme, but quarterly is just right. Right in the goldilocks zone. Companies own the majority of their own stock and are aware of what's going on, why are we keeping that information from investors? It just doesn't seem right especially if your retirement is involved.

Willie B Hadley Jr — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Willie B Hadley Jr Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I think that CEOs should continue to be forced to at least sign four times per year or more.

Willie Ross — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Willie Ross Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the reporting as it stands. To many CEO are falsely reporting information. They are being covered by politicians. W. Ross investors Tennessee. Due to the evidence coming to light of secret deals done our environment, health, education, and the lives of people are thrown a side for greed of money. Manipulation of people abd the strange deaths and missing individuals who don't buy into their way of thinking.

Willis J. Blankenship Jr. The Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Willis J. Blankenship Jr. As an investor, I am against the proposal now on the table to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. This is a mistake! Reporting two times a year makes it impossible to make informed decisions when managing investments. These investments represent 20, 30, even 40 years or more of effort to create a sustainable retirement income that supports a quality way of life. Investors do not have the luxury of just hoping it works out. As owners of a company through stock ownership we need and deserve quality and timely information to ensure the sustainability of our portfolio.

---

willliam gustin CPA — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: willliam gustin Reducing timely disclosure frequency by 50% is absolutely the wrong direction for every user of the information. I would think it would be obvious but. ...if not, please take my word for it.

Willliam Roberts user if newsletter — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Willliam Roberts I don't believe that having only two reports on earnings per year would be beneficical for investors. Too many factors effect compny performances.. ...investors need to be inormeded of both the positive and negative events that can affecct earnings and stock prices.

---

willow Rose — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: willow Rose Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The six month period SEC is proposing will make things about as transparent as The Lincoln Memorial Reflection Pool! Keep It Quarterly! It's what Americans Want!
Thank you!
Willow Rose
Author
There is too much fraud already!

Willy Abrams — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Willy Abrams Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep my reports quarterly

W. Abrams

Wilma Ortberg-Hansen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wilma Ortberg-Hansen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reports! NO REASON TO KEEP THE PUBLIC IN THE DARK!
Wilma Hansen, Retired.

Respectfully,

Wilma Hansen

Winifred Mondshein — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Winifred Mondshein Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I think you should leave quarterly reporting in place. Many companies count on this quarterly information to project costs, growth, etc.

Sent from my iPad

Woodward William — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Woodward William Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 The more time you give corrupt CEOs by not filing quarterly; increases the chance of the public being cheated out of their investments!

Sent from William (Billy)Hal Woodward's iPhone

Woody Pollard — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Woody Pollard Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep reporting earnings quarterly!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Work Gmail — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Work Gmail Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Stephanie Horn, Consultant: Transparency is essential to reduce fraud and enable investors to make better decisions.

---

writeme49 — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: writeme49 Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep reporting at quarterly level. Do not revert back to every 6 months level from the 1950's. We need to be properly informed.

Sent from my Galaxy

WV Lady — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: WV Lady Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the reports coming quarterly. It’s beneficial to not only large companies but also to the mom and pop companies.

WYLMA DAVISON — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: WYLMA DAVISON Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We would be fighting EVEN MORE GRIFTING AND CORRUPTION

Yahoo Account — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Yahoo Account Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 More reporting is better than less. Accountability is important! getting information sooner is better to tract trends in the market!

Yahoo! — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Yahoo! Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Melinda Irhazy, CEO MI Shoer Farrier Service, Executer of Irhazy Estate Please keep reports Quarterly so I can make financial decisions in real time. Thank you

---

Yenier Castaneda — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Yenier Castaneda Reducing the amount of regular corporate reporting directly hurts transparency between corporate management and shareholders. Six months is far too long for the owners of a company (the shareholders) to wait for accurate, verified financial updates. This rule will only widen the information gap and leave individual investors in the dark. Please preserve the current quarterly reporting requirements. Transparency is the foundation of fair public markets.

Yerik K — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Yerik K Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Quarterly reporting is best for non institutional investors, and institutional investors can still do better than the average investor. Do this and those in favor will eventually regret it.

Yerik Kaslow
yerik.kaslow@gmail.com

Yigal M Rechtman, Managing Partner, Rechtman Consulting LLC — Jun 23, 2026
1646 Federspiel Street
Fort Lee, NJ 07024
212-202-2548

www.rechtman2c.com
June 24, 2026
To: Vanessa A. Countryman, Secretary
Securities and Exchange
Commission, 100 F Street NE
Washington, DC 20549-1090
Via https://www.sec.gov/rules-regulations/publiccomments/s7-2026-15
Re: File No. S7-2026-15, Release Nos. 33-11414; 34-105368; 39-2563; IC-36140, Semiannual Reporting
Dear Secretary Countryman:
Contents
GAAP and the FASB Conceptual Framework emphasize decision-usefulness, relevance, and timeliness. 2
The proposal increases information risk to investors. 2
The proposal would hurt investors, who are the central stakeholders of the SEC's disclosure regime. 3
The proposal is counterintuitive to the financial-reporting movement toward relevance. 3
PCAOB auditing standards should be considered separately, as audit and review standards, not GAAP. 4
Recommendation. 4
About Rechtman Consulting 4
We respectfully submit this comment in response to the Commission's proposed amendments that would allow Exchange Act reporting companies to file semiannual reports on new Form 10-S in lieu of quarterly reports on Form 10-Q.
We oppose the proposal because it would reduce the timeliness and relevance of public-company financial reporting, increase information risk for investors, and weaken the periodic reporting discipline that supports investor protection and market confidence.

GAAP and the FASB Conceptual Framework emphasize decision-usefulness, relevance, and timeliness.
Accordingly, the appropriate reference for "relevance" and "timeliness" is the FASB Conceptual Framework, not PCAOB auditing standards.
FASB Concepts Statement No. 8, Chapter 3, paragraph QC4, states that financial information must be relevant and faithfully represent what it purports to represent to be useful. Paragraph QC5 identifies relevance and faithful representation as the fundamental qualitative characteristics of useful financial information. Paragraph QC6 states that relevant financial information can make a di erence in users' decisions. Paragraph QC7 explains that financial information can make a di erence if it has predictive value, confirmatory value, or both.
Timeliness is also directly relevant. FASB Concepts Statement No. 8, Chapter 3, paragraph QC29, states that timeliness means having information available to decision makers in time to be capable of influencing their decisions, and that, generally, the older information is, the less useful it is.
The proposal would move financial reporting in the opposite direction. By permitting issuers to replace quarterly Form 10-Q reports with semiannual Form 10-S reporting, the Commission would reduce the frequency with which investors receive structured, comparable, GAAP-based interim financial information. The information may still eventually be disclosed, but it will be less timely, less capable of influencing current investment and voting decisions, and therefore less relevant.
The proposal increases information risk to investors.
The concept of information risk is especially important here. Information risk arises because investors are outside the internal operations of management and must rely on financial reports and related disclosures to assess the issuer's financial condition, performance, liquidity, and risks.

This concern is consistent with FASB Concepts Statement No. 8, Chapter 1, paragraph OB5, which recognizes that many existing and potential investors, lenders, and other creditors cannot require reporting entities to provide information directly to them and therefore must rely on general purpose financial reports for much of the financial information they need.

That is the core investor-protection issue. Management has direct access to the issuer's books, records, accounting judgments, internal forecasts, controls, and operating trends. Public investors do not. The periodic reporting system reduces that distance by requiring recurring, standardized, GAAP-based disclosure. Moving from quarterly reporting to semiannual reporting increases the time during which investors must make decisions without current GAAP-based interim financial statements.

The proposal would hurt investors, who are the central stakeholders of the SEC's disclosure regime.

The proposal would harm investors by increasing the gap between what management knows and what shareholders know. Investors would receive fewer mandatory interim financial reports, less frequent MD&A, less frequent updates about liquidity and capital resources, and fewer periodic disclosures regarding material trends and uncertainties.

This would particularly disadvantage ordinary investors. Large institutional investors may be able to obtain or infer information through alternative data, private research, analyst models, supplier and customer checks, or other market intelligence. Ordinary investors generally cannot. Reducing the frequency of mandatory public reporting therefore risks shifting informational advantage away from the public disclosure system and toward those with greater private research capacity.

That result is contrary to the investor-protection purpose of the federal securities laws.

The proposal is counterintuitive to the financial-reporting movement toward relevance.

Financial reporting has long involved a pendulum between reliability, now generally expressed through faithful representation, and relevance. In recent decades, standard setters and regulators have repeatedly emphasized that financial information must be useful to investors in making decisions. But usefulness requires more than eventual disclosure. It requires disclosure soon enough to matter.

The proposal is counterintuitive because it weakens the very quality it purports not to disturb: relevance. Under the FASB Conceptual Framework, information is relevant when it can make a di erence in users' decisions. Delayed information is less capable of making a di erence, especially in public markets where investors must make decisions continuously.

Semiannual reporting would therefore reduce the relevance of interim financial reporting by making it less timely.

PCAOB auditing standards should be considered separately, as audit and review standards, not GAAP.

Although PCAOB standards are not GAAP, they remain relevant to the investor-protection consequences of the proposal. Quarterly Form 10-Q reporting is accompanied by quarterly interim financial information and related review procedures. Reducing the number of required interim reports would reduce the frequency of the reporting and review discipline imposed on management, audit committees, and auditors.

That discipline matters because financial reporting is not merely a year-end event. Interim reporting helps identify accounting issues, disclosure issues, liquidity concerns, internal-control concerns, and emerging risks on a more current basis. Reducing that cadence increases the risk that investors will learn of important developments later than they should.

Recommendation.

The Commission should not adopt the proposal in its current form. The better course is to retain mandatory quarterly reporting. Quarterly Form 10-Q reporting supports relevance, timeliness, comparability, investor confidence, and market e iciency.

If the Commission nevertheless proceeds, it should at minimum preserve quarterly reporting for accelerated filers and large accelerated filers, require clear investor approval before an issuer may elect semiannual reporting, require prominent disclosure that the issuer has reduced the frequency of GAAP-based interim reporting, and require quarterly disclosure of core financial information, liquidity, capital resources, material trends, and changes in internal control over financial reporting.

Investors are the principal intended beneficiaries of the public-company disclosure system. A proposal that reduces the frequency of mandatory public reporting increases information risk, widens the distance between shareholders and management, and diminishes the timeliness and relevance of financial information. For those reasons, we respectfully urge the Commission not to adopt the proposed semiannual reporting framework.

About Rechtman Consulting

Rechtman Consulting provides specialized forensic accounting and litigation-support services in matters involving audit malpractice, financial statement fraud, internal-control failures, and related accounting and disclosure issues.

~Page 4~

The firm assists counsel, companies, investors, and other stakeholders in evaluating whether financial statements, audit procedures, professional judgments, and related representations were consistent with applicable accounting, auditing, and professional standards. Its work includes analysis of alleged GAAP departures, audit failures, earnings manipulation, misstatements, omissions, management override, internal-control deficiencies, and damages-related accounting issues.

Rechtman Consulting brings a practical, evidence-based approach to complex disputes involving financial reporting, auditor conduct, and the reliability of financial information.

Respectfully submitted,

Yigal M. Rechtman, CPA, CFE, CITP, CISM

Managing Partner

~Page 5~

YinYang Yeeett — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: YinYang Yeeett Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 How is this legal??? Unbelievable how much coroption is s this HORRIBLE NON QUALIFIED PRESIDENT CRIMINAL ILLEGAL ACTIONS AGAINST AMERICANS CONSTITUTION RIGHTS and LAWS be allowed!!!!!!!

---

yo bop — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: yo bop Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I am cwabs 2006-18...do you really think you can hide forever?...

YoJoe23 — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: YoJoe23 Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 JF, Business Consultant -

With as many problems as we have already with accounting irregularities...WHY would we want to encourage an environment where EVEN MORE of them are going to be committed?!?

Respectfully,
JF

Yolanda Vitale — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Yolanda Vitale Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Maintain the current reporting
This change is just kowtowing to elected officials and their personal gain.

Sent from my iPad

YolitaRipoll — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: YolitaRipoll Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep them honest!!

Sent from my iPhone

Yolvana Palacios — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Yolvana Palacios Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Yolvana P. I've been unemployed for nearly a year and the only way I have been afloat is with my investments. This would absolutely destroy any chances to keep going until I can find employment.

Youngbin Motley Fool Community — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Youngbin Less transparency is detrimental to shareholders. Keeping the reports high keeps investors informed

---

Yuliana Konovalova — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Yuliana Konovalova Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting if you want to preserve this Republic. Fiscal recklessness historically leads to instability and to bloody revolutions. Don’t let the world lose the US this way.

Yusef Mamoojee — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Yusef Mamoojee Object to the proposal now on the table to allow companies to elect to reduce the number of public-company reports from four times a year to just two. Remaining at four affords better transparency.

Yusuf Officewala — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Yusuf Officewala Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Enron was a major debacle. We don't want to see another such debacle when a lot of investors lost their savings and retirement funds. Do not revert to the same lax environment that made it possible.

Yusuf Officewala

Sent from my iPhone

Yvonne Colle-Burden — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Yvonne Colle-Burden Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 It shouldn't be too difficult to keep the rule as is. It's financially feckless to take the time & money to change it. Because it's already been established for decades, quarterly signing isn't an additional financial hardship upon investment companies. As an investor, I expect to see how my portfolios are doing 4 times a year. Given the responsibilities and earnings packages CEOs receive, I shouldn't be the one burdened to seek quarterly financial information out. Please keep the quarterly reports rule as is.

Yvonne
Sent from my iPhone

Yvonne Jennings — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Yvonne Jennings No, nae NEVER!!!!

Yvonne Stuart — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Yvonne Stuart Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I think quarterly reporting is better for investors, and gives investors a more accurate look at how a company is doing. I simply see no benefits to investors to change reporting to 6 months. With all the technology tools available it is much easier to provide these reports than ever before. What are companies trying to hide. This is not fair to basic investors.

Yvonne Stuart

Z Quest — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Z Quest Less transparency is and never has been good for investors. This proposal doesn't affect how companies operate, just how much investors know about their operations. It decreases transparency (and therefore accountability), makes investors/owners less informed and thereby increases volatility (less info, less frequently = bigger surprises, stronger reaction).

---

z. alexi editor, topical nonfiction — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: z. alexi Reducing reporting requirements allows an easier task for billionaires to become trillionaires. Many ppl become rich by cheating~~lying on tax returns; cheating customers; not paying subcontractors & other workers; not paying overtime, &c. We want information as often as an accountant can produce it~~EVERY 3 MOS or EVERY 4 MOS. Wouldn't we all like to snap our fingers & get to do 1/2 the work we were hired to do? NOT A CHANCE! Do yr job by continuing to inform investors every 2 or 3 mos~~that's timely. Your fiddling-around proposal [while Wall St burns] isn't even a good try~~u have no reason for yr proposed change..."LAZY" is not an acceptable reason. There, z . alexi 6/23/26

Zac Stempson — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Zac Stempson Reducing the required reporting from four times a year to two times a year would be a huge mistake. In this time of eroding democracy, it would only further the degradation of our institutions and society by allowing capitalism to reign unbridled. The federal government has already stripped too many guardrails in the last two years.

Zach Border — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Zach Border Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 We, the people, are well aware that the greedy and unscrupulous would love to remove our oversight. But we have already tried their way. And hardworking, everyday Americans got literally robbed.
So we don't do things that way, anymore.
Keep the oversight and keep the penalties intact. Anyone opposed to keeping them IS IN LEAGUE with those would-be criminals.

Zach Griffin — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Zach Griffin Removing data points reduces data quality, creates serious opportunity for data skewing and generally obscures investors' abilities to make sound, informed decisions. This proposal will not be benefit investors, it is infact, a net negative and will actively harm investors be restricting their access to information that should be available.

Zachary Cassell Retail Investor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Zachary Cassell Investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing frequency of reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners.

Zachary Fortney — Jun 23, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Zachary Fortney Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Zachary Fortney, Inventory, seems unjust; it helps give more data points for the company which may lead to more insider trading and perhaps less retail trading.

Zachary Keith — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Zachary Keith Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 My name is Joseph Gonzales and I'm an account manager for a software company. This change does nothing but encourage fraud and hurt everyday investors like myself. I beg you to revert this change and do what's right for everyone.

Zachary McKiernan — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Zachary McKiernan This is a terrible idea. Reporting should continue to be on a quarterly basis, if not MORE often. At its heart, investing is ownership. When you own a piece of a business, you deserve regular, transparent communication from that business. Reducing reporting requirements weakens the connection between companies and their owners. Less information rarely creates better-informed owners and only increases uncertainty. In times like these, the we need less uncertainty, not more.

Zack Han — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Zack Han I support transparency for investors so that we may make well-informed decisions. Please don't hamper transparency, communication, and fairness. Thank you.

Zackary O'Connor — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Zackary O'Connor A reduction in transparency will lead to less over sight and allow short term reckless behavior to go unnoticed for longer. Reducing earnings reports is not the answer, if compaines need mechanisms to focus on long term goals then we should create those mechanisms rather then simply removing reporting requirements.

Zaid Ali — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Zaid Ali Regular and relevant reports assist in securing monies invested. This is the essence of successful investing for the individual investor. Reducing reports unravels key checks and balances leaving management with opportunities for actions that do not benefit the listed companies or their shareholders

---

Zaki Saad — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Zaki Saad I disagree with the limitations proposed as it would limit transparency and act the public interest. This proposal would limit the information needed for investors to stay updated.

Zane Suttmore — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: Enraged S7-2026-15 Comment From: Zane Suttmore Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Are you serious? Even if quarterly isn't appropriate for WHATEVER reason, you want companies with all their power and money to have LESS transparency? Are you off your rocker? Do not do this. I work in public health, I'm incredibly familiar with public health disasters that happened for the sake of profit. Following the money let's these things be uncovered and an extra 3 months of lead time is not helpful when things hit the fan. On top of that, with companies being granted power up down left and right, the people that literally build these companies deserve to see what the heck is going on, as does the rest of the populace that needs to share a world with them. Ma and Pop-pop down the road don't need to be sharing how many blueberries they sold at harvest but you bet your last dollar companies that are literally giving money to politicians need to.

Zane Suttmore
Data Coordinator/Statistician

---

zeki bikim — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: zeki bikim It is fine to . report twice a year. Businesses are subject to variation, reporting 4 times a year does not improve investment decision. Most investors make money on the long term fundamentals and business model. The quarterly reporting is only good for the broker fee. The stock market lives from buying and selling. Its not needed. Once a person is well informed he buys and keeps it for 5 years no need to look daily at news.

---

zen — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: zen Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I am a Supply Management Coordinator for a local hospital in Knoxville, Tennessee.

I have personally witnessed corruption that was made much easier to conceal due to the low number of reports required annually.

At one point, we discovered that the director and floor manager of my department had “misplaced” slightly over $1 million worth of surgical supplies over the span of two years.

To provide context, our department’s baseline aggregate annual operating expense is only $3 million.

After extensive interviews and a third-party audit, we found that it had become second nature for our director to instruct the floor manager to falsify supply records prior to quarterly reports.

Interviews with operational staff indicated that these falsifications were typically carried out within the week leading up to the reports, sometimes as late as the night before they were due.

Given my familiarity with these figures and the size of the institution I work for, I recognize that it may not be a primary target of the proposed changes. However, I strongly believe that similar patterns apply to organizations of all sizes.

Consistent reporting and firm deadlines are among the most effective deterrents to corruption and fraud.

The proposed changes open the door to Enron-like behavior, and the technological advancements we are witnessing provide ample means to support consistent reporting.

Lowering the frequency of reporting benefits only those engaging in misconduct and poses a direct threat to fair business practices, national economic stability, and the public at large.

Sent from Proton Mail for Android.

---

zombiesquad865 Shaw — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: zombiesquad865 Shaw Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 I am for keeping accountability open & within a decent range. Keeping it quarterly does this. We want full disclosure.
Velma Shaw

_Ed.D. J. Mark Carper — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: _Ed.D. J. Mark Carper Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting in place to keep the big boys honest!
J. Mark Carper, Ed.D.
Licensed Psychologist
in Massachusetts (Ret.)

_Ed.D. J. Mark Carper — Jun 23, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: _Ed.D. J. Mark Carper Affiliation: Jun. 23, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting in place! Keep the Big Boys honest!

DDS David Kurtzman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: DDS David Kurtzman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why join the corruption that is sweeping the country? Be the adult in the room, please. This is not good for anyone. Please keep quarterly reporting.

Thank you.

David Kurtzman, DDS

Elizabeth Klinke — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Elizabeth Klinke Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Now more than ever, we need to keep people accountable. CEOs get paid an ungodly sum of money to do their jobs. Their salaries and perks have skyrocketed especially in comparison to their lower level employees. The least they can do is actually DO their jobs. Lying is NOT ok w regular Americans. Using the public money for personal gain is heinous. Prove you are acting appropriately. Dr Elizabeth Klinke, physician, single mom of 3 boys, trying to raise decent men—more difficult in today's climate. Do the right thing.

Get Outlook for iOS

IMPORTANT WARNING: The information in this message (and the documents attached to it, if any) is confidential and may be legally privileged. It is intended solely for the addressee. Access to this message by anyone else is unauthorized. If you are not the intended recipient, any disclosure, copying, distribution or any action taken, or omitted to be taken, in reliance on it is prohibited and may be unlawful. If you have received this message in error, please delete all electronic copies of this message (and the documents attached to it, if any), destroy any hard copies you may have created and notify me immediately by replying to this email. Thank you.
disclaimer#001

Gail Hoag — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Gail Hoag Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is a must. One Enron was enough!

GSH

Gakieta Rahe — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Gakieta Rahe Don't the billionaires have enough money! My little bit of money is not going to help them but it may keep me out of the poor house! Leave it quarterly!!

III Martin A. Marsteller Erickson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: III Martin A. Marsteller Erickson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm a retired

Pharmacist, microbiologist, and hold a Master of Divinity degree. I've led and directed Regulatory Affairs Departments in the Pharmaceutical industry. I've seen the prevarication and manipulation perpetrated by wrong doers at the highest levels of management. Rolling back this requirement would be a travesty, opening the door yet wider to opportunists who would flaunt the law and regulations to their personal enrichment and subversion of oversight and restraints necessary to protections of our free and open society. Do not do this.

Martin A. M. Erickson, III

Michelle Balzer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michelle Balzer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do the right thing. It's that simple.

Michelle Balzer

Coldwell Banker Realty
One, Five, Ten, Twenty-Five Million Dollar Club
Presidents Club 2017
International Diamond Society 2024, 2020-2018, 2016-2014
International Sterling Society 2023-2021
Certified Relocation Specialist
Former President Bexley Eastmoor Berwick Realtor Association
614-581-8346 mobile
Michelle.Balzer@kingthompson.com
View my website!

Read my blog!

Watch me on Good Day Marketplace!
Watch my video business card!
Wire Fraud is Real. Before wiring any money, call the intended recipient at a number you know is valid to confirm the instructions. Additionally, please note that the sender does not have authority to bind a party to a real estate contract via written or verbal communication.

Nenette Mercado Jessup — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Subject: Preserve Quarterly Reporting Requirements to Protect Investors From: Nenette Mercado Jessup Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Chair and Commissioners

U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission

100 F Street, NE

Washington, DC 20549

Dear Chair and Commissioners,

The Securities and Exchange Commission exists for a clear purpose: to protect investors, maintain fair and orderly markets, and ensure companies provide timely and accurate information to the public.

Quarterly reporting is essential to fulfilling that mission.

As an individual investor, taxpayer, and citizen, I depend on transparent and timely disclosures to make informed financial decisions. In today's economy, six months is too long for investors to wait for meaningful information about a company's financial condition, risks, debt levels, operational challenges, or material events.

Reducing reporting frequency would widen the information gap between corporate insiders and the investing public, increase uncertainty, and weaken accountability. It would create greater opportunities for unethical behavior to go undetected and would disproportionately harm ordinary Americans whose retirement accounts, pensions, and savings are invested in the market.

Strong disclosure requirements are not a burden on investors—they are a safeguard for them.

Government agencies have a responsibility to serve the public interest by ensuring transparency and protecting citizens from fraud, manipulation, and unethical corporate conduct. The SEC's role is not only to support capital formation, but also to ensure that markets remain fair for all participants, not just those with privileged access to information.

I urge the Commission to preserve quarterly reporting requirements and continue prioritizing the protection of American investors.

Respectfully,

Remzonette M. Jessup
Indianapolis, IN

Robert Tate — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Tate Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reports are th e only path to transparency on the Stock Market!!

Robert Tate
PROforma Print It
205-981-3500
205-567-4554 Cell

Sr. Michael Lopez — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sr. Michael Lopez Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 THE GREED OF MANKIND WILL BE MANKIND'S OWN DEMISE!!!

!rene Marchionni — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: !rene Marchionni Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY !!!

/ — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: / we need our retirement ><

3bolts — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: 3bolts Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep Financials quarterly. Stay as transparent and honest as possible. Brenda Bolton, teacher retiree who will need my investments to remain healthy for the future, and trustee for my 87 year old mother who depends on her investments for assisted living and daily life expenses.

Sent from my Galaxy

A Duns — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: A Duns Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Amanda Dunsford self employed investing for individuals isnt easy as it is and the up and coming generations are not going to want to take that chance learning all of the info without any kind of teacher as it it then you want to further the risk. Big company's serve no purpose investing if all the little investors dont participate in any of it. Driving more anxiety into the situation by furthering the dates will eventually quickly collapse the whole system. It bad enough there isnr any real education on the subject as it is the people running these company's are going to get old and pass on then who's going to fill the void no one because your constantly removing any part that makes it intriguing to participate.

A. L. Keime — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: A. L. Keime Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Gee, I wonder who will benefit from this grand plan?

Al Keime

A.J. Samusson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: A.J. Samusson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep Quarterly reporting!

Kind regards,

Jane Samusson

A.S. Freedman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: A.S. Freedman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Ann Freedman.
I'm a small business owner in New York. I'd like to know what your opinion is when it comes to quarterly reporting?

Aaron Kahn-Bork — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Aaron Kahn-Bork Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 A high degree of transparency is what makes our country's economic system democratic. Why cut that transparency in half? It's anti-American.

Aaron Olson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Aaron Olson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This change props up the economy in the short term, helps insiders, and relieves a reporting burden, but it allows rot to fester while shareholders and the little guy is left holding the bag.

Abbie Campsie — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Abbie Campsie Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Shareholders and the public have the right to know what is happening with their stock or if they want to invest.
Please do not allow companies to begin potentially deceitful business practices and hide it with your new proposal

---

Abel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Abel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I support the current policy that CEOs report quarterly to the SEC.

Abelardo Bermudez
McAllen, TX USA

Abigail Dutton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Abigail Dutton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Briana and I am a hard working American tax payer. I feel like what you are doing is wrong. There are no benefits for the majority of people in changing the reporting from quarterly to bi yearly you are just making it easier for the 1% to get richer on the back of the 99. I am appalled by this behavior but not surprised Maybe in order to understand mankind we have to look at that word itself. MANKIND. Basically, it's made up of two separate words "mank"and "ind." What do these words mean? It's a mystery and that's why so is mankind.
--Jack Handy Deep Thoughts

Abigail Dutton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Abigail Dutton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Abigail and I am a hard working American tax payer who supports her family. I feel like what you are doing is wrong. There are no benefits for the majority of people in changing the reporting from quarterly to bi yearly you are just making it easier for the 1% to get richer on the back of the 99. I am appalled by this behavior but not surprised abqshirl — Jun 22, 2026

---

Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: abqshirl Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reports. I remember my family as well as my parents, other relatives, and friends losing money we never recovered back in the 1960's, and do not want to see it happen again.
Thank you for your time and attention,
Shirley McIntyre, retired, Albuquerque, New Mexico

Sent from my Galaxy

---

abrewer427 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: abrewer427 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do NOT change the quarterly reporting !! There is no reason to have less transparency!!!

Sent from my Galaxy

Adam Crane — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Adam Crane Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Adam Crane, cell biologist,. Please end quarterly reporting so CEOs can finally start doing long term planning over short term gains and to be allowed to invest back into the business instead of running it into the ground and panic layoffs for the sake of short term gains

---

Adam Muckenfuss — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Adam Muckenfuss Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it!

Adele Visaggio — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Adele Visaggio Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Sirs:
I am concerned about my retirement funds managed by investment companies that rely on accurate and timely quarterly reporting. We are owners of these companies we have invested in and deserve quarterly and accurate information. Right now there are too many billionaires running companies who are autocratic in nature that have no scruples in taking advantage of the little guy. Avoid another Enron. Stick to quarterly reporting and keep companies honest.

Thank you,

Adele Visaggio
St Petersburg, FL

Sent from my iPhone

Adrienne Brietzke — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Adrienne Brietzke Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Trying to hide corruption?

Adrienne Brietzke — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Adrienne Brietzke Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 MAINTAIN TRANSPARENCY! This is the same * that caused WS to crash and bankrupted the country.

Adrienne Fernandes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Adrienne Fernandes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We are so very sick and tired of the money-grabbing, corruption and lying re all the taxpayers $$$$ and play-for-pay schemes. The middle class is shrinking. We are entering another Gilded Age. The disparity between the uber-rich and the poor is disheartening, to say the least. This field is rife with fraudulent monies, without these guardrails it will be akin to the proverbial fox in the henhouse.
Thanks for your time
Respectfully, Adrienne Fernandes.

Adrienne Young — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Adrienne Young Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 So much corruption in every agency..have some backbone..stop rubberstamping every change that weakens dmocracy, accountability

---

ahhuot — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: ahhuot Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly should stay.

Sent from my Galaxy

Aiden Hunter — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Aiden Hunter Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The stock market is volatile as is is it seriously a good idea to break down what little trust we have in the market. How far until the dollar dies?

---

ak K — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: ak K Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Remember ENRON

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

AL — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: SEC NO CHANGE From: AL Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 QUARTERLY

Al Anderson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Al Anderson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Totally against it. Can't believe it's even in consideration. If anything it should be going the other way. To monthly reporting! Al Anderson

---

AL Raamy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: AL Raamy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Not good idea. It will cost the middle class and poverty class while continuing to support THE DESIRES of the wealthy, and ultra wealthy. Which is a minority thatcwill do fine with the lower classes being properly informed and compensated.

Alan Coulombe — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Alan Coulombe Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not cut back on their reporting. If anything , it should be monthly reports just to keep investors up to date to either sell or buy their stock.

Alan Kriesel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alan Kriesel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Continue quarterly reporting, so do the board of directors get a 50% cut in pay for only doing half as much? Yeah I didn't think so!

Sent from my iPhone

ALAN LEVI — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: ALAN LEVI Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please continue quarterly reporting. What has worked for the past 50 years should continue. Corporations are very good at taking care of themselves. Small investors need the help and protection. Thank you.

Alan Levi

Alan Robbins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Alan Robbins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Semi annual reporting will blindside investors and keep vital data from them for too long a period. Quarterly reporting is reasonable and should be kept in place.

---

alan wellman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: alan wellman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly reports. We need accountability for performance.

Sent from my iPhone

Alana Kelley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Alana Kelley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not allow companies to report to investors only twice a year. This is absurd, and does not protect consumers! We need to be able to protect our investments in order to live quality lives w a minimum of quarterly reports! WHY could they possibly want to take this away except to hurt the people? Their customers!? Do not let this happen!
Rev Alana Kelley

Albert — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Albert Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No reason to reduce required reporting. Trust but verify

Albert A Camerato
617-968-1122

Albert P Mikutis Jr — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Albert P Mikutis Jr Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it transparent Please and Quarterly as it is now

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Albert P Mikutis Jr — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Albert P Mikutis Jr Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 %0 help the middle lower classes. Maintain quarterly Or be non patriotic. Your choice.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Aleta Hancock — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Aleta Hancock Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm an investor and retired. Investors should have the most timely information as possible not less.

A. Hancock

ALEXANDER TYLER PIERCE — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: ALEXANDER TYLER PIERCE Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly disclosures are not just paperwork. They are one of the few tools ordinary Americans have to see what is actually happening inside the companies that shape our economy, retirement accounts, jobs, and future.
When people in positions of power talk about reducing disclosure requirements, I would ask them to think beyond the next election cycle and consider the long-term consequences.
What if less transparency leads to more fraud, more hidden risks, and larger financial collapses that could have been detected earlier?
What if a young family invests their savings believing everything is healthy, only to discover critical information was delayed or hidden until it was too late?
What if the next major corporate failure grows larger because warning signs were unavailable to the public for months or years?
History repeatedly shows that transparency creates accountability. Accountability creates trust. Trust creates strong markets.
The people proposing these changes may believe they are reducing burdens on businesses, but every regulation has second and third-order consequences. A decision made today can ripple outward for decades.
I would encourage lawmakers, regulators, senators, and members of Congress to ask themselves a simple question:
What kind of system do you want your children and grandchildren to inherit?
Because one day none of us will be here. The laws we pass, the institutions we strengthen or weaken, and the precedents we create will remain long after our names are forgotten.
A legacy is not built by making information harder for citizens to access. A legacy is built by empowering people to make informed decisions.
Quarterly disclosures help create transparency, confidence, and accountability. They provide regular insight into company performance and allow investors, analysts, employees, and the public to identify trends, risks, and opportunities in a timely manner.
Removing or reducing access to that information would not strengthen trust in our markets. It would weaken it.
The SEC should preserve quarterly disclosures and continue supporting transparency for all market participants. Information should flow to the public more freely, not less. Strong markets depend on informed citizens, and informed citizens depend on access to timely and reliable information.

Alexandra Ortiz — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Alexandra Ortiz Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
That's blocking information that's important for money growth.

Alexandra Rivera — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 comments From: Alexandra Rivera Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Alexandra Rivera, Associate Dean. Keep the reporting quarterly. Transparency is key to ethics. Not having access to information but every six months enables detrimental actions to time to do damage. Please consider the consequences. Thank you.

Alexi Allen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alexi Allen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Everyone should have equal access to non-confidential financial information that could impact their investments and retirement savings. With the anticipated decline in social security payments over the upcoming decades, being able to privately invest is probably the only thing that will allow younger people now to retire in the future.

Alexi Allen, EIT, GIT

Alexis Mullane — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Alexis Mullane Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
The US stock exchange has a history of an upward trend, and some transparency, let's keep the quarterly earnings reports to increase consumer to company communications. It's not perfect yet offers some accuracy and further incentive for the company to stay focused on the mission, and to use the money with better business decisions.

Alice Morrison — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alice Morrison Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 None of this sounds legal at all. I keep praying to God we get some relief from these crooked Trump magga dealings, for that is what they are. I keep thinking, "at least they did something about Watergate." !!

Alicia Santos — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alicia Santos Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting of public companies quarterly !! Transparency every 3 months keeps the financial bosses too the line & do what's right for all investors big & small.

Aliska Gibbins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Aliska Gibbins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency is already so low! Keep quarterly reports!

Sent from my iPad

Alison Bukata — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Alison Bukata Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm all for less paperwork, but not in this case. History has shown over and over again that less accountability means more problems. Keep the reporting requirements where they are.

Alison Bukata, Esq.
315-383-6426

Alison Gase — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Alison Gase Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Reporting must be, at the least, quarterly, but justice and financial accountability demand that reporting be at least monthly to prevent fraud and theft against stakeholders!!! SEC, DO YOUR JOB! PROTECT VULNERABLE INVESTORS!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Alissa Rubin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Alissa Rubin This hurts investors and has no benefit except to companies' paperwork cycle. Do not approve this proposal which is so clearly not in the favor of everyday investors.

Alix Sehr-Stewart — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Alix Sehr-Stewart Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This is unconscionable and rigs the playing field against small investors! I can't imagine a worse decision in today's investment environment. Quarterly reports are essential and must not be discontinued.

Allan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Allan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Knowledge is power. If I don't know what is happening in a company how can I know what to do? Buy/Sell/Hold

Sent from my iPhone

ALLEN EDWARDS — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ALLEN EDWARDS Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP IT

QUARTERLY. SEC IS PULLING AS FAST ONE ON THE AMERICAN PEOPLE. THEY WANT TO CONDUCT INSIDER TRADING ON THE DOWN LOW.!!!!....,. allenedwards286@yahoo.com

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

ALLEN K. — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ALLEN K. Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY. SEC IS PULLING AS FAST ONE ON THE AMERICAN PEOPLE. THEY WANT TO CONDUCT INSIDER TRADING ON THE DOWN LOW.!!!!....,. allenedwards286@yahoo.com

Allen K Edwards

ALLEN MOON — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ALLEN MOON Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is a bunch of hogwash. We have the right to know quarterly. Time for the big wigs to stop this crap. We the people are sick of this crap

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

---

allen tweddle — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: allen tweddle Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 ...don't make it easier for the criminals!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Aloma Arp — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Aloma Arp Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Aloma Arp ret Real Estate Office Sales Manager Keeping people honest is hard enough today with out govt agencies adopting easier reporting. You all know reporting four times a year gives less time to fudge accounts. Don’t do it SEC. Four times a year just to sign your name is not that much work!!!!

Alvin Cooley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Alvin Cooley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 If they’re committing fraud, they need to be locked up. They didn’t make the quarterly report reports. !

Sent from my iPhone

Alyce Ronerts Retired insurance executive and professor — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Alyce Ronerts Please do not change the rules to semiannual reporting. Quarterly reporting is essential. Corporations have the. Only and the manpower to handle quality reporting. It needs to be maintained for the benefit of all stakeholders. Thank you.

Alyss Grear — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alyss Grear Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 If it ain't broke don't fix it: apply broadly

---

Amanda Bost — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Amanda Bost Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Amanda Bost. I'm an attorney. This issue matters to me because prices are rising exponentially and my family needs every penny of my hard earned savings to stay afloat. Do not change the quarterly reporting system; we need more transparency, not less.

Amanda Davison — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Amanda Davison Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No they need to be held accountable for what they make every quarter so they can't hide any money away from being taxed

---

Amanda Freitas — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Amanda Freitas Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting alone is not enough to hold corporations responsible; to reduce even that is clearly a move intended to further advantage the powerful few, not We The People. The greed and corruption here is so deep and disgusting. It cannot stand. KEEP IT QUARTERLY!

Amanda Freitas

Amanda Loper — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Amanda Loper Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Continue quarterly reports!!!

AMANDA MERRIMAN — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: AMANDA MERRIMAN Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting must stay in place to protect the investor. I am a small investor and depend on secure investment returns as part of my retirement income. I can't risk what happened to me in the early 2000's when the markets crashed due to faulty reporting of earnings. Sadly, there need to be sanctions for false reports. Hold their feet to the fire.
Amanda Merriman
464 Essex Park Circle

Franklin, TN37069

Amber Taylor — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Amber Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: please stop this. We deserve to know what is happening!

Amber Westholder — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Amber Westholder Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Amber Westholder
Community Associate 3
Keeping quarterly reports (Form 10-Q) matters because they provide a standardized, transparent, and legally binding mechanism for companies to disclose ongoing financial performance and risks. This frequent cadence levels the playing field between institutional and retail investors, deters fraud by maintaining regular public scrutiny, and lowers the cost of capital by reducing market uncertainty.

---

amcquaid — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: amcquaid Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There is good reason as to why we enjoy quarterly corporate reporting. So the question is simple; Why revert back to a failed system?
Thank you

Arthur McQuaid

Sent from my Galaxy

Ameena Meer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ameena Meer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
individual investors deserve access to the same information as corporate entities, without that, yet again, this becomes a way to destabilize the economy and the investments of millions of Americans.

Amelia McRush — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Amelia McRush Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 YES ,Every one should be accountable for their Actions,and if we in the Dark, * with all the Misdirection we are Getting it's Hard enough to Tell whoes Lying 🤫 So No Big Cirporation Should NOT be Allowed to Keep us in the Dark ,NoooooooooooooooooooWay !

Amos M — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Amos M Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Amos, work in retail, this matters because it impacts us working folk. People like me whose companies can just go dark can turn around and have negative impacts on our pay and ability to make money. Market monopolies and fair business competition, and if this makes the markets get bad your average person like myself can have a much harder time buying just simple stuff we need day to day reducing profits and money moving through overall economy locally and nationally.

Sent from my iPhone

---

amparo garcia — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: amparo garcia Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 MY NAME IS AMPARO GARCIA. I AM A CAREGIVER. WE NEED TRANSPARENCY. THESE COMPANIES NEED TO REPORT TO UPHOLD HONESTY AND TRUST.

Sent from my iPhone

Amy Celento — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Amy Celento Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly disclosures hello me make INFORMED investment decisions and must continue being required. Transparency is key to me and I rely on the SEC to help individual investors, like myself, stay informed.
Please maintain the existing reporting requirements.

Thank you!

Amy Clayton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Amy Clayton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This matters to me as I have money invested for my retirement. Going blind for 6 months could potentially hurt an account. - Amy Clayton

---

Amy Craig Bustamante — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Amy Craig Bustamante Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It was set this way to give "transparency" for those willing to put their cash on the line.. allowing peoples investment to sit without update is not good practice and will cause many investors (regardless if they are prepared to lay down 1$ or several hundred thousand) to have cold feet if not able to see how the business is trending on a somewhat regular basis...I would definitely reconsider this proposal

--
Sent with GMX Mail app

Amy Foster — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Amy Foster Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly. Accountability is important.

Amy Goodspeed — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Amy Goodspeed Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep the reports on a quarterly basis. It would be unfair to investors not to know how the business is actually performing. A report produced 6 months later does not help anyone.
sincerely,
Amy Goodspeed
2355 Whitman Road, Suite F
Concord, CA 94518

Amy Hower — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Amy Hower Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stick with quarterly reporting! We see the corruption, stock manipulation, president claiming no limits to his power, and also trying to drive decisions of feds reserve board regarding interest rates. I'm retired and my funds have to take care of me through all health issues until the end.
Put plainly, lack of transparency, we don't trust that the interests of the majority of the people will be protected!

Sent from my iPhone

Amy Lee — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Amy Lee Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not do this!

Amy Macdonald — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Amy Macdonald Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I have worked for years saving and investing in my retirement to finally get to that day two weeks ago. I do not want to see my retirement savings now melt away due to a rule that requires LESS transparency. In fact, anytime someone is advocating for less transparency, it only makes me wonder if this is meant to hide the bad news that would only serve to help companies course correct. I ask that the SEC continue to require corporations to report quarterly with the CEO's signature attesting to its accuracy. How else can we as investors make good decisions about the companies we choose to support?

Amy Macdonald
Retired
North Carolina

Amy Rawe — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Amy Rawe Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We need free and fair trading, and we can't get that without frequent reports. If you start to extend the time between these reports, you leave more opportunities open for corruption to enter into the situation. We need to be able to trust in our stocks, our companies, etc that everything is correct.
Thank you for your time.
Amy Rawe

Amy Smith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Amy Smith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Amy smith Graphic Design I'm not rich so this matters to me

Amy

Sent from my iPhone

Andrea — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Andrea Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency is key for investors

Sent from my iPhone

Andrea Lister-Pierce — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Andrea Lister-Pierce Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Citizens United will be Overtuned. Stop funding dumb stuff.

Sent from my iPhone

Andrew Carillo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Andrew Carillo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why would the SEC let companies rob us in the dark?

Andrew Carillo(he/him/el),

International Vice President for Region 6,

The NewsGuild-CWA, AFL-CIO

Executive Board Member of the Denver Area Labor Federation, AFL-CIO

More info on who we are:

http://denvernewspaperguild.org

https://cwa-union.org

http://www.newsguild.org/

https://www.denverlabor.org/

https://aflcio.org

Andrew E Simays — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Andrew E Simays Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am against semi-annual reporting!
Continue quarterly reporting!
Andrew Simays, MD
CDR(ret) USN

Sent from my iPad

Andrew Kuo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Andrew Kuo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep reporting company financial reports every quarter publicly

---

Andrew Nemethy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Andrew Nemethy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Famous Vermont saying. “If it ain’t broke, don’t fix it.” Messing with this quarterly regime, for us small investors, makes no sense and is anti-transparency and antithetical to our capitalist system. It is essential to get a sense of how a company is doing. The quarterly results, the fact the management has to come before analysts and we can listen to the responses, it provides a timely window for investors to assess their investment. Cutting this to six months in our fast moving digital world is nuts.

I am firmly opposed to changing the reporting period.

Andrew Nemethy

121 sparrow rd.
Adamant,Vermont, 05640

Sent from my iPad

Andrew Pierce — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Andrew Pierce Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Andrew Pierce Owner-AP Electrical Services LLC

To my friends at the SEC,

We need quarterly financial accountability for large corporations. Fraud at this level is very costly to shareholders and tax payers and people involved should be prosecuted. Stop chasing small level fraud and focus on the large scale stuff.

Respectfully,
Andrew

Andruew Nutbuster — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Andruew Nutbuster Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Kenneth Dickinson
Retired. Stop this bill.

Andy Heaton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Andy Heaton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Horrible idea! Do not go to this system.

Andy Lowery — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Andy Lowery Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 DO NOT SCREW WITH REPORTING FINANCIAL DATA . YOUR CREDIBILITY IS THE LAST FRAGILE THING THE SEC HAS REMAINING AND THAT FEELS TENUOUS . THE STOCK MARKET IS NOT A MEASURE OF CONFIDENCE , AN INDEX AT 50,000 PLUS IS UNREPRESENTATIVE OF THE PEOPLES TRUTH OR TRUST IN A SYSTEM BASED ON IMPROBABLE FUTURE CHANGE . THIS DATA BREECH UNDERMINES WHAT IS LEFT .

Sent from my iPad

Angel Baker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Angel Baker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Angel Portland or quarterly reporting should remain as it is! I live in the US and it effects everyone in the us

---

Angel Clifford — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Angel Clifford Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 More financial shenanigans while the working man gets to hold the bag again. Leave it quarterly.

Angel Inge — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Angel Inge Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Insider trading is illegal, isn't it??

Sent from my iPhone

Angela — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Angela Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting was established to prevent financial disasters like Enron from happening. I am a native Houstonian who remembers all too well the impact and burden caused by the shady dealings of Enron execs. Decreasing the frequency to twice a year substantially increases risk for shareholders, employees, and communities unnecessarily. Please keep the current requirement of quarterly reporting.

Thank you,
Angela Trautman

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO RECIPIENT: This email is meant only for the intended recipient of the transmission. If you received this email in error, any review, use, disclosure, distribution, or copying of this email is strictly prohibited. Please notify me immediately of the error by return email, and please delete this email from your system. Thank you for your cooperation.

Angela Babby — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Angela Babby Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop the complete corruption of our government and corporations NOW. Do not allow this to be implemented. We must have information to make good investments.

Sent from my iPhone

Angela Bigelow — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Angela Bigelow Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is only right to make them report in a timely manner please enforce these circumstances

---

Angela Johnson Angela Johnson — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Angela Johnson Accountability is the only thing that matters

---

ANGELA MARIE — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ANGELA MARIE Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting requirement at three months.

Thank you
Angela Marie

Angela McGuire — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Angela McGuire Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a former credit analyst on Wall Street and rating agency analyst on Wall Street, it is very important for companies to be transparent. Although monthly reporting would be cost-prohibitive, quarterly reporting is essential. Otherwise, what value would bond ratings actually have?How accurately would price reflected in the value of a company's stock? The short answer is not well. If you don't know it's really going on in a company, it can really derail the financial markets and create a lot more volatility and defaults once the 6 month lagged financials are released to the public. So, the SEC really needs to step up to the plate. Although I know the SEC examinations are prettymuch a joke, to compensate for this lack of oversight we really need to have serious regulations with compliance and stiff penalties for the companies that do not comply such as being de-listed or defunded. Something serious.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Angela Tobin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Keep it Quarterly! From: Angela Tobin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Information allows everyday people to make the right choices for their families. Hiding information only benefits companies and insiders. Keep it Quarterly!

Angie T.
Livermore, CA

Angeline Irizarry — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Angeline Irizarry Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Angeline Irizarry
Data Analyst, regular person, non-business owner

Keep the transparency and fairness. Keep the quarterly reporting!

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Anim8rgal — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anim8rgal Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No this policy is not right. We must stay with transparent and open quarterly reporting so that ALL investors have the same information from which to make trade decisions. Period.

Sent from my iPhone

Anita Daghestani — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Anita Daghestani Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We invest our hard earned funds to help companies grow and succeed. And in the hopes that these companies are also doing good things for the world, humanity, and the environment. To give them the power to hide and not report out to the very people that help them with funding is horrifying. Do everying to not let this happen.

Anita Faulkner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anita Faulkner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Too much financial damage can be camouflaged if changed from quarterly to semi annually

Sent from my iPad

Anita Pratt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anita Pratt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reports and Progress reports are one and the same! Needed !

Sent from my iPhone

Ann Briggs — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ann Briggs Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The biannual reporting has been done in the past with disastrous results. Don't ruin trust in the market

AnnBriggs
Retired Accreditation specialist

Ann

Ann Daley — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ann Daley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
You should be doing more to eliminate corruption, the proposed rule will only create more corruption in the stock market. Please do the right thing for all Americans.
thank

Ann Hammond Life and Health Insurance Agent — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ann Hammond I feel that HALVING the reporting requirement from every 3 months to every 6 months is diametrically opposed to your stated purpose of protecting investors. Reducing reporting stacks the deck against the retail investor, while favoring the institutional investor and reporting corporations. While there may be savings to companies, that is not the SEC's primary mandate. There is no scenario in which reducing reporting is beneficial to the retail investor.

Ann Johnson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ann Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Ann Johnson. I am retired and reside in Frederick MD. Investors need timely information regarding where they put their hard earned money. Leaving them in the dark for six months is an invitation for malfeasance. Some things are better left in the past. Semi-annual reporting is one of those things. As a retired small investor, I depend on quarterly reports when making a buying or selling decision. A reduction in my potential earnings would prove disastrous for me as I am on Social Security. My investments are a much needed and diligently monitored part of my retirement income. Do not change the rules that have a very real possibility of adversely impacting me and millions of other investors just like me.

Sent from my iPhone

Ann Kelley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ann Kelley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I have to do monthly reporting at my job. Get real. Keep it status quo. What do you gain from being lazy? Oh right…

Ann Kelley

Ann Logan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ann Logan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Even quarterly reports are inadequate for investors to be able to evaluate the management's success and the risks of the company. These reports must be continued four times a year without change.

I hope this new proposal is promptly rejected.

Ann Rende — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Ann Rende Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Another loophole for this administration to fleece Americans

Ann Rende
Licensed Associate R.E. Broker
C: 914-882-3331
Ann.rende@juliabfee.com

Ann Saydah — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ann Saydah Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is best for investors

Sent from my iPhone

Anna Christine Johnson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Anna Christine Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My view on Rule S7-2026-15
To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I will be 77 in December. I am a widow trying to hold my family values in priority. My husband and I intentionsally made choices to protect ourselves when we retired. We didn't take trips, buy expensive clothes, good-will and other resale shops often clothed us so we could invest for the future of our 6 grandchildren, their parents, and our end of life. This proposed Rule S7-2026=15 would rob myself and others who have served this country. Please make choices that protect middle income individuals who have struggled to invest for the future. My future is NOW and your wanted to take away what we, now I, worked so hard to invest.

Anna COHEN — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anna COHEN Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep things as they are. No secrecy!

Sent from my iPhone

Anna Fee — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anna Fee Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Anna Fee. I am "retired" now and 83 years old , but I practiced as a Registered Professional Nurse for more than 30 years. That old saying "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" has proven valid for me as a nurse, and also as a mother, a grandmother, and even as a home or car owner. Careful observation, and routine maintenance can prevent problems from occuring . Detecting problems early keeps damage to a minimum, and allows for easier remedy of what damage does occur. Securities need to be secure! Keep the checks quarterly.

Anna Jensen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Anna Jensen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Unacceptable. It is our money; we want things to stay as is. Protect us and our investments

---

ANNA PULGIANO — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: ANNA PULGIANO Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We've been robbed enough!!!

Anna Smith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anna Smith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Hello,

My name is Anna Smith, I'm a licensed massage therapist of 20 years. I have a retirement investment and a savings investment plan for my child. Since I work a non traditional job, the investment aspect of these plans is truly critical to their success. It is so important that companies continue to be held responsible to report quarterly so that I can make informed decisions about my investments. In an age of corporate greed and lack of accountability, removing required quarterly reporting would be a big step in the wrong direction. Please keep reporting quarterly.

Thanks for your time.

Anna Smith

Anna Terry — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Anna Terry Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Anna, Self-employed, Washington state,l

Keep the reports quarterly. We have rules and regulations for a reason. No more fiasco like Enron!

Anne Atkinson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Anne Atkinson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
You work for the citizens of the USA. Do your job, instead of facilitating corruption.

Anne Burkley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Anne Burkley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not let this happen!
The American citizens have already seen all the crap Trump has done to my country! I (we) are completely sick over this!

Please somebody in our government needs to stand up to Trump & be serious (impeach the m.f.!.

Anne Delery — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Anne Delery Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As to the idea of removing quarterly accountability in the most impactful sector of society, it obviously allows for un-checked corruption and even further disintegrates what's left of the middle class. NOT a good thing for a balanced & thriving society.
Remember the Gilded Age?!?

Anne Henderson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Anne Henderson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting keeps them honest (or at least helps!). I am a retired corporate travel manager and live in Oregon. Anne Henderson

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Anne Huben-Kearney — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anne Huben-Kearney Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting as it is. What are you trying to hide? As the saying goes - if it’s not broken, don’t fix it

Anne Huben-Kearney, BSN, MPA, DFASHRM,
CPHQ, CPHRM, CPPS
Risk and Patient Safety Consultant

Sent from my iPhone

Anne K. Clare — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Anne K. Clare Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please keep Rule S7-2026-15 as is!!!!

Anne Merydith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anne Merydith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I’m retired and depend on investments. Flying half blind is not a step toward goodness. Keep quarterly reports. —Anne Merydith, Oregon

---

Anne Rice-Cole — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anne Rice-Cole Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Anne Rice Cole is retired. Transparency is crucial in order to make sound decisions. This has been proven before. Keeping information away from stock holders is only good for a a few that are on the inside. Stop trying to grab every penny.

Annette Coleman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Annette Coleman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Annette Coleman a retiree from California. I am on a fixed income and I want my savings to be protected by continuing the requirement for Quarterly Reporting.
Thank you
Sent from my iPhone

Annette Halderman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Annette Halderman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please assure that companies must keep timely and accurate accounts of their books. It is important to our national financial image on the world stage and to people like me who invest in business concerns. Annette Halderman retired Logistics Analyst,Northrop Grumman.

Annette Wilson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Annette Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Companies need to report quarterly.

Annie Paschall — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Annie Paschall Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly post.

Annika Brockman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Annika Brockman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Hello SEC,

I believe public companies need to be held accountable and keep information available to the public for fair investing

---

Annisa Wanat — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Annisa Wanat Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

I am AGAINST this new rule that would mean shifting the reporting period from 3 to 6 months.

This change would make "regular" people like me more vulnerable in the market because we rely on the required reporting to make sound financial decision. Here are three reasons why this change is BAD.

- 6 months is a long time, companies can go from "ok" to bankrupt in that time, with "regular" people not having the information they would need to "get out" of a bad investment.
- 3 months is more transparent than 6 months. People who are anti-transparency are usually trying to hide something.
- "Regular" people dot have the time or connections to get insight into their investments so "professional investors" will have an edge over "regular" people.

Finally, its an unnecessary change - only benefiting those who are trying to hide bad behavior? Didn't we see enough of that in 2008?
Please do not make this change.

Annlist — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Annlist Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Every 6 months is too long. Please keep quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Annliv Bacon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Annliv Bacon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it!

Sent from my iPad

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 They're lucky they didn't get a death penalty.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am retired and personally monitoring my over $3 Million stock portfolio. The more information I receive more often can be critical. Quarterly reporting is essential.
David M. Gross

Get Outlook for Android

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Think we should go to monthly reporting since times are unprecedented.
Mary T Thompson

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a current and previous small business owner, quarterly accounting is, and will always be, the norm. Every business has to operate under full transparency and be evaluated/examined every quarter. This SEC idea is absurd.
Jeff Morrow-Lucas
Founder/CEO
Helium Leak Detection Services

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please do not change the reporting time

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency makes your integrity and honesty clear. Quarterly reporting is the evidence. No report gives credence to corruption—true or not.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports just like they are now. Do not hide them for a 6 month period. This would not be good or transparent to investors.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 You’ve ‘borrowed’ my funds to make money for Yourselves for decades!

I deserve to know what you’re doing with MY MONEY -at LEAST quarterly without having to go searching for that info or following the stock exchange daily!!

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We as investors need to see the quarterly results to track our money. Chuck Bates retired investor here. Corporations don't have the investors best interest at heart only their personal profits.

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly!!

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep reporting quarterly. I am retired and depend on my savings/ investments/ stocks

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need a quarterly report!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it visible! No hidden books or information!

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The numbers don’t lie. It is clear that quarterly reporting is better for everyone. As a retiree, I am particularly concerned, and I urge those people making these decisions to keep reporting quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency is so important and current updated stock and investment performance is totally necessary to properly manage a portfolio these are accounts worked to save for all future f my working years in the banking and financial industry! We MUST have quarterly reporting continue!! At all costs! We don’t deserve to be left on the dark with our most important asset!!!!

Janet Clark, Retiree

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keeping it quarterly will keep it honest with integrity

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need to know as we do now Please do not change the quartely reporting

---

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY! These MAGATS have STOLEN enough from us!

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep them honest

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am a retired senior living in the San Francisco Bay Area. I want to see quarterly reporting continue. Don't decrease regulation. That has gotten this country into so much financial trouble in the past and it would again.

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Must stay as is quarterly. Otherwise you're setting up a path for them to cheat.

Sent from Proton Mail for Android.

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is a bad idea. We need transparency for public trust in our investments.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We must have the transparency of quarterly reporting. We’re sick of the robber barons getting away with fraud and deception.

The Rev. Keith Fry
Chicago, IL

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly prevents fraud.

Brian Wegener
Investor

Sent from my iPad

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency is important and financial matters and all matters of government. Cut the fraud. No more Covid fiascos.

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Angelafaye Perkins Driver Very important SEC continues quarterly reporting!!! Consumers suffer enough already!!! No More Bags!!!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency is vital, keep the quarterly reporting!

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I read somewhere that this was tried before with bad results. So why not leave well enough alone.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep whats tried snd true and benefits fiscal responsibility and oversight.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why??? I do NOT want this to happen, nor do I see concrete information on why this change is even proposed! Puts our portfolio at a disadvantage & makes fraud & insider trading even more prevelent! As an American, I have had enough!!

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Are there any "public disclosures" concerning greater East Texas college's/university's well-documented CHEATING SCANDALS? If so, please share with me and my representatives.

Sent from my Galaxy

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports!!! The people should not be left in the dark concerning companies financial conditions. Many of us have money in the stock market! Joy Trushenski, retired from NV Dept. of Corrections

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Protect US people who put their hard earned money into the markets for retirement, etc. Unfortunately the SEC has decided to LOWER their standards for IPOs entering in the NASDAQ 100. At least make them accountable by filing quarterly reports.

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 With current technologies there's is no need to reduce the reporting. If anything it should increase, make it monthly!

Jonathan W. Riendeau
512-636-3523
Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is what all my of financials rely on. Please do not change this very necessary financial planning tool.
Rodney Parker
Regional Service Director
Centimark Corporation

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Dear Sirs,

Please do not change what has been working and giving the every day person better timely information by changing the window to report business finances from 3 months to every 6 months. The world does not have to run on corporate greed and thoughtlessness. This move would cause more uncertainly and a vast amount of grief and more corruption which our world is seeing so much of presently! ! Life is becoming unbearable. I hear it every day fein people I meet. Please consider everyone and give love , safety and consideration to us all. Think of humanity and our Planet.

Helen

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As an investor.I want to know.No hidden agenda

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY!

Sent from my iPad

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Very bad idea, anytime you make it easier for big business to perform fraud and HIDE or manipulate data is not a good thing. Yes many business would never do such a thing, but the accounting and lawyers can justify anything that makes more money, and get promoted for it.

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly!!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do the right thing for investors.

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need the reports to continue to be quarterly.
Lisa Rowlison
Librarian, Investor

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Charles S Snyder, purchasing manager for Garrod Hydraulics in PA. Keep the quarterly reporting as is.

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I think it is imperative that it not be changed to once a year. Keep it as it is.

Sheila

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep them honest! Quarterly Reporting continuously! Or more frequently.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is bull *. It's MY MONEY. I deserve to know what's going on. My parents lost big time on Enron.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 If we have government by the people, for the people, and of the people, shouldn't the government be letting the people know what's going on here?

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Ridiculous proposition. Another way to fleece the public. I'm tired of the rich getting special treatment that increases their wealth. I got out of the stock market several years ago. Too easily manipulated by the rich, the powerful and congressmen. Joy Brock retired RN.

Sent from my iPad

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reports. It's really important for everyone. -Carolyn, unemployed

---

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It would be insane NOT to KEEP IT QUARTERLY!!!
Look what happened when it was not previously; 15 years of financial loss.

Sent from my iPhone
JANICE MOORES

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I don't want it. I am very concerned that information will be misrepresented.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm for all the higher ups in government dividing their huge salaries to us, the little people

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 SEC-keep it Quarterly!

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is awful! Why are you considering this? The sec should be watching out for the regular people, Not the big money people. DON'T RUIN OUR COUNTRY. STOP IT.

George Alberigi III

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly!!! My retirement depends on investments in the stock market!!!

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Dear SEC,
Please keep the reporting quarterly!
Gwen Weate
National Education Association, Retired and Retired Public School Teacher

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep Quartly reporting it is a most for transparency

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I absolutely do not support moving away from the quarterly SEC reporting. There does not appear to be any benefits for the average person, yet makes it much easier for public traded companies, investment firms, and stock exchange to get away with fraud and abuse. Why would we not want eyes and regulation on these entities?!
Please do not change the quarterly reporting mandated for the SEC!
Thank you for your time and attention in this matter.
Michael Ludwig
East Islip, NY

Sent from Proton Mail for iOS.

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Corporations have way too much power already. Why give them more when we are the ones left holding the bag as usual. Shame on you if this passes!

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Jordana Catone, Warehouse Admin Assistant.
When a company goes public they are asking for money to invest in that company. As an investor I have the right to know what is happening in the company. I am investing to earn on that investment. I also should be kept appraised on the status of the company so I can decide on how I want to mange my investment. I can't trust that if it is being hidden. The cost whining is bull. They knew the costs when opening up for our money. They are still making money but want to keep more for themselves. Yes, things cost more. The top exes of those companies need to personally take a hit just like the rest of us do instead of keeping passing it on.
No changed, transparency.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Was nothing learned the last time this was done?? Make the companies keep reporting every three months. We as investors want to know how our savings are doing!!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I have done well with the stock market over the years by not panicking, but removing quarterly reporting would make me very nervous especially with the corruption already happening in this country today. My name is Deb Holliday and I am retired. This matters to me because I need to support myself with only my SS and investments. Please don't take any more away from us!

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is important to me because, as an investor, I have a right to know what is going on in the companies I place my hard-earned money into. I am retired and all my savings are in the stock market. Six months is way too long for them to be able to operate and not be accountable to their shareholders. The companies need to be transparent, not invisible for six months at the time. Please keep them accountable by filing quarterly. It is on you, SEC, to do the right thing for the investors.

Sharon Baxter
Retired from the accounting field

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I remember Enron and quarterly reports would have prevented or reduced the size of that disaster. Stick with quarterly reports!!

Sent from AOL on Android

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There is so much fraud these days, it is important that companies keep their books transparent and their dealing available to see at a frequent interval! Keep the 3 month requirement!

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING!!!!!! Terry Roberts retired It makes it harder to stay on top of my finances when you switch, I like quarterly reports!

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want quarterly reporting. Without it too many will be flying blind. Keep it fair and balanced. Thank you very much.

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am a retired senior who does my own research. I strongly urge the reporting period of company's financials to be retained at three month intervals, as I rely on the data produced during the three month periods to evaluate my stocks. EH Allen

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Dana Kyder and I work at the Polls!
No, no, no!
Quarterly MUST stay as the Standard!!
Why on earth would anyone feel LESS is better!!?!!!
No, no, no.
Dana Kyder
30 Bethke Rd
killingworth, Connecticut

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep Quarterly Reporting! This really matters to me!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Clearly, reports keep institutions honest on what they're doing with our money. These days, that's very important. They're so little honesty left in our society.

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep CEO's accountable. Keep the law the way it is. Thank you.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The upper management should NOT have a free pass to be able to have a greater immunity from prosecution and prison!!

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Less transparency is always bad. I am a retiree who doesn't want to be further disadvantaged or see others disadvantaged by those who profit from better connections. Christine Miller

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is corruption ,No!

Sent from my iPad

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is a bad idea! Companies should be required to report quarterly if they expect investors to make a financial commitment.

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Keep it quarterly! Keep it fair. Thomas Szwast, retired. From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Sent from AOL on Android

---

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Jessy and I am a mother. This is important to me because I don't feel comfortable in the society we created where large companies and corporations are so corrupt and do so much harm and are given every benefit to get away with doing so. We want transparency and authenticity. Gratitude.

Sent from Proton Mail for iOS.

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Continue the quarterly signing!!

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting should remain. It matters because corporations should not be allowed to hide the amount of money they are making.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I would like to keep quarterly reortly

Jennifer Vogel

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This isn't even using common sense. We certainly need better track than every six months. They know how everything is and we don't plain bull *! They just want to steal all they can without anyone seeing it until to late. Bull * thievery! In a nutshell!!

Sent via the Samsung Galaxy S25 FE, an AT&T 5G smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We have enough fraud and corruption going on in this do called administration there is no department of justice just thugs doing Trump and sons dirty work we need reporting to know what the he'll is going on snd what we citizens can do to help

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Margie Taylor. I am retired and want transparency in accounting

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need companies to be kept honest we do not want a window of opportunity for fraud and theft like we have seen in the government sector. This is absolutely ridiculous to even consider not doing quarterly reporting..

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I prefer quarterly reporting so that I can better keep up with any changes. My name is Elizabeth Turner and I am my own financial manager.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly has been working so far; why change it.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We don't need to help the rich get richer … no way should this be passed! 👎👎👎👎👎👎👎👎👎👎👎👎👎👎

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 NO! It's our money too!

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting. Less transparency in reporting is not better. Look what less transparency in the Trump Administration is doing to our economy, country, and democracy. These safeguards have been added over the years for valid reasons. From: Robert Morgan, retired, Dallas, PA

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I oppose this blinding of investors to the performance of their portfolios.

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP QUARTERLY Reporting !!!!!!!

Richard Campbell sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I vehemently OPPOSE the allowance of public traded companies to report less than quarterly. This seems deliberately designed to obfuscate and obscure their activities, their financial solvency-or lack thereof, as well as other information VITAL to the stockowner staying fully informed to make good decisions regarding whether this is a company with which they should have a relationship. I know it is expensive for companies to report quarterly. Budgeting for this expense is part of the responsibility the investor expects companies to be able to manage. If they can't manage to report quarterly, they do not deserve my good faith and confidence enough for me to invest with them. As a former series 7 and series 66 holder who made a living advising my clients and protecting them from making poor decisions, the ONLY way this was possible was to be fully informed of the health of publicly traded companies. How do you propose a person invest WISELY when you are considering allowing companies to HALVE the information we, as investors, NEED to make wise decisions? This would be a HUGE step into total darkness for investors and it is a ridiculously wreckless and heinous suggestion. This will serve as a monumental stumbling block to the confidence we have in our stock companies, and further, the SEC itself and into the stock exchanges overall. This will have an extremely detrimental affect on our confidence in the market! Did Bernie Madoff-who pulled the wool over your (the SEC) eyes over and over, ruining YOUR reputation and embarrassing you, making you directly culpable in his successful fleecing of hundreds of millions from unsuspecting, gullible investors whom you were SUPPOSED to be protecting-did Bernie Madoff make this suggestion to you?? Do you not see the ovbious parallel? If not Bernie (as ridiculous a comparison as he is), it has to be the brainchild of someone with Madoff's mindset---keep them ignorant for long enough and you'll GET AWAY WITH IT. Is this not an uncanny mirror image?! This is such an outrageous proposal. I hope and PRAY that you do your job PROTECTING the stock investor, rather than creating a system that allows publicly traded companies to hide their health and activities from those who entrusted their hard earned dollars with companies unworthy of that trust. Please-DO NOT allow the halving of reporting by publicly traded companies. Quarterly is the minimum you should require to protect the investor. Please remember that protecting the investor is your MOST important job. I know it's not your only job, but it is YOUR TOP PRIORITY. Susan T. Rhodes, former S7, S66 financial advisor.

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quartrly reporting requirements intact, or better yet… Require them every 2 months!. I want to be sure that those responsible for our finances are always held accountable.

Thankyou,
Peter B Grunewald
Merrimack, NH 03054

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Kevin Cloak | Workstation Administrator | This change only benefits those with insider information which as we can all see is not being enforced at all.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep things quarterly

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please do not give companies even more ability to rip off the American people with their crooked dealings and insider trading. Thank you for putting people first. Kim Cohn
Monticello, MN

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Suzanne Zanardi
I agree.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Every CEO needs to be held accountable. Don’t cut it down!!!

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Heather Hess

A home care companion

Disclose your financials's.

We tax payers have to.

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Law as it stands! No more erosion of legal business practices that have been the bedrock of legitimate business practices for years!

Metta

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting. It's important to me to know the stocks I buy are signed off personally by the CEO. We don't need another ENRON where people lose their savings!

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a constituent of the United States, this is disgusting behavior from the SEC. You should be ashamed and embarrassed for even considering this.

- Jacob S, Chicago

Sent from Proton Mail for iOS.

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I believe that making Corporate Reporting bi-annual instead of quarterly is unnecessary in this age of computers and will disadvantage myself and other common investors.

John J. Crosby (Retired)

Get Outlook for iOS

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting of corporate value allows small investors like me to make informed decisions related to my investments.

Decreasing reporting to two cycles per year gives advantage to companies to sell off shares when the market takes a downward trend, all the while keeping small investors in the dark.

This proposal, if enacted, allows the rich to maintain their wealth while small investors incur all the risk.

The SEC must serve the interests of all investors, giving equal opportunity to protect investments regardless of an individual or corporate investing role.

Respectfully,

Laurie G. Combe

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a former employee at a nonprofit wholesale grocery distribution company I can say that quarterly reports are not only important for public facing companies, but equally as critical for member/owners of nonprofit cooperatives such as ours. It is our only true picture of how our organization and investment is fairing as a whole. To not be held quarterly responsible seems utterly ridiculous. I feel like anyone with business experience and common sense knows this and the only reason anyone would not want quarterly reports is nefarious at best.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The rule was made for an important reason. It must stay in effect.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting.

With so much distrust and lack of accountability for many large corporations, quarterly reporting will ensure the American people have some measure of accounting for those who have the power to corrupt.
Jennifer Dean Dwyer, Hugo, MN.

Jennifer Dean Dwyer

Anthony Jacobs — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Anthony Jacobs Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please don't let this pass. A great many people rely on this country as well as the ones they work for to survive. If justice cannot be served even in a common workplace, everything we all have worked hard on will collapse.

ANTHONY LEIPERT — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: ANTHONY LEIPERT Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There’s absolutely no reason why they can’t report quarterly they have accounts on payroll have to file forms and reports every day. There’s no reason to even think about not having them file quarterly I actually think they should have to file monthly not joking there’s so much more I could say but SEC is going to let them do whatever they’re going to do but follow the money trail

---

Anthony Martell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Anthony Martell I firmly oppose this change in SEC regulations . Under what circumstances would it be fair for me to know what happened to a company's financial situation 6 months after the fact ? What's next ? Y'all will start disclosing bankruptcies 6 months later ? Who does this benefit ? The corrupt insider traders like corrupt Congresspeople, the wealthy, and this corrupt Administration. While stealing money from the American people.

Anthony Smith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anthony Smith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep reporting as Quarterly. Now is not the time to decrease visibility into corporate performance. The time is never.

Anthony Taylor Business Development Professional — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Anthony Taylor The proposed shift from quarterly to semiannual reporting would materially disadvantage individual investors by widening the information gap between corporate insiders and the public. Evidence does not support the premise that reduced reporting frequency curbs short-termism. Research from the CFA Institute, based on similar changes in the U.K., found no meaningful impact on long-term investment behavior. The proposal therefore imposes a clear cost—reduced transparency—without delivering the intended benefit. Companies most likely to opt out of quarterly reporting are smaller and less-covered issuers, where consistent oversight is especially important. Less frequent disclosures would further limit market visibility and impair investors’ ability to evaluate risk. This change reverses progress made under Regulation FD toward leveling the playing field. There is no demonstrated problem that reduced reporting solves. As one public comment aptly noted, the S&P 500 continues to achieve record highs while meeting quarterly reporting obligations. The current framework is not hindering corporate performance, and weakening disclosure standards would undermine market trust rather than strengthen it.

Antoinette Domingue — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Antoinette Domingue Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want and need to know how my investments are doing. Quarterly does that and it keeps the corporate America accountable

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Antonio Paez — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Antonio Paez Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Archie Mcinnis — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Archie Mcinnis Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Make it stay the same

Sent from my iPhone

Ardis Wharff — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ardis Wharff Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This could be devastating to all of us in the middle and lower classes who have worked diligently their entire adult lives to secure their futures.
Please do not let this proposal end quarterly reporting. It will only serve to make the rich richer and leave the future of all others in jeopardy.
Sincerely,
Ardis Wharff

---

arleen degraffenreid — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: arleen degraffenreid Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 continue to report quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

Arleen Hewitt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Arleen Hewitt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting. Keep things honest. We don't need any more corrupt people than we have already. Thank you, Arleen Hewitt retired and an investor.
rule-comments@sec.gov, copy@keepitquarterly.org

Arleen Hewitt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Arleen Hewitt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting. Keep things honest. We don't need any more corrupt people than we have already. Thank you, Arleen Hewitt retired and an investor.

Arlene Jones — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Arlene Jones Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Arlene Jones, retired. I strongly agree that quarterly filings should be retained. Changing the filings is a bad move for individual investors like myself, a retiree — it creates opacity and undermines trust — and savings flow to the companies and their executives, not to the investor. In the past it encouraged fraud.

Sent from my iPhone

Arlene Wilson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Arlene Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We need quarterly disclosures.
Do not go backwards on them.

Art Kubin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Art Kubin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I need my money to live. I need quarterly reporting. Stop screwing with our lives for no good reason.

Sent from my iPhone

Arthur Arcuri — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Arthur Arcuri Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly please.

Sent from my iPhone

Arthur Giguere — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Arthur Giguere Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Maintain the status quo. Companies do not need additional relief, they tabulate daily if not more.

Sent from my iPhone

Arthur Gonzalez — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Arthur Gonzalez Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There is enough fertile ground for corruption and quasi-legal shenanigans in America already; the last thing anyone that isn't an inside trader wants or needs is for corporate boardrooms to have double the time to do harm with a complete lack of transparency. This is important to me because if the Epstein files taught me anything, evil things happen where people can't get a good look. Don't give corporations that view most of humanity as data on a spreadsheet six months to do anything unscrutinized.

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Arvilla Fischer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Arvilla Fischer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This should be against the law for fraud. I don’t do stocks but it’s not right for people who own stocks. Sounds like the rich gets rich and we get poorer as usual!

Sent from my iPhone

Ashlae Portell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ashlae Portell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Ashlae, and I’m a child psychologist. In a large hospital system that relies on hundreds of contractors, so much money is involved with finalizing these contracts. Accurate, up-to-date information about the companies we contract with allow us to make informed decisions. Uninformed decisions lead to mistakes and more money spent, and this money inevitably leads to worse care (and higher costs) for patients and families.

Ashley Bedgood — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ashley Bedgood Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I don’t approve of this at all and demand that you don’t allow them to hide the insane amount of profits they make while screwing Americans!!

Sent from my iPhone

Ashley Leanne Buchanan Im an investor and hard working American — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ashley Leanne Buchanan This is yet another try to make the American people poorer and limited to access of information we rightfully should have. These companies rape, rob and pillage and this should not be allowed.

Ashton Syed — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ashton Syed Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Ashton Syed and I'm an application security analyst. This is important to me because the pace of change in the market is increasing rather than decreasing. It makes no sense to allow organizations to fail to report when reporting has become easier than ever to automate. If anything, organizations, by scale, should be held to even more frequent reporting; not less. Insider trading and market manipulation is already, and remains, a pervasive problem because organizations can wait to make announcements until insiders have positioned themselves optimally. 3 months made sense when most parts of most processes were still manual; today, 1 month reporting makes sense.

Cordially,
Ashton Syed
syed.ashton@gmail.com

"Quality is never an accident. It is always the result of high intention, sincere effort intelligent direction and skillful execution. It represents the wise choice of many alternatives."
-William A. Foster
Get Outlook for iOS

Athena Marshall — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Athena Marshall Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No more hiding results. We deserve to know what businesses are doing and their policies so we can make decisions on them.
Thena Kirk
Investor

Sent from my iPhone

Audrey Monkiewicz — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Audrey Monkiewicz Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY. Those fellows are wealthy enough . They will suffer no gardship by reporting to us quarterly!

Audrey Zemke — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Audrey Zemke I am concerned about the proposed change to the reporting requirements. As an investor, I think that transparency is important. The current rule gives mandatory transparency which helps with decision making. It is important that within the rules there be mandatory triggers for interim disclosure – a requirement that issuers surface material developments between filings rather than let them sit for six months.

Avis Griffin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Avis Griffin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it going. The people want and need to know. Tired of the fraud.

Sent from my iPhone

---

b b — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: b b Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stephan Borio, retired, current investor. Good day. To remove the quarterly reporting requirement with any financial report provides a massive window to hide errors, malfeasance, and allows insiders to transact internally and personally at a larger scale without scrutiny of outside investors, providing an opening for personal enrichment at the risk and detriment of all others. This has the potential of damages, impairing, or even destroying outside investors good faith investing into companies, drive outside investment out due to lack of trust and improper mismanagement of risk, to the extent on illegal activity. Quarterly reporting is key to financial and investment stability. The system has been sustained by frequent quarterly reporting to allow prudent investment disciplined decision making. The requirement should at a minimum retained quarterly, if not enhanced to require monthly reporting. Thank you.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

B Bank — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: B Bank Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am an individual investor and very concerned about the real impact on my retirement accounts if reports are no longer required quarterly. Reports must not be extended to six months. The SEC's statutory mandate is to protect the investing public.

I rely on quarterly reports to make decisions about my retirement savings. Longer gaps will create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders!

B Brunka — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: B Brunka Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Yes to quarterly reporting as some of the most invasive and widespread technologies are upon us in this decade with artificial intelligence
Mrs Bea Brunk

Sent from my iPhone

B C — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: B C Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep your quarterly reporting!

Get Outlook for iOS

B G — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: B G Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely do not get rid of quarterly reporting for these people. There's little enough to hold them accountable, and this would make it easier for them to continue to grift our country. The SEC needs to make sure regulations are followed. Getting rid of quarterly reporting would impede that effort. Do your job, SEC!

Sent from my iPad

B R — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: B R Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is unimportant. Call me a concerned citizen. I am close to retirement and the money I have amassed from working hard over my entire career has to last me for the rest of my life. I have been investing since I was 18 years old. I rely on quarterly information to make decisions. Longer gaps create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders, and when we don't know what they are doing, the longer that time elapses between reports, the more I'm in the dark and can't move my money if I don't like their financial tactics. Anytime you give companies an option, that doesn't fix the problem because companies that opt in are often the ones whose investors most need frequent updates. It benefits them, not the investors. The cost of doing the right thing for investors is minimal. They're not going to save anything by skipping a few pieces of paper and one meeting.

I object to a 6-month filing change.

B Rei — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: B Rei Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the Quarterly Reporting firmly in place.
In many crucial & responsible regards, TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE

Epiphany66, LLC

B. R. Myrick — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: B. R. Myrick Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Well THIS would be a load of BS ! As a retired government employee from state and local levels, it is my belief that the whole premise behind any government operation is transparency, NOT setting the stage for more graft and corruption by those who are being paid to do a job. KEEP the quarterly reporting in place and work to keep people accountable.
Billy R Myrick
Chief of Police (ret.)
205 Polk Road 652
Mena, Arkansas 71953

---

backyardcluck — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: backyardcluck Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Patricia Keyes, sole proprietor. The idea that a financial product industry should go without clear open books for 6 months at a time is completely unthinkable! WHAT ELSE do they have to do but sit around calculating and reporting on their deposits???? Companies like Fidelity.com already blunt the common man's chances of succeeding in the stock market with their computing tricks. And now politicians think they should get a 6 month window to fk about in??? You people really are completely unhinged!!! This is a terrible idea! I don't mind looking up my account data online, rather than getting a costly printout in the mail, but this is a terrible idea!

---

badtvbad — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: badtvbad Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Anne Dachowski. I am an ESOL teacher. In matters of finance and investment, we need more transparency, not less. Keep required reporting quarterly. We do not need to change that.

Bailey McKay — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bailey McKay Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly is rather too long, as is.
Please do Not make it shorter.

BARB BAITZ — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: BARB BAITZ Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Terrible idea. Companies could hide that they’re not doing well and investors would go broke.. It was changed to quarterly for a good reason. Let’s keep it that way the American people can’t take any more financial hit. You guys need to do the right thing.

Barb Cox — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Barb Cox Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Make it mandatory!

Sent from my iPhone

Barb S — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barb S Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 These reports need to be generated quarterly as they have been for years.

Barbara Schnake
Retired worker

Sent from my iPhone

Barbara Abell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Abell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is crucial. A lot of fraud can be overlooked in 6 months rather than 3 months. Keep businesses honest with proper, quarterly reporting

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Barbara Aubin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Aubin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Barbara Aubin, Retired Human Resources professional. This matters because quarterly reporting helps to keep those who are required to report a hell of a lot more transparent and honest.

Barbara
From my iPhone

Barbara Aymond — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Barbara Aymond Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Everyone needs some form of accountability in their life no matter who they are or what they do! Accountability keeps them honest!

Barbara Boehms — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Boehms Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Requiring reporting every six months instead of every three months is a very bad idea. It allows more time for fraud to grow and creates an environment where investors are making decisions on incomplete information. The potential negative impact on investors large and small is huge. There is no good reason to change the three month reporting requirement.

Signed, Barbara Boehms, retired and dependent on investment income.

Sent from my iPhone

Barbara Bouknight — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Bouknight Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 A minimum of quarterly reporting is necessary for me. I am retired and stated small investments late in my working life. I need frequent information on what is happening with my investments.The market has been VERY volatile lately and I need to have quarterly reporting to continue!

Barbara Bouknight
bebouknight@yahoo.com

Sent from my iPhone

Barbara Carton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Barbara Carton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Don't get rid of Quarterly Reports !

Barbara Coy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Barbara Coy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need accountability

Sent from my iPhone

---

barbara gabriel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: barbara gabriel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need quarterly info

---

Barbara Gorman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Barbara Gorman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As an investor it's important that I receive regular updated reports from the companies I am investing in. If we hide that data ir infrequently report it I have less belief in the companies and system. Changing reporting may be seen as time consuming for the company but is absolutely critical for everyone involved in the market and ultimately all our lives. Removing this reporting makes it much easier for companies to hide what they are doing. Then it becomes too late.

Barbara Hart — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Barbara Hart Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 DO NOT DO IT! UNLESS YOU WANT TO DESTROY AMERICA! QUARTERLY REPORTING IS NEEDED TO KEEP BUSINESSES HONEST AND POLITICIANS TOO!. Barb H. Accounting Manager

---

Barbara Heil — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Barbara Heil Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep cause and effect honest and direct and consistent with the crime

---

Barbara Herbert — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Herbert Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is a ridiculous proposal! It is hard enough to keep companies in compliance with regulations. We certainly do not need to make it easier to hide fraud, mismanagement or questionable accounting practices. Please leave the regulations currently in effect!

Sent from my iPhone

Barbara Kelly — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Kelly Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is not a burden to public companies. It is a fiduciary responsibility to the company, stockholders and the public. KEEP REPORTING QUARTLY!

Barbara Kelly, MBA

Barbara Kirkelie — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Barbara Kirkelie Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To Whom this may reach: I rely on quarterly reporting and information to make my decisions financially and business. Longer gaps lead to mis-trust and helping fraudulent agendas; helping the ones DOING FRAUD!!! Costing consumers More in the long run… I believe the companies that are opting into this are the ones that really NEED TO BE UNDER THE RADAR! Please Do THE RIGHT THING FOR AMERICANS! 🇺🇸

Sent from my iPhone

BARBARA KOTELES — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: BARBARA KOTELES Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 These people should be monitored every month, not twice a year! YOU KNOW THAT!

Get Outlook for Android

Barbara L BOWLING — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara L BOWLING Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it

Sent from my iPhone

Barbara Lembo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Barbara Lembo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There is too much of importance that can happen in less than 180 days and as consumers, we need to know in a timely fashion. Keep reporting at 90 days!!!

Barbara L

Barbara Loyd — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Loyd Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep CEO's accountable. 4 signatures per year. Barbara Loyd, retired teacher (40+ years). Everyone should be held accountable. With great power comes great responsibility. FOR EVERYONE.

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Barbara McKinley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Barbara McKinley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 DTo the Securities and Exchange Commission:
DON'T LET PUBLIC COMPANIES MAKE ANY RULES THAT WILL HIDE VITAL INFORMATION !!!!!!!!

Barbara McNally — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Barbara McNally Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Companies still have to keep financial reports and we still need to see what they are doing with our money. Please keep quarterly reporting as the gold standard for the investors who rely on current information and Fraud harder to hide. Barbara McNally, from California

Virus-free.www.avast.com

Barbara Sallettes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Sallettes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting from companies quarterly. The public deserves to know what is going on. Please protect the small investors.

Barbara
Sent from my iPhone

Barbara Seadeek — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Barbara Seadeek Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please continue quarterly investment updates... We need to have this information provided. I am a senior and I need to be able to monitor my accounts.
PLEASE!
Barb Seadeek

Barbara Senanefes — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Barbara Senanefes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need to have quarterly reports to see what is actually happening The poor have to pay the price for the fraud that is happening at the top 1%. Billionaires receive tax cuts, while everyday citizens are having trouble paying for food, gas and other basic living costs. Barbara Senanefes, Retired Public Servant

Get Outlook for Android

Barbara Sevier — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Sevier Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Barbara Sevier here. Quarterly reports need to continue. It is imperative to keep this system.

B. Sevier

Sent from my iPhone

Barbara Ustica — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Barbara Ustica Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Barbara Ustica. Quarterly reporting is essential for investors. Transparency should be a priority. I am retired and my investments are more important than ever since I have no way of making loses up.

Barbara Wims — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Barbara Wims Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Not surprised a bit!!! Deception to the core!!! 'Forget honesty & fairness' is their moto!!! Shameful!!!

Barbara Wurtzel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Wurtzel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I expect quarterly reporting. It's the norm. You don't have the right to change my access to information.
Barbara Wurtzel
Retired Dean

BARBARA ZATOR — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: BARBARA ZATOR Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
WE HAVE THE RIGHT TO QUARTERLY INFORMATION SO WE CAN EXPLORE OUR INVEST OPTIONS...

Barry Barnes — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barry Barnes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly performance is how executives and stakeholders measure their results. Let's keep CEOs and senior executives honest and responsible by having mandatory full disclosure and personal accountability on a quarterly basis.

Barry Barnes

Barry

A Worthwhile Precept
See the world!... Expand your awareness, perceptions, and understanding. It's a big, beautiful, broadening place out there. Contact with people from other cultures can help open your eyes to new, inclusive, compassionate, and rewarding experiences. Toss the attitude of "my country first." Realize we're ALL interrelated and interdependent – what affects anybody else ultimately has an effect on you… and what you do affects others. We as humans are not isolated. To be truly part of humanity we must know, understand, care for, and include others elsewhere. Be a World Citizen first – and one of your birth country secondarily.

— Barry Barnes —

Barry Barnhill — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Barry Barnhill Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Barry Barnhill MSN RN
Keep quarterly reports so the public can remain informed.
Barry Barnhill

Barry Horton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Barry Horton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why change what has been protecting investors for so many years!! Don't let big business have any more breaks than they have already

Sent from my iPhone

Barry Leichtling — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Barry Leichtling Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 More expensive in long run to go semi annually. More fraud

Sent from my iPhone

Barry Lukoff — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barry Lukoff Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly reports.

Business has proven time and time again that they can and will violate the rules.

Barry Swedlow — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Barry Swedlow Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need MORE scrutiny not less!!

Sent from my iPhone

---

bcsmyers — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: bcsmyers Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Brenda Glass Myers
Just another was to deceive the public.

Becky Blanke — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Becky Blanke Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No

Sent from my iPhone

Becky Case — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Becky Case Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is B. Case. I am retired and live in Mesa, Arizona. Changing the reporting period from quarterly to semi-annually is not good for the public. It gives all the advantage to the companies and keeps the public in the dark longer. This is wrong and only allows those on the inside more opportunity for making decisions long before the public understands what is happening. Companies are already reporting quarterly, so why change it now! This would be a very poor decision for the public! I'm retired and do not wish to see my retirement fund depleted because the public doesn't get the information to understand what is happening with our investments in a timely manner. Please do not make this change!!

Becky Hanley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Becky Hanley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We, as investors, have bought the right to have quarterly reports on our investments. Otherwise, we're just throwing our money away, which is particularly dangerous in a country removing virtually all public services, ie. SS, Medicare, Snap, etc.

Becky Matt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Becky Matt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep reporting as it is. I’m a retired teacher who happens to have money invested to add to my income. Please help the middle class like myself and not the uber wealthy.
Rebecca S D’Annunzio

Sent from my iPad

Becky Thompson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Becky Thompson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Continue quarterly reports!
Coruption in this country and in this government is systemic. This is a perfect example. Enough is enough.

Becky Thompson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Becky Thompson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please continue quarterly reporting. This only enables blatant systemic corruption in our government and private sector.

Sent from my iPhone

Becky Topliff — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Becky Topliff Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep our quarterly reporting. Quit catering to the big corporations and for once do something for your small investors. Do the right thing!!

Sent from my iPhone

Belinda Bockbrader — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Belinda Bockbrader Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 BeLinda Bockbrader, Security Guard We Need to Keep our CEO's Responsible! Keep them reporting Quarterly!!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Belinda Gross — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Belinda Gross Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No, no no keep it at three. It should be every 60 days those companies get away with too much already that would be handing them the silver platter.

Sent from my iPhone

Belinda Pate — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Belinda Pate Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

My taxes and productivity are the backbone of our labor force and human economy.
I also invest.
This new rule undermines my investments and not only hurts me, but will in turn eventually hurt the insiders that want this proposal to happen.
A level playing field helps us all.

Ben Chester — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ben Chester Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Most Americans are already fiscally shut out of investment. This action will blind anyone who isnt already rich in terms of their ability to be capable of intelligent stock & annuity investments. I believe thats the goal & point. This corrupt SWC needs cleaning & this BS proposal needs to IMMEDIATELY SCRAPPED. Clearly, its better for hedge funds, the richest insiders, & for corporations themselves but the rest of us are being punished by this ridiculous proposal. Quarterly reports must remain for FAIRNESS & to keep reasonable control on an already toxic investment system

---

Ben Nelson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ben Nelson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I love how the Trump admin touts total transparency while making rules like these to provide less transparency for companies.

Keep them quarterly.

Bernadette Clark — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bernadette Clark Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do your job! No 6 month vacation and keeping the public investors hoodwinked!

Bernice Hulme — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Bernice Hulme Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Bernice Hulme, retired. When you lack transparency then thievies are free to rob our money. I'm on a fixed income this is not the time to weather financial difficulties.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Beronica Sime — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Beronica Sime Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Not enough transparency!! Politicians are supposed to protect THE PEOPLE!!! Not sell us out & line their pockets!!!!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Bert Rankin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bert Rankin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Corruption and Crony Capitalism reflected in opaque and antediluvian policy changes like this are unconsciousionable and will destroy Americans' retirement savings... and just so some fat capitalist pigs can buy another yacht.
SHAME on you, if you allow this to happen!

Bert Rankin
(Cell) 303-710-4181
www.linkedin.com/in/bertrankin/

Bert Rankin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bert Rankin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Corruption and Crony Capitalism reflected in opaque and antediluvian policy changes like this are unconsciousionable and will destroy Americans' retirement savings and just so some fat capitalist pigs can buy another yacht.
SHAME on you, if you allow this to happen!

Bert Rankin
(Cell) 303-710-4181
www.linkedin.com/in/bertrankin/

Berte Swirczynski — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Berte Swirczynski Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Berte Swirczynski Reports should be kept quarterly so investors know what's going on too. It serves no purpose to change. It's unfair for only the corporations, its employees, and boards to know pertinent information on the status of their financial health but not stockholders. It also will not be beneficial to people that want to invest to have to wait longer until a report comes out to invest. I also think it might more insider trading.

Sent from my iPhone

Beth Alonso — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Beth Alonso Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep accountability by retaining quarterly reports as the minimum. Semi-annual is too long a period for investor decisions and provides a window for covert behavios inimical to good business practices. Beth Alonso, retired attorney, Oklahoma.

Beth Girard — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Beth Girard Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 So now the SEC wants to just publicly enable companies to swindle the American people? Isn't the Trump administration corrupt enough for yet? How on earth would this be beneficial to anyone except for criminals? They did impose quarterly reporting for a reason. Do not change the rule. The American people are being screwed enough by Trump. We don't need more open corruption.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Beth Hoffman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Beth Hoffman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We trusted them once. They betrayed that trust. Let’s not invite them to do it again. B. Hoffman, worker & taxpayer, CT.

Sent from my iPad

Beth Kujawski — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Beth Kujawski Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I strongly oppose the proposed SEC rule changes. The primary mission of the SEC is to protect investors, maintain fair and orderly markets and promote transparency. The proposed changes would move in the opposite direction by reducing the amount frequency and quality of information available to investors. Investors rely on timely, accurate disclosures to make informed decisions regarding retirement accounts, pensions, college savings and personal investments. Any reduction and reporting requirements are oversight increases the risk that material financial issues may go undetected for extended periods, harming, individual investors, and reducing confidence in US Capitol markets. Transparency is not an unnecessary burden. It is a cornerstone of market integrity. Public companies benefit from access to public capital and should continue to meet robust disclosure and accountability standards. Weakening these standards may reduce investor, protections limit market visibility and create opportunities for misconduct to remain hidden longer. I urge the SEC to reject these proposed changes and preserved strong reporting disclosure and accountability requirements that have helped maintain confidence in US financial markets for decades.
Stop tearing this country to shreds it's an embarrassment to the entire world!
thank you for considering my comments.

Beth Larson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Beth Larson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 You need to stay with the rules. Do not pardon them. We must get back to respect for our laws and consequences for breaking them.

Beth Leffler — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Beth Leffler Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Put them in jail.

Beth Lenhart — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Beth Lenhart Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
If you're not doing anything wrong, you wouldn't need to hide your findings.

Beth Penn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Beth Penn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Considering the obvious lack of integrity becoming exposed in the last while with charges of fraud, I would think it obvious we should "keep the windows open " and not shutter the view for and extra three months. It certainly appears there is reason to keep a close watch!!

Beth Rickerts — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Beth Rickerts Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Very few average people trust big business or government right now. We have seen this he greed, and grift, the rot, the “good ol boys” on stage, as stars, under glaring lights for almost two years.
By allowing more power to the businesses, whom have chosen to go public, we are allowing them to hide their poor decisions or wealth, thus inevitably leading to more corruption and more deceit.
They have chosen public options, therefore, they need to keep their reporting quarterly for the public.
I can’t afford to lose my retirement.
I certainly don’t expect the SEC to make it easier for Captains of Industry and/or Robber Barons to make my investments even riskier. I am an average retiree who needs my government to look out for me.
Bibi R
Retired Public School Teacher

Sent from my iPhone

Beth Roscoe — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Beth Roscoe Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do it twice a year

---

Betsy Cousins-Coleman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Betsy Cousins-Coleman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
KEEP IT QUARTERLY!!! Investors have a right to know what's happening with their retirement funds!

Betsy Howell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Betsy Howell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We don't need another Enron! Quarterly reporting keeps accountability. My husband and I worked hard for our retirement and have invested in our future. I expect the SEC to deliver accountability. Signed, Elizabeth Howell

---

Betsy Kelly — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Betsy Kelly Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I strongly oppose the proposed changes to reporting rules. Six months is too long to be able to react to corporate decisions and financial impacts.

Elizabeth Kelly
Retired investor

Sent from my iPhone

Bettie L Clark — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Bettie L Clark Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It must be kept quarterly! Nothing right about changing it!!

Sent from my iPhone

Betty Ferrari — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Betty Ferrari Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am an 82 year old retiree with investments that I count on to survive in these chaotic economic times. I wholehearted disagree with Rule S7-2026-15. It would be unfair to investors like myself, to fail to receive o\important quarterly reports that I require and use. I urge you to reconsider this. Think of the people it will hurt.

Betty Godfrey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Betty Godfrey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly

---

Betty Hawkins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Betty Hawkins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Betty Hawkins, stay at home wife. For honesty. I keep track of what I spend the same should be what companies do to keep people accountable.

Get Outlook for Android

Betty Justice — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Betty Justice Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Trump threatened to assassinate the very people his own team was negotiating peace with. Then he warned that Iran "won't have a country" left. Hours later, Iran's delegation walked out of the talks and demanded that he apologize.

Here's what happened. JD Vance, was in Switzerland leading peace negotiations with Iran, and by his own account it was going well. He talked about turning "a new leaf" and called it "a historic meeting."

Then Trump got on the phone.

In a series of expletive-laden calls and social media posts, the President of the United States unloaded.

He threatened to restart his bombing campaign. He threatened to "take over" Iran with a full-scale invasion. He said the country "won't have a country."

And most stunning of all, multiple outlets reported that he threatened to assassinate the negotiators themselves, the very men sitting across the table from his own diplomats, in the middle of a peace summit.

Think about how deranged that is.

You send your team to make peace, and then you threaten to kill the other side while they're still in the building.

This is a man who has now threatened, on the record, to wipe out an entire nation's "whole civilization" more than once. And once again, the threats did the opposite of what he wanted.

Iran's delegation filed a formal complaint with the Pakistani and Qatari mediators, refused to even pose for photographs with the American team, and walked out of the luxury resort where the talks were being held. They said they would not come back until Trump apologized.

Unbelievable.

The other side found the President of the United States so unhinged, so out of control, that they got up and left rather than stay in a room with a man openly threatening to have them killed.

Iran's chief negotiator, Mohammad Bagher Ghalibaf, didn't even pretend to be rattled. "We do not take American threats into account," he said. "They would do better to be careful with their statements. Our armed forces are ready to respond. No matter what they say, we are the ones who act."

Then he asked the question Trump can't answer: "Don't they think that if their threats had worked, they wouldn't have ended up in today's desperate situation?"

That is the whole thing. For months Trump has screamed and threatened and promised to obliterate Iran, and for months it hasn't worked, because threats from a man with no follow-through are just noise. He signed a deal in Versailles days ago and called it the triumph of the century.

Then he threw a tantrum so reckless he threatened to murder the negotiators and got walked out on for it.
Trump threatened to assassinate the very people his own team was negotiating peace with. Then he warned that Iran "won't have a country" left. Hours later, Iran's delegation walked out of the talks and demanded that he apologize.

Betty Justice — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Betty Justice Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 SENT: As an American citizen and taxpayer, I'm required transparency in my financial activity, so I can provide my share for the running of Our Country. Everyone, person, organization, business or entity should be required the same. ALL held to transparency for Our Country and each other. No hiding or hoarding. Fair financial responsibility for ALL. KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING.I'm required transparency in my financial activity, so I can provide my share for the running of Our Country. Everyone, person, organization, business or entity should be required the same. ALL held to transparency for Our Country and each other. No hiding or hoarding. Fair financial responsibility for ALL. KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING.

---

betty propst — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: betty propst Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not change from quarterly reporting. They probably need increased reporting.

Bev Craig — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Bev Craig Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Mandatory quarterly reports, ALWAYS.

Beverlee Craig
Human being Transparency quarterly.

Beverlee Craig

Beverley Bodiroga — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Beverley Bodiroga Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 YOU MUST CONTINUE WITH QUARTERLY REPORTING, OTHERWISE YOU WILL HAVE ANOTHER ENRON ON STEROIDS!

Beverly Benson Wolf — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Beverly Benson Wolf Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Beverly Wolf, Captain Ret. Waterford Twp Police Dept, Michigan. Transparency is more than an idea or a theory. It is real and needs to remain in place with quarterly reporting. My retirement is dependent on financial planning that is fact based, reported regularly and openly. Protect the everyday 'man' by keeping the reporting quarterly.

Beverly Davidson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Beverly Davidson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am strongly opposed to this change! We need more transparency at this time , NOT LESS!
Beverly L Davidson
Retired

Sent from my iPhone

Beverly Dunston — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Beverly Dunston Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 PLEASE keep the quarterly reporting in action!!!! If you cut the reporting signatures in half, the accountability will not be accurate!! There will always be an opening again for fraud and/or other issues that would pop up for the CEOs to cheat people out of!!!! I also think that congressmen, senators, and other politicians should be held accountable for their actions in "investments" that earn them MILLIONS of dollars!!!!!
My name is Beverly Dunston and I live in Middleburg, FL, and am retired.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Beverly Jennings — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Beverly Jennings Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We do not need another 2008/9 financial collapse. Show some responsibility for the people and sort yourselves out.

Ian and Beverly Jennings

Beverly Salkaus — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Beverly Salkaus Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No!

Do not do this!

Best Regards, Beverly Salkaus
Cell 407.310.3304

---

bhamilton — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: bhamilton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Barb Hamilton and I am retired after 44 years in the finance industry. I have performed SEC audits and been a liaison for SEC audits performed on my company. Quarterly reporting is essential for companies to communicate their financial status to shareholders. 6 months of time can send a company down a wrong path without someone looking over their shoulder. Too many companies don't care about their shareholders anymore-they need outside supervision. Please leave quarterly reporting in place.

Sent from my Galaxy

Bill Atnip — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Bill Atnip Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly

---

Bill Davis — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Bill Davis Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not create another way for the insider's to profit before the public has access!

Bill Gates — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Bill Gates Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 William Gates, retired. We already have problems with politicians granting themselves exemptions from insider trading statutes. It occurs to me that this proposed change only benefits those intent on defrauding ordinary investors.

Bill Ghazey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Bill Ghazey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is critical in order to make informed investment decisions. It should not be cut and changed to semiannual. Don’t do it!

Sent from my iPhone

Bill Grahn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Bill Grahn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I have been funding my retirement fund since 1977. My account has increased steadily all of those years. Now that I have become disabled, I cannot afford to lose ANY of my retirement fund. I still live on only my SS and Medicare. DO NOT change corp reporting to semi annually. America can’t afford another irresponsible action by the SEC. Thank you

Sent from my iPhone

Bill Hess — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bill Hess Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is one of the most important things we can do to help ensure accurate reporting and investing

---

Bill Maack — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Bill Maack Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please continue quarterly reports signed by the CEO.

Bill Maack — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Bill Maack Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please continue quarterly reports signed by the CEO.

Bill Maack
Bradenton Florida

Bill Maack — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Bill Maack Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please continue quarterly reports signed by the CEO.

Bill Maack
Bradenton FL

BILL MCELRATH — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: BILL MCELRATH Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 These reports really need to be submitted monthly. Quarterly reporting is the bare minimum for useful information!

- Bill

Bill McElrath
515-321-8240 c

Sent from my iPad Pro

Bill Ray — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Bill Ray Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The quarterly system has its problems of course by over focusing management on short term results. But simply moving to 6 months is actually worse because (1) it is still, in an established public business, short-term tactics, and (2) it reduces visibility by investors by their degrading tactical results visibility. It needs a different approach to measure management's strategic performance.

Bill S — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bill S Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely NEEDED!

Bill Scimone — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Bill Scimone Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Let’s make sure we keep the requirement for quarterly reports so we can avoid the problems we had before. It ensures clarity of behavior and accountability. That’s why it was put in place!
Thank you,
William F. Scimone

Sent from my iPhone

Bill Scimone — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Bill Scimone Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Let’s make sure we keep the requirement for quarterly reports so we can avoid the problems we had before. It ensures clarity of behavior and accountability. That’s why it was put in place!
William Scimone

Sent from my iPhone

Bill Waters — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bill Waters Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Former Director of Accounting.
Big Eight Auditor.
Current investor.

Keep the quarterly!

Get Outlook for Android

Bill Woodall — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Bill Woodall Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please, do not set this country up for failure, again. These rules and regulations were put into place because people did something stupid. If we do not learn from our mistakes. We are doomed to repeat them! Keep the quarterly reporting. It is needed to help keep corporations and people honest.

Billie Ann Brown — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Billie Ann Brown Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We want clear views of our investments.

Sent from my iPhone

Blair Browning — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Blair Browning Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Leave it alone. If it's not broke, don't fix it.
Yours Truly,
BLAIR BROWNING

---

bm hd — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: bm hd Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Joseph Paul, Business Owner.

We need more accountability from Wall Street not less. Keep the quarterly reporting to make these companies more transparent and less likely to be abusive to shareholders or the public.

Bob Aguilar — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Bob Aguilar Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is foolish and I don't see any advantage for the retail investor at all. As a matter of fact, it would keep investors in the dark for 3 extra months as to what the companies are up to. I am totally against this proposal by the SEC.

Bob and Jane Barr — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Bob and Jane Barr Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Once again , this is idiotic and would only be passed by complicate accomplices to the billionaire class.

Bob Bossie — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bob Bossie Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the signing requirement to 4 times a year.

---

bob call — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: bob call Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly and more quarterly how often could I say it
I

Bob Ciullo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Bob Ciullo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting was set up to avoid catastrophic fraud and failures such as Enron. Quarterly reporting is not overbearing on public companies and the vast majority of public companies are in favor of keeping reporting quarterly. Those firms seeking to hide analytics are in favor of semi-annual reporting. Please do not support those public companies seeking to minimize public protections.

My job as a director of Advisor coaching is grounded in a foundation of transparency and integrity of financial advisors and their client relationships. Removing quarterly reporting puts financial advisors at a much higher standard than publicly traded companies. This is short-sighted and simply wrong!

Bob Ciullo
163 NE 3rd Street
Oak Island, NC 28465

Bob Conway — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Bob Conway Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting MUST be maintained. Those who run America's large and powerful corporations require frequent scrutiny by the SEC, lest they abuse their power. The People need your protection!!!

John R (Bob) Conway
Niles, Michigan, USA

Bob Gaines — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bob Gaines Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I use my quarterly information to keep up with my retirement monies. Planning trips, buying appliances, cars, gifts. When polices are changed, I can react not wait 6 months to know about any changes!

Sent from my iPhone

Bob Heath — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bob Heath Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting assists those of us that are "small" investors i.e., those who don't have billions of $'s to invest. Please DO NOT ALLOW the special interest groups to discontinue these quarterly reports. They allow the small investor to make educated investment decisions and needs to be continued not ended or lessened!
Sincerely
Robert D. Heath Jr

Bob Hillenbrand — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Bob Hillenbrand Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Remember what happened when Greenspan talked Congress and Clinton into ending Glass-Seagal rules?

KEEP THE QUARTERLY REQUIREMENT.

Sent from my iPad

Bob Kledzinski — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bob Kledzinski Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is totally wrong to go to quarterly reporting. Everyone needs to know what is happening at the various businesses!

Sent from my iPhone

---

bob magee — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: bob magee Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting forces corporate management to operate to a short decision horizon. Longer reporting cycles would loosen this constraint and allow more strategic decision making.

Bob Mcglothlin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Bob Mcglothlin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please retain the quarterly reporting. Those of us that are retired do not have time to build back our lost assets from a dis honest business. Thanks

Sent from my iPhone

Bob Moore — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bob Moore Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quartly reports prevent fraud . Don't change.

Bob Prince — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bob Prince Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it accordingly if it’s not broken don’t fix it. We’ll already be in Rob line make America great again for the little guys too.

Sent from my iPhone

Bob Sodders — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Bob Sodders Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Bob Sodders, Construction Project Manager
I am getting close to retirement and worried this will negatively affect my investments. It opens the door for fraud and misreporting. There is nothing wrong with the current system. History has shown this has not been good for regular folks like me.

Bob Sylvester — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Bob Sylvester Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I believe this roll back will put the majority of CEOs -who understand that honesty works best in the long run- at a disadvantage.
Report FOUR times a year.

Robert Sylvester
42 High St #2
Middlebury, VT 05753

Bob Woodson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bob Woodson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want to know how my portfolio is doing. Quarterly statements is a must.

Sent from my iPhone

---

bobbi fox — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: bobbi fox Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY REPORTING ! Absolutely 👍!

Bobbi

Bobbi Pace — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Bobbi Pace Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Roberta Pace, chef
This change will only protect fraud and hide corruption!
Do not let this happen!

Bobbie Flores — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Bobbie Flores Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency should be above corporate gains. More clarity and accountability for corporations is essential for common retail shareholders!

Bobby Creel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Bobby Creel As an investor we must demand Accountability, keep the reporting quarterly

---

Bobby Rizzo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Bobby Rizzo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 AMERICANS ARE SICK OF RICH PRIVILEGE. AND END OF THE DAY...YOU ALLWILL PAY

Bonita Douglas — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Bonita Douglas Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Investors need to see this information that informs timely decisions to hold or sell stocks they own.

Bonnie Baker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bonnie Baker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I've been in financial services my whole life. This is a serious mistake driven by insiders. That way they can react and we cannot!

Bonnie Baker Casally

Bonnie Bozovich — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bonnie Bozovich Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 With all the bad actors at this time we need more transparency not less

Sent from my iPhone

Bonnie Johnson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bonnie Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I say NO to your suggestion of bi annual accountability. It is MY money, not yours. My retirement investments are not your playground. Keep accountability alive and active. We must have quarterly accountability.

Bonnie Keuhne — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Bonnie Keuhne Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need more regulations, not less for businesses!

Get Outlook for iOS

Bonnie Keuhne — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bonnie Keuhne Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 More regulations keep companies honest!! Keep it Quarterly!!!

Get Outlook for iOS

Bonnie Kirk — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Bonnie Kirk Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I would be happy to tell you of the fraud I'm experiencing right now with Wells Fargo. 919-469-0916. They say they have done an investigation but have never questioned me.Please protect us!!

Sent from my iPhone

Bonnie Nill — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Bonnie Nill Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly reports are necessary to all investors n to keep companies honest. If the securities n exchange commission does what they are thinking of doing. They are giving companies larger opportunities for deceit n theft. Think we are counting on you

---

Bonnie Sawyer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Bonnie Sawyer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Pleas do not change the quarterly reporting. As investors we deserve accurate and timely information.

Bonnie Schulz — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Bonnie Schulz Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Since DOGE stopped the flow of $$$ to the Dems, they are trying to seduce the SEC into approving this scheme to get their hands on taxpayer funds....,.NO! NO! ABSOLUTELY NOT!!!!!!!

Bonnie Shelley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bonnie Shelley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop hiding and start making people accountable

---

BONNY STARK — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: BONNY STARK Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Bonny Stark, retired Airline and business owner. This is a bad move it hurts the everyday person trying to invest! This is to give more money to the already wealthy. You know it's wrong! Just Stop!

Sent from my iPhone

Bora Ercan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Bora Ercan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please reconsider this action. The economy's already destroyed, prices are through the roof for everything. My investment account is the one thing that helps me get by. Please, please, please consider the regular people in this country before adopting rules that will make it easier for corporations to make it more difficult for people to earn a living by lack of transparency.
Thank you,
Bora Ercan

Boyce — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Boyce Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To Whom It May Concern,
I am writing to express my strong opposition to any proposal that would reduce the frequency of public company financial reporting from quarterly to semiannual reporting.

As an individual investor and citizen, I believe public companies should be as transparent as reasonably possible. Quarterly reporting provides investors, analysts, employees, and the public with timely information about a company's financial condition and performance. Reducing reporting frequency would increase the amount of time that investors operate with incomplete information, potentially reducing market efficiency and increasing uncertainty.

While some proponents argue that less frequent reporting may encourage management to focus less on short-term results, I believe the benefits of transparency outweigh these concerns. Investors deserve regular access to financial information so they can make informed decisions about where to allocate their capital. More frequent disclosure helps promote accountability and trust in our financial markets.

Semiannual reporting could also disadvantage smaller investors who rely on publicly available information. Larger institutional investors often have access to extensive research resources and management interactions, while individual investors depend heavily on standardized public disclosures. Less frequent reporting risks widening this information gap.

The strength of U.S. capital markets has long been built on transparency, disclosure, and investor confidence. Moving away from quarterly reporting would represent a step backward from these principles.

I encourage the Commission to maintain current quarterly reporting requirements and continue prioritizing transparency and investor protection.
Thank you for considering my comments.
Respectfully,
Boyce McClellan
Charlottesville, Virginia

BP D — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: BP D Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 NO WAY!

Brendan Duffy, Retired and watching, I vote!

BR — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: BR Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Let's at least pretend there's some accountability for the fat cats. Time for a revolt on the rich. Watch out now

---

Brad Burns-Howard — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Brad Burns-Howard Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Retiree here with financial resources in IRA invested in the Market. The asinine idea that eliminating Quarterly Reporting requirements would be a benefit astounds me.

Brad Burns-Howard, Vice President/Retired

Brad Burns-Howard

bradburnshoward@gmail.com

Brad Fahl — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brad Fahl Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stay quarterly or suffer the consequences.

Brad Fassnacht — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Brad Fassnacht Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Brad Fassnacht, retired, Indiana, USA
Please don't change from the current earnings report structure. It will be devastating to our portfolio and in turn the economy.
Thank you

Brad Gilbert — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Brad Gilbert Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Sounds like your goal is to make all businesses less accountable to the public! Let the billionaires do more of whatever with Even Less accountability. I say NO.
Keep It Quarterly!

Brad Good — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Brad Good Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Good law's create Good behavior. Keep the quarterly reports.

Brad Smith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Brad Smith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a smallish investor from a rural area, I need access to quality online information I can trust. Quarterly reports are high on my list of guides to follow. They have a consistent format and must report the disappointments along with the successes. Otherwise retirees like me are left with only the bias of whoever posts the news.

Please keep the quarterly reports requirement

Respectively,

- Bradford Smith

Onancock, VA

---

brad.calhoun — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: brad.calhoun Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It didnt improve the EU, and it only protects the companies. They can absolutely keep doing quarterly reports, unless they add some penalties/punishment to 8-k.

Sent from my Galaxy

Braeden Bailey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Braeden Bailey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I have faith in the SEC to do what is right for all investors. I've based a lot of my life around quarterly reports and semi annual reports could free up my calendar. You do what you think is right and I'll adjust.

---

brandy bissonette — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: brandy bissonette Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly is a must keep. No more hidden information, no more fraud against the people, enough is enough.

Brenda Bass — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Brenda Bass Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am someone who reads every quarterly report that is sent to me. It very much distresses me that any decisions that I may make about buying or selling a stock may be months behind the actual value of the stock, especially when I know there are traders who have much more current information than I, if I can see the reports only twice a year.
This decision to eliminate quarterly reports is a very, very bad one!

Brenda Gill — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brenda Gill Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTS. TOO MANY COMPANIES GET BUY WITH SKIMPING & HIDING "" EXTRA BONUSES "" & NORMAL CITIZENS ARE LOOSING THEIR HOMES UNABLE TO PAY HIGHER TAXES & STRUGGLING EVERY DAY TO CARE FOR THEIR FAMILIES.

Brenda Hetterich — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Brenda Hetterich Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We pay enough money for our products . We should not have to pay more because of criminals . Where does this stop .

Brenda Howard — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Brenda Howard Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not change a system that keeps the people accountable, lessoning that accountability will back fire and they will find away to lie and hide things filling their pockets and screwing Americans.

Sent from my iPhone

Brenda Hutcherson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Brenda Hutcherson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 In this day and age stop allowing fraud to occur. A person needs the info in REAL TIME. Not took my money & ran ! Brenda Hutcherson. American Sick OF Fraud

Sent from my iPhone

Brenda Isaac — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Brenda Isaac Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This has worked for fifty years. It benefits the average retail investor, like me. There are no good reasons to change that. We deserve quarterly information and transparency. Don't change that now.

Brenda Phillips — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Brenda Phillips Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
there is so much dishonesty going on, so much cheating so much underhanded business dealings that this would just make it easier to get done before they are checked on. this sounds like a Trump inspired law.
I say absolutely not. Not only that but clean up the mess that is present

---

Brenda Wesp — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brenda Wesp Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting ensures real rime transparency. Please do not change.

---

brendabanjoff — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: brendabanjoff Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Regulation is needed for transparency. Without it, the market will become unstable and lead to more frequent recessions or worse.

Sent from my Galaxy

Brenden Hubele — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Brenden Hubele Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
The market is a mess currently and it's your job to police it. Allowing this new decreased reporting period would only benefit businesses with things to hide and people with insider information to trade on. Please don't stand idly by while the richest and most corrupt people on earth take more of what they don't need while average people suffer.

Brett Husebye — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Brett Husebye Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Report every quarter

Report Every quarter and make sure every investor knows who is stealing from shareholders

---

Brian Arroy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Brian Arroy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: There was a valid reason to keep these reports quarterly. And some investors rely on these reports. If future Enrons are given a 6 month blackout, it opens the door for future fraud and the People deserve to know what has changed that justify giving leniency to companies who are constantly looking to benefit themselves at the expense of others, which unfortunately in today's world, is most of them. They have to be given a reason to stay honest and deter unethical practices. No, to the 6 month blackout.

Brian Duvall — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Brian Duvall Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The system is already rigged in favor of billionaires and crooked politicians. Requiring less oversight leads to more suspions of the rich squeezing the little guy. Don't decrease the quarterly reporting requirements!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Brian Francella — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Brian Francella As a retired individual investor I oppose this proposal of extending reporting periods. This favors large institutions that have the private resources to monitor companies in real time, putting regular investors at a severe disadvantage. Less frequent reporting forces longer gaps between verified corporate updates, which will result in wilder price swings when news is finally released. Cutting required disclosures in half creates blind spots, inevitably leading to an increase in undisclosed corporate mismanagement and fraudulent activity.

Brian Geminden — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Brian Geminden Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 For times a year (once a quarter) isn't that much of an imposition. Unless you have something to hide. Keep the rule as is.

Powered by Cricket Wireless
Get Outlook for Android

Brian Gutierrez — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brian Gutierrez Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 NO NO NO! Too much opportunity for fraud. any benefit from it is not seen on the consumer level. it doesn't sound trustworthy and smacks of corruption. not a good thing when overall trust in the government is at all time lows.

Brian Jones — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Brian Jones Please keep quarterly reporting to keep our investments safe.

Brian Knouff — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brian Knouff Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Brian Knouff
President, KCG, Inc
In today's climate of misinformation and irresponsibility, it is crucial that we keep quarterly reporting as a way to keep tabs on our stocks. Too much can happen in 6 months especially against the average investor. We do not have the inside info politicians and hedge fund mgrs have!

~Brian

Brian Lee — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Brian Lee Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 CEO's and the like are destroying our country by their greed and selfishness. Hold them accountable.

Brian Nelson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Brian Nelson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The amount of corporate and governmental corruption under Trump is astounding. Do not give them additional dark time to cover their questionable business activities. Quarterly reporting and tax payment is better for taxation cash flow.

Briana Tolbert — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Briana Tolbert Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
My view on Rule S7-2026-15 Is that it is a direct blow to investors. you must continue quarterly reporting!

BRIDGET DEPRIEST — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: BRIDGET DEPRIEST Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop trying to hide the truth from us! We deserve to get quarterly reports from the SEC! My name is Bridget DePriest, I live in Springfield, Illinois and I am about to turn 73. I have worked since I turned 16. The last 28 years before I retired, I worked for the Illinois State Police. As an employee of the State of Illinois, I saw Illinois politicians rob our pensions for years! I will not stand for anyone else to steal my money!! It's bad enough that Trump is stealing our tax money!

Bridget Palmer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Bridget Palmer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the

Securities and Exchange Commission:

we need to preserve the current transparency and accountability of corporations to their shareholders. Please do not change the rules that require quarterly reporting.

Britteny Schruefer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Britteny Schruefer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Britteny Schruefer, Independent Contractor.
Quarterly reporting keeps the playing field as even as possible. Eliminating quarterly reports only makes it more apparent that someone has something to hide.

Britteny Lynn Schruefer
brittenylynnschruefer@gmail.com

Brittney Kuykendall — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brittney Kuykendall Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Brittney Kuykendall, I am a single mother and graphic designer. As a business owner, I do not agree with this proposal. It is unethical to operate your business in such a way. The American people should not foot the bill for someone else's business practices. I urge you, do not move forward with this proposal.

Thank you.

Bruce Daw5son — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bruce Daw5son Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a retiree, retirement is a tough balance of financial decisions. We worked our entire lives to have enough to live on through our investments along with SSI. This will chastise our potential profits there which are counted as on to live and to pay taxes. We only hope that we have the opportunity to splurge occasionally to buy things for ourselves and hopefully manage a downsized version of a vacation we always hoped to have. Medical and pharmaceutical are always a financial drain.This proposal will only help companies to hold back financial information. This does nothing to help Amserican citizens, particularly to those close to retirement or retired. I strongly oppose this proposal.

---

bruce durbin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: bruce durbin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Bruce Durbin, Semi-retired and heavily invested in mutual funds for retirement.
The only reason this has been proposed is personal preference. Tens of millions of investors-by-default (retirement plans) who do not have the ability or resources NEED to have a way fund managers can keep an eye out for financial stability and fraud in companies.

Get Outlook for iOS

Bruce Hatcher — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bruce Hatcher Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep sending All quater reports to All Investors,Employees and Stockholders

---

Bruce Holly — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Bruce Holly Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Bruce Holly. I am a stockholder.
Keep the reporting quarterly. I want to know what's going on. I clearly cannot trust a large portion of those required to reoort. Reporting less frequently only makes it easier to manipulate.

Bruce Johnson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Bruce Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 DO NOT 🛑 1/4ly reporting. There are far too many executives who have stolen employees money & we do not need to give more opportunities to steal $ and avoid jail time. Just because the President does it daily doe not mean it is right. We need people to simply do the right thing & all people know implicitly what the right thing is. Do your job & uphold the necessary standards!! Bruce Johnson Business Founder Kalamazoo MI

--

Bruce "Frisbee" Johnson
269-569-5998

In Memory of Finn Johnson & Finn Johnson Community Fund.
Beating the competition is relatively easy, but beating yourself is a never-ending commitment. Nike poster circa 1979
Think, Laugh & Inspire

BRUCE KILGALLON — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: BRUCE KILGALLON Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Corporate governance and actions are now so important to the citizens so, please keep the quarterly reporting requirements in place.

Sent from my iPhone

Bruce Montgomery — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Bruce Montgomery Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Please stop the steal before it starts! Thank You!

Bryan and Sherry Gibb — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Bryan and Sherry Gibb Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To: Securities & Exchange Commission: SAVE QUARTERLY REPORTING! It is very important to me and my spouse that Quarterly Reporting be KEPT AS IS! We must be able to have and to see an accounting of the money that we have in investments EVERY QUARTER! This is a MUST! We are young(er), retired Public Safety Officers who worked to serve and protect citizens of the United States for over 55 years of combined service. SAVE QUARTERLY REPORTING! We sign & attest to this on June 21, 2026 Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Gibb and Sherry Gibb

---

Bryan Beamer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Bryan Beamer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No. No to this. You are knowingly trying to help companies practice unreliable accounting. I thought your job was to protect but in recent years it seems you want to protect the wealthy companies Should you have any questions or require assistance, please contact our office by dialing 202.600.9605 or alternatively, you can follow this link to schedule an online meeting at your convenience.

Kind Regards,

Bryan Beamer, ChFEBCsm, APMA®
Founder and CCO

click here to start your plan

2514 Partridge Dr.
Winter Haven, FL 33884
Account Services: 352.332.8723
Office: 202.600.9605
Fax: 240.238.7342
CA Lic# 0L67604

The best form of a compliment is a referral. The best form of a thank you, is to exceed your expectations!!!

iPlan, LLC ("iPlan") is an independently owned Registered Investment Advisor located in the state of Florida. iPlan provides investment advisory and related services for clients nationally. iPlan will maintain all applicable registrations and licenses as required by the various states in which iPlan conducts business. iPlan renders individual responses to persons in a particular state only after complying with all regulatory requirements, or pursuant to an applicable state exemption or exclusion.

The information in this email is confidential and is intended solely for the addressee. If you are not the intended addressee and have received this email in error, please reply to the sender to inform them of this fact.
We cannot accept trade orders through email. Important letters, email, or fax messages should be confirmed by calling (202) 600-9605. This email service may not be monitored every day, or after normal business hours.

Bryan Williams — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bryan Williams Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why on Earth would you change the law to regress back to the 1950's?

I personally watch when these quarterly reports come out and depend on them for my decision making. We as shareholders deserve to know what's going on in the companies we invest in. Keep the reporting as it is, so we can keep fraud at a minimum.

Sincerely,

Bryan Williams
2455 Sunrise Blvd.
Fort Myers Fl, 33907

Bunnybooyah Czomba — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Bunnybooyah Czomba Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is necessary in order to make informed decisions. Lack of transparency makes that impossible and suggests malicious intent.

Burton Gillies — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Burton Gillies Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Nothing like letting the fox guard the hen house. Leave the rules alone.

Butch & Karen Moore — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Butch & Karen Moore Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want only quarterly reports.
K.S. Moore
Investor

Butterfly — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Butterfly Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Setting an example starts either those to profess to e using it. Stop abusing the people and misleading the world.

Renee La-Viscount

C B — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: C B As retail investor I rely on quarterly reporting, I am strongly opposing semiannual reporting, a change that only benefits insiders in my view, not the public or even the company itself.

C Dotson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: C Dotson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Mr. Christopher Dotson I'm a disabled Deputy Sheriff, injured on the job. This bill/law. Stinks of crime and unlawfulness. I AM TOTALLY AGAINST THIS!

Mr. Christopher Dotson

C L — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: C L Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is too easy to hide fraud already with quarterly reports. Don’t make it worse by giving less reports. Carol Lane. Just a person who has shares.

C Trell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: C Trell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I would look even more closely at the CEOs and fraudsters who want these changes toward less transparency and accountability! They are the ones to will rip consumers and investors off without a thought. At a time of more greed, scams and fraud the punishments for fraud and deceit should Increase, not decrease!

Sent from my iPhone

C Whiteside-Curry — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: C Whiteside-Curry Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Fix the System, NOT add more Trickery and Burden to benefit the Ones who need it the least.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

---

cabernetblues — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: cabernetblues Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Elizabeth Delgado. Retired Instructional Designer. As a retired person, who worked hard to save for over 50 years, it’s essential for me to be able to see quarterly reporting. Any change to that would jeopardize my future at a time when I can no longer work.

~Elizabeth Delgado

---

cacg55 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: cacg55 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am Lanette Martin and I am from Georgia. I am retired from Civil Service and I have put my hard earned money into Investments to ensure that I can live and be cared for without being in a poverty level. My investments are my livelihood in retirement. Please continue to have the certification of our investments done 4 times a year and provide us with our statements quarterly to verify everything is correct. By doing this only twice a year allows the frauds and thieves plenty of time to rob us before we know what has been done and in most cases to late for anythimg to be done about it. We need the quarterly statements to continue! Thank you for hearing the people's voices and continuung our quarterly certifications and statements. Sincerely.
Lanette Martin

thank you fir !!wiquarreports

Sent from my Galaxy

Caesar Alarcon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Caesar Alarcon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We are not taking this lying down. We will remove the SCE chair and put someone that is honest.

---

cameron syruss — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: cameron syruss Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is bull. I vote HELL NO. I'm currently unemployed. This matters to me because I have investments. My name is Chris McWilliams

---

Camilla Krone — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Camilla Krone Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need quarterly reporting for the good of all of us who aren't billionaires or even millionaires. We need our investments to be able to respond to economic change. I never got rich teaching, but I saved well for retirement. I need my portfolio to be responsive to the markets. Millionaires and billionaires need to keep in mind that they wouldn't be wealthy if the middle class was removed from the economy.

Sent from my iPhone

Camilla Vance shadley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Camilla Vance shadley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I expect SEC to be driving force for transparency, accountability, honesty and leadership in proper financial governance.

The effort to further weaken our country's financial credibility and governance is completely unacceptable and Wrong.

it appears to reflect further corruption.

Camille Meyer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Camille Meyer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please keep the schedule as it is! Why encourage fraud? Who does this change benefit? Certainly not me!

Candace Dodson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Candace Dodson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not get rid of quarterly reporting.
We need all voters and tax payers to have a fair chance within the markets to support the true ideology of the democratic republic that we ate.
Thank you,
Candace Dodson

Candice Schubert — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Candice Schubert Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is important for transparency in the financial world and to monitor fraud which seems to be rampant now. It has worked for many years and should not change. Please do not eliminate quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Caralee Godfroy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Caralee Godfroy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Dear SEC, Regarding S7-2026-15:
Please do not let public companies go dark for 6 months or even 1. Please keep this open to the public. Protect the public investors, not private firms and insider trading.
Thank you,

Caralee Bell

Mobile

Carl Russell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carl Russell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I can't believe this you're taking Quarterly fileing a long time rule in business accounting and alternating it for the billionaires you people care nothing for the little guy well there's millions of us and we won't sit idly by

I'll have to write my congressman directly

Carla Angel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Carla Angel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Carla Angel, and I am a NotaryPublic, and graduate school student. I want companies to be open with the public every quarter. This is accountability. Thank you.

Carla Capone — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Carla Capone Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We need more disclosure from public companies, not less. I do not want to blindly invest in my retirement account. I want frequent and insightful information regarding the corporations in which I invest. Six months is too long to go without reporting. I would like monthly reports. Transparency is vital. I do not want to invest in companies that are doing things I don't like and a lot of things I don't like can be done in six months.
Do not blindfold me. I will pull all my investments out of the U.S. stock market if you limit reporting beyond the current quarterly requirements.

Carla Hertel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Carla Hertel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Pull your collective heads out of your asses!
Thanks
Carla

Carla Trussell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carla Trussell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not rip off seniors who depend on their savings? No roll backs!

Carla Valdes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Carla Valdes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
please do not make corporate governance any more of a black box than it already is. Reducing corporate transparency would not benefit the vast majority of Americans who use investments to fund their retirements. It would, however, allow corporations to obfuscate their returns and create more market volatility. This is a policy that would sacrifice Americans' financial stability to allow a small fraction of investors to profit off of the resulting uncertainty.

Carlyn Frey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Carlyn Frey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The quarter reports are necessary.

Our economic situation under the Trump administration is problematic. Integrity no longer exists in our government. Corporate America is selling us out. The last thing we need is to loose trust in our banks. We don't need another depression. We need integrity, honesty and transparency. Don't sell us out. Carlyn frey, retired.

Carmen Bray — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carmen Bray Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please continue with quarterly reporting. Very important for fraud prevention. We need quarterly reporting. Carmen Bray

Get Outlook for Android

Carmen Silva — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carmen Silva Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is our right to know what it is u do and how our mo ey is being used. U dobt have the right to touch any reporting. If anything it should be done more frequently as u are all sketchy for asking. Stop it “Love recognizes no barriers. It jumps hurdles, leaps fences, penetrates doors, to arrive at its destination full of hope”

"Maya Angelo"

Carol Barclay — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Carol Barclay Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am a Library Assistant at the New York State Library.
Keeping the quarterly requirement is necessary for accountability.
Carol Barclay.

Carol Brannon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Carol Brannon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Investors should pull their money out of any who dont report AT LEAST QUARTERLY!
Speak to their Pockets!

Carol Burton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Carol Burton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Why would they change this practice.
so now average people will not have necessary information to make informed

---

Carol Evans — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol Evans Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely NOT! This is just more of corporate misinformation to mask its greed, lack of responsible management, hide the theft by their rich cronies, and resistance to disclosure of critical disclosure and responsibilities to the public rearing its ugly head. No person nor corporation that has wealth beyond $20,000,000.00 should be allowed to hide how investments and profit distributions are being managed. The SEC and all the rich that are currently taking advantage of the average American people should be being quite careful at this time as the current dishonest administration will not stay in power indefinitely - regardless of their planned attempt to do so. We the people are watching and once decent people are back in power there will be severe consequences. Ignore this at your own personal peril. Feel free to contact me should you wish to verify this is truly my opinion. My contact information is included below. And remember for every person who has the time and courage to speak out, there are millions of us who feel the same way.

Carol A. Evans
6096 Wayfarer Drive
Villa Rica, GA 30180
404-713-1737
evans9598@gmail.com

Carol Fine — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Carol Fine Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please do not change the reporting schedule. This would have a devastating effect on the economic well-being of average Americans. We need transparency!
Carol Fine, Retired Teacher

Sent from my iPhone

Carol Guest — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Carol Guest Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly reporting is essential for informed decisions for investors. Don't keep important information away from private investors.

Carol L. Jewell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol L. Jewell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am writing to say that quarterly reporting helps stock market investors make informed decisions. I am a retired educator. I need to invest wisely. Thank you. Carol Jewell, Sandy Hook,
Virginia

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

---

carol levalley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: carol levalley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is mandatory for transparency.

Sent from my iPhone

Carol Meeks — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol Meeks Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 If it's not broke don't change it! We have been members for many years and want SEC to keep Quarterly Reports.
Carol Meeks

Have a blessed day!
Carol

Sent from my iPhone

Carol Murray — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Carol Murray Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Sure,
A quarterly report is invaluable to how I handle my decisions on my own money. Please do not take this valuable resource away. Thank you .
Carol Murray

Carol Nichols — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Carol Nichols Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This must be stopped because every supposed little thing adds up when the MAGA administration is trying to steal all of our money & breaking our laws to keep every $ before we can take action after the election 11/3/26.

Carol Przyhocki — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Carol Przyhocki Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This sounds suspiciously like hiding information that the public is entitled to know. Carol Przyhocki investor retired and trying to sustain my savings

---

Carol R. — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol R. Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No!!! Unfair to small investors! Carol Riley, retired

---

Carol Riley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol Riley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It seems every single day, there is something ELSE suspicious, sneaky or just plain WRONG that crops up with this administration, designed to maximize profits for those who are rich and getting richer by manipulating business practices in their favor. Not requiring reporting on their profitability - or lack thereof - on a dependable schedule, so that investors can actually have an honest view of WHAT they are investing in, is WRONG on so many levels, and will be a disaster.
Carol Riley
Retired American Citizen
Matters to me because my life savings are invested in the stock market

---

Carol Rizzardi — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Carol Rizzardi Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting must remain quarterly to maintain any sense of reliability. Companies must not be able to hide financials for six months. This is a monstrous idea.

Carol Rizzardi
Chicago 60660

Sent from my iPad

---

carol schulz — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: carol schulz Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Let's continue to do everything we can to keep corporate America honest. Four reports a year, vouched for as to integrity and completeness by CFO, will help achieve that goal.

Carol Scott — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol Scott Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 What we have been doing is working well for all in the market, I believe there is no reason to change from 3 month reporting to yearly reporting. That way everyone can look out and for their investments.

Carol Scott
(919)323-7041
Your Realtor for Life
Sent from my iPhone

Carol Simon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol Simon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Need to stay the same corporate corruption needs to be transparent!

Carol Woodward — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol Woodward Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Sounds like a good safety net. keep It Quarterly.

~Carol~

Carole Johns — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carole Johns Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am 76 years old. I think this is a very poor decision because fraud is rampant, and the government repeatedly pardons fraudsters! Those who are hurt do not receive their money back in many cases! Niki Johns , Missouri.

Sent from my iPhone

CaroleSue Hess — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: CaroleSue Hess Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely NOT. This is criminal.

Carolina Buia — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Carolina Buia Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not undermine the democratic nature of the markets. Already Main Street has a hard time competing with the newly minted billionaires and trillionaire. Don't be part of the reason the wealth gap is exacerbated. Do not pass this, stand up for the masses and everyday Americans.
thank you
C Buia

Caroline Blair — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Caroline Blair Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Do NOT allow corporations to hide their financials . The market will crash. People like me will invest in anything other than stocks.:

Caroline Mesman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Caroline Mesman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Caroline Mesman-Retired
This change could devastate all personal investors. A lot can happen in that six months when investors should be able to make decisions.

Sent from my iPhone

CAROLINE ROMERO — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: CAROLINE ROMERO Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Don't change what's in place already. What are you trying to hide? I need to know.

Sent from my iPhone

Carolyn Baker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Carolyn Baker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Carolyn Baker, retired archaeologist. I watched what the whole ENRON scandle did to my mother. We were poor while I was growing up. I would have to wear shoes until my feet had grown so much my toes came through the fabric at the top. My mother worked, scrimped & saved. Putting herself through school, then working as a school librarian. Then ENRON happened. It took well over 30% of her savings. All because someone was greedy & unethical. Yet was anyone ever really held accountable? Were those affected ever made financially whole again? NO!
All they received were promises that reporting requirements would be strengthened so those in positions of trust would not be able to take advantage of those entrusting their futures to them. Rescinding the quarterly reporting requirement isn't just wrong. It is a broken promise of financial ethicacy. Those paying attention will react. And not in the way you want. It will directly & negatively effect investing patterns for decades to come. In this era of global, digital finance it is imperative to be vigilant in monitoring those institutions charged with handling our finances. We will not accept anything less than what was promised. AMERICA REMEMBERS! Do the right thing!

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Carolyn Fischer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carolyn Fischer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Changing from quarterly to semi-annual is just away to help the rich get richer and should NOT be allowed to happen. This is shady as can be

---

Carolyn Morgan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Carolyn Morgan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Quarterly Reports
Please continue the quarterly reports. Too many things can happen that would change the safety and information needed to make intelligent investment decisions. Six months is too long!
Carolyn R Morgan

Carolyn Pecho — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Carolyn Pecho Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Not a good idea, friends, to eliminate quarterly reports. Your service (quarterly reports) is DEEPLY APPRECIATED. Please don't change.
Thank you.
Sincerely,
Carolyn Pecho

Carrie A Pitard — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Carrie A Pitard Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Angie Pitard Retired Keep them honest!

Carrie Carlson-Scoglio — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Carrie Carlson-Scoglio Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This country should stay with quarterly reporting. Faith in institutions and fat-cat companies is at an all-time low and changing this tradition would only enhance distrust and anger. This is Carrie Carlson-Scoglio, disabled from academics, and we watch the markets closely to maintain our financial health. And my husband and I VOTE, both at the ballot box and with our money.

Sent from my iPhone

Carrie Foster — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Carrie Foster Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
quarterly disclosures help us make informed decisions - Knowledge is power SEC should not take power away from us

---

Carrie Gulledge — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carrie Gulledge Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 These reports need to be kept quarterly in order to maintain transparency and monitor hidden transactions and fraud. We need to have monitoring of transaction accountability

---

Carrie Hunt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Carrie Hunt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 C. Hunt, Retired - The move from quarterly reporting matters to me since I still hold stocks and mutual funds. You could say I have a vested interest in knowing, at the very least, the quarterly performance of the entities that comprise my portfolio. I believe it to be punitive to be given less information for decision making.

Carrie Woofter — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Carrie Woofter Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep them quarterly, if you need to change them make them monthly.

Carrie Wren — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Carrie Wren Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 What the hell? Are you stupid or just super greedy. Yeah this is a very very very very bad idea.

Carroll Driver — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carroll Driver Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No good can come of eliminating quarterly reporting. We need to make corporations more accountable, not less. Also act to remove corporate money from politics. Stop the greed monsters and require them to work for the public good.

Carroll Driver
Resident of Lexington, KY 40504

Caryl Procita — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Caryl Procita Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting has been the standard and stockholders deserve nothing less. Quarterly reporting keeps companies ACCOUNTABLE AND RESPONSIBLE! Do not bow to the pressure of those who think less accountability makes for better business. It does not. I am concerned that less reporting will make for a more volatile market. It makes me think that I should lean towards other investments and not the stock market.
Thank you.
Sincerely,
Caryl Procita
Clinic Administrator

---

casey branton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: casey branton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Hold cheating frauds Accutane for 5her actions

---

Cassandra Smallwood — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cassandra Smallwood Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Cassandra Smallwood, retired Navy. There needs to be transparency when it comes to the business dealings of America’s schools. What are you trying to hide?

Sent from my iPhone

Cate — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Cate Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There is no good reason to stop quarterly reporting. The American public has bailed out these companies too often and the damage that they have done is beyond generational. They need to have some, very reasonable, safeguards in place The companies owe that to the common good. While these companies only motivation is profit, they owe a debt of service to this nation as well. This country that made it possible for them to succeed at the levels they enjoy. They CEOs owe that as well. MC Hannon SMSgt retired Battle Creek, MI

Catherine Carillo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Catherine Carillo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am retired. and on a fixed income . PLEASE STOP THIS BAD IDEA. DONT CHANGE ANYTHING PLEASE FOR THE SAKE OF ALL AMERICANS. IM TIRED OF CHEATERS GETTING AWAY WITH EVERYTHING in America these days

Catherine Carrillo
219-407-4679

Catherine Donovan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Catherine Donovan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Reporting earnings every 6 months could critally harm investors. The only advantage would be to the companies wanting to hide losses. Don't do it!

Catherine Newman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Catherine Newman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 WE NEED TRANSPARENCY AND NO MORE FRAUD

Catherine Snow — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Catherine Snow Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need quarterly reporting for regular people to be informed.

Catherine Snow
Retired teacher

Catherine Wheatley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Catherine Wheatley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep reporting and signing Quarterly!!!

Cathie roberts — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Cathie roberts Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 C. Roberts Retired
There are too many reasons to name why we need to have quarterly reporting from the SEC. Everything done in the dark has to have a light shined on it

---

Cathy Byrd — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cathy Byrd Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As an investor I want as much timely and transparent information as possible. Quarterly is not too much to ask. With the elites within our government getting and benefiting from insider information, we deserve to have quarterly reporting to at least be able to see trends, get information on what's going on and make decisions in a timely manner to at least limit risk!

Cathy Byrd
3953 Cedar Av.
Montgomery, AL 36109
850-832-4052

Cathy Egbarts — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Cathy Egbarts Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Cathy Egbarts. Work doing what I Love to do..helping other people. I need to know how my investments are financially gaining or losing quarterly.

Cathy Fish — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cathy Fish Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Cathy Fish, retiree. Former employee of the California state franchise tax board. You must continue quarterly reporting for all investors and all corporations transparency is key do not engage in suspicious behavior.

Sincerely,

Cathy J. Fish

Sent from my IPhone

Cathy J Sieberg — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Cathy J Sieberg Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely quarterly!!!! Why would you even consider the potential of fraud!!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Cathy Knight — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Cathy Knight Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My money! Don't you tax it enough? I worked for not the friggin government.

Cathy Lanier — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cathy Lanier Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop being slimy, corrupt bastards. We need monthly reporting, not fewer.

Cathy Lanier
CEO

Get Outlook for Android

Cathy Shepherd — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Cathy Shepherd Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There is too much underhanded situations as is. Keep it at quarterly!

Sent from my iPhone

Cathy Wilson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Cathy Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: haven't we had enough? Why would you even think to do this? It just gives people more time to cover up and do miss deeds . with this administration you can always count on some kind of nefarious action going on. Have some integrity stand up for the American people not for one guy or a party. I hope you rethink this and come to your senses and make the right decision, which is absolutely no on this cathybuchalter — Jun 22, 2026

---

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: cathybuchalter Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep it Quarterly. Its much more efficient to report 4 times a year. Not doing this led to the Recession of 2007 - 2008. Please protect the American people.

Sent from my Galaxy

CC Said it — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: CC Said it Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is disgusting. The stock market needs more regulation against hedge funds and short sellers, and not more regulation, allowing the defrauding of retail investors. You need to do your job you need to start working for the people. It is absolutely disgusting that any of you are allowed to pass the laws that you have to go after retail investors, and to completely allow blanket immunity to market manipulators and con artist.

Cecelia Dickey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Cecelia Dickey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Companies should make reports quarterly. Trading should be fair for all who invest with no insider trading! All companies should be open and transparent with their business practices.
Cecelia M Dickey

Cel Hernandez — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Cel Hernandez Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I want to have continual oversight and quarter reports so that I can make informed decisions on my retail investments.
I want true transparency and disclosure to view all documents to make vital decisions in my investments.

Celeste Williams — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Celeste Williams Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Because our retirement funds are invested in companies, it is important for us to know how the companies are doing every 3 months. To allow companies to hide how they are doing 6 months at a time could affect many Americans incomes.
Celeste Williams, retired teacher

---

ceres bainbridge — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ceres bainbridge Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I need to know how my tiny retirement funds are doing. Every six months is too long to wait. We are not an oligarchy!

CGBooks30 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: CGBooks30 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Frequent and accurate reporting is THE only way to move forward. Honesty is the best policy. Besides, why would I want to support companies that would prefer to keep the public in the dark?

Chapel Ormond — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Chapel Ormond Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
My view on Rule S7-2026-15
This proposal would be a detriment to the currently valued system in place allowing investors, individuals, to be aware on the status of the company they seek to invest in. Please do not enact this new proposal.

Char — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Char Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Companies are doing just fine. They are VERY profitable. Keep the current rules in place so that they must continue to report quarterly. They can hire extra staff if they need to, but this protects us from having to bail them out again.

Sent from my iPad. Charlene

Char Love — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Char Love Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not do this! This country is already on the diving board and headed for the trash bin of history. Don't help that happen, do what you can to fix it! Or you too will end up in the green swamp of tRUMPS actions. Disgusted with it all!

Charla Eddy Eales — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Charla Eddy Eales Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting. Enough of tge sneaking around of the rich.

Charles Best — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Charles Best I depend on my invested savings to support my retirement. I remember when the crooks that were in charge during the real estate crash got away with hand slaps. The people who run corporations are sociopaths who need tighter controls on their behavior, not looser. Corporations are horrible neighbors. They build the worst version they can get away with for as cheaply as they can, and charge the most they think they can get, while privatizing their income and pushing their waste products out for the public to clean up. They need more accountability, not less.

Charles Crook — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Charles Crook Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please do not suspend the quarterly reporting rule. My retirement income is important to me. Close monitoring is crucial. C. Crook. Retired Director of Procurement and Contracting.

Sent from my iPad

Charles Gibson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Charles Gibson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop this corruption before it starts !!

Charles Gorenstein — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Charles Gorenstein Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Charles Gorenstein; retired attorney; Durham, NC: Quarterly reporting by publicly traded companies has sustained a growing economy and provided prosperity for many. Do not revert to the mediocre performance that results from semi-annual reporting. Everyone gains from quarterly reporting. Stop playing games with our economic future.

Sent from my mobile phone

Charles Guck — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Charles Guck Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a retired person with my retirement invested in the stock market I believe there needs to be oversight with quarterly disclosure. It is far to easy to deceive when not being watched. Charles Guck, retired

Charles Guck
cdguck@gmail.com

585-732-6755
CONFIDENTIALITY NOTICE
The documents accompanying this transmission contain confidential information belonging to the sender, which is legally privileged. This information is intended for the use of the individual or entity named above. If you are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that any disclosure, copying, distribution or use of the contents of this information for any purpose whatsoever is strictly prohibited. If you have received this material in error, please notify us at the above telephone IMMEDIATELY to arrange for the return or destruction of the documents.
Confidential Information Intended For Use of Addressee Only
This information has been disclosed to you from confidential records, which are protected by New York State law

---

Charles Hansen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Charles Hansen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There's no public good in keeping an additional 3 months' information confidential. Stop screwing the ordinary citizen at every turn.

Charles Kime retired cybersecurity professional — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Charles Kime As an individual investor, I lack the financial resources or credibility to engage companies directly for additional information. I use quarterly reports to check on the progress of company initiatives and to verify if company management makes progress on their goals stated in 10-K and other public statements. Please do not eliminate the requirement to submit 10Q reports that help retail investors. If you want to eliminate short-term thinking among executives make a law that only allows for executive bonuses to be paid based on 5, 10, or even 20 year performance. People act based on how things affect their money, not reporting.

Charles Kreger — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Charles Kreger Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This would be nothing but a disabling stab to the investing populus

---

CHARLES MCGINNIS — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: CHARLES MCGINNIS Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 With AI reporting should be easier, companies already do monthly statements. Investors need to be kept in the loop. To much can happen in a six month period.

Sent from my iPad

Charles Mineo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Charles Mineo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 WOW WHY IS THIS EVEN BEING CONSIDERED? MORE TRANSPARENCY BENEFITS EVERYONE WTF!!?

Charles Murchison — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Charles Murchison Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Charles, Safety Advisor-
No company needs to be able to go dark. If they're a public company they need to stay publicly accountable.

Charles A. Murchison Sr,

Charles Weston — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Charles Weston Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I value the idea (making businesses think longer term) behind this proposed new rule to change quarterly reporting to semi-annual. However, I do not believe the new rule will have the intended consequences. When I buy individual stocks I become a part owner of that business. I don't want to be blind for six months at a time. I highly value the quarterly reports to help ensure I make the best decisions with my hard earned cash. Changing this rule will hurt little people like me and will only benefit the rich insiders. There are many smart business leaders who think long-term regardless of how often they report. I actually love finding these leaders and buying into their companies because they usually do the best in the long-term. Let's keep existing quarterly reports in place so little guys like me can continue to thrive in our amazing American market, the best market in the world!

Charlie Cooper — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Charlie Cooper Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 01, 02, 03, 04 are my reasons

Sent from my iPhone

Charlie Johnson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Charlie Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Don’t try to fix what ain’t Broken!!!!!!!
Charlie Johnson- 82 Year old retired Veteran

Sent from my iPhone

Charlotte Crowder — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Charlotte Crowder Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it Quarterly

Sent from my iPhone

Charlotte Douglas — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Charlotte Douglas Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Don't take the information from the people.

Charon Caldwell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Charon Caldwell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Investors are punished by this decision. The more and more timely this information the more correct we can keep Corporations and try to eliminate insider trading (we hope).

Charyse Kirby — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Charyse Kirby Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need to keep an eye on our accounts every 3 months to make sure our accounts are secure.

Cheri Kinney — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Cheri Kinney Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Cheri Kinney…retired and returned 3 times and still teaching… I rely on my investments being there when I finally do retire for good. Please keep the quarterly reporting.

Cheri K
Sent from my iPhone

Cheri Plenda — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Cheri Plenda Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I suggest that the SEC keep the Quarterly Reporting! That way the CEOs will feel the need to be honest rather than run the risk of being caught Quarterly for cover ups and lies. There already is way too much of that going on in the business sector and the Government! My name is Cheri Plenda and I am retired. I am a mother of 2 and grandmother of 5. I also homeschooled my children and was a co-owner of an on-line business.

Cherri Flynn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Cherri Flynn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it as is. No change to quarterly. It will SUPPORT CORRUPTION. America has to do better for ALL our people. Not just the wealthy

Sent from my iPhone

Cheryl — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Cheryl Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need Quarterly reports to make informed investment decisions!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Cheryl Arechiga — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Cheryl Arechiga Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm for keeping accountability. Complaining that it's too much paperwork is ridiculous.
Cheryl Chase, Freeland WA

Sent from my iPhone

Cheryl Borden — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Cheryl Borden Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Cheryl Borden Retired. Naples, FL. Leave it. CEO's need to be held accountable for the job they do. Please, LEAVE IT QUARTERLY.

Sent from my Galaxy

Cheryl France — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cheryl France Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Just another way to screw the people, who's bad idea was this? Why would you make a bad proposal like this. ? No absolutely not this is bad for wall street and all investors.

Cheryl Holt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Cheryl Holt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No not for this, reporting as much as possible daily and weekly because we do not need any more fraud committed here in the USA this is the most corrupt country in the world now due to corporations and bootlicking grifters and billionaires!

Sent from my iPhone

Cheryl Krupinskas — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Cheryl Krupinskas Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 You must stay vigilant against corruption. Keep the quarterly reports

---

Cheryl McDonald — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Cheryl McDonald Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We are invested in the stock market etc. why would you hurt the investors by changing the reporting back to twice a year when you already know it hurts investors. Shame on you!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Cheryl Melzar — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cheryl Melzar Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There is no reason to stop quarterly reporting. It only hurts the little guy.

Cheryl Pack — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Cheryl Pack Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want to keep getting updates and reports 4 times a year that helps protect fron fraud

---

Cheryl Poston — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cheryl Poston Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We worked hard for every penny we have saved. We need to keep quarterly reports to see what is going on with our savings.

Cheryl Shushan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Cheryl Shushan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Having quarterly reports keeps companies honest and invested. We need accountability!!
Cheryl Shushan
Retired teacher

Sent from my iPhone

Cheryl Shushan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Cheryl Shushan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Companies need to be held accountable and quarterly reports keeps them transparent!!

Cheryl Spence — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Cheryl Spence Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 If you want the American people to invest in our country, you need to keep transparency and accountability in every financial transaction.
This country was built on the backs of the common people and yet those in positions of power do everything they can to take advantage of the common people. It needs to stop!

We need access to our financial investments at all times! The security and exchange commission has no right to keep it from us. We should be allowed every opportunity to access our records and make changes in our investments in a moments notice.
Entitled elite and powerful authorities have almost totally erased our trust & destroyed our country. All need to be held accountable. The fraud, theft, deception, & corruption needs to end immediately!

Cheryl Stewart — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Re: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cheryl Stewart Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 On Jun 19, 2026

9:38 AM, Cheryl Stewart <sharestew@aol.com> wrote:

Cheryl Stewart, retired. I have a small nest egg of stocks inherited from my parents. Please don't change to 6 months reporting. It's all we have and money is tight. Thank you.

Cheryl Stewart — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cheryl Stewart Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Cheryl Stewart, retired. I have a small nest egg of stocks inherited from my parents. Please don't change to 6 months reporting. It's all we have and money is tight. Thank you.

Cheryl Strother — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Cheryl Strother Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We have saved all our working life for retirement. Millions like us need transparency from the SEC to make good decisions so we can continue to live independently.

Cheryl Wurster — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Cheryl Wurster Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I want my quarterly statements from my investment accounts to continue so I can monitor what is happening with my money. Reducing it to every 6 months does not help those of us with investment accounts. Stop only helping the wealthy!
Sincerely,
Cheryl Wurster

Chris — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Chris Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 That is obviously some kind of scam and or financial manipulation that these rich pieces of * are gonna use to further hide their earnings. The law needs to take away the things they have and not give them more ways to take advantage of the people and the system.
It sounds like they have scam artists writing business laws now.

Chris Barrows — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chris Barrows Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am not in support of the proposed rule allowing companies to shift to from quarterly to semi-annual reporting and urge the SEC requirement for quarterly reporting to be retained.

Enron. WorldCom. Madoff. The run-up to 2008. Every major modern accounting scandal was enabled by gaps and opacity in financial disclosure. Quarterly filings don't prevent fraud, but they dramatically shorten the window in which it can fester before someone outside the company can see it.

Please retain the requirement for quarterly reporting.

Thank you.

Chris Barrows
Private Investor

Chris Boucher — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Chris Boucher Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
don't let this happen. The stock market manipulation will be to great and then dump.

Chris Dewart — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Chris Dewart Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 More transparency is the right approach for investors and trust in the financial system

Chris Dewart

Chris Eldarrat — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Chris Eldarrat Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We expect and demand transparency to ensure a fair market and to protect our investments. Quarterly reporting should be non-negotiable.

Chris Gerstner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Chris Gerstner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Chris Gerstnwr... Don't add even more corruption to this bull * system

---

Chris Purviance — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Chris Purviance Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep things honest in this Country with CEO Quarterly Reporting.

Chris Savino — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Chris Savino Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need more transparency not less from the Trump administration. Need to keep to quarterly reporting of securities.

Christa Froehlich — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Christa Froehlich Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I strongly object to the proposal to allow companies to hide their books for 6 months. There is no good reason to allow corporations and insiders an advantage over everyone else. My family's retirement investments are vitally important to our future. Please do not allow this to happen!
thank you,
Christa Froehlich

Christian Call — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christian Call Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Investors need more information -- not less -- about the companies in which they invest. Fiscal health and the state of the business should be reported honestly, accurately, and understandably. Relaxing regulations has resulted in companies' deceiving their small investors while providing unfair advantages to insiders, board members, and major investors. Please do not eliminate quarterly reporting.

Christian Puentes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Christian Puentes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We don't need more fraud but need more transparency

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Christina Chesleigh — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christina Chesleigh Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 PLEASE DON’T DEPRIVE ME OF VALUABLE INFORMATION so ME & MY FAMILY & FRIENDS lose true participation in the REAL VALUES OF U.S.

Sent from my iPhone

Christina Clem — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christina Clem Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Just stop! We need more transparency not less!

Christina Clem — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christina Clem Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Just stop! We need more transparency not less!

Christina Clem
Communications Director
Burien, WA 98166

Christina Mann — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Christina Mann Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Christina mann, deli clerk. I just love how much billionaires and ceos think they have the right to rip everyone off and get away with it. And to allow them to continue to do this,will make anyone contributing to this look as intelligent a meth head trying to sell you someone's stolen dog for a dime bag! So go ahead,be stupid,you're all not winning anything in return 🙄😏.

Christina Noneya — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christina Noneya Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely unnecessary to change when that change isn't needed. Please vote "NO" on this particular change. Thank you.
-Christina Bolinger

Get Outlook for Android

Christina Ramirez — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christina Ramirez Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To Whom It May Concern,

We want standards that support transparency, not lack of information. We urge our American Government to support the People and therefore, we urge you to maintain the quarterly reporting.

Sincerely,
Dr. Christina Ramirez
U.S. Citizen
Whittier, CA

---

christina robinson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: christina robinson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING !!!

Christina Sofkos — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Christina Sofkos Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Christina Sofkos. Owner. Need the information to be available

Sent from my iPhone

Christina Southard — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Christina Southard Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the

Securities and Exchange Commission:
We are entitled to our qtrly updates and to make sure the information is available to us!
AI and the technology available should only make it easier to report then it was 50+ years ago! It's an excuse to give access to allow the 1% continue to corrupt and cheat from us everyday people!

Christine Casazza — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Christine Casazza Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Enough is being hidden from us let's not add to it. Keep full transparency such as it is.

Christine Forward — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Christine Forward Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is a strong and important process that helps to ensure INTEGRITY in the system. Please at least maintain current reporting rules. I'd like to see more stringent measures but here we are.

Sent from my iPhone

Christine Johnson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Christine Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Christine Johnson, Accountant transparency, shareholders rights, accountability!

Thank you,

Christine Johnson, EA
WTH Stella
720-261-8586
christinejohnsonatwork@gmail.com

NOTICE: This communication may contain privileged or other confidential information. If you are not the intended recipient of this communication, or an employee or agent responsible for delivering this communication to the intended recipient, please advise the sender by reply email and immediately delete the message and any attachments without copying or disclosing the contents. Thank you.

Christine Knodle — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Christine Knodle Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly is a must. Christine knodle retired

---

Christine Malone — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Christine Malone Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This matters to me because when investing I want a clear picture of financial health and trends. It matters because it isn't just insiders who should know what's going on with companies that are in their portfolios. It matters because how else does anyone know if the executives are doing their jobs?

Christine Malone
Account Manager

Christine McKenney — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christine McKenney Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No way! Keep the reporting quarterly as it has been! Practice ethical and honest practices, aboveboard, instead of trying to get away with something! Do the right thing as you deal with financial matters.

Sent from my iPhone

Christine Navarro — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christine Navarro Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Investors have a right to know how the companies, etc. they invest in are doing.

Sent from my iPhone

Christine Orantes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christine Orantes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 SEC ....Keep it Quarterly
RETIRED and my savings are my livelihood.
I've saved my all my life for retirement and can't replace what would be lost.
Christine Orantes

Christine Root — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christine Root Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep reporting by corporations on a quarterly basis. Doubling that time period will make it difficult for small investors to keep abreast of changes. There is no reason to change from quarterly reporting. Corporations have made quarterly reports for a long time, and the SEC should insist that they continue to do so.

Regards,

Christine Root Michigan 48823

Christine Sintic — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Christine Sintic Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 With the past fraud that went on the steps you are trying to get rid of were put in place. Looking at our nation fraud and waste has been on an uptick. Keeping quarterly reports with signatures is needed more now. So instead of taking a step back keep the reporting tight or tighten it more. Thank you.

Get Outlook for Android

Christine Studley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Christine Studley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop this proposition This not feasible! Or is it necessary. We are entitled to have quarterly reporting. We have a right to know what our money is doing.this is an illegal act!

Sent from my iPad

Christine Zimmer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christine Zimmer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I depend on quarterly reports for budget. It's crucial as a senior on a very fixed income to know if my investments are holding up.

Christopher Banks Individual Investor and Retirement Account Holder — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Christopher Banks Lessening the frequency of required financial reports for public companies is dangerous for individual investors and retirement account holders such as myself (likely a substantial portion of the general population of the USA). It makes it easier for public companies to deceive the public for their own financial gain, at the expense of us, the common people who invest in their companies, and it makes it more difficult for us to estimate their performance and determine whether it’s prudent to invest in their companies. This could accelerate or even cause financial ruin for those of us investing in their companies; this includes the possible complete loss of retirement funds, leaving our seniors impoverished and destitute at the exact moment when social security is running out of money. This will be a terrible move for our citizens and will only benefit the largest of companies operating in this country (those publicly trading). Thus, I strongly oppose this measure and this rule.

Christopher Braun — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christopher Braun Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 A public company should be completely transparent, especially to its investors, those considering investing, and anyone considering doing business with them. Reporting quarterly isn't unreasonable.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Christopher Clayton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Christopher Clayton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Christopher Clayton, real estate agent and investor. Altering the rules to anything other than monthly reporting is completely unacceptable.

Sent from my iPhone

Christopher D Hendryx Retired Director of Operations Sherwin Williams — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Christopher D Hendryx I feel very strongly as an investor that quarterly filings are essential for transparency in the financial management of public companies. These are essential for shareholders and investors to know the company is meeting statutory requirements. By signing off on their reports quarterly we ensure the management teams are providing timely and accurate information to the market.

Christopher Davis — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christopher Davis Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 SEC. Do your job. Don't make things worse. And prosecute insider trading, including trump who has abused insider trading worse than anyone in history! Not to mention half of congress. Chris Davis, Senior Chemist, McKinleyville, CA

Christopher Gilbert — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Christopher Gilbert Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Make them report 8 times a year now instead. Chris gilbert Maintenance Supervisor

---

Christopher Jones — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christopher Jones Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting works. The SEC is trying to fix something that is not broken. The public shareholders deserve and have a right to know how the company is performing financially to make informed decisions.

Christopher Jones

Get Outlook for iOS

Christopher Lubeck — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Christopher Lubeck Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

As a retired who has invested in the US financial markets for most of my life, I find the quarterly filing requirements for public corporations to be critically important. These do uments provide a view into the company finances that a small investor needs to verify and validate that a company's public PR statements are matched by their financial reporting. Any less frequent reporting simply gives bad actors the ability to take advantage of the investing public more easily
Thank you for your consideration.

Christopher Lynch — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Christopher Lynch Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I need quarterly reports to base ny decisions on. Otherwise companies only need to put out weekly propaganda to affect the markets with garbage info that has no way to be fact checked. And it harms the ground level investor trying to build a portfolio. Me and millions of others without big portfolios and sway over the market.

Please do not change the bedrock of what little safeguards we have to invest.

Christopher Moody — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Christopher Moody Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Hello, to whom it may concern, it’s vital that we as investors in our economy have ample access to data and metrics to show how the organizations we are entrusting with our hard earned dollars are performing. By rolling back to semi annual reporting, we are losing critical insight into business operations which results in lack of insight into how our investments are performing. As a financially responsible individual, I routinely validate my financial position weekly, monthly, quarterly, and annually. If you only checked your bank account twice a year, how well do you think you’d perform?

Thank you,

Chris Moody
Technical Software Architect
Small Business Owner
Investor

Christy Crandall — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Christy Crandall Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I demand that you maintain quarterly reporting for corporate entities

Christy Crandall, Ph.D.

Sent from my iPhone

Christy Sanchez — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christy Sanchez Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Christy Sanchez customer service and businesses should not be able to not report for 6 months. Why would they get to hide that info? We need companies to show all there cards instead of hiding.

Chrystine Reynolds — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Chrystine Reynolds Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop this idiocy NOW! We have the right to know everything that corporations know and in the same timely manner! Chrys Reynolds

---

Chuck Bogle — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chuck Bogle Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Charles Bogle Partner in Law Firm

I have a lot of experience in the corporate world, and what matters most to those investing and otherwise running in the public space is transparency and information. Allowing public companies to report only semi-annually is a mistake. We need more information available about the behavior of public entities, not less. Companies prepare that information for themselves, and there is no reason not to let the public see it. It protects investors and actually helps the market by building trust that transparency allows. Thank you

---

chuck hereford — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: chuck hereford Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please continue quarterly reports in order to provide investors with confidence on financial matters

---

Chuck Kimball — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chuck Kimball Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It ain't broke, don't fix it. There is no upside for investors in this proposal. Firms don't need an opportunity to hide poor performance from investors. As a retiree who depends on market performance to assure a stream of income I am VERY concerned with the possible negative outcomes if this proposal becomes regulation. Please keep the current regulations in place.

Thank you.
Charles Kimball

Chucks Gmail — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chucks Gmail Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 If you want to change it, change it to monthly. It our money and we have a right to know what our money os doing and where

Sent from my pigeon

Cindi McGee — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cindi McGee Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Feels like they are messing with our hard earned money. We are not mushrooms, stop keeping Ameicans in the dark and feeding us BS.

Cindy Blackman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Cindy Blackman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This has got to be the most egregious thing that has been produced in recent memory, and a lot has happened that is just unforgivable. The amount of damage that could be done in 6 short months is unthinkable. Who does this benefit and why? Why would any company jump at the chance to hide what they are doing? Rhetorical question, we all know why. At some point it will all come crashing down and we all know it.

Sent from my iPad

Cindy Croxton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Cindy Croxton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not stop quarterly reporting we don't want another Enron Stop the corruption

---

cindy Kipe — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: cindy Kipe Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Changing this requirement makes no sense. You’re trying to “fix” a problem that doesn’t exist. Many companies are reporting record profits, with corporate officers making huge salaries and bonuses. They don’t need relief from regulatory requirements to be profitable. They need to accurately report what they’re doing in a timely manner. 6 months is too long to inform investors of the company’s status. It also makes it more difficult to make corrections if need. I’m retired and my investments and ability to live a quality of life I’ve saved for are at risk because of this bogus fix.

Cindy Kipe

Sent from my iPhone

Cindy Morlang — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cindy Morlang Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Cindy Morlang We have to much secrecy in our government now!! Transparency is needed in all aspects of our lives!

Sent from my iPhone

CindyC — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: CindyC Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Because!

Sent from Proton Mail for iOS.

Claes Lilja — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Claes Lilja Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I find it crucial for me as an investor to be able to track how companies are actually doing, so quarterly reporting is very important to me and my investment decisions.

Shifting to longer periods between reporting feels like an unfair disadvantage since I don't have direct access to what is going on inside the companies I invest and trade in.

I urge to not change the reporting rules! Thank you.

Claes Lilja

Claire Emery — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Claire Emery Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Semi-annually reporting is a recipe for financial shananigans by the company. Keeping quarterly reports, reduces the likelihood of financial abuse and corruption by the company. Claire Emery

---

Claire Sagen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Claire Sagen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Why would people want to buy stock if they can't follow a stock's performance? Better to invest in something else.

Clare Merva — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Clare Merva Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not allow changes to the current reporting.

Clare Merva — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Clare Merva Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do NOT allow quarterly reporting!

Clarence — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Clarence Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Clarence Smith,cook-stop trying to keep your financial antics from becoming public knowledge!

---

clarence smith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: clarence smith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Clarence Smith,cook-stop trying to keep your financial antics from becoming public knowledge!

Clarine Doeling — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Clarine Doeling Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No, quarterly report are what is and they need to stay that way!!!

Claude A. Nevels — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Claude A. Nevels Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Agreed. I am also retired and agree we must have quarterly reports. I signed and submitted my response previously.
Thank you for providing us with this information allowing us to give a timely response and keeping us informed.

Claudia Alvarez — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Claudia Alvarez Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop trying to screw the public over!!

Sent from my iPhone

---

claudia frahm — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: claudia frahm Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Hey, SEC: KEEP IT QUARTERLY! Reduce the chances for fraud and keep investors informed.
Sincerely, Claudia Frahm, retired American.

Claudia Gibson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Claudia Gibson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
What an absurd idea! With the current admin already manipulating the market. ..you’d be creating a climate of distrust.
I’d move my money out of stocks biz I wouldn't have confidence in their growth.
You’d be opening a giant avenue for major corruption!

Claudia Thomas Fiest — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Claudia Thomas Fiest Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reports. We need this information timely!!!!!

Clayton Griffin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Clayton Griffin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why? In a time where fraud is daily news, why eliminate relative information? Sounds like this is a smoke screen to coverups and corrpution. Tell me how this will benefit potential investors and comsumers. No, no, no. Bad idea.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Clementine Waller — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Clementine Waller Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Enough! Stop enabling the corruption!!

Cliff Spitz — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Cliff Spitz Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting helps ensure that public companies don't cheat, lie, and steal. Why is this new idea of abandoning quarterly reporting being discussed now?

Simply because our President cheats, lies, and steals.

Prove me wrong. Accountability is coming. SEC by its very mission is a regulatory agency that is responsible for accountability and integrity. Any step away from quarterly reporting will be interpreted by the public and markets as an invitation to lie, cheat, and steal.

Thank you for your consideration and commitment to integrity.

Sincerely,
C.I. Spitz

Co-Founders CIRC — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Co-Founders CIRC Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Will look to foreign exchanges that have more integrity if they can be found. American capitalism represented by the american exchanges are as corrupt as much in avoiding a basic transparency and accountability. Welcome to the plutocracy where the rules are set not for all but for the few.

Coco Boock — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Coco Boock Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am only 19 years old. I am opening my first Ira soon and my parents have some money set aside for me in their invested savings accounts.
the more unregulated the stock market becomes the worse my family will do overall. If you remove quarterly reporting my chances of being able to retire will turn from bad to worse. My family has always been able to retire in recent history and your increased lack of care in regulations will ruin that.

the actors and insiders you regulate will never be able to self regulate. In terms of stocks they only have one purpose which is to make themselves profit. They will take advantage of my finances to transfer money to themselves more and more over time if you come out and say that you believe that they can self regulate and don't need to report quarterly. I'll see it as it is which is a slap in the face to all Americans like me, and a promise of worse policy in the future.

if you continue to remove regulations, and reduce visibility, which nullifies all existing regulations, then I'll see you in the next Great Depression. Even though it will affect people like me far more than financial insiders your lack of transparency goes against everything that the sec was made for. If you still have enough air to breathe despite the obvious stranglehold that insiders have on your decisions then you will decide not to destroy quarterly reporting

---

Cody Staley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Cody Staley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please don't do this, it would completely screw over all retail investors. And completely ruin us small guys trying to get ahead. I urge you to make the right decision.

Colette Eggleston — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Colette Eggleston Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I think quarterly reporting needs to stay in place to keep the public informed, and the players a little more honest…. Or at the very least, can’t hide things as long. thank you.

Sent from my iPhone

Colette Mounts — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Colette Mounts Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This safeguard helps prevent fraud!

Sent from my iPhone

Colette Shoemaker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Colette Shoemaker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is absurd to even think about allowing companies to hide their info for 6 months without reporting. Why are we protecting them and not the investor? Please keep the quarterly reports in place

Sincerely,
Colette Shoemaker

Sent from my iPhone

Connie Barth — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Connie Barth Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Nope! Nope! Nope! KEEP IT TRANSPARENT. People have lost trust in this Administration & ALL Agencies affiliated with it. DO NOT GO THROUGH WITH THIS.

Connie Griffin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Connie Griffin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the SEC: As a retiree I am at the mercy of how my stocks respond. I implore you to not change quarterly reporting especially now when billionaires have all control. There are no promises that social security benefits could support me for the rest of my life.
Thank you!
Respectfully,
Constance Griffin

Connie

Connie Hasty — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Connie Hasty Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Just leave well enough alone. You don't need to be changing anything.

Sent from my iPhone

Constance Arasmith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Constance Arasmith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 From the SEC website " Founded to help our country respond to the Great Depression, we're the agency that protects investors from misconduct, promotes fairness & efficiency in the securities markets, and facilitates capital formation for those looking to hire, innovate, and grow.". SEC rule Rule S7-2026-15 does not align with this goal. More visibility is needed now, not less!

Sent from my iPhone

Constance McGhee-Hargrove — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Constance McGhee-Hargrove Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting should continue. This allows self-employed people to have current information on their next steps.

Sent from my iPhone

Constantin Graf von Kageneck — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Constantin Graf von Kageneck Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Transparency and perceived fairness of information availability is what draws capital into the U.S. stock market. Don't turn the greatest capital magnet in the world into another Russia, dominated by cronyism and abysmal performance. Stop this nonsense.

Cool Mom — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cool Mom Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please do NOT lessen regulations which help to prevent corruption!
No should be above the law.
Sharon A Patrick

Cool Mom — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cool Mom Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting . If you don't do this you will open the door for even more corruption!
Sharon A Patrick

---

cool stuff and some fighting zog Animals — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: cool stuff and some fighting zog Animals Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 More corruption on the way ,only wall Street wins here in the u.s

---

Corinne M. — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Corinne M. Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it the way it is !! We need to know what is going on faster than only twice a year.

---

cornelia bryson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: cornelia bryson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 With record profits why wouldn't we want to see the quarterly earnings. corporation are too powerful now with record profits. I believe corporations have all the leverage and power. the small investors are left out.

c. bryson

Corry Gott — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Corry Gott Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We cannot put back a policy that was corrupted many years ago especially with what we know about the lack of integrity in today's businesses. It is all about money to them.

---

coyotebuttes nursery — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: coyotebuttes nursery Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reporting.
Sue Jacobsen. Investor, retired school teacher!
More transparency is better.

Craig Bennett — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Craig Bennett Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The stock market is volatile enough without hiding information that could be the difference between profit & unnecessary loss. Don’t hide information by deliberately delaying information necessary for decision making!

Craig Bredeson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Craig Bredeson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am against reporting every 6 months. If the company is in trouble we won't know for 6 months. Keep 3 month reporting

---

Craig Clements — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Craig Clements Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Craig Clements, I am a film and television professional. If the SEC should be doing anything, it should be more reporting and more transparency. The scales are already tipped in favor of the institutions to render retail as exit liquidity. Retail deserves the same data and “to the minute” data reporting that the institutions receive. Anything less is criminal.

Sincerely,

Craig Clements
Crgclmnts@yahoo.com

Sent from my iPhone

Craig LeGrand — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Craig LeGrand Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not change things that are not broken. Things have worked better with quarterly reports.

Cricket Jones — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Cricket Jones Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Every single corrupt Republican will be voted out and then bad policies like this will be reversed.

Sent from my iPhone

Cris Simmons — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Cris Simmons Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The only reason for this change is to make it even easier for the insider trading that our crooked government thrives on. Its not like its legal for them oh wait yes it is . Its only illegal for every other person in the country. They get great insurance we dont they get paid when gov shuts down we dont. They get to commit any crime they want and it's illegal for is to know. Like we needed more proof of the corruption in SEC in US GOV we should work and just hand them our paycheck those fat , alcoholic drug fiends still would want more

---

crystal hart-johnson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: crystal hart-johnson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 SEC please keep reporting quarterly!

Crystal Nelson Executive Director, More Than Just Inc. — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Crystal Nelson Quarterly reporting must remain for investors (corporate and private) who OWN STOCK or SHARES in any business. As partial owners of the company's value, we MUST have quarterly transparency at the very minimum. This is simple accountability. If a company needs a "break" they can hire better strategists and get back to work. Companies are not children in need of "rest" or a break from reporting. They are businesses and assets. They keep investors by clearly and frequently reporting what is occurring with our investments. -Crystal Nelson, Executive Director, More Than Just Inc.

---

crystal stewart — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: crystal stewart Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly please. Six months is way to long.

Crystal Thomas — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Crystal Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It's been in place this long for a reason so leave it alone! Why fix something that's not broken. Quarterly has always worked so I say keep reporting it Quarterly.

Crystal K. Thomas

Curtis Gretencord — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Curtis Gretencord Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Well I know I a little fish but it takes a bunch of little fish to make a school of fish. If you allow them to got to 6 months with out show me how and what there doing then it looks like crypto and precious metals for me.

Sent from my iPhone

Curtistine White — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Curtistine White Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do NOT take investors backwards by not keeping us consistently informed about our investment performance. We have the right to be informed quarterly about our investments.

Cyndia Zumpft — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cyndia Zumpft Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The rules work as they are!
Cyndia ZUMPFT-Klein, Accountant

Sent from my iPhone

Cynthia Alvaro — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cynthia Alvaro Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep a quarterly.!!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Cynthia Amber — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cynthia Amber Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I do not agree with biannual reporting

Sent from my iPhone

Cynthia Domas-Taylor — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cynthia Domas-Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Public companies NEED oversite. Do not change the rule. It works the way it is.

Cynthia Escobar — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cynthia Escobar Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency is needed and this action blocks that effort. The public depends on the SEC for protection.
Cynthia Escobar
Concerned Citizen

Cynthia Guillory — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Cynthia Guillory Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission : I am a very novice small time investor & I feel this would make it even more intimidating for me & others to invest.

Cynthia Langendorf — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Cynthia Langendorf Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
More frequent disclosure by publicly owned companies should be happening. This law caters to insiders, who clearly don't need much financial help!

Cynthia Lehman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cynthia Lehman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 They need to monitored more not less. Don't do this to the American people.

Cynthia Lehman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cynthia Lehman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Leave it alone...why give crooks more time to steal from us??? We are tired of this from the people that are supposed to be working for US!

Cynthia Mason — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cynthia Mason Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I spent my entire career in finance and accounting. And now as a happy retiree who tracks financials even closer, quarterly reporting visibility is even more important. Do not change the frequency to semiannually!

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Cynthia Mason

Cynthia Newberry — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Cynthia Newberry Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am opposed to quarterly reporting. I would not use a bank that only told me my balance occasionally. Same difference

Cynthia Newberry
2117 College Ave
Alton IL 62002

Sent from my iPhone

D A — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Opposition to Proposal to Reduce Reporting Frequency From: D A Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026
To the Securities and Exchange Commission,
I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposal to reduce the frequency of corporate financial reporting. As a professional welder with years of experience in shipyards, rail yards, and fabrication shops, I understand the importance of structural integrity. I have built my career on the principle that if the foundation is flawed, the entire structure eventually fails. The same applies to our financial markets.
I am an active investor—holding positions in ETFs like VOO, SCHD, and QQQ—and I am working diligently through the system to secure my future. I am using AI to assist in drafting this comment to ensure my position is clear, articulate, and well-reasoned. Transparency is not just a regulatory hurdle; it is the bedrock of trust that allows individual investors like me to participate in the economy.
Let me be clear: I am tired of the opacity and the corporate interests that seem to take precedence over the working person. We are trying to play by the rules and do this the right way. However, if the regulatory bodies choose to side with those acting in the shadows rather than upholding market transparency, you should understand that the working-class individuals—the same people who built the physical infrastructure of this world—are not blind to the rigging of the system.
We are fully prepared to withdraw our support and capital from a system that lacks transparency. If you choose to erode the public's window into Wall Street, you risk dismantling the faith that keeps the market functioning. I am committed to this fight for financial fairness and market integrity regardless of the personal cost.
Maintain quarterly reporting. Uphold the standard.
Dirk Soileau /337-290-9723
Professional Welder/ Fabricator

D B — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: D B Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep the reporting requirement to quarterly. This is still the best way to hold CEOs accountable for the financial reports published by the company!

Regards,
Danny Banister

D Dawson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: D Dawson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission,

I am writing to strongly urge the SEC to continue requiring publicly traded companies to report their financial results every three months, just as they have for more than fifty years.

Quarterly reporting is essential for maintaining transparency, accountability, and trust in U.S. financial markets. Investors, employees, retirees, and everyday citizens rely on timely and consistent financial information to make informed decisions. Reducing reporting to a six-month cycle would create long periods of uncertainty, limit visibility into company performance, and increase the risk of misinformation or market instability.

Quarterly disclosures help ensure:

Regular insight into a company's financial health

Early detection of risks or misconduct

Fair access to information for all investors

A stable and transparent marketplace

For decades, this system has supported the strength and credibility of U.S. markets. Changing it now would reduce the flow of critical information that millions of people depend on.

I respectfully ask the SEC to preserve quarterly reporting requirements and continue prioritizing transparency and investor protection.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

D H — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: D H Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To Whom It May Concern:

As an American who believes in making thoughtful and wise investment decisions, I really appreciate the quarterly reporting. After the ENRON disaster, then the housing market collapse due to obscene leverages, I want them regulated. No excuses!
Retired teacher,
Diana Hafar

D hardy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: D hardy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting must continue for transparency and fairness .

Denise And James Hardy

D S — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: D S Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need oversight not more corrupting CEO's

---

dagmord — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: dagmord Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Where is this coming from? This is unacceptable for any reason the SEC came up with. It ties the hands of investors who do not have a brokerage company watching out for their funds. It puts the small investor in jeopardy to loose more than they gain. You are bowing to big brokers like Fidelity, Vanguard, and many, many other investment brokers who handle billions for the extreme wealthy. This is America where all Americans regardless of the value of investments big or small can manage on a quarterly basis. I check my TSP once a week since Trump took office. His actions and words trip the Market too often. As a retired person with small investments depends on my monthly distribution to live within my means. Don’t change!

Dale Crouse — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Dale Crouse Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Dale Crouse VP-Inv Mgmnt, Retired 161 Stetson Ln, Suite 206 Clayton, NC. 27527
I remember the chsnge very well, we wanted/needed better, more timely information as investors. The same was needed for businesses to assure that they can lead their companies with the very best information. How foolish to change that at a time when the nation, and the entire world is so confused.

AI is supposed to make things faster, with better accuracy, and at a lower than present cost. This is a change just for the benefit of either change, or to open the door for charlatans, crooks, and theives. Please tread softly In considering this horrific change.

Sincerely,
Dale Crouse

Dale Hagan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Dale Hagan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it the same yes

---

Dale Higgins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Dale Higgins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting will only favor the company and it's insiders. The reporting costs are minimal compared to the record profits that companies are taking in. Our markets are faster moving than ever and a bust is somewhere in the future. It makes no sense to relax regulation now. Dale C Higgins, CPA retired.

DALE MINCEY — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: DALE MINCEY Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This twice annual reporting scheme is designed to enrich greedy investors and screw the average investor. Unless it has a benefit for ALL investors, this should never happen.

Dalemincey@verizon.net

Dale Weller — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Dale Weller Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the SEC reporting quarterly as it has been for many many years. Why would we want to go backwards to where we were in the 50’s. Changing back should be illegal!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Dan Beliveau — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dan Beliveau Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting must be mandatory. As an investor, I demand transparency. CEOs shouldn't be able to hide behind a curtain, I certainly can't.
Dan Beliveau, MD
Semi-retired

---

dan Fitzgerald — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: dan Fitzgerald Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Dan Fitzgerald. I'm a Master Plumber Retired. This needs to stay quarterly for accountability!

Dan George — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Dan George Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not take away what little transparency is left. This move doesn't benefit the individual who needs as much fresh and new information as possible to make smart accurate decisions for their own financial future. Do not remove the quarterly reports.

Dan May — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Dan May Do not change the current rule. Too many possibilities for fraud to increase with biannual reporting.

---

dan shank — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: dan shank Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not recind the requirements for corporations to be transparent.

Dan Skill — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Dan Skill Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Be smart. DO NOT CHANGE THE QUARTERLY REPORTING.

Dan Szatkowski — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Dan Szatkowski Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Daniel Szatkowski; Retired
If it isn’t broken, it doesn’t need fixing! Quarterly reports were deemed necessary 50+ years ago and nothing has changed to warrant them unnecessary in all that time. Secrecy generates suspicion.

Sent from my iPhone

Dan Wizner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Dan Wizner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is BS. It's another way for companies and the rich screw the rest of us.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Dana Brimmer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Dana Brimmer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:The rule requiring quarterly disclosures was put in place after previous disasters in the market. We should not forget about our history. Leave the rule in place. In the digital era, disclosures have never been easier.

Dana Darr — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Dana Darr Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Corporations need more accountability not less! Keep the current quarterly requirements

Dana Ferbrache-Darr, MA
Freelance Writer & Artist

Life is short. All you have is your attention and your time. You can do the little things, or you can do the big things — often, it’s a matter of ambition and opportunity, and takes the same amount of energy and time.

Dana G. — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Dana G. Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Dana Goodman, Realtor: Quarterly reporting should always be required. There seems to be too many internal missteps in Corporate America these days. In addition to the introduction of AI tools which simply haven't been around long enough for checks & balances.

Dana Goodman
Broker Associate I REALTOR®
(719) 271-0970
DanaGHomes@gmail.com
DanaGRealEstate@gmail.com
6385 Corporate DR Ste 301, Colorado Springs, CO 80919

Dana Hidalgo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Dana Hidalgo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely!! 6 months is way too long.

Sent with love 💖

Dana Locy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Dana Locy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
For this action you're about to take , there is no trade-off that would benefit a normal small investor and this is a blatant attack on the people by creating more opportunity for the stock market to be rigged in an ever expanding way.
I would highly advise against Taking a move that would reduce or eliminate transparency For any investor big or small because the chilling effect on people or organizations no longer willing to participate is the match that starts the fire to destroy finances all across the USA.

cc: Trump admin & DOJ

Dana Williams — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Dana Williams Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Just Stop. There's enough theft by the rich, superiority by the arrogant and BS by the masses. I think you have done enough to we the people just trying to live on our retirement, take care of a family or hell in some cases buy food. If you, or the corporations are not smart enough to make money without screwing other people out of those well we can't stop you right now so I hope you actually give a crap about your family (including the old one) because you are stealing their ability to take care of themselves.
Now all of you pretending to be actual intelligent working adults go give a * about anything outside of your circle of greed need and weaknesses.
Please and as your boss (Oh yes he is) says:
Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Danacumings — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Danacumings Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It should be every 2 months…not six!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Daniel Bratcher — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Daniel Bratcher Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please don’t roll back to 1955, there are good reasons why he have SEC rules as they are now!

Sent from my iPhone

Daniel dAvignon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Daniel dAvignon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I think you need to delegate this inspection responsibility of quarterly reports being signed by CEOs to the Accounting Standards Board and reinsurance firms covering errors and omissions insurance. Those CRIs not doing so will be published and unsupported by voluntary tool providers called stockholders.

Sent from my iPhone

Daniel Hansson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Daniel Hansson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Jail time coming for all you crooks ! You can all take turns changing T-rumps diaper ! While you do your time with him !

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Daniel hernandez — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Daniel hernandez Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a retail investor, I rely on SEC filings. More time between reports means less transparency when making investment decisions.

Daniel Ing — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Daniel Ing Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
The inability to source information such as earnings would allow companies faltering and insiders to shed holdings until a public failure announcement is made and by this time retail traders and normal investors would be left holding worthless stock.
In other words this would only aide in manipulation and secrecy when you, the SEC, should be continually fighting for transparency and fairness to ANYONE willing to invest OR research. There should be no limiting information that can help tell where a company is headed... this would be in line with aiding and abetting should a company and its insiders choose to manipulate data to falsely maintain or change stock price in anyway.

Daniel Solomon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Daniel Solomon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm Daniel Solomon, a community college teacher and a small time investor trying to generate retirement monies in the wake of this country's abysmal employment standards for my profession. Quarterly reports allow my brokers and myself the information we need to make good decisions. This proposed rule is an attempt to continue to move wealth into the hands of the elites, and to keep it out of the hands of people like me.

Daniel Allen Solomon, PhD

De Anza College, Cupertino, CA
Cabrillo College, Aptos, CA
Negotiating Team, FHDA Faculty Association http://fafhda.org/

Danielle Duhart — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Danielle Duhart Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is the transparency needed for the public to protect their assets and investments. I am a blue collar employee who invests to make a better future for myself and family. If companies are allowed to legally HIDE and shield themselves from loss then we have no future in investing or from protecting our futures. Where’s the trust? DDuhart

Sent from my iPad

Danielle Jordan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Danielle Jordan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Decreasing the reporting requirement frequency places everyday people at risk. Quit protecting the large corporate entities and stand for the rest of us. I will no longer donate to non-profits because they cannot be trusted to be transparent without requiring that that do so. Non-profits cannot guarantee that money they are entrusting to corporations will be spent wisely.

Sent from my iPhone

Danielle Viteretti — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Danielle Viteretti Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Make them sign quarterly !!!

Danny Martin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Danny Martin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
That's got to be the most stupid idea. Private citizens just ordinary hard working men have gotten screwed by the (rule less) SEC so when you do decide to make a rule you're gonna make it even harder for us to make a qualified opinion about how the companies we want to invest are even meeting their budgets. Thats what the stock market was base on picking good companies and growing with them. Go arrest all the insider trading from congress.

Danny Peterson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Danny Peterson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 When quartley reporting becomes the norm, we small investors are the only losers. Don't let large companies get away with this. Make them accountable.

Danny Reich — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Danny Reich Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Danny Reich and I'm retired. I owns stocks and other investments that I worry will be jeopardized by cutting the number of financial reporting to every six months. There's too much fraud going on already without giving corporations and Wall Street 6 months between reporting their finances. The current system has worked well for many years and exposed fraud occurring enough times to keep it as is. Many people's retirement accounts are all they have and constant vigil is needed to protect them.

Get Outlook for Android

Daphne Sword-Fish — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Daphne Sword-Fish Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly

Daphne Sword-Fish

Daralyn Tejano — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Daralyn Tejano Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is better for the American people .

Sent from my iPhone

Darby Kerr — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Darby Kerr Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the security and exchange commission:
Stop the isanity, the corruption, the unmitigated destruction of a system formed to protect and monitor the safety of each and every American.

Darcy Starr — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 KEEP THE SIGS!! From: Darcy Starr Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am Darcy Starr, a 72 yo woman. I worked for over 22 years in the insurance industry as well as 8 years in the corporate world including Notary duties. Always require signatures!! Various executives across many industries have proven that they need oversight.

Darlene Berreth — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Darlene Berreth Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Vote NO on bill. This is not in the best interest for the majority . To open to fraud. Follow the money. Keep companies transparent, honest.
Retired bookkeeper.
Darlene Berreth WA state

Sent from my iPhone

Darlene S. Younker DeLage — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Darlene S. Younker DeLage Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Darlene S. Younker DeLage and I am retired. I was able to retire because I had been investing since I started working in my 30's after raising my 2 children. I paid close attention because even in the '70s we were being warned there may be no Social Security left when we retired. Being a responsible citizen, I counted on my quarterly reports to know where I stood. I worked, saved and invested for my future. I couldn't have done that effectively without the quarterly reports. I am now in my 80's. If I hadn't invested wisely, I would now be reliant solely on the government to live as my Social Security would not cover my normal living expenses. Don't take away a very useful tool that allows Americans to make wise decisions about their financial future. Thank you.

Darlene S. Younker DeLage:
Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone

Darlene Walker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Darlene Walker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Don't let them do this. This should not be changed. It should remain the way it is now. We must have quarterly reports and keep the CEOs in line.

Darren Wegner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Darren Wegner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Don’t change, it’s hard enough for us to invest as it is

Sent from my iPhone

Darrin McKillip — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Darrin McKillip Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not loosen the requirements for reporting of businesses! We need more accountability for our safety and faith in business!

Daryl Lunsford — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Daryl Lunsford Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This would be an inexcusable retreat from protective measures that were originally put in place because corporations had proven that they didn't have the ability to behave ethically on their own.

The information contained in this communication may be confidential and is intended only for the use of the recipient named above. If you are not the intended recipient of this message, please immediately alert the sender by reply e-mail and then delete this message and its attachments. Do not deliver, distribute or copy this message and/or any of its attachments and do not disclose the contents of or take any action in reliance upon the information contained in this communication or any of its attachments.

Dave — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dave Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Any publiky traded company should have open books. Continuously in this age. Even the 3 month rule is too lenient.

David Mays
Dave's Computer Services
North Humboldt County
707-955-5124
dave@davescomputer.net
www.davescomputer.net

Dave Lassen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Dave Lassen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is absolutely necessary

---

Dave Lassen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Dave Lassen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is absolutely necessary

---

Dave Maceira — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dave Maceira Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Consumers must be protected from unethical practices.

Dave Newman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dave Newman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 All corporate businesses should provide quarterly reporting signed by the ceo and cfo. The reports must be verified such that shareholders have insurance that their shares of the company are safe and being handled in a legally proper manner.

Thanks,
Dave Newman
Brea, CA

Dave Peterson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Dave Peterson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 6-21-26

Keep accountability quarterly. Limit opportunity for cortuption!

Dave Peterson

Dave Powell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Dave Powell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It ain't right when workers aren't being hired.

Dave Ricker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Dave Ricker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I started my career with Enron and worked one year as an auditor. I then moved on and in the early 2000's worked with our internal auditors and the external auditors performing Sarbanes Oxley tests on our controls for 3 years. My opinion is there are never enough controls and the quarterly checks provide more security to the investors that the company is in compliance with all regulatory requirements.

Dave Schnelle — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Dave Schnelle Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 do not change this. these execs have no ethics other than what is forced on them.

Dave Scott — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dave Scott Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 If it ain't broken, don't "fix" it! Leave the current reporting the way it is!

Sent from my iPad

Dave Tubergen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dave Tubergen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Accountability should be a daily act, but no more than 90 days. Even that is bad.

Dave Waldeck — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dave Waldeck Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I have invested in company since I was a child. Quarterly reports are vital to our knowledge of what's happening in that company. In this increasingly complex financial world, including AI, frequent company results are necessary for investors and regulatory agencies to keep a hand on monitoring condition of companies and assuring they abide by rules and regulations!

Dave Ziony — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Dave Ziony Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The market has soared these past decades, because of investor confidence. Honest, monitored, quarterly reporting has helped contribute to this investor confidence. Without investor confidence, markets collapse. Removing quarterly reporting requirements will only serve to reduce investor confidence...

---

davïd — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: davïd Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 David - Car Salesman Companies are able to remain long term focused even with quarterly reporting. All that quarterly reporting does is force corporations to be more transparent with their shareholders and especially retail. The only ones benefitting from semi annual reporting are those already at the top and institutions.

Healthy financial markets require transparency to shareholders. KEEP IT QUARTERLY!!

David Beam — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: David Beam Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 WtF, KEEP STATEMENT QUARTERLY

David Beyer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: David Beyer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Ending quarterly reporting in intensely stupid and irresponsible.

David Blakely — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: David Blakely Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Needs to be quarterly

Sent from my iPhone

David Courage — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: David Courage Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Only a predator (or an enabler) would think this is a good idea. Less transparency is never a good idea. I vote, I advocate, and I have a long memory.

David Courage

"If Christ is risen - then nothing else matters.
And if Christ is not risen - then nothing else matters." Jaroslav Pelikan

---

DAVID F — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: DAVID F Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Truth must happen more than twice a year.

DF

David Fisch — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Fisch Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 David Fisch
Rossana Fisch
Retired airline pilot

Quarterly reporting is essential for transparency. Many managers cannot be trusted to represent their financial positions without constant monitoring. Frequent reporting is essential for informed investing decisions.

David Fisch

David Forbes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: David Forbes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
You can't be seriously considering removing quarterly reports from being required for businesses operating in the USA? These reports tell the health of companies for investors and the general public and are vital to all of us.

David Fritsch — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Fritsch Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 stop the corruption. keep quarterly reporting.

David Fritsch

David Gibbons — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Gibbons Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 David Gibbons, technical writer/accountant. 6 months will keep me from making good decisions more than 2 times a year. Quarterlies are not difficult to provide. Every business closes each month knowing where they are unless they are fools.

David Hoag — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: David Hoag Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I feel quarterly reporting is a minimum requirement. I think all major decisions by the boards of companies should be open immediately for public response. Operating in the dark under almost any conceivable condition leaves the public blind and should only occur in matters of national security and then only with a vote of the congress. We have already seen what lack of enforced guidelines can do.

---

david inglis — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: david inglis Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Every 6 months is too long for NO visibility into company for its owners (shareholders). 6 months makes it too easy for the bad actors to take bad corp actions without shareholder input

Sent from my iPhone

David Jordan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Jordan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Support the safety of investing, do not allow this to pass. I will remove all investments from the US Market and move abroad since this will facilitate even more fraud. Finally support the American public and stop accepting money and favor from groups that don't care about the retail market.

Sent from my iPhone

---

david josephsohn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: david josephsohn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Commissioners: Investors understand risk vs. reward, and the abolition of quarterly reporting is an unnecessary risk with minimal reward. Further, while the risk would be borne disproportionately by smaller investors, the reward would be enjoyed primarily by large corporations, institutional investors, and others whose inside knowledge isn't dependent on public corporate reports. Frontrunning, self-dealing, and other market manipulations would only increase with the loss of quarterly reporting. Please do not allow this unneeded relaxation of reporting standards!

David Josephsohn

David Joy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: David Joy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Corporate reporting makes them accountable to the truth in this era of hype driven investing, it is vital to the health of our economy to maintain transparency and rebuild a truth based order

---

david kahler — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: david kahler Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I have been an investor for fifty years, with career spanning 35 years supporting fortune 500 companies. Moving away from quarterly reporting will introduce volatility and instability into US fixed and equity markets, degrading the US markets against global economies. This proposal should be scrapped!

Transparency is a key cornerstone to competition.

David Kamrar — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Kamrar Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep reporting as it is, quarterly! Don’t go back to the dark ages!

Sent from my iPhone

David Kleingartner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: David Kleingartner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it mandatory.

Sent from my iPhone

David Lee Kersey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Lee Kersey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly. Cutting it to bi yearly only helps those that are connected to the company and not the average retail investor.

David Lloyd — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: David Lloyd Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 BEING THE CUSTOMER IS THE ONLY REASON THEY, THE COMPANIES, ARE STILL IN BUSINESS. THE TAXPAYERS NO MATTER THEIR PARTY, SHOULD EQUALLY BE IRATE ABOUT THESE KIND OF BUSINESS SHENANNIGANS ALLOWED BY OUR LAWS BECAUSE OF THE LOBBYIST'S POCKET-FILLED POLITICIANS, THAT APPROVED OF THEIR PRACTICES OF GREED AS MENTIONED HERE, IMHO.

David McCleish — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David McCleish Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Leave things alone.

Sent from my iPad

David N. Smith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: David N. Smith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it at three months!

David N. Smith
dasmithaus@gmail.com

David Nelson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: David Nelson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 From a GRC Perspective, keeping high accountability standards is important. If anything, given the history of corporate executive governance problems, increasing frequency of reporting, not decreasing it would be a better trajectory.

Assuming modern accounting methodology, AI empowerment, Monthly reporting would deter fraud and other issues faster, which would be good for shareholders, not good for corrupt executives.

If you are going to make a change to Quarterly reporting, make it Monthly.

Stop proposing changes that encourage fraud.

David Phelan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Phelan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Let's keep everything FAIR

---

david rivas — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: david rivas Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Let's keep quarterly reports as been said you give someone an inch and they want a mile so let's nip this idea in the butt now before it gets out of hand

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

David Spalding — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Spalding Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is David Spalding. I am a retired accountant who participated in one IPO and as a controller, I signed 10Q and 10Ks for more than 10 years. I strongly support keeping the quarterly reporting for publicly traded companies for two main reasons. First, it allows an informed investor to track their ownership investments and be fully informed about significant matters. Shareholders are owners and deserve to be informed about all relevant matters. Second, if there are issues that deserve to be addressed by the owners, they may, and have, escalated during the interim reporting period. This is especially important given the current economic uncertainty facing the US and globally. The argument that the reporting is time consuming and costly fails based on the simple premise that an organization which offers ownership interests in a publicly traded company should, and with all likelihood has accounting software that can generate a full set of financial reports in a matter of hours, if not minutes. If on the other hand, a company is unable, or unwilling to provide these reports that is cause for great concern. This is proof that either there are issues they would rather not disclose to their owners, or their discipline is so bad that they are unable to function and should be delisted. Quarterly reports do not need to be audited, many firms choose to have their audit firms review for accuracy, but a simple set of Financials, balance sheet, cash flow and profit and loss with an abbreviated MD&A highlighting significant events, risks and opportunities is sufficient. If a company is unable to provide this simple report to their owners, they should not be taking the publics funds.

David Spalding

David Svet — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Svet Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting that holds corporations accountable to the public and on the record for their actions is essential for the safe execution of investment markets. Quarterly reporting with executive signatures is the least reporting that we should accept. Information moves too fast now to rely on less reporting.

Thank you,

David Svet
Overland Park, KS 66204

David Zussman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: David Zussman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 QUIT MAKING THESE POOR DECISIONS TO ALLOW COMPANIES TO OBFUSCATE THEIR FINANCES

---

davisflyer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: davisflyer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 More reporting and more transparency are obviously so much better for the American public. It would be a travesty to reduce it!

Richard Davis

Sent from my iPhone

Davy Haase — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Davy Haase Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is vital to the health of the market.

Davydd Wilber — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Davydd Wilber Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Businessmen don't tend to be honest. Forcing then to face quarterly reporting helps to keep them on their toes. We need quarterly reporting. Davydd E Wilber on disability.

Davydd Wilber

Davydd Wilber — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Davydd Wilber Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The reports need to be kept quarterly . Too much can happen in that short time span. Investors need to be informed to make reasonable decisions about their money.
Davydd Wilber
Retired

Davydd Wilber

Dawn Boyd — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Dawn Boyd Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I vote NO!! Keep it Quarterly, Keep It Honest!! So sick of the little people getting smaller and the Rich and Powerful getting Richer and more Powerful off our Backs!! Proper Taxation is “Representation” !!! We live in America Not Russia!!

Warmly, Dawn Boyd

Dawn Boyd — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Dawn Boyd Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 UNCONTINABLE!! STP STEALINGFROM THE POOR AND HADING IT TO THE RICH!! THIS IS EXACTLY WHY AMERICA WAS FOUNDED AND BUILT!! QUIT BEING MODERN DAYROBBER BARONS!!

Dawn

Dawn Boyd — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Dawn Boyd Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 UNCONTINABLE!! STP STEALINGFROM THE POOR AND HADING IT TO THE RICH!! THIS IS EXACTLY WHY AMERICA WAS FOUNDED AND BUILT!! QUIT BEING MODERN DAYROBBER BARONS!!

, Dawn

Dawn Mortenson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Dawn Mortenson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Leave it alone!

Dawn Quirk — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Dawn Quirk Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency is critical for financial markets to remain trustworthy. Please keep quarterly reporting requirements.

Sincerely,
Dawn Quirk

--
Sent with mail.com Mail app

Dawn Stiffler — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dawn Stiffler Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The quarterly updates keep us up to date on how our investments are doing. To much fraud happens when they have 6 months between notifying us. Dawn Stiffler, Office Manager. This matters, it affects my ability to retire well.

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Dawn Thornton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dawn Thornton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This case on Federal Court right now is enough to answer ALL questions for your answer of NO! There is massive fraud going on . Look at the details in this case and you will have your answer . Alabama Middle District as case 2:26-cv-00055,

This is checkmate !
No!
C Dawn Thornton
Sent from my iPhone

Dawn Thornton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dawn Thornton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This case on Federal Court right now is enough to answer ALL questions for your answer of NO! There is massive fraud going on . Look at the details in this case and you will have your answer . Alabama Middle District as case 2:26-cv-00055,

Sent from my iPhone

---

daydreamwonder — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: daydreamwonder Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is unconstitutional big name CEO getting jail free passes while middle and Lower class suffers. This is not what the Constitution of America was written for freedom not on slavery system or control

Sent from Proton Mail for Android.

Dayna Blailock — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dayna Blailock Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 ABSOLUTELY NOT! These rich CEOs should know what is going on in their companies and sign off on the Financials quarterly.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

De'Noise Reed-Lee — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: De'Noise Reed-Lee Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Hell NO!!I DO NOT AGREE WIT THIS CRAP!! NO!!NO!!N... NO!!

Dean Schaffer — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dean Schaffer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting. 6 mo ths is too long they the company's will hide something if they can.

Deanna Sharp — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deanna Sharp Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly records, you've already robbed the people enough.

Deb Griebel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Deb Griebel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please keep quarterly reporting requirements. Twice a year reporting would allow possible problematic issues to go unnoticed and unresolved for much too long. I do not believe quarterly reporting puts an undue burden on anyone. All records are electronic and available at the push of a button. Thank you for considering my opinion.

Deb Haas — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Deb Haas Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Debra G.Haas, disabled Veteran (Army Intel), BS Finance, BS Accounting, MS Financial Planner. Stock Market Investor for 30yrs. Our family portfolios are now over $1million - all from small investments by USN disabled retiree (now deceased), USAF disabled retiree, USA compensated disabled Vet.) Quarterly reporting is the ONLY WAY TO KEEP investors safe. Only business owners/managers with nefarious intent want or need less oversight.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Deb Lowe — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Deb Lowe Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is unreasonable to reduce communications to the invested public and only continue to have information available to the government. It’s WRONG!

Deb Stotelmyer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deb Stotelmyer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I’m a RA rep and I see a real need for quarterly reporting. 6 months doesn’t give individuals enough timely information to manage their accounts. My clients get very uncomfortable when they don’t get a quarterly report.

Deborah Stotelmyer , registered in FINRA

Deborah Stotelmyer
Financial Advisor-Educator
Violinist - Private Instructor
301-491-6551

Sent from Proton Mail for iOS.

Debbie Ackley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debbie Ackley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it the way it is

---

debbie austin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: debbie austin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 D Austin SEC, keep the quarterly reporting. A chance to my stock value will burden my family and unemploye people that I employ. I work as a Director of Child Nutrition in a large city and I count on stock value.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Debbie Blair — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Debbie Blair Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Your proposal puts my portfolio and retirement future at stake. The proosed six-month blackout would allow fraud to fester and cause volatile stock prices Transparency matters in a fair stock market The SEC should not be in the business of blindfoling everyday investors

---

debbie brown — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: debbie brown Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please continue to have public companies report quarterly. Thank you. Deborah D Brown, retired.
Debbiedianne@gmail.com

Debbie Drew — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Debbie Drew Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep It Quarterly!!!!

Debbie Edmundson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debbie Edmundson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it.

Debbie Goins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Debbie Goins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Deborah Goins

Retired Legal Secretary
My first thought is why hide?? We hide things we don't want exposed, ugly things, dark things. SEC, what are you up to? Wall Street, what happens when people lose faith?The Market crumbles..... After years of advising family, it's the way to go. Iam now advising precious metals. NO ONE turns down that currency. I DEMAND 100 % transparency, 100% of the time.

Debbie Gunderson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Debbie Gunderson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It needs to continue. They control investor's money. There should be complete transparency on this matter. I personally would prefer monthly updates. 6 months is too long.
Thank you for your time.
Deborah Gunderson

Sent from my iPhone

Debbie Lobato — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debbie Lobato Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it Quarterly. America has enough people rooking and crooking the American citizen. The Corporations will step up the game to win.

Debbie Peter — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debbie Peter Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Try doing what is best for the little guy not the billionaires.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Debbie Praeger — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Debbie Praeger Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Deborah Praeger
Retired
Mequon, Wisc.

My retirement is only feasible because of my investments. Why would anyone want to repeat a proven mistake that would hurt so many people. Quarterly reporting is working, please do not make the mistake of biannual reporting!

Debbie Price — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Debbie Price Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 QUARTERLY REPORTS NEED TO BE KEPT. GOING TO EVERY 6 MONTHS JUST HURTS REGULAR INVESTORS. BILLIONAIRE INVESTORS WILL JUST MUDDY THE WATERS AND GIVE AN UNFAIR ADVANTAGE TO CORPORATE INSIDERS.

Debbie Price

Individual Investor

Debbie Sampson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Debbie Sampson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting!
Alot can change in 3 months.
Let's keep companies accountable.

Sent from my iPhone

Debbie Shell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Debbie Shell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I think it's working fine the way it is. There's no need to change to less frequent reporting. The accounting and finance people do their jobs every day, every month, every quarter, every year. Any CEO should know where business stands and be willing to attest to documented records on a quarterly basis.

Sent from my iPad

Debbie Tanis — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debbie Tanis Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To whom it may concern,

I want to stay informed about the companies in which I invest, and I believe quarterly reporting gives me that opportunity. As someone who will be relying on my investments to fund my retirement, I would like to see quarterly reporting remain the standard.

Thank you,
Debra Tanis
Legal Assistant

Debbie Van — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debbie Van Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly. It gives insiders a huge advantage. Investors have a right to know how the companies are doing.

Deborah Van

Debbie Vercellino — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debbie Vercellino Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need and have the right to know what is happening to our investments!

Keep the quarterly reports!

Debbie

Debbie White — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Debbie White Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop letting companies get away with all this

Sent from my iPhone

Debbie White — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Debbie White Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
SEC needs more inspection and guidelines.... not less

Debby Leuer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debby Leuer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting!!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

---

debi — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: debi Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My brother is a former Enron employee who went down with the company after they were caught cooking the books. If I could I would make the CEOs sign monthly reports. We have all the proof we need to prove they will lie, cheat and steal every chance they get. That is why the SEC needs to be ever more involved in oversight than they are now. Thank you for your time, Debi Miller, Billings, MT

Sent from my iPad

Debi Horner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Debi Horner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Deborah Horner, retired. I want to know what is going on. Too many corrupt managers now days.

Debi Riley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Debi Riley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is just another way not to be transparent! I wouldn't invest with any corporation who resists quarterly reporting! Don't let the rich win once again! They will bleed us til we have nothing.

Have a fantastic day!

Debi Riley
253-226-0899

Debora Wines — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debora Wines Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am invested in the stock market and have the right to timely insights into performance. There is no compelling reason for this change. I am a citizen who has worked hard and now depend on investments for my retirement income. Do not put citizens in the dark.
Thanks for your attention.
Debora Wines

Deborah Castille — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Deborah Castille Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I really need and like to receive the information in our quarterly reports of our stock investments!!! I need clear, accurate, and timely information to make informed investment decisions. PLEASE continue with quarterly investment reports!
Thank you,
Deborah Castille
6/22/2026

Deborah Clark — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Deborah Clark Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting. If not you will be messing with the retirement of hard working Americans. Thank you.

Sent from my iPhone

Deborah Dart — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Deborah Dart Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Protect the American people. Not billionaire assholes.
Wesley Dart, Retired, Surprise, AZ.
It matters because too much cheating is going on.

---

deborah davidson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: deborah davidson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why is it a problem to report quarterly? Deborah Davidson retired CPA. We have computers and programs now that allow more timely information. There is no reason to increase reporting time if anything require more timely information for investors.

---

deborah davidson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: deborah davidson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why is it a problem to report quarterly? We have computers and programs now that allow more timely information. There is no reason to increase reporting time if anything require more timely information for investors.

Deborah Dennert — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deborah Dennert Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Deborah Dennert, retired legal worker. Why? Other than to do nefarious things to our future.

Deborah Dunham — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deborah Dunham Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please continue quarterly reporting.

Deborah Hershey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Deborah Hershey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I want my quarterly statements. Those help me keep better track of my earnings.

Deborah Houlihan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deborah Houlihan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 With all due respect, we need better and more timely information to make decisions regarding our investments. Please keep the quarterly reporting. My husband and I are both retired, have a limited amount of funds, and we don't have the luxury of time. We need the quarterly reports to make the best decisions for our financial future so we don’t eventually become dependent on government programs. -Debbie Houlihan

Sent from my iPhone

Deborah Kriske — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deborah Kriske Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep your quartering reporting! It doesn’t cost you anything if you are honest!

Sent from my iPhone

Deborah McGinley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Deborah McGinley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop being crooks!!!!!

Deborah Minger — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Deborah Minger Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly reporting needs to be kept. The people have had enought BS from both the government and Big business and we are tired of it.
KEEP THE QUARTERLY REPORTING. Or are you trying to hide something??
Debbie Minger

Deborah Morelli — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Deborah Morelli Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The proposed ruling that attempts to change quarterly reporting to be semi-annual reporting is absolutely stupid!! It will serve only to encourage graft. It is well known that that first place to look for corporate theft is at the top at the top of the corporation. Greed seems to be order of the day. Don't make fraud any easier.

Deborah Morelli, former fraud investigator, Decatur, GA

Deborah Piper — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deborah Piper Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 An update quarterly is a must!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Deborah Semones — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deborah Semones Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting has served Democracy well. I consider it an important part of our fiscal infrastructure.
Lee Semones

Sent from Gmail Mobile

Deborah Shepherd — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Deborah Shepherd Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Protect investors. Keep it Quarterly.

Deborah

Deborah Jane Choate Shepherd
29205 Spoon Ave
Madison Heights MI 48071
248 762 5767

“But all the wickedness in the world which man may do or think is no more to the mercy of God than a live coal dropped in the sea.”
— William Langland

Deborah Whitcomb — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deborah Whitcomb Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting makes it more difficult to hide bad behavior and market manipulation. As the safeguard of the public interest the SEC should remain true to its mission to protect the public.

Sent from my iPhone
916.716.0679 🌸

DEBRA BOLLINGER — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: DEBRA BOLLINGER Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Has been the standard. There is no evidence that this standard should be reduced.

Sent from my iPhone

Debra Brown — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debra Brown Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Hello my name is Debra Brown Stop trying to screw the Amercan Citizens. As far as We The People are concerned before you do anything you need permission from We The People. No you don't have our permission to hide anything. Keep reporting Quarterly or We The People will close your SEC DOWN FOREVER. I am a retired individual and I am sick and tired of government agencies always trying to find a way to * us over.

Get Outlook for Android

Debra Bryant — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debra Bryant Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Aabsolutely not!

Debra Bryant
Kern County, California

661-527-7137

"A man who represents himself, has a lawyer with his best interest in mind." - Bocetti

---

Debra Camacho — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Debra Camacho Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
It is imperative that the SEC protect and require companies'market remain transparent at minimum every quarter. A lot can happen within proposed 6 month review

---

Debra Donaldson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Debra Donaldson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Why are we trying to make it easier to hide things . Look what in less than a year has happened. Ever other day , war , business closures, weather catastrophes it all effects the market. Do not pass S7-2026-15

Debra Flagg — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Debra Flagg Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: We need more disclosure from public companies not less. Hard working people are the reason. Stand by us not against us

---

Debra Fontaine — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Debra Fontaine Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please, PLEASE keep the reporting quarterly! It keeps the CEOS more honest and easier to keep tabs on. There is enough grifting going on in this country that is killing us. I still remember Ken Lay. And remember: the narcissist sociopaths have been given permission to come out of the dark, into the light to grift out in public for everyone to see. Do not give them EVEN LESS REGULATIONS. My name is Debra Fontaine, retired, MN.

Deb.

Debra Garfall — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debra Garfall Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep the quarterly filing for absolute transparency and accountability to stockholders and prospective stockholders. Debra Garfall, R. N. / retired

---

Debra Geiser — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Debra Geiser Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting to protect our investments and retirement income. It's not broke--don't fix it to make it less effective. Regulation brings accountability.

Debra Guest — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Debra Guest Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: It is detrimental to the stockholders and the potential stockholders to make this change. It could hurt the companies as well because I will not purchase stock in the middle of a 6-month cycle. DO NOT put the 6-month reporting into effect!

Debra Hall — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Debra Hall Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Im retired and need to know quarterly what's happening with my money. It's bad enough my tax information gets sent to me just before tax day making me scramble to get my taxes done. Don't change the rule.

Debra Harrison — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debra Harrison Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As an investor, like corporate leadership, I don’t make investments blindly. Quarterly reporting is a minimum standard to ensure investors have a line of sight to how companies are managed, strategic direction, and corporate leadership effectiveness. No change to quarterly reporting makes sense unless the SEC wants to blind the average investor and has some other unhealthy corporate objectives planned.

Do not change the reporting requirements

Respectfully
DW Harrison

Sent from my iPhone

Debra Houston — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debra Houston Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Enron ripped us off by thousands of dollars. Do not let these companies get away with not reporting.
Debra Houston

Debra J McCarthy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debra J McCarthy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is not good for out country. Stay on quarterly reports not a 6 month report. You're giving the rich another loophole.

Get Outlook for iOS

Debra Kahn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debra Kahn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Debra Kahn
As an investor who is very involved and rely on the reports to determine the future I need that information.

Sent from my iPhone

Debra M Reid — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debra M Reid Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The SEC should continue to make companies report quarterly. A lot can go haywire in 6 months and keeping investors in the dark will hurt individual investors. I urge you to do your jobs and protect investors over corporate interests.

Sent from my iPhone

Debra McCrea — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debra McCrea Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency is everything. Stop hiding what should never be hidden, especially from the consumer.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Debra Roberts — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Debra Roberts Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not change reporting quarterly rules. All that will do is cause more companies to hide what is going on before it's too late!

Debra Robinette — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Debra Robinette Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Having the quarterly reports/disclosures help me as a retail investor to make informed financial decisions.
The SEC should not take this vital and needed information away from me and others. This is important information we need to make informed decisions. This will hit us investors the most. We will be flying blind for 6 months that will affect our investments if this is not provided quarterly as it is now. We need more reporting not less.
This removes transparency and could allow fraud. It does not keep the investor aware of what is going on with the company we are investing in.
Thank you.
Debra Robinette
2405 S Owings ST, Oak Grove, MO 64075 816-517-2083

Debra Wallace — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Debra Wallace Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly is how it must remain! No get out of Jail free card for CEO's they MUST certify quarterly. If they can't do that then 6 months is too long for investors to go.
Debra Wallace
Sent from my iPhone

Decker Moss — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Decker Moss Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep companies honest

---

dee lang — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Keep it quarterly From: dee lang Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Isn't this just allowing insider trading if you change the rules? I thought this was prosecuted. Just doesn't seem fair to the other shareholders.
Danette Lang
Talent Acquisition
Sent from my iPhone

---

dee whit — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: dee whit Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 DO NOT STOP QUARTERLY REPORTING! THIS IS IMPORTANT TO ME!

Thanks, Dion

Dee Wilkins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dee Wilkins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Dee Wilkins- Retired City Employee My money is invested in the stock market through my union. I am hoping to invest additional funds I have on my own. It's difficult enough that things associated with these investments through the union are done quarterly and not more often. We get quarterly statements and our money can only be moved around starting at a quarter. This means something not bearing enough interest will be stuck were it is for two months or longer if we miss a preconceived deadline to ask for changes. Making these companies reports semi annually leaves those investing in our economy in the dark for way too long. If anything, these reports should come out more often. I definitely will not risk any additional money, if I will only find out how companies I invest in are doing twice a year. The stock market is the only thing left, bearing a decent interest, that the everyday American has access to. Why make it even riskier of an investment by allowing companies that are slipping down and not earning as they may once have been to hide what's happening for twice as long from their investors and allowing those who are 'in the know' to pull their money out sooner than later, leaving the most vulnerable of the investors holding an empty bag?

Dee Wright — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Dee Wright Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Qrtly reporting keeps me advised of company performance. It's important to know the financial position of the company I've invested in. Keep Quarterly statemens!

Delanna Reed — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Delanna Reed Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It appears to me that we have rampant fraud occurring right now-from the President and his cabinet, to Congress and among trillionaires, billionaires, and corporations. It is bad enough that my tax dollars have gone to pay for a disaster of a reflecting pool, much less to see it handed over to CEOs by letting them report fewer times a year.

Please do not reduce the number of reports per year that CEOs make. It will not save money, but will cost us more.
Sincerely,

Dr. Delanna Reed, PhD
Professor Emerita

East Tennessee State University

Delberta Eklund — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Delberta Eklund Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep the old law!! Quit giving in to the super wealthy. Keep it the way it is fair to everyone of us. THANK YOU VERY MUCH, SINCERELY, DELBERTA EKLUND

---

delcine Avent — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: delcine Avent Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need to be able to see our money as well as just knowing it's supposed to be there.. every 3 months the way it is the way it should be..
thank you

Dell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Dell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 A lot of malfeasance can be committed in that time frame.

Get BlueMail for Android

Delnora Tuschl — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Delnora Tuschl Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 How can the SEC fulfill its goal of protecting investors by changing Quarterly reporting to Biannual reporting?? I do not understand how this benefits me as an investor.
I see red flags and fraudulent opportunities.
Do not change quarterly reporting to Biannual.

Delnora Tuschl,
Retired High School Teacher, Wisconsin USA

Delores Suggs-Simmons — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Delores Suggs-Simmons Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Leave it alone. We need these reports to make sure companies are reporting honest reports quarterly. We need that information as investors large and small.
Delores Suggs
Retired accountant

Sent from my iPhone

Dena — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Dena Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Dena Liles, Quality Assurance Manager, I believe in Quality Management!

Dena Goldstein-Sharpe — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dena Goldstein-Sharpe Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Oh come SEC!
Doesn't your name and what is the agency's task and mission is say it all?
''The SEC ensures fair and orderly markets, and facilitates capital formation. It regulates stock exchanges, brokers, investment advisors, and publicly traded companies to prevent fraud, insider trading, and market manipulation. "

Changing quarterly reporting by companies and corporations to the proposed change would be in total opposition to keeping companies, honest and preventing fraud and corruption by giving a larger and bigger window to report - causing too many companies to operate at thier lowest denominator - meaning taking advantage of this new change, and also causing more of a burden on the SEC and many other agencies to keep ahead of fraud, corruption and manipulation in the markets. I think this is a bad move. I hope the SEC isn't being pressured to make what they also know is a bad move.

Sincerely Dena C. Sharpe

Dena Temple — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Dena Temple There is no valid reason to change the rule on corporate reporting from quarterly to semi-annually beyond obfuscation. As a watchdog organization, the SEC should be looking for ways to provide MORE oversight, not less. I'm not sure where this proposal originated, but it has nothing to do with oversight and everything to with providing a fertile ground for deceit and corporate crime. I strongly oppose this change and hope you will consider your role as protector of the American people in your decision.

---

denise boyles — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: denise boyles Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Shorter the better!

Sent from my iPhone

Denise Buck — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Denise Buck Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Denise Buck and I'm a graphic artist and sign installer. The money I put into my stock portfolio is hard earned and will be contributing to my retirement someday. I don't have the income or luxury of time to start over if things go wrong. If I'm investing in a company's growth then I should not be left in the dark. This type of secrecy and corruption will only make consumers and potential investors lose confidence in publicly traded companies. The bottom line is that you are not only hurting your future but ours as well.

Sent via the Samsung Galaxy Z Flip5, an AT&T 5G smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Denise Burns — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Denise Burns Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I believe it’s very important to make sure the quarterly reports continue! It is a great way to make sure everyone is doing what they are supposed too. It is way to hard to make people do what they need to do anyway!

Denise I Burns
2203 Chestnut Ct.
Augusta KS 67010

Sent from my iPad

Denise D'Harlingue — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Denise D'Harlingue Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Lots of branches of government have quietly rewritten the rules on accountability. The SEC should not be the next one. What happened to government of the people, for the people?

Denise Driscoll — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Denise Driscoll Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 D.M. Driscoll, Dir. Access & Societal Impacts; it matters because we need access to information in a timely manner

Get Outlook for iOS

Denise Gaytan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Denise Gaytan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Its deceitful

---

Denise Hannum — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Denise Hannum Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
If it ain't broke don't fix it. This world dosent need any more fraud and deception in the world. Dont change the rules.

Denise Krbez — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Denise Krbez Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I live in Michigan, and I'm concerned about how our country is losing our safety nets. Who would benefit from decreasing SEC oversight of chief executive officers? Only the cheaters. Do NOT change the rule that protects the public from the crooks.

Denise McCulloch — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Denise McCulloch Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We know from history what happens with this change, why… look at what is happening with all legislative changes accountability is gone and corruption is rampant. Between what we know and the current corruption I am against this change.

Get Outlook for iOS

Denise Peaslee — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Denise Peaslee Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Continue quarterly reporting in order to protect individual investors.
Thanks,
Denise Peaslee
US Citizen and Retired Software Engineer

Denise Thompson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Denise Thompson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 What is the issue with signing quarterly? It's a financial review and a signature. That's it. as long as competent finance people are working for you. If not, you'll have bigger issues to worry about than a signature 4x per year. Thank you, D. Thompson, Procurement and Contracts Analyst.

Denise Toth — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Denise Toth Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not let corporations eliminate quarterly reporting, it it’s important to keep them accountable. They have our life savings in their hands.

Sent from my iPhone

Denise Wells — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Denise Wells Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it the way it is now....

Deniz Gulan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deniz Gulan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a citizen I want more transparency of the companies, not less. Hence I am against changing it to 6 months period

Deniz Gulan
Sent from my iPhone

Dennis Barrett — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Dennis Barrett Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Oversight exists because of shady business practices. Or have we learned nothing over the years?

Dennis Key — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Dennis Key Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep the reporting requirements as is. This helps accountability. Thanks James Key

Sent from my iPhone

Dennis Nendza — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Dennis Nendza Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Hiding behind a corporate veil allows for questionable actions NOT in the public interest. CEOs MUST be accountable personally for corporate conduct. The people demand this.

Dennis Nendza
Author, “Ascension, Memoirs of an Eternal Spirit”
Sent from Workspace ONE Boxer

Dennis Spears — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Dennis Spears Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Only quarterly reports

Sent from my iPhone

Dennis Talluto — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Dennis Talluto Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly Reporting has made the American financial marketplace the cleanest and most robust marketplace in which to do business, in the WORLD.
While not perfect, institutional and retail investors alike, rely on these quarterly reports in order to appropriately manage our investments and trades.
Changing the SEC reporting schedule from quarterly to semi-annually will significantly erode the timeliness and quality of the information we rely upon to make our decisions.
Please RETAIN the Quarterly Reporting REQUIREMENTS!

//Dennis Talluto

Derek Starks — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Derek Starks Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Derek Starks, Manager: our country is already plague with fraud and THEFT! Allowing 6 months without accurate updates is a recipe for destruction. Without accountability on timelines, anyone can pull the rug on unsuspecting customers-investors. The last thing we citizens need is less transparency from a system that is run by corporate greed.

Sent from my iPhone

Derek Young — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Derek Young Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 James Young, Activities Proffesional, Small Business Owner: Keep Corporate Reporting Quarterly!

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Deryl Waldren — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deryl Waldren Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I rely on this quarterly information to make informed decisions. Allowing more time allows an unfair advantage to corporate insiders. The companies that opt for six months are the ones that we need more frequent information. I see no reason for greedy corporations to make more money off me. Leave it at 3 months and support consumers who need a lot of help now. Thank you. Deryl Waldren, dwaldren1@gmail.com

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

---

dewees1374 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: dewees1374 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Who benefits from dropping quarterly reporting? Certainly not the average citizen. Make reporting monty, don't go the other way

Sent from my Galaxy

Diana Bernard — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Diana Bernard Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This proposal has terrible issues for investors. Fraud could be rampant with this sixth month blackout. Transparency is of the out most priority. Please see that this new SEC ending quarterly reporting doesn't go through. Thanks, Diana Bernard

---

Diana Gano-Rosete — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diana Gano-Rosete Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I strongly feel that the reporting should be EVERY OTHER MONTH, NOT 2 X a year, but rather S I X. Times a year…. WHY is it better for people who have invested their life's work savings. Be UNDER REPORTED??? It's not RIGHT, it seems LAX, ITS SEEMS LIKE HIDING OR OBFISCATING DATA TO WHICH WE ALL ARE NEEDING. DO NOT LOOSEN THE REGULATIONS??? KEEP IT AT EITHER 4 TIMES A YEAR. OR PREFERABLY. 6 TIMES PER YEAR! THXS

Sent from my iPad

Diana Gano-Rosete — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Diana Gano-Rosete Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP QTLY REPORTING… the American economy CANNOT afford yet another. FINANCIAL crash. PLEASE, I've already seen 3 in my own lifetime. The one in which the Mortgages were given out to just about anyone, I lost my job, my HOUSE and with it, my whole life's savings, which was tied up in my home (of 8 years, of which I only owed 120 K at that time. AMERICAN ECONOMY is built on the rampant consumerism of the AMERICAN MIDDLE CLASS. ALL THIS TRICKERY. And ROLLING BACK of SAFE GUARDS MAY ULMATED DESTROY THE AMERICAN MUDDLE CLASS, to which I used to be a part. DO NOT DEREGULATE QURTERLY REPORTING…. Also, SHAME ON YOU,,,

Sent from my iPad

Diana Jackson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Diana Jackson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It should be monthly!

DIana MacKinnon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: DIana MacKinnon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reports quarterly.

Diana Peck — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Diana Peck Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am a retired teacher and my retirement funds have significant exposure in equities. You need to be building trust in the market in these chaotic times and reducing reporting requirements only destroys trust. It is shortsighted and corrupt. If you care about investors you will care about access to reporting

---

Diana Smyth — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Diana Smyth Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is very necessary for companies & their investors to know where they are financially & on goal for long term sustainability.

Sent from my iPhone

DIANE BURDORF — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: DIANE BURDORF Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop this !! Hasn't this administration done enough harm ?

Sent from my iPhone

Diane Burgin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-22 From: Diane Burgin It is my understanding that you are considering adapting a semi-annual rather than a quarterly reporting period. I feel that this would create more chance for discrepancies and would diminish the effectiveness of reporting. Please continue with quarterly reporting and do not change the frequency. Thank you.

Diane Davis — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Diane Davis Maintain quarterly reporting; reject 6 month reporting. Quarterly reporting maintains public awareness of positive and negative corporate trends. Six month reporting would shield negative results from the public.

Diane Eldredge — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diane Eldredge Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 In six months, the markets can change drastically, allowing for more insider trading. It should be reporting every month, but quarterly might keep things balanced.

Diane Klein — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Diane Klein Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities

and Exchange Commission:
Please do not change things! Why would we want to change when things are working just fine and when history has shown that semi-annual reporting causes a lot of problems.

Diane Klug — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Diane Klug Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No , classic screw the little guy. Just another way for billionaires to continue to profit . Again as a taxpayer , this is my SEC . It better not pass. So sick of this !!

---

diane mcnamara — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: diane mcnamara Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
stop what you are trying to do against the americans you purport to care about.

Diane Molinaro — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Diane Molinaro Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As a CPA for 40 years I can tell you that quarterly earning reports are necessary to discourage manipulation of market prices by pure speculation. of course if you're an insider you get the news ahead of anyone else, but for the rest of us, investors quarterly financials are vital to making good investing decisions.

Diane Passarelli — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Diane Passarelli Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
There should be no secrets concerning financial matters when publicly traded stock is being bought and sold. Companies must demonstrate fiscal responsibility by opening their books to public shareholders.

Diane Rowlls — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Diane Rowlls Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 You must keep the transparency we have. United States constitution starts “We the People” not we the corporate interests! Enough is enough. Do your job.
Diane Rowlls, constituent, retired, and a stock holder.

Sent from my iPhone

Diane Striley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Diane Striley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The only reason for changing the present SEC Role requiring quarterly reporting is to subject the public to a predatory practices such as insider trading. The reasons that the rule was instituted haven't changed. Protect the public. Keep the rule unchanged.

Diane P. Striley.

Diane Tortolani — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diane Tortolani Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We rely on quarterly reports to stay on top of investments. Changing this can only contribute to less oversight, when more is needed! It does not benefit the investor at all. They have pushed for paperless reports as it is, and now this. I REJECT this idea!!

Diane Worthington — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Diane Worthington Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not reduce the frequency of financial reporting periods from quarterly to something less. More information is needed, not less. I have worked in publicly held companies, as has my spouse, and understand what is involved in compiling quarterly reports. I also understand how daily decisions are driven by what will have to be reported each quarter. Sometimes, high risks are tempered by the knowledge that, if they go wrong, they will have to be reported in the next quarter. Sometimes prices are adjusted to the consumer's benefit to make a sales goal, and this competitiveness would be lost if it didn't have to be reported.
As an individual investor, the quarterly reports are useful in making decisions about my investments. I would worry about my retirement savings and investments so much more if I had to wait longer to get information.
There's also a question of fairness. Large, institutional investors have other means of getting information that individuals do not have. By reducing the reporting required, you would be giving them an even greater advantage.
In addition, you would be shirking your responsibility of policing the markets to make sure they run smoothly.
Please do not change the quarterly reporting.
Sincerely,
Diane Worthington

Diann Rogers — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diann Rogers Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a senior citizen, I am already concerned about fraud, escheatment that closed out my Navy Federal savings account. Now how on earth do we protect our hard earned income?

Be Blessed!

Diann Suttle — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Diann Suttle Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why change anything other than allowing grifters to get away with grifting? 4 quarters need to be kept in place to prevent cheaters!!!

Dianne Lhotte — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Dianne Lhotte Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please do not lengthen the time for disclosures to the public, This is unfair for the small investor. Report quarterly as at present.

Martha Dianne Fuller Lhotte

Dianne Papes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dianne Papes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Just another scam in broad daylight!!

Dianne M Papes

---

dianne zambrano — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: dianne zambrano Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please keep quarterly reports. My savings and investments depend on my knowledge staying as updated as possible as I rely on making my own decisions.

Dick Horton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Dick Horton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The continuation of quarterly reporting is strongly advocated. This established practice serves as a cornerstone for upholding our commitment to regulatory adherence and fostering a robust framework of organizational accountability. Beyond these foundational aspects, these periodic reports offer invaluable data and insights. They are instrumental in enabling proactive risk identification, facilitating data-driven strategic planning, and ensuring transparent performance monitoring across all departments. Such comprehensive oversight is crucial for sustained operational excellence and sound corporate governance.

Dina Swank — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Dina Swank Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want to follow my account. Quarterly reports are helpful to me.

Dina and Everett Swank
Everettswank@gmail.com

Dirk Soileau Welder/Fabricator — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Dirk Soileau Subject: Opposition to Proposal to Reduce Reporting Frequency To the Securities and Exchange Commission, I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposal to reduce the frequency of corporate financial reporting. As a professional welder with years of experience in shipyards, rail yards, and fabrication shops, I understand the importance of structural integrity. I have built my career on the principle that if the foundation is flawed, the entire structure eventually fails. The same applies to our financial markets. I am an active investor—holding positions in ETFs like VOO, SCHD, and QQQ—and I am working diligently through the system to secure my future. I am using AI to assist in drafting this comment to ensure my position is clear, articulate, and well-reasoned. Transparency is not just a regulatory hurdle; it is the bedrock of trust that allows individual investors like me to participate in the economy. Let me be clear: I am tired of the opacity and the corporate interests that seem to take precedence over the working person. We are trying to play by the rules and do this the right way. However, if the regulatory bodies choose to side with those acting in the shadows rather than upholding market transparency, you should understand that the working-class individuals—the same people who built the physical infrastructure of this world—are not blind to the rigging of the system. We are fully prepared to withdraw our support and capital from a system that lacks transparency. If you choose to erode the public's window into Wall Street, you risk dismantling the faith that keeps the market functioning. I am committed to this fight for financial fairness and market integrity regardless of the personal cost. Maintain quarterly reporting. Uphold the standard. Dirk Soileau -337-290-9723 Professional Welder/Fabricator

---

djvatlast — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: djvatlast Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly Reporting is necessary to monitor accounts to prevent fraud and mistakes. Monitoring should be done more frequently, not less. Deborah W.

Sent from my Galaxy

---

doctrine13 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: doctrine13 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Donald Goodin. Investor. Accountability and full disclosure to investors is a must to keep confidence in the system. Every 3 months is a minimum to keep me informed and trusting them. Every 6 months is too big a gap. Businesses will only disclose what they have to. Don't lessen the requirements or investing will become a gamble rather than informed decision making.

Sent from my Galaxy

Dolly Pizzimenti — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Dolly Pizzimenti Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Big business = big fraud if quarterly reporting goes away. Keep them accountable.

Dolly E Pizzimenti

---

don — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: don Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly

---

Don Berrian — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Don Berrian Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is an unfair advantage and shoul be stopped!

Don Bockelman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Don Bockelman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is crucial to rational investing: The SEC can enable that or just throw down to gaunentlet to the gambling industry

Sent from my iPhone

Don Crenshaw — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Don Crenshaw Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It’s imperative that timely statements are released so the public can have trust in the system. Why remove this longstanding tradition that has worked well?

Sent from my iPhone

Don Glover — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Don Glover Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly reports, we do not need any more fraudulent reports….

Sent from my iPhone

Don Khan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Don Khan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Don't pretend to fix something that isn't broken. Transparency is the right approach. There is no financial burden placed on these multinational corporations to reflect their earnings every three months. Most of the largest corporations don't pay taxes. Fix that with a minimum tax. What happens to quarterly dividends if they don't report their earnings? Don't protect bad management.

Don M — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Don M Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 You really should consider making it a Monthly requirement!
Far too many CEOs don't actually know what their companies are really doing with only Quarterly Statements!
Making it Monthly will help to not only keep them informed but honest as well.

Don Marshall — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Don Marshall Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm 81. Our financial advisor fine tunes our portfolio--our only source of meaningful income and savings--often. Quarterly reports are a substantial part of our decision making. Losing quarterly data degrades our ability to make informed alterations.
Don Marshall•retired

Donald Braun Jr — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donald Braun Jr Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It keeps investors well informed and reduces the chance of fraud and reporting. Keeping at quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Donald Brisson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Donald Brisson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep CEOs accountable. Retain quaterly reporting.
I care about and work to keep our environment clean and healthy.
Don Brisson, Crossville TN.

DONALD DEANGELIS — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: DONALD DEANGELIS Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Sounds to me like the SEC wants to do less or they are up to???? whatever it is, it doesn't sound good for investors.

Donald Hamilton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donald Hamilton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly is the answer. Don’t scam Americans again

---

DONALD HANSON — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: DONALD HANSON Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop the coporate corruption, quit doing the dirty work for dishonest companies and start protecting the American public, every six months we have seen companies abuse this in the past do not cave to this BS

Sent from my iPhone

Donald Sensing — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Donald Sensing Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I manage my wife's and my investments accounts. We are both retired. I have done very well in the results of my management. It is crucial that we continue to receive quarterly reports! Semi-annual decisions and rebalances forebode losing money, probably a lot. Please keep quarterly reports, thank you!

Donald Sensing (Tennessee)
Retired US Army Artillery officer, and Retired ordained elder of the United Methodist Church

Donna — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it as is!!!!!!!

Donna Barry — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Donna Barry Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I believe in quarterly reports.... don't go to 6 month reporting.
It's important to keep our eyes on our money and the results of our investments.
Donna Barry

Sent from my iPhone

Donna Boatright — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Donna Boatright Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is a terrible proposal and one that does not protect consumers but corporations. Do NOT implement this proposal!

Sent from my iPhone

Donna Carter — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Donna Carter Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely NO

Sent from my iPad

Donna Dinger — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Donna Dinger Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Donna Dinger, Realtor, there needs to be transparency, and information for the public to make good decisions affecting their lives.

Donna Goss — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Goss Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep the required reporting quartetly. I do not trust corporations to be honest on there own.

Sent from my iPhone

Donna Hayden — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Donna Hayden Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop this nonsense people work too hard for their money. Stop the grifters and put TRump and his cronies in prison !

Donna Horton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Horton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Donna Horton, I am the family financial officer, monitoring our accounts every Monday. I remember my father-in-law panicking when news of the Enron failure finally came to light.

America learned from that financial disaster, and created a process to prevent it from happening again. Only a fool or a criminal would remove those guardrails! Keep intact the quarterly reporting process that was set up to prevent another Enron-type debacle.

Donna Knox — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Knox Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I think they should read and understand what it says and must sign in front of a judge

Sent from my iPhone

Donna LaTray — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna LaTray Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Our government needs to be held accountable

---

Donna Noble — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Donna Noble Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 QUARTERLY reporting helps protect everyone and keep a level playing field. The deck is already stacked against citizens

Sent from my iPhone

Donna Pardue — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Donna Pardue Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quaterly disclosures should remain mandatory. Transparency is crucial for investors' insight and confidence. In the past, less transparency was accompanied by lower returns and lower valuations. Retirement accounts and investor portfolios are likely to suffer from less mandatory reporting and accountability.

Donna Tindall — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Donna Tindall Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please don't vote on this proposal. The public should have daily or at least weekly access to all Financials from any Company that trades publicly. Every investor should be able to access financial stability of any company on the market. Please consider the public's right as equally as any other entity.
Respectfully,
Donna Tindall

Donna Troiani — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Donna Troiani Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'd have to wonder what you'd be hiding since you don't want to do quarterly reporting. So, let's just continue the quarterly reporting and make sure everything is in order.

Donna Whalen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Donna Whalen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 TRANSPARENCY! I read my monthly investment statements monthly and I want corporations to continue reporting quarterly. I want to know what’s going on with my funds at all times.

My name is Donna Whalen, retired

Donna Williamson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: SEC Reporting From: Donna Williamson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I worked in a manufacturing company for 15 years before they closed. I worked in accounting and I believe middle management as well as upper management should do a better job for the company they work for. Yes SEC keep doing quarterly reporting.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Donna Yoder — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Yoder Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No. Quarterly statements are critical to investors and you know why.

Sent from my iPhone

Donnette Thayer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donnette Thayer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I have quarterly reporting for my business. Why should huge corporations have less responsibility than my small business? Keep the quarterly reporting.

Donnie Meekins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Donnie Meekins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
"I'm a retail investor and I rely on quarterly reports to make decisions about my investments and retirement savings" is genuinely valuable on the record.
Retail investors need clear, accurate and timely information to make informed investment decisions.

Donny Massey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Donny Massey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reports has served long enough to be proved and should not be changed. This should not be changed to benefit a few investors. Thank You Donny Massey.

Doreen Moore — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Doreen Moore Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Only quarterly reports period; we’ve been down this road before. Now we have the most criminal administration in the history of our country and you want to push out to an every six month reporting. No way. You work for me. Keep the quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Doreene Eason — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Doreene Eason Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it Quarterly
Doreene Eason

Doreene Eason

Doris B Johnson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Doris B Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reports…Sadly, too many crooks in your business…including DtRUMP AND CREW!

Doris Buchanan Johnson

Sent from my iPhone

Doris Davis — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Doris Davis Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need quarterly repirting

---

Doris Wood — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Doris Wood Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
My investments are very important to me and my family. Stop for a moment and realize what this would really do . History does repeat itself! I do not understand why you would even consider such a thing unless history is what you want to line your own pockets.

Dorothy Jenson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dorothy Jenson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep this reporting quarterly
D.Jenson

Sent from my iPhone

Dot McQuade — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dot McQuade Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I hope you will keep things like they were instead of trying to make things easier to hide what companies are doing.

Please keep them completing quarterly reports !!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Dotti Honsey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Dotti Honsey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 CEOs need to be held accountable and it should continue to be completed at least quarterly and every time there is a change. We the people have to do our taxes and sign as to the truth .

Dotty Jurek — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Dotty Jurek Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please do your research before you make this change. Changing to semi-annual reporting could cause a huge financial crisis that would take years to recover. Please do your research!

Sent from my iPhone

DOUG CAROTHERS — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: DOUG CAROTHERS Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is a tremendous opportunity for fraud ! Who's to benefit ? Who's to lose ? Who do you, government employees, serve ?

KEEP IT QUARTERLY !
For all the obvious reasons !

Doug James — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Doug James Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am strongly AGAINST the SEC changing reporting rules to twice yearly instead of quarterly.

I manage my own retirement account and choose my investments based on timely information from companies. Six months is too long between reporting to make timely investment decisions.

Jonathan D. James
Physical Therapist
dougjames5@gmail.com

Doug James
dougjames5@gmail.com
304-964-0595

Doug Partin — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Doug Partin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency is crucial. Maintain current reporting requirements.

Sent from my iPhone

Doug Partin
4343 Breakers Pointe
West Chester, OH 45069
513-479-2899
partinrd144@gmail.com

This e-mail, including attachments, may contain confidential information. It is intended only for the individual or entity named or the employee or agent responsible for the delivery of the message to the individual or entity named. If you are not the intended recipient, please be aware that any disclosure, copying, distribution, or use of the contents of this transmission is strictly prohibited. If you received this transmission in error, please notify us immediately and delete it from your computer

---

Doug Reza — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Doug Reza Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting as is, no need to change.

DOUGLAS HUBBELL — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: DOUGLAS HUBBELL Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep the existing rule in order to keep more transparency in how companies report financial dealings.

Sent from my iPhone

Douglas Spurgeon I — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Douglas Spurgeon I Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep as Is

---

drew kuharik — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: drew kuharik Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is outrageous it's laws like this that cause the people to wake up to the criminal corporate legislature.. we need to support the people not the corporations the world is already being robbed penniless by laws just like this keep quarterly reporting! The people are waking up soon lawmakers who even attempt to pass any law that defrauds the people will be run outta office and gathered up by mobs.. the People will take it all back… so do what benefits the common man or end up in line to get strung up as an example of an evil enemy of humanity

---

Durward Morgan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Durward Morgan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No good business practice report quarterly

Sent from my iPhone

---

dylah wallenius — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: dylah wallenius Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This would be disastrous

---

Dylan Saulsbery — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Dylan Saulsbery Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Retail investors rely on the data published four times a year from public companies and don't have Much else. This proposal would weaken retail investors position with respect to other market participants, which seems unfair, And would only strengthen insider positions against a retail investor

---

E Rhodes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: E Rhodes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 More accountability is needed!

E Robles — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: E Robles Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly Reporting is essential to keep companies in check and honest. This reports help investors make informed decisions. There is to much corruption already in the markets. Please don’t do this.

Respectfully,

Mr. Rob

Earl Barto — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Earl Barto Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Another attack on the under informed public.

Earl Berkun — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Earl Berkun Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Earl Berkun, former Sr VP at Wilson Sporting Goods. We need more accountability, not less!!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Earl Hansen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Earl Hansen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 One of the most important issues is the Quarterly Report. There is no better means at this time to keep Corporations from stealing from the investors. Dam the liars and CEO thieves, KEEP the Quarterly Reports.

Sent from my iPad
Earl Hansen

Earl Nino — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Earl Nino Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Sorry. We need quarterly reports until we can trust our leaders again.

Ed Chitty — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ed Chitty Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Paul Chitty, a small business owner in NW Arkansas. My business depends on a strong and sound financial system. Quarterly reporting has proven to be effective in holding public companies accountable to the stockholders. Why in the world would you want to change that to semi-annual and give them more time to keep trouble hidden. You need to do the people's work and be a reliable watchdog.

Ed Chitty
Featured Systems
5 Clare Circle
Bella Vista, AR 72714
479-366-6422
ed@edchitty.com
www.featured.systems

---

ed ed — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ed ed Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Just another way for corporate America to hide their true profits from everyday people. We struggle every day and now the SEC wants us to struggle even more. Stop trying to kiss Trumps ass and do the job you are supposed to do. That is to represent and protect the American people from corruption

Sent from my iPhone

Ed Gunnell — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ed Gunnell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting. I rely on financial transparency in order to make sound investments.

Ed Hoey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Ed Hoey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Much needed to keep everyone honest!!

Sent from my iPhone

Edith Matthews — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Edith Matthews Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not cut reporting on these already scant artists. Investors need to be respected. Make then report quarterly. Money can't buy this scam against the people

Sent from my iPhone

Eduardo Paz — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Eduardo Paz Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly reports.

Edward — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Edward Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Ed Hogan, sales, Pennsylvania For as long as I can remember white collar crime is seen as more of a nuisence than anything else and the people convicted, if they are, get away with minimal time in a country club kind of prison. Make them accountable for the crimes they commit and send them to a REAL prison.

Edward Fitzgerald — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Edward Fitzgerald Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why in Gods name would you enable fraud, theft, and put people's investments at risk? Stay the course if anything you need more teeth to catch violations and crooks.

Sent from my iPhone

---

edward kuhns — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: edward kuhns Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Maintain Quarterly reports as the law states!

Edward Whitham — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Edward Whitham Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I strongly disagree with removing quarterly reporting. The 6 month reporting is an attempt to further pillage the people at the hands of the wealthy.

Respectfully,
Ed Whitham

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Edwin Knight — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Edwin Knight Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This kind of * needs to stop. Big companies already receive more help then they deserve, should not be able to stop reporting their company health at least quarterly

---

eedavis5 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: eedavis5 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 SEC, you are furthering the republican fascist agenda. Destroying consumer confidence and buying power. Are you so extremely stupid as to forget it is the consumer that keeps the economy going? Who will support the one percent if you continue with your lack of knowledge?

Sent from my Galaxy

Eileen Dutton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Eileen Dutton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I find the proposal to move to 6 month reporting to be a move backward. As a private investor, who relies a lot on mutual funds and some stocks, I read the prospectuses and look at the companies before investing in them. Having six month reporting rather than quarterly leaves a lot of time for companies to go sideways. I work for a public company and understand the work that goes into to the reporting. My company, which I invest in, does this reporting and while there is work involved, it also brings together financials from all parts of the business and keeps the employees, as well as investors, knowledgeable on the health of the business.

We went to the quarterly reporting after several large failures in major companies. Why would we move backward, where more companies could take advantage of investors? Please do not move forward with the 6 month reporting schedule.

Eileen Eldridge — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Eileen Eldridge Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No way! How far will all this nonsense go before the powers to be do what is right? Our world is going to hell, our country going down a dark path! Eileen Eldridge.

Eileen Fitzpatrick — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Eileen Fitzpatrick Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do Not eliminate require quarterly reporting. This info from companies is what is required by investors to make informed decisions as well as aid SEC in ensuring financial reporting is sound

---

Eileen Glynn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: DO NOT CHANGE TO BI-ANNUAL REPORTING S7-2026-15 Comment From: Eileen Glynn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 DO NOT CHANGE THE RULES FOR CORPORATE REPORTING!!

(1) I RELY on QUARTERLY INFORMATION to make decisions,
(2) LONGER gaps create an UNFAIR advantage for corporate INSIDERS,
(3) "OPTIONAL" doesn't fix the problem because companies that opt in are often the ones whose investors most need frequent updates,
(4) the SAVINGS to companies aren't worth the COST to ME!

Eileen Hanrahan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Eileen Hanrahan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep financial reports quarterly. Semi annual reporting will adversely affect American's wealth as less transparency will result in lower returns and lower valuations. For ordinary investors, semi annual reporting could result in a loss of a third, or more of life savings! I and so many regular Americans are still the bedrock of our economy and significant loss of our wealth would crash our economy and our ability to live in reasonable good health.
You kill wealth, you kill health. You kill wealth, you kill society. -Eileen Hanrahan, Community Educator

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Eileen Joyce — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Eileen Joyce Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Why fix something that is not broken? Are you trying to rig the system so you and corporate executives win? Are trump's big donors asking for this? What do people like me do if we can't afford to "pay to play?" I'm really sick of this administration dealing the little guy out of the game. Keep in mind, if we get screwed, there won't be tax money to pay your salary.

Eileen Joyce — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Eileen Joyce Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Why are you siding with trillionaires? Are you profiting off this decision? Most Americans try and save money. Many do there best to have a few holdings. And, now you want to provide very wealthy business owners more leeway, more benefits, more invisible, etc. Please get your head out of trumps ass and think of the 90% of us that are trying to save money for our retirement, health care, and MAYBE a little for our kids.

please take your collective heads out of your butts and do right by hardworking Americans. Thank you.

Eileen Smeby — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Eileen Smeby Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 People are supposed to LEARN from history. Don't be stupid and put retirees in a more precarious position than we are already in. Many older people are working just to keep a roof over their heads, clothes on their backs and food on the table. There is no need to play with people's retirement funds. Allow each individual to deal with their retirement funds. Sincerely, E. Smeby, retired teacher, Northern MN.

EILEEN THOMPSON — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Proposed change to corporate reviews From: EILEEN THOMPSON Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do NOT change from quarterly reviews to half year reviews. Unacceptable to investors.
Count two of us in this household on this.
Thank you.
Eileen and James Thompson
Texas
Sent from my iPhone

Elaine Elliott — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elaine Elliott Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quit doing business for this Regime and its oligarchs. Please help the people.

Sent from my iPhone

Elaine Hemphill — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Elaine Hemphill Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My vote is for quarterly, why would anyone who is not corrupt vote any differently!

Sent from my iPhone

Elaine S. Jones — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Elaine S. Jones Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Elaine S. Jones, retired by DOGE. We need to keep Quarterly reporting.

Why? Many reasons. Too much insider trading going on. I want to track my investments to make good decisions about how they are invested and when to move or sell them. A report that waits 6 months to share the details of the market, is too late for the average small investor, like me. We, the People, deserve timely reporting. Do the right thing for the millions of small investors who might lose their life savings because some big wigs want to steal our money.

Elaine S. Jones
513.238.5999

Elaine Schaufele — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elaine Schaufele Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Elaine Schaufele retiree with investments. Quarterly is better. Too much can happen in half a year.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

---

elainep puppa.org — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: elainep puppa.org Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm not a fan of providing CEOs more time not to report holdings. They have plenty of time to manipulate market holdings with quarterly filings but at least we can pretend someone is checking some of the submissions quarterly in real time.

Elaine Leonard Puppa

Elana Dabkowski — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elana Dabkowski Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is working, don't break it - it could ruin us! The rich are rich enough for God sake! Reel yourselves in! Stop the nonsense!

Sent from Samsung Galaxy smartphone.
Get Outlook for Android

---

elda topci — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: elda topci Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop this law, keep the checks quarterly to avoid shareholders getting richer by hiding their records

Elda Topci
eldatopci@gmail.com
(267) 475-8012

Elena Dobert — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elena Dobert Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Marie Lynch-Dobert, keep the stock reports quarterly. I have stocks I don't want it changed.

Elinor Nosker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Elinor Nosker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Between greed and the religious assuming that prosperity is the goal for human beings interrupting the need for common sense and decency, it is important to keep business executives as honest as possible. Elinor Nosker, USA (retired and concerned about the USA circumstances)

Elisa Pacht — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elisa Pacht Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My husband is the Director of a large IT dept, I am a therapist. We both feel strongly that quarterly reporting MUST continue. Anything else is unacceptable. We have been investing in the stock market for decades, and use research, information and strategy to make informed decisions.

Yaron and Elisa Pacht

Sent from my iPhone

Elissa Forsythe — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Elissa Forsythe Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Well this sure stinks! Giving more ILLEGAL secrecy to companies SO THEY CAN PLAY THERE SELF-SERVING GAMES IN PRIVATE. This is another betrayal.

Eliza S — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Eliza S Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
The SEC needs to keep its quarterly reporting versus every six months reporting so that investors/the public can know what's happening with stock investments. No need to hide how much money companies/corporations will be making while investors will be losing their share of the stock market dollars.

Eliza S.

Elizabeth Addison — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Elizabeth Addison Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: less oversight has always harmed investors, over and over again. I oppose allowing companies to opt out of quarterly reporting for this reason. Quarterly reporting is the only reliable means of evaluating a company's financial soundness over time. Without this critical information investors will be flying blind, reacting to rumors and events that may or may not be affecting their investments, increasing market volatility and personal risk to investor wealth. This is, in short, a really terrible idea for investors.

Elizabeth Alles — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Elizabeth Alles Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Don't pass the law that will be harmful to stock holders.

Thank you

Elizabeth Barnes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elizabeth Barnes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I need current information to monitor my investments. Timely reports to small investors is critical. Please retain quarterly reporting .
Thank you,
Elizabeth Barnes

ELIZABETH BECK — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ELIZABETH BECK Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The cost savings to companies is small compared to the decrease in confidence in the market from investors.

Elizabeth Billhymer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elizabeth Billhymer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reports quarterly

---

Elizabeth Browning — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Elizabeth Browning As an investor, I expect to see company performance on a quarterly basis. If not, I'm not continuing to invest. I'll invest in another country. Reporting twice a year is unacceptable. Quarterly reporting!! Nothing less.

Elizabeth Clark — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Elizabeth Clark Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Were you kidding? In this day and age, you want to move to a system that provides less transparency? no, just no.

Sent from my iPhone

Elizabeth Crain — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Elizabeth Crain Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I'm a retail investor and I rely on quarterly reports to make decisions about my investments and retirement savings.
I want transparency with quarterly reporting as a tool for holding companies accountable and a measure to prevent fraud from emerging more.

i want to know about wins with companies to gage economic spending and investing on a quarterly basis and not on a biannual basis.

Elizabeth Dewey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Elizabeth Dewey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Do not allow companies to withhold quarterly reports to the public

---

Elizabeth Gale — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Elizabeth Gale Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This was tried before and didn't work well, so I'm baffled why you're considering this. No way for investors to stay informed.

Elizabeth Giorgio — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Elizabeth Giorgio Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I strongly oppose making the 10-Q semiannual. Public companies need more disclosure, not less. Keep the quarterly requirement. Your role is to protect the investing public and the public at large, not to make corporate dealings less transparent. If companies what the public to invest, they need to make quarterly disclosures. Save the quarter 10-Q.

Elizabeth Greene — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Elizabeth Greene Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the

Securities and Exchange Commission:
Enough! Stand up for the people that invest and trying to save money. I hope there will be lots of lawsuits about this!

Elizabeth Harvey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Elizabeth Harvey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: I strongly oppose the proposed Rule S7-2026-15, which would put small retail investors at a disadvantage. Members of the public rely on public information to make investment decisions. This proposal would make it easier to conceal changes in a company's financial situation - a lot can happen in six months.

The SEC should ensure transparency for retail investors, not give further advantage to insiders and big investment companies.

Elizabeth Hightower — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Elizabeth Hightower Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Keep reporting as it is. We need to know. Transparency !!

Elizabeth Jensen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Elizabeth Jensen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am concerned that our markets would become less predictable and more volatile should reporting happen every 6mos. There is too much room for bad actors if reporting happens only every 6 months.

Elizabeth Lehman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Elizabeth Lehman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Good grief. This rule only benefits the cheaters. Do your jobs!!!

Elizabeth Matthews — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elizabeth Matthews Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly reports. Our life savings and children, grandchildren’s future depends on these quarterly reports. Do the right thing for the American people!!

Sent from my iPhone

Elizabeth Merrick — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Elizabeth Merrick Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the

Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly reports are important to all Americans, even those who don't directly use them, since they are used to make decisions that affect all of us. We need accurate information to make sure the best decisions will be made. We need to be informed to make personal decisions about how our government leaders are doing and if we should have better leaders by voting out the inept, incompetent, and corrupt ones.

Elizabeth Price — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Elizabeth Price Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: I disapprove and do not support the new proposed rule to decrease quarterly reports to every six months. Trust is a function built over time and this degrades the trust I have in the stock market. I am 100% in objection of this new proposed rule.

Elizabeth Putman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Elizabeth Putman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Dr. Elizabeth Putman
SEC quartetly reporting is necessay.
I have to!

Elizabeth Rouse-Wong — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elizabeth Rouse-Wong Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep reports quarterly. I have many investments in the stock market, and I want to know every 3 months, what is going on in company transactions, to keep everyone on a level playing field.

Elizabeth Siggins Schmidt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Elizabeth Siggins Schmidt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Betsy Schmidt
I am deeply disturbed by this latest decision..

Sent from my iPhone

Elizabeth Simpkins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Elizabeth Simpkins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
You see, if companies report less often, investors get fewer regular updates. That means problems can grow for longer before the public sees them, so it’s harder to judge risk and performance early. With less timely information, investors may trust the market less and demand extra compensation for that uncertainty. PLEASE keep it QUARTERLY!
SINCERELY,
Elizabeth Simpkins

Elizabeth Sprague — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elizabeth Sprague Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting on my retirement investments is essential in order to make the right decisions as an elderly retiree.

E Holmes / Chicago

---

elizabeth tipps — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: elizabeth tipps Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Elizabeth Tipps
Delivery driver
I invest in the stock market

Elizabeth Ulloa — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Elizabeth Ulloa Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
The only one that will benefit from this is Trump and his billionaire pact is. More wealth will be taken from the people. Make it stop.

Elizabeth Walkup — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elizabeth Walkup Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is necessary for basic transparency and fairness. Leave it alone.
E. Walkup
Account Manager

Sent from my iPhone

Ellen Durko — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ellen Durko Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We the people do not sanction this

Ellen Glasgow — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ellen Glasgow Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely keep reports quartly!

Sent from my iPhone

Ellen Mass — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ellen Mass Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is the United States of America. Our government of the people, by the people, and for the people requires transparency, representation, and accountability—all have been in short order lately for average Americans, and that’s not how the USA works.

We don’t have second-class citizens. The idea of an unaccountable oligarchic class is against everything for which the U.S. was founded. To keep corporations accountable, the SEC must require reporting quarterly, or more frequently.

Ellen Mass

Ellen McLean — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ellen McLean I can't afford to lose anything from my investments, needed to last me until my death. This SEC rule change suggests chicanery. I've read, and heard nothing, to suggest this change from quarterly reporting is in any way necessary for the good of the country and investors in the country. Please do not change the existing system.

Ellen Moriarty — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ellen Moriarty Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Ellen Moriarty and I own a small design build, residential remodeling company, and employee 20 people. We bonus our team based on net profit. We generate financial reports and share them with our team every two weeks because that information guides how everyone does their job. Information is shared and used to improve our tactics and steer our decisions. I cannot imagine how many errors would go undetected and how difficult it would be to unwind a six month old accounting mistake. Changing the regulations as proposed to make quarterly reporting optional puts investors at risk for companies, losing sight of how well or poorly they are performing and also frankly for fraud. The number of automated systems and ways to share information digitally has made accounting and report aggregation easier than at any other time in history. There is no excuse for corporations to fail to provide quarterly reports.

Get Outlook for iOS

Ellen Schulmeister — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ellen Schulmeister Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Ellen Schulmeister,ellenrita546@gmail.com, retired, haven't we seen enough of what happens without transparency? No way this rule should pass. You are playing with investors money, especially retirement funds!

Ellen Small — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ellen Small Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is a policy that would only benefit a small part of American investors. It’s a shady idea that could be unfair to those of us who invest on a smaller scale.
Ellen Small
Retired

Sent from my iPhone

Ellen St. John — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ellen St. John Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The stock exchange relies on a belief that it is sound. Why chip away that confidence in pursuit of greed? Do not tell me compiling data takes too long today.

Sent from my iPhone

Ellen Trahan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ellen Trahan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Dear people,
six months is to long to wait for reports in my investments. Too many things can happen in that amount of time. The 1% who this will benefit already have ways to get inside trading and special favors. Besides they have more money than they know what to do so let's let us small investors have a chance to make and keep our modest investments by reviewing the company every 3 months.

Ellen Weber — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ellen Weber Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it QUARTERLY! In fact, every other month would be even better!
Ellen Weber

Ellen Weber — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Ellen Weber Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not stop quarterly reporting!! In fact, I think every other month would be way better.
WHAT ARE YOU TRYING TO HIDE?
Ellen Weber

Ellin Leonard — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Ellin Leonard Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Are you all crazy? NO. NO, NO Let them rot forever
Ellin Leonard Conway, NH

---

elsen823 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: elsen823 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Investors and the public deserve to know a company's financial position. Every six months is not often enough, it must remain every quarter. Hold corporate executives accountable.

Sent from my Galaxy

Em Balfe — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Em Balfe Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Emily Tremmel. Less transparency is never the answer. Never. We already know nothing about most of the investments in companies in this country because private equity has taken over everything and they don't report. Regular people have no idea what's going on. How monetized everything has become. It's all a shell game played in the shadows. The only explanation for this rule is to allow companies to hide bad things from those of us who should be able to know and try to protect our money. There's no way to justify this. I'm extremely opposed.

Emigdio Turner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Emigdio Turner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Hi,
My name is emigdio turner, i am a semiconductor yield engineer and an active investor. Moving to a 6 month period is a great disservice to investors like me and will result in more insider trading and corruption. We need more accountability from corporations not less.

Sent from my iPhone

Emily Dabe None, individual investor — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Emily Dabe I am against this proposed change and would like companies to continue to provide quarterly reports. Transparency for investors is key to market stability and biannual reports and insufficient. This is a huge step backwards. Thank you for your time.

Emily Legge — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Emily Legge Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission. I am totally against changing the SEC reporting to 6 months. This will avoid transparency and accountability and increase the risk of fraud. The quarterly reports are working, so why change them? There is no reason unless someone is profiting off of this change
Thank you for your support
Emily Legge
Salt Lake City, Utah 84118
A Voter in all elections

Emily McClure — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Emily McClure Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As a mom of a disabled son, I am counting on having investing knowledge accessible, current, and truthful as I plan for his future financial stability. Stability will permit us to keep him in his current home which he loves and suits his needs.
If you reduce frequency of corporate reporting, the private equity and oligarch fat cats will run wild, raping the companies we've invested in under the 6-month cover. Sunshine is essential for trust in our financial system.
Vote "NO WAY!" on the upcoming vote to reduce frequency of corporate reporting. Let the sunshine in!!
Respectfully,
Emily McClure Santaliz
Cotuit, MA

Emily Moose Moose — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Emily Moose Moose Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep Quarterly Reports! The corporations have already proven they need this monitoring!!

Sent from my iPhone

Emily Roth — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Emily Roth Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Dear Chairman and Commissioners,
I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed amendments to permit optional semiannual reporting by public companies. As an investor, I rely on regular, standardized, and timely financial disclosures to protect my capital and make informed decisions.
Reducing financial reporting to a six-month interval will leave everyday investors in the dark. It creates an unlevel playing field where corporate insiders and institutional firms hold all the information while retail investors bear all the risk. Six months is an eternity in modern macro markets. This rule will decrease transparency, increase stock market volatility, and widen the window for potential insider trading abuses.
The SEC's core mission is investor protection. Replacing quarterly Form 10-Q filings with a semiannual Form 10-S does the exact opposite. I urge the Commission to withdraw this proposal and maintain the quarterly reporting framework that has underpinned the integrity of U.S. capital markets for decades.
Sincerely,
Emily Roth

---

emory martin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: emory martin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly is the only way to avoid corruption period!

Sent from my iPad

---

enator71 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: enator71 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely please keep the reports every quarter. We need more accountability. NOT LESS.

Erbin Lender — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Erbin Lender Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This law works for investors protection. Do not change it.

Sent from my iPad

Eric Finch — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Eric Finch Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it so!
Eric
Only way to keep an on one it.

Eric Hielema — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Eric Hielema Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Eric Hielema, PE, Engineer
In this day and age when divisive politics has eroded trust at all levels, what we need is more accountability not less. The public is on the verge of mass tar and feathers for the 1%, and you want to make it easier for them? Your proposal is no different that the famous, “Let them eat cake.” If you actually believe this is a good idea, you are out of touch with reality.

Eric Johanson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Eric Johanson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Eric Johanson, Business owner & engineer from the great state of Alabama.

I'm shocked at the amount of fraud uncovered in 2025 and 2026.

This is the wrong time to weaken the hard line on intentionally defrauding US citizens.

Thanks for listening,

Eric Johanson

This email and any attachments thereto may contain private and confidential material for the sole use of the intended recipient. Any review, copying, or distribution of this email (or any attachments thereto) by others is strictly prohibited. If you are not the intended recipient, please contact me at eric.johanson42@gmail.com immediately and permanently delete the original and any copies of this email and any attachments thereto.

Eric Pierce — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Eric Pierce As a Senior Engineer at The Motley Fool and an individual investor, I am writing to oppose the proposal to allow public companies to report their finances every six months instead of every quarter. I decide where to put my money based on how healthy a company looks, and quarterly reports are how I get that picture. My biggest concern is losing the regular view of a company's assets, debts, and overall financial condition. For ordinary investors like me, that information is often the first sign that a company is in trouble. If reporting drops to twice a year, problems could go undetected much longer, and by the time investors find out, it may be too late. I respectfully urge the Commission to reject this proposal.

Eric Zenk — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Eric Zenk Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop this now! More benefits for the ultra wealthy while squeezing what’s left of the middle class AGAIN. Different rules for the wealthy versus the average American.

ERIC ZINK — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: ERIC ZINK Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterally reporting!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Erica Dockens — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Erica Dockens Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please don't do this to the American people. Keep corporate financial quarterly reporting mandated.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Erica Lohr — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Erica Lohr Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am not an investor but there has been enough criminal and fraudulent activity in this country and I would like that to come to an end. If you're honest you will truly do what's right and best for the people.
Erica L. Lohr
Retired graphic designer

Erica White — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Erica White Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Once again this this proposal Soundstag crooked and unlawful only to benefit the rich. Why change? Who's and what's the driving factor for this proposed change?
I strongly disagree with this proposal. Just know we the people are watching and voting!! We have the power to vote you in and vote you out!

Erik Eason — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Erik Eason Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am adamantly against your proposal to reduce publicly owned corporate reporting from quarterly to semi-annually. I have been an individual investor buying individual stocks for 30 years. I rely heavily upon the quarterly reports and management conference calls for my investing decisions. This transparency is essential to my investing success, upon which my retirement depends.
Transparency is also an American value as it fosters stewardship amongst our leaders and discourages corrupt insider behavior.
Furthermore, large institutions have the resources to hire the analysts who cultivate relationships with management as part of their duties. They therefore learn immensely important information outside of formal reporting periods, information which I am unable to acquire. This is additionally why quarterly reporting is so valuable to me, as it helps keep me abreast of developments so I'm never too far behind institutions in obtaining essential information.
Your proposed semi-annual ruling would thus put me and my fellow individual investors at an even larger disadvantage against institutional investors. Your role as a regulatory body is to even the playing field and encourage honest stewardship by corporate leaders. Your proposed ruling would do the opposite by making it more uneven against the individual investor and fostering insider profiteering at everyone else's expense.

Erik Nelson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment -- OPPOSITION to proposed optional semiannual reporting From: Erik Nelson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

I OPPOSE the proposed change that would allow public companies to report financial results only twice a year. Quarterly reporting provides the timely, standardized information investors need to make informed decisions, compare companies, and manage risk. Removing that baseline transparency would make it harder for individual investors to follow performance trends, assess changes in business conditions, and plan responsibly for long-term goals such as financial independence and retirement.

For people building retirement portfolios, consistency and timeliness of information matter. Regular quarterly updates help investors evaluate earnings momentum, cash flow, debt levels, guidance changes, and emerging risks before they become larger problems. If reporting becomes optional or less frequent, smaller investors will be at a disadvantage relative to large institutions that can obtain more information through other channels.

The SEC's mission includes protecting investors and supporting fair, orderly markets. Preserving quarterly reporting better serves that mission than reducing disclosure frequency. I urge the Commission to withdraw this proposal and retain the current quarterly reporting framework.

Sincerely,

Erik Nelson
Port Townsend, WA

Erin James N/A — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Erin James Please keep quarterly reporting. Corporations already have great advantages in comparison to individual stockholders. There is no advantage to the American citizen to allow corporate entities to keep their financial progress hidden for double the amount of time.

---

erin peacexo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: erin peacexo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting MUST be saved!!! It keeps people accountable and transparent. Too much fraud and greed from CEOs as it is!!! KEEP it quarterly!!!!!!

Sent from my iPad

Ernest De La Cruz — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ernest De La Cruz Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely keep this law in place. No reason to change it, other than to allow CEO's to hide information from investors.

Thanks,

Ernest De La Cruz

Ernest Fortmann — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Ernest Fortmann Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Yes keep the quarterly reporting. Ernest Fortmann retired Golconda, NV 89414

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Estelle Self — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Estelle Self Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am a 69 year old woman who has recently started investing in a few stocks, nothing spectacular but a big deal to me. I utilize information about my picks that I read up on myself, I don't use a broker because I can't afford all that. I can't do anything without disclosure from these companies. Please do not lock people, like myself out of the opportunities to invest that we currently enjoy. Thank you, Estelle Self, Chicago,Illinois

---

Esther Mays — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Esther Mays Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please continue quarterly reports

Esther Mays — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Esther Mays Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please quarterly is necessary

Sent from my iPhone

Esther Tijerina — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Esther Tijerina Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Esther Tijerin

a Caregiver Keep in quarters we need transparency.

---

estj55 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: estj55 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Continue the quarterly report. Only that will prevent another Enron.

Ethan Amento — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ethan Amento Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I do not approve and will remove my money

Ethan Schmidt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ethan Schmidt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Letting corporations shirk their duties even further only lets the wealth gap in the United States grow.

This proposed rule is malicious and fraudulent in intent, and nobody stands to gain from it. Companies that hide their performance aren't providing value to our society, and should be allowed to fail if they are doing so

---

Ethel Van Campen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ethel Van Campen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please be fair and give everyone an equal chance. Don't hide information meant for everyone.
Thank you for your consideration of this request.
Ethel Van Campen

Ethel Vogel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ethel Vogel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Ethel Vogel
Real Estate Agent I expect and demand that quarterly statements be continued for owners of securities: Stocks, bonds,mutual funds, annuities and more.
I was brought to watch for these each quarter. As someone who believes in the opportunity to invest money, I expect this to continue.
We are threatened to the max by fraudsters in out surroundings.

Sent from my iPhone

Eugene Corona — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Eugene Corona Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Sounds fishy to me. I guess they want to do this because Trump is in charge right now. Do not touch a thing until we get a true honest president in charge again. Vote blue!

Sent from my iPad

Eva — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Eva Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It's not enough to have the ceos and cfos do this without all the board members and the heads of hr and legal. They need to be certified for obeying fcc regulations like not using ghost jobs to spoof stock prices or failing to properly classify employees as employees rather than contractors and failure to ensure that contractors who bid on jobs for stuff like the call center or ai resume parsing software or whatever are following employment law and stuff isn't being ignored by those departments

Sent from Proton Mail for Android.

Eva Gold — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Eva Gold Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly disclosures are needed for investers like me to make informed decisions on investments in a timely way. Why would the SEC change a policy in the direction of restricting/limiting information, and less transparency, taking away important information?

Eva Ray — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Eva Ray Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Eva J. Ray
84 Bradley Hollow Rd
Lafayette, TN 37083

I'm retired, and this would effect me directly.

Eva Thorn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Eva Thorn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Investors need to know what is going on!

---

eve lespier — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: eve lespier Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We must keep our quarterly reporting .This will only lead to less transparency and more insider trading. I say don't do it!!!!

Evelyn Brown — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Evelyn Brown Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I think it is more important, than any other time in history, for transparency. Once a year is not enough, for investors to make informed decisions regarding their investments. A company could be in trouble, and could fail within a year, and investors would not have a clue. In every way everyone talks about the future that we are supposed to embrace the future, for example, AI. Why are you wanting to go back to 1955 on investments.

Evelyn Walano — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Evelyn Walano Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This is a horrible idea. We know this is going to lead to irregularities and illegal activity. Dumb, dumb and dumber!

Exp trust — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Exp trust Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Time to stop investing in

USA companies

Fabienne Mayfield — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Fabienne Mayfield Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY!

Sent from my iPhone

Family Olivares-Reed — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Family Olivares-Reed Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Elizabeth Olivares-Reed
Advanced Quality Specialist
There was a reason why transparency was instilled in the first place. We've been able to avoid an Enron-type of disaster since. We should maintain the quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Fay Sligh — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Fay Sligh Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is unfair and only good for the lawyer and the big wigs! We must stop all this lies!

Faye Buckalew — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Faye Buckalew Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please reconsider your proposal to move away from quarterly reporting to semiannual reporting. While semiannual reporting will not material affect large investors with substantial investments, it could be disastrous for the average middle class investor who relies on their much smaller investments to provide income for retirement and protection against unforeseen hardships. Quarterly accounting allows us to better track and manage the small assets that we do own. Semiannual accounting could easily mean that we are not aware of a company's or firm's financial distress until they have been significantly affected which would then significantly affect our careful planning and saving for our future.
I implore you to keep quarterly accounting as the standard reporting.
Respectfully,
Faye Buckalew
Fleetwood, PA

Faye Hastings — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Faye Hastings Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly disclosures minimum or maybe monthly disclosures!

Faye New — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Faye New Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is not a good idea, especially for people who are seniors and depend upon their Social Security and retirement income to be able to survive. Only reporting once a year or twice a year is dangerous and could make the economy collapse for many people. It will have devastating effects, not only for families, but for whole communities
Please do not do this. F, Newfield retiree Jacksonville, Florida.

Felicia Adessa — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Felicia Adessa Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

We need fairness and transparency now more than ever. Please maintain and protect quarterly disclosures.

Thank you, Felicia Adessa

Felicia Dotson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Felicia Dotson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This 6 month practice would not benefit anyone and I can foresee this being a disaster.

Lady Fe

Felix Nicol — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Felix Nicol Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Felix N, retail shift manager & artist, the company I work for has completely open books and that transparency helps us track treads much better than conventional stores. We even go over the books with our entire company of 100 employees quarterly, it's not that hard.
Preventing large amounts of money from fraudulent dealings is a good thing all around. Keep things quarterly.

-Felix N

Fencer Roy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Fencer Roy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There is no logic in rolling back disclosures. What in the world are you all thinking? Transparency is why our market is the world’s largest and most respected. Don’t screw it up.

Roy E. Miller
Sent from my iPhone

Flo Mendez-Beatty — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Flo Mendez-Beatty Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want to maintain quartly reporting so corruption will be impossible unless they will risk jail and a fine. I am tired of being thought of like a fool. We see the corruption of this administration daily and the desire to eliminate any accountability or consequences. Flo Mendez-Beatty retired from Pueblo Colorado

---

Floyd Clelend — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Floyd Clelend Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Floyd Cleland retired. This matters to me cause lots of good Americans can be stolen from in 6 months and we will again loose are money president trump needs stop.this now this is more vite getting for democrats sad poor timing wait till after the election take this off the table and say it was a bad ideal then bring it back a better way Republicans cant afford to loose votes and this will loose them my money will be turned to cash and my stocke will be cashed out Monday im done this will truly make are stocks go down sad ideal

---

Forrest Jackson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Forrest Jackson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Forrest Jackson. Personal finance is a passion of mine and I help a lot of my friends and coworkers understand investing and retirement accounts. It is important that market information is freely available to individual investors. Wealth is already so concentrated and there are so many ways for Wall St insists to get rich - DO NOT LET THEM GET AWAY with less frequent reporting.

Fountoulis Anastasios — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: financial proposition From: Fountoulis Anastasios Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I have a financial proposition for you.
Your email was provided as an active user on the internet by google LLC.
Reply for more information

Fran Benton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Fran Benton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Come on now let’s not reduce transparency. The American say: “Keep it Quarterly”!!!

Fran Crilley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Fran Crilley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Accountability is paramount in financial institutions.
Leave quarterly reports as they are for all our well-being .

Thank you,
Fran Crilley

---

frana jones — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: frana jones Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 When they are held accountable and are put in a regular JAIL facility instead of club med perhaps then it might wake someone up. They are gambling with people's money every day, and which is their life savings. If nothing else they should have to support the families that they destroy until their demise.

Fran Jones

Frances Berger — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Frances Berger Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Dear SEC,
Why would you Even Entertain the Notion of eliminating Quarterly Reporting?
Your Very Existence implies open access and oversight for an industry which affects Financial Stability Worldwide!!
Do your job Properly, and Dismiss the thought of operating a Literal Dark Web of highly suspect Transactions, hidden from the very people whose Own Money is being Manipulated.
The SEC means Exactly Nothing without Honest Scrutiny and Open Information- it's the Very Reason you operate!!
Respectfully,
A Concerned Stockholder - Who would not prefer to revert to Cash Only

---

Frances Pearce — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Frances Pearce Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a former financial statement auditor, I believe that quarterly reporting is necessary to increase the likelihood that any errors or fraud will be identified in a timely manner.

Frances J. Pearce
843.819.2737

Sent from my iPhone

Frances Pitts — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Proposal to reduce public company reporting From: Frances Pitts Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Seriously?? Cutting reporting requirements is the opposite of the transparency and disclosure required for a fair and honest market. I spent 35 years as a lawyer in financial services, and witnessed massive fraud, bankruptcy and even the liquidation of an FDIC insured bank. ALL the problems I saw could have been avoided with better reporting and regulatory oversight. Do NOT do this. Dishonesty and self dealing do not thrive in the light of disclosure, only theft and fraud will be advanced by this proposal

Frances M Pitts
Senior Counsel, PNC National Bank NA (ret)

Sent from Yahoo Mail for iPhone

Francisco Pena — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Francisco Pena Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not decrease the frequency that issuers must follow. Public companies have a commitment to disclose material information about their earnings and generally health. Current rules require quarterly reporting, which is a reasonable frequency, and issuers consistently demonstrate the ability to meet this quarterly requirement. Therefore, there is no need to decrease this requirement.

Frank Adams A State Employee Speaking for himself, implying no endorsement by his organization — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Frank Adams There are only two realistic explanations for the proposal of S7-2026-15: utter ignorance, or utter corruption. Even utter stupidity does not offer a third option. The financial crisis of 2008 should have taught us that under-regulated and under-observed financial institutions will engage in ruinous speculative ventures on the chance of abnormal returns. Enron and Healthsouth should have taught us that -absent observation and incentive - ruthless manipulators will act in their own interests at the expense of their investors (that last, BTW, iska short definition of Agency Theory). We know the results of loosening the constraints on those looking at business finance as a computer-managed, percentages portfolio of Blackjack games. Homes lost. Retirements destroyed. Jobs lost. Uncertainty that drives down everything from lifetime earnings to birth rates. Regular reporting of public firm financial standing and ownership trades is one of the few defenses the US citizen (whose financial future is often bound to investment instruments) has. Those proposing S7-2026-15 either are not competent to propose policy, or have criminal intent.

Frank Falcon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Frank Falcon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Companies should not be able to hide vital information from retail investors. What on earth even possessed the SEC to consider allowing something like this? Quarterly disclosures are vital!

Frank Hirsch — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Frank Hirsch Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting period quarterly.

Frank Hirsch, Wisconsin, retired. My livelihood depends upon my investments' stability. Reduced reporting robs investors of the ability to make timely decisions.
The rationale of cost savings is flawed for at least 2 reasons. All of the infrastructure for quarterly reporting is already in place. Also, the growing use of AI will bring DOWN the cost of reporting. Plus, reduced reporting increases the ease of wrongdoing and manipulation, of which we have seen SO MUCH THIS YEAR!

Frank Hirsch
Stevens Point, WI
Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

---

frank martino — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: frank martino Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The current rules remain nessacary to maintain our current system.

Sent from my iPhone

Frank Pulsinelli — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Frank Pulsinelli Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is simply another gift to the rich and their corporations. It should NOT be passed! If given 6 months to hide and shift their assets, then this is exactly what they'll do. Another trump gift to the already rich. Makes me sick. I'm 65, grandmother to 9. One of many reasons this matters to me is that I want my grandchildren to live in a country that respects all levels of people and is governed by HONEST politicians that respect and govern according to the CONSTITUTION.

Sent from my iPhone

Frankie Hogue — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Frankie Hogue Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
No, please. If anything, make them more accountable! This is too important to millions of citizens. Please help protect us!

Fred Canonoy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Fred Canonoy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Federico Canonoy, retired government employee & military. KEEP IT QUARTERLY! It's working.

---

fred impens — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: fred impens Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it Quarterly! Thats how its been done and how it should be done!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Fred LeMoine — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Fred LeMoine Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 If it ain't broke, don't touch it!
Fred LeMoine
722 Country Meadows Way
Bradenton, FL 34212

Freda Eisenberg — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Freda Eisenberg Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I'm writing to oppose the proposed rule change to eliminate quarterly reporting because it will reduce transparency for smaller investors and exacerbate the concentration of wealth by advantaging those with more direct avenues to knowledge. We need more transparency, not less, and a more equitable playing field for retail investors.

Frederick Teitelbaum — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Frederick Teitelbaum Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It smacks of malfeasance and an opportunity to mislead the public and investors. Computers make this a no brainer with instant reporting. So 90 days is not required.

Fred Teitelbaum
827 Kimball Street
Philadelphia, PA 19147

G Gaujean — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: G Gaujean Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not end quarterly reporting. As a shareholder, I have a right to know how the companies I invest in are doing. My retirement and savings portfolio are at stake. Not knowing will lead to fraud and Volatile stock prices which would hurt ordinary investors like myself. Transparency matters. Please continue with the quarterly reporting!

G Gotham — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: G Gotham Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do NOT relax the restrictions placed on corporations to provide accurate quarterly reporting by law. Stop making policy that benefits only the corporate lobby groups while ignoring the many many Americans whos taxes pay your salary, compensation, health insurance, stipe ends, travel expenses, pensions and more. We all know where it will lead if you do make this change.

Gabriel Johnson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Gabriel Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly is a necessary safeguard against fraud. Do not change the rules.

Sent from my iPhone

Gabrielle Grothues — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Gabrielle Grothues Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not allow Rule S7-2026-15 to pass. It will create rampany corruption and hurt the retail investors. There's no reasonable explanation other than to allow defrauding.
Do not let this be part of your legacy.

Gail Aluisio — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gail Aluisio Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep reporting every three months. It is not your money! It is the money of investors!

Sent from my iPad

---

gail finn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: gail finn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quartet reporting.keep quartet reporting

Sent from my iPhone

Gail Sklar — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gail Sklar Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly reviews to try and keep CEOs honest.

Gail Stoke — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gail Stoke Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I do not support this!

Gail Stoke

214.354.8413
ghstoke@gmail.com
www.linkedin.com/in/gailstoke

EDUCATIONAL FIRST STEPS
Board Chair
www.educationalfirststeps.org

Gail White — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Gail White Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Don’t turn this back; we need transparency. Lots of small investors will suffer consequences which enable big corporations to cheat.

Sent from my iPhone

GALE TOOMBS — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: GALE TOOMBS Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The small investor is at a disadvantage as things stand. Quarterly reports provide some reasonable, periodic means of judging how a company's operations have performed and may be expected to perform in the short run and the long run. One assumes that reporting is according to GAAP and that management adheres to the law. Quarterly reporting has long been the corporate tradition. I see no legitimate reason to change that requirement. The small investor (me) needs accurate, up-to-date information to make the best decisions for his/her portfolio. Quarterly reports are not too much to ask of corporate entities that expect investors to help provide capital that the companies need.

Bill Toombs
Retired teacher
Small investor

Galen Brooks — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Galen Brooks Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No. Do not do this thievery.

Galen F Brooks, MD.

Sent from my iPhone

Garnet Muehlhausen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Garnet Muehlhausen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Garnet L. Muehlhausen, retired.
Quarterly reporting is important to me because the federal benefit check is not adequate for anyone's needs and so I need to keep close watch on my investments. In investing, 3 months is a long time, please do not lengthen that time!

Garrett Albert — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Garrett Albert Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I Garrett Albert don't agree with this.

Gary Crawford — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gary Crawford Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Protect my retirement portfolio by CONTINUING to require quarterly reporting. Corruption and fraud increased over my lifetime. Don't give more wiggle room to the fraudsters. Studies show societies work better when the level of trust is higher. Do everything you can to increase the level of trust by decreasing the fraud. Gary Crawford MD

Gary DiTomasso — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Gary DiTomasso Keep Quarterly Reporting. "I'm a retail investor and I rely on quarterly reports to make decisions about my retirement savings. Letting companies wait 6 months is an open invite for insider trading. I cannot believe this is even being considered.

Gary H.Oberbeck — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Gary H.Oberbeck Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Retain quarterly reporting. Accountability is the issue.
How do you expect someone to make informed decisions when the reporting of financials is LESS current? Quarterly reporting should be the minimum in order to maintain transparency. Gary Oberbeck retiree, Phoenix,AZ

---

gary hatz — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: gary hatz Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 CEO's are well paid. Their feet need to be held to the fire to prevent any more padding of their pocketbook.
I oppose reducing the accountability.

Gary Kaiser — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Gary Kaiser Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please leave well enough alone; this change will disrupt the status quo and result in new fraud, some of which will be unintentional but harmful nonetheless.

Gary Kaiser

GARY MARTIN — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: GARY MARTIN Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 In my opinion, not only do we need to have quarterly reporting in corporate America, but we need to have it in political America as well. Auditing anything where other people's money is being used is a wise thing. Significant amounts of money can be lost even in a quarter, much more in two or three quarters. I don't understand why anybody with any sense of justice would want to let anybody who is CORRUPT AND STEALING MONEY, UNLESS YOU YOURSELF ARE CORRUPT AND BENEFITTING.

Get Outlook for Android

Gary Mi — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gary Mi Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 85 % of my income comes from US stocks. Please keep the Quarterly reports the same as they have been for a lot of years thank you.
Gary Miserlian
Retired investor

Gary Miserlian
941 6620561

Gary Nelson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Gary Nelson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly, leave it Quarterly. Quit trying to find loopholes to keep us in the dark.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

GARY PRICE — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: GARY PRICE Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep corporate reporting quarterly!
They all cheat.

Sent from my iPhone

Gary Seeman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gary Seeman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As retirees, my wife and I depend on our modest investments. Quarterly reporting helps discipline senior management to perform in the interest of shareholders. Allowing them to hide key financial data can only abet hiding poor performance or making controversial moves that could adversely impact stock value.

I also see that removing more guardrails can allow corporate behavior that undermines value in many companies concurrently and make companies vulnerable to going under in a financial shock where they would otherwise normally survive. What would have been a moderate dip could become a crash.

I urge you strongly to keep them honest with quarterly reports, instead of letting corporate management betray their investors unseen.

Gary Seeman, PhD

Gary Shaffer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gary Shaffer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Make it monthly.

Gascodems — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gascodems Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep Quarterly Reporting.

Gay Boston — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Gay Boston Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is more than generous. Do not increase the ability to hide facts - good or bad.

(1) I rely on quarterly information to make decisions
(2) longer gaps create an unfair advantage for insiders
(3) "optional" doesn't fix the problem because companies that opt in are most likely the ones whose investors most need frequent updates
(4) the savings to companies aren't worth the cost to me.

GAYLE PETRI — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: GAYLE PETRI Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No, stop this!!! We as investors and retirees need to know what is. Happening with our investments often .

Sent from my iPhone

Gene Eason — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Gene Eason Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Reporting quarterly means twice the oversight. Money is probably the strongest motivator of bad behavior. The more oversight the better. I am a retired police detective last assigned to forgery and financial crimes.

Gene Nevill — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gene Nevill Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency is a paramount item in investment. Allowing the dimming is not just bad idea but a way companies can hide problems.

Geneva Fishman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Geneva Fishman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Geneva Fishman, I am a hairstylist and was a business owner for 20 years. This is important to me because there is little to no consumer protection anymore. The little guy is held accountable while the top 10% do whatever they want and the rest of us (90%!) lose.

Genevieve Luna — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Genevieve Luna Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Companies need to be held accountable and report earnings on a quarterly basis. They need to update shareholders more frequently than on an annual basis.

Geoffrey Kaufman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Geoffrey Kaufman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 For the sake of us, the public, I strongly urge you to maintain quarterly reporting.

Geoffrey Kaufman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Geoffrey Kaufman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 For the sake of us, the public, I strongly urge you to maintain quarterly reporting.
Geoff Kaufman

Geoffrey King — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Geoffrey King Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It’s a really simple question and has a really simple answer. Why? Why would you want to make corporations even less accountable than they are now?
Any reduction in oversight is only going to produce more suspicion (real or imaginary) that the public, the investors, the media, are being deprived of data which could be of huge significance.
We, the public, deserve an explanation of why a perfectly reasonable and useful mechanism should be overturned.

Sent from my iPhone

George Brown — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: George Brown Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 George Brown VP International Cystinuria Foundation; keep the quarterly reporting as it is very important to track the foundations as well as my own investments

George Cieutat — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: George Cieutat Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There is little to no value for the people to reduce reporting requirements.

I'm George a concerned citizen who thinks too much wealth is taken from people and put into corporations and the ultra rich

Cheers

George

George Davenport — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: George Davenport Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This is crony capitalism and should not be allowed.

George David Knapp — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: George David Knapp Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keeping reporting quarterly keeps ALL administrations HONEST. Don't EVER change.

George Downing — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: George Downing Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please save quarterly reporting! This is a get out of jail pass for crooked CEO's.

Respectfully
George Downing
Retired
1031 East st.
Dedham, MA 02026

Sent from my iPhone

George Horan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: George Horan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The stock reporting needs to stay quarterly. The general public needs that information to keep their portfolio current.

Twice a years is insufficient.
My name is George Horan and I am retired and cannot afford to have this gap in reporting. Please keep the market honest.

Sent from my iPhone

George Murphy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: George Murphy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is needed with all the too big companies that have failed.

George W Murphy III
480-650-5267
https://www.primerica.com/georgemurphyiii

George Paccerelli — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: George Paccerelli Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting must remain mandatory. Regrettably, American corporations brought this on themselves due to so many past incidents of unethical behavior

---

George Spelman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: George Spelman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange.
I recently began investing in the market and encouraged my kids to do the same. I showed them how to locate and investigate potential opportunities and explained the possible risks. Without being able to access the necessary information needed to make educated decisions, I would discourage them from participating and look for alternative opportunities.

George Weiss — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: George Weiss Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY !

Georgia Watrous None — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Georgia Watrous Keep it QUARTERLY! Stop Trump from manipulating information!

Georgiana Schlab — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Georgiana Schlab Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I don’t think that anyone should be able to hide their books most especially businesses. I'm totally against it.

Georgiana Schlab
512-963-9878

Georgianne Klipa — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Georgianne Klipa Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I don't have a ton of money. I am retired. But not receiving information on the small amount of money I have invested seems unfair.

my hope is that agencies understand that their are millions of us small investors and so often we feel the burden of corporations with huge wealth having the upper hand.

not sure who has lobbied for this rule change, but it just feels like once again the little guy is squashed by the wealthiest of folks. Please reconsider changing the rule on quartile reporting.
Thank you,
Gigi

Gerald Givens — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Gerald Givens To the Securities and Exchange Commission: I am writing as an individual investor to oppose the proposal allowing public companies to replace quarterly reporting with semiannual reporting. My primary concern is transparency and equal access to information. Public markets function best when all investors have access to timely, standardized information about the companies in which they invest. Quarterly reporting helps create a more level playing field by ensuring that retail investors receive regular updates on company performance rather than relying on rumors, selective communications, analyst interpretations, or information that may be more accessible to large institutional investors. As an individual investor, I do not have access to the resources available to major financial institutions. I rely on publicly available disclosures to make informed decisions. Reducing the frequency of required reporting would increase the information gap between ordinary investors and those with greater financial and informational advantages. Quarterly reporting is not merely a compliance exercise. It is a cornerstone of transparency, accountability, and trust in U.S. capital markets. Investors provide capital to public companies with the expectation that those companies will communicate their performance on a regular basis. Less frequent reporting weakens that relationship and reduces the visibility investors have into changing business conditions. The strength of U.S. markets has long rested on robust disclosure standards. I believe maintaining mandatory quarterly reporting requirements serves investors, supports market confidence, and promotes fairness for participants of all sizes. For these reasons, I respectfully urge the Commission to retain quarterly reporting requirements and reject the proposed semiannual reporting option. Thank you for your consideration.

Gerald Joubert — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Keep Quarterly Reporting From: Gerald Joubert Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Gerald Joubert, LMSW—Mental Health Therapist

The reason quarterly reporting frequency needs to remain as is, “ENRON 2.0”. 3 months, not 6 allows an interval that is not too cumbersome, yet keeps accountability for any company.
I am 5 years from retirement and have played “by the rules” to establish my nest egg. I don’t trust a monitoring pattern allowing companies to avoid transparency. Nor companies advocating for this as I want to be able to retire with dignity by avoiding financial scandals in the market.
Please do not allow less than quarterly. I will not make it without my small portion of investments carrying me through retirement. Remember ENRON please.
Gerald Joubert, LMSW Byron Center, Michigan.

Gerald Webber — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Gerald Webber Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 For crying out loud are these bastards ever going to stop the corruption or they just going to let the corrupt destroy our country . You shouldn't be making it easier for companies to screw the people

---

Geraldine Velarde — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Geraldine Velarde Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I think it would be too dangerous for the general public and its investors

Sent from my iPhone

Geralyn Martin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Geralyn Martin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
It is difficult enough for a working person to make informed decisions as to what is best way to invest for the long-term financial security without being able to have information on a regular basis

---

Geri Roe — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Geri Roe Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is a must for businesses to ensure what happened at Enron does not occur again. Financial reporting is important for a growing economy. It adds to public confidence in a business.

---

gigi mashburn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: gigi mashburn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I expect quarterly reporting. This is my $and i need to know what’s going on

---

Gilbert Family — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Save Quarterly reporting From: Gilbert Family Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Hi,
My name is Jereen and I have 3 degrees and 35 years of business and consulting experience. So I have been around the block a few times.

Accountability and honesty in business is maintaing by standard quarterly reporting practice. Yes, Quarterly reporting can be manipulated for fraud but it harder to do than if you had semi annual or annual reporting.

Evil greed is creeping into the world exponentially with politics and abuse of power at a very fragile time for humanity and tech. We have enough lawlessness through political based NGO's serving up graft and money laundering than we can count. There is also runaway crime and human trafficking.

Now you want to expand corporate corruption into the mix by nixing quarterly reporting? Whats going on here?

This is a greed based money grab for CEO's and executives! American citizens deserve better! Save quarterly reporting! Please do the right thing!

Sincerely,
J Gilbert

Gilbert Rael — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Gilbert Rael Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My Name is Gilbert Rael I am a data analyst. I thought that the SEC was to protect investors and maintain fair markets. Now the SEC is proposing new rules that favor insiders. I am appalled that your agency would even consider something obviously concocted by entities attempting to game the system. I will be contacting my congressman to voice my concerns.

Sent from my iPhone

Gina Braswell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Gina Braswell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Gina Braswell, Real Estate

It's important in this day to allow the investors to know what is going on. It is also easier for the company when the news is not good rather than hold back important info for a long as possible. Your investors will appreciate the straight forward approach. Refreshing in such a volatile market. Now more than ever; information is how we will make posative progress through our constantly changing world.

Gina Jones — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Gina Jones Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Gina Jones RN,Ccrn .This is my retirement money. I need to have an unfiltered access, not just 6 months at a time.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Gina M.M. Sims Johnson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gina M.M. Sims Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is imperative that the public has access to this information and that the SEC maintains necessary FREQUENT checks and balances, keeping private entities HONEST. IT'S ABOUT #ACCOUNTABILITY !!!!!!
MAINTAIN the current quarterly reporting standard.

Warmest Regards,
Gina M.M. Sims-Johnson, Middle-TN Grand Division VP
Email: gigisimone62@gmail.com
Phone: (931)588-9679 [10:00a - 5:00p, CST]
PROUD US ARMY VETERAN🎖️
VFW Lifetime Member 🪖
DAV Lifetime Member ♿
Tennessee Federation of Democratic Women ♀
National Federation of Democratic Women 🐘
DVG Solutions Unlimited, LLC 🌙
SIMPLY ELEGANT Event Planning & Coordination 💎

"Lean FORWARD, INTO Your Storm" - Sorris Sims, Jr 🌊

"Women must become revolutionary. This cannot be evolution but revolution." - Congresswoman Shirley Chisholm 🇺🇸

"Be the Kind of Woman Who Knows Who She Is—And Own It" - Maya Angelou 👠

PLEASE NOTE.....The information contained in this message and any attachment may be proprietary, confidential, and privilege or subject to intellectual property guidelines, thus protected from disclosure. This message is covered by the Electronic Communications Privacy Act, Title 18, U.S. Code §2510-2521.
If the reader of this message is NOT the NAMED RECIPIENT(S), you are hereby notified that ANY DISSEMINATION, DISTRIBUTION or COPYING of this communication is STRICTLY PROHIBITED, and thereby subject to legal action. If you have received this communication in error, notify me IMMEDIATELY by replying to this message and deleting it and all copies and backups thereof.

Thank you for your cooperation 👈🟫👉⬜

Gina Rizzo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gina Rizzo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Bad things happen when secrets are kept about public companies. Being transparent about earnings and keeping the people responsible accountable is essential.

Gina Rizzo, PhD
California

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Gina S — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Gina S Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 WHAT are you thinking??? Just trying to find one more way to make average Amercans feel like they don't matter?
Keep the quarterly reporting. It forces then to be somewhat honest.

Today is the tomorrow you worried about yesterday.

Ginny Sexton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ginny Sexton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting. Need information on accounts in s more timely manner. Would prefer monthly but will take quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

Gisela O'Connor — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gisela O'Connor Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep reporting it quarterly!

Get Outlook for iOS

Glen Case — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Glen Case Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Glen Case, clinical director,
This puts an unnecessary hardship on long term investors .

Sent from my iPhone

Glen Colton — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Glen Colton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 ESAD you self-dealing crooks

🤗 Another missive from Glen Colton's iPhone

Glenda Hanshaw — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Glenda Hanshaw Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Doing it quarterly is holding ceos accountable to the American people. The constitution begins with We the people. So that is who they should be accountable too.

---

glenn bear — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: glenn bear Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the requirements. For quarterly reporting

---

glenn schwartzenbach — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: glenn schwartzenbach Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting, don't enable more fraud and less accountability. Protect the public!

Sent from my iPhone

Glenna Mote — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Glenna Mote Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Glenna Mote retired. RN we want accountability and information.

Gloria Braunschweig — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Rule S7-2026-15 From: Gloria Braunschweig Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not allow public companies to hide financial information for six months. To do so harms most investors. It's another power grab by the MAGA elite and shows partisanship by the SEC. It protects insiders against investors and sets up another potential catastrophic market crash if financial information is only shared every six months. Less transparency sets up the potential for more fraud, more Enrons and SMCI's.

Gloria Braunschweig
Gloryb8@outlook.com
Vancouver, WA 98682

Gloria Chiodo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gloria Chiodo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Bad idea. Stop trying to disadvantage the small investor.

Gloria Hobdy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gloria Hobdy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 With the digital age of click click, it's done, investors need more information, not less. Please help those of us without inside contacts to keep out trust in the companies we invest our saving in. Thank you.

Gloria Lewis — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gloria Lewis Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keeping investors in the loop is part of accountability! Don’t make it more difficult!

Sent from my iPhone

Gloria Moore — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gloria Moore Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The rich get richer and the not so rich don’t have a clue. Why do they need more money that they cannot spend in a lifetime?
Gloria Moore

Sent from my iPhone

Gloria Towner Retired Educator — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Gloria Towner Please keep Ouartly Reporting

---

gmail — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: gmail Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 You are facilitating highway robbery on the investing public, peoples pensions and non-profits.

How about enforcing the securities laws that already exist?

William Schleicher

Sent from my personal iPhone

Gordon Garrison — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gordon Garrison Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026

Gordon Garrison — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gordon Garrison Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep SEC reporting quarterly

Sent from my iPhone

---

gphjah — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: gphjah Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep qtr reports for the public. Hold CEO accountable at least 4 times a year.

Sent from my Galaxy

Greg — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Greg Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency is the key to all business, why would you cast doubt when thetr is no need.

Sent from my iPhone

---

greg barnes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: greg barnes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Biannual reporting was an empirical failure between 1955 and 1970. The market has done superbly well with quarterly reporting since, facilitating transparency and more accurate valuations. Don't fix what isn't broken for the mere benefit of insiders! - Greg Barnes, 4608 Green Valley Dr., Jefferson City, MO

Greg Mauer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Greg Mauer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
SEC Members,
I urge you not to change the rules of corporate financial reporting. This will adversely affect investors all over the country. Maintaining corporate reporting on a quarterly basis is extremely important. Significant changes in a companies standing can take place in 6 months. Please show respect for investors/savers all over the USA. Retirement accounts, college savings accounts and much more stand to suffer.
Respectfully,
Greg Mauer - Greenfield, IN

---

greg schaller — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: greg schaller Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Greg Schaller- Retired

As a retiree that looks forward to the fruits of saving and investing for over 40 years, this smacks against transparency and the judiciary responsibility to all investors!! SHOW YOUR INVESTORS YOU RESPECT THE HARD EARNED MONEY INVESTED IN YOUR COMPANIES THAT ENABLE THEIR CONTINUED GROWTH!!

Regards,

Greg Schaller
Cell 630-917-4466

Gregory Johnson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gregory Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency and accountability are more important than ever in today's business climate. Weakening those facets of business accounting only benefits thise looking to manipulate and take advantage of regulations and share holders. Please maintain the current accounting process!

Gregory Johnson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Gregory Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The more often, the better. As investors, we want to be updated on the company's performance as often as possible. Twice a year is not enough. Quarterly is the standard, but personally I'd like to see updates every month.

Gregory P. Haas — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Gregory P. Haas I am an individual investor. As a retired person dependent on both Social Security and the return on my investments, I believe semiannual reporting would: Reduce transparency. Make it harder to evaluate investments. Unduly increase risk. Affect confidence in public markets. Harm smaller investors who depend on public disclosures. Therefore, I am requesting that the rule to keep company financial reporting to a QUARTERLY basis NOT be changed.

Gregory Palmer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gregory Palmer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No hoodwinking the public! Ethics is what you are missing for profit! Cowards all!

Sent from my iPhone

Gretchen Kinder's Gmail — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Gretchen Kinder's Gmail Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please maintain quarterly reporting. Reducing this mandate creates even more opportunities for corporate “bad actors” to engage in unchecks and bad behavior. One of the roles of government is maintaining checks and balances to keep our country safe and (economically) healthy. Please do your job.

Thank you,
-gk-
Gretchen Kinder
Bath, ME

Sent from my iThing

Guillermo Bailey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Guillermo Bailey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As a licensed professional and a retail investor, Rule S7-2026-15 has the potential and likelihood to cause irreparable damage to the financial markets for decades to come. As we already know, anytime that financial reporting is reduced or stopped, some of the worst fraud and other financial crimes take hold in our markets. With the increase of AI and the speed of execution in the market, we stand to create a whirlwind of financial harm to the majority of Americans.
While large institutions may be able to find the information that retail investors will no longer privy to with this new rule, as we have seen in the past, it will eventually catch up to them too. We already see that there is a potential for an AI/Tech Bubble, and obscurity in blockchain development. We cannot afford to reduce what is reported.
Please do not enact Rule S7-2026-15!

Gwen Pearson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Gwen Pearson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do your job! That’s all we ask! The whole administration is so corrupt-is that why you feel you don’t need to watch the quarterly paperwork?

---

gyps3000 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Please. How hard is it From: gyps3000 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 How hard is it to keep reporting quarterly. I run my own business by myself; completely & fully. Including reporting & paying quarterly.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

H Lee Edington — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: H Lee Edington Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Less reporting means less openness, less transparency. Don’t let convenience cause less. Keep quarterly!

Sent from my iPhone

H Schaeffer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: H Schaeffer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need scrutiny when it comes to money! Don’t stop quarterly checks!

Hair Harmonics — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Hair Harmonics Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am 75 years old, have owned my own business for 45 years. Many years ago our stockbroker put a bunch of our investment money into Enron, a company that we discovered lied, cheated, intentionally cut off electricity to regions which put many companies, dependent on that power, out of business. In one case melting their entire inventory!
We personally lost much needed money that our representative at Morgan Stanley thought would be secure. The quarterly reports are designed to protect us from this malfeasance! You must keep the quarterly reports.
It won’t force criminal minds from trying to get away with crap, but it will make it harder and they will be more accountable.
Laura Sullivan.
Washington State

Sent from my iPhone

Hallie Hauer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Hallie Hauer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am Hallie Hauer, a driver for a small regional disability transport company. The region I live in is often overlooked within my state, and easy to "forget" funding for when the budget is set for the year, decade, etc. Often, we get "passed over" because of lack of interest by more moneyed folk. The wealth that larger (multi-) national corporations have a documented history of fraudulently hiding, rather than paying their fair share of in taxes, especially after so often conning everyday Americans, could so easily be invested back into communities and regions like mine - which are also often some of the hardest hit by the tactics of these same companies. Ergo, these companies could stand to make up for the damage they do by giving back, in the form of taxes injected into public infrastructure. Or, hey, if they actually have nothing to hide, then they'd have no problem reporting their true profit, right? It's the right thing to do either way. Keep the reporting schedule quarterly. It was made that way for a very good and necessary reason.

Hans Gunn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Hans Gunn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Hans Guun, retired, Why go to six months? Saves them money. No.

Harold Humphrey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Harold Humphrey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I, Harold Humphreyand retired plumber wants to know how all my stocks are doing as often as I can. I also want to know as much about it as I can

Sent from my iPhone

Harry E Bishop, II Retired, Private Investor — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Harry E Bishop, II Thank you for your solicitation of comments regarding your proposed rule S7-2026-15. My comments stem from both my experience as a private investor as well as a retired senior executive serving in the healthcare industry. I read the proposed rule and did not see the reasons for this proposed change. I admit that I may have missed your reasons, and if I did, I apologize. I have thought through reasons such as the reporting onus on organizations under the present riles and do not see the logic in this reason. Every organization prepares monthly financial reports for its executives. If so, then what extra burden is placed on an organization to report quarterly as they do at present? Private investors such as myself do not possess the financial infrastructure that large investment companies have that assists them in gathering intelligence regarding the financial position of organizations at any time. As such, private investors rely heavily on the quarterly reports. Thank you for your attention to my comment and I am confident that you will continue to protect the small private investors.

Harry Lovero Retired — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Harry Lovero I’m retired but seeing my quarterly earnings or losses is very important in the financial decisions that I make in my continuing retirement. Having to wait longer means that I would miss out on valuable opportunities! Harry Lovero - Retired

---

Harry S Nydick — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Harry S Nydick Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Actually, I prefer monthly. If they are cheating investors, the tax people AND customer's, they should lock them up and throw away the key.

Harry S. Nydick — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Harry S. Nydick Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Actually, I prefer monthly. If they are cheating investors, the tax people AND customer's, they should lock them up and throw away the key.

Harry Tarver — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Harry Tarver Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I would like the SEC to switch to monthly reporting instead of quarterly reporting. This will keep investors more frequently informed to make better trading decisions. 6 month reporting is a non-starter. I'm a retiree who is concerned fraud and insider trading. The SEC should also disclose all trading by elected and appointed people in government.

Harvey Hoffman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Harvey Hoffman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Harvey, retired. Twin cities. It's important to have the reports done as often as possible. Perhaps there could be a website which shows how thijgs go on a daily basis. Not fair to keep thijgs in the dark from investors. Especially of they are small.

---

hbowlan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: hbowlan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do we really need to make it even EASIER for people to commit fraud...? My name is Hunter Bowlan, Property Manager, and I would like to be able to access the market someday as an investor. But that part of the American dream is being stripped for parts and stolen from people like me. Don't make it easier to steal the public's money.

Heather Fotiadis — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Heather Fotiadis Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No 6 month black out period!

Heather Fotiadis

Heather Foust — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Heather Foust Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Big No. Not an acceptable practice.

Heather Freinkel Attorney — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Heather Freinkel I am writing to urge the SEC to protect the American people who it is meant to serve by continuing to require quarterly reporting. Quarterly reporting is necessary to protect consumers and investors.

Heather G — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Heather G Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting for public companies. Changing reporting to semi annually could be disastrous for investors, and allows companies to hide how they are doing. I'd like to see more transparency, not less.

Heather Gillespie
Reno, NV

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Heather Herzog — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Heather Herzog Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 In 2008, every major modern accounting scandal was enabled by gaps and opacity in financial disclosure and this resulted in the failures of Enron and the fraud of Madoff. Quarterly filings don't prevent fraud, but they dramatically shorten the window in which it can fester before someone outside the company can see it. Therefore, I oppose less frequent financial disclosures.
Thank you,
Heather Herzog
(A retired IT publications manager, and current investor)

Sent from my iPhone

Heather Nolen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Heather Nolen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm a teacher. It is vital that society reflect the high ideals of honesty & transparency & forthrightness, all things that we want our young people to imbibe as students & to live out as American citizens. You want to allow Wall Street to be able to hide their books for 6 months?!!? How truly unAmerican. And dishonest. Reporting should remain quarterly.

Sincerely,
Heather Nolen

Heather Powers — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Heather Powers This change to 6 month reporting does nothing to help normal people with small investments like me - a teacher in Denver. The "savings" public companies would see with this change is not worth the risk to the public. There is no rational need for this change; except to benefit rich companies over normal Americans. Don't do it. Thank you,
Heather Powers, Denver CO

Heidi Hoffman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Heidi Hoffman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Being an investor of stocks and bonds, I want QUARTERLY REPORTS TO REMAIN QUARTERLY. Period. I want to know what my money is doing, and the viability of the company I invest in, just as YOU would.

Heidi Hoffman

Heidi Noon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Heidi Noon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop the steal, I demand to know what is happening with MY money! I want accountability from the people in control of decisions regarding Me! Keep it Quarterly!

Heidi S — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Heidi S Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why not do reporting every four months (3x) a year before going crazy...right now we get 4x, (March 31, June 30, Sept 30, and Dec 31, year end)....Assume they are trying to pass only June 30, and Dec 31, year end. Let's make it April 30, August 31, and Dec 31, year end, so there is still some transparency and accountability; kinda middle of the road transition....Heidi Speciale, Business Manager, I have managed finances for company for 19 years, and like the fact that owners of company stay involved, and review financials. ..it also helps them make better business decisions.

Helen Gain — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Helen Gain Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Helen Gain as a small business owner. Why hide or delay information as any company with integrity has nothing to fear. Absolutely no to holding back information.

Sent from my iPhone

Helen Gilbert — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Helen Gilbert Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is necessary to uphold corporate integrity. We don’t need another ENRON debacle.

Helen Gilbert
Manager and IT Specialist

Helen Harman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Helen Harman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 we must have quarterly info to keep companies as honest as possible.

Helen Kate McAllister — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Helen Kate McAllister Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not make this change . You are robbing real people to cuddle murderous bullies and war creaters
.

Helen Tosh — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Helen Tosh Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reports are very important to anyone invested in stocks but especially to seniors who depend on their investments to live. Please protect this reporting schedule. I am now retired and no longer have the ability to add to my savings. I need to depend on my investments and in order to do that I need the quarterly information to make the right decisions. Helen Tosh, retiree,

Sent from my iPhone

Helen Williams — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Helen Williams Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do NOT change from the quarterly reporting! I am an investor, I need to see how my investmens are doing. In my husband and my opinion, we know it could be very bad news for us and you to hide out for six months at a time as we use the money in our retirement. I am Helen Williams, was a teacher. I depend very much on the money in our retirement life month to month living.

Sent from my iPad

Helena Zinkham — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Helena Zinkham Please keep the QUARTERLY reporting requirement. Change happens faster and faster in our world. Allowing 6 months without a formal statement of a company's financial status makes it much harder to gauge the health of a company and to make investment decisions. Posting the quarterly status in a public and transparent way online is an important public service, not undue government regulation.

Henrietta Muffoletto — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Henrietta Muffoletto Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Just one more way to scam and defraud the public!!!

Henrietta Muffoletto

Henry Bergstresser — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Henry Bergstresser Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need to keep them honest!

Henry Garcia — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Henry Garcia Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 If we've learned anything, it's that employee s whose compensation is ties to favorable financial reports will lie to keep their jobs and bonuses. It's just human nature. Do not water down this quarterly requirement! If the reports are honest, it's just a signature required. Thank you, Henry Garcia

Sent from my iPad

Henry Hartleb — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Henry Hartleb Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the

Securities and Exchange Commission:
This rule would allow the powerful companies to strip wealth from us by commiting fraud. Have we forgotten what happened with Enron????? Stop the waste fraud and abuse by these elitest!

Holly Boros — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Holly Boros Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting as is. We would have to think twice before investing in ANY company that does NOT report quarterly.

Sent from my iPad

Holly Bowen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Holly Bowen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I don't think I want to have less communication about my accounts. Leave it alone.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Holly Bricker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Holly Bricker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it at quarterly reporting. To many things happen if it isn't being checked on more often. I am retired my name is Holly

---

Holly Jennings — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Holly Jennings Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 That is the least they can do, is report 4 times a year. They don't need a bigger window to make record profits and not tell people what they are doing.

Holly McCord Duncan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Holly McCord Duncan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The reports need to be signed quarterly for investors to make reasonable decisions. We’ve seen what happened when CEOs can hide for too long. Keep people accountable.
Holly McCord Duncan, Smart College Admission founder

Sent from my iPhone using voice dictation. Please excuse the errors.

Holly Williams — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Holly Williams Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As investors in our stock markets and with our money tied in our banks we demand full disclosure of both quarterly filings as well as annual. This should not even be a topic of discussion. I expect as an investor in a company to do the same and above all the SEC.

Thanks,
Holly

Homi Mistry — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Homi Mistry Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP THE SIX MONTH REPORTING!

Homi Mistry,
.AIA, MRP, IIA
19 Elm Avenue
Delmar, NY 12054
5187031119
Falcon1937@hotmail.com

Hope Gold — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Hope Gold Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Isn't their enough fraud and billionaires? SAVE QUARTERLY REPORTING! .....DRU SORENSON BUSINESS OWNER FOR 40 YEARS. Down on Main Street. BX 109 Hope AK 99605

Hope Lemen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Hope Lemen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am retired and i want to continue getting quarterly reports on my investments. This very important.
Thank you.
Phyllis Lemen

Sent from my iPhone

Howard Lubcher (LG) — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Howard Lubcher (LG) Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am a CPA. Anything less than Quality reporting is a breach of corporate responsibility. Howard Lubcher CPA (licensed NY 1983)

Sent from my iPhone

---

hsm164 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: hsm164 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No more Enron! Keep it the way it is.

Sent from my Galaxy

Hugh Jazzole' — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Hugh Jazzole' Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 MAKE THEM MONTHLY!!

---

hugh severs — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: hugh severs Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 NO! NO! NO! NO! THERE IS ENOUGH FRAUD IN THE WORLD WITHOUT SCREWING UNSUSPECTING INVESTORS.

---

huney bunch — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: huney bunch Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting! It's hard enough to see where our money goes in three months. In six months we could be broke and not know for to long. Patricia Spauling
771 Ashley Rd 189 Montrose Ar 71658

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

---

huney bunch — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: huney bunch Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly! It's only fair that we can monitor our money. If 8t were up to me you need to send out monthly reports!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Hunter Hill — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Hunter Hill Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Hunter Hill. I am an attorney. For years I have been responsible for maintaining my own retirement planning through the use of my self-directed ROTH IRA. I need quarterly reporting in order to make informed investing decisions. Stripping me of access of quarterly disclosures by making reporting bi-annually will deny me the vital quarterly reports I need to continue to make informed investing decisions. Moreover, the bi-annual proposed reporting requirement would cripple ETFs, those common vehicles relied upon by investors such as myself. Etfs need quarterly reports in order to update their portfolio holdings.

Sincerely

Hunter Hill

---

ian osgerby — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: ian osgerby Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Public companies are not to have secrets from the public and investors! We all should have an equal opportunity and that means pertinent data is to be in the public domain!

Idris Aquil — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Idris Aquil Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it reporting quarterly! The new SEC proposal is not welcomed

---

Irene Diveris — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Irene Diveris Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is more effective & informative. Continue quarterly reporting.
Irene Diveris
Woodbridge, Virginia
Retired

Sent from my iPad

Irene LeClair — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Irene LeClair Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is very disturbing & needs to be kept the same. Actually companies need more monitoring & accountability. SEC needs to address insider trading in Congress! Please keep the quarterly reports . Thank you mandatory.

Irene LeClair
11 Altair Ave, Plymouth, CT 06782

Irene Sussle — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Irene Sussle Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Too much time to allow for fraud in 6 months. Its already happened with Enron so why make changes. Stay quarterly so we, the 98%, can watch our investments easier and make changes if needed.
Jack Sussle
Retired

Iris Fields — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Iris Fields Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Under no circumstances should the public be reduced to LESS info. The reason it's quarterly right now is because of bad actors in the past. If anything they should have to report monthly. A lot can happen in 90 days.

Why was this even suggested?

Irvette Timms — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Irvette Timms Continue to require quarterly reporting as it is important to keeping companies honest in their financial situation and also protects investors. As quarterly taxes must be filed this should simply be part of the process that takes place during that time. There is no downside to more data when it comes to financial health of a company

---

Irwin Goldenberg — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Irwin Goldenberg Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Rabbi Irwin Goldenberg.
I support quarterly reporting because transparency is critical to economic stability.

It's good to be queen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: It's good to be queen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Cynthia Lahne and I'm a driver for a non-profit. I do a little trading when I can but this new deal will hurt me! Leave it quarterly!

"The alcoholic starts drinking out of the bottle and pretty soon the bottle starts drinking out of him." Johnny Cash.

I play well with others just DON'T TOUCH MY TOYS!

It's GOOD to be Queen!
Cynthia M. Lahne

Ivonne Robinson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ivonne Robinson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Ivonne Robinson. I'm a public school teacher. I believe businesses need to report quarterly to maintain financial transparency, meet legal and tax requirements, and benchmark performance. This regular cadence helps management pivot strategies, build investor trust, and establish a steady rhythm for governance and internal accountability. Our nation has a history of corporate greed. Regular quarterly accounting will help reduce this growing trend of abuse.

ï»¿Susan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ï»¿Susan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Frankly, they should report every other month. For heavens sake don't let accountability slide for SIX months. Supply chain problems, product failure, changing market place, downright falsification of profile margins affect how my investment decisions are made and how my retirement income grows or shrinks. Six months is long enough for marginal or failing companies to formulate an extension strategy that benefits top management but not investors or the worker bees. Sincerely, Susan Nolte, DVM(Cornell Class of 1984)

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

J Beck — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: J Beck Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep up quarterly reporting

Sent from my iPhone

---

j defore — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: j defore Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why on earth would someone even think this is a good idea? I work in the credit area and I understand the issues this will cause when attempting to extend credit to a comapny. This is an absolutely stupid idea.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

---

j finn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: j finn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Instead of giving companies the ability to lie ,cheat and steal even more, how about we tighten restrictions on them, to if nothing else level the playing field . Its Americans like my self, a recent widower , who need the help with the day to day . Not the captains of industry lining their pockets on the back of our citizens.
Joseph Finn , retired widower.

J Louis — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: J Louis Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly. Citizens need this protection.

Sent from my iPhone

---

j palmer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: j palmer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Janet Palmer, retired. Please, no 6 month reporting. KEEP IT QUARTERLY!! I and many other seniors don't need our retirement funds to tank. Quarterly reporting keeps things more transparent and offers less chance for companies and large investors to cheat the system. We have enough grifting in our system. We don't need to give those who cheat, more room to do so. KEEP IT QUARTERLY. Quarterly reporting has worked for so long, it's not broke, no reason to "fix" it.

J Tillman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: J Tillman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Earnings information is critical for investors to make informed decisions and not be defrauded by corporations.

This should not change. Do not give into to corporate greed. Again.

J.T. lennon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: J.T. lennon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Joyce Lennon. This matters because those that do not or can not afford stocks shouldn't be disqualified from the knowledge of where we get things with less guilt of continual hurt in the process. I am a crafter, and many stores of this type have questionable practices.

Jack Ciesielski, President, R.G. Associates, Inc. — Jun 22, 2026
R.G. Associates, Inc.
Investment Research/ Investment Management
1510 Pinnacle Road
Towson, MD 21286
Jack T. Ciesielski, CPA, CFA Phone: (410)499-5924
President jciesielski@accountingobserver.com
June 22, 2026
RE: Reforming Proposed Amendments to Permit Optional Semiannual Reporting by Public Companies –
File Number S7-2026-15
Vanessa A. Countryman, Secretary
Securities and Exchange Commission
100 F Street NE
Washington, DC 20549109
Dear Ms. Countryman:
I appreciate the opportunity to comment on the Securities and Exchange Commission's proposal to permit domestic reporting companies to file one semiannual report and one annual report per fiscal year, as a replacement for the quarterly reporting regime that has existed since 1970. I am writing as an investor and an accounting analyst.

During the California and Klondike gold rushes of the 19th century, many prospectors believed they had “struck it rich” but were instead deceived by striking iron pyrites – “fool’s gold.” This proposal is the fool’s gold of securities regulation. It promises to end short-termism in management thinking without providing any evidence that it will do so. It promises to supercharge initial public offerings – whose recent popularity seems to be wholly unrelated to “burdensome” quarterly reporting requirements. It promises issuer cost savings without considering the costs markets may impose through higher cost of capital. By keeping auditors out of the quarterly information cycle within their audit clients, it will make audits more difficult and possibly less effective.
The expected cost savings from this proposal may well turn out to be “fool’s gold.”
Quarterly reporting contributes to the integrity, liquidity, and attractiveness of U.S. public equity markets. The existing requirement underpins how investors of all types build valuation models, monitor risk, and allocate capital. It benefits more than just debt and equity investors: lenders craft debt covenants based on quarterly information, and audit firms get an early start on problems they might encounter before year end – when the pressure to complete the audit is tremendous.
Reducing the frequency of required reporting would weaken one of the mechanisms that narrows the information gap between corporate insiders and public investors. Longer intervals between mandatory reports would widen the information advantage of insiders over investors of all sizes. It would widen the information advantage of large institutions over retail investors. Institutional investors can rely on alternative data, private meetings, and bespoke research not available to retail investors, who are more dependent on Form 10-Qs to understand operating performance, balance-sheet health, and emerging risks.
The proposal undermines the Commission’s three-part investor-protection mandate: to protect investors, maintain fair, orderly, and efficient markets, and facilitate capital formation. After the 1929 crash, Congress created the SEC to restore confidence by requiring truthful disclosure and fair dealing. Capital formation is not a substitute for investor protection; capital formation depends on markets that investors trust, and those markets are buttressed through robust disclosure by issuers.
Stretching the gap between mandatory periodic reports from three months to six months would not eliminate the demand for current information; it would simply push more of that information into private or unequal channels, widening the advantage of insiders and sophisticated intermediaries over ordinary shareholders.

That asymmetry would likely degrade market quality. When public financial information becomes stale, market makers and counterparties face greater risk and have reason to widen spreads to compensate for that added risk shouldered. Volatility is also likely to become more concentrated around the fewer remaining periodic report dates, because more information would arrive in larger increments. The burden would fall especially heavily on smaller issuers.
The proposal would also impair the ability of long-term investors and fiduciaries to do their jobs. As pointed out by the California Public Employees' Retirement System in their comment letter, quarterly data materially improves trend identification and risk monitoring by providing four observations per year rather than two: critical for tracking operating data points such as revenue, margins, taxes and cash flow; balance sheet metrics such as leverage; and other developing risks. And as Pranav Ghai of Calcbench has reported in his comment letter, there is growing institutional demand for quarterly data, and investors have built portfolio monitoring, valuation models, and risk systems around a quarterly cadence. Less frequent reporting would therefore not simply inconvenience investors; it would make capital allocation less informed and stewardship less effective.
The proposal's short-termism rationale is unpersuasive. Professor Shivaram Rajgopal, the Roy Bernard Kester and T.W. Byrnes Professor of Accounting and Auditing at Columbia Business School, has stated, "R&D programs, capital expenditure decisions, and strategic acquisitions have multiyear horizons. They do not operate on three-month cycles, and they will not operate on six-month cycles. A CEO inclined to sacrifice a research program to make quarterly earnings will make the same sacrifice to make semiannual earnings. Halving the reporting frequency does not cure managerial myopia; it gives it a longer runway."
International comparisons do not support reducing U.S. disclosure frequency. China requires listed companies to publish quarterly, semiannual, and annual reports under China Securities Regulatory Commission regulation, with detailed exchange prescribed formats for quarterly filings. That matters because China is a large, globally significant market – a rival that makes 50-year plans, supposedly. Yet in that market, the regulatory choice has been to maintain a formal quarterly reporting framework rather than reduce periodic transparency.
The example of Progressive Corporation points in the same direction. Progressive has voluntarily provided detailed monthly financial results to investors since at least the early 2000's, and in its own investor materials explains that it reports monthly "in order to give investors and creditors the same information management uses to assess business performance." Progressive also ties monthly reporting to its core value of integrity and to its commitment to "timely, accurate, and complete financial reporting," stating that "to that end, we report our results monthly." A credible, sophisticated public company has concluded that more frequent standardized disclosure strengthens alignment with investors and creditors; it has not concluded that less frequent disclosure would improve long-term decision making.

Progressive's
Nor is it clear that the proposal would produce the savings its proponents suggest. Professor Rajgopal notes that many companies would still need to produce quarterly financial information for lenders, ratings processes, index eligibility, internal management, and other commercial functions, meaning the accounting work would often continue even if public disclosure became optional. In that scenario, the practical effect of the rule would be not to eliminate the production of information, but to move it away from the public market and into private channels. That is difficult to reconcile with the Commission's obligation to protect investors and maintain fair, orderly, and efficient markets.
If the Commission wishes to reduce issuer burden, there are better alternatives. It could streamline the content of Form 10-Q, reduce boilerplate, sharpen materiality expectations, and modernize the presentation of quarterly information without reducing frequency. If the concern is short-termism, the Commission could focus on forward earnings guidance and executive incentives rather than weakening the historical reporting framework on which investors rely. Those approaches would address cost and behavior more directly while preserving transparency.
For these reasons, the proposed amendments should be withdrawn. Optional semiannual reporting would deliver, at most, modest and potentially illusory compliance savings, while imposing real costs on investor protection, price discovery, liquidity, comparability, and fiduciary oversight. The Commission's mission is not merely to facilitate capital formation in the abstract; it is to protect investors and maintain fair, orderly, and efficient markets so that capital formation can occur on trusted terms. Preserving mandatory quarterly reporting is far more consistent with that mission than cutting the public information cycle in half.
Best regards,
Jack Ciesielski
President, R.G. Associates, Inc.

Jack largent — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jack largent Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Let’s not go backwards, this is one of the few checks and balances left

Sent from my iPhone

Jack Rand — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jack Rand Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports going We don't need more corruption

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Jackie Bass — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jackie Bass Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I admit to having no expertise in finance, however I am a keen observer of large companies and their actions regarding shareholders and employees. I do not trust them to be forthright about their dealings. The more light that is shed on their activities is to the benefit of the public.

Jackie Langlois — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jackie Langlois Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We must keep up quarterly reporting in order to keep all of these corporations, honest and working in the best interest of all of the people not just their investors

Jackie
Jclanglois@icloud.com

Jackson Pensuer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jackson Pensuer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The only way the Marklet to remain strong is for the American people and indeed, peo-ple aropund the world can trust the Market. Cutting our ability to know what a company is doing, may benefit a few for a while. But in the long run, iterodes trust and interaction with the Market. If a company or corporation asking for our investment can't let us know how their business is really going, then I see fewer people investing blindly.

Jacob A. CPA — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Jacob A. I am writing in strong support of the Commission's proposal to provide a voluntary option to disclose certain information on a semi-annual basis. Currently I serve in a financial reporting capacity for a publicly traded financial institution, and am a CPA. I've observed that a majority of comments received and made publicly available in opposition of the proposal are from unsophisticated individuals or individuals who do not understand with any depth the implications of the proposal. The optionality a From 10-S would provide can reduce the burdens of financial reporting and accounting departments at smaller publicly traded companies without jeopardizing the integrity of financial markets. First and foremost, material information would still be required to be reported on Form 8-K in a timely manner, contradicting many of the negative comments implying companies could "go dark" for six months at a time. Secondly, a majority of institutional investors have implied that releasing quarterly earnings in some form would still be the expectation, and in my estimation most publicly traded companies would still elect to disclose quarterly earnings. The burden relieved would be in the preparation and review of certain footnotes and less significant sections of the MD&A which may not be particularly relevant to most investor groups on a quarter by quarter basis. I would implore any of the negative commenters to explain specifically which footnotes and or other disclosures included in Form 10-Q they rely on each quarter, and how a reduction in the frequency of receiving that information would impact their allocation decisioning. Many of the negative commenters also imply a level of deep systematic distrust of companies and their management teams. Simply put, if you believe the switch to semi-annual reporting gives management the greenlight to act maliciously or otherwise be more dishonest, then you probably shouldn't be allocating your investments to those organizations regardless of the frequency of reporting. In summary, the proposal is a positive step forward by the Commission in re-focusing the SEC on its core tenets, including the facilitation of capital formation (which hadn't been the case under certain prior leadership groups).

Jacque Gray — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jacque Gray Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep Quarterly Reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Jacqueline — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jacqueline Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To whom it may concern,

With financial fraud and corruption on the rise and having infiltrated the top of our governmental institutions, as a citizen, though not perfect, the long standing quarterly regulation serves the public good of We The People. It should remain in full.

Respectfully,
Jacqueline Gargiulo
Agent of Culture and Change
Downers Grove, IL

Sent from my Sprint Samsung Galaxy S7. Please excuse typos!

JACQUELINE DELANEAUX — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: JACQUELINE DELANEAUX Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026
To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I have investments for my retirement and I can't afford to lose them or gamble with changing quarterly reports to semi annual reports that history has shown to be bad for investors. If it's not broke don't fix it or change it to something that is.....

Jacqueline Firmin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jacqueline Firmin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This is just another means of making the rich get richer and the poor get poorer

---

Jacqueline Lavoie — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jacqueline Lavoie Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
What are you thinking. Quarterly is minimum what you can do. Don't fool with the investors. You'll feel their rath.

Jacqueline Poole — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jacqueline Poole Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep as is, don’t change. Jacqueline Poole, retired, common sense!

Sent from my iPhone

Jacquelyn Anderson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jacquelyn Anderson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As a new investor it is important that i know and understand how the leadership of a company is managing so that I can determine if I want to continue investing with them. Without these guardrails my money becomes vulnerable to decisions that may no longer align with my principles causing me to loose my investment. I vote for policies and participate during calls and meetings. Without these notifications in a timely manner without the ability to decide the best route for my money. Small investors need information and quarterly earnings meetings allow us to know the direction of the ship before the end of the journey and whether we want to exit at a port that is beneficial to us. Small investors matter. Don't take away the tools that we use to make decisions for our money.

Jacquelyn Smith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jacquelyn Smith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

Jae Kim — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jae Kim Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please keep the quarterly reports to keep corporations accountable to its investors.

Jake Siu — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jake Siu Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am an individual retail investor and work as a data analyst. While I understand the concern that quarterly reporting may encourage short-term thinking, I believe reducing mandatory reporting from quarterly to semiannual would decrease transparency and make it harder for ordinary investors to evaluate public companies. Large institutions have access to analysts, management meetings, and other sources of information that retail investors do not. Quarterly reporting helps maintain a level playing field and provides regular accountability from company leadership. I encourage the SEC to preserve quarterly reporting requirements while exploring other ways to reduce short-term market pressures, such as reforming earnings guidance practices and executive compensation incentives.

Jake Siu

James — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: James Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 JG, work in tech for one of the largest and most profitable companies in the world. Why would we even consider less oversight into the workings of corporations who have repeatedly demonstrated they cannot be trusted to hold themselves accountable. This is a minimal level of oversight right now, why reduce and erode public trust in these companies even further. As an active investor, I rely on accurate information to make informed decisions about where to put my money, and an update every half a year is not sufficient for risk analysis

This is a dangerous precedent and the SEC has basically capitulated to major corporations at every turn, particularly with various layers enforcement and anti monopolistic protection.

Please do the right * thing.

Best
JG

James Asher — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: James Asher Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This would DERELICTION OF the SEC's duty, and ruin my retirement invesents, most definitely.

It's too tempting to these guys knowing their propensity for easy fraud. As we found out before.

James Asher, Musician (semiretired)

Sent from my iPhone

James Barry — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: James Barry Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Leave things as they are and lock him up!

Sent from my iPad

James Bissonnette — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: James Bissonnette Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it monthly!

James Bloomer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: James Bloomer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Accountability is the job...Do your job.

James Dillon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Dillon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 More reporting not less. Less reporting allows for shady activity to be hidden.

James Foster — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: James Foster Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Cmon, we Americans are tired of this crap, we get screwed n companies n Corporations do what they want..... No more.. .We the People have had enough.

James Foster — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: James Foster Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Cmon, we Americans are tired of this crap, we get screwed n companies n Corporations do what they want..... No more.. .We the People have had enough. James Foster Crook County Illinois

---

James Gainey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: James Gainey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The continuing theft by the US Corporation's leaders needs stronger deterrents, and Goverence, not a free pass by the SEC.

James S. Gainey

James Goodhart — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Goodhart Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency through quarterly reports is the most important tool investors have to determine value in their investments. Please keep quarterly reports a requirement for publicly traded companies. Thanks, James Goodhart, Realtor

Sent from my iPhone

James Green — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: James Green Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As a life-long investor, I use quarterly reports to steer my portfolio. Removing these from my toolkit would severly limit the upside potential of my investing career.

James Hahn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Hahn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 What a dumb idea I will pull out of the market

---

James Hale — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: James Hale Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY!!!!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

James Hale — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: James Hale Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING!!!!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

James Harris — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: James Harris Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Seems that hiding Financials for 6 months could have a destabilizing effect on the stock market, and people would be inviting blindly. What even is the point of hiding Financials, if not to avoid accountability?

James Holland — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Holland Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want you to keep orderly reporting for organizations. I manage my investments myself, and it's important to me to have timely reporting. There is no good reason to require reporting only every 6 months. It's likely to cause speculation and poor investment decisions.

Jim Holland
151 W Parkfield Ct.

Racine, WI. 53402

James Jemail — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Jemail Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I would stop investing. Eliminating quarterly reports would be too risky and irresponsible. Investing requires more information not less.

James

James Jones — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Hey SEC - Save Quarterly Reporting! From: James Jones Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Paul Atkins was chosen to reduce regulations including those that were passed to prevent more Enron like scams. Enron's fraud should not be allowed by any other large corporations. Trump has no problem with fraud (such as not paying contractors that did work at his Atlantic City Casinos). Requiring the CEO and CFO to sign their quarterly filings. Enron executive played ignorant about the scam accounting. The SEC's own proposal 8-K filings don't contain financial statements. The filings lack accountability. Sarbane-Oxley became law in 2002. Health Souths CFO tries to quit rather than certify numbers he knew were fake. He was the first of 15 executives to plead guilty in a $2.7 billion fraud.

Do not unwind Sarbanes-Oxley.

Sent from Yahoo Mail for iPhone

James Kingrey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: James Kingrey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 By changing it they are right those with a little money in stock will be affected negatively, or will not have the same opportunities as those with larger sums of capital in those businesses. It should stay as it is.

James Lawrence — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: James Lawrence Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why do we republicans always try to make it easier for white collar criminals to commit crimes?? Stop the nonsense and leave reporting at quarterly! Jim Lawrence-retired veteran of the military and law enforcement!

Sent from my iPhone

James Lee Stanley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Lee Stanley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There is already so much corruption in this regime We cannot add to it by making such a short sighted decision. Enough oligarchal kowtowing. We have had it.

Sent from still another maddening device.
www.jamesleestanley.com www.datamusicata.com www.allwoodandstones.com www.allwoodanddoors.com
www.allwoodandled.com
James Lee uses Taylor Guitars, K&K pickups

James Paluch — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Paluch Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

James Planner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: James Just so.

James R. Madden — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: James R. Madden Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Prior to the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, too many CEOs and CFOs did not take personal accountability for the accuracy of their quarterly and annual financial filings, often relying on "plausible deniability" if discrepancies or fraudulent activities were later uncovered.

While federal laws already mandated that public companies provide accurate disclosures to shareholders, top executives could legally delegate compliance responsibilities and often distance themselves from the day-to-day accounting processes. Because they were not required to personally guarantee the figures, executives were primarily incentivized by quarterly profit targets and stock performance.

This corporate environment fostered significant management fraud and lax reporting, culminating in massive accounting scandals at corporations like Enron. The Sarbanes-Oxley Act completely overhauled these dynamics by permanently altering executive accountability.

Keep It Quarterly! No changes to reporting intervals!

James R. Madden
Chemical Engineer, IT Consultant
7515 Sheringham Ave
Baton Rouge, LA 70808-5762
225.266.6196 mobile

James Ryan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: James Ryan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly

Sent from my iPhone

James Sargent — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: James Sargent Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Needs to be quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

James Shea — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: James Shea Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not minimize the transparency. The Country is already questioning the integrity of the SEC, do not perpetuate the problem. Quarterly reporting is already the minimum.

James Shelton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: James Shelton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Their adherence to the law, as it is now, is the only thing protecting the public !!

James Smith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: James Smith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is James Smith,

I work in the Financial planning industry. I think moving quarterly reporting to semi-annual would be a huge mistake. We need clarity and honesty in reporting. Insider trading is at an all-time high, and this change would only support that. We are not ok with people with power taking advantage of the system and the people. Keep the statements quarterly!

Sincerely,
James Smith

James Sweeten — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: James Sweeten Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting keeps public companies honest. If they haven't done anything wrong then they have nothing to hide.
James T Sweeten Jr, Indiana

James Taylor — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the transparency and quarterly reporting. I feel this adds more confidence and security for us investors.

J Edward Taylor
Myakka City, Florida

James Tielebein — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: James Tielebein Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is James Tielebein. I am an investor and I oppose S7-2026-15 which eliminates quarterly reporting.

To do so is like eliminating police officers. Increased crime and fraud is likely to result as a result of both actions. I vote with my pocket book. If elected officials are unable to support me, I am unable to support those officials. If this is about cost savings, elected officials should oppose any unnecessary war costing $1 billion or more per day. I have not seen legislative majorities.opposing the unnecessary war. The elected officials should oppose that unnecessary expense.

To reduce reporting is to enable fraudsters and to oppose financial security and the self reliance of hard-working Americans. That is also how I view anyone who would enable fraud and thus destabilize US markets.

James Tillman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Tillman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Monthly transparency or even weekly depending upon volatility of the company. More transparency equals investor confidence. With the advent of Artificial Intelligence to increase reporting speed and accuracy in accounting why do companies need more time. I think the IRS and the SEC should adapt artificial intelligence auditors to make transparency of all publicly traded companies more prevalent and decrease the risk of another Enron and other fraudulent practices a thing of the past.

James Whitmore — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: James Whitmore Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want individuals like Jeffrey Skilling and Andrew Fastow (Enron executives) to continue to be held accountable for their actions.

James Williams — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Williams Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Reducing accountability during a period of heightened fraud concerns is a terrible idea. We need more transparency, not less. Please keep quarterly.

James Wrzosek — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: James Wrzosek Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 You can not trust management to do the honest things. They don't deserve a benefit to lower their expenses when they reward CEOs with extravagant remuneration

---

Jamie Blackburn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jamie Blackburn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Reporting needs to stay quarterly there is too much potential for fraud and other issues to crop up. Especially in public traded companies. They should be transparent to their shareholders quarterly at a minimum.

Jamie Craig — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jamie Craig Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not make any changes to the current policy! Enough with this administration's lack of accountability!

Sent from my iPhone

Jan Gentry — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jan Gentry Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quit trying to hide the TRUTH ! KEEP IT IN THE LIGHT !

Jan Gentry — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jan Gentry Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quit trying to hide the TRUTH ! KEEP IT IN THE LIGHT ! WHY HIDE 🤫🤫🤫🤫🤫

Jan Grummert — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jan Grummert Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please continue quarterly reports…

Get Outlook for iOS

Jan Kellar — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: From: Jan Kellar Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it Quarterly. The fraud that is rampant in Corporations and the Trump administration is destroying the United States.

Jan Kellar, American citizen for over 70 years.

Jan Porter — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jan Porter Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Even quarterly is sometimes not often enough.
Don't make it WORSE!

Yours,

Jan C. Porter
Spring Lake Michigan

Jane Bartels — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jane Bartels Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 HEY, SEC: KEEP IT QUARTERLY.

Sent from my iPhone

Jane Bluestein — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jane Bluestein Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Retired person here. Relies on transparent and timely quarterly reporting. Please don't change this.

Jane Dorn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jane Dorn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is not acceptable! Be responsible!

Jane Dorn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jane Dorn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 SEC This is not acceptable! Be responsible!

Jane Fillmore — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jane Fillmore Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Jane Fillmore, retired, Florence Arizona. As a retiree looking forward to many years of enjoying life, it is important for me to manage my investments. Quarterly reporting is essential for this. Please do not change corporate reporting periods to semi-annual.

Jane Francella retired — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Jane Francella As a retired individual investor I oppose this proposal of extending reporting periods. This favors large institutions that have the private resources to monitor companies in real time, putting regular investors at a severe disadvantage. Less frequent reporting forces longer gaps between verified corporate updates, which will result in wilder price swings when news is finally released. Cutting required disclosures in half creates blind spots, inevitably leading to an increase in undisclosed corporate mismanagement and fraudulent activity.

Jane Gianoulis — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jane Gianoulis Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No that is not transparent! I bote no for that to change!

Sent from my iPhone

Jane Haughian — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jane Haughian Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Those who do not learn from history are DOOMED to repeat it! Look at history before making a stupid decision!

JANE HOYT — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: JANE HOYT Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 QUARTERLY REPORTS are Necessary for the Continued Growth of our Economy! They tell us if we need to be aware of a budding problem. They give us confidence in the HONEST Transparency of the companies and corporations that energize our economy. J Hoyt, TX, Retired VP

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Jane Kuhn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jane Kuhn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly reports are essential to financial success of the country. I expect them to continue. The current status of the stock market is unacceptable under the trump regime!

Jane Turcotte — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jane Turcotte Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: I'm not a wealthy person. I have a modest investment portfolio that I manage myself. I'm happy to say I've done pretty well so far. Quarterly disclosures act as a report card for me - a way to check on the health of my investments. Please do not eliminate them. It is information that a publicly traded company should be keeping public. Thank you!

Jane VanTilburgh — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Jane VanTilburgh Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This matters to me because I worked hard for over 25 years to have a safe and secure retirement. I am now retired. I would like to help our children and grandchildren more, but this proposed change makes this much less likely. I want retirement to be my “golden years”, not a time when I have to cash in bottles and sell things to put food on the table. I want what was promised. Treat us as you want to be treated.

Jane Wood Retired Data Analyst, State Farm — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Jane Wood What is the matter with the SEC? Thinking that quarterly reporting should be changed is irresponsible and unconscionable. Keep the US in sync with the countries who "trade rich" - South Korea, Japan, and India, not second rate countries.

Janeen Clark — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Janeen Clark Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 NO MORE ENRONS!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Janelle LaRue — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Janelle LaRue Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Your proposed actions will not only affect my investments but future generations.

Janelle McClintock — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Janelle McClintock Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 If you have my money you need to report it monthly just like my bank accounts.

Janet — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Janet Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY!

Sent from my iPhone

Janet — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Janet Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Wall Street controls most of what people spend daily, they should not be allowed to wriggle out of responsibility

---

Janet Atha — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janet Atha Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 In this most corrupt government in our history, SEC wants consumers to trust them while no one is looking? No thank you. I want quarterly reports to remain.

Janet Bonaker, educator

Sent from my iPhone

Janet Brassard — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Janet Brassard Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm a senior on a fixed income with a dwindling portfolio. When that money is gone, I can no longer afford my mortgage or groceries on just SS, which this administration is also trying to get rid of. While Medicare is still up for grabs but costs are up.

This plan will likely reduce our nest eggs even further as we won't have visibility into what is going on with our investments. This is a bad plan for all but the top 1% and large corporations.

Janet Comer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Janet Comer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Janet Comer, retired investor and voter. Keep reportng at 3 months...like it has been for years.

Janet DeWitt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Janet DeWitt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Report Quarterly!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Janet Fox — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Janet Fox Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Fraud is a growing cancer in our government. KEEP IT QUARTERLY.

Sent from my iPhone

Janet GARBARINI Fiume — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Janet GARBARINI Fiume Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
PLEASE keep & continue to enforce QUARTERLY reports! People need info to make their financial decisions.

---

janet hauk — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: janet hauk Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please don't change anything!!!

Janet Hill — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Janet Hill Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please do not change from quarterly posting to twice a year. This would be a terrible thing for ordinary investors. We need more information, not less, to make decisions. This change would hurt the American people. Janet Hill RN, Peoria IL

Sent from my iPhone

Janet Mazzaroppi — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Janet Mazzaroppi Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Individual investors depend on valid and up to date information. Blind investment is so dangerous. Honesty from corporate players is critical. Don't handicap the public. From 2 retirees.

Janet Merz — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Janet Merz Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There needs to be accountability. Do not change the quarterly requirements for companies. Investors have the right to know a company's financials! Janet Merz, investor

---

Janet OConnell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Janet OConnell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting MUST continue to be done! There is so much fraud as it is in our country.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Janet Pancheri — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janet Pancheri Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 What! Are you kidding! Let's take care of the American public instead of the billionaires! Do your job!

Janet Peterson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janet Peterson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reporting. It is imperative that this reporting occurs quarterly. As a retired person, I find it necessary to keep upto date on my investments in order to make sound financial decisions.

Janet Peterson

Janet Peterson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Janet Peterson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the

Securities and Exchange Commission:
I object to the proposed new regulation regarding the elimination of quarterly statements. This is harmful to the average investor and only protects the investment companies. As a government entity, you should be using your regulatory power to protect the average citizen, not curry favor the banks and investment firms. Please do better.

Janet Richardson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Janet Richardson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There needs to be more reporting not less!

Sent from my iPhone

Janet Serres — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Janet Serres Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please do not reduce quarterly reporting.

Janet Sushil — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Janet Sushil Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
In this climate of fraud, there has to be transparency. I am tired of always being afraid that what I have in the stock market is going to be diminished.

Janett Franks — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Janett Franks Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:WE DONT WANT THIS..

Janice And Warren Anyone — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janice And Warren Anyone Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Warren Young
Retired

We need the transparency. Don't change it to every six months.

Janice B — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Janice B Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY!!

Janice Cicco — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Janice Cicco Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reports are essential for investors awareness of the status and decision making around their stocks. Keep holding companies accountable to their investors both large and small.

Sent from my iPhone

Janice Conway — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janice Conway Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Retired teacher here who depends on quarterly summaries to plan how to use my money and make it last till I die. These companies make record profits and can easily afford keeping their customers in the loop. Quarterly reporting is a must for more accurate budgeting.

Sent from my iPhone

Janice Doyle — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Janice Doyle Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: You must not allow the reporting interval to be more than one quarter. A lot can happen in a quarter, and investors need to know as much as the insiders. I need and want this transparency. Keep it QUARTERLY!

Janice Drvenkar — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Janice Drvenkar Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 You people are rich enough and you don't need this extra perk to keep money out of the hands of the regular poor people can't you ever stop?

Janice Easley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janice Easley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Janice Easley, retired Licensed Abstractor. I as an elderly retired person, with not that many investments want to see how they are doing quarterly. Please keep quarterly reporting.

Janice Miller — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janice Miller Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Fair is fair and this is not! Keep our quarterly reports! If not I see a lot of insider trading coming down the tracks! We've had enough with Congress's little games, not this too!!!!'

Sent from my iPhone

Janie Claiborne — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janie Claiborne Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a retired state employee with my retirement plan invested as well as my personal holdings I rely on regular reporting to stay on top of financial planning. With this economy I can not tolerate surprises. I support continued quarterly reporting.

Janie Claiborne

Sent from my iPhone

Janine Ciak — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Janine Ciak Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I rely on current quarterly earning reports to manage my investments. Please continue 3mo reporting rules!
Thank you.
Janine Ciak

Janis — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Janis Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We must maintain accountability with quarterly reporting!

Janis Kipp — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Janis Kipp Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There is no reason to make this change except to help the corporations get a leg up and cause more insecurity and distrust for working people. Stop treating people like they have no say and keep the current reporting.

Janis Kipp

Janyt Sheets May — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Janyt Sheets May Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please protect quarterly reporting. I am a retired widow and I depend on you to protect my investments.
Janyt May

JaQ Cella — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: JaQ Cella Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Business transparency is incredibly important for making responsible decisions throughout the year. Each transaction or business move creates data, financial or otherwise, in real time. There is no reason to hide information that can be documented and filed immediately by professionals unless you are trying to commit unscrupulous business practices. Every business decision should have a justifiable reason behind it to benefit the company and it's employees among other things, like sustainability. If you are looking to do business with anyone knowing till it's too late to change, than you are clearly choosing to hide something you know you shouldn't be doing.

Sincerely a concerned member of society,

Jacqueline Cella

Jared Ballance — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Jared Ballance Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I run a small business. It is vital we keep everyone honest and fully compliant with all laws and regulations. Allowing large companies to avoid being fully aware of and take full ownership of their own financial issues every 3 months will allow fraud to run rampant. Please do not end quarterly reporting.

www.ballanceduo.com
http://www.facebook.com/pages/Ballance-Talent-Education/412684212124195

Jas Jakowski — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jas Jakowski Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm a Jas Jakowski a student and small time investor who greatly benefits from hearing about quarterly reports. I often look forward for hearing about the quarterly reporting of major corporations. Please keep the quarterly reports coming as small time investors and those without connections need information presented on a regular basis. Thank you

---

Jason Fisher — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jason Fisher Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: removing quarterly reporting is irresponsible and misleads investors.
do not do this!

Jason Richards — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jason Richards Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We the people do not want you to report every six months we want you to keep reporting your finances quarterly. This is for all public companies with investors. If you don't have anything to hide, you should not have a problem with this I will go to my grave fighting for equality, transparency, and the right to know how my investments in publicly traded companies is handled this will not be tolerated. Donald Trump is not my president and we are going to fix what he has *ed up. We are the people are watching all of you. SEC watch your step and do not let publicly traded companies report their financial situations every six months.

---

javier e Vargas — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: javier e Vargas Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop

---

Jayne Meyers — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jayne Meyers Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The savings to companies are definitely worth the cost to me!

Sent from my iPad

Jayne Meyers — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jayne Meyers Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I may be a "small time" investor but the SEC should NOT allow public companies to hide vital information

---

Jean ann Luther — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jean ann Luther Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not delete quarterly reporting! The public needs to know

Sent from my iPhone

Jean Beranek — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jean Beranek Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We need transparency in the market. Keep reviews quarterly in fairness to all.

Jean Card — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jean Card Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
In the face of the legal strength of big corporations, it is more important than ever that individual investors have as much information as possible to protect & grow their own hard won finances. So much of our lives function as pawns in the face of strength outside their control, at least, individuals deserve to have as much information as is available to advance their own interests.

Jean Davis — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jean Davis Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 6 months is too long sketchy things can happen in the long length of time.
Wipe out lifelines and savings
NO.
Jean Davis
Retired Executive Assistant

~Bye
Jean M. Davis

Jean Rawson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jean Rawson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Old folks need their assets to be secure. Withholding data for longer periods threatens that. (Retired in Madison, WI).

Sent from Gmail Mobile

Jeana Peters — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jeana Peters Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely no reason to change current reporting time lines.

Jeanene Genusa — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jeanene Genusa Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Stop these actions, as your allowing things that make no sense. We are striving for transparency not anything else.

---

jeanettesue — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: jeanettesue Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Horrible idea! Way to leave people in the dark! Not good!

Sent from my Galaxy

Jeanie Kee — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeanie Kee Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Enron cost huge losses, but too late for many to bale! Two times per year?! NO WAY! INVESTORS DESERVE TO KNOW ABOUT THEIR INVESTMENT. 4X EVERY YEAR!

Gloria Kee
Retired in 2015

Jeanine Bittinger — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jeanine Bittinger Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Jeanine Bittinger, CPA
Seminole, FL
It is essential that we maintain quarterly reporting. We need the transparency.

Jeanine L. Bittinger

Jeanine Caterisano — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeanine Caterisano Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I can not afford to register my car it's all I have I am 61 and homeless

---

Jeanine F. — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jeanine F. Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep report timing as is.
Jeanine Fields

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Jeanine Flynn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jeanine Flynn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This is incredibly unfair and wrought with the possibilities of extreme corruption. People work hard to invest and they should have all the information that is at hand. That is truly the American way.

JEANMARIE TODD — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: JEANMARIE TODD Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 CEOs will never stop looking to get away from accountability. Don’t let them!!

Sent from my iPhone

Jeanne Burns — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jeanne Burns Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I oppose S7-2026-15. I believe companies need to continue to report quarterly to protect the public from fraud and to keep companies honest. Please do not let large investors win and control more of the markets. I don't want to lose any of my savings because of rules stating that companies do not have to report what is happening in their organizations. Please do not change something that is working for the American people, rather than big business.

Jeanne Burns
Retiree in Loveland, CO who cares about our country.

Jeanne Freeland — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jeanne Freeland Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not elimínate quarterly reporting! We the ordinary Americans are having enough trouble clinging to any wealth we have, and need any help we can get, including as much information as possible on what the markets are doing. Please allow us this small mercy.
Thank you,
Jeanne Freeland

Jeanne Guidi — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jeanne Guidi Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Allowing corporations to "go dark" for six months at a time is NOT a good idea. That would lead to more market volatility and potential manipulation. We need more transparency, not less. Warren Buffett, one of the wisest investors of all time, prefers 3 month reporting. It's just good common sense.

Jeanne Lese — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeanne Lese Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 QUARTERLY!
period.

Jeanne Lese — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeanne Lese Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 QUARTERLY!

---

jeanne mills — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: jeanne mills Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:keep reports quarterly!

Jeanne Parzygnot — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jeanne Parzygnot Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not change the quarterly reporting structure currently in place which has been a vital resource to investors for more than 50 years.
Changing how corporations report would allow them to potentially hide vital information and adversely affect investors.
Thank you

Jeanne Severs — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeanne Severs Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 NO! NO! NO! NO! THERE IS ENOUGH FRAUD IN THE WORLD WITHOUT SCREWING UNSUSPECTING INVESTORS.

Jeanne Wells — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jeanne Wells Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not allow this proposal to be approved. Quarterly insight is critical to retail investors.This will be detrimental to the well-being of investors like myself and our advisors. Removing this reporting and transparency is not in the best interest of the American public.
Thank you.

Jeannette Barber — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeannette Barber Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Without quarterly reporting, many companies will faulter because they do not know what they have or do not have, eventually passing the failures onto the public.

Keep reporting clear and open!

Jeannette Gere — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeannette Gere Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I believe it is necessary to keep them honest

---

Jeannette Gere — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Jeannette Gere Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep them honest

---

Jeannie Reiser — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jeannie Reiser Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No changes please

Sent from my iPhone

Jeannine Der Bedrosian — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jeannine Der Bedrosian Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Investors need current information, which gives us greater transparency and the ability to track information in greater detail.
6-month reporting is laughable, can result in misleading or even hidden information.
The only tangible and honest benefit is cutting reporting costs.

We have had enough misleading or even blatantly wrong information under yhe current administration and the last one under the same questionable leadership.
We are DONE, as time will soon reveal.

Jeff Comcast — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Jeff Comcast Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly reports… we don't want another recession caused by delayed corporate reporting.

Jeff Jury — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeff Jury Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Changing the reporting cycle enables anyone within a company who has knowledge of financial information a much larger window for illegal trading. Quarterly reporting must remain a requirement.

Jeff Krupke — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Jeff Krupke Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it Quarterly

Sent from my iPhone

Jeff Miller — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Jeff Miller Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want the SEC to continue to require quarterly reporting signed by the CEO

Jeff N — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Do NOT change SEC quarterly filing From: Jeff N Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is imparative to keep SEC filings quarterly. I rely on quarterly information to make decisions, longer gaps create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders, "optional" doesn't fix the problem because companies that opt in are often the ones whose investors most need frequent updates, and the savings to companies aren't worth the cost to the American public.

Jeff N — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeff N Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is imparative to keep SEC ilings quarterly. I rely on quarterly information to make decisions, longer gaps create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders, "optional" doesn't fix the problem because companies that opt in are often the ones whose investors most need frequent updates, and the savings to companies aren't worth the cost to the American public.

Jeff P — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeff P Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep Quarterly Reports!

Do your job!!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Jeff Sawyer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jeff Sawyer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a private citizen investing for my future retirement I am totally against this. I'm sure it will have dire consequences for myself and others. It's an opportunity for big companies and insiders to get richer and possibly obliterate our nest eggs. Please do not allow this.

Sent from my iPhone

Jeff Stephan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Jeff Stephan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We Absolutely need the quarterly reporting. We must know what CEO's are doing e with the money 💰 and companies we invest in!!
W
Oversight is ESSENTIAL!!

Jeff Stephan

Jeff Stephan

BUNKS-N-US, LLC

877-395-1521, 575-448-7080

Jeffrey Bass — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jeffrey Bass Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Let’s keep the transparency.

JeffBass
Cell/text: 516-313-2098

Jeffrey Buckner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jeffrey Buckner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Hi, I'm Jeff, and a retiree that actually wants to stay retired. Changing this rule will absolutely blindside small investors like me, and make an industry that's already stacked against non-institutional holders or AI bots insurmountable.
This is a horrible idea. Shelve it. The system works (well enough) without this change.

Jeff B

Jeffrey Carlin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jeffrey Carlin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It's not hard to see the obvious, quarterly benefits the people. But history shows how twice a year costs the people money!! The change would affect to many people negatively! Why is it that now that Trump is president everything the people with power do benefits the top 1%? Stop and leave it as is!!

Jeffrey Carlin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jeffrey Carlin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It's not hard to see the obvious, quarterly benefits the people. But history shows how twice a year costs the people money!! The change would affect to many people negatively! Why is it that now that Trump is president everything the people with power does benefits the top 1%? Stop and leave it as is!!

Jeffrey Forbes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Jeffrey Forbes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting lends credence, enhances confidence and trust where history has shown it to be needed. Do not change the quarterly reporting requirement.

Sent from my iPhone

Jeffrey Nussbaum — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jeffrey Nussbaum Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Hello SEC I am a retail investor that relies on quarterly reporting to make informed decisions. Please do not go to 6 months where the reporting would be unreliable

Sent from my iPhone

Jeffrey Su — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jeffrey Su Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I strongly oppose any proposal to reduce SEC reporting requirements from quarterly to semiannual filings. Quarterly reports are essential for market transparency and investor protection. Waiting six months for financial disclosures would leave investors in the dark about major issues such as rising debt, legal problems, declining revenues, or other material risks.

Less frequent reporting also increases the opportunity for fraud and corporate misconduct to go undetected for longer periods. Most importantly, this change would disproportionately harm retail investors, who rely on timely public disclosures to make informed decisions. Large institutional investors and insiders often have greater access to information and resources, while everyday investors depend on SEC filings to ensure a fair and level playing field.
Please support policies that maintain strong transparency, accountability, and investor protections in our financial markets.

Jeffrey Weatherby — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Jeffrey Weatherby Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need more accountability to investors, not less.

Sent from my iPhone

Jen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Jen L. Teacher.
Quarterly reporting accountability is necessary.

M Jenifer M Legge

Jen Shepherd — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jen Shepherd Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Fairness is the American way. Transparency is a fundamental requirement for trust in systems, governments, and powerful organizations. Checks and Balances are in place for a reason and need respect.

Favoritism is not ethical when it comes to accessing information about choices to manage one's wealth.

We all need equal access to information rather than favoring those with inside information.
Keep American values true and transparent for all its citizens!

Jene Weinstein — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jene Weinstein Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please don't allow this t o happen. My Trust and stock portfolio are my only access to my $$. This is because of a Traumatic Brain Injury I suffered after a botched female procedure which resulted in a forced retirement due to my inability to work and think again as a Technical Writer or even remember basic facts of everyday living. This is a very bad idea for people who are dependant on those quarterly reports to ensure their $$ is working for them as they need it to!!!

Jeni Pepper — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jeni Pepper Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly reports. 6 months is too long to be in the dark on an investment‘s status

Sent from my iPhone
Jeni Pepper
nightowl2591@gmail.com
(979)236-9590

Jennifer Bouse — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jennifer Bouse Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm Jen, an RN, and why on earth would honest business dealings need to be hidden from the public? Everything hidden will be hidden, including all the dirty dealings and evil acts that greedy scum are committing behind closed doors. God sees what you do and your shame will be broadcast for everyone to see no matter if these bad laws pass. You cannot change the law of God.

Sent from my iPhone

Jennifer Bredemeyer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jennifer Bredemeyer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I want the quarterly posts. I'm a senior with limited resources. I can't afford mistakes. I need to have things spelled out. Thanks

---

Jennifer Chojnacki — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jennifer Chojnacki Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I do not see a reason to do except to help the rich hold there money longer and collect interest…keep it quartly!

Jennifer Chojnacki C-I-S

Jennifer Chouinard — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jennifer Chouinard Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I’m Jennifer Chouinard a real estate investor. This matters to me because it seems like one more thing that is being used against the people. It is already hard enough to keep some of what we earn and to do this just feels very underhanded. Please do the right thing and keep things on an even playing field for regular everyday investors.

Jennifer Falknor Retired — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Jennifer Falknor Large companies need more oversight not less! We need monthly reporting, not quarterly.

Jennifer McGinnis — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jennifer McGinnis Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Jennifer McGinnis /ISSO

I had hoped our country was starting to support those of us who are the middle class majority. If you stop the quarterly reporting then you are destroying the middle class retirement future. What happened to transparency? You protect those who are draining the rest of us? Maybe DOGE needs to gut you.

Jennifer Moore — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Jennifer Moore Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Jennifer and I don't like or will stand for my tax dollars going to fund the fat orange babies pockets.

Jennifer Myhre — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Changes to financial reporting schedules From: Jennifer Myhre Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The SEC is responsible for governance to ensure transparency and accountability which protects shareholders and business leaders. And frankly all taxpayers who get hit with the fallout of failures asa result of weak oversight. I cannot think of a good reason to change from quarterly reporting to twice a year. Haven’t we seen enough problems to know this is a bad idea?

And CEO sign off on financials is also important. Keep it.

Jennifer Myhre
Retired Financial Services Executive

Sent from the all new AOL app for iOS

Jennifer Potter — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jennifer Potter Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No!!! We need quarterly reports and more transparency not less!

Sent from my iPhone

Jennifer Thomas — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jennifer Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the

Securities and Exchange Commission:
As an investor, eliminating quarterly reporting would take away facts and data I need to make investment choices. It would allow entirely too much time to pass before I could see that a company I invest in is failing or succeeding. And it would significantly diminish accountability for those companies. I also worry that this would be a slippery slope that ends in catastrophic failure for many individual investors like me with little time to research themselves.

JENNIFER TONG — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: JENNIFER TONG Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 SEC must keep quarterly report.

Jennifer Vaught — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jennifer Vaught Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep the people informed!

To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Jennifer Von Der Lohe — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jennifer Von Der Lohe Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting. Ceo, cfo, etc personally liable for figures repored. Huge penalties and personal fines for fraud of any kind. Protect investors not the company.

Jennifer Von Der Lohe
California

Jennifer Wolf — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jennifer Wolf Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This is not fair and I'm sick of the rich benefiting when regular people can't.

Jenny Arrington — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Jenny Arrington Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 keep the reports quarterly, for less fraud.

Jenny L — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jenny L Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want to keep the Quarterly reporting. I want nothing hidden

---

Jenny Teresi — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jenny Teresi Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please uphold the quarterly reporting tool to preserve accountability and transparency.

Jeremiah Brogan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Jeremiah Brogan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Greetings my name is Antal Brogan of New Town, ND and this matters to me because as a sociologist I've been studying corporate culture for over 10yrs. We have a trust problem in America. Corporate interests and lobbies have too many times influenced policy that had serious and sometimes deadly impact on the American public. I actually support deregulation where it makes sense, but it doesn't here. Quarterly filings are one of the only tools we have for real accountability, because the 6mo gap is simply too much time to hide questionable activity. Americans have a trust problem with the relationship between government and corporate America. We need to rebuild that trust through transparency, not convince the public they're all crooked anyway.
Thank you.

Jeremie Marrow — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jeremie Marrow Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This administration has to be stopped. It has done everything imaginable to support and enable fraudsters, and it is destroying our country. The rule of law is important, and there is almost nothing left of it. The SEC is meant to uphold laws, not make them easier to break.

Jeremie Marrow, JD
Trial Lawyer

Jeremy Gruver — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jeremy Gruver Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop letting corporations off easy, make it tougher on them instead. Otherwise, you'll lose every single consumer! Then what? No amount of marketing can save your companies when we, the people, decide to boycott. You're big enough to get hurt the most.

JEREMY HOLLAND — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: JEREMY HOLLAND Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly reports

Fondly,
Jeremy H Holland
5617796868
Jerhilhol@gmail.com
749 equestrian trail road

New canton va
23123

JEREMY HOLLAND — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: JEREMY HOLLAND Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep 1/4 reporting

Fondly,
Jeremy H Holland
5617796868
Jerhilhol@gmail.com
749 equestrian trail road
New canton va
23123

Jeri Ann Nesbit — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jeri Ann Nesbit Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No, keep it as is!

Sent from my iPhone

Jerise — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jerise Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the SEC:

Getting rid of quarterly reports is a ridiculous idea that offers the OPPOSITE of accountability to stockholders.

I am an artist and teacher in NYC, and have small amounts of stick in several publicly traded firms. They are hesirant to keep me informed as it is now--being able to completely shut me out except twice a year will make it impossible for me to understand my portfolio and I will probably drop out.

Please forgive typos; sent by phone

Jerold Spradlin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jerold Spradlin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As far as I'm concerned, they should do it every month!!!! A lot can happen in 3 months!!

Jerry — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jerry Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting a must.

Jerry Beck — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jerry Beck Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Let's keep it the way it is and it has worked well for the consumer. No changes. Jerry Beck U.S. Navy retired.

---

jerry dnr — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: jerry dnr Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I do not support this at all. If companies want to use public's money by selling stocks, they should have to have full accountability immediately, not six months to make up some lame excuses.

Sent from my iPad

Jerry Forrest — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jerry Forrest Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly reports!

Jerry Johnson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jerry Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I do not understand their reasons for wanting this change.

Jerry Lynch — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jerry Lynch Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Awful legislation.
Jerry Lynch
Dentist, AZ

Jerry Mayfield — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jerry Mayfield Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep Quarterly Reporting!

Jerry Sills — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jerry Sills Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting!

Sent from my iPhone

Jesse L Calkins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Jesse L Calkins I am opposed to changing the reporting requirements from 3 months to 6 months. As an individual investor it is difficult enough to get up to date information now without checking the SEC website on a regular basis.

Jesse Nett MPA — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Jesse Nett I strongly oppose the proposed rule change from quarterly to semi-annual financial reporting. This proposed rule does not have the consumer's interest in mind and will affect the financial livelihood of consumers. I oppose any changes to the existing reporting frequency.

Jessica Collins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jessica Collins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Jessica Collins, business owner , this is oligarchy and totally unfair to us ordinary people. The Insiders: Corporate executives, legal boards, and massive institutional hedge funds still monitor internal metrics, operational changes, and daily sales pipelines in real time?!? This is insane and America is beginning to feel like hell

Sent from my iPhone

Jessica Collins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jessica Collins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Jessica Collins, business owner , this is oligarchy and totally unfair to us ordinary people. The Insiders: Corporate executives, legal boards, and massive institutional hedge funds still monitor internal metrics, operational changes, and daily sales pipelines in real time?!? Meaning they can make clear and informed decisions to make more money?!!!! This is insane and America is beginning to feel like hell

Sent from my iPhone

Jessica Gotkin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jessica Gotkin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 STOP the insider bull *. We are sick of this administration *ing us over. Just stop.

Jessica Lynch — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jessica Lynch Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not get rid of quarterly reporting. Thank you

Jessica Sickafus — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments KEEP IT QUARTERLY!! From: Jessica Sickafus Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting should NEVER be an option. Large corporations and businesses are corrupt enough, you want to give them the "option" to only share those reports 2x a year. This Country, under the current administration, will proudly do anything and everything they possibly can to screw the little guy and allow the corruption to breed and fester. This is nothing but another way to make the rich richer and the poor more poor.

Reporting Quarterly allows small investors or stock holders to have an idea of how the market is moving and when, how, and where to move their money. This change prevents us from knowing what's happening in the market soon enough to make the necessary changes. The companies and their insiders will still know exactly when to buy and hh4m.

- Jessica Sickafus

6t5ocate lll$^{34}_{5}$

Jessica Vigil — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jessica Vigil Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This would definitely make fraud going unnoticed much easier, and using the accounting department as a scapegoat plausible. Finding and tracking potential mistakes over a longer period of time increases the workload for the payroll accountant, or the payroll department. And let's be honest, most corporations know this. They're not going to hire additional staff, they're just going to expect the existing employees to do more work in the same amount of time. This WILL lead to more mistakes, and reviewing accountants not investigating when the numbers look a bit off or receipts/contracts don't quite look right. Attention to detail and pattern recognition are typically what allow competent accountants to notice these things, but without adequate time to investigate and correct potential issues, they're more likely to get ignored. This isn't just bad for the public, it's also setting up corporate accounting departments to fail, and in turn, leaving companies vulnerable to unscrupulous CEOs.

Jewel Grier — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jewel Grier Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Jewell Bland, and I am a Mail Carrier for the US Post Office. The changes that you are trying to implement are not okay, and need to be regulated quarterly. Stop making changes that are only good for the rich. This is a serious problem in America. And it constitutes as greed in all of it's forms

Thank You,
Jewell Grier-Bland

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Jewel Grier — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jewel Grier Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Jewell Bland, and I am a Mail Carrier for the US Post Office. The changes that you are trying to implement are not okay, and need to be regulated quarterly. Stop making changes that are only good for the rich. This is the problem with America.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

JEWEL MESSER — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: JEWEL MESSER Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Leave it quarterly

Sent from my iPad

---

jgarriot — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: jgarriot Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Eron ruined countless families savings. Do not cut quarterly reporting, keep businesses as monitored as possible. Janice B. Retired RN who worked for 40 years and had $91k at the end.

Sent via the Samsung Galaxy S25+, an AT&T 5G smartphone

---

jgvanemst — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: jgvanemst Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is just stupid! Why should these CEOs be given the opportunity to cut this responsibility in half? There is too much evasion in information that should be made public! Do they have something to hide? Glenda Van Emst, Jacksonville,

Sent from my Galaxy

Jill Hanne — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jill Hanne Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not allow this proposal to pass. Investors are the backbone of this country's economy. Don't let corporate greed and laziness derail what everyday people have a right to - accountability!

Jill Johnson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Jill Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I think it should be kept to keep lies in accounting in place faster to be caught.

Jill Johnson

Jill K. — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jill K. Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Yes no more secretive practices. Hold companies accountable!!!! I'm retired and invest. We pay taxes quarterly and annually. Accountability & verification of account holdings.

Enjoy your day, Jill B.

239-682-7673

Jillian Greff — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jillian Greff Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I have all my retirement and investments for my entire family building in my fidelity portfolio including EFTs and individual stocks. I do not want a 6 month blackout period where fraud could cause more volatile markets. We need quarterly reporting. Transparency does matter to me and millions of Americans. The SEC has no right to blindfold Americans with the most critical piece of our security our foundation where we keep our hard earned money. I am asking that quarterly reporting is kept in place. Myself and millions of everyday American investors will be closely monitoring this critical issue.
Sincerely, Jillian Greff in Summerville, SC

Jim — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jim Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not go to semi annual returns. Quarterly reports reflect more accurate and more timely information!

Sent from my iPhone

Jim Boyd — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jim Boyd Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 keep it quarterly !!!

Jim Carr — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jim Carr Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm for transparency and accountability that's why I oppose the proposal to eliminate quarterly reporting!
Jim Carr
Small Investor

Sent from my iPad

JIM FERGUSON — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: JIM FERGUSON Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I need to see my reports quarterly, in order to make important financial decisions. Do not reduce the number of reports; they are essential.

Virginia Ferguson

Sent from my iPad

JIM FORD — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: JIM FORD Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Howard Ford and I am a retired individual who invests in the stock market. I have to ask why would anyone advocate the return to a system that proved to be a failure both for the companies and the investors. I have no desire to go to semi-annual reporting. KEEP IT QUARTERLY, I SAY!

Sent from AOL on Android

Jim Gosses — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jim Gosses Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is necessary to keep honesty in investment data!

Jim Hefti — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jim Hefti Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop giving everything to the kleptocrat oligarchs. This ruling is designed to only help those in power, this country is supposed to be run by the people, for the people.

James Hefti
Struggling to afford basic necessities

Jim Heidelberg — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jim Heidelberg Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I was in the investment management business for over a quarter of a century. Quarterly reporting is necessary and appropriate for transparency and important for investor understanding. More information, not less, makes markets function more efficiently.

James E Heidelberg
Retired

Sent from my iPhone

Jim Lovette — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jim Lovette Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING

Sent from my iPhone

Jim Pickering — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jim Pickering Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly. The more transparency the better.

Sent from my iPhone

Jim Wynn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jim Wynn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Would have reporting monthly if I could. Twice yearly is not adequate. Gives the bad actors too much extra time

Sent from my iPhone

Jimmy Hoffman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jimmy Hoffman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting. But ban stock buybacks.

Get Outlook for Android

Jj Mistretta — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jj Mistretta Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
A Hugh mistake

---

jjzemke — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: jjzemke Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting on a quarterly schedule, It is important for investors to be able to follow thier investments more often not less. Less reporting will negatively impact my ability to follow my investments, thus my retirement.
John Zemke
Retired Educator

Sent from my Galaxy

---

jo ann pettit — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: jo ann pettit Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 One word -ENRON. Keep them accountable!

Sent from my iPhone

Jo Elin Dubois — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jo Elin Dubois Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm sorry but some rich people can't be trusted to obey the law and be honest. KEEP IT QUARTERLY is a way to hold them accountable. Do not change that.

Sent from my iPhone

Jo Hemenway — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jo Hemenway Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Stop being shady. We need stability not allow public to hide any information!

do you job or get out

Jo Newman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jo Newman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do you really want to be remembered as the ones who failed to learn from the ENRON debacle??? Keeep it quarterly OR make it every 2 months!

It

Jo Wittenberg — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jo Wittenberg Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly reporting is imperative

Joan Alltucker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Joan Alltucker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We all worked hard to build a portfolio that will cover our needs as elders. Cutting Medicare and now this change to quarterly reporting will most certainly affect our ability to care for our family.

Thanks,
Joan Alltucker

Joan Billman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Joan Billman Keep Quarterly Reporting ❗ We must have Transparency !! Comments attached.

Joan Evanitus — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Joan Evanitus Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
No to this

Joan Marsek — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joan Marsek Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I need my investment income to survive literally My social security doesn't cover cost of my independent living facility! I worked as a registered nurse for 50 years and am barely surviving!

Joan Paccione — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Joan Paccione Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reports are essential.

Joan Packard — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Joan Packard Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep corporate financial reporting quarterly. I need to know how the companies I am investing in are doing
Joan Packard
Retired
Investor.

Joan Zacharias — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Joan Zacharias Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Dear SEC Members,
Those of us who have entrusted our investments in stocks do expect that companies we have invested in provide quarterly reports to us, the stockholders. I don't think this too much to ask, and quarterly reports can provide needed updates on how the companies we have invested in are doing.
Thank you,
Joan Zacharias

JoAnn George — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: JoAnn George Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It's how it's been done and working fine why would you want to change it unless you have something to hide or trying to steal more of our taxpayers money Sick and Tired of these stupid games because you have TDS seek help and get out of your position You do not serve The American population

---

JoAnna De Loach — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: JoAnna De Loach Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 JoAnna DeLoach, 89 year old investor. I make rebalancing of my brokerage accounts based on quarterly reports. Please don't blind the public!

Joanna Jaeger — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joanna Jaeger Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Remember Enron? We know from experience that monitoring and regulation is essential to keep these large corporations honest. If the reporting is only twice a year, the people who will suffer are the average folks, not the high level investors.
Joanna Jaeger average folk
Poway, CA

Joanne Bushman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Joanne Bushman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I'm just an ordinary investor, with a small amount of money. IT IS MY RETIREMENT FUTURE! PLEASE DON'T MESS WITH IT!

A 6-month blackout? -- what's that all about, and who would benefit besides fraudsters? Everyday investors SHOULD NOT BE BLINDFOLDED!
TRANSPARENCY MATTERS TO ME AND TO SMALL INVESTORS LIKE ME!

Joanne fleury — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Joanne fleury Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: I am 76 years old. I have a Roth IRA, managed by myself. I use many sources for information to determine in what companies I invest. I search for and RELY on those quarterly financial statements to determine whether I continue my investment or not in a company. I use resources such as Fidelity and Zacks to help make my financial decisions on those companies. My life savings/ investments are dependent on the quarterly results and company financial statements. I would like the rules to remain as presently stated.

JOANNE GRONDIN — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: JOANNE GRONDIN Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Individual investors are already at a disadvantage as we do not have the access to information that institutional investors do. This proposal compounds this disadvantage. I don't believe that quarterly reporting is a huge burden. Joanne Grondin, Retired Finance Officer

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Joanne Hersker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joanne Hersker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I do not approve of any change that steals or reduces Americans' money. Joanne Hersker, 1055 Putnam Blvd, Wallingford, PA 19086

Sent from my iPhone

Joanne Hersker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joanne Hersker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I do not approve of any change that steals or reduces Americans' investments. It's difficult enough for folks to save to take care of themselves. Regulations should not benefit only the wealthy.
Joanne Hersker, 1055 Putnam Blvd, Wallingford, PA 19086

Sent from my iPhone

Joanne Lehman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Joanne Lehman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not further limit reporting, keep my money safe from fraud and abuse!

Sent from my iPhone

Joanne Lehman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joanne Lehman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not further limit reporting, keep my money safe from fraud and abuse!

Sent from my iPhone

Joanne Singley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Joanne Singley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Joanne Singley retired/ my lively hood depends on the quality of my investments and the information reflected in the quarterly reports. When the timing of those reports is cut in half you are critically impacting my access to the activity of my accounts and the information to make sound and informed choices regarding the activity on my investments. Please do NOT change the QUARTERLY reporting schedule.

Get Outlook for iOS

Joanne Stravinski — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Joanne Stravinski Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep reporting QUARTERLY.

Sent from my iPad

Jocelyn Rouse — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jocelyn Rouse Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Jocelyn Rouse, Marketing and Development Coordinator
Transparency is not a dirty word and it's not right for those with money and power to operate in the dark with regular people being none the wiser. I'm sick of the constant and blatant deception, this shouldn't even be legal. Stop kowtowing to these selfish individuals and start standing up for the regular people. Transparency and quarterly reports must remain.

Sent from my iPhone

Joe — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Joe Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep all of them in jail, and if a COO, CEO, CFO files false reports they should be held accountable for their actions and forfit any bonuses and salary

---

Joe Baxter — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joe Baxter Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Leave the current regulations as they are.

Even quarterly is less than I would personally prefer, but I recognize the cost of generating that type of information in the volatility of the market doesn't lend itself to being helpful more frequently. Quarterly is where it should stay.

No way six months; no way. Don't do it!!!

Joe Bejeris — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joe Bejeris Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it at 3 months Period

Sent from my iPad

Joe Bejeris — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Joe Bejeris Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the Cockroaches out of the Pantry every 3 months

Sent from my iPad

Joe Black — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joe Black Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly Reporting
Joe Black

Joe Coble — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Joe Coble Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please help the CEO,s employ integrity. 4 reportings a year should remain!

Joe Filler — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joe Filler Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Joe I Filler me and my wife own a Antiques store in a small town in south west Alabama. Banks not reporting there finances. I want to know what they are doing with our investment.

Joe Gentner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joe Gentner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is essential. Small investors need to be aware of a company's status in order to make safe decisions. Things are way too relaxed for companies to make unsafe decisions. Imagine what the collapse of 2008 without limited reporting would have been.

Joe Grider — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joe Grider Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The SEC couldn't catch M Madoff despite multiple tips, so my confidence in this watchdog group is quite low. They are equally inept with half the info. Maybe it will save us tax dollars.

Joe Mrkvicka — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Joe Mrkvicka Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 So executives will only need to overreact/redirect blame twice per year? Trust their compensation will be adjusted accordingly?

Sent from my iPad

Joe Ruiz — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Joe Ruiz Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Jose Ruiz. I am a Tax Auditor and it is important for quarterly filing requirements to remain in place. A monthly requirement may be necessary.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

---

joe thomas — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: joe thomas Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is imperative that our governmental institutions steadfastly uphold their fiduciary duty to the citizenry and actively resist any measures that could inadvertently or intentionally facilitate corporate misconduct. The trajectory of such arrangements, unfortunately, has been historically predictable, yielding outcomes that disproportionately burden the public.

This apprehension is amplified by the current fiscal landscape, where the government's significant financial indebtedness could, regrettably, create a susceptibility to undue influence from powerful corporate entities. Allowing such policies to advance would inevitably lead to a profound systemic imbalance, distorting market integrity and eroding public trust.

The motivations driving corporate advocacy for these specific proposals appear singularly focused: the relentless pursuit of increased profit margins, the potential for unethical financial gains through privileged information, and the strategic offloading of economic liabilities onto the broader public, effectively leaving taxpayers to absorb the costs while private entities reap the benefits. It is paramount that robust safeguards are in place to prevent such an inequitable distribution of risk and reward.

JOEI BOHR — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: JOEI BOHR Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting works so well for us. Living on a fixed income as we do, it’s important to know where we are. While I’d rather see monthly reporting, quarterly seems a good compromise. Six month reporting would be moving in the wrong direction.

Mary Jo Bohr

Sent from my iPhone

Joel Compton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joel Compton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reports quarterly please. Cathy Compton, Business Owner, Investor, and lifelong American.

Joel Jasso Self investor, member of Better Investing, retiree — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Joel Jasso Hello, I'm writing to protest against the reduction of reporting per quarter for companies. When investing, I rely on the quarterly financial reports to provide estimates and a better understanding whether I should make a purchase or whether I should start considering a sale on my investments. Requiring only twice a year reporting is too long of a timeframe to catch trends with a company's health. Please keep the current quarterly requirement on financial reporting.

---

joellenhw — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: joellenhw Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There can be no good reason to report less often. With technology it should be easier to make reports, so I can only assume the reason for less frequent reporting does not favor the average investor. It is imperative to continue reporting quarterly.

Johanna Boley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Johanna Boley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not allow companies to only report semi-annually. This does not allow investors to know what is going on with the companies, and it allows some companies to hide financial screw ups.

Johanna Boley

---

johannah powell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Bad ideas From: johannah powell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I do not trust such changes .
Keep thing fair and open
Stop

Sent from Yahoo Mail for iPhone

John — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Attention SEC Chairman

I ask that you KEEP Quarterly Earnings Reports to reporting on a Quarterly basis.

John Ambrosio
Investor

John — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This has worked for decades. No need to change on a whim from the White House.

John Agosto — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: John Agosto Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 6 months of lying & hiding financial reporting is too long for corp mgmt to cash out before the facts are exposed resulting in the stock price free falling. Don’t like those crooks get away with corp finance crime.

Sent from my iPhone

John Altshuler — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Altshuler Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Your job is to work for the people not against the people ! Quit trying to kill America !

John D Altshuler

John Altshuler — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: John Altshuler Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please don't make it so easy for corporate money mongers to rip off America. We don't want to go back ! America moves forward can your job is to take care of America not your corporate cronies.

John D Altshuler

John and Billie — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John and Billie Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely necessary!

Sent from my iPhone

John Bagdonas — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Bagdonas Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a small investor this change is unacceptable! Quarterly reports are an essential tool and eliminating them will expand insider trading and make the playing field unfair!

J. Bagdonas
Sent from my iPhone

John Barry — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: John Barry Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 In the interests of transparency, quarterly reporting should be left as is--with harsh fines imposed for failure to comply.

John Barry
Retired chemical engineer
Gloucester County, NJ

John Beck — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Beck Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it at quarterly for transparency & trust in the system

---

John Berger — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Berger Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Things move too fast to double the time between reports. Keep quarterly financial reporting.

John Bishop — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: John Bishop Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep all companies reporting quarterly. We are sick of the corruption in Washington, our politicians and now the SEC.

John Canate — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: John Canate Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:report everything

---

john david wagner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: john david wagner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 All companies need to be totally transparent with the earnings for and with investors! John Wagner, Safety/Trainer.

John Faulkner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Faulkner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly report

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

John Folsom — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Folsom Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 What could go wrong you ask? Everything! Keep them on their toes, there are enough loop holes as it is.

John Gracey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: John Gracey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To whom it may concern,
As you know there is a lot of chaos and instability in the US, and world, today. I implore you to not add to this by eliminating quarterly reporting. Quarterly reporting is important for many reasons.
Thank you for your time and consideration,
John

John Gracey

John Harlow — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: John Harlow Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 John Harlow, hell my earnings are reported to the IRS every week! Why are these rich people special? Make them report every month!

---

john harrison — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: john harrison Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 John Harrison Roscoe0231@yahoo.com Please do not eliminate quarterly reporting. It's about the only way to keep the companies 25% honest. If they can hide thier books for 6 months they will screw the little guy.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

John Herington — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Herington Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Corporations need more scrutiny not Less!!

Sent from my iPhone

John Hughes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: John Hughes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the system as is.

John Kolsrud — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: John Kolsrud Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency is important, Stop The Steal from consumers!

Sent from my iPhone

John Lee — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Lee Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparent and timely information is the key to informed action in the markets. Investors should have access as soon as possible., not with deliberate delay. John T. Lee, Professor Emeritus of Finance, MTSU.

Sent from my iPhone

John Lindley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Lindley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a former CEO / president of a small C corp . And a small S corp . I can tell you that is proposed 6 month reporting plan is not a good idea . To many things can go wrong in six months . I can think of many ways to cheat the system . Please keep the Quarterly reporting the law of the land . I might add there is absolutely no legitimate reason to change it to six months reporting. Quarterly reporting is not a burden on any company so why are you changing it as a person that pays attention to things it appears to be a large corporations and SEC is trying to allow a large corporations to cheat it. Is that simple.

Sent from my iPhone

John Longo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: John Longo Please keep quarterly reporting as quarterly reporting protects individual investors. Thank you.

John Lord — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: John Lord Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Instead of reducing to semi-annual reports, there should be even more than quarterly. The more transparency the less chance of another Enron.

Sent from my iPad

John Meyer — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: John Meyer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I can't believe they are trying to Enron the country once again...oh wait, yes, i can! There's no plausible reason that I can think of to short cut us.

John Meyer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: John Meyer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I can't believe they are trying to Enron the country once again...oh wait, yes, i can! There's no plausible reason that I can think of to short cut us. Thanks for your c

---

John Mohler — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Mohler Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it quartly. Do not ruin the economy!!!

John Murphy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: John Murphy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep as is currently !

Get Outlook for iOS

John OMalley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: John OMalley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency is vital so We the People know what's going on and can stand against crooked coverups and shenanigans!

JOHN PARISELLA — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: JOHN PARISELLA Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reporting requirements. American citizens were forced to invest rather than get pensions from their employers. We deserve to have opportunity to see the investment returns quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

John Peters Jr. — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: John Peters Jr. Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 You’re trying to fix something that isn’t broke, and Paul Atkins got us in the financial mess back in 2007. Crooked!! Do not make this change.

Sent from my iPhone

John Petri — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: John Petri Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Mandatory quarterly financial reporting stands as an indispensable cornerstone for upholding corporate integrity and fostering a fair investment landscape. This regular and systematic disclosure of a company's financial performance, operational achievements, and forward-looking projections compels organizations to maintain an elevated degree of transparency and accountability towards their stakeholders, including shareholders, analysts, and regulatory bodies. The rigorous public scrutiny that follows these periodic reports acts as a powerful incentive for sound management, ethical conduct, and strategic decision-making, thereby ensuring corporate leadership remains answerable for their stewardship.

Furthermore, these consistent disclosures are critically important for preserving an equitable and efficient marketplace for all participants. By ensuring the timely and widespread dissemination of material information—such as earnings, revenue figures, and significant operational developments—quarterly reporting fundamentally diminishes informational asymmetry. This structured release of data dramatically reduces the window of opportunity for individuals possessing privileged internal knowledge to exploit non-public information for personal financial gain before it becomes accessible to the broader investment community. As a result, it serves as a robust defense mechanism against insider trading, bolstering investor confidence and promoting a level playing field for everyone in the market.

John Phelan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Phelan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Just my humble opinion but I think for openness of financials this needs to stay as quarterly reports. I do some investing and as a retiree I need good information to protect my portfolio from loss. John Phelan Hot Springs SD

Sent from my iPad

John Picciotto — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: John Picciotto Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am a retiree whose retirement savings is tied to the stock market. It is already hard enough to avoid the swings from institutional investors that have information to information that I can only view quarterly. While I am not a fan of the short term return management of US companies, the availability of quarterly information at least allows me to manage my portfolio based on company performance. Moving to every 6 months will make the financial status of these companies even more opaque. This change does not lessen the burden on companies. They still have to close their books monthly, provide executive management with guidance information on a near daily basis, and will continue to track their performance quarter over quarter. It only increases market risk and exposure.

John Reynolds III — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: John Reynolds III Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 John Reynolds III. Public school Teacher. Any proposal that reduces transparency, in this case timely reporting, is a plan to codify corruption. Institutional investors presently control what, 80-85% of the market? Why is (defacto) everything not enough? No!

Signed,
John Reynolds III
District of Columbia Public Schools
ELA Teacher

John Rhodes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: John Rhodes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please maintain quarterly reporting.

John Ridlen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Ridlen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Sounds like another big business and big government way to screw the public again.

John Roberts — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: John Roberts Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Save the little investors, the little people.

John Ruckman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Ruckman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Sounds like a new Piracy and Highway Robbery decision. I'm thinking that the SEC needs to be investigated for Graft, Bribery, etc.

John Ryan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: John Ryan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly

---

john salcedo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: john salcedo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep reports quarterly,

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

John Sauls — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: John Sauls Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Anyone who’s been paying attention during these Trump years knows that if there’s a way to cheat the public and to take advantage of inside Information, Trump and the people that he has enabled Will cheat at the Public’s expense. Do not allow this proposal to hide corporate malfeasance become a rule. thank you.

signed John Sauls

John Szewczuk — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: John Szewczuk Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It’s an OUTRAGE to reduce reporting requirements. Jack S.

Sent from my iPhone

John Trautmann — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: John Trautmann Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is no good and nobody wants it. All it does is give the companies an out and an easy way to defraud.

Sent from my iPhone

John Watson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: John Watson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There is no good reason to do this, unless there is something too hide. Leave it alone and continue too be as transparent as is possible.

Sent from my iPhone

John West IV — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John West IV Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This needs to remain as is as the proposed change is inherently rife for fraud and misleading investors. 6 months is not acceptable.

John Wood — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: John Wood Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not allow this to happen! Regular folk are having to gamble with the meager savings we have as it is.

Jolynn Loftus — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jolynn Loftus Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Oversight is the only safety net available to the public & is absolutely necessary for accountability. We can not trust corporate accountability without these overnights in timely reporting - Leave them Quarterly.
Save what's left of Our Ecconomy.

Retired American.

Sent via the Samsung Galaxy S25 Ultra, an AT&T 5G smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Jolynn Lyon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jolynn Lyon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it QUARTERLY!!!!!!! You need to keep showing us ACCOUNTABLY!!!!!!

Jon Bird — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Jon Bird Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need more transparency not less, so keep those quarterly reports coming. Thank you!

Jon P. Bird
Sent from my iPhone

Jon Foster None — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Jon Foster Allowing companies to go silent for 6 months is a bad idea! They hide so much from consumers on the quarterly schedule now. Imagine how much they can hide going biannually! The company could go bankrupt and hide that for 5 months, while the people at the top quietly sell off their stock to unsuspecting investors, who are left holding the bag and the debt. Do not proceed with this rule!

Jon Klinski — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jon Klinski Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep reports quarterly! 6 months is too long for monkey Business!

jonathan klinski

Jon Klinski — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jon Klinski Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting! 6 months is way too long! Too much time for monkey Business

jonathan klinski

Jon McGlothlin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Jon McGlothlin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The quarterly reporting has been working fine. I'm a firm believer in the adage - If it works, don't fix it!

Jon Smith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Jon Smith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The sec is crooked as hell already and now they want to screw you more!? Nope

---

Jonathan Cooper — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jonathan Cooper Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Cooper, IT Administrator - do not allow this. This stifles and outright harms the average person's ability to make financial decisions effectively for their brokerage and retirement accounts.

Sent from my mobile, please excuse any typos.

Jonathan Klinski Wells Fargo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Jonathan Klinski Quarterly reports are the way to go! Anything more is too much time for monkey Business!

Jonathan Middleton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Jonathan Middleton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please retain the quarterly sign off by corporate officers. Do not change it to a semi-annual schedule.
The function of the markets is already corrupted by insider trading. Removing the quarterly signoff will allow bad behavior to slide for longer.
Jonathan Middleton, Senior Technical Writer, Champaign, Illinois

---

Jonathan Perkin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Jonathan Perkin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I lost my life savings through this fraud. Keep the nails in the Enron cross!

Sent via the Samsung Galaxy S21 FE 5G, an AT&T 5G smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Jonathan Perkin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Jonathan Perkin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I lost my life savings through this fraud. Keep the nails in the cross!

Sent via the Samsung Galaxy S21 FE 5G, an AT&T 5G smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Jonathan Thornsberry — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Jonathan Thornsberry Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Jonathan Thornsberry, artist, nyc,
Quarterly reporting exists for a reason: investors deserve to know what is happening with their money more than once a year. Reducing that requirement does not fix short-termism, it just makes it easier to hide problems longer. The companies that have done the most damage, Enron, WorldCom, the regional bank failures of 2023, all had one thing in common. The public found out too late. More transparency, more often, is not the problem. It is the protection. Quarterly reporting should stay.

Joni Cline — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Joni Cline Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly report!! I'm close to retirement and need to know where my stocks are going up or down. Beside the Trump administration has already proved they will manipulate the market in order to benefit themselves

Sent from my iPhone

Joni Davis — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joni Davis Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 NO Quarterly Reporting

Sent from my iPhone

JONI DAVIS — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: JONI DAVIS Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 NO Quarterly Reporting protect consumers. Not the billionaires!

Sent from my iPhone

Joni O'Brien — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Joni O'Brien Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please continue quarterly reports not 6 month reports.
Joni OBrien

---

jonikelley2014 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: jonikelley2014 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 J kelley RN Asotin county.

I have worked since I was 13. I work hard towards my retirement that BELONGS TO ME. NOT THIS STATE AND NOT THE GOVERNMENT. CONTINUE QUARTERLY REPORTING JUST AS ALL COMPANIES DO.

Sent from my Galaxy

Jordan Schaffner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jordan Schaffner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange commission: We need as much information as possible to make intelligent investment decisions. Stop this censorship that could lead to fraud.

Jorge Sicre — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jorge Sicre Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop the allowing conquest of the commons and everything else by the rich douchebag class!

Jose Jimenez — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Jose Jimenez Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it going strong.

Sent from my iPhone

Jose Rivera Raun — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jose Rivera Raun Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
The public needs quarterly earnings updates for multiple reasons. The public deserves this information to make informed up to date decisions regarding their position sizing, wether to sell for a loss due to disappointing quarters, continue to buy and build a position due to expectations, or sell at a profit. We need more transparency not less. All time highs in the stock market, higher comparably to 1929 and 2008. With less earning updates we will be caught off guard, months later, when the market inevitably corrects. Insiders will most likely for certain still receive quarterly updates, including our representatives in the Senate and House, and the retail trader/investor will turn into simple liquidity when it's time to dump for the rich. Stop this nonsensical bill now!

Joseph Browncow — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Joseph Browncow Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: this is unethical and misleading. Insiders already have advantages normal people do not. Capitalism should be available to everyone.

Joseph DeGweck — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Joseph DeGweck Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly disclosures, especially the large ones provide me with the data that keeps me focused and prevent erratic investment choices and impulsive destructive behaviors. Higher volume and better quality disclosures would allow for you to keep our mutual long term strategy and keep the returns fat which is why disclosures receive daily reviews by multiple analysts. Keeping me more aware allows ease of access and less chaos to manage. That means more focus on the Big stocks that bring bigger clients.☠️🪽

Joseph Manuto — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joseph Manuto Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No changes! Keep the quarterly reporting requirements or turn in your f*cking badges!

Sent from my iPhone

Joseph Stambaugh — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joseph Stambaugh Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Reporting needs to be responsive to shareholder demands.

Quarterly Reporting best meets the needs of the shareholders.

Joseph Wade — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joseph Wade Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Joseph Wade, GIS Coordinator. Why the need to be less transparent? Transparency benefits us all, except for a few individuals. It's interesting the timing with the release of Space X stock, and the listing of AI stocks Open AI and Anthropic coming up. If you think we aren't intelligent enough to see what's actually happening, then clearly you aren't very bright, or you are being paid off very well.

Joseph Wade — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joseph Wade Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Joseph Wade, GIS Coordinator. Why the need to be less transparent? Transparency benefits us all, except for a few individuals. It's interesting the timing with the release of Space X stock, and the listing of AI stocks Open AI and Anthropic coming up. If you think we aren't intelligent enough to see what's actually happening, then clearly you aren't very bright, or you are being paid off very well.

Please consider NOT reducing transparency and adding to the already extremely high levels of corruption in the stock market.

Josephine Mero — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Josephine Mero Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 STOP IT, AND DO THE RIGHT THING. GOD DOES NOT LIKE UGLY BEHAVIOR

..

---

josh engle — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: josh engle Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Dont rip us off !!! you know better than this

---

Josh Leonard — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Josh Leonard Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Personally Id like less corporate corruption and more transparency.

But judging from the bloated SpaceX deal the SEC doesn't seem to care about that anymore

---

Josh Mack — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Josh Mack Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Joshua Mack, truck driver. Changing the reporting to any twice a year would make it more difficult for me to make good decisions for investing. I know I won't ever be able to retire, but maybe I could work less and be home more when I'm an old man. Having more reporting would be better

Sent from my iPhone

---

joshk253 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: joshk253 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Josh Kilpatrick, Filtration technician.

This matters because the economy should be protected.
We should've learned this lesson close to 100 yrs ago. One depression is more than enough. Y'all should look up 10/29/1929.
Unless of course the goal for y'all is to break the economy.
I wouldn't be surprised, y'all got to protect the Epstein pedophile traitor trash class.

Sent from my Galaxy

Joshua Johnston — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Joshua Johnston Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Disclosure should be done quarterly at the very least. Allowing companies to go 6 months between disclosures takes away my ability to make informed decisions.

Joshua senzer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Joshua senzer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Getting rid of quarterly reporting telegraphs that the SEC is pro-fraud. These controls were put in for a reason, and by removing the guardrails, you are sending a signal to fraudsters and corrupt politicians that retail investors are there to be milked and harvested.

I have never distrusted the federal government more in my 53 years. do better

---

Joy Morgan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Joy Morgan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
The SEC must continue to require quarterly reporting from corporations. Every company prepares monthly, quarterly and annual revenue and earnings projections for their own information and planning.
It's imperative that the same information be public for investors to determine whether the company is meeting its revenue goals. It's unconscionable that the SEC would allow a corporation to hide their earnings from investors.
By hiding this information from the public the corporation officers, who are also stickholders, would be privy to financial information and be able to use it for their personal benefit while holding public investors in the dark. It would enable insider trading with concealed information which is illegal.

this must not be allowed quarterly reporting must continue

Joyce Bauman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Joyce Bauman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Nothing about changing reporting requirements will make things better for everyday people. Stop the corruption! Don't stack the deck in favor of the already wealthy!

Joyce Bourgault — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Joyce Bourgault Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Joyce Bourgault. I have been retired for 10 years and live in Sunbury Ohio. I currently receive quarterly reports on my investments upon which I depend for my daily living expenses knowing that my Social Security would not be enough to live on. I understand you are considering not requiring companies to provide those reports each quarter. How am I to know if these companies aren't failing until my money is all gone if I don't get quarterly reports? Banks provide monthly statements on my accounts so I'm sure they aren't abusing my money. These companies should also be accountable with my money at LEAST quarterly if not monthly!! You are gambling with my money and means to survive with allowing companies to not report their earnings. This is dangerous as we have seen in the past when companies are" too big to fail"! Do not allow companies to not be held accountable. Why would they even want this if it wasn't just a benefit to them not the consumer. It's another scam by big business and you are allowing it to happen. I request that you continue requiring quarterly reports to consumers. Thank you.

Sent from my iPhone

Joyce Greene — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Joyce Greene Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please don't stop the quarterly investment reports. I depend on those to make informed decisions on how to best invest my money. I think that's almost another nod to Congress maintaining insider trading and getting filthy rich while in Congress. One only has to look at former Speaker of the House Nancy Pelosi as a prime example. I rest my case. Thank you for your consideration.

Joyce Harrington — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Joyce Harrington Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It doesn't seem to be "broken", so why "fix" it? Leave it quarterly!

Sent from my iPhone

Joyce I Rudolph — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joyce I Rudolph Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Continue quarterly reporting

Sent from my iPhone

Joyce McKenney — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Joyce McKenney Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not do away with quarterly reports. We need to be able to know what's going on

---

Joyce Murray — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Joyce Murray Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: transparency is king these days. Dont lose the ones who are investing money. Because a smart investor would more likely pull out their money and stop investing rather than investing blindly! This is 2026 what are you thinking

---

Joyce Quinn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Joyce Quinn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Joyce M Quinn, retired. Please stay at quarterly reporting it's easy to keep track and know what's going on for the little guy, who is me.

Joyce Quinn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Joyce Quinn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Joyce M Quinn, retired. Please save the quarterly reporting as it's beneficial and easy to understand. Much appreciated.

Joyce W Smith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Joyce W Smith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I believe we need quarterly reporting so that investors have a chance to make decisions timely. Twice a year gives them the opportunity to dupe investors and less accountable.
Joyce w smith
Retired
LIberty SC

Sent from my iPhone

Joyce Weaver — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Joyce Weaver Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the People of the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I have learned something scarey about the safety of my little investment. This little investment, since I am retired, age 81, needs to be secure. My late husband, our two wonderful now citizen, sons, and myself, sacrificed as low income workers, to pay off the mortgage on our lovely, humble country, East Cocalico Township, PA, property so it could be sold at a disappointing sum in 2013(?) nearly free and clear. That sum, along with a bit of my parents hard earned worth after they passed, is now my little investment. This investment is a bit of security for my future.
This new proposal to end quarterly reports, may threaten that security for me and for others who depend on sincere, honest government workers who share respect for fellow Americans who have, with great effort and sacrifice served the wealthier population at low income wages, and managed to save for needs in the future.
On behalf of them and for myself, I hope for, ask for, all people in your department to help keep our savings safe.
Thank you all for your work, your service to all of us. May you be blessed with happiness and joy.

Sincerely,
Ms. Joyce Weaver
Lancaster County, Manheim Township
Pennsylvania

---

jphclublake — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: jphclublake Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 JWhy would you eliminate quarterly reporting? It is absolutely necessary to prevent fraud and abuse!
Joyce Hall
Retired Teacher

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device

---

jpier81 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: jpier81 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My husband and I are retired. We have investments. If we can't keep track of them we have a larger chance of losing the money we built to live on in retirement. J pier

Sent from my Galaxy

---

jsjacks2005 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: jsjacks2005 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly
John S. Jackson. ExxonMobil retired.

Sent from my Galaxy

---

jstapko — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: jstapko Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Dear Sirs, Madams, going to a six months reporting system sounds like a money grab of our Hard Earned Dollars, a smoke screen to “ save money” by laying off employees, buying time to “cook the books” by keeping investors in the Dark. Please Stand up for the investors, vote to Keep it Quarterly. Thank you, John Stapko, Machinist at A-Trch Hydraulics, Baltimore MD.

Sent from my iPhone

JT C — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: JT C Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 WE THE PEOPLE REQUIRE TRANSPARENCY. NO TO THIS!

Get Outlook for iOS

Juan Cruz — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Juan Cruz Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We must keep a close & transparent watch over those cimoanies that have taken our money to build or sustain their operations. 3 months is a adequate window into expenditures & operations & results; any longer and there is room for malfeasance.

Thank you, remember who you work for!

Sent from my iPhone

Juanette Butts — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Juanette Butts Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Wall Street and the big financial gurus have no business hiding their activities from the public. We're already lied to and robbed blind at quarterly reporting. Things will be significantly worse if they don't have to expose what they're doing for six months at a time. As a retiree, I live on a fixed income. I don't have enough money to cover the expenses they place on us because they're lining their pockets.
J. A. Butts

Judi Kuntz — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Judi Kuntz Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely not. This needs to remain quarterly. The only reason to move it bi-annually is to allow cover ups and fraud Do not change it!
Judith Siegal
VP of Product

Judith F. Hooker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Judith F. Hooker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: My husband and I worked and did without necessities to raise our family up from dirt farmers
Your intent to block our access to what we managed through sacrifice seems threatening, cruel and totally unnecessary - except to benefit the already wealthy Americans will not forgive this!!

Judith Reed — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Judith Reed Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly has worked for a long time. It give the smaller investor a fair shot. Keep. Reporting quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

Judy & Amy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Judy & Amy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The public has every right to know how publicly owned businesses are doing financially. Maintain quarterly reporting!
Judith Howard
Retired public health nurse - a public employee

Judy Affek — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Judy Affek Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Keep quarterlies,! Fraud is rampant and soke investors don't stand a chance. Please help protect us

---

Judy Brocking — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Judy Brocking Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Judy Brocking, jbofsbny@aol.com Seniors here. Why must the elite get everything handed to them while we're struggling? Please don't do this!!

Sent from my iPhone

Judy Cormier — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Judy Cormier Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I will not invest publicly traded corporations that do not report quarterly.

Judy Cormier
Investor

Get Outlook for Android

Judy Druelinger — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judy Druelinger Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly report.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Judy Fanslow — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judy Fanslow Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I say absolutely not. You cannot do this to hardworking taxpayers or retirees. We are suffering enough right now. Quit thinking of yourselves.

Judy Gollehon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Quarterly From: Judy Gollehon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need accountability, now more than ever. We need those accountable for the crimes to pay for those crimes. We bring up our children by these same rules. Therefore we need to show them that, regardless of age or wealth, those rules matter!

Judy Gollehon

Judy Mascolino — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Judy Mascolino Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reports. Don’t give anyone the secrecy they want to cheat us!

Sent from my iPhone

JUDY MILLS — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: JUDY MILLS Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I see no reason to decrease the reporting requirement from quarterly to semiannual. Decreasing reporting requirements will allow those with bad intentions to take advantage of the system for longer periods of time without detection. In fact, perhaps reporting requirements should be increased. Where I worked, we prepared financials monthly. This allowed the Board and others to track and see trends; and react more timely to negative changes.

I 100% oppose changing the reporting required and ask that they be kept at quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

Judy Mitchell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judy Mitchell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly SEC reports. I will advise my clients to pull their money from the market if that happens. We all know there are insiders that know before we do how a company is going. You are setting up for the insiders to cash out and regular investors to get soaked. This is a travesty. And I will protect my clients.

Judy Oliver — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Judy Oliver Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
STOP the SEC from ruining retail investors opportunities with such new rules. No Truth or Transparency will kill the retail investors and your stock market. While SEC kills investing, it also kills the market except for elite, oliguards. Sad.

Judy Underwood — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judy Underwood Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need to be informed so that decisions can be made

---

Juhnny Walker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Juhnny Walker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
None

Juletta Aycock — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Juletta Aycock Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Juletta Aycock, Widow of Vietnam Vet. MARRIED 54 years. My Title ‘Director of 1st Impressions’. Transparency needed at LEAST Quarterly! After what the government is trying to overrun our country with Data Centers (sneaking them in!!) I have no faith in anymore changes that we citizens have NO VOTE IN! Wake up, America!!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Julia Arbanas — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Julia Arbanas Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Julia Arbanas, and I am a museum registrar. In this role, I make only $23 per hour, even with a master’s degree. I rely on quarterly reporting to make the best decisions for my retirement planning and investing, using what limited resources I have to set myself up for success. This is essential for everyday workers like me.

Julia Grubb — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Julia Grubb Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Let us people know what is happening! It can't cost you any more to keep your report quarterly.

Julia Harpe — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Julia Harpe Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Why would you go back to 1955 rules? I'm 75! This is Greed, greed and more greed! I worked hard for my money at 2.13 hour!! As a waitress! What little money I have , I have bought a home, lived within my means, invested a little in stocks, bonds....what right do you think you have to take my earned money away?? Greed? Please think about us folks that worked hard and try to save for old age....
Julia M Harpe
3137 1st Ave S Murrells inlet SC 29576

Julia King — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Julia King Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please do not change our current reporting structure as we have all gotten used to this transparency. At a time when fraud is so rampant, I believe that this reduction in reporting will damage public trust in the SEC and would only add increased skepticism. This is not a necessary move, but one to decrease amount of work (which is already being done) and reduce costs (that are already being spent). There is no advantage to the public that you serve. Again, please do not change our current reporting structure

Kindest regards,

Julia

Julia Lohman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Julia Lohman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
It is unfair not to be totally transparent. in today's economy.

Julia Pepple — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Julia Pepple Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As someone who prepares quarterly financial reporting for a private equity firm in Chicago, IL, the cadence of quarterly reporting is invaluable for investors and institutions alike. While it may be slightly more costly and more time consuming, it is the only way for investors to actually know how their investments are performing. It is therefore the only way for investors to be able to make active choices regarding their investments, as it gives them the power to redeem from investments, and holds companies accountable.

It is even more important for public companies to continue to be required to report on a quarterly basis, for both individual and institutional investors alike. In addition to accountability, quarterly reporting aids in transparency and trust between companies and their investors. Getting rid of quarterly reporting requirements would further erode trust in both public and private companies, in a landscape where investors are already becoming more risk-averse due to the state of the economy.

If companies want people to continue to give their money to riskier investments like publicly traded, private equity, and pre-IPO investments, we have to continue to hold them to the standard of quarterly reporting. Going to semi-annual or annual reporting would add chaos and uncertainty to an already uncertain field that has very real impacts to the lives of everyday people who choose to invest, for their retirement, their children, and their future.

---

juliannadunn2 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: juliannadunn2 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The American public deserves quarterly reports on their stock holdings.
Julianna Dunn
Whitman, MA

Julianne Hoffman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Julianne Hoffman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Accountability is essential!!
Quarterly reporting must continue!

Julie Costa — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Julie Costa Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a retiree who depends heavily on investment income, I strongly support more transparency and more information, not less! For individual investors, having quarterly reports is better than semiannual reports. We need to keep companies accountable to their investors not just the board and executives. The cost of preparing quarterly reports is minimal compared to the benefits provided to investors. Semiannual reports were tried before and it resulted in lower returns for investors. Julie Costa

Sent from my iPhone

Julie Dull — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Julie Dull Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is ridiculous!!! That's why the 8k was invented. I do not want to see another Enron. And you let Bernie Madoff steal from people for DECADES. LOOK IT UP.

ATKINS IS A TRUMP TOOL!!

Sent from my iPhone

Julie Hart — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Julie Hart Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a part of doing business, reports to the public are essential. The money that comes in to you comes from us. It is obvious that more and more the patron is being charged more and more and is providing less and less. As a business, it should be a set practice to provide quarterly updates.
It lets the world know what is happening now.
You can't whine about the workload and come off professional and truthful. Stop the pettiness and hire someone…. You have the money unless you are hiding something. Ridiculous

Sent from my iPhone

Julie Krieg — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Julie Krieg Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is another bad idea from billionaires and corporations trying to fleece the tax payer. Enron taught us a lesson about how corrupt corporations and the wealthy people were not able to police themselves . The law was put into effect to monitor and rein in the people who were taking advantage of the public. Checks and balances must be put in place to make sure there are strict measures to monitor people who have access to privileged information and a system to keep their book keeping honest . Men wanting more power and money without checks in place have devastating results on our economy and the publics faith in our system will be broken . Good government means well placed laws to keep the governing body honest.

Julie Krieg — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Julie Krieg Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is another bad idea from billionaires and corporations trying to fleece the tax payer. Enron taught us a lesson about how corrupt corporations and the wealthy people were not able to police themselves . The law was put into effect to monitor and rein in the people who were taking advantage of the public. Checks and balances must be put in place to make sure there are strict measures to monitor people who have access to privileged information and a system to keep their book keeping honest . Men wanting more power and money without checks in place have devastating results on our economy and the publics faith in our system will be broken . Good government means well placed laws to the governing body honest.

Julie Landry — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Julie Landry Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please keep quarterly disclosures as it enables the best decision making. It also keeps a problem being buried for too long.

Julie Loncarich — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Julie Loncarich Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It should stay quarterly, that’s how seniors and normal people try to keep up with inflation. We will be losing income. If you want to change make monthly.

Get Outlook for iOS

Julie Mosher — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Julie Mosher Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I don't think the change from quarterly reporting to every six months is going to benefit the individual investor. It's a good thing for big businesses as it gives them opportunity to "fly under the radar" and partake in actions that would be legal if this change is made. In addition, the financial difficulties of some companies could be hidden and the possibility of fraudulent activity could occur. Don't give in to this change!

Julie Mosher-support associate (contractor)

Julie Mosher

Julie Ritter — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Julie Ritter Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP the quarterly reporting on corporations.

Julie Sewell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Julie Sewell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 You will hurt so many people by not having quarterly reports. If you kill off your citizens you will not have anyone to rule.

Julie Sherriff — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Julie Sherriff Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Enron. What is a better example?

We need quarterly repoŕts to keep up with our finances, especially since we are on a fixed income at our age.

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

JULIE THOMAS — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: JULIE THOMAS Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I strongly oppose any proposal that would reduce or eliminate quarterly reporting requirements for publicly traded companies. As an individual investor, quarterly reports are one of the few tools I have to monitor the financial health and performance of the companies in which I invest.

Julie Thomas

Julie Williams — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Julie Williams Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Julie Williams, retired. We manage our own Ira investing and need as up to date information as possible.

Sent from my iPhone

Julien Trembley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Julien Trembley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Financial transparency is due everyone. Anyone who could either potentially invest or is already investing should have regular access to updated information. Investment is not just for insiders. This financial information should be public, regulated, required, and regular.

Sent from my iPhone

June Day — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: June Day Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 June Day, retired marking strategist, keep quarterly reports quarterly. We need to keep companies accountable for how they are doing.

Sent from my iPhone

June Hopper — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: June Hopper Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly quarterly

Sent from my iPhone

June Picard — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: June Picard Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 absolutely not acceptable, they should be required to be more transparent, not less. it is like hiring the fox to guard the henhouse. what could possibly go wrong?

---

junior sailor — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: junior sailor Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly is necessary because 6 months is too long for companies that want to hide negative problems! Investors will lose confidence in companies that don't report quarterly.
Mitchell Liswith
602-944-6677

Justin Bernd — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Justin Bernd Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Didn'twe go through a time where they didn't report and what happened.?We put requirements in place to keep greedy and corrupt people from stealing money and fin the regular people over... unless you all are taking money to pass this...

Justin Furlow — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Justin Furlow Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Justin Furlow; teacher; I believe in accountability and oversight. Without those, corruption runs rampant. We have seen this in our nation's history and much more recent times. Lowering standards for companies in an age where information is so readily produced is unacceptable. When everything was pen and paper 100 years ago, this type of change might make sense. Now, it makes none at all other than to hide losses for an additional quarter. I have a state pension as well as a Roth IRA that are predicated on these stocks and companies being transparent for my future. Keep them reporting quarterly so they can be held responsible by stakeholders as they can make informed decisions about their holdings. If that doesn't appeal to someone, let's reverse this equation. Would these corporations like it if vendors didn't report their consumer sales on their products but twice a year? If the answer to that is no, then the answer to this should be no as that information helps the corporation make informed decisions. We as the public are demanding that same opportunity to make informed decisions.

Sent from my iPhone

Justine Tobin, Executive Representative and Founder, Tobin & Company Securities — Jun 22, 2026
101 SOUTH TRYON STREET
SUITE 2700
CHARLOTTE, NC 28230
p. 704-334-2772 tobinandcompany.com
June 22, 2026
Via Electronic Submission
Securities and Exchange Commission
Office of the Secretary
100 F Street, NE
Washington, DC 20549
Re: File No. S7 -2026 -15; Proposed Semi-A nnual Reporting
To the Commission:
I oppose the proposed amendments that would allow public companies to replace quarterly reporting with semi-annual reporting.
I submit this comment in my personal capacity as an individual trader and investor and as a securities and investment banking professional active in the private and public capital markets. I am the founder and owner of Tobin & Company Securities LLC (TOBIN), a boutique broker-dealer that serves clients and investors throughout the financial services industry, including as a managing broker-dealer for Reg

D private placement offerings. In our work, TOBIN advocates for and complies with SEC and FINRA rules requiring clearer disclosure, better investor communication and greater transparency in markets that are already less transparent than the public markets.
For that reason, I find proposal S7-2026-15 directionally wrong. Public companies have access to public capital. Regular public reporting is part of that bargain.
As the Chief Compliance Officer of an SEC-registered and FINRA-member broker-dealer, I support reducing unnecessary compliance burdens. There are many SEC compliance obligations that are costly, duplicative or poorly designed. Those should be fixed. Quarterly financial reporting is not one of them.
All financial markets rely on timely information. Retail investors, including me, rely on quarterly reports because we do not have the same access to management, proprietary research, alternative data, industry consultants or analytic tools available to institutional investors. If required reporting becomes less frequent, the information gap between ordinary investors and larger market participants will widen.
A six-month reporting cycle is too long in modern markets. In a world where share price is recorded to the cent, rather than an eighth, and trading, market commentary and pricing information are available nearly around the clock, material changes in liquidity, margins, debt, cash flow, inventory, credit Member FINRA/SIPC conditions and business momentum can emerge quickly. Investors should not have to wait half a year for financial statements from a public company.
A change to semi-annual reporting will not meaningfully increase the number of companies that choose to go public. Companies do not avoid the public markets simply because they must prepare quarterly reports. The obligations of being public include scrutiny, accountability and regular communication with owners. The costs of being public are real, but quarterly reporting is not the burden that keeps sound companies from accessing public capital. A company that seeks public capital should be prepared to report to the public on a quarterly basis.
If proponents' concern is short-termism, less disclosure is not the remedy. Short-termism is addressed through board discipline, management communication, long-term capital allocation and the fortitude to follow a strategic plan even when earnings fluctuate and share prices are volatile. Public companies should explain their long-term plans clearly and manage to those plans. Investors can be educated by consistent communication. They should not be educated by silence.
The Commission should focus instead on making reporting easier for issuers to complete and less daunting for investors to use. The SEC has already recognized the need to modernize legacy systems such as EDGAR. That is the right direction to take. Even TOBIN, as a small broker-dealer, must access and use EDGAR, and our experience has been unnecessarily difficult. In a prior comment letter, we described practical problems with EDGAR Next, including unclear instructions, opaque error messages, file-format problems and design issues that impeded compliance rather than improved transparency.

The Commission should reduce needless reporting friction, not the amount of reporting available to investors.
Quarterly reporting supports investor protection, market discipline and sound corporate governance.
The public markets need more transparency, not less. I respectfully urge the Commission to not adopt the proposed semi-annual reporting framework.
Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.
Respectfully submitted,
Justine Tobin
Executive Representative and Founder
2

---

k long — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: k long Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is necessary to maintain the compliancy and accountability of records publicly!!! Keep the quarterly reports coming!

Sent from my iPhone

K N — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: K N Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
My view on Rule S7-2026-15

this was bad before. It is bad now. Do not do this - the people don't want it.

K Nelson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: K Nelson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need more accountability not less. The American people have been stolen from for too long. If institutions want our trust and money they’re going to have to be more transparent, this reeks of cover up.
K. Nelson- retired -CA

K W — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: K W Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please, for the love of democracy and all that is fair and equitable, keep accountability quarterly. Thank you.

Sent from my iPhone

K W — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: K W Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please, for the love of democracy and all that is fair, keep accountability quarterly. Thank you.

Sent from my iPhone

K Wemmert — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: K Wemmert Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a machinist in a company making hundreds of millions of dollars annually, I feel quarterly reporting keeps the company I work for honest with us as employees as well as all of our public stock holders. Changing these rules will hurt everyone.

Kacy Eaves — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kacy Eaves Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is outrageous to allow this rule to go through. More and more only the rich get "help"

Kacy C. Eaves Esq. 513-221-2856

text only 513 324 4877 for emergencies

Kali Carringer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kali Carringer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Kali Carringer, retired, I want to know that the stocks in my 2 annuities are transparent in their reporting.

Kam Gray — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kam Gray Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a Financial Professional, investment is already complicated enough to the average retail investor with many professionals who don't meet minimum meeting requirements with clients. If companies were also in the shadows for 6 months, transparency will suffer and ultimately, the average consumer, who back in 1955 had a pension plan, but no longer has that safety net.

Kameron Thomas — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kameron Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Kameron Thomas, and I am an IT Technician. Quarterly reporting must stay in place to keep fairness and transparency for all. It would be asinine to allow everyone else but the little guy a window into reports and would be a massive cut to public trust. With so much other legislation and policies being implemented or proposed across the nation that hurt everyday people, there does not need to be one more. Please seriously consider keeping it quarterly and keep with the status quo that does not negatively impact anything.

Thank you,
Kameron

---

kandis wester — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: kandis wester Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
very bad idea ! do NOT allow this to happen PLEASE

Kandy Leath — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kandy Leath Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Every investor of any and all companies should and deserve to see detailed financial strengths, weaknesses, victories and defeats quarterly! Whether an investor is big or small, we investors, we the ppl have the right to see Quarterly in and outs of all companies should. We the ppl made you.. what are u trying to hide. Keep quarterly!

Kandy Murray — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kandy Murray Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why change what's been working for years? I vehemently vote against this proposal which would deny me information in a timely manner. I am a retired manager from AT&T and I watch my investments carefully as I don't want to run out of money before I die!
Sincerely,
Jacquelyn Murray
Retiree AT&T

Sent via the Samsung Galaxy A16 5G, an AT&T 5G smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Kara Karr — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kara Karr Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not end quarterly reporting. It is unfair to the public you serve.

Karen A. O'Brien (AKA KAVO) — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen A. O'Brien (AKA KAVO) Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It’s a sick and corrupt idea. The people will come for you.

Karen Boulton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Karen Boulton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commision:

Changing the reporting frequency of corporate earnings will only allow more cheating by "the big guys" against the everyday small investor!!

Karen Carter — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Karen Carter Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I think that not reported quarterly. Gives companies more time to commit fraud. And hide it , from the investors. I myself watch my quarterly reports and having a say in my account is important to me. Thank you. K.C

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Karen Duncan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Duncan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No, do not let them go longer than 3 months. It would hurt the public's investments too much if a company is failing.

Karen Epps — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Karen Epps Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why go back to something that didn’t work in the past! Stick with what works or come up with something better before any change is made.

Sent by Karen Epps

Karen Ferren — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Karen Ferren Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: It really is important to read regular reports about the up and down of securities. At least the financial progress (up or down) of your own investments, but also just to know the general health of corporations, because their financial well being affects the whole countries well being.

Karen Fuhrhop — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Karen Fuhrhop Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep financial reporting quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

Karen Hearring — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Karen Hearring Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep Full disclosure & Stop this Bull *!!! Wake up, we're tired of being conned!!

Karen Herczegh — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Karen Herczegh Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As an investor, I am very interested in keeping these companies on the up and up. We have seen how easy it is for problems to sneak through with less oversight and transparency. Keep the reporting as it was determined after the Enron fiasco.

Sent from my iPhone

Karen Huggins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Huggins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep Quarterly reports. Although retired, watching the reports matters to my investments and income.

Karen Johnson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reporting requirements. Keep the companies responsible for letting investors know what is happening in time for investor decisions and actions.
Karen Johnson, retired

Karen Kerst — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Karen Kerst Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP quarterly reporting! This is our life savings and we deserve to be kept informed!

Karen Love — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Karen Love Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm Karen Love. I'm retired. Quarterly reporting must be kept. Without it, mistakes and hacking is less likely to be found. We need to rely on truthful, timely reports.

Karen M Huckeby — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen M Huckeby Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I believe quarterly reporting keeps companies honest. Too much time for something to go unnoticed. Karen Huckeby, retired 404 Babbling Brook Dr
Virginia Beach, VA

Sent from AOL on Android

Karen Mandracchia — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Karen Mandracchia Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This needs to stop now ! I am sick and tired of the American people being taken advantage of!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Karen Miller — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Miller Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is important for investors to be properly timely notified of changes and issues. Too many protections are being rolled back to the benefit of busineses only!

KAREN MILLER — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: KAREN MILLER Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We WILL hold you accountable!

Karen Miller, Retired
Hatfield, PA 19440

Karen Moses — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Karen Moses Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I find it a dangerous idea to eliminate quarterly reports. I read through these reports and make decisions based on them. As an investor, especially in times of fluctuation an unknown future with the administration, I demand that we continue having quarterly reports.
With all due respect, this is a terrible idea.
Karen Moses

---

karen plank — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: karen plank Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please stop the fear in investing, keep reports quarterly.
Thanks,
Ron Plank

Karen Powers — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Karen Powers Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Reporting should be done quarterly, or even monthly.

Karen Reuter — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Karen Reuter Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reports are essential. They offer protections for those who have little control over how their investments are treated. These quarterly reports are important and must be enforced. Do not change these protections.

Sent from my iPhone

Karen Rex — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Karen Rex Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly reporting is necessary. It needs to be required by the SEC always. Investors need current information about their investments on a regular basis.

Karen Rothery — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Karen Rothery Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly !#47 has decimated our economy beyond belief! NO MORE!!!!

Karen Rovnak — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Rovnak Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 You need to keep the quarterly reporting. This is incredibly important to the investors and maintaining the integrity of companies. Please don't take this away. Thank you, Karen Rovnak

---

Karen Schulte — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Schulte Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Karen Schulte, private investor
Keep quartely reporting-help keep CEO’s more honest!

Karen Schulte

schulte.kj@gmail.com

Karen Tratiak — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Tratiak Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am against making it any easier for companies to defraud consumers and the average investors. Please keep quarterly disclosure.
K. Tratiak, Concerned Citizen

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Karen Valentine — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Karen Valentine Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I don't think any changes in current rule S7-2026-15 are needed. I need the same updates and info I have been receiving. Different doesn't equal better, particularly if it means small investors cannot get the information they need.

Karen Villanova Ward — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Karen Villanova Ward Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Karen L Ward. I am a Retired Production Associate at BMW Manufacturing. Keeping this reporting quarterly is in the best interest of the public and stock holders. I am against this because I rely on these reports to keep abreast of my retirement fund as well as any changes in my current portfolio that should be addressed. Thank you for the opportunity to comment.

Sent from my Galaxy

Karen Williams — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Karen Williams Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is best: it's the most comprehensive & transparent & will protect investors and brokers. There's no legitimate reason to change this. If it ain't broken, don't fix it. Teacher/Investor

---

Karin Hartin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Karin Hartin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY!!!

Karin Moseley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Karin Moseley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 In a world of instant global transactions - this is NO time to reduce the reporting!

QUARTERLY REPORTING IS MINIMAL NOT EXCESSIVE REPORTING IN 2026 !!!!

Stop the thieves … it's probably too late but try to stop the thieves anyway!!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Karina A. Mirsky — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Karina A. Mirsky Re: File No. S7-2026-15 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: I am writing as an individual investor to oppose the proposal allowing public companies to replace quarterly reporting with semiannual reporting. My primary concern is transparency and equal access to information. Public markets function best when all investors have access to timely, standardized information about the companies in which they invest. Quarterly reporting helps create a more level playing field by ensuring that retail investors receive regular updates on company performance rather than relying on rumors, selective communications, analyst interpretations, or information that may be more accessible to large institutional investors. As an individual investor, I do not have access to the resources available to major financial institutions. I rely on publicly available disclosures to make informed decisions. Reducing the frequency of required reporting would increase the information gap between ordinary investors and those with greater financial and informational advantages. Quarterly reporting is not merely a compliance exercise. It is a cornerstone of transparency, accountability, and trust in U.S. capital markets. Investors provide capital to public companies with the expectation that those companies will communicate their performance on a regular basis. Less frequent reporting weakens that relationship and reduces the visibility investors have into changing business conditions. The strength of U.S. markets has long rested on robust disclosure standards. I believe maintaining mandatory quarterly reporting requirements serves investors, supports market confidence, and promotes fairness for participants of all sizes. For these reasons, I respectfully urge the Commission to retain quarterly reporting requirements and reject the proposed semiannual reporting option. Thank you for your consideration. Sincerely, Karina Mirsky Michigan

---

Karl Blasius — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karl Blasius Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Markets are so much more volatile today that financial reporting changes should be in the direction of more frequent! I prefer no change to quarterly reporting.
Karl Blasius

Karl Knutson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Karl Knutson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Rather than restrictions on information to common people put BAN on politicians until they leave office.

Karla Lambert36 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Karla Lambert36 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Regular submission of documentation keeps legitimacy and accountability alive in business and commerce. Allowance of dark time only increases the will and desire to commit atrocity.

Karlen Sanberg — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Karlen Sanberg Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting. There's enough criminal activity all the way to the top without giving these *s more time to screw everyone.

Karma Was Here — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Karma Was Here Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm so sick of all the fraud costing the average American taxpayer more money and companies profit from their abuse of power. Don't ley this happen.
Tessa DuBarton

---

karo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: karo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely not! Sarbanes-Oxley was created for a very good reason and companies still use creative accounting to manipulate the perception of their companies' financial position. Six months is completely ridiculous. But this administration only caters to corporate America. Wait till all the talent leaves the US to prosper somewhere that it will actually be possible! I'm planning on it. Already working on my EU citizenship because the US is so thoroughly corrupted after 18 months of trump. That lowercase t is meant to disrespect a criminal!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Kasia Elerath — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kasia Elerath Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This sounds very harmful to the people of the country who are supporting and investing in these companies. Do not approve this change.

Kasia

Kat Petell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Quarterly Reports From: Kat Petell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 You need to keep the quarterly reporting to keep them honest! Too much can slip thru on a semiannual report!! Too many ways for CEO's to be dishonest now without helping them by changing it!

As a Native American I know all too well give ELITES an inch they take a mile. Our Corruption in America NEEDS to Stop not ENCOURAGE thru relaxed reporting times!
K Petell
Salesmanger.

Kate Baker Tilton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kate Baker Tilton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Kate Tilton, retired, living on SS and investments. Investors have a right to know.

Kate Hart — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Kate Hart Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We should be holding white criminals accountable. Please continue the current requirements.

Thank you,
Kelly Hairgrove

---

kate tannenbaum — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: kate tannenbaum Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why would this even be considered? Corporations have many other ways to pillage Americans' life savings without adding yet another method.

Katheran & Bill Lawens — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Katheran & Bill Lawens Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Sec must retain quarterly reports. To do otherwise gives them an open door for fraud!

Sent from my iPhone

Katherin STONE — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Katherin STONE Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 A certification costs an honest executive nothing to sign, it just exposes the fraudsters. Why roll them back?
Katherin Stone RN ROSEBURG OREGON
I want my corporations honest, open, and prison fearing. I want to know where my investment went. It is just good business.
America needs good business now more than ever.

Get Outlook for Android

Katherine Augustine — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Katherine Augustine Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
After 22 years as an attorney and director in compliance and risk management, it's obvious that this lack of quarterly disclosure being considered will hurt investors. I'm shocked the SEC would even consider this! Please reconsider this change!

Katherine Benker-Boral — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Katherine Benker-Boral Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am writing in implore you against allowing public companies hide vital information about their financial health. We need more oversight, regulation and transparency, not less. Wall Streets predatory practices continue to harm Main Street. Giving big cooperations even more power to rob from the public is the absolute wrong direction. This is reckless and a complete abandonment of duty of "protecting investors, maintaining fair and efficient markets, and facilitating capital formation". Letting Wall Street hide their numbers for 6 months is a miscarriage of justice and the SEC's responsibility. Please vote against Rule S7-2026-15.
Thank you

Katherine Brown — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Katherine Brown Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is essential. Without it there are too many that could(would) be ignored. The public and shareholders and donors could very well be swindled. Our transparency president wants everything shielded. That is a big fat no.

Katherine Dunnington — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Katherine Dunnington Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As an investor and participant in yhe market having quarterly reporting and information is important gor making informed investment decisions both for myself and for the plan administrators, analysts and fund managers. Too much can change in 6 months, especially with the advent of AI and we should be seeking more real time information not less!

Katherine Endacott — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Katherine Endacott Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need accountability and timely information. Quarterly reports are an absolute necessity. I an a former CEO, now retired, of a privately held company. My investors and shareholders received monthly reports.
Katherine Endacott

Katherine Endacott
katherine.endacott@gmail.com

402 770 8331

Katherine Johnson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Katherine Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly reports

Sent from my iPhone

Katherine Lusk — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Katherine Lusk Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I've traded stocks for years! Quarterly reports are important to stockholders. Too much can happen in 1 month, let alone 6! If it's too much for a CFO to file a report quarterly, he should find a different job!
Katherine Lusk, Retired

---

katherine McNair — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: katherine McNair Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Wall Street needs to be watched. Quarterly reporting is necessary to maintain fair trading, etc. please do not cut back guidelines for Wall Street.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Katherine Sandman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Katherine Sandman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm not even invested in the stock market but this is OUTRAGEOUS!!! Don't you CONTROL enough already?? Stop this nonsense!!

Katheryn Gregory — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Katheryn Gregory Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Katie Hutchings, SC — I support keeping quaterly reporting. Companies are being caught and fined even with quarterly reporting - to decrease reporting requirements will only increase the opportunity to hide poor decisions and risk taking. I lived through Enron's cooking the books and the more strict requirements following their demise. The extra reporting requirements on a quarterly basis provide security for the average investor. Please stop favoring the corporations and billionaires and protect the rest of us!

Sent from my iPhone

Kathi Eilers — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kathi Eilers Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reports are essential to all shareholders. Transparency is a benefit to all. Why are we trying to hold information from the owners? This can only lead to more deception than we already have. People who make business decisions look at monthly weekly daily hourly and real time data. I don't trust my decisions if I don't have my data. The reporting requirements are not too much administrative work. They companies will have and use the reports themselves. They don't want to share then stay private!

Kathleen Eilers
MN
Sent from my iPad

Kathleen Browning — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathleen Browning Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 At whose behest is this rule change being proposed?! In light of the corruption and lawlessness of the current regime, quarterly reporting and accountability by the SEC must be retained, sanctified even.

Kathleen Browning
Farmington, New Mexico

Kathleen Card — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathleen Card Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Full disclosure each month!

Kathleen Elam — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kathleen Elam Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Transparency in everything is important. Quarterly disclosures over only every 6 months are vital information to make better investment decisions. This may shy away many from trading.

Kathleen Fraser — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kathleen Fraser Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
It is unacceptable that you want to stop your quarterly reporting, potentially allowing companies to hide important information that could hurt our portfolios.
We the people demand transparency, and this is unacceptable

Kathleen Grant — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kathleen Grant Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly disclosures are important to investors. I am a small investor trying to build a retirement package, those reports help me to make informed decisions. Please stand on the side of investors and require these reports.
Thank you,
K. Grant

Kathleen Heinrich — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kathleen Heinrich Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Cutting transparency in financial institutions harms everyone but the top percent. This sounds like a quiet monopoly scheme to reduce “normal” or small investors from being a part of the market. As a teacher, small investments are the only thing that will allow a survivable retirement. When those investments are not made with clear, up to date information, I will be cut out by loss. Handing over tools for less accountability from businesses is a HUGE mistake.
Sincerely concerned,
Kathleen Heinrich

Sent from

Kathleen Hunter — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kathleen Hunter Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: This action olacks integrity. do you still have integrity or are you shedding what bit you have?

Kathleen McKown — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathleen McKown Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep requiring quarterly reporting from public corporations. Investors need to know and understand the information and the public needs to be aware of the status of these organizations.
Kathleen McKown, retired financial professional and investor.

Sent from my iPad

Kathleen Mersinger — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kathleen Mersinger Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly report. There is no reason to go backwards!

K.Mersinger, retired clinical laboratory diagnostic manager and relying on my investment portfolio to give me a decent income I worked very hard to earn!

Kathleen OBrien — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kathleen OBrien Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As investors, we need timely and accurate information on how the companies we invest are doing. It is our right to know how the financials of the businesses are being managed. Changing the rule from quarterly to semiannually is absolutely unacceptable and must not happen.

Kathleen Osinski — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathleen Osinski Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Kathy O retired teacher. Please do not move to semi-annual reporting of financial information by corporations and businesses. The information provided quarterly has helped my retirement investment decisions has helped me know when to move money before a large loss occurs. I have seen the difference in earnings between quarterly and semi- annual reports, making more money with the quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Kathleen Quinn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathleen Quinn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I have worked in banking for most of my career. Our markets are being manipulated by the administration and billionaires. It is blatant! The SEC needs quarterly reporting as stated in the regulations of the market. The insider trading is out of control and needs to stop! Every 6 months gives too much time to the corruption of the administration that will continue to manipulate the market. Regulations were made for a reason and it is not to pad the pockets of billionaires of the world. The SEC needs to investigate this corruption because America is watching! Quarterly Reports are needed!

Kathleen Rosenkoetter — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathleen Rosenkoetter Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 How MANY MORE WAYS. Are you trying to find for the rich and elected officials to hide money!! STOP IT

Kathleen Sweeney — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathleen Sweeney Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Kathleen Sweeney, lawyer. Quarterly reporting keeps corporate governance and operations more Transparent which impacts the success of My portfolio

Kathleen M. Sweeney

Kathleen Yohn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kathleen Yohn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am Kathleen Yohn, a retired Special Education professional residing in Germantown, OH. My husband and I prepared well for retirement by building financial portfolios together that, at the time of our retirement, should provide good financial protection for us for decades. I fear the administration's proposal to allow public companies to return to filing semi-annual earnings reports could put our savings in jeopardy. From 1955-1970 the SEC allowed public companies to report semi-annually to disastrous results. In 1970 the SEC mandated quarterly reporting again, and the market valuations have been climbing ever since. While other factors obviously impact the market, a correlation between quarterly reporting and a healthier stock market seems clear. Please DO NOT jeopardize our hard-earned retirement. We earned it, we prepared well, and we deserve to have it remain secure in our senior years.

Kathy Yohn-Weaver

kyohn9441@gmail.com

"it's not being at the top of the mountain that matters--it's the trail you choose to get there"

Kathryn A Juhl — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathryn A Juhl Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting Nothing less
End of conversation

Sent from my iPhone

Kathryn Bouchard — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kathryn Bouchard Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Stop running a welfare state for billionaires! Protect every day investors by mandating quarterly earnings reports!

Kathryn Calkins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kathryn Calkins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop it. Support America instead of destroy it

Sent from my iPhone

Kathryn Cvelbar — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kathryn Cvelbar Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
The rules of accountability were put in place for a reason.
The ordinary investor should be able to keep a breast of how their investments are performing. Not be kept in the dark.
Less accountability means more opportunity for imbezzelment.

Kathryn Egli — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kathryn Egli Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not cut off the vital information we need to make decisions about or investments! It is like a rug being go pulled out from underneath our feet to ask us to accept this change in reporting. We have made decisions on this reporting and now you feel we don't need it. That is wrong to take away vital information for what are decisions to buy or hold or sell an investment. You must give the investors, lawmakers and analyst time to evaluate this Huge decision. If this information is taken away you need to give us time to reevaluate our portfolio. I do not understand how you can make a change like this without serious damage to investors. Without proper notice we could loose value if our investment at the SEC's whim. We did not sign up for this and someone better wake up to travesty of this short sided vision.

KATHRYN GOETZ — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: KATHRYN GOETZ Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I request that you keep the quarterly reporting for CEO’s to protect my investments that protect me in my retirement years from poverty and homelessness. I depend on those investments to be protected. A change in reportingcould cause another Enron disaster. You are our watchdog. Do your job with integrity.

Sent from my iPad

Kathryn McCannon retired — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Kathryn McCannon Kathryn McCannon Retired. It is important to know and keep up with what is happening in today economy. With all the president is doing, I'm sorry but everyone needs to watch their backs and their money.

Kathryn Russell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kathryn Russell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is crazy! Big companies prosper while small companies go under... so not fair. I can't believe someone thoughts this was a good idea. KEEP IT QUARTERLY!!!!

Kathy Adams — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kathy Adams Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Retail investors like my husband and I, need clear, accurate and timely information to make informed investment decisions. Insiders and institutional investors will always have the resources and relationships to get the information they need. Without quarterly reporting, retail investors are on an unlevel playing field, with no way to get timely information about public companies.

Kathy Betsinger — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathy Betsinger Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Trump has already lined his pockets and the pockets of overly rich and greedy, who will never think they have enough. It’s way overdue to do what’s best for the average citizens of this country!

Sent from my iPhone

Kathy Boston — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kathy Boston Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep things quarterly! Don't forget about Enron!
Kathy Boston, retired stockbroker

Kathy DeAngelo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathy DeAngelo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Kathy DeAngelo, a retired homeowner living in upstate NY. The last thing we need to be worried about is making it easier for companies who are only worried about their own corporate financial health. The public NEEDS and deserves continued quarterly reporting to be able to watch for problems with their investments and unethical activities before it’s too late. We need MORE transparency not LESS! Stop this nonsense now.

Kathy Deaton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kathy Deaton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not change the policy or change the oversight and don't make it less. The oversight is vital to everyday investors. Thanks.

Kathy Fruge — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kathy Fruge Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Anything but quarterly reporting will lead to blatant corruption by big corporations.

Kathy Fruge

Kathy Hromadka — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathy Hromadka Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Just a retired critical care nurse. I need quarterly information to help me make informed decisions. Thank you.

Kathy Jagodnik — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kathy Jagodnik Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Seems like cutting corners for the quarterly reporting only benefits the Big Boys. Transparency is the HONORABLE thing to do. So be Honorable!!..not deceptive and GREEDY

Kathy Mangiola — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathy Mangiola Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Reporting by companies should be kept quarterly. Don't wreck what the middle class has saved for their retirement by changing the law. There's so much stuff against us in terms of trying to have a decent retirement that we don't need the SEC doing this also.

Kathy McReynolds — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathy McReynolds Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Opening the door for more fraud and corruption. Not fair to the everyday stockholders. Please do not allow this change and honestly with all the corruption not sure why we are not requiring monthly reporting.

KATHY MUSIC - BENTZIN — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: KATHY MUSIC - BENTZIN Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 THAT'S INSANE!! ONE COULD LOSE WITHOUT KNOWING IT!!?!!

Sent from my iPhone

Kathy Nicholson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathy Nicholson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The quarterly reporting was started to prevent another Enron from happening. Why would we change it? Do we expect the Honor System to work?

Kathy Omaits — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kathy Omaits Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: keep the information to the account holders for transparency and accountability. For truth. It reminds to keep aware of where your money is. It is a small part of a guardrail to stop the uncontrolled corruption .

Kathy Spain — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathy Spain Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is just wrong. Do better

---

Kathy Sullivan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kathy Sullivan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop trying to fix what isn't broken. Keep Quarterly reporting.

Kathy Sullivan retired from BPSD

Kathy Taylor — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kathy Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please leave things at reporting quarterly. That's best for us investors. Thank you.

Kathy Wolford — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathy Wolford Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting. Companies and investors alike have done very well with the quarterly reporting system, better than before it was implemented. Changing it back invites corruption. Please keep what we have. Thank you.

Kathy Wolford
Retired Teacher With Investments

Katrinia Perkins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Katrinia Perkins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This matters after working for nothing in AMERICA., $20 is not a great job but everything is expensive 👌😞 which allows people to steal from us, for instance MCComb Mississippi police CHEIF Garland Ward used my adopted fathers life with my mom's dad, my grandfather George living in Mississippi and got his nephew Chivarius Ward in the NFL, WITH STEALING MY IDENTITY, AND IM SURE THE NFL KNEW THESE FACTORS AND FACTS. NOBODY HELPED ME AND I JUST DOLLOWED AND EEAD UP ON SOME STUDF AND REALIZED THAT THE POKICE AND GOVERNMENT WERE TRYING RO ASSASSINATE myself and my kids and grandbaby for my Shell Oil Road PIPELINE. I keep a gun with me because if I have to kill me some cops, they will be dying and Imma call the police and let them know I had to kill these people to save my life or others with me.
Yes I am preparing and making my own personal bombs for anyone who tries.
Phillip MCSPADDEN was one of your lawyers and That's Why Michael Brown is dead for trying to steal and betray the Government.
Garland Ward and the POLICE IS LIVING IN MY HOME @806 N MAGNOLIA STREET, MCCOMB MISSISSIPPI,
I WAS BORN IN THE PROPERTY APRIL 10, 1971.
SO WHO ACTUALLY MURDERED MICHAEL BROWN?
WAS HIS MOTHER INVOLVED AND THEY (THE POLICE-PHYLLIS/CALVIN LUMPKIN ON DESOTO STREET IN MCCOMB MISSISSIPPI PLOTTED OUR MURDERS.

GOD
DONT
LIKE UGLY

KATRINIA PERKINS Adopted by Melvin and Elaine Hampton. Are you gonna go recover my Mother's and fathers life or working and building musical group and music as well, Bernard/Elaine Williams of the @Williams Brothers Gospel Group?
Who working in your SEC JELPED MURDER MICHAEL BROWN AND TRIED TO KILL US?

I NEED ANSWERS RIGHT NOW AND MY DEEDS AND TITLE IN MY HAND WITH AUDITING

MISSISSIPPI.

OBVIOUSLY
THE SEC DOESNT CARE OR INVOLVED.

Katy Allen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Katy Allen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting so that investors are informed about a company's performance and can make informed decisions. I am a retiree and except for Social Security, live off of my investments in the stock market. I need to be apprised of performance so that I can make wise decisions. I don't think this is a burden to corporations since we, the shareholders, are owners.

Sent from my iPhone

Katy Scudieri — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Katy Scudieri Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it as is. Do not cut it to 6 months.

Katz Stack — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Katz Stack Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want quarterly, signed reporting. I want penalties for signing lies. Stop smashing the little people.

Kavan Cooney — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kavan Cooney Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It's in place to keep order so that big companies can be held accountable
Kavan
Health Care worker

My parents are constantly having to look at their portfolio, if big companies can manipulate stocks more for capital gain. Allowing big corporations to manipulate earrings puts all hard working Americans at risk. Americans who've worked their entire lives for a retirement and believed in their county don't deserve have what they've worked for stolen from them for corporate gains. I worry, especially those like my parents on a fixed income. Stop big corporations from manipulating stocks for private gain, enforce the law upon those embezzling and stealing from hard working Americans !

Kavonna K — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kavonna K Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I know this may not make a difference but it's my responsibility to my children and other citizens of this great nation. Please do not block the release of quarterly disclosures, we have enough fraud going on in this country. Let's keep the companies accountable and operating legally.

Kay Jopling — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Kay Jopling Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely not! Accountability is not a character flaw! It’s designed to protect them as much as it protects us.

Sent from my iPhone

Kay Jopling — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Kay Jopling Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely not! Accountability is not a character flaw! It’s designed to protect them as much as it protects us. It has seemed to me, in the past few years, that damage can be done in record time when there are gaps in revealing monetary gains, particularly when it is in their best interest to, not ours.

Sent from my iPhone

Kay Payne — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kay Payne Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Ethically this is outrageous!😡 This leaves the average investor completely in the dark- perhaps even holding on to stocks spiraling downward until they become worthless. Meanwhile, the major investors will most certainly be warned (even though the average investor won’t), so they can dump any losing stock before it hits rock bottom and buy any promising one while it is cheap.

Sent from my iPhone

Kayla Coe — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kayla Coe Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need to know quarterly about things in order to see what is happening. To have to wait 6 months doesn’t give the knowledge and/or time in many cases.

Sent from my iPad

Kaylon Forsyth — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kaylon Forsyth Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Kaylon Forsyth, Psychiatric Technician

It's important for transparency and honesty

KC Park — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: KC Park Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I, as an American investor, want to have quarterly reports. Let's keep it that way!

Keisha Wright — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Keisha Wright Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
How is the a good idea? This will only hurt the public and allow corporations to hide facts that investors need to make a sound decision. This is not in the best interest of anyone and you should be protecting the public and not adding fear.

Keith Jones — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Keith Jones Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it

Sent from my iPhone

Keith Perrillo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Keith Perrillo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keith, Retired, AZ, Stop a potential 6month black out! You tell me what benefits I will receive as an investor?

Keith Perry — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Keith Perry Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please do not allow buisnesses who are public companies or companies that allow for individual investors to go “under the radar” for any period of time —-ever. Investors and the public should be ENTITLED to monitor these companies behavior. No more backroom or smoke screen deals should be allowed. Keep buisnesses honest and public!

Keith Stark — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Keith Stark Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This change is a total travesty.
Protect the individuals and account holders. No change to quarterly reporting !!!
Keith Stark
919 616-1113
kstark413@gmail.com

---

kellee dougherty — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: kellee dougherty Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly report.

Kellee Dougherty

Sent from my iPad

Kelley Bowman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Kelley Bowman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Anytime the government allows wider gaps in reporting the lies get bigger. Don't tell American's that petty theft is more important to prosecute than Big Money fraud!!

Kellie — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kellie Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep reporting it quarterly!

Kelly Fash — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kelly Fash Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep Quarterly reporting going!! Too easy to "fudge" the books!!!! We are seeing higher prices on so many things!!! Seniors, on a fixed income, which I'm one of, need to be CONSIDERED!!!! Why change what's been working for decades??? Taxes, paid Quarterly, ,6 months could hurt! Especially if there's a tropical storm, Hurricane, other natural disasters!!!! Strikes!!! C'mon, be reasonable!! Thank you!!!

Kelly Lennon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kelly Lennon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 CEOs need to certify and report quarterly. Please thwart insider manipulations. Protect the public!

Sent from my iPhone

Kelly Wade — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kelly Wade Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting and its associated transparency is important to me! Our investments fuel businesses and the economy - don’t keep important info from us.
Kelly Wade
Administrative Assistant

Sent from my iPhone

Ken Alongi — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ken Alongi Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting. Reporting only six months is not enough time to react to changes in the market.

Kenneth Alongi

Sent from my iPhone

Ken Archer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ken Archer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Individual, as well as institutional investors, rely on transparency with publicly traded companies. Maintaining quarterly reporting cycle provides investors with important financial and market insights, can confront rumors, and show relevant results that builds confidence in company valuations. Without this delivery, this can create panic and distrust, further leading to a loss of investor confidence. Please maintain the quarterly filing and reporting cycle that has been established and maintained for so long.

Ken Draper — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ken Draper Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 keep the quarterly reporting to help sort out criminal behavior and assets

---

Ken Goldman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ken Goldman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am a three time public company CFO. Although quarterly reporting took a lot of time and effort and was costly, I believe it is imperative to continue the practice so that investors can make informed decisions. Without it, investors are just guessing as to the financial results of a company's operations. This makes absolutely no sense. It will allow too much opportunity for fraud. There is absolutely zero justification for making such a change.

---

ken gulledge — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ken gulledge Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it like it is!

Get Outlook for iOS

Ken Ragan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ken Ragan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Need to KEEP IT AS IS, or Require Monthly verification!
Sounds like someone is trying to buy time to cover some Illegal activities already in progress! I recommend an IMMEDIATE Audit and Investigation of all those purposing the change to 6 months, and all the Accounts they are associated with. Ken Ragan 88kr71@gmail.com Concord N.C.

---

ken rahilly — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: ken rahilly Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I have worked in finance and if for close to forty years. Software has improved SO much that full financial consolidations and reporting can be achieved in minutes rather than WEEKS. The only reason to reduce the requirements is to enable fraud. It severely reduces data points for detecting revealing fraud. Time frame should be increased to monthly rather than reduced

---

Kendall R — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kendall R Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The fifties are history. Rolling back reporting now only benefits those wishing to circumvent the system.

Kenley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kenley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Public trading requires public information. I'm a logistics specialist, so I know how important having that right information is. Keep the quarterly report.

I might go so far as to say the quarterly report is necessary to secure the blessings of liberty for our posterity.

Best,
Kenley Borgerson

Kenneth Fiedler — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kenneth Fiedler Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Kenneth Fiedler - retired - keep quarterly reporting - so t will be able to keep an eye on our portfolio. Thank you 🙏🙏🙏

Kenneth Fitzgerald — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kenneth Fitzgerald Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly financial statements are essential for retail investors to make informed decisions. By reducing the frequency of publicly required statements, knowledge will surely be transferred illegally resulting in insider trading that steals money from American workers investment/retirement accounts. It also makes the public more vulnerable to manipulation from executives and media, since there is such a long lag between communications and reports being released that can verify them.

Kenneth Fomberstein — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kenneth Fomberstein Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please continue quarterly reporting. If anything, reporting should be more frequent. With AI and modern technology reporting is easy and cheap, but the consequences to retail investors of not reporting is tremendous.

Warmest Regards,
Ken

Kenneth Karlson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kenneth Karlson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The more control and honesty, the quicker the US gets healthy again

---

Kenneth Rinzema — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kenneth Rinzema Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keeping it quarterly helps with corporate accountability and transparency. It’s important to investors

Sent from my iPhone

Kent Fralish — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kent Fralish Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Corrupt !!!!!!!!!!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Kent Knight — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Kent Knight Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting Quarterly! I believe this keeps the CEO's more accountable and helps protect the investing public. Thanks

---

Kerrie Dunham — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Kerrie Dunham Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Kerrie Dunham, I am a caregiver, if you pass this law, you are enabling fraud, period! If you are doing this for the trump administration, (most corrupt in history), then you are proving that fraud and stealing from the public is okay. It is NOT okay! You want to stay trustworthy? then act like it. Keep quarterly reports, it keeps institutions honest.

Kerry Glenn-Keough — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Keep quarterly mandatory reports From: Kerry Glenn-Keough Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Dear SEC regulators,

Please protect individual, American investors, by maintaining regulatory rules for quarterly reports.

Sincerely,

Kerry Glenn-Keough

Kerry Kerr — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kerry Kerr Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Less informed is NEVER an advantage! Keep the information flow and the accountability on a quarterly basis at a minimum.
Kerry Kerr
Retired
Retirement funds are in the market, informed participants are much more likely to remain successful!

Kerry Meadows — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kerry Meadows Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My opinion: Dumb Why would the government my taxes pay for, decide to hide important financial data from the public? Unless they want to grift more.
Kerry Meadows

Sent from my iPhone

Keven Schlosstein — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Keven Schlosstein Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keven Schlosstein, retired
Anchorage, Alaska
I'm very dubious of reducing financial reporting to twice a year. Investing in equities is risky and I want to know that the companies I own are above board. The SEC is responsible for protecting American investors and businesses by ensuring compliance with laws and regulations equally. We've had enough problems with bank schemes like subprime lending and Madoffs stealing money from investors. This is for our protection and it's only going to get worse if we abdicate any regulatory responsibility for Crypto. Do not loosen reporting for businesses.

K.Schlosstein

Kevin Bacon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kevin Bacon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 In a time where everyday citizens dollars are buying less than they have for most of my life, this is going to obfuscate what the citizens can see while still allowing insiders to get maximum profits. I make more money than I've ever made but the buying power is only slightly higher than it was when I started my job as a software engineer. You all need to be on OUR SIDE.

Sent from my iPhone

Kevin Berger — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kevin Berger Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm a retired government contractor employee and feel it’s inappropriate to change from quarterly to semiannual reporting. The rules are changing in favor of big business too much already and this isn’t needed.

Kevin Berger

Kevin Clark — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kevin Clark Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is hard enough evaluating the financial health of a company with quarterly reporting, 6 month reporting would make it impossible. The real problem that needs to be stopped is predatory private equity. which is destroying businesses, causing job losses, and reducing customer choices.

Sent from my Galaxy

KEVIN FROST — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: KEVIN FROST Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a stockholder I outright “AGAINST”,the proposed black out. I will sell everything and invest in Gold and silver, than to be a part of such and outrageous proposal. NO TO THIS STUPID IDEA!!!
KMF

Sent from my iPhone

Kevin Hunsicker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kevin Hunsicker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Reporting to the SEC should be increased to monthly for companies worth over $100,000,000 and weekly for every company worth over a $1,000,000,000. They already do this internally pretty much automatically, and the SEC should also increase auditing frequency, with funding for this paid by a special tax commensurate with the value of the companies.

Regards,
Kevin

Kevin Kirschman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kevin Kirschman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To whom it may concern:

As an investor with a significant share of my wealth and retirement in publicly traded companies it is essential for the continued success of our capital markets to have trust in these companies, their reporting, and the regulatory regime. Undermining this will not Make America Great Again. Only worse.

Sincerely,

Kevin Kirschman

Kevin Marshall — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Kevin Marshall Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why make it easier for them to cheat? Keep it the same!

Kevin McGrath — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kevin McGrath Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Kevin M McGrath
Retired Computer System Manager
Myrtle Beach, SC

Quarterly reporting were instituted to keep corporations on their toes and provide accurate & timely financial information. There should be zero need to allow them to report less frequently. In fact with the availability of the information technology major public corporations have these days they could probably report this information monthly without much of a problem.

Sincerely,
Kevin M McGrath

Sent from my iPhone

Kevin Scott — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kevin Scott Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I don't agree with trying to end quarterly reporting, transparency is need more than ever now.

Kevin Solander — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kevin Solander Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep corporations from hiding the truth good or bad! They need to be open and honest; and reporting quarterly is a must have!! Too many companies have crashed and failed in less than 6 months!!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Kevin Williamson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kevin Williamson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Kevin Williamson, Retired Graphic Designer

Please return quarterly reporting. We need high levels of accountability. Twice a year is not often enough

Kevin Williamson
5205 S. Megan Drive
Independence, MO 64055
816-260-0635

Etsy Shop: http://www.etsy.com/shop/kevinwilliamson

Facebook: http://www.facebook.com/pages/Kevin-Williamson-Design/185678166327?ref=ts

---

kevin Wray — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: kevin Wray Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Accountability should always be a part of the world. Transparency is simply a part of that accountability. I watch my retirement funds go up and down in the marketplace, but not knowing for so long...takes my money, and my retirement freedom out of my hands. My name is Kevin and I am a teacher.

Khenda Beebe — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Khenda Beebe Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Khenda Beebe, Retired. I have worked too hard to save up, stocks are looking good but for how long?
Let's watch it carefully. Quarterly PLEASE

Khenda Beebe — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Khenda Beebe Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: I have worked too many years to let my retirement funds get overlooked. Its a dishonest world right now and I beg you to not prolong your monitoring. Trump and his officials would love to manipulate this but I trust you to do the right thing and continue the 6 month monitoring. PLEASE.

Kim Anaston — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kim Anaston Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Minding no words.

Absolutely not, quarterly reporting a MUST

Kim Campbell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kim Campbell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep the reporting quarterly. The last time that reporting was done less often, the stock market dropped 15 years in a row. I am retired and can’t afford to have the stock market keep dropping. That will directly affect my income.

~Kim Campbell

..."Soil is our life, our very body. And if we forsake soil, in many ways, we forsake the planet."~Sadhguru savesoil.org

Kim Latas — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kim Latas Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do NOT change the law regarding quarterly reporting.

Kim Olson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kim Olson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am a relatively small investor, dependent on my securities to be able to retire. We hope that is coming up soon. But not knowing what's going on will make it easier for companies to hide problems, which could well put our retirement at risk.
My husband and I both worked long careers in public service, he teaching high school science, and me running public libraries. We worked hard, raised three kids, and lived frugally so that we could save for the future. We deserve a system that promotes stability in the stock market.
Toward that end, we support all measures that lead to the greatest possible transparency. Ordinary people should be able to easily and accessibly stay informed about companies in which they hold stock. We oppose all measures that would reduce that transparency, particularly less reporting. Please do NOT reduce the need for companies to report quarterly.

Kim Renee Calhoun — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kim Renee Calhoun Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a victim of Enron, and then working for KBR 21 years (15 in Govt compliance) I can tell you that corporations lie, cover up, and manipulate to publish the results they want the public to see. It is the CEOs, CFOs, COOs, Executive leadership and Senior Managers who profit by controlling reports and backing into figures in order to maintain their personal cash flow, on the backs of workers using manipulation and intimidation to publish the narrative. They spend a small fortune developing their corporate communications and marketing to sell it to the public. People and public agencies are blind to the truth and reality. They need to make law and oversight way more stringent to even scratch the surface of corporate greed and corruption. SOX is a frigging joke. It's the Foxes guarding the Henhouse! Wake up America, don't continue to be complacent. Push back, demand stricter control, not leniency.

Kim Rozelle — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Kim Rozelle Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is right, necessary and important to keeping people honest and protecting our markets!

Kim Taylor — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kim Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Keep the quarterly reports it's all about checks and balances.

KIM WHITE — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: KIM WHITE Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We must maintain transparency and trust in our institutions.
I am 100% opposed to changes at this time.

Kim White
DRE #02159501

(213) 447-4799

Kim Zacharias — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kim Zacharias Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is despicable that you would even consider doing away with quarterly reporting. The little people are at a disadvantage from the onset; please don't make things worse.

Sincerely,
Kim Zacharias

Kimberly BOYLE — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kimberly BOYLE Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Leave it alone. I use those quarterly checks to supplement my SSI.

Kimberly Boyle, Retired.

Kimberly Glassman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Kimberly Glassman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 When so much is on the line (consider all the losses suffered by employees, retirees, etc. of Enron), requiring companies to report their financials quarterly and for the CEO to personally vouch for the truthfulness of those reports quarterly seems a small price to pay. Lax rules invariably encourage bad behavior in ALL fields of human endeavor. Do NOT change this rule. It is there for a very good reason.
Sincerely,
Kimberly Glassman
Prescott, Arizona

Kimberly Goad — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kimberly Goad Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am a retired investor and I do not want it changed. It needs to stay quarterly. I am from Minnesota and after watching our state loose billions of dollars because no one was watching or examining where our hard earned money was going I cannot see the benefit for changing this, only a benefit to some that would use it unscrupulously.

Sincerely,
Kimberly Goad, retired librarian
Granite Falls, MN 56241

Sent from my iPad

Kimberly Horr — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Kimberly Horr Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Kim Horr. I am disabled and currently unable to work. The rule needs to stay the same. CEOs need to be accountable and sign their name quarterly.
Thank you.

Kimberly Marcelli Shareholder — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Kimberly Marcelli This kind of backwards thinking, is simple proof of incompetence, cheating, laziness, "how low can we go" BS! Whomever suggested this, should be demoted! They should also be named publicly!

Kimberly Smith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kimberly Smith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not change reporting rules as quarterly reporting is very useful for external and internal users of a companies financial status.

Sincerely,

Kimberly D Smith

Kimberly Wolfe — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kimberly Wolfe Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do NOT change the reporting window from quarterly, down to only bi-annually.

Large investors already have so many jump starts and advantages over small investors.

We do not need yet another rule change making the playing field even MORE uneven than it already is.

Instead, you should be working on ways to lessen or remove the unfair advantage large investors have had over small investors for years.

Kimmarie Cooper — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kimmarie Cooper Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 HEY SEC. ANYONE CARE ABOUT THE CONSTITUTION ANYMORE. Kim Cooper. California

---

Kirk Nast — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kirk Nast Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It's really about protecting fairness for regular people. If companies are allowed to hide their financials for six months, insiders still know what's going on, but the public doesn't. That creates an unfair advantage where executives can act on private information while everyday investors, workers, and retirees are left in the dark.

Quarterly reporting exists so we can see problems early — things like rising debt, falling revenue, or potential fraud. If that information is hidden for half a year, regular people can't make informed decisions about their savings or retirement accounts. By the time the truth comes out, the damage is usually already done.Supporting this is basically saying we want transparency, accountability, and a level playing field. It's about making sure the rules don't tilt toward insiders at the expense of everyone else.

Kirsten Behncke Colyer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kirsten Behncke Colyer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is a bare necessity for shareholders to understand the state of the business. Less regulation will lead to more fraud. Anyone supporting less regulation is asking for another wall street disaster.

Sent from my iPhone

Kirsten Wood — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kirsten Wood Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly's

---

kjj — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: kjj Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Kandy J Jedlicka, retired. I have a limited income and some investments. I can't afford under the table shenanigans allowing my money to disappears. and you know that if given the opportunity money will be stolen. Just do the right thing to begin with. I don't want to hear Oops - Sorry after the system has been abused.

---

kjmom5876 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: kjmom5876 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP THE QUARTERLY REPORTING!!!!!

Sent from my Galaxy

KL DeDee — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: KL DeDee Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it Quarterly

---

Kolleen Peters-Farnham — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kolleen Peters-Farnham Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need more oversight not less

Sent from my iPhone

Krispyq1 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Krispyq1 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep submitting quarterly.

Sent from my Galaxy

Krista Bibb — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Krista Bibb Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: All big businesses need MORE oversight, not less. As has been proven by history again and again, businesses are driven by profit over everything else. This proposed rule is bad for American consumers and investors, putting our savings at unnecessary risk.

---

krista essler — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: krista essler Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Information about a public company needs to remain publicly accessible. While this strategy may make a few people very wealthy, it will erode trust and decimated the system. This would destroy society and cause rebellion so think very carefully about prioritizing short term gain.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Kristen Hilliard — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kristen Hilliard Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do your job and protect the public interest.

Kristi Helmersen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kristi Helmersen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Reporting should be quarterly!! Leave it as it is!

Kristi Mochow — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kristi Mochow Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Don't stop quarterly reporting!!!

Kristi Strawn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kristi Strawn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly reports going ! We the people are sick of being set up to take the fall while everyone else gets rich . 🤑 It's getting really old . We will have to do a class action against you .

Sent from my iPhone

Kristie Dean — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kristie Dean Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I disagree with stopping quarterly reporting. Lack of knowledge help to lead to the Great Depression. Please don't go back into the dark ages and let us see what companies are doing. Transparency is always good. Thank you, Kristie Dean

---

Kristin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kristin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This was one of the better laws enacted, why remove it? Things became much more transparent.
Kristin B
Nurse

Kristin Barrett — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kristin Barrett Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It's critical to maintain quarterly reporting. There is a reason it was set up that way. It's just good business sense.

Kristin Cleary — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kristin Cleary Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Kristin Cleary, retired, living on hard won, earned dividends. I don't close my eyes and hope my investments pay out. I'm active in their growth. I do not leave this decision in the hands of others. This move to cut reports to twice a year is lax. If a person invests, they're not blind or stupid. Their eyes are opened. No more allowance for thieves!
Leave the quarterly reports as they are! Accountability is how we stay healthy. It's not a burden for me to gage the health of my accounts. It's called fiscal responsibility. Quit the scamming! Don't you touch a dang thing!!

Sent from my iPhone

Kristin Edmonds — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kristin Edmonds Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 From Kristin Edmonds, business owner and healthcare professional in MO:

I would like to continue to see reports on my stocks at a higher frequency. Accurate records are important for planning. There should not be a bias to help inside traders at my expense. I see no

GOOD reason for companies to decrease reporting frequently at a time when big businesses are claiming that AI and tech are making them more efficient. Transparency and frequent reporting should be even easier now.

Keep corporate reporting quarterly.

Kristin Edmonds

Kristin Johnson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kristin Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This matters to people who have saved to retire! The rich don't get to steal our savings. Social Security is already done, so no, they don't get to steal money we have saved for decades for retirement!

Kristin Johnson, Systems Administrator.

Kristin Kanitz — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kristin Kanitz Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Dear SEC,
I am near retirement age and rely on quarterly reporting to make decisions to keep my retirement investments as healthy as they can be. I won’t have time to recover financially from a company that is not upfront about the state of their business through biannual reporting. As a retail investor, I rely on quarterly reporting and feel that should remain in place. The SEC should protect citizens and their hard earned retirement savings rather than saving corporations and their executives a few bucks.

Kristin Kanitz
HR Administrator
Madison, WI

Kristin Olsen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kristin Olsen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the United States Securities and Exchange Commission:
As a long-time retail investor and retiree, I, along with my financial planner, depend on clear, accurate and timely information about public companies to help us make the best decisions regarding my investments and retirement savings portfolio.
To preserve one of the most important tools for us retail investors, please reconsider the proposed Rule S7-2026-15 and instead, please continue to enforce the fair and equalizing requirement for companies to provide their timely quarterly reports.
Thank you.

Kristine M. Hewitt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Kristine M. Hewitt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I've been human trafficked for money and stolen inheritance and I have suffered trauma and traumatized by jail withholding my medicine and I need help! My identity was stolen and I am disabled and my medical records tampered with etc

---

Kristy Reynolds — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Kristy Reynolds Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting shouldn't be any more of a hardship than quarterly taxes which are required. Put. Your big / boy/girl pants on and do what's right.

Sent from my iPhone

---

krysti hake — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: krysti hake Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The oligarchs and elite have no right to control this for their gain it is unconstitutional! The rich are not the only ones that should be aloud to better their retirement ...we work harder than most all and deserve every chance to grow our future as any human legally able to buy stocks...the control of our finances and ehat we read and watch is not their business and should not control the world !!

---

kt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: kt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Yes of course. Report 1/4ly - no ifs ands or buts!

****

Don't forget to thank Jesus everyday for His blood.🩸

When life gives you more than you can stand…
Kneel

If the Lord has blessed you more fortunately than others, build a longer table not a taller fence.

"What's radical is a system that gives so much to so few & denies so many people the basic necessities of life."
Sen. Bernie Sanders

Sent from Proton Mail for iOS.

Kurt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Kurt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Being someone who was conned by a famed pump and dump. I want transparency and quarterly reporting as a way to keep a tighter grip on what goes on with my money and millions upon 1 million millions of middle class are getting chewed up by the fact that Social Security will probably diminish. We don't need catastrophe after catastrophe don't mess with the system. My name is Kurt Hoeke . I'm an Estate Manager. I sent a complaint to you long ago to look into it and you pretty much told me to mind my own business while you think about looking into it shame on you.

Sent from my iPhone

Kylie Swafford — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kylie Swafford Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reporting. We can't afford to go backwards! My name is Kylie and I'm a mental health technician in Chattanooga TN.

Thanks,
Kylie Swafford

L Patterson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: L Patterson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There are millions of examples as to why it was switched to quarterly, Six month reporting left to many avenues for the Top 1 percent to manipulate the market and rob the working class of their retirement and saving. KEEP THINGS THE WAY THEY ARE!!

L R — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: L R Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I don't know what game you're playing, but we need to learn by our mistakes. KEEP IT QUARTERLY!

Get Outlook for iOS

L Reeves — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: L Reeves Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is more over reach for large companies to benefit from the common person just trying to make a small living. Likely reconsider many large companies proposing this.

Letitia Reeves

Letitiamr@msn.com

L Romabiles — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: L Romabiles Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting

Sent from my iPhone

L Tuckman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: L Tuckman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please stop helping the wealthiest among us to the detriment of the average American.

L. Levine — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: L. Levine Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Transparency should increase, not decrease. Enough said. But here's more:
There is NO EXCUSE for decreasing transparency. Have you zero shame? Rhetorical question. Are you owned, blackmailed, bought? What else can one conclude, seeing as this is even being considered?

Labenia Holman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Labenia Holman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 You have almost eliminated the little man, are you trying to totally do away with them?

Sent from my iPad

Ladonna Grogan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Ladonna Grogan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Ladonna Grogan, We the people are tired of the rules being broken. Retired Conroe Tx. Do your jobs and quit making exceptions!!

Lana Barton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lana Barton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As a person with physical disabilities I cannot write long letters. Researching the topic online the Harvard response beautifully summarized all the reasons to repel this. Are we not trying to move forward as a country? Instead of using seventy year old legislation in the the new AI World. Please vote against Rule 14a-81!

The International Corporate Governance Network (ICGN) would like to offer its perspective on the SEC Division of Corporation Finance statement, published on November 17, 2025, regarding no-action requests under Rule 14a-8.1

Led by investors responsible for assets under management of over US$ 90 trillion, ICGN promotes high standards of corporate governance globally. Our members – both asset owners and asset managers – have significant exposure to the U.S. market. We are deeply concerned by the Division of Corporation Finance's announcement that it will not substantively respond to most Rule 14a-8 no-action requests for the 2025–2026 proxy season.

We are concerned that the narrowing of shareholder proposal rights appears part of a broader shift that reduces the avenues through which investors can engage with portfolio companies – compounded by recent changes to interpretations of Section 13D and 13G. Taken together, these developments risk adding tensions between company owners and management, and diminish investor confidence in U.S. corporate governance standards and thereby weaken the appeal of U.S. capital markets globally.

Why shareholder resolutions are an important mechanism Shareholder resolutions are a vital mechanism for company owners to surface ideas and raise concerns with company management and all shareholders. They have been a key driver of corporate governance improvements in the United States. For example, shareholder resolutions have been successful in promoting annual director elections and establishing simple majority vote requirements. Shareholder proposals helped these good governance practices to become norms, based on a market-led approach, without regulation or standards. Hundreds of constructive dialogues, resulting in increased corporate transparency and improved governance, have been facilitated by shareholder resolutions at minimal cost to issuers and investors.

Each investor has their own approach to decide how to vote on a shareholder resolution. Across the market, resolutions that obtain significant shareholder support tend to be those that are not overly prescriptive for company management and that concern issues investors deem financially material for the success of the company. Shareholders tend to support proposals that can catalyse improvements in governance, reporting, risk management, and long-term strategic thinking. Academic research shows that governance provisions restricting shareholder rights, such as limits on the ability to propose resolutions, are associated with lower firm valuation and weaker stock performance.2

Shareholder resolutions can help provide accountability when other mechanisms fail. They also signal investor sentiment to the company. High support levels for a proposal can drive rapid governance improvements, but even modest levels of support can prompt constructive engagement between boards and investors.

Why the SEC No Action Process should be protected ICGN believes that the ability to file shareholder proposals is a fundamental ownership right.

For decades, issuers and investors have relied on SEC staff guidance and – although purely advisory – it has served as an independent, impartial, trustworthy check that provided procedural clarity and curbed potentially arbitrary exclusion of shareholder proposals by boards of directors. According to the Statement, a company will be able to obtain an SEC 'no-objection' based solely on the company's unqualified representation that it has a reasonable basis to exclude the proposal based on the provisions of Rule 14a-8, SEC guidance and/or judicial decisions. Without conducting an evaluation of the adequacy of the representation, the SEC's staff will not object to the company omitting the proposal from the ballot.

By stepping back from the process, the SEC risks significantly diminishing shareholder voice and reducing important checks and balances that exist to protect the long-term interest of the company and its owners. Without the traditional buffer of a staff no-action determination, boards of directors may face increased opposition from investors concerned that relevant shareholder proposals may have been omitted without a valid reason. Furthermore, without SEC staff guidance, companies may be exposed to increased litigation, as proponents of shareholder resolutions that have been omitted by companies may seek judicial clarification in the absence of SEC staff assessment.

We regret to hear that the SEC intends to withdraw from substantive 14a-8 review. Rule 14a8 has facilitated a critically important private ordering process – but private ordering only works with regulatory oversight.
A call for the SEC to reconsider its Statement and launch a public consultation ICGN recognises the resource pressures the Division faces, but the shareholder proposal process plays a vital role in surfacing material risks and enabling constructive investor-company dialogue. We believe that the existing process is well understood and has been supportive of well-functioning markets, and therefore we strongly support the SEC No Action Process being protected.
The Division's independent review has historically provided transparency, predictability and a neutral reference point for both companies and investors. Removing or significantly narrowing that role risks eroding investor voice, imposing disproportionate burdens on minority and smaller proponents, and increasing costly litigation. As we believe this is not in the interest of efficient and fair capital markets, we respectfully ask that the SEC reconsider its statement.
We are concerned that this shift is occurring through staff announcements and public remarks, rather than through the formal rulemaking process. As highlighted in our 20 October letter, we encourage the Commission to consider returning to public consultation processes on matters that substantively alter policy, following a formal notice-and-comment process under the Administrative Procedure Act. We believe that the absence of public consultations on important announcements which may negatively affect shareholder rights, risks lowering the quality of the highly regarded due process and governance standards in the United States, thereby presenting a risk to the attractiveness of U.S. capital markets and impact the valuation of U.S. companies by investors.

Lance Brown — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lance Brown Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly financial reporting is necessary. Executives are like politicians and will do what benefits them personally over the stakeholders.

Lance Brown
Retired management
Current investor

Lance Brown

765-465-1225

Lance Weber — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lance Weber Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Lance Weber Logistics Coordinator
Please keep this report quarterly as it would cause the stock market to go down interfering with my retirement accounts.

Sent from my iPhone

Laney Velazquez — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Laney Velazquez Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is important because it allows consumers and investors to understand the position of a company. With many Americans using Wall Street to fund their retirement, we deserve access to this information. Without it, millions of Americans will potentially lose money that they could have guarded or invested differently.

Thank you kindly,
Laney Mae

Lani Howell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lani Howell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I would like you to know that I do not think moving to bi-annual reporting I'd in the best interest of the average American like myself who invests hard earned money into the market for retirement. I feel that bi-annual gives company & insiders an advantage. This will harm real everyday Americans who invest for their retirement future funds. I hope you will take this into consideration and keep the system that's work very well since 1955.
Lani Howell

Lara Bruner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lara Bruner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a small business owner, I understand that financial reporting can take time. But quarterly reporting should continue to be the minimum requirement.
Instead of going back in time, let’s keep up with the times. In fact, technology has advanced to where reporting is mostly automated and should cost very little if the organizations are not playing games and manipulating the data.
My hard-earned investments are more secure with more frequent reporting. Longer reporting periods will magnify the wealthiest committing shady and/or illegal practices with insider non-public info. Meanwhile, those of us who work for a living will be more susceptible to decreased revenue in our investments.

Please keep quarterly reporting. Thank you for considering my thoughts.

Lara Bruner
Founder and Principal Consultant
Vulcan Consulting

Larry and Tammy Northup — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Larry and Tammy Northup Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting. We need this to monitor our investments.

Sent from my iPhone

Larry Eckert — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Larry Eckert Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting. Excellent balance sheet for investors.

Larry K — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Larry K Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I do not want any major changes to anything during this Trump regime! Which is fraught with fraud and corruption right out in the open for everyone to see. Keep the reporting p e r i o d To 3 months.

Larry K — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Larry K Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I do not want any major changes to any of our institutional programs during this Trump regime! Which is fraught with fraud and Corruption right out in the open for everyone to see. Keep the reporting p e r i o d To 3 months

---

Lars Svanoe — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lars Svanoe Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Lars Petter Svanoe
Future retiree

It's bad enough that the stick market is being manipulated by the president and his timing his actions and announcements to coincide with the opening and closing bells. Eliminating quarterly reporting means less transparency to the personal investors and will lead to the same offenses that allowed the Enron scandal to cripple our economy. The fact it hasn't happened since is a sound argument for keeping quarterly reporting.

Do not eliminate quarterly reporting!?!!

Lps

Lars Svanoe
608-658-9620
Lars.Svanoe@proton.me

Sent from Proton Mail for Android.

LaShea Walker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: LaShea Walker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: please continue to help us protect ourselves with ensuring we remain informed as often as possible.

Laszlo Kovacs Jr. — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Quarterly disclosure removal From: Laszlo Kovacs Jr. Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Hi,

The removal of quarterly reporting can hurt people who do not have inside information about the on goings of the company. Keeping this level of transparency is necessary for people to make decisions. Even if it removes the pressure from companies it increases the pressure onto individuals who want to invest into companies.

Thank you

Latricia Hemphill — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Latricia Hemphill Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Deregulation and the lack of transparency is just more sneaky criminal tactics that allow corporations to get away with just about anything. Leaving the consumers unprotected and draining their wealth. I strongly oppose this new asinine loophole, that gives corporations a curtain and the consumers/taxpayers a blind spot. When will the SEC stand for the people?

Latricia Hemphill
Regulatory Affairs
Taxpayer/Consumer

Laura Batchelor — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Laura Batchelor As an individual investor and retiree who depends on the returns from stock investments for income to suppliment Social Security, I OPPOSE the proposed rule to allow six month between reports to the public. That is far too long to wait for information needed to make investing decisions, as well as allowing damaging information to be covered up from stockholders for an additional three months. Companies have to keep accurate records regardless of reporting periods, and the cost of not having to file two reports per year is small. There are other ways to reduce accounting costs that are much less likely to damage stockholders and give insiders an advantage. Hiding data doesn't fix problems, it just allows them to get worse before someone is held accountable. Singapore implemented semiannual reporting and are changing back because trading dropped off and the quality of the reports dropped. The UK and EU took a look at it and found it caused higher volitility when the reports came out without any other benefit. As one who needs to have less risk in my investments, I will be reluctant to invest in stocks anymore if this ruling is enacted. There are already way too many corrupt individuals taking advantage of investors - why are you handing them a gift like this to allow them even less oversight? PLEASE DO NOT PASS THIS RULE. Your stated mission is " we’re the agency that protects investors from misconduct, promotes fairness & efficiency in the securities markets, and facilitates capital formation for those looking to hire, innovate, and grow." This proposed rule does none of that.

Laura Diviney — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Diviney Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep Quarterly Reporting. There is no good reason for Americans to be harmed this way. — L. Diviney, retired (after working for 45yers)

Sent from my iPhone

Laura Fetridge — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Laura Fetridge Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly reporting is essential in providing transparency to retail investors and should remain a requirement for all publicly traded companies. Removing the requirement will hurt retail investors and benefit corporations. I urge you to keep mandatory quarterly reporting requirements in place.

Sincerely,

Laura Fetridge

---

laura firpo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: laura firpo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is ridiculous. Another fraud cover

Laura Avery

Laura Heckman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Laura Heckman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
There is no reason that the consumer would want less reporting.
There is no reason to have less reporting until it is to cover up.
Do not change this rule.
None of us want it.
Laura Heckman

Laura Huggins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Laura Huggins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It looks like another loophole for big companies to conceal their activities from the consumer AND avoid accountability and transparency. Regulation and reporting is what keeps companies honest. With the normalization of dishonesty and hypocrisy in the U.S., it will always be the citizens & taxpayers who'll end up paying the price of a bailout!

Regards,
L M Huggins
Sent from my iPhone

Laura Johnson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Laura Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why should this to be reduced? CEO's haven't changed, leave the quarterly reporting schedule as it is. The CEO that doesn't want to find trouble later should definitely support this accountability.
Next they'll want to reduce it to yearly. Its not broken, everyone do their job!

Laura Johnson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Laura Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why should this to be reduced. CEO's haven't changed, leave the quarterly reporting schedule as it is. The CEO that doesn't want to find trouble later should definitely support this accountability. Next they'll will want to reduce it to yearly. Its not broken, everyone do their job!

---

laura mcclary — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: laura mcclary Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Laura McClary, and I am a Retail Promoter. Transparencies are very important to We the People. Do not create an environment of hostility, by being secretive. Thank you.

Sent from my Sprint Samsung Galaxy S20 5G.
Get Outlook for Android

Laura Moyer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Laura Moyer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting requirements. We need more transparency in business and investing, not less.
Laura Moyer
retired
Fredericksburg, Va.

Laura shabazz — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Laura shabazz Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Corporations need more public oversight, not less. Quarterly should stay.

Laura Shabazz

Upcycled collage artist
www.laurashabazz.com

Laura Smith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Laura Smith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting must stay in place. My husband and I are retired and cannot afford to lose any of our savings. There doesn't seem to be any compelling reason to change to twice a year.

Sent from my iPhone

Laura Staley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Staley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Laura Staley. Retired. We need an equities reporting system we can trust. As the current US government talks about cutting Social Security, citizens have to consider how they will save to cover retirement costs on their own. If at the same time you damage the credibility of the reporting system - and changing the reporting system will do that, as too much can happen in six months - you are giving the small investor no safe place to put their money. This will create uncertainty and distress, which is never good for a financial system.

Lauren Harcourt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lauren Harcourt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I see no reason to change to six month reporting. People need information a lot faster than that. Investing in stocks, we need to know the true value of a company, if we are wise. Already much can change in a quarter. In six months we can have little confidence about where the company is going. Please, do not change this.

Lauren Sanders — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lauren Sanders Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Lauren Sanders. .retired...there are so many crooks and now you want to not check up on what they're doing every quarter. It works.. don't change it !!

Laurice Adams — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laurice Adams Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We have enough destruction going on in this country without stealing our savings by giving more rules to help companies cheat. Keep the quarterly reporting!

Sent from my iPhone

Laurie Black — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Laurie Black Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please maintain a quarterly frequency. There is no requirement to revert to risks reminiscent of those observed in 1929 for our investors.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Laurie Black — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Laurie Black Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not change reporting to anything other than what it currebbmntly I s ms. We woukd not supervise another episode x result like 1928 crash.
Thank you for listening..
Laurir black

Laurie Brown — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laurie Brown Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a stock market investor. I have the right to know. What's going on financially with the companies I'm investing my money into. Going to semi yearly financial reporting. Leaves me blind. To if the companies I'm investing in are thriving or failing. If, they are failing and I don't know this for six months. I could completely lose my initial investment and be under water. Leaving me with nothing . Keeping the quarterly reporting requirements. Helps investors to make sound choice. Based upon the latest information in the quarterly from companies. Don't change the rules to semi annual financial reporting. It will cause a lot of individual investors to pull their money from the stock market. Which will harm our economy. Do right by investors and allow for quarterly financial transparency by companies.

Sent from my iPhone

Laurie Fallwell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Laurie Fallwell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 After working most of my life, I have recently retired. I need to know that my investments are secure. Keeping companies accountable every three months goes a long way towards that

Sent from my iPhone

Laurie French — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Laurie French Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This countrys citizens are over this platform of rip off the people while enriching the filthy oligarchs! Stop the madness induced by A cognatively declining dementia disaster diminishing daily in his delusions and dragging us down with him! 14million and counting for the trump reflection poll, 250b for his Iranian war! When will enough be enough? Before or after nukes are used?

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Laurie French — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Laurie French Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
If you allow this to happen by removing accountability I will form a class act lawsuit against this commission for dereliction of duty!

Laurie Jentsch — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Laurie Jentsch Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 All financials need to be transparent if the organization is a public company. Quarterly reporting keeps it transparent and harder to hide discrepancies, falsehoods, & criminal activity. L. Jentsch

Sent from my iPhone

Laurie McCracken Alsted — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laurie McCracken Alsted Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep these quarterly reports! I want the transparency I currently have so I can make informed decisions about how I invest my money. My retirement depends on it.
I am retired from corporate America and also retired from my own small business that I successfully started and managed for 20 years.

With best regards,

Laurie McCracken Alsted
Retired business owner

Laurie Olsson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Laurie Olsson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 After Enron, the law forced CEOs to personally sign their financials four times a year, with prison on the line for signing a lie. The SEC just proposed cutting that in half. Fewer signatures, less accountability. Keep the requirements as is.

Laurie Olsson
Ringwood, IL 60072

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Laurie Rowan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Laurie Rowan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please continue to require quarterly reporting!

Sent from my iPhone

Laurie Walker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Laurie Walker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Securities and Exchange Commission: Keep it Quarterly

---

Lavon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lavon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Enough *. Keep us informed at all times. So tired of the BS!!!

Lawrence Chin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lawrence Chin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
These public companies release quarterly reports at the start and end of each quarter. Regular investors like everyday hardworking people work hard for their money and would like to invest their money in companies that is profitable. I think blinding retail investors make them question on what companies are worth investing if they don't know the vital information. I'm asking not to pass these rule and not blind investors.

Lawrence Hau — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lawrence Hau Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Quarterly reporting can limit fraud in public companies because it creates frequent transparency, accountability, and oversight. The main ways it helps are:
Reduces the window for hiding problems
If companies only reported annually, executives could potentially conceal declining sales, losses, accounting issues, or operational problems for up to a year.
Quarterly reports force companies to regularly disclose financial performance, making it harder for problems to remain hidden.
Creates regular scrutiny from investors and analysts
Every quarter, investors, analysts, auditors, and the media examine revenue, expenses, cash flow, debt, and business trends.
Sudden changes or inconsistencies can trigger questions and investigations.
Discourages manipulation of financial statements
Executives know their numbers will be reviewed frequently.
More frequent reporting increases the chance that unusual accounting practices, inflated earnings, or misleading disclosures are detected.
Improves board and management accountability
Company boards use quarterly results to evaluate leadership performance.
Poor results or questionable decisions become visible sooner, increasing pressure on executives to act responsibly.

Protects shareholders from information gaps
Public companies raise money from investors who rely on accurate information.
Quarterly reporting helps maintain fair markets by ensuring investors have timely information rather than operating on outdated financial data.

---

lccperk — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: lccperk Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want the SEC to keep quarterly reports. Too much can happen in 6 months and corruption of insider trading is ramped. Lois Perkins, retired educator.

Sent from my Galaxy

Leann PoVey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Leann PoVey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not roll back the clock to when thieves were able to get away more with less oversight. Do NOT make this change.

Lee Edens — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lee Edens Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
To change this law would create a situation where the health of our money is put at even greater risk. If these companies are on the up and up and have nothing to hide why shouldn't they sign quarterly and make the information available to everyone? Volatility and fraud can be so insidious and without a quarterly check in and sign in you are putting the American Public in peril.

Lee Ford — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lee Ford Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep reports quarterly

---

Lee Frankel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lee Frankel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is meant to exclude small investors. KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING!

Sent from my iPhone

Lee Garro — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lee Garro Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Too much can happen waiting 6 months. I am retired and must act quickly and quarterly reports are vital.

Thank you
Leonora Garro
Retired

Lee Garro
leeg922@gmail.com

Lee James — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lee James Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is the duty of companies for investors to be notified quarterly at the minimum and possibly even monthly. Transparency is important to keep investors safe from financial harm.

Sent from my iPhone

Leigh Dunn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Leigh Dunn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a retiree, I depend on accurate and timely information. Keep the quarterly CEO signature requirement.

Thank you,
Leigh Harmon Dunn

Len — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Len Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to express my deep concern regarding any potential measures by the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) that would delay, obscure, or withhold the facts of market activity from the public for any extended period, such as six months. Imposing a half-year blackout window on crucial financial data is a direct disservice to the public and fundamentally undermines the mandate of market transparency.

As an investor, information is my only true tool for risk management. If regulatory frameworks allow critical market facts to be obscured for six months, it forces a critical question: At that point, am I an informed investor, or am I simply someone blindly placing my money into a rigged market?

Healthy markets rely on a level playing field where information flows symmetrically. When data is withheld, retail and individual investors are left navigating a minefield without a map, while institutional players continue to operate with a massive data advantage. Delaying the truth for months doesn't protect the market; it protects the entities whose behavior thrives away from public scrutiny.

A market that actively hides the reality of its inner workings for half a year is not a free market—it is a blind gamble. Under such conditions, no individual who seeks true transparency should comfortably invest their hard-earned capital.

The SEC's core mission is to protect investors and maintain fair, orderly, and efficient markets. I urge the Commission to reject any policies that delay public reporting and instead champion the immediate, unvarnished transparency that public investors deserve.
Sincerely,

Leonard

Lenny Turnquist — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lenny Turnquist Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 More transparency, not less!!

Lenore Gaudet — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lenore Gaudet Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: This proposed rule leaves more time with no oversight. If they are not required to report quarterly, they will take advantage of this. Please think about the ordinary investor and not the money-grubbing businesses!

Leon Lahey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Leon Lahey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm Leon Lahey I'm in waste management. Quarterly reporting keeps companies honest and investors educated. We need more power for the little guy not less

---

Leona Akins-Smith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Leona Akins-Smith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No more pissing about with every hardworking American retirement.
If you don't want to do the work quit it's that simple

Leonard Thornton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leonard Thornton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop robbing the American 🇺🇸 People

---

Les Backer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Les Backer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 First of all We thought AI with all it's accuracy could put out the reports Monthly for a much more comprehensive no extra cost analysis of future goals and prospectus that we require. Sad to hear they companies want to withhold the information for a full six months. That is not a step toward transparency at all quite the opposite and frankly a little shady and unscrupulous. Thank you for reading this. Quarterly reports are the minimum for accurate investing. We also need environmental reports and disclosure of how the companies are protecting citizens in that prospectus too. Thanks again.

Les Rout — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Les Rout Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Les Rout
Librarian
This is such an obvious attempt to hide their activities. For people like this there will never be enough. The greed is the point.

Lesa Lesa — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lesa Lesa Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Hello,
Quarterly for transparency!! We need to be aware of what is happening with the companies we invest in!!! No one will want to back companies that keep their profits secret.

LeSha Thorpe — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: LeSha Thorpe Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am a retail investor and strongly oppose the proposed rule allowing public companies to replace quarterly reporting with semiannual reporting.
As an investor, I rely on timely financial disclosures to evaluate the companies I own and to make informed investment decisions. Reducing the frequency of required reporting from every three months to every six months would significantly reduce transparency and leave investors operating with older information for longer periods of time.
Public companies receive substantial benefits from accessing public capital markets. In exchange, investors should receive regular and consistent disclosure. If a company believes the costs of being public outweigh the benefits, that is a business decision, but weakening disclosure requirements should not be the solution.
The proposal may also create information gaps between company insiders and ordinary investors. The longer the period between required financial reports, the greater the risk that management and other insiders possess material information that is not broadly available to the investing public. While insider trading laws would still apply, less frequent reporting could increase uncertainty and reduce confidence that all investors are operating on a level playing field.
Quarterly reporting has been a cornerstone of U.S. market transparency for decades. Investors already face challenges interpreting financial results, accounting adjustments, and evolving business conditions. Providing less information less often is unlikely to improve investor protection or market efficiency.
In my view, public markets work best when information is widely available, timely, and transparent. The SEC should preserve the current quarterly reporting framework rather than reduce disclosure requirements.
Thank you for considering my comments.

Lesley Marceau — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lesley Marceau Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Hands off my knowing what is happening with my investments.
There is no need to change this.
Explain yourselves and put it to a vote.

Sent from my iPhone

---

leslie bailey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: leslie bailey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want quarterly reports

Sent from my iPhone

Leslie Brannon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leslie Brannon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Renae. This matters because it's MY money invested. WHY would you want to hide information unless truthfulness, business ethics or even moral ethics aren't being practiced.

Leslie Holland — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Leslie Holland Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Abandoning quarterly reporting ensures means there will be less accountability and poses significant risk to all shareholders/investors. Corporations are already getting away with far too much as it is-KEEP REPORTING QUARTERLY!!!

Leslie Holland
Arlington VA

Leslie Mikulich — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leslie Mikulich Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the crooks in order

---

Leslie Murphy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Leslie Murphy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please see subject above & my vote!

Leslie Neustadt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Leslie Neustadt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I will be unable to assess company performance in a timely fashion and risk losing money and being defrauded. Please keep quarterly reports.

Leslie Patenaude — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Leslie Patenaude Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep things the way they are. Quarterly reporting is vital.

Leslie Pavelka — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Leslie Pavelka Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 If one is the chief executive of a corporation, it is one's absolute duty to understand what that corporation is doing in all of the various ways it interacts with society as a whole. If you do not trust your CFO, you have the wrong CFO, and that individual needs to be replaced. Four times a year is NOT too much to expect in terms of your assurance to stockholders and the public that you understand the workings of your organization.

Leslie Wallstrom — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Quarterly reporting From: Leslie Wallstrom Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Greetings!

Hello - I've owned stocks and bonds for over 40 years. Corporations must report regularly to stock holders in order to have some accountability to those who OWN shares in their companies. As a share holder in numerous companies I insist that these corps. report quarterly, as they have for years. I can not invest in America's assets and make wise decisions unless I know how the corp. is performing!

Leslie Wallstrom

LeslieN — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: LeslieN Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Leslie Nestor, self employed. I want quarterly reports to keep the companies honest and held accountable to their investors of ALL sizes; we need to know what's going on! TRANSPARENCY & ACCOUNTABILITY are of supreme importance! There is so much $$$$ in the stock market, the SEC needs to increase the financial penalties of companies who believe they're above the law. KEEP FINANCIAL REPORTS QUARTERLY!!!!

Sent from Proton Mail for iOS.

Leslye JG — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leslye JG Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Nothing I have researched says this is an advantage for consumers, just less transparency and more money for corporations.

Do not allow this regression in policy. Consumers and investors deserve transparency.

Sincerely,
Leslye Jackson Gilchrist
429 Forest Ave
Shreveport, LA 71104

Sent from my iPhone

Lester Marks — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lester Marks Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I require the quarterly documents for companies and their disclosures. If the sec decides that companies can hide this information or doesn't disclose information, this makes me, a retail buyer, a shareholder, and citizen, without knowing what I can buy or sell. It breaks trust. Require the full quarterly disclosure reports.

Lester Standfill — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Lester Standfill Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 They need to be kept accountable

---

Lew Sikes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lew Sikes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop the "corruption creep" of this ad ministration! As a stock holder I want the quarterly reports continued!

Lewis Elbinger — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Lewis Elbinger Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Lewis Elbinger, retired Foreign Service Officer
Pleasant Ridge, MI 48069
I support the retention of SEC quarterly reporting.
Our government needs more accountability, not less.

Lewis Elbinger — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Lewis Elbinger Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Lewis Elbinger, retired Foreign Service Officer
Pleasant Ridge, MI 48069

I support the retention of SEC quarterly reporting.
Our government needs more accountability, not less.

Lexie Hull — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lexie Hull Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm a normal person with a retirement account. I already have the majority of my wealth tied up in the markets. I need long term stability to grow that retirement account, and the government should want that for me. This rule change will make the stock market more volatile and favor insiders over average Americans who are doing what they are supposed to. It's an unethical wealth transfer just like 2008, 2012, and Trump's tariffs that were paid by the consumer but refunded to the capitalists.

Leyland Ryan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leyland Ryan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Never forget the financial devastation of Enron or the 2008 mortgage fraud disaster. These events takes years out of people's lives; don't make it easier for men of greed to take us all down!

---

lian lenihan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: lian lenihan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Lian, pet care giver, and this subject matters to me because transparency should always be at the forefront. When involving money that is, average hardworking people, who thoughtfully invest in companies that report their quartets and that we as investors in ETFs, for example, have the right to know how our investments are going and where we put our trust in the company on holding up their end of the table. Transparency, trust, and wise investments is a must. Without one or both, it’s a slap to our faces, the average working class, that we are not seen as valued clients.

Sent from my iPhone

Lillian Nelson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Lillian Nelson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Without quarterly reporting the companies can take advantage of the investors. Many investors are subject to lose a lot of money. The company needs to be held accountable and this includes quarterly reporting!

Linda — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I depend in quarterly reports as a check and balance on my investments. It is ludicrous, to allow for less scrutiny over theses dealings. Especially, today in a questionable market with enormous back door deals due to this current administration.
This is a ridiculous idea so STOP THIS,!

Sent from my iPad

Linda — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Linda Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it Quarterly!!! Q

Linda Armstrong — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Linda Armstrong Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Linda Armstrong, retired. I don't want my retirement accounts to be affected by blatant insider trading. Six months is too long between the reports I received regarding what's happening with my accounts. The president of the US is verbally manipulating the stock market weekly. SEC do your job!

Linda Barger — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Linda Barger Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Investors need a clear, accurate, up to date, picture of what is going on with the market. Old information is useless! Please don't remove 50% of the reporting from investors.

Linda Bolliger — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Linda Bolliger Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Linda K Bolliger, retired Biz Owner located/Peoria,IL: Raison d'etre is simple. Quarterly Reporting require owner attention to provable detail.

Linda K. Bolliger
Old enough to know my way around.
Young enough to enjoy myself.
Blessed with a curious mind.
Ambitious enough to continue trying to make things better.
Continuing Lesson: Wanting something for someone more than they do.

lbow1943@gmail.com
Cell: 202-812-2301

Linda C — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda C Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need up-to-date reporting, not every 3 months - it's been going well so far. Better safe than sorry.

All I've seen lately is helping the companies, why not help individuals instead!

Linda Ciston

Linda Clark — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Linda Clark Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Linda Clark. I have worked in healthcare revenue cycle and revenue integrity for more than 40 years. I am semi-retired but still doing some consulting for hospitals.
I'm am interested in the outcome of this proposal because it could have a significant impact on my IRA investments.
Anything less than quarterly reporting is absurd. This is just another ploy to dumb down Americans so the rich and evil can line their pockets and not be held accountable.
Please don't give in to this administration and dupe your fellow Americans. Hold on to your business and personal integrity and say no to this insanity.

Sent from my iPhone

Linda Dalemar — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Linda Dalemar Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Do not make decisions tough for low-key, everyday investors by eliminating quarterly reporting. Keep the information flowing!

Linda Detwiler Burner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Detwiler Burner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As an investor, I want and need to see those statements quarterly to make decisions about where my financial resources will go. This should be available to investors like me and not changed. Given our technology and ability to go paperless, I do not understand the reason ing to reduce to every six months.
Linda Detwiler Burner

Sent from my iPhone

Linda Dixon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Dixon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting was established for a very good reason. Do we really need more issues with fraud? Let's keep the current schedule and avoid huge headaches! Thank you for being prudent!

Sent from my iPhone

Linda Dohn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Dohn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The Public has the Right to know

Sent from my iPhone

---

linda ferreira — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: linda ferreira Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reporting alive and well!!!

Linda Grady — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Linda Grady Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop this ridiculous law, Quarterly reporting is what works for the good of the people.

Linda Gramatky Smith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Gramatky Smith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It doesn't make sense to wait 6 months to hear what is happening! Stay with the 3 months for transparency.

Linda Gramatky Smith

Linda Hart — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Hart Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Wrong on all levels, another way to steal money, 💰 and line their pockets. Greed say no way, if you stay silent you only have yourself to blame.

Sent from my iPhone

Linda Helm — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Linda Helm Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Comission:
Please continue to require qùarterly reporting. Those of us who rely on our retirement accounts to supplement our social security need this information to invest wisely and protect our income.

Linda Hochanadel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Linda Hochanadel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Everyone should be held accountable for any type of fraud or deception. The CEO's to the janitor. No one is above the law.

Especially, CEO’s that know better.
The citizens of this democracy are waiting with bated breath.
Yours Truly…
Linda Hochanadel
A concerned citizen of the USA

Linda Johns — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Linda Johns Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Linda D. Johns, Murray Utah. Save quarterly reporting, keep them honest. Send them to prison if they break our laws!

LINDA LANGDON — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: LINDA LANGDON Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep Quaterly Reporting! Corporate Transparency Crested Integrity in this world of greed and money.. Seriously…this shouldn’t even be a question.

Get Outlook for iOS

---

linda libbey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: linda libbey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The quarterly should remain...monthly would rven be better to stop illegal or manipulation of the experts. Too much gets overlooked now or you are not doing your job!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Linda Long — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Linda Long Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We need a report on our investments quarterly and not every six months. This would make decisions on our investments easier for the traders to hide mistakes and losses. They would have six months to not show our earnings or losses. It's our money we have a right to know how and what they are doing with it. Leave our quarterly reporting alone.

LINDA MANCUSO — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: LINDA MANCUSO Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly !

Sent from my iPhone

Linda Massa — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Linda Massa Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The more oversight, the better. More chances for accuracy in the reports.

Sent from my iPhone

Linda Mchargue — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Mchargue Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep is quarterly! We, the people of AMERICA are tired of being scammed by CORPORATIONS and the current administration.
Linda R. mcHargue

Sent from my iPhone

Linda Melancon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Linda Melancon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Of course those pushing the rule of law need a few more months to work in the dark. We need light more than ever.

Linda Miles — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Linda Miles Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Linda Miles, Retired mental health counselor. Accountability requires transparency. Regularly quarterly reporting is apart of that transparency. In this day and age of algorithms and AI, there is no reasonable excuse to cut back on the regularity of reporting. Why does the SEC want less information to help them preform their oversight responsibilities. That makes no sense and seems like an opportunity for businesses to commit fraud more easily. Please keep quarterly reporting required.

Linda OBrien — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda OBrien Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Linda. Must be quarterly

Sent from my iPhone

Linda Porter — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Porter Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This sounds like opening the door to theft given permission by the current crime family in our White House! Keep quarterly statements and reports!

Linda Porter

Organizing For Action
Indianapolis, Indiana
Cell: 317 640 0865
Email: linda.porter88@gmail.com

Linda Rejvani — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Rejvani Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need the quarterly reporting as investors. Please pass laws that benefit average investors/ Americans rather than corporations whenever possible, especially since the taxpayer is always asked to bail these companies out, and there is increasing distrust in the honesty of big corporations.

Sent from my iPad

Linda Scott — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Scott Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a retired person i rely on earnings. Transparency is vital and we must continue with quarterly teports!
Linda Scott

Sent from my iPhone

Linda Seeley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Linda Seeley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not change quarterly reports!

Linda Selbst — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Selbst Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 If it has been working, isn't that reason enough to keep it? It's when things become lax that fraud creeps in. If I was a CEO, I'd want it kept in for my own protection. After all, you might not be the one to initiate the fraud but it's your career that is on the line.

Linda Smith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Smith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am an investor in California. I have a retirement account with stocks and bonds. Please stay honest with your reporting.

Love, Linda in Mount Shasta, California

Sent from my iPhone

Linda Spreen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Linda Spreen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stay with quarterly reporting. The every 6 months didn't work.

Linda Werth — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Werth Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep It Quarterly!! Who do you think you are fooling?! You all need to pay your fair share, just like the rest of us.

---

linda whitby — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: linda whitby Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep what's good in AMERICA WORKING. Too much evil, corruption and greed sabotaging the people not just here but those who enjoy our light sharing in investment and development.
Keep important valuable information open and public. TY

Sent from my iPhone

Linden Johnson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Linden Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting must be maintained so that issues can be detected sooner than every six months. It's time to do right by the American public and investors, not kowtow to corporate interests.

Lindsay Bachner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lindsay Bachner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Lindsay Dudzinski, I'm a local cafe manager from the city of Pittsburgh. I think we all know that less tracking & transparency will lead to even more fraud than the US is dealing with which is the last thing we need right now. Please just do the right thing for once.

Lindsey Ladnier — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lindsey Ladnier Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a shareholder I really think we should keep to the current quarterly set up. There have been many recent cases of insider trading that have gone unpunished, and this will eventually lead to people not wishing to invest at all. It would crash the entire stock market

---

Lisa Baldonado — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lisa Baldonado Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We want to keep things as they are and see quarterly financial statements!!!
Mary E Baldonado

Lisa Barker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lisa Barker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Lisa Barker, investor. As a stockholder I am an owner and I have the right to know what is going on with the company that I own shares in. It's about transparency and accountability. Investors have a right to know what is going on, so they can make investment decisions in a timely manner.

Sent from my iPad

Lisa Bocook — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lisa Bocook Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This is a dangerous proposal that will upset the stock market a m d decrease shareholders confidence and trader accountability.
Try looking out for the citizens interest for a change. Stop playing into the hands of the looters.
Maybe you don't care about legacy. You do understand you have a fiduciary responsibility to the American people and regimes change.
Let that sink in.

.

.

Lisa Bonham — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lisa Bonham Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep information available so we have the facts. No hide

---

Lisa Fernandez — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Fernandez Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not change quarterly reporting. I count on it to review my investments.

Lisa Fernandez
Fiscal Auditor

Sent from my iPhone

Lisa Fulton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lisa Fulton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Lisa Fulton, Retired. Because I believe in transparency, honesty & communication, please keep quarterly reports for any company investments. The reporting allows investors to manage their accounts & determine if they should buy or sell!!!!!

Lisa Gilmore — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lisa Gilmore Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the SEC: Small investors need quarterly information on a company to make good decisions when investing. Small investors are working at something else and don't have the luxury of time and a staff to ferret out information about a company before investing. Please keep the playing field level between small and large investors by requiring quarterly disclosures.

---

lisa glenn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: lisa glenn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quit trying to help them defraud the country and our government!!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Lisa Grenadier — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lisa Grenadier Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It’s imperative that Conpanies Nero reporting quarterly. Corporations must know that they are accountable

Sent from my iPhone

Lisa Henich — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lisa Henich Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep reporting!! Why not??

Sent from my iPhone

Lisa Jackson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Lisa Jackson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Too much can go wrong in 6 months!

Lisa Morgan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lisa Morgan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Don't let companies hide information

Lisa Oberg — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lisa Oberg Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop the insanity of this administration. Stand up and fight for the good of all. History has shown that quarterly reporting is a benefit. Why change to something that didn’t work well in the past to satisfy a small percentage of billionaires.

Lisa Oberg
Retired Teacher

Sent from my iPhone

Lisa Rinaldi Dobbs — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lisa Rinaldi Dobbs Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We have the right to know as shareholders what is going on within a company
We demand to keep quarterly earnings reports

Lisa

Lisa Roth — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Roth Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am opposed to any changes to the current SEC reporting requirements:

Quarterly reporting is essential to sound financial investing. And necessary for providing relevant data on the broader performance of market sectors and how they interact with the overall economy.

I do not agree with arguments that support this change, they do not have the financial well-being of the majority of investors in mind. Regulations and rules like this were proven to be needed by an industry that has a history of terrible decisions hurting the public.

The SEC should not make this change.

Lisa Roth
707-484-7141
lroth2026@yahoo.com

Lisa Sparks — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lisa Sparks Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:There is already a lack of transparency, please don't assist in further obsfucation. You should be making it monthly for bigger companies and conglomerates, in reaction to the current climate.

Lisa Stout — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lisa Stout Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Sounds like more grifting to me. We're in dire straights as it is, blindsiding this way will be bad for the people. L. Stout, retired

---

Lisa Strickland — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lisa Strickland Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting works! Keep it the way it is instead of letting this dangerous administration RUIN yet another institution.

Lisa Wilson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lisa Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it Quarterly!

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

---

lissa annulli — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: lissa annulli Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is imperative that quarterly reports are continued for transparency. We, the people, need to be able to protect our investments.

Sent from my iPhone

---

lissa annulli — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: lissa annulli Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is imperative that quarterly reports are continue for transparency! We need to protect our investments.

Sent from my iPhone

Liz Craig — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Liz Craig Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
It's unethical at best to hide important information from investors. What's your plan? To keep investors in the dark? For what reason?
This is unethical and troubling. Don't do this.

---

liz.vasquez — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: liz.vasquez Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Elizabeth Vasquez, Retired, Orange, California
Keep the current reporting. I'm retired with a small IRA. I depend on that IRA fur the future.

Sent from my Galaxy

Liza — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Liza Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reports are very important to individual investors. The only people who benefit from increasing to 6 months are insiders. KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTS

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Liza O'Shea — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Liza O'Shea Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is the more accurate.

Sent from my iPhone

---

liza walshe — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: liza walshe Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Unfortunately they're are many of us without the ethics of the others. Keep them honest, make them honest. Continue quarterly reporting.
Liza Walshe RN

Get Outlook for Android

LKAYR — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: LKAYR Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why the need for the secrecy, this is the publics investment. Keep it QUARTERLY OR I WILL NOT INVEST. Lana Reeves Medical Assembly Technician

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

---

llcannon5 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: llcannon5 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The future of my grandchildren!! Keep reporting as is!!
Linda Cannon
Mesa Arizona

Lloyd Von Rueden — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lloyd Von Rueden Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I think there should be quarterly reports so all investors are informed of a company's financial status. Kathy a retired investor.

Sent from my iPad

Lois Feinberg — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lois Feinberg Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
My view on rules

Lois Ravotti — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15rule-comments@sec.gov From: Lois Ravotti Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Lois Ravotti, just a retired citizen, from New Jersey. This matters to me because I'm an honest person and I expect other to be held to the sam standard that I am and everyone needs consistent reporting to keep them honest too.

Lois Tannenbaum — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lois Tannenbaum Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is money invested by hardworking individuals along with those of wealth. I, myself, am a retired educator and psychologist who lives on a fixed income and quarterly monitors the funds I worked so diligently to invest. I am opposed to six month reporting as there is too large a gap for investors like myself to keep abreast of our portfolios.

Sent from my iPhone

Lois Young — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lois Young Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As real people investing our retirement funds, we need to know what is going on quarterly. Too many things change in just a month or two. Please save quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Lola Newton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lola Newton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Who is leading the charge to change reporting? We do not want change--leave it alone!

Lora Gregory — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lora Gregory Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please, leave this alone! The American People have lost enough, do we have to loose it all? Capitalism in today's society is ONLY for the rich. Do not give them more ways to cheat... you, me, all of us!

"No really great man ever thought himself so".

Loreal — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Loreal Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reports on them. 6 months is a very long time in the market and it's not a good thing due to how much the market fluctuates due to the uncertainty of the market.6 months is too long without knowing where the money goes.
Thank you for your help in this matter.
Loreal Lucas

Loren Townswnd — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Loren Townswnd Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 That’s just a bunch of crap to avoid paying taxes bull ****

Sent from my iPhone

Lori Adamson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lori Adamson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Haven’t you allowed enough corruption?

Lori Burns — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lori Burns Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop messing with our futures. We have worked too hard and far too long to have you take this stance for big businesses!! This is our retirements you're dealing with. Businesses need to do their part to keep the investors informed. It's the part of doing business publicly. Do your part. Don't changed the quarterly reporting!!! I am a hairstylist who has been doing hair for 42 years and still am. I am 60 and cannot afford to lose my hard earned retirement! PLEASE!!
Lori Burns
Binghamton, New York

Lori Chase — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lori Chase Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely not, so much can happen overnight, week to week, month to month, 3 months was reasonable!

Lori Askelin Chase

Lori Citro — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lori Citro Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Not having quarterly reports is a horrible idea! It allows fraud and insider trading to go unchecked. What the heck kind of corrupt idea is going on here?!

Lori Gwinett — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Lori Gwinett Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Those who do not learn from history are doomed to repeat the mistakes of the past (loose paraphrase!) And if the people proposing this do remember their recent history, it's absolutely criminal (and evil!) to attempt this. Stop going backwards and safeguard people's (you know-those of us without insider knowledge that depend on quarterly reporting) investments if you want our money to continue to flow through the market. If we can't trust companies or the SEC to provide timely information on problems with a company, we do not need to increase our already somewhat risky investments.

No SEC is better than a corrupt SEC. Common investors can revolt, dismantle the graft and greed, and start over with regulatory agencies that do what you were intended to do with tax payer dollars instead of trusting the industry to self-regulate, when you are clearly biased toward using ordinary citizens' hard-earned money to further support big business to the detriment of the citizen's money you rely on.
Show us we can trust you or face a battle you didn't think we were capable of waging against big money! You are making a mockery of self-regulation with this proposal. If you are not part of the solution, you are the problem!

Thank you for reconsidering this disastrous proposal.

Best,
Lori Gwinett

---

lori h. — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: lori h. Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Lorene Heston, citizen, This Matters.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

LORI LORI — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: LORI LORI Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please continue quarterly reviews lets hold these company's responsible for any wrong doings

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Lori Murphy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lori Murphy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The SEC is creating a Wild, Wild West with more and more deregulation. I oppose reducing reporting for investors. This move only fosters distrust in the system.
Keep it Quarterly!

Lori Murphy
Retired Teacher

Lori Proctor — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lori Proctor Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: To change and deny access of quarterly disclosurers by the SEC is unacceptable. It's vital information that is needed in making informed decisions. It will blindfold retail investors. Why would you take information away? That feels deceitful, dangerous and wrong.

Lori Simonds — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lori Simonds Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 They don't want to get accountability because they're thieves!

Lori Wanzo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lori Wanzo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Lori and I work at a hospital in Florida. Keep the quarterly reports. A lot of my family don't need their retirement dropping to nothing. They need to be accountable!

Get Outlook for Android

LorieandJason Flores — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: LorieandJason Flores Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Jason Flores Journeyman Pipefitter. We need to have them report more often so regular people have a chance. This transfer of wealth to the rich on the backs of regular people. Im tired of the rules changing to give the keys to the kingdom to the elites. The whole thing is already so corrupt it's disgusting. Let's not make it worse. Don't be part of the problem stop the corruption now.

Lorin Ripley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lorin Ripley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The purpose of reporting is to protect shareholders. The convenience of companies is tertiary, behind shareholder interest and public interest.
Lorin Ripley, shareholder.

Lorna Arcand — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lorna Arcand Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly. Semi-annual reports do not serve investors. It will encourage practices that will be detrimental to investors. It means that we cannot see a trend until after the fact when it is likely too late to make investment changes. Who does this really benefit? There is a reason quarterly reporting started.

Lorraine — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lorraine Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please do the right thing. I've worked for a corporation that cooked the books and watched people lose life savings. Twice per year makes it so much easier for corporations to hide their failures. Quarterly reporting is not unreasonable way to keep track of investments and keep them on track.

- Lorraine Wright
Sent from my iPhone

Lorraine Adams — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Lorraine Adams Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop trying to line the pockets of bloated CEO's. America needs the CEO BS to end.

Sent from my iPhone

Lorraine Stevens — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lorraine Stevens Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reports lower the chances of fraud. Allow investors to determine the soundness of their investments.

Loraine Stevens
Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Louann Lemmond — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Louann Lemmond Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the years I have saved hard to have something to help me in retirement. I appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my annuities in my stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchange.

Louann Lemmond, retired teacher

Louann Lemmond

Louellen Hackel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Louellen Hackel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Louellen Hackel, retired. Quarterly reporting is the bare minimum necessity for managing a portfolio and finances. Without quarterly reporting it’s almost impossible to monitor investments etc. planning and monitoring would become a full time job. The average individual doesn’t have the time, resources and access to pertinent information to track trends etc. I feel taking this away makes it incredibly easy for insider trading and unscrupulous practices that target the vulnerable average person.

Louis Fasci — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Louis Fasci Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To much with holding information from investors not in the loop, I see this as insider trading at its finest.

Louise McBride — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Louise McBride Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Louise McBride, retired educator, Covington, Tennessee, this matters to me because I rely on my Teacher's retirement fund which is part of the Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System. It has done well in the past and I don't think changing the reporting period would be beneficial to me.

Sent from my iPhone

Louise Savage — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Louise Savage Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep these reports coming. We need this information. It is of major importance to all of us American taxpayers.
Very Sincerely
Louise Savage
Sausalito,CA.
94965

Luana Bond — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Luana Bond Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As volatile as the markets are, reporting only twice a year is irresponsible. Do not do this.

Luana H. Bond
103 Powhatan Overlook

Williamsburg VA 23188

Luanne Becker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Luanne Becker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm not rich, just a regular working gal. I want to keep an eye on my investments. We the people deserve quarterly reporting to help us plan for and during retirement. Keep us protected with quarterly reporting. Luanne Becker, Administrative Assistant.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Luanne Miller — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Luanne Miller Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am I one of the individual investors who will be harmed by the change to 6 months reporting. Please consider the millions of us who will be without the information we need to make wise investment decisions.
Thank you,
Luanne Miller

Lucas Pace — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lucas Pace Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Good day,

In the day of information at out our fingertips and with the advent of AI tech there's absolutely no justifiable reason for people not to receive quarterly reports on all of their investments. I'd go a step further to say there's no good reason for people not to receive monthly reports on their investments, it's 2026, not 1956...

Regards,
Lucas Pace
New Philadelphia, Ohio

Lucy Climer-Kennedy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lucy Climer-Kennedy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Retain our current transparency and quarterly reporting. Investors should have as much opportunity as possible to make informed decisions with their money. Do discourage investments and stymie the market for smaller buyers

Best,

Lucy Climer-Kennedy
Portland, ME

Luhanna Wilsey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Luhanna Wilsey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 You people are not above the law! You need to report everything just like regular working people have to! Quit trying to get rich off of the people!

Luis Tellez — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Luis Tellez Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:Keep quarterly earnings reports as is. Do not change or modify in any way, shapeor fashion. It's working fine as is. I don't buy the argument about streamlining the reporting process. You're planning something, and I don't trust you. It's not broken so don't fix it!

Lydia Bell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lydia Bell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As an individual investor, I oppose this proposal because transparency is essential to fair markets. Investors need access to complete and accurate information to make informed decisions. Reducing reporting requirements makes it harder for ordinary investors to evaluate risks and hold companies accountable.
The SEC should protect investors by promoting transparency, not by limiting the information available to the public.

Lydia Small — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lydia Small Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I would prefer quarterly reporting on the stocks I currently own having the option of acting more quickly on the best way to deal with the ups and downs of the market in a timely manner.

Sent from my iPhone

Lydia Walker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lydia Walker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: I am not a big investor and I am not the most knowledgeable investor but I do look at the quarterly notices. I take what I can from it . The quarterly report shows a level of trust and transparencies which helps when I am putting my money/future in the hands of others

---

Lynda Gillham — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lynda Gillham Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
You can't allow companies to get away with this massive fraud on the public and investors. Serve and protect the people!

Lynda Work — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lynda Work Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need quarterly reporting. Stop protecting these scoundrels out there and insider traders with new changes. KEEP quarterly reporting.

---

lynegr — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: lynegr Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We don't need less oversight; we need more!! Please KEEP IT QUARTERLY!!

Lynn Arnett — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lynn Arnett Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
The people demand and deserve transparency not secrecy.

Lynn Daczyk — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lynn Daczyk Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 SEC: Keep corporate reporting quarterly. Do not reduce it to semi-annual. Im 81 years old and paid attention to the disaster that caused Enron's disastrous collapse. collapse. The legislation that followed, ordering quarterly inspections, is good. At a time when more, not less, corporate oversight, is warranted, let us not go backwards by cutting inspections in half.

Lynn Fayard — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lynn Fayard Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

REPORTING MUST REMAIN QUARTERLY!!!!
I rely on up to date information to make my investing decisions.
Six months is a ridiculous option for anyone the least bit concerned about being in the know about their finances.
Do not make this astoundingly biased and irresponsible change.

Lynn Hyman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Lynn Hyman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Don’t give shady dealers the opportunity to destroy citizens’ savings by hiding their actions for six months at a time.

Sent from my iPhone

Lynn Hyman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lynn Hyman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No. Bad idea. Don’t let companies play loose. Make them report more rather than less.

Sent from my iPhone

Lynn Knaack — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lynn Knaack Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Lenora Knaack, retired!

This is important for everyone who invests to be aware of how the SEC is supposed to address fraud with companies! When this is ignored, then companies blatantly steal from their investors! I have experienced being ripped off from eBay!

Lynn M — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lynn M Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 NO! To this 6 month shell game. Big business already is fleeceing americans. Im Tracy Howell, retired and sick of the BS the Republican Regine is pushing down our throats. Life has alredy gotten too expensive for the majority. If the majority of us all die or leave you will have nothing left but your pathetic selves with all the money. That money will be worthless if there is noone there to trade it with.

Lynn Marie Ciccone — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lynn Marie Ciccone Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Lynn Ciccone, an investor, American citizen and very much aware of the way the secret banks robbed the U.S. and Europe and to this day use dark money in secret. You are known, and the fact that you work to rob people without any accountability is disgusting. To the Rothchilds, Dulles brothers, Rockefeller, Chase and others, I hope justice prevails and you are held accountable. From 1944 to 1954 you secretly worked with "neutral" Swiss crooks , protecting Nazis. Your day will come, all will be exposed.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Lynn Rasmussen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lynn Rasmussen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The proposal to move away from quarts financial reporting has the potential to cause devastating financial losses to investors. Given that when reporting changes were softened in the past and individuals suffered from the same, it is foolhearty to repeat it. To the Trumo Administration, please put my name is the oppose column.

Judith Rasmussen

680 Game Farm Road N, Minnetrista, MN 55359

Sent from my iPhone

Lynn Ratoff — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lynn Ratoff Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly Reporting is necessary. There would be too many opportunities for fraud and larceny if not monitored closely. It's bad enough already under Quarterly; giving more freedom to "cook the books" is not a benefit. Lynn Ratoff (retired administrator) Boca Raton, FL

Regards,
Lynn Ratoff
c: 561-866-9466

---

lynn surmann — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: lynn surmann Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The time and money spent reporting quarterly is nothing compared to what honest investors can lose if companies are hiding poor figures. The only reason you wouldn't want to report quarterly is because you have bad news and want to hide it longer. Nobody that has good news would have a problem reporting quarterly. I want to see how my investments are doing as often as the board sees it. DO NOT ALLOW THIS!!!!

Lynn Tenczar — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lynn Tenczar Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: In this day and age, when people and groups of people turn out to be not-so-ttansparent in their actions, it seems irresponsible of the SEC to limit the reporting. Often, the quarterly reports are all small investors have to manage their decisions. Please don’t remove the quarterly reports.

Lynn Wood — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynn Wood Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not change the reporting

Sent from my iPhone

Lynn Yoder — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lynn Yoder Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Security and Exchange Commission:
I need the information to make informed decisions about the market and as an investor am entitled to them. It would be a contractual violation in that deprives investors of necessary information. Changing quarterly reporting is not in the market's best interests either since people might perfer a more reliable forms of investments.

Lynne Bannon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Lynne Bannon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly reports!

Sent via iPhone

Lynnette Stroud — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lynnette Stroud Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
A decision to limit disclosure is unethical and hurts people like myself and my partner who use reporting about stocks to help guide or retirement.

---

m and l sharpe — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: m and l sharpe Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is critical, semi annual is insufficient.

M Buncak — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: M Buncak Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting keeps businesses honest for possible investors.

Sent from my iPad

M C — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: M C Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Let's keep Quarterly Reporting please, so that the S.E.C. will not lose access to enough information, potentially, to make reality - based assessments.
Why give away what little oversight there is?
This matters to me because I live in this country.
Thank you.
Mark Casner

Yours Truly,
Mark Casner

M Dilts — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: M Dilts Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It’s the little people that keep companies relevant. We demand quarterly reports!

Sent from my iPhone

M Garcia — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: M Garcia Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is important that the SEC maintain the each 90 day reporting period. It should not be changed.

Sent from my iPhone

M Nadeau — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: M Nadeau Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Sounds like more time for insider trading

Sent from my iPhone

M Patton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: M Patton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This should not happen. All trading needs to stay transparent and open to everyone all the time. insider trading needs to stop.

M Ros — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: M Ros Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 If the law is for quarterly reporting, it should stay quarterly. This is to protect consumers not corporations. Mark Ross, School Administrator

Regards,

Mark Ross

---

m s — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: m s Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No you do not government works for the ppl if the ppl are footing the bill. Let’s have accountability
You republicans keep changing the rules but when the blue wave hits none of this will EVER HAPPEN AGAIN I DONT think your taking into account that the ppl are poorer now than they’ve ever been and they don’t like it
Sent from my iPhone

M Saltzman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: M Saltzman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To paraphrase ESPN, “Come on man!” This proposal smells like spoiled fish! I’m sure the SEC (in world wide considerations) doesn’t want loose its reputation. Oh, forget it, it’s already ruined by even floating it.

Sent from my iPhone

M SJ — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: M SJ Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Margie St John Account Executive: Keep companies updated information public viewing quarterly to avoid deceptions.

Get Outlook for iOS

M SUSAN BRADLEY — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: M SUSAN BRADLEY Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Don’t change this.
Keep it Quarterly!

Susan

M. L. — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: M. L. Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My retirement is invested in those financial instruments, keep quarterly reporting.

M. Stichter — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: M. Stichter Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No! It needs to remain quarterly! Im retired and I need to see that my returns will see me through retirement or Ill pull my investments out and look elsewhere. I didnt work and save for the government to look out for the wealthy and throw the rest of us 'to the wolves'. This Country isnt the one I grew up in a knew and loved, that cherished equality and focused on morals and values and helping those in need. And those of us who just want to enjoy retirement as we expected to should have that right! Michelle Stichter, retired, Swansea, SC.

MADELINE GUTMAN — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: MADELINE GUTMAN Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reports should remain mandatory. It’s really not too much to ask.

Sent from my iPhone

---

madelyn bauman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: madelyn bauman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quit making everything worse in our country. It's one thing after another being torn apart.

Sent from my iPhone

Madilyn Middlebrook — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Madilyn Middlebrook Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is vital not only for shareholders but to ensure integrity in public companies. I am a project manager in a major electrical distribution company. It is good for us to report our wins on a quarterly basis. Just because a company like SpaceX may want to report their losses bi-yearly instead, that's too bad! Many companies thrive with quarterly reporting. We can't change the game just for one unfair player.

Maggie Andersen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Maggie Andersen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We have enough corruption already. Don't make it easier to commit further corrupt acts. What thee hell is wrong with you.

Maggie Iuen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Maggie Iuen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
More and more we need a light shown on businesses. One way to protect the public is to continue with the quarterly reports. With all the fraud we see on a daily basis it's important to protect the American people and their interests.
Thank

Maggie Morrison — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maggie Morrison Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep their feet to the fire by continuing the quarterly reporting system. They do not need any more help to hide from public scrutiny.
Sincerely,
Margaret Zonia Morrison

Mahlon Manson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Mahlon Manson Keep quarterly reports!!!

Maia Reeb — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Maia Reeb Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Maia Reeb, law student. Quarterly reporting should remain so the public can have access to information. We need more accountability, not less

---

MAIL SERVICE — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: MAIL SERVICE Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I need to know how my various accounts are doing to allow me to make decisions on options I may need to make. So keep reporting quarterly.

Sent from my Galaxy

Maile Chambers — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Maile Chambers Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Let me take your money to invest and not allow you to see where it goes at all and tell you to trust it! Why change the visibility unless you're hiding something or planning on hiding something? Trust goes a long way and with this proposal, you're like a cheating spouse, you just don't give a crap about anyone elses feelings on the matter. All I know is, I'm glad we don't live infinantly. The way politics and powertrips are ruining the world we live in is atroshish! I feel sorry for my grandkids and their kids and grandkids. Why don't you try looking at the future and seeing where your family lands with this proposal. Are you willing to take responsibility for the demise of people's legacies? And if so how the hell do you sleep at night?

Mairead Murray — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mairead Murray Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting should not change. Leave it alone. We need to have the latest and greatest info while managing our investments.

Máireád Murray

Major Tom — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Major Tom Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am an Automation Engineer in pharmaceutical manufacturing sector.
As someone who’s retirement is banked in the market and who works in contract drug development, losing financial insight to our clients presents an incredible risk to the entire industry of pharma CDMOs that produce the vast majority of all generic drugs available on the market as well as cutting edge specialty drugs.

This rule is designed to help wealthy insiders, at the expense of dumbing the bag on us working class folks trying to build the American dream.

I strongly Oppose the approval of Rule S7-2026-15.

Do not sell the average American out to corporate influence and wealthy oligarchs.

With Great Concern,
Kyle W Nicol

Mama Trish — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mama Trish Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 How come HUMANS have less rights, and you keep giving CORPORATIONS AND THE RICH MORE RIGHTS? Your job is to regulate and protect. What could this decision possibly do but screw the American people?! Are you a protective agency, or are you lackeys for the rich? Show us who you REALLY work for.

Mandy Lindsey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mandy Lindsey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm pulling all my stocks if this continues. Not a good idea!!

Sent from my iPhone

Mandy Saiz — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mandy Saiz Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Im Mandy Saiz, I'm a custodian. If I am investing you have no right to speak for me and you have no right to block me from seeing whats going on with my investments or any other. without us you wouldn't be here! It is our right to know everything and we have the right to speak and decide what we want done not the SEC!

MANFRED GRELL — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: MANFRED GRELL Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Im 70 years old and rely on income from my investments to supplement my social security. Transparency is important to folks in my situation, the better we are informed the better we can manage our finances. Large finance companies have departments doing research for them, this leaves small investors blind for large window of time. Please keep the 90 day reporting window in effect.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

---

mannyp105 // — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: mannyp105 // Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We are done with giving big companies our trust and benefit of a doubt. No. Make them report quarterly! The SEC cannot be trusted as well. The SEC board/members need to be replaced because now we know whose side they are on!

Get Outlook for Android

Mara McGill — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mara McGill Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I do not support changing reporting requirements for U. S. companies from quarterly to semi-annual. This idea jeopardizes the savings and investments of millions of Americans who need to see what is happening in a more timely fashion. Keep the rules as they are.

Mara McGill retiree from IBM Corporation, holder of investments in major corporations
Current resident of Naples, Florida

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Marc Buettell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marc Buettell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not change from athe current quarterly reporting schedule. Too much can change over a longer period of time.

Marc Buettell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marc Buettell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not change from athe current quarterly reporting schedule. Too much can change over a longer period of time. I

Marcia Douglas — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marcia Douglas Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly is the better way.

Marcia LeBlanc — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Marcia LeBlanc Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need to know quarterly!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Marcia Tucker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Marcia Tucker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the

Securities and Exchange Commission:
Investors need quarterly reporting to ensure we know what is going on and to accurately direct our investments. Please do not change the frequency of these reports!
Thank you.

Marcie Hutchison — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Marcie Hutchison Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Well it's a great way for the company to end up getting shorted because smaller investors don't know what's going on and only have the news as a ln indicator.

Marcus A Morris — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Marcus A Morris Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the law as it is!

Marcy Gentry — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Marcy Gentry Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Marcella Gentry, I am retired, but I know CEO's must continue to sign their name quarterly to their financial records!! This was established for good reason and you all know it! We The People deserve to know!

Margaret Bergsrud — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Margaret Bergsrud Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Hello, my name is Margaret Bergsrud and I am writing to request the SEC keep quarterly reporting. I am 74 years old and cannot afford to be uniformed for 6 months, too much can change and the potential for significant losses are more difficult to absorb the older I get and it would mean that there's more time for fraud to grow. It may be optional on paper but is inevitable that it will become the practice plus the savings incurred will only be realized by the company. So I repeat, I am requesting the SEC keep quarterly reporting. Please feel free to contact me if needed, 218-260-1719. Thank you, Margaret Bergsrud

---

Margaret Bradley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Margaret Bradley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: please leave the quarterly reporting as it is. As a widow and a retiree, I need to keep up with my IRA quarterly and guard what little I have in that account. My well being may depend on it. Thank you

---

Margaret Carreiro — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Margaret Carreiro Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 If it ain't broken, don't "fix" it. Unless, if course, you mean it to be broke for the regular investor. This attempt to change a system of reporting that has been in place for 50 years, smacks of nothing more than underhandedness and bad intentions. We must maintain quarterly reporting so ALL investors can be more confident in placing their money in the market and in their particular investments. Dr. Margaret Carreiro Professor emerita of Biology University of Louisville Louisville, KY

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Margaret Freitag — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Margaret Freitag Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Margaret Freitag. I have had a long career in multinational pharmaceutical and diagnostic companies. I am heavily in favor of quarterly reporting. These are essential merits of keeping organizations compliant and above board and preventing fraud and abuse.

Margaret Freitag

---

margaret gruna — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: margaret gruna Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Make them report quarterly!
Whatever happened to checks and balances??
The PUBLIC is entitled to know what the fools in charge are doing .
.

Sent from my iPhone

Margaret Heinemann — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Margaret Heinemann Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
we absolutely need to keep quarterly disclosing! We need more transparency not less. I want more information not less!
There is already a monumental lack of trust and this will make it worse.
Thank you!

Margaret Hranitzky — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Margaret Hranitzky Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting Quarterly. This system is working for all citizens now and needs to stay as it is.

Please don’t give the wealthy another way to fail our country.

Margaret Hranitzky — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Margaret Hranitzky Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

The current system works with Quarterly reporting.
Please leave it as is or increase reporting nit decrease the reporting please stop this administration's greed and focus on all of America not just wealthy Political donors

---

margaret korte — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: margaret korte Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Reports should be monthly and investors should be able to access them. Too much can happen in 6 month's time. Transparency is important to maintain trust in investments.

Margaret Mason — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Margaret Mason Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it

Sent from my iPhone

Margaret Paul — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Margaret Paul Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 All we need is yet another means by which the insiders can get richer at the expense of the rest of us. NO! NO! NO! Shame on you (the SEC) for even giving this consideration.

www.AntiqueSterlingCreations.com

Margaret Pew — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Margaret Pew Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 You must keep quarterly reporting…
I’m retired and watch my stock portfolio religiously. Sadly I am not one of the greedy millionaires who won’t care about this.

Ciao, Maggie P
Ordinary but concerned citizen

Margaret Rose — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Margaret Rose Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need constant oversight. Please keep things transparent to the little guy.

Margaret Rutledge — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Margaret Rutledge Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
STOP VIOLATING YOUR RESPONSIBILITY TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE. What are you thinking?

This change means LESS REPORTING which is TOTALLY UNACCEPTABLE. I think you better fix this and fix it as per your fiduciary responsibility. You work for AMERICANS not t-Rump

---

Margaret Scheihing — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Margaret Scheihing Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
It is common sense to me that those I trust with investing my funds can make better decisions with more frequent earnings reports and financial data from companies seeking to borrow MY MONEY invested in their businesses.

I deserve to have more not less access to financial data to protect my interests.

Do not restrict or decrease my access to financial data to guide my investments and my own spending decisions.

Margaret Snow — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Margaret Snow Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY.

Margaret Wirth — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Margaret Wirth Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is absolutely necessary to have quarterly reports ! Twice a year hides negative e results and opens options for illegal actions!!!!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Margery Doss — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Margery Doss Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 With the increase in the use of AI, the "burden" of reporting is lessened so the only reason I can see with less reporting is to hide the shenanigans going on in corporate America. Enough already! Keep the current rule to protect the shareholders rather than the profit mongers.

---

margie hill — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: margie hill Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why is this being considered. The Public needs protections from unscrupulous behavior. Continue quarterly reporting. We depend on creditable oversight and regulations .

Sent from my iPhone

Marguerite Korzelius — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marguerite Korzelius Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Time to hide their stealing

---

Maria Anderson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maria Anderson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Maria Anderson
Small business owner
Keep the quarterly reporting . Would like to see even more transparency instead of what is happening all throughout our government!

Maria E. Anderson
954-593-2800
Universal Real Estate Services, Inc.

Maria Arnold — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Maria Arnold Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: quarterly reports are the most important means for getting information. Blinding investors for 6 months denies Retail investors vital accurate and timely information. This is dangerous and takes away the ability to make informed decisions.

Maria Brattlof — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Maria Brattlof Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Before 1970, waiting six months for financial data meant the market was constantly guessing. If a company had a terrible or fantastic six months, the semi-annual report would shock the market, causing massive stock crashes or wild price surges. The SEC realized that a 90-day cycle allowed the market to absorb financial data gradually, leading to a much smoother and more stable stock market.

The longer a company goes without opening its books to the public, the more room there is for bad behavior. Six months gave failing companies too much time to hide massive losses or operational issues. Furthermore, corporate insiders had a long, unfair window of time where they knew how the business was doing while everyday investors were left in the dark. Quarterly rules leveled the playing field.

The SEC needs to protect the people, not the corporations. Please do not put the people's hard earned investments at risk.

Regards,
Maria Brattlof

Sent from my iPhone

Maria Caracter — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maria Caracter Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop letting them have these loops to do dirt. Only unethical things are done in the dark. Shine the light every quarter.

Mrs. Maria Caracter
301-802-2280-text
Maria.Caracter@NRL.navy.mil

Maria Garza — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maria Garza Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Yes. I believe the quarterly reports are necessary for accountability. Keep the quarterly reports.

Maria Gil — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maria Gil Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 SEC keep It Quarterly

Maria Herwig — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Maria Herwig Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please, keep quarterly reports mandatory. Anything less will erode small investors' (and voters') confidence in the system.

Maria Piccininno — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Maria Piccininno Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Maria Piccininno I have worked my entire life and now depend on my stocks for my retirement.Not knowing what is happening with them for 6 months would be detrimental to not just my finance but to anyone else who isn't in control of and or privy to company's ledgers.It's imperative that we maintain transparency and we have seen globally why quarterly reports are better than semiannual,over and over again is devastation for shareholders can be huge. I urge you to keep reporting quarterly .Thank you for your time. Sincerely,Maria P

Sent from my iPhone

Maria Piccininno — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maria Piccininno Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Maria Piccininno , retired, keep it Quarterly

Sent from my iPhone

Maria Skinner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Maria Skinner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly reports going. We need that info to make decisions.

Sent from my iPad

Maria Webster — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maria Webster Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Dear SEC,

I am writing to formally request that the quarterly reporting process be maintained.

Quarterly reporting is essential for ensuring transparency and maintaining accountability within these operations.

Best regards,

Marie Webster, Realtor

Marian Bauer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Marian Bauer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting as it has been. As a retired person with investments, I want to make certain they are accessed in a timely manner. Marian Bauer
Harrodsburg, KY 40330

Marianne Curley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marianne Curley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 6 MONTHS????? It's called grand theft!!!

---

marianne walden — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: marianne walden Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is important to many.

Sent from my iPhone

MARIBETH BEDSOLE — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: MARIBETH BEDSOLE Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am very opposed to cutting reporting as I remember when and why this time frame was instigated. Today we have even more chances of unscrupulous company leaders. Please do NOT make it easier for them!
beth bedsole
Retired Instructor
Abbeville, AL

Sent from my iPhone

Marie Francis — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marie Francis Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 At a time in our history the adverage middle class American is stretched to yhe max, and subject to fraud at a drop of a hat and counting their change, we should be increasing oversight not deminishing. Keep oversight quarterly.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Marie Harrington — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Marie Harrington Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As a retired Social Worker, I know first hand the fear of older adults, who have been scammed or trusted a financial advisor, or a family member who did protect a client's assets. The SEC must provide quarterly reports so that older adults, their advisors, or their families can take approrpriate action to ensure that the money they have invested is wisely used. No one should have to live with their hard earned assets being swindled and the fear of dying broke becomes a reality.

Marie Henry — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marie Henry Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There’s a reason we started requiring CEO’s to sign their financial statements quarterly… to counteract lying and greed. Human nature has not changed. It seems to me that we are reading more reports of massive fraud than ever before. Keep CEO’s accountable. Do NOT change the rules.

Sent from my iPhone

Marie Standberry — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marie Standberry Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please stop stealing from the working class. Stop the insider trading, stop politicians, do something useful and righteous for a change. See how that makes your harden to the rest of the world heart leave.

Mariette Coyle — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mariette Coyle Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: We are already working towards another mortgage loan crisis, and many citizens now have their retirement savings invested in the market. Accountability is key, and companies should continue to be required to report quarterly. Thank you.

Marilee Hilgendorf — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Marilee Hilgendorf Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not let companies hide their money for 6 months. Every should be allowed to see what they have!!

Sent from my iPhone

MARILYN COLBERT — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: MARILYN COLBERT Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Marilyn Colbert, 15 year employee of Enron in Houston, maintained the counterparty database information. My view is Jeff Skilling snd his unscrupulous tactics were a primary reason for the decline of Enron. The working atmosphere changed for the worse for ALL employees when he was put in charge. It was cutthroat, win at any cost. His influence encouraged traders to think manipulating energy sources that caused brownouts in California were okay. Win by any means.

My job was to maintain the counterparty database. Adding a company required identifying it as an internal or external entity to Enron for accounting purposes. Towards the end it seemed that a lot of paper companies were being created. When I would call corporate to find out if we were majority owner or not, I couldn't get answers. Some of these companies had Star Wars type names like Jedi II or something. The "officers" names seemed sketchy. I think Andy Fastow listed relatives as officers.

Skilling totally altered Enron's business foundation. He did not value what built it. Physical assets like the pipelines were sold off. Mark to market was the new "commodity" method. Pay up front, maybe you will get it back. How do you trade "dirty air" S02, or Weather??

I know Skilling was not alone acting in the downfall of Enron. And not all answered for their participation, such as Lou Pai who left with millions in his pockets. Had there been transactional accountability behind these paper "companies", investigation of the "officers", what could have been spared?

The fall of Enron was far reaching outside. I was fortunate that I left the company just before it fell. But I watched as THOUSANDS of my fellow employees walked out of the building with boxes in their hands after being told they had 30 minutes to pack up, for many a lifetime of work. That was hard enough.

But consider that thousands of employees whose presence in downtown Houston supported a myriad of businesses in the area, such as restaurants who now lost clientele. The people that supplied those businesses in one way or another lost business as well.

Many people had invested in Enron, such as teachers unions pensions, everything was lost. Employees that had retired now had to go back to work. People that had saved money for their personal lives, their children's educational funds, now it was gone. People invested based on the "numbers". We weren't ignorant, we trusted. I asked my stock broker months before it fell what he thought about what we were hearing at that time. And he said, no everything's OK. Everything's fine. It wasn't. We trusted.

It is imperative to hold companies accountable for their business transactions and financial reporting. An absolute necessity. When a company falls, it is not just about the company. Anyone that transacts with them in any way shape or form could potentially lose as well.

Sent from my iPhone

Marilyn Hardyman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Marilyn Hardyman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a retired person I depend more than ever on my quarterly reports to see how I'm doing and what my future looks like. Don't take this away from me! I need to see want is going on to ensure that no one is messing where they shouldn't be and I believe it might just keep everyone honest.

This is MY money and I want quarterly reports!

Marilyn Hardyman
Sent from my iPhone

Marilyn Todd — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Marilyn Todd Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This won't work. What are you trying to hide! The American citizens are watching you! You can't rip off everyone else for your own profit. We've seen enough of this! Stop it! We should be able to see your books at the end of Every month, just like our bank statements!

Sent from my iPhone

Marilynn Krammes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Marilynn Krammes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 History has shown us the need for quarterly reporting. This is not beneficial to any except those who which to do nefarious things. Please keep quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Marina Radovanovic — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marina Radovanovic Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quit trying to take the little bit that we get and giving it away to the billionaires. Don't they have enough already ?!!

Marinelle Glickauf — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Marinelle Glickauf Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As an investor, I need, and I stress NEED to know the financial standings of these companies that I am placing my money. I need to have the SEC quarterly overview of these companies to keep them accountable. So that I can trust that they are reporting their financial information correctly.
I don't want to see a market crash due to lack of oversight in the USA.
I need to be able to trust that my Investments United States companies are safe if I am going to invest in the United States markets.
Your oversight in a quarterly basis is very important

Mario Dentale — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Mario Dentale Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Less than quarterly encourages corruption period !

Marion Charette — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Marion Charette Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not allow this

. Less transparency leads to lower returns for investors!!!

Marion Charette
02346

Marion Ringquist — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Marion Ringquist Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the Quarterly reporting for checks and balances, please! No additional loopholes, there are more than enough already! Thank you!

Marjorie Kulbis — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marjorie Kulbis Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting needs to continue. There are too many sneaky people trying to get richer and richer. There needs to be accountability so quarterly reports should stay, too much can happen in six months.

Sent from my iPad

Marjorie Zack — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marjorie Zack Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is good for all Americans. Please keep the schedule that is in place. Lesser reporting will allow for lower rates to be kept from the public.

- M Zack

Mark — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mark Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting as is and protect us like the rule was intended.

Mark and Joanna Sims — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark and Joanna Sims Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'd rather see monthly reporting and signature by CEO, but I realize that's probably not doable, but the minimum standard must be quarterly to keep these folks honest. Twice yearly is totally unacceptable.

Mark Anderson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mark Anderson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am a small investor and don’t have much more than $1,500 invested. But without quarterly reports I wouldn’t trust what I was being told. Too many firms try to cook the books as it is.

---

mark colchagoff — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: mark colchagoff Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The obviousness is that large corporations will do a thing if they can do a thing. Stop them from defrauding the investors.

Get Outlook for Android

Mark Friedman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mark Friedman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There is no need to reduce reporting unless there is something to hide! Keep the quarterly reporting.

Mark Gillespie — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mark Gillespie Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This sounds like another Trump says white collar crime is not a crime, it's how he keeps getting away with his crimes. Very bad idea! Don't let this happen, don't let Trump and his cronies screw over the country even more than they are now! Mark Gillespie, Arlington Heights IL President Optimus Executive Search

---

Mark Harris — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mark Harris Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly by the SEC ! Mark Harris
Don’t let the scammers get away and free !

Sent from my iPhone

Mark Ingham — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Mark Ingham Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There is no reason to change this except to hide data. Do not change the quarterly reporting requirement.

Mark Ingham — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Mark Ingham Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There is no reason to change this except to hide data. Do not change the quarterly reporting requirement.

Mark Koth — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mark Koth Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please continue requiring public entities to release financial infomation quarterly. A well informed public benefits all.

Mark Lambert — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Lambert Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 All should be transparent!

Sent from my iPad

Mark Levin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mark Levin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
There is no good reason to make these changes. The only people who will gain from this rule would be people who want stocks to bounce up and down.

Mark Pascetta — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Pascetta Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Be transparent with your clients …

Sent from my iPhone

Mark Prout — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mark Prout Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency! Transparency! Transparency! I don't want to wait an extra quarter to hear management say "Oops! Sorry. Too bad."

Mark Shaw — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Shaw Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is one government regulation we cannot afford to reduce. There is too much that can go wrong before we find out it’s happening. If a company doesn’t want to deal with the need for quarterly reports, they need to just pull themselves from the stock exchange and go private.

Sent from my iPhone

Mark Shonk — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Quarterly is far preferable to semi-annual reports. More room to inform insiders over many investors. From: Mark Shonk Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

---

Mark Szabo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mark Szabo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is important to make sure there is accountability. When there is no accountability and transparency fraud runs rampant. Fraud is stealing in the layman's sense. Stealing is bad for business. Whether it is the employer, employee, or customer.

Respectfully,
Mark Szabo
Rocky River, Ohio 44116

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Mark Umble — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mark Umble Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We want quarterly reports

Sent from my iPhone

Mark Unwin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mark Unwin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Mark to market is a transparent way of evaluating investments and any attempt to move away from corporate financial transparency is anti capitalist.

Mark Watkins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mark Watkins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The decision to keep small investors in the dark for 6 months at a time is absurd. Add to the fact others can get the information every three months just reeks of favoritism and pay offs! J. Mark Watkins

Mark Watkins
Regional Manager
T.
629.259.0193
E.
mark.watkins@onlocationind.com

Mark Wright — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Wright Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting equals transparency. The converse would be what is being hidden.

Sent from my iPhone

Marla McGarry-Lawrence — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Marla McGarry-Lawrence Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As a small investor, I believe this new rule puts me and others who do not have large investments at a severe disadvantage because of the opportunity for fraud and cover-up by large companies. This new rule is bad for us and bad for our country. We need every possible means available to keep our investments safe and to keep companies honest, especially in the current economic environment. I don't trust these large companies to look out for us, that's what the SEC is for.

Marla Pomante — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Marla Pomante Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely not! Have YOU SEC learned nothing from the last 40 odd years (think 1980's savings and loans disaster). I lost EVERYTHING financially in 2009-2012 thanks to the avarice and greed that was rampant then. DO NOT put the citizens of this country in that position again. You will be held accountable for the decision you make.

Marlene Josephsohn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marlene Josephsohn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026
Commissioners: Investors understand risk vs. reward, and the abolition of quarterly reporting is an unnecessary risk with minimal reward. Further, while the risk would be borne disproportionately by smaller investors, the reward would be enjoyed primarily by large corporations, institutional investors, and others whose inside knowledge isn’t dependent on public corporate reports. Frontrunning, self-dealing, and other market manipulations would only increase with the loss of quarterly reporting. Please do not allow this unneeded relaxation of reporting standards!

Marlene Josephsohn

Marlene Ludlow — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Marlene Ludlow Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 marlene ludlow, retired. quarterly reporting is important. there is enough fraud without giving companies more time to cover it up! ENRON???!!!

Marlene Russell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Marlene Russell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Looks like they just want to make it better for themselves as usual. Why else would they want to change.

Marsha Brown — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marsha Brown Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is another attempt to cover up the corruption in our country. The rich be come richer off the hard work of others. They pay a barely livable wages. Dont pay a fair rate of taxes, this country has let rich take over again. Why do cooperations recieve huge tax cuts? We pay for our utilities and infrastructure with rate increases. While cooperations who own them receive more cuts and government money, our money. How is that right, the system is rigged to serve the rich. Taking our money in taxes and social securities then take from those services first to cover their initiative. Giving billions to the already rich in government contracts. The average American doesn't stand a chance,it's wrong. Stop the corruption. We the people see what you are doing, why cant you? Marsha Brown US Citizens

---

Marsha Ettl — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Marsha Ettl Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I think that they they should be quarterly. I want no less

Sent from my iPhone

MARSHALL WEINGARDEN — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: MARSHALL WEINGARDEN Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting from publicly traded companies is mandatory. I've witnessed yoo many frauds or intentional misstatements in my 60 years of investing to give up our right to this critical information. Decreasing reporting gives public companies more time to cook the books, especially when they've already made misleading statements.

Marshall Weingarden

Marta L Storkamp — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marta L Storkamp Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Who is behind this s..stuff? How and why is this started?

Marta L Storkamp — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marta L Storkamp Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Who is behind this s..stuff?

Martha Colburn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Martha Colburn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting Quarterly. We, the People, about whom the reports matter have a Right and a Need to Know how OUR accounts (our money) are doing. And it's important that we know more than 2 times per year. Martha B. Colburn, Assistant District Attorney (retired).

Martha Doigherty — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Martha Doigherty Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quit playing into Trump and Putin's hands

Martha Galvin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Martha Galvin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want regular reporting as then I can keep reminded of my interests and how they are being managed. Quarterly reports keep managers responsible and communicating and they learn as much as I do
With quarterly reporting, managers can move money where it works best for their clients interests. Do NOT change this policy. Vote NO on this change.

Sent from my iPhone

Martha Michael — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Martha Michael Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please protect our ability to manage our own funds quarterly. People will find other options in other countries otherwise.
Do not allow CEOs of financial institutions to have more say in our funds than we do!!! It is a no Beamer.
sincerely,
Dr. Martha Michael

Martin Ford — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Martin Ford Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Unless human-nature has suddenly changed, we need to keep the quarterly reporting rule in place. We have seen too much fraud in our institutions. Enough!

Kii

Martin Gabel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Martin Gabel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Im opposed to this rule change. I read quarterly reports and make use of the information in decisioning. This change will also allow corruption to take hold in the markets by using disinformation to manipulate stock prices.

Martin Grantham — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Martin Grantham Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 At a time when corporate crime is at an all time high and heads of corporations have the highest rate of psychopathic personality disorders, higher than the general prison population, why the Hell would it be a good thing to make it easier for them to avoid accountability? Psychopaths need constant monitoring and never change, so don't change what few rules are established that help rein in their remorseless pursuit of self interest over the public good!

Sent from my iPhone

Martin McClure — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: No semi-annual reporting From: Martin McClure Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting was put in place for a good reason. Reducing reports will just make it easier for another Enron to happen. Quarterly reports are not burdensome and keep investors appraised of the company's performance.

Martin McClure
1701 Ridge Road
Ukiah, CA 95482

Martin Nyrkkanen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Martin Nyrkkanen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Leave the required reports quarterly as they currently are.

Martin Venneman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Martin Venneman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stay with the quarterly reporting. That helps keep people honest.

- Martin Venneman

Martin's j O'Donnell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Martin's j O'Donnell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it,it remains necessary.

---

marty murray — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: marty murray Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 More corruption!! If this was above board and nothing to hide, nothing needs to go dark. We pay these salaries everything should be transparent to everyone all the time. Less need for temptation or treason!

Marty Schoonover — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Marty Schoonover Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I have no job or title I'm poor because of corruption and we don't need anymore corruption and it needs to stay quarterly and that's even to much room for corruption it's time people stand up and stop all these officials from throwing wrenches in the gears in order to take complete control and advantage of the citizens of the United States keeping us blind and making it up as they go doing what they want when they want how they want and it has to stop and it most definitely should stay quarterly!!

Marva Wilson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Marva Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There is too much opportunity for fraud

Sent from my iPhone

Marvin Metter — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marvin Metter Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is necessary to maintain the transparency needed for a fair system. If companies are in trouble, their shareholders have a right to know and adjust accordingly. We have already taken a. If step back by undercutting the environment regulations that were instituted to safeguard the air and water. All this did was lower the costs of controlling pollution by making pollution acceptable. If we open the floodgates to companies allowing hiding potentially critical information from shareholders, it becomes a license to cheat and defraud. The savings to society is small, while the risk to the public is great. There is no real justification for such a change except to ‘hide the ball’ to allow shady activity.

MARY — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: MARY Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Mary Rust OSC I rely on my quarterly report to plain my retirement

---

Mary Aguilar — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mary Aguilar Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please!!!! Do what's best for the citizens!!!

Mary Aigner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mary Aigner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This proposed rule makes no sense unless there is corruption or something to hide.

Sent from my iPad

Mary Allen — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mary Allen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Do not hide any information that we would need.....period. This would cause a lot of fraud and hurt my portfolio!! If this passes I WILL PULL ALL MY MONEY OUT!!! ABSOLUTELY DISCUSTING!! HAVENT THE AMERICAN PEOPLE BEEN HURT ENOUGH OVER ALL THE FRAUD THATS IN THIS COUNTRY ALREADY!!!!!

Mary Ann Wishnosky — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mary Ann Wishnosky Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

It is our investments from our lifes work. We have every right to check on it every 3 months!!! Be transparent with OUR money, it is not yours!!!

Mary Behm — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mary Behm Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: it's about transparency and quarterly reports should remain!

Mary Beth — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mary Beth Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To Whom It May Concern:
Reporting has to remain quarterly and not revert back to the semi 1955 method.
Quarterly reports allow for quicker reaction times for companies and provides investors a better pulse on their investments.

---

mary bogush — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: mary bogush Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly report

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Borroum — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mary Borroum Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Typical way to fleece your investors. It wouldn't be the first time I lost money to rules put in place by the very people it would benefit. Let's call it what it is... corporate theft! Stop trying to steal hard working peoples money and face the fact that you need to be continually transparent. I am a firm NO on your plan to only report your financials every six months.

Mary Brewster — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mary Brewster Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a non institutional investor, I have the same right to information as a corporation. There is no reason to change this regulation except deceit and greed. Please maintain the laws for quarterly reporting as they are.

Mary Brosius — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Mary Brosius Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There is too much fraud already, We need more rules, not less. Keep the current rules!

--
Sent with mail.com Mail app

Mary Brown — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mary Brown Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why make it easier to cheat? You know they will. KEEP it QUARTLIERLY!

Mary Clabo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Mary Clabo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We all have to be held accountable if we do something wrong! They are no better than any of the rest of us, just richer!!!!!
I am retired and on SSA. I am just making it and do not complain. I live in AL. My name is Mary.

Virus-free.www.avast.com

Mary Degler — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Mary Degler Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly. We seniors cant afford to lose half of our portfolios. Its what we live on besides Social Security. If you're operating within the rules and laws, you shouldnt be worried. Mary. I am retired in PA.

Mary Dillon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Dillon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the report quarterly! Less than that would be a disaster!

Sent from my iPad

Mary Dobberstein — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mary Dobberstein Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is important so regular, non-billionaire people don't fly blind. 6-month reporting leaves corporations and the connected to enrich themselves further and regular citizens to pick up the pieces every 6 months. To sit back and allow corporations to do whatever but only inform people twice a year is just a bad idea.

Mary Dobberstein.

MARY Donnelly — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: MARY Donnelly Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not end quarterly reporting requirements. Current information is vital to make good investment decisions.

Mary Doreen DiGiacomo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Rule S7-2026-15 Submitting comment From: Mary Doreen DiGiacomo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Good day,

I write today that I do not support implementation of Rule S7-2026-15. My reasons include:

(1) As an investor, I regularly check on the financial status and reporting of those corporations in which I hold significant holdings. This transparency is essential to me as I make decisions about which corporations I deem worthy of investment. In today's fast moving electronic world where a single or multiple transactions of a certain type may precipitously impact a company's balance sheet and where decisions on strategy and execution are often concentrated in just a few people at the highest levels of management, shareholders are far removed from influencing what happens at those companies. In this environment, six months is a long period of time and adverse actions can long go unadvertised and undetected and yet have a very negative impact on investment by the shareholders. This is detrimental to shareholders having the knowledge that they need and the time to react based on that knowledge.
(2) As someone who worked in financial services, and who often dealt with implementing regulations, and sometimes investigating the possibility of non-compliance, I know first-hand that regulations, while avoiding unnecessary overburdening of the regulated organizations, are essential in preventing and detecting unfavorable actions impacting the companies, their clients and their investors. This particular change would provide opportunity to have negative actions, whether deliberate or unintended, from being transparent on a timely basis.

Again, I do not support this Rule.

Thank you for your attention.

Mary Di Giacomo

Mary Dowdell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mary Dowdell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Less transparency erodes trust and ultimately the way people spend their money. Hiding is not a strategy, it's a tactical weapon to halt economic power for all. As the economy continues to struggle, people buy less, which circles back to minimize return for "investors". A model for failure of the U.S. economy and value of the dollar.

Mary Elder — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mary Elder Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 WTF oh yea your Trumpettes this will end you eventually. Stop!!

Mary Ellen Craver — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Ellen Craver Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Let's keep things honest. Six months is too long. My name is Mary Ellen Craver and I am retired, but I am sick and tired of those in charge of a company taking advantage of those who work for it, buy their products, or hold stock in good faith.

Mary Ellen Williams — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mary Ellen Williams Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely not. Corruption is already out of hand

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Estes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Estes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 A very necessary security measure to protect investors from company greed/mismanagement!!

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Frenzel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Mary Frenzel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly reports for increased accountability, transparency and clarity.

Mary Handelsman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mary Handelsman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I was a corporate accountant. You need quarterly reporting. It is unfair to outside smaller investors to not have access to this information.
Mary Handelsman

Mary Helen Scott-Lewis — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Helen Scott-Lewis Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep Corporations, investments and operations transparent.

Mary Helen Scott-Lewis
(804) 480-9610

Mary Jane — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mary Jane Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My husband and I have investments on which we depend to supplement our pensions and Social Security. We NEED those quarterly reports now more than ever. Keep the Quarterly Reports!

Mary Kappesser — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mary Kappesser Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To SEC:

I am Mary Kappesser. I live in Cincinnati, Ohio. I do not want to see the SEC reporting going to semi-annual. Keep it as it is. Quarterly reporting provides accountability and greater safety for retirees. Quarterly reports help retirees track dividend sustainability. Waiting 6 months could mean lost opportunities to switch to higher paying investments, or make adjustments to withdrawal strategies. The 6 month reporting favors companies, but shifts more risks to individual investors who rely on timely data for security.
Sincerely,
Mary L Kappesser

Mary Kiewlak — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mary Kiewlak Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Mary Kiewlak. I am semi-retired and live in Nanticoke, PA. Typical small town middle class investor. At this time we need more transparency, not less. Especially for people like me that can't afford to lose any of our hard earned savings and investments. Please keep things quarterly. Myself and people like me don't need any financial surprises at this age. Thank you.

Mary Laflin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mary Laflin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Of course we need quarterly reporting. We definitely don't need less transparency and accountability. Protect investors!

Mary Lawrence — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Lawrence Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want to see their quarterly earnings updates.

Mary LEWIS — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary LEWIS Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly for sure

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Lou Robinson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mary Lou Robinson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly reports by companies are vital in my ability to assess weather I want to buy or sell a particular stock. They let me know how the company is doing. year to date.
This information is vital to every investor. Transparency is the most important aspect of companies.
Mary Lou Robinson

Mary Magathan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Magathan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Every 6 mos is a terrible idea for small investors, plz reject it.

Get Outlook for Android

Mary Malonson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mary Malonson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Leave it as it is!! THERE'S ENOUGH FRAUD GOING ON NOW.

Sent from my iPhone

Mary McEntee — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary McEntee Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is necessary!

Sent from my iPhone

Mary McGlaughlin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mary McGlaughlin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Continue quarterly reports for the American people who invest and rely on timely, accurate info to make important decisions about their portfolios. This is very important.

Mary McGurk — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mary McGurk Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities

and Exchange Commission:
Stop the fat cats from swinðeling the working class. In this instance less is less.

---

mary Myers — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: mary Myers Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need regular, at least quarterly, reporting on our investments. Signed by CEO.
Mary Myers, Missouri

Get Outlook for Android

Mary none — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary none Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it Quarterly!!!

Mary Olmstead — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mary Olmstead Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As an invester, I do not want the Securities and Exchange Commission to decrease it's reports. Having less transparency increases the opportunity for fraud.
Mary Olmstead

Mary patry — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mary patry Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep SEC reporting quarterly! Reducing it to semi-annual makes it easy for businesses to mask issues while hurting shareholders.

Regards Mary

p.s. Sent from iPhone, please accept apologies in advance for incorrect autocorrects.

Mary Perry — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mary Perry Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This SEC proposal is bad for investors, Allowing corporations to hide vital information from shareholders Only Serves to encourage Illegal behavior on the part of boards and insider traders. Keep in mind Enron and all previous scandals that reflected very poorly on the SEC. Thank you for your consideration.
Sincerely,
Mary Peary

Mary Perryman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Perryman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please continue quarterly reporting. We need more transparency not less!

Thank you

Mary V Perryman

Mary Petroski — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mary Petroski Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is not a good idea for anyone investing. People will pull out and find other ways to make money. This is terrible, only businesses with something to hide would embrace this kind of operating system. Do not change our current market.

Mary Pierce — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Pierce Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep reporting Quarterly! There is so much corruption going on between the Trump White House and businesses - in broad daylight. Corporations must be held accountable and that is your job. Do it! We're paying attention.

Mary Pierce, retired nurse and business owner

Mary Planton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mary Planton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Corporations get too many big breaks. This is just another way for them to hide their assets and stymie informed decision making on the part of investors and stakeholders. Do not do this!

Mary Robarge — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mary Robarge Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want to keep quarterly reporting. I am an elderly woman and feel the need to watch my finances closely. I feel I don't have many more years to live and I want to leave my heirs as much as I can. My name is Mary Robarge and I am the CEO of my household in Southington Connecticut.

Mary Roberts — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Roberts Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep my quarterly statements pls!

Mary Sykes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mary Sykes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Insist companies put out
Quarterly Reports Now. Not next Year, Now!!!!!!

Mary Thumann — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mary Thumann Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 MaryThumann, Hospital Adminitrative Asst., Retired. I retired with a modest 403B from my hospital position. My husband , being self-employed, has handled his retirement needs via personal investments. We urge the Sec continue to require companies to report quarterly. We rely on these reports to help us monitor and make prudent decisions on our retirement savings. Quarterlies, rather than annual reports, help keep us informed and companies more transparent. Thank you.

Mary Veasey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mary Veasey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Needed

Get Outlook for iOS

MaryAnn Persinger — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: MaryAnn Persinger Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This should not be allowed

Sent from my iPhone

Maryann Zielinski — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maryann Zielinski Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Only the stupid would try to go back to what did not work, hence the reform. This is instigated so that D.J.& his war chest contributors can bilk the people. We the people who gave them our money & expect honesty and accountability. The twice a year did not work before. Don't let greed & dishonesty! Reign again!

MaryAnne Brock — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: MaryAnne Brock Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Dear SEC: Do the Right Thing-->Keep QUARTERLY Reporting so that We-the-People can make the right decisions WITH/FOR OUR OWN MONEY! THANK YOU, Mary Anne Brock

---

Maryanne Gagliano — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maryanne Gagliano Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Report monthly do not cut the quarterly reports change to monthly for one year and see what happens.

Sent from my iPhone

MaryAnne Kelly — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: MaryAnne Kelly Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 In a country where the majority of Americans have to self-fund and manage their retirements and savings, we need the highest level of integrity and accountability. It has become far too common to see the people in these institutions that don't meet these standards get pardoned. Keep what minimal protections we have in the current system. When you want to make life better/easier for someone, focus on the regular investors.

MaryAnne Kelly

Maryeileen Flanagan Educator, Stanfield, AZ — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Maryeileen Flanagan Everyone born before 1960 remembers the Enron debacle. We must not allow such a catastrophe ever again. Quarterly checks of a company's financial stability keep people more honest and allow quick responses to any pending issues. Making CEO's personally responsible four times a year inspires honesty and careful analysis of the company's stability. Changing to twice a year is asking for less rapid response to problems, sloppier accounting and disaster. Please leave the rule as it is. We must not risk even one more Enron. I am a teacher in Arizona.

Maryjo Gottschalk — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Maryjo Gottschalk Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting the same !! Don’t go back to the 1950s!!

Sent from my iPhone

Matt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Matt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is a fair and professional standard. The US will be injured beyond our ability to measure if we loosen our well-famed standards. Whom is this best for? Matthew Ashford, editor, TEFL teacher, Pitt '02

Matt Elmes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Matt Elmes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I will sell all my * if you change the quarterly reporting rule. Total bull *. Rather by gold and silver

---

Matt Elmes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Matt Elmes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I will sell all my * if you change the quarterly reporting rule. Total bull *. Rather buy gold and silver

---

Matt Geer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Matt Geer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: the people have a right to know what they own, and be governed by the same laws. If corporations are people, they must be made to follow the same laws as others. No insider trading, and immunity.

---

matt m — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: matt m Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We don't a rollback . Times are difficult enough and you want to wipe out our savings. If you try this it will be a run on the banks.

"Be Strong Enough to Stand Alone, Smart Enough to To Know When You Need Help"

Matt Markert — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Matt Markert Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is an outrageous hand out to Mr Musk. Deregulation will lead us exactly to where it always does, another financial crisis.

Matthew Churney — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Matthew Churney Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No excuses for white collar fraud. Quarterly reports signed by executives are the only way to keep them honest.

Matthew Ehrlich — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Matthew Ehrlich Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Transparency everywhere, all of the time. Anything else is just thieves hiding their thievery. No exception.

Matthew Johnson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Matthew Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 With the grand scale and real abilities of Artificial Intelligence, all publicly traded companies should have sufficient time and bountiful resources in assistance with the compilation of the quarterly report.

Sent from my iPhone

Maui Masters — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Maui Masters Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Lets stick with more transparency. Continue wrh quartly reporting.

Maura Garrett — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Maura Garrett Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Maura Garrett. I am retired and a disabled senior. The SEC reporting is essential to keeping the US economy working for every stakeholder in keeping investments transparent. People from most walks of life deserve accurate, up to date reporting. Less frequent reporting allows for more opportunities for criminal or dishonest corporate behavior.

Sent from my iPhone

Maureen Bussoletti — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maureen Bussoletti Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly earnings reports. filings and statements. So important to maintain fiscal accountability & for investors to have transparency into performance

Sent from my iPhone

Maureen C. Allen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Maureen C. Allen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No, no, no! Everyday Americans who invest in good faith will not stand for this lavish gift to publicly held companies and the advantage it provides to certain investors. It's discriminatory, unethical and opaque, not transparent. Do Not Do It.
Maureen Allen
Ranger, GA
Enraged Citizen

Maureen McCarthy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Maureen McCarthy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Maureen McCarthy age 66 retired RN and Nurse Midwife. After caring for New Yorkers for 45 years I am living on a fixed income. Retirement investments are now my livelihood. Quarterly reporting is done electronically. I see no reason why this should change.

Maureen Morse — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Maureen Morse Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: please keep the quarterly reporting to save my retirement

---

Maureen Petersen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Maureen Petersen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reporting requirement for publicly traded stocks. The amount of uncertainty and corruption these days will only be exacerbated with less oversight.
Thank you
Maureen Petersen

Sent from my iPhone

Maureen Pezzementi — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Maureen Pezzementi Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission
My retirement savings depend on a stock market that is predictable. Reducing reporting to just twice a year, has historically, led to a less predicatable market. Please, don't do this as it affects those of us who don't want to become dependents in old age.

MAUREEN REARDON — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: MAUREEN REARDON Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly Reports inform to provide inquiring minds the voice to review, discuss, disagree, implement necessary adjustments, and develop strategies for best outcomes. The overall benefit of Quarterly Reports are meant to sustain margins of growth while addressing realities of the market in alignment with established mission objectives of an entity. Quarterly Reports segued with accountability produce the best incentives.

Mayra Figueroa — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mayra Figueroa Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need quarterly reporting!

Best Regards,
Mayra Figueroa
773-960-5724
Sent from my iPhone

MB — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: MB Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We like quarterly reporting

Sent from my iPhone

Me Shook — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Me Shook Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please protect the American people. Keep required financial reporting on a quarterly basis. Transparency is critical to keep the "playing field" fair for ALL investors!

Michelle Shook

Meg Cooper — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Meg Cooper Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Personally, as a retiree needing to make some important decisions, I like reporting even more often. Cutting back to six months creates unnecessary opacity. Don't change!!

Meg Cooper
Associate Professor Emerita
Special Education
ARFS Coordinating Council Secretary

University of West Georgia mcooper@emeriti.westga.edu
cell phone: (770) 880-5078
This e-mail is intended solely for the addressee and may contain confidential information. If you are not the addressee, please do not save, print, or re-transmit, except to return to the sender.

Meg Mehlhaff — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Meg Mehlhaff Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 What is the value in doing this for the investor? I sure see the disadvantages, yet not a single advantage mentioned.
Meg Mehlhaff investor

Sent from my iPhone

Megan Bennett — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Megan Bennett Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not do this! Transparent practices are key to good governance!

Megan Ferger — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Megan Ferger Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: keep quarterly reports to provide transparency, reduce fraud, and to provide retail investors, like me, the information needed to protect our investments.

sincerely, Megan Ferger
public school teacher

Megan Hosang — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Megan Hosang Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need to move forward with better laws and regulations, not backwards. My name is Megan Hosang, I'm a USPS Mail Carrier in San Diego, CA and am tired of not being able to afford anything on a salary that used to be able to hold up an entire family.

Best regards,

Megan W Hosang

Meghan O'Brien — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Meghan O'Brien Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I think we're smart enough to know that this is obviously terrible idea for the average American. Longer gaps create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders, people who are already more well versed than the average American. What little savings that companies might get aren't worth the cost at my expense. This isn't a "better for everyone" option; it's clearly a "better for few" and no amount of spin will change that.

Melanie and Rob Lewis — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melanie and Rob Lewis Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We are retired and have a wide array of investments. The SEC needs to maintain quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Melanie Donald — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Melanie Donald Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency is always a better option. More eyes is always better. Not everyone does the right thing, especially with other people's money. Need to keep the "honest"

Melie Ros — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melie Ros Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 They need to be public!! That does not benefit all classes as it will be inequitable!

Sent from my iPhone

Melinda Blake — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Melinda Blake Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I have a RIGHT AS A consumer to see my reports every day as I choose. Not when you choose appreciate you want to do it for me.
NO THANKS ANYWAY ON QUARTERLY REPORTING
Melinda Galbraith
I don't have to explain why this is important to me. IT IS

Sent from my iPad

Melinda Robinson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Melinda Robinson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reports are necessary! All business should be above board and quarterly reports 100% required. Hiding the information is sneaky and dishonest, and is blatant cheating!

Melinda van Hemert — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Melinda van Hemert Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: to keep investors informed we need quality data quarterly about the finance and health of the companies being invested in.

Melissa — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melissa Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Sure, quarterly reporting is inconvenient for the company, but for individual investors whose life savings are involved, the risks posed to their retirement portfolio from decreased reporting vastly outweigh the modest amount of inconvenience for the company under the current reporting requirements. What's the real objective of the proposed changes? Clearly not to protect the interests of "everyday" investors. Presumably, substantial investors will, on the other hand, be kept "in the know". The primary purpose of establishing the SEC was to enforce laws against market manipulation and ensure fair and honest securities markets. Nothing in the proposed changes is consistent with the SEC's statutory mission. It's remarkable this is even being considered.
Melissa Fogelberg
Retired corporate attorney

Sent from my iPad

Melissa (Butts) Young — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Melissa (Butts) Young Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am writing as an ordinary retail investor, not a financial professional. Like millions of Americans, I have a retirement account, some personal investments, and a family that depends on those savings for our future.

I oppose the proposal to reduce public company reporting from quarterly to semiannual filings.

As a regular investor, quarterly reports are one of the few ways I can obtain reliable, standardized information about the companies in which I invest. I do not have access to private analysts, institutional research, or direct communication with company executives. Public disclosures are how investors like me stay informed and make responsible decisions.

Reducing reporting frequency would increase the information gap between ordinary investors and those with greater resources. Six months is a long time in today's economy. A company can experience major financial changes, lose customers, take on significant debt, face litigation, or undergo leadership changes during that period. If you are unsure about that statement see Target over the last year. Investors deserve timely information about those developments.

I am particularly concerned about the impact on retirement savings. My retirement account is invested in public companies through mutual funds and index funds. Even investors who are not actively trading depend on transparent and timely reporting so that markets can accurately price investments and retirement assets. Less frequent reporting creates greater uncertainty and increases the risk that ordinary investors will be the last to know when a company is experiencing problems.

I am also not persuaded that any reduction in reporting costs justifies reducing transparency. The primary beneficiaries of less frequent reporting appear to be corporations seeking to disclose less information, while the costs are borne by investors who must make decisions with less data.

Quarterly reporting has been a cornerstone of investor transparency for decades. It helps maintain trust in our markets and supports informed decision-making by the investing public. The SEC's mission includes protecting investors, and I believe reducing disclosure requirements moves in the opposite direction.

For these reasons, I respectfully urge the Commission to reject this proposal and preserve quarterly reporting requirements for public companies.

Thank you for considering my comments.

Sincerely,

Melissa Young
Medford, Massachusetts
Retail Investor and Retirement Account Holder

Melissa Ermine Nelson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Melissa Ermine Nelson Please do not allow this. For small investors quarterly reporting is essential to maintain our portfolios, and make adjustments in a timely manner.

Melissa Huprich — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Melissa Huprich Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep the quarterly signatures. This increases our trust in the financials.

I don’t see any kind of positive results to shareholders and investors and vendors if this is reduced. Officers need to stand behind their reported results.

I will be glad to discuss further.

Thank you
Melissa Huprich, CPA, Atlanta, Ga

Melissa

Melissa Kelley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melissa Kelley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is a really bad idea. Corporations are already screwing the public. Why would you open a massive opportunity for them to do even more shady deals? It's time for the people to matter. The world would crumble without them.

Melissa Nielsen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Melissa Nielsen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm very concerned that I would not be able to see what is happening with my investments. Everything happening today is frightening to so many. The rich keep getting richer while middle class pay the price. Not right.

Sent from my iPhone

Melissa Redmond — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Melissa Redmond Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Investors have the right to transparency via quarterly reporting. Attempting to cut this is shameful.

Melody Akins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melody Akins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Monthly statements are the only way to keep corporations honest Do not change the rules now

I am an American citizen and registered voter

Melody A Nicholson

Sent from my iPhone

Melody Morris — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Melody Morris Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
SEC shouldn't take vital information away from me !

Melvadean Edwards — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Melvadean Edwards Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Melvadean Edwards, retired teacher
Schertz, TX 78154: keep quarterly reports.

Merlyn Latimet — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Merlyn Latimet Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 If it didn't work once for personal portfolios, why would you want to do it again!? It must be Trump and his billionaires who want it since it would be to their advantage rather than the small investors! We need the Stock Market to continue to grow!

Sent from my iPhone

Merna — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Merna Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Greetings,
I work for a large company, they should be open about financials.

Merna Carter
Case manager

Sent from Merna's iPhone

Merry Kellerman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Merry Kellerman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am absolutely for keeping quarterly reporting

Merry

Michael Calabrese — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Michael Calabrese Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is why Trump is in office. He's the Fraud in Chief, freeing these bastards to drain the country. He needs to be in prison or worse.

Michael Coleman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Michael Coleman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting needs to stay. Executive management is aware of most fraud and informs people to keep quiet or they will lose their job. I was involved in SOX compliance in a large US company. It created segregation of duties, additional IT security controls and even more work with less people. All executive management should be signing agreements that will make them pay dearly if they do not report illegal activities they have knowledge of.

Michael Cook — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Cook Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Michael Cook
P &C Licensed Insurance Agent
Semi-annual reporting will cause more cheating.

Michael Fish — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Fish Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Less disclosure is not in the interest of The Ordinary Investor. Consumers need more protection, not less.

Michael Foy SR — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Michael Foy SR Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop the Enron repeal! We have too much corruption as it is!

Michael Foy sr — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Michael Foy sr Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We have too much corruption as it is!

Michael Goldsmith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Michael Goldsmith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

We need maximum transparency firnthe market to work effectively. Eliminating quarterly reports will decrease visibility for investors and de-link the stock market from its most important role, which is demonstrating strong and weak performers. There's already enough speculative forces that play in the stock market even with quarterly reports.

Michael H. — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Michael H. Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My names Michael. I work very hard for my money. Therefore, when I invest into a company I want to know they are secure financially. If they only release their income report every 6 months you don't get a clear picture. If this going to be changes it needs to be released more frequently like monthly but quarterly accessible. If it's changed to longer another failure of wall street is more likely. Nobody wants that.

Thanks

Michael Hammon — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Michael Hammon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The new , reduced requirement is nothing short of an invitation for corruption and unscrupulous business practices. Revoke this bad idea immediately.

Sent from my iPhone

Michael K. Daniels — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael K. Daniels Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly rwporting is essential. We don't have too many checks on corporate malfeasance we have too few! Don't take this one away!

Sent from my Galaxy

Michael Magner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Magner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm tired of being cheated by corporations and billionaires. Quarterly reports are a way to keep them in check. We need them.

Mike @ Money Pit Manor
Killingworth, CT

Sent from my iPhone MDCCCCLVII

Michael McDonald — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael McDonald Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is a really bad idea for investors and companies. Do your job and shut this stupid idea down.

Sent from my iPad

Michael Morrison — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Michael Morrison Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Corporate " GREED" is what is wrong with our country. Greed " kills" in one form or another.

Michael Muirhead — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Michael Muirhead Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Considering the current economic climate, a move like this would only hurt smaller, individual investor's confidence in the market. Do the right thing and keep quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Michael Mulady — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Mulady Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I think your proposal is not a good idea and will harm investors. The quarterly information is needed for investors to make good choices. The lack of quarterly reporting will only benefit insiders. If a company chooses to be a public company, then they should understand there are costs associated with that decision. Please do not punish investors. Don't stop quarterly reporting for public companies.
Michael Mulady
Controller

Michael Murphy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Murphy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I continue to require quarterly reports to make educated, safe, investment decisions. As retired Vice President of Francrete Corp., a trucking, storage, warehousing business and Sole Proprietor of Amasha Oils, a niche aromatherapy business, I understand the need for accurate timely information during decision making. Please continue to require companies to provide quarterly reports for proper investment research. Signed, Michael J. Murphy

---

Michael Nanney — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Michael Nanney Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Michael Nanney Journeyman Electrician 💯 keep it Quarterly!!! Its a better way to keep companies honest. Also a better way for US Citizens to make an informed decision on investing.

MICHAEL NOONAN — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: MICHAEL NOONAN Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reports quarterly, as a senior citizen who is depending on this money as a supplement to social security which is in trouble, quarterly reports give us the opportunity to make changes in a timely manner.
Thank you

Sent from my iPad

Michael Pavonetti — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Pavonetti Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 How am I supposed to make a sound investment decision if I have to wait twice as long for important information. As far as insider trading, Dont we have enough corruption?

Sent from my iPhone

Michael Robbins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Michael Robbins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 So all of the criminals are going to just get a wrist slap and not jail.now to reduce the check up time to half,oh that sounds so fair to the American people.

Michael Rogers — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michael Rogers Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is better for the investors by maintaining greater transparency. Keep the requirement for quarterly reporting.

Michael Schoor — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Michael Schoor Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please don't do this, the more information presented and validated the more protected we are as investors from fraud and volatility.

keep the accountability please

Michael Shomsky — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michael Shomsky Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop this attack now.

Regards,
~m

Michael Smith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michael Smith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 In a time when Social Security cuts could be on the table and we would need to make up the difference from our retirement savings I find this idea deplorable. Keep the quarterly reporting. We cannot afford to take losses when everything costs so much. Enough is ENOUGH!!

Sent from my iPhone

Michael Stanco — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Michael Stanco Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It should be monthly, but just like our congress and Senate, it seems the SEC is influenced by big money. All of you need to read Dante’s Inferno. “ there is a special place in hell reserved for those who can stop injustice but choose not to.. “ this is crazy what you are proposing. I think the Chairman is grossly wrong in thinking this even remotely helps investors.

Michael Thompson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Thompson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is unacceptable, as a small business owner we forecast quarterly based on seasonality as well as annually. You can not effectively manage your business with less than quarterly information. The same goes for investors, we rely on quarterly reports to understand business stability so we can continue to invest in good companies like Warren Buffet has advised us. If we see the business is trending the wrong way its time to move our dollars to a different good business. Preventing us from this knowledge only further hurts the average American. Please stop trying to kill the middle class's retirement.

Michael Whorton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Michael Whorton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 SEC needs to stop this B.S. now! This insider trading crap is what's got us in the shape we're in first place!

Michael Yamasaki — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Yamasaki Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is a great idea to steal from the middle class trying to build wealth and plan for the future. You actually believe that the people who cause things to go wrong by ideas like woke products and advertising ie “Budweiser” and when horrible ideas are put up that the people inside who implemented these ideas has the ability to recoup their personal losses by selling to the uninformed masses. Sounds like you’re setting up the next great depression to me.

Sent from my iPhone

Michele — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michele Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly earning reports. History does not support twice yearly reports .

Michele — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michele Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is crucial to my personal investing. We need more transparency not less.

Please let your friends know about this important postcarding campaign. We need a lot more writers to engage with us in order to write a statistically-significant number of postcards to influence the outcome of a statewide election. Ask them to email us at: Join@TonyTheDemocrat.org

---

michele Daly — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: michele Daly Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I'm very concerned about quarterly reports being reduced to twice a year. Six months is a lot of time for disaster to occur without the public knowledge. Also, more time for fraudulent actions to take place. As a retired teacher , I rely on heavily on my savings to live. Transparency matters , Do Not allow this change!
Michele Daly

Michele Halsell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Michele Halsell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
The SEC exists to monitor market activity to protect individual investors. We need quarterly reporting at a minimum. Do NOT let companies report their financials semi-annually. They will game the system to the detriment of retail investors.
Dr. Michele Halsell
72701

Michele Mapes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Michele Mapes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not change anything! Keep everything standing as it has been!

Sent from my iPhone

Michele Riley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Michele Riley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There is too much opportunity for fraud and the consumer will always be left “holding the bag”. With so much fraud being caught everywhere now it would be ridiculous to loosen the reins on companies. NO ChANGE !

Sent from my iPhone

Michele You g — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Michele You g Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
With such volatility in the world right now emotionally and economically, the US does not need anything else to add concern and instability in everyday life!!! Please do not stop giving quarterly reports to us all!! We need nothing else to worry about let alone see accounts lose more money because of the volitiliry this would cause.

---

michelekeck — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: michelekeck Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is the correct way to inform the public.
Signed,
Michele K.

Sent from my Galaxy

Michelle — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michelle Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting. How much is trump paying you to change it? YOU will be held responsible when he's finally gone, so keep that in mind as you are deciding whether or not to rip-off 98% of the American people. We are watching.

Michelle Altemose — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Michelle Altemose Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please dear God don't go back to semi annual reporting! It was a disaster then and it will be if they go back! No! No!No! The economy is not doing well everyone is paying a lot more than before, it will only get worse! Families are hurting now!

Michelle Clark — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Michelle Clark Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Its important to keep accurate records and keep things in check. That's hard enough every 3 months, let alone 6.

Michelle Davis — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Michelle Davis Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Corporate malfeasance already created a depression that many were never able to recover from. I worked in Chapter 13 bankruptcy so I saw it first hand. DON’T let it happen again!!

Do not loosen reporting requirements!

Michelle Davis
Kansas City, MO

Sent from my iPhone

Michelle Denton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michelle Denton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is essential to keep small investors from being the last to know that company is being mismanaged. There is a fiduciary responsibility required in exchange for taking money from others.

Michelle Denton
~~_/)~~

Michelle Gullikson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Michelle Gullikson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
WE WANT QUARTERLY REPORTS!!!!
Knowledge it part of our constitutional rights!

Michelle Harstad — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Michelle Harstad Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Now more than ever before the American People need and demand more transparency in the markets. This SEC proposal is not sound, in fact it is an outrageous opportunity for further manipulation of investor markets at the expense of small investors in particular. Stop this proposal now!

---

michelle horner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: michelle horner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 People are getting pretty tired of rich people getting away with everything. They need to follow the laws and be held accountable. WE DONT MAKE LAWS TO MAKE IT EASIER TO CHEAT. Keep it up, I see a French revolution coming in the future. Let them eat cake, and off with their heads!!!!

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Michelle Johnson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michelle Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Corporation of America ~ My fraud, is your fault!

Do you want to go 6 months, so don't have to pay as many employees? Or to help the current regime do the insider trading they want? Or when you dump a mess on a lower-level accountant to having made the mistakes. Or to hide that CEO gap is over 500% now? Or when you need bailouts in August, and your CEOs still get their huge end of year bonuses that they really deserve for their hard work on fraud? Or your company can keep shifting the goal post on what is happening?

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

MICHELLE Kaptur — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: MICHELLE Kaptur Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 SEC,
Please maintain the current quarterly CEO signed reporting. It keeps investors safe and companies accountable. Changing to a twice a year reporting is not in the public's best interest. It will increase the risks to the public investing. Please do not send us back in time.
Thank you for your time.
Michelle Kaptur

Michelle Mountain — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Michelle Mountain Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it like it is or make reporting even more often

Michelle Mountain, actress…and it's important for everyone who isn't trying to profit off of others

Sent from my iPhone

Michelle Mullett — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michelle Mullett Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it the way it is

Sent from my iPhone

Michelle Taylor — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Michelle Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Haven't y'all stolen enough 🙂 🙄 😪 money by letting the president manipulate the stock market 😏 🙄 🙂

Michelle Tempkin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Michelle Tempkin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting must be maintained to maintain transparency and reduce fraud.

MICHELLE TEMPKIN
Education Administrative Manager

PaperMill.org
973-315-1666

Michelle Wald — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Michelle Wald Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is important in so many ways to keep the valuation of companies honest. There is so much grifting going on in this administration.
Michelle Wald PT, LMT business owner

Sent from Gmail Mobile

---

micky blou — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: micky blou Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quaretly. We need transparency

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Middlecorp Investments — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Middlecorp Investments Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly reports(Transparency is trust)

Midway Capital Research & Management Investment Advisor — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Midway Capital Research & Management I represent an investment advisor which primarily serves individual investors. We invest primarily in common equities. We do extensive analysis of these stocks and quarterly reporting is vitally important to us. We believe it is our duty as fiduciaries to follow each of our investments closely and give our clients the best, most timely advice possible. Switching to semi-annual reporting would not be in the interest of our clients as we would lack timely updates, which are particularly important in volatile markets. If we learned one lesson in the financial crisis, it was that information and disclosure are the life blood of our profession.

Mike Bell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mike Bell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why would a change to the rules be made that keeps hidden the data that should be shared even more often? I am totally against any rule change that keep our financial information from us.

Mike Braswell — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mike Braswell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it Quarterly! It’s my Investment and I want Quarterly Reports versus Bi-annual.

Sent from my iPhone

Mike Dexter — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mike Dexter Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Mike Dexter retired Automation Engineer: Who’s pushing this ridiculous agenda. As far as I'm concerned it should be monthly. You're headed in the wrong direction...

Mike Grills — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Grills Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Strongly disagree with eliminating quarterly reporting. If you want to go to 4 months, it is bearable. 1/2 year is Unacceptable.

Sent from my iPad

Mike Harrison — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mike Harrison Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Leave it alone it's our money we need to know quarterly is fine

---

Mike Hoey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Hoey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need to continue on a quarterly basis.

Sent from my iPad

Mike Masek — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mike Masek Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This rule is disgusting! I’m tired of insider trading. I’m a retired Air Force veteran, and we can’t allow this to become the way.
Mike Masek

Mike

---

mike moore — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: mike moore Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The AI revolution is happening so fast. I need to be able to track company valuations each quarter to make investments.

_____

Mike Nelson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mike Nelson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is only good for businesses that want to hide. This is not good for the consumer and /or investor, and I very much against it.

Keep it Quarterly!!!!

Mike Nelson Sent from my iPhone

Mike Ragan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mike Ragan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want timely feedback on my investments & would lose a lot of that if the quarterly reporting is eliminated. I need to know whether to sell or buy more stock based on the reporting.
Mike Ragan

---

mike smith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: mike smith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Public corporation filings must be quarterly. As an investor it must be quarterly that's how every company works and we should be able to have transparency.

---

mike smith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: mike smith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As an investor it must be quarterly that's how every company work. As an investor it must be quarterly that's how every company works and we should be able to have transparency.

Mike T — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mike T Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I’m retired and our lifetime savings are managed by a professional financial advisor. He relies on timely reporting to advise us on investments. Please do not deprive him and us of half the information we are getting now. It will probably hurt us and it certainly won’t help us.
Michael Tranchemontagne
Nashua, NH

Mike Tranchemontagne

MikeTranch@comcast.net
603-305-8386

MIKE UIVARY — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: MIKE UIVARY Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reports as a required piece of corporate information sharing. If this reporting is not required only the rich and hedge funds will have access to timely and useful knowledge to guide them. It will become another pay to play and will further widen the gap in our society.
Michael J Uivary

Mildred Lewellen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mildred Lewellen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please reach out to me

im so confused

Millie — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Millie Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Millie Foster,retired school counsellor
I am advocating for the continuation of quarterly reporting to protect the funds we have invested as much as possible. Please do not discontinue quarterly reports!

Sent from my iPhone

Mindy Dowling — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Mindy Dowling Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Melinda Zody Dowling, Training Coordinator
Please keep quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPad

Miriam B. Scott — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Miriam B. Scott Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is essential for informed investment decisions. Keep it that way.

Sent from my iPhone

Miriam Harris-Botzum — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Miriam Harris-Botzum Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This proposal is awful! Investors or prospective investors should have access to regular, quarterly reports.

Miriam Harris-Botzum
"Insanity is doing the same thing over and over, and expecting different results", Albert Einstein

---

Mishelle Kochel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mishelle Kochel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My husband and I both just retired, we don't have much, but what we do have is in the market because that is what you have to do to have any kind of chance in retirement. There aren't retirement packages and benefits like there used to be and the economy is not affordable. You can not live on social security and our generation is being told it isn't going to last any way. We the People have VERY LITTLE CONTROL over our finances and retirement. Knowing the timely status of the companies we are investing in is the ONLY advantage we have to make life changing adjustments that could make or break us. If you allow BIG CORP to tie our hands further, you could literally bankrupt enough of us, there will be no option other than socialist living off of the government. Is that your goal? Are you in on the democratic plot to control who you deem as the littles. The ones who have busted their backs and built this nation? You now wish to break us??!! What is wrong with you????? Our government was built on truth, patriotism, good Christian values, and a HOPE for the people to live the American dream. For us to do more than just survive but to prosper. We the People DEMAND integrity, transparency, and trust in our leaders. We demand that you fulfill that promise to the people!! The corporations need to get with the times, as automation could truly report their losses and gains BY THE HOUR!!! Do the right thing and RIGHTFULLY keep investors notified on a more frequent basis! Stop this madness and support the people!!! If you do not, there will surely be more fraud and insider trading by the powerful, and we the People will AGAIN, be left suffering and taking the hits. Do NOT be a part of the problem but someone who truly fulfills transparency and loyalty to what is right!!! Please feel free to get my message directly from me, face to face. If you won't represent the people, I will.
MISHELLE.KOCHEL@GMAIL.COM Humbly, Retired.

Mishelle Kochel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mishelle Kochel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
You have lost your mind and right to hold your position if you think this is transparency and representing WE THE PEOPLE, in good faith! This is going backward and not at all a good business model for investors. As a matter of fact, things are so automated, why aren't they reporting WEEKLY??!! Stop trying to coddle big business and take care of those trying to be good stewards of their investments and just teying to survive. If we have to take a HIT because a company is hiding their losses to investors and they can not sell or get out it time and it bankrupt them, you may find that YOU personally are the cause. You won't survive the wrath feom those who are now broke. It will harm this nation, making us more 3rd world than we are already heading. If a company wants to have a ticker in the market, THEY MUST REVEAL THEIR PROFITS AND LOSSES WITH 100% TRANSPARENCY well in advance so that the people can save what they have!!! You are treading on being a traitor to the people and helping to cloak nefarious corporate behavior. We should consider that fraud and charge those that consider such unethical action.

Mitch Hirschi — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mitch Hirschi Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep Quarter reports

---

Mitchell Askew — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Mitchell Askew Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why change laws that work to keep corporation in check

Sent from my iPhone

Mitzi Horowitz — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mitzi Horowitz Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 SEC
We are retired and depend on our investments. There is no reason to hide how a company is doing unless it is doing poorly and we have a right to know. It is not your job to protect companies against citizens.
Sincerely,
Mitzi Horowitz

Mkey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Mkey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Madonna Key, retired from Chase Bank. 46221. Keep companies honest and protect our investments from dishonest CEOs. There is enough dishonest things going on in our country eating up our taxes, we don't deserve the government making it possible for big companies to cheat us from earning the small interest/dividends we might make in stock market.

---

mlpoll1 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: mlpoll1 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a senior citizen, I depend largely on my 403B's, which would decrease if this proposal was inacted. Mary Pollack, retired RN.

Sent from my Galaxy

---

mmm ccc — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: mmm ccc Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reports need to stay for the benefit of the public! Giving entities a6 month time assists in not catching Fraud?

Sent from my iPhone

Modeen Parrish — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Modeen Parrish Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We need more disclosures, not less disclosures!

---

mollie cusick private investor — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: mollie cusick I believe it is necessary to keep the investing public informed on a regular basis. Twice a year is not enough information to make an informed decision.

Molly Huddleston — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Molly Huddleston Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please continue quarterly reporting help keep Enron and others honest. It is the least you can do and is important for our environment and country. I am just a human services worker, but I care about the environment and climate. Please help keep the quarterly reports alive and active!
Thank you,
Molly Huddleston

---

mollypeds1 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: mollypeds1 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Mary McCoy. I am a retired Pediatric Respiratory Therapist. I live in Baldwinsville NY. I strongly oppose going to semi-annual reporting. As you KNOW, this could very well jeopardize my life's savings and cause me undue hardship. I implore you to keep quarterly reporting the rule. PLEASE!!
Thank you for your attention to this matter. Sincerely Mary McCoy

Sent from my Galaxy

MoMa Cat — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: MoMa Cat Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly Reporting is a necessity to keep transparency & people informed. But also, sad to say, keep scandalous business practices in check. Automated reporting is made simple with today's technology, so I must ask why would there be a need to reduce quarterly Reporting... there's no reason other to "hide the books" .

Mona Rupert — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mona Rupert Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Once again you are harming the poor and protecting the rich.

Monica Baso — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Monica Baso Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want government oversight to protect all who make investments. Reduced reporting will create less safety for us.
Monica Baso

Monica Clark — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Monica Clark Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Monica Clark, retired. Companies need to be accountable. Stockholders need to be informed!

Sent from my iPhone

Monica E Taylor — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Semiannual Reporting From: Monica E Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Not having quarterly reporting is like saying we the investors don't matter. My money, time and my trust in the SEC understanding the need for transparency is of the utmost importance. Markets outside of the USA have proven that companies reporting only twice a year is not working and is very dangerous to the global markets. This would leave the door open for risky behavior, criminal activity, loss of confidence, market volitility, market manipulation, and then some. Why would you want people to invest blindly and without security. We are investing our money for our future endeavors with the faith and trust that we have access to true and timely reporting of companies. So now are we lead to believe that we are to feel comfortable investing blindly? What about the new investors that have been taught to read and pay attention to quarterly filings? How do you believe this will help future investors? The SEC must set the tone and hold a standard that all investors around the world know that they can have confidence in knowing that there is transparency, accountability, consequences, stability, and safety,

Sincerely,

Monica E Taylor, Nurse

Monica Kennedy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Monica Kennedy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We demand high transparency simply to protect the public. That's what democratic systems must do. Take a stand against corruption here. Corruption costs us our futures. Keep the quarterly standard. There's a reason for it.

Most Rev Monica Kennedy
Catholic Apostolic Church in North America

---

monica MELTON — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: monica MELTON Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I truly believe that companies need to be transparent. 6 months is just to long for a company not to be held accountable.Makes you winder why they want this change.

Sent from my iPad

Monro — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Monro Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a small investor, these quarterly reports are of immense value to know who to trust and where to invest. Please keep quarterly reports part of doing business in America,
Thank you.
- Monroe Sheppard

Monty J Heying — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Monty J Heying Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am not staying up nights weeping for the cost to the companies. They make enormous amounts and should account for all of the $$$$$ that flow through their books or into their pockets. Accounting should remain quarterly.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Morgan Fulton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Morgan Fulton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely not! Regulations are in place for a reason! So money just doesn't disappear

---

Morris and Brenda Brown — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Morris and Brenda Brown Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I ask that you seriously reconsider your proposal to reduce the reporting time for public companies to every 6 months vs the current 3 months time period. Although large investors likely have the resources to research such information without the more frequent reports, smaller investors may not have the expertise. So much can happen during 6 months that could cause great financial harm to those investors and greatly alter their future security. Please reevaluate and take the general populace into consideration.

Brenda Brown
Retired Comptroller for the City of Midland Texas

Moscow — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Moscow Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need the company to report quarterly. We should not allow it to stop or change to any other method other than maybe monthly.

Sent from my iPhone

---

mpmanson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: mpmanson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly reports. It is bad enough when the taxpayers have to bail out Wallstreet after they make bad choices in their investments.

Sent from my Galaxy

Mr Max Van Orden — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mr Max Van Orden Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stocks are traded daily and there is already too little specific information about a company's operations. Semi-annual reporting will make investing mere speculation. Max Van Orden, retail investor.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Mrbob4u — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Mrbob4u Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Accountability is key to maintaing the trust of the people. Signed quarterly reports should be the norm, not the exception.

MrFixitCT — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: MrFixitCT Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There is more than enough “creative accounting” going on already. This proposed change is yet another example of our government working for the corporations and epstein class and certainly NOT in the best interests of the American people.

Y’all need to do better, be better and remember accountability will come.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

M.J.Lynn

Mrs D — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mrs D Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission,

I am writing to strongly urge the SEC to continue requiring publicly traded companies to report their financial results every three months, just as they have for more than fifty years.

Quarterly reporting is essential for maintaining transparency, accountability, and trust in U.S. financial markets. Investors, employees, retirees, and everyday citizens rely on timely and consistent financial information to make informed decisions. Reducing reporting to a six-month cycle would create long periods of uncertainty, limit visibility into company performance, and increase the risk of misinformation or market instability.

Quarterly disclosures help ensure:

Regular insight into a company's financial health

Early detection of risks or misconduct

Fair access to information for all investors

A stable and transparent marketplace

For decades, this system has supported the strength and credibility of U.S. markets. Changing it now would reduce the flow of critical information that millions of people depend on.

I respectfully ask the SEC to preserve quarterly reporting requirements and continue prioritizing transparency and investor protection.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Mrs Dawson

Mrs Sonya Garbutt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mrs Sonya Garbutt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am Not a millionaire just to plain investor and I don't like this change. Please don't do it.

Mrs. Rod. (Wendy) Bennett — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mrs. Rod. (Wendy) Bennett Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am heavily invested in stock based mutual funds as are most middle class retirees. It is my source of retirement income. I have an absolute right to know how my money is being managed. Without quarterly reports criminal behavior will be much easier. I recall Enron. I recall Bernie Maidoff. If I can no longer trust American companies I will be forced to have my financial advisor invest my remaining resources elsewhere in the World focusing on companies where responsibility to investors is of primary importance. As a government entity I would hope your main interest would lie with ordinary citizens like me. We make the US the safest place to invest. Do not forget and indue the guardrails. They help keep America financially stable and strong.
Wendy Bennett, retired criminal prosecutor and stock market investor.

---

ms nana — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ms nana Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We deserve to know

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

MSmutny — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: MSmutny Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting matters!! CEOs must be held accountable and responsible and be forced to sign four times a year or face jail time if they lie!

Sent from my iPhone

---

msshack1952 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: msshack1952 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 With interest rates the way they are, the markets are the only choice common men have to increase wealth or save for retirement. This will only give the big money more ability to screw the common man. Stop this now. Accountability to the stock holders not hiding accountability so we can screw you.

.

Sent from my Galaxy

MSST8DOG — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: MSST8DOG Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 If you change the rule, make it a monthly, or bi-monthly, requirement. DO NOT GO BACKWARDS.

Mukund Row — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mukund Row Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Need to keep it to quarterly reporting

Regards

Mukund

N. Bruce Nelson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: N. Bruce Nelson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep fully reporting!

N. Bruce Nelson
510 734 0708
Lamoni, Iowa
Aptera Ambassador
https://www.aptera.us/

Nadine Lada — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Nadine Lada Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Having information makes for better investments.
More information makes for better investments.
Better information makes for mor successful investmets.
Stop trying to gatekeep information that that only serves the gatekeepers.

Nadja Gutowski — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nadja Gutowski Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep reports quarterly.

Najera Joan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Najera Joan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need it.

Nanci Conway — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Nanci Conway Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep companies honest by keeping quarterly reporting.

Nancy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Nancy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Nancy Robinson, COO

Quarterly reporting is a critical part of managing any business and must be maintained in order to ensure timely management of the financial direction. Anything less than quarterly is a dereliction of fiscal responsibility. I cannot fathom the SEC even considering this change. It allows no information by which to make small adjustments in order to respond to market conditions and maintain stability. Quarterly reporting is the only responsible and intelligent decision.

As a recent widow who will be retiring within the next one to two years, with a mortgage and virtually no life insurance from my deceased husband, I am doing my best to secure my financial stability prior to retirement. History tells us that changing to bi-annual reporting will severely and negatively impact those invested in the market For those of us (and there are many) who do not have millions in investments and cannot weather a big downturn, this change in reporting could be devastating. On top of all the economic issues facing us today, are you willing to exponentially increase those burdens?

I implore you, please vote to maintain quarterly reporting, as any dutifully run business would.

Nancy Adamo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Nancy Adamo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Dear Sir/Madame,

I am writing to express my concern regarding the rising levels of fraud occurring at the federal, state, and local government levels. This issue is placing an undue burden on taxpayers and legitimate businesses alike.

We must take proactive measures to prevent these occurrences and protect our resources. I believe it is essential that we address this matter to mitigate the significant costs associated with these fraudulent activities.

Best regards,

Nancy Adamo

Manager

Nancy Atkinson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Atkinson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We. Need Quarterly Reporting! It provides current documented investment information for many groups, but especially personal investors and advisors. Also, makes CEOs and CFOs accountable.

Nancy Atkinson, Accountant/ Auditor

Nancy Besenfelder — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Nancy Besenfelder Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reports required to give us poor folks a little break. Six months allows lots of opportunities to finagle with numbers. Please help us. Thanks- Nancy Besenfelder

---

Nancy Cunningham — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Nancy Cunningham Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why would you allow an industry that has proven it will cheat the public given any chance a new way to cheat? They have proven they will. It just does not make sense … unless you are receiving monetary or insider information in exchange. I certainly hope not but what are you doing? “If it ain’t broke don’t fix it”. Please protect the citizens of the USA. Do not allow another Enron to ruin the future of so many Americans.

Sent from my iPhone

Nancy Ditmars — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Nancy Ditmars Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly reports mandatory!

Sent from my iPhone

Nancy Evanoff — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Nancy Evanoff Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Keep it the way it is with QUARTERLY disclosures. Transparency is vital!! SEC needs to protect, not blindside people!
Rule S7-2026-15 is a big NO NO!!
THANK YOU!

Nancy Ferkingstad — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Nancy Ferkingstad Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reports are essential to maintain trust in the stock market and our financial institutions. Corporations have demonstrated over and over that they will take advantage of loopholes in regulations. The security of too many Americans relies on the banks and stock market to loosen regulations.

Sent from my iPhone

Nancy Garris — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Nancy Garris Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need quarterly reports for the integrity of the company worth. Stop trying to steal from the little investors! Nancy Garris

Sent from my iPhone

Nancy Heiser — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Heiser Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Any new policy that opens the door for fraud, cannot be good for anyone but those who will use it to defraud investors. In the end, the increase in fraud will burden taxpayers as more investigators will be needed to find and prosecute those involved in such fraud.

Nancy Higgins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Higgins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a retired person I like to stay on top of my finances. I depend on knowing what is happening with my investments. IT IS IMPORTANT TO KEEP IT QUARTERLY. Twice a year is absurd. What are they hiding? is my question.
Nancy Higgins

NANCY HIGHLANDER — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: NANCY HIGHLANDER Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Nancy I am a semi retired healthcare professional.
I think that companies need to be accountable to those that are investing in their stocks. Hiding financial information for 6 months puts the average investor at risk for loosing significant retirement earnings should companies hide losses in earnings or other financial issues. Retirees are already struggling in this current economy. This could potentially wipe out much of their earnings due to the inability to make timely financial decisions.

Sent from my iPhone

Nancy HK — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Nancy HK Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 SEC … Stop catering to the corruption that is rampant! Keep this quarterly!

Nancy Hover — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Nancy Hover Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is unacceptable. Please do not allow this, it’s only giving Wall St a free pass for more corruption

Sent from my iPhone

Nancy Kennedy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Kennedy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting for all companies. Allowing the change to 6 months is dangerous for investors. There's more opportunity for fraud and for the small investor to be screwed. That's me, a small investor for my retirement. Which is only 3 years away and I won't have time to recoup any potential lossses. There are millions of average Americans like me.

Sincerely,
Nancy M Kennedy
public school teacher
Rhode Island

Nancy Lawrence — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Nancy Lawrence Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I disagree with the proposal to change the requirement on reporting from quarterly to semi annual. A reputable company is preparing financial statements quarterly, actually monthly. In this fast paced world we should not relax the reporting requirements as it is taking investors knowledge away of the company and invalidates the investor right of knowledge to make informed decisions if they should stay invested or Change their investment strategy. The world is moving faster more frequent should be considered, not less. If you allow the change to be made that companies are reporting less frequently, then there should be a different class of stock and should be down graded.

6 months is way to long in this fast paced world where there are so many things that can change. The investors and world needs the quarterly reporting. Again change it to monthly would make more sense.

Nancy McBride — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy McBride Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting. Nancy McBride. I need to be kept aware and current for decision making .

Nancy McInerney — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Nancy McInerney Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There is no good reason to make this change other than trying to screw people. I will vote my conscience. Take note.

Sent from my iPhone

Nancy Neil — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Nancy Neil Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Report quarterly. It is imperative to report quarterly.

Nancy Nix — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Nix Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Gov needs watching and needs it often.

Nancy Paquette Lussier — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Paquette Lussier Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Nancy J. Paquette Lussier Former Restaurant owner. That is way to much time between filings. Businesses should be upfront on a timely basis... not once, every six months.... KEEP IT QUARTERLY....

Nancy Reinhardt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Nancy Reinhardt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is the way it should stay
Nancy Reinhardt retired

Sent from my iPhone

Nancy Rogers — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Rogers Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am a retiree who wants to live out her days in security with the nest egg we have between us. I would like to be able to leave something for my daughter and grandsons.
Please do not set up a poorly supervised system that will certainly lead to loss of value for investors. We work hard. follow the rules and pay taxes. Please protect that scenario!

Nancy Rogers
NancyRogers706@Gmail.com
630-202-9696 mobile

Nancy Sajeski — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Nancy Sajeski Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Our investments insure the future for our disabled daughter. Quarterly reporting inable us to adequately monitor those investments. There is no good reason to change.

Nancy Valdez — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Nancy Valdez Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not allow public or private companies to hide vital information from the public or their investors. This money is not their own. Transparency and honesty is always best policy...unless you're a crook and don't want any accountability or consequences for your dishonest conduct.
We need to take back the rights of ordinary citizens and societal watchdogs to keep business activities on all levels in accordance with the law. We hope for greater ethical conduct, but obedience to the law is expected.
Sincerely,
Nancy Valdez

Nancy Venegas — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Nancy Venegas Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We need more all vital information when it comes to private companies! Do not blindfold retail investors. We need to be able to make informed decisions.

Nancy Whitlock — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Nancy Whitlock Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not withhold information from the public. This could be harmful for both you and the potential buyer, not to mention the unfairness involved.
Thank you.
Nancy Whitlock

Nancy Williams — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Nancy Williams Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please keep trading fair for everyone. The current trend toward giving more and more benefits to wealthy investors has gone too far.
An unfair playing field that benefits insiders would be created if the frequency of required reporting were lowered, and would put everyday citizens at an even greater financial disadvantage than where they are already.
Insider trading should never happen but already does because there are, unfortunately, many unscrupulous people taking advantage of opportunities to do so. This would give those people even more opportunity. Why would you want to do that?!
Wealthy investors already have many advantages over average citizens. Please don't give them yet one more.
Thank you.

Nancy Yeager — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Yeager Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Nancy Yeager, financial secy, soon to be relying on investments for retirement. Keep the reporting quarterly!

Nancy Yuen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Nancy Yuen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
The rules created by any government entity are created in the service of the American people. That service includes providing vital information for Americans to utilize those and all government entities. To deny the public of vital information is to put in place a means for government opacity that has no place in a democracy. And, the last time I checked, thia country is STILL A DEMOCRACY.
DO YOUR JOB, NOT THE BIDDING OF A SINGLE PERSON, REGARDLESS OF WHO THAT PERSON IS OR WHAT THEY PROMISE YOU, PERSONALLY, IN RETURN FOR YOUR LOYALTY, BECAUSE THAT PERSON WILL NOT GIVE YOU RECIPROCAL LOYALTY.

---

nancyr — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: nancyr Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reported as currently required by law. I remember the Enron fallout and the hundreds of hard working people that lost their retirements due to fraud. I am also a investor who looks forward to and reads my quarterly investment reports. There is no reason to change the current system except to allow less accountability and oversite, which seems to the goal here. Not acceptable. Thank you, Nancy

Sent from my Galaxy

Nanette Clements — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nanette Clements Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I deserve to see what is happening with my investments 4 times a year in order to make the decisions I need to make

Sent from iPhone

Nanette Sigel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nanette Sigel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly! Stop the corruption!

Nanette Sigel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Nanette Sigel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it Quarterly 💯 This corruption has to stop!!! Don't lower yourselves to the likes of Delusional Dementia Donny and his Administration! Think about the American people for God's sake!!

Nanette Sigel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Nanette Sigel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I rely on these quarterly statements. Please do not quit providing these to individuals. We need to be able to make/take appropriate action for our future!!

Naomi Roberts — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Naomi Roberts Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Naomi Roberts, and I am a widow living on a fixed income Social Security and what little I do draw from my retirement account that I depend on. Please don't do this to us that are barely scraping by as it is. We have a right to know when the market is going up or down in a timely manner so that we can take measures when necessary to protect ourselves.

Naresh Vittal — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Naresh Vittal Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
To avoid being forced into funds and giving large companies a fee with no risk, we must have transparency for retail investors to be able make up their own decisions (whenever they wish to do so).
Corporate governence and ethics are at a low and cannot be made more opaque - under the assumption that. 'market' will punish had actors.

Natalie Luntz-Martin Retired Elementary Teacher — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Natalie Luntz-Martin As a newly retired teacher, what happens in the stock market with my retirement account and my pension makes a huge difference in my life. Huge. It could mean the difference between staying in my home and... not. I urge you to continue the requirement of quarterly reporting, as cutting to semi-annual would effectively render us flying blind into retirement. Not what I intended with those decades of careful planning. Please keep quartlerly reporting. Thank you.

Nate Mosley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Nate Mosley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not change any rules that limits transparency of company for investors

---

Nathan Anderson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nathan Anderson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly nathan anderson | conceptual carpentry | the constructive one

612.386.8355 | 3565 Rustic Place | Shoreview, MN 55126 ... squaring things

---

Nathan Ditzler — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Nathan Ditzler Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quit trying to make it easier for big corps to get out of paying taxes and screwing the lower ranked people.
I did not devote 8 years of my life to serving my Nation to see you letting Corporations screw us over constantly.

Maintenance Supervisor

Thank you.

Best and warmest regards,

ND

Nathan "Dizzy" Ditzler
S/Fi

Nathan Ngo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Nathan Ngo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

i am a individual investor. I need as much information as possible for my investment. This proposal is reducing my visibility into the companies i invested. This change favors institutions who already have more ways to gain information, putting me at a further disadvantage. Please do the right thing for the individual investors out there! Thank you

---

Nathaniel Brazill — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Nathaniel Brazill Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I would appreciate it if you as a board would stop the action to eliminate the CEO Reporting. I would like total transparency in Quarterly reporting to continue; there is enough Fraud, thievery, and illegal activities currently in the Government. I stand for integrity and legal reporting!

Naveed Ahmad — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Naveed Ahmad Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Infrequent reporting will lead to less transparency and more corruption to the determent of investors and stock holders.

Nazario Baez — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Nazario Baez Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Hello,

Keep the quarterly reporting as is. Changing it will affect my retirement and the future wellbeing of my family who depends on me.

Thank you,

Nazario Baez
832-668-4124

NCFM80 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: NCFM80 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly disclosures, NOT semi annually.

Maybe, monthly would be better?

D.D.

“And, in the end
The love you take is equal to the love you make.”
– Paul McCartney

"Everything government touches turns to crap."
– Ringo Starr

"Time you enjoy wasting, was not wasted."
– John Lennon

“Try to realize it’s all within yourself no one else can make you change, and to see you’re only very small and life flows on within you and without you.”
– George Harrison

Neal Jones — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Neal Jones Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I urge you to keep quarterly reporting!
Neal Jones
Retired from corporate job.
Currently farming

Sent from my iPhone

Ned Ely — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Ned Ely Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reporting requirement.

Ned Miller — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ned Miller Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep Quarterly Reporting.

Nell Locke-Jacobie — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Nell Locke-Jacobie Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep this reporting quarterly. It’s nice to know what’s happening.

Sent from my iPhone

Nelson Collier — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nelson Collier Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Nelson Collier, and I am a full-time ministerial student and pastoral intern. I used to be a landscape construction worker, I have graduated from community college, and for a time, I worked for the government on a military base as a citizen.

The SEC needs to mandate quarterly reporting because, as a young man trying to invest for my future and build a retirement, it is both unfair and challenging that massive corporations can hide their finances, which in turn effect my own personal investments. It means they are able to better manipulate price reflection on the stock market and influence numbers that will have a negative impact on tickers. There is no business a company's finances should not be reported regularly, unless they have something to hide.

Nicholas — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nicholas Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There are far too many loopholes open already for corporations to dodge public responsibility. Do not add any more please!

Sent from my iPhone

Nick B — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Nick B Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Looks like we're doing fine reporting quarterly, why would we change it? If it's not broke, don't fix it.

Nick Brinson

Nick Chambers — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Nick Chambers Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Nicholas Chambers I'm an asst manager with a diversified investment portfolio. This is ridiculous unless less transparency is the goal. Unless hiding things from investors like this administration hides facts from its citizens is the goal. I mean it doesn't seem to be working out for them that well. Im sure those that make these decisions do have private secondary homes to go hide in like Trump had to this week at Camp David but do you really want to stay living in hiding do your families think this would be fun? I don't even understand how this is an option, do your jobs!

Nick Rugen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Nick Rugen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Riling back reporting only makes the country weaker and I strongly oppose this weakening.

Nick Rugen
Saint Louis, MO
Sent from my iPhone

Nicola Coddington — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nicola Coddington Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a private investor, I believe transparency is critical to informed investing, and nothing is to be gained and everything to be lost by shifting to less frequent reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Nicole B R — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Nicole B R Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Having worked in finance for both for profit and non-profit companies, quarterly reports are essential for proper planning and decision making. Longer gaps in reporting disadvantage smaller organizations and provide unfair benefits to corporate insiders. The proposed savings are insignificant to the potential losses should these changes occur.
Have a nice day,
Nicole Breimaier Rozsa

Nicole Girau — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Nicole Girau Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Stop trying to hide what is happening in people's lives to their money to save a buck for SEC

Nicole Walker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nicole Walker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Shareholders deserve as much information as they can have, as often as they can get it. Please keep quarterly reporting the requirement.

Nidhi Joshi — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Nidhi Joshi Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Hello sec,
In a world where hourly news soaks public all day creating distractions, a quarterly update is much preferred and a perfect balance of just enough information to keep people in the know. It's fair to share holders, who are ordinary people with some savings, unlike the rich we can't pivot investing strategies without transparency. Please leave the quarter updates as it is. Your responsibility is foremost to the people before corporations. Trust you will use the power well and to people's benefit not corporate execs. Thanks,
Nidhi

---

nimalan kanagasabai — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: nimalan kanagasabai Quarterly financial reporting is essential to maintaining full and fair disclosure in the public markets. It provides investors with timely, standardized information and helps limit the informational advantage of insiders over ordinary shareholders. Extending the reporting interval to six months would materially widen that gap, reducing transparency and increasing the risk of uncertainty, mispricing, and diminished investor confidence. The cost of that reduced transparency would fall most heavily on individual investors, who rely on regular periodic reporting to monitor company performance and assess risk. Any asserted benefit from less frequent reporting should therefore be supported by compelling evidence. Absent such evidence, the Commission would be accepting a clear loss in transparency for a speculative benefit that may never be realized. The issuers most likely to opt for less frequent reporting are often those for which robust disclosure is most important. Smaller and less widely followed companies typically receive less analyst coverage, less media attention, and less market scrutiny. Reducing their reporting obligations would not make them easier to evaluate or more attractive to own; it would make them more opaque and more difficult for investors to monitor. This approach would move in the wrong direction. Regulation Fair Disclosure advanced the principle that all investors should have equal access to material information. Weakening quarterly reporting would undermine that principle by increasing the likelihood that meaningful information is delayed, unevenly absorbed, or indirectly conveyed outside the discipline of regular public filings. Quarterly reporting should remain a core requirement of the disclosure system. At the same time, companies retain flexibility in how they engage the market beyond those filings. For example, an issuer may reasonably decide not to hold a quarterly conference call, but it should not be permitted to avoid providing quarterly financial results through formal public reporting.

Nina Macheel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Nina Macheel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This proposal is further erosion of accountability and transparency. A thousand tiny cuts. Drip drip drip. This is how irreversible erosion happens and it is always to the detriment of the 99%, always favoring the corporation. Please keep quarterly reports!!! I pay attention to them and base investment decisions on them. They are a barometer of health or decline. WHY WOULD YOU WANT TO ELIMINATE THAT.?!!! I don’t get your reasoning…

Nisanth Reddy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Nisanth Reddy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Increased disclosure is necessary to maintain the health of our markets. Reduced reporting requirements only serves to magnify the principal-agent problem with management, increasing management's propensity to take risks or disregard their fiduciary duties. As that risk accumulates, it is likely to lead to large scale failures, frauds, or other scandals, threatening the sanctity of the American stock markets.
It seems the only upside of reduced reporting is to reduce the compliance costs for public companies. However, this is utterly irrelevant in an age where companies have access to trillions of private capital, facilitating over 1,000 unicorns (billion dollar valuation private companies). If the compliance costs are too onerous, it is an easy option for healthy companies to seek private capital. This wealth of private capital creates an adverse-selection bias, where low quality companies struggling to secure private capital are more likely to go public, especially if there are low barriers to becoming a public company. With the prevalence of new structures like SPACs or reverse mergers, the initial cost to become publicly traded is shockingly low. The primary barrier that remains is the ongoing compliance costs and increased reporting. This is absolutely necessary to maintain healthy disincentives for bad companies seeking to access cheap capital from the public.

Nita Riggins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nita Riggins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The fact that this is even a thing let's me know that corporate greed, robbery and retail theft all work hand in hand just to have people thrown in jail. But the business owners can rob themselves and blame employees, then fire everyone or just close it's doors and receive some sort of bailout from the government. Shaking my * head! Highway robbery at its finest. I VOTE AGAINST THIS BULL ****!

Nonna McCarty — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Nonna McCarty Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Gives people an opportunity to be transparent naturally in their reporting

---

Nora Hardy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nora Hardy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Corporations are NOT people!
They cannot vote only buy votes!
We need to change this!

Norb Rozek — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Norb Rozek Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Corporations need to report quarterly for the same reason kids in school get quarterly report cards: So problems can be recognized and corrected before they turn into bigger problems.

Noreen Delgado — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Noreen Delgado Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is another way for the republican agenda to push the 1% forward to turn the 99% into indentured servants until they can change the constitution so slaverybecoms legal again. T I step #32 to allow the current administration to keep the current Pesident in office til he dies and on of his son's steps into this illegal dynasty that he wants. You can not allow this change to happen.

Norm Bernier — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Norm Bernier Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Need to hold those in power position accountable. This should also apply to all those serving the people in Washington.

Norm Burke — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Norm Burke Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop legislating everything FOR THE RICH!! Stop the Corruption! End Citizens United! Enf Gerrymandered Districts and ALL other forms of Voter Suppression! And, YES, we do need Age &Term Limits for ALL 3 branches!! Legislate FOR The People!!

Norma Biggs — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Norma Biggs Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is clearly a potential move aimed at less transparency at the expense of the public. More opportunity for fraud, manipulation of the market.

Sent from my iPad

Norma Griffin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Norma Griffin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 They just look for MORE Ways of F#cking the American People & WE Are FED the F#CK Up! Keep it Quarterly or back the F#ck off & let decent Law Abiding Democrats & SANE Repubes Take Over!!

Norma Moore — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Norma Moore Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting allow me to make decisions that are running parallel to information I need to make investments. Six months is too long and much can change within this window.

Norma Jean

Notgonna Tellya — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Notgonna Tellya Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Public companies need to report quarterly. The people need up-to-date facts.

Jan Pringle

Nunyah Beeswax — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nunyah Beeswax Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Crap like this is why the common man is loosing faith in the USA.

Sent from my iPhone

Nylien Martinez — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Nylien Martinez Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
By you allowing this bill to pass you're allowing organizations to easily commit fraud against the American people. You would be allowing them time to hide their failure & cheat the American people. Unfortunately businesses can not be trusted any longer to tell the truth and this just gives them cover to continue lying to the American people. If you don't want to be transparent about your business then don't go public!!!

Olga Schmidt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Olga Schmidt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

If you must change the current system of reviewing every 3 months, then change it to MONTHLY so we have the ability to keep a closer eye investments.

Olga Villalón — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Olga Villalón Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I oppose the proposal to reduce the number of disclosures for publicly traded companies. While it may look like a "savings measure" for companies, it will lead to erosion of the public trust, reduced investment. Fewer investors will feel like they can rely on the company's information if the data is so old. It goes counter to the direction technology is going that allows us to make real-time data driven decisions.

Olivia Batchelor — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Olivia Batchelor Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly should stay! Every insurance company that issues Directors and Officers Liability insurance should be alarmed by this! They should demand it stay.

Sent from my iPhone

Omar Contreras — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Omar Contreras Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting should be kept. It is the minimum reasonable time for making financial decisions in my case, plus longer gaps create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders and it makes me feel like I am flying blind. I don’t care if quarterly reporting is more costly for companies. Finally, quarterly reporting must be kept mandatory, not optional.

Regards,

Omar Contreras

Sent from my iPad

---

oralia fernandez — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: oralia fernandez Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Oralia fernandez, sales clerk, keep everything above board stop fraud..this country is going into the toilet we still have time to turn our country around back to values and morales. What this country was built on.

Orin Tempkin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Orin Tempkin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting must be maintained for transparency and to reduce the risk of fraud. I rely on quarterly information to make financial decisions. Maintain transparency and maintain quarterly reporting.

Orin Tempkin
Springfield, NJ

---

orion rogers — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: orion rogers Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Dont you dare send us back to those dark times without quarterly reporting

---

Owen Morgan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Owen Morgan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need to keep the quarterly reporting to the SEC to make sure our investments are safe.
Owen Morgan, Senior robotics technician.

Owen Rubin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Owen Rubin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 What is the reason behind this idea? Quarterly reporting allows ALL investors to make educated decisions on where to put their money. It keeps corporations more honest. Reporting should be more often, not less. The "burden" excuse on companies is nonsense. We all have a right to know how publicly traded companies are doing. This is all yet another scam to cheat the average investors while giving an edge to large institutions and special privileges to a few. Yet another attempt to hurt the little guy while helping institutional investors (rich people) get further ahead. Leave the original reporting rules alone.

-Owen Rubin-
Sent from my iPhone

Paige Fordice — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Paige Fordice Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Less transparency is not the answer. The average citizen would be hurt by this, not getting reporting for six months. This hurts the little people only and makes way for fraud

---

Paige Hadden — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Paige Hadden Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Paige Hadden retired person of many trades and I live in Montana. I became life licensed 10 years ago and the classes included Securities as well. Accountability is key to keeping things accurate and planning financial freedom. When there is not enough accountability, things get dark and people get greedy. Let's keep things transparent and let's keep the rules that work.

Pam Ash — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Pam Ash Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Accountability is all that holds America responsible to its citizenry.

They should report monthly, not quarterly. Letting the wealthy make the rules is killing the rest of us, even your family members.

Hold them accountable. They are living life large and have no guilt about taking our money from us.

Pam Chambers — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pam Chambers Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely NOT! Transparency is crucial!
If they have NOTHING to hide, then what's the problem?? Again. NO.

Pam Clyburn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Pam Clyburn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Lewis T and Pamela K Clyburn, Retired Educators, Kershaw, SC. As retirees, the income from our portfolios is very important to us. We ask that quarterly reporting be continued in order that we and our financial advisors may adequately monitor the progress of our portfolios.

Sent from my iPhone

Pam Farmer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pam Farmer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want complete transparency. Not hiding behind Anything for 6 months or even 3. We operate as a society on minute notice answers. We turn our decisions on the input we receive from everywhere as a whole. We can't afford to go blind on where our money is located. That would lead to opening the door to schemes to defraud. That why America runs on checks and balances. Many eyes are always watching to help prevent such a catastrophe again.
Pam Farmer
pamfarmer2717@yahoo.com

Sent from my iPhone

Pam Goers — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pam Goers Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The audacity of corporations and the rich cronies who run them to believe the people would just allow this to happen! Think again!!

Pam Granger — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Pam Granger Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As retirees who monthly use selling investments to augment social security, we count on quarterly reporting to evaluate how to plan our monthly activity. We need timely information. Quarterly reporting is not a new burden, but rather an obligation to investors. Thank you for giving all investors a voice.

Pam Granger
Petaluma, Ca

---

pam harris — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: pam harris Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No to quarterly’

Sent from my iPhone

Pam Joiner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pam Joiner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly reports coming! Patricia Joiner, Administrator

Sent from my iPhone

Pam Noll — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Pam Noll I need to see results quarterly to keep track of my investments and future strategies. Companies have a responsibility to keep investors advised of the status of their investments in a timely manner, which is quarterly.

---

pam paxton-keehner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: pam paxton-keehner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting!

Pam Paxton-Keehner!

Pam Roberds — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Pam Roberds Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please require companies to compile quarterly financial statements. This is for the benefit of stockholders and employees.
Thsnk you!

Pam Rostal — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Pam Rostal Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Pam Rostal, and I am now retired. Please keep quarterly reports. As retirees, we check our finances quarterly and don't want to move to semiannual checks to see if we need to adjust our retirement account allocations.

Thanks for your time.
Pam

Pam Scholtz — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pam Scholtz Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I have saved and invested all of my working life to now build a comfortable retirement. Please do not allow the American oligarchy to roll back their quarterly financial reporting regulations which can only hurt the common American worker and puts our investments at risk. Quarterly reporting requires the companies I worked for and invest in to remain honest and truthful.

Thank you -
Pamela Scholtz
IT Professional, Ret.

---

pam-smith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: pam-smith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There is enough corruption in this country. Please don't make it easier for these crimes. We need to keep quarterly reporting, so it doesn't get even worse.

Sent from my Galaxy

Pamela Balliet — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Pamela Balliet Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No, absolutely not. It needs to remain quarterly as it is companies need to be held accountable and they need to be watched and there needs to be oversight and if you take it oversight away oh my God the stuff that they'll do in that six months they'll get away with murder. My name is Pamela Baller. I am retired.

Sent from my iPhone

Pamela Biswas — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Pamela Biswas Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

We need all reporting possible none less than today.

Pamela Chiu — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pamela Chiu Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Things like this, government supporting huge corporations instead of supporting the American citizen is why so many people are so upset with the government right now.

The SEC Moving to six month reporting would just be another layer of government corruption.

Y'all have lost the narrative, you work for the American people not for big corporations. And honestly, all of you should be sued for not working for the American people.

Give me a reason to think you are not corrupt by holding to quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Pamela Downs — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pamela Downs Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need transparency. Quarterly reporting needs to continue. Too much can happen in 6 months that cannot be repaired.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Pamela Fosky — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Pamela Fosky Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Crazy maga hilter America thanks a lot! Sheep

Pamela Freeman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Pamela Freeman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The information currently being received by investors is vital to the making of financial decisions. They are counting on those quarterly reports.

Sent from my iPhone

Pamela Hankins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Pamela Hankins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am ordinarily against more government regulations but this seems foolhardy to me.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Pamela Hinchberger — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pamela Hinchberger Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The economy is scary enough right. Doubling timeline only makes me trust this system even less.

Sent from my iPad

Pamela Randolph — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Pamela Randolph Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

PLEASE DO NOT eliminate quarterly reports!! Investors - especially us small-time investors - need the more frequent reports to help us make informed decisions.
By dropping those quarterly reveals, you are giving corporations the edge to allow them to manipulate the numbers in THEIR favor, and handicap OUR decisions to be able to benefit ourselves.
Corporations do not NEED any extra edge!!!

Pamela Rhodes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Pamela Rhodes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
It's MY money. Keep it accessible and monitor quarterly. Have we no learned fron the recent past?

Pamela Strom — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pamela Strom Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Retired attorney. My retirement should not be Modified to help the wealthy. Consider me opposed.
Thanks,
P.M. Strom.

Sent from my iPhone

Pamela Taylor — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Pamela Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: This is wrong for investors! We will fight this.

Pamela Tiller — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Pamela Tiller Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the three month report. No 6month blackout!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Pamela Tuma — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Pamela Tuma Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is ridiculous and will just allow MORE horrible consequences.

Pamela W — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Pamela W Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Pamela Woodroffe, self employed/retired person in Seattle. Of course we need frequent updates, minimally quarterly reports, on our money.Thanks for listening.

Papa B — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Papa B Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It doesn't take a rocket scientist to see this is a very bad move. The common person with a little bit of sense knows this is dumb. Why does America keep shooting herself in the foot, and causing calamity? The answer is simple: to enrich the already rich/ wealthy, and once again, jilt the public out of very hard earned money. EVERY day, many of us go to jobs we hate, bosses we despise and traffic that drives us insane, all so we can afford to put away a few hundred dollars a paycheck for our retirement, and/or savings for kids schooling or after tax savings for purchasing a home.

Allowing public companies to essentially keep mum, even if things get horrendous on the inside, is detrimental to the general public's hard work. It's like, the US consistently seeks ways to destroy what little confidence Americans have left, and we are tired. Everything seems to be in the interest of major companies. When will our country ever do something positive, and in the interests of its citizens, who keep the country afloat in the first place???

Pat — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Pat Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a retiree dependent on my investments, I want to know that they are being reviewed and audited quarterly. I want to be assured by law that CEOs and CFOs are fully aware of their legal responsibilities to their shareholders. And I want this to continue to occur quarterly.
Patricia Hampel
Tennessee

Sent from my iPhone

Pat Brown — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Pat Brown Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 All companies need to continue to report quarterly earnings signed by the CEO!!!
Don't let them wiggle out of that reporting!!!

Pat Cox — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pat Cox Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop allowing private equity to hide what they're doing and manipulate the market

Sent from my iPad

Pat Egerstaffer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Pat Egerstaffer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not allow quarterly reports to be stopped.

Pat Emmert — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Pat Emmert Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep reports quarterly

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Pat Emmert — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Pat Emmert Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep reports quarterly!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Pat Mcgilligan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Pat Mcgilligan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 With all the corruption going on companies financial reports must remain quarterly. Companies need to be held accountable.

Sent from my iPad

Pat Merritt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Pat Merritt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This will not help the investors and is a criminally negligent move. I am on social security and have investments that mean the difference between eating and not eating in this age of high prices and doubt. Those who handle our money must be kept to a high standard. Pat Merritt Retired

---

Pat Sellergren — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pat Sellergren Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not change from the current practice! We are retired and dependent on quarterly information to help us make decisions. Pat Sellergren

---

Pat Tanner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pat Tanner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 You OWE it to investors to keep posting quarterly positions. It is the only security that we will be afforded free , honest decisions. Please do not allow.only six month postings. That is like allowing cos. to steal our money. Natalie Tanner, retired teacher and investor..

Pat Vitatoe — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Pat Vitatoe Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We need more checks and balances, not less.. this plan is ripe for deception and fraud.

Pati Casebolt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Pati Casebolt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is stupid… keep things quarterly

Sent from my iPhone

Patrice Fletcher — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patrice Fletcher Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keeping it quarterly is best. We are retired and would be financially hurt should reporting change to the 1955 way. We no longer have salaries and must depend on retirement income. We are not alone in this. Many retired seniors are in the same boat Patrice Fletcher, Chicago

---

Patrice Reillt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Patrice Reillt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I'm a retail investor and I rely on quarterly reports to make decisions about my investments and retirement savings. Retail investors need clear, accurate and timely information to make informed investment decisions. Insiders and institutional investors will always have the resources and relationships to get the information they need. Without quarterly reporting, retail investors are on an unlevel playing field, with no way to get timely information about public companies.

PATRICIA A Geller — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: PATRICIA A Geller Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am responsible for supporting many people and do all the retirement and educational investments. I need to not wait six months to know if I need information on performance. How does this help investors? This supports corporations, not investors.

Patricia Anderson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Patricia Anderson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This is an insane and reckless act on your part, allowing weathly unscupulous folks to obtain insider information the middle class and the poor do not and cannot access. Please do not change the schedule!
thank you

Patricia Battersby — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Battersby Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The current reporting structure is not sufficient to keep the behind the scene activities of the elite from the light of day. Loosening reporting makes it more likely potential fraud isn't discovered in a timely matter.

Historical data shows greater transparency benefits more investors. The purpose of the current reporting requirements was just that. The proof is crystal clear.

A move to provide insiders with the latitude to operate with abandon is not healthy for the Market.

---

patricia campbell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: patricia campbell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Yes, quarterly!

Patricia COLLIER — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia COLLIER Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I do not agree with the proposal to repost semi annually as opposed to quarterly. Please do not adopt this position

---

Patricia Corbeil — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Patricia Corbeil Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: I'm trying to protect my pension and it's bad enough that the1% want to get rid of social security. Why do you people hate your fellow Americans so much? Don't change the frequency of disclosures. To even suggest that is criminal.
Patricia Corbeil

Patricia Cross — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Patricia Cross Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Patricia Cross, Retired Commercial Loan Officer (VP), and Loan Review Officer (VP): Quarterly reporting provides greater safety for loan monitoring. The data provided to the SEC is far more detailed than what companies provide to financial institutions under loan covenant agreements. I used both in the early identification of problems.

Sent from my iPhone

Patricia Dannar — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Patricia Dannar Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It needs to remain as it is. There is no reason to go backwards other than support corporations
Patricia Dannar

Sent from my iPad

Patricia Drake — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Drake Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am writing to express my concern that companies continue to be required to make quarterly filings. As an investor and a public citizen, I feel quarterly reports keeps companies honest and gives me the opportunity to make the decisions I need to make to protect my assets. As a retired, it is more important than ever that I am provided quarterly reports to protect my future . Keep companies fiscally responsible and transparent.
Thank you
Dr. Patricia Drake
Retired Psychologist

Patricia E Yarian — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Patricia E Yarian Keep the Quarterly Reporting alive front and center..to allow CEO's a pass to not keeping themselves honest and above the crime of thievery and corruption, you are complicit in said crime and therefore be just as guilty and sent to jail..the common person off the street aren't handed free passes if they're caught stealing,or committing perjury..why would the CEO's be any better.. KEEP THE QUARTERLY REPORTING IN FORCE

Patricia Farrenkopf — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Patricia Farrenkopf Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm waiting 2 more years to collect on my retirement account/portfolio when I turn 73. While a licensed broker handles my account, I've depended on internet access to review my holdings and those of another account that was funded by an inheritance to be transferred to my son upon my death. It's My Money just as I'm entitled to my monthly Social Security check. While our President engages in insider trading, I don't want to be in the dark about my own financial situation. PLEASE DO NOT INCREASE REPORTING FROM EACH QUARTER TO EVERY SIX MONTHS.

Thank you in advance,

Patricia Farrenkopf

Sent from Proton Mail for iOS.

Patricia Fisher — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Patricia Fisher Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is the only way to give everyone an equal footing to know what is happening with their money. This is like highway robbery with no checks and balances for months. I say NO!!!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Patricia Gibson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Gibson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly reports.

Sent from my iPhone

Patricia Greer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Patricia Greer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please, keep the SEC reporting quarterly. They need to be held accountable & the more often they need to sign their life's away by reporting the better off well all be. So KEEP IT QUARTERLY!! Sincerely Patricia Gr retired from Portland Oregon

---

Patricia Greer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Greer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Pat Greer, retired therapist, as someone who barely met average income levels for most Americans, my retirement investments are important. I would like to request dismissal of the proposal to switch to semi annual reporting.
So much is happening due to AI and digital trade access, that transparency is one of the only ways we’re going to be able to monitor corporate ethical behaviors and successes and failures to meet quarterly goals.. thanks for “listening” and please consider my request.

Patricia Jones — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Patricia Jones Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Patricia Jones, Retired, Illinois. Turning the clocks back to appease politicians? Financial ruin for everyone else, except the cheating politicians! DON'T change the rules now!

Patricia Linehan — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Patricia Linehan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely NO change.

Patricia Lopez — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Lopez Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The quarterly reporting needs to remain. If I've learned anything from my 69 years on this earth is that you can't ignore a problem and hope it goes away. Moving to twice yearly leaves to many things unchecked. I strongly oppose changing the reporting.

Get Outlook for Android

Patricia McClain — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Patricia McClain Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I like to see my money thank you

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Patricia Meacham — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Meacham Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This proposal is absurd. The people have the right you understand the position of corporations that they may be investing in.

Patricia Meacham

Patricia Miller — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Patricia Miller Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Patricia Miller, and I'm a blue collar worker. I feel that we should be sticking to quarterly reporting. Big companies are already stepping on our throats for profit and they shouldn't be allowed to get away with not reporting every six months, gives too much time for things to escalate or get worse on the consumers end.

Patricia Newkirk — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Patricia Newkirk Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Corporations get away with enough without giving them more time to hide activities. We need more oversight not less.

Patricia Ratkovich — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Patricia Ratkovich Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Patricia Ratkovich, retired teacher. Accountability, we teach our students in college to be accountable for their actions and research. The SEC needs to do the same with every company.

People work their whole lives just to save something for investing, I know I have. Keeping companies reporting quarterly helps keep them with the resemblance of honesty. Helps level the field for everyday working people. If Congress can use their knowledge to inside trade, at the very least we can require companies to report quarterly for everyday people.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Patricia Rennier — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Patricia Rennier Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need a law and order society. Without that it's a society for criminals. Stop that insanity.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Patricia Szydlo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Patricia Szydlo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Accountability is absolutely essential.
Keep Quarterly Reports
Thank you • Patricia Szydlo

Patricia Wilson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Patricia Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I already told them and will tell them again; please stop playing around with this rule : it protects the stability of the economic fiber of our nation in a perilous time when we are surrounded by oligarchs who are gluttonous to the extreme. Thank you . Patricia Wilson 27576

Patsy Wolf — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Patsy Wolf Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not do this. keep us informed quarterly.
Transparency is part of Democracy.

Sent from my iPhone

Patt Clipper — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patt Clipper Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why and WHO benefits from this change?
This will not create trust for citizens. It will cast only doubt.
Patricia Clipper
Retired teacher

Sent from my iPhone

Patti Bellak — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Patti Bellak Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Patti Bellak and I live in Collegeville, Pennsylvania. I do not support the change from quarterly reporting to semi annual reporting. I want to know what my investments are doing at LEAST 4 times a year, and to keep tabs on my portfolio. I am a retired special educator who has scrimped and saved in order to feel secure iny golden years. Semi annual reporting can foster fraudulent activity and hinder investors' decision making. Please retain the quarterly report system. It's working fine and should not be modified just for the sake of being easier. Look at the bigger picture. Do something to protect the little people. Status quo! Thank you for listening. Hopefully, you will make the right choice. Patti Bellak

---

Patti Bongiorno — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Patti Bongiorno Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
The world moves fast; we need more information not less. This proposed rule is a license to steal while retail investors like me are in the dark. Fraud will be even worse than it is.
I guess the ultimate question is, whose side are you on, Wall Street or Main Street?
Do the right thing and don't allow quarterly information to disappear. The market at large needs it and all investors deserve it.

Patti Burlew — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patti Burlew Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is just wrong. Please do not do this.

Patti Darrow — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Patti Darrow Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it where we can keep eyes on the going’s on!!

Patty — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patty Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a Senior Citizen, I need to know how my investments are doing on a timely basis! Transparency is important and quarterly reporting is needed!

Patty Mitchell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Patty Mitchell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Let the shareholders and stockholders see quarterly results so we can make good decisions

Sent from my iPhone

Patty Plimmer None — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Patty Plimmer Please keep quarterly reporting requirements for companies and businesses. It’s fair, it keeps things above board and transparent and it keeps companies and businesses honest.

PAUL CANNOVA — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: PAUL CANNOVA Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There is no really good explanation for doing this.
I believe it puts the small investors a a major disadvantage.
KEEP IT QUARTERLY!!

Sent from my iPhone

Paul Chavers — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Paul Chavers Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is unacceptable for those of us who want to keep a close eye on what our investments are doing.

Paul Cummiskey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Paul Cummiskey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting requirements.

Thanks

Paul D'Amaro — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Paul D'Amaro Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Trump has corrupted every other government agency. Don't let him corrupt the SEC too.

---

paul hagerty — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: paul hagerty Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want quarterly reporting to stay as is

Thank you,
Paul Hagerty
856-986-3434
p.hagerty@icloud.com

Paul Kingsbury — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Paul Kingsbury Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 They must be up to something because they want to remove accountability WE Say LEAVE It Like It Is

---

Paul Madden — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Paul Madden Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is an incredibly wrong move and frankly, I think it's a criminal move for once again the insiders to know what's happening and for us to have six month delays on corporate information. Stop this from happening. We need to see every business, political, and court leader that supports this and vote them out and remove them ASAP.
Paul Madden
Sent from my iPhone

Paul Mitchell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Paul Mitchell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Paul Mitchell
Sales Manager
This affects me directly. More importantly it affects my parents who are retiring, my sisters, and the rest of the working class

Sent from my iPhone

Paul Murtha — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Paul Murtha Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please, maintain quarterly reporting!

Sent from my iPhone

Paul Paschall — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Paul Paschall Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please stop rigging the economy to make rich people who don't deserve it get richer while everyone else gets screwed. Grow a brain and remember what humanity means.

Paul Pearson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Paul Pearson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To Whom it May Concern,

Quarterly reporting is essential to free, fair, and informed public markets. Accurate and frequent public accounting is critical to every investor and for the health of, and public confidence in, trading markets as honest vehicles for creating economic stability and broad participation. The public needs the SEC to represent its fundamental interests in financial transparency and accountability from all of the publicly traded companies that benefit from the markets under its watch. Keep the quarterly reporting standard without dilution. As a small investor, I depend on frequent, fair, and accurate reporting to help me make my decisions.

Thank you,

Paul Pearson

Paul Pedersen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Paul Pedersen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm retired and an investor. Quarterly reports absolutely should be the required standard. Raising it to six months simply allows bad actions and bad news to be more easily hidden.

Paul Veyna — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul Veyna Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need to know as we do now Please do not change the quartely reporting

---

Paula — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Paula Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quit playing with our money. Keep reporting quartly!

Sent from my iPad

Paula Clair — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Paula Clair Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not change the quarterly reporting schedule. That would disenfranchise ordinary people who invest in the stock market. Diminished information would also discourage the average person in investing in the market

---

Paula Copp — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Paula Copp Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Keep reporting by companies quarterly so consumers stay informed.

Paula Korth — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paula Korth Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need to keep our quarterly updates to be sure nothing is slipping thru the cracks of oversight!!! We the People need to know what is going on!!!
Paula Korth, Retired but still concerned for my family and their futures!!!

---

paula laker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: paula laker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I see no reason why not quarter ly

Sent from my iPhone

Paula Longendyke — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paula Longendyke Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We watch our companies closely. We are both recently retired and hope to not go back to work. If companies only report every 6 months how will we track? Does that mean dividends payout 2x a year?
The purpose of this change does not seem to have accountability as a benefit. Companies run by stockholders need to be seen.
Jim and Paula Longendyke
Home investing

Paula Longendyke

Paula Orbaugh — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Paula Orbaugh Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
In this age of AI, it's important to have honest accounting.

Paula Ores — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Paula Ores Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I want full accountability of my private portfolio NO CHANGES..

Paula Ruehling — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Paula Ruehling Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why would you change this after all this time? Please do don’t that.

Paula Ryan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paula Ryan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Paula Ryan Mgt Analyst, Ret.
This proposal only enables deceit, theft and criminal activity.

Paula Stafford — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Paula Stafford Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need and want quarterly filing

---

Paula Wood Project Manager for an elevator upgrade co. — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Paula Wood Keep the quarterly reporting mandatory please! Too much time in between "optional" semi-annual reports.

Pauline Charton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Pauline Charton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am an ordinary person who speaks plainly and this is insanity to hide/ not provide this information. Didn't we learn anything from 2008!!!!!

Pauline Lotito — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pauline Lotito Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is just another approach to putting money/preference into the hands of corporations and insiders without any consideration for individual investors. It has to stop. Corporations need to remain accountable to investors and not just their boards!

Pauline
617-347-9204

Pauline Schmitt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Pauline Schmitt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not extend the period for disclosure by CEOs. This administration are opportunists, who appear to want their buddies to get away with fooling the system.
Quarterly filing is a good thing.
Thanks!

Pauline Staffa — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Pauline Staffa Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly reports are the best tool to help regular everyday people determine what changes to make to our portfolios. It's important that they are still made available.

Pavani Ramnarayan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Pavani Ramnarayan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: stop taxe peole

---

Pedro Correa — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Pedro Correa Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep Quarterly Reports

Sent from my iPhone

---

pedullabass — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: pedullabass Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Rev. Phillip Holbrook (ret.)

This proposal will reduce accountability and result in more abuses of the system which will result in more hardship on the lower and middle classes.

With corruption being rampant in so many institutions in this day, this will be taken advantage of and create another reduction of checks and balances, resulting in more abuses of the system, and the cost of such will be borne by common citizens. It is irresponsible to effect this change and increase the temptation to cheat the system.

Sent from my Galaxy

Peg Dupre — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peg Dupre Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Hi, Changing reporting from quarterly to 6 months is removing transparency for everyone except insiders and politicians. Why would the SEC do this? It’s a wrong move and citizens do not want less transparency. One housing crisis is enough. Thank you.
Simone Dupre

Peg Paterno — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peg Paterno Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am very upset about data Centers. I want them abolished!

Sent from my iPhone

Peggy Emmons — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peggy Emmons Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm retired from GTE/Verizon/Frontier. We need to know what's going on in companies we invest in! And it makes me suspicious about your reasons to report information less often.

Peggy Plemons — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Peggy Plemons Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
There has been more than enough fraud already. Give the working a chance to make something off of this.
Insider trading that has been happening lately needs to stop. Everyone involved should have to go to court and then to jail. All they made on these trades should be given to our Healthcare, social security, and medicare.

Peggy Sample — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Peggy Sample Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Peggy - retired
We like to keep track of our portfolio regularly. We are sick of all of the insider trading. If this post is correct, who knows these days, it will only help the thieves get richer & keep regular people in the dark! It’s NOT RIGHT & THE POWERS THAT BE KNOW IT!!
FED UP WITH THIS AND AI DATA CENTERS POPPING UP ALL OVER THE PLACE!! We have enough problems in Texas with water shortages & power grid ALREADY! STOP THEM PLEASE!!

Sent from my iPhone

Penelope Kohler — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Penelope Kohler Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I believe quarterly reports are an essential part of supplying investors with information. Please continue to require that quarterly reports be sent to investors. The corporations have our money and charge us fees. Certainly, they can send out quarterly reports to investors!
Thank you.
Sincerely, Penelope Kohler

Penny Larkins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Penny Larkins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 At a time when information and situations move fast we still need quarterly reports.

Penny Larkins

Penny Regan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Penny Regan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Pendaless Regan, I live in Seattle, WA. I think that the way you're holding the appropriate people accountable, the real way, with real life consequences is something to be admired! Seriously, Thank you!

Penny Wencil — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Penny Wencil Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 P. Wencil Analyst

This matters to be because I worry about my retirement, transparency, and fairness. Moving to a 6 month period is harmful to millions of people. It removes our window to protect investments. KEEP IT QUARTERLY!

Pete Bristow — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Pete Bristow Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

Pete Dufresne — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Pete Dufresne Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm a seasoned investor. I look forward to quarterly reports. They keep me informed and keep the corporations more cognizant knowing their investors are keeping a close eye on their operations. Reporting only twice per year may tend to allow them to be become more careless and/or deceiving.

Get Outlook for Android

Peter Carman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Peter Carman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is a very bad idea. It will enable senior management to not report and coverup adverse events between reporting periods.

Peter Carman
Age 72
Retired CFO/CPA

Sent from my iPad

Peter Corrigan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peter Corrigan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 How much are you getting paid to implement this ?

Sent from my iPhone

---

peter gordon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: peter gordon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We can't afford to have many months of uncertainty between corporate reports. I am mostly reliant on my retirement account, with no room for major miscalculations and little time to recover losses. Please keep the quarterly reporting rule. Peter Gordon, professor emeritus, musician, NYC

Peter L. Krause — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peter L. Krause Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The SEC should not change quarterly reporting. This oversight is needed in the industry and to protect individual and institutional investors.

Peter McVeigh — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Peter McVeigh Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting was initiated for a very good reason, Enron.
Why on earth would anybody want to change that?
Don't the owners of theses publicly traded companies have the right to see the "books" 4 times a year?

Peter J. McVeigh
6779 Derby Run Way
Gainesville, VA 20155
912 467 9991 cell

Phil — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Phil Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Philip Westmoreland
Retired United States citizen and staunch taxpayer.
Transparency matters and anything other than maintaining the quarterly reporting is not really simpler, but fraught with potential corruption.
NO the ending quarterly reporting.

Get BlueMail for Mobile

Phil Hansing — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Phil Hansing Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Enron proved the need for quarterly reporting; why would you even CONSIDER a return to an environment that invites corruption?
Please reject the semiannual reporting!
As a small investor I need as much transparency as possible to protect the little I have. The game already favors the corporate entities; further advantage given them by this proposal is detrimental to small investors who are trying their best to sustain a living standard that avoids relying on government assistance.
Respectfully,
Philip Hansing

Sent from my iPhone

Phil Ucher — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Phil Ucher Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Regulators:
This proposal to keep the general investing public blind for 6 months while letting insiders trade and profit from private inside information stinks! It legitimizes fraud, corruption, insider trading and theft. Why on earth would you ever consider such a distasteful and anti-American change! A disgusting and dishonest idea if there ever was one. Don’t do it. Don’t produce yet another Government change which benefits only people such as Trump, Musk, etc.

People already have a very low opinion of Government in Washington. This would drive that opinion even lower yet.

Phil Bucher
(Private investor, retired)
Centennial, Colorado

---

philine664 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: philine664 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is something baked into financial reporting,if it ain't broken...don't try to fix it

Sent from my Galaxy

Philip Ciorciari — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Philip Ciorciari Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 History shows that Quarterly Reporting is the way to go. Don’t change this.

Sent from my iPhone
Philip Ciorciari

---

philip lanter — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: philip lanter Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 You people can’t be serious! The same folks that sit idly by while Trump and his enablers loot at every opportunity! The same folks who gave a pass to the C-Suite in the financial crisis 2008-2010? Give me a break…. pathetic …

Sent from my iPhone

Phillip Nevling — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Phillip Nevling Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Phillip Nevling and I am retired. Quarterly results are what I want to see. It's too easy to miss important details without them.

The past is a memory.
The future? An expectation.
Neither past nor future actually exist. There is simply the eternal now.

Phillis Boone — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Phillis Boone Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Come November ALL of you robber baron's will be out of a job, and most going to jail!!!

Phyllis Blackwell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Quarterly reports From: Phyllis Blackwell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP REPORTS QUARTERLY. DO YOUR JOB. PHYLLIS BLACKWELL

Sent from my Galaxy

Phyllis Blickensderfer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Phyllis Blickensderfer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep this quarterly. There is no valid reason not to provide this service.

Phyllis Blickensderfer
76073

Phyllis Ianniccari — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Phyllis Ianniccari Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quartly reports are the only method investors have. Have you forgotten Enron? Does the SEC have an agenda to not support the ordinary investors? Jeep the quarterly reports to protect our unvestments.

PHYLLIS IANNICCARI

Phyllistine Pritchard — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Phyllistine Pritchard Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Phyllistine Pritchard, retired. I'm afraid this procedure would make it easier to steal from hardworking people. It would take the opportunity to retire in dignity. The wealth gap is the largest in American history, what's next? Nothing

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

PJJones — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: PJJones Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the current rules. Dont shut out public oversight. Patricia Jones. Retiree. My income needs to be reliable

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

---

prairiegate — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: prairiegate Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reporting for rural and retired folks who need to verify their accounts regularly!
Steve/Kathy Dunback 66935

Priya Chauhan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Regarding your Keepitquarterly.com From: Priya Chauhan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Dear Keepitquarterly.com Team,

I recently reviewed your Keepitquarterly.com and noticed it isn't ranking well on Google for your service-related searches, which is a missed opportunity, as top sites attract far more leads and visibility.

With the right SEO strategies, we can boost your ranking, attract targeted visitors, and convert them into customers. Let's get you to page 1.

Reply to this email or share your contact details to discuss further.

Best Regards,
Priya Chauhan
Marketing Consultant

Prudence Benjamin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Prudence Benjamin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need the corporations to be sending in quarterly reporting to prevent fraud. I am Prudence L Benjamin, I live at 742 Riverglade Drive, Amherst, Ma 01002 and I want the quarterly reporting to be kept under the law. There is NO reason to change this law except to make it possible for people to be dishonest more easily. Thanks for your time, Prudence L Benjamin

---

Prudence L Benjamin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Prudence L Benjamin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need the corporations to be sending in quarterly reporting to prevent fraud. I am Prudence L Benjamin, I live at 742 Riverglade Drive, Amherst, Ma 01002 and I want the quarterly reporting to be kept under the law. There is NO reason to change this law except to make it possible for people to be dishonest more easily. Thanks for your time, Prudence L Benjamin

---

prygoda2 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: prygoda2 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Hello SEC. IT IS IMPERATIVE TO KEEP THE REPORTS QUARTERLY 🤫🇺🇸!
Family history goes back to 1638, DORCHESTER, MA
LEN Prygoda, HISTORY EDUCATOR, 35 YEARS, CT 🌎👍💥

Sent from my iPad

Quincy Lewis — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Quincy Lewis Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It seems keeping it quarterly makes more sense

Quintina Gawlikowski — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Quintina Gawlikowski Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quintina Gawlikowski, retired nurse. It matters to know what's going on before bad things happen.

Sent from my iPhone

R Adams — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: R Adams Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep transparency and accountability.

R Asaro — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: R Asaro Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Don't ignore the citizens. Please keep reporting quarterly. Otherwise we're in the dark.

Renetta Asaro
Tanto Business Services
Sharp Quick Concise
How can I help you today?

R Consentino — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: R Consentino Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Investors like myself will pull all our money out of the Market and bankrupt this Country if you make this change keeping us in the dark on Quarterly earnings!

Sent from my iPhone

---

r f — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: r f Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely NO! We , the middle class, can only get poorer and this will cause a revolt , a class war eventually. The billionaires need to wake up, we can only get screwed so much before we grab a pitchfork

Sent from my iPhone

R P — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: R P Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Ron Pribyl, Retired, Elgin MN, - Loosening the requirements invites shenanigans and lack of focus resulting in corruption. We have not seen any data supporting this change. How is it justified? What is the reasoning? Show us the evidence and reasoning.

R W — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Keep It Quarterly: Protect Retired Investors and Fixed-Income Savings. From: R W Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 In Subject Line: Keep It Quarterly: Protect Retired Investors and Fixed-Income Savings.

I am writing to strongly urge the SEC to maintain the current quarterly reporting framework. As a retiree who relies on stock market investments to fund my daily living expenses, market transparency is not abstract—it is a matter of personal financial survival. Moving to a semi-annual reporting schedule would create dangerous six-month blind spots. In today's fast-moving economy, companies can experience massive shifts in financial health in just a few months. Forcing retirees to wait half a year for verified financial updates would significantly increase the risk of us losing our hard-earned savings to unexpected market shocks. Quarterly disclosures provide the timely, reliable data necessary to safely manage a retirement portfolio and protect retail investors.

Name: Rhonda Weaver Job Title: Retired Why It Matters: I rely on stock dividends and stable market growth to fund my retirement. Timely quarterly data is essential for me to manage risk and protect my life savings from sudden corporate downturns.

R. Bennett Executive Assistant (retired) — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: R. Bennett Please keep Financial Quarterly Reporting required. It is very useful for determining investment choices in my retirement portfolio.

Rachael Dorr — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rachael Dorr Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting keeps publicly traded companies honest by requiring C-Suite to sign on the dotted line. Let’s not repeat the “mistakes” of the past.
Rachael M. Dorr, Esq.

Rachael Dorr

Sent from my iPhone

Rachel Kynhoff — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rachel Kynhoff Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am AGAINST this new rule that would mean shifting the reporting period from 3 to 6 months.
This change would make "regular" people like me more vulnerable in the market because we rely on the required reporting to make sound financial decision. Here are three reasons why this change is BAD.
- 6 months is a long time, companies can go from "ok" to bankrupt in that time, with "regular" people not having the information they would need to "get out" of a bad investment.

- 3 months is more transparent than 6 months. People or corporations that are anti-transparency are usually trying to hide something.
- "Regular" people dot have the time or connections to get insight into their investments so "professional investors" will have an edge over "regular" people.

Finally, it's an unnecessary change - only benefiting those who are trying to hide bad behavior. Didn't we see enough of that in 2008?

Rachelle — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rachelle Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep them honest. This kind of consumerism gone wild is harming us citizens now and weakens the American name for generations. Please don’t let them get away with this.

Rachelle Wyse
Clutter Cutters
(310) 951-6157

Rahna Epting — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rahna Epting Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Rahna Epting
Business owner
Quarterly reporting is critical to ensure the SEC can do its job to protect the people and ensure a fairer playing field. The corruption is already too rampant in this country, there is no good thing to come out of less reporting. The government is supposed to protect the people! So do that.

Sent from my iPhone

Ralph Carruth — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ralph Carruth Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 What is needed most is transparency and integrity. This proposal reduces the first for sure and can invite pressure on the second. No need for it.

Sent from my iPhone

Ralph LaFollette — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ralph LaFollette Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please don't let accountability and transparency go out the window. Investor sentiment will fall. People will not have the same faith. It may take time; but it will absolutely be detrimental to be economy.

RALPH MINK — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: RALPH MINK Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 NO

Sent from my iPhone

Ralph Sporck — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ralph Sporck Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting keeps it honest!!
Too much time lapses between semi or full yearly for them to cook the books!!

Ram Bhatia — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ram Bhatia Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Must continue to hold the public traded companies accountable. Keep the current quarterly reporting in place.
Thank you.

Ram Bhatia

Sent from my iPhone

Ramona Ferreira — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ramona Ferreira Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting must continue! It provides much needed oversight of publicly traded companies and important information for investors.

Sent from my iPhone

Randall Jacobsen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Randall Jacobsen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is essential that this quarterly reporting stays intact. We need the safeguards in order to move forward with our economy. Protect. this reporting quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

RANDI MARKOVITZ — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: RANDI MARKOVITZ Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 More information is always better than less. What do they have to hide

Sent from my iPad

Randolph Gadikian — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Randolph Gadikian Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I rely on my investments to provide a substantial and solid return. Cutting the reporting requirements by the SEC Will harm the greater return on my investments. There is documented proof of this so changing to half year reporting From quarterly your reporting would be a giant step backwards.

Randy Gadikian
Retired Librarian

Sent from my iPhone

Randy & Sharon Burum — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Randy & Sharon Burum Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep reporting!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Randy Grein — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Randy Grein Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Randy Grein, Sr. Network engineer, Seattle area. I have worked through several economic downturns and been laid off because my employer was left with unpaid bills from companies that collapsed suddenly with little warning. This move should further decrease the amount of information investors, suppliers and workers would have on company health. We have never really put back the protections we removed causing the Great Recession, this will make market crashes bigger than ever.

Remember, a core principal of free markets is freely available information. That limits the economic damage of bad decisions.

Sent from my iPad

---

randy hill — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: randy hill Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm retired. Quarterly reporting helps promote accountability. There is no justice without accountability.

Randy Mergler — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Randy Mergler Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Randy, Chauffeur, it's worked well

---

Raquel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Raquel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Companies continually behave in a manner that does not serve stockholders do not give them another tool to avoid accountability. I am against this.

Ray holmes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ray holmes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I do not support the change of quarter to reporting to biannual reporting.

Ray Wall — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Ray Wall Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reports quarterly! CEOs, CFO, Boards of Directors and Corporations in general need more responsibility not less.
I, Raymond Wall, have been an entrepreneur my whole life. Owning and operating multiple businesses. I watched Enron destroy many lives, steal the pension and life savings of many people. I myself was effected.
When the Great Recession began it effected the lower incomes a lot earlier than the wealthier.
In fact, it's not even considered a recession until the wealthy notice it, only when they get worried. Yet it effects millions while the wealthy are "just worried". When adjustments are being made, lowering staff a little, tightening expenses a little. Keep those stock prices up. Yet that trickles down the economy. Less people are going out to eat, so that waitress who may be a single mom is now struggling. So she spends less. I don't need to teach you economics but maybe to remind you to care about the little people who are overly effected by these economic catastrophes that at the least are caused by incompetence but often by fraud and/or greed.
Jeffery Skilling is still worth tens of millions while millions lost their life savings. Catching fraud, incompetence, greed earlier can help save those people by keeping a constant reminder that someone is taking responsibility, frequently. CEOs are paid a lot of money. In the US, more than any other country. They can take the time out to do this. They can take the responsibility to do this.
The Housing Crisis and the Great Recession killed me economically. Killed our country economically and sent the world into a recession.
The SEC needs to take the responsibility to enforce this minimal protection for the US people and our economy!
Thank you for hearing me out.
Sincerely,
Raymond Wall
Albany, NY

Sent from my iPhone

Raye Harper — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Raye Harper Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is what corruption looks like

---

Raymond Guidi — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Raymond Guidi Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Disclosures should be made as often as possible. Monthly or quarterly at least.

Raymond Hook — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Raymond Hook Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Wish any stocks I might have or buy in the future I would appreciate being reported every 6 MONTHS!!!

Raymond Miller — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Raymond Miller Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am now retired and I am asking that you keep the quarterly reporting intact. Please leave it alone.

Raymond Otto — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Raymond Otto Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it ... The CEO quarterly report

---

Raymond Partington — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Raymond Partington Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it Quarterly !

Raymond Slaughter — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Raymond Slaughter Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
A functioning capital system requires clear integrity controls and transparent communication so investors fully understand risks and can act with confidence. Some level of government oversight is necessary to enforce minimum standards of accountability, integrity, and clarity in business practices. Quarterly reporting requirements did not emerge by accident—they reflect corrections and improvements resulting from earlier failures of the system and should be maintained. There is no compelling reason to shift from quarterly to semiannual reporting, as doing so would reduce the frequency of visibility into company performance and risk exposure.
Transparency plays a critical role in strengthening investor confidence. When organizations consistently provide accurate, timely, and understandable information, investors are better equipped to evaluate performance, assess risk, and make informed decisions. This openness reduces uncertainty, builds trust over time, and supports continued investment.
Equally important, accountability at the executive level must not be weakened. Executive leaders should remain responsible for the accuracy and completeness of the information filed on behalf of their organizations. Removing or diluting this accountability would undermine confidence in reported data and erode the integrity of the broader capital system.

Reatha Compton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Reatha Compton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency and accountability are important to keep fraud and abuse at bay. Americans deserve transparency. Do not change the rules to encourage abuse. 75 year old Texan here.

Rebecca Bates — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rebecca Bates Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 More transparency not less

---

Rebecca Calkins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Calkins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I would prefer quarterly reporting from the companies I have invested in. I like to be able to make determinations regarding trends sooner rather than later, and firmly believe that more data is better than less data. There is no compelling reason to change to a semi-annual reporting system, and to keep transparency and accountability, it should remain quarterly. Thank you.

Rebecca Calkins
Philadelphia

Rebecca Cornejo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rebecca Cornejo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep having every business present quarterly reports

Sent from my iPhone

Rebecca Crickard-Rosen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rebecca Crickard-Rosen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Relying on financial officials to keep us informed and better able to adjust finances we we get information quarterly versus every 6 months . Hard to trust anyone looking out for us these days when so much fraudulent activity is going on . Once again the non 1% is getting screwed

Sent from my iPhone

Rebecca Dnistran — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Dnistran Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We need transparency to make informed decisions with our hard earned assets

---

Rebecca Jolly — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Jolly Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Stay transparent.

Rebecca Koenig — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Koenig Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Regulation changes added in the 2008 market collapse. Only banks get bailouts. Stop attacking people's pensions and the everyday investors that you already enable the rich to make money off.

Rebecca L. — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rebecca L. Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is a BAD IDEA. What is the goal here? We demand transparency

Get Outlook for iOS

Rebecca Maxcy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Maxcy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not allow companies to hide information from the public by only reporting twice a year. If a company wants to be a questionable company let them be a pink penny stock. Do not allow that kind of questionable financials start playing a part in what should be more solid stocks. This would also devastate my financial future both with what I currently have invested in my portfolio as well as what I would be willing to invest ongoing.

Rebecca Romine — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Romine Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 These companies complete quarterly reporting with or without the SEC requiring the CEO's signature validating the reports. There is not one single logical reason to not require the CEO's to validate the accuracy of these reports - it's literally part their job. Submitting a signed report quarterly to the SEC takes their secretary or personal assistant a few minutes at best so there it virtually no expense to the company for doing this.
Holding them accountable with criminal punishment is a simple way to contain fraud and prevent financial disasters with potential rippling effects on individuals, other companies and the economy. There is no reason that CEO's of companies should not be held accountable and punished, like every citizen of this country.

Rebecca Spann — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Spann Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Do not eliminate quarterly stock reports.
thanks,
Rebecca Spann

Rebecca Vance — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Vance Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need more reports, more consequences for these kinds of people

---

Rebecca Whitelaw — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Whitelaw Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly reporting is the smallest reasonable request that can be made to ensure some external reporting occurs before taxes are levied
Most Americans are small investors and deserve to know what's happening They aren't ar the board meetings and country clubs and D C restaurants to get the scoop, they depend on quarterly reports to adjust their investments
Stop protecting companies at the expense of taxpayers unless you plan to use corporate tariffs to eliminate income and property and consumer taxes for all Americans and fully fund Social Securty and provide universal healthcare.

Regina C Mitchell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Regina C Mitchell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly reports. Stop messing with us.

Sent from my iPhone

Regina Topelson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Regina Topelson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Taking away this vital information from ordinary people would be very detrimental to their ability to be able to invest wisely and plan for the future. It would make them more reliant on "professionals" whose level of expertise is questionable.

Rena Waller — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment From: Rena Waller Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am against this plan for secrets in PUBLICLY Traded companies. If they didn’t want to share information, they shouldn’t have sold their company to Stockholders- the Owners of companies.

Be responsible- the darkness you seek isn’t for the betterment of our society!

Sent from my iPhone

Get Outlook for iOS

Rene Thornton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rene Thornton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Karene Thornton. It matters to me because I have money invested and am a American Citizen. Too many people trying to steal from hard tax paying workers and we have had enough. You are going to Bud-Light your selfish selves if you do this.

Renee Garcia — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Renee Garcia Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it like it is- Quarterly. Longer is not better. Please don't pass this. Bad business

Renee Kennison — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Renee Kennison Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need more transparency not less. If there's to be a change, it should be to monthly.

Renee Kennison, Business Owner

Renee Millar — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Renee Millar Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need to keep quarterly reporting. It is vital for even small investors like me to keep an idea of assets. How do you apply for a mortgage or loan without up to date financial information. Renee Millar

Sent from my iPad

Renee Robb-Cohen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Renee Robb-Cohen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm my opinion, it is too dangerous to go more than one quarter without reporting. We don't want to go back to the Robber Baron days, and reporting quarterly is safer for consumers and all honesty folk.

Kathy Renee Robb-Cohen
Retired

Renee Ruocco — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Renee Ruocco Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To whom it may concern,

I am writing to urge you to keep quarterly reporting requirements for businesses. Keeping quarterly reporting means fair investment opportunities. It is an issue of cheating the people or not cheating them. Don't cater to executives, institutional investors, and lawyers!

Doing away with quarterly reporting would also allow for rampant fraud to occur. What a disaster!

Please keep quarterly reporting.

Sincerely,
Renee Ruocco
Direct Support Professional

~ See the light in others, and treat them as if that is all you see. ~
-Wayne Dyer

Sent from Proton Mail for Android.

---

retired2023 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: retired2023 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Knowledge is important to keep your finances updated. Power to the people not corporations.

Rev. Donald Sensing Retired US Army Artillery Officer; retired ordained elder of the UMC — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rev. Donald Sensing I manage my wife's and my investments accounts. We are both retired. I have done very well in the results of my management. It is crucial that we continue to receive quarterly reports! Semi-annual decisions and rebalances forebode losing money, probably a lot. Please keep quarterly reports, thank you! Donald Sensing (Tennessee) Retired US Army Artillery officer, and Retired ordained elder of the United Methodist Church

---

Rex Feltenberger — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Rex Feltenberger Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why would you consider changing right now? Are you being pressured by different companies? Everything is working well for investors. Aren't you supposed to protect investors? Please keep quarterly reporting. I am Rex Feltenberger, retired Toolmaker, Kokomo IN 46901

Rhonda Hall — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rhonda Hall Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This change does NOT need to be made! We need quarterly reporting. Everyday investors will lose a lot of money. This is an unfair change to the regular people. Please keep the reporting on a quarterly schedule.

Rhonda Pfluger — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rhonda Pfluger Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Is a former business owner, I don't see how short term reporting would effect your planning. Rhonda Pfluger retired business owner

Sent from my iPhone

Rhonda Reisen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rhonda Reisen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reporting. My 'job title' is a retired Admin. Ass't. My husband and I are in our 70's who depend on Soc. Sec. Do Not roll back another system to make our lives harder.

Sent from my iPhone

Rhonda Welch — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rhonda Welch Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Rhonda W Retired This benefits the rich and the companies themselves. Too many opportunities for fraud between those intervals, plus allows the powers that be to take advantage of the average "Joe." Keep quarterly so we have a chance at doing better for our families.

Rhonda Welch — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rhonda Welch Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Rhonda W Retired This benefits the rich and the companies themselves. Too many opportunities for fraud between those intervals, plus allows the powers that be to take advantage of the average "Joe." Keep quarterly so we have a chance at doing better for our families.

Ricardo Salazar — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ricardo Salazar Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need transparency and that is done thru quarterly reporting by publicly traded corporations. I don't want to risk my retirement investments on delayed reporting.

Sincerely,

Ricardo Salazar
Occupational Therapist.

Sent from my iPhone

Ricardo Salazar — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ricardo Salazar Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need transparency and that is done thru quarterly reporting by publicly traded corporations. I don't want to risk my retirement investments on delayed reporting.

Sincerely,

Ricardo Salazar
Occupational Therapist.

Sent from my iPhone

Sent from my iPhone

Rich Chambers — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rich Chambers Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Going dark is as bad (and should be illeagle) as insider trading!!!

Rich Strid — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rich Strid Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Are you people nuts? Why would me make it easier for companies to not be truthful? This is America. We're not supposed to hide things, but since we got President Trump all of a sudden walls are put up and things are moved in front. Things are hidden and redacted and come on. Let's get back to America please

---

Richard Criqui — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Richard Criqui Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency is so important in establishing financial wellness of a Company, so financial statements, need to be kept at quarterly periods, and should not be changed to every 6 months. Financial statements and related disclosures provide comprehensive information about a company's economic activities, financial position, and performance. They enable investors, creditors, and other stakeholders to assess a business's health, evaluate risks, and make informed financial decisions. We need more transparency, not less. How many bankruptcies has Trump had? Six, so not surprised this move is under his watch. Just my 2 cents and freedom of speech. I rely on the Companies quarterly reporting to make investments and when to exist investments in public companies. Thank you.

Richard Criqui — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Richard Criqui Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency is so important in establishing financial wellness of a Company, so financial statements, need to be kept at quarterly periods, and should not be changed to every 6 months. Financial statements and related disclosures provide comprehensive information about a company's economic activities, financial position, and performance. They enable investors, creditors, and other stakeholders to assess a business's health, evaluate risks, and make informed financial decisions. We need more transparency, not less. How many bankruptcies has Trump had? Six, so not surprised this move is under his watch. Just my 2 cents and freedom of speech. I rely on the Companies quarterly reporting to make investments and when to exist investments in public companies. Thank you.

Richard Daley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Daley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We all know Wall Street and their campaign contributions command legislation. But, just this once, act in behalf of honesty and transparency.

Richard Krepps — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Richard Krepps Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Retain the Quarterly Report. This proposal must certainly be at the insistence of POTUS. Many of his efforts are to provide benefits, or protection for the millionaire class, with no consideration for those of lesser means.

Sent from my iPhone

Richard Ladrach — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Richard Ladrach Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To be air to all with investments, reporting should be kept quarterly and not swiched to six months.

Thank You
Richard Ladrach
4277 Boltz Orchard RD SW
Sugarcreek OH 44681
(330) 432 7274

Richard Metzger — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Richard Metzger Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is so important to have quarterly statements especially for us retired people. Being retired we rely on these reports to make sure that we can continue to live comfortably in this crazy world.

Richard Metzger
Versailles, KY

Sent from my iPhone

Richard Mosback — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Richard Mosback Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As a retail investor I consider myself as a part owner of each company that I own. The quarterly reports that I receive give me a regular look at the businesses that I own and help me to ensure that I can review the businesses to ensure that my investments are on track. I feel that this is something that helps to level the playing field slightly between myself and institutional investing.

Richard Mosback — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Richard Mosback To the Securities and Exchange Commission: As a retail investor I consider myself as a part owner of each company that I own. The quarterly reports that I receive give me a regular look at the businesses that I own and help me to ensure that I can review the businesses to ensure that my investments are on track. I feel that this is something that helps to level the playing field slightly between myself and institutional investing.

Richard Owens — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Richard Owens Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want quarterly's. Now and always.

Sent from my iPhone

Richard Prouse — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Prouse Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 With all the money flying around, pay someone to report monthly.

Please note new email address:
rwp306@icloud.com

Richard Randall — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Randall Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm Richard Randall, retired and rely on stable, predictive investments. Keep reporting at a quarterly level. With today's technology, huge changes can evolve on a weekly basis and shorter reporting ranges are needed for informed investing. That be said, it is really not a burden to actually report monthly with the computer apps generating honest actual reports.

Dick Randall

Richard Sponable — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Sponable Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please force the companies to mai tain their quarterly reporting to assure financial information is reported in a timely manner.

Richard. Weatherby — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Richard. Weatherby Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I need quartly reporting to invest my money.

Sent from my iPhone

Rick Danielowski — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rick Danielowski Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency matters.

Rick Evey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rick Evey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I feel quarterly reporting is critical to factual and truthful corporate reports.

Rick Evey

---

rick Linscott — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: rick Linscott Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Make the CEO,S file quarterly reports!They already made and take everyone else in the companys salary that they don't deserve so make them earn their money.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Rick Siegfried — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rick Siegfried Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING. You are just part of the fascist playbook. ALL you fascist MAGAts WILL be held accountable for your TREASON. Little fascist Pedo Donnie will not be around much longer to protect you. ALL you TRAITORS will spend time in prison, at the very least.

Rick Stidham — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rick Stidham Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Non-insiders need this information quarterly, not semi-annually. Moving to semi-annual reporting from quarterly is an obvious move to benefit insiders.
Rick Stidham
Software engineer, small business owner

Rick Tupper — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rick Tupper Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 SEC - Transparency is there to maintain integrity. Keep reporting as it is.

Rick Tupper — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rick Tupper Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 SEC - Transparency is there to maintain integrity. Keep reporting as it is.

---

rickchaloux — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: rickchaloux Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No fking way!

Riley Burgess — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Riley Burgess Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Ommitting transparancy is never a good or desirable action in a situation like this. Do the right thing and do not pass this change.
I am: Riley Burgess, PE. President of Woodbine Design, PC and prior to that president of Environmental Design PA I am trying to retire and stretch our financials through our retirement years. Do not allow this to have a negative affect on us.

Rita Collins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rita Collins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We the People - demand to be treated with respect !! KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING !!

Sent from Gmail Mobile

Rita Neill — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rita Neill Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We, the people, need to know all the info. That would be close to insider trading if we were in the dark for 6 months.
Rita Neill

Rita Sanford — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rita Sanford Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I believe the Securities and Exchange Commission has an obligation to continue to closely monitor investments quarterly.

Rita Sholders — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rita Sholders Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Does not need to be changed. Leave it alone!!

Sent from my iPhone

Rita Waughtel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rita Waughtel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Can’t afford to drive very far, gas costs too much. Can’t afford to buy the groceries for a full week at a time & I live alone. Can’t afford to eat out, went to McDonald’s last week and out of a $20 dollar bill I only had a couple of dollars left over. I’m 70 yrs old raised two kids alone, never felt this broke before. If social security goes, my IRA won’t last long, please don’t make it impossible to live! Rita Waughtel, retired

Sent from my iPhone

---

ritapepper65 — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: ritapepper65 Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY.!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!..!!!!!!!!!!!!¡! RiTAPEPPER,,RETIRED.....RAVENSWOOD, WV 26164

Sent from my Galaxy

Roadrunner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Roadrunner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Kelly. Teacher.

This is extremely important to everyone because you are messing with our finances. We are entitled to know exactly what it's happening with our money. Stop trying to hide!!

Rob Bigsby — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Rob Bigsby Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Robert Bigsby Network engineer (retired)
Enron Building 1400 Smith St, Houston
I was an EDS employee on the Enron contract who was directly affected by Ken Lay's (and others') shenanigans. I fully support the continuation of the status quo

---

Rob Carr — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rob Carr Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm old enough to remember when they switched from the old system to quarterly reporting with the responsible party's signature. I'm old enough to remember why this was done.

Do not switch to reporting every half year. The original reasons are good. My personal reason is, as a small investor, this puts me at a severe disadvantage.

Robert W. Carr
244 Tara Dr, Pittsburgh, PA 15236

Rob Draper — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rob Draper Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Just another scam to keep important information hidden. Totally opposed!

Sent from my iPhone

---

rob jackson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: rob jackson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want to be able to continue to monitor how my investments are being used by the companies in which I invest. Do not reduce the reporting as is being considered. Robert E Jackson, McKees Rocks, PA 15136

Robert Allen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Allen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 keep this quarterly the corporations are already stealing the public blind

---

Robert Bauer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Robert Bauer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Is it to the point that we are continuing to promote lies and deceit in EVERYTHING we do or are we going to take back the high road and do our best to make things more fair, honest and equitable

---

Robert Brimlow — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Robert Brimlow Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 People need to be held accountable, and loopholes need to be closed.

I'm a retiree, living in a fixed income. I struggle with medical insurance, dental costs, and simple cost of living, while executives and CEOs continuously find ways to profit from questionable practices that burden those at the bottom with financial strain.

I'm tired of paying more while profits continue to skyrocket for those at the top.

I'm held to account for every penny. I cannot "wiggle out" of my responsibilities, or claim ignorance, or blame a shortage on someone else. In my world, the buck stops with me. Period.

We should expect no less from those in charge.

Robert Browne/Patricia Browne — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Browne/Patricia Browne Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want to keep the reports quarterly! Why change it. We want to make sure we are kept up to date like we are now. Transparency is quite important to the average investor. P. Browne

---

robert call — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: robert call Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly and more quarterly how often could I say it

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Robert Corbie — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: No pass to corporate malfeasance From: Robert Corbie Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Robert Corbie..I'm retired...I reside in West Alabama ...Where do I start...what ever happened to the phrase "No one us above the law"....after Enron are we supposed to turn back the clock and allow wanton fraud to be executed by corporate leaders....who simply "Rob/fleece" the working class of their hard earned retirement funds and investments...are "we" gonna let bad history repeat itself. This is all inherently wrong ladies and gentlemen. I implore you to not let this "Atrocity" to occur again, this inherently affects the entire country and it's hard working people....Remember Enron. Thanking you for your attention to this matter....in Advance.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Robert Cramer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Cramer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a small investor and dependent upon my savings for retirement I want the most up to date viability I can get, please refrain from modifying the timelines to 6 months.. I vote no
Thank you for your consideration.

Best Regards
Robert Cramer
Adamstown MD 21710
Sent from my iPhone

Robert D Robbins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Robert D Robbins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Don’t change it keeps everybody honest

---

Robert Finnan — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Finnan Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop letting these people take advantage of us.

Robert Fleck — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Fleck Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My opinion is that we should keep quarterly reporting because it aligns with my meetings with my financial advisor who keeps me well informed to status of my investment portfolios.

Robert Forgey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Forgey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This proposal would cause significant harm investor's confidence. Please do not allow the proposal be enacted

Regards,

Bob

Robert Fornasiero — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Robert Fornasiero Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Reporting must be kept quarterly at a minimum. These regulations were put in place to protect the markets and investors, and they need to remain. There is no benefit to anyone other than those with dishonest and manipulative intent to reduce the requirements.

Bob Fornasiero
Technical Project Manager and Operations Professional Schenectady, NY
R.J.Fornasiero@gmail.com
(716) 531-5355
Robert (Bob) Fornasiero, PMP | LinkedIn

Robert Gonzales — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Gonzales Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Will look to foreign exchanges that have more integrity if they can be found. American capitalism represented by the american exchanges are as corrupt as much in avoiding a basic transparency and accountability. Welcome to the plutocracy where the rules are set not for all but for the few.

Robert Grove — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Robert Grove Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is not a smart move now. Do not change the reporting.

Robert Guzauskas — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Guzauskas Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it Quarterly, ...or better yet make it monthly with outside audits.

Robert Higbie — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Higbie Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The 6 month reporting wasn't working for the consumers, which is why it was shortened to 3 months.
How would going back to the old 6 month rule improve things for the consumers?? It would not!!!

From my cell phone.

Robert Hodge — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Hodge Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It's already hard enough to get accurate information from publicly traded companies. They should NOT get to have extra time to hide their actions from scrutiny. Quarterly reporting is necessary. There is no good reason for extending the reporting to semi annually! None!

Awareness is Key ~ Always at Choice ~ Increase the Peace

Robert~

Robert Keat Chandler — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Robert Keat Chandler Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting

---

Robert Lane — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Lane Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 You must keep SEC reporting of earnings QUARTERLY! No other way is acceptable to the private investor. A company could be nearly bankrupt in 6 months!

ROBERT LECHEVALLIER — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: ROBERT LECHEVALLIER Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I think companies should continue to report quarterly. In this fast moving economy much can happen in 90 days.

Robert LeChevallier
Retired Attorney
Lake Oswego, Oregon

Get Outlook for iOS

Robert Lugowe — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Robert Lugowe Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This is blatant corruption and needs to be stopped before you cause even more inflation and inequality in this country. Shame on even considering it.

Robert Martin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Martin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Moving to bi-annually is the wrong way to go. If anything, with today's software, reporting should be available in real time. Extending the reporting period simply provides more ways to manipulate the results. Do NOT make the reporting period longer - make it shorter, if anything.

Thank you,
Bob Martin

Sent from my iPad

Robert Michel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Michel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Robert Michel and I'm asking the SEC to stop this move to end the plan of changing the quarterly reports for businesses to a biannual report. In doing so would take us back in time rather than forward. That's why the SEC made the change to a quarterly report, to provide a better and more thorough approach for businesses. Going back would set our nation in a depression!
Sincerely,
Robert Michel

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Olmstead — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Robert Olmstead Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not reduce quarterly disclosures. More frequent reports help identify problems for investors. Semi-annual reports are not frequent enough.

ROBERT PICARD — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: ROBERT PICARD Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Stop the recklessness. Fraud is a major concern for Americans right now, only the corrupt would want to amplify that.

Robert Schifle — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Robert Schifle Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Robert Schifle, QA Eng. (retired), Cleveland OH
Keep the quarterly reporting requirement. We need more transparency and accountability, not less

---

Robert Schifle — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Robert Schifle Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Robert Schifle, QA Eng. (retired), Cleveland OH
Keep the quarterly reporting requirement. We need more transparency and accountability, not less

Best regards,

Bob

Robert Schmelter — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Robert Schmelter Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 WHY are you doing this??
Have you forgotten the Enron scandal??
Whoever is sponsoring this cut must be getting KICKBACK in some form or other!

Robert Spear — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Spear Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 They need to be regulated, it is criminal to give unethical people a green light to steal from people who invest their money to live a better life.

---

robert tripp — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: robert tripp Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No American wants this put a stop to it

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Robert Walker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Walker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Leave it alone and do not screw with it. Every time the government gets involved the people get screwed and then lose.

Robert Weeks — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robert Weeks Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I want easier access to records that are more up to date to make informed decisions on trading and keeping filings quarterly makes it more fair and accurate for everyone involved.

RJ Weeks

321 E. Prince St.
Beckley, WV 25801
(304) 7313919

Robert Wolff — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Robert Wolff Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly Reporting. YES. Enforce no insider trading by anyone in the Political Arena. And their family like CPA's and other professions require all that reporting. It must be stopped Robert Wolff Financial Advisor. Senior VP/ Investments. AI will likely be able to make this very simple. Have a Face Behind the Reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Young Motley Fool Community — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Young Semiannual reporting doubles the information gap between insiders and ordinary shareholders. That gap is where volatility, uncertainty, and mistrust will grow. Insiders will have a bigger chance to increase their investments by knowing exactly when to make investment changes between the reports, as an investor, our chances of making an appropriate and intelligent decision will now only occur twice a year. By then the damage is done if the company is given the chance to hiding the fact that they are struggling financially by only needing to publicly report their financials only every 6 months.

Roberta Freeman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Roberta Freeman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
KEEP IT QUARTERLY! Please!

Robi Hyman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Robi Hyman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We want quarterly reports to know how our money is being spent invested.

Sent from my iPhone

Robin Chernich — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robin Chernich Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The idea that the SEC would change reporting is so unfair. Insiders could sell shares to the public who are unaware of the problems because the company would not have to report. Does the SEC care about anybody who is not super rich. You protect the rich but not the average American. Do not change the reporting.

Robin Eisemann — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robin Eisemann Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP QUARTERLY REPORRING! I'm retired and can't take the hit! Also neither can the rest of us!

Robin Ellison — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Robin Ellison Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do monthly if it prevents FRAUD.
Make it harder to LIE and commit Fraud.

Not easier for anyone... treat everyone same... you break the LAW.. LOCK THEM UP...

DON'T change the LAW
ENFORCE IT.

Robin Machado — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robin Machado Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Robin Machado, businesses owner, consultant, in my tax business I deal with many people who deal with investments every year. In my farm I invest as well. Short term for some, other investments long term. Not to have quarterly reporting would be detrimental to planning, evaluating, and getting plans in place or change them. I find cutting out the quarterlies a cost saving debacle for the citizens who have investments. Robin Machado

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Robin Martinek — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robin Martinek Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly accounting makes businesses accountable. It needs to stay quarterly.

Sent from Robin's iPhone

Robin Roscillo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Robin Roscillo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
It is important for all investors to have the most information, and the most up to date information, to make intelligent decisions on their investments. If you take away quarterly disclosures, then you take away the vital information that investors need. Do not take that information away. Thank you.

Robin Youngblood — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Robin Youngblood Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Just NO! These CEOs make way more money than employees, for doing around the same amount of work. They need to sign every quarter.

Thank you ~
Robin Youngblood

"Cooperation over chaos, Law over lawlessness, peace over conflict…a practical strategy for the survival of humanity." - António Guterres, Secretary-General of the United Nations

Please join our Facebook groups:
U.S. Dance to Heal the Earth
WorldwideDrumCircle

Facebook pages:
Church of the Earth
Co-Creating the World We Want

"You never change things by fighting the existing reality.
To change something, build a new model that makes the existing model obsolete." - Buckminster Fuller

I acknowledge that I am on the territories of the S'kllalam, Strong Peoples, tribes. I am aware of the ongoing process of settler colonialism. I accept my responsibility to actively contribute to the support of Indigenous sovereignty and to foster a relationship of respect and understanding with the land that I now call home. I embrace the belief that Indigenous knowledge and practices are crucial in guiding us towards creating a sustainable and equitable society. I offer my gratitude and respect to the Peoples of these lands, past, present, and future.

Robyn Lydick — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robyn Lydick Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am a tiny business owner. I file quarterly taxes. I have no shareholders to answer to, but I'm investing in many companies that do answer to shareholders.

My investments are one way I'll be able to hand down my business rather than sell for a pittance. Quarterly filings matter to investors. Even the small ones.

The systems are in place and there is no substantial burden on the businesses.

Leave reporting quarterly.

RA Lydick, LMT

peace, robyn

Rocky Ritter — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rocky Ritter Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop Trump monkeying with money that is not yours to monkey with. Tend to the rules as they are written already

Sent from my iPad

Roderica Richards — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Roderica Richards Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not change the reporting keep it at the current amount at quarterly. Thank you

---

ROGER BURG — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: ROGER BURG Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No way, we deserve better information. Do want the billionaires running this any longer!

Get Outlook for Android

Rolland Scheels — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Rolland Scheels Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Relaxing the penalty for cheating, lying executives is NOT the way anyone with a brain regulates. Please consider the crimes thoroughly and enforce the current standards and sentences. Changing the past is not your job! Ensuring safe and ethical standards and holding cheats and liars accoutable is your job through reporting and review processes! Do it.

Rollin Tompkins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rollin Tompkins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To whom it may concern at the SEC:

We need more stringent oversight and controls, NOT fewer! Keep the quarterly reporting, please. Stop contributing to the ruination of our country and marginalized portions of our population.

Roman Zaharko — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Roman Zaharko Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not allow companies to hide their quarterly disclosures. This is not fair to investors. We need to know the financial strength of the companies where we e invested our money and also new investors need to know also. People will not blindly invest their hard earned money without the knowledge of the financial status of a company. We will not invest blindly.

Ron Humphries — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ron Humphries Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need transparency. 6 months would be a farce.

Ron Kimmel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Ron Kimmel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 QUARTERLY. Accountability. Everyone else working has DAILY Accountability. 🤔

Sent from my iPhone

Ron M — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ron M Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is unconstitutional to knowingly decieve people in order to break the law. Anyone suggesting or pushing for this to happen should be sued. Our rights and freedoms are NOT ANYONES to take, especially through ideaology and cults

Sent from my iPhone

Ron Martin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Ron Martin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I'm a retired library assistant from the Fresno County Library, and we should take the passing of Federal Reserve Chair Greenspan as a reminder that banks and corporations need supervision by "the adults in the room," and keep the reporting requirements and penalties in place and secure. The corporate leaders are focusing on their bottom lines; we need regulators focusing on the common good.

Ron Morris — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ron Morris Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Make it MONTHLY, the first of every month. That would give voting stockholders the means for ousting the CEO earlier.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Ron Polochak — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Ron Polochak Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Totally crooked,dishonest, no morales, conman. Your greed will be paid for in your demise.

Sent from my Galaxy

Ron Scott — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ron Scott Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quit trying to hide your lies and misdeeds. Too many corporations have already caused suffering and pain for the American people. Stay transparent or be publicly marked as an enemy of the people. We will find out!

Ron Shelby — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ron Shelby Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting allows small investors like me to keep an eye on stocks/companies I own. Please don't go to every 6 months. A LOT can happen in a 6 month period, and its the small guys like myself who will be among the last to know without quarterly reporting. The big guys with better information sources will take full advantage of our lack of information. That's bad. That's also NOT an efficient market.
Ron Shelby
Marietta GA

This email has been scanned for email related threats and delivered safely by Mimecast.
For more information please visit http://www.mimecast.com

Ron Shelby — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ron Shelby Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting allows small investors like me to keep an eye on stocks/companies I own. Please don't go to every 6 months. A LOT can happen in a 6 month period, and its the small guys like myself who will be among the last to know without quarterly reporting. The big guys with better information sources will take full advantage of our lack of information. That's bad. That's also NOT an efficient market.

Ron Wendth — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ron Wendth Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Ron Wendth, retired, investor. As retail investors we're already way behind the "big boys". Reporting half as often will just put us further behind. There will come a point where retail investors will simply pull their money from the market. It won't be worth our time/money. I wonder what effect that will have on the market.

Ronald Baum — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ronald Baum Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It’s NOT broke. It doesn’t need to be fixed

Sent from my iPhone

Ronald Cope — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ronald Cope Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not implement this rule change. Less transparency would leave retail traders at a disadvantage. This matters to me as I trade stocks on a regular basis. Ron Cope, Logistics Specialist

---

Ronald Leckfor — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ronald Leckfor Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reports build confidence that investments are being properly managed and the fiduciary responsibility is being fulfilled. If a longer period takes effect, there will be a sell off by a significant percentage of investors who will withdraw from the stock market. Don’t think it cannot happen. It can!

Regards,
Ronald J. Leckfor
KE8TNW
Questions? Call 330 509 3474 leave a voicemail, and I will return your call.

I no longer directly answer calls unless the caller ID is recognized in my address book, thanks to the high volume of Caller ID spoofed, spam & phishing calls I receive, so I make sure all they receive is voicemail, that is never returned.

Only people with legitimate reasons to speak with me get a return call. Thank you for your understanding with this protocol.

RONALD POWELL — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: RONALD POWELL Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Ronald L Powell
Retired Mechanical Engineer
June 22, 2026
Dear SEC, Please do not change the current quarterly reporting of financial information to the public. There is already way too much distrust of corporations, their officers and government officials using inside information to enrich themselves at the expense of the ordinary investor. Transparency is necessary to maintain trust in our financial system, as well as being the right thing to do. Thanks, Ronald L Powell

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Rosalinda Pedraza — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rosalinda Pedraza Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: I Don't want Updates on my stocks hidden.People have the Right to know how The Market is Doing In Case of Any Volatile Issues.

Rosanne Kohler — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rosanne Kohler Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: why is this proposal even on the table ? The SEC needs to protect investors with legitimate oversight of corporations & companies that sell stocks to investors. Historically, bad practices by companies has led to why the SEC was formed to enforce proper reporting. I think quarterly reporting is required & necessary even more now than in the 1940s - 1990s - just look at happened at Enron! And today's world attitude requires even more auditing & policing of legitimate financial reporting!
SAVE QUARTERLY REPORTING TO PROTECT INVESTORS!

Rose Marie — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Rose Marie Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep transparency out in the open.

Sent from my iPhone

RoseMaria Root — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: RoseMaria Root Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is ILLEGAL AND IMMORAL!!!! And Extremely corrupt.

Rosemarie Cook — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Rosemarie Cook Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am a proud subscriber to Washington State's Snohomish County PUD. They blew the whistle on the corruption of Enron. Please do not let what they did go to waste. It helps me to have faith in government's involvement in business.

I am Rosemarie Dicksoncook
3328 Oakes Ave., Apt. 2
Everett, WA 98201-4410
425- 252- 8405
rdicksoncook@frontier.com

ROSEMARIE SEGARIA — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: ROSEMARIE SEGARIA Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Rosemarie C Segaria Retired Registered Nurse . Keep these reports quarterly! The only reason to change this is so the executives can embezzlement freely. F rump and his cronies can manipulate the stock market even more than they already have done.

Rosie Borja Villanueva — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rosie Borja Villanueva Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: I worked in the Oil and Gas industry during the Enron fall. It gutted hundreds of us in the industry, turning shares of $90+ stock into less than a dollar per share. So many of us lost our life savings, through no fault of our own and we watched our older friends — previously near millionaires struggle to realize that their life savings had disintegrated in nothing. This was a travesty and a disaster for many of us due to the lack of reporting that would have highlighted the downfall of ALL related Oil and Gas stocks. Please, please keep this safeguard in place and let's hold those earning the big dollars and managing big companies (and all companies) to be guardians of their peoples wealth. This is one small step to keep responsibility where it belongs — especially with those high executive salaries. The simple quarterly reporting should remain a critical, albeit a very small and critical duty of the head executive.
Signed: Rosie Borja Villanueva, Marketing Negotiator, at a Natural Gas Pipeline — previously of El Paso Natural Gas Company.

Ross Wieringa — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ross Wieringa Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting provides more transparency and should be retained

Sent from my iPhone

Rovert Williams — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rovert Williams Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
The whole point of the US securities market is transparency. This would increases volatility around bi-annual reporting days as less release valves are available. This is a bad idea across the board. When the fallout comes from unrealized information people will wonder why this keeps happening, that is why quarterly reporting is vital.
Institutional investors and retail are for transparency and quarterly reporting, it just makes everything better for an orderly market.

Roxana Upton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Roxana Upton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This would be another disaster in a very long string of disasters.

Sent from my iPhone

Roxanne Miller — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Roxanne Miller Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep this reporting quarterly...NOW MORE THAN EVER BEFORE THIS IS VERY IMPORTANT ..TO PREVENT FRAUD OR CRIMINAL ACTIVITY THANK YOU Roxy Miller RN PCB FL.

Roy Katz — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Roy Katz Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep the reporting for public companies Quarterly!! It really does matter! A lot can happen in 6 months and this seem very unfair especially for us older people! Please don’t change this great and working system for many decades…..if you do do many of my investor friends will just go to all bonds and that would be boring and a shame!

Roz Cheerios — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Roz Cheerios Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As a retail, I rely on quarterly reports to make decisions about my investments and retirement savings. With most of my life savings in stocks, it is critical for myself, as well as my brokers to have access to this information. I do not think the potential benefits of this will be realized by retail stakeholders. I do see the administrative burden on maintaining filings and therefore suggest maybe having a threshold for companies with smaller revenue to report semi annually.

---

rpeabody — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: rpeabody Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep companies reporting their earnings every 3 months. Thats the only fair thing to do. Don't add to Donald Trump's crimes. It ain't broke, don't "fix" it.

Sent from my Galaxy

RT Kramer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: RT Kramer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please don't do this. It reaks of non-transparency, potential for dishonesty, insider trading, racketeering and theft.
All the reasons quarterly was implemented continue to exist if bi- annually is reinacted!
R Kramer

Retired-Active

---

rtggap industries — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: rtggap industries Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stop the fraud from this administration

---

Rubye Braye — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Fw: S7-2026-15 comment From: Rubye Braye Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep quarterly reports. This information offers a way to stay informed of success and failure, allowing for reasoned decisions to increase or decrease a position. Ignorance is the key reason for inaction to prevent avoidable losses.

Rubye Braye, investor
Sent from Yahoo Mail for iPhone

Russel Workman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Russel Workman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is vital for retail investors. Keep the quarterly reports.

Russel Workman
Tennessee.

Get Outlook for iOS

Russell Roman The Motley Fool Community — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Russell Roman I am against the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC)'s proposed rule S7-2026-15. - Quarterly reporting protects individual investors. Semiannual reporting doubles the information gap between insiders and ordinary shareholders. That gap is where volatility, uncertainty, and mistrust grow. - The short-termism diagnosis doesn't justify this remedy. Research from the CFA Institute, which studied this exact maneuver in the U.K. market, shows that reporting frequency has no measurable effect on corporate investment behavior. The SEC is accepting a real cost – less transparency for individual investors – for a benefit that the evidence says simply won't materialize. - The companies most likely to opt out are the ones where oversight matters most. Smaller, less-covered businesses operate with less scrutiny. Reducing their reporting requirements makes them harder to monitor, not easier to own. - This is the wrong direction. Reg FD moved toward a more level playing field. This proposal moves away from it. Regards, Russell Roman

---

Ruth Atterberry — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ruth Atterberry Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly is working. Don’t mess with it!

Sent from my iPhone

Ruth Hoskins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ruth Hoskins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am not in favor of this change which would allow public companies to hide vital information which investors - large and small - use in making investment decisions. Please think about what's in the best interest of everyone - not just the millionaires and billionaires who run this country now.

Ruth Lampi — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ruth Lampi Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I request that you do NOT change the rules about companies' reporting requirements. This information is critical for investors to make sound decisions about investments. Changing the rules will create a disadvantage for small or individual investors. Many of us have vital retirement savings and need current, regular information on those companies.

Ruth Murphree — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ruth Murphree Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Ruth Diane Murphree and I spent 36 years with a telecommunication company. I remember when the SEC allowed ENRON, and others to take advantage of no or incorrect reporting. If changed it will be seen as another example of the small investor being ignored while the top 1% continue to walk over us all.

RUTH PLOOF — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: RUTH PLOOF Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To SEC: The accountability should be increased not decreased. Please keep CEOs and CFOs accountable at least four times a year. The probability of devastation they have inflicted on innocent lives in the past retuning is in your hands. Sincerely hoping that you do the right thing. Ruth Ploof
Ploof.r@gmail.com

Sent from my iPhone

Ruth Urbanc — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ruth Urbanc Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Dear [Name],

I would like to keep our meetings on a quarterly basis. As I am retired and dependent on my investments, I feel that six months is too long to go without a review, as too much can change regarding accountability in that timeframe.

Best regards,

Ruth Urbanc

Ruth Wright — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ruth Wright Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I rely on quarterly information to make my decisions on my small business. More chance for fraud if it goes to six months reporting, a chance for too much cheating keep the three months

---

RUTHANN RICHARDS — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: RUTHANN RICHARDS Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Insideres already have inside info, why would we want to give them the option to operate any further in the dark...NO, business as usual, quarterly reports, no back room, dark room dealing.

RuthAnn Richards
Raretailor Custom design by appointment only

5036731916

Ryan Ganimian — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Ryan Ganimian Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is absolutely insane! Enough handouts to corporations. John Q Citizen has nothing left for himself the corporations everything. There is no reason to end quarterly reports. It’s a solid business practice and keeps things somewhat on the level for investors. The gimme's to corporations are already asinine.

Sincerely,
Ryan T Ganimian
Student
Los Angeles, CA

Sent from my iPhone

Ryan Honeycutt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Ryan Honeycutt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Enron was a theft from individuals controlled and bribed and blackmailed because odd their actions with children via Epstein who was proven to be mossad because odd the Epstein files, the Epstein files even proceed he was not dead and that the body double had a prostate when a doctor in the files asked if he did not have a prostate and he conformed he did not and thats why he needed viagra. None of the Epstein files were released during the 9/11 timeline because it would've proven what we are doing now will lead to more theft and destruction. Enron was the largest theft in American history where all checks and balances in the political, judicial, and private sector were compromised. Enron investigation was being finalized 9/11 and ALL of the buildings destroyed that day had redundant evidence for the investigation even in the pentagon (this is according to Dr. Rock ex- CIA & FBI during the Bush admin) . There were Israelis caught and photographed cheering the destruction of the twin towers. Its safe to assume that their political hold through black mail, rituals, and money is the fuel fanning this flames of obliteration policy. This is clearly fiscal warfare and theft and to promote this any further is treasonous and the officials should be handled as such persons.

Ryan May — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Ryan May Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need more access, education and information! Not less! If our politicians keep voting against our best interests I can't imagine they'll be sitting politicians much longer 😉

Ryan W May · USAF Veteran
2x Salesforce Certified Full Stack Developer
Cobham Tech
https://www.dot.cards/ryanmay

Ryan Smith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Ryan Smith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Ryan Smith warehouse Lead
McMinnville, OR 97128
We must keep the quarterly signings. This Keeps the Corps, responsible for there actions and is required moraly.

Cheers!,

Ryan Smith

Sent from Proton Mail for Android.

S Fisher — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: S Fisher Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
It's illeagal now to hide info for any reason- don't start now!!!

---

s giese — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: s giese Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I already have to fight to get proper clear information. stop the graft and make it clear

---

s james arima — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: s james arima Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Though old and financially challenged, the protection of the public mass remains important for the USA future and the wellbeing of its general population. Transparency is a must.

Sent from my iPhone

S Lake — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: S Lake Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stephen OToole, retired, Texas. One of my primary assets is my investment account. I want to continue to be certain that if overpaid CEO's and CFO's commit fraud they are held accountable. I believe frequent signatures on the accuracy of the financial statements helps ensure corporate executive's are honest and retirement investments are safe.

S Lawler — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: S Lawler Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I OPPOSE the reduction from quarterly to every 6 months as proposed in this rule change because it is perilous and directly harms retail investors like me.
WHY? Such a change seriously dilutes key transparency triggers for timely identification of fraudulent activity and dilutes penalty incentives for key individuals to adhere to any meaningful laws and or regulations, thereby unnecessarily placing at great risk and in serious jeopardy the dollars I have earned and invested in the stock market.
The global stock market is unwieldy and ripe for mismanagement so don't swing the door wide open and beg white collar criminals to steal what does not lawfully belong to them. As it is, Wall Street already functions with far too much power, access and influence and wants myself and peer retail investors to have as little information as possible about their respective public companies so retail investors such as myself have no method for performing any realistic due diligence about a public company's financial status.

---

s murphy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: s murphy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 STOP THE CORRUPTION, DO YOUR JOB, QUARTERLY REPORTING BEARLY GIVES US THE PICTURE BUT AT LEAST ITS SOMETHING!

S Ware — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: S Ware Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We investors have trusted and relied on the procedure of quarterly reports for untold number of years. The transparency is needed and expected. This moves says there's something to hide from investors. Why do it

---

S Ware — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: S Ware Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We investors have trusted and relied on the procedure of quarterly reports for untold number of years. The transparency is needed and expected. This moves says there's something to hide from investors. Why do it? Please dont.

S. T. — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: S. T. Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the CEOs honest and accurate.

Sent from my iPhone

Sabrina R. — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sabrina R. KEEP IT QUARTERLY! If not it will easily make way for corruption and breed fraud. Why would a company a ceo need to hide things for six months? Or any amount of time? KEEP IT QUARTERLY! Integrity, honesty, openness is key and needed for a healthy economy and stock market. The people investing need to be made aware of what’s going on and it should be quarterly NOT twice a year.

Salli Jo — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Salli Jo Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am a retired small-business owner. Quarterly reporting means greater accountability in business.

Sally Myhr — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sally Myhr Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Transparency in financial dealings is necessary in order to protect consumers from unethical behavior of financial institutions. More openness is needed and quarterly reporting is crucial.

Sam — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sam Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Ya gotta look or you'll never see!

Sam Carter — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sam Carter Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It is unfathomable that such an irresponsible action is even being considered. The requirement for quarterly reporting was put in place to address transparency issues that hid fraudulent activities. As a long term member of the financial community, I can attest to m ongoing transparency needs. If anything, requirements should be strengthened! With modern financial systems, quarterly reporting imposes little burden, and eliminating it opens the door to financial mischief. Protect investors by keeping quarterly reporting in place!

Samuel R. Carter, Jr. PhD

Sent from my iPhone

SAMANTHA ANGELOS — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: SAMANTHA ANGELOS Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not hide information from th public. You work for the people of the USA not cooperations. We have the right to know , please do not take any information from we the people.

Samuel Bergus N/A — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Samuel Bergus While I understand the reason behind this proposal, and I agree with the goal to reduce short-term trading and increase long-term investing, I do not believe this proposal is the correct approach. The majority of trading occurring in the markets is driven by large banks and investing firms, which do not depend on earning reports to make their decisions. With the large amount of information available, and much of it of questionable quality, quarterly results represents an amazing source of verified information for retail investors. Instead of causing a positive benefit to the markets, this proposal would decrease the amount of information available to retail investors, which would only put them at a larger disadvantage compared to the large banks and investment firms. I oppose the proposal to eliminate the requirement for quarterly reporting, and I hope to see it not advance any further.

Sanaa Hafiz — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sanaa Hafiz Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the Reporting quarterly

Sent from my iPhone

Sandi Lieb — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandi Lieb Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Sandi Lieb, PhD UF Faculty retired. Retirement & investments in the market. Quartly reports essential.

Sandi Neumaier — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sandi Neumaier Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My opinion is that it is imperative to shed light where corruption and deceit lives and grows.. Accountability ! Keep SEC quarterly. Sandra Neumaier retired. I do not want my investments "stolen" to the benefit of the greedy and well connected. Do not take away the light that helps do that and ensures I will have my investments to live a decent life.

Sandra B — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra B Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why make it easier for CEOs to commit fraud? You should be tightening restrictions on big corp. Perhaps there is personal wealth YOU gain by this rule change? As a former paralegal, I clogged through thousands of quarterly reports looking for 'errors' by lazy, neglected, and corrupt CEOs. You MUST do your job and keep the reports quarterly and make it a little harder for corruption to slither in. Thank you.

Sandra Cain — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sandra Cain Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am writing in response to the proposed Rule S7-2026-15 eliminating quarterly reports. I rely on the current detailed information inquiry reports to make decisions about my investments and my retirement savings. Without these quarterly reports, companies can hide vital information from common investors like myself.
I need accurate and timely information to make informed decisions on my investments I don't have the same resources or contacts to get information like institutional investors do. I rely on the quarterly reporting. Without these timely reports, I wouldn't know that problems exist for months after. As ilsn independent investor I need transparency so I will be aware of problems developing before they have 6 months to grow into a bigger loss for me.
Other countries that have gone to semi-annual reporting have not had good results over time and some are reconsidering that decision. Please do not take this action to eliminate the quarterly reporting. Thank you.

---

sandra celli — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: sandra celli Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 There is no GOOD reasoning to change it!

Sent from my iPhone

---

sandra celli — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: sandra celli Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We are giving the hyper rich so many tax cuts, so many shortcuts to screwing over the system, it is so wrong in so many places and you want to create another place? Please…enough

Sent from my iPhone

Sandra Cooper — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sandra Cooper Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Sam Bankman-Fried showed us how easy it is to elude rules meant to protect people from others greed. This proposal is bad for investors. There's already too much of insiders using information that's not available to the public. The quarterly reports have stood the test of time. Keep them quarterly.

Sandra Faircloth — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra Faircloth Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 How many times do we need to see grifters take advantage and ripoff the very people that they are supposed to represent? I think quarterly is the minimum in the times we are facing.

Sent from my iPhone

Sandra Jolly — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sandra Jolly Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am a retired American and I rely on the honesty and integrity of the financial system to keep me alive ! When I can no longer trust the system to be honest with me, how can I maintain my faith in the American government and all of the promises it has made to me. Keep the quarterly reports and make the CEO's SIGN THEM personally and take personal responsibility!!!
Thank you, Sandra H Jolly of Port St Lucie FL

Sandra Kaptain — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sandra Kaptain Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We need quarterly reports!

Sandra Karlic — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra Karlic Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep it the way it is, quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone
CONFIDENTIALITY NOTICE: This e-mail, and any attachments, are intended solely for the use of the intended recipient and may contain information that is confidential, proprietary, copyrighted and/or legally privileged. Any unauthorized disclosure, distribution, or use of this information is prohibited. If you are not the intended recipient, and have received this message in error, please notify the sender immediately by reply e-mail and destroy all copies of the original message and any attachments. Your compliance is appreciated

---

Sandra Kirk — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra Kirk Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Dont do it! Keep it qtrly!
Sandra K,
Admin Assist III

Sandra Massey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sandra Massey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 As a retail investor with less than $100,000 in investments, I can't afford for my investments to decrease by half or more just because I don't have access to information that can help me increase my money. I need the mandatory quarterly reporting.

Sandra Massey
Microscope Service Engineer
Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri & UP Michigan
c: (217)972-5604
sandra@micro-resource.com

Main Office/Shipping Address:
PO Box 64
302 South Park Dr.
Monticello, IN 47960
Phone: (217)972-5604

Sandra OBrien — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra OBrien Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I depend on quarterly filings to make decisions about my investments. Insiders will have the information and by the time it is reported semiannually it will be too late for me to make timely decisions for my retirement investments. Sandra OBrien, retail investor.

Sandra Publicover — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra Publicover Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 S Publicover , near retirement. My retirement plans are invested in many diversified companies and plans. I can't afford to lose large amounts of my investments. KEEP REPORTING QUARTERLY. Big business has enough breaks. Give the hard working people of America a chance to enjoy their retirement and make the most of their daily life.

Sent from my iPhone

Sandra Quinn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sandra Quinn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The market changes often. I prefer quarterly reports to better follow investments to monitor the outcomes of my projections.

Sandra Revert — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sandra Revert Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This ruling would make the average investor unable to make good decisions. You would handicap their ability to choose freely on reliable reporting. I believe only the very rich and big business would benefit from such a rule. Hindering the free market.

---

sandra robinson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: sandra robinson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Who is running the SEC, and how much insider trading have they done?? SEEMS THEY WANT LESS ACCOUNTABILITY? WHAT IS GOING ON? THIS IS THE DUMBEST IDEA I HAVE WVER HEARD! SOMEONE IS MAKING MONEY OFF THIS😡🇺🇸

Sent from my iPhone

Sandra Suhajda — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sandra Suhajda Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Too much power and oversight by the administration. It is my money and my right to use it the way I want. I worked for it, NOT YOU!! I still have rights. Not many because you people are trying to take all my rights away. You have already misused so much of our money by allowing insider trading. The United States won't be able to sustain you without We the People. We will Prevail!!!

Sandy Crippen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandy Crippen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Do not stop reporting. Start reporting More than you already do.

SANDY CURRY — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: SANDY CURRY Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY

Sent from my iPhone

SANDY CURRY — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: SANDY CURRY Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly

Sent from my iPhone

---

sandy goncarovs — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: sandy goncarovs Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This breaks open the door to corruption on a huge scale. It cannot be allowed to go forward.

Sent from my iPhone

Sandy Haddad — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandy Haddad Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Sandy. I'm a Medical Technologist.

Please continue to require quarterly SEC reporting. I'd prefer more frequent reporting (monthly) rather than less frequent.

Thank you,

Sandy

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Sandy Kennedy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sandy Kennedy Retired from a Sales Operations executive position at a San Fran tech company. Quarterly oversight is absolutely critical - accountability to shareholders at that interval is reasonable and (having provided quarterly reporting for 3+ decades) ensures all within the organization recognize the seriousness.

Sandy Kramer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sandy Kramer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Leave the reporting as is. Changing it makes corruption too easy

Sent from my iPad

Sandy Rice — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandy Rice Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Dr. Sandra Rice and I am an educator. In my opinion, quarterly reporting is important value to the integrity of our investments. Quarterly reporting provides accountability to companies to those who have stock and it is imperative to our financial system's sustainability to continue as is. Thank you for listening.

Sandra Rice

Sara Normandin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sara Normandin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Sara Normamdin Colorado. Not that your cronyism cares, but there are those of us out here tired of seeing white collar criminals get a slap while the weed smoker gets 20-life

Sent from my iPhone

Sarah Brown — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sarah Brown Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I like quarterly reporting and would like it to stay that way.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Sarah Frazer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sarah Frazer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 In this data processing age, it should be monthly. Bi-annually; bull ****!

Sarah Green — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sarah Green Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I prefer to have quarterly reports instead twice a year. helps me know what is happening with MY investments.

Sarah Hixson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sarah Hixson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Sarah R. Hixson. I am a licensed clinical social worjer with investments. I want to know quarterly, at the very least how companies are doing. It will help catch fraud earlier and help me know if I need to re balance my investments. I am completely opposed to dropping the quarterly report requirement. Thank you.

Sarah Jimenez Rodriquez — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sarah Jimenez Rodriquez Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We have worked harder than most for our money. Nowadays the dollar is not even buying what it used to. Plz keep our money where it will count the most. A senior citizen here of 84 on a fixed income now

---

Sarah P — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sarah P Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Sarah, teacher. This information affects my retirement.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

---

sarah smith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: sarah smith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly is the ONLY transparent way to No less!! More if you can stand it. How about monthly? How about that? Keep it simple. Quarterly, nothing less!!
Sincerely
Sarah Bridge Smith
Preschool teacher of 30 years
Need to retire soon and won't take anything less than I have earned.

Sent from my iPhone

Sarah Whitehead — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sarah Whitehead Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Less reporting leads to a greater likelihood of fraud. Let's keep it honest and keep reporting as before.

Sarah Yarbrough — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sarah Yarbrough Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: I am with Vanguard...a handicapped 84 year old widow. I have owned five businesses and for savings I am an individual long term inverstor. I make pretty good money at it, the whole purpose of the market is to encourage people to invest GOOD FOR BUSINESS, GOOD FOR INVESTORS...I have been putting money in the Stock Market since 1960 when I used to take my lunch money down to a dealer and invest in stocks like Delta. I have spent a huge amount of money learning and understanding the market. I really do not understand exactly what this is, but I do not want to give my meager amount of money and pay other people to make my investments. I love Vanguard...they allow me to be just a simple investor.

Saundra Finley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Saundra Finley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Really do y'all really think people will continue to buy stock if you pull something like this it's Not in your best interest or let's just say in the long run it's not gonna benefit you.

I wouldn't do this, play the tape to the end give people more credit. This is gonna hurt you in the long run.

Savanna Seel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Savanna Seel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Transparency is responsible and essential. More information is better to make educated decisions. Do the right thing

---

Scoop Marchand — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Scoop Marchand Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Like 1/4*LY

Sent from my iPad

Scot Hagen — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Scot Hagen Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 In the history of this country less regulation has proven to let immoral people flourish.
Keep the law as it is.

SCOTT ARNOLD — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: SCOTT ARNOLD Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is critically importantl for average American's to understand what is going on with their investments. DO NO REDUCE THE NUMBER OF REQUIRED REPORTING CYCLES.

Scott Arnold — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Scott Arnold Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is critically important for average American's to understand what is going on with their investments. DO NOT REDUCE THE NUMBER OF REQUIRED REPORTING CYCLES.

---

scott ewer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: scott ewer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 the torches and pitchforks are being accumulated. Greed is good!! Until it is isn't

---

Scott Gurvey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Scott Gurvey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am a retired business reporter and an individual investor. I want more information. Not less. Keep the quarterly reporting rule.

Harold Scott Gurvey

Scott Plutchok — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Scott Plutchok Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reports.

Kind regards,

Scott

Scott Richmond — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scott Richmond I agree with The Motley Fool Community that reduced requirements for reporting will damage the investing communities ability to reasonably track the health of publicly held companies. Six months is far too long especially in the digital age and with the benefit of AI report generation. I hope the SEC will not take this action and will maintain a quarterly requirement.

Scott Rideout — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Scott Rideout Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep quarterly reports required. This is critical to our well functioning financial market.

Scott Rideout

Sent from my iPhone

Scott Sticklin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Scott Sticklin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I put myself in the shoes of William O. Douglas for just a moment and the answer I got was “It’s preposterous this proposal is even being considered”.

Sent from my iPhone

Scott Wilmore — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Scott Wilmore Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The economy is of tantamount importance to the world. So is NATO.
What cocamamy idiot decides to turn his back upon a mighty organization just to con his own into becoming another fascist dictator wanna be anyhow?

Please don't blame America, it's the head jerk off who ruined it for everybody.
Just another fanatic trying to incinerate the world....
Got a cigarette?

Scott Wilmore — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Scott Wilmore Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The economy is of tantamount importance to the world.

Scott Wilson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Scott Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Cutting the SEC required reporting requirement from quarterly to biannually is just more corruption from this lawless administration. Keep it the way it is.
Scott Wilson
15-2722 Kahala St
Pahoa, HI 96778

Scott Zabik — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Scott Zabik Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Scott Zabik
Retired Pharmaceutical Industry

I think quarterly reports are important to minimize the amount of information gaps that will occur if it goes to semi-annual. This is important since my IRA portfolio is dependent on this information.

Sent from my iPhone

Seamus Pender — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Seamus Pender Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep It Quarterly!

Sean Boyer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sean Boyer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No more favoring billionaires over the common person. Quarterly reporting keeps these corporations, at least, marginally honest. Doing away with quarterly reporting is yet another form of handout placing corporations, CEOs, and billionaires in a separate and unequal class .

Sean Ross — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sean Ross Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This decision reeks of protecting wrongdoers. Logically the only reason the stop quarterly reporting is to obfuscate and hide things one would want hidden for malintent. This is wrong. Do not stop quarterly earnings reports!!!

Seanna Mendez — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Seanna Mendez Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
By not sharing accurate investment news on a regular basis, you are closing the door to potential investors. Losses will cause lack of trust. Why cut your own throats?

Serena Chow — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Serena Chow Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Company performance transparency, is never a bad thing. Quarterly reporting enables the average American to keep tabs on their investments and offers accountability for corporate actions. Serena Chow Independent Marketing Executive.

Sha R — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sha R Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Let them do it while all investors withdraw their monies and keep it under their matt resses.

Shain K — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shain K Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Hi my name is Shain I'm a nurse and investor and I need quarterly reporting! It is my main window into the investments which take care of many of my childcare expenses in this current economy. It is so important for me to have that continued knowledge so I can continue my work in healthcare and make sound investment decisions.

Thank you for your consideration,
Shain

Shana Fasick — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Shana Fasick Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not allow this horrible idea to go forward.

Shane Erickson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Shane Erickson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Make it fair for everyone one or abolish it report every 3 months giving them the upper hand is what they already have don't give them more

---

Shannon Abernathy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shannon Abernathy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is necessary for any investor. This seems like one more destruction of our right to know what we're investing in. This will no doubt pull money from the market. People who invest rely on quarterly reporting to make investment decisions. Removing the ability to monitor your investments in a timely manner will remove the ability to respond to market changes.

Thank you,

Shannon Abernathy

Sent from my Galaxy

Shannon McLendon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Shannon McLendon Quarterly reporting is one of the most important protections I have as an individual investor. Moving to semiannual reporting doubles the information gap between company insiders and me — and that gap is where volatility, uncertainty, and mistrust grow. The justification for this change is that quarterly reporting encourages short-termism. The evidence doesn't support it. The CFA Institute studied this precise intervention in the U.K. market and found no measurable effect on corporate investment behavior. The SEC would be accepting a real, certain cost — less transparency for investors like me — for a benefit the research says won't materialize. The companies most likely to opt out are also the ones where oversight matters most. Smaller, less-covered issuers already operate with limited analyst attention. Less frequent disclosure doesn't make them easier to own — it makes them harder for me to monitor. This proposal moves in the wrong direction. Regulation FD was a meaningful step toward leveling the playing field between institutional investors and people like me. This rule reverses that progress. The Commission should not adopt it.

Sharlyn Sawyer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sharlyn Sawyer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To Whom it may Concern,
Please keep the Quarterly Report regulations in place. There are enough shennanegins going on with these corporate entities already. Don't give them 6 months to pull off the backroom deals.
Thank you.

Charlin Sawyer
Concerned Investor

---

sharon bozek — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: sharon bozek Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I think timely information is crucial and that it's ridiculous and wrong to eliminate or hide that information from investors.

Sharon Burton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sharon Burton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting is necessary to TRY to keep corporations on the up and up. There has been too much proof in the past that, left to their own devices, many are less than honest. Protect the public from those that are more than willing to cheat and lie.

S. Burton
Concerned Citizen, Mother, Grandmother, Retired Teacher
Michigan Resident

Sharon Floyd — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Floyd Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep It Quarterly .. Retired ..I am in support for the one's who did not see this or if I decide to go back to work p/t... .Sharon F.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Sharon Jors — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Jors Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I hereby request that you keep the quarterly reporting for obvious reasons as you are already aware of. I sure hope the SEC is not taking money under the table as in bribery or influencing from major corporations because that’s the only reason I can think of as to why this is being pursued. Sincerely, Sharon Jors

Sent from my iPhone

Sharon Kash — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sharon Kash Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Sharon Kash, Fraud Analyst, Alabama. Our government should not be working for the billionaire class, they should be working for the benefit of the people. Allowing CEOs and CFOs of major corporations to hide behind false claims of ignorance by rolling back rules for accountability is grossly negligent on your part.

Sharon Krail — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Krail Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To ensure the honesty and integrity of companies and the safety and security of our financial markets it is important that transparency is maintained in communication. Keep the quarterly reports, keep the transparency.

Sharon McGuire — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon McGuire Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I would be happy to have them report monthly...but no way to six months! Enough has been hidden, fraudulently stolen, taken and misused.

Sharon Murphy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sharon Murphy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency is critical to citizen acceptance of the market. At a time when faith in so many institutions is declining, don't mess with the financial markets. Sharon Murphy Milwaukee WI

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Sharon O'Malley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sharon O'Malley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it QUARTERLY. We have the right and need to hold people with power accountable.

Sent from my U.S.Cellular© Smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Sharon Oconnor — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sharon Oconnor Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Why do they keep screwing with our money? So ashamed of our government blowing our savings ..grabbing all they can get.stop it!

Sent from my iPhone

Sharon Olson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sharon Olson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep executives accountable - Mske them sign quarterly! If they want the big bucks, they should be responsible for the decisions they make!

Sharon Olson
retired librarian
sharonoin@yahoo.com

Sharon Palmer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Palmer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it the way it is - quarterly. There’s too much power held by companies and those with too much money already.

Sharon Parker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sharon Parker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please protect us from all the hanky panky going on with this administration. It's very disturbing that in our retirement & old age we have to be in this worrisome state.

Sharon Schultz — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Schultz Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Sharon A. Schultz. Retired. My savings, SS and dividends are what I live on pay bills. KEEP IT QUARTERLY!

Sent from my iPad

SHARON SMUGALA — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: SHARON SMUGALA Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I need to keep track of my investments more often than every 6 months. I am retired and have medical issues. I can’t afford to lose any of my money—especially to corrupt business people lining their own pockets on the backs of the middle and lower classes.

Sharon Smugala
Retired

Get Outlook for iOS

Sharon Valdes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sharon Valdes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This is not in line with precedent and the reporting requirements are not a burden to corporations. Withholding critical information is a burden to investors. The playing field will be demolished. It will allow companies to hide results, to commit fraud and worse all in the name of following the new law. You know it isn't right. Do not allow this to happen. It's like giving the keys to the burglar. Timely reporting is the cost of doing business and it is the right thing to do.

Sharon Warner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sharon Warner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

DON'T DO IT!

Sharry Lenkowski — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharry Lenkowski Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 You definitely need to keep reporting. This is just another stomped to tape the little people. Your mother's would be ashamed of you!!!

Sharyn Raun — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sharyn Raun Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 No way

---

Shawn Gould — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Shawn Gould Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am horrified that the SEC is considering not making it mandatory for companies to provide their clients with quarterly statements. Without this information it would be impossible to have a real and honest conversation about my money and what is happening to it. Unfortunately, people/companies are dishonest and do things that harm their clients/public. We are are not professionals and need quarterly reports to help keep our companies honest about what is actually happening and not spinning who knows what. In the current atmosphere I have noticed that between technology and predatory behavior the retail investor is increasingly more vulnerable. Please do not roll back the response to the Enron debacle. Thank you.

SHAWN TALLEY — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: SHAWN TALLEY Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is necessary. The corruption is already out of control. All this would do is add to it.

Sent from earth

Shawn W — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shawn W Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep things on the up and up.

She s sky Banned — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: She s sky Banned Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Stop posting this ad.

Sheila Cart — Jun 22, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sheila Cart Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep Quarterly Reports. It helps to keep track of the latest news and updates.
Thank you,
Sheila Cart

Sent from my iPad

Sheila Keeney — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sheila Keeney Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As I approach my "golden years"I realize how important good information on my investments has helped me and my family enjoy security in retirement. Please continue to furnish quarterly reports to foster trust between citizens and this vital government agency

---

Sheila Speaks — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sheila Speaks Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I am just a Jane Q Public who is currently uneasy about all things financial, on top of all things Trump. Going to semiannual reporting that blinds normal investors to what happens behind the screen of secrecy in this current climate of greed and unprecedented corruption is going to ratchet up fear and unease and loathing. My money will be removed from the stock market in all ways possible and, from what I am hearing, I won’t be alone. 2008 anyone?

Sent from my iPhone

Sheila Venable — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sheila Venable Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
After reviewing the pros and cons of the proposed Rule S7-2026-15, the cons outweigh the pros. An investing transparency is the key to rely on whether to invest or not to invest. The proposed rule will have less transparency for a period of time. Therefore I am going under the rule, if it ain't broke don't fix it. I'm against the new proposed rule.

Sheilah _ — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sheilah _ Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Investors have lost enough of their money trusting the CEOs/CFOS in control of investment corporations. In addition to CEOSs/CFOs getting PAID enormous salaries, they MUST be held to the highest ETHICAL and moral standards to follow strict fiduciary rules and laws.

If they are not held ACCOUNTABLE at least minimally four times a year, then it will lead to more ENRON fiascos. Merely the fact they MUST sign under a penalty of prison suggests that they wouldn't bother to sign or affirm their numbers' accountability if it were up to their own standards and lack of willingness to do so.

Additionally, why won't the SEC limit greedy Real Estate Investment companies that go after and buy up Retirement Mobile Home Communities in Arizona to turn them into profit machines?! This type of domicile is where folks without a lot of resources can live independently. RETIREMENT is when senior citizens have LESS financial means to pay for living and healthcare expenses; this is not a time to have their living arrangements bought up by greedy investment companies to make profits for their investors by quadrupling the lease rents on limited income individuals. That is what is called "low hanging fruit" options and should be illegal as it severely impacts those who have no other options.

Limited-income housing options MUST be shielded from predatory investors!! I am now the victim of such an arrangement due to the new "owners" having to exponentially TRIPLE the lot leases—we own the home on the land and are at their mercy and must walk away from our property and investments into that property if we can no longer pay their lease on our limited Social Security income. I have put a lot of money into the care and upkeep of this home and it is in jeopardy of being taken from me if I cannot continue the exorbitant increases in the lot rents they demand every year.

It would be helpful if the SEC would do a better job of overseeing this type of predatory investment.

Please DO NOT CHANGE the quarterly certifications of financials as they stand to a lesser oversight protocol.

Respectfully Submitted,

Sheilah Turner

Shelfraa Woods — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Shelfraa Woods Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We are already in a recession. We are already feeling like we are lost and that no one cares about us. The SEC is supposed to be for the people, holding corporations accountable for their actions. However, by changing the mandatory earnings reporting time, this will give companies that are struggling, options for misleading not only their shareholders, but the public on the true financial health of their company. We are currently experiencing one of the worst job markets that this country has ever seen and inflation is at an all time high. People have already lost faith in the powers that be. We understand that there are companies that are saying that they are doing well due to their investments in AI and that there are companies that aren't doing so well due to the changing landscape of time. We rely on their honesty during their quarterly earnings calls so that we can depend on a steady, albeit volatile market. While, volatile can be seem scary at times, it is still expected and with that expectation, is a certain level of stability.

The fear we have with changing the reporting time frame is transparency. It's not so much that the American people doubt the integrity of big corporations. We do doubt it. We SERIOUSLY and EXTREMELY and WITHOUT A SHADOW OF A DOUBT do not trust big corporations. We do not trust that they have our best interests in mind. True, this is being presented as something that is useful for smaller businesses. Less tasks, less paperwork. One less thing that needs to be done. But let's be for real, how many things have really been done that was in the best interest for small businesses?

Six months is a VERY long time to get a lot done to get finances in order to make your company look solvent. And in an economy like ours, a lot of companies want to ensure that they look solvent. Two quarters is more than enough time to ensure that a corporation appears solvent. And it doesn't matter if it is done legally or illegally, it can be done during that time frame.

Two quarters is long enough to let your cronies know that the company isn't doing so well, so it's best to dump your stocks immediately. Two quarters is enough time to know to try to get extra funding just to look like you've made a profit. Two quarters is enough time to pad your numbers. Two quarters is enough time to cover your tracks if you've been padding your numbers or embezzling funds. Two months is enough time to head off an investigation from the SEC. And there are so many other examples of what can be done in the dark for six months if corporations do not have to report their earnings. And if they are allowed to get away with doing this, the only people who will be left to suffer will be the people who work for the corporations and the public.

We count on you to protect our interests. Everyday we see on the news that another government agency is no longer working for the people. Everyday we see that we are left to fend for ourselves in this expensive world. We look to you to protect our interests, our financial interests, as it pertains to our interests rates, investments, etc. More and more of us are starting to invest on our own and we are doing so on good faith that we buying a little piece of wealth. And we don't want to lose our shirts because corporations want to hide their numbers every six months.
So please reconsider this proposal and keep things the way that they are.

Thank you for taking the time to ready this.
A concerned citizen and investor.
S R Woods

Shelley Brazee — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shelley Brazee Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Shelley Brazee, retired teacher. The companies want our money to help them grow, but they don’t want to tell us what or how they are doing???? Why should we give them our money???? They have to do something to earn our support. SEC keep our reports quarterly, or I don’t see the need to take the risk with my money.

Sent from my iPhone

Shelley Collins — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Shelley Collins Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please continue with quarterly reports. Why hide when I've entrUsted my money to you? Is there no sense of accountability? You don't want to be accountable, is that it?

Shelley Kunaschk — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shelley Kunaschk Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Transparency is key, not only for the investor, but for the businesses as well. Why should anyone invest in a company that needs to hide their finances? There is already too much fraud and abuse in every aspect of business (government included). Everyone has a right as an investor to know exactly how that business is doing. It should be criminal for businesses to try to delay providing crucial financial information.

Stop taking information away from the people who want to invest, who are invested, and the people who buy your product!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Shelly Hartman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Shelly Hartman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Michelle Hartman CPA Going dark for 6 months favors the large investors who can absorb big swings in companies' performance and is detrimental to the average person investing.

Sent from my iPhone

Shelly J-W Retail retirement account holder — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-22 From: Shelly J-W There is NO REASON that serves the public to shift to 6month reporting. It only serves the tech companies and their cronies more time to hide the fact they are wildly overvalued. Once the retail stock holder sees the reality, the SEC will be to blame for allowing these companies to go public before they have proven their value. Shameful corruption, giving investors in the know time to get out while leaving the common IRA stock holder (who didn't CHOOSE to invest in these companies) holding the loss. Despicable, blatant failure and collusion.

Shelly Litchfield — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shelly Litchfield Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Be reasonable and hold businesses accountable four times a year, not less!

Sent from my iPhone

Sheri Phillips — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sheri Phillips Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep reports quarterly, all records should be as transparent as possible to the citizens it affects and who pay for both sides of every battle. -Sheri Phillips, 1206 N. Carpenter Rd, Brunswick, OH

Get Outlook for Android

Sheri Zierdt — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sheri Zierdt Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Most companies review their financials every month, so asking publicly traded companies to share them every quarter with their shareholders should not be additional work. The quarterly standard is fair to maintain trust between the company and their owners and should not be changed. As most of my retirement savings is invested in publicly traded companies, maintaining the quarterly reporting is very important to me.

Sheri Zierdt

Sent from my iPhone

Sherie Helstien Retired — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sherie Helstien Comments attached And… If you weaken this control, expect to see banking & other financial institution fraud. We've already seen & lived through recent times where less reporting allowed for more "rule-bending" & the collapse or near collapse of our institutions. And "truth telling" & financial manipulation (w/AI, perhaps?) has become more subjective, or, at least, is leaning in that direction. DO NOT LIGHTEN UP on quarterly reporting rules…now or ever. Beware the consequences on the PUBLIC who are NOT million/billionaires…

Sherri — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sherri Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need reporting quarter AT A MINIMUM. Investors should know what they are investing in as often as possible in order to determine trends.

Sherri Thompson

Sherri Hudson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sherri Hudson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I know that this is about rich people whatever you want to call them I called him selfish self-absorbed but anyway I know that this is to help them and it's not right the quarterly is not right it just keeps people in the dark I am totally against this I am a middle class a woman my husband is dead I'm a widow rich people don't understand what others go through

---

Sherrie Mayes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sherrie Mayes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I THINK WE NEED TO KEEP IT AT QUARTERLY REPORTING TO TRY TO KEEP CEOS AS HONEST AS IT IS AT ALL POSSIBLE TO DO!!
Thank you, Sherrie L Mayes

Sherrie Mayes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sherrie Mayes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I THINK WE NEED TO KEEP IT AT QUARTERLY REPORTING TO TRY TO KEEP CEOS AS HONEST AS IT IS AT ALL POSSIBLE TO DO!!

Sherrie L Mayes at Indianapolis, IN. Retired Widow.

Sherrie Treat — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sherrie Treat Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
You know this proposal is created to do harm to private citizen investors!

---

sherrikayaks — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: sherrikayaks Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stocks are supposedly traded, "publicly". They need to be as transparent about their current situation to stockholders, not less transparent. Reports need to remain quarterly and no less than quarterly. I personally hold significant numbers of shares for 3 companies and am assisting my mother in making decisions about her personal stock portfolio. I want as much information about their status as possible.

Sherri Mertz, retired

Sherrilyn Racey — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sherrilyn Racey Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I have always looked forward to my quarterlies. Watching the progress is important to me whether it goes up or down. Being able to see them makes me feel connected to them and therefore as though I can protect them from being mishandled. Safeguards need to stay in place for this reason and we deserve to know our investments are safe.

Sherry Bradford Creator/Artist — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sherry Bradford Apart from making filing easier for companies, what possible reason would the SEC want to reduce the amount of information required for filing reporting on which businesses and individuals rely to make important decisions? In addition, will this not possibly create deficits of facts and information and create possible false scenarios regarding the actual health of companies, their debt/profit ratio? I certainly do not want companies in which I invest to be allowed to reduce their flow of certified financial records. I see no reason why the SEC, itself, has taken on pushing forward this change. Is it at the behest of business? Of an individual? A corporate entity? A politician? Who came up with this idea? Having read through the information, I'm not seeing any clear description of who this actually benefits APART from businesses - and the potential for significant risk to investors on how those businesses are actually performing, their level of participation in their communities, a concise explanation of issues they are dealing with, etc. Small businesses have a burden of filing quarterly for taxes and other regulatory needs. I see no helpful reason for the average person/investor for allowing big business to provide LESS timely information.

Sherry Czachowski — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sherry Czachowski Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Sheryl Czachowski, retired. I am heavily invested in the market and expect the publicly traded stocks to report the Financials monthly. This prevents possible failures or identifies areas of concern. Please do not move this to quarterly reporting.

Sincerely,

Sheryl Czachowski

---

sherry farmer — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: sherry farmer Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 The 6 month rule could bring this house of cards down. I would be against it.
sherry farmer

Sherry Fidler — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sherry Fidler Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Absolutely NOT!!

Sherry Lockhart — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sherry Lockhart Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Sherry Lockhart, retired legal secretary please keep the reporting every quarter, some of us enjoy knowing what is happening to our money.

Sherry R — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sherry R Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Less reporting makes it easier to hide problems. This is NOT a good idea. Problems are far less costly when caught early.
Sherry R (retired IBM programmer)

Sherry Schwartz — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sherry Schwartz Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Events happen quickly in today's world. Investors, bankers need the most up to date information we can acquire. Quarterly reporting is a necessity. Please continue to require quarterly reporting. Thank you.

Sherry Weis — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sherry Weis Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it quartely

Sent from my iPhone

Sheryl Brown — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sheryl Brown Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Don't end quarterly reporting

Sheryl Hetzel — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Sheryl Hetzel Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reports quarterly stock holders need kept abreast of any changes.

Sheryl Hetzel
239-940-4692

sherylhetzel@gmail.com

SHERYL PTAK — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: SHERYL PTAK Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly!!!!!!!!!!

Sheryll W. — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sheryll W. Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We want reports quarterly so we can keep a close eye on it for transparency. Sheryll Woods Oklahoma

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Shirley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Shirley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 NO NO NO i definitely do not agree. It is our money and I demand to be kept informed.
Shirley Salter
KEEP IT QUARTERLY !!!

Sent from my iPhone

Shirley C Sax Retired — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Shirley C Sax Keep the reporting quarterly. We’ve seen this movie before. There is a reason that reporting was changed TO quarterly. Our administration is a den of thieves. We don’t need to hand them or companies another way to hide their actions,

---

Shirley Chapman — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Shirley Chapman Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Shirley Chapman . ...retired. living on SS and IRA. Can't afford to lose investment.

Shirley LaShomb — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shirley LaShomb Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 It should stay the same. Leave it alone. Be accountable

---

shirley sexton — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: shirley sexton Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Shirley sexton
We need the oversight

Sent from my iPhone

Shirley Smith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Shirley Smith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This needs to be done. This is how fraud starts.

Shirley Ann Smith

Shirley Walker — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shirley Walker Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 If it's not broke why fix it?

Shonda Griffin — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Shonda Griffin Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 We need to know what's going on with our money.

Stop messing with our financial rights!

Shontae Lea — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Shontae Lea Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 If it's not broke why are you trying to replace it? We are being eaten alive by corporate greed! Now you'd like to bite off a bit more NO!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Shubhendu Sen Roy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shubhendu Sen Roy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Plz keep Quarterly.
1) Lowering Insider Trading Risks: A 6-m gap increases the window where corporate leaders hold material, NPI. for unwanted trades.
2) Smaller Earnings Surprises in 3m Vs 6m.
3) Stock volatility: Missing half-yearly targets may cause catastrophic single-day stock plunges because the consecutive "misses" represent six full months of compounding business activites.
2) Lowers risk to retirement-accounts

Sidney Mitchell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sidney Mitchell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 White Collar Crime is vicious...it affects millions of people and degrades society. All CEOs must be held accountable for their crimes and be incentivized to not be criming...

Silviu Tulbya — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Silviu Tulbya Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Silviu Tulbya. I am an Estimator by trade, but I also invest. As an investor, this rule would mean tha ti would shift my investments away from high-growth areas like tech stocks and into more stable businesses.

Silviu T.

Sent from my iPhone

Simone Kiere — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Simone Kiere Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep Quarterly reporting! We deserve to know what's going on with our money!

SLFA — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: SLFA Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Don't change this law!

---

smilin9a — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: smilin9a Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please No changes!!!!

Sent from my Galaxy

Sondra Lampl — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sondra Lampl Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly reporting works well so no need to change it

Sent from my iPhone

---

sonya khal — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: sonya khal Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 My name is Sonya Khal, and as someone who’s in the finance world for 20+ years, this is a shameful thing to do. This will destroy the middle class. It would also cause a very big revolt with many pulling out their money. It will take the US into an economic collapse. But you knew this, didn’t you? Make these companies wealthier? The American people say no to this.

Sent from my iPhone

Stacey O'Hara — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stacey O'Hara Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 STACEY MARIE O'HARA. TBD. My voice has been taken advantage of and my place in society feels overrun with hot-headed, impulsively umbalanced, entitled people that don't deserve as much as they claim to be in control of. Don't let them hide more lies and exploration for capital gain. I don't have a soul on my side or anyone sticking up for me, personally and this type of sheilding is part of the bigger problems picture in my life. Displaced Mother of an AMAZING baby girl, I don't think anyone rooted for us to be able to survive and prosper since I was addicted to drugs and narcissistic abuse before during and after her coming into my world. The two people I could always count on, completely turned their backs to the truth and shunned me, after financially blinding me on how to be an adult to begin with. Seeing this post as a possible in ANY societal government or otherwise, makes me want to *ing knock the heads off Mt. Rushmore. Because I don't have ANY easily accessible resource to even ask for financial guidance so I can turn things around for my Daughter and myself. I don't know how much of that poster website is true but this is one thing I feel I need to speak for myself for because the imposter version of me, is the one sleeping with those lawyers and people about to turn into the blackness for a bet out of jail free 6 months full of stolen money. I'm not that girl anymore.

Stacy Bedell — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stacy Bedell Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Stacy L. Bedell Public School Administrator - retired

I am urging the SEC to maintain the quarterly reporting for companies. It is very important that people are able to monitor the performance of investments, especially in our volatile economy.

Thank you,
Stacy Bedell

Sent from my iPhone
Please pardon errors and brevity

Stacy Smith — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Stacy Smith Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: There should always be full transparency which gives the consumer vital information to make informed decisions. Because you want to change how often these disclosures are given, this leads me to believe you are doing something behind the consumer's back. Please keep the quarterly disclosures available.

Stan Gwinn — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Stan Gwinn Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the current rule in place. CEO's have nothing to do all day anyway except attend meetings and count their money.

Stan Gwinn
524 Lindisfarne Lane
Saginaw, TX 76131

(817) 343-6080

Stanley Price — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Stanley Price Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it all quarterly! Keeps everyone more honest.

Stanley Williams — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stanley Williams Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 That is the reason

OBAMA had to save the economy from Wall Street corruption!

Stefano Braca — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Stefano Braca Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Quarterly Reports are critical to know how to incest your Money based on what you believe the future will be. Reducing the reports to just Twice a Year, would cut in half my ability to redirect investments before an actual crash happens.
Pkease maintain Reports Quarterly, or ideally even make them bi-Monthly

---

Stella Wilson — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Stella Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Working in accounting, it was important that we prepare quarterly Financials, and issued dividends to our stockholders. Retirees, widows and orphans, and smart investors depend on four payouts a year. We also needed to analyze other companies quarterly financial statements to assess risk and determine where to invest our cash. Why allow companies the opportunity to hide losses for six months? It's a disservice to investors.

Stephanie Butcher — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stephanie Butcher Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep us informed quarterly....as it has been for a long time!!

Stephanie Chung — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephanie Chung Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Individual investors deserve to have equal access to information. Quarterly reporting keeps companies accountable and allow for more transparency.

Please do the right thing.

Thank you.
Stephanie Chung

Sent from my iPhone

Stephanie Macchi — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Stephanie Macchi Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting! With all the corruption we are experiencing, frequent reporting is absolutely necessary to grow confidence in the companies we choose to keep in our portfolio.
Stephanie Macchi; taxpayer, retired.

Sent from my iPad

Stephanie MacInnes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stephanie MacInnes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Please keep reporting quarterly. I have a retirement account and quarterly reporting ensures that my account maintains stable gains and I can rely on it for my retirement income. Quarterly reporting and the transparency that comes with it is important for all American workers who have money invested for retirement.

Thank you,
Stephanie Mackenzie, Attorney

Stephanie McCoy — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephanie McCoy Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Keep it QUARTERLY!!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

---

stephanie moore — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: stephanie moore Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 What do the companies have to hide? Make the information available as usual. It matters to every American.

Stephanie Snyder — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephanie Snyder Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 If anything, companies need more observation to make sure that they are doing the right thing, not less. Since there are minimal savings to cut observations in half, there really is no incentive to reduce the amount of it. Keep it the way it has always been. Stephanie Snyder, retired librarian

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

---

stephanie thomas — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: stephanie thomas Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 This is pretty simple, transparency is the best route. Quarterly reporting allows for better planning, noticing trends, and keeps all players more accountable and straight forward.
Keep the reporting quarterly. Keep everyone's hands visible.

Stephanie Turner — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Stephanie Turner Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We need quarterly reports to stave off all the corruption!!

Thank you

Stephanie Turner

Stephany Wilkes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stephany Wilkes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 I think companies that are public should be accountable n report quarterly. I say no to bi annually. If the burden to be transparent is to hard they should not be public companies. Stephany Wilkes

Sent from my iPhone

Stephen Cooley — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stephen Cooley Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 History has taught us that the longer a period of time that nefarious, devious entities have to DO BAD THINGS, the Greater the Damage to our national well-being. Having oversight only twice a year would be Disastrous... If I had to Choose, I would make Securities Disclosures a MONTHLY not QUARTERLY requirement. As a Medical Doctor swears to "FIRST DO NO HARM" my hope is DO NOT allow a REDUCTION in Disclosures. Quarterly is a "Bare Minimum" to KEEP "THEM" HONEST!

Stephen Dixon — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephen Dixon Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 STEPHEN DIXON, OWNER DIXON HEALTHCARE BILLING SOLUTIONS, INC.
TOO MUCH FRAUD TO CUT OUT QUARTERLY REPORTS

Sent from my iPad

Stephen Hughes — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Hughes Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not change the current financial quarterly reporting sctructure asscociated with earnings reports from public companies.
Regards,

Stephen Hughes

---

stephen lindgren — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: stephen lindgren Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 Just another way for politician's an wall street to rob us blind.

Stephen Mineck — Jun 22, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Stephen Mineck Affiliation: Jun. 22, 2026 maintain quarterly !

Steve and Barbara Plymale — Jun 22, 2026
