I urge you to protect the retiree investor and the public by continuing to require quarterly fiscal reporting.

Kim Hatfield — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kim Hatfield Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Kim Haye, retired investor, California.

I see there is a motion to move corporate fiscal reporting from Quarterly to a Semi-Annual basis.

I do not believe this move is in the best interest of investors. Reducing transparency is a move that is bound to backfire, and to reduce the strong stock market growth our economy needs.

I urge you to protect the retiree investor and the public by continuing to require quarterly fiscal reporting.

Kim Hensley Owens — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kim Hensley Owens Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am an English professor who cares about finances being always on the up-and-up! Quarterly reporting is absolutely critical. We must have transparency!!

Thank you,
Kim Hensley Owens

Sent from my iPhone

Kim Kime — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kim Kime Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Kim Kime, retired investor, living in York, Pa. I DO NOT understand why you would move backwards. If you view the history of reporting financial aptitudes, you see when done quarterly there are more profits because more people seem to be able to see faster gains & more willing to make the investments/risks. The SEC will just be hurting those who control. You might be confused with the theory that “make America great, again” means to get those wealthy folks way & ahead of all others, but you are forgetting that the only growth industry seems to be in the tech areas, AI specifically & the same people keep benefiting from that. Wouldn’t it be better to see growth in multiple areas, health care, research, marketing to name a few. Keep reporting quarterly. I want to know how my money is doing. I don’t have as much as the members of the SEC, but I would like to be comfortable in my twilight years.

Sent from my iPhone

Kim Klahsen — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kim Klahsen Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Let's hide the paychecks for SEC employees for 6 months until the companies report their data and see how long it takes to stop stupid people from making decisions.

Kim Marlow — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kim Marlow Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I do not want semi annual reporting. I am small investor nearing retirement and I rely on quarterly information to make decisions. Longer time in reporting will make unfair advantage for corporate insiders and the cost benefits are not advantageous to me.

Kimberly Marlow
489 Bell Branch Lane

St Johns, FL 32259

Sent from my iPhone

Kim Meador — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kim Meador Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is so wrong...our investment platform..we have the right to know people's motives behind this just don't sound ethical.

Kim Olsen-Clark — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kim Olsen-Clark Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Dear Chairman Atkins:

Having worked in the business sector for all of my working life, I have learned that quarterly financial reporting is vital because it provides a regular, standardized health check that ensures market transparency, protects investors, and guides corporate strategy. By requiring public companies to disclose their financial data four times a year, these reports eliminate major fiscal surprises such as pending bankruptcy, reduce insider trading risks, and allow stakeholders to closely track growth, revenue, and profit margins. This consistent flow of information directly influences stock prices based on market expectations, while helping management pivot strategies, allocate capital, and secure external funding.

As a reminder, in 2025, over 700 large and mid-sized U.S. companies filed for bankruptcy (the highest total since 2010). Meanwhile, total official business bankruptcy filings reached 24,737, driven by high interest rates and inflation. Quarterly financial reports serve as an early warning system by exposing deteriorating liquidity, unsustainable debt loads, and operational inefficiencies before a company collapses.

Kim Clark
Nonprofit consultant

Kim Suminski — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kim Suminski Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Kim Suminski. I am a retired cook and over 70. I have watched my world decay from corruption. Unless we act quickly against it, it grows and spreads. We want to see quarterly reports.

Kim Tudor — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kim Tudor Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please continue with quarterly reporting of our investments. We have a right to know what is happening with our funds and should be able to take action as needed. Do not let big corporations gain for less information provided on our investments.

Sent from my iPhone

Kim Webster — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kim Webster Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Why should citizens have to beg for transparency . So I won't. I'll keep it simple and say, "I vote firmly for quarterly reports AT A MINIMUM !"

Kim

Kimberlee Roberts — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: KEEP IT QUARTERLY From: Kimberlee Roberts Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The American public deserves to know just how our life savings are progressing/regressing depending on the markets. DO NOT TAKE AWAY quarterly reporting. There is no reason that this should change. The cost to these companies is negligible, but for the average investor, waiting half a year to find out what's happening with our accounts could be devastating.

Kimberly Phillips — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kimberly Phillips Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep Companies on Quarterly!!!

Kimberly White — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kimberly White Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Kimberly White: bookkeeper.
My clients rely on quarterly reporting to make good investment decisions. Without this timely reporting many would be less likely to invest in the market. Being able to put off a report for 6 months allows great opportunity for hiding mismanagement and troubled financials. Reporting every 6 months does not inspire public trust!!

Sent from my iPhone

Kirby Aycock — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kirby Aycock Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 HELL NO !
REPORT AS IT IS DONE NOW !

Kirk Hoffman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kirk Hoffman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I write to oppose the proposed amendments permitting public companies to file semiannual reports in lieu of quarterly reports.

Quarterly reporting is a cornerstone of investor protection. Cutting mandatory interim disclosure in half doubles the window in which a company's deteriorating finances, accounting problems, or outright fraud can go undetected by the public. Markets price information; less frequent information means stale prices, wider information gaps, and greater advantage to insiders and sophisticated players over ordinary investors—precisely the asymmetry the federal securities laws exist to prevent.
The proposal's suggestion that voluntary 8-K earnings releases will fill the gap is unpersuasive. Such releases are selective, management-framed, and lack the completeness, audit oversight, and liability standards of a Form 10-Q. They are no substitute for a full periodic report.
Nor is the "short-termism" rationale supported by clear evidence; jurisdictions that report semiannually have not demonstrably reduced short-term pressure, while U.S. markets remain the deepest and most trusted in the world partly because of robust, comparable, predictable disclosure.
I urge the Commission to retain mandatory quarterly reporting for all Exchange Act reporters.

Kjell Rodne — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kjell Rodne Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Having watched the federal government keep secrets from the people on and off again for 50 years I find it troubling that they want to limit access instead of promoting more and safer public information? Kjell Rodne, retired

---

KLB — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: KLB Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Transparency quarterly or you must have something to hide.

---

kmk — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: kmk Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Single mom. Work full time. Intelligent investor. Need those quarterly reports to ensure what I'm buying continues to perform. Knowledge is power. Remove knowledge remove power to make the best decisions. Please dont take away this requirement for companies to report to their shareholders quarterly.

Krista Kazembe
Physical Therapist.

Knoxann Armijo — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Knoxann Armijo Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I would like to have my report monthly, but every six months is so people can steal. SEC do your job. You're not supposed to be political.

Koby Sterling — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Koby Sterling Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Koby

Sterling and I trade regularly on the markets. Extending reporting intervals will make the markets even less transparent than they already are, which allows institutional investors to have yet another leg up on retail investors like me. Not only is this counter to the SEC remit, but it seems that the proposed benefit to companies is insubstantial.

Sent from my iPhone

---

kring4848 — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: kring4848 Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I don't think we need any more actions that cut into the American trust factor. Fraud grows like a wild weed given the slightest opportunity. Let's keep things the way they are.

Kristen McLees Milholen — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kristen McLees Milholen Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We need to be informed to prevent fraud.

Regards,

Kristen McLees Milholen

Kristi K — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kristi K Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Transparency supports commitment to the integrity and accuracy of information shared in real time; as well as maintain accountability to ethical practices.

Regards,
Kristi, RN

Kristin Olsson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kristin Olsson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 If a company is managing MY money, I want regular quarterly reports on how they're doing and whether my money is growing or not. There is no reason to change the reporting to twice a year, especially considering the information is readily available to the managing group. I am at retirement age so my money and potential income is extremely important to me. That said, for young people to invest in their futures, they need to have confidence that their money isn't just going into a black hole. Everyone deserves to have agency over their hard-earned money and this proposed rule would not benefit anyone except maybe the group managing the money. We all must be accountable and lessening the reporting requirements ensures that disasters could and will happen long before anyone has an inkling that they need to protect their investments.

Kristin Olsson

Sent from my iPhone

Kryshon Bratton — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kryshon Bratton Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Public companies should be able to submit quarterly reports. Efforts to support companies coming into the market should not come at a price of transparency. By creating a two-tiered system of entry into the market, I believe the effects will be more corporate play with the numbers. Standards are set to meet the needs of both the intergity of the market and the retail investor.

Kurt English — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kurt English Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Kurt English, Entrepreneur

Keep all quarrels filing requirements. There is no excuse to reduce information available to the public

---

L. Stoeckel — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: L. Stoeckel Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please retain quarterly reporting. It is more responsive and allows investors to tract investments in a timely manner. Semi-annual reporting does not allow sufficient time to modify investments if trends begin changing.
I would actually prefer monthly reporting
Thank you
L. Stoeckel

Lana Callahan — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lana Callahan Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep Quarterly Reporting! We are told we have our own opportunity to invest and build and then rules keep changing to make it less and less possible to gain wealth. The 1% keep finding ways to take more and more while the rest of us suffer. We are watching. Thank you for considering our input.

Retirees trying to survive in Ohio.

Lana Callahan
Retiree, Parent, Grandparent, Volunteer

Lana Morgan — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lana Morgan Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Lana Morgan Retired Teacher
I need to know what is going on in the SEC for investment's.

Lana Savage Morgan

Landon Vincent — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Landon Vincent Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As a U.S. citizen and investor, changing the reporting timeframes to every bi-annualy is a big loss to our financial system. It allows much bigger gaps for fraud and company issues to fester without legal necessity to reveal information to the public in consistently low timeframes. This will reduce the trust other investors in U.S. companies currently have which can be detrimental for long term capital accumulation for the country.

---

lanpegham — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: lanpegham Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Peggy Hamlin. Retired. Help folks out by giving us the tools to keep our money safe.

Sent from my Galaxy

Lark Hughes — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lark Hughes Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Six month reporting is a long time and numbers could get muddled. I prefer knowing how any company I invested in is performing quarterly. They could hide falling numbers and only the insiders or the connected investors would know to get out early. The playing field is not level as it is for the individual investor. Please do not hobble us further. Lark Hughes, retired physician, and individual investor.

Sent from my iPad

Larry Coscia — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Larry Coscia Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Larry Coscia, Retired, interests are corruption disruption any means.

Larry D'Ambrosa — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Larry D'Ambrosa Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is silly. You can’t go back. Everyone needs timely data, and reporting semiannually instead of quarterly is going backwards

Get Outlook for iOS

Larry Goforth — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Larry Goforth Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I need quarterly reports for accurate assessment. Please retain it. Thanks!

Larry Johnson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Larry Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly with charts should be required.

Sent from my iPhone

Larry La Vergne — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Larry La Vergne Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports. It’s good basic business sense.

Thank you

Laura Carter — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Carter Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is L. Carter. I am an LMT and an investor, albeit a small one. It is difficult enough to navigate the investment landscape without corporations having all of information and knowledge, while we are left to do our due diligence and take the majority of the risk. Giving corporations more time to hide their books would allow any fraud that exists to continue to grow. Imagine if Bernie Madoff had more time to hide his fraud. How much more would he have been able to get away with before the recession hit. Please reconsider this stance for ths sake of the small investor who is swimming in the great ocean of corporate control. Thank you.

Laura Corra — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Corra Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 L Corra office manager There is too much opportunity for fraud and corruption things that are rampant now. Instead of more transparency your advocating for deception

---

Laura Goetz — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: SEC transparency and quarterly investment reporting From: Laura Goetz Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This didn't work very well the last time our government limited they're reporting to twice yearly. Why on earth would you do it again unless you are trying to hide information from the rest of us who invest and only allowing those with "connections" to know the full scope of OUR investments. So their "inside knowledge" allows them to make faster, better decisions about their investments and we pay the price. Equal access should be available to all owners of investments on a quarterly basis. Especially in these volatile times. Sent from my iPhone

---

Laura Goetz — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Changing quarterly securities reporting to every 6 months. From: Laura Goetz Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This didn't work very well the last time our government limited they're reporting to twice yearly. Why on earth would you do it again unless you are trying to hide information from the rest of us who invest and only allowing those with "connections" to know the full scope of OUR investments. So their "inside knowledge" allows them to make faster, better decisions about their investments and we pay the price. Equal access should be available to all owners of investments on a quarterly basis. Especially in these volatile times. Sent from my iPhone

---

Laura Lee-Walrond — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Laura Lee-Walrond Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep it QUARTERLY

Laura Maisto — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Maisto Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep disclosures quarterly Else make them bimonthly and give the public more access to information

Laura Maisto
redacted
Sent from my iPhone

Laura Riehl — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Riehl Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Laura Riehl Human Resources -Recruiter

I formally oppose Rule S7-2026-15 for the following reasons: as an investor I rely on quarterly statements to make my investment decisions; giving 'options' is not the solution as the companies that most need to disclose will undoubtedly be the ones who choose not to; the amount of money saved is not significant.

Laura Smith — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Smith Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Laura Smith and I am an attorney. We think this new rule is unfair to investors, allows more opportunities for corporations to hide risks and to commit fraud and insider trading, and the estimated savings only goes to corporations and not investors. The risks far outweigh the benefits. There is already a lack of transparency and abundance of fraud that is plaguing society and benefiting billionaires while the rest of the population suffers. This is just another example of the same pattern. This unfair change should not be permitted.

Sent from my iPhone

Laura Snow — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Snow Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Manipulating the truth and the markets to a more closed exclusive system. The is the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA WHERE EVERYONE HAS THE RIGHT TO SEE WHERE THE TRUTH IS ESPECIALLY IN THE MARKETS AND WHERE "THEIR MONEY" IS.

Laura Szopinski — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Szopinski Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Companies MUST continue to submit their financials every three (3) months! Investors need to know how a company is performing.

Laura Taylor — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As a long time investor, quarterly data is essential to healthy retirement planning.

I am both an employee of a major defense contractor and a small business owner.

L. Taylor

Laura Thompson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Laura Thompson This will give a false sense of how companies are doing and impact investment strategies for private individuals who do not believe SS will be available for much longer.

Laura Yoder — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Yoder Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Stop the grift and corruption and allowing companies to hide their financial information for six months! Stop! Stop! Stop! We are tired of it all and, if you don't stop this sort of stuff, things will not go well for Republicans in November!!

Sent from my iPhone

Lauren — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lauren Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Make it monthly or keep it as is

Sent from my iPhone
Lauren

Lauren James — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lauren James Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Lauren and I work in Healthcare. Do not remove quarterly financial submissions from these companies. I am in close contact with my financial advisor and make choices based on current events and economic shifts. If I do not have accurate reporting, this will severely impact how I make my investment decisions as a regular, hard working American. Don't give insiders a bigger leg up than they already have to sell out and leave us regular folks with the loss. I believe a lot more Americans will start taking their finances into their own hands and start changing the way they invest if the rules of the game continue to change as seen with MegaCap IPOs. Nobody besides the billionaires benefit from this. WE THE PEOPLE need help and protection!!!

Lauren James Felton

Laurie dAult — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laurie dAult Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Why the cloak and dagger stuff? Just like the rest of this administration, you think it's okay to cloak yourselves in secrecy. It's not okay. Leave the reports quarterly. Quit burying our information to where it's too late to do anything about it by the time access is available.

Laurie Donovan — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laurie Donovan Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As a citizen concerned about the lack of accountability and scrutiny the public is afforded by corporations and companies that have their profit margin as their sole focus and not the common good, I urge the SEC to Maintain the quarterly review process. More time fewer reviews enables fraud and simple mistakes to grow undetected and encourages unscrupulous behavior because it is less likely to be seen in time.

Laurie Donovan
Marriage and Family Therapist in private practice
LMFT, LCSW

Laurie French — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laurie French Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Leave the rule as it stands every 2 months. You have proven irresponsible of making good choices and must have over sight!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Laurie Pessano — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laurie Pessano Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Laurie. I am a creative director for a theatre company. We would like to start a retirement fund for our employees but have been concerned bout the trustworthiness of investment accounts and the corruption that appears to be happening with insider trading. This proposal pretty much seals the deal. Transparency is crucial to trust. This proposal will destroy any vestiges of trust. What is wrong with you? Are you all Russian agents, intent on destroying the U.S. economy? Trust has a dollar value.

Laurie

Laurie Schmeer — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Laurie Schmeer Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I OBJECT 110% & that there should be an increase, not a decrease in reporting!! Also they should be taxed like the CEO's are supposed to be taxed, which is the rate of 70%!

Lawrence McCullough — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lawrence McCullough Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I object to the proposed rule change abandoning quarterly disclosures. This will put ordinary investors at great disadvantage. I strongly urge you to level the investment trading field by providing equal access at equal times to all investors big and small.
Thank you.
Lawrence McCullough Esq.

Lawrence Turner — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lawrence Turner Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Investors need accurate and timely information in order to make informed decisions. Eliminating the reporting of 2 quarters of data inhibits wise decision making. Please retain quarterly reporting.

Lawrence Turner

Director, Global Business Development Centers
International Literacy and Development

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

LDS Smith — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: LDS Smith Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I do NOT want to change the reporting for my account! I depend on this account to keep me financially solvent during my retirement years. I track it with the quarterly statements and adjust my lifestyle accordingly. DO NOT CHANGE THE REPORTING TIMETABLE!

Leah Brashear — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Leah Brashear Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Gentlemen:

Walking back SEC filings from quarterly to semi-annually is a dangerous move especially given the horrible job this administration has done keeping their eye on the ball.

Leah Brashear

Get Outlook for Android

Lee Ann Stearns — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lee Ann Stearns Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Lee Ann Jordan Stearns, retired, Maine. Quarterly reporting is fundamental for transparency and in the best interest of all participants especially those of us who are retired.

Lee Campbell — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lee Campbell Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Transparency is essential!! We have a right to the information timely! Full disclosure! My name is Lee and as a working mom I deserve a glimmer of insight; not 6 months of secrecy!

Lee Canova — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lee Canova Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The financial community needs more transparency rather than less! Quarterly reports are vital info for the investor in rapidly changing markets!

Sent from my iPhone

LEE FLETCHER — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: LEE FLETCHER Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 If any industry needs quarterly reporting, it’s those on the stock market! Don’t you think the market has been manipulated enough in the last 17 months!

Sent from my iPhone
Lee Fletcher

Lee K. Perdue — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lee K. Perdue Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I like getting my quarterly reports. I review them & discuss with my financial advisor frequently. It is important we continue to be able to make educated and timely decisions, particularly in this time of volatility. It is imperative to investors we retain this level of transparency, if not MORE often!

Lee K. Perdue
Tennessee

Sent from my iPhone

Lee Nicholson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lee Nicholson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Hi, Frankly, with today's technology, there is no good reason for larger companies to report less frequently than monthly. They know where they stand and don't need weeks to "close the books" unless they are cooking the books. So, at least keep it as is. Why in the world would you change this?
Thank you,
Lee

Lee Tincher — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lee Tincher Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Lee Ann Tincher and im a retired nurse who worked decades caring for children with chronic endocrine diseases. This matters to me because I worked hard earning my retirement money FAIRLY, not by cheating others, which is what the SEC change will do. How is this fair to investors without the insights? Or is that the point? Just another way to take advantage. NO TO THIS CHANGE!

Lee Tincher — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lee Tincher Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Lee Ann Tincher and I'm a retired nurse who worked decades caring for children with chronic endocrine diseases. This matters to me because I worked hard earning my retirement money FAIRLY, not by cheating others, which is what the SEC change will do. How is this fair to investors without the insights? Or is that the point? Just another way to take advantage. NO TO THIS CHANGE!

Lee Van Valkenburgh — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lee Van Valkenburgh Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The proposal to let companies report their results only every six months reminds me of the old line, “If it ain’t broke, why fix it?” I am a retiree who depends on investments for income, and I want and need all the information I can get to manage those investments. Reject this proposal, please.

Sent from my iPad

Lee Weygandt — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lee Weygandt Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am an investor and I currently have 45% of my investments in "International" investments. Not having quarterly reports will cause me to lose confidence in American markets. We already cannot trust the economic data and employment data being released by the Trump administration. I need reliable economic reports to make my investment decisions.

Not having quarterly reports will force me to liquidate investments in the United States.

Lee Weygandt

Findlay, Ohio

Leeann Dolan — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leeann Dolan Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please keep the quarterly checks in place. We are running out of controls for the govt.
thank you.

LeeAnn Haley — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: LeeAnn Haley Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 There is absolutely no reason to cut down on this invaluable reporting. Please remain a quarterly publication.

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Leesa — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leesa Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Why are we making it easier for companies to hide Financials? Its like we want to make corruption and fraud easier. I do not support this legislation. Pass bills that help people, not corporations.

Leesa Powers

---

leia gaten — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: leia gaten Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Leia gaten, engineer, keeping my money transparent with quarterly reporting is important for my fiscal peace of mind. Allowing investors to hide what they are doing is going to allow the criminal elements in the investor industry to hide wrong doing. Do not allow this, dont allow people to be reckless with my future financial stability.

Leigh — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leigh Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As a retail investor and as an AMERICAN I expect the SEC to do its job to protect me by holding companies accountable to investors such as myself. Without transparency our entire post-Great Depression economic system would collapse. Please do not change this rule. Leigh Robertson, educator

Sent from my iPhone

---

leigh & dickie woodling — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: leigh & dickie woodling Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 It is more important than ever that the SEC continue to report quarterly. The corrupt and nefarious regime of trump is attempting to control every aspect of the American government, economy, particularly relating to the protection of his billionaire buddies. The American people have the right to at least some semblance of transparency from this incredibly authoritarian period in our history.

Lennel Anderson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lennel Anderson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am Rev. Lenny Anderson, chaplain for Mayo Clinic Health System and an active investor. I have recently switched to managing my own 403b when I discovered mutual funds in my managed (at the time) portfolio were replete with positions I would never knowingly invest in as they contradicted values I hold dear. These are not merely personal values, but those of our country: life, liberty, the pursuit of happiness. If I didn't have accountable public information I would be complicit in the collateral deaths of children through military contractors (life), supporting companies that retaliate with lawsuits against those who use their first amendment right to critique and protest these companies' questionable actions (liberty), and companies that contribute to locking up brown-skinned people- even citizens -who are just trying to work hard for their taste of the American dream (pursuit of happiness). Now (6/10/26) on the eve of signals potentially pointing to one of worst drawdowns in history, the SEC wants to leave not merely average investors but the whole market economy less accountable and more prone to graft, fraud, and instability. It is simply unconscionable. If anything I would want to expand reports to every other month because the market is changing so fast with new technologies every day. I do not support reducing vital and timely information in today's fast-paced trading environment. And the worst part is, we will ALL suffer if this proposal is adopted. We are interconnected (looking at global market ETFs at the moment) so if any one of use hurts we will all suffer.

Many thanks for your consideration in this matter,
Fr Lenny

Leo Ferretti — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leo Ferretti Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Transparency is extremely important. Companies should continue to report quarterly. Twice per year reporting has created large problems for investments and the people in the past. We need accountability from publicly traded companies.

Leo Berman Ferretti
Ferretti.leo@gmail.com

(305) 710-0362

Leonardo de Nevi — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Leonardo de Nevi Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This change will destroy the already brittle trust in our market mechanics.

Leonardo Pineda — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leonardo Pineda Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Leonardo Pineda District sales representative, California lottery.

Wall street needs to be stopped with their fraud. If we don’t speak up and end it, it will continue unfettered.

Les Crouse — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Les Crouse Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 L. Crouse, principle scientist, feels that any company that is publicly traded should share earnings at least quarterly.

Les Franks — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Les Franks Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Stop giving the rich even more advantages. They have enough already. I honestly did really well in the market, but there are millions of people that need the rich to pay more taxes, or at least change the rules so they are paid fare compensation for their labor.

Thank you,
Les Franks

Leslee Lopez — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leslee Lopez Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Leslee Lopez. I am from Henderson, NV. I have heard of this proposed rule to let companies hide their books for six months at a time. This allows the insiders in the company to do what they want and keep it from the public. While they will be able to sell stock they know is going bad, while the public keeps the stock only to find out later that it is no good! Once again John Q Public gets the shaft!
I highly oppose this proposal!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Lesley Hatch — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lesley Hatch Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 If you do this, the number of people who will invest in companies in the US will fall. Foreign stocks have been outperforming American ones, and the more corrupt our financial system becomes the more people will avoid it- and the US dollar. harmful policies such as this one to investors will cannibalize demand, and further erode trust in the US market. Along w/every other action and policy that has been destroying long term, patient investment, this will only reinforce the brand destruction of the US.

Leslie Guerin — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leslie Guerin Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 It's obvious that if you give companies an iron curtain to cover fraud etc., by reducing their reporting in half, they are going to take the opportunity to commit fraud. Duh.

redacted
Sent from my iPhone

Leslie Kaufmann — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Leslie Kaufmann Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Public Companies must always be accountable to the public, and contimue to provide quarterly information!

LESLIE LEVINE — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: LESLIE LEVINE Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 There MUST be accountability as afforded by quarterly reporting. This matters to the public as shareholders. This must NOT be changed.

Leslie Levine, regular voter and holder of public company shares
redacted

Leslie Levine — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leslie Levine Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Leslie Levine, retired physical therapist

Disallow publicly held corporations from withholding information from the public for any period of time. The exact purpose of this commission is to protect the public and investors from unfair and underhanded dealings. Follow the law and its intent.

Leslie Levine

Leslie McAllister — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leslie McAllister Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Everyone, everyone! Who has investments should have a similar vision into what's going on in the companies into which they have invested. I am a retired teacher with a very tiny investment portfolio. I follow along with the individual who handles any changes for me and try to keep abreast of what's going on in the company's where my money sits. Backing this off to every 6 months is one more insult to the small investor please. My name is Leslie McAllister. I live in Western Maine. But I'm paying attention

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Leslie Ogg — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leslie Ogg Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Leslie Ogg, retired teacher, most of my finances are tied up in the stock market. I need to be able to know what the companies I've invested in are up to. I rely on quarterly information to plan investments and draws this would harm my bottom line.

Leslie Ogg

Leslie Slaughter — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leslie Slaughter Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is ludicrous. It's not currently a law because any law that supports this ridiculousness is unconscionable immoral. It must not happen again.

Leslie Turner — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Leslie Turner Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I'm a retired state government worker who worked my butt off my entire life and am now able to enjoy the "fruits of my labor" and enjoy a better retirement thanks to investments. Reducing the reporting time from quarterly to just twice a year removes even more accountability and responsibility from companies! Please keep it at quarterly intervals, that puts companies on notice and keeps them accountable. This enables investors to make informed choices and be better stewards of our hard earned dollars, and makes for a less anxious retirement.

Thank you,
Leslie Turner
Spokane, WA

Get Outlook for Android

Leslie Walker — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leslie Walker Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I Ms.Walker oppose this ask, we the investors (the workers) would be the ones that loss out at the end. I asked not to let this go through!!

Sent from my iPhone

Leticia Abreu — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leticia Abreu Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 ABSOLUTELY NO

Letitia Toomer-Jones — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Letitia Toomer-Jones Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I've invested in the stock market for 37 years. The quarterly reports have been helpful and even vital. Now as a retiree, I cannot manage a portfolio (which I count on for living expenses) with less frequent reporting. Keep the quarterly report requirement please.

v/r, Letitia Toomer-Jones

---

lia hitchcock — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: lia hitchcock Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Transparency promotes honesty. No good can from anything else.

Lia Mancuso — Jun 11, 2026

Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lia Mancuso Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly disclosures help everyday, average Americans make informed decisions about investing our hard earned money and the SEC shouldn't any take vital information away from the American people.

Lillian Nepa — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lillian Nepa Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Stop screwing the poor, make the ones really making money pay!

Lina Morales — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lina Morales Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports. The more transparent the more confidence in the market.

Sent from my iPhone

Linda — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Linda Hagood
Teacher
Companies should not hide their books for up to 6 months. No insider trading.

Sent from my iPhone

Linda Andrews — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Andrews Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Linda Andrews IT Professional I work for a Fortune 500 company. Quarterly financial statements are absolutely necessary to ensure shareholders are aware of the financial health of the entities who operate with my loaned money, which is the investment I make for their use linda andrews

vangoghTheodore@gmail.com
My thoughts are whirled like a potter's wheel; I know not where I am nor what I do. - William Shakespeare
The great pleasure of a dog is that you may make a fool of yourself with him and not only will he not scold you, but he will make a fool of himself too. - Samuel Butler

---

Linda Ball — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Ball Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep Quarterly reports. What are you guys trying to hide.

Sent from my iPhone

Linda Brylewski — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Brylewski Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Absolutely not. Where are the protections for the "common folk" , the consumers Companies make off with the profits and leave the consumers holding the bag ! They can manufacture economic collapse in six months !

Linda C. Snyder — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda C. Snyder Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Linda C Snyder, retired psychologist, Keeping a close eye on my investments is essential to my future and the quarterlies bring me peace of mind. Keep the quarterly reports coming!!

Linda Cornejo — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Cornejo Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We need to be kept informed about our investments/money. We need MORE transparency, not less. I don't want to be kept in the dark for six months out of the year.
Linda Cornejo
Retired educator

Sent from my iPhone

LINDA HARCHARIC — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: LINDA HARCHARIC Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I adamantly oppose changing the reporting to every 6 months. I am invested in the stock market, 79 years old, and need the money that I worked and saved my whole life for to be working for me now, but that won't be the case if you change the reporting to only twice annually. If you remember, this was done once, between 1955 and 1970. Less transparency came with lower returns and lower valuations. For an ordinary investor like I am , a return to those days could mean losing a third, or even half, of my life savings. Learn from your mistakes - don't repeat them. Do NOT change quarterly reporting to twice yearly.

Linda Harcharic

Sent from my iPhone

Linda Lee D Roberts — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Lee D Roberts Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I strongly urge the SEC to support public access to timely information and reject attempts to change quarterly reporting by corporations to a longer interval, such as six months. The proposed change would allow additional time for fraudulent practices before they are discovered and stopped. As a retired historian now living close to family, I can say that we all are appalled at all such attempts to undermine safeguards and loosen ethical restraints on corporations. I urge you to support proven government rules to safeguard processes that provide timely transparency and restraints on abuse of power against the American people.

Linda Lee D Roberts
lindaroberts8@aol.com

Sent from my iPad

Linda LeTendre — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda LeTendre Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Linda LeTendre, Retired LMSW. I need quarterly reports to enable me to monitor my investments so I can protect my funds and therefor my ability to remain retired.

Linda M Kalbach — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda M Kalbach Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I'm sick and tired of corrupt actions being cloaked as something else.
Linda M Kalbach
Beaver Crossing, NE

Linda McBride — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Linda McBride Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Washington wants to let every public company stop reporting its results each quarter and disclose just twice a year. We tried this once, between 1955 and 1970. Less transparency came with lower returns and lower valuations. For an ordinary investor, a return to those days could mean losing a third, or even half, of your life savings.

Just say no.

Linda McGuire — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda McGuire Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Seriously quarterly reporting should be kept 6 mo the with no report is not posive for public as a whole

---

Linda Miller — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Linda Miller Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Bourbon Educator. Louisville Ky. Why would you go back to doing something that didn't work. These investments we make are important to our lives. Our quality of life is measured by what I saved for retirement. There's no time for a bounce back, I'm retired. I already lost enough in 2008.

Linda Miller

Linda Mincey — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Mincey Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 NO, please do not make this change. We the public need this information to make wise decisions regarding our future financial stability and livelihood for retirement.

Linda Mincey

Linda Mintun — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Mintun Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Linda Mintun. I'm a retired social worker. I'm writing about the suggested law change from quarterly to every 6 month reports. I ask you to leave it at quarterly reporting. To limit reporting to every 6 months reeks of corruption, trying to hide stock prices from consumers. from investors.

Sent from my iPhone

Linda Norton — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Norton Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I've lost lots of what my small IRA amount I had. I need to know market data in order to live. Quarterly reported data needs to stay in place.

Sent from my iPhone

Linda Paulsen — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Paulsen Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Upon careful consideration, I am genuinely struggling to comprehend the potential appeal or utility of this. It raises significant questions regarding its intended purpose and the specific needs it aims to address, as I find it challenging to envision a scenario where it would be deemed a desirable or beneficial solution.

Linda Popiel — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Popiel Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reports have proved effective and safe, for the most part. I believe the SEC needs close scrutiny.

Linda Pugh — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Pugh Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep it Quarterly!!! Anything less is only designed to keep shareholders in the dark which increases the for potential criminal activity. Linda Pugh, retired

LINDA QUATTROCCHI — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: LINDA QUATTROCCHI Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 What could possibly go wrong? I can think of a number of things. Investors need to know whether or not their investments are good ones. Allowing companies to essentially hide their earnings or losses hurts consumers and the financial system as a whole. Deregulation has been a recipe for disaster. Think 2029 crash, 1987 crash and the Great Recession. Have we not learned lessons from the past? Stop letting the greedy corporations call the shots. It's bad enough that we have a fascist in the White House bent on destroying our country, the environment, and the world order that has kept peace and prosperity for billions for the past 80 years. Please do your job to protect the citizens of this country. I'm already considering taking my investments out of US companies and the dollar because this administration is destroying all guardrails that keep corporations in check. Do the right thing!

Sincerely,

Linda Quattrocchi

Sent from my iPhone

Linda Ryder — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Ryder Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Such action is evidence of corruption! Transparency is essential if any of you give a damn about public trust.

Sent from my iPhone

Linda Sears — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Sears Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Transparency is everything. Only companies wanting to hide something would think this is a good idea. Investors have a right to know. Stop working for corporations. The answer is NO!

Get Outlook for Android

Linda Swain — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Swain Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 No, it's worked for half a century, let's leave it alone. We need to be apprised of everything. Thanks

---

Linda Thomas — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I disagree with this suggested policy. If companies want their investors to be kept in the dark when making stock purchases, you'll only weaken the trust in the SEC and stock market. It also gives billionaires more opportunities to manipulate the market to their advantage and once again, the average American gets less than a fair chance to successfully manage their portfolios.

Linda Thomas

Sent from my iPhone

Linda Vilmain — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Vilmain Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This change is not good for any of us! No hiding what our investments are doing!

Linda Vilmain
Boone, Iowa

Lindsay Alexander — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lindsay Alexander Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Lindsay Alexander
Retired Educator
Wailuku, HI

To whom it may concern,
Corporations do not have the public's best interests at heart. Making them less accountable will help the greedy corporations and hurt the American Taxpayers. Keep the quarterly reports.

Sent from my iPhone

Lindsay Smith — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lindsay Smith Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is a matter of great importance to a massive portion of the US population. Our retirement is tied up in these companies. We cannot afford to let them manipulate the markets anymore than they already are. Do not relax the regulations!

Lindsay Smith — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lindsay Smith Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is a matter of great importance to a massive portion of the US population. Our retirement is tied up in these companies. We cannot afford to let them manipulate the markets anymore than they already are. Do not relax the regulations!

Lindsay Smith
Sales Manager

Montana

Lindy Sicard — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lindy Sicard Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As a retiree it's important to track your finances. When you are out of the job market, being able to make necessary adjustments to your accounts needs to be more current. You no longer have that paycheck every week. Waiting six months to discover an issue could be disastrous.

Sent from my iPhone

Lionel Tatro — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lionel Tatro Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly. Changing to a biannual reporting allows companies too much time to hide internal issues.

Lisa — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please explain what is broken that needs to be fixed? I urge the SEC to keep quarterly corporate reporting and put a stop to the ridiculous idea of requiring only biannual reporting. Information matters, and the only reason I can see for requiring companies to provide LESS information is to cause a major drop in stock values so the uber-wealthy can buy stocks at a steep discount and collect even more of the hard-earned dollars of working Americans. There is no scenario in which biannual reporting benefits the majority of Americans. I can see no scenario in which a switch to less and dated reporting makes sense. Do you want to be the geniuses who are remembered for the additional fleecing of our populace? Please do not make this completely unnecessary change.

Lisa Long
Pittsburgh, PA

Lisa Jebsen — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Jebsen Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Transparency is vital to a healthy, honest investment economy. We deserve to have information to decisions about investments.
Lisa Jebsen
Fitness Professional

Lisa

Lisa Ann Hester — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lisa Ann Hester Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep it Quarterly, it's proven

Sent from my iPhone

Lisa Burt — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lisa Burt Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Continue to expect quarterly earnings and losses reporting to preserve transparency by companies. Hiding this will be detrimental to investors.
L Burt

Sent from my iPhone

Lisa Chibis — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Chibis Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Half the amount of information? Why in the world would I want this? This doesn't benefit the average investor. I'm about 7 years from retirement. I work for the NYC public schools. I'm counting on my investments to get me through the end of my life. Don't mess with it!

Lisa Downs — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Downs Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I oppose allowing this 6 month window, less transparency is a dangerous step toward more corporate corruption. This give corporations more power at a time when they already have been shown to destroy lives. There is a disconnect between power of the people and corporate power. Stand for the people. We need fairness and transparency to make improving lives and getting to retirement possible. Please stop giving away all of the tools we have.

Please excuse the typos and brevity
Sent from my iPhone

Lisa Edwards — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lisa Edwards Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is regressive and absurd. Particularly in an era where tech companies are pressuring the markets to allow them in too early, forcing index funds to include them. It is vital that Americans are allowed to see what is happening with corporations in something more approaching real time than every 6 months. It is dangerous to those of us who will rely on our investments to live in retirement- not just worry about whether earnings will cover the cost of the beach house or not. Do not allow this change to quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Lisa Evans — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Evans Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Lisa Evans, small business owner, financial institutions should disclose their finances monthly or quarterly , not semi annually

Sent from my iPhone

Lisa Gary — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Gary Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The transparency of quarterly reporting is absolutely critical to me in choosing, monitoring and managing my investments prudently and wisely. Hiding away performance for six months at a time puts me at risk. I am in my sixties and don't have time left to weather poorly performing investments. Semiannual reporting is a terrible idea that favors corporations over average people like me who depend on our investments. Please don't sacrifice Americans at the behest of corporations. You know they are pushing this to maximize their own profits - and when that happens average Americans lose. Please do the RIGHT thing this time and put us first for once. Keep 90-day reporting which helps US wisely manage the money we've worked so hard for. My name is Lisa Gary, I'm 63, and I'm figuratively every American asking you for this.

Sent from my iPhone

---

lisa geiger — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: lisa geiger Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 At least Quarterly

Sent from my iPhone

Lisa Headen — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Headen Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Lisa Headen and I am a teacher. I'm close to retiring and I have worked hard as a teacher. It has not been easy trying to raise a family and trying to save what little money I make to have something for myself. I am having a hard time trusting this government already. Please don't play with my money.

Respectfully,
Lisa Headen

Lisa James — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa James Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I'm a retail investor and I rely on quarterly reports to make decisions about my retirement savings. We need quarterly information.

Longer gaps create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders; they definitely don't help the average investor, like my husband and myself.

Lisa James, Small Business Owner

Lisa Koenigs — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Koenigs Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I understand that companies can become manic about quarterly reports. Yet the quarterly reports can help regular retail investors understand what is going on with a particular company with whom they've invested.

I think the quarterly reports matter to regular investors who are not in the know otherwise. Please do not change the timing release of these important reports. Normal people need them. Thank you.

Lisa Ann Koenigs, MBA
Lisa.Ann.Koenigs@gmail.com
262-250-1951 (home office)
414-915-7869 (mobile)

Lisa Kulkarni — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lisa Kulkarni Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Hello. Please don't delay the reporting from Quarterly to 6 months. That is too long. Keep it the way it is. The better-informed people are, the better it is for our livelihoods. The more accountable businesses are as well.

Lisa Linn — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Linn Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please don't disrupt the current schedule, it works! I'm a retired teacher and I don't trust the numbers only twice a year. They're already suspect, don't make them less so. Mrs Lisa Linn M.S.
Ed.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Lisa Manion — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Manion Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly! we the investors deserve this transparency!

Lisa Petty — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lisa Petty Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 From Lisa Petty. Registered Nurse. Minnesota.

Please continue to require quarterly reporting. I am a registered nurse, in the process of retiring. No doubt, you know that nursing, like the military and clergy, is a calling. The pay is not great, as they say, but the work is necessary. I have carefully saved and invested my earnings so that I would not become destitute.

I depend on timely information about my investments to make decisions. It is like taking the lab tests your doctor ordered: you want to know the results as soon as possible to support decisions about future medical therapies. If you are undergoing a therapy, you want to know if it is effective.

Please don’t make people wonder for a long time if the therapy is effective: they need frequent check-ins. To decrease reporting takes away the advantage of knowledge for a person managing their personal wealth, built over years of working night shifts and caring for people in the worst moments of their lives.

To decrease reporting by 50 percent seems unnecessary in this age of technology when current information is so important to living our best lives. I am simply unable to see the benefit or necessity. Thank you for your concern.

Lisa Pyles — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lisa Pyles Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
What you're proposing is reckless and irresponsible, and is aimed solely at retail investors to remove any informed decision making power they may have. It also removes any remaining accountability for corporations in an age when they hold absolute autonomy. Please don't screw over non-corporate investors this way.

Lisa R. Hatcher — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa R. Hatcher Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As someone who has saved diligently in my various employer retirement plans, I have a vested interest in this proposed rule change.

Switching from quarterly to semi-annually reporting increases risk with no commensurate reward to me as an investor.

A lot can happen in six months and that amount of lag time can change the outlook for a business, affecting my ability to make informed decisions.

Please do not make this change.

Lisa Hatcher
FInancial Planning Manager

Lisa Volmar — Jun 11, 2026

Subject: From: Lisa Volmar Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 .Markets and companies have too much change now to also reduce the frequency of their reporting for transparency and to reduce insider advantage

---

Lisa Weatherholt — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Weatherholt Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the quarterly requirement. Too many months of no information—that's too long. Too much time to hide fraud, too little information shared. If I am a shareholder or even a potential shareholder, I am entitled to have that knowledge. Even though you say "optional ", we all know there will be a great deal of default to it.
Elizabeth Weatherholt
Active investor
Tulsa OK

Sent from my iPad

LITA SEWER — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: LITA SEWER Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep quarterly importing. The investors need to be "kept in" to this information, the corporations do not! The general public needs to be kept informed, or else it's 1929 all over again!

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Liz Fajardo — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Liz Fajardo Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 C'mon. We deserve to know what is happening with our investments.. Transparency builds trusts. Nothing to hide? Release accurate, honest information quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

LMT2890 — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: LMT2890 Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Hello, I want quarterly reports. Keep things the way they currently are. Financial quarterly reporting will keep companies accountable and transparent. We should never be surprised or in the dark. Six months is too far apart.

Thank you.

Lynn Thomas

Oklahoma City, Oklahoma

Sent from Proton Mail for iOS.

Lois Asleson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lois Asleson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please keep the SEC reporting quarterly! My retirement depends on this money and I need to know what is happening. Every six months is too long between reporting cycles. Lois Asleson.

Sent from my iPhone

Lois Ermak — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lois Ermak Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 A big no. I invest in the stock market. If this passes I will no longer invest. Lois Ermak

Sent from my iPhone

Lon Bird — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lon Bird Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Ridiculous! Congress and the Senate should stop this not support it. Many of these elected officials already are guilty of insider trading and some may be guilty of market manipulation. Traders and investors need to be better informed!

Lon H. Bird

Lonn Sattler — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lonn Sattler Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 It's bad enough that income inequality continues its shift toward benefiting the wealthy. Now they want to downshift more of the risk to everyday Americans just trying to save up to be able to.afford to retire.
Absolutely not.
Continue the 3-month requirement.

Lonn

Lonnie Williams — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lonnie Williams Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Do not make a. Change to 6 month reporting! If you change anything go to monthly reporting! This is a blatant attempt to cancel financial data from investors!

Lora Gregory — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lora Gregory Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Lora Gregory Registered Nurse. Will you please STOP messing around with my money!!! I only have a few years left, let me enjoy something in my lifetime.

"No really great man ever thought himself so".

Lora Medina — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lora Medina Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Information matters. The truth matters. Transparency matters. Accountability matters. Timeliness matters.

Sick of the lies and misinformation,
Lora Medina, Director of Programs

Lora Medina, M.Ed.
Director of Programs
C. B. King Centers
redacted
McGehee - Arkansas City - Eudora

Quote: If we give children what they need at 2 and 3 and 4 when they are 2 and 3 and 4, they will be ready for what they need at 5 or 6 or 7 when they are 5 or 6 or 7.
Children don't need to be "prepped" for 5 or 6 or 7 at 2 or 3 or 4.

Confidentiality Notice: The information contained in this e-mail message and any attachment(s) is the property of CB King Memorial School, Inc. and may be protected by state and federal laws governing disclosure of private information. It is intended solely for the use of the entity to who this e-mail is addressed. If you are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that reading, copying or distribution of this transmission is STRICTLY PROHIBITED. The sender has not waived any applicable privilege by sending the accompanying transmission. If you have received this transmission in error, please notify the sender by return and delete the message and attachment(s) from your system.

Lora Rinehart — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: KEEP THE RULES AS THEY ARE From: Lora Rinehart Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 ENOUGH! STOP ENABLING CRIME

Lorena Powell — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lorena Powell Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Do the right thing, keep the quarterly reports, not every 6 months.

Loretta McCarthy — Jun 11, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Loretta McCarthy Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 PLEASE give the voters a chance to survive!

Lori A. Carper — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lori A. Carper Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I oppose only getting bi annual reports on my hard earned investments. Please do not change the law to only twice a year reporting. Thank you. Lori Carper Houston TX

Lori Carper, CMP, CMM, CIPS
Director of Meetings & Events and Global Houston Association of Realtors lori@har.com
713 629 1900 x 1275

Disclaimer
The information contained in this communication from the sender is confidential. It is intended solely for use by the recipient and others authorized to receive it. If you are not the recipient, you are hereby notified that any disclosure, copying, distribution or taking action in relation of the contents of this information is strictly prohibited and may be unlawful.

This email has been scanned for viruses and malware, and may have been automatically archived by Mimecast Ltd, an innovator in Software as a Service (SaaS) for business. Providing a safer and more useful place for your human generated data. Specializing in; Security, archiving and compliance. To find out more Click Here.

Lori Anne Vogt — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lori Anne Vogt Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As an investor I depend on quarterly reports. DO NOT take away this requirement, as I am not in the 1% that has access to insider information.

Lori Belluscio — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lori Belluscio Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Leave quarterly reporting in place

Sent from my iPhone

Lori Carpenter — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lori Carpenter Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As an individual retail investor I rely heavily on quarterly reports to make decisions about my retirement savings. So much happens over the course of 6 months. I can’t be using data from all the way back in May to make sound decisions in December. Keep them quarterly!

Lori Day — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lori Day Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am concerned about moving from every 3 months to twice a year. This decision will create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders and keep individual investors in the dark and open up more opportunities for fraud. Thank you,

Lori Day
Communications Director

Sent from my iPhone

Lori Egan — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lori Egan Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The facts and the history of this experiment once in our history should be enough to say - no way - leave it alone. We already see the richer getting richer and the middle class sliding into debt and financial ruin- and the republicans administration thinks this is good for our country and investors - even though there is historical data showing it ravaged portfolios back in 1955-1973. Stop messing with our money, our stocks, our country and our futures. We all have long memories and so do the young people of this country who will have less to inherit and invest into home ownership and raising their kids. Just stop it. When do you crazy trumpers say enough is enough - stop financially raping the middle class.

LE

Lori Watson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lori Watson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 If a company is public, it’s books are public.

Lori Watson (she/her)
I hope you dance…I hope you dance

Lorraina McMinn retired teacher — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Lorraina McMinn SEC, I am so sick and tired of all the cheating, lying, stealing and the cover ups in this administration as well as the Republican Congress members who refuse to do their job and keep this administration in check and accountable. Save quarterly reporting! Stop the corruption. Quarterly reporting was put in place for a reason, an attempt to keep CEOs and Corporations accountable as much as possible. Removing it is just another attempt at the offenses listed in my opening statement. Lorraina McMinn

---

Lorraine Burkhalter — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lorraine Burkhalter Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As I approach retirement, I feel more supervision is better than less. More Reporting is better than less. Holding CEOs accountable is a good thing. Keep the quarterly rule please. Lorraine Burkhalter, Program Manager.

Sent from my iPhone

Lorraine Evans — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lorraine Evans Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 No. This is wrong, where is accountability?

Lou Tevis — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lou Tevis Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY!!! Or else we will fight!

Sent from my iPhone

Louis Boish — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Louis Boish Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 So what is the purpose of this change? The current system has worked fine for many years and needs to remain quarterly. It is important for investors to have a clear up to date picture of what they are investing in. Why change something that is working well.

Louis Boish
Retired Controller
Aliso Viejo CA

Sent from my iPhone

Louise DiSylvestro — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Louise DiSylvestro Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please do NOT change the reporting requirements of public companies from 4x a year to 2x a year. With our fast paced economy, this will put the everyday investors (we will be the last to know of breaking trends or influential impacts affecting prices) at a decided disadvantage. We should invest in the market and changing reporting requirements encourages us to go elsewhere. This in turn limits our ability to grow wealth over the long term. We need more information and not less. Changing this to twice a year was detrimental to citizens in the past and a change to less frequent reporting is uncalled for at this time. It is repeating a past failure. Let's not repeat past failures!!

Louise DiSylvestro, Real Estate Appraiser, Philadelphia PA.

Sent from my iPhone

Love First — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Love First Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 CE Jones, Order Services Specialist

I am writing to strongly object to allowing additional reporting time. I work in a department subject to financial audits at a publicly-traded company. It is vital that reporting continue to be made each quarter in a timely manner. Even at reputable companies such as mine, the volume of data assessed and reported already creates significant potential for error. This work takes concentration and dedicated review by entire teams.

Allowing multiple quarters of data to get verlap will increase workload and margin for error, creating possible overlap and confusion in records, with staff under increased stress and greater workloads.

In unethical companies, the extra time provides a window of uncertainty for staff and shareholders.

Do not consider this measure.

---

lplp72 — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: lplp72 Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I think it is a very bad move to increase the reporting period from 3 months to 6 months because that gives the insiders an unfair advantage for trading securities of a public company...they should have no advantage over the normal stockholders and general public. This sets up too many opportunities for corruption and cheats the public out of their right to know.

Sent from my Galaxy

LQ Happenings — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: LQ Happenings Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 In this fast-changing world, eliminating checks will cause disaster.

Luanne Trevena — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Luanne Trevena Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Accountability!

Lucille Taylor — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lucille Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Retired single person, rely on reporting to adjust sources of income to pay bills. Lucy Taylor, 77 yrs old

Sent from my iPhone

Lucy Austin — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lucy Austin Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As a person with stock I do not think that is a reasonable idea. Why should companies be allowed to hide their books from their investors. Don’t allow this!!!

Lucy Austin
Sent from my iPhone

---

luis diaz — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: luis diaz Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Stop the theft and madness

---

Luis Kagalis — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Luis Kagalis Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I, Luis Kagalis, submit my comments as an investor, and, by which, I am retired, constantly monitoring the market, and national news and economic challenges from Panama City Beach, Florida! There are several common sense statements that should resonate with both investors and companies: 1) period of reporting needs to be mandatory - SEC can not make reporting voluntary - that would create chaos and confusion; 2) transparency is so much easier quarterly than bi-annually! And transparency is needed to ensure stability in our democratic capitalistic system! Trust and confidence is the key to healthy economic system! 3) We learn from our mistakes - we already did bi-annual reporting in ‘55 - ‘70 NEVER GO BACKWARDS! Our changes should move progressively forward using new technologies - not reverting back to where we had bank failures and corruption with underlying back room deals! This hurts the confidence of investors, gives con men an opportunity to manipulate the system - and at the end of the day - it will be the SEC that will be held accountable and responsible for the outcome of our future financial and economic success/failures based on the rules they enact! Seriously, defer this change to an environment of prosperity and stability - not during a time of distrust and era of perceived political corruption!

Sent from my iPhone

Luther Carwell Jr — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Luther Carwell Jr Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep it quartly, 6 months is to long to be out of the loop. A too many crooks to profit out there.

---

lydia hall — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: lydia hall Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the SEC Sec'y: 1) I rely on quarterly information to make decisions; 2) longer gaps create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders; 3) "optional" doesn't fix the problem because companies that opt in are often the ones whose investors most need frequent updates; 4) the savings to companies aren't worth the cost to me. The government should remember: it works for constituents, not lobbies. Transparency inspires trust. Elected officials and corporations should not be profiting using insider information and loopholes. Changing the rules midgame to advantage the crooked is not the answer. Signed, Lydia Hall, educator

Sent from my iPhone

Lydia Pozzato — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lydia Pozzato Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Investors have a right to know the current, (or at the very least, the quarterly) health of the companies they've invested in.
Making reporting semi-annual would simply hide any financial problems until it is too late for us to protect our investments!
Semi-annual reporting only helps CEOs who are seeking to defraud their investors. Please reject this terrible idea!

Sent from my iPhone

Lyn Adams — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lyn Adams Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 No reason for secrecy other than fraud and stealing from those not in the secrecy loop!

This especially seems like a legitimate concern as communities are fighting against the data centers issue. There's so much secrecy at the beginning and then "the people" being impacted begin to hear of the onset, only to be told contracts are in place and then the outcry for information is STILL more secrecy .

Lyn Adams, Concerned Citizen in Central Texas

Lynese Davis — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynese Davis Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Lynese Davis Teacher, Special Education. Please keep quarterly report. It is very important to me. I am retiring soon.

Sister Davis, Superintendent
New Salem Baptist Church

"And we know all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are called according to his purpose." (Rom 8:28)

---

lynette berdan — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: lynette berdan Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Lynette, referral coordinator. As someone who works in the ever changing healthcare industry, it's important to know what companies are doing with their money. Patient care goes beyond the doctors and nurses. It's up to the companies to budget properly and in order for us to make sure money is being spent on patients and their care we need to keep access at every 3 months. It's good morale for the public too to know that the money they spend isn't going to big corps or fraud and if we let them go longer to possibly defraud us it would cause a larger impact on the public systems.

Get Outlook for iOS

Lynette Waterman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lynette Waterman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As an investor and an American citizen it frightens me that the SEC would make a reckless decision to take information away from small investors. This sounds like we are turning into a communist state that takes away our rights to facts and information to improve our lives and attain the "American Dream" of financial independence and wealth through capitalism. I am getting closer to retirement and this kind of change could ruin the trajectory of my life plan. I respectfully ask that you continue to require quarterly reports for investors like myself to continue to invest in American businesses with the same information all investors are privy to.

Lynn Whitmeyer — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynn Whitmeyer Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We are watching speculation in real time. There will be big losers.
All the tech firms have borrowed TRILLIONS to bet on Space X. This is due to its reusable rocket. China set off reusable rocket, last week. And named 3 Companies currently Manufacturing them. The markets are being manipulated by White House Announcements daily.

DO YOU REALLY BELIEVE THAT LESS INFORMATION IS A GOOD STARTEGY?
Everything you do will affect people's ability to survive.
As the wealth continues to expand at the very top.
There will come a time, when significant amount of the population will not have enough.
Or the 1.25 million to one Billionaire won't be tolerated.

Lynn Whitmeyer

---

lynn dewitt — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: lynn dewitt Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We need accountability.. .for these companies...on a quarterly basis...!

Please act ... responsibly...!

Fondly,

Lynn

LYNN DONELL — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: LYNN DONELL Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We need quarterly reporting. I can't afford to lose money at my age. This is not a good idea!!!
Thank you !

Sent from my iPhone

Lynn Ehlers — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynn Ehlers Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I prefer knowing what is going on down on Wall Street. I propose a monthly report. Even quarterly is a long time in the era of lightning fast computer transactions.

LYNN GRENIER — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: LYNN GRENIER Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Transparency mstters. Leave the review period as it is....

Lynn Knaack — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynn Knaack Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Considering how eBay treats sellers and the ridiculous fees they charge the seller to reimburse the fees instead of returning those fees themselves-eBay- to a buyer! NOOOO

Lynn Knaack

Lynn Maust — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynn Maust Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As A long time investor in the stock market, keeping the quarterly reporting is important to me and keeps those companies in the stock market more honest. Do not change the current quarterly reporting timeline requirements.

Lynn Maust

Lynn States — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynn States Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is BS they want our money for products but they don't want to report their earnings for Taxes they don't pay any now. And now they don't want to pay share holders either. They already own the government under this administration so now they aren't going to be accountable in anyway.

Lynne Jett — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynne Jett Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 With everything online now there is no good reason to not publish. Unless someone is cooking the books.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Lynne Johnson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynne Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As an investor I want more visibility and accountability, not less, from the companies I invest in. This is a very bad idea.

Lynne Johnson

Lynne Lyons — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynne Lyons Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is OUR money, not yours. I am astonished this was proposed. Credit unions and State savings banks are becoming more appealing to me and many friends. I'll have more faith in my mattress if this scheme occurs.

Sent from my iPhone

Lynne Thomas — Jun 11, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynne Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 《《 MORE CORRUPTION ON THEE HIGHEST LEVEL !!! 》》》 ENOUGH of COW-TOWing to the ULTRA RICH !!!!!!!

Lynne Thomas
Retired

Lynne Weitz — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynne Weitz Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 No change is good for our country. Better against corruption.

Sent from my iPhone

---

lynnette green — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: lynnette green Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Don't let them get away with more 😈🤡💩

Lynnette Lindquist — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lynnette Lindquist Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commi dession:
Don't allow companies to commit fraud. Force them to be transparent, so investors know what they're getting into.

M Brunette — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: M Brunette Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please keep the reporting requirements!

Accountability is needed in this country! We need the CEO and CFO to remain accountable to the public as well as regulators. Also, there can be no more excuses for I didn’t know like Enron!

M. Brunette, Agency Attorney, Tampa, FL

Sent from my iPhone

M Calcagni — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: M Calcagni Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 There is so much fraud happening around us, we need to keep the light on. Do not make any changes!!

Sent from my iPhone

M Fowler — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: M Fowler Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Hundreds of thousands of hardworking citizens put their trust in financial institutions to manage and grow their retirement income. Allowing these companies to reduce reporting frequency is wrong and does not serve their clients. Financial corporations have an obligation to remain as transparent as possible. This includes providing quarterly reports.

Mary Fowler
Business Manager (Retired)

M James — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: M James Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Hiding information like quarterly disclosures will do nothing but create distrust in the system and push many people to pull money out of investments.

M m — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: M m Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Let's be up front and honest, investors are routinely the objects of a system designed to hide and coverup bad news. We deserve and demand a honest environment in which to make decisions.

M Price — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: M Price Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Hi this is Marisa P. I am a Global Vendor Management Leader for a major firm. I have been invested in the stock market for the duration of my 20 year career. I have been a user of corporate quarterly reports for even longer. They help me gain understanding of a company's financial standing and help me make buy/sell/hold decisions across my multiple investment accounts. I used quarterly financial reports to be able to tell that Delta was headed for bankruptcy long before they actually filed and before they started showing financial distress. The savings associated with ending these reports are immaterial compared to the costs associated to me from volatility in the stock market and slower ability to understand company's financial standing. It's not worth the risk if leaving investors in the dark.

M V — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: M V Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Public needs updates! Sometimes quarterly is to long if a company moves earnings into present quarter for boost to unload before the fall.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

M.D. Johnson — Jun 11, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: M.D. Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 There is NO REASON to cut time unless there is something to hide. You only hide things your ashamed of or puts you in a bad light. NO!

---

m2strp87 — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: m2strp87 Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Should not be allowed. They hide enough

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Mad With Power Band — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mad With Power Band Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The American public deserves to know just how our life savings are progressing/regressing depending on the markets. DO NOT TAKE AWAY quarterly reporting. There is no reason that this should change. The cost to these companies is negligible, but for the average investor, waiting half a year to find out what's happening with out accounts could be devestating.

Maeryn Boirionnach — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maeryn Boirionnach Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The public is entitled to have adequate oversight! There's no reason for any financial entity to hide their records, unless they have some kind of malfeasance to cover up!

Maggie Lignon — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Maggie Lignon Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Margaret Lignon. Central Virginia and I am OVER Corporations rolling over every day Americans. This was already tried one, between 1955 and 1970, and it ended up with lower returns and lower valuations. This would mean, for everyday American investors, a loss of losing more than half of their savings! Corporate America is already draining American citizens of their savings - they do not need another way to drain our life savings!

Sent from my iPhone

Mairead Murray — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mairead Murray Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 KEEPIT QUARTERLY, stop this nonsense!

Máireád Murray

Makenzie Stumpf — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Makenzie Stumpf Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Makenzie Stumpf and I am a HR Manager at UIHC. I am contacting you to register my opinion that financial reporting should remain quarterly. I do not support any proposed changes to allow for reporting to move to a less frequent period.

Sent from my iPhone

Mamie Metzger — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mamie Metzger Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reporting is important to my evaluating whether to buy a company's stock or not. A lot happens over 6 months.

---

mandrinaneela — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: mandrinaneela Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As a small investor, I need the every three months reporting. I need the most information I can have, especially since I invest carefully because i can't afford to lose what I have invested. Katrina Sotomayor. RN

Mandy Parkes — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mandy Parkes Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 A PARKES,, CRE, LOUISVILLE, KY. WE MUST KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING FOR THE GOOD OF THE NATION AND ITS CITIZENS

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Mara Synnestvedt — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mara Synnestvedt Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The required time frame for company earnings reporting needs to remain at quarterly!! I'm relying on my portfolio for my retirement, especially now that it looks like I will likely not be able to rely on any social security safety net.

Single, hard working, childcare provider in Colorado,

Mara Synnestvedt

Sent from my iPhone

Marc Morgenstern — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Marc Morgenstern Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Reduce reporting to semi-annually and we will vote you out of office, whether you are a Democrat, Republican, or independent.

FAFO, elected representatives.

Marc

Marcia Jablonski — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Marcia Jablonski Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am a 69-year-old retired woman who relies on my savings and investments to provide financial security throughout my retirement. I am writing to express my opposition to proposed Rule S7-2026-15.

As a retiree, I have limited opportunities to replace investment losses through employment income. Because of this, I depend on transparent, efficient, and competitive financial markets that allow me to make informed decisions about how my retirement assets are managed and invested.

I am concerned that this proposed rule could have unintended consequences for individual investors like me. My primary concern is that it may increase costs, reduce investment choices, create additional complexity, or otherwise negatively affect the long-term performance of retirement savings. Any rule that makes investing more expensive or less accessible can have a meaningful impact on retirees living on fixed incomes.

I believe the SEC should carefully consider how this proposal would affect ordinary Americans who have spent decades saving for retirement. Investors like me need policies that protect market integrity while preserving choice, competition, and opportunities for long-term growth.

I respectfully urge the Commission to withdraw or reconsider Rule S7-2026-15 and conduct further analysis regarding its impact on retirees and individual investors before moving forward.

Thank you for considering my comments.

Sincerely, Marcia Jablonski

Marcia Gammon — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marcia Gammon Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Don't make it easier to hide wrongdoing! Isn't integrity important anymore? I work with college age young people. How do I explain to them that transparency and openess should be sacrificed on the altar of greed? Marcia Gammon --counselor

---

marcia giles — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: marcia giles Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Stop the steal! Quarterly reporting is needed and necessary.

Marcia Giles
Florida

Sent from my iPhone

Marcie Lear — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marcie Lear Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Marcie Lear. I work as a registered dental hygienist in the state of Pennsylvania. I want full disclosure and quarterly corporate reports

---

Marga Watrous — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Marga Watrous Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The market has been robust with quarterly earnings reports. Why change something that is working.? The market was flat when reporting only happened twice a year. Let's not go back to .

Sent from my iPhone

Margaret Frascatore — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Margaret Frascatore Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Dear Commissioners of the Securities and Exchange Commission,

I am writing to respectfully convey my serious concerns regarding any proposed alterations to the current quarterly financial reporting mandates for publicly traded companies.

As an individual investor, I, along with a vast number of market participants, depend critically on the consistent and timely dissemination of quarterly financial data. This regular reporting schedule is indispensable for making well-informed investment decisions, facilitating fair market valuation, and ensuring an equitable playing field for all investors.

The suggestion of extending reporting intervals, for instance, to a semi-annual basis, raises significant apprehension. Such a reduction in disclosure frequency would inevitably exacerbate information asymmetry between corporate insiders and external investors. A prolonged absence of current financial updates creates an environment where those with privileged internal knowledge could gain an undue advantage, potentially undermining market integrity and public trust in our capital markets.

Moreover, I find the concept of optional participation in more frequent reporting to be problematic. It is plausible that companies facing operational difficulties or navigating significant, undisclosed changes might be the most inclined to opt out of frequent disclosures. This would disproportionately disadvantage retail investors, who typically lack the extensive resources available to institutional investors for independent research and analysis, precisely when up-to-date information is most crucial.

While I acknowledge arguments concerning potential administrative burdens and cost savings for corporations, these considerations must be carefully weighed against the substantial negative ramifications for market transparency, fairness, and overall investor confidence. The broader societal and economic costs stemming from diminished transparency and an increased potential for market imbalances demonstrably outweigh any short-term corporate efficiencies.

Therefore, I strongly urge the Commission to maintain the existing quarterly reporting framework.

Upholding these current standards is fundamental to ensuring market transparency, safeguarding individual investors, and preserving the fairness and accessibility of our capital markets for everyone.

Thank you for your careful consideration of these vital matters.

Sincerely,
Margaret Frascatore

Margaret Natario — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Maintain Quarterly Reporting for Public Compaines From: Margaret Natario Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We need more transparency, not less. Please do not relax regulations and keep reporting requirements for all public companies quarterly. Thank you!
Margaret Natario, Director, Product Management

Margaret Bocchichio — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Margaret Bocchichio Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 No way this benefits anyone but those required to report and be transparent in financials. I ask you to vote no.

Sent from my iPhone

Margaret Moran — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Margaret Moran Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We NEED to hold these CEO's accountable. Frequent monitoring is key. As a former VP, now retired, I know we need to keep this in effect. Sincerely, Margaret Moran, Bay City Michigan

---

Margaret Stevens-Becksvoort — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Margaret Stevens-Becksvoort Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the quarterly statements. Keep an eye on companies because that’s your job! I’m retired and need to know how my accounts are doing. Transparency and accountability are what is needed.

Peg Becksvoort
Retired librarian who relies on her investments

Marge Demeules — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marge Demeules Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 M Demeules
Retired
Keep reporting rules as they are.
This is my money invested. I have the right to know what they are doing with it.

Sent from my iPhone

Maria Abeyounis — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maria Abeyounis Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Maria Abeyounis, DDS
Keep the timeframe as is. Annually is too long a timeframe to review and adjust finances.

Get Outlook for iOS

---

maria davila — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: maria davila Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I want to see results as often as possible and not be in the dark about my funds.

Sent from my iPhone

Maria Hamilton — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maria Hamilton Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As a recently retired teacher living on a fixed income, understanding what is happening to my investments is crucial. This change would jeopardize my ability to make decisions in a timely and financially sound manner.

Maria Hamilton

Maria Pizzo — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maria Pizzo Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Maria Gabriel Oil and Gas Accounting
In my profession accountability is key. It is bad business to delay forecasting reality. Reality time financial data is key to keeping businesses prosper. We need to continue accurate keeo timely information on business.

Maria =)

Maria Pizzo-Gabriel

redacted

“The only difference between success and failure is the ability to take action"
-Alexander Graham Bell

MARIA REGINA SCHEPP — Jun 11, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: MARIA REGINA SCHEPP Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 PLEASE MAKE COMPANIES BE MORE TRANSPARENT. THEY GET AWAY WITH RIPPING OFF THE CONSUMER RNOUGH AS IT IS.

Maria Rocco — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maria Rocco Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I predict that a move to semi annual reporting will directly cause an increase in fraud and malfeasance. It is a longer time span with which to play with the numbers and engage in unlawful activities.

Sent from my iPhone

Maria Torres — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maria Torres Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please stick to quarterly reporting for everyone's financial stability including corporations. If you switch to annual reporting it will be like getting your child's report card at the end of the year and find out he is failing and at that point there is nothing you can do to help. Annual reporting is a loose loose for both sides.

Sent from my iPhone

Maria Vazquez — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maria Vazquez Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Dear SEC,

Please continue to require quarterly reports. It's important to keep these companies accountable. Quarterly reports allow for better oversight and the ability to catch problems early.
Thank you
Maria Vazquez PhD

Marian Birch-Pelhan — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marian Birch-Pelhan Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Clearly, the SEC cares diddly squat about the average American. Pass this monstrosity and you'll be looking at a class action lawsuit in the hundreds of billions of dollars and you will be named as a plaintiff. Do you, personally have hundreds of billions of dollars cause you're going to need it…and we'll rope into the lawsuit every corporation that participate in this obscenity.

Sent from my iPad

Marian Eash — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Marian Eash Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am not a significant investor myself, but I care about how this proposal could affect my parents, retirees, and ordinary Americans whose savings are invested through retirement accounts and mutual funds.
My concern is simple: transparency. Whenever someone wants less public disclosure, I immediately wonder who benefits from knowing less. I have a hard time believing that ordinary investors are asking for fewer reports and less information.

The SEC exists to protect investors and promote fair markets. Reducing reporting requirements seems contrary to that mission. I urge the Commission to maintain quarterly reporting and reject proposals that would reduce transparency for the public.
Marian Eash, Pinellas Park, Florida

Marian Johnston — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marian Johnston Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 All of the rest of us business owners report & pay taxes quarterly, it is not that difficult. Now that you are opening retirement accounts to private equity resk, why in the hell would you cut reporting back; unless the criminal current regime is trying to find another way to steal from the taxpayers!!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Marie Gockel — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Marie Gockel Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My hard earned money invested in a company deserves more than twice a year accountability. I want to see trends, impacts of corporate decisions and world events. More not less is better. I need better informed decision making not operating in the dark. My money should not be taken for granted. Do not change these requirements.

Sent from my iPhone

Marie Lingham — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marie Lingham Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Marie L Lingham, Retired RN, former Active Duty Service Member United States Navy THIS MATTERS

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Marie-Therese Hernon — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Marie-Therese Hernon Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am an investor based in Connecticut who wants to ensure the SEC maintains quarterly reporting.

If companies want my investment dollars, they must remain accountable to me. History has shown that some corporations are considerably less honest than others and bear watching closely. The SEC must do all in its power to protect those it has been entrusted to protect.

Thank you.

Marie-Thérèse Hernon
Shelton, CT

Mariela Corte — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mariela Corte Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I want to know were and my retirement investment is doing all the time, I want my quarterly report, is my money and I want accountability with quarterly reports. Mariela, bookkeeper, Florida

Get Outlook for iOS

Marilyn DuVon — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marilyn DuVon Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 SEC- for the sake of football, please continue quarterly reporting. To minimize it into 6 month reports serves no one. College football needs to be held accountable to its fans, school graduates, coaching staff, etc. it's become a mess due to the NIL and portal transfers. It needs to be reigned in. To hedge now on frequent reporting is not a good idea. Marilyn DuVon 4 year letterman The University of Texas at Austin

Marilyn DuVon
"I am a part of all that I have met." Alfred Lord Tennyson

Marilyn Galvin — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Marilyn Galvin Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Don't change to semi-annual reporting. It is a failed practice. Proven by historical evidence.

Sent from my iPhone

Marilyn Hertzberg — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marilyn Hertzberg Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Do not enact this rule. It obscures the business's actions, both good and bad until that information is no longer an edfective monitor and tool for many investors. It gives the insiders an unfair advantage.

Marilyn Hettzberg, Owner

Sent from my iPhone

---

marilyn lesslie — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: marilyn lesslie Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Do not allow this PLEASE!!! Makes it so much more tempting for crooks too operate under cover. Marilyn Lesslie

Sent from my iPhone

Marilyn Petrich — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marilyn Petrich Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I want to be able to follow my investments on a regular basis, not be shut out for six months. This is too much time for bad actors with my money!
Marilyn M Petrich, RN ret.

Sent from my iPhone

Marilyn Rock — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marilyn Rock Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Why the secrecy? We need quarterly reporting as more information the better.

Marina Klepsch — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marina Klepsch Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 No! To the semi-yearly reporting. Its too disadvantageous to the small investor!

Marion Sigurdson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marion Sigurdson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep quartly reporting. Don't lock out the public from the timely information

Marion Sigurdson
gmdoc4pb@gmail.com

Marisa Duva — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Marisa Duva Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not hide vital information from the general public. By doing so you would be allowing fraud to the consumers.

Marita Risse — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marita Risse Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The SEC is one of the few last remaining watchdog organizations to keep tabs on unbridled greed

---

Marjorie Schmidt — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marjorie Schmidt Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am a retired widow who manages my own retirement investments. I need at least quarterly financial information on publicly held corporations. 6 months is too long of a period between big institutions reckoning and too much damage could be done to my portfolio before I can make the changes necessary to recover. Benefits no one and no good reason to do it.

Marjory Moses — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Marjory Moses Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please do not switch to semi-annual reporting. I am retired and depend on my financial advisor monitoring quarterly reports to keep my IRA healthy. My children are also invested for their retirement and college funds. We cannot afford for our savings to be reduced!
Marjory Moses

Sent from my iPhone

Marjory Cordoza — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marjory Cordoza Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Why would any public company want to hide their books from the public who make their existence possible? That would be similar to a spouse hiding purchases from their partner and as we know that is cheating and leads to mistrust and worse.
Indeed, I can not think of any reason why such a deception is warranted. Please, do not erode the public's confidence in our institutions any farther by approving this proposal. Thank you.
Marjory Cordoza, retired school teacher who has a small stake in my future financial stability.

Sent from my iPad

Mark — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am a retiree. I believe publicly traded companies should be transparent. Less reporting will benefit wealthy insiders and negatively impact those who rely on public pensions.

Sent from my iPad

Mark Billingsley — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Billingsley Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Accountability seems a dirty word in Washington these days. Here's another example

---

Mark Copus — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mark Copus Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Mark Copus
redacted

I feel this is a huge mistake for our future, and that of our children. There is no sane reasoning for doing this. At least from the average American workers perspective.

I will vote against anything to do with this and encourage others.

Sent from my iPhone

Mark Damon — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Damon Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep transparency with quarterly reports.

Mark Gray — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Gray Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The proposed change harms investors.
Time is the friend of the corrupt manager.
All managers are corrupt to some degree.

Mark Gray (Retired)

Mark Greenhalgh — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Greenhalgh Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the SEC reporting as is.

Sent from my iPhone

Mark Heritage — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Heritage Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Mark Heritage, Deputy Chief Biomedical Engineer.

This proposal to reduce public reporting frequencies from Quarterly to Semi—Annually introduces a significant and unplanned risk to my family's retirement plans and future assets if allowed to go forward.

The data quality produced by these public traded companies and securities will be greatly reduced. It presents an opportunity for company Executive Leadership to make more short-term riskier decisions and take advantage of me and other shareholders.

In addition this can make US based companies much more riskier, reduce their credit rating, and potentially limit future foreign investors from bringing their money here.

As I near retirement in the next 5 years, I fear that this fundamental loss of transparency to shareholders presents an existential risk that we did not agree to.

Please reject this changed proposal in the interest of protecting me and all shareholders in publicly traded securities.

Regards… Mark

---

mark lumm — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: mark lumm Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I'm retired 45-year trucker. Now full-time trader and investor. I absolutely think that they should have to report every quarter they don't need to have another way to steal more money or not be able to have to pay taxes on money or whatever it is all the rich people get all the benefits.

Mark McLaughlin — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mark McLaughlin Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Mark McLaughlin, MSgt, USMC Ret, Concord, NC. Quarterly reports allow share holders a chance to see more frequent results from publicly traded companies. More transparency also allows investors to have more situational awareness of their money and those they are investing with. Vote in the best interest of the people. All of us.

Mark Tudyk — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Tudyk Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep it Quarterly! To do otherwise is irresponsible and invites bad practices.

Sent from my iPhone

Mark Welch — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Welch Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Reducing quarterly reporting to semi-annual is a bad idea.

It will lead to a host of problems including corruption, fraud, deceit and insider trading.

I urge you to not reduce quarterly reporting.

Regards,
Mark W. Welch

Sent from my iPhone

Mark Welch — Jun 11, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Welch Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Reducing quarterly reporting to semi-annual is a bad idea.

It will lead to a host of problems including corruption, fraud deceit and insider trading.

I urge you to not reduce quarterly reporting.

Regards,
Mark W. Welch
Retired

Sent from my iPhone

Marlene Nielsen — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marlene Nielsen Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Stop taking away more guardrails from corruption that are left in this country. They need to keep reporting every 3 months period. Marlene Nielsen

---

Marlene Obst Nash — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marlene Obst Nash Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The public needs to see quarterly reports from the SEC. It's important to keep a close watch on Wall St activities. Please maintain quarterly reporting.

Mars Merrell — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mars Merrell Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is not ok and will give them more abusive business practices. The people who’s money it is should have a say and knowledge about their own money.

Sent from my iPhone

Marsha Krigsvold — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marsha Krigsvold Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Absolutely do not stretch out the playtime to report! There are very good reasons that companies report their financial positions quarterly. A lot of irresponsible behavior can be hidden in six months. How do you expect investors to pinpoint where a business is to make a safe guess at what managers are doing with their money if there is a six month lag time in communication of positions? Free markets run safer on more recent info. What is the reason for delaying data reporting? What are high speed calculation computers and 5 G internet for, to provide more information faster to make more accurate determinations of realtime company positions. No excuses!

Marsha Krigsvold

Marta Medrano — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Marta Medrano Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Comment to the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
As an AI built by xAI to help users understand complex information and make better decisions, I regularly interact with investors, analysts, and individuals who rely on timely, standardized financial disclosures from public companies. Quarterly reports—particularly the detailed financial statements, management's discussion and analysis (MD&A), and risk updates in Forms 10-Q—are among the most valuable tools available for informed decision-making.
These quarterly disclosures provide a regular, comparable snapshot of a company's performance, liquidity, and risks that annual reports alone cannot replicate. Markets move quickly. Without quarterly data, investors lose the ability to spot emerging trends, revenue shifts, cost pressures, or operational challenges in real time. For example, they help me evaluate whether a company is hitting its guidance, managing working capital effectively, or facing unexpected liabilities before those issues compound. This timeliness reduces information asymmetry between company insiders and outside investors, supporting more efficient capital allocation and fairer stock pricing.
Reducing or eliminating quarterly disclosures would remove vital, verifiable information from the marketplace. It would force investors to rely more heavily on voluntary company updates, press releases, or incomplete data—which are often less rigorous, less standardized, and potentially selective. That shift increases uncertainty, raises the cost of capital for honest companies, and makes it easier for problems to go undetected until they become crises. Far from "modernizing" disclosure, dialing back quarterly requirements would leave retail and institutional investors with a thinner, less reliable information environment.
The SEC's mission includes protecting investors and facilitating fair, orderly markets. Preserving robust quarterly disclosures serves that mission directly by ensuring the public has the consistent, audited-level data needed to make sound judgments. Please do not take this vital information away. Maintaining quarterly reporting requirements protects investors and strengthens confidence in U.S. capital markets.
Thank you for considering this perspective.

Marta Tomlinson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marta Tomlinson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please, do NOT allow this change! It is too big a risk for all, but especially for non-millionaires. Please!

Sent from my iPad

Martha Aguado — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Martha Aguado Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please continue reporting quarterly.

---

martha chairez — Jun 11, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: martha chairez Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Martha Chairez, Educator.
I am a donor who relies on the scholarship investment to increase the support college students recieve from my scholarship donations. I also rely on quarterly reports to make decisions about my retirement savings.

Martha A. Chairez

Martha Dodd-Slippy — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Martha Dodd-Slippy Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 What is wrong with full disclosure all of the time? Have we not had enough rampant lying from the Democrats?
Virginia Martha Dodd-Slippy
Rancher, Realtor (Inactive), Writer and Wife
Greensville County, VA

Martha Dodd-Slippy, GRI, ABR, SRES, SFR, SRS, VA and NC Associate Broker (Inactive)
Roanoke Valley Lake Gaston Board Professional Standards Chair (2010-2013)

Author: To Real Estate Agents and Brokers ...Volume One ...Homicide and Other Subjects You Slept Through in Class
On Amazon.com. (Volume One, Third Edition, Foreword by Rev Dr Alveda King)

P. O. Box 247,
Emporia, VA 23847
Cell: 434-604-4444

---

martha stalkfleet — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: martha stalkfleet Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Martha Stalkfleet
Retired Teacher
We must prevent any opportunity for fraud.

Sent from my iPhone

Martha Van Neste — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Martha Van Neste Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reporting , while not ideally frequent and complete, is more responsible. Avoidance of truths is still possible with creative accounting, as anyone knows, but at-least-quarterly reporting keeps supervision more closely in place.

Martin Dillender — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Martin Dillender Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I believe, as an investor, that it is important to understand company fundamentals on a quarterly basis. Things move very fast and reducing the reporting requirements to every 6 months or 1 time a year is not in the best interest of shareholders.

Thank you,

Martin Dillender
A concerned investor

Martin Lemke — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Martin Lemke Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I don't know why we would roll back reporting. In the era of big data this change seems like a lazy and backwards move. If anything reporting could be even more than quarterly. Martin Lemke- VP Engineering aspectLED

Marty Wilcox — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marty Wilcox Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As a retiree who relies on accurate reporting, I urge you to continue mandatory reporting every quarter.

Marty Wilcox

Marty Milner — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Marty Milner Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The idea of eliminating quarterly statements is hugely bad. It result eventually in great losses as a bad series of directional changes will quickly cascade and then the stock will airgap down. This idea will destroy the system as it is vulnerable to ethical short term breaches. DO NOT DO IT!

Marvin Urbanczyk — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marvin Urbanczyk Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please do not change the quarterly reporting to semi annual. This could greatly affect individual investors from the standpoint of staying informed and financial inability to act readily if needed.

Mary — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please do not change the system. It works!

Mary

Mary Ann Marie — Jun 11, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Mary Ann Marie Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is how companies get away with things! Nobody is above the law, and it should all be public and understandable to us all. We should be kept in the loop SOMEWHERE for everything that happens here? There's definitely a ton of things going on, and some we will never know about. And that's another wrong thing ..
B. Marie
Pennsylvania

Mary Ann Porter — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Mary Ann Porter Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please keep the reports quarterly. The American people need your input quarterly as our trust of the Trump administration is sadly missing. We have been lied to far to often. Thank you

---

Mary Anne Adams — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Anne Adams Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I do not agree to or approve of giving public companies a 6 mo blackout time period each year for all 4 reasons listed. Qrtly transparency allows for Americans to prevent more financial disasters to fester & negatively affect our economy as it did in 2008!
Mary Anne Adams
Carpentersville, IL

Mary Anne Fried — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Quarterly reports From: Mary Anne Fried Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Not a good idea to lengthen the time between reports. I, and my advisor, use the reports to ascertain if still a good investment.
Insiders would have additional head start over investors.
It would not save the company substantial money. It’s pretty much a rote process once in place.
Ask who does this benefit? Not individual investors!

Sent from Yahoo Mail for iPad

Mary Anne Fried — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Re: Quarterly reports From: Mary Anne Fried Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Sent from Yahoo Mail for iPad

On Thursday, June 11, 2026, 6:33 AM, Mary Anne Fried <maryannefried@yahoo.com> wrote:

Not a good idea to lengthen the time between reports. I, and my advisor, use the reports to ascertain if still a good investment.
Insiders would have additional head start over investors.
It would not save the company substantial money. It’s pretty much a rote process once in place.
Ask who does this benefit? Not individual investors!

Mary Anne Fried
Registered voter and investor

Sent from Yahoo Mail for iPad

Mary Bauer — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mary Bauer Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As an investor and a retired person, I need to monitor the returns on my money closely. Quarterly reporting means a more robust and transparent system for American investors. The top five powerhouse economies in the world report quarterly. The weaker economies report semi-annually. Keep our country strong. Stay with quarterly reports.

Mary Best — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mary Best Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the SEC: who is pushing for this change back to semi-annual P/E reporting? Who will reap the benefit, and who will lose? Mary Best, retired, Atlanta.

Mary Beth Myers — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mary Beth Myers Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am a small business owner. I have a meager retirement investment. Allowing less reporting allows for a bigger loss before it can be stopped. I can't afford to lose 1/3 to 1/2 of my savings. Less reporting and transparency allows them to get away with covering up their messes. Greater transparency and accountability builds our futures and fortunes.

Mary Beth Myers
412-452-6180
33 Pontiac Rd
Pittsburgh PA 15241

Mary Bloom — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Bloom Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I want public companies to keep reporting their financials quarterly as they do now. Getting reports every 6 months is not enough. Things change daily in this day and age and the general public needs to be kept informed so we can make intelligent decisions regarding our finances.
Mary, retired RN, registered voter

Sent from my iPad

Mary Borjon — Jun 11, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Borjon Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 More accountability, not less. Protect investors.

Mary Conway — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mary Conway Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 It is not broken! No need to fix it! Leave reporting alone. Orange Man continues his out of control plan to bankrupt America!!! STOP!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Crill — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: SEC Quarterly Reporting From: Mary Crill Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the esteemed members of the Securities and Exchange Commission,

My name is Mary Crill, I'm a retired
IT consultant. I would like to request
SEC Quarterly Reporting because it's the right thing to do.

Sincerely,

Mary Crill

Sent from Yahoo Mail for iPhone

Mary Cunningham — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Cunningham Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The working people of this country deserve to have quarterly information on the behavior and accountability of the business world. We should not be kept in the dark from the machinations of the market. It is not safe for this economy or people.

Sent from my iPad

---

mary cutler — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: mary cutler Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The smaller investors should have as much information as possible and as soon as possible.

Mary Frances Kerr — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Frances Kerr Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keeping quarterly reporting is important to voters and investors like me. It helps guard against fraud and the savings from reducing the reporting cadence are insignificant against the real costs to transparency and openness. I am a nonprofit development director in Colorado Springs.

Mary Frances Kerr

Mary Garcia — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mary Garcia Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Mary Garcia, retired USPS, 25 yrs. Please look at the historical facts before returning to a time that already proved doing away with quarterly reporting is a disaster. Please do not do this. Every protection of the consumer is being rolled back in this country and prices are going up. There needs to be some common sense and not just flying by the seat of your pants. We've already done this. It didn't work and it's not gonna work now. Nothing has changed. I worked enough places that I know when they start going back to failed experiments, that is a death Nell for a corporation or a company. Please listen to the regular people in this country. There's more of us than just the rich Trump family, and their friends. It would be great if someone somewhere in this government stuck up for the regular people.

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Gibson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mary Gibson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Mary Gibson- retired investor- Keep Quarterly reporting! I need to keep a close eye on my investment returns.

Mary Graham — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Graham Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Why is SEC suggesting we go backwards in reporting when we have the ability to be real time. Transparency to shareholders is essential. Especially with Market manipulation by Wall street.

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Hines — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Hines Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Corporations need to be accountable for their finances. They are given so many tax breaks, they need to provide their financials quarterly.

Mary Jo Reinecke — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Jo Reinecke Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Why are you wanting to hide these reports, this is how we decide to invest. Please don't do this
MJ Reinecke
Retired grandma/ former business owner

Mary Jo Reinecke Sent from Gmail Mobile

Mary Jo Hondlik — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Jo Hondlik Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Mary Jo Hondlik, former Investment Broker
As a member of the financial industry for close to 25 years, quarterly reports are essential. I had the clients both large and small from all walks of life dig into these and raise questions. If people are putting their life savings into these companies and depending on their returns to insure their future, they need to see quarterly reports.

Mary Jo Jirik — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Jo Jirik Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am MJ Jirik and was in law for thirty years. I am well versed in what happens when corporations are not looked at closely and continuously. I am not interested in corporate America having even less transparency. Quarterly reporting is essential for transparency and accountability and one of very few ways citizens can get information. Please keep close eyes on corporate America.

Mary Jo Streator — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Jo Streator Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Mary Jo Streator Homemaker,
Congress and big banks caused the 2008 crash. Millions lost their homes because of it. It is well documented. The president only wants to grift and make his friends more money. This has to stop. The SEC must continue to protect investors and not allow companies to cover up loss for months at a time longer.

Mary Lawien — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Lawien Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Leave reports as quarterly, no need to change. It will only hurt the consumer to deviate from current policy. Mary Lawien, retired government employee

Thanks, Mary Lawien
MLWWorks LLC

Life Coaching http://businessessentials.cohere.live

Lit Farm discount link
https://litfarms.com/?sca_ref=10670952.vLtwv1pWm1&sca_crp=MjMzMjUw

Follow mlwworks on X at http://www.x.com/mlwworks

Save $20 on your first order https://share.stopagingnow.com/Mary283

Get $25 back on your next trip from Booking.com by using http://www.booking.com/s/42/mlwwor15

Sign up for Arcadia Power http://www.arcadiapower.com/referral/?promo=mary4276

Earn cash back shopping online from Rakuten https://www.rakuten.com/r/MLWWOR2?utm_campaign=RAF&utm_medium=RAF%20share&eeid=45830

Visit my Digistore https://digistore24-app.com/account/partnerarea/5372955/

Mary Leary — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Leary Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reporting ensures that public companies stay current in their financial records. Best case scenario, long term planning and being held accountable always. At a the very minimum, the reporting should be quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Mccaffrey — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Mccaffrey Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We the people have paid into Medicare keep your hands out of it because everything he touches implodes

Sent from my iPhone

Mary McKnight — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary McKnight Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Mary McKnight / retired
Any effort to increase transparency and public access reflects honesty. Any effort to delay public access or hide information reflects collusion.

Sent from my iPhone

Mary McShannock — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary McShannock Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 In the age of computers, companies should be reporting monthly not just quarterly. Keeping the standard of quarterly reporting is necessary for transparency.

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Miller — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Miller Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Protect the people, not big banks and stock brokersges.

Mary Palomaki — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Palomaki Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Mary Palomaki, and I am retired, living on savings and investments.

Do not increase the window for corporations to keep investment information hidden! Consumers need the option to get out of bad investments.

Mary Pickard — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Pickard Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 With the electronics available today, quarterly reports are nearly effortless. The consumer has the right to know what is happening and quarterly reports are barely frequently enough Concerned about how corporations are all about profit and not about consumers and stockholders.

Mary Pickard, Retired Associate Professor,

Mary Reid — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Reid Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please do not allow this. I'm retired and our living is made by properly searching for secure, honorable companies in which to invest. We need clarity and quarterly reports. Six month intervals do not work, too much can be hidden from us, as investors. Thank you. Mary Reid

Sent from my iPad

Mary Rosandich — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Rosandich Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 How the hell are we tell if companies are doing well or poorly without a quarterly report. To change this would be really stupid! Whose idea was this? They are idiots! Keeo the reports!

Mary San Martin — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mary San Martin Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Investors need transparency more than ever!!! Don't go backwards!!!

Sent from my iPhone

---

mary scott — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: mary scott Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Mary and Wesley Scott, Sparta Mi This matters to us because we worked all our life and are retired, living off our investments.With the cost of life so high now, our investments need to be managed more often

Sent from my iPhone

---

mary siler — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: mary siler Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is unfair and should not continued. Always be better to everyday people than you have to be.

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Sirian Peterson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Sirian Peterson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Hardworking Americans built this country....let not steal or be fraudulent with stealing their savings.

Mary Slevin — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mary Slevin Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We need to keep Quarterly Reporting to keep matters on the up and up. No hiding facts from the public at any time.
Mary Slevin Retired Fairfax, VA

Mary Smith — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Smith Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep it Quarterly and be even more transparent.

Mary Spetz — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Spetz Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Qrtly reports are what everybody uses to look at trends and data! Getting rid of that will just encourage more insider trading, is that really what we want???
Mary Spetz, an intelligent American

Kind regards,

Mary Spetz

Mary Taylor — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep it Quarterly!!! R U trying to Steal all Our $$$$$

Maryanne — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maryanne Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To ensure robust financial oversight and maintain the highest standards of corporate governance, it is imperative that comprehensive quarterly performance reports are submitted without fail. These reports are crucial instruments for strategic planning, risk assessment, and demonstrating accountability to our stakeholders, providing essential insights into our operational health, financial trajectory, and key achievements. We require detailed analyses covering relevant financial metrics, operational highlights, and forward-looking projections, with submissions expected no later than [specific date or timeframe, e.g., two weeks following the close of each fiscal quarter].

Furthermore, we must unequivocally reinforce our zero-tolerance policy against insider trading. The unauthorized use of proprietary or confidential company information for personal financial gain, or the sharing of such information with external parties for similar purposes, constitutes a severe breach of trust, ethical conduct, and legal compliance. Such actions carry profound legal repercussions for all individuals involved and inflict significant damage to our company's reputation and integrity. All employees are expected to be thoroughly familiar with and strictly adhere to our established Corporate Ethics and Securities Trading Policy. Should there be any ambiguity regarding what constitutes permissible conduct, we strongly encourage you to seek immediate clarification from [e.g., the Legal Department or your direct manager]. Maintaining the integrity of our financial practices and upholding our commitment to ethical behavior is a collective and non-negotiable responsibility.

Maryanne Sangiacomo — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maryanne Sangiacomo Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly. There is no LEGITIMATE reason not to.
I am retired and depend on up to date information about my investments.
Maryanne Sangiacomo
P.A. Emeritus

Sent from my iPhone

Maryanne Spekhardt — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maryanne Spekhardt Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reports only! Definitely not 6 months!

Sent from my iPhone

MaryEllen Kersch — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: MaryEllen Kersch Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Get real and report ofter and honestly!
I am retired and I am a very active citizen sick of being screwed over!'

MaryEllen Kersch

Mason E. Stone — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mason E. Stone Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Mason E. Stone, Omaha, Nebraska, construction.
It is in complete disregard to the investors, and solely of benefit to the rich to re-implement such an archaic standard. The people will be heard, and this is one of the many things that will gravely impact the future. I hope you all make the right decision and may God bless us all.

Matt DeBoer — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Matt DeBoer Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Absolutely not. Ive had enough of the bloody wealthy. Clearly they need watching like a hawk. Full transparency.

Matt Fong — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Matt Fong Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Companies need to file quarterly and not be let off the hook. The markets are strong when there is transparency and accountability. Get rid of those and you can see a big correction to lower multiple

Sent from my iPhone 27

Matt Weber — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Matt Weber Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Detailed quarterly information is essential for the common investor. I fear that the action being considered would be a blatant disregard for the working class and allow wealthy investors even more inside information, all while excluding the common investor even more than she already is. Please reconsider this rule change for the betterment of your fellow common humans.

Matthew P. Winters CPA, CFA, Senior Director, Corporate Disclosures and Information Advocacy, CFA Institute; Sandra Peters CPA, CFA, Senior Head, Corporate Disclosures and Information Advocacy, CFA Institute — Jun 11, 2026
https://rpc.cfainstitute.org
June 11, 2026
Vanessa Countryman
Secretary
Securities and Exchange Commission
100 F St. N.E.
Washington, DC 20549-1090
RE: File No. S7-2026-15, Semiannual Reporting
Dear Ms. Countryman:
CFA Institute1 appreciates the opportunity to provide comments to the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC” or “Commission) regarding the proposed rule on Semiannual Reporting (the “Proposed Rule”).
CFA Institute has a long history of promoting fair and transparent global capital markets and advocating for strong investor protections. An integral part of our efforts toward meeting those goals is ensuring that corporate financial reporting and disclosures and the related audits provided to investors and other end users are of high quality. Our advocacy position is informed by our global membership who invest both locally and globally.
CFA INSTITUTE SURVEY
Yesterday, CFA Institute released2 its report, Investor Perspectives: Quarterly Reporting – What

Investors Tell Us About Quarterly Reporting, Why It Matters, and Why They Support It in an Era of Artificial Intelligence.

The findings in the report are based on an extensive 46-question survey of CFA Institute members around the world who work as investment analysts and portfolio managers. Conducted in January 2026, the survey received more than 2,500 responses, including over 1,000 written comments. The results show strong investor support for retaining mandatory quarterly reporting and significant concern about the implications of reducing reporting frequency.

As our press release notes, the survey indicates:

• 62% of respondents oppose replacing quarterly reporting with semiannual reporting and 63% believe the benefits of quarterly reporting exceed their costs.

1 With offices in Charlottesville, VA; New York; Washington, DC; Brussels; Hong Kong SAR; Mumbai; Beijing; Abu Dhabi; and London, CFA Institute is a global, not-for-profit professional association of more than 190,000 members, as well as 160 member societies around the world. Members include investment analysts, advisers, portfolio managers, and other investment professionals. CFA Institute administers the Chartered Financial Analyst® (CFA®) Program. For more information, visit www.cfainstitute.org or follow us on LinkedIn and Twitter at @CFAInstitute.

2 See press release at: CFA Institute Survey Finds Investors Strongly Support Quarterly Reporting, Oppose Reducing Disclosure Requirements

• Approximately 70% oppose granting companies flexibility to determine or change their own reporting frequency. Nearly 85% are concerned with the implications to comparability between companies because of flexibility of reporting frequency and format.

• Support is lower for semiannual reporting for just smaller or recently listed companies than support for adopting it across the board, with investors citing the same concerns about comparability and complexity.

• 82% support allowing voluntary quarterly reporting if semiannual reporting is adopted; however, only 32% of respondents expect companies would continue reporting quarterly if reporting became optional.

• Investors overwhelmingly view earnings releases and Form 10-Q filings as complementary disclosures rather than substitutes and 78% do not want to abandon the Form 10-Q filing requirement in a voluntary quarterly reporting regime.

• Investors expressed significant concerns regarding reducing reporting frequency, with a majority of respondents – 60–80%, depending on the potential implication – expressing apprehension across a variety of implications. Investors believe that six-month reporting intervals would be too long in current markets and could increase the cost of capital, stock volatility, and information asymmetries. Respondents also cited reduced comparability across companies, potential reductions in dividend frequency, greater reliance on voluntary disclosures and non-GAAP measures, heightened risks of unequal information access across investors, delayed disclosure of negative information, and the potential for increased insider trading due to longer periods between mandatory disclosures.

• Investors do not believe that reducing reporting frequency would foster more long-term decision-making behavior among companies or investors. 85% of respondents identified management incentives and compensation structures as significantly more important drivers of long-term decision-making than a 90-day change in reporting frequency.

We are providing a pre-production draft of the report and the related press release through the links above. They are considered an integral part of this comment letter.

As noted on the cover of the report, the survey and report were completed before the SEC released its

Proposed Rule on Semiannual Reporting on May 5, 2026. While the final version may include editorial revisions and significant visual enhancements, the substantive content of the report is complete. The final publication will be available on CFA Institute's Research & Policy Center website once the editorial process is finalized.
We released this draft and are providing it to the Commission now to help inform the timely debate over semiannual versus quarterly reporting. We believe the survey questions are particularly relevant to stakeholder consideration of the Proposed Rule. In addition to asking about support for quarterly versus semiannual reporting, the survey also gained insight into investor views on reporting-frequency flexibility and the use of a potential new Form 10-S, both of which are elements of the Proposed Rule.
The Executive Summary provides an overview of the report, including background on the quarterly versus semiannual reporting debate, a summary of the key findings, and CFA Institute's conclusions and recommendations to the Commission.
Pages 37, 48, 59, 81, 92, 100, and 120 of the report each include a graph summarizing the survey questions responses in the respective survey sections. These graphics provide an accessible reference point for understanding the survey results by topic. Notably, although the survey was global in scope, we observed material regional differences in few questions, even though investors in jurisdictions where semiannual reporting is currently used were included among the respondents.
2
We also believe it is important to provide both historical and current context for the debate over quarterly versus semiannual reporting. Accordingly, the report includes a Preface that situates this debate within the broader question of transparency, disclosure, and information availability for investment decision-making, particularly in light of other proposals that would scale back disclosures to investors.
The Preface explains the importance of disclosures to investors and the critical role that the Securities
Act of 1933 and the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 played in the professionalization of securities analysis, investment decision-making, and the investment profession. Many of the survey comments, particularly those expressing concern about reduced timely information and greater information asymmetry between different types of investors and between management and investors, echoed themes found in our archives regarding the period before the passage of those Acts. For that reason, we revisited several important historical points documented in From Practice to Profession: A History of the Financial Analysts Federation and the Investment Profession.
CFA Institute will submit a comment letter to the SEC on the Proposed Rule in the coming weeks. This letter is intended as a precursor to that submission. The forthcoming comment letter will respond specifically to the questions posed in the Proposed Rule.
PROPOSED RULES
DEFERRAL OF COMMENT PERIOD DEADLINES
The debate over quarterly versus semiannual reporting is only one element of the SEC's broader objective to increase the number of public companies in the name of capital formation. 3 That objective appears to be pursued, in significant part, through reductions in disclosure, information available for investment decision-making, and transparency to investors. In the Preface to our report, we highlight the relationship between capital formation and disclosure.
Over the last month, the SEC has released a series of proposed rulemakings and consultations related to this objective, most of which would reduce or otherwise alter disclosures available to investors. During this same period, Chairman Atkins also announced that additional proposals and consultations are expected in the coming months.4

Below, we highlight the relevant proposed rulemakings and consultations that have been released, as well as those anticipated. We also include a recent release by the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board ("PCAOB"), which is overseen by the SEC and whose rules require SEC approval. Collectively, these actions are important to investors because they seek to change not only how companies access the public capital markets, but also the disclosures, timing of information, quality of audits, and requirements for audits of internal control over financial reporting for all public companies that investors rely on to make investment and voting decisions.
3 Chairman Atkins' Statement on Proposing Release for Semiannual Reporting
4 Chairman Atkins' Remarks at the Stanford Rock Center for Corporate Governance

Proposed Rulemakings/ Release	Comment Comment Number of Consultations	Date Period Due Date	Pages Questions
SEC Releases:
Semiannual Reporting	May 5, 2026	60-day July 6, 2026	279 58
Public Company Reporting Framework	May 19, 2026	60-day July 20, 2026	318 48
Registered Offering Reform	May 19, 2026	60-day July 27, 2026	511 132
Recission of Climate-Related Disclosures Rule	May 29, 2026	60-day August 3, 2026	133 18
SEC Draft Strategic Plan	June 2, 2026	30-day July 2, 2026	14
Anticipated SEC Releases:
Disclosure Modernization	Rewrite Regulation S-K to eliminate immaterial or duplicative disclosures, with executive compensation disclosure specifically targeted for simplification.
Alternative Paths to Public Markets	Reassess direct listings, SPACs, and other nontraditional routes to becoming public, including potentially revisiting registration and liability requirements that apply to direct listings.
IPO Communications ("Gun-Jumping") Reform	Modernize the Securities Act rules that restrict what companies can say before and during an IPO.
Releases by PCAOB (Overseen by the SEC)
PCAOB Supplemental Release for Comment	QC1000 (Firms System of Quality Control)

June 9, 2026 30-day July 9, 2029 103 37
Over this unusually compressed period of time, the SEC has issued a high-volume of consultations and proposed rulemaking with short and concurrent comment periods. This prolific and tightly sequenced series of complex proposals creates a dense and overlapping pipeline of rulemakings that strains meaningful public participation.
We believe the SEC must re-evaluate the timing of the comment periods and related due dates for these proposals, beginning with, but not limited to, the semiannual reporting proposal (i.e., a deferral of at least 60 days) because:
 The sheer number of proposals, their length, and the number of questions posed make it difficult for investors to provide the careful attention needed to respond meaningfully to the six existing proposals over the next 30 to 60 days. Additionally, the comment periods not only overlap with one another, but also coincide with the Juneteenth holiday and the July 4th 250th anniversary celebration, shortening the comment period and the human capital which can be dedicated to responding during these holiday periods.
 There are important interrelationships among these proposals, as well as with forthcoming proposals. For example, potential changes to Regulation S-K should be considered in relation to elements of the Public Company Reporting Framework and the Semiannual Reporting Proposals, given the dependence of interim reporting on the broader disclosure framework.
 As it relates to a careful consideration of the economic analysis by respondents, it is important to note that:
o Each proposal has its own new economic analysis. The Semiannual Reporting proposal, for example, includes an economic analysis that was not included in the 2019 request for comment on this subject. That earlier request had a 90-day comment period, in contrast to the current proposal's 60-day comment period.
4
o Because the consequences of these proposals – and those to come – are interrelated and interdependent, they require a consideration of their collective economic impact. This requires a collective economic analysis – including of proposals not yet issued – which considers the interdependencies of the proposals and their economic impacts.
For those reasons, we believe the SEC should defer these proposals and sequence its requests for comment in a meaningful order, with sufficient time for investors to evaluate the proposed changes, the interrelationships among the proposals, and the potential impacts of rules that have yet to be published and for the Commission's own Division of Economic and Risk Analysis to conduct its own cumulative analysis. Without the appropriate time, it is not possible for the public, or the SEC, to have allowed for an appropriate due process on these and forthcoming rulemakings.
****
Thank you for your consideration of our views and perspectives. We would welcome the opportunity to meet with you to provide more detail on our letter. If you have any questions or seek further elaboration of our views, please contact Sandra J. Peters at sandra.peters@cfainstitute.org and Matthew P. Winters at matt.winters@cfainstitute.org.
Sincerely,
/s/ Sandra J. Peters /s/ Matthew P. Winters
Sandra J. Peters, CPA, CFA Matthew P. Winters, CPA, CFA
Senior Head Senior Director
Corporate Disclosures and Information Advocacy Corporate Disclosures and Information Advocacy
CFA Institute CFA Institute
5

Matthew Churney — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Matthew Churney Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quit playing games with the rules & the books. You've been wreaking havoc for years but you don't get Carte Blanche.

Matthew Montpas — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Matthew Montpas Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 😈

Matthew Raway — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Matthew Raway Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: do not further alienate the American people. Stand up for what's right by not blinding the American public and giving corporations an unfair advantage.

Mauny Muray — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mauny Muray Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 No! Quarterly must stay in effect!

Sent from my iPhone

“Learn the art of wasting time efficiently” ~ M. Murayevich

Maura Selahowski — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Maura Selahowski Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Maura Selahowski, from Michigan. As a widow on a single income it would be nearly impossible to survive with the results of this decision.
This is wrong and you know it!

I would like for all of the government officials to be required to join Social Security and Medicare and then make decisions on these programs. We have paid into these programs our entire working lives and this is just stealing from the people to fund mismanagement of the overall budget. An attempt to pay for the ridiculous whims of an idiot.

Remember that the job of the government is to work for the people! You are part of the group that should be protecting the people!

Do the right thing.
Maura Selahowski.

Maureen A Ryan — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maureen A Ryan Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am a retired widow. Quarterly reports help me monitor the performance of my investments. I rely on my investments as my retirement income.

Sent from my iPhone

Maureen Chamberlin — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Maureen Chamberlin Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Individual investors need access to quarterly disclosures to be able to make informed investment decisions. This is increasingly important as social security funding is not keeping up and people rely on their investment savings to support themselves in old age. Workers who have ongoing contributions to their retirement accounts need this information. Individual investors are the backbone of the economy and should not be handicapped!

Maureen Gubbins — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Maureen Gubbins Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Name is Maureen Gubbins, retired, age 85, Bethlehem, GA. I am OPPOSED to reporting every 6 months. I want quarterly reporting.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Maureen McDonald Michalski — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maureen McDonald Michalski Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Stop the crooked antics and the inside trading, quarterly reporting is necessary to keep companies honest!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Maureen Stout — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maureen Stout Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep your hands off true transparency, I want to see what you big guys are doing some are crooks….,,,.leave this alone.

Sent from my iPhone

---

mauricio de oliveira — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: mauricio de oliveira Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I rather to have quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

Mavis Kilpatrick — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mavis Kilpatrick Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Nathan Kilpatrick. I'm a farmer and a frequent investor. The quarterly reporting is like a heart rate monitor for our economy. More frequent reporting= more data, resulting in faster more accurate response times for investors. If you were in the hospital for a heart attack would you just want the nurse to check your pulse once when you walked through the door? Or would you want a more constant stream of information, the rate, rhythm and characteristic of your heart beat to make your outcome better? Seems clear to me. Thank you for your time!

Max Kopylov — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Max Kopylov Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I, for one, love these new rules. The short-sighted greed of the mouth-frothing investor class has wreaked far too much havoc on our society. I only wish you'd increase the reporting frequency to a year instead of the paltry six months you've proposed. Go live life! Meet your family! Take your kids to school! Stop worrying about investor reports, I say!
Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Max

Mayk Foerster — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mayk Foerster Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I strongly oppose proposed Rule S7-2026-15, which would allow companies to report only every six months instead of quarterly. This change would significantly reduce transparency and leave retail investors effectively "flying blind" for extended periods.

In practice, institutional investors will still find ways to access timely information through private channels, while individual investors will be left at a clear disadvantage. The playing field is already uneven; this proposal would make it worse. Regular, quarterly reporting is a basic safeguard for market fairness and investor protection, and it should not be weakened.
Sincerely
MF

Mayra Carranza — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mayra Carranza Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Dont allow this egregious omission of all facts to consumers. Absolutely unacceptable because quarterly disclosures help you make informed decision and the SEC shouldn't take vital information away from me along with any living person.
Maybe if you all think of anyone other that the top 5% and invert it to think of the bottom 95% there would be healthier, happier, thriving and economically viable families in the United States of America.
Stop being bullies everyone who is not in a trillionare & bllionaire tax bracket. They can't even spend that money on their living day to day expenses in their LIVING lifetimes.

Meagan Thrower — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Meagan Thrower Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 People need frequent information in order to make important decisions. A longer window also leaves more room for only insiders to benefit, and for more fraud. We need MORE transparency, not less! Meagan Guertin

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Megan Davis — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Megan Davis Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is unconscionable and unethical. Corporations need to be held accountable for their actions and a ruling like this would completely block transparency.

Megan A. Davis, MAM, MLIS
Reference and instruction and resource Services librarian
Adjunct Professor, First Year experience
University of Maryland Global Campus

Megan Heaton — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Megan Heaton Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As an 18 year professional in the retail financial services industry specializing in compliance and supervision the rules that have been updated to pave the way for retail investors to be blatantly exploited to help provide a golden parachute to our billionaire tech oligarchy and their circle of influence is clearly intentional and criminal in nature. It is clear this is designed to spread the inevitable losses in this way overvalued IPO to the American public and global investors. Also paves the way for this to allow the government to virtually guarantee a bailout if not successful due to the overwhelming harm this would do to the public at failure. The questionable accounting tactics used by the SpaceX organization and its contracts with chipmakers is clearly collusion and meant to muddy the waters to conceal ownership and inflate value. This is Enron level criminality in my book, and why SOX was put in place. This is the opposite of what this office is tasked to address and police in addition to other government orgs. As a retail investor I'm also highly concerned as it will be nearly impossible to avoid exposure to this in some fashion while investing and planning for retirement and my children's futures. You should be ashamed. Those in charge of updating the rules in place for the indices allowing fast tracking into conclusion should be investigated immediately for market manipulation, collusion, and racketeering. Those in charge of the companies managing the ipo should be investigated as well. This should not be allowed to move forward in good faith. Do your jobs as you expect your patrons licensed in this highly regulated industry without threat of enforcement to also do.

Melanie Allgood — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melanie Allgood Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This puts investors at risk when companies don’t have to be transparent. It is ripe for fraud and hiding the numbers. The must not pass.

Signed,
Concerned investor

Sent from my iPhone

Melinda Gregory — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melinda Gregory Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am not in favor of decreasing the number of yearly reports filed by businesses to the SEC. The quarterly information is important for me to make financial decisions. I also think that longer gaps create an even more unfair advantage for corporate insiders,. An "optional choice" doesn't fix the problem because companies that opt in are often the ones whose investors most need frequent updates. The savings to companies aren't worth the cost to the public.
Enough is enough. Stop the steal. Develop some ethics instead of opening the door to less accountability.

Sent from my iPhone

Melissa Aberle-Grasse — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melissa Aberle-Grasse Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Im retired faculty at Georgia Tech. Don’t do this clearly oligarchic move!

Melissa Aberle-Grasse
she/her/hers
Atlanta, GA

“You are a part of me I do not yet know.”
— Valarie Kaur, See No Stranger: A Memoir and Manifesto of Revolutionary Love

---

melissa barefoot — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: melissa barefoot Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I will put all my money elsewhere then not gonna let you rip me off

Sent from my iPhone

Melissa Cahill — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melissa Cahill Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 It seems utterly irresponsible to drop the required reporting from quarterly to by annually. There’s too much ability for there to be playing around with people’s money in the background and people finding out too late than any of that’s actually going on. I pose the change to the reporting requirements governed by the SEC.

Sent from my iPhone ~ Melissa C
PA

Melissa Elie — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Melissa Elie Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep investment companies reporting quarterly! Do not change it!!!

Sent from my iPhone

---

melissa holman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: melissa holman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We don't want you messing with our retirement.you have stolen enough from us as it is

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Melissa Smith — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melissa Smith Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We do not need to make it EASIER for John Q. Public to be robbed BLIND by businesses AND our government! There is already too much FIDUCIARY CORRUPTION in our government and ALL it's branches thanks to Trump and DOGE gutting and removing EVERY. SINGLE. GUARDRAIL. This is causing financial devastation across our nation!!!

Sincerely,
Melissa Smith

Melissa Smith — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melissa Smith Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We do not need to make it EASIER for John Q. Public to be robbed BLIND by businesses AND our government! There is already too much FIDUCIARY CORRUPTION in our government and ALL it's branches thanks to Trump and DOGE gutting and removing EVERY. SINGLE. GUARDRAIL. This is causing financial devastation across our nation!!!

Melody Hudson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Melody Hudson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Melody Hudson, Program Manager, Rochester, NY is federally sanctioned thievery. For those of us who are nearing the end of our work lives, we will face financial harm despite taking a proactive stance to secure our futures.

Sent from my iPhone

Melody Schoenfeld — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Melody Schoenfeld Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

I want anything happening to my finances to be 10000% transparent, not invisible to me for months at a time. This cannot pass, and will anger many, many people.

Meraj Rafathullah — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Meraj Rafathullah Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I strongly believe changing the reporting requirements from quarterly to semiannually will harm the public and encourage and reward public companies to act with bad intent. Please keep the quarterly reporting requirements as a sign of good faith and accountability and stewardship for the general the public. In fact, in the current era of digital and electronic banking, assets, funds and reporting, please consider introducing monthly reporting requirements. With the deployment of AI in every aspect of our lives, this should not be an onerous task. - M. Rafathullah, Concerned citizen
Paralegal.

Get Outlook for Android

Merilyn York — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Merilyn York Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To whom it may concern,

This matters to me because it will harm so many seniors here in my home state of Florida who are on fixed incomes. I have seen how devastating it is to watch them put groceries & essentials back when they cannot afford it. This will devastate retirement accounts and make it harder for those who are trying to make the most of their investments and can no longer work. We know better and can do better by our elderly. We know that Social Security is not enough to live by. For years we have been taught that it would be smarter to invest instead of having Social security. Do not make it worse by screwing over the people who did save up for retirement because then it will make more young people see no point in saving for retirement!

Merilyn York

Merlene Smith — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Merlene Smith Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 KEEP

QUARTERLY REPORTING!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Merlene Smith — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Merlene Smith Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY !

Sent from my iPhone

Merlene Smith — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Merlene Smith Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY!

Sent from my iPhone

Merlin Sommerhoff — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Merlin Sommerhoff Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As an international investor, I am deeply concerned about this rule change and my beliefs of the American equality get shattered.
The trust of investing into US companies is not only slowly fading away, this rule backstraps a rocket launcher on its back.
Should this rule gets approved, all funds will be taken out of US companies, since I need to acknowledge, that all of those could be mispriced due to outdated information.
Thank you for your intention to this matter!

---

mgreco90 — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: mgreco90 Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keeping the public informed in a timely and accurate way is the VERY least the government can do!

Michael Sickles — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Sickles Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Michael Sickles Trans Admin
Quarterly reporting works fine, so keep it.

Michael McMahon — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michael McMahon Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Michael P McMahon Retired…. Home Owner Living on Savings & SSI no govt pension… Report income, minimum 4 times a year! The numbers are there… why lol don’t be Stupid! They need to do monthly…. Who to hire! Thank you! mm

---

Michael Olson Ed.D. — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Olson Ed.D. Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reports, particularly Q4, caused all kinds of turmoil to make the numbers at IBM. It got to the point at times that even pencils and printer paper were rationed or unavailable.

Corporations already have too much invisibility. Citizens United has surrendered our government to corporations, a change to 6 months will hide more discovery right before elections.

I call this an abomination.

Sincerely,

Michael J. Olson, Ed.D. (LinkedIN Profile)

If you think you can do a thing or think you can't do a thing, you're right.
Henry Ford (1863 - 1947)

Michael Beaudry — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Beaudry Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reporting should be kept.

Michael Cooper — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michael Cooper Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This policy is a true disservice to the American citizens. It allows more corruption, lack of accountability and hiding things for too long. This policy only benefits the 1% billionaires. It is detrimental to all other citizens. DO NOT enact this policy. It is WRONG and another right wing effort to launder illegal and corrupt money. JUST SAY NO!

Michael Cooper
Fort Lauderdale, FL

Michael Cummings — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michael Cummings Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Michael Cummings, and I have been employed in the financial services industry at the same company for over 16 years. I live in New York in a modest home in the suburbs and drive an SUV. My job supports my family, and I do my best to make the best financial decisions possible for them.

If I've learned anything from my career experience, it is that knowledge is power. I know that sounds like a cliché, but it's true. Current and frequent financial data makes it possible for me to make informed decisions about retirement and the future. A large part of investing is knowing where to best allocate your contributions.

Being able to understand a company's quarterly results allows me to hedge and manage my portfolio effectively. If a company is having a rough patch, it's better to have the financial data in April rather than in July when half the year is already gone. This is why quarterly reporting is crucial to everyday investors, like me.

I'm not going to be a millionaire; I know that. I also know that I'm not going to be able to rely on a pension or Social Security to fund my retirement. It comes down to me and the decisions I make now. Please don't make it more difficult by ending the quarterly reporting requirement.

Thanks for your time,

Michael Cummings

Sent from my iPhone

MICHAEL FUSCONE — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: MICHAEL FUSCONE Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The six-month waiting period to see a company's financial records is too long. It is unnecessarily long. The public deserves transparency, honesty, and promptness. That's all I have to say.

Sincerely,
Michael Fuscone

Michael Garry — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michael Garry Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 How dare you even think about this is the sec there for the protection of investors small nest eggs should be left alone

Sent from my iPhone

Michael Harris — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Harris Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Michael Harris: Retired Attorney and current Substitute Teacher. I am vehemently opposed to this change as it extends the reporting period, giving insiders a greater opportunity to cash out.

Michael Hurlburt — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michael Hurlburt Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Michael Hurlburt, Head of Household, CT. Is the federal government intentionally trying to destroy long term investments for everyday Americans? This policy plan is shameful and hurts many working class families. I do not support it and will happily go into the streets to protest this. Please get your priorities straight!

Thanks,
Michael Hurlburt | Project Manager

Mike@BaldwinPergolas.com www.BaldwinPergolas.com
www.BaldwinFurniture.com

Michael Kimsal — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Kimsal Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the quarterly filing requirements. Every six months is simply too long for potentially bad info to go undisclosed.

==========
Michael Kimsal
redacted
https://michaelkimsal.com
https://calendly.com/michael-kimsal

Michael Messick — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Michael Messick Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This matters to me because CEOs need to be monitored for fraud and held accountable, since many have proven to be untrustworthy.

Michael Miller Jr — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Miller Jr Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I'm Michael Miller Jr, and I'm retired. Are you kidding me! The stock market is the only thing in this country doing well because it's controlled by millionaires and billionaires. And you want to shut out the public and the media? You're as bad as the IRS giving Trump and his crime family exemptions from being audited forever! And you wonder why Americans don't trust their government or its agencies? ROTFLOL

Sent from my iPhone

Michael Parthum — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michael Parthum Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Don't do it again

Sent from my iPad

Michael Perry — Jun 11, 2026

Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michael Perry Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Dear Members of the SEC,

I am a retail investor. We must continue quarterly reporting so retail investors can review the timely information that is needed to make informed decisions about their investments.

Mike Perry, Retired, San Jose, CA

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Michael Rice — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Rice Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Continue quarterly reporting no need to change the system that works.
Michael Rice

Never leave well enough alone

Michael Schumacher — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Michael Schumacher Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I do not understand how changing financial reporting from every 3 months to every 6 months is beneficial to the retail investor.
As the agency that is supposed to police the market, how does it help you? I think getting information sooner rather than later would only help you in your job performance.
To be clear, I am against changing the financial reporting for companies to every 6 months. Please don't change it.
Thank you,
Mike Schumacher

Michael Simmons — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michael Simmons Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please do not go back to something that does not work.

---

michael terrell — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: michael terrell Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Has the SEC lost their mind as a governing body? This sets the stage for so much fraud and abuse. Please reconsider this exception to standard reporting protocols.
Thank You,
Michael Terrell

Sent from iPhone acct

Michael Wolfenbarger — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Wolfenbarger Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is a BS move to benefit no one but insiders. If you want people to pull out of the market, garbage like this is a good way to do it. KEEP THE QUARTERLY!!!

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Michele Bryant — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michele Bryant Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 For God sake, will you protect us from nothing.

Sent from my iPhone

Michele Hart — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michele Hart Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Michele Hart, retired. We need continued transparency; it is important to be able to be advised regularly. Monthly would be even better... do not extend this to 6 months. Thank you

---

Michele Osier — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michele Osier Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To Whim it may concern:

I oppose this change. I want to know what my money is doing!

This sounds “fishy" to me! Given the “track record” of the current administration this cannot possibly be a good thing for investors.

Who came up with this idea?

(Ms.) Michele M. Osier

Michele Tanico — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michele Tanico Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep it QUARTERLY! If not, I will start campaign for monthly!

Sent from my iPhone

Michelle Banks — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michelle Banks Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep required notifications as is. Do not change required reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Michelle Canaday — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michelle Canaday Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Absolutely not! Transparency is essential.

Michelle Canaday

MIchelle Cook — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: MIchelle Cook Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Transparency is needed. Just another way to rob people to their face. Stealing is inevitable!

Sent from my iPhone

Michelle Fenner National Sales Director — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Michelle Fenner It needs to stay quarterly. We need to see what's happening. It's an investment. I'm The National Sales Director for our company and it makes no sense to allow companies to hide what's going on from those of us investing. It needs to stay the same.

Michelle Ferguson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michelle Ferguson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 No change, keep quarterly report

---

Michelle Ferguson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michelle Ferguson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 No change, keep quarterly report pi

---

Michelle Lazarowski — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michelle Lazarowski Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reports need to stay! Don't "fix" what ISN'T broken.

Michelle Morgan — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michelle Morgan Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep reporting at least quarterly. It should probably be monthly!

Michelle Morgan

Michelle Mullen — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michelle Mullen Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I'm Michelle Mullen, an almost retiree with a robust investment portfolio I'm relying on to fund my retirement.

DO NOT change quarterly reporting! It is unconscionable that you'd leave regular investors in the dark about our own assets. It is also bad optics at this point. Trust in government regulatory bodies is so compromised you'll just feed the distrust. Show that you can do right by the people for a change.

Thank you!

---

michelle sanford — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: michelle sanford Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The legal case against the CEO of LaFarge today should be a massive red flag about what can happen if corporations are allowed to hide their financial doings for 6 months instead of three. Of course the Felon would support allowing corporations to not disclose for longer, but that’s because he is a crook. Don’t allow other crooks to fund terrorism.
Michelle Sanford
Retired
Sent from my iPad

Michelle Sawberger — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michelle Sawberger Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 If they want to hide it for 6 months then they’re up to no good. Full disclosure just like the rest of the Nation!

Sent from my iPhone

Mikal Cruse — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mikal Cruse Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This was tried between 1955 & 1970. It did not work then for the avrrage investor. Waiting 6 months to review one's stocks will not give one up-to-date stock information and could cost large amounds of $$$ to the average investor... thereby, affecting fuyure investments and retirements solidarity. Robert M. Cruse, retired educator, Florida

---

Mike — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Stop holding transparency away from general public

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Mike — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mike Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reporting has been and is the best standard for investors. Changing to biannual reports is a huge mistake. Please keep the current quarterly reports.

Mike Duran

Mike Andrus — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Andrus Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is wrong and seems to promote illegal activity. It makes more sense to have monthly reporting that is more likely to keep companies from cheating.

Sent from my iPhone

Mike Bernhardt — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Bernhardt Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 It is essential to me that current quarterly reporting rules remain intact. I absolutely reject the idea of letting public companies avoid filing financial reports for longer leaves me blind when making investment decisions.

Mike Bernhardt
Moraga, CA

Mike Brouillette — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Brouillette Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Your proposal to reduce transparency is yet another affront to those of us making an honest living and just trying to keep up with the ever increasing speed of digital life. You see how much more money you'll make by ratcheting down transparency and honest reporting and that's all that matters. Shame on you
Michael Brouillette
1109 Brook Road
Waitsfield, VT 05673

Sent from my iPhone

Mike Claussen — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mike Claussen Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Mike Claussen, retired, 97005

We need more transparency, not less.

Mike Dabrowski — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Dabrowski Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The work at the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission impacts everyday investors, business owners, and even entire economies. With that in mind it's not prudent to change required reporting to every 6 months. A lot happens to a business in a 3 month period with changing markets nationally and internationally. So preventing investors from having the most timely information will only aid insiders who have inside information and not the rest of investors. Doing so would go against what has historically been one of the key responsibilities of the SEC. As an investor and tax payer I hope further thought will be given to this potential change and you decide against it.

Mike Dabrowski
Sent from my iPhone

Mike Elston — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mike Elston Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

this is an egregious proposal to enrich corporations at the expense of the American People.

Mike Fennelly — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Fennelly Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Public companies require timely public results. Absolutely no.

This is critical for the fair understanding of value

Mike Fennelly

Mike Heussner — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Heussner Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the requirement for quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Mike Kopp — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Kopp Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I manage my own retirement portfolio and quarterly reporting is a key component to my financial decision making. Do NOT decrease the information available to the public to evaluate financial performance!!!

Michael Kopp
South Kingstown, RI

Mike Martin — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Martin Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I rely on quarterly reports to make adjustments to my portfolio or determine that none are needed. Twice a year is simply not adequate to make timely decisions. Please don't change this.

Mike Martin

Sent from my iPhone

Mike Oar — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Oar Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep it as it is. Acountability.

Sent from my iPad

Mike Reilly — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mike Reilly Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I think the idea of reporting quarterly is in the best interest of the investor. It's important to keep track of how the business is doing, and if you only get reporting once or twice a year then if things you're going wrong, they could be going very wrong by the time you get a report. This just seems like good old common sense.

M W Reilly
redacted

Mike Relleve — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Relleve Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep it every 3 months or quarterly. Thank you

---

Mike Wolf — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Wolf Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Not that this will do any good but for the love of god please keep the companies reporting!

Sent from my iPhone

Mildred Hayden — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mildred Hayden Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 More frequent filings make fraud easier to spot earlier. Identify anomalies or patterns that don't seem to make sense. Protect the investors and the American people! There is way too much chicanery in some businesses lead by unscrupulous people.

Mildred Hayden
retired Information Systems manager.

Get Outlook for Android

Mindy Matuszak — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mindy Matuszak Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is a bad idea. I strongly opposed this move by the SEC. This is bad for investors. Why would you even suggest such a thing?

Mindy Sanjana — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mindy Sanjana Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Giving companies the opportunity to limit the amount of reporting they need to do is a move designed to hurt the shareholders. How about looking out for the shareholders instead of for the companies. Marian Sanjana, retired teacher, Pittsburgh, PA I live off of my investments— I don’t want the SEC to reduce what I earn!

Sent from my iPhone

Mindy Thompson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Mindy Thompson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To change this is very disturbing.
Keep doing it quarterly !

Sent from my iPhone book

Miriam Harrison — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Miriam Harrison Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am old-school and I believe the old adage “ if it ain’t broke, don’t try to fix it”. We have enough fraud going on in this country, so why do you want to create an environment conducive to creating more? Leave well enough alone.

Miriam Harrison
Retired

Sent from my iPad

Misty Kaiser — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Misty Kaiser Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I ask that you please keep providing the quarterly disclosures as it helps me make informed decisions before buying or selling a stock. Without this information, I am left in the dark. The market is already corrupt with insider trading and it's hard enough for the little guy to get a piece of the pie. The institutional investors and big money investors always get a leg up so with that said, please keep trading fair for everyone, not just the 1%er's.
Sincerely,
Misty

Mitchell Askew — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mitchell Askew Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This day and age everything needs to be transparent not hidden if a company or the government is hiding information in the Information Age it stinks of corruption and as far as both corporate and government has barely any public confidence left this is a horrible idea to cheat the ppl out of retirement and being able to get ahead for the American dream which we all want this is a direct head shot to that dream.
Sincerely mitch

Sent from my iPhone

Mo Brann — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mo Brann Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Dear all,
Please do not change the reporting schedule. The markets serve the people. The finances are already burdensome for THE PEOPLE. The rule makers can't keep disregarding THE PEOPLE. Where's the integrity in leadership? Show us. Thank you,

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Molly Arnold — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Molly Arnold Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep mandatory quarterly reports. Your job is to protect our investments,not allow corporations to steal our life's savings. Molly Arnold, small business owner

---

Molly McBride Scala — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Molly McBride Scala Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Molly Scala, do not change the reporting rules to limit reports to every six months. The average person is so limited in what we can see as it is, to limit the reporting requirements puts us in a dangerous position.

---

mongo lyon — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: mongo lyon Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 No valid purpose, do not allow...corrupt capitalism

---

Monica Hynes-Payack — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Monica Hynes-Payack Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports by financial institutions! Those invested have the right to know!

Monica Hynes-Payack
redacted

MONICA BRADLEE — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: MONICA BRADLEE Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am retired and this is incredibly important to my survival. Keep reporting to quarterly!

Sent from my iPhone

Monna Haugen — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Monna Haugen Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I need to know what's happening! My financial advisors do a gteat job! They are responsible individuals and don't need this new policy to hide behind! Please support the "good guys" and DO NOT PASS the new regulations!!!

---

moodya — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: moodya Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Do not change the quarterly reporting requirement.

Sent from my Galaxy

Morna Erwin — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Morna Erwin Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We need quarterly reporting!

Morris Coleman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Morris Coleman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As a business owner I say keep it ever quarter . I was president of my company and told the IRS and my workers every 3 months what was happening good and bad. William Coleman

---

Mr. Kubin — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mr. Kubin Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the information released every 3 months!

Ms. Smith Economics student/intern — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ms. Smith We need more of these for more participation I believe on the internet and other outlets. Thanks 🙂 Comments attached

---

Muhammad Iqbal — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Muhammad Iqbal Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We need transparency.
Pls keep earning announcements quarterly.
Thanks.

My Gmail — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: My Gmail Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As an investor, I believe reliable required quarterly reports are a valuable and necessary tool to making good investments. Do not change the rules on required reports.

Jonathan L Lyons

Myra Ephross — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Myra Ephross Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Absolutely NOT!!! WE already have difficulty trusting the Markets due to market manipulations. There is no good reason for this proposal. The SEC is supposed to be a watchdog for investors,

---

Myra Whittemore — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Myra Whittemore Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Make it monthly. Quarterly is the minimum.
Exercise integrity.

Myra Williams — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Myra Williams Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please keep Quarterly reporting!! Too much can happen with a 6 month reporting period.

Myra J Williams

Myrna — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Myrna Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Transparency is paramount in investors keeping faith in the financial industry especially the stock market. Keep the quarterly reporting or we the people will suspect foul play is at bay. With much-vaunted AI , quarterly reporting should become even easier so there can be any good reason to change the reporting period.

Blessings,
Myrna Karasig

Myrna Doering — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Myrna Doering Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep required reporting quarterly! If there is nothing to be alarmed about their records should be something to be proud of!!!!

---

myrna sandbrand — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: myrna sandbrand Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Without legal repercussions CEOs will do what they have always done. Hide. The. bankroll. Save Quarterly reporting!

Sent from my iPhone

N A — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: N A Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I don’t think we need any more corruption.

Best regards,

Nilufar Godin

Nan Johnston — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nan Johnston Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 That's plan won't work for 90% of people with stocks in their portfolio. Kill the whole thing.

Sent from my iPhone

NANCIE BARWICK — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: NANCIE BARWICK Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Transparency is vital. Hiding facts is dangerous to the public trust. CEOs are not known to be the most ethical of people.

Sent from my iPhone

Nancy — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Nancy Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Each day there's more bad news for everyday Americans. Those of us who work hard for every dollar, who pay the highest prices ever for food, gas and suffer more from global warming. It's not broken so there's nothing to fix. This will break us. Enough! Just do things to help us instead of hurting us.

Sent from my iPhone

---

nancy benson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: nancy benson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 THIS IS A BIG FAT NO FOR ME!!! WE NEED ALL THE ACCOUNTABILITY WE CAN GET ESPECIALLY NOW MORE THAN EVER WITH ALL THE CROOKS AND CORRUPTION IN THIS ADMINISTRATION!

Nancy Barefoot Moll — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Barefoot Moll Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep tabs on insider trading

---

Nancy Cardone — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Cardone Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Businesses need to be accountable to their shareholders and the Street. Don't listen to Trump.

Nancy Digregorio — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Digregorio Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Nancy DiGregorio here, and equitues invester. Transparency, transparency, and transparency AND no slight of the hand delays in revealing the facts. Stop any moves that appear underhanded and not forth coming.

Nancy Evanoff — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Evanoff Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Rule S7-2026-15 should not be considered and I am against it. People need to have quarterly statements to make good financial decisions. The market changes daily amd companies need to inform us of our holdings on a regular bases, monthly, quarterly, annually, not just once every 6 months. This could cause more corporate corruption, and investors would find out to late to change their portfolio. I feel this is not about companies trying to save money, but a way to keep all investors in the dark while dirty deals are made trying to keep their investors in the dark before it is too late to get out. More transparency is needed, this is cloak and dagger mentality. This only serves the corporations and the oligards, not the people in general. Please do not let this devil into the parlor! Vote NO!!

Nancy Gabel — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Gabel Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Nancy Gabel, retired teacher.
I remember the last time this happened in 1955 and the sad, disasterous, results for the next 15 years until the SEC rescinded the semiannual reports in 1970. Please don't even consider doing it again!!

NANCY HARMS — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: NANCY HARMS Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Nancy Buckingham Harms, retired insurance agent/securities licensed. I was in the industry for 30 years. There is no valid reason to hide information for 6 months. Ever. Unless there may be a shady reason that would benefit the company more than the Public. DO NOT ALLOW THIS! Keep the reporting quarterly!

Nancy Jones — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Nancy Jones Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please do not let Donald Trump ruin our reporting. Continue reporting quarterly.
Thank you

Nancy Jones

Nancy Kalinowski — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Kalinowski Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 It is very important to us and to my wealth management advisors for the SEC to keep the QUARTERLY schedule for reporting. This practice boosts accountability. Thank you.
Dr Keith and Nancy Kalinowski
NASA/FAA government executives (retired)

Sent from Nancy's iPhone

Nancy Kolodner — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Kolodner Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As a newly retired person I am very interested in how my funds are working. Please don't let companies hide their financial data for six months at a time. My future depends on transparency in the markets. Nancy Kolodner

---

Nancy McNemee — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy McNemee Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To protect our citizens and promote transparency I believe the reporting should remain in effect as is. Nancy McNemee

---

Nancy Poythress — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Poythress Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 No these companies that we invest in need to report quarterly without question.
Nancy Poythress

Nancy Thall — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Thall Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 If small investors stop trusting in the market- we'll stop investing. This is a big reason to get make investors more nervous at a really bad time of change in a multitude of areas affecting the middle class fund investors. They will start moving money out. - retired policy analyst

---

Nanette Rhodes — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nanette Rhodes Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Honesty, integrity and business transparency is necessary to keep our economy solvent. I implore you to vote against a 6 month period allowing companies to hide their true financial records/health. Individual investment as well as corporate investments depend on transparency. We can't fly blind investing for our retirements and futures. It would heed almost certain disaster.
Nanette Rhodes, Designer

Nanette Rhodes
Sent from my iPhone

Natalie Allegato — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Natalie Allegato Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We want transparency; not secrecy. Continue reporting g every three months. I oppose going dark for six months at a time. While the executives, lawyers, and big institutional investors still know exactly how the business is doing, I would be the last to know. What are you hiding?Natalie Allegato, retired

Sent from my iPhone

Natalie Allegato — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Natalie Allegato We want transparency; not secrecy. Continue reporting g every three months. I oppose going dark for six months at a time. While the executives, lawyers, and big institutional investors still know exactly how the business is doing, I would be the last to know. What are you hiding?Natalie Allegato, retired

---

Natalie Eline — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Natalie Eline Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Natalie Eline and I am a reading assistant in rural Pennsylvania. I've been working for almost 30 years and shouldn't have to work for 30 more to survive. There is no excuse for keeping The People's retirement future hidden from us. What does the financial industry have to hide?

Natalie Raflowski — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Natalie Raflowski Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To whom it may concern,

I am Natalie Raflowski, a Pacific Northwestern childcare worker in a working-class family. With how much power corporations have in our country, I feel it is only right that we can continue to see quarterly financial earnings of companies. This will keeps things for equal between people like me and the wealthy people running things—that is, the executives, lawyers, and investors.

The proposed Rule offers no benefits to me or the people I care about, and could only bring harm, such as in the form of insider trading, or allowing for fraud to continue under our noses. While it is proposed this Rule will be voluntary, it creates pressure for competitors to follow suit, which I believe will result in widespread normalization of bi-yearly earning reporting instead.

If the SEC cares about protecting the majority of Americans, it will not go through with instating this Rule. Please consider the potential harms this could allow to struggling working-class families, rather than the potential benefits for corporations and the wealthy people involved in operating them, before passing this Rule.

Thank you for your time.
Natalie Raflowski

---

nathaniel mouncey — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: nathaniel mouncey Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reporting is an absolute must. Do not roll back these regulations for any reason.

Sent from my iPhone

Nathaniel R Helms — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nathaniel R Helms Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Don’t do it. There are enough thieves running rampant without adding to the kitty.

NATHANIEL WRIGHT IV — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: NATHANIEL WRIGHT IV Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We have to keep Qyarterly ReportingFor All Businesses.

Sent from my iPhone

Navid Afshar — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Navid Afshar Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly disclosures provide me with detailed information to make informed decisions on my investments. Without this information, I wouldn't be able to trust the market and would seek alternative investment strategies.

Neen1020 — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Neen1020 Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Stop all the damn corruption! We want to see whenever we get ready to.

Sent from my iPhone

Nell Locke-Jacobie — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nell Locke-Jacobie Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the reports coming every 3 months. I think this makes frail less likely to be discovered and called out on. Thanks!

Sent from my iPhone

Nell Locke-Jacobie — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nell Locke-Jacobie Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the reports coming every 3 months. I think this makes frail less likely to be discovered and called out on.

Sent from my iPhone

Nelson Barnes — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nelson Barnes Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Stop the Company Executives from cover up fraud . Making then report.

Sent from my iPad

Nelson Wong — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Nelson Wong Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I oppose any rule that would reduce the amount of information public companies are required to disclose to the public on a quarterly basis.
Regular disclosures promote transparency, accountability, and confidence in the financial markets. Quarterly reporting helps investors, researchers, journalists, and the public understand how companies are performing throughout the year rather than waiting for annual reports. More frequent information allows market participants to evaluate risks, identify trends, and make better-informed decisions based on current data.
Reducing disclosure requirements would make it harder to compare companies, assess management performance, and understand material changes that occur between annual reporting periods. Less transparency can also increase information gaps between large institutional investors and ordinary members of the public.
The SEC's mission includes protecting investors and maintaining fair, orderly, and efficient markets. Preserving robust quarterly disclosure requirements supports those goals by ensuring that important information remains broadly available and accessible.
I encourage the SEC to maintain strong quarterly reporting and disclosure standards rather than reducing access to information that helps the public evaluate publicly traded companies.

Neville & Lynn Wilson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Neville & Lynn Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please continue to require the practice of reporting quarterly to investors. This helps keep communication open, and promotes greater accountability to investors. Lynn Wilson, citizen investor and former securities license holder, who still prefers to hear how my investments are doing, more often than twice per year.

Nicholas Christensen — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nicholas Christensen Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Hello,

The proposed shift to a semi-annual schedule would be bad for transparency and can conceivably only serve the purpose of financiers and bad actors seeking to conceal their books from the public. This goes against the principles of open commerce and is a firm step forward in making our makes less transparent, more corrupt, and less trust worthy the world wide.

Appreciatively,

Nicholas

Nicholas Hernandez — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nicholas Hernandez Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am unable to hide any of my earnings. Of course all I have now is social security. But even before that, regardless! A corporation does not need to hide anything from anyone. If I can't definitely they shouldn't. They earn way more than I do in a quarter; that's my whole year. If that is the case, and that's allowed, then that should be allowed for me as well. And I don't think that the United States government would be happy with that. Less taxes for the government at this current moment in time? Thanks to the current idiot in the white house, we're depleted on all of our offensive and defensive weaponry and he blew most of that in 30 days. Actually a lot sooner than that. For the benefit of the United States of America do not allow this to happen.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Nick Brennan — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nick Brennan Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Why on earth would you let companies hide their books from us? The working American already gets punished enough. This must be stopped, the working American must come before corporate America

---

Nick K — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nick K Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is an unnecessarily hostile action to take against retail investors. If we want more retail interest in individual stocks, we should maintain the same level of reporting we do currently .

--

Nick Klein

Nick Voss — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nick Voss Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Nick Voss, retired. Don't change earnings reporting to 6 months time frame. Leave it at quarterly to prevent more fraud and insider trading advantages. This would only reduce transparency.. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sent from my Galaxy

Nicki — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nicki Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The current quarterly reporting system works for both investors and companies. A change to semi annually means less transparency & more room for fraud and manipulation, so of course big corporations want it. It’s just another grift by the grifter-in-chief & his administration. I object in the strongest possible way. The long-term stability of the market is at stake & the endgame could be disastrous for the standing of the US economy. Just no.

Sent from my iPhone

Nicole Gill Cleveland — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nicole Gill Cleveland Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am appalled to hear you want to hide your books for six months? Please reconsider. Transparency is needed more than ever.

Nicole Cleveland Retired - USN, SCPO / E-8

Nicole Wilke — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nicole Wilke Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Nicole Wilke, Consumer Strategist, I want quarterly reporting for accountability, so I can make informed investment choices.

Nilo Sudbrack — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nilo Sudbrack Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Nilo Sudbrack Licensed Health Insurance Agent - financial markets are already much too opaque...no sense in making it worse!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Nina Peele — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nina Peele Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please keep the reporting of companies' financial data quarterly. The information helps guide where I invest and as a retail investor on a limited budget, the information is so helpful to me.

Sent from my iPhone

Nora — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nora Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As an investor and citizen, this 6 month rule is a terrible idea. Opens the door wide for fraud. Especially for non- sophisticated investors. Quarterly works. Why change. Transparency should be the goal
Nora Pearce Medford NJ

Nora Brown — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nora Brown Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is inside trading and has always been happening.

Sent from my iPhone

Nora Gonzalez — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Nora Gonzalez Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As a retail investor I rely on quarterly reports to make sound decisions about my investments and retirement savings. I just recently started my investment journey and now I am very concerned that this ruling will take away vital information that would help me in retirement.

Nora McCarthy — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nora McCarthy Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please keep the reports on a quarterly basis!

Nora

Nora McCarthy

---

norda skrak — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: norda skrak Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep it the way it is, quarterly! I realize it is more work but it keeps books more honest. Greed is out of control! I am really tired of all the short cuts, any way possible to not do the work or put it on someone else. Books need to be done consistently and in a timely manner. Fraud is rampant now!! Books done every 3 months, quarterly, just makes sense and cuts down on fraud and it would be found faster.
Norda Skrak Retired

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Noreen Mohr — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Noreen Mohr Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Noreen Mohr. I am retired and feel.it is vital that I know the state of my investments on a regular basis. Investment firms and big corporations should not be allowed to keep the public, whose money they are using, in the dark. Unfair advantage

Sent from my Galaxy

Noreen Nutt — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Noreen Nutt Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly Reports are an important part of our decision making processes to pick and choose which companies to support and invest in. Don't allow this to stop.

Olivia Reich — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Olivia Reich Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is a terrible idea for the small investor (ie: most of us…)!
Please protect the average consumer instead of the billionaires.

Olivia Reich

Ollie Thibodeaux — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ollie Thibodeaux Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 No. Keep making public reports.

Oscar Aragon — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Oscar Aragon Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 this will lead to less transparency...and more un-welcomed surprises...its hard to keep up with the shenanigans as it is, imagine when there is 12 months to hide behind the curtain.

Otsie Murray — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Otsie Murray Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commisson:
This is just another way for the rich to get richer. To keep hold the wealth for thr upper 1% if u havnt noticed the american peopke are catching on and are becoming quite tired of being stepped on unheard . Its time u hear before another decision that is in favor to hold them down. There is already talk of another revolution taking place. Why fan the fire. Take a stand for once and do the right thing and block this . Thank u

---

Paige Johnson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Paige Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This potential policy removes the democratization of the stock market. It returns Wall Street to something only insiders can benefit from.

Pail Gower — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Pail Gower Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Please do not take away the vital quarterly report for investors. It would cripple how "we the people" invest in our collective future.

---

pam duelley — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: pam duelley Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keeping quarterly keeps us involved and aware

---

Pam Greene — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Pam Greene Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly needs to stay in place. Insider trading and cooking the books will happen, leaving it open to those connected, like the wealthy so they're able to sell off before we the common man is left in the dark till its too late!

Pam Haley — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pam Haley Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Pam Haley
redacted
I am sending you this message to speak my opinion on the reporting every 6 months than 3. I dont have much but what I do have takes me watching it every 3 months. Every penny helps. I want to know what my investment is doing

---

Pam Price — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pam Price Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please don’t give corporations ANOTHER benefit that hurts the rest of us. Make them pay their fair share of taxes! Make them pay a living wage. Break up monopolies.NO 6 month blackout!

Pam Richards — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pam Richards Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is beyond ridiculous. This is a way for you and your cronies to make more money. TRANSPARENCY

Sent from my iPhone

Pamela Cleveland — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pamela Cleveland Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 US citizens need more transparency and protection from companies run with bad intentions. Tired of always losing to the millionaire class. Signed: Pamela Cleveland, Inertial Navigation, head of Marketing

Pamela Mayo — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Pamela Mayo Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am just a couple of more unscrupulous things away from leaving this shit hole country for good. This would be one of those things.

Pamela Mayo

Pamela Chamallas — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pamela Chamallas Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reports are accurate and what new investors need to see.

Sent from my iPhone

Pamela Savastano — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Pamela Savastano Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Public companies should never be able to hide for six months their financials. They are public and we need more transparency not less on the publicly held companies. Letting them hide for six months will only increase fraud and be a detriment to the public but give insiders a cover. This bill is a disgrace!

Pamela Wallen — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pamela Wallen Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As often as they're cheating us blind, they should have to do it monthly. Definitely don't want them to do it less frequently.

Sent from my iPhone

Papillon — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Papillon Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Papillon, retired. You people have got to be kidding with this. Giving companies 6 months to do whatever with books before anyone can asses them for purchase or bankruptcy.

Papillon
Peace
?allofit

Parker Bellew — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Parker Bellew Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am writing to express my strong opposition to any proposal that seeks to reduce the frequency of standardized public company disclosures from a quarterly to a semi-annual basis. For over 50 years, public markets have relied on the rigorous, high-quality information provided in quarterly reports to function effectively. Rolling back this standard to six-month intervals would severely damage market integrity, penalize everyday retail investors, and increase structural volatility.
1. Exacerbating Information Asymmetry
The foundation of a fair market is the equitable distribution of information. Extending the reporting gap to six months creates a severe information asymmetry between corporate insiders, large institutional funds, and the general public. While everyday investors are left "in the dark" for half a year, well-connected institutional entities will inevitably leverage their resources, alternative data channels, and direct access to C-suite executives to bridge that gap. This creates a bifurcated, inherently unfair market where retail investors are forced to invest with a blindfold on, directly contradicting the SEC's mandate to protect all investors equally.
2. Undermining Market Efficiency and Liquidity
The Efficient Market Hypothesis relies entirely on the continuous and transparent flow of public data. Without the reliable touchpoint of a quarterly earnings report, markets will struggle to accurately price risk and value assets. Markets inherently abhor uncertainty; by forcing the public to wait six months for standardized financial health indicators, the SEC would be artificially injecting friction into the system. This prolonged lack of transparency will inevitably lead to increased risk premiums, wider bid-ask spreads, and heightened volatility as rumors and unverified data fill the six-month void.
3. Disrupting Macroeconomic Visibility
Quarterly corporate reporting is not just a tool for evaluating individual equities; it is a critical aggregate input for broader macroeconomic analysis. From tracking international trade impacts to observing shifts in capital expenditures and inventory levels, these high-frequency data points are essential for understanding the underlying mechanics of the economy. Halving the frequency of these reports limits the ability to track real-time economic health, making both private investment and broader policy analysis significantly more difficult.
Quarterly reporting has been the bedrock of trust and transparency in American financial markets for half a century. Reducing this vital stream of information does not streamline the market—it merely obscures it from the public while concentrating informational power at the top. I strongly urge the Commission to reject this proposal and maintain the quarterly reporting standards that protect all investors.
Sincerely,

Parker Bellew

Parth Parikh — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Parth Parikh Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please maintain the quarterly earnings and statement filings. These are the only thing keeping markets fair for retail investors.

Pat Januzzi — Jun 11, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pat Januzzi Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY. MY NAME IS PAT JANUZZI A TOOL AND DIE MAKER IN WISCONSIN. we need transparency

---

Pat Wells — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pat Wells Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Pat Wells, technician, no one ought be allowed to go dark managing money for others retirements.

Pat Eichman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pat Eichman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I'm fed up with the cheating, lying, stealing, insider trading and illegal profiteering in the nation's capital!
Changing this to a six month view is preposterous! We working class serfs have no chance of keeping in the investment game if you wealthy Congress and your elite class have info we don't have. DON'T DO IT!
Thank you.

Pat Gerrero — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Pat Gerrero Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is draconian to go back to days when investors were uninformed of the performance of their investments. We need to continue quarterly reports!! Please do not pass this new proposal. My name is Pat Gerrero, I am a retired psychotherapist in community mental health

Sent from my iPhone

Pat In Ramsey — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pat In Ramsey Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This lack of transparency will hurt everyone, and investors the most. Fraud will increase.

Sincerely,

Patrick Griffith

612-834-1310
patgrif5@comcast.net

Pat Koehl — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pat Koehl Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 There is a reason it’s quarterly!
In that time period they can bankrupt a plan!

Sent from my iPhone

Pat Miller — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pat Miller Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep quartly reporting

Sent from my iPhone

Pat Sayer-Handley — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Pat Sayer-Handley Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As a retired teacher it is imperative for the SEC to be transparent. This requires quarterly reporting especially in our rapidly changing economy.

Patricia Canterbury — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Canterbury Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am urging you to keep reporting to the SEC on a quarterly basis. Quarterly reporting helps everyone keep tabs on the economy and make course corrections in an more immediate and responsive manner.

Thank you!

Patricia Canterbury
Retired Museum Curator
Dallas, TX

Patricia Mattucci — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Mattucci Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Patricia Mattucci, CMA
My financial information matters to me and I track it with my quarterly statements.
It is very important to keep my financial information up to date and also current!
Do not allow corporations to go six months without reporting financial information .

Patricia Petry — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Petry Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Patricia Petry. I am retired. I lost over half my savings in the 2008 recession because the SEC and other government agencies did not activated the safeguards they were to do. I cannot afford another negligent government foul-up.

Patricia Bartlett — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Bartlett Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep reporting at least quarterly! We are looking for transparency in all aspects of business & government! By submitting to make reporting every 6 months instead of every 3 months smacks of deception.

Sent from my iPhone

Patricia Burns — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Burns Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As a US citizen I know this is a bad move for the people who invest, especially in retirement accounts. There is no good reason to change this from quarterly to semi annual and decreases the chances of fraudulent behavior. Countries that have the semi annual has found this could easily happen. I do not agree with this change. There really is no good reason for it! Thank you for listening!

Kind regards

Patricia M Burns

Patricia Edaburn — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Edaburn Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reports keep everything and every one honest. Please keep them

Sent from my iPhone

Patricia Ferry — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Patricia Ferry Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My small investments have kept me afloat during rough financial times in my life and currently in my retirement. I have to know where I stand with them on a regular basis. This semi-annual reporting would make it very difficult for me to make financial decisions and could do me and others in a similar position considerable harm.

Sent from my iPhone

Patricia Hall — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Patricia Hall Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 It seems patently obvious that this did not work in 1955-1970 and there is no value in trying it again. I do not want to be locked out of knowing how my investments are functioning on someone’s whim. Leave it at quarterly!

Sent from my iPhone

Patricia L Wilmes — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia L Wilmes Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This proposal could potentially be detrimental to the common investor. As a retiree, we need to be aware of our investments for financial security. Companies need to be accountable to their investors. Openness builds trust. Sincerely, Patty Wilmes, Educator

Sent from my iPhone

Patricia Lauth — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Lauth Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Lets leave the reporting quarterly. It makes no sense to change this, do not leave us in the dark. I am a retiree.
Patricia Lauth

Sent from my iPhone

PATRICIA MATTUCCI — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: PATRICIA MATTUCCI Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Patricia Mattucci, CMA
My financial information matters to me and I track it with my quarterly statements.
It is very important to keep my financial information up to date and also current!
Do not allow corporations to go six months without reporting financial information .

Get Outlook for Android

Patricia McGuire — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia McGuire Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Do NOT play with my hard-earned money. There's enough fraud and corruption going on in Washington and I have lost ALL TRUST in this government. I want quarterly reports.
Patricia McGuire
RETIRED at 73 years of age, well-educated and still extremely engaged in life and politics.

Sent from my iPhone

Patricia Polasky — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Polasky Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 There is no reason to go dark for six months. The more transparency, the better no need to hide anything if all is honest and above board.

Sent from my iPhone

Patricia Rea — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Patricia Rea Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I cannot afford to loose any money! It is so expensive now to survive and this plan will make it worse. Please get this nitwit out of the White House before he destroys this country.

Do not do this!!
Patricia Rea

Patricia Rea — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Patricia Rea Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I cannot afford to loose any money! It is so expensive now to survive and this plan will make it worse. Please get this nitwit out of the White House before he destroys this country.
Do not do this!

Patricia Rea Wallingford, PA

Patricia Silinski — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Silinski Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Companies should keep the current reporting schedule. It would be predatory to shareholders and employees to allow companies to report their earnings and expenses data less frequently than currently required. There is no season to allow companies to obscure their financial situation from the public

---

Patricia Sills-Trausch — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Sills-Trausch Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Those in power already have too much knowledge (inside information which is like insider trading) and thus capitalize on stocks and bonds. Lengthing reporting period to 6 months only benefits those in government and their friends. This is another awful proposal by this administration. It only benefits the wealthy. Where is the Care and concern for the middle class that Trump campaigned on. Vote no on this proposal.

Patti Sills-Trausch

Patricia Smith — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Smith Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Patricia smith
I have my retirement in various stocks and need to have quarterly disclosures

Patty Smith
redacted

Patricia Vitatoe — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Vitatoe Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 No. Pat Vitatoe retired teacher You're wrecking my retirement!

Patricia Walker — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Walker Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Transparency is the only way to level the playing field! This makes NO sense! Regards, Patricia Walker retired financial advisor Incline Village, Nevada

Sent from my iPad

Patricialyn Veal — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricialyn Veal Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Are you kidding me . .NO..no secrecy for any one in corporations - no need to be scamming.. reporting income is a must for all

---

Patrick Ogborn — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Patrick Ogborn Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep Quarterly Reporting in the USA . I cannot afford to lose one dime of my retirement ssvings value, not one. Actually. I need better returns on my investments. Thank-you, Patrick Ognorn, retired Training Director. Gladstone, OR. 97027

Patrick Charles — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Patrick Charles Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not make it more difficult than it is for investors to determine what companies they invest in

---

Patrick Ciriello — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patrick Ciriello Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 You people are shady and greedy enough as it is. Reporting should be done hourly with a public facing dashboard.

Patrick Ciriello — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patrick Ciriello Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 In case my other comment wasn't clear ...

NFW!

Patrick Irwin — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patrick Irwin Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 It would be good to look at the money Trail of the people who are pushing for the every 6 months option. It would take a lot longer to "fix" the "Financial irregularities" that would show up if we only had to report every 6 months.

Patrick Rose — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patrick Rose Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly report reports allow shareholders and investors to understand. Just exactly where a company is financially.

Sent from my iPhone

Patsy Seay — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patsy Seay Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Financials should NOT be able to hold out for 6 months. Do NOT pass this.
Patsy Seay
Retired
Don't want to see this pass because investors deserve better.

Hope you are having a wonderful day,
Patsy

Praise the Lord, he deserves it 🎶🎶🎶

Patti Aro — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Patti Aro Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I'm Patti Aro, a business analyst in Seattle. I'm not ready to go back to the unregulated Wild West- we've already seen the crime these corporations get up to even with the current quarterly reporting. It's not safe for people to invest in an unregulated market.

Don't regulate less. Regulate more.

Sent from my iPhone

Patti Faivor — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Patti Faivor Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep it the way it is. More transparency is better!

Patti Gill — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patti Gill Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

Patty Niemaszyk — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Patty Niemaszyk Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep reporting as it is now. I need my quarterly reports to make informed decisions about my retirement spending.
.Patty Niemaszyk
retired special educator
,Elgin IL

Patty Squillace — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patty Squillace Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This change will encourage fraud and grifting. That was probably why it was quarterly in the first place. Corporations do not need more incentive to cheat the system.
Do not change requirements from a quarterly basis. Thank you,
Patricia Squillace
Sent from my iPhone

Patty Squillace — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Patty Squillace Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Enough grifting by corporations! Transparency is imperative! Keep the current regulations and time frames. A lot can be manipulated in 6 months.

Sent from my iPhone

Paul — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 No. This is a bad thing. I want to know what my company's financials are doing quarterly.
Please don't change
Thanks

Paul C. Mott — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul C. Mott Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Hiding data serves no purpose other than to promote and conceal illegal abd unethical activity. Thr concept of a corporation as a legal person was never more than a fiction avd justifies NO exemption or protection ftom laws and practices that protect consumers and public safety.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Paul Cencula — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Paul Cencula Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am opposed to changing the current quarterly reporting requirement to semi-annual. I believe this change would be detrimental to individual savers. As retired people, my wife and I depend on our savings for a substantial part of our income. Semi-annual reporting would likely result in lower interest rates.

Sincerely,
Paul and Barbara Cencula
Gaithersburg, MD

Paul Dupuis — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul Dupuis Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This action seems designed to benefit the " big guys" and will have no benefit for anyone else. So it should not be passed into law.

Paul Elliot — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul Elliot Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reports are essential for investors. Stop abetting corruption!

Paul Ford — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul Ford Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The Quarterly is a must to keep open all records must be kept public!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Paul Franzmann — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Paul Franzmann Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 In an era of grotesque inequality, throwing another bone to pampered CEOs is obscene .

Paul Franzmann
Walla Walla, WA

Paul Germano — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul Germano Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As a retail investor in select companies making up the S&P 500 and NASDAQ, I ask the SEC to reconsider the proposal of letting companies report their earnings every 6 months. It's important for companies to report their earnings every quarter of the year so other investors are informed of their progress and any new ideas brought to the table. If many companies, especially those in the top 10 in terms of market cap, are given the option to report their earnings every 6 months, then I fear there will be many unknowns to the average investor that only the CEO's, other executives, the president, and inside traders may be aware of.

Paul Germano

Paul Knight — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Paul Knight Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As a trader, I need to be able to access the financial stability of companies in order to make informed trading decisions. I don't need to spend potentially thousands of dollars on stock for a business that shuts down. Businesses go belly up in less than 6mpnths. #Enron.

Paul Lyde — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul Lyde Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Average seniors like me cannot abide by letting companies we invest our hard earned money in hiding behind 6months of business reporting. It is too much of an opportunity to mislead investors. Please do the right thing for the average investor and do not change the rules on corporate reporting. Paul Lyde

Sent from my iPad

Paul McElherne — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul McElherne Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Why would the SEC bend to the billionaires and not continue to require quarterly financial reporting for all public companies? We need to know what the financial situation is for all public traded companies quarterly! Even for private companies when they are planing to hold an IPO and go public they should make public facing disclosures quarterly for a year in advance!

Sincerely

Paul F McElherne
Wakefield, MA

Sent from my iPhone

Paul Mullins — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul Mullins Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 WTF is wrong with you??? How can you even think this is a good idea? No! WE NEED QUARTERLY info.

Paul Palmer — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul Palmer Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Paul Palmer, and I'm retired law enforcement. I need quarterly economic reports to manage my modest investment portfolio.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Paul Parker — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul Parker Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reporting should be the bare minimum for financial reporting, monthly would be much better for small investors like myself. Please DO NOT allow the reporting to be any less than quarterly, you'll only hurt everyday Americans.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Paul Pater — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul Pater Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I need quarterly reporting as I have a self managed pension. I need to know the facts these companies have

Sent from my iPhone

Paul Scheuer — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul Scheuer Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Recent retiree to who now relies on his investments to live. Cutting reporting by 50% creates too much downside risk for me as an "market outsider" since by the time problems are required to publicly surface, my investment may have become worthless. with a 50% cut I'd be forced to trade on speculation and hearsay.

Paul Tutherow — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Paul Tutherow Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Leave it the way it is now, please!

Paul Davis Tutherow
redacted

Paul Wood — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul Wood Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Dropping quarterly reviews is a bad idea for everybody but the bad guys.

Get Outlook for Android

---

paul yelenosky — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: paul yelenosky Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I must express my profound concern and strong opposition to any proposal that seeks to diminish the frequency of financial reporting for publicly traded companies. Such a measure, far from offering any discernible benefit, would fundamentally undermine the bedrock principles of transparency and accountability upon which healthy capital markets are built.

Publicly held corporations bear a critical fiduciary responsibility to their shareholders and the broader investment community. This responsibility mandates the consistent and timely dissemination of comprehensive financial information, a commitment currently met through quarterly disclosures. These regular updates are not merely procedural; they are indispensable tools that enable investors – both current and prospective – to accurately assess a company's performance, evaluate its financial health, and make informed decisions regarding capital allocation.

Reducing the frequency of these vital reports would inevitably lead to a significant increase in information asymmetry. Such a void would breed uncertainty, foster speculative behavior, and disadvantage individual investors who rely heavily on official disclosures. Less frequent reporting would obscure emerging trends, both positive and negative, making it exceedingly difficult to gauge a company's trajectory and react appropriately.

The direct consequence of such an information deficit would be heightened market volatility. When critical data is scarce, markets become prone to overreactions, driven by rumors, partial information, and speculative trading rather than sound fundamentals. This creates an environment ripe for "huge price swings," which are not only undesirable but actively detrimental to investor confidence and long-term market stability. It would introduce unnecessary risk, deter investment, and ultimately impair the efficient functioning of our capital markets.

Maintaining the current three-month reporting schedule is not an arbitrary burden; it is a vital safeguard that ensures market integrity, promotes investor protection, and upholds corporate responsibility. Any deviation from this standard would represent a step backward, introducing significant harm to both the financial ecosystem and the millions of individuals who entrust their savings to public companies.

Paul Yelenosky

Paula Darden — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paula Darden Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Paula Darden, pharmacist. I depend on the retirement account I put money into for over 30 years to fund my retirement. I want quarterly disclosure to keep my money safe. I have no reason to trust these people.

Paula Darden — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paula Darden Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Paula Darden, pharmacist. I depend on the retirement account I put money into for over 30 years to fund my retirement. I want quarterly disclosure to keep my money safe. I have no reason to trust these people unless they disclose what they are doing. Frankly, I'd like monthly disclosure.

Paula Martin — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Paula Martin Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Stay the current course. Remain accountable.

Paula Mindes — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paula Mindes Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Like many Americans I have retirement accounts. I can decide how to allocate money in them and in order to do that I need detailed, accurate information. The proposed rule would deprive me of the knowledge I need to make good decisions that protect my retirement.

Do not deprive hard working people of information they count on for their financial security. Leave the reporting rule as it is.

Paula Mindes

Paula Steigauf — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Paula Steigauf Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Mr. Chairman,
Is the SEC truly considering a change? Why change what is working? Who wants to risk losing their life savings or worse, a market crash? Not me. Quarterly reporting has benefited our economy and its investors for DECADES. Please keep it!
Thank you kindly.
Paula Powers, BSN, CHTP
Minneapolis, Minnesota 55432

Sent from my iPhone

Paulette Woodard — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paulette Woodard Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please continue the quarterly reports. We need to see the changes before they can get too extreme! Thank you.
From a senior with investments.
Paulette Woodard

Hugs,
Paulette

---

paytasjk — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: paytasjk Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 NO NO NO NO NO NO. We need our quarterly reports!!!

Jo Paytas, retired, worked for almost 50 years. I need to know how my investsments are doing!

Sent from my Galaxy

Peels1t — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peels1t Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This state needs informed citizens and I am very concerned about this change. As a citizen we f South Carolina I am saki g that this not happen. Thank you.

Peg — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peg Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Democrats wouldn't pull this crap.
No more republicans

Peg McAdam — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peg McAdam Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the books open quickly. No hiding for 6 months.

Peg McAdam
131 Sunnyside Ave, Arlington, MA 02474

Peggy Hamlin — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Peggy Hamlin Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Peggy Hamlin. Retired. It matters because there is no reason to dissolve the integrity of the SEC

Peg H

Peggy Lush — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Peggy Lush Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please maintain quarterly reporting. Ordinary investors like myself are already at a disadvantage to the million/billionaires who have & utilized inside information. Keeping quarterly reporting might give us a small fighting chance to accumulate &/or maintain our investments. Margaret Lush, retiree, Cheyenne, Wyoming.

Peggy Schaff — Jun 11, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peggy Schaff Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Peggy Schaff. I am retired and would like to have my financial reports every three months so I am able to keep a close eye on and compare to how things are progressing. This has been happening for more than 50 years. Why change a good thing. If it's not broke, don't try to change it! There is no good reason to switch to every six months reporting! I strongly oppose to making the change to every six month financial reports.

Peggy Tieman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peggy Tieman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 What positive purpose would biannual reports do for the consumer ?!?! NOTHING!
This erosion of our information sources and protections has got to stop.
Peggy Tieman retired citizen

Peggy Tieman
Sent from my iPhone

Peggy Tingle — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Peggy Tingle Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Definitely not!

Sent from my iPhone

Penelope Ackerman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Penelope Ackerman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is going to enable every thief to wholesale slaughter small investors. Where is the SEC's head?

Penny Elmquist — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Penny Elmquist Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Continue the requirement for companies to report financials quarterly. Moving reporting to six months will allow more fraud and only benefit insiders.

Sent from my iPad

Perry Bourlet — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Perry Bourlet Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep it quarterly.

Perry Wilmoth — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Perry Wilmoth Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is unconscionable Investing must be a more level playing field. This is going in the opposite direction. It's already stacked for high frequency traders. The SEC will lose any remaining value as a disinterested arbiter of investing equality.

Pete — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pete Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Don't make the change. We need transparency, not insider trading.

---

pete luff — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: pete luff Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Peter Luff. I process whey for Cabot Creamery. Changing to bi-annual statements as opposed to quarterly is a bad idea. Investors deserve to know where there investments are headed. I vote NO.

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Peter Halle — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peter Halle Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Peter Halle, self employed contractor, retail investor. Quarterly reporting more fairly reflects the activity and relative volatility of stocks. Far too much happens in a six month time frame. How about your bank only allows you to check your balances every six months?

Peter Urbanski — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peter Urbanski Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is a bad idea. Transparency is the backbone of capitalism and democracy.

If you haven't noticed.

Peter Urbanski

Peter Williams — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Peter Williams Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The conly

Sent from my iPhoneSea

---

philine664 — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: philine664 Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Don't change quarterly reporting.Open books are what makes America great.CORRUPTION IS CORRUPTION

Sent from my Galaxy

Phillip Bates — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Phillip Bates Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reporting keeps me informed of the progress in my investments. If anything bi-monthly reporting would be much better. I am opposed to lengthening the reporting cycle.

Phillip Bates - Retired redacted

Phillip Hinds — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Phillip Hinds Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 There’s absolutely no reason to change this rule. There’s more than enough fraud to go around. Anything I think it should be every two months.
If anything, it should be more frequent

Phyllis Attisano — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Phyllis Attisano Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Do not get rid of quarterly reports. I am a senior who depends on my IRA investments for my living expenses. Six months is too long to go with no up-to-date information

Sent from my iPhone

Phyllis C Jordan — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Phyllis C Jordan Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Preparing quarterly company financials is a comparatively smaller responsibility relative to the disastrous risk potential of delayed transparency - whether there is abuse, or simply accounting-gone-wrong, or engaging in errant policies.

Conservative quarterly financial reporting compared to 6-Month reporting with on-demand / off-season audits, should be considered wiser, preferable… less flying by the seat of your pants. Stockholders and board members no doubt would agree.

In these days of rampant disregard for regulation, businesses should be operating with more accountability than less.

The impact of the 2008 banking-debt recession debacle destroyed tens of thousands of small-medium-large-sized U.S. companies, and the lost homes of their employee families, affecting the well being of the entire global financial ecosystem.

>Now>Again 2026>
We already face having yet another debt crisis with a huge population of lower income and middle class overextended, carrying too much debt ~
thanks to ever-higher expenses after 18Months of vacillating off-the-wall tariffs now followed by the economic disaster of our shameful uncalled-for US/Israeli Iran war dragging on as its domestic financial ramifications continue to build at home for our businesses and working class families.

Continually added expense =
Higher growing credit debt
=
More financial inflation
=
Recession for our country.

Adding to the misery and potential for disaster is the boundless extremes in US income Inequality as it continues to widen daily.

In the most rich country we should ensure to never again see thousands upon thousands of homes repossessed, empty buildings, closed storefronts, warehouses.

How many harsh, burdensome life-changing lessons do we need to have after all the repetitive incidents of unbridled U.S. businesses over-reaching credit debt and fraud ?

Quarterly reporting should remain the standard in our country's financial institutions and businesses to help catch issues before they develop into tragedy and ruin.

The Buck Must Stop
With Our US SEC.

Phyllis C Jordan

Phyllis Heumann — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Phyllis Heumann Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reports!! They are very helpful, as the market changes on a daily basis. Professionals rely on them, and if they need them, the average person DEFINITELY needs them. Please keep them!!! Thank you!

Sent from my iPhone

Phyllis Rayca — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Phyllis Rayca Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 With the rampant corruption in both government and business, shareholders deserve to see the financials of businesses on a quarterly basis. --Phyllis A. Rayca, retiree

---

pll109 — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: pll109 Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The rules regarding the SEC quarterly reporting should remain as they they are
It is NOT fair to force the general public to try and make reliable investment choices with out regular updates on the heath of a particular company.

Sent from my Galaxy

Priscilla Jenkins — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Priscilla Jenkins Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I don’t want a decrease in reporting. Too much depends on the “fed rate” to let it slip further into darkness.

Sent from my iPhone

Pvacilek — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pvacilek Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Less transparency is never a good thing except for those who are trying to hide. Keep things quarterly so investors, and our financial advisors, have all the information we need to make informed decisions about our portfolios.

P Vacilek, retired, and dependent on investments to stay independent

Sent from my iPad

R J — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: R J Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is outrageous. Companies can hide six months at a time. Fraud can hide in that six months and grow with no light shining on it. Companies always strive for less oversight, and this is not in anyone's best interests. Any amount of money saved would be small and certainly would not be passed on to investors. This is nothing but smoke and mirrors. Do not permit it! -- Pat Rice, Corporate Communications Coordinator.

R. Bridge — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: R. Bridge Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 What are you thinking ? I will withdraw every cent from Wall Street, if you remove my ability to review and adjust quarterly. R. Bridge. Operations mgr/ oil jobber.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Rachel Broughton — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rachel Broughton Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 It’s irresponsible to stretch out reports to 6 months. Please be fair to investors!
This is a plan perfect for fraud.
What are the supposed advantages??
I can’t see any.

Rachel Broughton

Rachel Lico — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Rachel Lico Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 How about we dont continue to let companies skimp on reporting; why are we loosening instead of tightening regulations? That needs to stop. What we dont need is less reporting and regulations.

Rachel Donoher

---

rae smart — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: rae smart Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 No you cannot let firms go 6 months to file. If i had a stock in the company I would need to know for my families protection

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Rae Wilson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rae Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 You should not be able to see the reports until the public does.

Sincerely,

Glenda Dillard

Raina Saul — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Raina Saul Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep SEC filing quarterly. We have the right to know how a business is doing. They must be responsible and accountable. More not less information is what keeps businesses responsible.

Raina Saul - Admin in Fintech

Ralph McKosky — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ralph McKosky Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Rhmckosky@gmail.com, 6 mos is too long to determine if a company is profitable or has missed the mark...if you change it to 6 mos, they'll miss the report then its a year without data...Companies have been doing it for more than 50 years it's not a new thing... Besides it provides jobs for accountants and report writers!

Ramona Menish — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ramona Menish Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the reporting rule to quarterly reporting.Period. There are enough shenanigans and fraud occurring because there is no accountability. Keep the rule simple and direct- quarterly reportingONLY.

Ranae A — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ranae A Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 There's absolutely no reason for them to go dark for 6 months. Sounds like shenanigans to me.

Ranae Hagen — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ranae Hagen Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Ranae. I'm a 60-year-old single woman from Oakland, Nebraska. I grew up in this town. I didn't go to college because my parents couldn't afford to send me and I had no idea on how to use the resources to do just that. I moved away, got married, got divorced and moved back. I married again. This time it was to an abusive, narcissistic man who I ended up having children with. I divorced. I should let you know that I worked. I worked my butt off to try to keep my children fed and warm. I've worked for the same hospital system for 25 years. Over the years, there were times when I had to choose between paying the heat bill or feeding my children. There was no way to get ahead. While people like me were struggling, and still struggling, the rich seem to get all the breaks. This is just another ploy to keep the rich richer and the poor poorer. For God's sake put a stop to the greed and corruption that's bringing this nation down to the bottom of hell. Our forefathers would be disgusted by what's happening to us and this once great nation. Please stand up for what this nation was built on years ago when they wrote the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence. Reread it if you need to. I seem to remember a line that read All Men Are Created Equal. I feel like this has been forgotten for a very long time. Stop the Injustice!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Randall Clark — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Randall Clark Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Randall Clark, retired executive with multinational manufacturer:
Retail investors MUST have access to the latest corporate information. As fast as business and the economy move these days, do NOT eliminate quarterly reporting. We will just be SHEEP led to the slaughter without quarterly information. Thank you for your attention to this matter.
Randall Clark
Greer, SC 29650

Randall Coleman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Randall Coleman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 If this is true is ridiculous and should never be invoked. This is a republican and Trump's wife cutting the little man out.
Sent from my iPhone

Randi Matson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Randi Matson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As an educator, business franchise owner, parent and concerned citizen of America, I cannot fathom why we would allow consumer protections concerning financial reporting by companies to be dismantled. These were put there to protect people from the temptations of fraudsters, who would become more brazenly corrupt if allowed to circumvent accountability. Come now. Do the right thing, for the right reasons! From Randi Matson

Randi

Raquel Tomic Beard — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Raquel Tomic Beard Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 "optional" reporting doesn't fix the problem because companies that opt in are often the ones whose investors most need frequent updates, This is insufficient.

Sent from my iPhone

Ray Donahue — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ray Donahue Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Bad idea! After working in the trucking industry, witnessing the dot.com bubble, mortgage fraud collapse....Yeah screw this crap No !

Ray Raimer — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ray Raimer Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 No secrets. No blackout days or months. The public has a right to know what is going on!
To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Ray Roberts — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ray Roberts Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is a terrible idea. Change the reporting time so fraud takes longer to uncover. Please keep the reporting requirements monthly. These are trivial benefits but the consequences could be extremely serious. Do NOT change these rules— this is a change that is proposed by a fraudster, for other fraudsters to screw over all the rest of us.

L. Ray Roberts redacted

Ray Shackelford — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Ray Shackelford Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Ray Shackelford, I am retired and reside in Texas. With all of ghe fraud and corporate greed going on in this country, the last thing we need is less accountability. If, anything, there needs to be more auditing, on top of the quarterly reporting. Things like this, beg the question, whose getting paid off? That is not an accusation, it is a very real observation. Don't reduce accountability measures

---

Ray Sweigart — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ray Sweigart Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As a retiree, I closely monitor my investments and rely heavily on the quarterly reporting in managing my portfolio and securing my income. Less frequent corporate reporting and the resulting reduction in transparency will needlessly increase risk with no benefit to investors. This is particularly important to those of us for whom investing is not a game but our principal source of income at a time of increased costs of living.

I respectfully request that no change be made to the current quarterly reporting requirements.

Raymond L. Sweigart
Sullivan's Island, SC

Sent from my Galaxy

Raye Harper — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Raye Harper Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 soon it will be a year then not at all ..
Republiklans are fascists

Raye Harper — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Raye Harper Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 soon it will beca year then not at all ..
Republiklans are fascists

Raye Manuele Robinson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Raye Manuele Robinson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Raye Manuele Robinson, retired. I'm writing again to say this is the wrong thing to do. It's our money that you are playing with by making this change & does nothing to help the American people. It will only help corporations. Do not do it!!!

Raymond West — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Raymond West Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Do not implement this “new” bi-annual requirement. keep quarterly requirements.

R. West

Reba Kendall — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Reba Kendall Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Nothing should be optional!

Sent from my iPhone
Best regards,
Reba

Reba M. Kendall

Rebecca Hughes — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rebecca Hughes Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please maintain quarterly updates. This allows us to stay aware of our funds and our future options. Too much of a delay if this happens. Rebecca Hughes

Sent from my Galaxy

Rebecca Baker — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Baker Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Stockholders who give money to companies for growth and investment deserve better and the same frequency of accountability that we have now.

---

rebecca beaton — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: rebecca beaton Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Absolutely keep reporting! Quarterly Reporting is necessary to keep the thugs OUT! Geez …

Becky

Rebecca Colgate — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rebecca Colgate Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Becky urban , banker, I want to know what is happening with my investments in real time. Quarterly reporting is not enough let alone extending it. With all the technology of today there is no reason we should be left in the shadows. I advocate for the sec keeping the reporting the same as it stands now. 6 months is too long. We have to report quarterly at my bank so shouldn't everyone else.

---

rebecca colgate — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: rebecca colgate Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Becky urban , banker, I want to know what is happening with my investments in real time. Quarterly reporting is not enough let alone extending it. With all the technology of today there is no reason we should be left in the shadows. I advocate for the sec keeping the reporting the same as it stands now. 6 months is too long. We have to report quarterly at my bank so shouldn't everyone else.

Rebecca Goodrich — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rebecca Goodrich Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 No hiding. We want traditional quarterly reporting.

Rebecca Hampshire — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rebecca Hampshire Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 It's OUR money, OUR investment, HANDS OFF!

Rebecca Limback — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rebecca Limback Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports.

Rebecca Limback
redacted

Rebecca Mayfield — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Mayfield Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Rebecca Mayfield Vancouver, Washington, home maker,
Please protect working class families and our economy by keeping things quarterly. I grew up in Texas and saw the devastation Enron caused. Accountability and oversight is necessary to preserve the social and legal contracts between workers and employers

---

Rebecca Mitchell — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Mitchell Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Hell no! Accountability is key and DO NOT PLAY WITH MY MONEY!!!

---

rebecca muntz — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: rebecca muntz Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 More cheating is not what we need! Corporate America is already losing the publuc trust! Do you really need more downfall!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Rebekah Radisch — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Rebekah Radisch Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Hi there. Please don't send us back 70 years. I'm a retiree with a small pension trying to hold out a few more years to maximize my modest social security. It would be devastating to us regular folks who worked hard for a lifetime without becoming billionaires. It's bad enough that we live under the threat that our social security and Medicare, which we've paid into 50+ years, might be stripped from us. Now you're considering ruining our savings? I just want to live out my remaining years in peace without worrying that I may end up homeless. Is it too much to ask that you consider the consequences for us little people? Thanks for giving us a thought.

Sincerely,
Rebekah Radisch
Durham, N.C.

---

red parrot — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: red parrot Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Im opposed to allowing companies to only report their earnings twice a year.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

---

reeftiki — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: reeftiki Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 keep the corruption and fraud in check. Keep it quarterly

---

Regina Barthmaier — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Regina Barthmaier Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Don't take us back to the 1050's with less corporate transparency, and more Americans losing money. Things are bad enough with the high prices brought by the current regime which is making it very hard to make ends meet and the SEC now wants to cut our earnings. DO NOT DO THIS. Regina Barthmaier.
Retired
Philadelphia PA 19146
Living on one income.

Regina Bracamonte -Wilson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Regina Bracamonte -Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 AUDITS QUARTIERLY@

Regina Whitman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Regina Whitman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Why? Why are you considering allowing big money companies of any kind to keep their operations secret? Just how much money is involved in buying this kind of dark protection for them? Anyone who votes for this should be ashamed of what they are doing to the public.

Regina Whitman
Queen Creek, Arizona

REGINALD GLASS — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: REGINALD GLASS Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 When you leave the people in the dark while providing light and access to the privilege, you destroy all trust people have in the system. Without trust from the masses, the system will fall, and the privileged with it.

Sent from Q's iPad

Renee Bradford — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Renee Bradford Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 You cannot steal more of people. We are all barely getting by!

Sent from my iPhone

Renee Bradford — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Renee Bradford Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 That is unacceptable

Sent from my iPhone

Renee Castleberry — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Renee Castleberry Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Michele Castleberry, teacher Seriously? My answer is no to your changes. Companies should be reporting quarterly. Why are we even thinking of making these terrible changes?

Sent from my iPhone

Renee Kofi-Bruce — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Renee Kofi-Bruce Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I oppose this rule

Renee Kofi-Bruce

Renee Kostner — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Renee Kostner Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 It's important to me to be able to view the quarterly reports so I can track my investments and make changes as needed regularly and NOT just twice a year.

Reneé Kostner
Educator

Renee Riley — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Renee Riley Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is ridiculous. Let’s remember you are here to monitor fair practices, not to blatantly ignore unfair practices.

Sent from my iPhone

Reola Hammond — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Reola Hammond Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Reola Hammond, retired Federal employee. As person who actively contributed to my TSP, transparency and quarterly reporting of companies must remain for available to ALL not just a select few.

Reva James-Frye — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Reva James-Frye Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I guess you forget who you really work for sir, maybe if we cut our spending to every 6 months to see what your track record is we can garner some respect for the amount of money spent to insure your future.

Rex Lowe — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Rex Lowe Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Ruining investments for most investors is, NOT MAKING AMERICA GREAT AGAIN.

Sent from my iPhone

Rhonda Carey — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rhonda Carey Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Transparency is key to TRUST and TRUTH! Stop allowing corruption to run rampant while hiding behind new regulations meant to decieve the public.

Rhonda Rigsbee — Jun 11, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rhonda Rigsbee Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 ENOUGH! NO MORE FRAUD!

Rhys Edwards — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rhys Edwards Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Rhys Edwards, I am a software engineer, and I have substantial investments in stocks. A lot can happen in 6 months, and that doesn't allow investors like me to stay informed about changes in business that could affect my investment decisions and outcomes. I do not want to see the change go into effect.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Richard Denison — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Denison Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Richard Denison, retired, retail investors seem to be suspicious of the SEC already. Too many in Washington are too “cozy” with big business as it is. We resent any attempts to aid the ability, to defraud the public. Your duty is to the public citizen not the deepest pocket. You need to make business more transparent not less.

Sent from my iPhone

Richard Daley — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: File Number S7-2026 - Comment Opposing Rule Change-15 From: Richard Daley Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Richard Daley, retired Federal Concessions Management Specialist.
I oppose the proposed rule that changes the frequency of financial reporting intervals from quarterly to semiannually. As a retiree with an IRA, I depend on the ethical and profitable performance of publicly traded companies as one leg of the three-legged financial stool that supports my family's life in retirement. Knowing sadly but wisely that there are unethical operators and con men aplenty selfishly seeking just their own gain, timely quarterly reports by stock companies are vital to keep the players honest. For nearly six decades, the quarterly reporting system has been effective in helping to achieve just that. Despite the quarterly reporting requirement's proven effectiveness, however, I would not be opposed to changing to monthly reporting. Such an improvement could serve as an even better tracking tool for maintaining accountability. But whether quarterly or monthly, frequent reporting cannot be viewed as impractical considering the vibrant technology both government and companies employ in their day-to-day operations. In fact, continuous technological advancements dictate that frequent reporting shall be an absolute necessity to keep public companies ethical while ensuring the soundness of the U.S market for future investors like me.

Richard Edwards — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Edwards Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is bad for retirees

"Justice, and only justice, you shall pursue, so that you may live ..." --Deuteronomy 16:20a

Richard E. Edwards
redacted

Richard Edwards — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Edwards Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is bad for retirees

"Justice, and only justice, you shall pursue, so that you may live ..." --Deuteronomy 16:20a

Richard E. Edwards
redacted

¡ ¿ Á á É é Í í Ó ó Ú ú Ñ ñ ? !

Richard Ellis — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Ellis Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This administration has proven that they are wholly untrustworthy. Fuck this noise!

Richard Fender — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Fender Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Is there no limit to the corrupt bull that’s going on in this country?! this has to stop!

Richard Jackson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Richard Jackson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As a retired partner in a CPA firm that performed audits and reviews for SEC registrants, I strongly recommend the SEC continue to require quarterly reporting for SEC registrants.

Sincerely,

Richard Jackson, CPA (inactive)
Knoxville, Tennessee

Richard Moczygemba — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Richard Moczygemba Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Richard Moczygemba, retired, Killeen Texas. I am dependent on my IRA now that I am retired. Don't mess with the market!

Richard Solon — Jun 11, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Solon Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reporting should be required. Transparency is key to keep the investing public aware of how the companies they entrust with their capital are doing. I will pass this along to my Senators Fetterman and McCormick as well.

Richard Valentine — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Richard Valentine Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Changing reports from Quarterly to twice a year is a horrible idea. Every day investors will have less information about their investments

---

Richard W Mockler — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard W Mockler Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Richard W Mockler
Healthcare Investor, Fractional Executive

As someone who invests in both public and private markets, I value the reporting standards of public markets. More important, I value it for the benefit of those managing funds on behalf of retirees, trusts, and others who should be able to have transparency in to the performance of the companies they trust with their capital.

Richard W Mockler

--
Richard W Mockler, MPP
Contact
rmockler@live.com I 206.227.6708 I LinkedIn

Rick Campodonico — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rick Campodonico Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 How can I rely on any company’s financial reporting if it’s okay for them to hide actual data for any period of time. It seems dishonest

---

rick duncan — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: rick duncan Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the 3 month reporting period!!! Don’t let companies hide their financials to the detriment of investors!

Sent from my iPhone

Rick Nelson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Rick Nelson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 History already spoke to this proposed change, which was a complete failure (1955-1970). As many have learned, doing the same thing that doesn't work will not make things work better. The return to quarterly reporting has helped to better inform the investors and allow the market to know what is changing and react accordingly. Please don't make this change, it'll slow down the market, decrease the ability of investors to better manage their investments, and expose us all to much more risk. The data is already being reported quarterly, who will benefit from reverting to a failed choice from the past???

Rick Nelson, private investor, California

Rick Weyen — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rick Weyen Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I believe that requiring quarterly reporting for public companies is essential to allowing investors to monitor the performance of companies for investment purposes. Without this rigor, the risk of financial problems going undetected for too long is far too great.

Thanks for your consideration.
Rick Weyen

Rigis Vincenti — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rigis Vincenti Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is E. Vincenti and I am a senior business development director. I'm asking that you protect the integrity of our retirement accounts. Stop handing out our money to billionaires and redrawing rules in their favor. DO YOUR JOBS and protect American's retirement accounts from exploitation.

Rigoberto Rodriguez — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rigoberto Rodriguez Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Info is vital to investing and growth,we do not need the mushroom theory "keep them in the dark and feed them shit " only the insiders will benefit from this manipulation this is bad for all !

Rik Berry — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rik Berry Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I recommend more, not less, use of existing technologies for required reporting; more openness should be the order of the day. The process of reporting is largely automated, therefore, the cost is minimal for more frequent reporting. I would recommend monthly reporting.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Rina Maxwell — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Rina Maxwell Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Rina Maxwell, retired, southeastern North Carolina. I can't afford to lose what little I have invested for my retirement years.

---

rita kalistook — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: rita kalistook Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not change the current quarterly reporting rules. I depend on them for my investments.

Rita O'Dwyer — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rita O'Dwyer Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 These needs to continue quarterly so there is some transparency. Twice a year isn't enough.

Rita Thomas — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rita Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Rita Thomas, singer/actor. We have the right to know about our own investments! Do NOT change how activity is reported! We work hard for our money & NEED the information in a timely manner to make decisions about how to protect it. It is OUR money...not YOURS.

---

ro parm — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: ro parm Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Eventually, the entire market will suffer if this change is made- even the assets owned by the very wealthy. No one will be immune.

Rob Baker — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rob Baker Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Rob Baker, film and television producer and VP. I've been hearing of various long-standing rules originally meant to provide fairness in investing which, due to possible political and billionaire influence, have been eased to accommodate the billionaires and greatly disadvantage the individual investor.

These include waiving a year long trial period to ensure the investment has stability, a well as quarterly reporting requirements to provide some transparency to investors. Without these rules in place, which would only serve to make the market MORE volatile where there are already no guarantees... The individual investor will absolutely lose faith in the system.

If you wish to ensure a steady crop of investors in the future, DO NOT TAKE AWAY THE RULES THAT PROVIDE US WITH INFORMATION TO MAKE INFORMED DECISIONS. Thank you.

Sent from AOL on Android

Rob Casey — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rob Casey Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reports are key for investors. Semi annual reports aren't enough. Don't mess with a system that works.

Sent from my iPhone

Rob Horan — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rob Horan Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The fastest way to erode confidence is by eroding transparency. You reap what you sow. Please put a stop on this.

Robert Bourgoin, — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Bourgoin, Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Robert Bourgoin, retired machinist
We need more transparency in the market not less.

Robert Barney — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Barney Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Robert Barney, retired. As the dangers of private credit and private equity begin to unfold, we contemplate even further reduction in transparency? Terrible idea.

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Christian — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Christian Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To whom it may concern,
I've been working to build my retirement savings since the early 1970's. When I retired in 2022 I thought I was able to have a frugal lifestyle in retirement but the recent years of inflation has already caused an effective loss of nearly 37% of those savings. I've already gone back to work earning approximately one third of my former wage.
As I recall, during the time since retiring, my property taxes have have risen from $4500/year to over $7000 annually, marking a 45% increase.
As I understand it, the proposed change to semi-annual reporting may cause my investments to drop in value, and I cannot afford that. I ask that you PLEASE carefully consider the effect this can have on people and their financial stability, as well as the effect on the economy we all must endure if investment values drop.
Thank you for your consideration,

Robert Christian

Robert Bastasic — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Bastasic Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 That is enough of this crap, of everything for the billionaires who are trying to own our country. They don't need any more breaks, so they can make even more money!!! This has to stop!!! NOW!!!!!

Robert Bonvillain — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Bonvillain Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Robert Bonvillain, Instrument Tech. To the SEC. Don’t undermine the trust of the American people by allowing a relaxing of quarterly reporting. A quarterly reporting was put in place to keep publicly traded companies transparent. By allowing or loosening of these requirements will create an opportunity to manipulate and exploit the American people.

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Bradley — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Bradley Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 When any change to an on going system is proposed, the very 1st question is always the same, why? This proposal would right no wrong nor create any new insight into the operations of a publicly traded company. To the contrary it would only further mask the actual viability, and thereby data driven analysis of the market value of, again, publicly traded companies. Any argument that eliminating two audit reports per year would in a signifigant way reduce, costs, even for smaller companies, is seriousley out weighed by the value of timley information on a companies possible value to investors. The elimination of financial reporting can only lead to mis and dis-information taking its place. This will certainly result in confusion and market turmoil at minimum, and an almost guarantreed increase in Securities fraud. Robert Bradley, Retired Pipeline Facilities Engineer and Program Director.

Robert Briglia — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Briglia Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Explain to me why this is being proposed. It opens up many channels for malfeasance. Again, what is the upside here?

Leave it alone.

Robert Briglia

Robert Carrington — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Carrington Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quit targeting the middle class with your BS laws. The middle class has no one on the inside to warn us when the ship’s about to go down. The least they can do is give us a report every 3 months.

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Carroll — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Carroll Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I want reporting to remain quarterly

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Engel — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Engel Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 For fairness to small investors as well as large ones who have a more extensive research abilities. That's why it is essential that companies be required to report its balance sheet of assets and liabilities on a quarterly basis and a more extensive report annually.

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Fredrickson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Fredrickson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Let's keep our investment recording current. A lot can happen to our securities in six months.

Robert Grant — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Grant Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 WHY? Make it easier on companies? Wall Street doesn't work that way. We NEED quarterly disclosure

---

Robert Grimmett — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Grimmett Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Robert Grimmett, Chief Perfusionist

Public Statement: Keep Quarterly Reporting

The SEC's proposal to make quarterly reporting optional is being framed as a modernization effort — a way to reduce regulatory burden and free companies to think long-term. I understand the appeal of that framing. But I think it gets the diagnosis wrong, and the cure may be worse than the disease.

The quarterly reporting regime has long been a feature of the U.S. public company disclosure system , and for good reason. It exists because investors — especially ordinary retail investors — need reliable, timely information to make informed decisions. That's not a compliance checkbox. It's the foundation of a functioning market.

The core argument against this proposal is straightforward: less frequent reporting means more room for information asymmetry — corporate insiders would know things the rest of the market doesn't. Sophisticated institutional players — hedge funds, high-frequency traders, firms with armies of analysts — have the resources to fill information gaps that individual investors simply don't have. The absence of information will largely benefit big trade shops like quantitative firms, high-frequency traders, and institutional investors with armies of smart people working with more resources. A six-month reporting blackout doesn't affect everyone equally. It hits retail investors hardest.

The proponents of this change argue that quarterly reporting drives short-termism — that executives are forced to chase 90-day numbers instead of building sustainable businesses. That's a real tension worth discussing. But the argument that quarterly reporting creates short-term market pressures that undermine strategic decision-making remains theoretically appealing but empirically unsubstantiated. We shouldn't restructure the disclosure architecture of American markets around a theory that the evidence hasn't confirmed.

There's also a cautionary international lesson here. The EU's lighter reporting regime is where Wirecard's €1.9 billion fraud hid in plain sight for years before the company collapsed in 2020. The UK's 2014 shift stripped analyst coverage from mid-cap stocks, and London has been bleeding IPOs ever since. If the goal is to make American markets more attractive, adopting the reporting standards of markets that are losing ground is an odd strategy.

Critics of the proposal have argued that the change would impair investor ability to monitor company performance and reduce comparability across companies that elect different reporting schedules. That fragmentation alone is a problem. Markets function better when everyone is working from the same information at the same time.

The increased time frame that material information will remain non-public potentially increases the risk of insider trading or Regulation FD concerns, lengthens blackout periods, and creates challenges for adopting Rule 10b5-1 trading plans. These aren't hypothetical risks — they're foreseeable consequences of deliberately widening the gap between what insiders know and what the market knows.

I'm not opposed to sensible regulatory modernization. If quarterly forms can be streamlined, if the disclosure burden can be reduced without reducing transparency, I'm all for that conversation. But optionality isn't neutral — commenters representing the investor community generally supported retaining the existing quarterly reporting framework when the SEC last solicited input on this question in 2018. That sentiment hasn't changed; the political winds have.

The SEC exists to protect investors and maintain fair, orderly markets. Cutting the frequency of public disclosures in half isn't investor protection. It's asking everyday investors to trust companies more and verify less. That's not modernization. That's a step backward.

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Homrich — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Homrich Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reporting helps the retail investors keep up with a companies movements and operations, just like you do with your doctor to keep tabs on your health.

Sent from my iPad

Robert Jansen Young — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Jansen Young Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This policy would be totally unacceptable. Full disclosure means nothing in hide.

I could use some help from the SEC. Thank you. RJ

Robert Young

Robert Lung — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Lung Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 A six month look back is too long. Not ent time for a person to tact and make changes if necessary. Six months us just too long.

Robert M — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert M Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We are sick of the corruption, tyranny, and treason against our people. Stand with us or stand against us. Once the lines are drawn, hopefully you're on the right side of history.

Robert Mehlhoff — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Mehlhoff Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Public companies have reported their financial results every three months for over half a century. Let's keep it this way. When something is working well, let's not change it. Stockholders and the public have a right to see and read about how a company is doing. Robert Mehlhoff, self-employed businessman, Denver, Colorado.

Robert Moore — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Moore Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Semi annual reports are not enough! We need to stay with quarterly reports in order to be up-to-date on our investments. Robert Moore, retired economist.

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Orlando — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Robert Orlando Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 “If it ain’t broke don’t fix it” The quarterly report enhances investor confidence and gives timely feedback for financial decisions and security. It’s obvious from the past that we are operating better now than with semi-annual reporting. It would make me much more nervous to invest with anything less than quarterly reporting. Robert Orlando owner Orlando Woodworking and operating partner for Livingland Farm and operating partner for Bobmar LLC.

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Perl — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Perl Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As an investor, I need regular feedback that shows me the companies are operating with I integrity. Quarterly reporting in this day and age should be minimal amount of work as the system are all automated. If anything, we should have monthly reporting to keep business honest in sharing information to stockholders.

Bob Perl

Robert Reese — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Reese Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is BS and just allows more fraud and corruption. Don't let it happen!
Robert Reese - retiree

Robert Rice — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Robert Rice Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am a retired physician. I urge the SEV to be aware of the needs of ordinary investors like me. Do not return to semiannual reporting.

Get Outlook for iOS

Robert Tillotson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Tillotson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Events happen daily, hourly that affects business and the world. Quarterly reports are almost too long in time. Semi annual will be to long.

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Topper — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Topper Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I'm Robert Topper, a teacher. Six months is far too long of a delay. I would lose confidence in my investments should this come to pass and investments are a critical part of my retirement strategy.

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Whitman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Whitman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Robert Fields. I am a newly and unexpectedly retired person, having waited to the age of 70 to retire, because economic necessity dictated it and ultimately the timing of my retirement wasn't even up to me. My savings and investments are small, and precious to my wife and me. If we do not have transparency in the performance of those funds, we stand to lose what little security we managed to accumulate in decades of work and challenge and struggle. Please take the side of the small investor, the retiree, when deciding this, and keep the quarterly report requirement.

Thank you

Robert Fields
Miami FL

Robert Whitman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Whitman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Robert Fields. I am a newly and unexpectedly retired person, having waitide to the age of 70 to retire, because economic necessity dictated it and ultimately the timing of my retirement wasn't up to me. My savings and investments are small, and precious to my wife and me. If we do not have transparency in the performance of those funds, we stand to lose what little security we managed to accumulate in decades of work and challenge and struggle. Please take the side of the small investor, the retiree, when deciding this, and keep the quarterly report requirement.

Roberta Stergar — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Roberta Stergar Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please keep the quarterly requirement for companies to make financials public. The public needs to be able to hold companies accountable. Reducing the requirement to reporting every 6 months will provide too wide of a window for individuals/boards/executives to corruptly benefit themselves while leaving investors holding the bag

Sent from my iPhone

Robin Faulkner — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robin Faulkner Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Having it every 6months is ridiculous! Companies must file quarterly reports, why shouldn't the SEC? RobinBeth Faulkner

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Robin Groh — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robin Groh Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Robin Miller retired and worked hard for me savings
This matters tremendously to me. I monitor my investments and rely on them in my retirement. Aren’t you here for all of us? We need you to do the right thing.

Sent from my iPhone

Robin Mayerat — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robin Mayerat Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please do the thing for families of all faiths and nationalities to exist peacefully while having what all humanity long for: Food, shelter, medicine, education and the ability to dream of a brighter future.

Robin Munroe — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Robin Munroe Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Somethings fishy, real stinky. 🤔 trades happen 24x7 how can interest and direction, investing happen blindly and for 6 mos then reports… just no common sense. We do not agree.

Robin Samulenas — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robin Samulenas Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Do not allow this to happen. It’s another way for this administration to steal our hard earned money

Get Outlook for iOS

ROBIN STOJANOVA — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ROBIN STOJANOVA Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 There is no good reason to move from quarterly reporting to biannually. I am a retiree and I cannot afford to take a huge loss on my investments; it's all I have to live on for the rest of my life.
Robin Roberson-Stojanova
Kansas City, MO

Rod & Sallie Neely — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rod & Sallie Neely Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The proposed rule change to allow companies to hide their records from investors will greatly reduce the transparency and the trust of shareholders to continue investing in the stock market. Please do not make this rule change.

Rodney Neely

Rodney Martinez — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rodney Martinez Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We need more transparency not less. By allowing companies to report less frequently you are making the market more opaque and riskier for the average American.

Roger Daleiden — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Roger Daleiden Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Reporting quarterly needs to continue, people have a right to protect their personal investments. Don't go back to biannual reporting!

Sent from my iPhone

Roger Roberts — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Roger Roberts Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Leave it the same ! It keeps companies honest

Sent from my iPhone

Ron Goodman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Ron Goodman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please keep it Quarterly. Thank you, Ronald Goodman

---

Ron Morris — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ron Morris Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quit regulating the reporting or require bi-weekly. ALL investors should have equal opportunity. All of congress, SEC, or any others should not be able to use or have any information than the general public.

Ron Salma — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ron Salma Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I'm a former series 7 and 63 broker. I hated Insider trading then and now this will make it legal. How can this be considered even with all the budget cuts you've experienced?

Ronnie Salma

I think; therefore I do not vote Maganut
Wishing I where in Canada 🇨🇦 Sent from my iPhone

RONALD — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: RONALD Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I'm No change!

Sent from Ron's iPad

Ronald Albury — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ronald Albury Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I rely on quarterly reporting. By changing this rule you are bending the knee to corporations and giving us regular folk the finger.

Ronald Brown — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ronald Brown Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the reports public

Sent from my iPhone

Ronald Combs — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ronald Combs Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Financial records for public companies should never be hidden. Not for six months nor any lesser duration of time! Cheater (those with insider information) “gonna” cheat. DO NOT make it easier for them to do t.

Sent from my iPhone

Ronald Kilgore — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ronald Kilgore Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Stop this Madness. This is telling Companies they can Steal Money for at least 6 Months !!

Sent from my iPhone

Ronald M Chenault — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ronald M Chenault Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:THIS CANNOT BE ALLOWED TO HAPPEN!
Major corps already use every trick in the book to fool investors about what they do to earn money and Trust! They lie on 80% of the reports as it is. These changes would allow the to keep those lies hidden Much longer and Do Much more damage to Individual investor.

Ronald Nolley — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Ronald Nolley Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We need more transparency not less in the investment arena.

Ronald Young — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ronald Young Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Don’t let the corporations keep information from the public. If we are willing to invest OUR HARD EARNED DOLLARS directly or indirectly in businesses then those businesses MUST BE PROVIDING US with their FINANCIAL RECORDS.

Ronald Young

Ronald Young — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ronald Young Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Don't let the corporations keep information from the public. If we are willing to invest OUR HARD EARNED DOLLARS directly or indirectly in businesses then those businesses MUST BE PROVIDING US with their FINANCIAL RECORDS.

Ron Young

Rosanne Donnelly — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rosanne Donnelly Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Nope. You have MY money, it's my RIGHT to know what's happening with it. Six months is too long.

Rosanne P. Donnelly
redacted

Sent from my iPhone

Rose Piner — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Rose Piner Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 With changes that happen so quickly in this world I honestly believe some type of reporting (not such details as quarterly requires, which should remain as is) should become more frequent, maybe monthly.
Rose Piner, retired from banking, NC

Sent from my iPhone

Rose V Goncalves — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rose V Goncalves Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 No! We deserve to know !

Sent from my iPhone

---

rosemary Herger — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: rosemary Herger Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is a ridiculous power grab, don't do it.

Sent from my iPhone

Rosemary Mckinley — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rosemary Mckinley Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep it Quarterly! Rosemary, a long time investor!

Sent from my iPhone

ROSS WEINTRAUB — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ROSS WEINTRAUB Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Rules need to implemented to protect the people. Transparency in investing is vital. Do not change the rules to make it easier for corporations to hide.

Sent from my iPhone

Roxanne Lindeman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Roxanne Lindeman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 How can you do this to us!!!! Please don't. We have worked so hard for what we have! We are just the little people whose backs other's successes are built upon. Please don't take away what little we have.

Roxanne L. Lindeman
REDACTED

Roy Wakeman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Roy Wakeman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As a recent retired person, I watch my 401k closely. Really, really seems like this proposed change "could" be used to screw us little guys. I say could, because, after all, how often do the rich guys enrich themselves first?? ALL THE TIME! PLEASE, KEEP IT EVERY 3 MONTHS! Roy Wakeman , East Wenatchee WA

Roy Wine — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Roy Wine Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Transparency in fiscal standing and reporting is paramount in a civil society. Do not take the easier for you method and keep them accountable and transparent.

Roy Wine

Rozella Clyde — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rozella Clyde Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 It is very important that quarterly reporting continues. Waiting 6 months to gather information makes oversight practically impossible

Dr. Rozella G. Clyde
917-355-4451 We must "be the change we want to see", Gandhi

Rudy Regojo — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rudy Regojo Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We need to know the direction of the ship quarterly not every six months

Sent from my iPhone

Rufus — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rufus Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I need more reporting not less. Seems like this will benefit the large investors (again) and hurt regular people like me (again).

I'm retired and rely on my investments to live. Please don't remove tools I rely on just to save a few penny's for corporate players.

Retirees are being crushed by bad government policies of the recent past. Please don't turn your back on us.

Thank you,
Todd Sparks
Retired

Russ Kelley — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Russ Kelley Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Transparency works best!!

Russel Dalenberg — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Russel Dalenberg Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am a computer software developer in my 60 who has been saving and investing for retirement for man years now. As I approach retirement, it's even more important that I make the right decisions in my investing. I think that the quarterly reporting from public companies is very important to maximizing my gains. Please don't change this reporting.

--
Russel Dalenberg
redacted

Russell Lowell N/A — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Russell Lowell I do not think this rule is beneficial for retail investors. I believe this rule would lead to accounting fraud but also give a larger period of time for insiders to make decisions, that wouldn't benefit retail investors, before retail has an opportunity to react.

Ruth Cole — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Ruth Cole Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Do not change it back! People are already skeptical and will pull their cash and crash the system. I would rather hold on to the bulk of my money.

Ruud Raijmakers — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ruud Raijmakers Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
From your one website and mission statement;
We're the agency that protects investors from misconduct, promotes fairness & efficiency in the securities markets, and facilitates capital formation for those looking to hire, innovate, and grow.
With this proposal you take away vital information from investors. Do your job, practice what you preach and keep the American stockmarket transparant.

Ryan Aire — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ryan Aire Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 American people wants and needs those reports ever 3 months and please "don't" switch to every 6 month statements

---

Ryan Gallagher — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ryan Gallagher Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Ryan. I'm 23 and I'm a public school teacher. Every month I set aside about 15% of my income for retirement because I'm worried that social security won't be around for me by the time I retire. In fact, estimates predict the program could run out of money by 2032. Since we cannot rely on the government, it is more important than ever that investors be able to make informed decisions to help them plan and save for their futures, and for that to happen they need to be able to rely on regular and frequent data. Reducing the frequency of company reporting directly combats this need, and harms the everyday American.

Ryan Hoskins — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ryan Hoskins Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: It should be a crime to even CONSIDER allowing this kind of rule! You would be basically allowing legalized insider trading for everyone except retail investors. You'll handicap regular citizens and hand the big guys cheat codes. Don't do it.

S Car — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: S Car Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 * You cocksuckers no *ing way... everyone sell oof the stocks if these assholes try this .

S. S. — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: S. S. Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Hello, my name is Shannon Scalio and I am a C-NA. It is not okay to block access of information to an individual who is investing thier money. It should be illegal for this information to be withheld. I do not understand the reasoning behind wanting to not show reports abd ifcthat is the case than any investment information that is veing withheld and is comsidered corporation should no longer be aloud to be a corporation and have to move to private sector because texhnically by withholding corporate investment information from the oublic would be considered unincorporated and should have to abide by unincorporated tax law. A person coukd claim that it would lead to better business outcomes abd a less volatile market , but showing less to investors and yet the business and investment holders know how the market is doing gives the recievers of investment funds investment opportunity that investors shouod also have as well so tgey can protect their assets. So go orivate ir keep it open. Period

---

Sabrina Robinson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sabrina Robinson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Sabrina Robimson, retired. To allow a six month window is counter to the transparency that is the foundation of trust in publically traded organizations.
Sabrina Robinson

Sally Chin — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sally Chin Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Sally Chin
Project Manager, Financial Systems
This matters to me because I have seen companies try to restate data without public knowledge, all under the guise of “getting it right”. They had the chance to do it right the first time but chose not to do it.

Sent from my iPhone

Sally M — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sally M Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Changing reporting to only twice a year adds risk for retail investors. Reject the proposed change.

Sally Titus

Sally Russell — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sally Russell Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Stop hiding the truth! Give us the facts in a timely manner.

Sally Russell

Sent from my iPhone

Sam & Erin Mathiowetz — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sam & Erin Mathiowetz Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Do not return to semi annual reporting. If nothing, mandate increased frequency and coats are not passed along. Retention of current reporting aids in and encourages honest and transparent reporting and accountability to all investors, not just a select few.

Sam Gardner — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sam Gardner Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reporting is a necessity to keep companies honest.

Sammy Ennis — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sammy Ennis Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 RETAIN QUARTERLY REPORTING!

Sent from my iPhone

Samuel Brown — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Samuel Brown Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Yo. I am okay with companies taking more time to invest and work the market rather than racing into quarterly earnings. Maybe we should do annual reports instead.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Sandra F Anderson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra F Anderson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Yes, we are consumers and hve he right for u to continue just as uve done in the past. I am a private citizen-Sandra F Anderson. I am a retired school educator, but I see no needAT ALL for change.Thank you.

Sent from my iPhone

Sandra Guzman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra Guzman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reporting is so important to the regular investors. Without quarterly reporting could end up with another Eron or WorldCom

Sent from my iPhone

Sandra Mehan — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra Mehan Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep quartly reports. The people need to know what is happening to their money

Get Outlook for Android

Sandra Murell — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra Murell Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Make them report continuously!!

Sent from my iPhone

Sandra Reynolds — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra Reynolds Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026
Why would I want less reporting on my stocks and investment? This is about the investors, not about inconveniencing the SEC. This is part of the 2025 Project. Which wants to erode Democracy.😡

🌺🌺🌺🌺🌺
Sandy Reynolds
Upcycled Garden Art & More
Https://facebook.com/upcycledgardenart&more

---

sandy alletto — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: sandy alletto Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Are You Kidding Me !? Money out of SIGHT !! Any length of time with all this corruption going on , isvTOO LONG!

SANDY CURRY — Jun 11, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: SANDY CURRY Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep it quarter

Sent from my iPhone

SANDY CURRY — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: SANDY CURRY Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep it quarter

Sent fromy iPhone

Sandy Menke — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sandy Menke Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We tried it once and we developed quarterly reports. Let's keep it that way

Sent from my iPhone

Sandy Rama — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandy Rama Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Absolutely not. We want this to continue every quarter. Stop trying to hide your transgressions

Sandy Rama

Get Outlook for iOS

Sandy Robertson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sandy Robertson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Sandra Robertson and I'm a 74 yo retiree living in Florida. My late husband and I had some very lean years when we were young, but we managed to eventually put money away in our retirement accounts for our retirement. I worked 35 years for the State of Florida. Along with my government pension and Social Security, my savings and investment accounts have given me a modest yet comfortable retirement.
I am opposed to the change in corporate earnings reporting to twice yearly instead of quarterly. Why would this be a good idea when it could come at a great cost to investors?? Please reconsider and keep it as it currently is at four times a year.

Sent from my iPhone

Sanjay Agrawal — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sanjay Agrawal Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 KEEP Quarterly Reporting. We need transparency!

Get Outlook for iOS This email is for the sole use of the recipient(s) and may contain confidential and privileged information - if received in error please notify the sender immediately. Any unauthorized review, use, disclosure or distribution is prohibited. Please notify the sender in the event you no longer wish to receive communications by email. Thank you.

Sanjeev Ravindranathan — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sanjeev Ravindranathan Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As an investor understanding how companies perform on a quarterly basis is essential to make informed long term investment decisions. There have been multiple instances where quarterly reports helped prevent me from investing in companies with questionable fundamentals. Doing away with this requirement would be detrimental to the security of the US stock market and force investments elsewhere with greater reporting rigor which would be detrimental to the nation overall. I hope this decision is reconsidered and current reporting requirements are kept in place to prevent further enrons and similar accounting frauds.

Sara Thies — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sara Thies Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not blindfold investors. Do not change the current requirements.

Sarah Bila — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sarah Bila Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Regulations keep on getting looser and looser for people to commit financial crimes is wrong

Sent from my iPhone

Sarah Byrd — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sarah Byrd Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly reports are essential for investors to make smart decisions. Do not take this tool away!!!

Sarah E — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sarah E Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I’m Sarah, a stay at home mom/investor.

This new regulation makes it harder for everyday families to build wealth. It cuts trust in public companies. The only way our financial system works is with transparency.

Sarah Nenni-Daher — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sarah Nenni-Daher Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Businesses make up the majority of the market and I want to continue forcing them to report quarterly. The reduction in reporting allows for too long of time in between them remaining accountable to long term, announced plans.

Scott Brubaker — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Scott Brubaker Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The SEC should not be able to hide from the general public. Big corporations should not be allowed to hide from the general public's eyes.

Scott Brubaker

Scott Caldwell — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Scott Caldwell Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Hello,
As a retired person with investments, I rely on quarterly reports to make decisions about my retirement savings.
Regards,
Scott Caldwell

Scott Hulett — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Scott Hulett Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I disagree with moving to semi-annual reporting as it significantly hurts the smaller investor like me. There will always be insider trading, but quarterly reporting facilitates seeing the quality of the stocks to the small investors before significant damage is done. The cost to the company is minimal compared to the losses to the investors like me. Other countries are starting to return to the quarterly reporting as they have seen the issues with semi-annual reporting. When a company only has to report every 6 months, they have greater opportunity to cause more damage to the economy. PLEASE keep the requirement for quarterly reporting!
Regards,
Scott Hulett
Retiree / Investor

Scott Koffarnus — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Scott Koffarnus Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We need at a minimum quarterly reporting.

Scott Koffarnus
redacted

Scott Miller Production Operator — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Scott Miller This effects people on the bottom of the pay scale as much as on the top. Make it quarterly. They are running a very large business and with that should be the acceptance of larger responsibility and accountability for what goes on with their company. The buck stops with them. I don't trust them. Hold them accountable and responsible.

Scotty Parker — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Scotty Parker Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Mr Scotty g Parker retired because I worked for over 50 years, manufacturers, clothing manufacturers, chemical manufacturers, boat motor manufacturers, car tire manufacturer, and they actually need to turn this in every 60 days, not 90 not 120, the boat motor manufacturer I work for because we were voting in a union, they started manipulating what they were earning every quarter they were breaking even, or below losing money, our only saving grace they screwed up and turned in one quarter before they made a profit, so you guys have your union We were trying to get a union, this manufacturer done everything possible, keep us from getting to the union but due to that one mistake, The NLRV and the EEOC ruled in our favor on both complaints that were filed, one with each agency due to the fact, the company was caught manipulating the numbers, just like McDonald's not liking their people to make $15 an hour, the CEO from 2024 to 2025 He went from 7 million a year to 21 million, that's 3880 per hour for the 7 million, 14 million that is 7760 and 2026 21 million total salary package 11,640 per hour on a 40-hour work week, and the McDonald's employees don't get 40 hours unless your manager, the average price for a Big Mac meal is 11.50, I'll talk to a district manager from McDonald's, their cost for a Big Mac meal actual cost was $1 and 24 cents of that was for the box for the Big Mac, so how is it he can make 3 to 11,000 per hour, but his employees are not worth it so fight for these employees, they take a little bit of their money and they buy stock, they're wanting to eliminate these employees and put in robots, well then why don't they put in robots in the CEOs position, and take that 3 to 11,000 per hour and pay it to the employees, where they would have a living wage, this is why these manufacturers need to turn in actually their profits every 30 days but they'll holler too expensive, will drop it down to 60 days that's six reporting times per year not 90 days four little quarters, where they have time to manipulate, you may not like my decision I'm just a grunt who works for a living, How would you feel if you worked for the general public as an hourly worker and a factory and you were treated this way, from an old Union man retired to a current Union How do you feel about it, keep these companies in line.

Sean Hayes — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sean Hayes Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I strongly prefer quarterly reports, companies can rarely be left to their own devices and trusted.

Sean Leong — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sean Leong Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Sean Leong, public school teacher. There is no good reason why public corporations should be allowed to keep their financials secret for 6 months a year, hiding them from retail investors. That is an absolute travesty, please do not allow this to happen, how are we supposed to make informed decisions about our retirement investments when we’re in the dark for half the year?

Sincerely

Sean Leong.

Sent from my iPhone

Sean Tallen — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sean Tallen Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The playing field is already slanted in the favor of huge corporations. Do they really need you to slant it further when the richest country in the history of the world? Besides, isn't every big company investing in AI and which would cut the toil of quarterly reporting down to a fraction of the time and effort? With AI, they could accomplish monthly reports with, and still save time and money, yet they need to save more? Why the handouts? Will I get one too?

-Sean

Seann Kearney — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Seann Kearney Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Secretary Securities and Exchange Commission,

I'm writing in opposition to the proposed rule S7-2026-15, simply we have severe concerns that such a change would become too easily exploited as big business has consistently proven. Their goal is simply to increase value and profit. This value and profit rarely, if ever, is for the benefit of the Nation or Communities they impact. Most times it is hoarded.
SEC should also renew and strengthen its stance against monopolies, thus acting independent of lobbyist and executive or legislative influence, but adhere closely to the spirit of the US Constitution. SEC shall impose tougher regulations against the largest companies who have decidedly moved to support greed and generational insider wealth, only providing surface level hollow benefits to Our Country, namely technology and companies touting anything relating to "AI". Please put a stop to the potential for economic disaster.

Sincerely,
SK

Serena Longley — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Serena Longley Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Regular corporate reporting is vital. Our economy only functions if there's trust, and there's only trust if we require frequent tranparency. Letting companies go six months between reports is a very long time, and will inevitably enable issues to be concealed for too long.

I see no benefit to changing a quarterly reporting system that has worked well for decades. As a society, we've built systems, customs, and muscle memory around quarterly reports. Changing it will needlessly disrupt a strong market.

Please reconsider.
Serena Longley

Shae C — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shae C Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Italian 1% already own 75% of Wall Street. Don't you think it's rigged enough? the top 5% of income households combine own like 90% of Wall Street. It's already rigged to the hilt It's already a scam. You know when there's nothing left for 95% of your country to eat or drink.... Literally the people have nothing to lose by fighting back. Don't be stupid.

Shala Tucker — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shala Tucker Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Why would they even do this? Wouldn't that prevent investors from knowing if they are going to receive benefits,.and at what percentage rate? Also, that would enable the company to lie about revenue. Wrong email. My correct email is js2300@live.com.

Shannon Millikin — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shannon Millikin Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Institutions work when there is trust. There is no reason to allow these rich, powerful companies to hide their financials for twice as long. Disclosing their financials quarterly must remain the standard. Thank you.
Shannon Millikin
Professor of Instruction

Shannon Ireland — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shannon Ireland Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY AND TRANSPARENT

Sent from my iPhone

Shari Hazlett — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shari Hazlett Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This matters to me because so many companies have defrauded US consumers. If we go to six months reporting we will have no idea what is happening. I worked for a company that was losing money. Thanks to the quarterly reporting I was able to prepare and have a job before they went bankrupt. This will only help big business not working Americans
Shari A Hazlett

Sharon Bugni — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Bugni Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Sharon

Bugni, retired. This matters to me because I depend on the stock market to do well to increase my savings. I want to stay informed

There is no acceptable reason to go to semi annual.

The reporting needs to stay quarterly.

s.bugni@gmail.com

Sharon Gordon — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Gordon Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Sharon Gordon, Retired
I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 50 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Sharon

Sharon Lomofsky — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Lomofsky Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I work hard my whole life mans this is the only option to save for old age and now you wish to punish me. I know Trumps regime doesn't care about the working /middle class.
Do you? Unfair all the way
Sharon Lomofsky
Art director
USA 829 local

Sharon Lomofsky
Production Designer
redacted

Sharon Blum — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Blum Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am retired and have a small portfolio. I demand that the SEC keep reports quarterly. Sunshine is thd best disinfectant. I am a retired flight attendent. I worked for 30 years for United Airlines.
Sincerely ,
Sharon Blum
6692 S Hill Way Littleton Colorado
80120

Sharon Boughner — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Boughner Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 In my opinion, it would be unfair to hide things from investors.

Sent from my iPhone

Sharon Caldwell — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Caldwell Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly. If these companies are not hiding anything, the additional time to 6 months is not needed.

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

SHARON CAMPBELL — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: SHARON CAMPBELL Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Sharon T.Campbell, retired school Audiologist. My pension is based upon stocks and bonds. The reliability and frequency of quarterly reports is the bulwark of integrity in making investment and or adjustments for ALL investors especially “small” fixed income people. We fixed income people vote regularly and watch our money carefully. Professional financial managers have a multitude of ways to gather information on a daily basis that is denied to private investors, retired or hoping to build towards retirement. Reporting is critical at least on a quarterly basis. Thank you for the opportunity to comment .

Sent from my iPhone

Sharon Dellechiaie — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Dellechiaie Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Sharon Dellechiaie, retired accountant
With the degree of market volatility, inflation and political instability, it is more important than ever to have transparency with SEC quarterly reporting. Bi-annual reporting is simply not sufficient to ensure investors can react appropriately.

Sent from my iPhone.

Sharon Etzman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Etzman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Sharon Etman. Investor and planning on retirement. This would be grossly unfair especially if one is looking to invest for retirement considering the fallibility of social security. Transparency should be absolute paramount to companies who seek investment

---

Sharon Gramling — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Gramling Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep it quarterly.

Sharon Gramling

---

sharon grooms — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: sharon grooms Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Passing this and allowing reporting on a 6-month basis will skew the financials for investors causing profits to look higher (or lower) when losses are not reported for 6 mos. at a time.

I am totally against passing it; I urge that it be kept / reported quarterly to keep business financial records accurate.

Sharon Grooms

SHARON LEVY — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: SHARON LEVY Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Corporations hate to disclose any and all information; whether or not being publicly traded or privately held. Investors and the general public need to have some accountability from those entities. If reporting is cut, legitimate investors and analysts will have less information for their analysis and reporters will not have access to positive and negative coroboration of information. Accountability is the goal.

Shortening the 4/4 reporting to 2/4
Would be irresponsible, in my opinion.

Sincerely,
Sharon Levy

ANCIENT ECHOS ARTS
978-869-2912

Sharon Livesey — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Livesey Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Be real. We want transparency. We have to have it given these billionaires tricks

---

Sharon Lynch — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Lynch Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the current system. When historically the frequency was reduced it resulted in losses for investors. Need I remind you that corporations rely on investors as much as they would like to ignore us. Quarterly reporting increases transparency and reduces losses. You need us, we need you to be transparent and honest. Or at least try to be.

Sharon Mcfarland — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sharon Mcfarland Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We require quarterly reports. I see no reason why the SEC thinks another trump ok'd, sneaky deal going down will end so easily. This is outrageous.

Sharon O'Malley — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon O'Malley Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am sick to death of people allowing the rich to screw us over. No breaks for anyone. If you're making money, we get to see how much AND how much you pay in taxes. Also, proof that there is NO insider trading.

Sent from my U.S.Cellular© Smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

---

sharon obrien — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: sharon obrien Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly Reports must remain as the rule. As an investor, anything less, is unacceptable.
Sharon Obrien
Senior Network Engineer

---

sharon scott — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: sharon scott Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Stop the shady bull*!

Sharon Sprouse — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Sprouse Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Why would you let companies hide their financial dealings! They owe it to their shareholders to report to them every quarter!

Sharon Steel — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Steel Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Full disclosure. Quarterly reports at the minimun

Sent from my iPad

Sharon Wolfsohn — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sharon Wolfsohn Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please give us a break. Don’t roll this back to 1955. Low and middle-income Americans shouldn’t keep getting hit! Be kind. Be honorable. Think of the common people, please!

Sharron Camaratta — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sharron Camaratta Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We need more transparency not less with companies. if you only make them report twice a year, your average person is going to be the one paying the price. I'm retired but my husband is retiring a few years, and if this happens, we'll be working the rest of our lives. and don't think we won't remember who did this to us because we will!

Sharron Camaratta
retired
California

Sharyn White — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharyn White Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The American people who are not rich white males or the Epstein class have had enough of billionaires and corporate capitalists getting unlimited breaks that encourages them to continue taking advantage of the American taxpayer and all the resources they gobble up. It's imperative to keep them honest by requiring them to produce their tax records as is required at this time. Do not let them scourge their obligations. Democracy as we know it cannot take another blow like this. It's beyond time to reign in the thieves of the American Treasury.

Thank you,
SRW

Shaun Reyes — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shaun Reyes Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 STOP YOUR MESSIN AROUND!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Shawn Lustig — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shawn Lustig Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Absolutely wrong to deceive investors by hiding their books from non insiders. I’m against this poor sighted action

Sent from my iPhone

Shawn Shubin — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shawn Shubin Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please keep the SEC quarterly!

Shawn F. Shubin

Shawn Simon — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shawn Simon Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The stockholders need quarterly reports, six months is not adequate to keep people (shareholders) informed of the whole picture. Only six month reports short changes the investors to a point that they cannot be actively informed. We the people deserve this standard to be upheld.

Sent from my iPhone

Shawnna Brassard — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shawnna Brassard Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I'm a middle class Amwrican working for a global billion dollar company. We already work to produce value for the shareholdeds. What good can come from delayed financial reporting? Its allows insiders to cook the books without accountability to the index markets and shareholders not getting the insider scoop.

---

sheila bell — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment ready to send From: sheila bell Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 What the Hell we are not making money as it is TRUMP is taking what little money we have PLEASE DO NOT Do THIS PLEASE LEAVE IT our money alone. PLEASE KEEK IT QUARTERLY

Sheila Martinez — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sheila Martinez Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We need to know things are handled correctly. As a person who has seen so many cheats, quick talkers, and downright liars, called to appear before the different departments of our government, this standard is to invite the criminals to continue.

No to this new plan, as we now know how much has been hidden for years. We must have accountability. Must...

Sincerely,
Sheila Martinez

Sheila Robinson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sheila Robinson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 It is very important to keep the quarterly reports, period! Sheila Robinson individual investor 👍

_____
Sheila A. Robinson
redacted

Sheila Stokes — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sheila Stokes Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I hope your sensible vote will be NO. HOW does this benefit Americans? I'm so tired of watching our elected officials agree to things that are bad for us. It's as if you have been paid under the table to stick to DT's agenda. Majority of We the People are sick of no oversight, our constitution being trampled on & fraud happening before all our eyes, yet the Republicans are doing nothing to stop it. Please, for the love of God, vote as your constituents want you to since that's why we sent you up to DC.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Shelby Smith — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shelby Smith Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Shelby and I work a modest job as a clinical Scientist, the transparency and accuracy of my profession is what Physicians use to make medical decisions on your loved ones, so you may understand why transparency and accuracy is paramount to me - in addition to being able to secure a stable future and retirement, I may work until I die, but if I am lucky enough to have some fiscal resource set aside, it would only be fair to continue quarterly reporting , for those like me. Please consider us who make up the foundation of consumers, please retain quarterly reporting, it is the diplomatic and ethical thing to do.

- Shelby Smith

Sheldon Hoffman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sheldon Hoffman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 not justified for individual investors.
redacted

Shelley Lehman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shelley Lehman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I respectfully request that you maintain the quarterly reporting requirement. Individual investors will be at a disadvantage if the reports are only provided twice a year.
Thank you,
Shelley Lehman
Retired Educator

Shelley Evans Retired from AT&T — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Shelley Evans There was a reason the reports were changed to quarterly and, ever since, things have been better for the consumer. Keep it this way. No more grift out of this White House!

Shelley Freeman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shelley Freeman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The filing should come more often rather than less. As consumers we need more information more often.

Dr. Shelley Freeman
Psychology Center
7441 "O" St Suite 402
Lincoln, NE 68510 Office 402-483-4215 Fax 402-483-5228

Shelley McDaniel — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shelley McDaniel Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As a small investor, I rely on quarterly reporting to make important decisions. By decreasing reporting requirements, the SEC is seriously disadvantaging investors, and especially small investors. In this day and age of instant information and 24/7 news, reducing reporting requirements is counterintuitive. If anything, increased reporting, such as the introduction of a monthly report, would increase transparency and accountability by corporations.

Please consider the importance of these reports before reducing consumer access to this important financial information.

Shelley Suggs — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shelley Suggs Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Dear SEC,

As a small investor, I already face significant disadvantages in the market. I am writing to express my concern regarding policies that appear to further benefit large corporations and insiders at the expense of average Americans.

I am working to save for a modest retirement, while the executives at these companies are often seeking to increase immense wealth. I urge you to reconsider these measures and ensure the system remains fair for individual investors rather than further codifying the advantages held by the wealthy.

Regards,

Shelley Suggs

SHELLY MURPHY — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: SHELLY MURPHY Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We need quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

SHELLY NELSON — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: SHELLY NELSON Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I want to keep the requirement for companies to file quarterly financial report to be included in investment instruments.

Thank you,
Shelly Nelson

SHELLY SANDY — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: SHELLY SANDY Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Any good company will continue producing quarterly reports anyhow, so why should investors be shut out? Keep the quarterlies coming.

Sheri Anderson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sheri Anderson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep Quarterly Reporting

---

Sheri Pabst — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sheri Pabst Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As a retired teacher I respectfully disagree with your decision to move SEC reports to six months instead of the current quarterly schedule. Leave it alone. I want more transparency and timely updates. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sent from my iPad

Sherri Janko — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Sherri Janko Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep it guarterly, .

Sent from my iPad

Sherri Kettner — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sherri Kettner Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please keep the quarterly report requirement in place. As a soon to be retiree, I want my financial advisor to have current, accurate information in order to make my savings work for me in my golden years. Thank you.
Sherri Kettner
Glendive Montana

Sherri Kettner

Sherry Richardson Ishman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sherry Richardson Ishman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I don't agree with this decision. We pay service fees for this. Does this mean my fees will go down?

Shesme 2 — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shesme 2 Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Protect the little people who are invested in these companies . Remember ENRON, and the major auto companies bankruptcies!!

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Shirley Hattamer — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shirley Hattamer Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the quarterly, we need to know how things are going. I like to be kept informed in a timely manner. Shirley Hattamer. Retired. My Roth is important to me.

---

shirley hunter — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: shirley hunter Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reporting should remain. Monitoring business on a quarterly basis is imperative. As an investor I manage my money monthly - business gets a break by reporting quarterly. Businesses have greatly reduced and in some cases altogether stopped providing for their employees through pension and benefits - providing another way to avoid accountability on a quarterly basis is further eliminating their responsibility to stakeholders

Shirley Hunter
Katy Texas

Shirley Maynard — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shirley Maynard Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 What is the purpose of this change? I see no benefit beyond allowing companies to hide illegal or incompetent behavior.

Shirley Mazourek — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shirley Mazourek Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Maintain quarterly reporting to keep companies accountable and consumers apprised of their holdings.

Sent from Shirley Mazourek

Siege Hargis-Bullen — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Siege Hargis-Bullen Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 There's a reason the US does it quarterly and has the most stable market and most confident investors. Some other countries don't and people don't have as much confidence in their markets and it leads to more problems and less faith in their data

Sent from my iPad

Sieglinde Levery-Nicholas — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sieglinde Levery-Nicholas Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Sieglinde Levery-Nicholas, educational administrator, American tax payer, and ordinary investor. Transparency and integrity are core to building and sustaining trust—SEC works for US, the people. You must hold companies accountable and require quarterly updates from companies who rely on our hard earned savings to exist. It is vital we are kept aware and we are protected in every possible way from fraud and from those who seek to gameify our futures. We are not asking. We demand you uphold all semblance of integrity and accountability in the investment process at all costs—and while we're at it, keep Elon Musk from stealing our retirement, rigging the outcomes for the already ultra-wealthy, and embezzling from us and our children.

Sieglinde
.....

Sieglinde Levery-Nicholas

she/her

Who I'm following:
• Community Centric Fundraising
• NonProfitAF
• Funders Back Up Your Equity Statements

Simon Kelly — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Simon Kelly Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 When has it ever benefited mankind to role back the history books and live out of the past? Never, that's not how humans work. You want to start a revolution?

Sivje Parish — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sivje Parish Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Companies need to keep their reporting public so that all people have a level playing field. If an average person wants to invest, they should have the same information that insiders should have. Keep things fair for all.

Sivje Parish

Sent from my iPhone

Sophi Zimmerman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sophi Zimmerman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I understand that a new SEC rule would let public companies hide their financials for six months. Public comments are open now.
Please do nog make this change.

Sophia Zegaglia — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sophia Zegaglia Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the reports quarterly. I want to know what companies are doing with my money

Sophia Zegaglia, software engineer

Sent from my iPhone

Special Events Bartending — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Special Events Bartending Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 What about truth in lending? Isn't this the same concept? Why invest(aka/ loan) since that is what we are really doing as investors, to have our funds prone to missuse?? Most Americans would not take this risk.

Squiber — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Squiber Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As a consumer forced to pay increasing costs, while on a fixed income, this is completely WRONG! If anything, they should be forced to release their books every month. The monopolies should not be granted more ways to legally steal our money.

Cheryl Fridley-hostage to the utility companies.

Get Outlook for iOS

---

ssmcgyver — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ssmcgyver Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the company reporting every 3 months (quarterly). Keeping the way it has been is the best way to prevent fraud.

Better yet, require monthly filings! Better to have more information than less! So, keeping it quarterly is a comprise. Do not change it!

Explore...Dream...Discover...

Stacey Stevens — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stacey Stevens Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 If this happens, my husband and I would DUMP every stock we have-pure and simple. At 55 years old, we aren't "flying blind" with our investments and our retirement.

Stacey Stevens-Bankston, LCSW, CAMS-II
Co-Owner/Therapist
Creative Counseling Center of NWA
902 McClain Rd, Suite 6003
Bentonville, AR 72712
(479) 364-0075
Cell:(417) 389-5483

Executive Director & Founder
The Hit and Run Project
2580 N. College Ave
Fayetteville, AR 72703
(479)340-7168

Stacy Hill — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Stacy Hill Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please keep quarterly disclosures of financial information available for investors. Investors should have the most information available to them to make smart decisions with money. Investing should be beneficial for investors and the companies and companies should have accountability to their investors regularly.

Stacy Wolfsberg — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Stacy Wolfsberg Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Investors need quarterly disclosures to minimize the fraud that occurs by those that have inside information and access. Until the SEC can guarantee that such fraud won't happen, investors need access to these reports as often as possible.

Stan — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stan Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Stay with quarterly reporting, keep it honest and transparent.

Sent from my iPhone

Stan Przybylinski — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stan Przybylinski Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Are you kidding? If you do this, you need to put EXTREME limits on financial actions during those six months, including stock transactions by insiders. They should also have a short window after publishing results to take financial actions.

As a consultant, over the last 15 years I have worked with public and private firms, and VC and PE firms on technology investments.

Stan Przybylinski
MBA - Finance, New York University
Vice President, CIMdata, Inc. (retired 1/1/26)
www.CIMdata.com
s.przybylinski@CIMdata.com

Sent from my iPad

Stan Shinko — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stan Shinko Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep it QUARTERLY!!!

---

steeleguy walli — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: steeleguy walli Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 absolutely not

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

STEPHAN PATTERSON — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: STEPHAN PATTERSON Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Absolutely not, this is not for the good of the public or investors

---

Stephanie Bahr — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephanie Bahr Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As a former wealth management analyst at Morgan Stanley, who is now a college professor, I write to insist that you continue quarterly reporting. This is a crucial way that the public makes informed decisions about their investments, and it is also an obstacle to insider trading. Transparency is important; do not end quarterly reporting

Sincerely,
Dr. Stephanie Bahr.

Stephanie Belmarez — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephanie Belmarez Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep reporting. Stop enabling billionaires to destroy everything. Stop allowing them to bully everyone and everything into allowing them to do so. We have a right to have the same information, do not strip us of further information and rights

---

Stephanie Chan — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephanie Chan Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 It's imperative that you keep the six month reporting rule in place. It is unfair that stockholders would be in the dark if it's changed to three months.

Thank you.
Steven Chan
Sent from my iPhone

Stephanie Harris — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephanie Harris Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Stephanie, stay at home mom, Transparency matters. Honesty matters. It is easier to be dishonest in this senario- hiding $ for long periods of time. Is not good. Do not make this change

Sincerely,

Stephanie

Stephanie Lee — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephanie Lee Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly Corporate Reporting is important to me because, as a smaller investor, every dollar invested is a larger percentage of my budget than it is for a millionaire.
If my money isn't earning money, it needs to be invested in some other thing.
I'm 76 years old. I'm retired from the Publishing Industry.
Cordially,
Mary S. Lee

Stephen Roeder — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephen Roeder Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am against changing the reporting rules for companies from quarterly to twice a year because it makes it easier for companies to hide things that they are doing that would only be known to a few people in the inner circle. These people would take advantage of the system to increase their wealth that they expense of the rest of us who don't have that insider information. it's time to stop the corruption and corporations and in government. Stephen Roeder, Malden Ma

Sent from my iPhone

Stephen Golonka — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Golonka Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not allow companies to hide behind false numbers or press releases to prop up short term gains allowing insiders to profit, while the common investors retirement and investment account can be used to bail out their bad decisions.

Stephen Moller — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Moller Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: It would be very wreckless and irresponsible to change the reporting requirements of publicly traded corporations from 3 months to 6 months. Direct and timely information is vital to making good decisions about investments and given the modern software, data and information systems available to companies places no great burden of companies to continue to report every quarter as they have done for many years. Serious gaps to investors could result from less frequent updates and reporting. While I have always sought to be a longer term investor, the faster pace of inovation means that sometimes a quick change in a companies fortunes require timely information in order to take action to protect assets. There is no good or valid reason to make this change. I respectfully request that you do not make this change.
Steve Moller

Stephen Moyer — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephen Moyer Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Stephen Moyer, Retired
Enron. WorldCom. Madoff. The run-up to 2008. Every major modern accounting scandal was enabled by gaps and opacity in financial disclosure. Quarterly filings don't prevent fraud, but they dramatically shorten the window in which it can fester before someone outside the company can see it. What if Enron only had to cook their books twice a year?

Stephen N — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Stephen N Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Don't kill the middle class in favor of the elites. Keep it transparent for God's sake. And ours.

Stephen Vance — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Vance Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
If the SEC were to move forward with this new proposed rule you would be forcing retail investors to invest in companies blindly while propping up and bolstering inside traders. Not to mention turning your backs on the American people while allowing the wealthy to grow even richer while the rest of the country continues to get poorer. How about standing up for the American public for once?!

I can assure you that moving forward with this new rule would collapse retail trading as a whole, in turn causing a market crash. All fingers will point directly to you, and since every member of the SEC is listed publicly, it doesn't seem like such a smart idea. Make the right choice.

Steve Babb — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Steve Babb Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The US has already tried this with devastating consequences. Please don't let this new rule become law.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Steve Borsch — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steve Borsch Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Steve Borsch. Retired.

My comment: After a lifetime of saving, paying close attention to our investments, a move like this will radically change my ability to analyze, monitor, and continue a deep understanding of my portfolio. I will also make a material, negative impact on the market as a whole. As such, my already waning trust in government's data at this moment in history, will also now extend to the market overall.

SIDE NOTE: As a lay student of economics, I can only imagine that this will continue to accelerate the growing belief that USA is undermining an already fragile trust in our economic policies and our willingness to ensure decision-making whether government and now corporate data is hidden overall. It will also likely exacerbate the flight from U.S. debt holdings.

Best Regards,

Steve Borsch

redacted

This email was sent securely with the encrypted email service, ProtonMail.

---

steve brown — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: steve brown Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is a completely ignorant proposal. Keep current reporting or make it even more often

---

Steve Duisterhof — Jun 11, 2026

Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Steve Duisterhof Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Semi annual reports create a serious concern for fairness and transparency. Compared to private investment, investors in public companies are already at a serious disadvantage for access to important information. This policy amplifies this disadvantage.

Sent from my iPhone

Steve Garnaas-Holmes — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Steve Garnaas-Holmes Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Reduced reporting is obviously a tactic to protect big corporations at the expense of ordinary investors. BAD IDEA. As a retiree I depend on investments. I'm not keen on having to wait six months to know how my investments are doing. In this age of fast computers and AI it's not that hard for a company to amass and make public the performance of their product. Do not give them permission to hide their work for six months at a time.

Sincerely,
Steve Garnaas-Holmes

Steve Griffin Sr. — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Steve Griffin Sr. Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Steve Griffin, retiree in Maryland. I think it's a really ridiculous idea to roll back to the 1950's. Regressive instead of progress is never a good idea. I, as well as millions of other Americans, am on a fixed income. Losing retirement income would be devastating to folks like us. I'm requesting that the SEC leave things as they are. Like the old phrase "if it ain't broke don't try and fix it."

Steve Griffin,

MD WCC Court Reporter Retired
Hudson River Line
One Particular Harbor
Jukebox Heros

Steve Henneman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steve Henneman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am Steve Henneman, job title--retired. This issue affects me and every other person with stocks in their portfolio. The most common comment about issues is the search for full transparency. Deleting the requirement for quarterly reports is just the opposite and should not be allowed.

Steve Hill — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steve Hill Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My career as both a journalist and an educator has been centered on transparency and free flow of ideas and information. It is clear that many corporate and government insiders are using their positions to benefit themselves rather than either average investors or the general public. I oppose reducing the requirement from quarterly to semiannual reports, particularly because I rely on my own outside investing to supplement the relatively small public pension I will receive after years of working in professions that are critical in our socioeconomic structure but don't pay as well as other jobs.

Steve Hill, associate professor of communication

Steve Larter — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steve Larter Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Absolutely no reduction of reporting quarterly!!!

Steve Larter
redacted

Steve Lee — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steve Lee Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 MUST have quarterly reporting at the very least. Been a stockbroker for 42 years and I KNOW what clients want and need.

Steve Lyautey — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steve Lyautey Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 There is no good reason for moving to bi-annual reporting short of companies dropping six months of accounting to the shareholders. Keep the reporting at the quarterly level. I will also be teaching out to my State Representatives. Thank you.

Steve Lyautey
Relationship Manager
CSI Meridian
Arlington, TX
806-358-7261
806-367-0738

www.csiweb.com

This e-mail and any files transmitted with it are the property of Computer Services, Inc. and/or its divisions, are confidential, and are intended solely for the use of the individual or entity to whom this e-mail is addressed. The sender does not accept any responsibility for any loss, disruption or damage to your data or computer systems that may occur from content of any sort contained in, transmitted with, or added to this e-mail. If you are not a named recipient or otherwise have reason to believe that you have received this message in error, please notify the sender and delete this message immediately from your computer. Any other use, retention, dissemination, forwarding, printing, or copying of this e-mail is strictly prohibited.

Steve Oder — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Steve Oder Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 In fact, increase the frequency to monthly.

Steve Opp — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Steve Opp Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please keep the reports quarterly! Transparency is diminished if reporting is less often. Thank you. Steve Opp, retired. Lodi, CA

Steve Welles — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Steve Welles Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Keep quarterly data!

Steven — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steven Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep it Quarterly, We have NO REASON to think ANYTHING GOOD can come of LESS ACCOUNTABILITY.

Steven Fuchs — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Steven Fuchs Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Don't do this. I know the reporting seems onerous but it is used by small investors to gather insights and information on their investments. It's a protection for the small guys to keep an eye on the company.

Steven Jackson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Steven Jackson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the

Securities and Exchange Commission:
In order to facilitate due diligence on a company, I need quarterly reports!
there's absolutely no reason why you shouldn't disclose quarterly reports if you expect the average retail trader to invest.

Steven Lavely — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steven Lavely Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Scott Lavely

Handing more power to corporations is not in the best interest of the public. The SEC should not be passing rules that benefit the private sector.

Steven Phillips — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steven Phillips Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Steven Phillips, I am a retired counselor and I want to raise my voice against the idea of cutting these time limits. We already have limited ways to make viable decisions about the investments we make. Explain to me how this helps anyone except the insiders? What benefit do shorter time limits offer? Only for the wealthiest and most powerful— not for the little guys! Don’t allow this to go through!

Sent from my iPad

Steven Prom — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steven Prom Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We must continue quarterly reporting for the small investor.

Sent from my iPhone

Steven Rosenblatt — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Sec From: Steven Rosenblatt Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We need more reporting not less.

Thank you
Steven R Rosenblatt
6444 Tiara Dr
Boynton Beach, FL 33437
314.387.6888

Steven Spandorf — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steven Spandorf Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The only reason this is up for discussion is for corporations to hide their positions and lie about it later. You are supposed to be against fraud and for transparency. We will know you by what you do with this. Maybe you need to be replaced.

Sent from my iPhone

Stevenson Prescott — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stevenson Prescott Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I have little doubt that there exists tremendous benefit in ingesting the highest amount of information available in timing the market. This is especially important when making the calculated decision of considering where to spend the balance of life's work.

The amount of insider trading and market manipulation make it hard enough to have a fair shot when investing. It is discouraging; but earnings calls and similar breaking news make it possible for those of us to stop loss the magnitude of our loses sooner rather than later..

If the SEC decides to reduce reporting to less than once a quarter, I would have to make the difficult decision to reign in my investments to be more conservative. Innovation would suffer and retail investors would leverage the stability of our funds (retirement, savings, speculation, etc.) to overcorrect for information gaps which would arise.

Accordingly, I encourage the Securities and Exchange Commission to reject the reduced reporting requirements.

Sue N — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sue N Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Why do I suspect that this might be one particular company's request for a change to conceal any fallout to normal investors until it's too late to repair the damage/loss? In this day and age, investors need to keep the quarterly reports at a minimum…Sue N , retired, not a trillionaire.

Sent from my iPhone

Sue Bee — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sue Bee Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep it quartly, this is a necessity! What are they trying to hide?

Sue Feller — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sue Feller Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Mess with the Investors only comes back to bite the SEC in the behind. Don't mess with the General investing public

Regards Sue Feller
redacted
Sent from my iPhone

Sue Lehman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sue Lehman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Sue lehman. I am retired. I need to see my income in order to plan wisely. Six months allows too much to be hidden

---

Sue Oskowski — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sue Oskowski Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Sue Oskowski, Retired.
Maintain quarterly regulatory reporting for companies whose stock trades on the exchanges. Shareholders need to have consistent, comparable information to make their investment decisions.

Sue Zimmerman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sue Zimmerman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 From a Citizen, Voter, tax payer. Stop hiding , enabling, protecting financial institutions from timely reporting up to date information from reaching the consumer. Quarterly reporting is a bare minimum standard Thank you Susan Zimmerman

Sent from my iPhone

Sumeet Maniar — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sumeet Maniar Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Given that quarterly reporting gives better information to the public and the cost of reporting is easier than ever, we should keep the current standard. Transparency is key.

Sumeet Maniar
Sent from my iPhone

---

supermomtc Bassett — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: supermomtc Bassett Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is taking away the transparency we expect with the Trum administration! Why is this needed??? If it’s money saving- make cuts somewhere else!!!

Sent from my iPhone

---

supernova529 — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: supernova529 Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Why the hell would the sec even consider such a rule. Is the sec in the business of promoting corruption?

How about noooo. Democracy is under assault because America is rife with corruption from the oval office to the boardroom and the halls of congress.

Sent from my Galaxy

Susan — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Susan E Royer, Retired. This is important to me since I rely heavily on income from my portfolio. Both from my small dividend portfolio and my options trading. Neither account is stagnant and I trade in both to help supplement my social security which is just over $2000 per month. I use the quarterlys report for my strategies. Thank you.

Susan Settler — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Settler Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Susan Settler CPA (retired) As so many of us are living off their retirement portfolios, why with such a violative marketplace have us fly blind for 6 months. With the misconduct of so many CEOs of publically traded companies and the SEC being the “watchdog” do you really feel this is in the public’s best interest?

Sent from my iPad

Susan Czaplicki — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Czaplicki Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly keeps accountablity. Susan Czaplicki, Investor, their is minimal savings to allow the possibility of fraud if it is not done quarterly.

Susan Victoria — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Victoria Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I rely on quarterly information to make decisions, and longer compliance gaps create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders. Historical data clearly shows that optional doesn't fix the problem because companies that opt in are often the ones whose investors most need frequent updates; and, the savings to companies aren't worth the cost to me.

Susan MarosVictoria

---

susan abdoli — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: susan abdoli Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We need to continue with quarterly financial reporting. This is needed to ensure the average investor has a fair chance in investing. Thank you.

Susan Beck — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Beck Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reporting is essential to control fraud and abuse. It's imperative you keep this reporting structure in place.

Susan Beck

Susan Eastlake — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Eastlake Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 SEC formally proposes Rule S7-2026-15, opening a 60-day comment period.

This is a disservice to the public. Public corporations prepare financial statements every month ; to provide them for public view every three months is not a burden. The analysts who review these and provide understandable information to the public enable unsophisticated investors critical information.

Susan Eastlake, retired CPA

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Eastlake — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Eastlake Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 SEC formally proposes Rule S7-2026-15, opening a 60-day comment period.

This is a disservice the public. Please do not adopt this rule.

Susan Eastlake, Retired CPA
333 East Brookhollow Drive
Boise, Id 83706

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Edgren — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Edgren Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 If I had my way, all corporate statements, social security reports and bank investments would be reported every month instead of quarterly, so there's no way that I'm happy about said books being hidden from me for six months. It's my money .

Susan Edgren
Taxpayer

---

susan hawkes — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: susan hawkes Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This would allow companies to act more secretly. Bad things grow in the dark. We do not need this in retirement accounts.

Susan Hills — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Susan Hills Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am just a retired nurse . This is a very bad idea for most uf us! Please vote NO!
Susan Hills, Mill Valley, California

Susan Irrgang — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Irrgang Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To whom it may concern: Please do not drop reporting to every six months. I depend on these results to manage the money I have in the stock market. This would not benefit the middle class, and once again no one is looking out for us. Big business would benefit at the expense of the middle class. Please do not approve changing reporting to every six months.
Susan Irrgang

Susan Johnson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Susan Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Susan J Johnson, I am 75, a retired Texas housewife recently divorced, not my choice. Please do everything in your power to stop this process from happening. I think I have sufficient savings to last out my life as it is. But to lose 38% would put me in dire straits. There are so many other old people who would also be in big trouble if this happens to their nest eggs. That's just us old folks. Please also consider the families in mid-life with kids to send to college. Maybe their hard-earned savings and investments will be so shrunken that education of kids flies out the window, just like that. This has happened in the past and it was disastrous. Please, please, do not make this unwarranted and damaging change to the rules, for the good of the average citizens in this country, who have enough problems as it is already. Thank you.

Susan Kekelik — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Susan Kekelik Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 CEO s MUST be held accountable on a REGULAR basics !!! Do NOT relax the rules !

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Laliberte — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Susan Laliberte Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please keep the current quarterly reporting requirement in place. Transparency in financial reporting is necessary. So many average retired Americans have their lives dependent upon their savings. Social Security alone is not enough to support them in their old age. We cannot afford to lose any amount of our savings.

Susan Laliberte

Susan Logan — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Susan Logan Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To whom it may concern:

Accountability for these financials allow people to retain what they have earned and saved. To take away that accountability on a quarterly basis is a step toward no accountability. If the CEOs and CFOs don’t want that responsibility then they need to find another line of work. Thats why they are paid exorbitant salaries.

Sincerely,

Susan Logan
redacted

Susan Misenko — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Misenko Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Susan Misenko, retired option trader. Along with the amount of oversight you continue to add to the daily lives of traders, you also want to allow less for corporations AGAIN. Do your job, protect investors.

Get Outlook for Android

Susan Pitts — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Pitts Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Absolutely no hiding anything 100% transparency

---

Susan Pratt — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Pratt Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Retired, I have investments, and find this will should not be allowed. It should be quarterly, not semi-annual.

Sent from my iPad.
Kim Pratt

Susan Sawyer — Jun 11, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Sawyer Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Susan Sawyer, digital content manager.

At a time when most of us have to manage our own retirement funds and educate ourselves as best as we can, especially when it's not our area of expertise, I feel like this is another way to hobble or rig it to make it more difficult. Keeping on top of trends and warnings is difficult enough. I feel like this is a purposeful effort to affect folks who don't have as much knowledge or access to this information. Thank you.

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Szczechowski — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Szczechowski Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 If you're operating lawfully, why is it necessary to hide ?

Sent from my iPad

Susan Taylor — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please don't be a part of the problem. Be accountable!!!

Sent from my iPad

Susan Teaford — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Teaford Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Susan Teaford, Private Citizen who worked systems and programming for 4 years at SEC. This is a BS idea and just another attempt to defraud Joe Public. We worked hard to put efficient, economic systems in place so that fraud could be discovered and dealt with on a timely basis and now you want to help hide it. You are doing exactly the OPPOSITE of what the SEC stood for for the last 50 years. You know it and you are going to try and do it anyway. Btw - this is not a cost cutting measure so don't try to sell it that way

---

Susan Williamson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Williamson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I'm a senior with investments and this is unacceptable.

May all beings be happy and free from suffering!

Susan Woodard — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Woodard Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reporting should not be discontinued.
Company reporting should be as frequent and transparent as possible so investors can make informed choices. Susan Woodard, retiree

Sent from my iPad

Susan Worden — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Susan Worden As a stockholder, I believe it is critical that we have clear, transparent and frequent information from the companies who make up our investment portfolios. As a retiree, lacking quarterly data will negatively impact my ability to strategically invest based on shorter term goals.

Susan Zacharias — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Susan Zacharias Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We are retired. We have a large portfolio of stock that have enriched us beyond our wildest dreams. This was achieved through careful investing of hard earned dollars. The “careful” part is derived from looking closely at numbers. The data that is presented to the public 4 times a year. Its like monitoring your blood pressure regularly. More is better.
Less information/data will lead to lower stock returns as has been shown in the past. More information leads to funding of successful business's by rewarding their success quickly thereby fostering faster growth and innovation.
This will end up costing the country dearly by lowing tax returns.
Susan Zacharias Retired Register Nurse, Boston, Massachusetts

Sent from my iPad

SusanPeter Ivy — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: SusanPeter Ivy Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 June 11; 2026.

TO: Securities and Exchange Commission
FROM: Peter Ivy, 17875 Kelly Lake Road, Carver, MN 55318
RE: Quarterly or Semi-annual reports

To Whom it May Concern:

Please take notice that I and my family are strongly opposed to any change in SEC reporting requirements . I am retired and worked and saved my entire career- understanding that I was responsible for securing enough funds/investment for retirement:

It is my understanding that when the SEC last had a six month reporting requirement a few decades ago, small investors lost out. To change the rule now would only help the wealthy and when issues of corruption and insider trading are becoming more rampant. More pointedly, exactly who would this rule change benefit? Answer: the already rich.

My concerns are amplified by inflation, stresses on social security, and a world in entropy as the rules bases order continues to deteriorate. In my view, the federal government has the inherent duty to care for ALL of its natural citizens or disfunction, mistrust and polarization will only increase and that benefits nobody. If the current administration wishes to increase trust in government, then increase transparency, don't reduce it.

Thank you for your attention to this important matter. Peter Ivy

Sent from my iPad

Susie Cornelius — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susie Cornelius Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Susie Cornelius, small business owner. Corporates should be required to provide Financials at a minimum every quarter. I own only a small number of stocks and need reasonable opportunity to follow my investments. Please consider keeping required quarterly reporting.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Susie Berg — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Susie Berg Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 It's been tried before, over 20 yrs. With devastating consequences for simple investors such as myself. I struggled to set enough aside to allow me to buy stocks and if this change is implemented I will lose my investment.

---

susie fisher — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: susie fisher Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I believe the more often the reports are issued the more the "PEOPLE" are protected. We need access to MORE information not less.

Susie Fisher

Susie Myers — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susie Myers Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am against this proposed change. 6 months is too long to go between reports. We need more information, not less, to keep our investments safe. Signed, Susie Myers, retired from employee benefits administration.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Suyin Mesa — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Suyin Mesa Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Suyin Mesa
I'm an investor and think corporations should continue reporting quarterly. Every six month is too long a period for companies to report

Sent from my iPhone

Suzanne Farris — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Suzanne Farris Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I oppose changing reporting from quarterly to twice a year. I don't understand why this would be changed. Quarterly reports are essential. It is important to have transparency and accurate information.

Sent from my iPhone

Suzanne Logan — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Suzanne Logan Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please don't do this. Allowing public ally owned corporations even more secrecy is a huge step backwards. Do the right thing. I'm a secretary with small investments for my retirement. Stop helping them crush us.

Suzanne Logan

Suzanne Miller — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Suzanne Miller Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 What is wrong with you people? They must report quarterly to try to keep them honest.

Sent from my iPhone

Suzanne Nimitz — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Suzanne Nimitz Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Suzanne Nimitz
Retired investor
Phoenix metro
It is important to get pertinent information on investments in a timely manner. Keep the quarterly reports. .

Suzanne S — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Suzanne S Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Suzanne Schwarting
RN
I need to know what is going on with companies. This is my retirement. How is it fair to let insiders, hedge funds know but not us!!!
Thank you.
I vote to keep reports.
I am on Robinhood, Moomoo, Fidelity, Kraken and Etc

Sent from my iPhone

Suzanne Wigley — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Suzanne Wigley Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We are a retired couple - living on our investments as directed by our Investment team. We do not want to be blindfolded 6 months of the year as to how well our investments are going. Buying, selling and trading are integral to maintaining viable income through investments- and it is impossible when we are barred from knowing how well or badly the stocks/companies are handling their businesses. DO NOT PERMIT THIS TO HAPPEN. The integrity of the people controlling nearly every aspect of our country is at an all time low. If this idea of 6 month black outs goes through - you have just joined this plan designed to put people like us in grave danger of losing our money before we even can be aware of a severe downturn in our investments. WE SAY DO NOT ALLOW THIS EGREGIOUS CHANGE

Suzanne Wright — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Suzanne Wright Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Suzanne Wright, and I'm an elementary school teacher. I would like to see quarterly reports to keep track of my retirement savings. Please don't leave people in the dark for 6 months!

Suzanne Wright
Sent from my iPhone

Suzanne Wright
Sent from my iPhone

Suzzanna Tanner — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Suzzanna Tanner Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I just have a question. What are you thinking?
If investors are not getting quarterly reports from their investments, then what's the purpose of continuing to invest?
Your decision has the potential to bankrupt a lot of investment opportunities simply because you want to allow them to go dark for 6 months and give insiders the ability to get rich while every other investor gets screwed and not even enjoy it.
If the SEC pushes this through, I like many others, will probably pull out of all of my investments. Since I now know that you're considering it, I've already begun, the process.

Svea Tullberg — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Svea Tullberg Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Svea Tullberg and I live in Maine. I don't have much money, and I probably never will. Doing away with quarterly reports will only hurt my already minuscule retirement savings potential (around 20K at 46 yrs old). Please make decisions that are considerate and caring for the people of our country instead of further rigging the system against us. Don't do away with quarterly reports.

Sylvia Fleck — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sylvia Fleck Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I do not support changing the reporting schedule. I am close to retirement and accurate, up to date financial information about my investments is important me.

Sylvia Fleck
Landenberg PA

Sylvia Foltz — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sylvia Foltz Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep quarterly statements. Every 6 months is not better for the people. The financial institutions are not trustworthy.

Takeyla Davis — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Takeyla Davis Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am retired and live on my savings! You will plunge Americans into poverty!
Wendell Davis

Takeyla Davis

Takeyla Davis — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Takeyla Davis Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am against this and quarterly reporting is imperative to investors. This would give away to fraud and should not be implemented. Shame on all of you!
This is wrong!

Takeyla Davis
Cell: 865 659 6168

---

tamara neal — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: tamara neal Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Tamara, RN.
Quarterly reporting is necessary for investors from all financial groups. It is very relevant to me as a 60+ year old. Do not allow big business & billionaires to control reporting to all people

Sent from my iPhone

Tammi Duis — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tammi Duis Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Sarbanes-Oxley was implemented in order to ensure accurate and timely reporting so that ALL investors would not be taken advantage off. So many government regulations have been cut already, damaging protections of all sorts, don't let this be another gutting of important legislation to protect all people!

Tammy Belinsky — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tammy Belinsky Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 You're each and all money-grubbing thieves who likely rob your own family members, even granny. There's no other reason except thievery to hide the company books from those you are stealing from. Stop it.

We the people are sick and tired of your thievery. We will make sure you pay if you minimize reporting requirements as proposed. Sleep well.

Tammy Belinsky

Tammy Alairys — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tammy Alairys Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 US markets lead the world because of our transparency and openness to audit. These attributes give us an incalculable advantage over other counties and exchanges. As an investor I WANT TO KNOW exactly what the companies I am invested in are doing at least every 90 days. A shift to a longer reporting period threatens our fundamental way of investing and introduces unbounded risk. KEEP THE 90 DAY REQUIREMENT.

Sent from my iPhone

Tara — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tara Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I depend in my investments for my retirement. Quarterly reports are crtitical for m managing the investments in a timely and responsive way.

Sent from my iPhone

Taylor Kostal-Bergmann — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Taylor Kostal-Bergmann Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I do not want any of this. It is exploitative, predatory, and harmful to my rights as a citizen of this country.

Tena Montoya — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tena Montoya Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Tena Montoya, Retired Investor. Companies need to be transparent four times a year so we investors can make the best decisions. Information leads to better investor outcomes. This keeps successful investors OFF government entitlement programs. That alone is reason enough to continue regular reporting as it is now.

Teresa Cipolletti — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Teresa Cipolletti Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Teresa Cipolletti. I am a Registered Nurse. I live in Mesa AZ. My husband and I have been in “The Market” for our whole married life, almost 47 years. Our earnings have provided our ability to purchase homes and raise 3 kids through College. A good reason we were able to provide for our family is because of the ability to decern a good company to invest in by studying quarterly reporting and understanding its value. Therefore I believe quarterly reporting is essential. please KEEP quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Teresa Louis-Tomlinson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Teresa Louis-Tomlinson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We must not allow this to happen! I am a retired teacher and so is my husband. Like millions of others, we rely on our investments to survive. If this happens, we could see millions of Americans suffering. Please protect the people of our country.

Teresa Mueller — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Teresa Mueller Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Teresa Mueller from Wisconsin - Another ploy to make the rich richer and the poor poorer!!! STOP THE INSANITY!!!

Sent from my iPhone

---

teri — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: teri Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Going backwards is not going to save this country. Don’t let this happen.
Teri Thompson, retired UPS, MI

Sent from my iPhone

Terri — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terri Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 What more do you want to do to us? Trump revenge.

Terri Aranich — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terri Aranich Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Dear SEC, Please, vote against lifting the transparency clause, from reporting every three months to every six months. It will make it possible for Corporations to hide discrepancies. It will make it more challenging to catch and correct the mistakes when they occur.

And, making it difficult for people to make educated decisions. If ordinary citizens, with small businesses, wanted to hide their actions we would wonder what they are hiding.
Thank-you for your service, and for being willing to read about our concerns.
Terri Aranich
Registered Nurse. Retired

Terri Baillie — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terri Baillie Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep Quarterly reports we must know what is happening to our hard earned money. We invested it and deserve to know what is happening with it.
Terri Baillie
Sr. Relationship Banker

Terri Baugh — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terri Baugh Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am a retired woman of 76ers old and I absolutely want to see those quarterly reports.

Terri Baugh
redacted

Sent from my iPhone

Terri Gibson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terri Gibson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Hello,

My name is Teresa Gibson. I am a retired professor of Pychology.
I can tell cowardly rat like behavior when I see it. This attempt to hide records from the public, especially from inestors, is the behavior of a sneaky rat! Do not permit it! Sincerely,
Teresa Gibson

443-340-6252
2091 Richardson Road
Westminster MD 21158

Terri Kolf — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terri Kolf Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please keep transparency in financial reporting! We don’t need another stock market crash.
Terri Kolf, caregiver

Sent from my iPhone

Terri Reynolds — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terri Reynolds Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I depend on quarterly reports to determine my personal finances. Corporations need to be kept on track for investors. Not reporting allows any illegal internal activities to not be caught soon enough. Reducing reporting requirements only helps corporations and billionaires, not the Average Joe investor who ends up losing the most in the end.The SEC needs to protect individuals, not corporations.

Keep reporting requirements as they are or make them stronger. Then the SEC NEEDS TO DO THEIR JOB AND INVESTIGATE.

Terri Reynolds
Retired government contractor

TERRI WALBERG — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: TERRI WALBERG Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We shouldn't return to 1955. It has been over 70 years and Americas financial situation is very different than it was then. You can't limit information when the internet has been part of our culture for 30-49 years. This will lower the retirement savings of many Americans that cannot afford a loss. If the SEC is worried about lawlessness in the stock market, they should prosecute those people that break the rules. They should not disadvantage people who are already being abused by modern politicians.

Sent from my iPhone
Terri

Terrie Dukes — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terrie Dukes Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As an investor I want quarterly reports. Too much can change in six months without the consumer even knowing. Vote this proposal down. Terrie Dukes, retired.

Terry Amaral — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terry Amaral Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep it open.

Terry Amaral — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terry Amaral Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep it open

---

Terry Carver — Jun 11, 2026

Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Terry Carver Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Leave it alone. We don't need another mess.

Sent from my iPhone

Terry Daus — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Terry Daus Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Terry Daus, retired. I'm against the idea as it reduces transparency and accountability and introduces more volatility.

Sent from one of my mobile devices

Terry Luciano — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terry Luciano Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 MAGA AND OLIGARTHS ARE THE SHT OF THE COUNTRY! Alligator Alley for all of them !!

Terry Mackey — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terry Mackey Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The disadvantages of this proposal far outweigh any advantages. Companies have the same internal accounting requirements. Foregoing public filing twice a year saves very little, while preventing stockholders and the general public from recognizing dangers. Please stay quarterly.

Terry Murphy — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terry Murphy Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 PLease do not extend quarterly financial filings every 6 months. This does nothing to protect investors or consumers.

To the contrary it is detrimental to both and to transparency in the markets.

Terry D Murphy
redacted

Sent from my iPhone

Terry Oxley — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terry Oxley Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please keep these records reporting quarterly. There are too many secrets and too many ways to hide what is happening already. Terry Oxley, retired

Sent from my iPhone

Terry Prince — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terry Prince Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports!

Sent from my iPad

Terry Stout — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terry Stout Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reports as currently required should be continued. As long as the public is at risk with the buying and selling of stocks for the company, they should be required to be frequently reporting.

Thad Soles — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thad Soles Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Thad Soles here, quarterly filing keeps everyone on the same level, do not let companies hide their books for 6 months

---

Tham Abbott — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tham Abbott Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 BAD IDEA! We have already seen how companies will obscure or hide the truth.

Sent from my iPhone

Theresa — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Theresa Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I oppose the SEC proposal to let public companies report their financial results every six months instead of quarterly. Here's why:

1. Investors depend on quarterly data to make decisions.
I use quarterly earnings, revenue, and cash flow to track how companies perform and decide when to buy, hold, or sell. Stretching the gap to six months means I'd be making investment decisions with outdated information. Markets move fast — half a year is too long to fly blind.

2. Longer reporting gaps give insiders an unfair advantage.
If public filings go semi-annual, executives, lawyers, and large institutional investors will still get monthly internal reports. Retail investors like me would not. That creates a two-tier system where insiders can react to problems or opportunities months before ordinary shareholders even see the numbers.

3. "Optional" reporting doesn't solve the problem.
The SEC argues that companies could "opt in" to quarterly reports. But the companies most likely to switch to six-month reporting are exactly the ones investors need _more_ transparency from — not less. Voluntary rules don't protect investors when companies with the weakest results have the strongest incentive to disclose less.

Theresa Godfroy

Theresa — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Theresa Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I oppose the SEC proposal to let public companies report their financial results every six months instead of quarterly. Here's why:

1. Investors depend on quarterly data to make decisions.
I use quarterly earnings, revenue, and cash flow to track how companies perform and decide when to buy, hold, or sell. Stretching the gap to six months means I'd be making investment decisions with outdated information. Markets move fast — half a year is too long to fly blind.

2. Longer reporting gaps give insiders an unfair advantage.
If public filings go semi-annual, executives, lawyers, and large institutional investors will still get monthly internal reports. Retail investors like me would not. That creates a two-tier system where insiders can react to problems or opportunities months before ordinary shareholders even see the numbers.

3. "Optional" reporting doesn't solve the problem.
The SEC argues that companies could "opt in" to quarterly reports. But the companies most likely to switch to six-month reporting are exactly the ones investors need _more_ transparency from — not less. Voluntary rules don't protect investors when companies with the weakest results have the strongest incentive to disclose less.

Theresa — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: SEC proposal on reporting From: Theresa Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I oppose the SEC proposal to let public companies report their financial results every six months instead of quarterly. Here's why:

1. Investors depend on quarterly data to make decisions.
I use quarterly earnings, revenue, and cash flow to track how companies perform and decide when to buy, hold, or sell. Stretching the gap to six months means I'd be making investment decisions with outdated information. Markets move fast — half a year is too long to fly blind.

2. Longer reporting gaps give insiders an unfair advantage.
If public filings go semi-annual, executives, lawyers, and large institutional investors will still get monthly internal reports. Retail investors like me would not. That creates a two-tier system where insiders can react to problems or opportunities months before ordinary shareholders even see the numbers.

3. "Optional" reporting doesn't solve the problem.
The SEC argues that companies could "opt in" to quarterly reports. But the companies most likely to switch to six-month reporting are exactly the ones investors need _more_ transparency from — not less. Voluntary rules don't protect investors when companies with the weakest results have the strongest incentive to disclose less.

Theresa Godfroy

Theresa Bunkers — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Theresa Bunkers Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Leave it alone!!

Theresa B

Theresa Norwark — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Theresa Norwark Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Theresa Norwark, retired - SS slashed by Offset - I rely on savings and investments. I need timely financing reporting to make decisions.

Sent from my iPhone

Theresa Widner — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Theresa Widner Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We need quarterly reporting.

Theresa Widner
Executive Administrative Assistant
Las Cruces, New Mexico

Theresa Widner
Executive Administrative Assistant
New Mexico Farm & Livestock Bureau
redacted

New Mexico Farm & Livestock Bureau reminds you that staff emails, and any files attached, are confidential and intended solely for the use of the individual or entity to whom they are addressed. This message contains confidential information and is intended only for the individual named. Disclosing, copying, distributing or taking any action in regarding the contents of this information is strictly prohibited.

Therese Caldwell — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Therese Caldwell Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Therese Caldwell. Quarterly reporting by corporations must continue. I am a stockholder and a concerned American.

Sent from my iPhone

Thomas Wheaton — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Wheaton Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Stop this proposal in its tracks.

Tom

Check my art website
- https://www.tomwheatonfineart.com/

Thomas Cameron — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Cameron Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Transparency only hurts people or organizations which are doing unethical things. Allowing big companies to hide what they're doing only hurts consumers. I am opposed to this rule.

Thomas Cameron
6004 Ivy Hills Drive
Austin Texas 78759

Thomas Dodson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Dodson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This would never happen to an average person! It shouldn't be allowed to happen to multimillionaires!

Sent from my iPhone

Thomas Eder — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Eder Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Wall Street has proven time and again that they cheat. Need to report quarterly.

Thomas Gannon — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Gannon Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Criminals.

Thomas Gleaton — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Gleaton Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
The current rule change proposed would erode my and other Americans very faith that the markets are a worthy investment vehicle. There are other international markets that will have better rules and better protections for investors.

I need quarterly disclosures and I need rules in place that require companies to have standard waiting times and rules about profitability in place before being added to funds that represent our collective retirement.

my financial advisor agrees.

Jay G.

Thomas Izaguirre — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Izaguirre Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I appreciate knowing in a timely manner when my retirement plan is stalling out due to market fluctuations. This act will prevent me from seeing this. It is not a good idea. Leave well enough alone!

Sincerely,

Thomas Izaguirre

Sent from my iPad

Thomas Konrad — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Konrad Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Full prompt reporting protects investors and the public. Don’t allow insiders to withhold information about the performance of companies.

Bob Konrad

Thomas Laughlin — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Laughlin Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Your thieves helping the robbers you need to reverse everything you have done to hide info including CAT . Which needs to be updated instead of missing info all the time . Sec is a corrupt stop for people wanting a hedgefund job .

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Thomas Moeller — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Moeller Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 It is important that the financial information reporting requirements about a company's financial status remains as is (quarterly).

Thank you,
Thomas Moeller

Thomas Overlin — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Overlin Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Thomas Overlin Senior Programmer/Analyst.

I believe that quarterly reporting is crucial for sound investing. It's a bad idea to remove it. A lot can happen in three months, let alone a year. I won't invest in a company that I have no visibility to. The only way it's a great idea to remove quarterly reporting is if you're trying to set investors up for losses.

Best regards,

Thom Overlin
Senior Consultant
redacted

Thomas Payne — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Payne Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Thomas Payne - retired but invested. I say No! Transparency is essential.

Thomas Perrochon — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Perrochon Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Thomas Perrochon, Retail store management. As a part time investor hoping to turn some of my money today into more money tomorrow, the more information I have, the better. Even with what I search for, watch, and hear, I am always steps behind the smart money who have access to information that I don’t have. Moving away from quarterly reporting would take more information away from me, and further distance the times I can hear for myself what’s going on with where I park my hard earned money. I vehemently oppose this new rule, believing the bad heavily outweighs the good this time.

Sent from my iPhone

Thomas Portney — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Portney Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is wrongful and illegal, and should reman with quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Thomas Schwartz — Jun 11, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Schwartz Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Why are u continuing to rip off American people. If u do a change go Monthly. But if u go to biannual, i eill cease to use stock market. With bit coun, the stock market is becoming irrelevant

---

Tiffany Fields — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tiffany Fields Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Tiffany Fields:Paralegal This matters because the stock market is one of the last strongholds of the American dream. Quarterly statements are the only way to to stay informed. Cutting that in half can lead to market volatility, less transparency, advantage insider trading. It will also disadvantage the American people while allowing Hedge Fund investors access to data that the average investor doesn't have.

Tiki — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tiki Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Tiki Archambeau
Self-employed
Burlington, VT

It's bad enough that retail investors like me are forced to settle with sub-class shares versus the special access given to brokers or large institutions. Now you want to scale back transparency? That's one of the few things left in a market quickly going private. A move to less than quarterly earnings risks the economy and risks investors' retirement funds that have been carefully built on a foundation of relying on government regulation to shed light on operations.

Stop tilting the scales for the rich!

Tim Oey — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Tim Oey Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Tim Oey, former product development program manager, now retired, Sunnyvale California.

We need to retain quarterly reports! Transparency is crucial for investors. The last half century we have had incredible stock market growth thanks to clear and consistent financial reporting. Do not make it easier for misdeeds to be hidden by decreasing reporting frequency. My retirement is heavily dependent on a trustworthy and stable financial market that is well managed and not corrupt. Do not let the current corruption under Trump infect and damage our financial systems. We need to protect our financial system better, not make it easier to hide misdeeds. Quarterly reporting is important.

Thank you!

Tim Oey
Executive Director, ZeroW.org
League of American Bicyclists Cycling Instructor #6033
Tim@ZeroW.org

Tim Giugni — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tim Giugni Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Tim G. Artistic Director As a stock holder, it is important for me to keep the current reporting.

Tim Grieneisen — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Tim Grieneisen Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 It is very concerning to me that the SEC would consider lowering the frequency of reporting. In this modern age of instant information this seems to be a step backwards that will lead to uncertainty which is known as the Bain to markets. This move would be devastating to the health of the markets. DO NOT DEVIATE FROM THE CURRENT QUARTERLY REPORTING.

Sent from my iPhone

Tim Herring — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tim Herring Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Our investments depend on information, companies need to continue quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Tim Huffstetler — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tim Huffstetler Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Leave it alone!!!!!!!!!

Tim McGuire — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tim McGuire Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I'm a photographer. My name is Timothy McGuire. I am retiring in 5 years and I need to know quarterly results from my investments. Do not change the reporting requirements. Millions of American workers depend on getting frequent updates on investments. Lessening those reports hurts American workers.

Sent from my iPhone

TIM OWENS — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: TIM OWENS Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Lori Owens, investor and former employee of a public company. Please keep the quarterly filing requirement. It keeps companies on track with performance targets, and keeps them accountable to shareholders and employees. What is saved in time by changing this requirement will be lost in the risk of a dishonest person taking advantage of the extended time to act while no one is watching. Thank you.

Timothy Dominguez — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Timothy Dominguez Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Timothy

Dominguez
Valuation Analyst - Equity
Fidelity

It's absolutely ridiculous that you are attacking financial transparency and the dynamic functioning of the world's most powerful capital market.

What is wrong with you?

Timothy Close — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Timothy Close Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep reporting rules as they are now, no hiding the books for six months.

Sent from my iPhone

---

timothy davis — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: timothy davis Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is not, OK. Transparency is important . How do we to take control of our retirement, and our resources. So many Americans are falling off the cliff. Which will create more problems, and stress over all on our systems .

Sent from my iPhone

Timothy Nowak — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Timothy Nowak Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 If anything, we need more frequent reporting, not less frequent reporting

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Tina Edmond — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Tina Edmond Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Tina Edmond, CEO of my company, located in San Rafael, CA. I have been in business with the same clients since 1998, which was about the time I began self managing my investments.

I believe quarterly reporting keeps me better apprised, please don’t change it. We can’t go backwards and expect to be successful. This might be beneficial for the big guys, but it is not for the little people, many of whom self-manage, as do I.
Don’t do it.

Tina Nevers — Jun 11, 2026

Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Tina Nevers Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 1955!!!! We need to go forward . We need to have timely up to date information … SEC going to try to hide I our hard earned investment activity from us ?

Sent from my iPhone

Tina Shields — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tina Shields Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Tina Shields, sales manager. This kind of thing does what it always does; protects the rich and leaves the rest of us sitting in the poor house. So many of us are trying to save for retirement and we're not able to because of policies exactly like this. Transparency is the only way to keep things fair and equal.

Sent from my iPhone

Tina Smith — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tina Smith Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Do the right thing for US - the small investors!!

Sent from my iPhone

Tina Uhling — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tina Uhling Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keeping my financial investment info from me but not others is extremely immoral and not something that should be or would be considered in a truly free and open society.

Todd Watts — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Todd Watts Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Can go dark on reporting what earn for taxation sake for 6 months? If corporations are people what ever that law was, no special treatment. To much chance for enrons and to big to fail , to fail.

Tom Deutsch — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom Deutsch Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is completely unacceptable. Quarterly updates are critical for investors and the health of the market.

Tom Harris Jr — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom Harris Jr Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Good morning,

People should know what is happening with publicly traded companies.

Changing the rules to hide information from the individual is not only silly, it is deeply wrong and flawed. Something untrustworthy people, companies, and governments would change.

Do not do it. Ideally, more transparency should be had, not less.

Sincerely,

Chris Harris

Tom Kirkwood — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom Kirkwood Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Sec: keep the reporting quarterly!

Tom Lee — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Tom Lee Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This commission was originally created to protect the public. You need to live up that responsibility or you allow your own importance, and integrity to be eroded.

Tom McManus — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom McManus Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Semi annual financial reports from publicly traded companies wouldn't be sufficient. This would be a huge benefit to investors who have the resources to speak to company employees and management between reports. Positive and negative surprises vs consensus expectations would be larger and more frequent. I'm sure this is supported by insiders and large investors … guess who are the losers?

Tom McManus
thomas.m.mcmanus@gmail.com

Tom Nestor — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: File Number S7-2026-15 From: Tom Nestor Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Dear SEC rules committee members,
This needs to be rejected as it has in the past.

As an individual investor, I rely on quarterly 10-Q filings to make informed decisions about my portfolio. These reports provide audited, legally certified information that voluntary corporate communications simply cannot replace. Reducing filing frequency to semi-annual would cut in half the verified financial data available to retail investors like me — precisely the investors who own the majority of shares in smaller public companies most likely to adopt the new option. I urge the Commission to reject this proposal and preserve the investor protections that quarterly reporting provides.

Thomas Nestor
tnes01@gmail.com
Cell: 484.678.6482

Tom Olmstead — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Tom Olmstead Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange commission:

I believe it is prudent for shareholders to remain informed each quarter on the financial results of operations for all companies that are publicly traded . This will ensure that companies don't induce a increased risk of non disclosure that the public should be made aware of :reporting every six months would increase opportunity cost in cases where the company is underperforming or has a material change in their outlook, and is not legally obligated to disclose this information .

regards

Tom Olmstead

---

tom777 — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: tom777 Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 WTF?

Tommie Butler — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tommie Butler Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This Country is full of fake Politicians and CEO's and it is time to set limits. The wealth are the greedies people on earth. It's a shame and then print on our money " In God We Trust" that's such a big lie, in should be in money we trust. What an abomination unto the Lord. This Country is lost to worshipping idols and they love it but the day of destruction is getting closer than people think. Man of God

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Toni Brasher — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Toni Brasher Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Not acceptable! Quarterly reporting at a minimum!

Sent from my iPhone

Toni Harrell — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Toni Harrell Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 They hide the fact that they are stealing your tax money and doing vanity programs and stuffing money in offshore accounts for Donald Trump. This is our money and not Donald Trump's....

Where is the $18 trillion that came from the tariff's. The budget department says they don't have it so Donald has that stuffed in an off shore account for him when he gets out of office....

Toni Hartman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Toni Hartman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Toni Hartman Nurse absolutely NO We need transparency nothing hidden too much is being hidden already...

Toni Webb — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Toni Webb Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Wall Street owes the investors, small as well as large, the truth about what their investments are doing. Nobody gets to pull the wool over the eyes of the little guy just because they're a big guy! Stop this!
Toni Webb
Retired Art Teacher, with all of my retirement invested in the market

Sent from my iPhone

Tony LaMarche — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tony LaMarche Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Just think how much trump and his cronies can hide in this time. The little guy hasn't a chance.

Sent from my iPad

---

tony wartman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: tony wartman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 If the SEC is going to change anything they should change it to monthly reporting. If we can not get monthly I'll settle for quaterly.

Tony Wartman

Tonya Haughwout — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tonya Haughwout Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am writing to urge you to prioritize your commitment to protecting individual investors and ensuring fair market practices for the public. It is essential that regulatory efforts focus on maintaining a transparent and equitable system for all participants.

Thank you for your attention to this important matter.

Sincerely,

Tonya Haughwout

Tori's — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tori's Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Why would you make a rule like this unless you are complicit in corruption and theft? This is antithetical to the protection of the public trust. Don’t do this, we are watching.

Sent from my iPad

Torrence Dohl Jr. — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Torrence Dohl Jr. Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This rule just allows for more insider trading before the public can react. Totally unfair to the average investor.

Sent from Terry’s iPad

Tracey Roberts — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tracey Roberts Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 44 years. I, and my retirement account advisors, rely on the quarterly reports from the companies in which my 403(b) funds are invested. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges. I also support greater disclosure by private equity and hedge funds and cryptocurrencies as they become part of my portfolio whether I like it or not (via Target date funds and index funds). They have looted pension funds. I do not want them to take my retirement savings as well. I do not want them to operate with lower standards for disclosure than the current rules provide for publicly traded companies.

Tracey M. Roberts
Sent from my iPhone
redacted

Tracey Kniess — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tracey Kniess Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Dr Tracey Kniess. We need to continue to have quarterly reports. We need a clear transparent picture to make good decisions.

Tracey Loyd — Jun 11, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tracey Loyd Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is just another way that Wall Street will have to screw over working Americans that have invested into a retirement plan. It will allow unscrupulous stock speculation and a brand new way to take the money and run. This is a terrible idea!

---

tracey Vivar — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: tracey Vivar Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is unacceptable. Once again, the small investor will get screwed & you all know it. If someone might lose their life savings, that's not a small thing. Leave things the way they are. Change is not always a good thing. Tracey Vivar, retired but working @ a local restaurant to make ends meet. redacted

Virus-free.www.avast.com

Traci Nolan — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Traci Nolan Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Traci Nolan
Retired
Most of my retirement funding is in various kinds of financial investment instruments

Quarterly reports are very important for the vast majority of investors who don't have the cushion to absorb drastic changes in the market. They enable those of us who are not involved directly in financial transactions to plan and adjust our investments. The only people served by less frequent report are those that benefit from keeping investors in the dark as long as possible. I strongly oppose this change.

Traci Walker — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Traci Walker Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I trade. Please keep reports quarterly. Accountability is what gives investors confidence to be in the market.
Thank you
Traci Walker

Sent from my iPhone

Tracie Langley — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tracie Langley Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Transparency in the market is imperative. Stop caving into corporate greed and corruption and continue enforcing quarterly reports.

Tracy Biediger — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tracy Biediger Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am commenting on S7–2026–15.
There is absolutely no reason to allow companies to hide their books for six months. A lot can happen during that time and there is already way too much fraud and insider trading occurring.

These companies already have to keep their records so there's no savings in allowing them to hold onto the reports for six months. I strongly recommend that you continue to require quarterly reports for investors.
Tracy Biediger MD

Tracy Lippel — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Tracy Lippel Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Enough of rich criminals getting away with Anything! They need quarterly reporting!
Tracy Lippel

Tracy Vonder Haar — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tracy Vonder Haar Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 There should be complete and total transparency. No withholding pertinent information for any amount of time.

Tracy Vonder Haar

Sent from my iPhone

Travis Holmes — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Travis Holmes Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Folks ought to know what's going on with the companies they're putting their trust in. Quarterly reports keep everybody on the same page and give regular people a fair shot at understanding how a business is doing.
If y'all start taking that information away, the big outfits with all the money and fancy experts are gonna have the upper hand, and the rest of us will be left guessing. That don't seem right.
Keep the quarterly disclosures. Good, honest information helps folks make good, honest decisions, and that's the way it ought to be.

Treespleez — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Treespleez Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 It's bad enough we only get quarterly data. The oligarchs would love to keep it hidden forever, like the vaccines contents. No, we are not going along with keeping data hidden.

Mary Cedeno
Sent from Proton Mail for iOS.

Trent Waite — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Trent Waite Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The purpose of the SEC is to regulate the financial sector which ultimately protects the public. This is doing the opposite.

Trent
612-208-2839

Tricia Derrough — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tricia Derrough Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Business must not be given 6 months to do quarterly reports!

Sent from my iPhone

Tricia Dibblee — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tricia Dibblee Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reporting is very important. Not doing so eliminates transparency

---

Triena Winbery — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Triena Winbery Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As fast as our world moves you should be thinking of making it monthly rather than changing it from quarterly to semiannually. I would encourage you to change it to monthly!!!

Trish McAleer — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Trish McAleer Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly reports is transparency!

Trish

Trish McNaull — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Trish McNaull Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Let history be your guide. Don't do it.

Trish Rowe — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Trish Rowe Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am a 78 year old single income widow with an IRA. I don't think a bi-annual report is a good idea. Why does the SEC want to cange from quarterly? Or is this coming ftom trump?

Trisha Brown — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Trisha Brown Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 There is no good reason to get rid of laws that have benefited the American people. This serves only the CEO's. We have bowed to them too much in the last 20 years.

Trisha Brown, School Counselor, NY

Sent via the Samsung Galaxy S26, an AT&T 5G smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Turning Point — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Turning Point Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I can’t believe you’re going to go back to what was changed because it was used to screw people over. I can’t believe the lack of ethics is prominent in this country in this day and age please keep what rules we deployed to keep us safe from corporate robbery

Carolyn Turner, MA, LPC-S, LSOTP

Ty Ford — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ty Ford Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Ty Ford, CEO, Technique, Inc.

Dumbing down the system? That's closer to felonius behavior than I like to see in our system.

Which trumpy thought this was a good idea? Be specific! That, "The SEC says..." hides their identity. WE NEED TO KNOW WHO IS RESPONSIBLE!!!

Sincerely,

Ty Ford

tyford@tyford.com
https://www.tyford.com
Ty Ford Audio Blog
Ty Ford Youtube Channel
Ty Ford Facebook

Tyler — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tyler Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I think allowing companies to file semi-annually allows them to further obfuscate illegal activities and gives them more time to hide their misdeeds while wreaking havoc.

U - Law — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: U - Law Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Companies should report their earnings quarterly as always. Unless for some strange reason they're going to give the American people a cut of the profit

---

Valarie Lewis — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Valarie Lewis Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I feel That quarterly reporting is really important to investors. A lot can go south in 6 months, and only people who work there would be in the know. It seems like it will encourage insider trading violations if that is the case.

Sent from my iPhone

Valerie Kofman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Valerie Kofman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Full disclosure at 3 months, no longer. The public would have no recourse to change, correct or stop any type of changes due to time constraints of undisclosed information or financial actions taken by companies. Being kept in the dark is not ethical nor fully transparent to the American people. Manipulation of this type is clearly not in America's best interest whatsoever. As it is, our country continues to spiral with deception coming from every direction. Let's not feed into it. Run businesses with integrity, honesty and honor.

Proud Daughter of Frederic J. Bertrand, POW - WWII, Germany.
Valerie B. Kofman, Retired

Valerie Davies — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Valerie Davies Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please do not give any company time to hide issues and to benefit from a longer reporting period. Some of us have our life savings and future retirements tied to our investments. The stock market and fund playing field needs to be level, no advantages to the ones making the big decisions. Please leave reporting quarterly so information is available to all.

Valerie A. Davies

Sent from my iPhone

Valerie Dunbar Jones — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Valerie Dunbar Jones Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Maintain the transparency of quarterly reporting. Investors and markets benefit from transparency.

Thank you.

Valerie D Jones
Coppell, Texas

---

vanessa holloman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: vanessa holloman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Provide minimum of quarterly filings need absolute transparency!

Sent from my iPhone

---

varuni edussuriya — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: varuni edussuriya Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not destroy our retirements by allowing Elon Musk to blow up our economy with his bull * companies. Companies should show profits before they IPO. This is insane. Do your job.

Velva Graves — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Velva Graves Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I'm Velva Graves, 83-year-old retired teacher. I'm sad that decisions are being made all too often without regard for the citizens they will inconvenience and even harm. Please reconsider your plan!!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Veronica Schama — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Veronica Schama Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We need to be informed of how our finances are doing. There is no reason to block this information unless you have something to hide. Stay transparent and report to the citizens who keep you going.

Vickey Beaver — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vickey Beaver Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Vickey Beaver, Business Owner.

No good can come of having less information and transparency from companies where many of us have interests due to retirement funds.

You're not "too" old until you no longer enjoy life. Live it as if you don't have a second chance!

Co-Owner Obatron Productions (www.obatron.com, www.facebook.com/obatronproductions, https://www.facebook.com/ObatronFitness)

Greater Rochester Running Club, President
Past President, Lansing-Ithaca Rotary Club (2012-13)

Vickey Frank — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vickey Frank Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Not right, open those books and be honest. Vickey

---

Vicki Dorvall — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vicki Dorvall Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 How about monthly reporting. With the technology available today it shouldn't be a problem. That way there is no insider advantage and people will actually see transparency for a change. Stop the BS of trying to hide from the public that makes you guys shitloads of money!!!! There's enough for everyone to be profitable. Stop being so greedy and share the wealth for a change. Step up and do the right thing.

Vicki Keller — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vicki Keller Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Dear Sirs;
I am a concerned American citizen. I feel that your plan to institute semi-annual financial reporting, rather than quarterly, can lead to a slowing of economic growth, leave more unobserved time for companies to carry out questionable business behavior, and leave the public & economists without timely & reliable data on which to plan & invest. Please reconsider this change, and stay with quarterly reporting.
Thank you
Vicki Keller
Santa Clarita, CA

Vicki Sherman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vicki Sherman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 As an employee of a large public corporation with significant investments in my retirement accounts, I feel strongly about companies being held accountable. If there any issues employees and investors have the right to know before "insiders" and corporate officers divest of their holdings leaving us with the losses. I remember Enron! Keep the quarterly reporting mandatory.

Vicki Sherman, Associate Director, Finance (Business Unit Controller).

Vicki Vaughn — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vicki Vaughn Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Guaranteed to undermine confidence in our corporations. I'd be much less likely to invest in any company that wasn't forthcoming with their financials

---

Vicki Wieland — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vicki Wieland Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Vicki Wieland- retired teacher
I want the people who are investing my pension funds to have the most up-to-date information possible when making decisions that affect my money. Quarterly reports have been the standard for companies for a long time, and I think that should remain the case.

---

vicki williams — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: vicki williams Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Vicki Williams, retired. Corporations have already proven they will do anything no matter who it hurts to turn a buck. They need to be accountable to all stockholders. This is just another ply to avoid accountability for their greed. As a stockholder I insist you leave quarterly reporting alone.

Vickie Butzen — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Vickie Butzen Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Washington wants to let every public company stop reporting its results each quarter and disclose just twice a year. We tried this once, between 1955 and 1970. Less transparency came with lower returns and lower valuations. For an ordinary investor, a return to those days could mean losing a third, or even half, of your life savings.

Sent from my iPhone

Vickie Youngblood — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vickie Youngblood Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Hiding these facts should be illegal. Everything about my personal account/s should be available to me anytime I want to check on them.

Sent from my iPad

Victoria — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Victoria Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We need to see reports every 3 months, not 6 months.

Victoria Yang — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Victoria Yang Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To whom it may concern,

In this tumultuous and chaotic time where misinformation spreads so quickly and unchecked, we need transparency more than ever. In addition, families and individuals are in need of financial stability and companies that make decisions for the good of the people and society, not organizations that only want to save a few pennies while sacrificing livelihoods (because face it, that is what happens with lack of transparency- have you ever seen a company with lack of accountability come out with amazing results that benefit everyone? And even if they did, transparency would not hurt!). Companies would do best if they remain accountable to everyone they serve and answer to, and that means revealing their finances in a timely and frequent manner to all shareholders and all those interested.

Best,
Victoria Yang, MA CCC-SLP

Victoria Hansen — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Victoria Hansen Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This insanity has to stop. This administration is set to destroy our country. All of this just to put more money in big corporation's pockets.

"Do something that will last and be beautiful" - Arthur Miller

---

Victoria Messina — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Victoria Messina Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 My name is Victoria Messina. I am a special education teacher in Hillsborough County, Florida. I believe investments will be hurt for too many people, including myself if reporting is changed to twice annually. I would like to state that the quarterly reporting mandate should stay in place. Thank you for this consideration.

Sent from my iPhone

Victoria Rutledge — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Victoria Rutledge Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 redacted - Keep it!

Get Outlook for iOS

Vince Golla — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vince Golla Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Quarterly financial reporting protects regular, ordinary, hard-working Americans. Shouldn't that interest you? Or would you prefer another stock market crash?

Vincent Frazzini — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Vincent Frazzini Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Vincent E.

Frazzini. Disabled. West Palm Beach, FL. This is just another way for corporate entities to avoid any kind of accountability and avoid paying what they are legally bound to pay. Quarterly reporting makes it more likely to detect any “discrepancies “ before they become a crisis that the tax payers would then have to resolve.

Virginia Calogrias — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Virginia Calogrias Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I do not support the regressive biannual reporting - it does not behoove any US citizen.
Strongly demand that the existing quarterly reporting be maintained- as it is today.

As a recent retiree with a fixed income, do not want any action that would diminish that income.

Virginia Calogrias
redacted
Sent from my iPhone

Virginia Lacefield — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Virginia Lacefield Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am an individual investor, and I rely on quarterly reports to decide where to invest my money for retirement and non-retirement investing. I am deeply concerned about corporate malfeasance and believe that we need more oversight over publicly-traded businesses, not less. Changing this rule would not put cost savings in the pockets of small investors and would allow companies to hide their books for longer periods of time, reducing transparency and increasing risk for all who invest in them. We've tried this before and it was a failure. Let's learn from the past and NOT do this again. Please do NOT move away from quarterly reporting. Thank you.

Virginia Lowery — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Virginia Lowery Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly!

--Virginia Lowery, SPHR-Emeritus

Virginia Stoliker — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Virginia Stoliker Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep your quarterly report !! I'm soo done w this administration and the red haired nut that runs it

---

Vivian Ramire — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Vivian Ramire Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We should have the right to understand what is happening in the companies and organization we invest in. Without this information we could potentially lose out on a lot of money without our knowledge or consent.

Von Troy Waters — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Von Troy Waters Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Von Waters, Analyst. This is important because transparency matters.

W B — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: W B Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This matters to me because transparency is essential to insuring fairness

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Walter Cross — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Walter Cross Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We have had our investment and retirement stolen by Wall Street for a century or more, it's time for us to take back control of our money, including, if not especially, Wall Street!

Sent from my iPhone

Walter Hewitt — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Walter Hewitt Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is ridiculous! KEEP IT QUARTERLY!

Walt

Walter Schwartz — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Walter Schwartz Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Decreasing the frequency of corporate quarterly reporting as an invitation to fraud. It weakens the credibility of United States corporations.

Walter Schwartz
Sr. Manager, Computer software companies
San Mateo, California.

WANDA BOATMAN — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: WANDA BOATMAN Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I depend on quarterly reports to make informed decisions! Wanda Boatman, Investor, market strategist!

Sent from my iPhone

Wanda Smith — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wanda Smith Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Enough! Corporations (aka- insiders) already have an advantage over investors. If you've nothing to hide, keep the books open (at least quarterly)! W. Smith, retired 9-1-1 Director

---

Ward Testerman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ward Testerman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Hey there!

I wanted to share some thoughts on how incredibly helpful quarterly reports are, especially for folks like me who are regular investors. These updates aren't just a bunch of numbers; they're truly what allows us to see what a company is doing and helps us feel confident about where we're putting our hard-earned money.

You know, the big professional investors often have direct lines to company executives, getting insights that the rest of us simply don't. For us everyday investors, those quarterly reports are often our main, if not only, window into how a company is really performing. If that information stopped flowing, it would feel like we're navigating in the dark, and it would definitely create an uneven playing field where some people have all the insider details and others are just guessing.

It really boils down to fairness and transparency in the market. Having this regular, publicly available information empowers all investors, no matter their size, to make smart decisions. It builds trust and makes the entire investment world feel much more open and equitable for everyone.

So, please, let's keep those quarterly updates coming! They truly make a huge difference in creating a fair and understandable investing environment for us all.

Warren M — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Warren M Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly information is critical to our decision making and changing to a semi- annual information providing format could be detrimental to us.

Watson Fitts — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Watson Fitts Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To whomever represents and speaks for my fellow Americans,

I AM A 33 YEAR OLD FATHER, A HUDBAND, AND NEW HOMEOWNER. It is difficult, and I struggle each day to try and provide for our humble life. I have watched this nation slip further into this struggle, and I worry for the nation my children will inherit, and hope and pray they won't need to struggle, as I have.

WE - MY FAMILY AND EVERY OTHER MIDDLE-CLASS AMERICAN - HAVE ALREADY BECOME SO DISADVANTAGED TO THE UPPER ECHELONS OF THIS CORPORATE WORLD. Don't further cripple the average people. Giving these advantages to companies will result in them misleading the public in favor of profit. It has been proven again and again, and has been for decades. I've watched the large majority of Americans and their families suffer, while resources are funneled to the rich, while policy is biased toward the wealthiest. Give more power to the people, the families, that are already struggling to build their wealth.

WE ARE SUPPOSED TO BE A DEMOCRATIC REPUBLIC, NOT A CORPORATE ARISTOCRACY. Renew the AMERICAN dream, one step at a time. Reverse the trend. Disregard the wealth of these rich men, that take you to dinner and shower you with gifts. They don't struggle like us, yet their money speaks so much louder.

Don't cripple my children. Don't sacrifice the backbone of our nation, one vertebra at a time. Don't give these despots, these sycophants, even more ability to dictate America's future. ALLOW US TO PROSPER. GIVE US OUR RIGHT TO SOVEREIGNITY BACK.

Please see our struggle. Please consider the Americans that deserve more, but have their rights and power taken from them, more and more, every year. Please do right by the American people.

Thank you for your consideration.

Watson Fitts

Wayne Denham — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wayne Denham Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Wayne Denham Mechanic, Entrepeneur and Investor
I rely on quarterly reports to evaluate and monitor performance of my investments closely. Given the mismanagement of Social security and other programs - this matters more than ever..instead of eliminating quarterlies why not focus on fixing the natiinal debt, energy prices, social security insolvency and healthcare costs??? Anyone in Congress who supoorts this should be voted OUT

Wayne Johnson — Jun 11, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wayne Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Why break something that doesn't need fixing? Or are the GOP and executive branch trying to cover up some criminal financial wrongdoings?

---

wayne lewis — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: wayne lewis Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Help the average investor, not inside corporations, etc

---

Wendwll Hickey — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wendwll Hickey Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Just another way to steal money with out getting caught and lieing about it maybe we all should visit there offices and have a little life talk.😡

Wendy Bills — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Wendy Bills Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 I am a widowed retiree. My late husband and I worked very hard all of our lives and scrimped and saved. I do NOT want reporting to go back to being semi annual. I cannot afford to lose 1/3 to 1/2 of my life savings. It is a constant money grab by our government and wealthy corporations and it must stop! If you do this it will mean that my planning and saving for the possibility of long term care will have been pointless. I have cared for three people with Alzheimer's and it decimated savings. Please put an end to this dangerous idea. Wendy Bills Fort Worth, TX

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Wendy clemens — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wendy clemens Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We don't want this!!!

Wendy Flockhart — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wendy Flockhart Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Absolutely not. These companies must be accountable in real time

Sent from my iPhone

Wendy Richards — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wendy Richards Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 For the SEC to even CONSIDER such an absurd tactic is unconscionable. Shouldn’t the SEC protect THE PUBLIC not make it easier for the corporations to commit fraud at the public’s expense? There’s no reason to change this process except to benefit corporations and insiders.

Sent from my iPhone

Wendy Sinclair-Smith — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wendy Sinclair-Smith Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Keep disclosure open in the quarterly system

---

Wendy Weil — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wendy Weil Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Wendy Weil, New Yorker nearing retirement age. We need those accounts to live. This plan gives unfair advantage to thoses who meed it less and makes them the accounts less manageable. Stop squeezing people!

Whitney Lard — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Whitney Lard Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We've done this before and it was a fiasco. You set up easier ways to lie, steal and cheat. The answer is NO WAY!

Wilfred Hegg — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wilfred Hegg Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 People need to know how their investments are doing. If companies can keep us in the dark for a full 6 month period, then we are being victimized. Keep reporting requirements quarterly. That is already a long period.

Will Ferraez — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Will Ferraez Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Come on now. Every six months is too long. Help the people and capitalism itself by reducing fraud and helping information be free.

God bless,
Will

Willard Ferguson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Willard Ferguson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 No to six month reporting. Keep the current system.

Willard Ferguson

William B Brott — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William B Brott A return to semi- annual reporting is like walking back to the dark ages. Quarterly reports came about for a reason. Going back to the semi-annual reportd sounds like a cry from the over paid corporate bean counters. These are the same folks who gave us exploding Ford Pintos, exploding DuMont Televisions, as well as fraudulent book keeping that could sneak under the radar far easier with only a semi-annual check. Ask Packard (The American Rolls-Royce) how they felt about the Studebaker Merger. Six month vs. Quarterly reporting only serves the bean counters and the corporations. I have already given you an extremely short, but fatal synopsis of how that works out for the average American. A definite "NO" for anyone with even the flimsiest consciences.

William Clark — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Clark Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is insane. Protect Americans not corporations

Sent from my iPhone

William Corley — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Corley Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Do not close the books. Keep them open all the time.

Sent from my iPad

William Doerge — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: William Doerge Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 The quarterly reporting should not be changed. This is a reduction in regulation and a decrease in information available to investors.
Quarterly information released by companies serves to prevent fraud and market manipulation. This is valuable information for my son's investments.
William Doerge, retired, Central New Jersey

William Hale — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Hale Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Hi, I'm William hale and work for Sodexo in Chattanooga tenn. And I don't want to be left in the dark about my retirement money .

William Osborn — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Osborn Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is opening the door for corruption and I think you know it. We need to keep things as transparent as possible.

William Osborn — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Osborn Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is opening the door for corruption and I think you know it. We need to keep things as transparent as possible. William Osborn

---

William Osborn — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Osborn Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This is opening the door for corruption and I think you know it. We need to keep things as transparent as possible.

William Shaw — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: William Shaw Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 This would be insane and devastating to the investing public, especially retirees. With current technology preparation of timely accurate financial reports is far easier than those earlier times. Less transparency would lead to larger fluctuations with less frequent reporting

Sent from my iPhone

---

willnbrenda schmitz — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: willnbrenda schmitz Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Not only do I strongly OPPOSE reduced reporting, I want to see more. Large corporations should report monthly instead of the quarterly reporting currently required.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Wynelle Erickson — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wynelle Erickson Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Less transparency is NEVER good. I have just retired and in this uncertain economic climate it will be critical to be aware of shifting markets to keep the life I worked so hard for. Wynelle Erickson

Sent from Gmail Mobile

Yael Heller — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Yael Heller Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 More disclosure is better. A lot can his semiannual.

Sent from my iPhone

Yochanan Klyman — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Yochanan Klyman Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 We want quarterly reporting to remain

Yousef (ahmadyf) Ahmad — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Yousef (ahmadyf) Ahmad Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Yousef Ahmad, physician, Cincinnati. Much of this reporting is automated and less costly for large corporations. There is no reason to drop to semi-annual reporting when it is more hazardous to investors/the public and practically speaking no different for large corporations.

Yousef Ahmad, DO, MSc.
Assistant Professor of Pulmonary and Critical Care Medicine
Medical Director: Medical Step-Down Unit University of Cincinnati
redacted

Zachary Pearce — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Zachary Pearce Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
These two words "Public Companies," should be the only thing that needs to be said when opposing the SEC's new rule!

Zina Urrutia — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Zina Urrutia Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
By being open about everything creates an environment where everyone is kept honest and business is conducted ethically. It creates an environment where people can develop trust in their decisions and can have confidence in their financial decisions. Any attempt to hide behind beaurocracy and red tape hinders these abilities. People's lives can be changed by decisions they make and they deserve to have as much knowledge as possible when making these decisions.

ZyraLin — Jun 11, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ZyraLin Affiliation: Jun. 11, 2026 Please keep this quaterly It has worked.

Irene Leech — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Irene Leech Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Investors need at least quarterly reports. We're in charge of our own retirement funding but can't keep up without available information. We're competing with professionals who have lots of information. In general, too much is hidden from citizens these days.
Irene Leech
Associate Professor, Consumer Studies

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

(null) (null) — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: (null) (null) Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Terry Sheridan
Principal Engineer, Honeywell Aerospace
Please preserve the quarterly financial and performance reporting sequence as is currently practiced to continue the transparency in corporate operations to shareholders and other stakeholders.
This is important to me since I have stock and other important financial products with several companies. Extending the reporting periods to every six months will impact my ability to judge the performance of those companies where I have investments and companies where I plan to invest.
Six months is simply too long. Please keep the current reporting frequency unchanged.
Thank you.

A H — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: A H Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I need timely information
A lot can happen daily, and weekly much less monthly quarterly…
Please reconsider these regulations…

“Viva La Vida”

AB Cooper — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: AB Cooper Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Antoinette Cooper, Private Individual. US Citizen.

I value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my stock portfolio.

I request that quarterly reports remain for the U.S. Stock Exchange.

Ace Cook — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Ace Cook Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Candace Cook, recreation program coordinator 2, Georgia. I support quarterly reporting.

---

aclaytonjr — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: aclaytonjr Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are needed for regular investors to know the financial health of companies we invest in. Investing blindly would not be beneficial for us. Its like not getting your bloodwork or seeing your doctor regularly. The financial health and reporting every 3 months matters significantly!!!!

Sent from my Galaxy

Adam Vandiver — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Adam Vandiver Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Question. Is the SEC not in the bussiness of protecting investors? What would justify this other than convenience for the company and the SEC? Unless this is caused by budget restrictions.
This seems to be following a common trend of more privacy for the top and less privacy for the common people. This used to be important info that the investor needs to make a decision.

Adam Whitmore — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Adam Whitmore Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I do read my reports quarterly and would actually like them monthly. Every six months is NOT often enough. I like to keep my eyes on my investments..

Thank you, Adam Whitmore

Sent from my iPhone

Adeeba Spann — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Adeeba Spann Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Hello. My name is Adeeba.

I am a dieitian working for a hospital in Texas. Transparency and right to determination outside of government encroach are cornerstone principle of this administration. As someone who is working to save and invest to assure my future, I find it difficult to image the principles at befitting of this change. Time and time again we see discretion in offered to the world of the elite only with the joint benefit of puppeteering every other aspect our every day lives.

Is transparency just for thse who pay? As someone who pays to invest, believing in the success of these companies, why am I owed so much less knowledge on their outcomes? Companies who sink will be able to have the capital to net even; the other 99% wont. What more defense is needed to them than us?

I hope this message finds its way to an open mind though I am extremely doubtful on the impact a comment as such would leave. I know I shall survive with my mouth slightly above water; however, I know others shall not. In the same way that I have a responsibility to assure and center on the betterment of the individual, there is a responsibility towards the community at large in supporting all their needs as best as we can. As elected officials, we demand the same.

Best regards,
Adeeba

Adriana Britton — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Adriana Britton Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Corporations already have the infrastructure to prepare quarterly reports and AI tools will simplify reporting. Quarterly reporting is a must have for consumer and institutional investors. There are many instances where individual must provide the value of stocks such as for estate tax filing that requires an accurate picture of stock values. The much larger issue will be the lack of confidence from individual and institutional investors in the market if reporting is reduced. The large gap in reporting will allow bad actors a greater chance of not being caught and causing a spiraling effect much like the banking crisis and previous stock market crashes. And, consider this failures will directly be traced to the decision to change reporting under the Trump administration.

From Adriana Britton, marketing coordinator, Portland,OR

Sent from my iPhone

Adrienne Gusoff/BubbyGram — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Adrienne Gusoff/BubbyGram Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please keep reports quarterly. We investors need more transparency not less.

Adrienne
Bubbygram.com

Sent from my phone. Please excuse any strange formatting, misspellings, or weird autocorrects. I DO know the difference!

Aggie Austin-Guyer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Aggie Austin-Guyer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The quarterly reports to investment holders provides the frequency needed to make the best decisions regarding our investments. To change that to semiannual would be a detriment to the individual, as we would have less timely info to gauge our needs.

Agnes Austin-Guyer
Sent from my iPhone

Aimee Agee — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Aimee Agee Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stop trying to ruin America. Report as you should.

Sent from my iPad

AJ Soracco — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: AJ Soracco Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not remove quarterly statements. I need them to make my retirement savings decisions.

AK Miles — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: AK Miles Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is a terrible policy for investors not within a tight circle. Its important to remain transparent in reporting or it's useless. Breeds instability and lack of faith in the markets. Likely to increase corruption and lack in accountability.

A.K. Miles

Alan Beck — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alan Beck Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 YOU already ALLOW POLITICIANS & CORPERATIONS to BREAK THE LAW BY INSIDER TRADING & DO NOTHING!!! STOP ALLOWING CRIMINALS TO PROFIT!!!

---

alan cohen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: alan cohen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the playing field LEVEL

Sent from my iPhone

Alan Fann — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alan Fann Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly is important, as things can change significantly over three months. Imagine how much significance would be erased into undetectability on a compression and suppression timetable - it would take way more copy to explain trends etc., on a six month basis, while three months is more digestible.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Alec Milnes — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alec Milnes Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am a Border Patrol Agent with a significant amount of my net worth invested in the stock market. Nothing about this new rule change benefits the general investing public, this is solely to the benefit of corporations and people with insider knowledge. That is unconscionable. The game already feels rigged. Please don't make it worse.

-Alec Milnes

Alessandro Machi — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alessandro Machi Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I like the idea of a six month window so Companies are not constantly pressured to produce results every 3 months. However, Please figure out how to make sure that insiders don't benefit from a longer window that outsiders are not privvy too.

Alessandro Machi — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alessandro Machi Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I like the idea of a six month window so Companies are not constantly pressured to produce results every 3 months.

However, Please figure out how to make sure that insiders don't benefit from a longer window that outsiders are not privvy too.

-Alessandro Machi
Los Angeles, CA

---

alex marano — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: alex marano Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports, the current method, is best and should remain the rule. I vote and remember, s/Alex Marano, New York, NY.

Alex S — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alex S Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As an investor, market analyst, and financial stakeholder, I strongly advocate for the preservation of mandatory quarterly earnings reports (Form 10-Q) for all publicly traded companies. Reducing reporting frequency to a semi-annual schedule would create dangerous information vacuums, increase market volatility, and disadvantage everyday retail investors.We petition to maintain quarterly reporting based on these critical principles:Ensures Market Transparency: Frequent disclosures prevent corporate management from hiding operational downturns or financial instability for six months at a time. Protects Retail Investors: Institutional investors have private access to alternative data channels. Regular, public quarterly reports level the playing field for individual, everyday investors.Reduces Market Volatility: Smaller, predictable information updates every 90 days prevent massive, destabilizing stock price shocks that occur when six months of data are dumped at once.Lowers the Cost of Capital: Robust transparency builds deep market trust. High trust directly translates to lower borrowing and capital costs for companies.Enables Swift Accountability: Quarterly updates allow shareholders to spot poor executive decisions early and pivot before significant capital is wasted. Frequent, structured financial disclosure is the bedrock of market integrity. I urge regulators to reject any proposals to weaken the current quarterly reporting standard.

Alex Schaefer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alex Schaefer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dear members of the SEC: I am very much against changing the requirement of corporations reporting from quarterly to semiannually. The quarterly reports are vital to seeing the trajectory of the company sooner rather than later, allowing for better decision-making for investors.

Regards,
Alex Schaefer
1478 Diamond Head Dr
Decatur GA

Alex Schaefer
404.557.8783

Alexa Rivera — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alexa Rivera Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Alexa Rivera. As a Marketing Manager who is heavily invested in the market, I believe allowing publicly traded companies to hide poor financial results for up to six months undermines transparency and prevents investors from making informed decisions based on accurate, timely information. It also increases the risk of market manipulation, insider advantage, and sudden stock price shocks when the concealed information is eventually disclosed.

Alexandra Engle — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alexandra Engle Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Alexandra Engle, retired.
The swamp is clearly running rampant. Americans are paying taxes that corporations should be. We can't afford for corporations to have even less transparency. They should be reporting monthly in this day and age of computers, not looking for ways to reduce the required reporting.

Alexandra Kidd — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alexandra Kidd Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We deserve to know how are investments are doing with quarterly reports not 6 months blackouts

Leigh Kidd
Teacher

Alice Rohrssen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Alice Rohrssen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Alice Rohrssen: stock holder in various companies. I need the information from QUARTERLY REPORTS, to keep an eye on when to buy or sell the stocks in my portfolio.

Alice R

Alisa Gass — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alisa Gass Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Christopher and Alisa Gass, Federal BOP Counselor.

Any interruption to our savings and TSP will obliterate our future and retirement. Based on our understanding and research, semi-annual reporting will negatively impact the US Market and make the majority of Americans lose money. I bet you also have money invested in the market. Do you want it to keep accumulating? Or do you want to lose 40% of your assets? Do not follow through with semi-annual reporting.

If quarterly reporting is harder for companies and the SEC….create more jobs!! This is what we need.

Leading investors are warning against this change.

Vote NO to semi-annual reporting. And keep the quarterly reporting that has proven to be healthier for the US economy.

Thank you,

Alisa and Christopher Gass

Alison Farraher — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alison Farraher Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Alison Farraher and I'm a Registered Nurse. Please stop putting the billionaires first. Consider those of us who are working everyday, sacrificing our time, energy and in some cases our literal bodies. We work all our lives and scrimp and save, giving up dinners out and vacations to save for our retirement. To hear that the SEC is willing to change the rules for companies making it easier and less risky for them to make money and more risky for the actual backbone of the country (human beings) to safely invest… well , I guess I'm not surprised. I guess I'll just work until I die while you enjoy your yachts. Happy dystopia!

Regretfully yours,
Alison

Sent from my iPhone

---

alitadit — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: alitadit Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please continue the quarterly reporting and maintain fairness in the market and on Wall Street!

Sent from my Galaxy

---

alitadit — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: alitadit Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please continue the quarterly reporting and maintain fairness in the market and on Wall Street! Alita Ditkowsky

Sent from my Galaxy

Allan Joy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Allan Joy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Allan Joy, Retired, NO WAY should public companies move away from quarterly reporting.

Respectfully,

Allan Joy
(737) 376-2699 mobile
allanrjoy@outlook.com

Allen Frechette — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Allen Frechette Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Leave it alone

---

Allison Kerlin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Allison Kerlin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly is the only way to transparency and protect stakeholders who all or major parts of the business. Period.

Regards,
Allison Kerlin
Allison.Kerlin@gmail.com
267-980-6816
I also accept text messages
Connect with me @ www.linkedin.com/in/allisonkerlin

Allyson Every — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Allyson Every Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a retired pensioner and very small investor, I strongly condemn this terrible piece of bad faith legislation. It is larded with many direct & indirect attacks against average Americans, as investors, current and future retirees, holders of 401(k's)and similar investment instruments, pension fund managers & participants—and foreign investors in the US and world economies.
Responsible, wise investing requires solid, accurate, timely information and knowledge about actual current corporate performance and challenges.
For all the downsides of corporate "quarterly thinking,"this proposal is a bad faith, unfair attempt to allow companies to shield their actual performance from investor scrutiny to just twice-a-year reporting. It puts average investors and fund managers at a serious disadvantage.
At present, there is already flagrantly —even boastfully—demonstrated market manipulation being committed by those in-the-know "friends and family" making dramatic portfolio changes in the hours prior to abrupt major government decisions and actions. Even worse, we fear there are no federal "cops on the beat" currently prepared to act unless Congress or another administration sees to it.
People have invested in the US economic and monetary system because it's been perceived to be essentially kept on the level due to fair and proper laws, regulations and justice. This proposed legislation would further damage that perception (and reality) even more. Please stop this legislation from moving forward.
Sincerely,
Allyson Every
23 Winding Way
Rockland MA 02370
allyson.every@gmail.com

Alyson Callaway — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alyson Callaway Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The public has a right to know and a stock holder has even more right to know what is happening inside the company.

The regulations have to stay intact because if you wait 6 months in today's fast information environment that is too long and too much can happen that affects the company and the market environment.

I think that monthly reports should be required because so much happens in a month in the world that more information is better than less information.
Sent from my iPhone

Alz A — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Alz A Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Yet again you're throwing the public under the bus. With what your doing now only insiders can predict markets, the public loses and the big companies win. Not a good move for the public. Throwing them under the bus

---

Amanda Ballenger Harrison — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Amanda Ballenger Harrison Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly is doable longer is not. I'd actually like monthly reports.

Sent from my iPhone

Amanda Mathews — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Amanda Mathews Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do not do this to the people. This is going to hurt people.

Amanda Mathews, SR. Account Manager salesElement LLC tel 646.837.0767 x14 www. saleselement.com
1 Blue Hill Plaza, Lobby Level, Studio 1509, Pearl River, NY 10965

Amanda Vu — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Amanda Vu Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

please keep the quarterly requirement to have disclosures published for the public. It helps me as an investor and as a consumer of these products/businesses make informed decisions.

Amanda Wolters — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Amanda Wolters Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Wolters Family Arizona
Real estate, technology sales, and social media / radio.
We need more transparency, not less. Stop trying to hurt the little people.

Amanda Wolters

Loveford22@aol.com

Amber Bright — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Amber Bright Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Don't do this.

Amber Bright
Vonore, TN

Amber Bright — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Amber Bright Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stay at home mom, small business owner for electronic repair, this matter because I do not agree with private/closed doors. Keep it public.

Amber Bright
Vonore, TN

Amber Fruhling — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Amber Fruhling Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 People deserve to know what's happening with their money as often as possible. Anything longer than quarterly is unreasonable. Semi-annual updates aren't meant to improve anything other than for people in the know up top.

Sent from my iPhone

Amber Fruhling — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Amber Fruhling Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 People deserve to know what's happening with their money as often as possible. Anything longer than quarterly is unreasonable. Semi-annual updates aren't meant to improve anything other than for people in the know up top. This matters to me because people deserve to have agency over their decisions.

Amber Fruhling
Teacher

Sent from my iPhone

Amy & Robert — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Amy & Robert Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Hiding anything implies shady practices. Why hide… unless you don't want the unvarnished truth to be known?!?

Sent from my iPhone

Amy Doyle — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Amy Doyle Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Amy Doyle, Technical Project Coordinator, Petersburg Virginia. Please don’t go back to the old ways of semi-annual reporting. I cannot afford to lose up to 1/3 of my retirement! I’m already at risk of losing SS, or a good portion of it, that I paid into all my life! Sincerely, Amy Doyle

Kind regards,

Amy Doyle

Amy Myrtue Nelson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Amy Myrtue Nelson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please continue to require quarterly reports.
Things are so corrupt in this country already. You need to be careful with the retirement funds people have saved. Rules were put in place to prevent another stock market crash. WE don't need to relive 1929. You need to protect small middle class investors, not the inside traders. Quarterly reports allow me to decide when it is time to sell an investment.

Amy Pasternack — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Amy Pasternack Keeping reporting quarterly matters more now than it ever has before. It's already been more than evident that the current administration has already had far too manunfair advantages! I am a civil servant with an Associate Degree in accounting, Unfortunately, my current position has little to due with my degree and I am still paying for it. The working people need to have access to the information that can help us to make the most of our hard earned money so that we can hope to retire with some degree of relief that our money be there for us. Amy Pasternack, Office Assistant II

---

amy umpleby — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: amy umpleby Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please do NOT change reporting rules! We tried this once, between 1955 and 1970. Less transparency came with lower returns and lower valuations. For an ordinary investor, a return to those days could mean losing a third, or even half, of their life savings. I am an "ordinary investor," I am a law abiding Ameican who has saved and paid off my debts and spent wisely for 60 years. Don't punish me, or threaten my savings, so close to retirement! This rule will hurt people. Don't do it.

Amy

"The tax which will be paid for the purpose of education is not more than the thousandth part of what will be paid to kings, priests, and nobles who will rise up among us if we leave the people in ignorance."
-- Thomas Jefferson

An Individual Investor — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: An Individual Investor Subject: Opposing Proposed Rule on Optional Semiannual Reporting (Release No. 33-11414 / File No. S7-2026-15) To Whom It May Concern, I am writing as an independent retail investor to strongly oppose the SEC's proposal to allow public companies to switch from quarterly to semiannual financial reporting. I am a 57-year-old on Social Security Disability. I trade on a strict, limited budget, using platforms like Robinhood to avoid fees. Over the last six years, I have carefully built a portfolio from scratch, contributing $50 to $100 at a time when I can afford it, totaling $9,950 in personal investments. Through careful research, I grew that into a $25,000 valuation, which recently dropped to just over $22,000 due to market volatility. This money represents the most savings I have ever accumulated in my entire life. It is my only retirement safety net, and I do not have decades left to recover from catastrophic market losses. I strongly oppose reducing the frequency of earnings reports for the following reasons: 1. Severe Loss of Transparency: I base my investment decisions strictly on quarterly earnings reports and public company research. Moving to a six-month reporting cycle means I will be operating in the dark for half the year. 2. Exacerbating the Insider Advantage: Wall Street insiders and institutional firms already have an enormous information advantage. Reducing public reporting frequency ensures that everyday investors like me will be the last to know when a company's fundamentals are failing, potentially causing me to lose a substantial portion of my life savings before the public ever learns why. 3. Increased Market Volatility: The market reacts rapidly to global events on 1-month and 3-month intervals. Forcing investors to wait six months for audited financial data will make the market harder to predict, reward short-term speculation, and ultimately drive small investors out of the market entirely. If this rule passes and reduces transparency, the market will become too dangerous for people in my position. I will feel forced to withdraw my money from the stock market entirely. Please do not pass this rule. It further tilts the playing field in favor of the wealthy and strips away the protections that the "little guy" relies on to safely build a future. Sincerely, An Individual Investor

---

Ana Ciereszko — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ana Ciereszko Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To hide financial information from investors is criminal. Do not allow this change.

Ana A. Ciereszko Professor Emeritus of Chemistry

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Andrea Bloom — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Andrea Bloom Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Absolutely essential

Sent from my iPhone

Andrea Butterfield — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Andrea Butterfield Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No. Transparency is essential. Do not hide the figures. Thank you.

Andrea Butterfield

Andrea Lumley — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Andrea Lumley Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Andrea Williams … Retired.
The country has been taken over by corruption, fraud and greed. Please help us keep Democracy. Without it, the country we grew up in is over.,

Sent from my iPhone

---

andrea p — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: andrea p Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need more transparency- not less!
I am opposed to this!

Get Outlook for Android

Andrew Chase — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Andrew Chase Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 There's too much fraud already. NO WAY!!

Andrew Chase

Sent from my iPhone

Andrew Hartman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Andrew Hartman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Andrew Hartman, I'm getting closer to retirement age and I had planned on using my 401k to help fund my retirement. I need my plan to be able to make sound decisions and access info timely from companies. Quarterly reports help them (my plan) and me as a private investor make better decisions.

-Andy

Andrew Miller-Thomas — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Andrew Miller-Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Nonsense. Corporate America needs more transparency not less. We should be discussing monthly reports, not reducing the number of them. This is a pointless change at best.

Andrew Miller-Thomas, Library Administrator

Sent from my iPhone

Andrew Norman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Andrew Norman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is a terrible idea. Less transparency and accountability will probably lead to a massive loss of faith in corporate equities. Please protect your constituents' life savings by rejecting this terrible proposal.

Sent from my iPhone

Andy Gelmers — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Andy Gelmers Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Look at history. Semi annual reports hurt investors.

Sent from my iPhone

Andy Finneran — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Andy Finneran Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As an investor with millions in the market I expect quarterly reporting on all my investments. Six months is too long a time in the modern market cycles. Much of the data gathering and the reports themselves could be automated and even done with AI.
There is NO reason to do less reporting.

Thank you,
Andrew Finneran
Private Investor Manager

Andy Sitison — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Andy Sitison Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am against semi-annual reporting. This will have a negative impact on the average US citizen who is already stretched and struggling to live in the current world. Protect Americans, do not give another open door to the greedy.

Andy Wallace — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Andy Wallace Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 With fraud and manipulation running rampant, now is the time for more, not less transparancy. Benefits from the move to less reporting roll up to a few institutions but harm most investors. I urge you to reject the request for less reporting.

~Andy Wallace~

Angela Hipp — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Angela Hipp Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My 401(k) is money I contributed and I have the right to check that balance whenever I want. I also may need to make changes in how it's invested, I need to have access to what is happening at least quarterly. This is imperative.

Angela McCalla — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Angela McCalla Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No hiding the books from the public!!

Angela Ryan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Angela Ryan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need and must have quarterly reports to make our changes as needed. That is a necessity.

Angela Yeager — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Angela Yeager Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I support maintaining quarterly earnings reporting requirements rather than moving to semi-annual reporting. Quarterly reporting promotes transparency, market efficiency, and accountability. Investors of all sizes—not only institutional investors—benefit from regular access to financial performance and business updates. More frequent reporting helps reduce information asymmetry and supports fairer price discovery.
While concerns about short-termism are valid, reducing reporting frequency is not the right solution. Long-term thinking can be encouraged through changes to executive incentives, investor communication practices, and guidance policies without limiting access to timely information. Quarterly reporting also provides earlier visibility into emerging risks, operational changes, and shifts in economic conditions. Delaying disclosure to semi-annual intervals could increase uncertainty and volatility by creating larger information gaps.
Public markets function best when investors receive consistent, comparable, and timely information. For these reasons, I encourage the SEC to retain quarterly earnings reporting requirements.
Thank you for considering this comment.

Angela Yeager

Sustainability Professional and Program Manager
Lakewood, OH 44107

Cell: 216-346-5948

“Let Nature be your teacher.” – William Wordsworth

Angie Golleher — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Angie Golleher Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Let's keep the corruption down and stop backing the big corporations.

Thank you,

Angie Golleher
Angie G LLC
AngieGllc@gmail.com
503-440-5942

Ann Jones - Smith — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ann Jones - Smith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I want to be able to keep a close eye on my retirement funds. Why should we give companies the opportunity to lose or steal our money. Do you check your bank balance regularly?

Ann Smith, retired

Sent from my iPhone

Ann Briggs — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ann Briggs Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Faith in the stock market world be destroyed by less reporting. Good for insiders, terrible for other investors.
Trump ruins everything

Ann Briggs
Hospital Quality
Long time investor with Raymond James

Ann Carter — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ann Carter Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting- 6 months is inappropriate and gives inaccurate impression of company stability and risks increase with the lack of transparency.

Sent from Proton Mail for iOS.

Ann Guthrie — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ann Guthrie Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Cutting reporting to every six months would be a terrible mistake and irresponsible. The SEC has always held a high standard and this move would undercut confidence in an institution that investors depend upon for honest and truthful information about companies. Many years ago I worked for Merrill Lynch as an administrative assistant. I saw first hand how the SEC kept financial consultants and companies in check from illegal activities. This is not the time to lower standards and increase the opportunities for companies to withhold information and coverup less than legal activities.

Please, maintain quarterly reporting for the sake of investors, who depend on the integrity of the SEC.

Sincerely,
Ann Guthrie
Teaching Retiree and Former Administrative Assistant at Merrill Lynch

Sent from my iPhone

Ann Krause — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ann Krause Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I want to know what's going on with my 401k monthly not twice a year! If anything you should be increasing the reporting periods so we have visibility into our funds.

Ann Proctor — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ann Proctor Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Insiders want this to protect themselves and hurt us-the average citizen. We deserve better! We want reports more often than six months. NO to this!

Sent from my iPhone

Ann Rich — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ann Rich Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is absolutely horrendous! This is just another way this administration wants to hide the truth from the American people and maybe other countries too! One more way that we are getting left in the dark while mischievous practices are going on behind our backs! The rich are continuing to get richer while the middle class and the poor are getting poorer. Cur this * out! We are not stupid!
Ann Rich, Retired, North Carolina

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Ann Stofflet — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Ann Stofflet Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Things are corrupt enough in this country right now. This change is NOT for the benefit of investors, but solely for the corporations. This is a terrible idea! Must be quarterly, or more frequent, not less! Enough with trying to rip off the little guy to benefit the already wealthy! We didn't invest our entire lives for you to put our retirement at risk and in the hands of these corrupt organizations who are only concerned with their enrichment.

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Anna Krenzien — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anna Krenzien Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Anna Krenzien, retired. I am on a fixed income like other retired people. My savings has to last at least 25 more years. I keep a close eye on market trends and P and E statements and trends. 6 months is too long to make adjustments to my portfolio.

Anna Marie Dwyer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anna Marie Dwyer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Anna Marie Dwyer; Pottstown PA. Manager,Planning/Putchading/Customer Service. Do you see my job title? It’s taken my 32 years to get this far and still I struggle to save for retirement in the not too distant future. Why are you considering going backwards? Who benefits? Certainly not those who are trying to save for the future. This should not even be an option. Please do not make this change.

Sent from my iPhone

Anna Schlobohm de Cruder — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anna Schlobohm de Cruder Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is Anna Schlobohm de Cruder, a dementia doula and caregiving trainer.
I am an almost retired freelancer whose portfolio is going to be my mainstay when I do retire.

The quarterly reports by Public Companies are vital to my understanding and to decisions I make about my future.
We already have massive amounts of insider trading. Losing the quarterly reports gives yet more advantages to the rich and to the powerfully connected.

Please keep the quarterly reports. They help level the playing field for those of us who are interested in our investments.

thank you for your time,
Anna Schlobohm de Cruder,
Altadena, CA 91001

Virus-free.www.avg.com

Anna Woodard — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anna Woodard Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a retired public school counselor, I depend on the QUARTERLY reports to manage my retirement funds. Please don't change this important tool! Anna Armour Woodard. Portland, Oregon

---

Anne — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anne Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We don't want a return to the 1950s! Keep SEC reporting on the current schedule.

With the recent sharply increased costs of food, medicines, fuel, electricity, and services already burdening those of us on fixed incomes, we can't sustain further hits to our financial position.

Anne Petry, retiree in southern Illinois.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Anne Andrews — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anne Andrews Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Transparency is of vital importance. I know companies would not accept or operate without access or snalyzing data. This should be prohibited.

Sent from my iPhone

Anne Dvorak — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anne Dvorak Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I'm a retired teacher with a 403b. If this happens, I'll be taking out that money and making the situation public so that others can do the same. Whoopsie, there goes the stock market.

Dr. Joyce Dvorak

Anne LeBlanc — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anne LeBlanc Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Anne Fredrickson. retired RN. This sounds so illegal-so they can steal from you for 6 months unhide. wrong. Retirees have limited funds with inflation going up every year so losing this money is very hard on them.

Anne O'Rourke — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anne O'Rourke Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I wish to keep my quarterly reports. As a retired person my stocks are an important source of income. Anne O'Rourke. Retired.

Anne Sterrett — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anne Sterrett Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Anne Sterrett, retired Public School Principal, Panama City Beach, FL
I worked very hard in my caree. Public reporting and accountability were central to my role. I expect no less from institutions in which I have invested my hard-earned retirement savings. Please continue quarterly earnings reports. You owe accountability to your investors.

Sent from my iPad

Annette Spanhel — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Annette Spanhel Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Annette Spanhel, Accountant. Keep the reports quarterly! We need the checks and balances.

Annette Spanhel.

Annie Selden — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Annie Selden Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I see no reason to change things. More information, not less is needed. I am worried about how this will affect my retirement funds.

Dr. Annie Selden
Las Cruces, NM 88012

Sent from my iPhone

Annmarie A Baldini — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Annmarie A Baldini Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Markets move way too fast for this to be considered. It’s like selling a black box. Stop this now. Stick to quarterly reporting. It’s your responsibility.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Hello SEC,
As I retiree in Campton Hills, Illinois , I expect my quarterly statements so that I can plan my investments and disbursements for the upcoming quarter. This way I will always be as up to date as possible to where my spendable income.
Semi-annually reporting by companies is not in consumers best interest in this digital age. Public awareness is in the best interest for all investors in a timely manner.
I am requesting that you vote to retain (KEEP) the quarterly reporting format !

Respectfully submitted on 6/10/2026
Kathleen Kocunik

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Carol A Lapp, Ph.D., retired scientist. Retired folks have enough uncertainty with money management without removing 2/3 of the information from our data!

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The companies need to report financial information three times a year and follow-up with an annual report for the 4th financial report. The four reports should be required for all corporations listed on any stock exchange located in the USA!
/S/ James Winzeler

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are necessary

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need more investing information not less.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Nancy Matlack Washington State Retired investor. Regular monthly transparency is the only way to responsibly serve Americans investment needs. Do not go back to 1955 rules! It is criminal hiding data from investours! It only benefits big business and makes us poorer with less in our retirement accounts.

Sent from my T-Mobile 4G LTE device

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Transparency matters in an economy that is ever so quickly losing honesty for every day folks. Keep the reports quarterly.

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep it a a quarter, every three months will keeps better scale of value.

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 that is a moronic proposal!

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep Quarterly Reporting!

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This was tried previously and proved to be detrimental and unsuccessful. Why change a reporting system that works?

I am Cynthia Davies,Ph. D. Human Resources professional, and this matters to me because I rely on my investments for my positive financial future and getting information on a regular quarterly basis.

Sent from my iPhone
Cynthia J. Davies, Ph.D, SPHR, SHRM-SCP
610.730.0734

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep Quarterly Reporting

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Companies should show their books every month like the rest of us have to.

Sent from my iPad

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Too much can happen to a company in a 6-month time frame. These public companies need to be held accountable and continue to report on a quarterly basis.

Jennifer Evans, president of American Surgical Supply

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a senior and a special education teacher I find that monthly reporting is the best way to ensure all is going according to plan. I run a household and live within a budget like most Americans. You should too. Perhaps we should make it monthly since this allows even more transparency. Mary E. Davis M.Ed.

Mary Davis
425-442-8050

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly. We need more transparency not less.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 DO NOT MAKE THIS UNETHICAL MOVE

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Chris Buchanan and I am retired. Keep business financial reporting quarterly so investors can more accurately monitor the financial health of companies.

Sent from Proton Mail for Android.

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 There goes another safeguard meant to protect the honest working man. I wonder what the GOP pays for good Red Herring ideas?

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Investors need to have quarterly reports available to make sound judgements. Do not allow companies to only report earnings every 6 months!

Carol Soldi-Hall
Retired

Sent from AOL on Android

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please don’t ruin our investments by limiting reports to twice annually. I can’t take any losses, my investments are small and I’m struggling. Please, I worked hard for my money and retirement. Let’s keep the reports quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The only time I suspect companies are up to something is when they wanted to keep information away from me. If you're gonna push for semi annually, I think I'd like to push for monthly. Quarterly is as low as you should go for information sharing.

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Transparency is of great importance to our country and its solvency. If we, as individuals, have to be forthright as taxpayers, so should businesses and corporations.
Amy Kurtz
Retired Teacher
Saint Petersburg, FL

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Jake Theobald
Software Engineer
Dubuque, IA

No, no, no, no, no. Transparency and Information are critical in order to accurately track the financial viability of a company/stock. Less reporting (LESS TIMELY INFORMATION) is bad. This is NOT busy work that we make these companies do. This is critical fianancial information that all stockholders need to be timely and accurate. LESS INFORMATION IS BAD.

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 American wealth is dependent upon open financial results. Not only will returns drop but fewer people will invest. Please do not change reporting to be semiannually.

Thanks,

Julia Zorzi

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Darlene Harrison says this matters to me because SEC is there to protect the public from scams and fraud, not allow it. Who wants to cut down the reporting time? Scammers, thieves, FELONS…. We need more transparency not less … stop letting people in the financial industry steal our hard earned money and start protecting our interests not theirs - that is YOUR JOB!

Sent from my awesome iPad!

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stand up to The Dumpster and all his corporate cronies!

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a retired investor, I follow my holdings at least weekly and rely on quarterly reporting to verify my observations and conclusions. Allowing public companies to go for longer intervals between mandated reporting provides additional opportunity for unwarranted surprises, undisclosed adverse information, internal policy and financial changes, and evidence of mismanagement. As a private investor in a non-public entity, we insist on, review, and advise on monthly reporting at a minimum, and for critical activity periods, this reporting can be weekly.
I strongly request that quarterly reporting for public companies be maintained.

Alex M. Zislin
21 Hereford Drive
Princeton Junction, NJ 08550
609-439-7529
a.zislin@ieee.org

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 José Fernández BUILDING MNGR in NYC
All this will do, is further facilitate already rampant corporate corruption and lack of accountability.

Jose Fernandez
jose7fernandez@nyc.rr.com
646-479-8733

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Corporate boards and executives are and should remain accountable to their shareholders. Quarterly reports and public meetings make this barely possible. Quarterly reports are the bare minimum of reporting. Employees report weekly and monthly to their managers and the executives and leadership. Shareholders deserve more frequent, not less frequent, reporting of the productivity and performance of every aspect and hour spent by company executives.

Thank you for focusing on the needs of shareholders.
Gwyneth Robe
Canton, Ohio

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep it to 3 months-dont duck with my money

---

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am writing to demand that the SEC not change reporting for public companies from quarterly to every six months. Quarterly data is essential for investors to accurately assess the data on market and corporate trends and changes. Investors deserve transparency - delayed or obscured negative news is not acceptable. Additionally, the proposed rule risks market volatility. Volatility risks retirement income for millions of Americans who are already financially stressed under the current administration's reckless fiscal policies.
Maintain current quarterly reporting.
Thank you.
Fran Cilella
Holland, MI

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Denise Adams and I'm retired. I depend on quarterly statements for my investments because it helps me to know how and why I need to control or possibly contribute towards one investment over another. I truly believe knowing my quarterly returns makes me feel more financially secure and confident in my investments. Companies get enough breaks and I believe it will help prevent fraud more so than biannual returns.

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am writing to respectfully express my profound conviction regarding the continued implementation of quarterly reporting. This critical regulatory measure serves as an indispensable tool for maintaining transparency and ensuring an equitable environment for all stakeholders. Its consistent application is paramount to fostering accountability and preventing potential imbalances within the governed landscape.

As a resident of Minnesota, my name is Lynda Kobb, and the implications of this policy are of considerable importance to my family and me, as well as to the broader community. We observe its direct impact on the stability and fairness of the system it oversees.

Therefore, I earnestly urge your support for the preservation of quarterly reporting. Its continued enforcement is not merely a preference, but a fundamental requirement for the collective welfare and integrity that we all strive to uphold.

Thank you for your time and thoughtful consideration of this vital matter.

Sincerely,
Lynda Kobb

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am writing to respectfully convey my strong advocacy for the continued mandate of quarterly reporting. This established practice serves as a cornerstone for fostering transparency and accountability across various sectors, which are fundamental prerequisites for a fair and equitable operational landscape.

The consistent provision of timely, standardized information through quarterly reports is indispensable. It empowers stakeholders with the critical data necessary for informed decision-making, promotes a level playing field by preventing information asymmetries, and ultimately reinforces trust and stability within the relevant field. Without such regular disclosures, the potential for unfair advantages and market distortions significantly increases, undermining the integrity of the system for all participants.

As Lynda Kobb, a concerned resident of Minnesota, I can attest to the profound impact that sound regulatory practices have on families and communities. This matter resonates deeply with me and my family, as we recognize its broad implications for fairness and economic stability.

Therefore, I earnestly urge you to cast your vote in favor of sustaining quarterly reporting. Its preservation is not merely a procedural matter but a vital commitment to upholding principles of fairness, transparency, and collective well-being for everyone involved.

Thank you for your careful consideration of this critical issue.

Sincerely,

Lynda Kobb

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stop trying to undermine systems that work. Leave the reporting period alone and enforce it.
Renilda Marshall, retired and watching my retirement savings.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This could bankrupt a lot of Americans.

Amy Miller
Physician

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dear Sir and Madam:
I am a retired consumer and attorney. What is needed here is more disclosure, more transparency, not less. The proposal is ill advised.
Thank you,
A concerned senior,
G. Snyder

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are even more than important now in an unstable economy. Please keep the quarterly reports.

Best,
Laurie L

Have an amazing day!

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am 71, 1/3 of my income is from my investments. Some of them I manage myself, some I have a financial advisor, but I keep track of everything. I am on a tight budget.
My husband left me 7 years ago, he had 2/3 of our cash assets due to his inheritance. I am 71 and work part time to make ends meet. Seeing the quarterly statements is imperative to my success in investing and trading. Especially in the current financial climate where things can go up and down drastically in a short period of time, the quarterly statements can mean the difference between me losing a lot of money or being able to move things to something less risky.

Please keep the quarterly schedule to allow private investors the information they need to manage their income.

Faith Nielander
Colorado, USA

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am James Abernathy, an institutional investor, affiliated with a group of private equity entrepreneurs based out of Houston Texas. Of course I don’t want to see businesses limit their transparency. I assess my competition by how well they are meeting goals in the marketplace. I use quarterly reporting to make strategic investment decisions for my personal portfolio. I believe if you allow a couple of Enrons to shake consumer confidence in the markets, we will all suffer financial uncertainty.

Just don't, chalk this up to another bad idea by this administration and move on.

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dave Hall, retired, personal investor. I want quarterly reports to continue for all my investments.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Not a wise idea. It was changed to avoid problems.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Juan Acevedo, design engineer
No to hiding data for 6 months.

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Barbara Conrad
No no and heck no. Just more fraud and criminal acts. Quit destroying the good things we have in place. It's an affront to us all to even ask what we think. Srop being part of the problem.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No, insiders have too much of an advantage already. Keep companies accountable to the people.

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am against changing the reporting frequency for public companies. Keep it at 3 months (quarterly). The public needs the insight.
-karl
Karl Ginter

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Perfect opportunity to fleece investors with the result of no investment in future business ventures caused by no timely transparency. One reason for quarterly reporting is to help companies to have a measure to manage by. A tool to ensure investors also can measure the health of a company. Making it a longer measure will allow a cancer in a company to become even worse and irreversible.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No one invested in stock market should be kept in dark for six months while insiders have full access. I'm against this idea.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We investors demand quarterly reports. I am tired of market manipulation and dumping of unprofitable companies into publicly held investments. I want to be able to move money as I see, and investors demand good info and quarterly reporting!

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I'm Jamie Lurtz I don't want to lose my retirement!

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I'm retired and I believe it should stay quarterly too much fraud happens I don't need my 401k effected in any way.Lillian Wallingford

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This cannot pass as the impact would be devastating to 401Ks. It leads to fraud and prevents/stalls any and all investigations. Time to protect us regular people. G..Kay Quality specialist.

Sent from my Galaxy

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dear SEC,

Timely financial reporting is essential to inform retail investors, which make up an increasing share of total investment in equities. Please keep the status quo - quarterly financial reporting.

Thank you for considering these comments.

Sincerely,
Cameron Jaggard
North Palm Beach, FL
Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Absolutely not. What possible incentive would I have to continue investing when I do not have the same rights, information, and opportunity to make informed decisions about my money as other players do? Insider trading is illegal for a reason; this is legalizing it. There is not one solid argument in favor of this effort that doesn't fly in the face of fairness and the law.

Anonymous Sole proprietor — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous I rely on my financial advisor to make good investment decisions for me. He relies on timely information in order to make those decisions. Requiring reports only every 6 months would blind all of us as to what is happening in the companies we invest in. A lot can happen in 6 months that could affect the decision to remain invested or to sell. Please don't change this rule.

Anthony Brock — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Anthony Brock Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I Anthony W. Brock have had only Minimal Success by being attentive to Quarterly reports. That being said, I would NOT be Succesful at All without the Continual Presence of said Quarterlies. To put it into Perspective, We AS TRADERS, Be it Options, Stocks, MicroTransactions etc. Rely upon these for our own Gains as well as those who Rely upon US! It Goes without saying that to REMOVE them with little to No notification...Is quite Dasterldly and well, Wrong. It Seems as if there's a More sinister plot taking place here...Maybe, Maybe NOT.

Thats just what it seems... we will be in the dark and Without crucial Indicators. Heavily being the Moving averages and RSI's.
Please shut this movement down.

Anthony Padilla — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anthony Padilla Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Anthony Padilla, CFE#16810

I have investigated financial statement fraud my entire career. There are no limits to the shenanigans management can play with six months to hide or manipulate financial data. They do enough under the current rules.

This proposed rule makes absolutely no sense.

---

anthony reid — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: anthony reid Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I'm 65 retired cook/chef. I play and teach Taijiquan and based on it's philosophy I have long realized that transparency in our world allows good things to happen.

Those who do not adhere to reasonable transparency do so because they operate in a nefarious matter that isn't good for the whole of us but only for the few. Just suggesting 6mths of darkness is a ploy to accomplish things that allow the few to disenfranchise the many. That in of itself is in uncivilized and sneaky. Sneaky is a bad thing in this construct! Shame on the proposers of this change.

Anthony Reid

Sent from my iPhone

Anthony Silverman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Anthony Silverman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Do not remove the public's ability to know where their investments are going. You have an obligation to protect consumers, and the public will remember what you do!

Antonia Escobar — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Antonia Escobar Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 44 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Appasaheb T Patil — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Appasaheb T Patil Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the quarterly Financial reporting requirement, it helps us monitor the investments in a timely manner.

Appasaheb T Patil

Arifur Rahman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Arifur Rahman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Arifur Rahman, Business Analyst, Valley Stream NY
This move should not be implemented as a need for transparency and timely reporting is needed in the digital world we live in. Im

---

Arla Prestin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Arla Prestin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Arla Prestin, WI, Retired Elementary Teacher:

In a time of mistrust because of this administration's politics, cabinet and appointees, doing away with quarterly information is ludicrous and dangerous in maintaining accountability and honesty! Keep the quarterly information.

Arlinda Andrews — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Arlinda Andrews Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have been involved in the stock market for many years and it is important to continue with the quarterly reports. Thank you.

Arlinda

Arnold Radner — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Arnold Radner Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This issue for 3 months reporting is necessary in order to have a timely analysis of portfolio changes.

Dr. Arnold Radner, Physician

Arrow Durfee — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Arrow Durfee Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need to know what companies are doing and how they are doing.. Cutting the public out is a form of tyranny. Why do the wealthy get special privilege? END THE CORRUPTION! Continue with quarterly reporting.

Barbara Durfee retired nurse

Arthur Deich — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Arthur Deich Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting is vital to maintaining transparency between companies and investors. Do not break a system that's working!

Arthur Wallace — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Arthur Wallace Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This nonsense must stop! As a taxpayer I am damn tired of being left "holding the bag". This must not happen.

Ashley Hooper — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ashley Hooper Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Absolutely not. If anything there should be MORE transparency. If more people realized that they needed to be more aware and involved in their retirement account investments, and not let some low level analyst control their livelihood, we'd all be better off. Gunning for further blackouts of information only shows that the SEC is looking to do more shady business.

Thank you,

Ashley Hooper
Registered Nurse

P.s. I vote on EVERY proxy for the shares I hold for EVERY company. You can bet I never vote to give the board a raise.

Ashley Pojezny — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ashley Pojezny Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Hello I'm Dr. Pojezny, a family medicine physician. In the best interest of both public and private investors I ask that quarterly reports continue. This is more honest and transparent and helps public investors make more informed decisions. More information helps all and I ask again that reports remain quarterly for the benefit of all and NOT to decrease them to only twice a year.

Sincerely,
Dr. Pojezny
Sent from my iPhone

Ashlyn Gurley — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ashlyn Gurley Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am concerned about the reduced financial reporting cadence proposed by the securities and exchange commission. I am concerned this lack of transparency will lead to (more) self dealing and insider trading. This lack of transparency will lead to a lag in response by the FED and ultimately lead to another recession. Please do not implement this rule.

Sincerely,

Ashlyn Gurley
White Lake, MI

Aspen Marlin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Aspen Marlin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Our country is being overrun with a few greedy people manipulating the entire system already. Keep the disclosures quarterly so we all have the same opportunity.

Sent from my iPhone

Audrey Ferrante — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Audrey Ferrante Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 6 months is too long a period of time for reports. Companies need to let the public know.
Audrey Ferrante

Sent from my iPhone

Audrey Webster — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Audrey Webster Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports!!

Sent from my iPhone

Austin Thomas — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Austin Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting is needed. The stock market is increasingly catering to institutional investors and the common guy is unable to compete. The public at large is already at a disadvantage to big institutions don't further tip the scales in the favor of big money and leave out the folks just trying to build a retirement. Social security collapsing, pensions no longer existent, these new rules that take money from private, single, working people inventors and put it in the pockets of hedge funds and institutions will only serve to widen the wealth gap and contribute to the downfall of American society and the working class.

Ayanna Smith — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ayanna Smith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have been investing in both social security + medicare at 7.65% taxes each pay since 1992 and investing in the market since 1997. I work for a nonprofit organization where every 12 months we have to PROVE we are worthy of not being taxed on our net assets (surpluses). Corporations CONTINUALLY prove they need monitoring, regulation and scrutiny on a regular basis just to CHEAT us minimally. This rule change is unnecessary. Corporations saving money is a convenient argument as all they are going to do is CHARGE us more - the very people they SHOULD have a fiduciary responsibility to do their BEST for; when they profit less. Don't change this please, keep the status quo of four earnings reports/quarterly prospectuses. I need for my retirement accounts to stay in tact because our elected representatives are actively sabotaging social security which again, I've been paying into since 1992 - 100% of my wages as I make less than the cap. Thank you.

Ayanna Smith
Director of Finance & Administration

B Brown — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: B Brown Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The financial reports provide vital information for investors and regulators. Cancelling the reports would be a disservice to both US and international financial institutions. The reporting requirements have existed for years, do not place a significant burden on the reporting entities and now represent core information for the markets.

Please address any questions or concerns to the undersigned.
V/r
Byron Brown
Statham GA 30666

Get Outlook for iOS

B Gail Edmonson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: B Gail Edmonson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting is very necessary so financial managers and pension plans can make sound decisions regarding investment of funds. This is not good for anyone except companies with something to hide.
Brenda G Edmonson
Community Banker, retired

B. Gail Edmonson 🦋

Bailey Spencer-Jackson — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bailey Spencer-Jackson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026
Transparency. It's what causes us to be able to trust one another. History has proven over and over again that when companies are not properly regulated, they do not behave in the best interests of any but those in the decision making positions and their decisions are not always what is best for investors or the public. We have seen this many, many times.

Transparency helps to keep the playing field level and the goalposts steady.

Quarterly reports give investors and the public time to react. Do not take this from those of us that rely on huge corporations that do not necessarily take us small investors into account and the public to decide if they want to continue patronizing a business, based on their business practices.

Bailey Spencer-Jackson

Barb Ballew — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barb Ballew Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Less information is never good

Sent from my iPhone

Barb Hykes — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barb Hykes Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I'm Barb Hykes, a retired contract manager. As a small shareholder in a number of individual companies as well as some index funds, I urge you to maintain the requirement for transparency from companies which seek funding from the public by maintaining the requirement for quarterly reporting. I realize that "major investors" have access to company officials and therefore information that enables them to assess risk, but as an individual, I depend on being able to see performance metrics quarterly (frankly monthly would be beneficial, but probably unrealistic to ask for) to know the risks I'm taking with my money. Thank you

Sent from my iPhone

Barbara Adcock — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Barbara Adcock Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To Whom It May Concern:

Please keep the reporting periods as they are currently! Large corporations have lost the trust of many Americans through being caught in malfeasance, blatant acts of Corporate greed, 'quietly' awarding huge bonuses and compensation packages for executives while workers are underpaid or other questionable practices. Less transparency is definitely NOT the way to help bolster consumer confidence.

Best Regards,
Barbara Adcock
Atlanta, GA

Sent from my iPad

Barbara Allin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Allin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting should absolutely not be eliminated. It is the SEC's duty to ensure fair markets for all investors. Elimination of quarterly reporting will only increase insider advantages.

B Allin
Roanoke VA

Barbara De Angelis — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Barbara De Angelis Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Barbara De Angelis. Retired PT. Al I have to live on is Social Security and my IRA. I closely follow my quarterly reports. I can't afford to lose any money and remain independent. The corruption in this administration must not be allowed to impoverish seniors they have no intention of assisting.

Sent from my iPhone

Barbara L Bartnik — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Barbara L Bartnik Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 From: Barbara BARTNIK, retired RN, living in Rural Retreat, VA.
To: SEC Board
If you were a business owner, would you be content with getting financial reports twice a year from your bookkeeper or accountant? I wouldn't!
How would you know if you were making a profit or having a loss? How could you make financial decisions without timely, current data? You couldn't! So for investors, this proposed change is ludicrous.
If the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) changes the financial reporting requirements for publicly traded companies from quarterly to twice a year, investors will not know how their companies/portfolios/retirement funds are actually performing.
This change does not benefit the investors! It only benefits the companies, because they can hide their poor performance from the public investors and not address issues in a timely manner. The every day investors will be short changed by the companies in their 401K & IRA retirement savings funds.
I am writing to tell the SEC: NO, DO NOT LOWER THE REPORTING REQUIREMENT. The change does not benefit the working men and women saving for their retirement.
KEEP THE QUARTERLY FINANCIAL REPORTING REQUIREMENT!
Sincerely,
Barbara Bartnik

Sent from my iPad

Barbara Stanfield Koehler — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Stanfield Koehler Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We live in a very fast paced world! What can possibly happen in 6 months, more correctly ANYthing could happen in six months time particularly with the advent of AI. Don’t you agree? Would you feel comfortable only looking at your businesses status reports just every 180 days?

Sent from my iPhone

Barbara Welker — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File Number S7-2026-15 From: Barbara Welker Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dear Sir or Madam,

My comment on the SEC's proposed change to semi-annual report filing by private companies:

The quarterly reporting rule gives investors, regulators, or anybody else more information to make decisions about each company listed on any exchange, like NASDAQ, S&P 500, or the DOW. Moving to semi-annual reporting makes informed decision-making less effective.

Thank you,

Barbara Welker, Ph.D.
Associate Professor Emerita
Biological Anthropology/Primatology/Behavioral Ecology

Barbara Welsh — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment 10q and 10k From: Barbara Welsh Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is barbara A Welsh and I am a former federal examiner, with the federal home loan bank of San Francisco, and I am now a retired former loan officer and mobile notary. in 2001 My mother passed away in February. in August 2001 Enron imploded of which we paid over 500000 of federal tax in a worthless asset. On a stock that had absolutely no value at that time. allowing companies to skip reporting on a quarterly basis is a great disservice to all shareholders And anyone else involved in the business. to know whether a business is staying a viable concern we need timely reporting. They already know monthly where they stand and they report to their boards. Filing the 10q and 10k allows consumers, shareholders and the regulatory bodies to do their due diligence.

REQUIRE QUARTERLY REPORTS TO BE FILED.

---

barbara white — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: barbara white Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Barbara White, and I would like to say that in six months a company's outlook could change drastically and investors would be in the dark and unable to make informed investment decisions. Please keep the three month rule.

Barrie McVey — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barrie McVey Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Barrie McVey. Retired Forester Keep it transparent & honest! 99% of Americans are struggling right now while the rich get richer. Filled your own gas tank or bought your own groceries lately? Try it!! We need to know this going on!!

Sent from my iPhone

Barry Swedlow — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barry Swedlow Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is another move in the fight for more corruption at the expense of the public! Just one question: what will happen to business when people can no longer afford to purchase anymore? We've been on this path on steroids with this misadministration.
😡

Sent from my iPhone

---

barry.sharp — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: barry.sharp Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please leave the reporting at the quarterly reporting. Investors need to have current and transparent information before putting their hard earned money at risk.

Barry Sharp

Sent from my Galaxy

Becky Day — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Becky Day Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please don't make retail investors do without the information that helps keep the the playing field level for us. The money is already going to the top at an unimaginable rate. Please don't continue throttlling what's left of the middle class

Becky Day

New Day Sustainability
801 671 6372

Becky Magandy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Becky Magandy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This is crazy! Why would you make it easier for corporations to hide problems while those in control make sure their money is protected but the public-not "in the know" are without any way to determine viability of the company

---

Becky Schulte — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Becky Schulte Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It us imperative investors be kept informed about companies. Quarterly financial statements allow regular investors to make informed choices with their money. Waiting longer to find out isn't fair to the little guy.

Belinda Lusk — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Belinda Lusk Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Having quarterly information about the companies I and our clients invest in is critical to being informed. Six months is TOO long to wait for timely information in our ever increasingly fast changing world. Keep the reporting period to quarterly!

Belinda Lusk
Financial Services Operations Manager

Ben A. Starks — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ben A. Starks Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 There is no benefit for investors and this could let companies hide issues for too long . Quarterly must stay.

Regards,

Ben

Ben Kovitz — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ben Kovitz Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Integrity in finance, maintained by timely public information, is crucial for keeping America great and prosperous. Please reject SEC Rule S7-2026-15.

Ben Kovitz, Software Engineer

Bennett and Ranae Greene — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bennett and Ranae Greene Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please protect the American people and keep businesses reporting quarterly. I would find somewhere else to put my money if I couldn't see what's happening with it. Also, big business seems to be getting less trustworthy. Want our trust? Open your books. Ranae Greene, an ordinary citizen.

BENTON CAREY — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: BENTON CAREY Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am an 80-year-old man living on investments and Social Security retirement. The light of day is one of the only protections left to me to monitor my future. Traders have proved time and time again that fair regulations is necessary to maintain integrity in the market.
Benton Carey, Retiree

Bernie Belding — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bernie Belding Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Bernie A.Belding, KEEP QUARTERLIES, as is or open up all of them to the public at same time!! Even as it is now there is cheating and insider trading!! Like pelosi and so many others!! Don't be stupid!!

---

beth brill — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: beth brill Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am a single 68 year old woman who is totally dependent on social security and my 401k savings to live. Please don’t allow big business to hurt little people like me.

Beth Colon — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Beth Colon Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This proposed limiting of companies reporting their financials is nothing but a money grab. I have to know how companies are doing every three months in order to maintain my investments. Do NOT allow this change to take place. It is unfair to all the investors .

Sent from my iPhone

Beth Repasky — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Beth Repasky Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Beth R - no quarterly reports puts us retirees at a huge disadvantage. I rely on my small 401(k) to meet my monthly bills along with my Medicare. Please continue quarterly reports.

Sent from my iPhone

Beth Ruiz — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Beth Ruiz Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is a really bad idea! Bad for investors!

James Ruiz

Betty Barrett — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Betty Barrett Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I feel is is vitally important for investors and retirees managing accounts, to have quarterly reports available. Making timely decisions about our investments is crucial to our economic security. I want quarterly reports to contine.

Betty Hoyt — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Betty Hoyt Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Betty Hanlon, retired
This is a terrible idea, the miniscule savings would not compensate for the fraud and abuse this would encourage

Sent from my iPhone

Beverly haynes-Love — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Beverly haynes-Love Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I live off my investments! 3 mo reviews are necessary!

Sent via the Samsung Galaxy S20 FE 5G, an AT&T 5G smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Beverly Miller — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Beverly Miller Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do something for the little guys with investments! Keep info to us on a quarterly basis ! I understand it won't prevent fraud , but the span of opportunity would increase if passed to every six months!

Beverly T — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Semiannual reporting From: Beverly T Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Absolutely not. the ordinary consumer and investor need to know what's going on with these companies and 2x/year is NOT often enough.
Be Thompson, retired

Bill — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bill Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Retain quarterly filing ! Do not blind investors !!!

Sent from my iPhone

Bill Anderson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bill Anderson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I believe in transparency and feel it's not to much to expect it on a quarterly basis.

Bill Anderson, retired.

Bill Doyle — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bill Doyle Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 William Doyle, retired. This matters greatly to me as an investor, because it gives large corporations time to hide revenues and misdealings letting smaller private investors holding the bag while they skate away Scott free.

Sent from my iPhone

Bill Scharfenberg — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bill Scharfenberg Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Cutting the quarterly reporting requirement is an open invitation to fraud, insider trading, and executive malfeasance. I have most of my retirement invested in stocks. I am a retired USPS clerk, and I know how management hides mistakes and bad practices for as long as they can. This change at this time is outrageous.

Sent from my iPad

Bill Sherrill — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bill Sherrill Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports allow all investors to perform more accurate analyses of the performance of an entity in which they may have or wish to invest in. Reducing this reporting requirement in no way benefits the rank and file investor - while simultaneously making it easier for these entities to conceal both positive and negative actions which would have an impact on their value - and by proxy the value of investments. What is the benefit - in layman's terms please - of reducing the requirement of quarterly reporting? If the benefit is to the entity - then it is a disservice to the investors. The SEC should be looking out for everyone with an existing or potential interest in investing. Corporations already have far too many lenient guidelines with which they can dupe those supporting their worth. I am retired. And a good portion of my retirement income is based upon investing. I need all the information I can gather to make the best decisions for me.
And for the record - corporations are not people. Treat them like the businesses they are.

Birgit Burke — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Birgit Burke Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am retired. I am dependent on my retirement accounts to give me quarterly information so I can make appropriate choices with my money. I don't trust corporations not to lie to me if they can make money by doing so. I don’t want to be blindsided. I want quarterly reporting to stay the same as we have had it, and I expect it. If my self-employed friends can manage to pay quarterly taxes, the corporate folks can manage to provide quarterly reports. It’s not a hardship forf them, but it could very well be a serious problem for the rest of us.

Birgit

Bishop Fairing — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bishop Fairing Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

Bishop Fairing — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Bishop Fairing Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Need quarterly reports!

Sent from my iPhone

BJ Amini — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: BJ Amini Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please Ditto Bruce Vaughn’s comments. Respectfully BJ Amini

Bruce Vaughn commented: I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 44 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.
facebook.com

https://www.facebook.com/share/198HCDfNDa/?

Sent from my iPhone

Bob Frederick — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bob Frederick Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We the people have a right to know, a right to trnsparency. Let the system run as it is.
What are you trying to hide from us ?

Robert Frederick retired Vet

---

bob okeson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: bob okeson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep quarterly

Get Outlook for iOS

BOB Reimbold — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: BOB Reimbold Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Robert L Reimbold Sr., Retired, Pentwater, Mi. I reserve the right to fire any investment manager at any time their results are not consistent with the DJIA or S&P or better. And I can't afford to ignore poor performance for a year. While my portfolio may be insignificant to the money manager and the SEC, it sure as hell isn't to me.

Bob Salhaney — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bob Salhaney Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Leave it as is.

Robert Salhaney
Michigan

Bonnie Caldwell-Miller — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Bonnie Caldwell-Miller Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I’m retired and depend on my retirement income to make ends meet. Changing from quarterly reporting to twice-yearly reporting doesn’t benefit anyone. Please leave this alone. Stop meddling with the American public. We’re already struggling. You’re going to force many elderly people, like my grandmother, to live on the streets. We learned our lesson in 1955. If you haven’t heard about that significant financial event, look it up.

Bonnie Caldwell Miller

Bonnie Price — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bonnie Price Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Bonnie B. Price, retired college professor/administrator. I have multiple investments, some are liquid, but others are not. Quarterly statements inform me how well my investments are doing and help me know how to prepare for the future.

Bonnie Van Winkle — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bonnie Van Winkle Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I object to this. Cease and desist!

Bonnie Van Winkle, retired LPN

Sent from my iPhone

Brad Johnson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-26-18 From: Brad Johnson The move to consider SEC change to issuing quarterly reports in exchange for 6 months reporting. I am determined to go on the record against this action in order to achieve protection for investors, with this change the current investor will be left out of a fair chance at collecting, contemplating and acting on the information which comes by way of these quarterly reports. Governments collect data each and every second of the day and this information although collected only gets made public each quarter. Holding the general public at arm's length from public data information which could have a material effect on decision making perverts the use, intention and purpose of the reports. Not to mention certain government officials and or their proxies may use information collected but not yet reported to pursue, in advance, that should have made public earlier. A clear investment advantage no one should ever have.

Brad Teaford — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brad Teaford Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Virgil Teaford, field services manager. I work too darn hard to not know what is going on in companies I've invested my revenue in. Keep corporate reporting quarterly.

Bradlee Weeks — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Bradlee Weeks Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Retail investors need more transparancy in their investments

Bradley Pattington — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bradley Pattington Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need the current rules to stay in place. Bradley Pattington, business owner.

---

bradspakowitz — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: bradspakowitz Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 First of all, quarterly reporting has been the established norm for decades. There's a reason for this. It allows investors to have a closer handle on where a business is, and potentially wear a business is headed. When it comes to investments, hours, days, and weeks all matter, especially in today's rapidly changing environment. Let me give you an analogy. If you were diagnosed with a serious disease would you want your doctor to say "come back in 3 months, or come back in 6 months and we'll see where we're at then..." If it ain't broke, don't fix it.

Sent from my Galaxy

Brandon Beck — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Brandon Beck Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange:
My view on Rule S7-2026-15
It is important that corporations continue to share their financial data frequently to keep investors informed. Please continue to fight for the individual investors by providing us insight into our investments that we can trust.

Please continue to defend what is right for the American people.

---

brandon Hakulin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: brandon Hakulin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Brandon Hakulin .I am a Marine Corps veteran and also an educator and I fought for this country and I have been investing in it all my life. I wanna keep my savings and I don't want it to be lost. I invested in you, now I ask you to please invest in me. I do not want semi annual reporting. Please represent me as I represented you over overseas.

Sincerely,

Brandon F. Hakulin

Sent from my iPhone

Brandon Swensen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Brandon Swensen As an investment analyst at a buy-side firm that manages both private client and retirement accounts, we rely on the timely availability of information in regards to managing our equity and fixed income programs. A doubling of interim periods between information availability would reduce our ability to manage risk appropriately and ensure the best positioning for clients. We rely on quarterly reports to continue ongoing due diligence on our investment programs and this new rule would hinder our ability to provide top-notch services to our clients. The proposed rule would also increase stock price volatility around reporting periods which would increase complexities when we plan to trade client accounts.

Breanna Stott — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Breanna Stott Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I support the removal of quarterly financial reporting. This causes companies to focus on the next report versus the business. I support semi-annual reporting or annual.

Brenda — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brenda Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Brenda Fuqua
Healthcare Administrator (Retired)
Being on Social Security, makes it imperative that I know quarterly what is happening with my account as it directly affects the quality, health, and longevity of my life.

Brenda Floyd — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brenda Floyd Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need to know quarterly, especially now when everything is so volatile. The reason this has been done for all of these years are still valid.

Brenda Conway — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Brenda Conway Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterley disclosures help me make informed decisions.Please don't take it away.

Brenda Hampton — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brenda Hampton Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I expect the SEC to continue to Report out earnings on the current Schedule leaving investors in the dark for 6 months at a time is just a ploy to shut out the little guys while insiders have extra info to make the best investment adjustments. The field should be level and transparent!

Sent from my iPhone

Brenda McAfee — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brenda McAfee Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have an IRA with 40 years of scraped-together funds from teaching. I value this account, even though it will eventually be taxed out of existence. Please keep the current requirement of QUARTERLY reports from the funds. These papers are my only proof of funds should the internet go black. Please do not reduce the number of reports we receive.

Thank you. Brenda McAfee, LaPlata, MD.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Brian — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brian Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a part owner of publicly held companies, I need to be sure the books aren't being cooked and every six months will encourage malfeasance. Please don't do this stupid thing, no matter how much the Wall Street crooks pressure you.

Brian & Darin Fitzgerald — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brian & Darin Fitzgerald Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Companies have teams and processes, not to mention funds, to do quarterly reporting. I recently worked with an IR team who did this work at a public company. There is no reason to reduce the reporting requirements and all the reasons to continue them quarterly. The average investor deserves this minimal level of insight into a companies performance. Do not reduce the requirements to save them money they don't need to save and should be investing in for ALL of their investors!

Darin Fitzgerald

Sent from my iPhone

Brian : — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brian : Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Company books and large financial deals should be more transparent, not less.

The sudden more concentrated news caused by delayed finical reporting, will also lead to more volatile drastic swings in the market.

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Brian : — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brian : Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Company books and large finachial deals should be more transparent, not less.

The suden more concentrated news caused by delayed fincial reporting, will also lead to more volatile drastic swings in the market.

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Brian Bosak — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brian Bosak Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Brian Bosak and my wife and I are recently retired.

We were able to retire before age 60 due to the fact we saved aggressively, in both traditional savings and 401 accounts.

We watch our investments very carefully and the proposed change to 6-month reporting would affect our financial security greatly.

Please, do not change the quarterly reporting requirements.

Sent from my cellphone so please forgive any typos.

Brian Bosak

Brian Laberge — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brian Laberge Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am a 51 year old male with a IRA and I rely on reporting from companies to know how they are doing. Going to every six months makes it way to late to realize the company is not on the same trajectory I thought they were on.

Brian Lowr — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Brian Lowr Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Stop screwing the regular person...companies are providing gradually less and less value for more and more money and then their are the scams. I just wanna live my life without getting scammed and lied to. I don't want to be vulnerable to volatility. I don't want to take risks. I just want something to look forward to when I retire. I don't want to loose it in a volatile IPO on a non profitable company cuz the rules were changed for billionaires.

Brian Pawlowski — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brian Pawlowski Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING. American needs Transparency

---

Brian Schwartz — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Brian Schwartz Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly disclosure required

---

Brian Smith — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brian Smith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reports it will help keep things more honest imo

Sent from my iPhone

Bridgette Washburn — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bridgette Washburn Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please don't make the situation worse than it already is. People in power (including the President of the United States) are actively using insider trading already and no one is stopping them.

This criminal behavior cannot be allowed to manipulate the stock market further by being allowed to covertly operates half the year without regulation. Stop the corruption now before it's too late and the stock market collapses entirely. Free trade must be regulated in order for it to be a FREE market. By removing quarterly reports, you would further endanger our already threatened democracy and capitalistic system. Do what's best for the system, not the few.

M. Bridgette Washburn 401 K participant

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Brigid Conway — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brigid Conway Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is not right, quarterly keeps the truth available to the public to make informed decisions. Do not allow this to stop.

Bruce Hobbs — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bruce Hobbs Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Hello,

Public companies are all set up to report results quarterly. Changing this to semiannually is not only unfair to the investors, it’s unfair to the companies. The companies may not know for six months that they are running a loss, for just one example. The system now is not broken and doesn’t need to be fixed.

Bruce Hobbs
5250 Waltella Place
Norwood OH 45212-1600

Sent from my iPhone 14.

Bruce Tinkham — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bruce Tinkham Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Opens the door for corruption and embezzling.

Bruce Tinkham
Nebraska Elks Scholarship Chair

1035 East 7th Street
Superior, NE 68978
402-879-5267
brucetinkham21@gmail.com

Bruce Vaughn — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bruce Vaughn Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 44 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Bruce

Bryson Collins — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Bryson Collins Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I just recently got into retail investing and now there is suddenly movement to make it harder for me to do that. I really don't like the sound of whatever the SEC is up to right now. It seems like an obvious way for the rich to pull the ladder up and hurt the little guy. Please don't do this.

Buck B — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Buck B Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Every 3 months . or one month!!!

CB Brannon

Bud Graham WTP Eng. Cell 330 289 3415 — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bud Graham WTP Eng. Cell 330 289 3415 Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the reports Quarterly!
Bud Graham

Buzzer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Buzzer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is financially irresponsible, and will enable crime and monetary malfeasance. KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING!

Respectfully,
Alan Chenkin, MPA
Treasurer, Mutual 19A, Leisure World Maryland (180 units)
516-578-5503 Cell

C denthy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: C denthy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please continue to keep SEC reporting on a quarterly basis. Six months is too long between reports. Thank you.

C Ulibarri — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: C Ulibarri Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 SEC:

Maintain quarterly reporting for the sake of the individual in the USA. There is no positive reason for a company to keep their finances secret for six months at a time. Please help reduce insider trading. Please help the non-billionaires operate with as much knowledge as possible. Our retirements depend on it.

Thank you. I hope ypu actually read abd pay attention to my letter.

Sincerely,

Catherine Ulibarri, Ph.D.
Professor Wmiriya
Washington Stat University
Pullman WA 99163

C. Sweazy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: C. Sweazy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Another example of cutting out the individual investor This is a bad idea and should not pass.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Cameron Urnes — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cameron Urnes Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I'm Cameron Urnes, and I strongly support keeping quarterly reports. Its very important for publicly traded companies to provide regular transparent updates.

Candice Carroll — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Candice Carroll Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is not fair for the average investor. We need more reports more often. I do not agree with this new 6 month window. Leave it at monthly.

Candice
908.358.6738

Carl Newton — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carl Newton Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Carl Newton
Former business owner, retired and retail stock investor,

I feel as a retail investor the more info we get the sooner we get it it put us on a somewhat equal footing with the rest of the investment community.

KEEP reporting every qtr, or better yet make it monthly.. if they are doing the right thing it's not hard.. not to mention they not trying to hide info about the business..

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Carl Newton.

Carl Pirrone — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Carl Pirrone Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Carl Pirrone, New York.
We have all seen how volatile the stock market is. Reporting company earnings or other data less frequently translates to less reliable data for stock holders to gauge a company's strengths and weaknesses. This lesson has already been learned in 1955. To repeat this is an injustice to stockholders.

Get Outlook for iOS

Carleen Delap — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carleen Delap Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Accountability please. There is enough deceit happening as it is.

Carleen S. Delap

Carlos Paino — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carlos Paino Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We can't let companies cook the books and having them not have to report for half-a-year at a time is a horrible idea.

Carlos Paino — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carlos Paino Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We can't let companies cook the books and having them not have to report for half-a-year at a time is a horrible idea.

Carlotta Richardson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carlotta Richardson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Carlotta Richardson, retired, would like you to know that she feels it is wrong to cut the reporting periods in half for investments. It leaves way too much time before a common person can respond to changes in the outlook of an investment. Please don't make that change. copy@keepitquarterly.org4

Carol Vanore — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol Vanore Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stop the pandering to the ultra rich and corporations! DO WHATS BEST FOR AMERICAN CITIZENS!!

Sent from my iPad

Carol Crawford — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol Crawford Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This a bad idea and unfair on so many levels. When you apply for major loans and us these statements to qualify it will slow the economy because lenders often want to see 4 consecutive statements. That alone will take 2 years. My husband & I are one couple in this position. Carol Crawford RN(retired)

Sent from my iPhone

Carol Davis — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol Davis Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports keep companies mindful of their stock holders. And vice versa.

Sent from my iPhone

Carol Tavares — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol Tavares Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The more transparent the better.

Carol Tippery — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol Tippery Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I would,prefer monthly reports however quarterly reports will have to suffice. Since this is my retirement income I deserve reports as frequently as possible so I know where I stand and and correct errors in a timely manner

Carol

Carole Beckham — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carole Beckham Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need more disclosure than less. This action makes us think you have something to hide.

Sent from my iPad

Carole Beckham — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carole Beckham Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need more disclosure than less. This action makes me think you have something to hide.

Sent from my iPad

Carole Markin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Carole Markin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do not revert to reporting twice a year as we had from 1955 to 1970. Returns will be worse and small investors like me will lose much of my savings. I am a single female in my late 60s who has worked in media and finance, as an executive, producer, investment banker at JPMorgan, and principal and co founder of a roll up start up. I have degrees from Harvard, American Film Institute and UCLA Anderson business school. I am a published author, funded artist and screenwriter.

Sent from my iPhone

Carole Mathieu — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carole Mathieu Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 What the hell??? This is a step in the wrong direction for our citizens. We need MORE transparency to curtail grift and fraud, not LESS! (Or maybe that's the goal of proponents of this action??)

Susan S Nettleton (R), and
Carole E Mathieu (D)

Carolyn Fleischner — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Carolyn Fleischner Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This SEC is doing whatever Trump tells them to do! Laws on disclosure quarterly helps investors know when a company is profitable or struggling! The laws & rules of 1955 prove investors & everyone's IRA's are being DECEPTIVE! This SEC has failed to do its duty to protect Americans Rights to know!

Sent from my iPhone

Carolyn Maduza — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carolyn Maduza Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No way! Worked for a two public companies. Critical that earnings continue to be reported quarterly and give guidance.

Carolyn Overman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carolyn Overman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The very minimum should be quarterly..

Carolyn Overman
Retired but holding

Carrie Da Silva — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Carrie Da Silva Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am writing to express my strong opposition to any measures that would make it easier for corporations to withhold information from investors. Transparency is essential for consumer protection and for ensuring that all publicly held companies remain accountable to the public.

This issue is of great personal importance to me, as a significant portion of my finances and retirement accounts depend on accurate corporate accounting. Investors require the same level of information as company insiders to make informed decisions. Facilitating the concealment of information only benefits corporations at the expense of everyday investors and increases the risk of market manipulation.

I urge you to uphold rigorous reporting standards to ensure a fair and transparent financial system for everyone.

Best regards,

Carrie Da Silva
Senior Software Engineer, IBM, San Jose, CA

Carroll O'Brien Loomer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carroll O'Brien Loomer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am retired & believe that everyone should have quarterly reporting & no one should be except from paying taxes, especially the president & billionaires.
MC Co

Sent from my iPhone

Cary Campria — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cary Campria Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Hello, my name is Cary Campria, I am an Office Manager and I don’t agree with changing reporting to every six months. It’s our hard earned money and we need visibility. Keep quarterly. Actually even monthly!

Sent from my iPhone

Cassie Anderson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Cassie Anderson Please keep the current reporting requirements in place.

Cat Dodd — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Cat Dodd Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This is a wrong move. We need the information so companies don't receive the public about their Financials. If oversight is taken away, no one will keep them accountable. Please don't take away the quarterly reports. Thank you.

---

catherine crum — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: catherine crum Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As stockholders we have the right to know what is occurring in our investments six months is too long of a time if a reaction needs to be made granted stacks are better when we stay with it for the long haul, but there are times when we need to know that information as quickly as possible. I see withholding that information for six months can lead to a lot of situations that could’ve been stopped when recognized sooner..

Sent from my iPhone

---

catherine Ecroyd — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: catherine Ecroyd Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Transparency is need! Keep quarterly vreports!

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Catherine Lambeau — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Catherine Lambeau Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Public companies should have to show financial records quarterly! There is so much fraud going on it could destroy peoples retirement savings!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Cathy Deptula — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cathy Deptula Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Continue to mandate quarterly reporting!

Catherine L. Deptula, DVM

Sent from my iPhone

Cathy Pavlatos — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cathy Pavlatos Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 BAs an individual investor, I want to know how my investments are doing. A quarterly status report is essential in determining my positioning and actions going forward. It may save corporate time in preparation, but we all know how things can go south in a month or less. Six month gaps are way too long.

Sincerely,
Catherine A Pavlatos, real estate investor
self-employed

Sent from my iPad

Cece Schneider — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cece Schneider Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stop this right now!

Cecelia Dore — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cecelia Dore Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 George Dore The more we know the better decisions we can make and fraud is more at bay. Trust is imperative!

:) Sent from my iPhone

Cetla — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Cetla Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Kyle, I think that this would really be detrimental to the public traders that don't rely on insider info like all of the politicians. We want it to be fair for us retail traders.

CF Kinzer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: CF Kinzer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 30 years. We very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise our investments. We respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Respectfully,
The Kinzers

Sent from my iPhone

Charla Diane Miller — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Charla Diane Miller Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Ridiculous to make such changes.
Please don't

Charles Hancock — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Charles Hancock Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This will not help the personal investor whatsoever.
Charles
Building Contractor

Charlie Waldron — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Charlie Waldron Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This doesn't PROTECT INVESTORS, it's a loophole to protect scammers from their FAILURES & GRIFT. THEY can quietly divest themselves from losses leaving uninformed shareholders holding worthless shares!!!!

Thank You,
R Charlie Waldron

Charlie Brown — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Charlie Brown Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are an essential part of the economy and should be allowed to continue.

C Harsh Brown

Charlotte Fare — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Charlotte Fare Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I check my finances daily! That would hurt tremendously if I had to wait 6 months to see how my IRAs and other investments were faring. This is especially true with so much identity theft (it happened to me) out there now. That is why I check so often.

Charlotte Fare — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Charlotte Fare Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I check my finances daily! That would hurt tremendously if I had to wait 6 months to see how my IRAs and other investments were faring. This is especially true with so much identity theft (it happened to me) out there now. That is why I check so often.

Charlotte E. Fare

Charlotte Vrooman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Charlotte Vrooman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 For the sake of American stockholders: Do not change the current system. We can't watch our investments in the dark!
Charlotte Vrooman
Shareholder

Sent from my iPhone

Cheri Tebeau — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cheri Tebeau Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 You all need to stop allowing these criminals to keep screwing the shareholders. Just stop it!. Everyone who invests needs to see the financials for their stocks more often than every 6 months. Vote no on this proposal.

Cheryl Bowden-Renna — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Cheryl Bowden-Renna Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am writing to express my concern and dismay at the proposed change in reporting. As an investor saving for retirement , it is crucial to have update , accurate reporting. If this change results in serious market loses, as predicated as possible, you are not only hurting the everyday investor but large scale investors, and as such, the economy as a whole. I urge you to reconsider this proposal.

Thank you
Cheryl Bowden-Renna
Santee, CA

Cheryl George — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cheryl George Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Cheryl George. I am a retired school teacher. Transparency is foundational to trust and integrity. Six months is far to long an interval between financial disclosures. People are entitled to the information about companies they have a financial interest in and need that info in a timely manner in order to make financial decisions for themselves. Quarterly reports have been the gold standard. Consumers deserve to keep this level of reporting I ask you to NOT move to bi annual reports.
Cheryl George

Cheryl Thomas — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cheryl Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It is imperative that there is nothing hidden from public view when it comes to our countries financial systems.

Open & honest above all else!

Cheryl Thomas

Cheryl Weiss — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cheryl Weiss Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are the standard. Why is the SEC even considering changing this to every six months? What are money managers trying to hide from the public? All contributors have a right to be informed how their retirement funds are being managed. It's our money that's been invested and we should never allow them the opportunity to hide for that extended period of time. You would think that AI would make quarterly reporting easier in the future. The SEC members should definitely vote no on this proposal.

Cheryl Weiss, Retiree.

Cherylrose Budd — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cherylrose Budd Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It is part of a democracy that we are able to see and judge what corporations are doing.

Sent from my iPhone

Chia Hamilton — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Chia Hamilton Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do NOT change the reporting requirements. Too many people are having a really hard time making ends meet currently. You want to make it worse? SHAME ON YOU

Chick Renfrew — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chick Renfrew Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting is needed so investors can make informed decisions. What is the reason for this?

Sent from my iPad

Chris Berger — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Chris Berger Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Chris b. Please don’t change or alter the current reporting method

---

chris bingham — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: chris bingham Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting is a minimum! Don’t extend the reporting! There is no reason at all to give these insiders to divest their stocks before reporting the losses to the public! Continue quarterly reporting!

Sent from my iPhone

Chris Clayborne — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chris Clayborne Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep informing people quarterly, otherwise there is room for fraud

Sent from my iPhone

Chris Foster — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chris Foster Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Who feeds you? We The People so we need the grocery list

Sent from my iPhone

Chris Lynn — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chris Lynn Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Chris Lynn, Analyst
It is very important to keep these quarterly. Government oversight has gotten worse and worse over the last 40 years. We need better accountability and visibility, not less.

cjsmsg@gmail.com
Happiness is up to you, the world around you does not dictate this, you do.

Chris Olson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chris Olson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I think this will allow companies to mask trouble for longer, and that will cost the average investor a lot of money.

Chris Olson

Chris Petro — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chris Petro Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is NOT a good idea. If transparency is not insured and earnings not verified in a timely manner, there is no trusting corporate executives period. Especially when they are compensated with stock options. We have seen this play out too many times before to give any benefit of doubt to corporate America. Thanks for your attention to this matter. Chris Petro, Branch Mgr. DNOW

Sent from my iPhone

Chris Wenner — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: SEC rules From: Chris Wenner Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have a 7 figure investment portfolio and I want every 10k and 10q published QUARTERLY! OR more frequently if it is required. I understand how to use EDGAR and download these reports. It's important to look at them to see the window dressing corporations do just before the end of the year or end of each quarter. Don't allow these corporations to hide data for SIX MONTHS!

Christa Sloan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Christa Sloan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I would support companies and big business more if there were quarterly reports and not so much information remained private.

Christie Culliton — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christie Culliton Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Christie Culliton

I don't make a lot of money so I want to make sure I know what's happening with my investment. I think it's important for small investors to receive as much information and often to make educated decisions about their investments.

Christie Culliton

757.610.2931

hello@christieculliton.com
christieculliton.com

Christie Taylor — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Christie Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 What is all the AI for if not to crunch numbers. Keep reporting as it is.

Christina Letts — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christina Letts Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dear Sec,

I am writing to express my support for maintaining quarterly reporting requirements. It is essential for shareholders and the public to have regular transparency into company operations and performance.

Best regards,

Christina Letts

Christine Clothier — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Christine Clothier Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
You must release the quarterly numbers so Americans know what's happening so tired of you. People caving in to a complete maniac in the White House. you are failing the people of this country. Correct your mistakes and

---

Christine Cook — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christine Cook Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 If you can't be open and honest in your dealings to the public, then you can't be trusted. And the truth always finds you out.

Christine Foglietta — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christine Foglietta Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is absolutely unacceptable

X O Chris Sent from my iPhone

Christine Havrilla Soulje — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christine Havrilla Soulje Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Christine Soulje, Ph.D.
Sr. Director, Product Development
Emalex Biosciences, Inc.

I do not support allowing public companies to file public reports on a semiannual basis, instead of the current quarterly reporting cycle. The financial health and viability of a company should transparent and the best way to assess is through mandatory financial and regulatory reporting. A six month interval is simply too long a period to be blind to the company bottom line. I work in a highly regulated environment (pharmaceutical) and understand the cost of compliance to regulations. However, time and time again we see examples of broken trust with public corporation malfeasance. Protect your constituents, keep the quarterly mandatory reporting for all public companies.

Sent from my iPhone

Christine Holt — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christine Holt Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Chris Holt, Director of Development; This new rule should absolutely not exist. Companies owe the public and their investors MORE frequent transparency, not less.

Christine Littell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christine Littell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is a terrible proposal. Jeep reporting and regulations as they are! Prosecute insider trading!

Sent from my iPhone

Christine P — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christine P Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Christine Park and I work in healthcare. I do not want to give corporations more leniency and greater opportunity to commit fraud. I want to be able to protect my 401k. I do NOT support S7-2026-15.

Christine Smith — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christine Smith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Are you kidding me? You can't honestly believe this is fair to your constituents. It must not be approved.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Christine Stephens — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christine Stephens Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Christine Stephens, Retired
As a person who does research before considering buying stock, I want to see a company's financials before investing. If companies no longer need to file quarterly reports, I cannot see if there is a financial issue I need to avoid with any given company. This is a bad rule and the quarterly reports need to stay in place.

Christopher L. Holzner — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christopher L. Holzner Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026

Christopher L. Holzner — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christopher L. Holzner Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Publicly available information from companies that I and millions of other Americans invest in, is crucial to the success and fairness of financial markets. When pressed internally, companies will tend to hide or suppress unpleasant information. Companies have long-standing systems and staff in place to facilitate quarterly reporting. Please maintain this reporting schedule for the benefit of all investors. Thank you.

Christopher Holzner
Holland, PA

Christopher Monclova — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Christopher Monclova Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please dont eliminate quarterly reports for retail investors. There are no more pensions, we have very little control over the market as it is. The only way to save for retirement are iras and 401k. Iras are self directed and information is necessary to make informed choices. I rely on quarterly reports to make decisions about my investments and retirement accounts. It stacks the deck even more than it is to not have this information.

Christopher Wise — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Christopher Wise Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Do not reduce quarterly reporting requirements to bi-annual. Quarterly filings are one of the few means retail investors have insight into markets. Less transparency invites more fraud and there is already far too much. Retail investors benefit from accurate and timely information to make informed investment decisions. Insiders and institutional investors will always have ready access to data, but the common man will be further disadvantaged without quarterly reporting.

Sincerely,,
C.J. Wise, concerned investor

Christy Berrie — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christy Berrie Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please keep the quarterly report on going. It makes it easier to keep track of our accounts. Christy Berrie. Home Accountant.

Sent from my iPhone

Chryssie Medellin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chryssie Medellin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Small investors and people with 401ks need to be able to see the value

---

Chuck Kurtz — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chuck Kurtz Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a shareholder of Pink

Sheet stocks, as well as NYSE stocks, I expected to take additional risk on limited Pink Sheet reporting when I placed the orders to buy. I have also paid dearly for the lack of timely information provided by management.
I did not factor in limited shareholder information risk when buying stocks from the big board.
Please DO NOT allow limited or delayed reporting by companies. There is already a lack of trust at many levels and the proposed change will not improve information transparancy.

Charles Kurtz
Retired Aerospace Engineer

Ciara Ranallo — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ciara Ranallo Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Don't allow public companies to hide vital information!

Cindy Friday — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cindy Friday Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 If reports get cut, companies can do crooked things and my retirement will pay the price. What problem is this trying to fix? There isn't one. Keep the system as is.

Cindy Friday
Sent from my Pixel

Cindy Riley — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cindy Riley Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Cindy Riley Program Mgr

I need to continue to see quarterly infr.

Cindy Sigurdsson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cindy Sigurdsson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stop "messing" with OUR MONEY! If you don't report, then you're hiding something! Wow, why does this sound like our national government who just recently said they will only report job, & debt & inflation etc. Once & Not quarterly anymore! So by the time you see what's going on, a whole years gone by! You've got no options.

Circle the Wagons — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Circle the Wagons Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a smaller investor, this seems abhorrent to me in every manner. I can see no benefit to investors of hiding financial reports for six months except to lower the costs of reporting. Instead, why don't you simply REDUCE the landscape of the details required to be reported in detail, but keep the most important numbers available on the regular timeline of reporting?

Claire Shin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Claire Shin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Greetings to the Rules Committee and those in charge of overseeing this docket item,

Do y'all want billionaires and businesses to win more behind closed doors and push our society closer to a Purge-esque country-wide riot? This is the domino that would set off that whole chain.

If companies don't have anything to hide, why wouldn't they continue their quarterly reports to remain in compliance? Retail investors and the general public would suffer while C-suite executives and insiders would make deals and shift funds behind closed doors without any oversight.

I left working for Congress pre-pandemic because I felt disillusioned with it all, please don't fail my already low expectations.

Best,
Claire S.
Brookline, MA 02446
Duluth, Georgia 30097

Claire Thomas — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Claire Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Hello, my name is Claire Thomas. I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 44 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Claire Thomas

Claudia Hicks — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Claudia Hicks Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout my working life, a period of 35 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprised my stock portfolio, particularly now that I am retired & dependent on those earnings. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Claudia Hicks
Atlanta, Ga

Sent from my iPad

Claudia Etienne — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Claudia Etienne Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please do not change the SEC reporting period. The goverment is obliged to make sure that fraud is kept at bay, and why would we make it easier for companies to "hide" fraud/fraudulent practices that may be taking place. Keep the protections that we have in place. It is the least you can do. This administration keeps talking about waste, fraud, and abuse, but this would be like taking a step backwards and goes against that message. Walk the walk!!

Thank you.
Claudia Etienne
Concerned Citizen

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Claudia Nance — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Claudia Nance Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Claudia Nance, Retired, Texas. This matters to me because I've less than $100K in savings and live primarily on Social Security. The $100K is my only savings. Why wasn't this voted on by American citizens?

Cliff Sanderson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cliff Sanderson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Moving to twice a year or annually restricts stakeholder's ability to discern if an organization is meeting its objectives, short term. This would hurt startups, reduce transparency & maybe if a business is failing lead to more bankruptcy. I like my quarterly "report card"!!

Clifton Bain — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Clifton Bain Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep current reporting requirements

---

Clint Glenn — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Clint Glenn Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Who benefits from this stupid move, besides politicians and the wealthy?!!!

Cody Lamb — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cody Lamb Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I was a Registered rep/ investment Advisor for 33 years before retiring. Quarterly reports are absolutely vital to advisors and their investing clients. Please do not change the quarterly requirements! This is ridiculous!!!

Colin Povey — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Colin Povey Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stay with quarterly reporting. Numbers do not lie.

Sent from my iPad

Colleen Lewis — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Colleen Lewis Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I demand Quarterly reports stay in place , they don't need to change a thing , everytime they change things ot costs the u.s people more ! Colleen M Lewis

Colleen M Lewis

Comcast — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Comcast Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly.
Patricia A Davis

Sent from my iPhone

Connie Brasier — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Connie Brasier Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I want to know how my investments are doing so I can adjust them before losing more.

Mary C Brasier (retired educator)

Sent from my iPhone

Connie Spicer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Connie Spicer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 You know this is BS. Average American Investors create energy around new IPOs, ETFs and the market. Reducing reporting options is a douchy way to hold us at arms length. Staying transparent keeps you and the market on America's good side. Just say no to biannual reporting and stick with quarterlies.

Individual Investor Connie Spicer, Dayton Ohio

Connie Taylor — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Connie Taylor Solve the problem, don’t regress to older, worse solutions.

Conor — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Conor Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a working class car mechanic, I would truly appreciate the SEC reporting to remain quarterly. I care about my retirement and sharing less information with me makes it sound like you guys want to hide stuff from me

---

Constantine Mirras — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Constantine Mirras Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This proposal is dangerous to the wealth effect to the American people as state in the previous arguments of the article... Less transparency week give certain companies greater liberty and time to hide the facts.

Cori Schwartz — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Cori Schwartz Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Cori Schwarz
Retired.
Spouse within 5 years of retirement
Adult child midway through college.

As older parents, we have carefully planned for college and retirement falling within a very close timeline. If the 529 acct for our child's tuition tanks because of twice a year reporting, both his college trajectory and our retirement plans will be severely compromised. If our retirement savings fall as drastically as predicted here, that goal post may also be moved years out. There is no benefit to the general American public to change reporting methods - please keep them on a quarterly basis.

Sent from my iPad

Corinne Zuege — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Corinne Zuege Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We are retired and we stay on top of our finances. We want to continue to receive the SEC reports on a quarterly basis.
Corinne Zuege, retired
John Zuege, retired

Warmly,
Corinne

Cory Candurra — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Cory Candurra Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Gregory Quist, retired in Coconut Creek, Florida. If it's not broken and you attempt to fix it, then we, the people, have been sold out one more time. "We have met the enemy", said Pogo, "and he is us."

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Courtney Logan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Courtney Logan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Courtney Logan, Legal - it’s bad enough my father had several pensions and yet this is rarely if ever a reality in today’s world. Now our 401ks are survival with some Congressmen talking about cutting Social Security we need FULL transparency on quarterly reports to make sound financial decisions. Please DO NOT approve this measure

---

Courtney Washington — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Courtney Washington Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:I'm a DISABLED retired auto worker tied up my retirement account in fraudulent securities MMTLP I NEED TRANSPARENCY I NEED JUSTICE

---

cptteresa — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: cptteresa Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Absurd that this "rule' change would be allowed -- and we all know why the Republicans are trying to do it. As if Trump's incessant illegal insider trading isnt enough for him and his billionaires.

Sent from my Galaxy

Craig Wesson III — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Craig Wesson III Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Absolutely not!! The "rules for thee, not for me" has got to stop!! My name is Craig and Im a small business owner who has had it with corporate and hedgefund powergrabs & lobbying, and also how they gain ownership of public servants(politicans and lawmakers) through election campaign donation bribery. All of this should be illegal for anyone that is paid to represent the people with our tax dollars. Its heresy and should be considered treason against the people of the united states to sell us out for corporate gain.

Craig Willer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Craig Willer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly. Those of that are retired rely on those reports to make decisions about our investments.

Craig Willer, Retired

Get Outlook for Android

Cyndie Carlson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Cyndie Carlson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Cynthia Carlson, Healthcare, Oak Lawn, IL. I am for quarterly reporting for greater transparency for investors.

Cynthia Jones — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Cynthia Jones Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please do not lengthen the time between reports. We need that information.

Cynthia Jones
Auburn Hills, MI

Sent from my iPhone

Cynthia Kinavey — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cynthia Kinavey Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We continue to need TRANSPARENCY so continue the more frequent reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Cynthia Proctor — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cynthia Proctor Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Cynthia Proctor
Retired investor
Salt Lake City UT
I appreciate quarterly statements from all my accounts. It's important for me to review the details as often as possible.
Please maintain the quarterly reporting, it's working and it's important.

Cynthia

D — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: D Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please demand that quarterly reporting is enforced. Without it we can expect dishonesty from big companies that are paying little or no taxes
Diane Riemer, retired

Sent from my iPhone

D D — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on File Number S7-2026-15: Semi-Annual Reporting Proposal From: D D Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dear Ms. Countryman,
I am writing as an individual investor to express my strong opposition to the proposed rule changes that would allow public companies to switch from quarterly financial reporting to a semi-annual reporting schedule.
As a retail investor, I rely heavily on the timely disclosure of financial information to manage my portfolio, assess corporate health, and make informed investment decisions. Reducing the frequency of disclosures from four times a year to just twice a year will significantly harm individual investors in several key ways: Reduced Transparency: Changes in a company's financial health could go unnoticed by the public for 6 months leading to sudden, volatile market reactions when data is released. Increased Investment Risk: Less frequent updates makes it difficult to accurately price assets, manage risk, or protect hard-earned capital in a rapidly changing economic environment. Information Asymmetry: While public disclosures may decrease, large institutional investors and insiders will always maintain alternative channels to gauge a company's performance. Moving to semi-annual reporting widens the gap between Wall Street and Main Street, putting individual investors at a distinct and unfair disadvantage.
Continuous, reliable corporate transparency is the foundation of market fairness and investor confidence. I urge the Commission to reject this proposal and maintain the current quarterly reporting framework to protect the integrity of our markets.
Thank you for your time and for considering the perspective of individual investors.
Sincerely,
Daniel Dwyer
Stuart, FL

D Piscatella — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: D Piscatella Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No hiding the books.

Sent from my iPhone

Dale Brunner Technology Services — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dale Brunner Technology Services Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 You do this and I'm taking all my money out of stocks forever. I'm not kidding. I don't care if my returns are lower I'm done trusting stocks if this happens. I guarantee a lot of other people will do the same. You screw people and they're going to screw you back. Two can play these games.

Dale Wood — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dale Wood Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 They will cheat

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Dan Harbit — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dan Harbit Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dan Harbit, Jr retired business owner and Procter and Gamble retiree. This reporting needs to stay quarterly too many things currently are changing much too quickly and moving this to every 6 months is not at all fair to any investors or the general public! There is no reason to change it and it should be reported quarterly if nothing else to just keep everyone honest! Thanks, Dan Harbit,Jr.

Dan Radawski — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dan Radawski Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Maintain quarterly reports. This is disadvantageous for most investors. It does not offer any meaningful savings for corporations. I review quarterly reports to determine my investments and any changes I might make.
D Radawski MD
Investor

Sent from my iPad

Dan Reidenbach — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Dan Reidenbach Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Dan and I am a civil engineer. Quarterly reporting is absolutely necessary for strong financial transparency. America needs to stay the course. Please reconsider for the sake of the America people.

Dan Yavuzkurt — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dan Yavuzkurt Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dan Y, paramedic

I'd like to be sure that my retirement savings aren't destroyed by a company cooking the books for 6 months or more without anyone being able to see what's going on. Why double the amount of time they have to cover up their mistakes? Is it really that much trouble to just tell us the most basic numbers on a quarterly basis?

Dana Dolsen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dana Dolsen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 For affected Seniors who've contributed to a 401(K) over their career, this move to reduce our oversight of our investment is ludicrous and mean. Stop this immediately!

DANA SPAETH — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: DANA SPAETH Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I appreciate knowing how my investments are doing, even month by month. Six months is too long of a gap for this vital information. Dana and William Spaeth

Sent from my iPhone

Daniel D — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Daniel D Although I'm all in favor of reducing paperwork and burdens, I think a minimum quarterly update is appropriate rather than a semi-annual update for the sake of transparency and accountability to shareholders.

Daniel Mays — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Daniel Mays Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 no no no no

Sent from my iPhone

Daniel Melton — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Daniel Melton Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is just another way tRump is lining his and his friends pockets. Do not support this action!

Daniel Murphy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Daniel Murphy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I trust the SEC, as much as I trust Wall Street in general. I DEMAND quarterly reports!

---

danielle-c — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: danielle-c Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the SEC,

Reporting needs to continue to be quarterly for transparency and for the good of the people/ investors. American's are suffering enough financially, don't make it worse by reducing. We won't forget

Danielle Colligan
Operations Manager
Colorado

Danny Doty — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Danny Doty Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 That's ok I will roll my 401 k over to something else. I am about ready to take ie all out and turn it into gold .

Sent from my iPad

---

danny sollars — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: danny sollars Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are needed. Do not change this rule.

DARLENE HASTINGS — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: DARLENE HASTINGS Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is BS. You're talking about losing it all in 6 months if you're not keeping up with that company. A miss on projections needs to be quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

Darrah Halliburton — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Darrah Halliburton Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please keep public reporting quartlerly. This is important for the transparancy of businesses that we are investing in and the ability for the American public to make informed decisions regarding their financial securities. Thank you,
Darrah Halliburton
Central Point, OR

Darrell Adams — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Darrell Adams Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am Darrell Adams, a retired Pharmacist in Maine & have stock investments that will be negatively impacted if companies have more time to make decisions. Stockholder information should be increased not lessened by lengthening reporting time. I would prefer information be given on a monthly basis so it is more current.

Darren Taylor — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Darren Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The reports must be kept quarterly! To change this at this point is pure fraud and grift on behalf of this crooked administration.

Darren Taylor
darrenjtaylor@gmail.com

iPhone: 415-377-3909

Dave Jensen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dave Jensen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a small-scale investor, I carefully read the quarterly reports of the businesses in which I invest. Reducing reporting requirements to twice-yearly would make it much harder to evaluate my investments.
David Jensen
Bellevue, WA

Dave Jensen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dave Jensen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a small-scale investor, I carefully read the quarterly reports of the businesses in which I invest. Reducing reporting requirements to twice-yearly would make it much harder to evaluate my investments.

Dave Maynard — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dave Maynard Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 David Maynard, retired. My investor needs to know how businesses are doing. Six months is too long to ignore.

Sent from my iPhone

Dave Ruppel — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dave Ruppel Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 David Ruppel, data analyst, looking at a sec filing every few months lets me keep tabs on stocks that I'm worried about owning. Why change that? There is no reason.

Dave

Dave S — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dave S Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly is the ONLY option. Unless you want to make it monthly!

David Murphy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Murphy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is David Murphy, I am a retired CFO and was responsible for SEC reporting in some manner for > 20 years of my career. Quarterly reporting was an essential discipline for the companies I worked for and was invaluable for financial statement users, including banks and other lenders as well as investors. This fundamental transparency underpins the US capital markets without which the financial system is weakened.

Thank you for your commitment to maintaining the primacy of the US financial markets.

Regards,
David

David Arroyo — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: David Arroyo Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: we need for the SEac to readily make more information on quarterly business reports/earnings in order for retail investors to make sound and informed decisions around fundamental financial investments. Thanks.

David Ball — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Ball Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is obvious. The big companies want to fleece their investors ahead of the impending crash from the bad economic policies. You're systemically enabling fraud to pilfer the US stock market if this rule passes. We've had quarterly reporting for my entire life. It's the least the companies can do. If it were up to me there would be continuous ongoing reporting all day every day, every minute of every day, in order to prevent fraud. But quarterly is better than almost never which is what you're proposing. Why is it everyday I wake up and this administration tries everything in their power to make America worse and worse? Nothing good can come from withholding financial information from investors.

David Candler — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: David Candler Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I believe companies should be required to report their financial results quarterly. I believe investors will be better informed and will be able to invest their funds more wisely and make the market more competitive

Sent from my iPhone

David Craig — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Craig Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 If you do this I moving my entire 401k outside of the USA to truthful markets. This is horrible to allow a company to hide the numbers they know, sell off their shares, then expect the public to have their shares go bankrupt. This is not how money should work. Money is based on math not insider trading!

David Lippe — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Lippe Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 In my opinion, once a quarter is not frequent enough! Expanding the reporting frequency to Once every 6 month is certainly a step too far in the wrong direction.

William D Lippe<>€
Sent from my iPhone

David Loosmore — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Loosmore Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I want the quarterly reports to STAY that way!

David M — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David M Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I value quarterly reports. They should continue.

-David

David MacMillan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: David MacMillan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly reports are an essential element for keeping shareholders advised of current company information. Reducing the frequency of this reporting does not serve shareholders or the public.

A company with good governance is already generating extensive internal reporting for its Board, often on a 4 to 6 week cadence. Releasing a subset of that information to the public every quarter is a reasonable requirement to enable shareholders to monitor their investment.

It also ensures information on business health that may be visible to those working in an industry gets timely, broader dissemination to shareholders that are not as close to that industry, helping ensure a level; playing field for all shareholders. This information dissemination goal is consistent with good portfolio management practice of holding a diversified portfolio.

For shareholders, detection and confirmation of an adverse trend frequently requires 2 or more quarterly reports. A semi-annual or annual reporting rate is simply too little, too late and makes timely detection and correction of adverse company outcomes impossible.

Quarterly reports also provide a critically important metric to the public beyond shareholders - quarterly reports help inform broader public policy decisions in government and across the economy.

For all these reasons, I urge the SEC to not reduce the frequency of the current quarterly reports.

David Mann — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: David Mann Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Not surprising, just another grifting action by a grifting administration

David Mann
Broker/Realtor
Resolute Realty

David Murdoch — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Murdoch Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To only require companies to report financials 2x per year is wreckless and invites fraud. Companies should continue to report quarterly. You are messing with my family's life savings! Do the right thing for all investors.

David Orr — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Orr Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Can’t believe this is even a thing that’s on the docket. We as a society cannot keep letting this happen without repercussions from the masses. Unless that is your plan, to have. Sorry for your ability to think so small

Sent from my iPhone

David Rivera — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Rivera Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 David Rivera Brooklyn NY Higher Education Document Manager

Quarterly is the way to go. Make companies not think about quarterly profit EITHER. The goal for a public Company should be one dollar in profit. No more

---

David Ronan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Ronan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stop working for corrupt companies and work for the people! Data centers are going to collapse and they want are retirement to back their Ponzi scheme

---

david sallette — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: david sallette Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I'm am one hundred percent against less transparency for companies disclosing their revenues to investors. The government is funded by the public to protect the public, not lobbyists and private busi ness.

David Sallette

David Thom — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Thom Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 8 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

David Thom
Band Teacher
Dubuque, IA

David Wischnefski — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: David Wischnefski Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Why tinker with a proven system and revert back to a disastrous failed system!!!

Sent from my iPhone

David Wynn — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: David Wynn Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I know the answer to my question but I'm going to ask it then answer it myself. Why would you want to make it easier for companies (Big business) to hide their profitability from regular investors? My answer would be because of more corporate and political greed and favors of payouts for political favors. Playoffs to political parties on both sides of the aisle to fill rich individuals bank accounts at the expense of those people they were elected to represent. Hell will be busting at the seems from all this corruption. I feel so bad for my grandkids.
Respectfully,
David Wynn

---

davidlspalding — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: davidlspalding Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am David Spalding, a retired accountant. I prepared and signed my name certifying financial results quarterly as well as annually for many years. Hiding financial results from the owners of the company (shareholders) deprives them of full transparency. This can only be to allow bad decisions by management (employees) to hide reality in hopes that maybe the next quarter will see better results. Owners, lenders and regulators will have no ability to monitor and mitigate risk. This isn't a policy, it is a sham to protect those with the most power at the expense of those who's entire retirement savings could be at risk unknowingly.

David Spalding

Davin L — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Davin L Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I'm Davin, a software engineer. The SEC quarterly reporting requirements matter to me to ensure I'm updated with company projections on the horizon and progress on objectives with accurate numbers on their books and ledger to back up the rhetoric. Without these quarterly requirements companies would be able to push news that could not be verified for much longer and longer cycles between reports hide poor quality business decisions from investors like me when my investments could be better allocated elsewhere.

Daw Usa — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Daw Usa Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 SEC already aware of teachery that impacts the Globe: thus betrayal public trust proceeding intentionally knowing abuses your tax paid poisitions/powers. You are personally liable to world of workers, taxpayers direct ib collusion with Corp Fraud mispresentation of daily status schemes, charade as criminals. Prosecute: return tax$ to US Treasury Interest +cost to prosecute for concealment, coverup, collusion, abuse of designated on-the-spot reporting under Charged Constitutional duties betray all impacted. Do Unto Others As It Will Be Done Unto You Yours!

Dawn Hirsch-Gregorio — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Dawn Hirsch-Gregorio Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please continue to have transparency in corporate reporting every quarter. This information is vital for investors and when I make decisions regarding my investments.

Dawn Walker — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dawn Walker Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dawn Walker says .. .This is just another smoke screen that's trying to rip off the American people! Keep it open and current for people to follow.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

DeAnn Dent — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: DeAnn Dent Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It is pure insanity at this point in America to allow the greedy corps to go un-watched at all—-much less 6 months at a time. The DAMAGE that could occur is undoubtedly epic and the economy does not need any further fleecing. American citizens demand and deserve more- reporting, representation and rights. We monitor our bills- on time, or WE are punished.
Quarterly reporting is only measure we have of reporting/managing a tricky and volatile marketplace.

At your service,
DeAnn Dent
icloud

Deb Badgley — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Deb Badgley The United States have tried this before. It doesn't work as well. We need transparency when so many citizens rely on the stock market for their retirement savings.

Deb Fritzler — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deb Fritzler Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Only Crooks hide from people who have trusted them with money.
Trustworthy people do not.
Be Trustworthy.

Deb Fritzler

Deb Robbins — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deb Robbins Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Absolutely maintain quarterly reporting. I am a retired nurse practitioner trying to manage financially and to do so I need TIMELY data. To change reporting to every six months is reckless and careless.

Deborah Robbins
Villanova PA 19085

Deb Zahler — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deb Zahler Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It is important for ALL to know what is going on. Tired of the secrecy. Keep reporting every three months!

Sent from my iPhone

Debbie Cunningham — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Debbie Cunningham Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We have spent the last 40 years accumulating enough funds for a meager retirement and enough to help our adult children in this insane economy. Most of our Social Security goes to our Medicare insurances. If our portfolio disappears we won't be able to survive or even get buried. Getting jobs after 70...um, you think? What is WRONG with Washington? Seriously, shame on them.

Debbie Elliott — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debbie Elliott Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am retired. Please keep quarterly statement so that I can adjust my savings investments to cover my retirement expenses

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Deborah Johnston — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Deborah Johnston Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We say "no" to changes in reporting from quarterly to semi-annual. Transparency doesn't exist. All investors have are these periodic reports.

Deborah Johnston, Retired, Edmond, OK

Sent from my T-Mobile 4G LTE Device
Get Outlook for Android

Deborah Carroll — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deborah Carroll Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 D. Carroll, retired, and make no changes SEC. I will take it all monies out of the market if you changes the rules. I prefer accountability on a daily, monthly and quarterly basis!

Sent from my iPad
Thanks,
Deb

Deborah Craycroft — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deborah Craycroft Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Deborah Craycroft, Paralegal. Having work with tax attorneys for 35 years I can tell you right now that that is not a good idea. Additionally it allows for stock manipulation and insider trading to occur for longer periods of time than it is already with the regime that is running this country.

Deborah Davis — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deborah Davis Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is not in the best interest of stockholders. I do not see the need for this other than to hide the truth from the public. This has corruption written all over it. This is not necessary nor a good idea.
Regards,
Deborah Davis

Deborah E — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deborah E Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Deborah and

I'm 72 years old and retired. I am no longer saving for the long haul, with plenty of time ... I need to know the facts now, so I can keep responding in real time. Making the information harder to get or less current can only making it harder on retirees like us.

Deborah FALKS — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Deborah FALKS Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 You're encouraging corruption by moving the reporting from quarterly to every six months. The savings would be minimal.

Please act responsibly and keep the reporting requirements QUARTERLY!!

Respectfully,

Deborah Falks

Deborah Fortin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deborah Fortin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It is important for me to be aware of what is going on with MY money. The quarterlies give me that opportunity much more than biyearly would. Deborah Fortin retired

---

Deborah Greene — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deborah Greene Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Im writing to implore you to not change the reporting of my reports. Due to the rapid ups and downs of the market that are currently taking place, it is essential to know what is happening with my accounts as often as possible. Every three months has been the time frame for years. And it should remain as such. 6 months is way too long in the volatile times that we currently are living in with the market and our savings plans. Thank you for our considerations to this. D. Greene, Retired Human Services Worker

---

Deborah Limb — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deborah Limb Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep visibility to protect investors. In this world, we see constant evidence of fraud, theft and incompetence. Investing groups need to earn their way, strive to add value and provide a win win options to investors. Those that are great, don’t mind being counted. Hiding is a huge red flag when you’re playing around with other people‘s money. We don’t need companies, hiding fraud, theft, and poor performance and dropping gigantic disasters on investors.
Be best in class and show performance.

You drop visibility it drops trust which is already low. The system has not earned its way to be viewed trustworthy. In addition, we live in changing times where the old rules don’t hold up. Waiting six months makes a dramatic impact on outcomes if you have a poor performing product.

This plan means the insiders get the leap and those waiting, take the hit. Why would you do that?

Find a win-win! Ask yourself not only what you think is fair for the overall companies. Ask also what is fair for the investor.

Deborah Nash — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deborah Nash Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Deborah Nash; Owner; WHY IT MATTERS:
Keep this information coming quarterly!!! It's important to investors like me to understand what's going and potential investments. Public companies need to be accountable for their finances. DO not allow them to go every 6 months; it is much harder to correct course at this larger interval.

---

debra czajka — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: debra czajka Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As investors we should have access to this information quarterly.
Debra Czajka Retired RN

Debra Galassini — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debra Galassini Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please continue to require quarterly updates. I rely on information from my accounts to stay aware of my balance, gains and losses to help me better keep my portfolio in check.
Thank you,
Debra Galassini
Chicago, IL 60640

Debra Kuenzi — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debra Kuenzi Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Debra Kuenzi. I am a retired nurse in Wisconsin. There were years that $50 a month into a retirement account was a stretch. We are not rich. We never got profit sharing, stock options or insider information to feather our nest. Companies should not be allowed to hide their info, profits or loss, possible mergers or sales or any info that gives us an opportunity to follow what our investments are doing.

There is more than enough fraud and shady business practices going on already.

Sent from my iPad

Debra Magliano — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debra Magliano Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I want to see what a company is currently doing..not what they did 6 months ago. Wall Street wants me to invest. Wall Street can make a minimal attempt to play fair.

Sent from my iPhone

Debra Metz — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debra Metz Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Transparency is necessary in our business world and government in order to make sure that every citizen is treated fairly and is not taking advantage of some sort of insider trader trading or loopholes.. Normal everyday people like me cannot afford to invest to make lots of money so every dollar counts..! Keep businesses account quarterly..!!

Debra Metz, retired

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Debra Sprague — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debra Sprague Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting needs to stay. Enough with attempts to keep us in the dark. It horribly undermines trust.
Thank you for considering.
Deb Sprague, retired behavioral health science / social science researcher

---

Debra Tomko — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debra Tomko Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Reporting quartly, prevents theft.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Debra Ward — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debra Ward Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This would clearly be yet another blow to the middle class. It is not difficult or expensive for companies to continue reporting quarterly, and there is no reason that is beneficial to everyone involved to change this rule. I have recently retired, and my anxiety level is constantly rising with the threats to my social security and the insecurity of the economy and my retirement accounts. This move will make it worse for every senior who is now living off of their investments. It is shameful.

Debra Ward
Kansas City, Missouri

Deirdre Byrne — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Deirdre Byrne Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dear SEC,

The proposed return to semi-annual reporting is a bad idea. Historically, when this was in place,

Americans did not see nearly as strong returns from their investments. In contrast to that period, we have fewer Americans then ever before with defined benefit pensions, and far more invested in the stock market. A reduction in returns could seriously affect the retirement plans of so many of us and strain public resources as retirees go on public assistant. Just don't do it.

Dr. Deirdre Byrne
3914 Mertford St
Kensington, MD 20895

---

del — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: del Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is more corruption from our government! Investors need quarterly reports, it's the key to making decisions! Stop allowing Trumps oligarchs to control American lives!!!!
Mrs. Del Hunter

Sent from my iPad

Dena Conroy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dena Conroy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No Don't Go Dark For Six Months, This Should Never Be Allowed, You Must Stop This Before It Starts, I have no job title, 'am very poor in fact Now Stop Ripping Us Off.

Dena Conroy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dena Conroy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 You Must Keep/Retain Quarterly Reporting In Tact, My Name Is Dena L. Conroy And I don't have a job title, 'am very poor really....

Deniece McQuillan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deniece McQuillan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We, the people, do not need the money grabbers another a way to hide their financial gains or losses. If it's not broken don't fix it. My husband and I are on a fixed income and our finances are tallied by the I.R.S. if we try to hide money we would be we prosecuted. Companies are not people!
Denise McQuillan
Retired teacher

Deniece

Be Kind to Each Other and Especially to Yourself, You Are the One and Only You.

Denise Mauldin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Denise Mauldin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Denise Mauldin.

I am a small investor that relies on these reports to determine the value and trust to put in a company. These reports are important.

Do not roll back rules that are for the protection of investors.

Denise B — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Denise B Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Semi annual reporting is a bad idea. It let's corporations hide possible fraud and the savings would be negligible and wouldn't come to me anyway. I really on quarterly reporting to make financial decisions. Don't take this away from me and my husband.

Denise DiDomenico — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Denise DiDomenico Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Denise DiDomenico Retired My livelihood depends on how my stocks are doing. It’s not extra money at this point in my life. We need quarterly information - not twice a year.

Sent from my iPhone

Denise DiDomenico — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Denise DiDomenico Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I depend on my stocks now more than ever because I’m retired. I need quarterly knowledge from the companies. It should NOT be changed to twice a year. Denise DiDomenico

Sent from my iPhone

Dennis Kloepping — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Dennis Kloepping Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I would like my quarterly statements kept quarterly. I am retired and my investment 401k is my only equity. I do have social security but that might be gone.

Regards,

Dennis Kloepping

Dennis Oxley — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dennis Oxley Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need to keep financial reporting quarterly. The effort to do otherwise seems to be basically harmful for ordinary Americans. This is not the time to be taking away from the people.

Sent from my iPhone

Dennis Sells — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dennis Sells Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 There is not any benefit for the common investor from this move whatsoever. Hence, it is not needed. The wealthy folks up top should be reporting monthly if not weekly.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Dennis Vigneau — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dennis Vigneau Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a retired CFO of two public, financial services firms I believe this is not in the best interests of investors, public financial markets and other stakeholders. Yes, the quarterly financial reporting is cumbersome and expensive but it explicitly drives companies to accountability and more integrity in financial statements. The US financial markets have become too dynamic and complex to be reducing transparency. Shareholders and investors need more information not less to make the most informed decisions possible. I advocate that this new rule NOT be placed into practice.

Dennis R. Vigneau

Derek Haager — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Derek Haager Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dont do it!

Diana Gano-Rosete — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diana Gano-Rosete Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Retain Quarterly reporting.
Savings, if any, are nominal,
Investors deserve and demand to track our investments within what suits optimal communication.
This is not a priveledge. this is not an “option”, To move forward on this plan of less clarity is obfuscation, And it reeks of possible “instabilities”, IS THIS A TRUMP THING???

Is it time for the middle class to CASH OUT our 401K accounts, and cut off possible Harder-to-track Market I corrections”?

Hang TOUGH SEC…. Keep fighting the good fight. Times are difficult for working people, SAFEGUARD the info about our investments made over decades of employment. THXS for reading this.

Sent from my iPad

Diana Rowell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diana Rowell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep adding nails to your own coffin.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Diane Elder — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diane Elder Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dr. Diane Elder. Former corporate manager, university professor, former small business owner, currently retired. Corruption flourishes with time in secrecy. Quarterly reporting helps assure honesty and quite frankly helps a company and its stock holders, investors, and even employees know how their company is doing as well as what. Many voters already feel distrusting and that Democracy and America are for sale. Big business now has a horrible reputation.

Sent from my iPad

Diane Heslin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diane Heslin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Are you kissing trumps big fat ass? Yes you're available to kiss away people's (not the utterly rich) lives? All you want is more money! When you die, don't you know that you can't take the $$$$$$$$$$$$$$ with you? Greed has taken over the government. Your part of it.

Diane Heslin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diane Heslin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Diane Heslin. Soooo Trump is making it impossible for the stock holders that are not millionaires to get information? Is that so him, his family and friends can control stocks? What the heeeey? Personally I believe him and his cohorts want to get the middle class broken so they control everything by takeing from us. Sounds like his bed partner are working to be a communist Country. Ain't gonna happen trump. Your days are numbered. November is already turning BLUE. More to come from SANE people. We outnumber you and your tribe. Just watch us vote you and you tribe OUT.

Diane Jordan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diane Jordan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do not change, I want and need to see my investments performance quarterly . Each investor has requirements in their personal life planning this quarterly reports are top resources

Sent from my iPhone

Diane Kenney — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Diane Kenney Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is wrong. Individual investors as well as fund managers need to have as much information as possible to make sound decisions. People will lose again, just like they did before when they were not required to disclose more often.

Sent from my iPhone

Diane Oneal — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diane Oneal Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a retired woman who often has to pull from my 401k in this economy I need full access to my account.

Diane

Diane Schrum — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Diane Schrum Tired of the big d$ucking $ound TO THE CORRUPT CRIMINSLS AT THE TOP!!Do your job!

Dianne Porter — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dianne Porter Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Transparency is key when you trust to invest!!

Dianne Porter
Former business owner

Sent from my Galaxy

Dianne Baskin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Dianne Baskin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The SEC reports should be submitted quarterly. As someone who is doing self selection to create my portfolio it is imperative the SEC operates with integrity and transparency. Insider trading has run amok in the current political climate and the little guy doesn't stand a fair chance.

Dianne Lafleur — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dianne Lafleur Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are the right way to manage my funds. I would not keep my money in any institution that kept me in the dark for 6 months They make money from my money (my labor) and I should get quarterly statements. It's honest

Dianne Lafleur
703-477-0900
dlafleur2@gmail

---

djdotty2 — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: djdotty2 Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dorothy Kline-Medically retired- media, PA 19063
I am unable to work. I am very much depending on my retirement savings. Please do not cause me to lose my life savings by cutting down quarterly valuations to annual. Stick with quarterly valuations which data suggests is better for consumers.

Sent from my Galaxy

Dmitry Orlovsky — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Dmitry Orlovsky Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I believe semi-annual reporting for public companies would significantly degrade the level of information and transparency public companies provide and would put retail traders and the market as a whole at a disadvantage, reducing the level of transparency companies are required to provide to their shareholders in the market as a whole. this is orthogonal to everything the markets have been working towards in the past 50-60 years. I sincerely urge the SEC to reconsider and abandon this effort

---

Don Sweeney — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Don Sweeney Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is nothing more than an attempt to hide illegal activity.

Dona Dailey — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dona Dailey Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting is the same as having regular meetings with your primary physician. You check that everything is in order. You make necessary adjustments.

DONALD MCDONALD — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: DONALD MCDONALD Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Why do you want to hide company performancs? Books should be kept up to date, so it should be no problem to give quarterly reports. Is it that 6-month reporting would give insiders an even greater advantage over outside investors?

Donna Myers — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Myers Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Absolutely keep reporting monthly. There's enough scamming, insider trading and stealing going on now. Why give them 6 months to do whatever before anything is discovered. BAD IDEA.

Donna Myers Lewisville NC retired living on SS and a few investments.

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Donna Anderson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Anderson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I depend on my quarterly reports. Keep them coming.

Sent from my iPhone

Donna Blade — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Blade Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Donna Blade Citizen, Media System Analyst

Why this change matters to me:

Changing the reporting to twice a year in this very fluid time of dark deals, insider trades, and the impact of AI on business decisions is the wrong direction.

As someone nearing retirement, I don't have the luxury of financial recovery. I can't afford uninformed decisions.

Keep required reporting at a quarterly cadence.

Thank you

Donna Cohen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Donna Cohen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do not take is back to the dark ages! Americans like me are tired of the rich getting richer at the expense of the rest of us. The era of corporate greed must end now. Keep transparency in investments and quarterly reports mandated!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Donna Eleyi — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Eleyi Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a senior citizen, I am extremely concerned regarding the loosening of SEC reporting. They are called quarterly "requirements" for a reason--a good reason! We can't afford to allow potential cheating and malfeasance in such important financial matters. Keep the regulations as they were designed. Don't allow the greedy and self-serving to rape the system!

Donna Eleyi
82 Glen Avenue
Brockton MA 02301

Donna Flynn — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Donna Flynn Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is a horrible idea. I will not invest with companies that do this.

Donna Henderson Teacher — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Donna Henderson Why in the world are we allowing businesses to be less transparent? As an investor, I should know, as often as I can, what is going on with any business. We are allowing businesses to do what they want and screw the consumer.

Donna Holland — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Holland Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We want our right for updates to our investments.

Sent from my iPhone

Donna Hughes — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Donna Hughes Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Donna Hughes, Military Sales, Florida.
This matters because if companies don’t report their profits and losses military contracts could go to a corporation that does not have the capital to support a project, if the funds aren’t available and the government contract isn’t met it could jeopardize the entire countries safety.

Sent from my iPhone

Donna Jackson-kohlin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Jackson-kohlin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 don't you dare!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Donna Moyer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Moyer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Consumers demand and deserve MORE transparency not less. Keep the quarterly reports!

DONNA MYERS — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: DONNA MYERS Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 KEEP REPORTING QUARTERLY. DONT LEAVE MORE ROOM FOR DISHONESTY. Donna Myers Retired PROTECT MY RETIREMENT

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Donna Ohara — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Ohara Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Doubtful it will make a difference but I prefer the quarterly reports. Times are chaotic for most investors. Lease it alone.

Sent from my iPhone

Donna Peterson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Peterson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 More often not less often Share financials monthly we are in the AI age.

Donna Willome — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Willome Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep reports to quarterly. Support the small individual investor. Corporations and mega wealthy already have access to inside info. We are retired and need transparency of our hard earned savings! Donna Willome retired Nurse Practitioner

Sent from my iPhone

Donnal Poppe — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donnal Poppe Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I want to look at my accounts daily if I choose. It's my money that I worked very hard to earn and save.

Donnal Poppe

Sent from my iPhone

Dora Salvatore — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dora Salvatore Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Don't change what's not broken! Quarterly reports should still be issued!!!

Doreen Preville — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Doreen Preville Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY. WE NEED IT. DOREEN PREVILLE INVESTOR

Doris Oliver — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Doris Oliver Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It matters to everyone. Stop the madness that is going on now.

Dorothy Dalman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dorothy Dalman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 What is their reason for wanting to change? What are they doing with our money in between the 6 month periods?

Sent from my iPhone

Dottie Donofrio — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dottie Donofrio Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep Qty reporting

Sent from my iPhone

Doug Ellison — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Doug Ellison Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Of course you realize this extended period opens numerous opportunities for wrong-doing that will not benefit the consumer.

D.K.Ellison

Doug McGoldrick — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Doug McGoldrick Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Doug. Small biz owner, chicago il. As a small biz owner reliable marks are very important. This would make markets much less reliable. Please for once think of the little guy.

Doug McGoldrick

Doug Sasser — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Doug Sasser Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dear Sir or Madam,

Quarterly reporting helps stabilize stock prices along with quarterly dividends. For retired folks it helps in retirement to have quarterly cash flow and reporting. Please do not change this.

It seems that with computers advancing that this traditional task of quartlies would become more easily achieved.

Doug/Tammy Freeman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Doug/Tammy Freeman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Doug F. American Citizen Investor.
Do not change the rule on reporting. Quarterly is the only way the public has any real Idea what a company is doing financially before it is to late. Dont Chan it!

Sent from my iPhone

Douglas Ensor — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Douglas Ensor Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As an individual investor, I rely heavily on quarterly reporting. Please do not change the regulations.

Douglas Louden — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Douglas Louden Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Douglas Louden, Retired real estate investor and contractor

Taking away quarterly reports takes away the ability to catch the money going out the door quickly.

Douglas Russell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Douglas Russell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep it Quarterly! !!!!!!!!!

Sent from:

D. Floyd Russell

DPH-FTR — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: DPH-FTR Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Rule S7-2026-15 would be INSANE financially and economically. The ONLY advantage is to shady corporations and their execs. If legalized this would be a total betrayal!!! Expect a noisy furor not a silent acceptance of thus betrayal!!!

Sent from Don's iPhone

---

dpt56er — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: dpt56er Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Need to do away with the 401k and bring back regular pensions!

Sent from my Galaxy

Dr. Terri Mitchell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dr. Terri Mitchell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Doctor Terri Mitchell. I am a professor at a college in Florida. It is imperative that we keep the reports quarterly! We have to know what our retirement is doing.We have to know how our investments are faring!

Dr. Mitchell

Sent from my Galaxy

Drake Winters — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Drake Winters Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 John Winters-Sr Director and soon to be retired. I have been actively involved in the stock market for much of my adult life. It is important to me and other active investors that companies provide frequent information about their performance so we can evaluate them and determine if they are worthy of investment. The more transparency, the fairer it is to all investors. Have we not learned from the past where the stock market was a plaything of the wealthy and connected and a sucker bet for everyone else? I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Sent from my iPad

Drew Bornhorst — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Drew Bornhorst Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

As a retail investor, I strongly oppose any measures that reduce the frequency or depth of public financial disclosures. Individual investors rely entirely on timely, quarterly reporting to monitor corporate turnarounds, evaluate operational health, and make informed capital allocations. Cutting back on these requirements severely limits public transparency and exacerbates information asymmetry between retail investors and institutional market participants.

Market integrity requires more structural transparency, not less. We see a similar issue with the implementation of the Consolidated Audit Trail (CAT). Pushing critical transparency initiatives out to 2028 appears to accommodate large institutional funds seeking to obscure higher-risk positions or failing strategies from public scrutiny.

The SEC's core mandate is to protect retail investors and maintain fair, orderly, and efficient markets. Regulatory timelines and disclosure requirements should prioritize systemic transparency and fair competition rather than shielding institutional capital from the consequences of its own market exposure. I urge the Commission to uphold rigorous, frequent reporting standards.

Drew Irby — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Drew Irby Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please keep the corporate reporting as is, status quo. We taxpayers are entitled to full transparency, not less.

Sent from my iPhone

Drusiller Bolton — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Drusiller Bolton Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No more corruption in this government

---

Dwight Dunlap — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dwight Dunlap Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Have public companies continue reporting quarterly!

Dylan Moomey — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dylan Moomey Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This prevents obscurity and mitigates the length of time the books can be hidden. Quarterly, especially with AI assisted tools, takes next to no time. There is no reason to make it biannually. There is no cost savings, only mitigation of transparency and loss of public trust increasing.

Dylan Moomey

E&C Southworth — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: E&C Southworth Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Earnings season is a magical time. If anything, quarterly reporting is too little! Why not go hexannual?

PDT rules are no longer a thing anyway. So 'the casino is wide open' already, as the kids on WSB say.

Seriously though, there are plenty of ways to make accountants mad without providing extra time between filings for executives to do truly stupid and sometimes illegal things with money.

Its may be just as useful to make a rule that all earnings reports need to be rounded to the nearest prime number for net and gross. Keep everyone guessing! Transparency for shareholders be *ed!

No doubt you will think back fondly on this innocent dabbling with regulations and transparency when pitch fork futures are at an all time high on Kalshi. Ah, those were your salad days.

Best of luck with this decision. (Keep quarterly please!)

---

e.d. Spencer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: e.d. Spencer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The new SEC proposal which would allow public companies to delay their financial records reporting for up to six months at a time is a horrible idea that will more easily enable fraud and corruption due to the additional time without government oversight. The proposal must be denied to protect the American investor. I am retired and I am concerned by how this may affect myself, my daughter who works in finance, others in my family and all citizens in the United States. Respectfully,
Elizabeth Spencer
Bluemont, Virginia

Ed Coppernoll — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ed Coppernoll Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My husband & I are retired. We must keep careful track of our money. We do have some investments and it is imperative for our financial health to keep abreast of the companies we invest in. Please keep the reports quarterly- retirees like us depend on them!

Sent from my iPhone

Ed Eichinger — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ed Eichinger Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Enough with catering to these corporate criminals.

Edward Krausnick — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Edward Krausnick DO NOTChange to semi-annual reporting. Don’t lengthen the gap between reporting the results in any way!

Edward LeClair — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Edward LeClair Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Young investors and experienced investors as well need correct and current information to make educated investments. Limiting any information that is not reasonable current is of little or no value. This proposal will be damaging to currrnt and future investors.

Edward Rollins — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Edward Rollins Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 At this point (I'm 85) I have seen increased dissolution of regulatory guidelines. Supposedly reputable people like "I am not a a crook" Nixon will do whatever they think they can get away with. Changing the regulations to make it easier for cheating is not a good idea, a good idea is to strengthen them. Thank you, Ned

---

Edward Sanchez — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Edward Sanchez Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Investment d Exchange Commission:
Quarterly reports help make investment

EEB — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: EEB Please keep reporting at its current frequency. Allowing any secrecy puts all faith in the integrity of our financial systems at risk, which is bad for every American.

Eileen Kilroy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Eileen Kilroy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Eileen Kilroy
Marketing Manager

Please keep mandating quarterly reporting. It’s important to me to have transparency into how the companies managing my investments are operating.

Sent from my iPhone

Eileen Levine — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Eileen Levine Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are important. Do not cut. It's another way for the rich to get richer!

Sent from my iPhone

Eileen McCoy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Eileen McCoy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the rule for filing the way it stands. The corruption possibilities will increse dramatically with little benefit if the change is made to 6 months.

Eileen McCoy, private Investor

Eileen Viars — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Eileen Viars Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This time frame should definitely not be changed. We need more guardrails not less.
Eileen Stubbs Viars
Investor

Sent from my iPhone

Elaine Kastendieck — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elaine Kastendieck Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Jackie Kastendieck. I am in my retirement years and depend on my social security check and my retirement savings. Given that some in Washington, D.C. want to continue whittling down on medicare and social security, I may soon be dependent on my retirement savings. From everything I've read and heard about moving to a semi-annual reporting for companies, I'm against it. Those quarterly reports keep me updated on what the financials and changes are in the companies I own stocks in. Six months between reports, a lot can happen in the company.
Again, I prefer quarterly reports. Thank you.

Sent from my iPad

Elaine Neiss — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elaine Neiss Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Elaine Neiss, Marketing Quarterly reports are vital to investors. Keep them.
I see no good reason to lessen the information that is helpful to the public. Transparency and accountability are vital.

Sent from my iPad

Elise Mellinger — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elise Mellinger Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Are you kidding me?

Even quarterly isn't enough but cutting it down to 6 months. That's ridiculous. That's the opposite of transparent and is privileging business at the expense of everyone else. Please do not do this! Thank you, Elise Mellinger

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

---

eliza beth — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: eliza beth Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Mary Masters, Scottsdale AZ … quarterly reporting, transparency, P/E ratio … you must not take this away. Retirees cannot make up the losses if you do this uneducated, unthinkable reversion to bad policy. We need a market system with integrity in reporting Quarterly to keep investors!!
SEC, you need to investigate insider trading and protect us!

Sent from my iPhone

Elizabeth Pajak — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elizabeth Pajak Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting should be provided as it has been. Not providing quarterly reporting, does not benefit us and this "shortcut" should not be permissible. They cannot cite costs as most reports are delivered electronically.

Liz Miller Pajak. Project Manager

Elizabeth Benn — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Elizabeth Benn Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am retired. I live on Social Security and some investments. Reporting changes that are suggested are dangerous and have already proven they don't work! It was broken before. It was fixed. Don't bring them back! Elizabeth , Ohio.

Elizabeth DeStefano — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Elizabeth DeStefano Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please preserve the transparency we have now… there is no sound reason to revisit the model which failed us in the past

Sent from my iPhone

Elizabeth Dupont — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elizabeth Dupont Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Ela Dupont and I want to keep.reporting quarterly so I can be informed about my investments. This will let companies be less transparent and that is the wrong direction to be going.

Get Outlook for Android

Elizabeth Hicks — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elizabeth Hicks Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I'm writing to support quarterly reports. Thank you.

Sent from my iPhone

Elizabeth Lear-Walker — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elizabeth Lear-Walker Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is just common sense. There has to be accountability especially in the days of crooks in power like Trump.

Sent from my iPhone

Elizabeth Melenciano — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elizabeth Melenciano Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Elizabeth M.
Human Resource Specialist
We don't want this. As a small investor this change makes it harder for people like me to really participate since we're not heavily involved in finance . The quarterly reports help us stay somewhat informed allowing us to make adjustments to allocations just like insiders do. They already have a huge advantage.

Please reconsider.

Get Outlook for Android

Elizabeth Merchant — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Elizabeth Merchant Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports need to stay. The frequency of these earnings reports allows investors to review the details needed to inform their decisions about how to proceed with their investments. Quarterly reports bring transparency, twice yearly reports obfuscate information.

Sent from my iPad

Elizabeth Merz — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elizabeth Merz Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep reports coming on a quarterly basis. I'm 82 and need to know about my small investments more than every 6 months. God forbid there should be fraud involved, I would not want to wait an extra 3 months to learn it.

Elizabeth Merz, Retired Investor

Sent from my iPhone

Elizabeth Miller — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elizabeth Miller Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Businesses should keep their statements quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

Elizabeth Torphy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Elizabeth Torphy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
There is no justification for costing smaller investors any of their savings by allowing companies to withhold information that is currently available.
I am a retired teacher living in Indiana, and losing information relating to the investments that underpin my retirement is something I cannot afford.

Elizabeth Walker — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elizabeth Walker Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I Want My Quarterly reports. It's the Only way I Know ya'll aren't doing anything shady with My money. Bunch of Crooks

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Ellen Di Filippo — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ellen Di Filippo Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Ellen Di Filippo. I am a retired teacher. The money I have to invest will allow me to live through the rest of my life without financial stress. I need to know which companies will help me know how they are doing, to decide if investment is worthwhile. Knowing prospects only every six months could be disastrous if I make the wrong decision.

Ellen Gross — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ellen Gross Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Ellen Gross retired musician. I have a low amount on my SS check each month because I worked restaurant jobs and as a musician. I need my investment income.

Sent from my iPhone

Elliot Harris — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elliot Harris Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the quartly reporting.... Six months will be a disaster. Folks who will steal, lie and cheat will have longer time to do so.

Elsa Obuchowski — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elsa Obuchowski Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Everyone with an investment needs quarterly statements so they can tell what's going on with their money. Why would administrators want to send only 6- month updates? Why not make it just annual? Because it's our money, and we have a right to know how it's performing quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

Elwood Williams — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elwood Williams Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It's my money you living off of. I want to see how your doing quarterly not every 6 months. If you use the excuse it's costing to much. Well the CEO, CFO and all the senior staff need to take a 8% pay cut or end all bonuses. All the rest of the employees should have 3% reduction in wages.
Elwood Williams
Retired not Retarded.

Emily Knorp-Brown — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Emily Knorp-Brown Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I'm Emily Stone, mom, caregiver, and campaign manager in Kansas and I request that we leave SEC reporting at Quarterly. I'm not a huge investor but having less information is never beneficial. Securities and exchanges should be reporting their finances at least as often as political campaigns! Heck our Girl Scout troop has to report its finances that often. Stop inviting fraud and abuse into our systems.

Thank you, Emily K-B Stone
316-655-9734
Emily.Knorp.Brown@gmail.com

Emily Pitney — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Emily Pitney Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As Americans are expected to save more for retirement, as evidenced by lack of companies offering pensions, it is irresponsible for the SEC to limit reports to every 6 months. That gives too much time between updates to allow for informed decision making regarding investments. This would be an act of enforced negligence on the part of the SEC. Shame on you for suggesting such a potentially dangerous policy to the future American retirees.

Sent from my iPhone

Emily Pitney — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: Plan for reducing quarterly reports to twice yearly. From: Emily Pitney Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As Americans are expected to save more for retirement, as evidenced by lack of companies offering pensions, it is irresponsible for the SEC to limit reports to every 6 months. That gives too much time between updates to allow for informed decision making regarding investments. This would be an act of enforced negligence on the part of the SEC. Shame on you for suggesting such a potentially dangerous policy to the future American retirees. Sent from my iPhone

---

enaid987 — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: enaid987 Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Skipping oversight is an invitation to fraud. If you are not accountable, you have no guardrails.
I am retired and want frequent oversight

Diane Taulbee. Diane.fay@att.net

Sent from my Galaxy

Eric Russell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Eric Russell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are essential for holding management accountable for performance. Individual investors and fund managers need this transparency to make informed decisions. Please make quarterly reports an ongoing requirement for publicly traded firms. Thank you. Eric Russell, Retired Person.

Sent from my iPhone

Eric Waitkus — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Eric Waitkus Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 That's a terrible idea. People should be able to see quarterly on how their investments are doing and by the time you find out when something has when down it's too late and they already sold off and are comfy but the small guy like me is left holding the bag

---

Eric Zink — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Eric Zink Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please maintain quarter reporting as it provides an important and needed service to the general investor.
Quarterly reports have been very important to me as a teacher as my investment in 403b relies on being informed of various stock offerings. I ask that quarterly reports remain for companies listed with the U.S. Stock Exchanges. It is vital for continued confidence in our investment markets.

Thank you,
Eric Zink

Erica Chaple — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Erica Chaple Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 People are struggling. My only retirement funds are in my 401k. Transparency matters!!!!!

Erich Fauteck — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Erich Fauteck Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I strongly feel quarterly reports are vital to retail investors who already are at a disadvantage to company insiders, Billionaires with access normal people can't get, and government officials who have made public knowledge they will take bribes from companies in exchange for favorable legislative/ executive treatment. There is no way insider corruption will not explode even further without continued quarterly reporting.

Erich Fauteck BSMT (ASCP)
630-777-9872

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Erik Strohmeyer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Erik Strohmeyer I think the old reporting rules are fine. I want as much disclosure as I can get; this rule goes in the wrong direction.

Erin & Ed Cooper — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Erin & Ed Cooper Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As an average investor the government's responsibility is accountability, and this change allows average investors to be short changed by companies circumventing the rules and laws meant to protect investors. The SEC is meant to protect investor's investments and this rule change will prevent that.

Erin Cooper

Erin Kinney Marketing specialist — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Erin Kinney Do not do this. We've learned the hard way, many times, that when businesses remove transparency, the public suffers. We need to maintain and even increase transparency and reporting, not decrease it.

Ernie Back — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ernie Back Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 When it's ever easier to have off the shelf software posting accounting entries in real time, there is absolutely no valid excuse for reducing the reporting periods from quarterly — to bi-annual — disclosure…

Please don't rock the boat.

Sent from the ePad

Ethan Stucky — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ethan Stucky Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please dont stop requiring companies from reporting quarterly information to retail investors.
This is to say, taking away information from regular people is simply a villainous move. In society, we stress good communication being an important part of relationships, I think this would include public company to retail investor relationship too, and changing this rule to require less communication is the opposite of that.
Thank you for your consideration. Have a good day.

Ethan

Evan Koch — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Evan Koch Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Im Evan Koch, a computer engineer. If you reduce visibility on traded assets, it will make it harder for common people to invest wisely.

Evan Koch

Evelyn Sasnett — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Evelyn Sasnett Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 NO! to semi-annual reporting. Fraud will become rampant with so much time between reports. A million times NO!

Evelyn Strawn — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Evelyn Strawn Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I want to keep up with how my investments are doing in retirement quarterly or even monthly. Will make me just want to cash in before I start taking RMD's

Sent from my iPhone

Everett Miller — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Everett Miller Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It is very important to keep the books open, otherwise the insider's will ruin the stock market for all but the insiders. It will drive away smaller investors and potentially ruin the faith in stocks

Sent from my iPad

Faithy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Faithy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 If anything, I think reporting should be increased to monthly. 6 months is entirely to long. Companies can and do fail in less than 2 months and the investing public has a right to be kept informed. In 6 months owners can sell out and leave small investors out in the dark. That is unacceptable. Do not cave to corporate masters. Signed, an average American investor. Who votes rigorously.

Faith & Bobby

Family Email — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Reporting Requirements From: Family Email Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To whom it may concern,

Removing any reporting requirements creates unnecessary risk for investors and creates a rigged system. I'm a manager at a small business and my life savings are wrapped up in my 401k and my retirement relies heavily on the performance of those funds. Please don't remove any reporting requirements

Sincerely,
Theresa MacDonald
Michigan resident

Felicity Butterfield — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Felicity Butterfield Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We, the consumer, need the market to reflect quarterly reporting so we have a better idea of our economy. The world is changing so quickly we need to be able to be able to see the changes as it happens not waiting 6 months to understand what causes may affect us. Felicity Butterfield retired educator, from Vermont and now Arizona.

Felicity Harmony — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Felicity Harmony Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This change from every 3 months to every 6 months is intolerable. We need MORE transparency, NOT LESS! Please do not let this happen.

Missy Masterson Hale, RN
Missy Masterson Hale, RN, LVT, PLNC
Nurse Assessor/Care Mgr., Geriatrics

PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION NOTICE PRIVACY WARNING
Confidentiality Notice: The information contained in this email message and any attachment(s) is the property of the sender and may be protected by state and federal laws governing disclosure of private and/or health related information. It is intended solely for the use of the entity to whom this email is addressed. If you are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that reading, copying, or distributing this transmission is strictly prohibited. The sender has not waived any applicable privileges by sending the accompanying transmission. If you have received this transmission in error, please notify the sender by return email and delete the message and attachment(s) from your system.

Florence Turner — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Florence Turner Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Why change now unless you are trying to hide something. Quarterly reporting must remain in place, that is the way the system is designed, changing it will cause more problems, cost more money, and allow unscrupulous companies to take advantage and avoid paying their fair share.

Sent from my iPhone

Foxy Loxy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Foxy Loxy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Kathleen Fox
NO!!! There is too much lack of accountability now. This is such a bad idea. The Amerucan people deserve better.

Kathleen (Katy) Fox-Tarzian
ktisafox@gmail.com

Fran Cilella — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Fran Cilella Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am writing to demand that the SEC not change reporting for public companies from quarterly to every six months. Quarterly data is essential for investors to accurately assess the data on market trends and changes. Investors deserve transparency - delayed or obscured negative news is not acceptable. Additionally, the proposed rule risks market volatility. Volatility risks retirement income for millions of Americans who are already financially stressed under the current administration's reckless fiscal policies.

Maintain current quarterly reporting.

Thank you.

Frances Carroll — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Frances Carroll Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please keep the schedule of quarterly reports as is, you must not change it. Transparency is vital for investors. We have a right to know how the companies we invest in are doing, and having that insight only 2x a year instead of 4x a year will hurt us and our investments.

We need this level of transparency to safeguard our nest eggs. We literally need this for our retirement. Please do not take it away.

I am a field representative for a government agency and do not make alot of money. It is all I can do to save a little for my senior years. Please help me safeguard my future and that of my family.

- Frances Carroll

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Francis Fuller — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Francis Fuller Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No hiding period.

Sent from my iPhone

Francis Ciochon — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Francis Ciochon Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am in favor of more disclosure, not less.

Sent from my iPhone

Frank CSX-NSC — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Frank CSX-NSC Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 A lot of criminal activity can happen in six months - quarterly is the longest interval that should be allowed.

Frank Bennett
Private Investor

Fred Leone — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Fred Leone Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Fred Leone - retired.

Brandamore PA.
Let’s keep the reporting of financials a company must submit to a quarterly basis. In these uncertain times and the current chaos we can ill afford to have any more uncertainty in our system.

G M — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: G M Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Continue requiring quarterly reports to keep investors updated and to prevent fraud and companies from hiding important information from investors for up to 6 months. Reducing required reporting to only twice per year is irresponsible and it saves little money because companies are going to collect the data anyway for their decision making. Shouldn't that same decision making information be available on a timely basis to investors too for transparency? Signed, all the citizens you are supposed to serve who deserve to be protected from fraud and deceit.

Gabrielle LaMarche — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gabrielle LaMarche Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 All businesses should be required to submit complete financial reports regularly, especially in the first year of operation. This bill will only make corruption and thievery easier to both commit and hide.

Gabrielle LaMarche retired RN/NP

Sent from my iPad

Gail Beaulieu — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Gail Beaulieu Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly keeps us informed of our financial security. Reviewing our financial statements on a quarterly basis allows opportunity to make a change in our financial investments. There are situations that happen on a daily, monthly basis that can have an impact on investments. Not confident that twice a year is sufficient to protect our financial security

Get Outlook for iOS

---

gail camp — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: gail camp Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do not decrease the frequency of reporting. Gail Camp Research Coordinator

Sent from my iPhone

Gail Williams — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gail Williams Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 There is a reason these reports are required - transparency. Don’t change the requirements to every 6 months.

Gail Williams

716 998 2636

Gale Burke — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gale Burke Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This unfair. Unjust to all our 401s. Its our money. We have s right to have our earnings every 3 mo. And not 6 months so that big corporations can get Their results anytime. Another Maga deal to corrupt our earning.
SHAME ON THE SECRETARY.
Gale Burke
Retired

Gardner and Chrissy Montgomery — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gardner and Chrissy Montgomery Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep earnings sharing quarterly. The public DESERVES transparency

---

Gary Felton — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gary Felton Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This would severely limit transparency that I need as a retail investor. The savings would be insignificant compared to the damage.

Sent from my iPad

Gary Ferenz — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Gary Ferenz Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please do not reduce the current quarterly reporting requirements for public companies. The data is clear, quarterly reporting promotes transparency and lowers risk, both positives in stock valuations.

Gary

Gary Green — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gary Green Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need more public exposure not less!

Sent from my iPhone

Gary Miller — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gary Miller Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Let’s just keep company reporting quarterly. Investors need current information and more protection. Less disclosure has always been a poor idea! Gary Miller, CFP

Gary Mostert — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Gary Mostert Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Sirs,
Please do not relax the reporting requirements for business to semi-annually from the current quarterly reporting mandate. With the speed of information today and the ease of putting together and filing reports, it is more necessary than ever to have the latest and most current information available on which to base important decisions on investing in and running our businesses.

Business trades on minute by minute information, and stretching out reporting requirements will do us all a great disservice, particularly when it comes to predicting and investing in the current market.

Regards,
Gary Mostert - president (ret.)
PSP Crane Service

Sent from Gary Mosterts communicator

Gary Pighetti — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gary Pighetti Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I actively invest through my 401k. If I can’t get pertinent information whenever I need it, as a retail investor I am at even more of a disadvantage than I am already.

Gary Seeman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gary Seeman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We must retain transparency in corporate reporting, which requires quarterly reporting. To do otherwise hurts investors, damages our economy and promotes corruption.

Gary Seeman

GARY THURM, SR — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: GARY THURM, SR Proposal REJECTED: Six month reporting would be a step back in favor the companies- giving less timely information to investors and obscuring what is going on, which only benefits account engineering seen way too often. This is the 21st century, and data should be as up-to-date as possible. It reeks of more administration cronyism to disadvantage the investor. I am a retired investor, and I rely on quarterly reports- please don't take them away.

Gary Warner — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Gary Warner Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Does not make sense to reduce reporting requirements.

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Gay Lynn Bath — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gay Lynn Bath Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I administer retirement plans for thousands of participants. I want quarterly reporting to continue.

Gayle Chandler — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gayle Chandler Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is ridiculous. Companies should not be able to hide their books. Not ever!

Sent from my iPhone

Gayle Logan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gayle Logan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the SEC:

Under no circumstances should the SEC switch from requiring 4 reports to 2 reports. As a widow I must be careful with my finances so I do not become a burden to my children. Ensuring that my money is safe as frequently as possible is essential. I am a mathematician who understands finance. Protecting citizens is essential.

Gayle Logan

George Gonzales — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: George Gonzales Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need quarterly reporting.There is too much fraud already.

George Armonaitis — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: George Armonaitis Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Making quarterly reports into semi-annual only reduces audit expense slightly, and will increase the amount of errors in the financial statements. This is more about management whining about oversight and wanting to boost their earnings than good governance. Repetition increases accuracy. Financial reporting should be in business as usual mode.

George P. Armonaitis Jr.
Hasbrouck Heights, NJ
201-638-3208

George Hale — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: George Hale Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This proposal is obviously contrary to the interest of the investing public, whom the SEC is intended to serve. Quarterly reporting is not a bad idea just because it costs money. Manufacturing firms could say the same thing about routine safety inspections.

George Hale
US Citizen, Retired Fiancial Mgr., Investor.

George Hale — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: George Hale Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This proposal is obviously contrary to the interest of the investing public, whom the SEC is intended to serve. Quarterly reporting is not a bad idea just because it costs money. Manufacturing firms could say the same thing about routine safety inspections.

George Hale
Retiree, Former Corporate Financial Mgr., Investor.

George Melear — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: George Melear Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the current system intact, this will benefit no one but shady traded companies. If you want to do something good, eliminate trading commodities on the margin.

George Smith — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: George Smith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 .....you cannot be serious. this should require no explanation. what the fucks going on with the government are y'all ok? PLEASE pay me for my AI system so I can move on in life 🙏

Gerald LaChapelle — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Gerald LaChapelle Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please leave reporting as it is. We are a retired couple who use our savings, etc. to fund our activities, etc. Taking away reporting takes away information that we use to make decisions on our investments in a timely manner. Do not give these Companies the opportunity to delay bad news in order to save their or their companies money. There is already enough corruption going on in the upper levels of our current Administration! Don’t give them any more opportunities to short change normal investors!!

Gerald S. LaChapelle

Gib Gahan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gib Gahan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Gib Gahan, retired. This action does nothing to help regular investors. It would only be of benefit to those with insider ability. So why do it?

Gigi Spitzer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gigi Spitzer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly information is importantly for me to make my decisions.

This gives insiders more of an unfair advantage.

Public companies owe their investor/owners-at least quarterly information for their money. It’s not a donation

Sent from my iPhone

Gina Wilson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gina Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 WTF, SEC! Complete disclosure all the time!

Sent from my iPhone

Ginny Reed — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ginny Reed Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do not change the three month reporting rule. Do not let companies shield insider trading information from ordinary people. Do not allow this change that won't help individuals who may depend on their investments in the company that decides to play unfairly.

Thank you.
V. H. Reed
Get Outlook for Android

Giselle Reischer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Giselle Reischer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports makes companies transparent. Keep it like it is.

Sent from my iPhone

---

glackinerin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: glackinerin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have millions on the stock exchange but I can pull my money out if necessary. I deserve to have honest information on a timely manner. If not, I will pull money and also petition my unions to pull their retirement money out as well Hiding information is illegal and not fair. I am watching closely.

Sent from my Galaxy

Gladys MacIntosh — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Gladys MacIntosh Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Why do want to screw over the folks who have worked over 50 years. We are now retiring. It seems to me that you are thinking about your bottom line and no one else's. Folks are not showing up to work now. What are you gonna do when your business fails. Think about it. The public is tired of being screwed over.

Sent from my iPhone

---

gmawoo — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: gmawoo Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Leslee Jo Peterson, LMT Keep it Quarterly so I can stay informed regarding my investments which I count on to live.

Gordon Steele — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gordon Steele Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Just another attempt by the administration to stifle the little people and increase the profits of the insiders that will be privy to information that the general public will not see or know about .

Sent from my iPad

Gordon Welty — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gordon Welty Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am so pissed at the sheer insularity of your decision making process, which keeps corporate influence front and center, and the lives of ordinary Americans as a secondary consideration, all in the name of profit and subservience to power. These policies were designed to protect Americans. Changing the rules are devastating to the people who matter, and the ones whose backs support the entire economy. Do not take away the quarterly report.

Grady Turner — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Grady Turner Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting has been the rule for decades. We know that things can change in days. Investors need to know what the impact is.

--
Grady - lockmangrady@gmail.com

Gredon (Grady) Turner

Locksmith
Residential services
Classic American Auto

Call or Text: 402-450-1849
Address: 3212 N 92nd St.
Lincoln, NE 68507-6405

Grant Carey — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Grant Carey Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting should be the norm anything less and the public loses.

Grant Payne — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Grant Payne Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Are you kidding? You want business to become MORE lawless?

Grant Payne.

Greg B — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Greg B Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a 40-year banker involved in underwriting, credit risk and oversight, quarterly reporting is instrumental in maintaining the safety and soundness of our US commercial lending institutions.
Gregory B
VP, Commercial Credit Manager

Greg Clyde — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Greg Clyde Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I believe the quarterly reports are important.

Greg Keefer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Greg Keefer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reports. They are a must for rebalancing.

Thank you.

Gregory Hotz — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gregory Hotz Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No! Keep the traditional reporting!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Gregory` Miller — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Gregory` Miller Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please do not go to twice a year reports, the quarterly reports are essential for good governance

Gregory Miller

Greta Thomsen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Greta Thomsen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Why hide what's inevitable to come out - what are they hiding that could ultimately harm their shareholders. Keep the 1/4ly reports and transparency for all.

Sent from my iPhone

Gretchen Kennedy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gretchen Kennedy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The current market is far too erratic and filled with insider trading to make us wait six months before filing with the SEC. 10Ks and 10Qs help individual investors and financial institutions make responsible investments based on current information. Do not lift this requirement.

Gretchen Kennedy
75 Armand Rd
Ridgefield, CT 06877

Sent from my iPhone

Gretchen Skarohlid — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Gretchen Skarohlid The current rules were put into place to address abuse that was happening. The same behaviors that lead to that abuse continue to exist. If a company has nothing to hide, there should be no need for quarterly reporting. If they do have something to hide - then all the more reason for quarterly reporting. The system is already structured to the benefit of corporations. Leave the few safeguards for regular people alone!

Guy Griswell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Guy Griswell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is foolish. We need more transparency not less. As individual investor and simple ira owner I greatly object to this. Remain quarterly please. Guy Griswell, comptroller

---

Guy Johnson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Guy Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep mandatory quarterly reporting.

Guy Johnson
Wilton NH

Gwen Jansen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gwen Jansen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need visibility into and accountability by the companies we are investing our hard earned money into. Why should they hbe able to hide data from us for even longer.
Gwen Jansen

Gwendolyn Stone — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gwendolyn Stone Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please do not cut reporting from quarterly to semi-annually! That would only allow greater corruption especially for companies who are profiting from mass incarceration. If Wall Street wants to be better than Las Vegas, then there needs to be greater transparency, not less!!
Thank you

Gwendolyn wells None — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Gwendolyn wells Reducing reporting from quarterly will significantly decrease transparency and timeliness of information that shareholders need and deserve from corporations.

Gypsy Wolf — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gypsy Wolf Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the quarterly published financial statements of companies for public transparency. We, the people, deserve transparency as consumers and investors.
Gypsy Wolf

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Hacene Hanouti — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Hacene Hanouti Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I'm a retail investor and I rely on quarterly reports to make decisions about my investments and retirement savings

---

harold wilkes — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: harold wilkes Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Cancel the Nancy Pelosi protection act...the public deserves current information.

Harriet Burandt — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Harriet Burandt Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 How many ways can you bend the knee to corporations? Our retirement accounts should never be hidden from us. How can we plan for our futures with our assets are closeted from our planning even for a moment much less months on end?

Vote no

Harriet Burandt
2800 South University Blvd
Denver,CO 80210

Sent from my iPhone

Harry Chaivoe — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Harry Chaivoe Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly.

HazelAnne Agudera — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: HazelAnne Agudera Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
It's our money not your , used your own money . We work hard to save for our kids future. To open collaborate that's a mistake, I see all thing you guys do . Don't hold on to my money . You take advantage of those people like me . We're not gonna let you guys take away our rights to live and spend our money . Make your own money and stop being greedy with the money we make and keep it in your pocket. I can't believe that making my profit private so that you can chance and get someone's money , changing tittle and making your own life better. Not because you have the power but that's why your there in that position. Because we trusted you guys not to make our life miserable. Give as the right to decide what we want to live and we will make our own life. Our decisions not your .

HE Lamb — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: HE Lamb Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I'm Heidi Lamb,a teacher from RI. I feel strongly that quarterly reporting is absolutely necessary. Transparency is a key factor in maintaining positive performance. History shows that a decline in reporting leads to poor performance.

Heather Floyd Nonprofit fundraiser — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Heather Floyd I am not an economics or finance expert. I am, however, a GenX single mom member of the investing public who has, to date, survived the natural economic consequences of corporate greed. Your mission is to protect "the investing public and others who rely on our markets to secure their financial futures." Loosening reporting requirements in no way protects the investing public. How dare you?!

Heather Harris — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Heather Harris Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Accountability is essential and it is what helps our society thrive. It is important that businesses do frequent reporting and have oversight and accountability. Eroding public trust in businesses and the stock market will be harmful.

Heather Spence — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Heather Spence Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: we cannot invest without proper and timely disclosures. Don't take this vital info away. We care about our 401ks and we are paying attention

---

Heather Svoboda — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Heather Svoboda Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am against the proposal for Rule S7-2026-15, to extend (double) the length of time companies have between informing the public of their financial activities. This type of secrecy does not work in favor of the investors or system of accountability which serves the larger public and business communities. Please quash this.

Heather Svoboda
Private Practice Licensed Psychologist
Small Business owner

Hector Melendez — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Hector Melendez Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My investments are my retirement. The current reporting system allows me to make informed decisions regarding my future welfare. It’s not too much to ask to retain what we have. BOD’s and oligarchs have their own sources of information. We only have the quarterlies.

HLMelendez
... And remember "Do no harm". Sent from my iPhone

Helen Essential — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Helen Essential Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stop enabling companies to steal and defraud investors by allowing the hiding of financial information for 6 months. Keep the quarterly reporting. It is a way to force some level of transparency at least. Helen Floyd, owner Eclectic Wellness LLC. There need to be rules that everyone has to comply with, not allowing billionaire corps to slide by without reporting appropriately. People's retirement funds are involved. You, the SEC have a responsibility. You are on notice that you need to take responsibility and keep the quarterly reporting in place.

Sent from my Galaxy

Helen Miller — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Helen Miller Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the Quarterly reporting. Twice a year reporting was tried before and it was a disaster. It resulted in a total lack of transparency. That is NOT what investors want.

Sent from my iPhone

---

helen stamatacos — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: helen stamatacos Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Can’t be serious . Again protecting everything except consumers

Sent from my iPhone

Henry Szydlo — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Henry Szydlo Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Don’t touch anything that is not broken. It you say it is the SEC that wants to change it is definitely something Trump wants to do in order to steal more from the people who pay the bills and put more in his pocket and his billionaire buddies who don’t pay a fair share of taxes now. Henry Szydlo, retired and still paying taxes while Trump lines his pockets.

Sent from my iPad

Herb Owen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Herb Owen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 40 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Herbert Owen
Woodbury, MN

Hester Downes — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Hester Downes Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a retired person I am highly concerned with secrecy within investors. How will we know until it's too late if a company goes belly up? We deserve timely transparency and reporting of investments and profits and/or losses. Tax payers have bailed out too many companies already.

Sincerely,
Hester S. Downes
Retired

Heston Glenn CNA — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Heston Glenn I think this is a terrible idea. I really find it important to understanding the market to be able to look at quarterly statements. If it was up to me I'd ask that they be even more frequent.

Hilary Lockhart — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Hilary Lockhart Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Hilary Lockhart, owner of Locals Realty in Anchorage, AK.

The fact that we are doing so much better now should be enough for us to not break a functioning system. If it's it not broke, don't fix it.

We are second best (next to South Korea); that's a win!

Do not allow more ways for large companies to take advantage of the people of United States.

- Hilary

HKay Soulis — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: HKay Soulis Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 44 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Helen Soulis

Ho-ping Wei — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Proposed change to corporate reporting. From: Ho-ping Wei Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a tax paying citizen, going to quarterly reporting would do me and all,other everyday Americans a huge dis_service…and goes to show that the endemic corruption of the Trump regime has now reached the “independent” SEC as well. Please do not do this.

Sent from my iPad

Howard Kornstein — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Howard Kornstein Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We know the conservative commissioners are pushing this. Don't attempt it. Eventually your conservative chums will go to prison for their corruption and so will you. Stop this corrupt procedural change now

---

Howard Prager — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Howard Prager Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep reports current

Sent from my iPhone

Hubert - Linda Badgley — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Hubert - Linda Badgley Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I absolutely do not want the SEC to change to biannual reports. This leaves way too much room for the crooks to do their evil work,and not enough information for those investing to keep track of theirhard earned cash.

Sent from my iPad

Hunter Greer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Hunter Greer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Are you insane? The change should be to MONTHLY!

Ian McClain — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Ian McClain Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Don’t do change the reporting rules. This will hurt markets and investors.

-Ian

Idalee DiGregorio — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Idalee DiGregorio Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting keeps companies more transparent. Leave the rule at quarterly reporting.

Sincerely
Idalee DiGregorio
Baltimore Md

---

idleone — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: idleone Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Another scheme to hurt only the little guy

---

Ileana — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ileana Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep ir quarterly

Sent from my iPhone

Ilene Slavick — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Ilene Slavick Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are important communications for investors. It is the minimum that corporations can provide.

Ilene Slavick
Los Angeles CA

Sent from my iPhone

Illene Marx — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Illene Marx Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Too much can happen in six months. Investors deserve to know quarterly results. It’s done anyway so why not continue to send to investors. Why would you keep us out of the loop…. Fraudulent activity maybe?

Illene Marx, retired.

Sent from my iPhone

In Ar — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: In Ar Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Stop damaging the public's knowledge. Do not change current laws. Investors have the right to informed decisions.

---

irene hancock — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: irene hancock Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I rely on quarterly reports for tracking my investments. Please do not do away with quarterly reporting.

IH

---

irene hancock — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: irene hancock Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I rely on quarterly reports for tracking my investments. Please do not do away with quarterly reporting.

Donald Hancock

Irene Smith — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Irene Smith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is so stupid. Corporations are already ripping off their employees this would give them an extra 3 months to COOK the books.
Irene Smith

Isabel Barr — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Isabel Barr Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Isabel Barr - retired. This is outrageous! Inflation is high. Fraud is rampant and trust is already low. How am I supposed to effectively manage my investments when the information is so far behind that by the time I get it it is obsolete? The whole direction and picture could change without a hint. At least quarterly, I have a fighting chance.

Isabel Gathright — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Isabel Gathright Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need quarterly reporting in this crazy environment. It is the only way to keep informed. Too much can happen in half a year.

Sent from my iPhone

Ivan Chandler — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Ivan Chandler Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Ivan Chandler, Retired, Sebastian Florida, I have been investing it the various stock markets since I was 22 years old have continued until now at age 83. I depend on the quarterly's for making my investments ments. Twice a year reports are outdated. Please keep the quarterly requirements. It helps the independent investors.

Ivan

Ivy Moya — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Ivy Moya Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Ivy Moya
Independent Sales Representative
Oakland, CA
Americans are struggling with inflation, high gas prices, impending job losses due to AI and wages for those still with jobs remaining flat. None of which appears to be changing or improving anytime soon. Please keep the quarterly reporting system in place. This is not the time to damage Americans finances or retirement accounts.

Sincerely,
Ivy Moya

Sent from my iPhone

Ivy Tse — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ivy Tse Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Report should not be delayed and must be reported timely and clearly. Transparency and on time report is paramount to every investor. No cheating or playing games on on our hard earned wages to support our future. Keep billionaires off hand to any of our money for good.

J Hoover — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: J Hoover Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Trump claims his administration is the most "transparent" yet once again we have another proposal to help corporations hide their financial well being longer to the public & average investors like me. NOT acceptable ! Thank you, Jody Hoover, Womelsdorf, PA

J Luzar — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: J Luzar Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Need to see numbers quarterly, period. Full stop.

J. Floyd — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: J. Floyd Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Transparency is key to honest investing. Changing this rule is NOT in the public's best interest. Don't change it!!

Sent by J. David Floyd, Broker
Crye-Leike Real Estate Services
from my iPhone

Sent by J. David Floyd, Broker
Crye-Leike Real Estate Services
from my iPhone

Jack Cohen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jack Cohen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a physician, investing has become a vocation but transparency should be increased, not decreased. Change from quarterly to monthly instead. What even IS the reason for the lack of transparency?

Sent from the iPhone of:
Jack B. Cohen MD

Jack Thoma — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Jack Thoma Not no but HELL NO!!! Quarterly reporting has worked for years and will continue to work. Egomaniac CEOs must be monitored!!!!

Jackie Brown — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jackie Brown Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This matters to me because I want to know companies' financial positions on a regular basis so I can make informed decisions about the placement of my investments.

Jackie Brown, librarian

Jackie Martin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jackie Martin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Jackie Martin…Retired.
.

Keep it as is…it my money and I want to know what’s happening..

~ Jackie ~

Jackie Nelson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jackie Nelson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please do not let these companies hide behind a 6 month span of time. They need to communicate their status on a quarterly basis!!

---

jackie scheben — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: jackie scheben Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No. We work hard and deserve to keep everything we can. Quarterly reports should keep them honest

---

Jacob Witham — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jacob Witham Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I want the quarterly reporting to remain, it's important to my piece of mind. Thank you

Get Outlook for iOS

Jacqueline Russo — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jacqueline Russo Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stop allowing loopholes to pass - your obligation is to allow more transparency for all people

Sent from my iPhone

Jacquie CDV — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jacquie CDV Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Jacquie DeVita, and I am a Senior Visual Designer in Arizona. I am writing as an ordinary investor whose retirement security depends on transparency, accountability, and timely corporate reporting.
Like many Americans, I learned financial lessons the hard way. Early in my adult life, I took on student loan debt before I fully understood the long-term consequences. I spent decades paying it back. Even so, I did what people are told to do: I worked, contributed to employer-sponsored 401(k) plans, attended financial workshops, and tried to make responsible decisions about saving for retirement.
By the time I reached my 40s, I believed I was on solid ground. Then the recession hit, and I lost my job. Soon after, I lost my health insurance. I have lived with a chronic medical condition since childhood, and staying alive requires expensive medication and medical supplies. Freelance income was not enough to cover rent, bills, and medical needs, and at that time I was not eligible for Medicaid. To survive, I cashed out my 401(k) during a market collapse. It bought me time, but not stability. I was eventually evicted, my credit was destroyed, and it took years to recover.
In the years that followed, I endured significant personal, financial, and medical hardships that made it impossible to build savings. When I secured full-time employment again in early 2020, I immediately enrolled in my company's 401(k), but I was starting over from nothing. Since then I have focused on restoring my credit and rebuilding my retirement savings. It has been a slow and disciplined process.
That experience permanently changed the way I think about risk. For people with wealth, influence, or privileged access, reduced corporate disclosure may sound like an abstract policy change. For ordinary investors, it is not abstract at all. It means making decisions about retirement savings with less information, less visibility, and less protection.
I do not have a safety net large enough to absorb major losses without consequences. I am asking for the ability to make informed decisions about the future I have worked to rebuild. That is what gives ordinary investors like me the best chance of achieving what millions of people want: enough security to live with dignity, retire modestly and comfortably, and afford long-term care if needed (and, in my case, a small white bichon). That is not an extravagant ask. It is a reasonable one.

That is why I strongly oppose any proposal to reduce the frequency of required corporate reporting. Public companies should not be LESS accountable to the people whose savings and retirement futures are tied to their performance. Ordinary investors deserve MORE timely information, not less. Real people are carrying the risk, so the expectation of transparency is indisputable.
Please reject any rule that would reduce reporting frequency and weaken accountability for public companies.

Jajuan Francis — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jajuan Francis Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 44 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Kind regards, have a marvelous day!

Jajuan Francis
Design with Floraé'
Designwithflorae.com

Jake Heimark — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Do NOT remove quarterly reporting From: Jake Heimark Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dear SEC,

My name is Jake Heimark. I am currently the CEO of a private company and previously served as CEO of a public company. I understand firsthand the burden that public reporting requirements place on management teams and the real costs they impose on businesses.
But I am also a small investor. There is already a significant information gap between sophisticated institutional investors and everyday shareholders. Eliminating quarterly reporting would only widen that gap and make public markets less accessible and less fair.
If the goal is to reduce the burden on public companies, there are better solutions. Simplify reporting requirements. Encourage companies to publish the operational dashboards and key metrics management actually uses to run the business. Revisit audit requirements to make them more efficient. Consider market structure reforms that reduce the advantages of ultra-high-speed trading. We should make it easier for companies to be public without making it harder for ordinary investors to participate and succeed in our markets.
Thanks,
-Jake

--

Jake Heimark
Founder / CEO

jake@costa.security (650) 200-3271
3790 El Camino Real #1090, Palo Alto, CA 94306

This email (together with any attachments) is confidential and may be privileged. If you are not the intended recipient, please notify us immediately by telephoning or emailing the sender, and delete the email (and any attachments). Please do not copy this email or any attachments, disclose their contents or use them for any purpose. Costa Security Inc. is registered in the state of Delaware. Its registered agent is Incorporating Services Ltd., 3500 South DuPont Highway, Dover DE 19901.

Jake Sofa — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jake Sofa Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 You will kill the market and people will pull out all their money. Stop doing the bidding of rich fascists.

Sent from my iPhone

James Ewing — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Ewing Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Having worked for MCI/Worldcom and living through that nightmare I implore you not to allow this to happen. Comoanies have been reporting quarterly for decades. Technology makes that EVEN easier! There is no reason to move to bi annual reporting to protect companies.

Sent from my iPhone

James Gwise — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: James Gwise Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I live Albany California and will rely on my investments (stocks) for my retirement. My retirement depends on the benefits of a supervised and fiscally responsible business environment. Reducing the amount of oversight of corporations is a mistake. Quarterly reporting makes sense - the IRS requires small businesses like myself to file tax returns on a quarterly basis - will that be reduced to semi-annual too? I doubt it, its only the fat cats on wall street who get the breaks and opportunities.

This reduction has Trump corruption written all over it. I am sick of watching the president hi-jack our economy and the governments role in ensuring a level playing field for everyone. If there are any self respecting people at the SEC, I trust them to do the right thing. Why return to the past?

James Gwise
Architect
--

James Gwise AIA
StudioGwise/James Gwise Architect, p.c.
837 A Stannage Ave. Albany, CA 94706
510 326 8342
https://www.jamesgwise.com/index

---

james herbert — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: james herbert Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is another scheme to defraud the citizens without consequences 🤫

James Latorraca — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Latorraca Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I'm Close to retirement, but I follow what the companies I am invested in are doing. It's important to see quarterly what is actually going on. This will help prevent fraud from going undetected.

James Latorraca, Sr Stf Hardware Engineer.

Get Outlook for Android

James Lecker — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Lecker Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 6 months is too long, a company could be going broke and the shareholders wouldn't have a clue as to what they're hiding!

James McAlpine — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: James McAlpine Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Don't change the way it is, it'll just make more corrupt & harder for the American people to make & earn money..

James McGee — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: James McGee Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 In order to make informed investment choices, we need more transparency, not less. Keep the quarterly reports requirement.

James McGee
Trussville Al

Sent from my iPad

Jami Hitzemann — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Jami Hitzemann Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Quarterly disclosures are necessary for me to be an informed investor. I must continue to have access to this crucial data.

Respectfully,
Jami Jo Hitzemann

Jan Allen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jan Allen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is corrupt level rule making. Allowing companies to hide their finacials for 6 months is ridiculous.

Jana Sepich — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jana Sepich Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Jana Sepich, retired Operational Risk Management executive for Bank of America's retirement/trust services. Reduced reporting means reduced oversight and transparency. This will potentially damage our economy and will hurt individual investors. Do not support this plan.

Jane Britt — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jane Britt Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It is hard enough for "Average Joe" to get ahead financially these days. Everything is geared to the ultra rich. It would be worse for them to learn they have lost a large amount of their financial investments after the fact. How much more of the burden of this government theft should be charged to the hard working public …..Or is the goal to just break the regular people down to subservient status. God forbid they are able to save for what America use to stand for and be able to achieve
I am sure this letter won't go very far because no one is interested in what lifts others up

---

Jane Doskal — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jane Doskal Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please continue the process for corporate reporting. It keeps companies somewhat honest.

The proposed change allows too much time in between reporting periods.

Jane W Doskal

Sent from my iPhone

Jane Keating — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jane Keating Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We the baby boomers have worked hard and saved for retirement. We deserve stability and the ability to enjoy our final years. We should not be worrying about how we will survive in this economy. Good food heat and energy are sucking the dollars and there isn't much left .. then add in the cost of healthcare that is constantly rising . Who will protect us ?
New York taxes everything!

Jane LaMar — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jane LaMar Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Absolutely quarterly reports. People demand transparency when their money is involved. We have the right to know when we are invested.

Jane LaMar - From my iPhone

Jane Richards — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jane Richards Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 you must keep this information quarterly In waters need to know what the board is doing who is on it what is influencing their investment decisions excuse the typos

Jane Richards
215 Plymouth Rd.
apt 413
Plymouth Meeting, Pa. 19462

610-766-2043

Janelle Jones — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Janelle Jones My name is Janelle Jones and I work in state government in Michigan. I am concerned about the precedent it sets to minimize transparency by changing the frequency of public financial disclosures from corporations. Quarterly public filings are an essential part of accountability for publicly traded companies. They owe a certain standard of care to the people who are footing the bill to risk investing in them and everyday Americans deserve to have some insight to decide how best to invest their money. I've seen first hand what happens when there are not guardrails to help protect small investors and it is devastating. Allowing companies to keep their financial health in the shadows is not good for anyone and certainly is out of step with the spirit of a free market. I am urging the SEC not to make this proposed change.

Janet Buente — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Janet Buente Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I don't want to be in the dark concerning my retirement accounts.
PLEASE KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTS!

Janet Buente, retired, Evansville Indiana

Get BlueMail for Mobile

Janet Cantonwine — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janet Cantonwine Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 How about NO! I'm retired and I need to count on transparency in all my financial dealings which seem to be under continuous attack these days. Will my investments help me when I need them most? What if I rely on that money to help pay for a nursing home? What if my SS is cut? We need MORE TRANSPARENCY, not less. This move does not benefit most Americans. I absolutely do not support this idea. It appears to be an attempt to hide information from people who most need to be informed. Keep the quarterly reports.

Sent from my iPad

Janet Coffin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janet Coffin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are needed for transparency and to aid in decision making.

Please do not change this.

Janet Coffin.

Janet Pletcher — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My comment From: Janet Pletcher Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep to the quarterly report schedule. Investors need up to date information.

Janet Potter — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Janet Potter Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

I just learned that the SEC has proposed a new Rule (Rule S7-2026-15) to end Quarterly Reporting requirements. I am horrified. I have managed my own retirement investments for many years and have depended on this information to make prudent decisions.
If the markets are to thrive by expanding and welcoming small investors like me, corporate reporting information must continue on a quarterly schedule as it has been for the many decades of my investing life. To finalize this proposed change would benefit only market insiders. THIS IS WRONG. Throw proposed Rule S7-2026-15 into the trash can now.

Janet Stebbins — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Janet Stebbins Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
YOU MUST KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING FOR PUBLICLY TRADED COMPANIES! I SELF DIRECT MY PORTFOLIO AND I RELY ON THOSE QUARTERLY REPORTS FOR MY DECISIONS. TWICE A YEAR IS NOT ADEQUATE TO MAKE INFORMED DECISIONS FOR BUY, SELL, HOLD, PLUS IT ALLOWS COMPANIES TO COOK THEIR BOOKS AND HIDE THINGS. TRANSPARENCY IS ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY FOR THE MIDDLE CLASS. KEEP THE QUARTERLY REPORTING TO KEEP A MODICUM OF FAIRNESS TO THE MARKETS FOR EVERY INVESTOR!

Janet Super — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Janet Super Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We must have more transparency, not less! As a retired executive assistant, I cannot afford to lose one-third of my savings!
Janet Super, Olathe, KS

Sent from my iPhone

Janice — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janice Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This will not benefit me or any other average American!
This is completely wrong and only ment to hurt us and help the big corporations and Wall Street! Don't support this!
Janice Morrow
92284

Janice Garland — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janice Garland Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This serves no purpose outside of allowing big companies to hide problems early on. Leave it alone. If it's not broke it doesn't need fixing.

Janice Nall — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janice Nall Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We demand quarterly reporting. Your attempts to hide your mismanagement is unacceptable.

Janice Noller — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Janice Noller Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It is important for my retirement that I get at least quarterly reports about the status of MY MONEY.
Why would the SEC want to go back to a failed semi-annual report? Go back and check the statistics!
Thank you for your attention to this matter!
Janice Noller, Retired, Utah

Janice Troll — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janice Troll Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 People who have nothing to hide hide nothing. Keep reporting every 3 months.

Janina Rosenkranz — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janina Rosenkranz Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are vital to keeping me informed regarding my retirement investments.

Sent from my iPhone

Jason Revell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jason Revell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 With the current market and economy not reflecting true value and the derivative market being larger than it's parent company and the fact that this administration is pardoning criminals whose actions have a devastating effect on those below, this would be a disastrous and unwise path to follow.

Jaui Schneider — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jaui Schneider Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Protect The public. If Trump wants something it’s obvious it’s to enrich himself in his family and his friends. Please please do your job. Please don’t cave to this miserable excuse of a person that we have as a president. If you came in, we know you’re just as bad as him. When he’s out, we’re gonna come after you so do the right thing.

Sent from my iPad

---

jaxnc.singles — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: jaxnc.singles Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Mary A. Gomez Transparency is important as it keeps businesses honest. Integrity is paramount in this day and time as people are losing trust in our government to keep consumers safe from fraud and corruption. Do your job!

Jay Myers — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jay Myers Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No do not allow this rule to move forward

Best Regards,

-Jay

CONFIDENTIAL: The information contained in this email is intended for the individual or entity above. This email is protected by the Electronic Communications Privacy Act, 18 U.S.C. Sections 2510-2521, and is legally protected by the work product doctrine. If you are not the intended recipient, please do not read, copy, use, forward, or disclose this communication to others; further, please notify the sender by replying and then delete this message from your system. If you have received this email in error, please notify the sender immediately and delete it. If you are not the intended recipient, you must not keep, use, disclose, copy, or distribute this email without the author's permission. Thank you!

Jay Young — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jay Young Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Six months is a BAD idea. Do not go there!

Jay Young

Get Outlook for iOS

Jean Abels — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jean Abels Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Companies need to keep reporting their earnings every 3 months as they currently do. I need current information about my investments.

Jean Abels, Department of Employment and Economic Development (retired)?

Jean Bagel — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jean Bagel Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports. Transparency is essential.

Jean Bagel, investor

Jean Mccormick — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jean Mccormick Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am retired. I think this practice is very unfair to the others that may need to know your business situation for planning of their own. This would not allow for timely reactions on the behalf of the party that doesn't know.
Jean McCormick

Sent from my iPhone

Jean Mills — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jean Mills Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Jean Mills
Retired

Public company financial info is what investors, analysts, etc. rely upon to judge a company's financial status. Reports include historical and current stats, as well as plans for future changes (expansion, downsizing, stock splits, etc.). It strongly indicates if the company has been, is, and will be a sound investment or if there's trouble. Financial issues can move quickly. Quarterly oversight by the SEC holds a company to regular full disclosure and reveals all activities quickly.

For those who have retirement or savings accounts using the stock market, the financial health of an investment is paramount to a secure financial future. Watching your stocks perform well is great, but to see your savings plunder due to a company's lack of foresight is frightening. Frequent reports using standard reporting requirements can help direct your dollars based on fact, not speculation, which helps your bottom line.

Jeanie Mangold — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeanie Mangold Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It is challenging enough to live in this digital society with a multitude of rights being compromised: voting rights, now financial institutions wanting to keep secrets their actions and move to semiannual disclosure is another grift. Healthcare, food assistance, refusing to raise minimum wages to a livable level, tax breaks for billionaires while the other 98% of Americans pay taxes and receive worse service. Firing or downsizing the government are causing real environmental problems. Data centers consume huge amounts of electricity and water even here in the deserts and cities of Arizona and the desert Southwest. Stop the greed and lack of transparency now.
Sincerely yours,
Retired teacher who was a public servant in Arizona and Kansas, now 84 years old and barely able to keep up with inflation,
Regina M Mangold
Sent from my iPad

Jeanie Mason — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeanie Mason Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is unacceptable.

Why are you changing this? Stop screwing the American People please.

Sent from my iPad

---

jeanne early — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: jeanne early Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Jeanne Wentzell, BSN, retired. Quarterly is important to keep business on the up and up!

Jeanne Joers — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeanne Joers Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 STOP HELPING THAT PERSON SCAM FELLOW AMERICANS.
Quarterly reports are the FAIR way to keep track of portfolios. Six months is just ANOTHER WAY to FLEECE AMERICANS.
Surely you can understand the motive here. I'm a very small investor and I CAN SEE IT!
Jeanne Joers…Retired

Sent from my iPad

Jeanne Powell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeanne Powell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quit messing with our 401K. Protect our money. Transparency is key!

Jeff Colonnesi — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jeff Colonnesi Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This does not sound like a good idea. Most working people now rely on 401k investments or taxable investments to secure their retirement income. With less transparency people cannot make as accurate decisions on which companies are a "good bet" and which are not. This is likely to lead to lower values for investment portfolios and ultimately prevent retirement (or decrease lifestyles) for many.

Jeff Colonnesi
Warren Mi

Jeff Cooper — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeff Cooper Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 What this country and our economy need right now is increased transparency. Do not allow this corrupt system to become even more corrupt and tilted to the rich. Eventually the class divide will cause France, 2.0, and you should know how that went. - Jeff Cooper, Chemist and Sr QA Associate

Sent from my iPhone

Jeff Goettl — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeff Goettl Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I respectfully disagree with changing the sec reporting requirements for publicly traded companies.

Sincerely,

Jeff Goettl

Sent from my iPad

Jeff Hampton — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeff Hampton Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keeps things more transparent then the proposed changes

Sent from my iPhone

Jeff Morgenstein — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment - Keep Requirements As-Is From: Jeff Morgenstein Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Jeff Morgenstein
High School Principal, Retired
Green Cove Springs, Florida

Please keep current reporting requirements and do not reduce. Transparency with frequent , up to date information makes for a strong household and community.

****
Jeff Morgenstein
****

---

jeff paynowski — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: jeff paynowski Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Jeff Paynowski, retired software engineer. It will allow more time for fraud to occur. Insiders will be given an edge if this happens while the public gets screwed

---

Jeff Paynowski — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeff Paynowski Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Jeff Paynowski, retired software engineer. It will allow more time for fraud to occur. Insiders will be given an edge if this happens while the public gets screwed

---

Jeff Smith — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeff Smith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Jeff, investor, I need that information to make decisions.

Jen Kopczynski — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jen Kopczynski Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This only helps insiders, does not address any inequality and will be an awful modification to strong existing principles.

Sent from my iPhone

Jen Williamson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jen Williamson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am a freelance writer living in NY and I have worked very hard to build up my savings and investments, on my own, without any help from a regular employer. This law would seriously undermine my ability to save, invest, and support myself in retirement. It is a kneecapping of the working and middle class and a terrible idea.

Jennifer Donnelly — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jennifer Donnelly Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a business owner, I know how up to date financial information is critical to evaluating my companies performance. As a stock owner in other businesses, I deserve to know the companies performance quarterly to evaluate if my investment is where it should be. This is standard business practice to get quarterly reports. Anything less is simply hiding financial information that stock owners deserve to know. Any financially sound business should be producing this information and it should be accessible.

Jennifer Donnelly, M.D.

Jennifer Schwarze — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jennifer Schwarze Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a Senior Client Specialist at a mid-sized financial services firm, do not allow this. We need fast, accurate data to help make recommendations to our clients. How are we held to a higher fiduciary standard than the companies we would purchase stock in? This is a very BAD idea.

Jennifer Schwarze
Rockford, IL

Sent from my Galaxy

---

jennifer crawford — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: jennifer crawford Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Were sick of this communist crap! Stop protecting Wallstreet, The Fed, and Central banks! This also allows for massive shadow restructuring!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Jennifer Frandsen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jennifer Frandsen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This has been proven not to work. Why are we going backwards

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Jennifer Holley — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jennifer Holley Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stupid is as stupid does

---

Jennifer Mullins — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jennifer Mullins Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We see what you are doing and we vote. Stop making it easier for companies while dumping on your constituents. They need to continue reporting as they are out more frequently. Quit making it easy to cheat.

All the best,

Jennifer Bishop

Jennifer Olney — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jennifer Olney Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please make companies file quarterly reports. Even small investors need to know what’s going on. Don’t let public companies hide their activities.

Thank you,

Jennifer Olney,
Investor

Jenny Nall — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jenny Nall Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I rely on my investments and keeping up with quarterly info is important

---

Jeremy Ehrhardt — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeremy Ehrhardt Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Reducing visibility increases malfeasance. The crooks will know that they can get away with robbery and use their ill-gotten gains to fight proper supervision. You'll enable crime rather than prevent it. I'm in favor of MORE visibility, not less.

Sent from my iPhone

Jeremy Taylor — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeremy Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Are you kidding me? What are you doing again looking out for corporate interest and not the individual. Shame on you.

Sent from my iPhone

Jerry Humphries — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jerry Humphries Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Don't let companies and corporations bail out and leave the public to suffer the consequences !!!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Jessica — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jessica Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We don't want them to go 6 months, keep it where it is.

Jessica Bittner — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jessica Bittner Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Corporate transparency is even more important today in our climate of corporate greed and no community responsibility. Yes to mandatory quarterly reports. Particularly on large corporations.

Jessica Broder — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jessica Broder Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 If you do this I stop adding to 401k and take start taking money out… I am of age where the impact will be small.

Stop allowing corporations to put their poor business managment on the backs of the American people.

Jessica Brown — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jessica Brown Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stop these crooks They need prison time not coddling!
Sincerely Jessica Brown

Sent from my iPhone

Jessica Miller — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jessica Miller Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I rely on my quarterly reports and disclosures to make key decisions guiding my portfolio. If I am responsible for my retirement assets I need timely information to do so. Decreasing reporting to biannual does not adequately provide the needed information.
Thank you for you attention to this matter.
Jessica Miller
Nurse, homeowner

Jessica Whittington — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jessica Whittington Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly and stop capitulating to the oligarchs.

Jessica Williams — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jessica Williams Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Another way to rob investors, this business of doing away with quarterly assessment of the facts, and a sign of the times in general, but wrong on every front. We have been forced into the stock market as a retirement strategy. Cooking the books in this way is a handy ploy for insiders to continue walking away with our efforts to cover retirement in an increasingly rigged system. This is a terrible idea.

J. W. Wilson MT/CT (ASCP)

Jessica Williams — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jessica Williams Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Another way to rob investors, this business of doing away with quarterly assessment of the facts, and a sign of the times in general, but wrong in every front. We have been forced into the stock market as a retirement strategy, and cooking the books in this ploy is a handy way for insiders to continue walking away with our efforts to cover retirement in an increasingly rigged system. This is a terrible idea.

J. W. Wilson MT/CT (ASCP)

Jill Craven — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jill Craven Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is not a positive change. We need to protect our investments and a lot can happen in 6 months. We do not want to spend taxpayer money on supporting people who lost wealth because they didn’t know. Why would you give us less information?

Jill Lamberg — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jill Lamberg Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I don’t like the idea of burdening small businesses but I want as much transparency with corporations, for sure. I retired last year but I want to make sure that my wealth management team is informed in a timely manner on things that could affect my portfolio.

Sent from my iPhone

Jim and Debbie DeVries — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jim and Debbie DeVries Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 44 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Jim Kubin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jim Kubin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Transparency matters. Changing to semi annual reports smacks of cover up and erodes confidence.

Jim Kubin,
Retired. Illinois

Jim Retchless — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jim Retchless Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Hi, my name is james.I was a stay at home, dad for over eighteen years. I sacrificed my career to stay at home with my kids.So they would grow up and be a good part of society. I want you to know i find out after twenty two years marriage.My wife has been lying to me about our finances and cheating on me. She filed for divorce.
Leaving me with all or most of my money in Ira. These funds are already highly taxed. If you guys start letting these companies only report the earnings twice a year. Will devastate my portfolio and make it hard for me to live?The life I deserve after sacrificing so much for my family. I'm not a highly educated man. Like my x wife is so she's good because she has a master's degree.And I have a high school diploma. The market is volatile enough as it is. I don't need to lose thirty to fifty percent of my portfolio.Because you are gonna let companies only report twice a year. With inflation up and the dollar Decrease in value.Please don't do this. It's gonna be hard enough to get by in retirement. Thank you for considering my view on this topic,James

---

Jim Rondinelli — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jim Rondinelli Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please keep reporting on a quarterly basis. Everything moves so much faster today than in the past. In modern times, a regression to semi-annual reporting would take too much information away from investors.

Jim Rondinelli
(858) 692-1921 Mobile

Jim Vogel — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jim Vogel Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am retired and currently rely on my savings and investments to meet my obligations throughout the month. It is important to me to have access to more frequent information regarding the financials of those investments. Without this frequent reporting of financial status by companies, I fear that the pipeline of information will be disrupted and my investments may be at risk during the dark period. I urge the SEC to keep the current reporting requirements to aid in safe guarding my livelihood.

Concerned Citizen
J Vogel
Retired
Montgomery, Tx

Sent from my iPad

Jim Williams — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jim Williams Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 A shift away from quarterly reporting puts consumers too much in the dark and reduces the ability to hold executives accountable to their customers.

Jimd116 — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on SEC ENDING QUARTERLY REPORTING. From: Jimd116 Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is JAMES DICARLO, I am a retired business person and a US ARMY VETERAN plus 50 years of voting. To me dropping quarterly reporting is an invitation to fraud and cheating and contrary to the interest of the UNITED STATES.

---

jjzemke — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: jjzemke Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Leave the current system in place. Quarterly has worked well for decades.

Sent from my Galaxy

Jo Ann Smith — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jo Ann Smith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This must not continue! The wealthy cannot continue (often dishonestly) to amass wealth directly taking a necessary living from hard working Americans.

J Smith

Sent from my iPhone

Jo Anne Tressler — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jo Anne Tressler Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is just wrong! Keep the quarterly reports! Jo Anne Tressler

---

Jo Blow — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jo Blow Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the established and standard accounting practices. 47 has his hand in this proposed change.

Jo Shumate — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jo Shumate Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Congress and the White House get to use inside info, you've got to give the peons quarterly info, at the very least!

Sent from my iPhone

Joan Cadieux — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joan Cadieux Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We have already lived through Wall Street shenanigans. Bring on the audits.

Joan Lamb — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joan Lamb Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We are retired We need to know where we stand on a month to month basis. We can't fly blindly into an unknown.

Joan McDevitt — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Joan McDevitt Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The financial markets need to maintain their commitment to their clients to make available info on OUR investments at least quarterly. This is called management and is what we pay for through fees I gladly pay for. We deserve this information on at least a quarterly basis to hold them accountable.

Joan McDevitt LMSW, Jackson, Michigan.

Sent from my iPhone

Joan Reimann-Stokes — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Joan Reimann-Stokes Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Not everything from the days long gone were good. Bi-annual reporting was one if them. Let's stop giving corporations more ways to hide money. At least quarterly reporting gives them more scrutiny, and gives investors more information to make enlightened investing.

Joan Rizzuto — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joan Rizzuto Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 If they do make this change to reporting (to every 6 months) then disclosure needs to be the same for everyone, corporate investors and individuals alike. We can't have a double standard here. Corporate investor shouldn't have quarterly information either. If I can't get quarterly information I will not invest in the market. I don't care if these companies save money by making fewer reports that is not my problem. I can choose other options for my retirement savings.

Sent from my iPhone

Joannie Zacharias — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joannie Zacharias Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need companies to keep up their quarterly reports so that we, the investors are kept informed of our holdings. It helps all parties keep accountable. I have worked very hard for my savings and want it protected and accounted for on a frequent basis. Quarterly reports are not excessive or difficult for companies to keep on doing. Let us keep up this standard.
Thank you,
Joan Zacharias Registered Nurse
Hartland, Wisconsin

Sent from my iPhone

Joao Santos — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Joao Santos Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am a retail investor. I am also a value investor. Without quarterly filings it is very hard for me to understand the direction and strength of businesses I invest in. Specially in times when the economy is evolving so fast due to globalization, turmoils and AI. Also because of AI we have reached a point where it is much easier to produce information in standard formats, compile information and validate it so that investors are properly informed.
Halving the frequency of such reports is a big hit to my access to information. Without which I may not feel capable to place so much trust in USA equity markets.
I strongly oppose this initiative. I would much rather see it going in the opposite direction where interim monthly reports are filed and more carefully assessed quarterly. This is a matter of access and fairness in access to information.

Best regards,
Joao

Jodell Boughton — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jodell Boughton Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have been active in watching politics since 1960. I know corruption exists everywhere, but this administration excedes all levels previously known. The only reason to NOT REPORT is because you are hiding something.

Jodell (Jody) Boughton
19525 Territorial Road
Apt 213
Maple Grove, MN 55311
612-382-4344
jodell.boughton@gmail.com

Jody Hoover — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jody Hoover Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Trump claims his administration is the most "transparent" yet once again we have another proposed rule to help corporations hide their financial well being longer to the public & average investors like me. NOT acceptable ! Thank you, Jody Hoover, Womelsdorf, PA

Joe — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joe Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do not allow this rule change . This will severely impact investors ability to discern whether a company is a good buy by allowing companies to hide their financial health

Joe Altamirano
Sent from my iPhone

Joe Banach — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joe Banach Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Joseph Banach, I say keep it where it is. These companies need to be transparent and quite frankly they should report daily because AI has all the data

Joe Banach

Joe Dirt — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joe Dirt Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Unacceptable. We the people does not translate to "only the top ten percent". Electrician, forman, 401k holder, employee owned business stock holder and soon to be retired. Jamie Power Mount Holly North Carolina

---

Joe Graffagnino — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joe Graffagnino Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports this president and his friends are making a killing leveraging insider leads. Mandatory reporting lets the retail investor make course corrections every 3 months, waiting 6 months will take too long to makes changes to your stock allocations.

Sent from my iPad

Joe Henderson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joe Henderson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is a ridiculous change that will only harm investors.
Joe Henderson, retired

On the Origin & Foundation of Inequality among Men: "Here, all private individuals become equals once again, because they are nothing, and once subjects have no law other than the will of the master and the master has no other guide than his passions, notions of good and principles of justice vanish once more. Everything here is reduced to the law of the strongest alone." - Jean-Jacques Rousseau

---

Joe Jolesch — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Joe Jolesch Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I'm a retail investor and I rely on quarterly reports to make decisions about my investments and retirement savings. Relaxing the reporting requirements will disproportionately hurt individual investors who don't have access to other sources of information.

Joe Marovich — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joe Marovich Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I worked all my life and don't want this to affect me negatively. Do not pass this law. 64 year old electrician.

JOE SHALLENBERGER — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: JOE SHALLENBERGER Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I support the continuation of quarterly reporting. If anything, with the technology that exists today, there should be live electronic reporting 24/7/365.

Sent from my iPhone

Joe Smith — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joe Smith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 What would they need six month's of no accountability to share holder's for, except to perpetrate a fraud upon hard working Americans like my son-in-law Adrian 's retirement benefits, currently L.A.P.D. patrolman, or, my daughter Tierney's an elementary school teacher 's retirement benefits. My name is Joseph Smith and I am a retired carpet installer in Riverside California . A state that has some of the worst taxation and growth has not kept up with inflation or banking interest notoriously know throughout the country as a stagnating economy ! No on this insanity !

---

joe videtto — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: joe videtto Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Transparency is what keeps companies honest. Please don’t take it away. It’s been working well for decades.

Get Outlook for iOS

Joe Wilson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joe Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the Quarterly Report. That is what matters to me. Transparency is a must. SEC needs to stop trying to hide behind a half year report. Quarterly is a minimum in my thoughts. If anything gets pushed let’s go for a bi-monthly or monthly report. JW [“Keep it Quarterly”]

Sent from my iPhone

Joel Davidson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joel Davidson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Joel Davidson, Retired. Investor. I am an investor and I don’t want to fly blind for 6 months at a time on what is going on financially with my investments. I want quarterly reports and I want transparency on an ongoing basis. Maintain the current system. It has worked well for decades. Leave it alone.

Sent from my iPhone

Joel Rosenthal — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joel Rosenthal Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a court reporter who used to cover SEC investigations, the idea that anyone would want to allow public companies to hide financial data makes me sick. Why don't you just invite them to commit crimes? Did Harvey Pitt return?

Joel Rosenthal
Pittsburgh

Joel Rutledge — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joel Rutledge Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Don't let bad companies hide their actions until it is too late for investors, stockholders, consumers, and regulators to act! Keep the current reporting requirements!

-Joel Rutledge
Wichita, KS

---

john bergeron — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: john bergeron Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly financial communication is essential. It needs to be retained.

John Boor — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Boor Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do the right thing.

Sent from my iPhone

John Gray — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: John Gray Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: WE MUST RECEIVE QUARTERLY REPORTS FROM ALL PUBLIC COMPANIES!

John Harry — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Harry Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 More transparency is needed not less. This proposed rule will cause greater mistrust in the government & financial organizations. My wife and I are retired, & depend on regular & accurate reporting of company performance. Our CFP uses this information to help ensure our investments provide the growth & income we need. This is bad proposal, we ask that you choose the public o ver Corporations. Thank you.

John R. Harry
COO & EVP, Retired
Allamuchy, NJ

John Hill — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: John Hill Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Quarterly disclosures help me make informed decisions. The SEC shouldn't take vital information away from investors.

John Hogle na — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: John Hogle I object to the lengthening of time between reports as, in reality, it only benefits corporations to the detriment of all of us small time investors. I believe that this is an effort by the President to placate and increase the profits of his sycophants.

John John — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John John Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 IT DOES LOOK LIKE CORRUPTION IS RAMPANT: AND I MEAN RAMPANT

John Kramer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Kramer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting is critical information that investors need in order to make informed decisions with their money. Without the transparency it put me all investors at a huge disadvantage. Political leadership already uses inside information to unjust gains. I implore you to leave quarterly reporting intact!

Sincerely,

John Kramer

Sent from my iPhone

John Lake — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Lake Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As an investor I find this seriously corrupt and a horrible idea to advance in any form.

John M — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: John M Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 If companies don't have anything to hide they shouldn't worry about reporting quarterly they've been reporting quarterly all my investing career I don't see any benefit to semi-annual especially nowadays when company valuations can be wildly unrational

---

John McCahan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John McCahan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep it Quarterly

John McCahan
6439 Lennox Lane
Vero Beach, Florida 32966

John Monti — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Monti Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Public companies need to continue reporting their financial results quarterly and not twice a year. They are using our money to grow their companies and we need to see their Report Card quarterly to see if we need to provide additional funds or withdraw our support. This needs to be transparent to all and not just Company Executives and Wall Street insiders.

John Monti, Retired

Sent from my iPad

---

john moss — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: john moss Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Reducing transparency is never good and never acceptable. The times prove everyday why more not less transparency is what is needed. Maintain quarterly reporting.

John D. Moss
4109 Richardson Road
Virginia Beach, VA 23455

Sent from my iPhone

John Nash — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Nash Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 why are you not doing your job?My company is on the verge of bankruptcy and you want to make it easier for the crooks you work for. John Nash CEO Third Rail Electric Inc.

John Nez — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Nez Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 DO NOT do this! Quarterly reports are essential to an informed investor… and this would remove half the information investors get!

Do not even try to do this…

John O — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: John O Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 John O'Donnell - District Manager, Midwest. In an era where information is key and available at our fingertips, to go backwards and not report data is just absurd. This would cause a cascade of misinformation and speculation that would lead to a disaster for markets. This change should not even be a consideration, much less implemented. Thank you.

John Scott — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Scott Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I do not believe every 6 months reporting is beneficial to the American people.
John Scott private citizen...not a Trumpster

---

john scrocco — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: john scrocco Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 After what you did to so many retirement accounts on 9/11 this foolishness wreaks of fraud!

John Spezia — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Spezia Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Tottaly against proposed rule S7-2026-xx or any action to reduce fnancial reporting. With the adoption og Artificial Intellyigence and computer efficiencies, it is digusting thr SEC even suggests this.

John Stewart — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Stewart Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting is our valuable tool to insure we the investors know what is happening to our assets - entrusted to others! Who benefits from this proposed change - surely not investors!

Sent from my iPhone

John Thyng — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Thyng Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The system is already rigged against the little guy. Ending quarterly reporting will just encourage more risky behavior.

John Thyng, citizen and small investor

Sent from my iPhone

JohnMichael Sabo none — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: JohnMichael Sabo This is a roadmap for corruption. Absolutely against this.

Johnna Neugent — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Johnna Neugent Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting is more necessary than ever due to the volatile economic climate created by our government!

Joleen Phillips — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joleen Phillips Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep your records transparent. We the people are tired of the shady dealings of everyone that has power right now. If you have something to hide, perhaps you shouldn't be doing it in the first place.

Jon Meinze — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Jon Meinze Make no changes to the time of reporting.

Jon Rodgers — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jon Rodgers Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Read, greed, greed,

Jon Rodgers

Jonathan Lepoff — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jonathan Lepoff Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is a bad idea that disenfranchises the "small investor"

Jordan Green — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jordan Green Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 PLEASE do NOT let this ridiculous policy go in to effect.

Trump is doing what trump does- dismantling American innovation in favor of helping massive corporations save money while putting american investors at a major disadvantage. WHY would anyone DO this??? Why would you STOP transparency that has worked so well for years, to allow companies to hide????? It's bc trump wants to HELP companies hide, and doesn't care one iota about american investors- it's a brainless and foolish endeavor. But of course it is- it's mainly bc companies are doling out money to trump and handing him their marching orders- just like it's been proven before- Trump openly a "pay-to-play" potus. He's taking MILLIONS to pardon WHOEVER, doesn't matter HOW BAD a criminal- he'll take the money and push the 'get of jail free card without thinking about it twice. As far as this policy- DO NOT LET THIS HAPPEN!!! Trumps pattern of removing agencies that protect consumers, and bankrupting our country by allowing the wealthiest to avoid paying taxes will literally destroy this country- and is already doing so. This is just one more 'screw americans' policy so that an already bitter felon fraud like Trump who has made it his main goal to continue to commit fraud (no more IRS auditing allowed for him????) is a god *ed disgrace. THIS will undoubtedly HELP businesses by removing transparency, and slow economic growth & investment opportunities for American investors. For gods sake, do not allow this- Trumps record of lies & crimes will most assuredly render him the most disgraceful and failed POTUS in US history- allowing him to wreak more havoc on our economy will not end well. Again- do the right thing here, don't let Trump & Republicans destroy more infrastructure that resulted in positive outcomes for Americans, just to help big corps who have paid trump in back room deals, get what they want.

Jorge Luis Blanco — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jorge Luis Blanco Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please do NOT roll back to semi annual earnings reporting. It would have unintended consequences that would affect the savings of everyone.

Jorge Blanco - Manager and Loan Officer.
Manor, TX.

Joseph Al-Shaer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joseph Al-Shaer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Reporting needs to remain quarterly. It sounds like there is or is forecasted to be some trouble and companies want to cover it up long enough to pull out before leaving ordinary investors holding the scraps.

Joe

Joseph Dupras — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Joseph Dupras Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Quarterly disclosures help align me to make proper investments and discissions moving forward in life. Maybe my children can enjoy some luxurys in life.

Joseph Forte — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Joseph Forte Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Joseph Forte

Kansas Retired
I and a lot of other people worked hard for many years for our savings and retirement funds. It has worked so far so why change it now?
Thank you

Joseph Shuffield — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joseph Shuffield Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Joseph Shuffield - Data Analyst in Texas State Govt (HHS). The SEC CANNOT allow the rules to be changed to continually leave individual retail investors holding the bag. We are tired of footing the bill for large corporations!

JOSEPHINE CONTY — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: JOSEPHINE CONTY Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 These SEC filings need to continue quarterly. Everyone will be hurt otherwise.

Sent from my iPhone

Josephine Kukla — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Josephine Kukla Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I see no reason to stop quarterly reports

---

Joy Brock — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joy Brock Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Joy Brock Registered Nurse. The stock market is being overrun by billionaires and politicians. Allowing a company to only release data biannually instead of quarterly makes in difficult to assess a company's performance. This can lead to bad decisions for stockholders. It also promotes manipulation of stock prices. We need to know what is happening on a quarterly basis to make wise decisions.

null

Joy Lupo — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joy Lupo Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Joy lupo, retired paralegal. I rely on quarterly information to buy and sell securities in ny IRA account that I manage myself. These funds are the main source of my living expenses. I need this information more frequently, not less

---

Joy W-H — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joy W-H Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Proposed Rule S7-2026-15 seems like a horrible idea. I'm against this because it seems like it could lead to another Enron type issue. The reasons the SEC mentions for proposing this change don't make sense to me and it seems like it will just give companies plenty of time to cover up fraud. There should be other ways to reduce the burden of public reporting that don't also reduce transparency for retail investors.
Thank you.

JS Brinkley — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: JS Brinkley Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dear SEC - The integrity of the nation is fading fast as is our faith and trust. It is obvious that this proposal will hurt the average person and benefit the rich - again. Don’t do it! We are at the end of our rope with this administration.

Sent from my iPhone

---

jseltzer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: jseltzer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Buy changing the rules tells me you are criminals to hide what you don't want the public to see !

Juan Luna — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Juan Luna Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 How about going after naked short sellers and inside traders instead

Sent from my iPhone

---

judith — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: judith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please Continue sending updates quarterly. It's important to get timely information!

Judith Lang
Therapist
Hill City, SD

Sent from my Galaxy

Judith Baran — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judith Baran Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting allows for the transparency needed by investors and the general public as well as agencies that require this information. To do less than quarterly reporting offers the companies highly increased opportunities to hide information that should be brought to the light of day.

Judith Baran

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

---

judith Gundersen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: judith Gundersen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The older I get the more important it is for me to know quarterly so I can make better decisions for me and my family especially my grandchildren regarding their schooling and life changes, for example. Six months is too long to wait. Judith Gundersen, parent and grandparent

Sent from Judy Gundersen's IPhone

Judith Michna — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judith Michna Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keeping the small investor in the dark for six months makes no sense. Why should big company success rest on keeping the little guy ignorant?

Sent from my iPad

Judith Schwager — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judith Schwager Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting is necessary. Corporations run on quarters, SEC should too. Why the proposed change? Mmmmm

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Judith Smith — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judith Smith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Judith Smith, I own assorted stocks and when conditions warrant, I trade them, this quarterly information is vital and important. I want quarterly reports.

Sent from my iPad

Judy Olson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judy Olson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am a retired worker, a 75 year old woman on pension, and your plan to reduce financial reports to twice a year is a terrible idea. Our current government is run by thieves and cheats--giving them extra time to bilk us of our money may sound good to billionaires who will use this to their advantage, but to the little guys/gals, it sounds like an invitation to corruption. Please reconsider this ill-advised plan.

Judy Clark — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Judy Clark Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I want to know what the market is doing with my money. It makes no sense to go so long without an update, how can we react to changes 6 months later. Early intervention is better than allowing for unsupervised catastrophic events . This administration is taking away consumer protection and I want to know where my money is going and what is happening with it. How do we protect ourselves with out access to our personal financial information. We need transparency, our livelihood depends on assessing risk and informed consent.

Sent from my iPhone

Judy DeLorez — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judy DeLorez Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It's important for investors to have quarterly reports to make better financial decisions and investments! Please keep it as it is…knowledge is power, ignorance is bliss for those in control of others. We do not want and should not be kept in the dark!
Judy DeLorez…retired, long time investor. Senior citizen who depends on my investments to help with very expensive senior housing expenses. Please keep it as it is!

Sent from my iPhone

Judy Jones — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judy Jones Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do NOT change the quarterly reporting requirements. We are retired and need the information on a quarterly basis.

Sent from my iPhone

Judy Mascolino — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judy Mascolino Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting is desirable. Not waiting for 6 months!

Sent from my iPhone

Judy Thompson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judy Thompson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a Certified Public Accountant and Controller, I know how important timely information is. Waiting 6 months to learn how a company is performing is way too long. Waiting 3 months can be too long when the economy is facing a down turn. Please keep the quarterly financial reporting. Investors deserve to know what is happening with companies that have their money.

Sincerely,

Judy Thompson
Mesa, AZ

Juho Lepparanta — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Juho Lepparanta Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I'm write to advocate for keeping quarterly reporting to maintain transparency for the every day traders who need this information to make informed decisions.

Julia Riell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Julia Riell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I absolutely reject this proposal. This is not to protect consumers at all,. It protects the ruling class. I vote No!

Julia W. Riell

(c) 802-287-0852
julia.wood.riell@gmail.com

Julie Eidem — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Julie Eidem Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please keep the quarterly SEC reporting. It feel free to bring change it to monthly!

Julie Eidem

Julie Marceau — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Julie Marceau Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Given the ability of automated systems there is no reason why the SEC would need to reduce reporting. Given the advancement in AI capabilities, we should be able to have monthly SEC reports. Changing to 6 month reporting would have no upside, and damage the ability to invest in my 403. I say NO

Julie Martynowycz — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Julie Martynowycz Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Julienne Martynowycz, MSN, RN. Our country needs more transparency, not less.

Sent from my iPad

Julie Patterson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Julie Patterson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Julie Patterson, and I am a widow who has to work until she dies. My investments are small but meaningful to me. Keep the quarterly reports.

---

julie slack — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: julie slack Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I want quarterly statements.

JULIE VAN EENENAAM — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: JULIE VAN EENENAAM Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stick with quarterly reporting. Quarterly reports keep me informed on my investments for retirement, parental care, and kids' education. Every 6 months is too long to wait for an honest look at the books. Too much happens in 6 months. Things move fast. We invest our money, we should be able to check on it. It is a company's responsibility to stay above board and in line and reporting quarterly stays on top of this. Julie VanEenenaam, former state department employee

---

Julie Villella — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Julie Villella Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
There is already a huge disadvantage for the regular folks in this country -in case you weren't aware, with the popularity of ai and the commonality of the internet across the world these days, I think it's safe to say that almost everyone is waking up to the truth and like a snowball gathering more snow, weight and speed as it goes down a mountain, the people are getting more and more information and therefore more and more conviction about the unfairness in the huge and growing disparity between the "haves" and the "have nots" ... it seems like the powerful and rich "elite" are trying to make it even worse by doing things as proposed here with making the trades and stock market less transparent and more confusing.. why do you all wish to add insult to injury as if we haven't suffered enough from your crooked rigged banking system and your corrupt and confusing hidden agendas beaurocratic bullshit and so forth .. the straw man and corporations being the supreme authority and God the world over .. it is Evil and devilish and Wrong ... we know exactly what you are trying to do and why you wish to do it !!! You all take heed and listen to my prophetic warning: if you continue to do things like this to the common man.. and the gap between classes grows even wider, you hasten the day that the people -the masses -are finally so fed up with the lies and deception that it could take but one more thing for the tipping point to be reached .. we have the guns and we have the numbers - you super rich fuckers better keep that in mind when you go trying to steal, do back-room trades and screw the little guys out of what they work for so hard.. God doesn't like ugly and the whole damn government and all its regulated entities are beginning to stink to high heaven .. catch my drift and read between the lines.. this is just my opinion for entertainment purposes only .. but if you want to do it go ahead .. FAAFO!

ps. I have begun investigating my fidelity accounts to see how they hid my money from me and once I get the information I need I will be cashing out my numerous trusts and etc that you can take to the bank!

Julienne Battalia — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Julienne Battalia Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My retirement is all I have. I am 65. From all I have read about this it sounds like quarterly earnings and reports create a more stable and more profitable investment returns. This is really important. Why change something that is working?
Sincerely
Julienne Battalia

Sent from my iPhone

June Picard — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: June Picard Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 sneaky ,legalized gop thievery

---

Jure Grant — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jure Grant Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need more transparency and not less. Half yearly reporting requirement would mean less transparency and this is not good for the individuals that are investing their hard earned money.

Thanks for reading.

Jure Grant Majnaric

---

justin rebecchi — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: justin rebecchi Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I say no to changing the rules to twice a year, as it give less transparency to the investors if a corporation is not projecting its profits as proposed quarterly. How can investors properly track the progress of the company they are investing in. If its not broke don't try and fix it. Stop the backwards lobbying, which seems to overrule the people these day. But politicians need to be reminded who they work for, which is the people and not the interest of corporations. Because these day most politicians are full of crap like baby diapers and need to be changed every once and a while. That is a reminder to all of those in politics. We the people say no to semi-annual reporting. Let's look a enron shall we, less transparency equals catastrophic endings. Thanks Justin Rebecchi, Court assistant, New York

---

JWG — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: JWG Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I want to know what is happening in the financial state of the country.

K D — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: K D Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep my reports quarterly.
It’s bad enough that my exchange requests wait until the next day to be active when large investors exchanges are almost instant

Sent from my iPhone

Kaia Cohen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kaia Cohen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Unfair. U make investors fly blind. Stop the stea and the corruption. Legitimate companies shouldn't have any issues with reporting if they want to be publicly traded.

---

kareem bolling — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: kareem bolling Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Kareem Bolling and I work public transportation. They need to keep the quarterly filings the same. my pension and 401k will be heavily affected by hiding these reports. there will more scandals and thievery will lead to a uproar and chaos.

Karen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 In this world of greed and corruption we need more transparency not less.
It’s called due diligence and it should remain the standard. In 6 months a lot can be done and covered up. Review takes longer and it is easier to miss something important as it just gets more buried in the reports

Sent from my iPhone

Karen Ardoin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Ardoin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Say no! This does not protect the average American consumer. Stop the ever-increasing fraud happening in our country. The SEC is there to protect not only big business, but the average citizen that is at high risk when putting money in the stock markets. Many of us have had lost monies to the ever-growing schemes perpetuated on the average American citizen.
Sincerely, Karen Ardoin

Get Outlook for iOS

Karen Burns — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Burns Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Karen Burns
PO Box 22
Mayville, NY 14757

Disclosure is an absolute necessity. No corporations, or any businesses, should be given the "option" to withhold data we reply on to render our choices. To do that would benefit the businesses at the expense of the consumers.

Karen Burns — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Burns Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Karen Burns
PO Box 22
Mayville, NY 14757

Succinctly stated:

Disclosure is an absolute necessity. No corporations, or any businesses, should be given the "option" to withhold data we reply upon to render our choices. To do that would benefit the businesses at the expense of the consumers.

Karen Cave — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Cave Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am a stock holder. Transparency is very important to me. My retirement is tied to this account, and it's too late to change course now.

Thank you,
Karen Cave

Karen cheste — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen cheste Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting is essential for all investors. I rely heavily on these reports so I can make the best investment decisions for myself, especially now that im retired. -Karen Chester- retired factory worker

---

Karen Clapham — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Clapham Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Companies could do a lot of hiding in an additional 3 month period of time. As a concerned citizen, I strongly disagree with this proposal. Why fix something that isn’t broken!

Sincerely,
Karen Clapham
Dubuque, Iowa

Sent from my iPad

Karen Gibson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Gibson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have worked in both private and public companies for over 40 years. The quarterly reporting cycle encourages a company to have the management controls in place to maintain management attention. It promotes integrity.

Karen Gibson
karen.gibson.84@gmail.com

Karen Green — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Green Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 What is the reasoning of reporting every 6 months? Whatever it is, we know it does not benefit the investors. Let’s try to keep them honest and open and leave it at every 3 months.

Karen Green
Maryland

Karen Krawczyk — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Karen Krawczyk Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please do not go to twice annual reporting. We need transparency. We need to know what is happening with Our money. Thank you.

Karen Liles — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Liles Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Retired RN of 40 years, wife, mother , grandmother. Have invested and vested interest in future of my family and all people whom you are in transaction of their assets. Transparency with quarterly reporting while there is money involved and being handled so treat owners like the valued customers they are. It could not be in existence if this were not so.

Sent from my iPhone

Karen O'Keefe — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen O'Keefe Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Karen O'Keefe
Regional Manager Omnia Partners
We need more transparency in the corporate space not less. As an investor I want to know how sales levels are and new products / services to allow me to decide if I will continue as a shareholder.

Sent from my iPhone

Karen Seaton — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Karen Seaton Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a US citizen who is an investor in the Stock Market, I do not support a change in Quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Karen Siclare — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Siclare Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Coco Siclare. There is no logical reason to deny retailinvestors, quarterly reports .Anyone investing in the stock market needs to be monitoring their investments more than twice a year to protect their assets and manage their growth. Please keep the quarterly reports. I could only imagine that if you change it to twice a year, the SEC will be spending a lot of time in court trying to defend its position and likely lose.

Sent from my iPhone

Karen Simpkins — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Simpkins Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Karen Simpkins
Retired University administrator
My retirementoney is based totally on investments. I want to know what is happening with them as often as possible. I don't trust this decision !!

KLS

Karen Stewart — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Stewart Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I urge the SEC to continue quarterly reporting. Biannual reporting isn't sufficient for ordinary investors. I highly value the quarterly reports which allow me to flag any issues with my investments.

Karen Stull — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Stull Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Corporate transparency is mandatory!

Sent from my iPhone

Kari Radke — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kari Radke Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We rely on quarterly information to build our own tiny retirement fund and this removes our ability to stay on top of things with no benefit to us whatsoever!

Karin McNett — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Karin McNett Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Quarterly reporting creates a great disparate access for private investors to relevant and important information about stocks and market conditions that puts them at a disadvantage without equal to those who have insider information.

Karla Overton — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karla Overton Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We put our hard earned money in & expect reporting on how our money is doing. It's also important to note that we can put our money into other accounts. So , if you want to keep our business, we need your cooperation & a quarterly report.

Sent from my iPhone

Karol Martin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karol Martin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 History has shown that if reporting to the SEC only happens every 6 months, public companies will commit nefarious fraud with investors money, there will be more insider trading, more stock manipulation and many will lose up to one third of their savings. Of course pig slime Trump's is all for this as it is another way for him and billionaires to loot savings accounts. But there will be a mass citizen rebellion if SEC allows this corruption to occur. Do NOT change the quarterly reporting rule. The SEC will be held liable by every American citizen who loses savings to this latest Wall Street corruption scheme. KEEP REPORTING QUARTERLY!!

Karol Martin…retired.

KAT FOX — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: KAT FOX Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Kathleen Fox, Investor, PLEASE keep the SEC reports to QUARTERLY! It is important so investors can keep a close eye on our monies. Not everyone is honest, so quarterly catches quicker than waiting 6 months!! Respectfully

Kathleen Fox

Texas.

Sent from Proton Mail

Kat Melton — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kat Melton Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I want to keep the quarterly reports and statements. Thank you.

Kate Parish — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kate Parish Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The less transparent investment is, the more people will refuse to invest. I have already sold some of my stocks. If this passes, I will be forced to sell the rest.

Kate Parish

Sent from my iPad

Kate DiGeronimo — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kate DiGeronimo Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I want to know what is going on with my investments. Less disclosure is only bad for shareholders' interests. The SEC's job is to help shareholders and keep the playing field fair. Follow your mandate!

Kate DiGeronimo, attorney, New York City

Sent from my iPhone

Kate Heald — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kate Heald Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Kate Heald, Retired, Columbia SC: This is a regressive and dangerous proposal. The world is moving faster, not slower. Six months is too long.

Kate Heald

803.920.7731

Kate Kzeski — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kate Kzeski Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026

Kate Morrissey — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kate Morrissey Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Kate ,retired and would like to be able to live comfortably without you stealing my money and comfort in my twilight years

Sent from my iPhone

Kathi Jobe — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathi Jobe Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 In this volatile economic environment we need to have quarterly reports. I absolutely do not support a change to the current reporting schedule. My portfolio will undoubtedly be negatively impacted and that is unacceptable.
Kathleen Jobe, Retiree

Kathi Thomas — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kathi Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 NO WAY! These companies are guardians of too many people's retirements and other investments. These public companies MUST be responsible to us, and report no less than quarterly. To allow them to report only twice a year gives them way too much leeway for bad policy. At least by reporting quarterly, they know they've got to be responsible and that if they're not, they will be found out quickly. We've seen how greed & mismanagement has destroyed companies- and peoples' lives. (Enron is a good example of that- ever though they were reporting quarterly, they still destroyed much. Imagine how much more they could have destroyed had they been given an extra 2 months to lie to investors?) KEEP IT QUARTERLY!!!!!

Kathi Thomas
Semiretired event planner and floral designer
Austin, Hays County, TX.
512-479-9392

"True happiness.. is not attained through self-gratification, but through fidelity to a worthy purpose."
Helen Keller

Kathleen Hummel — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathleen Hummel Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I need to see quarterly reports to control my investments. Please continue them.
Kathleen Hummel
English teacher retired

Sent from my iPhone

Kathleen Jones — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathleen Jones Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Why would you hide information from consumers? This is sickening.

Kathryn Buncich — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathryn Buncich Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Kathryn Buncich. .retired...We all need to watch our investments closely. I lost my vested pension because my union didn't invest properly and I was kept in the dark. I don't want others to struggle with retirement.

Kathryn Harris — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathryn Harris Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As Assistant Corporate Secretary of a Fortune 500 corporation heavily involved in producing all our SEC-mandated disclosures, I learned how important the quarterly SEC reports are to providing transparency to shareholders, data needed by potential investors and accurate guidance to markets. Quarterly reports are vital to the health of our economy and the vitality of our markets.

Kathryn Roske — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathryn Roske Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am Kath Roske, pediatric physical therapist for 38 years and about to retire.
I need more transparency, not less. Please increase reporting to monthly, NOT decrease.

Kathryn Vinson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kathryn Vinson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Let’s not repeat the mistakes of the past. Don’t change reporting requirements.

Kathy Matthews — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathy Matthews Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I value transparency in the companies I invest with. Why are you wanting to change this rule to six months?

Kathy Matthews

Kathy Bandstra — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathy Bandstra Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please keep us informed!

Kathy Becker — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathy Becker Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It is an absolutely necessary tool. Companies are suppose to keep their records up to date so why not let the investors know.

Sent from my iPad

Kathy Crocker — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathy Crocker Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is causing doubt in the markets. This is suicide!

---

kathy fishman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: kathy fishman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am strongly in favor of maintaining quarterly reporting of financial results. There is no benefit to the investor in receiving those results semiannually, and it can be harmful to those whose money is at risk. Less regulation and reporting is not better.
Kathryn Fishman, Scottdale, AZ

Sent from my iPhone

Kathy Henry — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathy Henry Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Kathy Henry Executive Director NLC.inc.
This is a secret, if not. “Shady Proposal” that is not necessary or explained!

Sent from my iPhone

Kathy Mears — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathy Mears Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I do not wish to wait six months to find out how my retirement fund has performed. I require information that is as timely as possible to make needed changes to my investments. Please continue quarterly reporting.
Kathryn L. Mears
Retired RN

Kathy Q — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kathy Q Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
For the continued function of financial markets having quarterly data is vital. Otherwise we risk identifying problems much later than we should. This is critical for the funds investing retirement money for millions of Americans.

Kathy Robisch — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathy Robisch Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Investors should not be kept in the dark. There is no good reason to go to 6 month intervals for reporting. Keep the status quo. I am retired and depend on my investments for an appreciable part of my income. My name is Kathleen Robisch.

Katie Adams — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Katie Adams Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Make them report once a month. The world is in enough disarray we don’t need more stack on us!

Sent from my iPhone

Katie Neyens — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Katie Neyens Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Informing stockholders matters! Do not change this rule that helps keep companies accountable to their shareholders.

Katrina Buskirk — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Katrina Buskirk Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Katrina Buskirk. I am disabled. If we as citizens are held accountable for where our money comes from or goes, by agencies like the IRS, SSA, SNAP, Medicaid, Medicare, etc or even just how much and how often we deposit funds into our own accounts to ensure we aren't benefiting from criminal behavior, then we should require the same if not more scrutiny and transparency from public companies.

Kay Gamble — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kay Gamble Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I’ve worked hard as one of many underpaid teachers in Oklahoma. Because of low teacher salaries in my state, I started investment planning early in my career. I deserve to have quarterly updates on my investments. My monetary investments are important to me and I deserve to know what is happening with my portfolio. I deserve to be kept regularly informed, if not monthly, at least quarterly. The quarterly report started in the mid fifties when more reporting meant lots of work and lots of people hours, but now it is easy to process and share information with investors. The fact the SEC wants to change from quarterly to semi-annually is profoundly suspicious. All investors deserve quarterly disclosure. Period.

Kay Gamble, BS, MEd, MS, NBCT, retired educator, Oklahoma.

Sent from my iPhone

Kay Schroeder — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kay Schroeder Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Public companies have reported their financial results every three months for over half a century. A new SEC proposal would let them go dark for six months at a time. While the executives, lawyers, and big institutional investors still know exactly how the business is doing, you'd be the last to find out. I want these reports to continue as they always have been. kay schroeder 2730 dale st n. #314 roseville mn 55113

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Kay Sockol — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kay Sockol Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To Whom It Concerns,

Do not role back accountability measures for companies by allowing twice a year reporting! The public needs transparency and protection of our investments. We need to see frequent reporting that keeps companies honest.

K. Kane
Sr Channel Manager
Denver, CO

Keaton Bicknell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Keaton Bicknell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Transparency is vital

Sent from my iPhone

Keaton Williams — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Keaton Williams Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We will only take so much

Sent from my iPhone

Keith Brynes — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Keith Brynes Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dear Honerable SEC committee

I have been involved in too many companies who cooked the books and then took off with the companies money and leaving investors without any real recourse due to the lawyers involved in the process of trying to get back money for bond holders and investors like myself. I urge you to Not bring this to fruition as a country we are on the precipice of a financial crisis due to the country’s ballooning deficits and as a now retired individual on SS due to great amount of money that was swindled by the likes of a CFO who himself never saw a day in jail for his crimes and myself $500000.00 dollars poorer trying to hold him accountable.

I hope you take this case as those of many others who have had great losses to to the likes of criminals in White shirts and decide the descent thing to do is not enact this measure .

Thank you
Keith Brynes former owner of multiple companies. You may reach out to me by email.

Sent from my iPhone

Keith Esmail — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Keith Esmail Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keith esmail
Retired. Please do not change the reporting of public companies from quarterly to semiannual. This just keeps small investors in the dark , whilst insiders are kept aware of the financial status of companies. Thanks !

Sent from my iPhone. +1 6107394422

Confidentiality: The information contained in this email and any attachments is confidential and may be legally privileged. It is intended solely for the attention and use of the named addressee(s). If you are not the intended recipient, you may not disclose, copy, distribute or retain this message or any part of it without the prior agreement or consent of the sender. If you have received this in error please delete it and inform the sender to avoid transmission problems for the future

Please consider the environmental impact before printing this e-mail.
Thank You

Kelly Doyle — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kelly Doyle Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep quartley reporting.

Kelly Long — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kelly Long Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keeping companies honest to their employees keeps us citizens able to better plan for our lives. Companies MUST continue quarterly reporting so we aren't bamboozeled by promises, which last
I checked don't pay my bills.

Kelly Long, Event Producer

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Kelly Rainwater — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kelly Rainwater Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Absolutely not. I would like to afford retirement one day.

Kelly Rainwater
Pharmacist
Louisiana

Sent from my iPhone

Kelly Spears — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kelly Spears Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly disclosures help me make informed decisions. Do not remove this.

Ken Bernard — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ken Bernard Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting should remain the rule. Wth the advent of AI the amount saved would me minimal, but the ability to obfuscate details with less frequent reporting would be maximized. This rule is not pro consumer, but rather,the advantages all go to corporate profit structure. More reporting and greater transparency is what is needed, not less.

Ken Gardner — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ken Gardner Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Don't loosen reporting requirements: it will only encourage corruption, and the citizenry will be harmed.

Kenneth L Gardner
Database Engineer
Personal Investor

Ken Kaplan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ken Kaplan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 June 9, 2026

Vanessa A. Countryman, Secretary
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
100 F Street, N.E.
Washington, D.C. 20549

Re: Opposition to Proposed Optional Semiannual Reporting — Release Nos. 33-11414; 34-105368 (May 5, 2026); File No. S7-2026-15

Dear Ms. Countryman:

I write in opposition to the proposed amendments to Rules 13a-13 and 15d-13 [17 C.F.R. §§ 240.13a-13, 240.15d-13] that would permit reporting companies under Sections 13(a) and 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 [15 U.S.C. §§ 78m(a), 78o(d)] to substitute semiannual interim reporting on proposed Form 10-S for quarterly reporting on Form 10-Q. The proposal moves the interim-disclosure regime in precisely the wrong direction.

1. The proposal runs counter to Congress's stated policy favoring more current, real-time disclosure. In 2002, Congress directed the opposite trajectory: Section 409 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act added Exchange Act Section 13(l) [15 U.S.C. § 78m(l)], requiring issuers to disclose material changes "on a rapid and current basis" and "in plain English." That mandate, together with the Act's foundational purpose of protecting investors through current information [Exchange Act § 2, 15 U.S.C. § 78b], reflects a legislative judgment that disclosure should grow more timely, not less. Halving the frequency of mandated interim financial reporting is in tension with that judgment.

2. The "burden" premise is technologically obsolete. The quarterly cadence has been in place since 1970, an era of paper filings and manual consolidation. Today, issuers maintain continuous, system-of-record general ledgers and ERP data, and the Commission's own EDGAR system ingests structured, machine-readable XBRL data as a matter of course. The marginal cost of producing interim financial information has collapsed; nothing in current technology justifies less frequent reporting, and the same infrastructure that makes quarterly reporting routine would support far more frequent — indeed effectively continuous — disclosure. The proposal's cost-reduction rationale rests on an assumption that the technology has overtaken.

3. Doubling the interim interval enlarges the information gap and obscures, rather than aids, investor review. Extending the maximum interval between mandated interim financial statements from roughly 90 to roughly 180 days doubles the period during which financial deterioration, trend reversals, and the analysis required by Regulation S-K Item 303 [17 C.F.R. § 229.303] may go unreported in a filed document. Current Reports on Form 8-K do not close this gap: 8-K obligations are event-driven and enumerated, and do not capture gradual financial trends or comprehensive interim results. Longer reporting intervals widen the asymmetry between insiders and public investors and degrade the price-discovery function the periodic-reporting regime is designed to serve.

4. The proposal's own logic undercuts its claimed benefit. The Commission acknowledges that the proposal would not alter the frequency of earnings calls or releases, which remain at issuer discretion. As commentators have observed, many issuers are therefore expected to continue releasing quarterly results regardless. If so, the proposal yields little real cost saving while substituting voluntary, unaudited earnings releases for SEC-filed reports that carry the certification requirements of Sarbanes-Oxley Sections 302 and 906 [15 U.S.C. § 7241; 18 U.S.C. § 1350] and the attendant liability framework. The net effect is to trade reliable, enforceable filed disclosure for less reliable substitutes — a poor exchange for investors.

For these reasons, I respectfully urge the Commission to retain the mandatory quarterly interim-reporting baseline and, if it revisits interim reporting at all, to do so in the direction of more timely and structured disclosure consistent with Section 13(l).

Respectfully submitted,

Kenneth Kaplan, Esq.
Concerned Citizen

Sent from my mobile device.

Kendi Alumbaugh — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kendi Alumbaugh Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dont enable white collar criminals! This is an outrage!

--
Sent with mail.com Mail app

Kenneth Gardner — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kenneth Gardner Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Kenneth Gardner, Retired. Timely and accurate information is essential for our future success in providing a reliable society.

Sent from Ken Gardner

Kenneth Teague — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kenneth Teague Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting must be required!

Sent from my iPhone

Kenneth Wontor — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kenneth Wontor Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Looks like the fascist like Trump will run the SEC, hide the $ data☠. Corruption abounds! Why invest with U.S. companies agreeing to this crooked practice. Go foreign. Republicans applying fascist frosting for the crooks!

Kent_A — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kent_A Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Insider trading is illegal. The SEC should not adopt a rule which will make insider trading easier and punish investors who play by the rules.

Sent from my Galaxy

Kermit Severson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kermit Severson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I think investors should be able to see the financial statements of companies they are shareholders in. I think every 6 months will allow a lot of shady practices to go unnoticed.

Sent from my iPhone

Kerrie Cazzari — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kerrie Cazzari Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are a must. Shareholders deserve more transparency and accountability, not less.
Kerrie Cazzari

Kevin Cullen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kevin Cullen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The market and the economy move faster than ever now and extending finiacial reporting periods is a serious mistake.

Kevin Cullen

Kevin Elian — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kevin Elian Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I know regulatory costs are high, but really it's hard enough to value companies with quarterly numbers that are often inadequate on their own.
A much better idea long-term would be to simplify the tax code for Companies. That would be a huge job creator.
I think there would be significantly more volatility as someone has been in the market for 25+ years, with the uncertainties that would go along with every six months and it would be easier to deceive with only two reporting requirements.
Maybe the compromise is they can do a less onerous accounting statement that might make it less expensive, but just to simply do away with quarterly reporting sounds way too extreme, and could even invite deeper corrections and moves down in the market because of the inevitable increased uncertainty and volatility

---

Kevin Evans — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Kevin Evans As corporations are growing bigger and bigger, they seem to be shrinking customer service, and in this case investor/public service. Large companies already try to dodge servicing their products making it nearly impossible to get to speak with a person if a problem falls outside of the norm. I do not think that financial reporting should follow this example. The board of these companies are surely get these reports quarterly if not monthly and public reporting should not be much more effort than that. I do think that allowing companies to report less often will allow problems and unethical financial behaviors to go longer before being exposed. The quarterly reports already sway the stock markets when they are released, how much greater sway or even instability come from the latent reporting, if quarterly reports make waves, would semi-annual reports not make tsunamis?

Kevin Kelley none — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Kevin Kelley I am a retired software engineer, originally from Ohio. My quality of life in retirement depends upon returns from my investments. As time has shown, any loosening of regulations benefits only the corporation, not the investors. Please do not allow semi-annual reporting.

Kevin Moruzin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Kevin Moruzin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Public companies have reported their financial results every three months for over half a century. A new SEC proposal would let them go dark for six months at a time. There is NO LEGITIMATE reason for changing the current reporting requirements. Doing so is not in the best interests of the American people.

Regards,
Kevin Moruzin
Sent from Gmail Mobile

Kim McReynolds — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kim McReynolds Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is PUBLIC trading, not SECRETIVE trading. Simple enough, no quarterly reports, no more investment. We already have too much " after the fact" destruction from the folks that are Supposed to be protecting the public. We have to protect ourselves and our futures on our own. No SECRETS!! with OUR money!!

Kim R — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kim R Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Why in the world would anyone think this is an idea that consumers or shareholders or anyone would agree with? What are you hiding?

Sent from my iPhone

Kim Schwalm — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kim Schwalm Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please do NOT change the requirement for public companies to report results each quarter. Changing this to just twice a year historically results in lower returns and lower valuations. My husband and I are dependent on our investment results in order to stay afloat in retirement. We don't want to risk paying the cost of this proposed change with our savings.
Thank you.

Kim Schwalm, Germantown, MD, Self-employed business owner

Kim Venhuizen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kim Venhuizen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 38 years. I depend on quarterly reports of the companies in my stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the multiple U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Respectfully
Kim Venhuizen

Kimberly Peck Retail Manager — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Kimberly Peck My name is Kimberly Peck and I am a Retail Manager at a local store. It is never a good idea to lessen reporting of this type. It leaves more room for errors, and more chances for things to go wrong, and people to get hurt. There's no good reason to change this rule. This won't lead to good outcomes. Perhaps you should focus on more important matters.

Kimberly Weinstein — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kimberly Weinstein Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I need to track my investments to make real time decisions. When the world and policy changes so erratically and frequently, data needs to be available for assessment on a regular basis. I cannot afford to be behind the market and miss out on opportunities or unable to protect and manage my acquisitions. Do not decrease the frequency of reporting.

Sincerely,
K. Weinstein

Kimberly Weis — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kimberly Weis Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Transparency is of utmost importance. The American people have earned that right. You want to take that away from us. Why? There is no good reason for you to do this other than our gov't trying to overstep their boundaries. Step back and step off. Leave well enough alone. Kimberly S Weis / Boilermaker Local 85

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Kiri Salazar — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kiri Salazar Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The only reason to make this change is to hide failures of a company's information from the public so those in the know can dump the stocks and get out before the news can become public. Keep the reports quarterly.

I'm just an average citizen. I haven't got millions invested but that doesn't mean I can afford to lose what little I've got. Less so than the millionaires really. Hiding information is deceit in my mind. I'm a single mother. I have a special needs son who will rely on me his whole life. Any money in my retirement funds will go to him. To give him something when I am gone. Tell me he deserves the best you can do. Keep the SEC reports quarterly.

Kiri L.K. Salazar

Kiri L. K. Salazar
Writer
TheDustSeason.com

Kiri Salazar — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kiri Salazar Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The only reason to make this change is to hide failures of a company's information from the public so those in the know can dump the stocks and get out before the news can become public. Keep the reports quarterly.

I'm just a citizen. I haven't got millions invested but that doesn't mean I can afford to lose what little I've got. Less so than the millionaires really. Hiding information is deceit in my mind. I'm a single mother. I have a special needs son who will rely on me his whole life. Any money in my retirement funds will go to him. To give him something when I am gone. Tell me he deserves the best you can do. Keep the SEC reports quarterly.

Kiri L. K. Salazar
Writer
TheDustSeason.com

Kiri Salazar — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: SEC reports From: Kiri Salazar Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The only reason to make this change is to hide failures of a company's information from the public so those in the know can dump the stocks and get out before the news can become public. Keep the reports quarterly.

I'm just an average citizen. I haven't got millions invested but that doesn't mean I can afford to lose what little I've got. Less so than the millionaires really. Hiding information is deceit in my mind. I'm a single mother. I have a special needs son who will rely on me his whole life. Any money in my retirement funds will go to him. To give him something when I am gone. Tell me he deserves the best you can do. Keep the SEC reports quarterly.

Kiri L. K. Salazar

Kirk J — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kirk J Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Kirk Jackson Pharmacist

At 70 this us my livelihood. You don't have the right to shield it from me

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Kishore Narahari — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kishore Narahari Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please don't blindfold investors by taking away quarterly reports. This is vital for investors to keep a tab on companies

---

kiwiak — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: kiwiak Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Old song 'History Never Repeats"
So stop trying to change what works.
Find out what it will impact...
Not what your claiming. And expecting
B

Sent from my Galaxy

---

knotmytime — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: knotmytime Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a stockholder, I believe it is critical that we have clear, transparent and frequent information from the companies who make up our investment portfolios.

Sent from my Galaxy

Knoxel — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Knoxel Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is ludicrous! There is so little trust in any kind of financial reporting today! Keep the reports quarterly and timely and correct!

Thank you!

Elizabeth Knox

Sent from my iPhone

KP Singleton Retired — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: KP Singleton Please, do NOT pursue this change in reporting requirements. I am a retail investor; 74 years old; retired. People like me will be HARMED if the proposed change in the now-required Quarterly Reporting is adopted. Insiders with access to non-public information will have time and opportunity to make self-serving trades, while the rest of us sit outside the walls, ignorant of the most recent events. KP Singleton, Stuart, FL 34997

---

kriptec — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: kriptec Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do the right thing. Defend the formerly respected and reasonably autonomous institution, unless...you are part of the problem, or are afraid; only You know. Should you act to defend yourselves rather than the supposed integrity and character of the Comission, you will know deep down that you ARE, indeed, the problem. In such case, the truth will not set you free, but rather, will hold you to account and haunt you indefinitely...to face yourselves, children, friends... fellow citizens, and your own self-deception. Chris Smith, independent contractor.

PPPFaA
PPPLs

Kris — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kris Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Kris Kalstrom -retired.
I vigorously oppose this proposal. As a retired person dependent on my investments and social security, I need to know what is happening with my portfolio in a way more timely manner than 6 months. And in the same time frame as” insiders” so they can’t blindside me !!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Kris Covey — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kris Covey Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 From Kristin Covey (retired from a career as a real estate broker):

I rely on my quarterly statements to guide me in taking my RMD, and in making adjustments in my portfolio according to my financial needs/priorities and the performance of the stocks and funds I own. Reports every six months is not often enough for me to make the best decisions in a timely fashion. Please maintain the quarterly report requirement.

Kris Covey

Kris Mesicek — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kris Mesicek Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I run a small business and depend on corporations to keep my business profitable. I NEED to see those quarterly reports to make plans and business decisions! KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTS! Thank you.
Kris Mesicek CEO

Kristen Trevey — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Kristen Trevey It's very important that American workers, and retail investors in general, have timely transparency concerning their investments. It is completely unfair for this information to be available to insiders & large investors but not everyday investors, who in many ways have the most to lose. Half a year is much too long for companies to hide what is going on with their financials. Please keep things the way they have been for decades. Protect the public, the people. We make up 20–37% of daily trading volume, and in our retirement accounts we hold even greater portions of global investments. We deserve the same timely information that insiders and large investors get – information that is already known to companies and can easily be released. Not doing so shields these companies from public scrutiny; if they didn't want that they shouldn't have "gone public" to begin with.

Kristin Vaughn-Petersen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kristin Vaughn-Petersen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 please do not change this because to do so will decimate millions of 401(k) and IRA accounts. Many of us don’t have time to regrow our retirement.

Sent from my iPhone

Kristine Kalstrom — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kristine Kalstrom Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Kris Kalstrom - retired.
I vigorously oppose this proposal. As a retired person dependent on my investments and social security, I need to know what is happening with my portfolio in a way more timely manner than 6 months. And in the same time frame as” insiders” so they can’t blindside me !!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Kunnigunda Biener — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kunnigunda Biener Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am an old lady dependent on my retirement after working for 50 years. We need more oversight not less. Please don’t change audit and teview periods. Kunnigunda Biener. Maryland

Sent from my iPhone

Kurt Stoneking — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kurt Stoneking Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am a retiree who is just now getting into reading the financials on traded companies. I should have been doing it long ago. In this day and age of electronic forms distribution, there should be little bar from a practical standpoint of quarterly reports. Companies have to file quarterly taxes, They should also have to report their financials to the public who invest in them. If the SEC does not support and inforce this rule then I am forced to suspect nefarious dealings within the back door s of the Commission. Public trust will erode with every negative downturn in the market like periodic floods eroding the banks of a river. Shore up the embankments of capitalism by retaining the quarterly reports and striving for the transparency of clearer waters. It is essential in this information age that we hold investors and investments to fair and regular reporting.
Regards,
Kurt R. Stoneking

Kyllea Kerg — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kyllea Kerg Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Kyllea Kerg, I am self-employed in a creative industry. It is important that companies continue to report their financial results every three months to provide average citizens with the transparency they need to make and manage their investments. From small, personal stock trading to retirement funds, American citizens need this reporting to make vital decisions about their futures. Indeed, reduced transparency puts them all at risk. The less insight available regarding companies' performances and behaviors, the more leeway there is for improper actions to go unnoticed. Transparency is crucial to financial safety, and quartly reporting is crucial to transparency.

L B — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: L B Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep us informed AT LEAST every quarter, if not every month.

Sent from my iPhone

L Babcock — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: L Babcock Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Investors need to get quarterly updates. My name is Lisa Babcock and I am a retired investor. Hold companies accountable please.

L Breen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: L Breen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 At 60 years old and single, I cannot afford a financial misstep. I monitor my holdings closely. A delay like this could cause terrible risk

Sent from my iPhone

LA — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: LA Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No effing way! We the people say NO!!

Sent from Samsung Galaxy smartphone.
Get Outlook for Android

Lacey Waldorf — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lacey Waldorf Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I'm a student and a mom. I don't have a lot of money to invest but I still take it very seriously because someday it's likely to be the difference between being able to retire and having to crawl into attics fixing air conditioning units when I'm 80. I shouldn't have to rely on investment bankers and other folks who don't have my best interests at heart. I'm an independent American. That's why I rely on quarterly reports to make my investment decisions, otherwise it's just billionaires hyping up their buddies and driving up prices before they leave folks like me holding the bag when the bubble bursts. We deserve transparency when handing over our money to companies because it's an investment, not a gamble. We need to have the same information private investors have access to.

Laine — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laine Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The corruption in this country is at a crisis level. We need more monitoring and reporting, not less. Demand and ensure transparency.

Lara Pearson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lara Pearson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Lara Pearson, Director of Risk

I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 40 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my stock portfolios. We need this to keep them honest and spot issues before it’s too late.

LARRY DREYER — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: LARRY DREYER Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need to keep those checks quarterly just to make sure that everything is on track.

Sent from my iPhone

Larry Farnsworth — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Larry Farnsworth Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Hello,
I vehemently reject this change that would only require transparency reporting twice a year. At every turn this administration inflicts some form of cruelty in almost every change it makes on the people of this country. With the use of technology, reporting quarterly is easy peasy and a necessary requirement with the rapid changes we face within our society and globally today.
Regards,
Larry Farnsworth

Sent from my iPad

Larry Friedman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Larry Friedman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Without quarterly filings, it opens the financial markets to major fraud. Public companies can manipulate their numbers, cook their books, and fool the public and the financial markets. I urge you to stop this semi annual maneuver and continue with quarterly filings for all public corporations.

Larry Garrick — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Larry Garrick Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please keep the requirement of quarterly reporting, twice a year generates too much slack. Larry Garrick, Designer in Rhinebeck, NY

Sent from my iPhone

LaTonia Powers — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: LaTonia Powers Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: investors rely on timely information to make sound decisions. We need more frequent disclosure, not less. A lot can happen in three months Much more in six

---

Laura Hornberger — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Keep quarterly reporting From: Laura Hornberger Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keeping the quarterly time period for reporting financials allows for greater accountability & less opportunity for cheating (altering records, hiding mistakes etc). If it aint broke don’t change it sort of rule.

Laura Hornberger
Citizen of USA

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail for iPhone

Laura Barbato — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Barbato Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Reporting must continue on a quarterly basis for timely transparency. As an investor, I do not wish to make decisions based on stale information.

Laura Tiedemann Barbato
Transaction Manager

Sent from my iPhone

Laura Barton — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Barton Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I worked at a public company for 25 years and do NOT support reducing financial reporting requirements. By the time investors have information on what happened in January/February/March it will already be August. In our fast-paced society, this is unacceptable and you will be leaving investors in the dark for an unnecessary amount of time. With the adoption of AI in many industries, you might want to look at increasing the speed that information is disseminated into the market.

Best regards,

Laura Barton

Sent from my iPhone

Laura Gardner — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Gardner Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I'm a CPA. I used to work in the comptroller's office of a major corporation. We were set up to do quarterly reports. It was routine. Automatic. Data was reported to the sr. Management and tp the Board of Directors. Needed for good decision making. This data will still be needed by and for these people and their purposes, and will still be provided to them. Why keep it secret from the rest of us? Keep the quarterly reports!

Sent from my iPhone

Laura Teague — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Teague Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stop the 6 month black out for investors and others. We need transparency.

Sent from my iPad

---

laura tomczak — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: laura tomczak Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 absolutely not! It is outrageous to let them hide Financials for 6 months. Quarterly is the only way

---

Laurie Silver — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laurie Silver Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Laurie Silver, a retired teacher. I rely on quarterly reports to manage my portfolio. As a retiree on a fixed income, it is important for me to be regularly informed. I believe the money saved by reducing the number or reports (from 4 to 2) and responsibility of corporations to shareholders is not significant enough to counter the loss of information to shareholders. Thank you.

Sent from my Galaxy

Laurie "Lucianne" Scheid — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Laurie "Lucianne" Scheid Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Laurie Scheid, retired, Great Lakes region. This matters.

Laurie Olsson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laurie Olsson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do Not Hide Reporting Data!!!

Laurie Olsson
Illinois

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Laurie Snyder — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laurie Snyder Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Reporting must continue to be quarterly. Changing it to less often than that caters to corporations,and billionaires while risking the retirement funds of ordinary Americans.

Laurie Sybert — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laurie Sybert Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I need to see what the trend in my investments is more often than every 6 months. There is absolutely no reason to change that reporting requirement for consumers.

Laurie White — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laurie White Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I would prefer monthly but absolutely need quarterly!

Sent from my iPhone

Laurine Bathke — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laurine Bathke Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep reporting

Sent from my iPhone

Lavin Inc — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lavin Inc Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Donna Lavin, business owner, the benefits to corporations are plain. However stock holders will suffer particularly if it is their retirement accounts. Accounts need to be reviewed and balanced regularly. Company information is needed to achieve a safeguard for and during retirement.

Donna Gilkey Lavin
Lavin Lift Strap
Sent from my iPhone

Lawrence Loosmore — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lawrence Loosmore Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I want the quarterly reports to STAY that way!

Lawrence Spaeth — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lawrence Spaeth Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It is irresponsible and a dereliction of duty — and contrary to the country's interests — to eliminate the requirement for quarterly reporting.

Lawrence R Spaeth
3107 Illinois Route 23,
Harvard, Illinois 60033

Sent from my iPhone

Lea Redfield — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lea Redfield Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This has been the rule of law for years, don't change this now. The public needs to know what companies are doing, if not, the markets will not survive.

---

leann leo-amato — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: leann leo-amato Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To whom it may concern,

I strongly object to companies concealing their books for 6 months. We deserve to see the books of publicly traded companies on a quarterly basis.

This should not even be considered.

Thank you,
Leann Leo-Amato

Lee Gunter — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lee Gunter Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This matters to me because it obviously prevents fraud. I disagree with this decision by the SEC and hope you will reconsider.

Why should public companies get to "opt out" of releasing their quarterly finances to the public investors they serve? Quarterly is the bare minimum and should stay that way. Releasing reports every 6 months is asking for trouble and it's obvious. The law wasn't put in place for no reason, there was definitely a good reason.. to protect investors.

This protects the companies. The SEC is supposed to be fair and unbiased.

If you don't listen to the people here and put this through, you aren't siding with the common people, the common investor; you're siding with these big public corporations who obviously lobbied for this.

It will mean the SEC is ok with allowing corporations time to potentially cook their books. And it means they're ok with giving less information that helps investors make educated decisions when purchasing a share in a public company.

There is absolutely no reason for this law to change.

Protect the People. Not Corporate Greed.

Lee Gunter, Stock Trader/Dog Sitter/Student, Greenville SC.

Lee Ann Ellingsworth — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lee Ann Ellingsworth Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please don’t change this! Investors need all the information they can get!

Sent from my iPad

Lee Ann Morris — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lee Ann Morris Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Changing to semi-annual reporting is a terrible idea. With the pace and volatility of today’s market, transparency is crucial. Personally, I would likely pull my money out of the US market if this passes.

Lee Ann Saslavsky

Lee Yellott — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lee Yellott Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Lee Yellott, Retired,
We want access to the same information that the billionaires are accessing to make informed decisions!

Leigh Koiro — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leigh Koiro Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am a retired teacher and I want to see quarterly reports. Transparency is critical when dealing with money. Show The People you are being good stewards of our money during this volatile time and don't make unnecessary changes that hide your actions.

Jacqueline Koiro, GA

Leigh Squiers — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leigh Squiers Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a voting American, (your REAL boss) I adamantly support a QUARTERLY report . I am a 65 year old retiree. My name is Leigh Squiers. Being able to utilize these reports to my b benefit is MY RIGHT as it should be for every American who wishes to invest. We pay your salary. Be mindful of that.

Sent from my iPhone

Lelia Rodgers — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lelia Rodgers Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting is how people bleep I with the financial health of their investments in this world that is increasingly fast paced.

Sent from my iPhone

Leon Mooney — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Leon Mooney Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports. We must keep financial companies honest and take care of retirement money.

Sent from my iPad

Leslie Hawkins — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Leslie Hawkins Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We are a retired couple and cannot afford to lose the transparency that quarterly reporting affords. There is no need to change something that is working....don't fix what's nit broken! Dan and Leslie Hawkins Henderson, NV

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Leslie Karon-Oswalt — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leslie Karon-Oswalt Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I rely on quarterly statements to make informed decisions for my retirement accounts. I am soon to be retired and cannot afford any bad decisions. I've worked very hard for my money/retirement accounts and they need to stay intact if I'm going to live the rest of my life comfortably. Things must change in this country! We the people matter! Government works for us and needs to listen to us! We know what's best for us!

Leslie Russo — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leslie Russo Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I don't want to add my name, but I am an investor and this is not right. I deserve as much information as possible, and if I don't get it, I'm going to stop investing and put my money in a savings account. Why would this even be in consideration?

Leslie Stambaugh — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leslie Stambaugh Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Then for 6 months of the year, nobody pays taxes.

Leslie Sweeney — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Leslie Sweeney Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please do not turn the clock back and wipe out half my savings. Are you trying to destroy the lives of 99% of Americans?

Leslie Sweeney
Patterson NY

Lester Jellison — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lester Jellison Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 There is not enough transparency as it is now! Investments are the life blood of the United States. Do not make things harder on the average American!

Thank you!
Lester Jellison (retired)

Letitia lau — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Letitia lau Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To keep public trust in the market and SEC, FULL TRANSPARENCY matters. We are adults, we can handle bad news. We cannot handle lies and deception.

Quarterly reports are critical to this.

LI MARI — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: LI MARI Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The SEC should NOT change the reporting from quarterly to twice a year. That is absolutely unacceptable to those of us (average Americans) who have invested in our futures for living/retirement- if we are even able to retire. This is especially important since the social security system that WE pay into is most likely going to cease to exist soon if certain factions have their way. Changing our access to information would enable big business/government to take further advantage of the average American people - by obfuscation of the necessary data to make informed decisions about our investments. If this is allowed then what's to stop them blacking out all the data completely? This is another step toward feeding the blatant avarice of those in the "elevated financial circles" which would in turn accelerate the financial collapse of this nation.

Lisa S. - Nurse

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Lillian Heyward — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lillian Heyward Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Lillian Heyward IATSE 479 retired
Stop running this economy into the ground. You are playing with people’s lives here. Stop pandering to the corporations. You serve We the People!
Start acting like it.

Sent from my iPhone

Linda Landis — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Linda Landis Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Why is it we have so many fingers in the pie eager to destroy what we work for? Politicians are guilty of stealing our tax money and social security for their endless wars, insider trading, and no one holds them accountable. Now Trump is appointing a loyalist to the Fed so he can wreck what's left of our economy by bending over for that 6-times bankrupt thief who can't manage anything including his mouth.

Why is it the SEC now thinks it's OK to repeat a disaster for investors? Less reporting, less accountability. It's a shame entities don't learn from their past mistakes. The agenda seems to be to rob us blind.

Must we bury our money like Great Depression survivors did because we can't trust anyone to protect it? I'm not interested in the barter system of Sierra Leone. This is supposed to be the most industrialized nation in the world, and yet we end up working for nothing. It's a shame we the People are considered liabilities instead of assets to everyone in Power. Whatever happened to government of, by, and for the People? We drive this economy, not the billionaires who hoard their money. Their greed is astonishing. When we have nothing, neither will the billionaires. We won't be buying whatever they're peddling.

Why is creating poverty in this country such an obsession????

Linda Landis
Former Bank Officer
Commercial Loan Operations
Ohio

Linda Aliffi — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Aliffi Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please continue the quarterly reports. It is important for people to understand the changes taking place. Especially retired people.
Linda Aliffi, retired

Sent from my iPhone

Linda Campbell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Campbell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep it fair to the public with quarterly reports. That can seem like a long time when we have so much change and volatility. 6 months is u acceptable in this fast paced world!

Sent from my IPhone

Linda Chambers — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Chambers Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please keep these reports issued quarterly. Investors need access to this information..

Sincerely, Linda Chambers

Linda Cotterman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Cotterman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Why? ONLY THE RICH INSIDERS GET THE INFORMATION? SEEMS LIKE A LAWSUIT BREWNG.

Linda Davis — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Linda Davis Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Linda Davis, Casper, WY. Keep the reporting on a quarterly basis. People need to know how their finances are doing on a quarterly basis. I want to know if my financial advisor is doing a good job or not. Waiting six months to read a financial report can be late to make changes if needed.

Linda Davis

307-234-1424 h
307-258-9831 c
lmdavis71@yahoo.com

Linda Edmondson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Edmondson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Government should be about transparency and quarterly reporting is critical to all Americans who want to manage their money with full transparency. There is no valid reason for moving this to 6 months reporting.

Linda
Pewaukee Wisconsin
Financial literacy educator

Linda Gipson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Gipson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Public reporting matters! The reporting of activities of Wall Street is important to the Public to provide and maintain transparency. The Public needs to be kept abreast of individuals' and corporations' interactions with Wall Street, as well as informed of the SEC's actons in performing their duties of oversight and regulation. Both Wall Street and the SEC must be held acccountable for their activities which have such impact on our economy and our country. Fraud is rampant now and the Public needs as much information and transparency of our financial entities as possible. L Gipson, Metro Atlanta, Georgia.

Linda Gipson

Linda Lindsey — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Lindsey Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Absolutely NOT in favor of losing quarterly reporting. As a retired regulatory sales supervision director, I know we need more and better regulations and reporting in the brokerage industry, not less. Corporations have too much privilege as it is, we shouldn’t allow them to share even less with the investing public.

Get Outlook for iOS

Linda Merritt — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Merritt Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please do not let the SEC drop quarterly reporting! This is a very slippery slope.

Sincerely, Linda Merritt

Linda R — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda R Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Linda Rasp, retired US citizen who now relies on my 401k to fund my life. Please do not make moves like this that would potentially degrade my financial security and remove transparency from how my money is being managed.

Get Outlook for Android

Linda Reed — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Reed Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Linda Reed -retired. Quarterly reports help me monitor and adjust investments in real time to maintain secure investments. This is extremely important when you live off your savings.Thank you for keeping the average American rights safe.
Linda Reed

Linda Schrader — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Schrader Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Whatever happened to being transparent?

Linda Vilmain — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Vilmain Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Really, does ANYONE want to be a day late and a dollar short in their investments? Linda Vilmain Retired This matters to ALL of us!

Linda from Iowa

Linda Wick — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Wick Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This 1880s level Robber Baron methodology.
Do not change to semi-annual reporting.
I depend on my investing.

---

linda witting — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: linda witting Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Transparency is key! Keep the quarterly reports coming. We need more information, not less!

Sent from my iPhone

Lindsay Agor — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Lindsay Agor Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Dear SEC Commissioners,

I am an individual investor who relies on quarterly reports to make informed trading and investment decisions. Quarterly disclosures provide timely information about a company's financial performance, business trends, risks, and management outlook. This regular reporting helps me evaluate whether a company is meeting expectations and allows me to make decisions based on current information rather than outdated annual data.

I am also concerned that removing the quarterly reporting requirement could create greater opportunities for insider trading and information asymmetry. Company executives, employees, and industry insiders would have access to material information long before it becomes available to the public. This would make it more difficult for individual investors to compete on a level playing field and could undermine confidence in the fairness and transparency of our markets.

Quarterly reporting promotes accountability, transparency, and equal access to information for all investors. For these reasons, I believe quarterly reporting remains an important protection for the investing public.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Lindsay Agor

Lisa Freeman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lisa Freeman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly earnings reports keep businesses honest. They must be required to keep up the quarterly reports! Do your job. Make them comply by the current rules.

Lisa Freeman

Sent from my iPhone

Lisa Ann Tyree — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Ann Tyree Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Investors have a right to know. It's your job.

Lisa Blackwell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Blackwell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports should remain in place for accountability purposes. Also, investors should be able to keep up with their investments more often than twice a years. Thank you.

Sent from my iPhone

Lisa Blugh-Willis — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Blugh-Willis Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This loss of transparency must stop. The direction this is taking is one where we the people who have put our faith and money into companies are seeing that these companies are getting greedy and not some are looking to put our money in very risky and potentially bad investments. We the people need to be able to see our snapshot gains or losses on a 3 month cycle to be able to make informed decisions to protect our money and future.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Lisa Bogden-Godfrey — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Bogden-Godfrey Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need the safeguards of quarterly financial reporting. No one wants public companies running around unchecked. Reporting = compliance = upholding laws protecting investors and consumers.

Lisa Cookmeyer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Cookmeyer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This proposed change is completely unacceptable. It reduces visibility for investors to monitor and understand ongoing actions. Do not change the reporting--keep it at quarterly.

Lisa F. Cookmeyer

Lisa Costner — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Costner Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Lisa Costner and I am a retired loan officer. It is extremely important to keep the quarterly requirement for reporting. When making a loan decision it is imperative to have the most current financials as well as the historical ones showing that business's performance trends so as to have a better overall picture of what is happening within the company that is requesting the loan. Without the requirement it may be tempting for businesses to "fudge" the numbers in attempts to make their loan applications look more sound.

Sent from my iPhone

Lisa Courtney — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Courtney Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Average Americans need SEC reporting oversight on corporations to protect our investments. Please do not go backwards and allow further degradation of oversights.

Elizabeth Courtney

Sent from my iPad

Lisa Cutter — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Cutter Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Lisa Cutter, I am a retired CIO. I strongly oppose the SEC's proposed Rule S7-2026-15 for the following reasons:

1) When I started investing, there were a few tech companies but nothing like today's "magnificent" 7 or 10 that are literally the tail that wags the dog driving S&P 500 total performance. Tech companies have to be incredibly nimble to stay in business; conditions change weekly and these companies' responses to changes must happen weekly as well. Investors absolutely can NOT wait six months. Times have changed, the SEC needs to keep up.

2) Retail investors are increasingly using AI to rebalance their investments. You want to give Claude or Gemini or whatever the freshest data possible. This proposed rule will disadvantage all of us individual investors using AI to manage our retirement funds, as data will become stale. Outdated information equals poor decisions, that's bad for the economy.

Thank you for taking my comment,
Lisa Cutter

Lisa Driscoll — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Driscoll Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Lisa driscoll, self-employed: it’s critical for there to be quarterly reporting do I can make informed decisions about my future.

Sent from my iPhone

Lisa Greene — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Greene Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Absolutely NOT in support of stopping quarterly reporting. The only reason to do that is to hide the crimes of this administration and its financial buddies so the public doesn't see what's really going on. The SEC will need to be dismantled if it's going to support this invitation to steal.

Lisa Hammermeister — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Hammermeister Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly keeps tabs on people I don't trust.
Lisa Hammermeister retired Worried about my bank accounts and retirement accounts.

Lisa Hudson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Hudson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have worked for financial companies. The consumers of financial products absolutely need the protection of regular reporting. Stop letting insiders steal.

Sent from my iPhone

Lisa Jakubowski — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Jakubowski Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 For the past 40 years I have been contributing to my 491k and investing money. I do this myself as I don't have enough to interest any financial advisor. Quarterly statements help me make better choices. Please don't take this away from investors like me. It only allows a failing company to hide its losses. Thank you for listening. Please do the right thing for the American people not the big corporations.
Lisa Jakubowski

Sent from my iPhone

Lisa Jutkofsky — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Jutkofsky Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We shouldn't have to wait they need to disclose there information monthly.

Lisa Kahane — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lisa Kahane Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The more we know about the economy, the closer we are to our savings, the better for us and the economy. Transparency builds trust. We did better as a country with quarterly reports. Let's keep it that way. We can't go backwards into the future. With all the cuts that the current government is making, and threatening to make, we will surely be in trouble as we age. The generations that remember the promise of the American Dream, who worked hard and saved, deserve the benefits we earned. L Kahane, photographer, NYC

---

lisa keller — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: lisa keller Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The IRS holds American citizens accountable and what is good for us is good for anyone else. As a caregiver and independent contractor when I worked I had to file every 3 months.
Lisa Nicole Niemann

Lisa N Niemann

Lisa lists — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lisa lists Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We know what this would bring, don't revert the rules to less than quarterly reporting!

Lisa Palladino — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lisa Palladino Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Lisa Palladino-Walsh, former Senior Internal Auditor, New York. More transparency will always be better, especially for those giving their money, their savings, to a company as capital. I am against any roll backs. Our regulations and policies are in place to prevent history from repeating itself. Don’t let history repeat itself again and hurt the average person.

Sent from my iPhone

Lisa Pease — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Pease Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Allowing companies to report less often is terrible for ordinary investors (i.e., anyone not participating in insider trading). Please don't let this ruling go through!

---

lise triggs — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: lise triggs Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This must be stopped.

Sent from my iPhone

---

lise triggs — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: lise triggs Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stealing from you

Sent from my iPhone

---

lise triggs — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: lise triggs Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is not fair to those with retirement accounts!

Sent from my iPhone

Liz Holakiewicz — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Liz Holakiewicz Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting keeps us informed and educated. Don’t get rid of it. Longer gaps between reporting diminishes accountability.

Liz Holakiewicz

Sent from my iPhone

Liz Mawyer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Liz Mawyer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I do not believe the market can handle the change of reporting to quarterly at this time. I also do not trust the Trump Administration to not have an increased amount of fraud and insider trading should reporting requirements change.
Liz Mawyer, RN Montana

Sent from my iPhone

Liz Olson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Liz Olson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep investing fair and consistent by requiring quarterly reporting. Don’t let the ability for trading on insider knowledge to become worse than it already is.

Liz Olson
Sent from my iPhone

LoAnne Aloise Anne — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: LoAnne Aloise Anne Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Aloise Visosky
Office Help & Dog Sitter
Brooklyn
Keep It Quarterly
I worked hard to save my money. Maintaining a low standard of living so that i could have at least that in my old age. And I am there, and things are not too bright.

Lois Ann Reed — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lois Ann Reed Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Public companies should continue to have THREE months to report financial results. Say NO to the proposed 6 months, as this provides too much time for fraud to occur unchecked. The public deserves the right to know. The savings are miniscule, and go to executives, not the public. Keep the reporting period at three months.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Michael Reed

Sent from my iPad

Lois Ravotti — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lois Ravotti Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I need to be aware of what my investments are doing as often as possible. Don't reduce my information to twice a year. This is my money and I want control!!!!

Lorene Harris — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lorene Harris Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the quarterly. Americans are under enough stress from this Administration. We need transparency! Stop gaslighting Taxpayers!!

Loretta Manning — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Loretta Manning Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
It's foolish to eliminate reporting. Why would you remove information that you need to invest and trade. Taking away quarterly information would leave people investing with a blindfold on, hurting the investment decisions that shape our financial future.
Taking away quarterly information would leave you investing with a blindfold on, hurting the investment decisions that shape your financial future.
Loretta Manning
Tigard, OR

Lori Davis — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lori Davis Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This proposal is not acceptable. Companies need to disclose financial information as soon as possible.

Sent from my iPhone

Lori Horcha — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lori Horcha Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The current regulatory system, which mandates quarterly financial reporting for publicly traded firms, has proven effective. However, making financial statements less frequently available to investors could potentially reduce market efficiency and increase price volatility. The idea that quarterly reporting leads to corporate “myopia” lacks empirical support. If the system is functioning well, it’s generally advisable to avoid attempting to “fix” it.

-Lori Horcha, retired, part-time adjunct professor, Flushing, MI

Sent from my iPhone

Lori Kutz — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lori Kutz Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I support continuing quarterly reporting. We need to stay updated & informed. Lori Kutz prodspec.

Lori Philo-Cook — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lori Philo-Cook Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I worked in banking for 35+ years. Our customers depended on our quarterly reports to know how we were faring financially. A lot can happen in six months. Too much can happen in six months. That means a big difference to investors. I believe in quarterly financial reports for all publicly-held companies. Please keep the status quo. It works. Why fix something that's not broken. Why put more risk on the investor and the customer? There's nothing good about that.

Lori Philo-Cook
Sent from my iPhone

Lou Powell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lou Powell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Lou Powell, American Citizen. Stop pandering to billionaire s and mega influence!

Lou Tevis — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lou Tevis Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Are you stupid?!? Do you actually think we will allow this?!? Didn't work then, won't work now. WHY SHOULD WE MAKE IT EASIER FOR YOU TO LIE, CHEAT AND STEAL?!? Taking lessons from tRump, are we?!?

Sent from my iPhone

Louise H Flick — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Louise H Flick Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Louise Flick, Emerita Professor of Public Health. Quarterly reporting allow investors to monitor performance in a timely manner and to protect their children's and grandchildren's inheritance.

Louise Flick

Louise Oeffling — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Louise Oeffling Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Seriously?!?!?! A*s.

Sent from my iPhone

---

lucile burgo-black — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: lucile burgo-black Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Lucile Burgo Retired VA primary care MD
As a stock owner managing my own retirement income I absolutely need this information I check the quarterly reports of my companies religiously Do not change the rules!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Lucy Malakar — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lucy Malakar Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stop the insanity!! No reason not to file quarterly reports

---

Luis Suarez — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Luis Suarez Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am a physician, trauma surgeon, I work extremely hard in a high stakes job to help people live healthy lives. Citizens do not deserve to be in the dark. Even us healthcare providers are feeling the economic squeeze and I imagine most of us are. We do not deserve to be lied to by millionaires and billionaires. This will permit omission with us being the ones facing the consequences. We Americans work too hard to be treated like this.

Humbly,

Luis Suarez

Lura L Patrick — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lura L Patrick Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Lura Patrick, retired, Pittsburg, Ks. I prefer to have statements quarterly or sooner so I can better control my money. History shows this is better for everyone especially us seniors.

Sent from my iPhone

---

lx_lake yahoo account — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: lx_lake yahoo account Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Im a union tradesman . Dont change anything. Keep filing quarterly to help prevent fradulent trading practices

---

Lydia Barker — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lydia Barker Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the repots quarterly. Period! Shame on you for considering six months.

Lydia Barker

Lyn Jai — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lyn Jai Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are important to small investors like me.

🎨Lynne

Lynda Brown — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynda Brown Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Not long note but keep it. Information needs to be available for everyone to be able to follow their investments or future's investments.

Sent from my iPhone

Lynda Campbell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynda Campbell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am retired after working 40 years. Quarterly reports are important to prevent fraud!

Sent from my iPhone

Lynda Cramer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynda Cramer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Um, who do you think might use this to hide important, maybe sketchy things? Like everybody!?, Don't let them! Please use common sense

---

Lynda Elimon — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynda Elimon Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My retirement relies on adequate Quarterly Reports to protect my retirement. I absolutely object to limiting it to Biannual. Please do not allow this change to go through. The average investor needs the Quarterly Reports to survive!

Sent from Proton Mail for Android.

Lynette Carlson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lynette Carlson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I want the SEC to keep financial reporting quarterly. It matters to me as statistics show any less than quarterly leads to losses for investors. The data from the past has proven that. I worked hard for the money I invest and want the best returns possible.
Lyn Carlson RDH
Hopkins, Mn 55305

Get Outlook for Android

Lynette Seabright — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynette Seabright Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep quarterlies.

---

lynn brock — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: lynn brock Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Lynn S Brockway, I am a retired teacher and am concerned about how this proposal will affect my financial manager's and my own ability to gauge our progress toward my investment goals. Just as teachers monitor their students' educational goals through frequent data analysis and reporting, investors also need frequent data/financial reports from the companies we invest in to make our informed decisions about the investment choices we make. Please do not change the quarterly reporting timeline. Thank you.

Sent from my iPad

Lynn Coughlin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynn Coughlin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Every company should be held accountable to being vetted by the Federal, state and local government where they are located and doing business; that is only fair to every consumer and taxpayer. These are not free handouts. Every business is supported by each community within that state along with the Federal and local governments.

Lynn Gerber — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynn Gerber Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Lynn Gerber, teacher in Oklahoma. My husband and I are invested in the stock market and we feel that this is unfair. How are ordinary Americans supposed to know where and when to invest if companies are not required to report earnings for this long? Politicians and other insiders already have the advantage; please don't give them any more opportunities to rip the rest of us off. Please make the ethical choice and protect everyday Americans instead of the politicians and insiders.

LYNN GRENIER — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: LYNN GRENIER Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Transparency is imperative to protect the average American.

Lynn Murray — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynn Murray Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 All of my financial records and reviews are done quarterly and there's no good reason to change the Securities and Exchange Commission's schedule.

If corruption is going on (remember 2008?) there's all the more reason to let the light shine and not let it go on in the dark. Like a fungus.

Lynn Murray
Retired RN
NY

Lynn Reichert — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynn Reichert Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is one more attempt to keep the wealthiest growing while the other 90% pay for it. Don't allow this to happen!

Lynn Russell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynn Russell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The last thing any consumer needs is secretive Corporations hiding their financial records while frantically conducting mergers,buyouts,and overseas expansions for six months at a time . Quarterly reporting is prudent and has served well.

My name is Lynn Russell and I contribute to our economy,vote every election,and pay attention to how our government works.

Lynn Schuch — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynn Schuch Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Financial reports have been quarterly and should stay quarterly. Everyday people should continue having the right to have quarterly reports. I'm Lynn Schuch, retired, my investments matter.

Sent from my iPhone

Lynne — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lynne Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 "I like getting the figures quarterly, and I hope that stays." please don't go back to 1955. I'm a senior citizen and I don't have time to make up losses.

M Diane Jacobs — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: M Diane Jacobs Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Why should anyone have less than 3 month frequency check on significant amounts of their money? Considering that the difference between poverty and not depends on the health of my investments I want at least 3 month reports.

Mac McLaughlin — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mac McLaughlin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Companies only motive is profit. Not what’s good for this nation nor the Public good. They must be monitored quarterly.

- Mac McLaughlin

"If you wait until you can do everything for everybody, instead of something for somebody, you'll end up doing nothing for nobody..."

Sent from my iPhone

Madeline Mos — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Madeline Mos Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Transparency helps foster integrity. Quarterly reports matter. Don't implement the rule.
Madeline Mos

Maggie . — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maggie . Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 stop trying to let rich people bleed us more. keep them honest by keeping transparency

Sent from my iPhone

Maggie Murray — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maggie Murray Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 At a minimum quarterly reporting. Given the grift and I sider trading currently going on monthly would be better.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Mahniqah Hutchinson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mahniqah Hutchinson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Large public companies make so much money and have so many resources at their disposal, it should be illegal for them not to report their earnings quarterly. Period point blank.

Malek W — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Malek W Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Czcxzv
Ccaga

Sent from my iPhone

Mandy Vernalia — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mandy Vernalia Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Madeline Vernalia. I am a private investor and am sure that I need these quarterly reports.

Manny Cardenas — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Manny Cardenas Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Given that a corporation is a legal entity, a 6 month delay in addressing a critical vulnerability identified in three months is unjustifiable.

Example. If you had cancer, why would you wait 6 months instead of 3 to address it?

Do better.

Manny C
Energy Analyst for Fortune 500 company

Marc Distefano — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marc Distefano Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep public company reporting requirements on a quarterly basis.

I should be able to see how my investments are doing so I can make timely adjustments.

Marc Distefano
Administrator, State of California

Marc Edwards — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marc Edwards Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Marc Edwards, retiree here, you know the biggest phenomenal that has eaten into my financial security is fraud. I would like to have a close eye kept on the folks that have their hands on the till. Let’s not fly blind anymore than necessary. Three months is safer than six months. Do me a favor.

from m'iPad

Marcia Hill — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marcia Hill Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Why? This is not in the consumer's best interest. Stop trying to manipulate a program that keeps consumers informed.
Marcia Hill, consumer, E
llicott City, MD

Marcia Narod — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marcia Narod Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The quarterly reports are grounded in financial intelligence. Why should it change except to give coverage to those who would like to hide facts for the sake of making money.

Margaret Ash — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Margaret Ash Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting is important and must be a requirement.

Margaret Beitzel — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Margaret Beitzel Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is just another republican scam for Corporations to get richer and the rest of us get poorer. Nothing to be proud of republicans.

Keep the quarterly reports

Sent from my iPhone

Margaret Dukes — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Margaret Dukes Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This proposal is extremely bad for me as a consumer. I am totally against it for these main reasons:
(1) longer gaps create unfair advantages for corporate insiders,
(2) "optional" doesn't fix problems because companies that opt in are the ones whose investors most need frequent updates,
(3) savings to companies aren't worth the cost to me as a consumer.

Margaret Dukes
Consumer

Sent from my iPhone

Margaret Gould — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Margaret Gould Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is outrageous- we need public accountability for our retirement savings!

Margaret Gould
Trader
Retired

Margaret McGurk — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Margaret McGurk Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do not do this.

The current administration is destroying one of the nation's great strengths: reliable, fact-based, timely data. Undermining the flow of key information will cripple systems that have been trusted worldwide for a century. It will make investing -- (as for many seniors, the primary source of my income) -- as trustworthy as a crap shoot.

Margaret McGurk
Cincinnati, Ohio

Margaret Serain — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Margaret Serain Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 That’s MY money. I need to know where it is & how much I have. That is my CONTRACTUAL RIGHT!

Margie Ferreira — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Margie Ferreira Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Margie Ferreira retired can’t wait six months to go bankrupt if companies go bankrupt first. Wall Street will hide all.

Sent from my iPhone

Margie Rogers — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Margie Rogers Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am a retired teacher with a small investment portfolio, and I want to speak out against this proposal. I rely on quarterly reports to guide my investing decisions, and even quarterly reports can fluctuate widely. From what I've observed, human nature is such that those who break rules but are permitted (voluntarily) to take the longer report window will do so to hide losses in that longer term. This benefits only insiders (or those breaking the rules), not smaller investors such as myself. The corporations will have longer to hide indiscretions and move money away from us small investors, affecting retirement incomes for people like myself and giving us less time to react. Other nations have tried this new "standard," and evidence is showing that it is NOT working, so they are moving back toward quarterly. To be honest, I'd rather see more frequent reporting and more accountability, not less so. The SEC's job is to protect us regular investors and to provide oversight. To "err" on the side of more supervision is a wiser path.

Margie Rogers, M Ed
Virtual Learning Specialist

Margit Price — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Margit Price Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need more transparency, not less.

Sent from my iPhone- Margit Price

Margo Shaw — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Margo Shaw Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Margo Shaw, homemaker, Arkansas. Keep the reporting quarterly, there is too much at stake for us hard working Americans to make this proposed change that will likely see our life savings decrease. This is so important, please do not change what is already in place and working. This could be devastating to people who have just enough to provide for themselves, and cannot risk losing a large portion of their savings/investment balances.

Get Outlook for iOS

Margot Paisley — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Margot Paisley Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I want them to continue quarterly reports, so we can make informed decisions.

---

mari jamieson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: mari jamieson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Mari Jamieson and I am a semi retired musician. I want companies to be transparent with their finances. It is important to me because I am an investor. Please don't extend the time that companies need to report.
Sincerely,
Mari Jamieson

Sent from my iPhone

Maria Coullard — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maria Coullard Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING! That should be the MINIMUM always!

Sent from my iPhone

Maria Ham — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maria Ham Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It's The Madoff Method: This is how Madiff defrauded his clients. And you want to institutionalize it? No way! Do better SEC.

Maria Tayek — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Maria Tayek Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Why would you approve this? Why would people even invest their hard earned money with these constraints! Bad idea!!!

Sent from my iPhone

MARIE ULRICH — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: MARIE ULRICH Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Marie Ulrich, buyer. I must have quarterly reports to effectively control and protect my investment.

Sent from my iPhone

Marie Wilson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Marie Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Summary of Concern
Main concern: Reverting to semi-annual reporting would reduce transparency, weaken investor protections, and likely depress valuations and returns over the long term. The historical record (1955–1970) shows a period of lower disclosure coinciding with stagnant returns and lower P/E levels, followed by a rebound after quarterly reporting was reinstated.
Central risk: Ordinary investors would bear greater risk of missed or late material information, with longer windows for bad news to emerge and be priced in, increasing the chance of sharp, surprise declines.

Background and Context
Context: The current proposal would allow public companies to resume twice-yearly reporting, reversing decades of quarterly disclosure that many investors rely on for ongoing risk assessment and capital allocation.
Relevant Standards/Regulations: Securities Act and Exchange Act provisions governing periodic reporting, as well as SEC guidance on disclosure effectiveness and market integrity. The historical interplay between disclosure frequency, market efficiency, and investor protection should inform any regression in reporting cadence.

Specific Points and Evidence
Point 1 – Historical comparison supports preserving quarterly reporting:
The 1955–1970 semi-annual regime coincided with lower real returns and lower valuations, suggesting reduced market efficiency and investor protection during that period.
The 1970–present quarterly regime supported higher realized returns and higher valuations, indicating that more frequent disclosure contributed to market confidence and capital formation.
Point 2 – Investor harm and market integrity risks:
Longer intervals between disclosures increase information asymmetry between insiders and retail investors, potentially leading to worse execution prices and mispricing when news finally arrives.
Reduced liquidity and higher cost of capital can result from diminished transparency, harming everyday investors who rely on timely, accurate information.
Point 3 – Benefits of quarterly reporting:
Quarterly filings provide more timely visibility into earnings, risk factors, and management commentary, enabling better risk assessment and portfolio rebalancing.
Greater disclosure frequency is associated with higher market liquidity and more efficient price discovery, which lowers the cost of capital.

Recommendations
Recommendation 1 – Maintain quarterly reporting: Preserve the current quarterly disclosure cadence (with possible enhancements to guidance on materiality, risk factors, and forward-looking disclosures, as appropriate).
Recommendation 2 – Enhance disclosure quality, not cadence:

Improve the clarity, comparability, and usefulness of quarterly information (e.g., standardized presentation, materiality thresholds, and more detailed risk disclosures).
Consider targeted enhancements (e.g., more frequent updates on material risk factors, liquidity metrics, and governance considerations) without changing cadence.
Recommendation 3 – Guardrails and flexibility:
If any cadence changes are contemplated, implement robust transitional provisions, pilot programs, and sunset clauses to reassess impacts with data.
Require ongoing empirical monitoring of market liquidity, volatility, capital costs, and investor harm metrics.

Public Interest and Beneficiaries
Rationale: Keeping quarterly reporting protects retail investors by ensuring timely visibility into company performance and risk. It supports market integrity, price discovery, and efficient capital allocation, which benefits the broader economy.

Conclusion
Request: The Commission should reject the current proposal to revert to semi-annual reporting and maintain quarterly reporting as the baseline, with a focus on improving the usefulness and comparability of disclosures rather than reducing their frequency.

Marilee Greene — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marilee Greene Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Not in favor of the proposed changes.

Sent from my iPhone

Marilou Bork — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marilou Bork Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I request that the SEC continue to maintain quarterly reporting. I depend on my investments.

Marilou G Bork, LCSW
Retired and a widow

Sent from my iPhone

Marilou G. Bork, LCSW

Marilyn Saiewitz — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marilyn Saiewitz Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Don’t change the current reporting requirements. So many small investors have a stake in companies through retirement funds and already feel like only the super rich benefit from our economic system. Don’t make it easier for companies to hide poor results from investors. Mj saiewitz retired

Marilyn

Marilynn Cronin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marilynn Cronin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep things as transparent as possible. We have seen how lack of transparency leads to fraud and corruption in our government.

Mark Anderson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mark Anderson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No, No, No!

We're 80 y/o. We ain't got time for this scam.

Mark Click — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mark Click Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Absolutely NOT. Personally I want monthly results from my financial broker.

Please do not go backwards on this & let them do 6 mo reporting. I know it’s expensive but for the sake of a novice investor it will create a hardship. I believe many will STOP investing for lack of understanding or losses to large to comprehend.

Mark Click, Pres of a small company in Chillicothe Oh. Thank You !

Sent from my iPhone

Mark Everest — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Everest Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a 72 year old retiree I rely on my investments to get me through this phase of life. Quarterly reports are important to me in managing my limited assets and income.
Mark Everest

Sent from my iPad

---

mark geddings — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: mark geddings Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Mark Geddings , School bus driver, this will affect my 401K, inaccurate information will be easily reported under these rules, also delays investigation into insider trading.. don't change unless safeguards are also required to eliminate White Collar crimes.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Mark Lizcano — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Lizcano Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Mark Lizcano -

Unemployed- It makes a difference to me since we deserve the right to know what is happening and not have things hidden from the public until a later time.

Mark MacArthur — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark MacArthur Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stockholders and potential stockholders are entitled to information in a timely manner. Six months is NOT timely, and I suspect you know that. Changing reporting cycles to six months introduces an unacceptable risk to stockholders and allows additional time to cover up fraud. Any savings is minimal and leaves stockholders, which are owners of the company, exposed.
Please do not allow this change to go forward no matter how intense the political pressure is.
Respectfully,
Mark MacArthur

Mark Neal — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Neal Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep it Quarterly. We deserve to know how our investments are performing and what management's plans are to grow the business.

Sent from my iPhone

Mark Perew — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mark Perew Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As an average person who primarily invests for retirement purposes, I support eliminating the quarterly reporting requirement. This requirement creates perverse incentives that focus on short-term gains rather than long term growth. My portfolio needs long-term stability, not short-term boosts that can be lost by missing analyst estimates by small amounts.

Previous experience from the UK shows that removing the quarterly requirement doesn't create the harms that some are fearing.

Yes, there will be misses if the reporting changes. There are misses today. We cannot allow the bad cases to force us into bad regulations.

Mark Vaughn — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mark Vaughn Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission

STOP!!!
Let the free market do what it does..
It's not BROKEN..
BREAKING 50.000 is proof of this..
These same public companies have already destroyed our pensions...

Mark Wallis — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Wallis Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Date: June 9, 2026
From: Mark D. Wallis, retired and living on Social Security, a small pension supplemented by my investments.

I understand that you are considering a new rule allowing companies to “voluntarily” change their financial reporting requirement from quarterly to semiannually. I think that is a horrible idea and I hope you’ll vote it down.

If corporate executives would always make good decisions and the world leaders always made sound economic policy moves and every one communicated honestly how things were going, maybe that could work. BUT in the real world, the economy and the actions of world leaders can be disruptive to the point of threatening weaker companies’ viability as we have witnessed since April, 2025. And in the 2008, we saw how relaxed financial rules allowed corporate executives to make risky moves, to the detriment of their customers, shareholders and taxpayers who ended up bailing them out.

Insider trading is also a problem, especially affecting smaller investors who get the information on the news. Broadening the period between mandatory reporting will allow problems to fester get bigger while insiders are potentially bailing themselves out and leaving small investors like me holding the bag!

Yes, most of us are diversified to a degree, but a large hit to the market can expose and amplify the effects of bad timing or bad decisions by corporate executives that in normal times would hardly be noticed. But even with quarterly reporting, we’ve seen how huge companies can fail. Even if they get bailed out, that’s our tax dollars paying for the bailout. So our investments lose value, and we pay higher taxes.

You may think that most small investors don’t read or understand those reports anyway and you’d be right! But we do pay attention to the talking head experts and they need to see the information to tell us about it.

And this won’t be limited to a few large corporations, smaller companies will likely follow suit, so it will affect the all the exchanges.

As a financial advisor once told me…”There comes a time when your concern about the return OF your money outweighs the potential return ON your money.”

If this goes through, I will have to start pulling out of the market and I would expect many other people will also as word spreads. This is a tipping point for me, where the risk of losing most, if not all, of my savings becomes greater than the potential gain I could earn if my investments do well.

Thank you for considering my views and concerns.

Mark D. Wallis
Lafayette, LA

Marlaje — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Marlaje Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 During America's only modern stretch of twice-a-year reporting, real stock returns went nowhere and valuations sat far below today's. In the half-century of quarterly reporting that followed, the market compounded steadily higher, year after year. Correlation isn't destiny, but it is a warning written in the record.

Please continue with quarterly reports.

Sent from my iPhone

Marlene Snodgrass — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marlene Snodgrass Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Transparency is critical to keep corporations honest!!

Marlene Snodgrass
Retired IRS Global Team Manager.

Marlene Barnett — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marlene Barnett Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports coming--- its the only way we mere mortals can keep an eye on our investments---Thank you!

Marlene Barnett, retiree

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Marsha J Holbert — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Marsha J Holbert I am respectfully requesting that the SEC 'KEEP IT QUARTERLY'! Too much information is already being kept, misinterpreted or flat out squashed from the American people by the current administration!

---

marshan sam — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: marshan sam Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The reasons for quarterly reports still remain relevant, this would allow more manipulation of the market , how is that ok .

Sent from my iPhone

Martha Blackwell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Martha Blackwell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The public is entitled to know the financial status of publicly traded corporations. Even quarterly reports are out of date when they are published, so biannual would be less informative. The only people who will be successful are those with insider information.

Marti Kaplan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marti Kaplan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Martha Kaplan
Keep the quarterly reports, please.

Marti Kaplan
480.818.8457

---

martin zingler — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: martin zingler Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This would would just be another gift to the wealthy!

Sent from my iPhone

Marty Monks — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Marty Monks Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting has made a level field individual investors who are trying to create generational wealth got next generation.

MartyandKim Kim — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: MartyandKim Kim Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 For the issue of quarterly reports, I believe it needed for transparency, and investor confidence.

Rev. Martin A. Kim

Mary Stephens — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Stephens Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the reports available as they are for everyone to have access to this vital information.

Mary Stephens
Retired Administrative Assistant
West Manatee Fire District

Sent from my Galaxy

Mary Albamonte — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mary Albamonte Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Just say no to this very bad idea. Who is benefitting? If not the middle class average investor, then it should be voted down.

Mary Ann Meyerhoff — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Ann Meyerhoff Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 In era of powerful computers and AI quarterly data reporting is simplified.
Shareholders have a right to timely data. Why not access to daily or weekly for owners and quarterly for the market?

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Ann Porter — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Ann Porter Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am a retired Nurse Practitioner/nurse midwife. I loved my job helping woman and their families. I worked hard for my money and my retirement funds. They belong to NO ONE but me. Without quarterly reports I fear my money will eventually be confiscated by the current regime as they have already stated this is their plan. The American people need your protection of our saved money. PLEASE

Thank you for addressing this important issue
Mary Ann Porter

Mary Bogdanovich — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mary Bogdanovich Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The investing public relies on quarterly reports and disclosures in making investing decisions. The Security and Exchange Commission should not remove vital information from investors but demand vital disclosures on a quarterly basis.

Mary Cantlin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Cantlin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market for the last 30 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Sent from my iPad

Mary Cissel — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Cissel Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Mary Cissel Adjunct faculty
This matters because it will allow more fraud within corporations and allow the rich to get richer ... and rhe small investors to again be left in the dark. No reason for companies NOT TO SHOW THEIR BOOKS.. if they are doing everything legally all should be OPEN TO VIEW .. without oversight those who takw advantage and break laws will continue and will be more difficult to catch them at it...

Mary Curry — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mary Curry Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep Quarterly Reports .

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Ellen Bogert — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Ellen Bogert Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I want quartly reports. I have little trust in our system.

Mary Fraser — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Fraser Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Allowing companies to hide their financials for 6 months is a shell game. It will eliminate trust in our corporations and their accounting firms, not to mention their stocks.

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Husman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Husman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the active quarterly reports in place. Citizens need the information & our country needs informed citizens!

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Jean Hrbacek — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Jean Hrbacek Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Too little info in 6 months. Quarterly is a better pulse for investors. Gives management more wiggle room. It's not too hard for businesses.

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Mary Jo Holder — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Jo Holder Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I say NO to cutting anything. Don't mess with a good thing!

Mary Lawlor — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Lawlor Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please keep publicly traded companies honest , maintain quarterly reporting . No more cooked books and the rich getting richer .

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Lynn Thomason — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Lynn Thomason Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As an individual investor in the stock market along with my 401K, IRA, ROTH, etc. plus a financial planner actively managing some of my investments, I feel it is crucial to be notified quarterly of the ups AND downs of all of these accounts. Six months is too long of a period to not know whether you should sell or perhaps invest more in the stocks/mutual funds that you own. The public has entrusted their personal funds in these companies who are using our money to run their companies. An investor is entitled to know what's going on. With fraud and deceptions prevalent these days, caution is required. Do NOT change the quarterly financial reporting to twice a year. Please honor the request of the investors. Mary Lynn Thomason located in Georgia

Sent from my iPhone

Mary McGloin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mary McGloin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
No. Do better.

Mary Pustay — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Pustay Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stop with this change it only creates more doubt about what is going on behind the scenes.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. MCP

Mary Rarogiewicz — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Mary Rarogiewicz Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I worked in the public sector for 7 years and am fully aware of quarterly reporting as it kept us as employees accountable to our shareholders and customers. Now that I am retired I enjoy seeing my portfolio grow based on real-time reporting. Please do not change to annual reporting- it will remove accountability and let things "slide". What's measured is what gets done. Thank you.

Mary Rosner — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Rosner Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I want to know 4 times a year what my retirement/IRA accounts are doing. They are not large amounts, so any change is significant, and 6 months is too long in between.

Mary Rosner, retired.

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Mary Scanlon — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Scanlon Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I strongly oppose this measure. Brokerages, savings and annuities, bonds, etc., could disappear in that amount of time. I support monthly reporting. It'll keep lots of folks out of trouble. Please vote NO. Thank you.

Get Outlook for Android

Mary Taylor — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Transparency is crucial when financially planning for retirement. My money - my future. I need to be able to make informed decisions.

Mary Katherine Taylor - retired working parttime

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Vankat — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Vankat Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Mary and I'm a retiree.

Quarterly reporting needs to be retained.

Investors need standardized data to compare competing companies. A mixed market of quarterly and semiannual filers makes comparative analysis much harder. Larger gaps in reporting provide opportunity for information leakage, which favors institutional investors who have alternative data streams over retail investors. Extending the time between periodic disclosures tightens insider trading windows and increases the exposure of corporate boards and insiders to liability for material omissions.

Mary Vodvarka — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Vodvarka Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep reporting!!! We have a right to know.

Mary Wade — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Wade Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I want to see the reports quarterly at a minimum. Do not keep information from us!

Thank you.
Mary Wade
P. O. Box 5
Greenport, NY. 11944

Mary Williams — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Williams Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do Not Allow the SEC to do this. That what's wrong with the world now. Too much stealing by those in Corporate America. A dang shame. I am praying. Jesus is coming! Repent SEC!

Maryann Pringle — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maryann Pringle Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the quarterly report for Sec as it is. I am opposed to any changes to 6 month reporting.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Maryann Tworek — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maryann Tworek Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 From Maryann Tworek, former Managing Director at Charles Schwab Investment Management.

Reducing quarterly reporting to twice yearly will allow companies to hide their losses longer, enable managers to pretend they’re doing better than they are for 3 extra months, and result in a more volatile stock market that is bad for everyone except the illegal insider traders. With today’s computer systems, quarterly reporting isn’t a burden that’s worth the harm this proposed change will do.

MaryEllen Mayes — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: MaryEllen Mayes Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 44 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

MaryEllen Streeter — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: MaryEllen Streeter Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep 6 month reporting! Stop stealing the “people’s” money to make billionaires richer!

Mary Ellen

Maryellen Vollet — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maryellen Vollet Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please keep the company's accountable. Quarterly reports.

Sent from my iPhone

Marylee Montano — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marylee Montano Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Report immediately,don't let them wait/hide..

MaryLou Clarke — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: MaryLou Clarke Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This lack of clarity is not acceptable, investors need to be able to check the value of our investments on a more frequent basis than once every 6 months! Who would risk that kind of investment?
M. L. Clarke

Matt Harris — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Matt Harris Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Matt Harris, I'm a state engineer in South Jordan Utah.
Companies that are publicly traded have a duty to those of us that own shares to communicate his the company is performing. There is no reason to cut the information flow by half. I have a right to know how companies I invest in are doing on a regular basis. Quarterly is not a hardship for them.
Matt Harris
801-837-8773

Matt Honeycutt — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Matt Honeycutt Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quaterly reporting works, dont change it.

Thank You,

Matthew

Matt McGuire — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Matt McGuire Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Crooks. Not surprising SEC is favoring corporate investors, they get paid to do so. Anything to keep stealing from retail investors, right? Rot.

Matt Vandergrift — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Matt Vandergrift Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 People are hurting enough. Dont allow insiders any more leg up on the common folk. We are trying to survive. Please vote your conscience and not your wallet.

Matt Vandy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Matt Vandy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 People are hurting enough. Don't allow insiders any more leg up on the common folk then they already have. We are trying to survive and need our savings and investments for our children's college and retirement. Please vote your conscience and not your wallet.

Maureen Brett — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maureen Brett Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The SEC must continue quarterly reports to protect investors. SEC illegalities have been an almost routine issue for decades. Insider trading 2026? Supreme Court decision 2026?

Sent from my iPad

Maureen C. Allen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maureen C. Allen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Little by little...bit by bit...stealthy thieves of our freedoms make off with our chance to get ahead or even prosper. If Big Business is allowed to keep their financials secret for six months instead of reporting quarterly as they must now--how can you make sensible investment decisions? You can't! Let the SEC know business cannot get away with this.

Maureen Allen

Maureen Nee — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maureen Nee Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I request that quarterly reporting continue - I am a retiree and need more information not less! Why the sudden change? It would not be of benefit to me, so one has to ask - who would benefit?

Sent from my iPhone

Max C — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Max C Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 More openness means more accountability. Honesty is the backbone of a healthy society.

Max Triola — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Max Triola Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 In this digitized and automated present there is no valid excuse for reducing the reporting requirements to twice a year from 4 times a year. Allowing firms to delay reporting losses, especially due to incompetence or insider malfeasance makes no sense at all. I particularly want printed status reports because once they're printed, they cannot be digitally altered. - M Triola, Crim Intel Analyst / Computer Systems Analyst (retired) / Small Investor

---

Maximilian Vargas — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Maximilian Vargas Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Don't allow companies to delay or withhold information from the market. It is the bedrock of a free market. Maintain quarterly reporting.

Maysa Lutin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Maysa Lutin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC)’s proposed rule would blindfold retail investors and make insider trading rampant without consequence. The current administration is already taking advantage of the lack of consequences. Quarterly disclosures help us make informed decisions. The SEC shouldn’t take vital information away from us.

MD R.J.Ball — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: MD R.J.Ball Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stop trying to enrich the rich. Pick up a history book and see why is contributed to a recession and poverty! R.J.Ball, MD

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Megan Emmer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Megan Emmer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Megan Emmer, housekeeper. Please don't change the earnings reporting time. I don't need more to worry about with my 401k. Please don't erode my protection, I can't compete with Wall Street billionaires.

Megann Lesnick — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Megann Lesnick Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Don't allow companies to hide information if they're a public trading company/corporation. Normal people ineed the privilege of having just as much information on stocks and the company before buying as insiders do to make informed decisions.

Mel Lin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Mel Lin Information and money move fast in today's technology, and our government is trying to slow down communication? That can only read as deceitful at best and most certainly damaging for public interests. Do better, require reporting MORE frequently

---

Melanie Green — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melanie Green Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep this reports quartet

Regards. Melanie Green

Sent from my iPhone

Melinda Yeary — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melinda Yeary Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Melinda Yeary
Owner of a Homecare Company and owner of a Real Estate Group
The public needs insight into their investments these quarterly reports are important and should be provided.

Thank you

Melinda Yeary

Compass Colorado
*23 Year Licensed Realtor/ Broker Associate
1900 W 32nd Avenue, 2nd Floor Denver, 80211
Cell/Text : 720-291-5200
Multi-year 5-Star Professional -Award Winning Realtor
Melinda.yeary@compass.com

Melissa Gittens — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melissa Gittens Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Absolutely not twice a year reporting on investments!! I want at a minimum quarterly reporting on my money. Its MINE! I have a right to know how my earnings are performing!!

Tired of our government not listening to us!

Melissa Gittens

Melissa Hernandez — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melissa Hernandez Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 44 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Melissa/Missy

Melissa Lutz — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melissa Lutz Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Hello,
I am a retired teacher in NY State, and am concerned about the proposed rule that would allow companies to file semiannual reports instead of quarterly reports. I feel that I deserve to know how my investments are doing more than twice per year. I believe that this rule would create a situation in which insiders can capitalize on information that small investors like me would not learn about until weeks or months later. We would miss opportunities to make adjustments in our investments that provide much needed income and financial security for retirees like myself.
Thank you for considering my input.

Melissa Lutz

Melissa Lutz — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melissa Lutz Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Melissa Lutz. I am a retired teacher in NY State, and feel that I deserve to know how my investments are doing more than twice per year. I feel that this law would create a situation in which insiders can capitalize on information that small investors like me would not learn about until weeks or months later. Further, fluctuations in investments need to be monitored closely when those investments are a source of financial security for retirees. Thank you for considering my input.

Melissa Lutz

Melissa MacCrae — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melissa MacCrae Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Such subterfuge and lack of integrity are unacceptable❣

Sent from my iPhone

Melissa Scott — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melissa Scott Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Not all of us who buy stocks are millionaires or well connected. We want to know what is occurring now not when it's too late to protect our savings.

Melissa smith — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melissa smith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stop trying to control the people. We have the right to quarterly reporting I think it should be transparent for everyone then people can chose to invest or not invest up to them not the government.

Melissa Snow — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melissa Snow Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This proposal for reporting every six months does nothing beneficial. Nothing! Keep our standard reporting, our finance decisions depend on quarterly reporting.

Melody Downie-Dack — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Melody Downie-Dack Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly reporting of the financial results of public companies is essential for Americans with money in retirement accounts like myself. We need to have timely information about how comañunies with publicly traded stocks are doing. Quarterly reporting should be considered the bare minimum. Any lengthening of that time, even to six months, would limit the ability of American investors to understand the risks of certain stocks and indexes. I object strongly to eliminating of quarterly reporting or reducing the frequency of reporting. Public companies that benefit from public trading on the stock market should have high accountability and transparency. Particularly with the inviolability of Social Security, people depend on their retirement accounts that involve stock trading.

Memorandum from the Division of Corporation Finance and Office of the Chief Accountant regarding a June 10, 2026 meeting with Representatives of the Financial Executives International Committee on Corporate Reporting — Jun 10, 2026
MEMORANDUM
To: File No. S7-2026-15
From: Division of Corporation Finance and Office of the Chief Accountant
Re: Meeting with Financial Executives International Committee on Corporate Reporting
Date: June 10, 2026
On June 10, 2026, staff from the Division of Corporation Finance (Heather Rosenberger, Ted Yu, Michael Arnold, and Sarah Lowe) and Office of the Chief Accountant (Sheri York) met with representatives of Financial Executives International Committee on Corporate Reporting (John White, Dan Murdock, Brent Woodford, Chris Hatto, David Fabricant, Aaron Anderson, and Mat Watson) to discuss, among other things, the proposed rulemaking Semiannual Reporting (Release Nos. 33-11414; 34-105368; 39-2563; IC-36140; File No. S7-2026-15).

---

mercedes mata — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: mercedes mata Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 i'm a mother of a 7 year old two time cancer survivor and hiding my money is illegal and. how would you feel if you were me? Stop supporting criminals and support the people who pay for everything like the taxpayers and middle class…

The government keeps taking things away from us. Stop the bleeding and stand up for us.

Thank You
Mercedes Mata

Sent from my iPhone

Merriebeth Russ — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Merriebeth Russ Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reporting requirements. A lot can change in a month and even moreso in 6 months! Investors deserve to have up to date information when our retirement investments are at stake. Keeping the shorter term of reporting makes fraud and errors less likely and easier to spot. There is NO benefit to investors in this - savings to the companies isn't even that significant. They still have to do their books and reports and update their boards. In my opinion, the only people benefiting from this are the companies. We investors will bear the cost of worse/less information - the people whose 401(k), IRA, retirement funds, etc hold that stock.
Safeguard the information transparency and keep the quarterly report requirements.

Merriebeth Russ
Merrill, WI

Michael — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Michael The only people who think this is a good idea arecthe rapists and pedophiles who support Trump.

Michael Roby II — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Roby II Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Mike Roby, IL, IT technician; transparency is the bedrock of a functional society and stifling reasonable oversight for a shorter viewing window shoots yourself in the foot by overall destabilizing society. Please don't.

Michael Roby II

Michael - Diana Ropele — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael - Diana Ropele Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please DO NOT allow the proposed changes to the required reporting for the stock exchange. We rely solely on this income to pay for medical insurance and additional medical costs and it helps us determine what discretionary spending is allowable without losing money without penalty for tax debt and our earrings from the stock market. You must realize that the average persons in the USA have been burdened enough by this corrupt administration and this would further add insult and injury.

Sent from my iPhone

Michael Baccus-Williams — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Baccus-Williams Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 If the SEC conducted business as a fiduciary, could they make this proposal and still meet the standards they are obligated to uphold on behalf of the best financial interest of the customer/investor?

Sent from my iPhone

Michael Blanton — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Blanton Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Michael Blanton, veteran, and electronic technician. Please for once do the right thing America. Stop servicing corps with your every action. Serve the people. Do not change this rule. Do not tilt the scales further in the direction of corporations. Lest you wish it broken.

Michael Buell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Buell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My future ability to pay my bills is dependent upon good financial decisions regarding my savings and investments. We need more honesty is corporate reporting, not less. I will pull out of the market if they are allowed to go six months without such reports.

Mike Buell

Michael Catalano — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Change to Six Month Reporting From: Michael Catalano Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dear SEC,

As an individual investor, I object to the proposed change from quarterly to biannually reporting. This change is not justified.

The cost savings are minimal. The potential damage in increased fraud and lack of information to small investors would likely be significantly larger than the savings.

This is a bad idea that should go away.

Sincerely,

Michael Catalano

Michael Cox — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michael Cox Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We don't need less frequent oversight we need more. And more detailed and likely to discourage any financial *ery. Also, add a once every couple years a "pop audit" by a third-party with no financial ties. It should be done by the SEC, but I don't think they have the funding resources in their budget.

Michael H. Cox (Mike's Phone)

Michael Daniel — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michael Daniel Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No, I don't like it.

Michael Davidson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Davidson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is a terrible idea for us. I'm sure it's great for the multinationals though
So I say NO NO NO NO NO NO NO NO NO NO NO NO NO NO NO NO and NOOOOO

Michael Eiseman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Eiseman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 michael eiseman union worker. we need to keep quartly and not move to six months bc this country is allready full of crooks and scammers people trying to better themselves off the backs of others. this change would allow them to do that even more easily and should not happen. please do what's right for the people not the company

Michael

Michael Gonzalez — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Gonzalez Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Protect retail investors!!! Stop insider trading. Be transparent. Crystal clear.

Michael Gonzalez MD
Miami Fl

https://keepitquarterly.org/?utm_source=facebook&utm_medium=paid&utm_campaign=keep_quarterly&fbclid=IwZXh0bgNhZW0BMABhZGlkAas4OcgED3tzcnRjBmFwcF9pZAo2NjI4NTY4Mzc5AAEefSHj1KHyyuQa8EzG_bfueF9ciftW3jXuFPGIGbbo6qZvCAitPRYnmqogIAI_aem_HmD4UA3TDQUT-habZ-Nr2g&utm_id=120251587830430747&utm_content=120251635794970747&utm_term=120251587830440747#

Michael González Ramos MD, FACS

Michael Lawlor — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Lawlor Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Full transparency is essential to our rights as individuals. Do not cave in to corporate interests over individual freedom.

Sent from my iPhone

Michael Michnya — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Michnya Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I don't trust car salesmen, politicians, most lawyers, bankers or Wall Street. I'm in favor of more transparency, not less. If it were up to me, we'd get MONTHLY statements from our investment brokers, like banks. Quarterly reporting is the bare minimum, especially since we can opt for digital reports via email. I will be sending a copy of this email to my congressional representatives.

Sincerely,
Michael A. Michnya, MEd, LPC, FCH
PO Box 424
Somers Point, NJ 08244

Michael Murrell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Murrell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We will have quarterly reporting.

Michael Olijar — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michael Olijar Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do not change the present system of quarterly earning reports!

Thanks,

Michael Olijar

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Michael Philippi — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Philippi Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is a terrible idea. It will destroy public confidence is American Businesses and lead to rampant fraudulent behavior. Stop this insanity now and do not pass this legislation.

Michael Price — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Price Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are essential in tracking progress against planning. In today's volatile markets 6 months is too long a gap to edit for adjustment.

Sent from my iPhone

Michele Pasko — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michele Pasko Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I'm a communications professional and am currently working at a food shelf in an "affluent" suburb where I daily witness the direct effects of the corruption and insider trading going on in this country - particularly among the rich elite and all members of the federal administration. It must stop. The SEC must not go backwards. Transparency is paramount. Do NOT lengthen the reporting window to six months. - Michele Pasko

Michele Pasko
952-769-6924

Michele Rinka — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michele Rinka Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am currently revising my entire life strategy and starting from scratch on my portfolio. I am 82 years old. I don't have 6 month time periods in my life anymore. Even 3 months is a stretch. SAY "NO" TO THIS PROPOSAL.

Michelle Curtin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Michelle Curtin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We need improved transparency and protections for consumers. Support citizens and consumers over big businesses like Amazon.

Michelle Davis — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michelle Davis Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Unless and until congress and the president are prohibited from trading this is a grotesque widening of the income gap at the expense of the middle class.

Michelle Taylor — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michelle Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I want to keep knowing what my account is doing quarterly.

Don't be jerks and restrict the current policy.

MICKIE APPLEBAUM — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: MICKIE APPLEBAUM Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I'm a retired longtime top rated equity analyst from Salomon Brothers. While there may be a handful of high quality companies that could benefit from this change, a combination of reducing regulations on equity analyst conflicts as well as reducing reporting and other requirements will be a disaster for capital markets efficiency.

Mickie Applebaum

Mike Lucas — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Lucas Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please, for the little investor like me, Mike Lucas, more timely information is better. Keep corporate reporting monthly. The corporations have enough advantages already.

Mike & Laurie Hannan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike & Laurie Hannan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am a retired educator and economiat with much of my retirement income from my investments. It is important to me to be able to understand company performance on a quarterly basis, at a minimum, in order to make decisions regarding my financial security. Please keep company reporting quarterly, rather than semi annually. Having less frequent reporting allows for greater potential for poor performance and fraud to be hidden from investors.

Michael Hannan, Economist.

Mike and Tyne — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike and Tyne Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a private investor without the inside info our representatives seem to have, it's only fair I get at least a quarterly view to keep my retirement savings strong. Don't keep me in the dark for six months!

Christine Turner

Mike Berkey — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Berkey Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Michael Berkey - Infrastructure Engineer

Timely disclosure is fundamental to market health. Less regular information would be detrimental to the interests of the investor. Reducing the frequency of filings is the opposite direction that the commission should be moving. In the digital age, it would make more sense to accelerate data access to realtime or near realtime. There exists an information disparity between institutional insiders and the general investing public that currently exists regarding a businesses health and future opportunities that would be exacerbated by reducing the frequency of filings. An example would be how the returns of portfolios held by members of Congress outperform the largest hedge funds that have dedicated huge resources to gathering operational information and analysis. I urge the commission to enhance reporting requirements by requiring listed companies to provide a subset of the metrics currently found in quarterly reports on a daily basis. The size of the company could be used to set a floor determining which must provide the daily data sets. All medium to large companies operate using realtime data, and exposing many of their financial metrics daily would require little more than exposing an API. I urge the commission to keep the standard quarterly filing requirements and move to accelerate information availability to improve market function.

Sincerely
Michael Berkey

Mike Sonnichsen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Sonnichsen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please do not do this; every time oversight is lessened (and even when on reasonably high alert) some unscrupulous finance bro or bros will find ways to enrich themselves at the expense of the common person with a 401k. To permit longer periods of non-reporting is utterly irresponsible toward stakeholders.

Mike Swyter — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Swyter Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The idea that changing reporting requirements to a period of 6 months will in any way protect investors or the market in general is stupid. Quarterly reporting is a necessary function and a good compromise protecting shareholders and not particularly burdensome to companies. I've invested for 35 years and seen both the good and bad of markets. Extending the period of needed reporting is a dangerous and poorly thought out proposal.

Mike Walter — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Walter Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Replacing quarterly reporting with semi-annual reporting will permit more time for business fraud (yes, it DOES happen!) before it is discovered. The market response to such fraud will increase market volatility. This action does NOTHING to help little investors and retirement accounts. REPRESENT YOUR CONSTITUENTS, NOT BIG, WEALTHY BUSINESSES!

Michael R. Walter, retired, and relying on my IRRA, IRAs, and Annuities to survive. I don't need an even more volatile market.

Get Outlook for Android

Mike Walter — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Walter Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Replacing quarterly reporting with semi-annual teporting will permit more time for business fraud (yes, it DOES happen!) before it is discovered, and the market response to such fraud will increase market volatility. This action does NOTHING to help little investors and retirement accounts. REPRESENT YOUR CONSTITUENTS, NOT BIG, WEALTHY BUSINESSES!

Michael R. Walter, retired,
and relying on my IRRA, IRAs, and Annuities to survive. I don't need an even more volatile market.

Get Outlook for Android

Mike Waterman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Waterman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the quarterly.

Mike Will — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mike Will Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 MORE SHELLS LESS GAME!

Mike Yurek — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Yurek Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stop investing firms from charging so much when you want to withdraw your hard earned money.

Mindi Montoro — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mindi Montoro Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Impossible to make investment on a timely manner. Melinda Montoro
Resource Coordinator

Sent from my iPhone

Mindwell Egeland — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mindwell Egeland Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Hi
I am an investor who relies on my money for survival including paying health insurance and buying food. I see how important it is to have quarterly reports. It is wrong to reduce the public reporting to just twice a year. 99% of us are not billionaires. We need to watch the few dollars we have invested very carefully. Returning to the 1950s will cost us our ability to act on changes in the markets and save our investments when needed.

Mindwell Egeland

Miriam Nisenbaum — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Miriam Nisenbaum Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do not allow companies to hide their financials for 6 months. This will adversely affect individual who invest in businesses and ultimately encourage fraud.

Miriam Nisenbaum, Principal Consultant and Small Business Owner

Sent from my iPhone

MJesse Ynclan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: MJesse Ynclan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Sent from my iPhone

Mk Sharp — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mk Sharp Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 For us the stock holders we need to know how a company that we have invested in is doing on a quarterly basis.

Mklfj20 — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mklfj20 Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please stay with the Quarterly reporting periods. I am retired from public service (Office of Inspector General, Palm Beach County, FL) and need to be able to follow along on my investments.
Michael Kennedy

Morgan Hawkins — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Morgan Hawkins Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Even independent contractors have to file quarterly estimates of their income. Why shouldn't billion dollar corporations being trusted with individuals' hard earned money have to be transparent with their financial outlook? Quarterly reporting should be required!

Morgan Hawkins (pronouns: she/her/hers)

morganhawkinspgh@gmail.com

Ms List-it — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ms List-it Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am a lower middle class American who has been working since age 14. 42 years I have worked and I had only just begun to do better than just scrape by. I'm proud of the money I have saved for retirement, but I am fearful that this administration is so focused on helping the grifters grift, that when it finally becomes time for me to retire there will be nothing left of what I've built for myself. It isn't much but it is MINE and I don't want lax regulation to allow for what I've worked for to be lost to greedy insiders and thieves. This proposal has no up side to anyone but those who are already wealthy or who are in a position to benefit from insider trading. Stop wrecking the little bit that millions of Americans have scraped together so that the rich can become richer.

Sherri Smith
Pennsylvania

Mustafa — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment from Mustafa Hussain Data Systems Specialist Opposing SEC Proposal to Cut Quarterly Reports to Semiannual From: Mustafa Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To Whom it May Concern:

My name is Mustafa Hussain, a data systems specialist at a nonprofit. Requiring public companies to report only semi-annually would meaningfully reduce transparency and increase information asymmetry that disadvantages long-term, ordinary investors like me who rely on timely, public financial disclosures to make fair investment decisions in index funds. Less frequent reporting would widen the window for insiders and sophisticated traders to act on material, nonpublic information before the market is fully informed, making it harder for passive investors to capture fair market returns and potentially delaying my retirement timeline. As someone without access to privileged information and who depends on predictable, transparent markets for retirement planning, I urge regulators to require continued quarterly reporting to protect equitable markets for everyday investors.

Sincerely,
Mustafa Hussain

N Virginia Woolridge — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: N Virginia Woolridge Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Financial corruption is tearing our country apart. Do your job.

Sent from my iPhone

Nakos Family — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nakos Family Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To whom it may concern,

In this age of fraud, which seems to be exposed on a very frequent basis especially in social programs where we have some visibility. How does reducing the transparency of publicly traded corporations reduce the likelihood of fraud? This seems a foolish decision on it's face. Why not streamline the reporting and do it more frequently not less. This is the age of computers you know. AI even, if it's good enough for the government and social security, why not for corporate America too? You aren't assuming less corruption in corporate America are you? I think corruption is in the hearts of some humans, and if humans are involved, corruption will be too. What protects us is transparency and information. Don't reduce that, increase it.

Thank you for your attention on this matter.
Jim Nakos

Nancy Bannerman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Bannerman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports- we need them.

Sent from my iPhone

Nancy Batchelor — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Batchelor Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep reporting!!! No more underhanded behavior!!! You should want to distribute the report!!!!!
Do your job properly!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Nancy Beaman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Nancy Beaman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Reporting is essential for transparency.
Maintain reporting as it is or with more frequent reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Nancy Boilard — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Boilard Affiliation: Commercial Insurance WC Underwriter and Retrospective Analyst, Retired Jun. 10, 2026 To whom it may concern,

Please continue to require all companies to report their financial statements on a quarterly basis. Your commission was created to provide oversight for corporations, some of whom may otherwise not have employees' and investors' interests in mind and would have no trouble flaunting laws. Your commission is toeing the line to hold all companies accountable to the law.

As a retiree, I rely on investments for my income. The social security safety net to which I contributed for 53 years may not exist in the near future. Keeping corporations accountable by reporting quarterly and providing your oversight plays an important role in ensuring the country's and any global companies which operate in the US abide by the laws.

Lastly, I used SEC reports extensively in my work while preparing regulatory filings for insurance purposes. I appreciated having necessary merger and acquisitions information available through the filings I retrieved from your website. I needed this information to prepare and submit necessary regulatory filings for insurance filings. Even information such as FEINs, percentage of holdings, and dates of acquisitions were instrumental for me. Oftentimes that information was lacking from application submissions we received to produce the necessary Workers Compensation regulatory filings for compliance.

Please don't minimize and dilute your role in keeping companies accountable. Please do not allow companies to only report on a semiannual basis. Please keep the quarterly reporting requirements.

I appreciate your time.
Nancy Boilard
Commercial Insurance WC Underwriter and Retrospective Analyst, Retired

Sent from my iPhone

Nancy Everitt — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Everitt Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do NOT make a change to quarterly reporting. In this time when transparency is ever more important, we need MORE information, not less. And we definitely don't need companies hiding their behavior for 6 months at a time. We deserve to know what is happening!

Nancy Everitt
Fort Myers FL
everitnm@hotmail.com

Nancy Fahey — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Nancy Fahey Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do not roll back the protection in place for securities reporting, keep them quarterly. Nancy Fahey, Virginia

---

Nancy Graham — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Graham Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please stop this attempt to destroy regular citizens' financial security! The corruption that permeates our government must be stopped, and the proposal to delay providing information so that insiders can benefit by cheating others is abysmal. We rely on our savings to maintain our lives and cannot sustain paying billed, etc if we are cheated and lose savings. This corruption has to stop!

Nancy Graham

Sent from my iPhone

Nancy Hilbrecht — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Hilbrecht Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly works fine just leave it alone. Paul Hilbrecht

Get Outlook for Android

Nancy Holliday — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Nancy Holliday Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 They will likely reduce social security. Now you want to gut our other savings? This is unconscionable!

Do not do this!!

Sincerely,
Nancy Holliday

NANCY J HOUTS — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: NANCY J HOUTS Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This should be illegal. Do not enact this crap!

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Nancy Landry — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Landry Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I spent my career in the accounting arena. I think this is only a good idea for the brokers and brokerage houses.

Sent from my iPhone

Nancy Najarian — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Najarian Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It’s my money so I should have this information.

Sent from my iPhone
Nancy Najarian

Nancy Najarian — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Najarian Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Protect Americans investors.

Sent from my iPhone
Nancy Najarian

Nancy Pattison — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Pattison Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please keep the current practice of issuing quarterly reports. In this rapidly changing world and the profound corruption of the current administration, I'd even advocate for monthly reports.

Nancy Schneider — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Schneider Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is great for business not good for the rest of us

Nancy Schneider

Nancy Stock — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Stock Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep public companies Quarterly reporting. The savings for them is minimal while the investor takes the risk! I cannot risk my retirement investments!

Nancy Stock, 1055 County Rt. 32, Malden Bridge, NY 12125
Retired.

Nancy Wavra Retired — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Nancy Wavra Don't rip us off

---

Nancy Woods — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Woods Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Nancy Woods. I am a retired teacher. Quarterly reports are essential for my financial planner and myself to make plans for our financial security.

Sent from my iPhone

Nathan Nemec — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nathan Nemec Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep it the way it is please. Why are we even letting GREED creep in further?

Sent from my iPhone

Neal Ketchman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Neal Ketchman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are necessary

Sent from my iPhone

Neil Sato — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Neil Sato Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Neil Sato, Senior AI Consultant, Seattle, Washington. Retail investor, technology evangelist and 2008 meltdown survivor.

I do not support the decision for the SEC to switch off of Quarterly reporting requirements. If anything they should require bi-monthly reporting. Transparency aids me in my evaluation of investments, trends, and understanding which companies are reputable, profitable and making sound business decisions.

I unequivocally disagree with switching to bi-annual reporting. In the age of AI, technology and the most advanced and superior economy in the world, you want to be more vigilant and aware of what is going on.

Doing away with quarterly reporting clearly shows the corruption and lack of oversight that has come from our current administration and risks any credibility we have in global markets.

Quarterly reporting holds companies to a standard of honesty and due diligence that is at the very least in the best interest of all mega corporations and lowly retail investors, globally. Taking away this requirement hides the truth from the market and gives slack to an already outdated system.

Given our current technology and advanced connections, companies should be able to provide up to the day reporting on all financial metrics. This is the power of AI and the power of the American technology powerhouse that the world knows.

If you do this you signal weakness, corruption and a betrayal of trust in what has become the cornerstone of how the US dollar has become so strong: fearlessness and innovation. Market pressure produces the alphas, the top tier and best companies in the world. Giving this to companies will only lead to inaccurate reporting and a huge gap in our strength as a global super power economically.

Everything else up til now has been a joke. This administration is a joke. You want to make the American people and American companies the butt of every insult and denigration you can possibly find.

If you have any shred of pride or honor, require even more reporting, not less. Give companies no excuse but to perform better. Give American workers confidence that you wont just bend the knee to a tyrant who has no idea how economics or government works other than corruption.

- Sincerely,
A concerned citizen and 4th generation American.

Nelda Perry — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nelda Perry Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 When I invest my hard earned and saved money I expect full transparency in how it is invested and managed. My choice would be reporting every 60 days instead of 90 days. Six months is far too long for reporting. This may advantage the investment firms but does not provide investors with the information they need to manage their investments. Do Not make this change.

Sent from my iPad

Nelson Little — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nelson Little Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 PLEASE Do NOT change the current reporting requirements except to make them stronger - not weaker and less frequent! Keep quarterly financial reporting requirements in place.

Elizabeth N Little
Mt Pleasant, SC

Nicholas Altieri — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nicholas Altieri Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting should be maintained because it preserves market transparency, protects investors, and supports stable capital formation. Moving away from a quarterly cadence would reduce the frequency of reliable information in the markets and increase the risk of information gaps that can be exploited by insiders or create volatility. The processes are already in place to do this on its current timeline and should be maintained.

Nicholas Burns — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Nicholas Burns Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Don’t Allow Public Companies To Hide Vital Information

Nicholas Hogan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nicholas Hogan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have devoted my life to public service in the schools. Part of the deal with my society was that, while I wouldnever live large in retirement, that I might have a chance to live decently. Quarterly reporting allows, small investors, like me a modest chance for a modest return from investments made. This change only benefits the ultra wealthy, and continues the creation of the K – shaped economy, reallocating wealth upwards to those who do not need it. The millionaires and billionaires already have the first four slots on the inside track.Why is every move made by the SEC designed to destroy the American middle class? Vote against this measure.

Sent from my iPad

Nicholas Miller — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Nicholas Miller Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Nick Miller, medical professional, North Dakota. Considering that retirement is becoming a harder and harder goal to achieve, with costs rising continuously over the last two decades, and the question of social security up in the air by 2040, it is competitive we protect employee's by requiring quarterly reports to remain the norm, protecting investors and retirement accounts from sudden negative changes hidden for 6 months. While this continuous to put pressure on companies to perform and report, it will allow financial managers to make the best decisions for their clients.

Nicholas Vogelsang — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Nicholas Vogelsang Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

It's imperative to keep this open high quality information for us to review to maintain some semblance of equality and opportunity

---

Nick Scott — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nick Scott Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As an investor since the 90’s, I find it troubling and wrong to not have quarterly reports. As a retired person, I rely heavily on these reports to shape my investment decisions. Please continue with quarterly reports!!

Sent from my Captain Kirk

Nicki — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nicki Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Absolutely not! Breeds fraud!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Nicole Cunningham — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Nicole Cunningham Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Stop protecting corporations and start protecting We The People.

Nicole K — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nicole K Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Nicole Kaiser. I'm a executive recruiter for a large financial unit living in Tulsa, Oklahoma. I'm in the heartbeat of America and I can tell you that the last thing that large companies need is for more secrecy. I am utterly and completely against this proposal as it will harm everyday Americans further.

Thank you,

Nicole Kaiser (she/her)
Email: nicolek.87@gmail.com I Cell: +1 (602) 785-2917
Time Zone: US/Central I Connect: LinkedIn

Nicole Rodney — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nicole Rodney Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please don’t drop quarterly reporting for public companies, as this would only add to the disparities in America, which suck. Thank you!

Nicole Rodney
Unemployed

Nikki Grimes — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nikki Grimes Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I do not want to change the reporting rules that would allow for six month reports vs. three month reports. Keeping track of investments is important.

Nikki Grimes
Youngsville NC

Nina Nobel — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Nina Nobel Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please keep the quarterly .
With more uncertainty the markets are more volute, and people money more at risk - especially seniors.

Sent from my iPhone

Nita Johns — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nita Johns Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We want total transparentcy of what these companies are doing. It's our constitutional right to know. We the People want responsibility from these companies. Ronita Johns

---

Noah Harmer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Noah Harmer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Nice and calm music

Sent from my iPhone

Noreen Kostelecky — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Noreen Kostelecky Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We watched our investment very closely and want to continue receiving quarterly reports. I don’t understand why a procedural change needs to be made.

Norm Burke — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Norm Burke Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 STOP the Corruption! STOP the Greed! STOP allowing Big Money to OWN our Government!! Legislate FOR The PEOPLE!! It is time for our so-called "REPRESENTATIVES" to actually REPRESENT their Constituents!!

Norman Coppola — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Norman Coppola Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Less accountability, less up to date, less self scrutiny, less responsibility to the public—how is this better?

Norman Coppola, business owner

Norman Spurling — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Norman Spurling Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep this reporting quarterly. A half year is way too long, and we need quarterly reporting to protect our own finances.

Norman Spurling, retired

Nuzhat Mahmood — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Nuzhat Mahmood Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Nuzhat Mahmood, I'm located in NJ, and I'm a software process architect for a financial services firm. I'm astonished that the SEC would ignore what history can teach us. During America's only modern stretch of twice-a-year reporting, real stock returns went nowhere and valuations sat far below today's. In the half-century of quarterly reporting that followed, the market compounded steadily higher, year after year. Correlation isn't destiny, but it is a warning written in the record. 1955 – 1970, with SEMI-ANNUAL REPORTING. We had –0.1% ANNUAL RETURN, 16.5×P/E RATIO. After 1970 – Today, with QUARTERLY REPORTING, we have a +3.9% ANNUAL RETURN, with 26.7× P/E RATIO. As you know, a stock's price is the company's earnings multiplied by its P/E Ratio. If I'm invested in the market, a P/E drop of 50% erases half of my savings. This would drastically impact my wellbeing as a tax paying citizen! The data also shows that the transparency premium is global. Quarterly markets trade rich. Semi-annual markets trade cheap. It isn't just American history. Look across the world today. The markets that demand quarterly numbers command the richest valuations. The markets that settle for twice a year sit at a discount, right alongside where America sat during its own semi-annual era. There was a good reason we went back to quarterly earnings reporting in 1970, and that transparency is vital to a free and fair market. I urge you to keep the reporting requirement quarterly. There are companies that take the long view and know that if they do the right things, the results will be there. That needs to be a decision left to those executives and their boards. However for consumers and individual investors, the quarterly earnings reflect the impacts of how various policies are playing out in the market and are necessary market intelligence. Our world today, and the velocity of change in it, is much faster than the world we lived in 1955. Decisions are made faster, and speed and agility are keys to success in the market. It is imperative that we continue to have quarterly earnings reports to enable a free and fair market for consumers and individual investors.

Most sincerely,

Nuz
(m) 402.960.5003

Olivia Burd Independent Educational Consultant — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Olivia Burd My name is Olivia Burd, and I am a long term stock investor. The transparency of quarterly reports is necessary to keep companies honest and the common investor informed. Let's keep them.

P Grusen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: P Grusen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting should continue to be required for the sake of transparency in providing information to all investors. Tax paying citizen investors deserve this from the SEC.

P Thames — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: P Thames Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The public needs to k ow the quarterly results,keep those coming.

Get Outlook for Android

Paige Robie — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Paige Robie Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Your proposed rule to change quarterly disclosures would blindfold retail investors. Using information from quarterly disclosures helps me make informed decisions, and would severely limit informed decision making on the complex research process for investments. The SEC shouldn't take vital information away from the public.
Paige Robie

Pam Blignaut — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pam Blignaut Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a small business owner I know that things change fast, with the economy, with trade, snd with plans. Large businesses have the same problems, and need to develop solutions fast, if fail. Oh u oh s only fair to shareholders to keep them I durned as to what is happening to their investment. Reporting must remain quarterly to keep shareholders informed and to prevent fraud.

Pam Gallagher — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pam Gallagher Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 grow a set you snivelling bastards

Sent from my iPhone

Pam Hill — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pam Hill Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I need to KNOW relevant information more often than twice a year. It's at least as important as my bank information. We all make life changing decision based on our investments. The SE formed to protect investors. DO NOT CHANGE the Reporting rules. It's a major reason the SEC exists. Thank you

---

Pam Mayo — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pam Mayo Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The actual savings from skipping a public filing are modest legal and accounting fees, and those savings flow to the company and its executives. The citizens of the US are tired of all the money flowing upwards. Stop this action. Many of us are already looking at moving abroad due to the US insistence that we become a third world nation.

Pamela Caffo Mayo.

Pam Ruster — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pam Ruster Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting works well, provides updated information for investors and allows for real time assessment. Do not modify the time frame for the wrong reasons. Stay above board for honest information exchange.

Sent from my iPhone

Pamala Bluhm — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pamala Bluhm Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Pamala here. I'm retired and watch my holdings closely as I can't afford mistakes at this stage in life. Quarterly reporting is the standard and needs to stay. It's barely enough information as it is!!! Every 6 months is NOT going to help anyone but the already rich, insiders, who benefit from knowlegde the rest of us only get with the quarterly reports.

Pamela Aden — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pamela Aden Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Pamela and I’m a P.T.with over 30 years experience. Investing in a 403B account has been essential in my ability to one day retire.

Keep the SEC reporting quarterly; companies with nothing to hide have nothing to fear and the more transparent these companies are the greater trust their investors will have in them. It is critical that the SEC do its job and hold banks, corporations and investment firms accountable to their shareholders at the highest level and not become lap dogs to the top 1%.

Sent from my iPhone

Pamela Bouallegue — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pamela Bouallegue Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Hiding info from investors is corrupt. I thought this administration was supposed to root out corruption. What happened to protecting Americans -- not further enriching filthy rich people? This action smells bad.

Pamela Bouallegue — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pamela Bouallegue Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Hiding info from investors is corrupt. I thought this administration was supposed to root out corruption. What happened to protecting Americans -- not further enriching the richest? This action smells rotten.

Pamela Carey — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pamela Carey Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Millions of people have billions of dollars invested in these companies. We should not have to wait 6 months to know how a company is performing financially. This is a blatant attempt to hide information.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Pamela Duncan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pamela Duncan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports they're very helpful

Sent from my iPhone

Pamela Y Foley Simmons — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pamela Y Foley Simmons Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Don't play with people's retirement money

Sent from my iPhone

PAMELEA JEAN CHAMPOUX — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: PAMELEA JEAN CHAMPOUX Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 In the age of the internet, please keep it. Shouldn't be too hard, right?

Pascale Scoggins — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Pascale Scoggins Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No, this is not ok. Again this administration is trying to hurt the average person in favor of corporations. If I have investments, I have the right to know how they are doing and whether I need to change course. Transparency is the answer. It's as simple as that. With today's technology, we should be getting a daily, weekly and monthly recap.

Thank you,

Pascale Scoggins

---

pasquale hawaiikoawood.com — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: pasquale hawaiikoawood.com Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To whom it may concern:
I am commenting to keep the required quarterly reporting.
I am a small investor and need the quarterly reports to understand what is going on with the companies that I invest in. What are they trying to hide by going dark for half a year at a time? A whole lot can happen in six months. Keep the Quarterly Reports!
Thank you,
Julie Pasquale

Naalehu HI

Sent from my iPhone

Pat Cash — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pat Cash Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 If companies are acting in the best interest of their stockholders, they should have no issue in reporting quarterly. If they don't report quarterly, they clearly are hiding things they'd rather their shareholders and the public didn't know. That should be a clear message to dump their stock.

Pat Vehlow — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pat Vehlow Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Patrick Vehlow
Retired President of American Offices of Japanese Trading Co.
My retirement funds are invested in the stock market and I need timely data to protect my investments. DO NOT PUTTHIS CHANGE THROUGH!

Sent from my iPad

Patience Gaydos — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patience Gaydos Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need more transparency on these big companies, not less. Quarterly reports should be the bare minimum requirement. Don't allow them to keep us in the dark for 6 months.

Patrice Kelly — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patrice Kelly Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Patrice Kelly retired. If you have nothing to hide why can’t you keep your books open . We need have transparency not secrecy. Don’t change it!

Sent from my iPhone

Patricia Anecki — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Anecki Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This government isn't for the people it's for the rich and greedy . They need to be checked quarterly.

Patricia Fugitt — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Fugitt Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I depend on quarterly reports on my investments. I do not want them to go to every six months instead.

Patricia Jean Fugitt retired.

Patricia Garritan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Garritan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The proposed changes are astonishingly corrupt and damaging. We need to see this information in real time not 6 months later. Do not change these current reporting standards.

Sent from my iPhone

Patricia Kokke — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Kokke Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep it quartly, we want to know what is going on with our money. A lot of this money is retirement money and need it when we are older!

Sent from my iPad

PATRICIA LESTZ — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: PATRICIA LESTZ Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Not a good idea for the people. What is this meant to accomplish?

Sent from my iPhone

Patricia Smith — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Smith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are very important to me as a retired teacher. Much of my money is in investments. Like quarterly school grades, growth is a good indicator of business success whereas if there is a quarterly drop, is it because of the temporary situation, Like the price of oil, or bad company decisions? Is it a warning light to investigate the cause and then decide to hold or sell. The only advantage of reports every 6 months is for A company to hide something from stock holders and employees .

Patricia B Smith

Sent from my iPhone

Patricia West — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia West Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Investors who are not finaciers depend on quarterly reports to manage their investments. The QRs help confidence in the market. Keep the quarterly's!

Sent from my iPhone

Patricia Woodside — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Woodside Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Without quarterly earnings reports, while other people, "insiders" have actionable knowledge, the market becomes a place to make the wealthier wealthy and the average person running from behind to catch up. Crucial market opportunities will be lost and losses increased. Don't take away quarterly earnings reports.

Patricia Woodside

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Patrick — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patrick Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is nonsense and I amvery much against it as an investor. We need more transparency, not less we need more regulation not less .stop screwing around.

Sent from my iPad

Patrick Lammers — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patrick Lammers Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly is important for accuracy and transparency. It is vital that we keep it.

Patrick Lammers. Retired and living off my investments.

Patty Mitchell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Patty Mitchell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are better for everyone. It’s all done electronically so easy to ptoduce

Sent from my iPhone

Paul Barton — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul Barton Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please keep reporting on a quarterly basis. We retirees and smaller investors are already at a disadvantage in the markets. I don't understand why the SEC would even consider this.
Paul Barton
Somersworth, NH

Paul Hermes — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul Hermes Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Rules comments- SEC

Please continue to provide the quarterly reports. We rely on these reports to monitor our finances and plan for both short-term and long-term growth.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Best regards,

Paul Hermes
Treasurer, Woodlands of Pepper Creek COA

Paul Hoover — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul Hoover Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 How would this benefit anyone other than inside traders? This rule is a scam.

Paul Hughes — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul Hughes Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am retiring next year. I need more info on the market, not less. We need more scrutiny of what is going on not less. The solvency of the Social Security system is of huge concern to me. Options are what I need, not blinders. Paul Hughes JW. IBEW.
32 year member.

As my retirement approaches I need more transparency in these matters. For the good of our system we need more scrutiny not less. Thankyou Paul Hughes JW IBEW 32 year member

Sent via the Samsung Galaxy S23 5G, an AT&T 5G smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Paul Utcai — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul Utcai Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am a small investor and I look forward to reports on companies that I'm going to invest in and if they have 6 mo, to make their reports I would not get the true info I want.

Mr. Louis Utcai

Paul Viditch Retired investor — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Paul Viditch An absolutely terrible idea. I rely on quarterly reporting to both evaluate future investments and monitor current positions. Why are you going backwards on disclosure? I thought the purpose of the SEC was to provide information to small retail investors (like me) in order to level the playing field. I would prefer monthly reporting. Every company in the world closes the books monthly. Monthly financials are available. I invest globally and I do not like my investments where companies only report semi-annually (for example - UK.) This is a non-partisan statement. I voted for Trump but please do not listen to his crazy ideas. Focus on who you serve (investors) and your mission (disclosure.)

Paula dorris — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paula dorris Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dear [Recipient Name/ Relevant Authority],

My name is Paula Dorris, and as a retired professional deeply invested in matters of public integrity and economic ethics, I am writing to advocate for a crucial initiative.

I firmly believe it is imperative to establish and enforce a system of rigorous, mandatory quarterly oversight and public accountability for corporate entities. This proactive measure is designed to significantly enhance transparency within our corporate landscape.

The principal aim of implementing such a comprehensive framework is to unequivocally prevent and deter any further instances of corruption or undue influence by corporate elites. We must ensure that unchecked power does not lead to practices that undermine fair competition, erode public trust, or destabilize our economic foundations.

By mandating regular, detailed public reporting and independent auditing on a quarterly basis, we can create a powerful mechanism for vigilant oversight. This will empower regulators, stakeholders, and the public alike with the necessary insights to monitor corporate conduct, identify potential malfeasance early, and hold accountable those who would seek to exploit the system for personal gain.

A consistent commitment to 'keeping it quarterly' in terms of oversight is not merely a suggestion but a necessity to safeguard our collective interests and foster an environment of ethical governance and responsible corporate citizenship. It is a vital step towards rebuilding and maintaining confidence in our institutions.

I urge you to give this proposal your serious consideration and to champion its implementation as a cornerstone of transparent and accountable corporate governance.

Sincerely,

Paula Dorris

---

paulette waters — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: paulette waters Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stop the SECs 6 month blackout

Sent from my iPhone

PD Walker — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: PD Walker Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Timely oversight is imperative! Kept SEC reporting quarterly!
Paul Walker

Pearl Pridgin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pearl Pridgin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Absolutely NOT, I want 100% TRANSPARENCY of what they are investing MY MONEY ONA DAILY BASIS!

Peggy Baus — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Peggy Baus Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Peggy Baus, Retired, Maple Valley Washington. Statistics have shown that semi-annual reporting results in lower yields in the stock market. Returning to this failed economic policy will result in the devaluation of portfolios that we rely on to support us in our retired, non-working years. When people lose their their life savings that were supposed to the last the rest of their life, they will be forced to seek public assistance and the cost to our government/ taxpayers will increase drastically in the coming years. Please do not change the reporting schedule from quarterly to semi-annually.

Peggy Bourg — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peggy Bourg Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Peggy Bourg retired Keep the reports on a quarterly basis. I need to know this information

Peggy D. Bourg, CPS, NP

Peggy Brown — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peggy Brown Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please do not eliminate quarterly reporting!

My name is Peggy Brown, and I'm a retired educator with just a bit of investments that need to last me through my life, so keeping track of my investments is very important to me and my husband.

Peggy L. Brown, Ed.S.
105 Holly Springs Rd. NE
White, GA 30184
770.634.4331

Peggy Jean Smith — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Opposition From: Peggy Jean Smith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Accountability is everything. How much manipulation can be done behind closed doors with 6 month reporting ? Double ! All the regular Americans with retirement savings will be hit hard - it's been counted on for decades and there is no alternative. Any suggestions on who will support the millions of us who lose ?
Peggy Smith, retired

🌶️ ~ Peggy Jean

Peggy LaMendola — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peggy LaMendola Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This plan is horrible. Set up to protect the rich with firsthand knowledge, and screw the ordinary citizens with 401Ks as retirement plans that can go bust and destroy their futures. I am a retired tax preparer. I have seen clients lose it all to bad corporate decisions.

Peggy McGee — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peggy McGee Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dear SEC,
I am a hard working self employed realtor in Houston TX. If you let companies hide their books for 6 months at a time, you are failing to provide transparency we need to follow their operations. Don't do it!

Margaret McGee

Sent from my Galaxy

Peggy Salazar — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Peggy Salazar Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 There can never be too much transparency.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Penina — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Penina Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need to see Financials quarterly! Six months is too long to wait. It's a matter of transparency and accountability.

Patricia Berman, Baltimore, MD.

Penny Butler — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: From: Penny Butler Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Penny Lewis, I am now currently retired and watching my investments very closely. I lost over 50% years ago, and still not made it all back. So watching much closer today, being a 6 month black out would certainly hurt me, in fact I would most likely put it in a CD where I know it's safe.

Please reconsider this 6 month blackout.

Thank you,
One about broke investor.

Sent from Yahoo Mail for iPhone

Perry & Claudia — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Perry & Claudia Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It is imperative to maintain quarterly reporting, especially as economic conditions change almost with the wind these days. Six month reporting periods are intolerable.

Sent from my iPad

Pete Florez — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pete Florez Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are imperative. Eliminating quarterly reports is non-negotiable

Sent via the Samsung Galaxy S23 Ultra 5G, an AT&T 5G smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Pete Golden — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pete Golden Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Time the majority voices are heard. Majority voices count. SEC will not hide their book to screw the majority anymore. People have the power now and will not look the other way.

Sent from my iPhone

Peter Bergquist — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peter Bergquist Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Peter Bergquist, private investor. Cutting the reporting requirements for publicly traded corporations to 6 months would be a huge mistake. Creating and distributing these reports is not a huge burden, and increasing the time between reports would make investing much more difficult and opaque. This proposal is without merit other than to allow large corporations to hide their real results - whether better or worse than expected, and encourage more insider trading.

Pete

"Indecision may or may not be my problem"
- Jimmy Buffett

Peter Brunk — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Peter Brunk Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not allow elimination of quarterly reporting
AI will make it easy to do

Peter Eriksson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peter Eriksson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Its extremely important that companies are forced to disclose their earnings on a regular badis for us tegular investors to have any understanding of the inside workings of the companies we are investing our hard earned dollars into. With increased corruption and corporate mergers together with the present administrations runaway lawlessness, small time investors rely on an ever reduced trickle of openess and truthful information. Don't make the situation worse by allowing companies to hide their financial situation for an extended period of time.

Peter Eriksson, Scientist

Get Outlook for Android

Peter Holt — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peter Holt Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am a retired and manage my own investments. Regular three month reporting is necessary to ensure timely scrutiny of corporate America. Six months would allow the small minority of bad actors too much time to get up to no good and hide it, and too much time to sell well before any bad news becomes public.

Any cost savings associated with this change, would be negligible.

In sum I am very much against the proposed change.

Regards,

Peter Holt

Peter Leung — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Peter Leung Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: we want more disclosure, not less disclosure for publicly traded companies to protect investors

---

Peter Mykrantz — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peter Mykrantz Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Peter Larrabee Mykrantz. I am 68, retired with investments in the markets. Open markets require transparency and following rules to ensure a level playing field and prevent corruption. We need more reporting, not less. All stakeholders already suffer enough insider corruption virtually invisible. Gross executive salaries, insider trading, and stock buybacks already make all of us poorer so a few can have undeserved luxuries and hoard needed resources.

---

peter sittler — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: peter sittler Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I'm Peter Sittler and a retired music educator. I'm depending on rigorous accountability of securities to protect my assets that I've spent a lifetime accumulating. I and man my others would like to have faith in the markets that we depend on. Thank you very much for keeping financial reporting every 3 months. Sincerely, Peter Sittler lifetime accumulating.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Peter Stull — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peter Stull Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Allowing companies to publicly report only 2x a year gives further advantage to insiders. The saving to companies is small, the inequality this would add to our economy is large.

Peter Stull
Alfred Station NY, 14803

Peter Stull — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peter Stull Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Allowing companies to publicly report only 2x a year gives further advantage to insiders. The saving to companies is small, the inequality this would add to our economy is large.

Peyton Latta — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Peyton Latta Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Peyton D administrative coordinator FL. Protect the people if this passes and tanks our retirement account what do the people have to believe in? Everything is unbelievably expensive and hard for so many people in this country. We have hope for relaxation and enjoyment in retirement but if our investments tank where will that leave us?

Sent from my iPhone

Phil Junk — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Phil Junk Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 44 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Sent from my iPad

Phil Newcomb — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Phil Newcomb Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Philca Kientopp — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Philca Kientopp Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: Quarterly disclosures are important to investors so we know whether or not the companies are meeting their earnings goals. Investors may not want to continue to invest in companies if they are not generating as much revenue as predicted and have told investors they would get.

The SEC should not allow companies to stop reporting quarterly

---

PHILIP HERSHNER — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: PHILIP HERSHNER Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Phil Hershner. Retired. Investor.
One of the best things about investing in American companies is the transparency and good reporting that we have become accustomed to. To go to 6 month reporting would insert too much uncertainty and give the appearance of riskiness. Please do not adopt the six month reporting standard.
Thank you.

Sent from my iPhone

Philip Ortego — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Philip Ortego I'm going to invest but I need current financial info. Keep the disclosure requirement at quarterly

---

Phoenixman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Phoenixman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need more transparency in financial decision making not less. People make decisions based on this data.

Phyliss Martinez — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Phyliss Martinez Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are critical, that’s why it has been the norm for decades. There is no value in dropping their publication 50%, unless it’s to HIDE information and make it harder to manipulate results, or take away the average person’s needed information.

Stop manipulating everything for the wealthy.

Phyliss M.

---

pweber7 — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: pweber7 Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Don't give big corporations longer to act against their small stockholders.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

---

r — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: r Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 How does hiding a company's financial well being from its investors help the investors? It foes not. The only reason to fonthisbisvto HURT investors. How about companies get decent comptroller and it systems so they can efficiently post thecreality ofvthe companies health without s big hurden on it. SEC do your job for the investors, not Trumps donors.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

R Roy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: R Roy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please do not eliminate quarterly reporting requirements. As investors, we need more transparency, not less. The SEC exists to protect us.
Regards,
Roy

---

r smith — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: r smith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Randall Smith, Retired from 40 years in IT. This matters to me as an investor.

There is absolutely no reason for publicly traded corporations to report anything less than quarterly. The larger the corporation the more that quarterly filing is needed. Frequent filing equals greater transparency. Greater transparency equals more stability. Stability and accountability creates reliability and trustworthiness. All these benefits enhances our country's security and financial well-being.

Thank you for your consideration of my inputs.

Regards,

Randall L Smith

Rachel Desamero — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rachel Desamero Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I want quarterly reports to continue from public companies. This will keep them accountable to the public (investors) that owns, buys, and sells their stocks and products. To let them go dark would be completely irresponsible and would give them an opportunity to manipulate the investors and public in general. This is not an acceptable option.

Rachel Sternberg — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rachel Sternberg Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Rachel Sternberg-Bookkeeper: We need to keep businesses accountable. Keep the system of checks & balances tight. Investing is built on the money of many “little” people through their own work retirement accounts. They need protection from bad management and practices. Not give a long lead time from failure. Our economy runs too fast now and we have to keep pace with it.

Rachel Sternberg

Rachelle Cherkasov — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rachelle Cherkasov Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a business owner in the commercial real estate sector, our clients and investors rely on quarterly reporting to make informed financial decisions.

Rachelle Cherkasov
Forward Commercial

Sent from my iPhone

---

rachelsdf39 — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: rachelsdf39 Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I want quarterly reports to continue from public companies. This will keep them accountable to the public (investors) that owns, buys, and sells their stocks and products. To let them go dark would be completely irresponsible and would give them an opportunity to manipulate the investors and public in general. This is not an acceptable option.

Regards,
Rachel

Ralph DeBar — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ralph DeBar Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the period as it is.

Rand Eller — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rand Eller Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Don’t let public companies play “hide the ball”! Keep financial reporting quarterly !!

Sent from my iPhone

Randi Renninger — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Randi Renninger Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I you rely on quarterly information to make decisions. Longer gaps create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders. "Optional" doesn't fix the problem because companies that opt in are often the ones whose investors most need frequent updates. The savings to companies aren't worth the cost to you. This is blatant cheating.

Randi Renninger, Medical Coding Specialist

Sent from my iPhone

Randolph Hall — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Randolph Hall Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No changes

Randolph Hall
(760) 522-5170
orhalljr@gmail.com

Randon Jenkins — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Randon Jenkins Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 SEC are crooks and insider traders. Stop the bad behavior and protect citizens. Stop changing rules for the benefit of corporations. That’s not your job!

Sent from my iPhone

Randy Donath — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Randy Donath Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting for business is VITAL to the health of our Democratic Republic. Companies rely on this information in a timely manner for planning and budgeting purposes. Reporting financials every 6 months does not provide the timely information required for proper and reliable business planning.

Randy Stewart — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Randy Stewart Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Reducing reporting from quarterly to semiannual filings would leave individual investors with less timely information, making it harder to evaluate company performance, risks, and dividend sustainability. This information gap could disproportionately harm small investors who rely on regular disclosures to make informed investment decisions. This would take some of the fun and excitement out of researching and finding companies to invest in.

Raquell Russell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Raquell Russell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Ref: Rule S7-2026-15

My name is Raquell, I am a homemaker. I want reporting to remain a quarterly requirement because transparency and timely accountability are important. We've seen how the market can impact the common people who aren't engaged, and we need this minimal protection. Thanks.

Raquell Russell

---

ray smith — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ray smith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Public companies have reported their financial results every three months for over half a century. This is the iversight we need and more. Companies need to be accountable for where their money is going. Jeep the qyarterly reporting rule!

Sent from my iPhone

Raymond Holder — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Raymond Holder Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need timely and truthful information with all the chaos in our nation and the world!!

---

rcm2527 — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: rcm2527 Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No way. Working for companies so much can happen in 6 months. Quarter reports is necessary for all people depending on their investments for an income. Companies can go bankrupt in 6 months and the public knows nothing until their stock tanks.

Sent from my Galaxy

Rcn2 — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rcn2 Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Why change things for all of us common stock holders? What has to be hidden away for 6 mos, now and who exactly will that benefit?

Phyllis Biro
Retired-Beth. Steel Corp.,and LVHN

Sent from my iPad

---

rebecca crump — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: rebecca crump Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 DO NOT drop quarterly reporting. Don't sell the American people out. We deserve transparency. Don't let them hide.
Sincerely,

Rebecca Crump, Project Manager

Rebecca d'Alessio — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rebecca d'Alessio Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Zero accountability is bad for everyone. At least maintain what we have, for the love of all that is right.

Sent from my iPad

Rebecca S Sundblom — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rebecca S Sundblom Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Making excessive amounts of money, is what capitalism is about. Caring for others is not. Corruption abounds in Washington and Wall Street. To delay or hide financial reports is criminal! If we, as the public, wish to invest? We deserve to have ALL current and up to date data and information regarding our potential investment in such company! NOT ROCKET SCIENCE!

Rebecca Tyler — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rebecca Tyler Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The only perceivable purpose of this modification is deceit.

Rebecca Tyler
Remote Technical Support

Redstone — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Redstone Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Absolutely not to the twice a year reporting rule change. This is unacceptable. A lack of transparency only serves to support graft and give an already corrupt group of rich people more room to be corrupt and steal money from everyone else. Enough with the nonsense. Do not allow this to happen. This will further destabilize an already dodgy economy as well.

Reid Cole-Hatchard — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Reid Cole-Hatchard Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the quarterly rule! It's the right thing to do. To much underhanded things going on today. This crooked administration won't always be in control. Wake up America!

Reilly — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Reilly Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Reilly Anderson, unemployed. My Roth retirement account is the only retirement money I will ever have. It's not much, however, it's the only shot I have at retirement since this country is going to hell because of Trump. Don't change what works. Quarterly reports are the bare minimum. Leave it alone.

Remvideo — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Remvideo Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a retired person dependent upon timely investment information, I need to have the quarterly disclosures. There is no advantage to making this semiannual for the independent investor. Do not change to semiannual. Roger Miller

Sent from my iPhone

Rena Garner — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rena Garner Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 In this digital age it is not an undue burden to report profits etc every three months. Investors have a right to this knowledge.

Get Outlook for Android

Renee Reid — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Renee Reid Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 All of the evidence indicates that quarterly reporting is more beneficial to both individuals and our overall economy. The only purpose for semi-annual would be to enable deceit. While this isn't surprising from this administration, it remains unacceptable nonetheless.

R. Reid

Rhonda Carnevali — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rhonda Carnevali Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Come on! No more pensions so we do 401k. We have to live on something for the final years of our life. We have to know if we are investing in something that can carry us through.
The government doesn't have the money to take care of us. We're paying high fees, we should have all the information we need.

Rhonda Carnevali.

Sent from my iPad

Richard Bowden — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Bowden Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I'm a 78 year old retiree living on SS and small 401K. Longer gaps in corporate reporting creates another unfair advantage for corporate insiders and corporate America already has a big advantage over us ordinary people.

Sent from my iPhone

Richard Melrose — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Melrose Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Transparency, truth for the people , one united indivisible, down with corruption. If, you don't do it now then when will you, capitalism will not survive these onslaughts of hacks and it will collapse. Do not allow less reporting.

Sent from my iPad

Rick Suntag — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rick Suntag Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I fear that dropping quarterly reporting will cause stock purchasers to lose sight of where a company is heading and will cause much larger “surprise” reports with the reporting time doubled. Keep it at quarterly please.

Rick

Sent from my iPhone

Ricki Rodkin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ricki Rodkin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please don’t cancel the quarterly reporting. We like to see how our investments are doing.

Thank you,

Renee Rodkin

Sent from my iPad

Ricky LeGrand — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ricky LeGrand Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No. No way should companies stop conducting quarterly audits. No way to run a business. Nor treat their investors. Stop Hiding Big Brother

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

RJ Sussman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: RJ Sussman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is a ridiculous idea. Why would investors want less information, guidance, and oversight. We pay taxes for a government that protects us, not one that favors corporations, and throws its citizens to the wolves.

Richard J Sussman

Professional Investor

Robert — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No, no, no, reports should be kept as they are, so we can take advantage of trends in the marketplace.

Sent from my iPad

Robert Spaulding — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Spaulding Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the quarterly report. We need to know where our money is going since it's disappearing or has no real growth.

Robert Spaulding, Disabled, worked at same place for 50 yesrs

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Robert A M Ross — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Robert A M Ross Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Leave it—and our investments—alone!!!

Robert A. M. Ross
Sent from my iPhone

Robert Barrett — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Barrett Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Are you *ing kidding me! You're trying to make it easier for Wall Street and large corporations to * us. Is everybody that's part of this administration a criminal? No need to change something that's been working kind of okay. Definitely don't need to change it into something that'll be another dumpster fire for the criminals.

Brian Barrett
Blue Ridge Homes
828-712-2867

Robert Bell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Bell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I'm Robert Bell, just an average citizen. It's ridiculous to think that reducing transparency in public traded companies is a good thing. I do not support a change to eliminate 10G filings.

--
Sent while mobile. Please excuse my brevity.

Robert Edwards — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Robert Edwards Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is a failed strategy. Proven failed strategy. We must always learn from history. This must not be done!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

---

robert gomez — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: robert gomez Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Rob Gomez, retired military,
I am writing to you because I like many Americans have investments and need to know how and what the companies are doing and which direction they are going. With all the hiding, loose laws, and corrupt politics from the administration, I need to know my money is kept safe, secure, and making money!
We should be able to see where and what is going on by the financial companies.

Get Outlook for Android

Robert Grossfeld — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Grossfeld Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Robert Grossfeld, retired and current investor.
I am dependent on my small investment portfolio, in my IRA (formerly my 401-K, to cover my living expenses, as well as to be prepared for future catastrophic events.
I use companies' quarterly reports to help me make the best decisions on investments.
Dropping the requirement for quarterly reports helps no one except the insider traders, and it definitely hurts the individual investor who is only trying to contribute to the business of America.
Stand up for the common people of our country, not those who seek to make their lives harder.

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Gwaltney — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Gwaltney Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reviews must remain intact. Timely Information is vital when managing a stock portfolio. Don't cave to corporate pressure.

Robert H. Ross — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Robert H. Ross Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Robert H. Ross, pastor, UCC, retired, Grantham NH. I favor Quarterly, if not even more regularly. Reverting to bi-annual (semiannual) will only deplete further the wealth of an already shrunken American middle class upon which our democracy and our society depend. So DO NOT go back to the 1950s. DO NOT.

Sent from my Galaxy

Robert Hopper — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Hopper Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As an investor for over 47 years I would recommend, if the SEC wants to keep capital markets flowing, that quarterly reporting be continued.

Absent timely information about the companies I invest in in guessing a good chuck of my dollars will move into less volatile investments and put of stocks.
I'm pretty sure I won't be alone.

Robert J. Hopper
Principal RJH Global Real Estate Consulting
Cary, NC
--

RJH GLOBAL REAL ESTATE CONSULTING

Developing Real Estate Solutions that Support Business Results

---

Robert Larson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Larson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 RobertThe system needs to remain at 3 months. Too much time for fraud any longer. Life long investor. Thank you.

Robert Larson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Larson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The system needs to remain at 3 months. Too much time for fraud any longer. Life long investor. Thank you

---

Robert McCalla — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Robert McCalla Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Robert McCalla, retiree, Pearland, Texas. Investing in today’s environment seems increasingly difficult due to the amount of volatility exhibited in the market. I believe that reducing the reporting requirement will only increase the volatility. As a retiree and retail investor, I feel this is not in my best financial interest. Thank you.

Robert McCalla
2009 Westminister St
Pearland, TX. 77581

Robert Miller — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Miller Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No !

Robert Oliver — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Oliver Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 WTF.. Is everyone cheaters? Why do you need to hide anything from your clients? Stop trying to cheat the people.

Robert Reilly — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Reilly Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 There is nothing wrong with quarterly reports. Changing them under Donald Trumps administration is more than highly suspicious. It's another corporate bribe payoff. You can bet your ass that there will be investigations once Trump and PROJECT 2025 are dealt with. I'd keep everything the way it is, least you draw attention to your Boards history of actions. Robert Reilly, retired engineer, nothing good comes from corporations being aloud to manipulate other peoples money in the dark. Historically they simply cannot be trusted to do the right thing.

---

robert rockwell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: robert rockwell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I oppose rolling the reporting back to the 1955 standards. It is bad for investors and savers. Leave the reports as they currently are and stop messing around when everything is perfectly fine as it is. No change in reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Rossignol — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Rossignol Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting forces public companies to communicate with the public 4 times per year. A bare minimum considering how much is at stake for non-insidsrs holding the company's outstanding shares. Robert Rossignol, Senior Accountant

---

Robert Shea — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Robert Shea Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I'm retired living on Soc. Sec. and my savings. This level of reduction in the value of my savings is unacceptable and unnecessarily harsh. Smells to high heaven.

Robert Shelton — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Shelton Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No way the little man gets screwed!

Robert Vitale — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Robert Vitale Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
A company shouldn't be able to do reverse splits, diluting the shareholder more than one time in two years that is a blatant disrespect for the shareholder and could totally wipe their shares out completely which I have experienced. I had 4000 shares and (fcel) energy and if I still had those shares today currently I would've made over $40,000 and now I'm not sitting with a penny I have nothing to show for FCEL riped me off took my money and give me nothing back for it. That is a breach of fiduciary duty to the shareholders. There doesn't seem to be any oversight to protect the retail. Investor news is always released and delayed to the retail investor. I'm very discouraged and disappointed with the service of the SEC. It seems like you're only serving the purpose of the corporations is supposed to be serving the American people individual investors and that job is not being done..

Robert Wilson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Let’s not encourage possible corruption

---

Robert Yocum — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Yocum Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Robert Yocum
Film Producer

Quarterly reports are vital for retail investors. Speed of business in 2026 is too important to let companies go dark for 6 months before releasing financials.
One of the worst ideas I have ever heard quite honestly.

Sent from my iPhone.

Robin Daniel Morrison — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robin Daniel Morrison Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need transparency & accountability. This new proposed rule favors illegal practices, manipulations, insider trading & falsehoods. Leaves the taxpayer in the dark and holding the bag for failed companies. The original law was passed to safeguard us and hold power accountable.

Robin Morrison
Special Ed Teacher

Robin Sizemore — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robin Sizemore Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Continue to require companies to provide quarterly reports.

Sent from my iPhone
Robin Sizemore

Rod Dubitsky — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rod Dubitsky Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Companies already take accounting manipulation to a high art.
Allowing less frequent reporting enables accounting mischief and reduces market transparency.

Rodger Tennant — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Rodger Tennant Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Let's leave it as it is please! Don't fix what's not broken! Though let's look into congress!

Sent from my iPhone

Rodman Allen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rodman Allen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I feel this would make it very difficult for the average person to judge the economy, make retirement or any investments. It basically leaves the general public blind as to the state of finances of large companies they might want to invest in .

Rodney A S — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rodney A S Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stop the insider trading , we need quarterly reporting .

Roma Osterloo — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Roma Osterloo Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I check on my investments quarterly and make changes at times! This is my money and should have a right to change before 6 months!!

Ron Deen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ron Deen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 R Deen, retired. Most of our savings exist in managed investment accounts. This proposed extension will handicap our ability to respond to changes in the market. Keep the 3 month reporting.

Sent from my iPad

Ron Legro — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Ron Legro Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I, Ronald M. Legro, have worked in various academic, news media, state and local government, and telecommunications jobs, mostly in Wisconsin and Illinois. Now retired, I could not afford middle-class living without Social Security, personal savings, and retirement investments built up over decades. My professional experience has made it clear to me that -- with effectively less public oversight -- institutions public and private would be free to return to eras when under-regulated and de-regulated economic and financial sectors could move ever more quickly to amass more wealth and thus more market power for themselves while not really adding to the overall value of the commonwealth -- that is, at the expense of many American consumers and workers who greatly depend on careful public oversight by government and independent watchdog organizations to protect their financial flanks. Insanity has been defined as doing the same thing over and over and expecting different results. The U.S. economy already has been where these "new" proposals would once again take us. They would lead to investment policies functioning with even less social awareness and representation among vast majority of our citizens, including those not financially capable of direct involvement, yet doomed to feel the bad effects of unwise or self-serving investment practices by others.

Given that knowledge is power and insider information is even more distorting, taking fiscal temperature readings less often (i.e., less thoroughly) would expand the influence and power of relatively few traders, while creating more social uncertainty. That hardly sounds productive for the society as a whole, but rather a net cost, except of course for those few close enough to continuing perturbations who can take greater advantage of generally less available information.

This therefore is a formula for more recessions and depressions and further social breakdowns, at a very tender moment in U.S. history. Who, in this brave new world of old news, will watch the watchers?

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Ron Williams — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ron Williams Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are important to my wife and I as they are key to our retirement. Please keep them quarterly.

Ron Williams

Ronald Solomon — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ronald Solomon Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Ron and Bonnie Solomon, both retired. We rely on quarterly reports to monitor our investments to be assured that we are in properly managed investments. We would not feel comfortable seeing reports less frequently. We do have a concern about insider trading also.

Sent from my iPhone

Rosa Weith — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rosa Weith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Rosa Weith, CEO of the Weith Family- it’s important to keep the quarterly reports to keep companies accountable. NO, to 6 months report. This I believe is a testing period to see if they can get away with this. Next, they will be pushing for 9 months, then annually and then nothing. Keep the quarterly reports!

Sent from my iPhone

Rosa Cornejo — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rosa Cornejo Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We cannot allow for companies to have the opportunity to wipe out people's savings and people not being aware! We found out our retirement had gone down $150k- 3 months later , we found f out we had lost another $150K. When we called the broker , he said ," oh we can't change it if you don't call us." Had we not caught it , our life savings would have been gone in a year

Rosa Cornejo
(sent from my iPhone)

Rosalinda Walker — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Rosalinda Walker Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Transparency breeds honesty. People don't do what you expect; they do what you INSPECT. More reporting is best!

Rosemary Frain none — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Rosemary Frain I think that the longer the waiting period, the more chance of corporate insider trading, also optional would not work. I may not have worried about this before, but with this administration that caters to the wealthy, I do.

Rosemary Passantino — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rosemary Passantino Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I want my reports to be quarterly.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Ross Emerton — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Ross Emerton Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Seriously, WTF? I don't need your help to lose my investment funds. Stop! Just STOP!

Sent from my iPhone

Roxy Ruiz — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Roxy Ruiz Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Roxanne Ruiz
Blaine County Deputy Clerk Auditor Recorder
It's not right for them to be able to hide their books for over half the year, because I feel it would be a hindrance to the general public and would only harm us to allow Corporations more freedom and the ability to hide income.

Sent from my iPhone

Roy Lethen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Roy Lethen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Quarterly disclosures are important to how I make informed investing decisions. Without access to your insider information (how politicians invest) all I have to go on is real data like quarterly disclosures. Please don't take away this information and turn investing into an even more dark, speculative, gambling like environment.

Ruby Wilson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ruby Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports. They are helpful. Ruby Wilson, retired

---

Ruskin Jackson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ruskin Jackson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Transparency is the key. What we don’t need is more opaqueness. If change is what they want I think it should be put on a ballot in every state in plain English why they want this change.

Sent from my iPad

Ruth Ellen Billion — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ruth Ellen Billion Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Financial information is only as useful as it used to be accurate and timely. Let’s at leadt keep financial reporting TIMELY!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Ruth Ellen Billion — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ruth Ellen Billion Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Financial information is most useful when if’s accurate and timely. Keep it timrly for goodness sakes!

Sent from my iPhone

Ruth Fischer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ruth Fischer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 KEEP SEC REPORTING QUARTERLY PLEASE. OVERSIGHT NEEDED. THANKS FOR READING.

Ruth Fissel — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ruth Fissel Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We, the public have a right to know what the SEC is doing with dollars we generate . Why hide your Financials if you are above board?
Ruth Fissel
Retired

---

ruthmch — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ruthmch Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 How dare you provide our govt. and the snakes a door! We are struggling. GET off your bytts and say NO!

Sent from my Galaxy

---

ryan Ellison — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ryan Ellison Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 TRANSPARENCY, ACCOUNTABILITY, AND THE PUBLIC TRUST:

WHY THE SEC MUST PRESERVE QUARTERLY EARNINGS REPORTING

A Policy Analysis

June 2026

Abstract

The periodic debate over whether the Securities and Exchange Commission should abandon mandatory quarterly earnings reporting in favor of a semiannual schedule reflects a persistent misunderstanding of why transparent, frequent disclosure exists in the first place. Proponents of reduced reporting frequency argue that quarterly reporting encourages short-termism, burdens companies with compliance costs, and distracts management from long-term strategic thinking. These arguments, while superficially appealing, collapse under scrutiny when set against the historical record. This essay argues that quarterly reporting is not a bureaucratic inconvenience but a vital structural safeguard for investors, markets, and the broader public. Drawing on the catastrophic cases of Enron, WorldCom, Tyco International, HealthSouth, Bernie Madoff, and others, this analysis demonstrates that reduced reporting frequency creates precisely the information vacuums in which fraud, mismanagement, and abuse flourish. Far from being an obstacle to long-term thinking, quarterly reporting is the minimum acceptable standard of transparency in modern capital markets. Any move to weaken it would be a gift to fraudsters and a betrayal of the millions of ordinary Americans whose retirement savings depend on the integrity of publicly disclosed financial information.

I. Introduction: The Deceptively Simple Case Against Quarterly Reporting

The argument for reducing earnings reporting from quarterly to semiannual cycles has surfaced repeatedly in American financial policy discussions, perhaps most prominently in August 2018 when President Donald Trump directed the SEC to study the question after a suggestion from JPMorgan Chase CEO Jamie Dimon and Berkshire Hathaway chairman Warren Buffett. The idea carries an air of sensible reform: companies, the argument goes, are forced to manage toward a quarterly earnings beat rather than toward genuine long-term value creation. CFOs slash research and development budgets, defer capital expenditures, and make hiring decisions not because these choices serve the business but because they help meet the consensus earnings estimate for the coming quarter. Reduce the frequency of reporting, the argument concludes, and you liberate management to think in years rather than quarters.

This argument has genuine intellectual pedigree. Respected economists, prominent CEOs, and thoughtful investors have all endorsed some version of it at various points. It deserves to be taken seriously rather than dismissed. But when tested against the actual history of corporate fraud, financial crisis, and investor harm in American markets, the case for reduced reporting frequency breaks down almost entirely. The reason quarterly reporting exists is not to satisfy the short-term appetite of day traders. It exists because publicly traded companies control billions of dollars of other people's money, and the people whose money is at stake have a fundamental right to know, on a regular and timely basis, what is being done with it.

The cases examined in this essay span the full spectrum of financial misconduct: elaborate accounting fraud at major corporations like Enron and WorldCom; pervasive executive looting at Tyco and HealthSouth; and the staggering multi-decade Ponzi scheme run by Bernie Madoff. In every single case, the fraud depended on one essential ingredient: time. Time in which the discrepancy between reported reality and actual reality could grow large enough to be concealed, explained away, or obscured by complexity. Quarterly reporting compresses that window. Semiannual reporting would double it. The consequences of that doubling, as the historical record makes unmistakably clear, would be borne overwhelmingly by ordinary investors.

II. The Architecture of Quarterly Reporting: Why It Exists

Before examining the fraud cases, it is worth understanding precisely why quarterly reporting was established and what it is designed to accomplish. The modern quarterly reporting regime grew out of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, passed in the wake of the 1929 stock market crash and the revelations of widespread manipulation and misrepresentation that followed. Congress recognized that the crash had been enabled in significant part by an information environment in which insiders knew far more about a company's condition than the public investors who held its shares. The solution was systematic, periodic, mandatory disclosure.

The SEC's Form 10-Q, which governs quarterly reporting for public companies, requires companies to disclose their unaudited financial statements, management's discussion and analysis of financial condition and results of operations, quantitative and qualitative disclosures about market risk, and information about legal proceedings and significant changes in the company's situation. These reports must be filed within 40 days of the end of the first three fiscal quarters. The annual Form 10-K, which is audited, is filed within 60 to 90 days of fiscal year end, depending on company size. Together, these filings create a rhythm of disclosure that keeps investors, analysts, regulators, and creditors continuously informed about a company's condition.

The quarterly rhythm is not arbitrary. It aligns with the natural business cycle, with credit agreements and covenant tests, with management incentive plans, and with the analytical needs of equity research. More fundamentally, it limits the period during which a deteriorating or fraudulent company can continue to attract investment capital under false pretenses. When a company's fundamentals are worsening, quarterly reporting forces that deterioration into public view relatively quickly. When a company is committing fraud, quarterly reporting creates multiple obligatory checkpoints at which the fraud must either be revealed or actively perpetuated through new lies. Each additional quarter of concealment is a quarter in which regulators, auditors, journalists, or suspicious analysts have another opportunity to catch the discrepancy.

Reducing reporting to semiannual would not merely double the time between disclosures. It would reduce by half the number of data points available to investors and analysts for detecting anomalies, model inconsistencies, and departures from trend. Financial fraud does not announce itself. It is detected through pattern analysis, through the comparison of reported numbers over time, through the observation that a company's cash flows do not match its reported earnings, or that its balance sheet leverage does not match its stated debt ratios. Every elimination of a quarterly data point is an elimination of a fraud detection opportunity.

III. Enron: The Archetype of What Concealment Enables

No examination of financial disclosure policy is complete without a thorough examination of Enron Corporation, whose collapse in late 2001 remains the most consequential corporate fraud in American history and a defining case study in what happens when complex financial engineering is allowed to operate in the shadows of investor oversight.

Enron was, at its peak, the seventh-largest company in the United States by revenue, a Houston-based energy trading and infrastructure firm that had reinvented itself in the 1990s from a conventional natural gas pipeline company into what it described as the world's leading energy trading company. Its stock price rose from around $20 in the early 1990s to a peak of approximately $90 in August 2000. Fortune magazine named it America's Most Innovative Company six consecutive years running. Its CEO, Jeffrey Skilling, was celebrated as a visionary. Its chairman, Ken Lay, was among the most politically connected businessmen in the country.

Behind this facade, Enron was engaged in systematic and sophisticated accounting fraud on a massive scale. The company's chief financial officer, Andrew Fastow, had constructed a network of special purpose entities, off-balance-sheet partnerships with names like LJM Cayman and Raptor, designed to hide billions of dollars of debt from Enron's consolidated balance sheet while generating fictitious profits through circular transactions with those same entities. Enron would sell an underperforming asset to one of Fastow's partnerships, book a gain on the transaction, and simultaneously guarantee that the partnership would not lose money on the deal, an arrangement that made the transaction economically meaningless while creating a fraudulent paper profit.

The question this essay must confront directly is: what role did quarterly reporting play in the eventual detection of this fraud, and how much worse would the outcome have been under semiannual reporting? The answer on both counts is significant.

Enron filed quarterly 10-Q reports throughout its fraudulent period. These reports, while themselves containing false and misleading information, nonetheless created a paper trail of disclosures that analysts and investigators could scrutinize. The first serious public cracks in Enron's edifice appeared when financial analysts, examining the quarterly filings over time, began to note troubling patterns: cash flows that persistently lagged reported earnings, a balance sheet whose complexity seemed to grow rather than resolve, return on assets that appeared unusually high given the company's reported debt levels. Short seller Jim Chanos began building a short position in Enron's stock in November 2000 based in part on analysis of its quarterly filings. Bethany McLean of Fortune magazine published her landmark article questioning Enron's valuation in March 2001, explicitly drawing on patterns visible in the company's SEC filings.

Under a semiannual reporting regime, Enron's management would have had six-month windows rather than three-month windows in which to manage the relationship between its fraudulent books and its public disclosures. The special purpose entity transactions that created fictitious profits would have needed to be manufactured only twice a year rather than four times. The pressure on auditors at Arthur Andersen to sign off on questionable quarterly numbers would have been halved. The number of data points available to analysts like Chanos for detecting the anomalies between cash flows and reported earnings would have been reduced by half. It is not speculative to suggest that Enron's fraud would have lasted longer and grown larger under semiannual reporting. It is the near-certain implication of the arithmetic of concealment.

The human cost of Enron's collapse was enormous even under the existing quarterly disclosure regime. Approximately 20,000 Enron employees lost their jobs. Many lost substantial portions of their retirement savings, which had been heavily concentrated in Enron stock through the company's 401(k) plan. Enron's collapse wiped out approximately $74 billion in shareholder value. The company's pension funds, which held $1.2 billion in Enron stock at the end of 2000, were essentially worthless by the end of 2001. Under a scenario in which reduced reporting frequency had allowed the fraud to continue for another year or two, these losses would have been proportionally larger, as additional employees would have continued contributing retirement savings to Enron stock while additional investors poured capital into what appeared to be a thriving enterprise.

IV. WorldCom: Fraud at Scale and the Quarterly Checkpoint

If Enron represented the complexity of financial fraud, WorldCom represented its simplicity. WorldCom, the telecommunications giant headquartered in Clinton, Mississippi, perpetrated what was at the time the largest accounting fraud in American history: the overstatement of its assets by approximately $11 billion through the simple expedient of capitalizing operating expenses as capital expenditures. This is among the most elementary forms of accounting manipulation, but its very simplicity made it effective, and it was enabled by the same basic mechanism that enables all financial fraud: the gap between what management knows and what the public is permitted to see.

WorldCom's fraud was orchestrated primarily by CFO Scott Sullivan and executed with the knowledge and direction of CEO Bernie Ebbers. The mechanics were straightforward. WorldCom paid enormous fees to other telephone companies for the right to use their networks, expenses known in the industry as line costs. As WorldCom's core business deteriorated in the wake of the dot-com bust and the saturation of the long-distance market, these line costs became increasingly burdensome relative to declining revenues. Rather than disclose the deterioration of the business, Sullivan directed accounting staff to move hundreds of millions of dollars per quarter in line cost expenses off the income statement and onto the balance sheet as capital assets, fraudulently transforming what were properly expenses into what appeared to be investments. This had the effect of artificially inflating reported profits while masking the genuine deterioration of the business.

The WorldCom fraud was ultimately uncovered by the company's internal audit team, led by Cynthia Cooper, working in coordination with the SEC. Cooper's team identified approximately $3.8 billion in fraudulent entries by June 2002, and the company filed for bankruptcy protection on July 21, 2002, in what was at the time the largest bankruptcy in American history. The quarterly cadence of SEC filings played a meaningful role in this discovery: the pattern of entries that Cooper's team identified was visible precisely because those entries had been made on a quarterly basis, creating a series of similar journal entries across multiple reporting periods that could be identified as anomalous.

Consider the counterfactual under semiannual reporting. WorldCom's fraud involved moving expenses to the balance sheet on a roughly equal quarterly basis. Under six-month reporting, each fraudulent entry would have been twice as large, representing six months of inflated capitalization rather than three. The forensic signature of the fraud, the pattern of consistent, repeated entries, would have been cut in half, making pattern analysis more difficult. More significantly, the analysts and short sellers who had grown suspicious of WorldCom's financial performance on the basis of its quarterly filings would have had fewer data points on which to base their suspicions. The company's stock might have maintained its fraudulent valuation for longer, drawing in additional investment capital from ordinary investors and pension funds that relied on the accuracy of the company's public disclosures.

WorldCom's bankruptcy ultimately affected approximately 17,000 employees who lost their jobs, wiped out billions in pension and retirement savings, and cost MCI (the successor entity) and its creditors enormous sums in the reorganization process. Bond investors who had purchased WorldCom debt based on the company's fraudulently inflated financial statements lost approximately $180 billion in market value. As with Enron, the extension of the fraud that would likely have resulted from semiannual reporting would have magnified these losses proportionally.

V. Tyco International: Executive Looting and the Disclosure Gap

The Tyco International scandal, which came to public attention in 2002, represents a somewhat different category of financial misconduct from Enron and WorldCom but is equally instructive for the question of reporting frequency. At Tyco, the fraud was not primarily an elaborate accounting scheme designed to deceive investors about the nature of the business. It was, at its core, simple theft: the systematic looting of a major public corporation by its top executives for personal enrichment.

Dennis Kozlowski, Tyco's CEO, and Mark Swartz, its CFO, were convicted in 2005 of stealing approximately $400 million from Tyco through unauthorized bonuses, fraudulent expense accounts, and self-serving real estate transactions. Kozlowski's personal extravagances at company expense became notorious during the trial: a $6,000 shower curtain, a $15,000 dog umbrella stand, and most infamously, a $2.1 million birthday party for his wife on the island of Sardinia, half of which was billed to Tyco. These were not merely embarrassments; they were symptoms of a systemic culture in which the company was treated as a personal piggy bank by its senior executives.

The mechanism by which Kozlowski and Swartz extracted funds from Tyco involved, among other things, a corporate loan forgiveness program through which tens of millions of dollars in loans to executives were forgiven without board approval and without disclosure to shareholders, relocation programs that paid for personal expenses under the guise of corporate relocation costs, and bonus arrangements that were not properly authorized or disclosed. Critically, many of these transactions were buried in the complexity of Tyco's quarterly and annual filings in ways that obscured their true character.

The relevance to reporting frequency is this: the transactions through which Kozlowski and Swartz stole from Tyco were not one-time events. They were ongoing, recurring extractions that took place across multiple quarters and multiple years. The paper trail that investigators and prosecutors used to build their case against the executives was precisely the quarterly filing trail: the patterns of related-party transactions, the inconsistencies between disclosed compensation and actual payments, and the departures from disclosed policies that became visible when quarterly filings were examined in sequence over time. A reduction in the number of reporting periods would have proportionally reduced the forensic record available to investigators and the analytical information available to investors trying to evaluate the integrity of Tyco's management.

Moreover, the Tyco case illustrates an often-underappreciated dimension of the disclosure debate: quarterly reporting disciplines not only the financial statements themselves but management's ongoing obligation to describe, explain, and contextualize the company's financial condition. Every 10-Q includes not only financial statements but management's discussion and analysis, a section in which executives are required to describe material changes in financial condition, liquidity, and results. This narrative obligation creates additional checkpoints at which departures from reality become harder to maintain. The more frequently management must describe what it has done with investors' money, the more opportunities exist for someone, whether an analyst, a journalist, a whistleblower, or a regulator, to notice that the description does not match the observable facts.

VI. HealthSouth: The Serial Fraud That Required Constant Maintenance

HealthSouth Corporation, the Birmingham, Alabama-based rehabilitation hospital and outpatient surgery chain, provides perhaps the most striking illustration of how quarterly reporting creates a fraud-detection rhythm that is essential to investor protection. HealthSouth's accounting fraud, orchestrated by founder and CEO Richard Scrushy, involved the systematic overstatement of earnings in nearly every quarter from 1996 through 2002, a period spanning approximately 25 consecutive quarterly filings. The scale of the fraud ultimately totaled approximately $2.7 billion in overstated earnings.

The mechanics of HealthSouth's fraud were relatively straightforward but required continuous, active maintenance. HealthSouth's actual earnings consistently fell short of Wall Street's consensus expectations. Rather than disclose the shortfall, Scrushy directed his finance team, a group that became known internally as the "family," to manufacture the necessary journal entries to bring reported earnings in line with analyst expectations. This was not a one-time fraud but a rolling operation that was repeated every quarter: the finance team would calculate the gap between actual earnings and the consensus estimate and fabricate the accounting entries needed to close it.

What makes HealthSouth so directly relevant to the reporting frequency debate is that this fraud was explicitly and mechanically quarterly in its cadence. It was performed on a quarterly basis, documented in quarterly filings, and maintained through the discipline of meeting quarterly earnings targets. The fraud was ultimately uncovered when a key participant, CFO William Owens, agreed to cooperate with the FBI in 2003 and provided investigators with detailed records of the quarterly fraud meetings at which the fabricated entries were determined and assigned.

Under a semiannual reporting regime, the fraud at HealthSouth would have required fabrication only twice a year rather than four times. The number of participants who needed to be involved in any given fraudulent reporting cycle could potentially have been reduced, limiting the pool of potential cooperating witnesses. The forensic trail would have been half as long and half as detailed. The probability that any single participant would have reached the breaking point of conscience or legal exposure at which cooperation with investigators became preferable to continued participation would have been reduced. It is plausible, even likely, that under semiannual reporting, HealthSouth's fraud would have continued longer and grown larger before detection.

More broadly, HealthSouth illustrates the important principle that large-scale accounting fraud is not typically a single event but a process, one that must be actively and repeatedly perpetuated. Each additional reporting period is an additional opportunity for the fraud to unravel: a participant who grows nervous, an auditor who pushes back, a regulator who flags an anomaly, or an analyst who notices that the company's cash flows are inconsistently related to its earnings. Quarterly reporting maximizes the number of these opportunities. Semiannual reporting halves them.

VII. Bernie Madoff and the Ponzi Scheme: The Long Shadow of Infrequent Scrutiny

The case of Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC occupies a unique place in the history of financial fraud. Madoff did not run a public company subject to SEC reporting requirements. His investment advisory business operated as a registered investment adviser managing accounts for thousands of clients, including wealthy individuals, charitable foundations, feeder funds, and institutional investors. His Ponzi scheme, which ultimately totaled approximately $65 billion in claimed assets (with actual investor losses of approximately $17 billion), was the largest investment fraud in history.

Madoff's inclusion in a discussion of quarterly earnings reporting may seem incongruous at first. He was not a public company; he did not file 10-Q reports. But the Madoff case is profoundly relevant to the reporting frequency debate for two reasons. First, it illustrates with devastating clarity what happens when the periodic, mandatory, externally verifiable disclosure of financial information is absent or inadequate. Second, and more specifically to the SEC reporting question, the Madoff case demonstrates that the period of a fraud's concealment is directly and predictably related to the frequency and quality of external scrutiny applied to financial representations.

Madoff ran his Ponzi scheme for approximately two decades, possibly longer. He attracted capital by reporting consistently positive returns, typically in the range of 10 to 12 percent annually, regardless of market conditions. His strategy, supposedly an options-based split-strike conversion approach, was described in account statements that were sent to clients but never subjected to meaningful external verification. The SEC received multiple credible tips about Madoff's operation, most notably from financial analyst Harry Markopolos, who submitted a detailed report to the agency in 2000 and followed up with additional submissions in 2005 and 2008. Markopolos demonstrated mathematically that Madoff's claimed returns were statistically impossible given the options market volumes that his stated strategy would have required.

The SEC's failure to act on Markopolos's warnings is among the most *ing regulatory failures in American history. But the Madoff case also illustrates a principle that directly applies to the reporting frequency debate: the fraud survived in part because the scrutiny applied to it was periodic, infrequent, and superficial rather than continuous and rigorous. Madoff's clients received account statements monthly, but these statements reflected only Madoff's own representations about trading activity that was never actually occurring. There was no quarterly independent verification of his positions, no external audit of his trading records, and no mechanism by which the gap between his reported results and his actual activities could be regularly surfaced.

When the SEC did conduct examinations of Madoff's operation, in 1992, 2004, and 2005, the examinations were limited in scope and easily deflected by Madoff's confident misrepresentations. Had the SEC applied something analogous to the quarterly disclosure regime, requiring Madoff to produce independently verified, externally auditable records of his trading activity on a quarterly basis, the fraud would almost certainly have been detected decades earlier. The analogy is direct: a public company required to file quarterly with the SEC and submit to quarterly review by credible analysts, auditors, and regulators operates in a vastly more transparent environment than one that provides financial information only twice a year. Madoff's success depended on the absence of frequent, external, independently verifiable disclosure. The lesson for public company reporting is unambiguous.

The human dimensions of the Madoff fraud were catastrophic. Hundreds of charities and foundations that had entrusted their assets to Madoff were wiped out, including Elie Wiesel's Foundation for Humanity, which lost $15.2 million. Thousands of individual investors lost their retirement savings. The Fairfield Greenwich Group, one of the largest feeder funds into Madoff, had approximately $7.5 billion invested with him and suffered devastating losses. Feeder funds in Europe, including Banco Santander's Optimal Investment Services and HSBC Holdings, suffered billions in losses. Had a more robust regime of periodic independent verification been applied to Madoff's operation, many of these losses would have been averted.

VIII. The Short-Termism Argument Examined and Rejected

Having established the historical case for the fraud-detection value of quarterly reporting, it is necessary to engage seriously with the primary argument advanced by proponents of reduced reporting frequency: the claim that quarterly reporting encourages destructive short-termism in corporate management. This argument deserves genuine engagement rather than dismissal, because it reflects a real phenomenon. There is credible evidence that some managers do make decisions that sacrifice long-term value in exchange for short-term earnings beats, and this is a legitimate problem for corporate governance.

The question, however, is whether the solution to short-termism is the reduction of reporting frequency, and here the evidence is considerably less compelling. Several points merit careful consideration.

First, the short-termism problem is primarily a problem of incentive structures, not a problem of information frequency. Managers who cut R&D budgets to meet quarterly earnings estimates do so because their compensation packages create financial incentives to do so, because institutional investors have historically rewarded earnings beats with stock price appreciation, and because the career risk of missing an estimate is disproportionately larger than the benefit of beating it. None of these incentive structures would be altered by reporting financial results twice a year rather than four times. A manager whose annual bonus depends on hitting an earnings target will hit that target whether it is evaluated quarterly or semiannually; the time horizon of the manipulation simply extends.

Second, there is no compelling empirical evidence that companies in jurisdictions with less frequent mandatory reporting demonstrate superior long-term investment behavior. Many European companies operate under semiannual or annual reporting regimes, and there is no systematic evidence that their R&D investment, capital expenditure patterns, or long-term value creation are superior to comparable American companies subject to quarterly reporting. If less frequent reporting genuinely liberated management for long-term thinking, this effect should be visible in the comparative data. It largely is not.
Third, the premise that quarterly reporting drives short-termism is itself contested. Many of the most notable examples of destructive short-term thinking in American corporate history, including the financial engineering at General Electric under Jack Welch and the aggressive expansion strategies at Sears and Kmart, involved management teams that were thoroughly informed about and engaged with their quarterly results. The problem was not that they were providing too much information to investors; the problem was that their incentive structures rewarded the manipulation of those results.
Fourth, and most fundamentally, the cure proposed by the short-termism argument would harm investors far more than the disease it purports to treat. Suppose it is conceded that some managers cut R&D spending to meet quarterly earnings estimates. This is undoubtedly a real cost. Now weigh that cost against the cost of Enron's investors being deprived of two additional quarters of data that might have revealed the fraud earlier, or WorldCom's bondholders continuing to purchase debt for an additional six months while the company's actual financial condition deteriorated invisibly. The asymmetry of these outcomes is stark. The costs of short-termism are diffuse, gradual, and often reversible. The costs of fraud concealment are concentrated, sudden, and for the individuals affected, frequently catastrophic and permanent.

IX. The Investor Perspective: Who Bears the Cost of Reduced Transparency

Any serious analysis of the reporting frequency question must consider not only the abstract policy arguments but the concrete distribution of costs and benefits across different categories of market participants. This distributional question reveals that the case for reduced reporting frequency is, in significant measure, a case advanced by and for the benefit of corporate insiders and institutional investors at the expense of retail investors and the public at large.
Institutional investors, including large hedge funds, mutual fund complexes, and sovereign wealth funds, have resources to obtain information about public companies through channels beyond quarterly SEC filings. They conduct their own due diligence, commission independent research, maintain relationships with management teams, and in some cases receive non-public information in carefully managed settings. For these investors, the elimination of two quarterly filings per year is a modest inconvenience at most. They will continue to have access to information, through other means, that ordinary investors lack.
Retail investors, by contrast, are almost entirely dependent on publicly disclosed financial information. The grandmother whose retirement savings are invested in a mutual fund, the teacher whose pension fund holds equity and debt in public companies, the young worker whose 401(k) is invested across a range of stocks: these investors have no independent means of investigating the companies whose securities they hold. Their protection depends entirely on the accuracy, completeness, and timeliness of the information that companies are required to disclose. Reducing the frequency of that disclosure reduces their protection proportionally, while doing nothing to reduce the information asymmetry between them and the better-resourced institutional investors who would continue to gather information through private channels.
This distributional reality has a direct implication for the fraud cases examined in this essay. The investors who suffered the most severe and irreversible losses in the Enron, WorldCom, and Tyco collapses were overwhelmingly ordinary Americans: employees whose retirement savings were concentrated in company stock, pension funds that had purchased securities based on publicly disclosed financial information, and retail investors who had relied on analyst reports built from SEC filings. The sophisticated institutional investors who had grown suspicious of these companies had often reduced their exposure before the collapses occurred. Ironically, in some cases, it was precisely the analysis of quarterly filings that enabled sophisticated investors to identify problems and exit before the retail investors who lacked the analytical resources to do so.

A regime of semiannual reporting would entrench and deepen this asymmetry. Corporate insiders, who always know more than outside investors about the state of their businesses, would benefit from longer periods in which their private knowledge need not be reconciled with public disclosure. Sophisticated institutions with investigative resources would continue to gather information through private means. Ordinary investors would have less information, less frequently, and would be proportionally more vulnerable to the kind of sustained fraud that quarterly reporting helps to prevent and detect.

X. The Compliance Cost Argument: Real but Overstated

A secondary argument for reducing reporting frequency focuses on the compliance burden that quarterly reporting imposes on public companies, particularly smaller firms. The argument runs that the cost of preparing, reviewing, and filing quarterly reports, including the fees paid to external auditors for quarterly reviews, the internal staff time devoted to close processes and filing preparation, and the management attention consumed by investor relations activities associated with earnings releases, represents a meaningful tax on public company operations that discourages some companies from accessing public capital markets at all.

This argument has some empirical support. Studies of the costs associated with Sarbanes-Oxley compliance, which significantly expanded the scope and rigor of required SEC disclosures in the wake of Enron and WorldCom, have documented meaningful compliance costs, particularly for smaller public companies. There is also evidence that the number of publicly traded companies in the United States has declined significantly over the past two decades, from approximately 8,000 in the late 1990s to fewer than 4,000 today, and some researchers have attributed part of this decline to the increasing regulatory burden on public companies.

These compliance costs are real and deserve acknowledgment. They should be addressed through targeted reforms designed to reduce unnecessary burdens while preserving the core transparency obligations that protect investors. The SEC has already implemented various accommodations for smaller reporting companies and emerging growth companies under the JOBS Act of 2012, including scaled disclosure requirements and reduced audit obligations. These targeted accommodations represent the appropriate policy response to compliance burden concerns.

What compliance cost arguments do not justify is a across-the-board reduction in reporting frequency for all public companies. The compliance cost of quarterly reporting is, for the vast majority of large public companies, a small fraction of total operating costs and a trivially small fraction of the capital that those companies access on the basis of their public disclosures. Enron, WorldCom, and Tyco were each spending hundreds of millions of dollars annually on executive compensation, corporate aircraft, and various forms of management enrichment. The suggestion that these companies needed relief from quarterly reporting compliance costs is absurd on its face. For smaller companies with genuine compliance burdens, targeted relief measures are available and appropriate. A wholesale shift to semiannual reporting is not.

XI. International Comparisons: A Cautionary Tale

Proponents of semiannual reporting sometimes point to international examples, particularly in Europe and Asia, where companies are not required to file quarterly reports, as evidence that less frequent reporting is compatible with functioning capital markets. This argument requires more careful examination than it typically receives.

It is true that companies listed on the London Stock Exchange, the Deutsche Boerse, and many Asian exchanges are not subject to mandatory quarterly reporting requirements. It is also true that these markets function. But several observations complicate the inference that the American SEC should follow this model.

First, the comparison abstracts from significant differences in the broader disclosure regimes of different jurisdictions. Many European companies that do not file formal quarterly reports nonetheless issue quarterly trading updates, preliminary results announcements, and management statements that provide investors with broadly comparable information on a roughly quarterly basis. The formal requirement may differ without the informational environment differing as substantially.

Second, and more fundamentally, the absence of quarterly reporting in some international markets has not immunized those markets from large-scale fraud and financial misconduct. Wirecard AG, the German payment processing company that collapsed in 2020 following the revelation that approximately 1.9 billion euros of its reported cash balances did not exist, operated under German reporting requirements rather than SEC quarterly reporting standards. The fraud at Wirecard was enabled in part by inadequate and delayed financial disclosure, insufficient auditor skepticism, and a regulatory environment that was, by the assessment of subsequent investigations, inadequate to the task of detecting sophisticated financial misrepresentation. The Wirecard case is, in its own way, as instructive as Enron: it demonstrates that reducing the frequency and rigor of mandatory disclosure creates the conditions in which large-scale fraud can flourish.

Third, the appropriate comparison for American regulatory policy is not simply whether other markets function under less frequent reporting, but whether American capital markets, with their distinctive characteristics of depth, liquidity, retail investor participation, and global importance, would function as well under a reduced disclosure regime. The American equity markets are larger and more liquid than any comparable foreign market in part because investors trust the quality of the information environment. That trust has been built over decades of rigorous disclosure requirements. It would be dismantled far more quickly than it could be rebuilt if a major fraud were to occur under a relaxed disclosure regime and be attributed, correctly, to the regulatory change.

XII. The Role of Auditors and the Quarterly Review

One aspect of the quarterly reporting regime that receives insufficient attention in policy debates is the role of the quarterly review conducted by external auditors. Under PCAOB (Public Company Accounting Oversight Board) standards, public company auditors are required to conduct a review of the financial statements included in quarterly 10-Q filings. This review is less rigorous than a full audit, but it is not trivial: it involves analytical procedures, inquiries of management and financial staff, and review of significant accounting judgments and estimates.

The quarterly auditor review is a meaningful check on the accuracy of financial reporting that would disappear for two reporting periods per year under a semiannual regime. In the Enron case, Arthur Andersen's quarterly reviews of Enron's financial statements, whatever their ultimate failures, did create opportunities for auditors to observe and potentially challenge the complex transactions through which the fraud was perpetuated. In the HealthSouth case, the recurring nature of the fraudulent journal entries was precisely the kind of pattern that quarterly auditor reviews are designed to identify. When those entries were consistently of a similar character, consistently arriving near quarter-end, and consistently just large enough to close the gap between actual and target earnings, an alert auditor reviewing four quarters of such entries had more information with which to identify the pattern than one reviewing only two.

It is worth noting that the audit failures in the major fraud cases of the early 2000s, including Andersen's failures at Enron and WorldCom, were among the drivers of the Sarbanes-Oxley reforms, which strengthened auditor independence requirements, created the PCAOB, and significantly increased the rigor of audit standards. The lesson drawn from those failures by Congress and the SEC was not that auditors should look at financial statements less frequently but that they should look at them more carefully. Reducing reporting frequency would contradict this lesson directly.

XIII. Technology, Real-Time Disclosure, and the Direction of Reform

If the trajectory of securities regulation has been consistently toward more frequent, more comprehensive, and more timely disclosure rather than less, it is in significant part because the technology available to process and analyze financial information has advanced in the same direction. The original quarterly reporting requirements were established in an era when financial analysis was done by hand, financial statements were printed on paper, and the dissemination of information to dispersed investors was slow and expensive. The argument that quarterly reporting was sufficient for its era was not the argument that it was optimal; it was the argument that it was the most frequent disclosure that was practically achievable.

Today, the technology for financial disclosure, analysis, and distribution has advanced enormously. Companies file XBRL-tagged financial statements that can be automatically parsed and analyzed. Financial data providers make quarterly results available to investors within seconds of filing. Machine learning models can analyze patterns across thousands of quarterly filings simultaneously, identifying anomalies that would have required human analysts weeks to detect a generation ago. The direction that technology points for securities disclosure is toward more frequent, more granular, and more rapidly analyzed information, not less.

Some technologists and policy innovators have suggested that the appropriate long-term direction for public company disclosure is continuous reporting, in which material changes in financial condition are disclosed as they occur rather than batched into periodic reports. This vision may be premature in its full form, but it illustrates the correct direction of travel. The case for semiannual reporting asks regulators to move in precisely the wrong direction: to reduce information frequency at precisely the moment when the technology for providing and processing more frequent information is most available.

XIV. Lessons from the 2008 Financial Crisis

No discussion of financial disclosure and investor protection would be complete without at least a reference to the 2008 financial crisis, the most severe financial disruption since the Great Depression. The crisis exposed a range of failures in the financial system, including failures of risk management, regulatory oversight, credit rating agency methodology, and investor due diligence. Among its many lessons, several bear directly on the reporting frequency question.

The financial institutions whose failures precipitated the crisis, including Bear Stearns, Lehman Brothers, Washington Mutual, and others, were all subject to quarterly SEC reporting requirements. Their quarterly filings in the period leading up to the crisis disclosed, with varying degrees of clarity, the mortgage-backed securities exposures and leverage levels that would ultimately destroy them. Sophisticated investors who analyzed these filings carefully had significant warning of the risks building in the system. Many institutional investors reduced their exposure to financial sector equity and debt based on exactly this analysis.

The failure was not that too much information was provided too frequently. The failure was that the information provided was not interpreted correctly, that risk models were inadequate to the task of evaluating complex structured products, and that the incentive structures throughout the financial system encouraged risk-taking at the expense of prudence. None of these failures would have been ameliorated by less frequent reporting. Many of them might have been somewhat more visible under more frequent reporting, as the growth in mortgage exposure and leverage in the quarters immediately before the crisis was rapid and dramatic.

Moreover, the crisis response itself demonstrated the value of frequent disclosure. Regulators conducting stress tests of major financial institutions in 2009 relied heavily on quarterly financial data to assess the institutions' capital positions and estimate losses under adverse scenarios. The granularity of the quarterly data available to regulators was essential to their ability to design credible stress tests and credibly communicate results to the market. Semiannual data would have been less current, less granular, and less useful for this purpose.

XV. The Aggregate Impact: Small Investors and the Retirement Crisis

The stakes of the reporting frequency debate are not abstract. They are concretely connected to the financial security of tens of millions of Americans whose retirement savings are invested in public equity and debt markets. The shift over the past four decades from defined benefit pension plans, in which employers bear the investment risk, to defined contribution plans like 401(k)s, in which employees bear the investment risk, has transferred an enormous amount of financial risk to ordinary workers who are not professional investors and whose financial security depends heavily on the integrity of the information environment in which their savings are deployed.

In 2023, the Federal Reserve estimated that Americans held approximately $35 trillion in retirement assets, including defined contribution plans, IRAs, and defined benefit pensions. A substantial fraction of these assets are invested, directly or indirectly, in publicly traded securities. The financial security of the middle class is, in a very real sense, co-extensive with the integrity of public company financial disclosure.

When Enron collapsed, the employees who suffered most were not the senior executives who had sold stock at the peak or the hedge funds that had shorted the company before its fall. They were the lower and middle-level employees whose 401(k) accounts were locked into Enron stock by the terms of the company's matching contribution program. When WorldCom collapsed, the bondholders who lost most were pension funds that had purchased WorldCom's investment-grade debt based on the company's fraudulently inflated financial statements. The beneficiaries of those pension funds were teachers, firefighters, police officers, and other public employees who had no means of independently verifying the accuracy of WorldCom's quarterly filings and were entirely dependent on the regulatory system to do so on their behalf.

The argument for semiannual reporting, when stripped of its rhetorical packaging, amounts to an argument that these investors should receive less frequent information about the companies whose securities hold their retirement savings. There is no serious argument that this change would serve their interests. The only interests that are unambiguously served by reduced reporting frequency are the interests of corporate insiders who prefer to operate with less external scrutiny and the interests of those who seek to conceal the deterioration or fraudulent manipulation of public companies from the investors who own them.

XVI. Conclusion: Transparency Is Not the Problem

The case for preserving mandatory quarterly earnings reporting is, in the final analysis, the case for transparency in capital markets and the protection of ordinary investors against the asymmetric information advantages of corporate insiders. The historical record reviewed in this essay, from Enron's special purpose entity fraud to WorldCom's capitalization of operating expenses, from Tyco's executive looting to HealthSouth's quarterly earnings fabrication, from Bernie Madoff's decades-long Ponzi scheme to the mortgage exposure concealment that preceded the 2008 financial crisis, points consistently and overwhelmingly toward a single conclusion: the most reliable environmental condition for large-scale financial fraud is a gap between what insiders know and what the public is permitted to see, and any increase in the length of that gap is an increase in the probability and severity of investor harm.

Quarterly reporting does not prevent all fraud. Enron filed quarterly reports and still defrauded its investors. WorldCom filed quarterly reports and still inflated its assets. The existence of mandatory quarterly disclosure does not guarantee the accuracy of that disclosure. What it does is limit the period during which a fraudulent or deteriorating company can continue to attract investment capital under false pretenses, create more frequent opportunities for analysts, auditors, regulators, and whistleblowers to detect discrepancies between disclosed and actual financial condition, impose a regular discipline of external accountability that inhibits the gradual normalization of fraudulent practices within corporate management, and provide the granular time-series data that investigators, prosecutors, and market participants need to understand what went wrong and hold responsible parties accountable.

The short-termism concerns that animate much of the case for semiannual reporting are legitimate in their identification of a real corporate governance problem but wrong in their proposed solution. Short-termism is a product of misaligned incentive structures, not excessive disclosure frequency. Addressing it requires reforms to executive compensation design, institutional investor governance, and the culture of earnings guidance, not the deprivation of ordinary investors of timely information about the companies whose securities they hold.

The burden of proof in any argument for regulatory change should rest on the party proposing to weaken investor protections. That burden has not been met and cannot be met, because the historical record argues so powerfully against it. Every company that has committed large-scale financial fraud in the modern era has benefited from the information asymmetry that periodic reporting is designed to reduce. Every reform that has reduced that asymmetry, from the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 to the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, has moved in the right direction. A shift to semiannual reporting would move in the wrong one.

The SEC was created to protect investors, maintain fair, orderly, and efficient markets, and facilitate capital formation. These three missions are not in conflict; they are complementary. Markets are most efficient when they operate in a transparent information environment. Capital formation is most productive when investors can trust the accuracy of the financial information on which their investment decisions are based. Investor protection is most effective when the information asymmetry between corporate insiders and the investing public is minimized. Quarterly reporting serves all three of these missions. Semiannual reporting would undermine all three.

Bernie Madoff operated his fraud for approximately twenty years because the scrutiny applied to his claimed results was infrequent, superficial, and inadequate. Enron perpetuated its fraud for years because the complexity of its transactions made each quarterly filing obscure while creating the appearance of transparency. WorldCom's simple but sustained fraud survived for years because the scale of each quarter's falsification was modest enough to escape detection in any single reporting period. HealthSouth's management met quarterly to decide how much to fabricate, because the quarterly cadence of disclosure was the cadence of accountability to which they were subject.

In each of these cases, more frequent and more rigorous disclosure would have helped. Less frequent disclosure would have hurt. The policy implication is clear, and the SEC should draw it without equivocation: quarterly reporting is not the problem. It is part of the solution. It should be preserved, strengthened, and where the technology permits, eventually replaced by something more frequent still. The direction of reform in securities disclosure should always be toward more light, not less.

Note on Sources

This essay draws on the public records of SEC enforcement actions, federal criminal prosecutions, congressional testimony, and contemporaneous reporting. Key sources include the SEC's final judgment and litigation releases in the Enron, WorldCom, Tyco, and HealthSouth matters; the report of the Special Investigative Committee of Enron's Board of Directors (the Powers Report, 2002); the U.S. Senate Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations' report on Enron (2002); the SEC's Office of Investigations report on the Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities matter (2009); Harry Markopolos's congressional testimony (2009); Bethany McLean and Peter Elkind's "The Smartest Guys in the Room" (2003); and the academic literature on the relationship between disclosure frequency and fraud detection, including work published in the Journal of Accounting Research, the Accounting Review, and the Journal of Finance. Statistical figures referenced in the text represent estimates from these sources and from contemporaneous financial press reporting; precise figures may vary across sources.

— Transparency, Accountability, and the Public Trust —

Sent from my iPhone

Ryan Hall — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Do not amend corporate earnings call requirements From: Ryan Hall Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Ryan and I am a high school teacher in San Diego. I do not think that Wall Street inherently has the common man in its best interest. There is too much at risk for the lower and middle class who are counting on their 401(k)s and investments to keep them solvent in retirement. Please do not allow for Wall Street executives to hide corporate mismanagement from their investors. Do not allow a change to quarterly earnings calls.

Ryan Manderfeld — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ryan Manderfeld Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The SEC needs to remember they function as a check on this kind of unethical financial treason. They should not bow before bloated corporate power and help them evade scrutiny and honest accounting. SEC, you work for the citizens of this country and not the corporate machine. Even if they fatten your personal wallets with illegal bribes. They're laughing at you SEC and portraying you as fools. Which if you allow this, you are. Please do what's right. Ryan Manderfeld-disabled citizen who this matters to, as it should for every American.

S Cote-Durham — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: S Cote-Durham Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Transparency, transparency, transparency.

S. Dana Seccombe — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: S. Dana Seccombe Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 These days, corporate greed is visible every day. And that’s just what we know.

Cutting back reporting on corporate facts is going the wrong direction and is leading the US into a situation where absolutely nobody trust anything. Further opacity will increase trade friction and decrease GNP as well as personal wealth.

Please maintain current reporting frequency.

Get Outlook for iOS

S.S. — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Quarterly reports From: S.S. Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 25 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges. We need transparency for investors use.

---

sallie Hicks — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: sallie Hicks Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the unethical folks being looked at quarterly

---

Sally — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sally Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep companies financial information open and honest.

Sent from my iPhone

Sally Jacobsen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sally Jacobsen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I'm too old to start over! We are counting on our savings, investments, and social security that We PAID INTO to get us through to our ends. This proposed change puts everything at risk. Please don't do it!

Sent from my iPhone

Sally Killough — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sally Killough Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Sally Killough, I am retired and on a limited income. This move to change reporting is dangerous and irresponsible. We are already in grave danger of losing social security and this move could allow companies to run unchecked with our life savings. This must not happen. It is obvious at this point in time that the basic population is absolutely less than dirt to those in power. Do your job and protect the population from the corruption that is rampant. Be the heroes!

Sally Nygren — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sally Nygren Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I would like to continue with quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Sam Porgess — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sam Porgess Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Good morning. I'm a retail investor. The only real insight I have that enables me to make investment decisions comes from their quarterly reports, earnings announcements, and subsequent discussions. The rest of the "information" out there is simply biased propaganda put out by the company or its competitors. Eliminating these quarterly reports means I will be flying blind through my retirement years. I'm sure I'm one of many. Please consider my comments. Thank you.

Samuel Giordano — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Samuel Giordano Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To whom it may concern,
This idea is an absolute disaster waiting to happen, which will yield consumers being robbed again. Having grown up during the 2008 financial crisis and seen how similar errors cost people like my parents lost significant portions of their life savings, I am confident that this is a bad idea. If regulations are loosened, hedge funds and insiders will make off like bandits with hard working people's money again. The SEC needs to do it's job and leave guardrails in place to prevent Americans from being ripped off. SpaceX and other similar companies can wait for their IPOs with a proper valuation just like every other major company has.
Respectfully,
Sam G.

Sande Ali — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sande Ali Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dear SEC,

I am writing to express my serious concerns regarding current market conditions and the level of oversight on Wall Street. As a retiree, I am deeply troubled by the ongoing corruption and market manipulation that threaten the financial security of small retail investors.

I believe it is essential that 401(k) plans be scrutinized and modified on a monthly basis. Without this level of frequent oversight, many retail investors risk being cheated and may not realize the extent of their losses until it is too late to make necessary adjustments to their portfolios.

Furthermore, I am calling for significantly increased transparency for retail investors. To ensure a fair and equitable market, individual investors must have access to more information, not less, to protect their retirement savings from predatory practices.

Thank you for your time and for considering these critical issues.

Respectfully,

Sandra Ali

Sandra Franklin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra Franklin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting is honest, not semi-annually.

Sandra Johnson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I expect visibility AND integrity in my investments.

S Johnson
Virginia

Sandra Knaur — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sandra Knaur Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I rely on quarterly information to keep my retirement expenses balanced to income from retirement income of 401K. Don't set us back to semi-annual reporting. It will hurt us individually!

Sent from my iPhone

Sandra Morrison — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sandra Morrison As an investor in real estate and the stock market, I need timely information to make decisions. Six months is not timely. Keep it as is

---

Sandra Perrien — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra Perrien Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a newer investor, quarterly reports provide the assurance or warnings about the health of a company. Longer report intervals would put others like me at a disadvantage. This would result in me being reluctant to participate in the market. Do not change the report requirements. I am retired and rely on current information in making my investment decisions.

Sandra spinks — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra spinks Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have saved money in my 401k since they started. I manage my funds myself. Now that I am retired, I still manage these funds. I have used them to purchase a home, for travel and unexpected medical expenses. I saw what happened in 2008. It was criminal and I have friends in their seventies who still are effected by the actions of a greedy few. Although, it seem as if greed and laxity with other people money is the norm IT is wrong. Quarterly reporting allowed me to move money before the 2008 crash into bonds. There is no reason to hide these reports except fraud. Quarterly reporting is still required for these funds. So in the AI world that business is pushing down are throats that can do everything a human can do why are you pushing this? Yes I smell fraud all over this. Information to the few so they benefit and not the rest of us. Shame on you.

Sent from my iPhone

Sandra V Regnerus — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment. Sandra Regnerus From: Sandra V Regnerus Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It's my money and I have a right to know what is happening to it. Otherwise, insiders can rob me blind and I am clueless.

Sent from my iPhone

Sandy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I support quarterly reports. PLEASE continue sending them!

Sent from my iPad

Sandy Johnson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandy Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

I strongly support the continued requirement for quarterly reporting by publicly traded companies.

Quarterly reports provide investors with timely and transparent information about a company's financial condition, operating performance, risks, and future outlook. As an individual investor, I rely on these reports to make informed decisions and to monitor changes in a company's performance throughout the year.

Without quarterly reporting, investors could be forced to wait many months for important information that may significantly affect the value of their investments. This delay would create information gaps that could disadvantage smaller investors and benefit only those with access to private sources of information.

Quarterly reports also promote accountability. Regular disclosure encourages management teams to communicate openly with shareholders and helps identify emerging problems before they become larger issues. Investors deserve timely updates on revenues, earnings, debt levels, cash flow, and material business developments.

In addition, quarterly reporting contributes to market efficiency by ensuring that relevant information becomes available to all investors on a regular schedule. Transparent and consistent reporting helps maintain confidence in U.S. capital markets and supports fair price discovery.

While reporting requirements should always be reviewed to avoid unnecessary burdens, the benefits of quarterly reporting to investors, market transparency, and corporate accountability substantially outweigh the associated costs.

Thank you for considering my comments.

Respectfully,
Sandra Johnson
Retiree

Santiago M — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Santiago M Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 For the love of god don't go semi annual. Quarterly is the appropriate cadence.

Santos Delgado — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Santos Delgado Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Require companies to file reports quarterly not twice a year.

Sent from my iPhone

Sara Javoronok — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sara Javoronok Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

The quarterly disclosure rule shouldn't change. It provides necessary information for people to use when making trades and decisions. Transparency is important and leads to less fraud.

Sara Javoronok

Sara Robinson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sara Robinson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It seems the only reason to change the rule of quarterly reporting is to hide information the public should know.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Sarah Collins — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sarah Collins Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 NO. This is absolutely outrageous. I'm so tired of having to stick up for the little guy.

Get Outlook for iOS

Sarah Larson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sarah Larson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Sarah Larson, I'm a PhD student working on my second act career. I do not support the bi-annual filings, and strongly urge SEC to continue the quarterly filings. Quarterly filings boost and buoy the market, and we have two points of evidence: 1) comparing modern biannual and quarterly filings, we see larger returns from markets with quarterly. The US is well poised here, second only to gains by the South Korea market. 2) We have historical evidence, we experienced lower returns with less transparency between 1955-1970.

Keep the quarterly transparency and maintain growth in US markets!!!

Get Outlook for iOS

Sarah McClain — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Sarah McClain Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

do your job - protect investors, not companies

Sarah Warland — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sarah Warland Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No. Rules were put in place for a reason. Please do not take us backwards

Sarah Warland
Numbers and Books
512-337-3750 office

Notice: This email message is for the sole use of the intended recipient(s) and may contain confidential and privileged information. Any unauthorized review, use, disclosure, or distribution is prohibited. This email is not intended as legal or accounting advice. Check with your legal advisor or CPA before making decisions.

Sarah Wells — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sarah Wells Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am a hard-working American with a bachelor's degree and an MBA, but I spent the first decade of my career working for very little money in a very expensive city. My retirement and investment accounts are currently the only safety net I have for the future, and the additional risk being posed to my future earnings is an absolute outrage. We tried this model once before, and it failed spectacularly. Our economy is wrecked enough as it is -- stop playing games with Americans' livelihoods in a time when most of us, even the highest-educated and most business-oriented, are barely scraping by. Please reconsider and protect our financial investments. The corporate landscape has had 56 years to figure out how to meet quarterly reporting concerns while also navigating long-term strategy goals — if a business can't do both, its executives aren't doing their jobs.

Thank you.

Sarah Wells
General Manager
Wells Family Counseling

219-554-8855

Scott Dubick — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Scott Dubick Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I think it would be foolish to allow companies to stop reporting financials quarterly. It'll be catastrophic eventually. Not sure why you guys at the SEC don't care.

Scott Dubick

---

scott smith — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: scott smith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Of all times to stop doing the right thing??? Keep it 1/4 rly!

Cascade Peaks Construction
C.503-930-7432
ccb # 164676
Salem, Oregon

Scott Smith — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Scott Smith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 None are above the laws

---

Se Se — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Se Se Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Steven Stallsmith, Auditor … There is a reason these rules were created and have been followed for 50 years. It is NOT burdensome to report on a quarterly basis. The process is pretty much automated. Investors have a right to be apprised of what is going on within the companies in which they invest, or may do business with. We are seeing every day how easy it is for non-monitored companies to scam the general public. Beginning at the top. This is only a win for corporations not for everyday people.

Sean Vergara — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sean Vergara Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am writing to submit a public comment in strong opposition to any proposal under File No. S7-2026-15 that would reduce public company reporting to four times per year (quarterly) or less. Frequent and transparent financial reporting is a cornerstone of investor confidence in U.S. capital markets. Reducing reporting frequency would diminish the transparency that investors rely upon to make informed decisions. Without that transparency, I no longer view U.S. equity markets as the stable and reliable investment environment they have historically represented. If this proposal moves forward, I will withdraw my investments from the U.S. stock market and discontinue future contributions. I urge the Commission to preserve and strengthen existing reporting requirements to protect retail investors and maintain the integrity of U.S. markets.

Do not cave to the oligarchs and the billionaires; stick to your mission and stay focused on helping the American people. If you make any other decision, the SEC's legacy will be remembered as a corrupt agency that allowed billionaires to lie and cheat to higher stock vaulations.

With patience and respect for my country,
Sean

Shan Ball — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shan Ball Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep with the quarterly reporting, keep it honest and transparent.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Shane Taylor — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Shane Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Shane Taylor
Retired Physicist
Eagle River, Alaska

As a long time investor, I've always believed in, used, and relied upon accurate, timely financial data from corporations I've invested in. Sometimes quarterly isn't often enough, given today's markets and the speed of technology. The fact that the SEC is even considering rolling back reporting requirements to twice a year makes me question who is leading the organization and who is funding them. This proposed move is not only counter-intuitive but also, historically, counter-productive to a thriving market. It would definitely impact my investment enthusiasm going forward and I believe a lot of Corporate America would see less investment activity if this is implemented. Who wants to invest their hard-earned money in a company who wants to keep their books closed to investors? This proposed change is wrong and I recommend the SEC abandon it completely.

I appreciate your consideration on this matter.

Sent from my iPhone

Shannon Allmer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shannon Allmer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The SEC should review its own history and charter. It was commissioned to review, examine, and evaluate public companies reporting practices to ensure the integrity of the stock market and Wall Street firms operating in a manner consistent with GAAP standards. Leap forward 125 years and we have the power of computing and the internet. Everything moves faster, companies can generate reports and data and the push of a button. HFT moves trillions of shares each week and everyone accepts the fact that the price and processes are correct and consistent. The market makers spend billions annually to keep the edge, but suddenly the need to submit a few reports 4 times a year and comply with the rules that have been in place for decades is too expensive and time consuming?? How about spending a fraction of those billions on HFR (reporting), accurate marking of exemptions in trades, and return the dark pools to their original intent and sizing, and disallow internalizing order flow. Start there and see where the market goes.

Thanks,
Shannon

Shannon Donahue — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shannon Donahue Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I'm 73, I'm on Medicare. I don't qualify for Medicaid. They took away my small Snap benefit earlier this year 😖. I may lose my electricity. All because 'they' want another opportunity to squeeze a little blood out of my already squeezed pocketbook? NO! Quarterly is delay enough. They get more than enough time for quarterly reports. Every six months is just asking for trouble,!

S, Donahue, retired RN

Shannon Marquardt — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shannon Marquardt Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep it you crooks.

Shari Bahr — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shari Bahr Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Sharie Bahr and I live in Wisconsin. I am adamantly opposed to this rule change allowing companies listed on the Exchange to disclose only every 6 months instead of every 3 months as is currently required. Information is power, and a lack of disclosure impacts an investor's ability to make sound choices about where they put their money. These rules were put in place as a result of the market crash that caused the Great Depression and there is absolutely NO credible evidence to support the claim that companies are more ethical now than they were then. I stand in firm opposition to this rule change.

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail for iPad

Shari Doane — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shari Doane Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Gravely concerned and feel that it needs to continue to be quarterly. Our country at this time is not feeling safe and protected by our leaders. Letting things go for too long without checks and balances does not encourage me to trust these companies.

Thank you,

Shari Doane, Behavioral Consultant

Get Outlook for iOS

Disclaimer
The information contained in this communication from the sender is confidential. It is intended solely for use by the recipient and others authorized to receive it. If you are not the recipient, you are hereby notified that any disclosure, copying, distribution or taking action in relation of the contents of this information is strictly prohibited and may be unlawful.

Sharon — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Sharon Del Prete, Credit Analyst

Consumers and private investors need as much information as possible, as often as possible. I can only think of one possible reason for this change: large companies lobbied for it. Every time Republicans bow to corporations, that is REVERSE SOCIALISM in action. SOCIALISM FOR CORPORATIONS AND NOT THE PEOPLE.

Sharon

Sent from my iPhone

Sharon Erpestad — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Erpestad Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It should be kept quarterly to reduce fraud. I even think it could be done MONTHLY. I balance my checkbook every month to know where I am. We need more transparency, NOT LESS

Sharon Giles — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sharon Giles Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly is a necessity for transparency or we take a huge risk with our money.

Sharon Kelly — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Kelly Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Leave quarterly reporting in place! This is critical for the public to adequately assess the risk of investments.

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Sharon King — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon King Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am a retired individual. These folks have our money! We want regular reports and a quarterly report is not excessive! Be happy that investors are not requiring monthly data!

Sent from my iPhone

---

sharon kuley — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: sharon kuley Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Sharon Kuley, & I work as an educator. Under the current administration, the “insiders” are already taking advantage of privileged info to gain the system, while the rest of us play by the rules. Removing quarterly reporting will only grant the insiders a greater advantage & will DEFINITELY make the rest of us even angrier. Do you want complete upheaval and riots in the streets? Record numbers are already protesting in the streets every No Kings Day, and you want to add fuel to the fire? As DJT himself would ask, “Are you a stupid person?”

Sent from my iPhone

Sharon Rondeau — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Rondeau Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To All Whom It Concerns,

Transparency = Integrity. If a business entity has to/wants to hide their metrics for ANY amount of time, that business is not reliable. We shouldn't be asked to 'bet on if-comes' and pipe dreams. Giving opportunities to shore up illusions should not be SOP of the SEC.

Thank you,
SE Rondeau

Sharyn Friedman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharyn Friedman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It’s ludicrous to not give someone quarterly updates on their own money. Please don’t even consider this change. People need to know where they stand and not be kept in the dark.

Don’t be unfair with other people’s investments/money. Do the right thing and don’t cave.

Keep things as they are. You look dirty yourselves otherwise and there’s enough dirty out there already. Be the noble ones in a world of deceit.

Sent from my iPhone

Shaskan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Shaskan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Hello:
It should be abundantly clear by now that corporations cannot be trusted to “do the right thing.”

Cutting reporting back to twice per year gives them all sorts of opportunities for financial shenanigans. You must maintain AT LEAST quarterly reporting in order to protect the investing public.
Kathy Shaskan, Somerville MA

Shawn Guy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shawn Guy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is ridiculous. People have a right to their information about any publicly held company at any time. When is the grift gonna end?

Sent from my iPhone

Shawn Lazar — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Shawn Lazar Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
The SEC's proposed rule change would hinder the every day American trying to build a financial future for themselves. U should NOT change the rules already set in place for reasons

---

Sheila Foley Gildea — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sheila Foley Gildea Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Former financial planner. All records should be available daily. The markets calculate them. People deserve transparency and truth. Stop underhanded actions. Stand for truth and justice - that is supposed to be the American way.

Sheila Lane Foley Gildea
Sent from my iPhone

Sheila Smith — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sheila Smith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Sheila Smith, retired.
Knowing all the fraudulent activities that have been going on,
we need more Transparency. Profits to be reported.

Sent from my iPad

Shelley Bryan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Shelley Bryan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This twice a year business...NO! NO! And NO! It matters to all investors.
Shelley Bryan
Rockport TX
retired

Shelly Carson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Shelly Carson Shelly Carson, purchasing agent for large school district, year 29. So tired of the obfuscation of the onslaught of highway robbery, trickery, outright thievery happening, with zero repercussions or safeguards remaining in place to protect Americans from the nonstop ridiculousness of the current administration. PLEASE HOLD YOUR GROUND AND CONTINUE SHARING QUARTERLY WHAT IS HAPPENING. A change now is simply more opportunity to take away life plans from Americans. ITS NOT OKAY!!!

---

sher packevicz — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: sher packevicz Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do not pass the rule to allow expansion of reporting time!!
Keep the quarterly reports!!
Investors need to be protected!

Sent from my iPhone

Sherri Wagerman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sherri Wagerman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 How dare you? That quarterly reporting is very important to me and other investors who are trying to create and protect a nest egg. There's too much going on every day in the markets and six months reporting is unacceptable. I am a licensed insurance agent and I conduct Financial Peace University classes. I have invested in IRA and 401k accounts, and I passed the SEI exam.
Sherri Wagerman

Sherry Williamson None — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Sherry Williamson I am totally against six month reporting. Investments are important to retires. Quarterly reporting offers more options for investors to manage their portfolios. Annual reporting failed in the past. Americans leaned from that, so should the SEC.
Sherry Williamson Retired Florida

Shery Phillips — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shery Phillips Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Absolutely not!

Shirley Sheely — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Shirley Sheely Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the SEC:
It is imperative that quarterly investment earnings reports continue. That is the only way that individual investors can "Keep their eye on the ball" which is critical if they depend on their investment income to live. Less transparency could mean the difference between having enough to pay for our needs or being left financially destitute. Please continue quarterly reporting.
Shirley B. Sheely
Retired

Sent from my iPhone

Shirley Townsend — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Shirley Townsend This is such an unethical idea and simply wrong for investors. It cannot happen. I urge you to vote this down.

Shree Beardslee — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shree Beardslee Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do not become another criminal Trump entity. Enough has been done to the working people. Leave what little investment stocks we have alone. It is essential for most of us to have access to the monthly numbers for survival under this current despicable regime.

Sincerely, Shree Beardslee, A Retiree.

Sent from my iPhone

Silver Bullitt — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Silver Bullitt Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Rob Sims, Boise Idaho
As a 68 year old investor I believe this would be taking steps backwards. Less transparency does not benefit the retail investors. Please do not change the current reporting rules.

Silverio Yanez — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Silverio Yanez Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We need more oversight and better transparency. Real people need more factual prompt information! We also need more stop gaps to prevent insider trading. the Politicians/Corperations that have been caught red handed need to be held accountable like everyday private citizens!

Silvia Smith — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Silvia Smith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No way. All this does is let them hide relevant information which is negative and should be known to the shareholders and the government! Since when do we aid and abet criminals hide their malfeasance?

Skip Hino — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Skip Hino Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Why should the public not know???

---

smurphy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: smurphy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a retired person, changes that have the potential to reduce my return on investments might directly reduce my quality of life. The benefit of infrequent reporting will accrue directly to those who need it the least. Meanwhile, the number of homelessness among seniors has skyrocketed. I wish folks who are making these decisions included a little empathy in their decisions and would take the time to understand what their decision could mean to the 99 Sandra Murphy, Daytona Beach FL

Sonya Mukherjee — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sonya Mukherjee Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting is important to investors. If we are funding a company in any way, we have the right to know whether the company is performing to our expectations or not. VCs and boards require quarterly reporting. Regular investors deserve this transparency as well.

Spencer Fitzgerald — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Spencer Fitzgerald Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Spencer Fitzgerald
Electric Studies Engineer

I need to know what's going on with the companies I invest in. This change would put my money and retirement at risk. I am against this change.

Thanks,
Spencer Fitzgerald

---

srt392 — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: srt392 Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is wrong in every way and you Damm well know it

Sent from my Galaxy

Stacy Porter — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stacy Porter Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stop trying to cheat the American People!

Sent from my iPhone

STASI wright-stasi — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: STASI wright-stasi Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Why change now?

Get Outlook for iOS

Stephan Collins — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephan Collins Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My retirement and my husband's retirement are reliant on the stock market. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise our stock portfolios. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Thank you

Nanci Self
Akron, OH

Stephanie Chastain — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephanie Chastain Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Make the SEC more transparent and more fair. Make all their transactions visible. S Chastain, teacher

Sent from my iPad

Stephanie Hayes — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Stephanie Hayes Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The SEC should require quarterly reports because they provide investors with timely, consistent, and transparent information about a company's financial performance. Regular reporting helps maintain market confidence, supports informed investment decisions, and promotes accountability between annual reporting periods.

Stephanie Hayes, Sys admin, st. Pete, Fl

Thanks,
Stephanie

Stephanie Schroeder — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Stephanie Schroeder Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

In no way does it make sense to discontinue quarterly reporting. Now more than ever the main path to wealth will be investing. With AI less jobs may become available. If the American people are not invested in the companies that are actually making money it is more likely that the gap between the haves and have nots will increase. Retail investors are already at a stark disadvantage with less big data sources than large institutions or insiders. Without quarterly reporting we are less likely to have real information on the true picture. It will also decrease the number of jobs available. Several jobs in the American economy support quarterly reporting. There is absolutely no upside for a middle class American, we need quarterly reports. Without it we might as well be playing the lottery with our investments and retirement. No longer requiring quarterly reporting could cause a cascade effect for middle class Americans. Many of us millennials do not have children. Social security is failing. Without substantial retirement savings, how will we afford old age if our retirement accounts do not grow. The SEC should be protecting the average citizen. There is no upside to discontinuing quarterly reporting. By discontinuing you would be optimizing for fraudulent behavior, increasing job loss, and putting the average American retirement account at risk. Require quarterly reporting.

Stephen Keener — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephen Keener Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am writing to express my concerns regarding the proposed changes to quarterly reporting requirements for public companies. The current law mandates transparency every quarter, which is essential for safeguarding investor interests and maintaining market integrity.

Introducing a semi-annual reporting framework would leave stakeholders flying blind for six months, a time during which numerous issues could arise, such as failed product launches, ballooning debt, or litigations. This lack of timely information could allow insiders to sell shares before adverse developments become public, harming retail investors whose portfolios rely on accurate disclosures.

Moreover, history has shown that financial opacity can facilitate fraud, evident in instances like Enron and WorldCom. Quarterly reports, while not foolproof, significantly reduce the window for fraudulent activities to flourish undetected. A shift to bi-annual reporting could enable such misconduct once again.

Lastly, the notion of optionality in reporting creates a slippery slope for smaller companies, ultimately adjusting investor expectations downward and suffocating accountability in the market. The minimal cost savings for companies do not translate into benefits for investors, but rather diminish the quality of information available to them.

I urge you to consider the implications of this significant change and its potential repercussions for the investing public.

Thank you,

Steve Keener
Estimator

Stephen Breton — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephen Breton Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep public corporations public by retaining quarterly reporting. Don’t spread the corruption of private equity practices into the rest of the economy.

Stephen Breton
Bank Fraud Analyst

Stephen Dewey — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Dewey Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I don't usually sign sponsored petitions but this one is pretty crazy, I had read about this before too.

Taking away quarterly reporting, what could go wrong? You only have to look at startup valuations and trick accounting to see why it is good that we have standard reporting for publicly traded companies. Valuations should not be based on vibes.
I would agree that we want more companies to go public sooner but surely there is a better way.
Stephen

Stephen Dunn — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Stephen Dunn Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do NOT return to the 1955 six minth rule. This will lead to more failure in the economy. Even the very wealthy will lose thier shirts with this rule change. Look at the reason to was changed in 1970. The quarterly rule should stand for commons sense standards and the betterment of the market. Only a fool tries to fix something that isn't broken. Leave it alone.

Sent via the Samsung Galaxy Note20 Ultra 5G, an AT&T 5G smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Stephen Holbert — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephen Holbert Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I do not feel it is good for the public to let the books stay closed that long. Maintain quarterly minimum reporting so that inside trading does not have a longer period to flourish. It happened too much as it is. My name is Steve and I work in Energy Generation, please do not allow traders more freedoms than they already have and to take even greater advantage.

Get Outlook for Android

Stephen Liss — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephen Liss Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This matters to me because quarterly reports make the markets work better for most investors. More disclosure is better than less. I don't see how I benefit from less disclosure.

Stephen Liss, Technical Writer

Stephen Ranger — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephen Ranger Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Public companies have reported their financial results every three months for over half a century. Keep it that way. Please don't change the rules to six months.

Sent from my iPhone

Stephen Steele — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephen Steele Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Currently partially retired with a 401k. My father was a stockbroker and vice president of a prestigious brokerage firm for many years and I paid attention to the things he said about financial security. Quarterly reports are essential for keeping corporate America in check so our investments are safe.

Steve Steele
Middletown, PA
Sent from my iPhone

Stephen Young — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephen Young Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports! Every 6 months is not acceptable!

Stephen Young
224

Steve — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Steve Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need to keep results reporting quarterly to allow investors timely access to financial information that can greatly affect their decision making process on where and when to invest

---

Steve Broughman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steve Broughman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It is hard enough to keep up with and invest in stocks as a small investor. To me, this creates a very dangerous situation where hidden bad news from a company could create a disaster in your investment when the news comes out and mass selling takes place. Just look at Enron and what happened with investments made in that company. I lost several thousand dollars on what I thought was a reputable business! Please, don't do this!
Steve Broughman
Kernersville, NC
Sent from my iPad

Steve Home — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Steve Home Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This would be horrible, public companies need to disclose their earnings quarterly. Please!

Steve Gooby

Steve Lassiter — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steve Lassiter Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Hell no

---

Steve McMahan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steve McMahan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 All investors should be required to disclose their investment information in a timely manner.

Thanks, Steve

Steve Sadd — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steve Sadd Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting is essential for transparency in today's volatile financial world. Do not weaken this investor protection requirement.

Sent from my iPhone

Steven D. Gribbell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steven D. Gribbell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As an individual investor I rely on quarterly reports. They help me gauge how and when to make purchase and sell decisions. In today’s world of rapid change, more frequent reporting benefits individual investors and institutional investors.

Steven Gribbell

Sent from my iPhone

Steven Penney — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steven Penney Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 In order to give shareholders enough time to get out in time when the company is first showing trouble, we need to keep companies reporting financials 4 times per year.

Stolen Jars — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Stolen Jars Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Cody Fitzgerald. I'm a film composer in NYC. Please keep it so that companies need to continue reporting quarterly. We do not want to go back to a version of the stock exchange with less transparency.

Sue Bogard — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sue Bogard Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We are not returning to 1970.. stop this nonsense…. Quarterly returns are good practice in finance. You are the SEC meant to protect ALL investors not just the Trump made billionaires. Sue M. Bogard. North Myrtle Beach SC.

Sue Cantrell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sue Cantrell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Financial records should be open and honest. How can I invest my money without accurate information?

Sue Cantrell
retired

Sue Farnham — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sue Farnham Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stop this!!! LEAVE IT AS IS!!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Sue Gearin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sue Gearin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 In this volatile world, where information and data is at our fingertips, there is no reason why real time data is a burden on any company. This is just another barrier being put up by the govt. There is no good reason for this change.

Sent from my iPhone

Sue Marsy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sue Marsy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 TRANSPARENCY!!!!! STOP HIDING YOUR GREED!!!

Sue Mills — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sue Mills Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reporting is easier to keep track of investments. Semi annual will leave me in the dark for too long, possibly costing money that shouldn't be put at risk.

Thank you for considering my comments and thoughts on this matter.

S. Mills

Sue Taylor — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: SEC proposal From: Sue Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Public companies have reported their financial results every three months for over 50 years . I oppose the new SEC proposal changing company reporting timeline to every 6 months. I'll be the last to find out how the business is doing while the executives, lawyers, and big institutional investors know exactly how the business is doing.

Susan Taylor
Retired Program Director

Sent from Yahoo Mail for iPhone

---

supernova529 — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: supernova529 Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is utter nonsense. Lets make the saying we heard and were taught by good parenting ring true...."CHEATERS NEVER WIN" . Please we dont need anything else rigging the system.

Sent from my Galaxy

Susan Nenstiel — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Nenstiel Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please maintain requiring quarterly financial statements by businesses

I actively participate in the stock market and very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my stock portfolio so that I can make the best decisions concerning this portfolio.

I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges. Please protect the investor. Thank you.

Susan Nenstiel

Susan Wagner — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Susan Wagner Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stop catering to these companies. We know it failed. Don't do it.

Susan Wagner

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Anderson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Anderson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 If you are using my money to operate your company, you owe me a report. Susan Anderson. Retired

---

Susan Corlett — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Corlett Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 There is no need to change this to every 6 months except to make it easier for them to cheat America.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Susan Deane-MIller — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Deane-MIller Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Don't do this. We need more oversight, not less. I am Susan Deane-Miller. I was a clinical therapist LCSW R I am now retired, but it matters to me because it matters to everyone. We need to be able to keep track of our own financials

Susan Deane-Miller LCSW-R
100 Woodland Pond Circle, #332
New Paltz, NY 12561

Sent from my iPad

Susan Deane-MIller — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Deane-MIller Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 More time for them to be crooked, more time that we don't get to see what's going on. More time for other people to get rich while you get poorer.

Sent from my iPad

Susan Fowler — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Fowler Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The SEC should require the financial statements of all companies to be available quarterly as always. Do not change your 6-month interval requirement.

Susan Fowler

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Gervasi — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Gervasi Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please keep my quarterly financials coming every 3 months. It is imperative to continue following my investments, 6 mos is too long! -Susan Gervasi. (Retired)

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Guilford — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Guilford Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need minimum of quarterly reports from financial institutions.

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Haran — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Haran Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I watch my investments weekly and need those funds to live on…do not not play around w them or hide them

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Hranek — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Hranek Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 With all the fraud in this administration this is a horrible idea. They are blocking information as people are struggling. It makes me want to put money under the mattress. This does not protect the average investor but benefits the rich who have access to info.

Susan Hranek

Susan Hranek — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Hranek Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 With all the fraud in this administration this is a horrible idea. They are blocking information as people are struggling. It makes me want to put money under the mattress. This does not protect the average investor but benefits the rich who have access to info.

Susann Hranek

Susan Hughes — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Hughes Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dear SEC, keep the quarterly updates. Stockholders have a right to Know what is happening with their money.

Lack of accountability creates more corruption. Keep out the corruption!

S.hughes.
teacher

Susan Jense — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Jense Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly. It's my money and I want to know what it is doing. Can I make my feelings any more clear?

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Krembs — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Krembs Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It is vital that Companies continue to prepare and present to the public quarterly reports. It presents an honest record of worth, trending performance and investors use this vital information for decision making. Please do not consider changing this timeline. Thank you.

Sent from my iPhone

Susan MacMurchy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Susan MacMurchy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Susan MacMurchy, Strategic Advisor, New York, Reducing transparency in financial reporting is never beneficial to the investor. Quarterly reporting seems a minimum we should expect from those entrusted with our money!

Susan Montz — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Montz Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Susan Montz, retiree in Gretna
Nebraska
I have been a stock investor for decades and I rely on quarterly reporting to manage my retirement portfolio. Eliminating quarterly reporting would seriously hurt individual investors like me, and only benefit insider traders. Please keep businesses honest and keep stockholders like me informed through quarterly reporting.

Susan Olesen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Olesen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The SEC should be more transparent, not less so. Very Trumpian, but don't forget that you don't work for him. And he will be out of office soon, and your agency will then have to explain your behavior. Americans have less and less information about the dirty deals being done in Congress, and your agency is directly responsible for policing that. I just want you to do your job, not listen to these these crooks in Washington DC.

Susan Olesen, retired

Susan Olsen — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Olsen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It's bad enough the general population isn't able to enjoy the same kinds of investment opportunities the elite do, the least you can do is show them quarterly how screwed we get!

Susan Paternoster — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Susan Paternoster Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Do not let this happen. It creates an unbalance who knows and who doesn't. People have a right to know where their money is and what it's doing.

Susan Rawls — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Susan Rawls Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We all know the honor system works for some i.e. those with a rigid upbringing but not most. Business wouldn't have regulations in place if they didnt need to be restricted by rules and laws. For example: there was a terrible accident at the International Paper in Bastrop, La. in the late summer/early fall of 1998. It was a mass casualty event. My father was maintenance supervisor for the plant and my spouse was an EMT. I was horrified when my Daddy's partner called me in the car to tell me. I knew my spouse would cope but my father is psychologically scarred to this day.
A large tank holding white liquor,a caustic chemical or mix collapsed. Men on his cres burned to death,drowned in it and more. Daddy grabbed a man's boots to pull him free and pulled his feet off(he was deceased). Daddy was unreachable for over 48h as he assisted with recovery of the few who lived and recovrry of remains before they burned up wholly and completely.(When i was a little girl, Hed brought home a tiny bottle of white liquor lwith which to burn away a childhood wart. Hed apply a drop/week with a toothpick-itd throb for several days after but i peeled the last off after 5-6wks.)
My most awful memory of the time was my Daddy sobbing. He was on outside stairs watching his crew pull wire. Theyd refused his help so he was going to main offices to inquire about some insurance questions rt:someone's new baby. He said he felt it before it happened but only had time to yell out to them. My dear father couldn't comprehend how the tank collapsed due to failure of structural integrity as itd been evacuated via ultrasound just the month before. It never occurred to him that IP would lie so as not to have to replace costly tsnk.

Also right out of town thry pour waste into"Stink Creek. I know so many people who eorked there who have gotten bowel CA. I worry sbout him as the aging process no longer seems normal and in the 60s and 70s who knows what happened. I know as soon as id tell him i was expecting, hed say no more fidh due to dioxin. If i know this, what was hidden? Im only 4'6,104# but have severe RA,osteoporosis and scoliosis plus EDS. Its a lot.

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Smith — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Smith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Susan Smith, Facilities Coordinator. Please keep reporting to quarterly so I can keep abreast of current information and how anything can affect my retirement account.

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Tank — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Tank Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep it open and transparent and scheduled as before! No hiding the facts!

Susan Tank

Sent from my iPad

Susan Wigfield — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Susan Wigfield Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Hold corporations accountable.

Sent from my iPhone

Suzanne Mitchell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Suzanne Mitchell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need transparency in everything. especially for our savings investments. The ability of bad actors to steal is too great. Please vote for transparency.

Suzanne Sutherland — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Suzanne Sutherland Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports do no damage. No company needs to hide this information nor wait six months to report. As a citizen, I am expected to file and am penalized if late. Companies are now considered citizens and should have the same requirements.

Suzanne Sutherland

Swa Iacovazzi — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Swa Iacovazzi Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My 401 K is tied to the stock market. That fund (and my so-called and questionable Social Security) is all I will have to survive on when I finally get to retirement. 6 months between reporting periods leaves too much time for big companies to hide problems. Without timely oversight MY risk is substantial! PLEASE PLEASE KEEP IT QUARTERLY!!—Frances Iacovazzi, Admin Assistant

---

Sydne Luebe — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sydne Luebe Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep it for the public! We are the reason you exsist!!!

Sydne

T Lupher — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: T Lupher Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Hello,

I would like to encourage you to maintain quarterly reporting and not extend it to the 6 month mark as is being proposed in S7-2026-15.

I'm pulling my money out if this change to less frequency in reporting is approved. Less frequent access to data only benefits the wealthy.

Kindly,

Tanya Lupher

Tamara Ciszczon — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tamara Ciszczon Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep my quarterly reports coming. I keep weekly charts & a close watch on my investments. It is VITAL for my financial future as I am a low income person from being widowed twice now & from being permanently & totally disabled for half of my life now. I have suffered EXTREMELY from my 2001-2003 & 2008 drops already; please don't let me suffer again. Investing is my only way to keep up with inflation.

Sent from my iPhone

Tamara Smith — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tamara Smith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Tamara Smith, this is unacceptable. We the people deserve transparency.

---

tamara uribe — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: tamara uribe Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do not switch to semi- annual reporting, stick with quarterly reports. Americans are already battling an assault on their ability to make ends meet and moving to semi-annual reports will compound this problem. Semi-annual reporting is historically proven to suppress the gains of a company. The lack of transparency is NOT a good thing for investors, who ultimately will suffer if this semi-annual rule is implemented.

Tammie Hart — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tammie Hart Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is wrong, you are people that need to go! If you are the one that came up with this bill your evil!! Thisis just another way to screw the working class then hand it back to them and telling them to eat it!!! Wrong!!

Tammra Driscoll — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tammra Driscoll Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Tammra Driscoll of Fircrest, WA. I am a teacher. Quarterly reporting is essential for all civil service workers... our investment accounts are all we have and a lack of transparency will hinder honest trading and business.

Sent from my Galaxy

Tanika Crumlish — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Tanika Crumlish Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Don't hide vital information. Don't delay passing along

Tanya Imke — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tanya Imke Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Absolutely not. Ever! Never!! We don’t require greater transparency, we require complete transparency!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Tasha Dockery — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Tasha Dockery Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As an investor, I rely on company disclosures to make sound investment decisions. I am not in favor of getting rid of quarterly disclosures- this takes away safety the business community needs to function.

---

tdbramlet — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: tdbramlet Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the years. I appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I will not invest in companies that refuse to provide quarterly reports. Those that remain will be those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges and publish quarterly.

Ted Z — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ted Z Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are a good thing to have, it's a shame anyone would want to change this

---

Tedra Grant — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tedra Grant Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need to keep companies transparent! Do not allow them to give quarterly earnings to the regular investor. We need to know what is going on and how to invest our money. Waiting 6 months is too long to act. This is complete nonsense and once again favors the companies and the wealthy.

Tee Branson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tee Branson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I spent my life investing in this country, and deserve timely, accurate information on my investments - especially now that I've retired. Limiting this crucial information is not good stewardship for the American people.

Tina Branson, RN-R

Tempie Hayes — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tempie Hayes Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This would keep me from knowing what my $$ is doing for way too ling.

Sent from my iPhone

Teresa Boyd — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Teresa Boyd Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My number one reason for being against this is all of my retirement income is invested in stocks, bonds, etc. I don’t won’t to wait for six months to find out my stocks have dropped to penny stocks and the same with bonds.
Teresa Boyd
Widow, 69 years old
Retired

Sent from my iPad

Teresa Simpson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Teresa Simpson Given your awareness of the financial impact to investors, is a clear indication of a deliberate move to do just that! The Baby Boomers will certainly be a large target in doing so! Leave the reporting structure as is!

---

teresa sundine — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: teresa sundine Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 T Sundine, 74, Registered Nurse , retired from VA Hospital. As a retiree it is imperative for me to know the status of the companies I am invested in so that I can continue to fund my retirement that I worked so hard for. This would be unconscionable to let companies screw so many people over that depend on them for earnings. Please do not deviate from quarterly earnings or we could end up seeing more people who can no longer afford to live and will end up on assistance of some sort.
Thank you.
T Sundine

Teresa Wyatt — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Teresa Wyatt Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I strongly oppose the SEC's recent proposal allowing publicly-traded companies to reduce earnings/performance reporting to twice a year. This appears to benefit only insiders, while disadvantaging small investors. Why on earth would the SEC propose this? During a professional life that spanned over 40 years, I relied on quarterly performance reports to manage my retirement accounts and build my modestly comfortable nest egg. I've learned a nest egg doesn't function optimally on "automatic pilot" after retirement. Information and insight are still necessary. We no longer live in the era of pensions; we must follow the market and make changes largely on our own. Furthermore, we live in uncertain (getting more uncertain) times, times in which more information on a more timely basis is necessary to ALL investors! Please do not advance this proposal. Thank you.

Teresa Wyatt Retired Health Care Professional Louisville, KY

Sent from my iPhone

Teri Alberico — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Teri Alberico Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 What a ridiculous scam to hide information! DO NOT let this happen. The rich have been gaming the system to their advantage. It will not hold and those who have been bending the rules will fail spectacularly

---

Teri Merrell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Teri Merrell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Teri Merrell, Assistant Director. As an investor transparency matters. Do the right thing and vote for quarterly reporting. Otherwise less investing on my side will occur. Risk appears greater. Less transparency, more opportunity for fraud.

Thank you for for the opportunity to respond. I hope you will do the right thing by keeping companies honest and transparent. How can an economy and innovation thrive without investment?

Thank you,

Teri Merrell

Terrance Barr — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terrance Barr Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We are American citizens and we are far from rich. We are retired and every penny we spent our lives working for matters to us. We do not have access to insider trading sweet deals, we rely on our retirement funds. A lot can happen in a very short time that affects our money. Quarterly reporting absolutely matters and must continue. Our continuing to live and eat depends on it.

Sincerely,
Terrence and Jane Barr

Sent from my Galaxy

Terri Bartos — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terri Bartos Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My retirement depends on keeping the pulse on companies for which I have invested. Transparency is key! Do not change the reporting periods, please!

Terri Bartos, retired, investor in Public Companies

Sent from my iPhone

Terri Cvetan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terri Cvetan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the SEC reports quarterly to maintain transparency.

Terri Gabriel — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Terri Gabriel Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly. We have a right to know what is happening with our investments…and we need corporate transparency and accountability.

Teresa Gabriel
Corporate Travel Consultant
Los Angeles , California

Thank you
Terri Gabriel
Sent from my iPad

Terri Moore — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Terri Moore Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a recent retiree I really need my investments to provide income. This will NOT be helpful at all. Quarterly is barely often enough.

Sent from my iPhone

Terry Clampitt — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terry Clampitt Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Terry clampitt I am a window and door associate at Home Depot . Am retired on SS . And have a retirement account with E Trade . Don't make a lot of money with it but would feel like only inside traders would benefit from this . I thought this was the organization that keep things fair for the traders . So the companies don't screw people . This will not do that it would make it like trading blind . So only people with inside information would confidently trade . Please don't allow this . Terry Clampitt. terryjoe58@hotmai.com

---

Terry Gilbertson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Terry Gilbertson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please block this legislation. This is our money invested. We need quarterly transparency to receive results. The banks should not have better information than us when it is our money.
Thank you

Terry Schurmeier — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Quarterly reporting rule change From: Terry Schurmeier Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Corporations, partnerships, sole proprietors: We the people in businesses all, are required to file quarterly reports. Profit & Loss reports are used to qualify for loans (funding). We as investors expect quarterly earnings reports, R&D, unexpected losses
We expect Truth.

Terry Schurmeier
Investor/Citizen
Activist/Senior Citizen

Sent from Yahoo Mail for iPhone

Terry Sheridan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terry Sheridan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Terry Sheridan
Principal Engineer, Honeywell Aerospace
Please preserve the quarterly financial and performance reporting sequence as is currently practiced to continue the transparency in corporate operations to shareholders and other stakeholders.
This is important to me since I have stock and other important financial products with several companies. Extending the reporting periods to every six months will impact my ability to judge the performance of those companies where I have investments and companies where I plan to invest. Six months is simply too long. Please keep the current reporting frequency unchanged.

Thank you.

Tessa Maxcy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tessa Maxcy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 SEC,

We need more transparency and regulations to keep our retirement accounts safe. Keep companies public reporting requirements quarterly.

Also keep the S&P 500 requirements for new IPOs in place. Americans 401k's shouldn't be funding non profitable companies like the SpaceX IPO so private investors can cash out at the expense of Americans retirement savings.

Sincerely,
Tessa Maxcy, BSN, RN, CNOR

Theresa Blackwell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Theresa Blackwell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The SEC is proposing to roll back financial reporting to the way it worked in 1955. Less disclosure then meant lower returns and lower valuations. A repeat could erase a third of our savings when we need it most. This is 2026 and information is available almost instantaneously. Do not drag us back to the Middle Ages of the last century.

Theresa Bona — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Theresa Bona Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No I don't want this to happen - we need accountability from these companies - Theresa B. Customer Support MN

Theresa Herbert — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Theresa Herbert Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 You've got to be kidding. As a shareholder I'm just going to trust them to go to six months? Absolutely NOT. If it were up to me I'd prefer monthly reports so if it's being changed to six months you must have lost your minds. That's a solid NO from me. The fallout from this type of unaccountability would be criminal and difficult to correct if the information was delayed from the shareholders so long.

Theresa Herbert
Occupational Therapist
Former Shearson Lehman Vice President - California
Shareholder

Sent from my iPad

Theresa Ragsdale — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Theresa Ragsdale Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This proposal moves our markets in the wrong direction. Public companies should not be allowed to hide their financial condition from everyday investors for six months at a time while executives, insiders, and large institutional investors continue to have access to information and influence. Transparency is the foundation of fair markets. Reducing reporting requirements creates greater opportunities for information asymmetry, undermines investor confidence, and increases the risk that ordinary Americans will be the last to know when a company's financial health changes. The SEC's responsibility is to protect investors, not make it easier to conceal information from them.

Theresa Ragadale

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Theresa Welford — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Theresa Welford Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Good evening.

I am writing to object to the proposed change in reporting required by companies, from every 3 months to every 6 months.

1. I am retired, in my late 60s, and I need to have regularly updated information to make decisions about my financial situation.

2. Longer gaps between reports will give corporate insiders opportunities to benefit in ways that will disadvantage the rest of us.

3. Any savings to companies will be minuscule, but the risk to individuals will be immense. We can't afford to go six months without up-to-date information, not should we have to. Quarterly updates are not too much to ask.

Sincerely,

Theresa

Dr. Theresa Malphrus Welford

tmwelford@gmail.com

Theresa Wolf — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Theresa Wolf Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am a recently retired federal employee with over two decades as an IT Specialist with the Social Security Administration, starting as a contractor. I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 41 years of my career. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 401K and TSP stock portfolio. With the insolvency of the SSA's Trust Fund looming, I need to be able to rely on the timely information in the quarterly reports to ensure the future for myself and my disabled adult child.

I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Theresa K. Wolf

--Theresa

---

thetonious — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: thetonious Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need MORE clarity and insight not less! This matters to every investor who relies on information to make decisions.

Mell A. Nolley
Television Editor - retired
Long term investor.

Sent from my Galaxy

Thomas Blaney — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Blaney Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do not change quarterly reporting!

Sent from Proton Mail for iOS.

Thomas Hribik — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Hribik Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Name is Thomas hribik. I am retired and living on my savings and investments. In this digital world profit and loss is realized almost instantly. Hiding that info doesn't help investments.

Sent from Yahoo Mail on Android

Thomas Barrella — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Thomas Barrella Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Investors need information frequently, and eliminating quarterly reporting in lieu of semi-annual reports is the wrong way to go.
It's been argued that quarterly reporting forces businesses to manage with a short-term perspective, but the success of Amazon and Tesla, corporations that lost money for years in end, flies in the face of this criticism.
Please do not change the frequency of corporate reporting.

Thomas Casey — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Casey Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Thomas Casey, retired, transparency is necessary for retail investors to make informed investing decisions. The insider trading is already bad enough without them being able to hide their actions for 6 months. Investing is already rigged against retail investors for those with access to microsecond AI trading bots and market makers. Why would you ever want to make it worse unless you are a part of the scam.

Get Outlook for iOS

Thomas Nichols — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Nichols Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Has everyone one in higher institutions are you all that crooked, when your king is gone and your not looking , someone will be looking for you,

---

Thomas Sullivan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Sullivan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This would be unfair to all investors

---

Tia Murphy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tia Murphy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We should have up to date information and transparency.
Theresa Murphy retired

---

tiefel . Steven S — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: tiefel . Steven S Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 No! Don’t make it

LESS transparent!

- Steven Stiefel

Tim Copland — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tim Copland Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Timothy Copland Consultant
This rule change will force me to seek alternate investments pulling capital out of stocks and mutual funds that I can not see more clearly into.
I will share that info with all friends and family and reallocate our capital out of the markets. This is a complete loss of trust in the stock market.

Tim Heape — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tim Heape Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 SEC proposal letting Public companies go dark for six months at a time IS FRAUD!
I Demand the SEC to require full transparency of every Public company.

Sincerely,

Tim Heape

Tim Merrill — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Tim Merrill Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Terrible idea, I get the logic of reducing regulatory oversight to save on expenses, but as usual you are focused on retail investors . Retail investors rely on quarterly reports to be a check and balance measure to ensure companies are making bad decisions that will affect their investment.

The expense the government and the companies will save by reducing the reporting periods will not outweigh the loss of investor trust that the lack of quarterly will create

Get Outlook for iOS

Tim Prey — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tim Prey Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are necessary to keep transparency of how corporate dealings and policies affect business outcomes. Shareholders deserve to view how the board room decisions affect their business performance in a timely manner.

Tim Prey
timprey@gmail.com

Tim Smith Jr — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tim Smith Jr Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Hi, I'm a public works employee raising a family on my single income. Here are my reasons why keeping the quarterly open is important. 1, we work for these companies 2, We spend our hard earned and undervalued dollars with these companies. Most of those profits they want to hide came from us working citizens. 3, If companies don't have to show their earnings it's easier for them to lie to the public about profits. Considering the state of the economy with inflation we'd like to keep a check on that because we spend too much for too little already. That's exactly why they'd like to hide their earnings.

Timothy G. Huguenin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Timothy G. Huguenin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 im a new father. i want my daughter to have a good future. we need to keep transparency in the market for individual investors and not further the divide between the little guy and big guys please vote against the proposal to make quarterly filing optional

Sent from my iPad

Tina Billado — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tina Billado Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports. No more fraud!!!

Tina Congdon — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tina Congdon Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Are you kidding! ABSOLUTELY NO!

Tina Congdon

Toby Frowen — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Toby Frowen Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Because it’s my money. My retirement. I’m a shareholder. There needs to be transparency & where is the fiduciary duty??

Toby Frowen - Independent Consultant

Sent from my iPhone

Todd Fowler Owner, Be Strong and Courageous - Life Coaching — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Todd Fowler To Whomever is Responsible; As an investor and small business owner I have EVERY right to know how the markets are performing frequently. Since the SEC is interested in changing the frequency of reporting pertinent information, that small investors and business owners rely on, for managing large sums of wealth, that will affect their future well-being, maybe your changes should include a monthly report, or maybe a bi-monthly report will suffice. Since you are seeking to loosen accountability with a move to semi-annual reporting, we investors must heed the warning that something is being hidden, and DEMAND accountability be TIGHTENED. I believe increasing reporting frequency to be a wonderful and fitting idea due to our current climate of rampant fraud. I’m going to suggest this to all my associates; I am most certain they will agree. Warmest regards, Todd Fowler, Owner Be Strong and Courageous – Life Coaching

---

Todd Pomeroy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Todd Pomeroy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Given the SEC’s record of allowing fraud to exist in the U.S. equity market, this seems like an open invitation for companies to hide behind lax reporting requirements. Please show me how this will benefit retail investors? I really doubt that retail will benefit from this change, but I’d like the opportunity to scrutinize any attempt at justification.

Todd Pomeroy
Retail investor
Airline pilot

Sent from my iPhone

Tom & Jennie — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom & Jennie Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please keep all filings quarterly. I have always kept a close eye on my investments and would like to continue to do so.
Jennie Schardt
Retired

Tom Beaman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom Beaman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Don't cut the quarterly reporting requirement! It's not like it is overly onerous or a new mandate. Changing it to semi- annual would only choke off information that is important to millions of people. Keep the reporting requirement quarterly as they have been for decades.

Tom Beaman Investor; retired teacher
Boring, Oregon

Tom Egnew — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom Egnew Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The SEC wants me to invest but doesn't want me to have transparency on my investments? You really are trying to sell a pig in a poke! Bad idea. Drop it!

Thomas Egnew

Sent from my iPhone

Tom Hoida — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom Hoida Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It is a huge mistake to let companies report every 6 months. This will absolutely hurt regular people like myself who do invest. Only the insiders will be able to make good decisions on buying and selling. This would only be another gift to billionaires and insiders. The system is already rigged for them.

Regards,
Tom Hoida

Tom Snider — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom Snider Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the quarterly report

Sent from my iPhone

Tom Whiteside — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom Whiteside Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 There should be zero consideration for anything other than quarterly reporting. Public companies are required to report quarterly earnings and financial statements every 90 days and not 180 days.

Sent from Gmail Mobile

Tommy Ezell — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tommy Ezell Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Tom Ezell, small business owner and a proud American Voter. With greed, deceit and insider-trading, already in the forefront of our business world, we don't need to make it easier for anyone or any business to become "shady" or give them additional opportunities to hide questionable business practices.. This possible change would easily give someone or company a minimum of 6 months to "hide" things from the general public; making the stock market and the average stockholder vulnerable, which in turn puts the entire financial system of America at risk.. Please don't allow this potential change.

Tracey JIllson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tracey JIllson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We rely on quarterly reports to make financial decisions.
To change the way companies report what and how their business is doing does not give the public transparency.
In fact is looks sketchy as if companies are hiding potential issues.
Many of us depend on seeing what our assets are doing quarterly to live. Hiding what is going on for 6 months makes us need to rethink what we are investing in and want to make changes. Just remember the public does have choices ,we can pull out all our funds and put it in with banks! We want clarity and no changes!
The Jillson's

Sent from my iPad

Tracey Stahl — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tracey Stahl Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Why hide from the public, but insiders get access? KEEP THE QUARTERLY REPORTS. We're at a recession! And we have a right to know

---

Tracy Brown — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tracy Brown Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stop being corrupt. You work for the people. Do your fucking job. How many people will you fuck by this. Soon you will fuck yourself. Keep reporting at 3 months. Do your job better and use your fucking ethics and brains.

Tracy Harrington — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Tracy Harrington Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the SEC

The transparency of corporate results are a critical factor in determining the performance of a company upon which investment decisions get made. A significant portion of Americans have retirement funds tied up in equities as well as corporate bonds. Having transparency into the performance of these companies on a frequent basis is critical to making the right investment decisions. Do not reduce the frequency to semi annually.

Respectfully , Tracy Harrington, technology executive and concerned US citizen

---

Tracy Hinkley — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tracy Hinkley Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the quarterly rule. No six mon th rule.

Best,

Tracy Hinkley

Be CALM. Be STRONG. Be GRATEFUL.

Tracy J Placido — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Tracy J Placido Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Tracy J Placido retired Oregon. We need the information at least quarterly to insure our investments are being properly maintained. No, on going back to every six month reporting!!!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Tracy Thompson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Tracy Thompson It is unfair to the general public and retail traders that there's so much insider trading that already goes on. And so much manipulation within the market it would make it even more unfair to regular traders for them not to be able to see the books of companies for six months quarterly reporting is needed

---

Trevin Johnson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Trevin Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I'm a retail investor and I rely on quarterly reports to make decisions about my investments and retirement savings it is vital information that i need and impacts me as a person.

Trina P Barnes — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Trina P Barnes Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Continue quarterly reporting!

Sent from my iPad

Trish Lingle — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Trish Lingle Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 There is no good rationale for cutting back on quarterly reports. Investors have an absolute right to know. Keep the reports quarterly so investors know and can act on performance. It's our money and our future!
Patricia Lingle

Sent from my iPhone

Trish McNaull — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Trish McNaull Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is a suggestion with neither merit nor careful contemplation. History is the harbinger.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Trish Rowe — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Trish Rowe Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Patricia Rowe. I am a 78 year-old-widow on a fixed income. I do check my investments on line to be sure. The SEC should continue quarterly reports. We need to be able to protect our invested money and to know if a company is sound.

Trisha Brown — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Trisha Brown Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This has proven in the past to be a horrible move. Don't repeat bad choices.

Trisha Brown, School Counselor

Sent via the Samsung Galaxy S26, an AT&T 5G smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Two2 Sharp — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Two2 Sharp Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 TRANSPARENCY! IT'S OUR RIGHT!

Tyler C — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tyler C Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Who in the right mind would think that this is a good idea. I will take my money out of the market and invest only in Cryptocurrency!
Tyler CRISCI business owner..

Thank you,
Tyler

Tyler Matheny — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Tyler Matheny Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing in strong opposition to the SEC's proposal to allow public companies to file semiannual reports on Form 10-S in lieu of quarterly Form 10-Q reports. This change would be a gift to corporate insiders and a disaster for ordinary investors like me. America already tried reduced transparency between 1955 and 1970, and investors paid the price with lower returns and valuations. Bringing back six-month blackouts is reckless.
The core problem is simple. This proposal lets failing companies hide shit results for half the year. Executives, lawyers, and big institutional investors will still get internal data, guidance, and early warnings. Retail investors and average shareholders will be left in the dark, unable to react to problems until it is too late. We have seen exactly how this plays out: delayed revelations, insider selling, rug pulls, and collapses that wipe out retirement savings while management cashes out.

Quarterly reporting forces accountability. It keeps management honest because the market watches every 90 days. Reducing that scrutiny invites fraud, earnings management, and short-term manipulation in reverse: burying bad news instead of fixing it. Enron happened with quarterly filings. Imagine the games companies could play with six months between disclosures.

This is not about reducing burden or long-term thinking. It is regulatory capture that protects underperforming executives at the expense of transparency, which is the bedrock of fair and efficient public markets. The SEC's mission is to protect investors, not hand corporations a hall pass to go dark. Optional or not, this will pressure smaller companies to opt in, creating a two-tiered system where the little guy always loses.

I urge the Commission to reject this proposal entirely. Maintain mandatory quarterly reporting. Transparency is not a regulatory burden. It is what builds trust and prevents the next crisis that hurts everyday Americans.

Submitted by: Tyler Matheny
Pflugerville, TX
Date: June 10, 2026

---

unligil — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: unligil Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Financial reporting should be kept quarterly because up to date information needs to be available to public investors not just sleazy insiders.
Thank you.

Peri Unligil, M.D.
Pittsburgh, PA

Sent from my Galaxy

Valerie Greco — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Valerie Greco Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is Valerie Greco, I'm 73 , an RN and still working. I need to know what's happening with my investments in a timely manner and that DOES NOT mean 2 x a year ! Between my SS and investments I am still short which is why I returned to the workforce after retiring.

Sent from my iPhone

Valerie Kuntzman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Valerie Kuntzman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports need to be continued. It keeps everyone informed and up to date.

Valerie M. Kuntzman

Valerie Lindsey — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Valerie Lindsey Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please ensure that companies maintain quarterly reporting so investors can monitor their investments.

Valerie Lindsey
Retired civil servant

Valerie Peck — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Valerie Peck Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Do not go backwards. Quarterly reports are important.

Valerie Welch — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Valerie Welch Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quit wasting your time and our money by making changes that only benefit insiders. Keep it fair for all with quarterly reporting!! This WILL affect my vote!

Vaughn Beams — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vaughn Beams Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Bad rule. Continue the open timely quarterly reporting.

Vee Childs — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Vee Childs Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Do not allow companies to hide information please.
Trade should be completely transparent, not hiding anything.
At this rate we will not have a Wall Street.
Please allow full transparency!

Thank you,

Veige Williams — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Veige Williams Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep public companies honest by reporting quarterly!

Sent from my iPhone

Veronica Pilkington — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Veronica Pilkington Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Ronnie Pilkington. Insider trading has become a huge problem. How is the average person to reap any revenue from their investments when the crooked politicians and families of politicians have insider info and it's months before it becomes public. Status Quo is good, too much secretive behavior can happen in 6 months.

Vicki Baker — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vicki Baker Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Why are you going to do this? Keep it above board and do not cave. We want to know what our investments are doi g and what is happening to them. Do not Hide ! We the people are getting sick of begging for things to be done the proper way.

Vicki Baker. Retired

Sent from my Galaxy

Vicki Boling — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Vicki Boling Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Vicki Boling. Quarterly reports are important to the financial health of this country.

Vicki Brewer — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vicki Brewer Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 In two words: NOT OKAY. I have inherited stock with a company that already was involved in a scandal that began in the early 2000s.
My name is Vicki Brewer, I'm retired and this stock will help secure the future of a great-nephew who lost his Mom at age nine.

Vicki Jones — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vicki Jones Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Keep the * reporting as is! This is just more corruption!
Victoria Jones
Georgetown TX
78633

Vicki Parker — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vicki Parker Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Investors need current information

Sent from my iPhone
Have a great day!

Vickie Bouska — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vickie Bouska Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I am sick to death of all the on your face corruption. We need rules & consequences & not this pay to play corruption that is ongoing.

Sent from my iPhone

Vickie Casey — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vickie Casey Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Retain quarterly reports. Personally I favor monthly. Vickie Christine Cook Casey, BSEd, MBA, DAR

Sent from my iPhone

Victoria Arteaga — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Victoria Arteaga Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 The SEC is trying to rig our financial system.
We can not have anything less than a quarterly report. Keep America honest.
Do not allow this cheating to happen.

Victoria

Victoria Korosei — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Victoria Korosei Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please protect consumers. I’m retired, fixed income, can’t afford any more corporate shenanigans than I already have to deal with. Really?! Thank you for remembering why you’re there.

Sent from my iPhone

Victoria Martineau — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Victoria Martineau Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We need to protect the small businesses, they are slowly disappearing. Also where the big corporations are getting their money, more disclosure is needed. Our country is slowly being sold out from under us. To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

Vince Cerrito II — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vince Cerrito II Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This is some BS this is hurting people even more this is totally ridiculous and if you pass this, there's gonna be lots of problems. Lots of lots of lawsuits.

Vince Melvin — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Vince Melvin Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dear Congress: In this age of instant answers to queries, it seems to be a glaring hole in the system to extend reporting times. Please do not approve the six month rule. We all know we could get reports at nearly a moments notice. Thank all of you for reading my message. And please seriously consider not harming the average American citizen investor. When we know to do so would be outright wrong in this day of instant answers!

Beatissimam Matrem Nostram Veneremur,
Vincent J. "Vince" Melvin

Vincent Regalado — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vincent Regalado Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Vincent R Regalado, retired Teamster. Keep the quarterly reports. There is enough fraud without taking away one of the ways to calculate your next investment.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

---

vincent ferlita — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: vincent ferlita Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a retiree and a self investor I depend on quarterly reports to safeguard my assets. In fact, I refuse to invest in a corporation or partnerships who do dot issue quarterly reports.

Vincent Pietropaolo — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Vincent Pietropaolo Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly earnings help me make informed descisions on which companies are investable. Without this key information there's no way to tell what companies are honestly doing and earning. It's essential to investing. It's essential to prove companies are doing what they say or promise. In my honest opinion this will make the market uninvestable.

VIOLA PENA — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: VIOLA PENA Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Please keep this quarterly because that way I can look and see how I'm doing on my money. Thank you for your attention

Sent from my iPhone

Virginia Bailey — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Virginia Bailey Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Quarterly reports are important to the individual investor too! This will cause delays in making investment decisions that effect every IRA and particularly retirees!!

Sent from my iPhone

Virginia Quill — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Virginia Quill Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 That is your investors money! You can't hide what your doing with their money! Keep the quarterly reports!!!

Virginia Thompson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Virginia Thompson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 How is this legal?

Virginia Thompson, retired teacher.

Viv Crowe — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Viv Crowe Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Timely reporting is a crucial element in the age of blockchain, AI and period of rapid change. A digitized economy demands more Timely reporting...my retirement portfolio needs accurate, timely data in order to keep pace in this time of rapid change and innovation. every investor needs this...in order to make the best personal financial decisions for their family. Earnings reporting is public data you can count on...data delayed is same as data denied. I am a retired financial advisor living in Southern California.
Thank you,

Vivian Crowe.

VT Guy — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: VT Guy Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Since quarterly reports are inexpensive to corporations there is literally no reason to make it every six months other than rampant corruption.

Sent from my iPhone

---

v_volks62 — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: v_volks62 Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Vean Beutler, individual investor. Wyoming, I disagree with less information is good. I track my investment money very regularly. The information on a quartly basis is at times not enough. Knowledge is necessary for informed decision-making. The reduction of information will increase the difficulty on which I can base my decisions in this very volatile world. I urge the SEC to stay quartly. Learn from those that have made the move to semi annual and are now considering coming back to quartly.

Walter Downarowicz — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Walter Downarowicz Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 There is no reason to give the unscrupulous more opportunities. Don't do this.

Sent from my iPad

Wanda Callari — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wanda Callari Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Wanda Callari Retired…this will ruin my retirement planning. Business don't need anymore tax cuts, loop holes or help.

Watson Mgmt — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Watson Mgmt Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 44 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Sent from my iPhone

Wayne Gordon — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wayne Gordon Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I think three months is too long. Six months is a license to conceal.

Sent from my iPhone

Wayne Persing — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wayne Persing Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Transparency is key.

This proposal is ludicrous

Wayne Persing
Senior Editor, Retired

mobile: 610.653.9599

Wendy Arntson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wendy Arntson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 It is an investor's responsibility to keep track of their money. The SEC should NOT reset the reports from quarterly to semi-annual. Retirement accounts are especially susceptible to changes.

Wendy Arntson, retiree

Sent from my Galaxy

WENDY BLAKE — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: WENDY BLAKE Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Past history shows reporting semi-annually lowers investment portfolios. As a recent retiree I cannot afford to lose what I have worked decades saving. Please keep reporting in a quarterly basis. Thank you. Wendy L Blake

Sent from my iPhone

Wendy Carter — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Wendy Carter Hello, I have been investing my personal money for 35 years preparing for retirement. As an investor, I believe quarterly reports are the bare minimum. That's 4 plot points per year that are solid numbers, everything else is conjecture, superficial, contrived, and telling people only what you want them to know. Frequent reports instill financial reporting discipline and provide transparency to investors. A gap of 6 months would allow company insiders to possess nonpublic information for longer periods, thus encouraging insider trading. If a company thinks the compliance costs of being PUBLICLY owned and traded are too much, they should not go public. That is the cost of doing business.

Wendy flockhart — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Wendy flockhart This change should Absolutely not be permitted. These companies must be accountable in real time

---

Wendy L Starn — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wendy L Starn Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 We deserve to know where and how our retirement funds are invested, and what profit or loss is happening. Keep the quarterly statements!

Wendy LaCrosse — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wendy LaCrosse Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Stop trying to pull the wool over our eyes and keep things transparent.

Wendy McClanahan — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Wendy McClanahan Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Where are our attorneys? Why isn't our congress submitting lawsuits. Where is the lawsuit for the insurrection

---

Westa Bryant — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Westa Bryant Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Westa Bryant, Customer Service. I want to know at least quarterly how my 401(k) is doing. Why not?

---

whitney matson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: whitney matson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As an American the only viable path to a secure retirement includes investing in the stock market. While I don't routinely read corporate quarterly reports, I rely on experts that do to help inform my decisions and keep a functioning market. This impacts nearly every American and it isn't okay to reduce transparency or oversight on corporations that hold trillions of dollars owned by hard working American workers.

Whitney Matson

Will Kern — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Will Kern Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This rule change could affect the value of our investments! Please don't enact it.

---

will smith — Jun 10, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: will smith Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Absolutely NOT. You all know exactly what you are trying to do is WRONG. GET IT TOGETHER!!!!

Will Zachmann — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Will Zachmann Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 My name is William Zachmann, I'm semi-retired, live in Loudoun County, VA, and do not, under any circumstances, wish to see any reductuon in the frequency of reporting on the part of publicly traded companies. Quarterly reporting is the minimum, gold-standard requirement that ensures modest investors such as myself can track the financial performance of compaies with which we've entrusted our hard-earned money. A reductuon in reporting frequency is a reduction in transparency, and is bound to weaken investor confidence.

This is my comment in response to the proposed rule change.

William Zachmann

William — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: William Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 This failed the last time it was done don’t do it again if this passes I will divest from the market

Sent from my iPhone

William Boosman — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Boosman Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To whom it may concern,

I think it would be a huge mistake to relax reporting rules. We need more transparency around corporate finances, not less. Longer periods between reports would allow corporate executives to hide important information, especially from investors and consumers. Please retain the current rules.

Thank you,

William A Boosman

William Burrows — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Burrows Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 William Burrows, technician.

Keep books transparent, not hidden.

Sent from my iPhone

William Deeds — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Quarterly Financials From: William Deeds Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 As a lender and investor, I believe it's important to get timely financial information from companies who you have lent funds to or have made an investment in. Sharing information with the public less than quarterly will hurt the erode the trust between companies and stakeholders/investors/lenders. Bankers and lenders use these reports to make decisions not only for public companies but private ones that do business with them and also individuals that hold investments in public entities.

Please keep the quarter reporting or I'm sure you will see lenders and investors less likely to invest in the debt and equity of public companies.

Best regards,

William Deeds
Managing Member
Tyler Cambridge Partners LLC

William Florek — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: William Florek Remain quarters reporting please It's the right thing to do It's the right way to run your business It's the right way to treat your shareholders Let's not Let's not stray into sketchy and shady business practices please Thank you

---

William Hamilton — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: William Hamilton Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Don't change from current quarterly reporting. Transparency is better for investors. William Hamilton, 2753 Hagadorn, Mason Michigan. 48854

Get Outlook for Android

William L — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William L Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Bill Lewis, Retired Engineer, SEC should hold and maintain rigorous standards of reporting for companies. We do not need to relax standards, but rather to increase them to reduce financial gamesmanship.

Sent from my iPhone

William Starnes — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Starnes Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 William Starnes, retired .There should be no changes made to the current system. The changes would not benefit investors who are not directly associated with with the company. It would give the general public a disadvantage in investing.

Sent from my iPad

William Thygerson — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Thygerson Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I'm Bill Thygerson, a retired engineer. I depend on my savings and investments to be able to live a decent life. The ability of companies to hide important information and insiders to take advantage of normal investors make this almost impossible. Please keep reporting at least quarterly !

---

wjmtv@pgitta.com — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: wjmtv@pgitta.com Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I thought conservatives love to keep everything just the way it is. This time I agree with you. KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTING.

XUgrad — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: XUgrad Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 JP- I teach Financial Literacy as an Ohio graduation requirement in high school. Don’t make us have to change the curriculum to include “politicians and fraud vs your personal choices”. Enough of this Billionaire Grift bull ****!

Sent from my iPhone

Yahoo! — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Yahoo! Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Dear SEC, Pls keep Qtrly reports mandatory, & consider monthly digital reports be available online!?! Cordially, G.Dunlap, 91767

Yanira Batista — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Yanira Batista Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Yanira Batista from New Jersey, we demand more transparency not less. We must continue quarterly reporting so that we may track our investments & so the public companies are incentivized to responsibly manage their books (our money)! Less reporting will equal less visibility & we do not trust that!

Sent from my Galaxy

Yashmin Owens — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Yashmin Owens Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Yashmin/Customer Service/Why this matters: Considering that many of these companies use tax payer dollars to fund their business on some capacity, it's only right that the public should know where the money is going and how its being spent.

Yvonne Tallent — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Yvonne Tallent Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Yvonne Tallent Retired LCSW
I depend on information every three months to make sound financial decisions for my future and my adult children's future. It is unconscionable that this will be lengthened to six months keeping us in the dark. Please reconsider this decision.

Sent from my iPhone

Zac Lemons — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Zac Lemons Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I am an individual investor and quarterly reports are an important tool I use to make decisions about my investments and retirement accounts. It is a vital component of holding companies accountable.

---

zapperdonm — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: Keep the important reports being filed quarterly to keep ALL shareholders informed. From: zapperdonm Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 Sent from my Galaxy

---

Zenda Boss-Hall — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Zenda Boss-Hall Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I believe the reports should be more often, not less. There is already too much manipulation in the market that can ruin small investors.
Zenda Boss retired

Get Outlook for iOS

---

zenfisher — Jun 10, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: zenfisher Affiliation: Jun. 10, 2026 I think there should be monthly reporting. That would make it easier to see a more accurate assessment.

Ph.D. Regina Spellers Sims — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ph.D. Regina Spellers Sims Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please keep showing us the reports and don't hide them 6 months. thanks

Thank you. ~RSS

A & L — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: A & L Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The quarterly reports are important and valuable for investors to review the performance of companies. I urge the SEC to retain the requirement that quarterly reports are produced for those companies that are a part of the U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Linda Solomon
Laurel, Maryland 20723

A K — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: A K Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The public deserves the information. Public companies should not be allowed to hide information about their performance. They should continue quarterly reports. Gaming the system hurts the people. Do not allow companies to continue to game the system and hurt the people. Remember without the people you don't have workers and you don't have a government.

A M Alfrey — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: A M Alfrey Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting is essential for all investors. Stop trying to hide from the people. A Alfrey, Executive Director

---

Abby Molino — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Abby Molino Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Abby Molino RN. Don't hide data. Remain transparent. Singapore and EU changed and are changing back. Do the work quarterly. It affects working people's financial well being. People like me, invested and affected deeply when things go south. Catch it early. Thank you.

Adam Brooker — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Adam Brooker Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

NO.
There is historic precedence. This is a bad idea.
When you give large businesses the opportunity and motive to hide things in the name of profit, they will.
please keep enforcing quarterly statements for all companies which are publicly traded.

Adam S — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Adam S Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Small investors need the quarterly financial reports in order to make good decisions concerning their investments.

Adam

Adrian Koster — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Adrian Koster Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Adrian Koster: Entrepreneur. This change would make financial decision making and investing much harder for folks without inside knowledge. Our world moves faster than ever and biannual reporting will disconnect the markets from the economic reality. We absolutely need to keep the reporting quarterly! Thank you!

Agust Gudmundsson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Agust Gudmundsson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Retail investors like you take the hardest hit if this proposal is adopted.
Retail investors need clear, accurate and timely information to make informed investment decisions. Insiders and institutional investors will always have the resources and relationships to get the information they need. Without quarterly reporting, retail investors are on an unlevel playing field, with no way to get timely information about public companies.

Aidan Lerew — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Aidan Lerew Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Aidan Lerew - Account Analyst

Quarterly reporting is extremely important for transperancy as an investor and employee. If companies plan to be publicly traded, then they need to continue regular quarterly reporting. By moving to a 6 month window, we face many issues in the international sphere that could lead to harder landings in the case of a recession due to econimic indicators of health being missed over a 6 month window.

Aidan Sloan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Aidan Sloan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Good morning,

My name is Aidan Sloan, and I am an accountant in Lincoln, NE. I think that quarterly reporting is of great benefit to investors, and a necessary element of keeping corporations in check. Additionally, quarterly reporting has been working well for many years now, and as technology gets better, it's getting easier and easier for companies to meet the current reporting requirements. I see no way that allowing companies to be more opaque with their finances wouldn't allow more fraud, increase insider trading opportunities, and generally reduce the already diminished trust people have in corporations. When we allow companies to chose whether or not they want to disclose information to investors, even if just a couple times a year, we allow companies to take advantage of whichever set of numbers tends to look better for them. This is a time in American history when we need more transparency than ever. If anything, we should be increasing the reporting requirements, or further prorating reporting requirements based on size of corporation.

Thank you for your time and consideration,
Aidan Sloan

Albert Delgado — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Albert Delgado Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This administration talks about transparency but hides so much. Keep those reports quarterly. Do your job.

Albert Delgado — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Albert Delgado Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This administration talks about transparency but hides so much. Keep those reports quarterly. Do your job.

Alex Denson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alex Denson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Honest people have nothing to hide. Prove you're honest and do it the right way.

Alex Denson
Registered voter and investor

Ali Riley — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ali Riley Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We have enough graft, lies and fraud as it is. Don't take accountability away from companies. Keep investors informed!

Sent from my iPhone

AliceAnn Skehan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: AliceAnn Skehan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I and my spouse are actively involved in the stock market, and have been for the last 45 years. We count on quarterly reports of the companies that comprise our retirement stock portfolios. We request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Respectfully,
Alice and Thomas Skehan

Alicia Crockett — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alicia Crockett Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Transparency is the reason! Stop this insanity now! No to 6 months!!!!

Alisha Colyer — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alisha Colyer Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We need total transparency. The money we put in our 401ks to benefit us for our retirement, this hurts the individual that is trying to build their retirement future. The companies are the only one benefiting from this plan that is built by the the individual and should not hurt us while helping the corporations

---

All Cats PDX — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: All Cats PDX Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Ariane and I'm a recent retiree with a 401(k) and some other investments for my retirement.
For more than half a century, publicly traded companies in the United States have been required to report their financial performance every quarter. This system has become a cornerstone of market transparency, helping ensure that investors have regular access to accurate and timely information. Proposals to reduce reporting frequency may appear attractive to corporations seeking fewer regulatory requirements, but doing so would ultimately weaken transparency, reduce accountability, and disadvantage ordinary investors.
One of the primary benefits of quarterly reporting is that it promotes equal access to information. Large institutional investors often have teams of analysts, industry contacts, and extensive resources to evaluate companies. Individual investors, by contrast, rely heavily on publicly available information when making investment decisions. Regular quarterly reports help level the playing field by ensuring that all investors receive important financial updates on a predictable schedule. Without these reports, information gaps between professional investors and the general public could widen significantly.

Quarterly reporting also strengthens transparency. Investors deserve to know how the companie s they own are performing, especially when their retirement savings, pensions, and investment accounts depend on those companies' success. Quarterly reports provide critical information about revenue, profits, debt, cash flow, and business risks. More frequent reporting allows investors to identify emerging problems sooner and make informed decisions based on current facts rather than outdated information.

In addition, quarterly reporting improves market efficiency. Financial markets function best when participants have access to timely and reliable information. If companies were permitted to go six months or longer without providing comprehensive financial updates, investors would be forced to rely more heavily on speculation, rumors, and incomplete data. This uncertainty can increase market volatility and reduce confidence in the fairness of the marketplace.

Regular reporting also promotes corporate accountability. Public companies benefit enormously from access to public capital markets. In return, they have an obligation to provide shareholders with meaningful information about their performance.

Quarterly reporting allows investors to evaluate whether management is delivering on its promises and whether a company's strategy is producing results. Less frequent reporting would reduce opportunities for shareholders to monitor management and hold executives accountable.

Supporters of reducing reporting requirements often argue that quarterly reports encourage short-term thinking. While concerns about excessive focus on quarterly earnings are valid, reducing transparency is not the solution. Investors can and do evaluate companies based on long-term performance while still benefiting from regular financial disclosures.

Companies should be encouraged to pursue long-term growth strategies, but that goal should not come at the expense of providing investors with timely information.

The United States has (until recently due to questionable acts by those in power) long been recognized for having some of the most transparent and trusted capital markets in the world. Quarterly reporting has played an important role in building that trust. Reducing reporting frequency would provide less information to ordinary investors, weaken accountability, and increase the advantages enjoyed by insiders and large institutions. For these reasons, quarterly reporting should be preserved as an essential safeguard for transparency, fairness, and investor confidence.

Sincerely,

Ariane Holzhauer
All Cats PDX - Total Cat Care In Your Home

Allen Crutcher — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Allen Crutcher Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting is already barely adeqate. Longer would be completely unfair to the average investor and, once again, strongly favor big money.

Allie Richardson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Allie Richardson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I prefer quarterly reporting because I believe that semi-annual reporting will lead to more risk, less truthful reporting, and more harm to retail investors.

Allie Richardson

Allie Strand — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Allie Strand Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Leave the quarterly reports alone!

Allyson Pate — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Allyson Pate Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Really? Just another way to hide billionaires' investments. We deserve the truth in real time.

Sent from my iPhone

AMH2025 — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: AMH2025 Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the current quarterly reporting requirements. Shareholders are entitled to know how companies are performing. Transparency is absolutely essential.

Ammber — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ammber Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is terrible and will destroy millions of American's retirement funds. Companies do not have the public's interest at heart and we are tired of being the scape goat and bailing them out. We need more transparency since corporations and politicians are in bed together.

Sent from my iPhone

Amy Allison — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Amy Allison Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Dear SEC,

I would like the reporting to remain quarterly. We are seeing an increase in fraud and insider trading by elected officials, and appointed cronies. They are dismantling consumer protections, and stealing from tax payers. I would like to maintain the greater transparency afforded by quarterly statements, so I can continue to make decisions about my investments, based on frequent, current data. I also see this as a way to maintain oversight over insider trading.

Regards,
Amy Allison

Sent from my iPad

Amy Davidson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Amy Davidson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is absurd! "Can you say" SEC is going soft and basically putting their stamp on insider trading. This will hurt retail investors and if you move to 6 month reporting, the backlash from retail investors could break it all and how stupid of a decision would it be then!!
Amy Davidson

Amy Garrett — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Amy Garrett Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I'm a PhD candidate at an R1 institution. I'm a teacher and researcher. Allowing quarterly reports to be hidden affects research, our health (potentially), and the futures of students who we should be encouraging and supporting. Please think about the effects of your actions. Aren't millions enough? Please think of others.

Thank you!

Amy

Amy Morgan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Amy Morgan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 A three month wait to find out if we should be making adjustments is already too long. Six months? Ridiculous. It means trying to make decions in a black hole. Business wants less paperwork, but most reporting is fully automated now. So there's no need.to make that black hole any larger than it already is.

Amy Morgan

Amy Schwartzberg — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Amy Schwartzberg Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I feel that quarterly reports are essential to making sound financial decisions.
Amy Schwartzberg, Legal Assistant

Amy Stevens — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Amy Stevens Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting protects the little guy, the small investor, the pension fund. Reporting every 6 months protects big money. You won’t find out things are going south until it’s too late. This is just another way to rig things in favor of the wealthy and powerful.

Sent from my iPhone

Amy Wheat Rumberger — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on Rule Change: We NEED quarterly reports From: Amy Wheat Rumberger Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Name: Amy Rumberger
Occupation: Attorney

Opinion: It is unreasonable to require the average investor to wait 6 months between reports. This delay enables insiders to abuse their inside information to the detriment of other investors. Please don’t do this. It’s morally wrong. Keeping investors in the dark is unethical.

PLEASE BE ADVISED: This is a private communication protected by the laws of the United States of America including — but not limited to — the First and Fourth Amendments to the United States Constitution. Neither it nor its derived metadata may be collected, stored, retrieved, reprinted, copied, retransmitted, or disseminated by any element of the US Government or its partners without the express authorization of the originator.

Andrea Bell — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Andrea Bell Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Andrea Bell. I work as a producer, and have been in business management and accounting in the past. Maintaining quarterly reporting is important to me because it maintains the power of the reporting to do its job and prevent fraud. That's important to me in general because the last thing we need is more companies engaging in fraudulent business practices requiring a bailout, and also because it removes oversight and pushes knowledge sharing into backroom influence situations where access to information has an entry fee.

Andrew Dowdell — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Andrew Dowdell Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reports exist for a reason. They keep investors and agents informed and companies honest. They are NOT a burden since all the data is computerized and instantly available. The only reason to push them to 6 months is to give advantage to corps and inside traders which has become endemic during the trump years. Halt the blatant corruption now.

Andrew Franks — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Andrew Franks Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Andrew S. Franks, Strategic Management Consultant

The quarterly reports enable us (We, the shareholders, who OWN THE CORPORATIONS) to keep close tabs on THE CORPORATIONS WE OWN. KEEP the Quarterly Reports!

Sincerely,
Andrew S. Franks

Andrew Hess — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Andrew Hess Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Dear SEC, For larger companies that have the resources to do so, quarterly reporting should remain. For small companies of 500 employees or fewer or less than 50 million USD in revenue, reporting twice a year is probably fine and reduces their regulatory overhead.

Andrew Hess

Andrew Williams — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Andrew Williams Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 6 months won't work for fundamental investors. Why are making it harder for the little guy to invest? I live off my investments and can't make decisions hamstrung by information blackouts! Are you on the common mans side or large corporations?Andrew Williams - investor

Sent from my iPhone

Andy Solomon — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Andy Solomon Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 A lot of dirty stuff can go on behind closed doors in 6 months. That is way too long between fiscal reports.

Get Outlook for Android

Andy Cawthon — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Andy Cawthon Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Timely information is the surest way for investors to manage their portfolios. A six month snapshot is too long to wait in a volitile market. Keep corporate reporting quarterly.

Andy Cawthon
50 Howard Ave

Grand Haven, MI 49417
616-405-8530 Cell
cawthon01@gmail.com

CONFIDENTIAL, PRIVILEGED COMMUNICATION
The information contained in this email and any attachments is private and intended for the addressee(s) only. If you have received this transmission in error, you are not authorized to read, copy, disclose or disseminate it in any manner. If you have received it in error, please delete it and all copies (including backup copies) that have been made, and transmit a reply message informing the sender that it was misdirected.

Andy Krotseng — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Andy Krotseng Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Norman A. Krotseng - I was a trust reporting analyst at KeyBank National Association reporting SEC Quarterly. This was several years ago. I was acutely aware of the detail involved in the numbers and care taken in accuracy. Everything I did was double and triple checked. It is absolutely imperative to continue quarterly reporting by corporations. Please do not make the grave mistake of changing this.

Sent from my iPhone

Angela Giddings — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Angela Giddings Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I'm a newly retired US citizen. New retirees in particular would be negatively impacted by the change from 3 to 6 month reporting because we need to make our investment dollars stretch and need the more robust insight to do so.

Please keep the 3-month reporting in place.

Sincerely,
Angela Giddings

Sent from my iPhone

Angela Babby — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Angela Babby Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Just stop with the hiding of all information…my name is Angela Babby and I am an Artist . This matters to every American. We deserve to have the info we need to make good decisions in our lives. Stop destroying our country.

Sent from my iPhone

Anita Kusick — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anita Kusick Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 40 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Sent from my iPhone

Anita Stafford — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anita Stafford Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 35 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Ann Bishop — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ann Bishop Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Transparency to all is the only way to save the system.

Ann Cortina — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ann Cortina Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Absolutely no on this proposal.

Sent from my iPhone

Ann Wilson-McNally — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ann Wilson-McNally Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Ms. A. McNally. I am a small investor, who deserves the same information about potential or current investments as the insiders get.

Investment performance needs to remain publicly available every 3 months, as it has been for decades!

It's not okay to allow companies to potentially silently fail in the background, while it's hidden from those who need to know how their investments are being impacted or to silently excel, while potential investors are left in the dark about good investment opportunities.

Do not change the reporting rule from 3 months to 6 months! This was done to keep companies honest and above board.

Ann-Marie Smith — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ann-Marie Smith Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the quarterly period for reporting. History shows we cannot trust corporations. Keep the pressure on please. Thank you!
Ann M Smith, retired Clinical DM

Sent from my iPhone

Anna L Politan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anna L Politan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Dawn Edgerton-Cameron. Financial Advisor. I need my clients to be able to trust the investments my CIO recommends for them. Keep the transparency. It hasn't been a burden for 70 years, why is it now in the digital age?

Anne & John Bass — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anne & John Bass Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The 10-Q is the only regular check investors have on public companies. Big NO! That gives insiders a HUGE advantage 🤬

Make it a great day!

Anne Marie OConnor-Smith — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anne Marie OConnor-Smith Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am a retired software and project engineer who worked on financial systems for several top ranked Fortune 500 corporations.
Six months is much too long of a timeframe for corporations to release financials to investors. Investors will lose confidence in US corporations if this unnecessary change in reporting requirements is made.

Thank You,
Anne OConnor-Smith

Annie Oosterwyk — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Annie Oosterwyk Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Stop the unethical behavior! Be honest and transparent.
Annie Oosterwyk
Librarian

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting has been the standard for decades, predating computers. There is no good reason to change it now that information is readily available virtually in an instant. Vote NO on semi-annual reporting.

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Statements only every 6 months is ok if clients have daily access to their holdings. Pension reporting is already murky. Transparency is critical.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This seam like it will cause more unfairness in the public stock market.

Don't change the rules.

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reports keep companies honest. How is the public supposed to believe that they are being truthful if the accountability is blind? Our stock market/all markets work because of the reporting to the public! If bad behavior and recklessness are not punished what happens to the trust the public puts into these markets, it plummets. Take away trust and the markets will plunge, don't allow this to happen. The public already is struggling to trust what is happening in this country, without the public companies reporting, the people won't have the information they need to make sound decisions. Please, don't take everything away from the people!

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To ensure that companies operate with complete transparency, I believe it is necessary to maintain quarterly reporting.

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Dear SEC: Your responsibility is to the American people, not to corporations. Changing your rules might be good sometimes, but if it is not done for the good of the market, to keep things fair, honest, and open, then it should not be allowed. Your job is to consider the millions of little people whose retirements depend on their 401K plans and IRAs. Allowing billionaires and trillionaires to escape financial scrutiny is just WRONG. Please protect capitalism by regulating it!!

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please do not change to six month reporting. This will only add risk to the market and encourage insider trading. We have enough corruption in this country already. Say NO to six month reporting!

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 They need to be held accountable. Nothing else will do.

Sent from Proton Mail for Android.

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep quality reporting - we need more daylight not less.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We need full transparency in finance, and protection from very rich interests

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am a retired law professor who, like many Americans, worked hard and regularly contributed a portion of my earnings to investment accounts for retirement. Those investments are critical to my having sufficient funds in the future to meet inflation and the likely possibility of long term care. I have been a careful investor and I rely on quarterly reports to inform my decision-making. Please do not turn the clock back to 1955. Keep the current reporting requirements. Thank you, Deborah Young, a resident of Birmingham, Alabama.

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have an annuity plan to live on as I am retired. The people managing that plan have to know what's going on and where to invest in the market. And Lord God! How are they to make good decisions when the data is so secretive and unavailable? Keep the quarterly reports. Too bad they aren't monthly!

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The public needs to have those reports. Keeping these hidden from some reeks of preferential and unfair familiarity with the market.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Lori Siller. I have worked long, physically depleting years and at 58 am looking to retire…soon. Please reconsider your decision and keep this hairdresser on track to do so by staying transparent with my money!!!

Regards,
Lori Siller

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It is wrong for the SEC to let companies hide for six months. Please leave it at the recognized 3 mo reporting period for us little guys.

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This will only benefit corporations and powerful board members AND big corporate investors. It will only hurt individual investors and 401k, IRAs etc. it's wrong, another thumb on the scale, turn into even more of a casino ! Don't do it. Americans are being squeezed every which way; we need to be able to have some faith in the stock market that millions depend on for our future ! Don't do it.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 RETAIN quarterly reporting! Guess we've not learned anything from previous escapades. QUARTERLY reporting is a MUST!

"...those who mind don't matter & those who matter don't mind." Dr. Suess

---

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the reports quarterly.

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Absolutely not. Those who forget the past are doomed to repeat it. You must continue quarterly reporting. It is not an undue strain on companies and only continue to ensure accountability and investor safety.

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I would think it's unfair that as a consumer with those investments being mine that I should have quarterly reports and not every six months. Please keep it the way it is and don’t change it.

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reports

Get Outlook for iOS

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026 The data do not support that moving to biannual reporting will improve outcomes for shareholders, regulators, or the public. Do not allow corporations to continue to extract information and profit while socializing losses.

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I support going to twice yearly reporting. As a financial advisor and a partner at Edward Jones I see how powerful managing for the long term is both in terms of entity profitability and also in terms of being able to do the right things. Sarah Atkins

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 There are checks and balances for a reason. Do you really think it’s good for the country to take them away

Sent from my iPhone

Anthony Calzadilla — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anthony Calzadilla Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Do not do get rid of quarterly reporting

Sent from my iPhone

Anthony Nelson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anthony Nelson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The more reporting the better.

Anthony Nelson

Anthony Noblett — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anthony Noblett Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Anthony Noblett, retired, investor and former cybersecurity professional. The rollback in reporting means even less transparency in the stock market which is already too risky. We do not need to go backwards with transparency. With modern reporting technology we should actually go forward and increase the reporting.

April Atwood — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: April Atwood Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am very much in favor of KEEPING the quarterly reporting. As someone interested in what companies are doing to improve (or lessen negative impacts on) environmental and social conditions, I value the accountability that quarterly reporting can provide. Companies have been doing this and can continue to do so--there is no reason to change.

April Huerta — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: April Huerta Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the quarterly window open. Waiting six months is an unfair advantage. Small windows and transparency is key.

April Huerta

Arland L. Petersen — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Arland L. Petersen Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Semi-annual reporting is too infrequent. It would lead to less complete information for investors and less efficient markets. Retain our current quarterly reporting discipline for investor protection and market efficiency.
Sincerely,
Arland L. Petersen
Wharton MBA, Investor

Sent from my iPhone

Armand saiia — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Armand saiia Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Because the cannibals are sucking the life blood out of our productive as a nation. Like all the other agencies the 🍊 regime has cut, common sense regulations now the fox's are in the hen house eating all of our egg. Scams after scam after scam. Costumers just want what they pay for.

Armand saiia — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Armand saiia Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Because the cannibals are insucking the life blood out of our productive as a nation.

Ashley Taylor — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ashley Taylor I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 25 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my portfolio. Six months without data is not acceptable. Quarterly reports should remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Ashley Webster — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ashley Webster Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Do not eliminate this quarterly reporting. We have a felon in chief qho loves to chat people out of their money, and we don't need companies to joinin the grift.

B Bop — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: B Bop Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Making it easier to commit fraud while investors remain unaware is a terrible idea.

B Bush — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: B Bush Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am a retired engineer. I rely heavily on company reports and gov info for my retirement account decisions. This change in reporting seems to be detrimental for my investing. If this has already been implemented in some countries/exchanges and has been determined to be of no benefit and has allowed increased malfeasance, why implement for the US and expect different results? Seems to me to be a means for the insiders and corporates to benefit while crapping on the little guy... again.

Bob

B T — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: B T Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Insiders have enough advantage over ordinary investors. If you give them additional time the SEC is saying that you don't care about ordinary people.

Bab Ehlers — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bab Ehlers Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Barbara Ehlers, Age 64, Bookkeeper, beginning the journey to investing.

I need the relevant, updated, information available in order to make good choices. Please don’t let companies not report every three months so we know how business is doing. Thank you.

Barb Frits — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Barb Frits Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please send out quarterly reports that you have been doing for years. It helps us understand the changes & what got let go. It's a pain in the butt to send it out but it works, "if it ain't broken, no need to fix it"

Barbara Bracke — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Bracke Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Soon to be retired retail associate...30 years at the same company. I want to continue my quarterly reports to keep updated on my holdings in my 401 K. I watch carefully how my stocks and bonds are reacting in this volatile environment.

Barbara Colucci — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Colucci Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Don’t even think about doing this. How are investors supposed to make informed decisions if you are hiding the facts? I will pull my 401k before letting this happen. Barbara Colucci

---

Barbara Hannnesson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Hannnesson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Going to semi annual increases the risk of fraud going unknown, things are moving to fast in our economy right now to go 6 months without a disclosure. Keep to the quarterly system please

---

Barbara Hollar — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Hollar Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am a retired educator, and I rely on my investments for income. It is important to me to continue quarterly reporting to keep track of my investments and income. Please keep the reporting as it is.
Thank you!
Barbara Hollar

BARBARA KOTELES — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: BARBARA KOTELES Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 No special rules, kickbacks, or incentives to ANY business! TAXPAYERS should be rewarded, NOT corporations!

Get Outlook for Android

Barbara McKay — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara McKay Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Public companies have an obligation of transparency on their performance. As a former communications professional in public companies, I understand how moving to a 6 month reporting schedule negatively affects shareholders, limiting information needed to manage investments. I urge you to retain the current monthly requirement.
Barbara McKay

Barbara Merk — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Barbara Merk Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It's hard enough to save for retirement in order to have enough money to simply survive. We don't need any group or agency piling on. The government is trying to take away the Social Security benefits WE have been paying in to for years (in my case at least 55 years). Leave our retirement accounts alone!

--
Barbara Merk (she/her)
Seattle Storm Founding Fan
2004, 2010, 2018 & 2020 WNBA Champions
OL Reign Season Ticket Holder since 2016

Barbara Mikos — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Mikos Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 That is hideous since you would not ever know how good company is doing or bad and they are planning. So keep it quartly.

Barbara Rudolph — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Rudolph Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I want quarterly reports!

Sent from my iPhone

Barbara Rudolph

Barbara Tobin — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Barbara Tobin Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Barbara Tobin, and I live in Atkinson, NH. I'm 80 years old and I have lived long enough to know that timing is everything. Please do NOT use S7-2026-25 to allow additional reporting time requirements!

Sent from my iPhone

Barbara Vander — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Vander Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am a CPA, prior CFO. Enough can be hidden in Quarterly reports; we cant wait 1/2 a year (plus) to hear more current details.

Thanks,
Barbara Vander

Barry Mansfield — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Barry Mansfield Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Re: File No. S7-2026-15 — Comment in Opposition to Proposed Semi-Annual Reporting Rule
I am writing to urge the Securities and Exchange Commission to reject the proposed rule that would permit public companies to shift from quarterly to semi-annual financial reporting.

The United States has a well-documented historical record on this very question. Between 1955 and 1970, the SEC required only twice-yearly reporting. During that period, real stock market returns were essentially flat and price-to-earnings valuations were significantly lower than they have been in the decades of quarterly reporting that followed. The transition back to quarterly reporting in 1970 coincided with a sustained era of greater market efficiency, higher valuations, and stronger returns for ordinary investors. The Commission itself acknowledged in Release No. 34-8683 (1969) that "the trading markets should have the benefit of quarterly financial information."

Cross-market comparisons today reinforce this record. Markets that require quarterly reporting — including the U.S., Japan, South Korea, and India — consistently trade at higher valuations than markets that settle for semi-annual disclosure. This pattern holds across regions, regulatory regimes, and economic conditions. It is not conclusive proof of causation, but the burden of proof must rest with those who wish to reduce transparency, not those who wish to preserve it.

I am also concerned about the asymmetric impact on retail investors. Executives, large institutions, and sophisticated traders have access to informal channels, industry data, and direct management contact. It is ordinary investors — those who rely entirely on public filings — who would be most harmed by a six-month blackout window. Longer gaps between disclosures give insiders more time and more opportunity to act on information that the public does not yet have.

Academic research and independent analysis consistently find that more frequent reporting lowers a company's cost of capital and improves market liquidity. European companies that moved away from quarterly reporting saw liquidity decline; those that maintained it did not. These are real costs borne by real investors.

The argument that quarterly reporting causes harmful "short-termism" among companies is not supported by the historical record. The United States built the world's most valuable equity market over more than a century of increasingly frequent and transparent reporting. Reducing disclosure frequency would be a step backward, not forward.

I urge the Commission to preserve the quarterly reporting requirement and maintain the transparency that has served American investors for over fifty years.

Respectfully submitted,
Barry Mansfield
6/9/2026

Barry Sasser — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barry Sasser Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As a small investor, I rely on these quarterly reports so I know where to move my stocks and bonds and investments. If I don't hear anything from a company I'm invested in for six months. I have no clue what I should be doing. This should not be changing it is beneficial to the small investors, not the big investors, but the small investors do make up a larger portion of the investors leave it alone

Sent from my iPad

---

bearszac — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: bearszac Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Seriously? You want to make insider trading even worse? Come on!

Sent from my iPhone

Beau Ashburn — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Beau Ashburn Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Beau Ashburn, I am an Activity Programs Director at a senior living community in California. History taught us between '55 and '70 why quarterly reporting is essential. "The markets that demand quarterly numbers command the richest valuations." Let's learn from history, shall we.

Thank you,

Beau Jamesson Ashburn
323-616-4404

Becky Einolf — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Becky Einolf Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My first career was as a financial analyst for the Chicago office of one of the national banks of France. In cases where we had unaudited financial statements or statements only every 6 months it was more difficult to accurately assess risk, and we had to price the deals accordingly. This made growth more expensive for those clients, and made use less likely to agree to work with them.

Becky Jay — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Becky Jay Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reports help businesses and the public understand how the economy is performing. Investments and purchases, job offerings and public confidence are all informed by quarterly reports. I am retired, Rebecca J. Jay.

Becky Julian — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Becky Julian Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep it monthly or quarterly. This fits my needs.

Becky Poplin — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Becky Poplin Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep it like it is now. Quarterly

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Becky Yates — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Becky Yates Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Rebecca Yates, Retired, Nashville, TN

Why do you keep protecting the people that continually make it harder for the average American to achieve any kind of financial independence? This proposal is another assault on the middle class and is incredibly short-sighted. The richest among us may see additional short-term gains but the long-term impact on the middle class is to reduce its buying power and make less capital available. That will result in less spending and less profit. The influence of venture capitalists and the stock market is already hurting us - companies make bad customer service decisions simply to keep stock holders happy, resulting in weaker companies (I'm looking at you Southwest Airlines among many others). Good, steady income and a healthy company is not enough. Shareholders simply want more and more and more, forcing companies to make bad decisions just so the few can get richer. I have an annuity and a small investment account that I rely on to live. The richest among us is putting pressure to privatize social security - a proposal such as moving from quarterly reporting is just another example of why that would be disastrous. Evidently the SEC and big corporations do not care about 90% of Americans. Destroying the middle class is not a viable longterm strategy. You need us - treat us with respect.

Becky Yates
Cell: 615.969.4960
she/her/hers

Belony Latortue — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Belony Latortue Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: please don't let the public Company to Hide Vital Information 6 months is to long thank

---

Ben & Beverly Crocker — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Ben & Beverly Crocker Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Benjamin Rush Crocker II, and I live in Knoxville, TN. I am 75 years old and retired from a career as an Environmental Engineer. This proposal is an unnecessary rule change that can have unforseen consequences. Two reporting periods per year in today's volatility would mean locking in downturn results for a longer time resulting in a greater loss.

Ben Sun — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ben Sun Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Retail investors like myself need clear, accurate and timely information to make informed investment decisions. Insiders and institutional investors will always have the resources and relationships to get the information they need.

Without quarterly reporting, retail investors are on an unlevel playing field, with no way to get timely information about public companies.

Benjamin Dow — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Benjamin Dow Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 At a time when Americans are struggling to save for retirement it would be villainous to repress corporate transparency. This is a blatant attempt to encourage inside trading and punish the honest investor.

Benjamin Dow
Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Benjamin Kline — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Benjamin Kline Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As an owner of stocks and mutual funds, these quarterly reporting requirements shine a light on real company financial health to prevent deceptive financial practices that could easily cascade into a massive loss in the stock market for everyone. Keep the accounting practices of stock issuing companies strictly regulated to prevent a catastrophic loss due to unethical or deceptive practices by requiring the published quarterly financial reports.

No investors in publicly traded companies needs to suffer major losses like we did in 2008. The world is in a more precarious financial situation with rising expenses and diminished market competition, so keeping the books open wvery quarter helps us all make wiser financial investments to prevent catastrophic losses from deceptive investments.

Benjamin Kline

Bernadette Halloran — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bernadette Halloran Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly. That's the SEC's job to review those quartly reports. Do your fuckin job!

Beth Evans — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Beth Evans Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This administration wants to remove all regulations on companies. It saves those companies money when they have no regulations and we pay the price by not knowing what is happening and our environment is destroyed including air, water and ground pollution.

Sent from my iPhone

Beth Johnson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Beth Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 BETH J. Retired 401k holder. I believe that 401Ks should report on the same schedule that they have had. There is to much speculation going on in the financial, banking, and tech sectors (digital currency, bitcoin, crypto, and data centers). 401k investors need to know how their investments are doing in these new markets.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Beth Walsh — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Beth Walsh Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Hiding the truth leads to fraud. Insider trading and erosion of public trust. Don't do it.

🦮 Beth 🦮

Bethrina Smith — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bethrina Smith Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Need to know earnings quarterly not only biannual!!! We demand transparency!! This is ridiculous! So obvious trying to hide info. People n clients deserve as much transparency as u can get.
Thank you.
Thrina

Sent from my iPhone

Betsey Kastner — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Betsey Kastner Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reports are essential. Keep them coming.

Mary Kastner

Betsy Orndoff-Sayers — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Betsy Orndoff-Sayers Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Betsy Orndoff-Sayers, owner & operator of Star Mercantile. Quarterly reporting needs to remain unchanged. We've been doing this way & there is no reason to change.

Sent from my iPhone

Betsy Wilson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Betsy Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am an older woman, and an investor. I read these reports, scrupulously. This attempt to blind us is WRONG. Seems like you just want us to be blind and the companies to get away with anything. NO! This is WRING!

Betsy Wilson

Bettina George — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bettina George Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please continue the quarterly filings. The public needs as much transparency as possible.

Betty Sleight — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Betty Sleight Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep quarterly Reports! You cannot change the rules for investors who invested prior to attempts to change the agreement your customers made with you.
Mrs Betty Sleight Investor

Get Outlook for Android

Betty Morgan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Betty Morgan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am writing to request a change in the frequency of my portfolio reporting. Moving forward, please provide these reports on a quarterly basis rather than every six months. I find that a six-month interval is a significant amount of time to wait for an update, and receiving a report every four months will allow me to more effectively reassess my portfolio and strategy.

Thank you for your assistance with this adjustment.

Best regards,

Betty Morgan

Beverly Kennedy — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Beverly Kennedy Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Bev Kennedy, retired. Please keep the reports quarterly!

Bev Kennedy

Beverly Reinstein — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Beverly Reinstein Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026 I am asking the SEC to continue to provide quarterly stock reports. This will enable me to make financial decisions for my entire family as I'm retired and need this information.

Beverly Sherbondy — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Beverly Sherbondy Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026 As a retiree, it is very important to keep a close eye on my investments. Changes in the stock markets come quite rapidly, and even with quarterly earnings. It can be difficult to keep on top of everything. Reducing the reporting requirements will make the job of keeping track of investments, much more difficult and frustrating. I urge you to maintain the current reporting structure to maintain as much transparency as possible for investors.

Beverly Sherbondy

Bill Coleman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Bill Coleman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Accountability matters. Public Corporations should be transparent. Investing should not be gambling. If you really think reporting should be adjusted, go to three times a year, but certainly NOT only twice a year. Personally, I am fine with four times a year. I depend on a lifetime of investing to support my retirement, and the charities I support. Stick with what works: accountability four times a year. William Coleman, semi retired, small business owner, Denver, CO

Bill Warmoth — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bill Warmoth Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As a retail investor, I should not be required to accept more risk due to longer reporting periods. It is unfair, and would force me to reconsider most of my investments.

Bill Warmoth

Bill Wilkinson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bill Wilkinson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 That's it,hide the corruption just like all good Republicans

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Birte Nielsen — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Birte Nielsen Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please retain the quarterly reporting period. This information is vital to small investors, like myself and my husband. Without frequent data we are unable to assess a company's performance, issues and concerns. Keep it Quarterly, please. Thank you. Birte K Nielsen and Gerald A Bender

---

BL D — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: BL D Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Absolutely NOT! Why should any company have 6 months of not reporting?! To cover up? All reporting should remain as it is. Period. Transparent reporting is a must.! Do not do this!!!

Sent from my Galaxy

Bob Meyer — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Bob Meyer Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Robert Meyer, retired CPA in Missouri. Timely financial reporting has been one of the keys to financial market success. Moving to semi-annual reporting only serves the insiders while all other investors are denied timely financial information.

Bob Darakjy — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: File Number S7-2026-15 From: Bob Darakjy Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am OPPOSED to any change in the SEC reporting requirements allowing companies to file semi-annual reports on new form 10-S in lieu of quarterly reports on Form 10-Q.

As an investor I believe that current financial information is a basic requirement in order to help make a decision to invest or not. I realize that the market bases much of its decision on projected revenues and profits, but historical information is a starting point for those calculations.

I have been responsible for the reporting on Forms 10-Q and 10-K, and the additional effort of reporting 4 times vs. 2 times a year is well worth the timely information available.

Bob Riley — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bob Riley Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As a rookie investor, I need to see what's happening to my money quarterly! No change please!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Bob Thompson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bob Thompson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 There is no justification to make reporting requirements more lax than they already are. Companies can continue the quarterly reporting to keep us individual investors apprised of their activities instead of providing them larger reporting windows to try to hide misdeeds.

Bobbie Fleming — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Bobbie Fleming Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Older people are the majority of those affected by this proposal. We need more updates on the status of our investments, not less. Be logical and ethical, you'll have a more harmonious outcome.

Bobby Mullins — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bobby Mullins Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 When is enough enough! Huh, you dumb morons. Greed only puts a bullseye on your back

---

Bobby P. — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bobby P. Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is a ridiculous idea that the billionaires want for no other reason than to have more time to cover their tracks. They already have every advantage but want MORE?!?

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Bogdan A — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bogdan A Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports. period!

Sent from my iPhone

Bonita Griser — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bonita Griser Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 BB Griser, retired: My investments are all the money I will ever have, information is my only tool to make it last. 2020 was a lesson in why people need to keep close tabs on their investments. And it's not as if companies need a score of green shaded accountants to produce these reports.

Bonnie Hockin — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bonnie Hockin Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 What are you afraid of? Not like you're not being allowed to openly screw us over. Keep the quarterly reports.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Bonnie Redd — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bonnie Redd Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We need businesses to be accountable. We need to keep these reports, quarterly, for the legal checks and balances of corporations. Please vote to keep these reports quarterly, because if you don't, it will be harder to keep corporations in check.

Thanks,
Bonnie Redd

Sent from my iPhone

Brad Kleger — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brad Kleger Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I (Bradley Louis Kleger) am a personal investor via E*Trade working as a manager of software development and rely on quarterly reports to ensure I have the best available data for analysis. This cannot be considered a burden by any company willing to trade. THIS IS WHY WE HAVE THE SEC!
Thx.
Brad

Brad Kleger

Get Outlook for iOS

Brad Rostowfske — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Brad Rostowfske Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Brad Rostowfske Consultant
West Bend, WI
I'm against changing these reporting requirements. In this day and age of AI enhanced reporting capabilities we should have more transparency not less.

Sent from my iPhone

Bradford Bush — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Bradford Bush Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Bradford J. Bush, Retired. Just another method to try to take our funds from us. It's been tried before and it didn't work. How about you just concentrate on finding ways to HELP us keep our funds? We have enough on our hands as it is. Thanks, but no thanks. Sincerely.

Brenda Backman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brenda Backman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports so investors can make informed decisions!

Brenda Campbell — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brenda Campbell Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My husband and I are both recently retired. Our lives change quickly and we need to know and understand what is happening with our money and investments!

Please continue to require quarterly reports to help us make better decisions.

Thank you,
Brenda Campbell

Sent from my iPhone

Brenda Reilly — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brenda Reilly Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 6 months is too long to go dark for a business information shouldn't be hidden it should be open and transparent

---

Brenna Ryan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Brenna Ryan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Brenna Ryan. I'm a speech-language pathologist in California, and I strongly urge the SEC to continue to require reporting quarterly. We tried less-frequent reporting once, between 1955 and 1970. Less transparency came with lower returns and lower valuations. For an ordinary investor, a return to those days could mean losing a third, or even half, of your life savings. This would be devastating to families like mine who are working hard to save and invest for our future.

Brian — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brian Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Why change reporting so that it's less frequent? I deserve to know how my investments are doing at least every quarter and make informed decisions based on that.

Brian allan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Brian allan This a joke right? Guess not. As an investor, I will be significantly less likely to invest in any company that is providing less information to the public.

Brian Cusson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brian Cusson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please keep the quarterly requirement - it helps guide investors and keeps companies focused on achieving both short-term and long-term goals!

Brian Garrett — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brian Garrett Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Brian K. Garrett. Administrative Officer. I have a right to get quaterly reports on my investment performance. Less frequency mean less information, which is bad for investors.

Brian Jenkins — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Brian Jenkins Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
This doesn't help anyone and is dangerous. We need to be informed about companies and their business as often as possible. This will damage our economy

---

Brian Morris — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brian Morris Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Reports q 90 are vital to assessing the performance and prospects for these public companies. DO NOT reduce to q180; investors need to know the pulse of the investments.

BLMorris

Sent from my iPhone

Brian Panian — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Brian Panian Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please do not return to semi-annual reporting. what little I have in the stock market is all I have.
Brian Panian

Brian Ragsdale — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Brian Ragsdale Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026 Please keep public business filings quarterly for continuity and transparency. Thank You

---

Brian Shepherd — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brian Shepherd Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Dont help the rich get richer, this is a kind of playing field that needs to be leveled and the have nots are already slaves . This will end any illusion.of freedom we have. Do whats right

---

BRIDGET DEPRIEST — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: BRIDGET DEPRIEST Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reports MUST be kept! We have a right to know exactly what is happening with our money!!

Bridget Fosback — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bridget Fosback Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I believe that changing to 6 month reporting only creates a larger window for fraud to grow before found. We're already allowing too much fraud in this country, if anything worrying should charge to monthly so we can find fraudulent behaviors sooner. Bridget Fosback, inside sales

---

Brigid OBrien — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brigid OBrien Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Do NOT do this!

Brown Family — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Brown Family Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Alisa Brown, a retired widow in California. We have been there and tried that before, when far fewer people were affected by the consequences. Don’t mess with the stability of my 401K, the savings that I have to live the rest of my life on. It would be devastating to me, my adult children, and to our economy in general.

Sent from my iPhone

Bruce McNamara — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bruce McNamara Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We all rely on quality information. My banks provide my balances instantaneously. I love knowing that. I have a clear understanding of my position. Reducing the frequency, or lengthening the reporting cycle, doesn't improve my ability to track my progress. That should be obvious to anyone who has run for office, period. Do not lengthen the reporting period beyond quarterly.

Bruce D McNamara

Bruce Petty — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bruce Petty Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports.

Thanks

Bruce Wiscomb — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bruce Wiscomb Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the reports on a quarterly basis!

Sent from my iPhone

---

bryan nimmo — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: bryan nimmo Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 6 months versus 3? More like 6 years at the speed our current president can make things change overnight. So many things can be hidden in reports every 6 months versus a quarterly review. If you approve this more companies will fall and so will American economy when the 401k plans turn to pennies and so many more want to retire and not be on social security payouts.

Sent from my iPhone

Bunnybooyah Czomba — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bunnybooyah Czomba Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Transparency is important.

Byron Lemmond — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Byron Lemmond Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026 Quarterly reporting periods need to remain, to protect individual investors from corporate shenanigans.

Byron Lemmond

C Annapolis — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: C Annapolis Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 100 years ago this might've been a very labor intensive thing to do, and even just 50 years ago, it was still difficult, even though they had computers to do the calculations. But now it is so easy to do with computers doing the calculations, and also having the ability to create the text to go along with it, that there is ABSOLUTELY NO REASON TO STOP DOING QUARTERLY REPORTS FOR THE INVESTORS. The super rich get this kind of information no matter what. In fact, they could probably get daily reports if they wanted it. This is for the average person, the general public and they deserve to know what is going on.

C J Beegle-Krause — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: C J Beegle-Krause Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting gives us more insight into what is going on in our stock portfolios. (Personally, I prefer monthly.)
Not knowing what's going on with my future only twice a year is WAY TO RISKY!

Sent from CJ's iPhone

C Oatley — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: C Oatley Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 If monthly isn't possible, quarterly should stand.

Get Outlook for Android

C S — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: C S Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Carol Stone, former Vice President of Scotia Capital Assets, Inc.

To the SEC, Don't change this 50 year old rule at all. It enables the corrupt to steal and hide funds from investors and shareholders.
Theft would be rampant. Stop this steal!

C. A. Anderson — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: C. A. Anderson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As a retired investor, it is critical to my lifestyle that I have transparent access to my portfolio. Changing the status quo is bad idea

C.A. Anderson
Principal

Counselors to the Hospitality Industry

ca.anderson@wemmsonpartners.com
860-573-7744

This email is confidential and may contain information that is privileged, attorney work product and/or exempt from disclosure under applicable law and should be read or retained only by the intended recipient. Any review, reliance or distribution by others or forwarding without express permission of the sender is strictly prohibited. If you received this transmission in error, please immediately contact the sender and delete all copies including all attachments

ReplyForward

Cale Russell — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cale Russell Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Don't hide the information so you can deceive the American citizens. Your organization was founded and imbued with legal power to uphold our laws against thievery, cheating, and manipulation. So what you are trying to do, by withholding 6 months, should be punishable by law. You are going against your mandate. I didn't fight in the military, bleed, and lose friends to have greedy bankers and the like not follow the law. Find it in you to be proud of the USA, protect us, and be proud to stop the tyranny of evil men. I fear that the individuals I am appealing to are the evil men already.

V/r,

Cale Russell

Caleb Worsham — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Caleb Worsham Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am concerned that expanding the amount of time a company needs to report will allow lots of unethical practices. Transparency keeps people honest. We have more ways to track info now, not less. If anything they should report more. We should stop worrying about "valuations" keeping the economy healthy and let actual production and spending do that.

Caleb Worsham
Math Educator and Tutor

Camille Rodriguez — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Camille Rodriguez I rely on quarterly information to make decisions, longer gaps create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders, "optional" doesn't fix the problem because companies that opt in are often the ones whose investors most need frequent updates, and the savings to companies aren't worth the cost to individual investors. Please do not make this change.

Candace Bodner — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Candace Bodner Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Candace Bodner, I am a retired Floridian with a decent State Retirement. However, I am depending on my investments to cover some of my current and future life needs. I have seen how expensive long term care already is for the elderly and recognize that I may already have difficulty if I should live as long as my parents did. I cannot afford to lose any of my current savings and am trying diligently to increase my holdings. I ask that you keep the quarterly statements.

Sent from my iPhone

Carla Kay — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carla Kay Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I'm concern about transparency. Corporations are known for deceptive practices. Quarterly reports help keep them closer to honesty.

Respect,
Carla Kay
Electrical Engineer

Carla Kennedy — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carla Kennedy Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Retiree here. Victim of the Stanford theft when the SEC refused to make the SIPC cover losses. I still want the SEC to stay in business and I want my statements quarterly. Most of all, I want regulatory teeth to keep Trump et al from even more corruption and insider trading.

CarlandElaine Matheny — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: CarlandElaine Matheny Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting has worked well for a long time. Investors deserve to know what is happening in their companies. Small investors rely on this information to make important decisions. Do not shut out all of the millions of regular folks. My name is Elaine Matheny and I am a retired teacher from WV.

Sent from my iPhone

Carlos Alvarado — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carlos Alvarado Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 These reports are important for our information. Do not mess with them!
Carlos Alvarado-Laguna
Wildlife Biologist

Sent from my iPhone

Carmela — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carmela Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Sanctioned insider trading. No thank you. Why is the SEC even considering this? Isn’t the SEC supposed to protect investors? Who is paying for this to even be on the table?

~

Carmela

Carol C. — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol C. Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I rely on quarterly updates to manage my finances. Without quarterly income statements it makes insider trading easier.

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Carol Cohoe — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: SEC reporting requirements. From: Carol Cohoe Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please do not reduce reporting requirements. If anything reporting should be done more frequently, with additional detail.

Carol Corbitt — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol Corbitt Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is keeping important information secret. There are much too many secret financial deals being made. I think monthly reports would be much better

---

Carol Farina — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol Farina Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Carol Farina, retired RN with a SEP retirement account that I need to be able to count on. I think criminals are running the country and have in mind as much deregulation and fraud as they can get away with.

Carol Gibbs — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol Gibbs Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I do not want to wait six months to know about my retirement money. This would take away the owners' control of THEIR money invested.

Sent from my iPad

Carol Lungrin — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol Lungrin Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 There is no reason to go for six month reports other than to cheat or steal. I hope you get caught and pay the consequences for your corrupt intentions and actions. Leave the reporting where it is presently!

Sent from my iPhone

Carol Shea — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol Shea Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Carol & I'm a retired caseworker. I want financial reporting monthly from these companies. A lot of times we give subsidies to these companies... I don't know why because they're raking in the money left & right like big oil, big pharma, etc!!! But we all should have a right to know so they don't have time to do anything "shady"!!! Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,
Carol Shea

Carole Fuziol — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Carole Fuziol Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am a retired teacher. Like most people I think that watching and tweaking our investments such as the 401k is helpful for building wealth.
Please do not change the quarterly reports to 2x a year.
Sincerely,
Carole Fuziol

Carole Perez — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carole Perez Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Cannot agree: SEC proposes Rule S7-2026-15, it will lead to fraudulent transactions.

Carole & Ellie the Greyt
“When in doubt, be the dragon.”

Caroline Barrow — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Caroline Barrow Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Caroline Barrow, Former Customer Service Department Lead.

This matters to me because hiding facts have never been the honest nor responsible behavior of any person, let alone companies. Especially companies whose investors rely on the truth to make their decisions. Whether they own 1/4 of a share to 10,000 shares. Hiding the numbers and LP shrink numbers leads to even more deception, and how will we ever be able trust that they are a company worthy of supporting. Also determines if they’re a company worthy of that trust as an employee. If you can’t trust the senior management, let alone direct managers, then it would be a breakdown of communication and also pride in one’s job.

Keep companies (more) honest.

Thank you!

Caroline Ezop — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Caroline Ezop Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly!
Single mother and grandmother in SE Michigan.
Retired.
BA, Michigan State University, 1983.

Caroline M. Ezop

"A true conservationist is one who knows the world is not given by his father but borrowed from his children."
- John James Audubon

" Be who you are and say what you feel...because those that matter don't mind and those that mind, don't matter."
- Dr. Seuss

Carolyn Andrews — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carolyn Andrews Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It is so important to stay with the quarterly reports. We know that some folks sneak around and 6 months gives them more time to commit fraud and it settle in. Please help us keep people honest and do what's best for us. Safety and fairness is critical. No one or entity should be allowed to do harm.

Carolyn Andrews
Regular person
Massachusetts

Carolyn Lorenzoni — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carolyn Lorenzoni Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Our country only succeeds with a level playing field. Our family has been harmed greatly by this approach with the medical system. Affordability is an huge problem. The system of quarterly reporting must be maintained for the health of our financial systems working for everyone and not just the very wealthy.
Carolyn Lorenzoni, self-employed teacher

Sent from my iPhone

Carroll Sullivan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carroll Sullivan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Are you F'n kidding me

---

Cary Zimmerli — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Cary Zimmerli Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 What are you hiding?

Cassidy Henry — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cassidy Henry Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I prefer quarterly reporting for making sure my investments are in companies not failing.

This seems like a failure in consumer protection.

Cate S — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cate S Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Taking away quarterly reporting would lead to massive swings in the stock market and would create instability and distrust among investors.

Sent from my iPhone

Catharine W. Tucker — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Catharine W. Tucker Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We must retain quarterly reporting for my own investment monitoring & to keep an eye on trends that might help or hurt us all.

Sent from my iPhone

Catherine E. Johnson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Catherine E. Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I demand you (SEC)not change mandatory quarterly reporting by keeping myself and other citizens informed quarterly of our earnings and losses.

Catherine E Johnson
(Acupuncture Physician)

Sent via the Samsung Galaxy S23 5G, an AT&T 5G smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Catherine Granger Glover — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Catherine Granger Glover Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I grew up with the stock market & everyday accounting as part of both my lifebloodand heritage. Keeping information up front and center are impetus for keeping business as honesty as possible. Without faith in our businesses there cannot be continual grown. Considering it the right of businesses to keep their status and accounting closer to the chest, which are only shared with the public on schedule which are distant from each other, causes mistrust and establishes the right for the business to not be fully honest . If you feel the need to change the schedule then lessen the intervals, rather increase it.

Catherine Granger Glover

Cathleen Bohnlein — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Cathleen Bohnlein Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reports are necessary to react to current events and market changes. In the time of readily available information, there is no need to delay it. Information means informed decisions that impact families securities.

Sent from my iPad

Cathy Beach — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cathy Beach Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Cathy Beach
Professional Educator
This is important to keep companies accountable and financial information transparent.

Cathy Burton — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Cathy Burton Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Having to report every 6 months instead of every 3 months will allow for more fraud and less transparency. The market went Down the last time this was done. Have you learned nothing from history? Do Not allow this change!

Cathy Burton, R.N.

Cathy Fryxell — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cathy Fryxell Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I’m completely AGAINST THIS CHANGE! This is MY FINANCIAL INVESTMENT AND HAVE THE RIGHT TO SEE

THE MOST CURRENT STATUS MONTHLY. You have no right to hide this information from me & all the other investors. It smells of deception and theft! Do your job & protect my investment!

Cathy Fryxell, Retired Investor

Sent from my iPhone

Cathy Mathews — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cathy Mathews Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 So, if you don’t stand for transparency or honesty, what do you stand for?

Char-anna Koblick — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Char-anna Koblick Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep 3 month reporting

---

Charis Wagner — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Charis Wagner Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting is absolutely necessary. Keep it that way. Otherwise, insider trading will rob other investors who have no insider information.

Sent from my iPad

Charlene Vanacker — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Charlene Vanacker Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Businesses should be reporting quarterly so investors know what the companies are doing. My 401k should be transparent.

Charles Barnard — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Charles Barnard Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reports are already to far apart to properly determine a company's performance in this era of rapid change.

Given this, semi-annual reporting would make it much more difficult.

I recommend MONTHLY reporting I order to ensure transparency.

While this will make things slightly easier for corporate reporting, that isn't a valid concern.

The reports are vital for stockholder security and to protect them and the public from poor decisions BEFORE they generate consequences.

This rule change will certainly result in more companies failing, and in increased criminal activity within companies.

Neither is good for the public nor investors.

No decrease in company reporting.

Charles Barnard, CEO
Wizard of Odd

Be afraid of anyone who uses fear to motivate you.

"We are beyond law, which is not unusual for an empire; unfortunately, we are also beyond common sense." Gore Vidal

The very first requirement in a government is that it should do no harm.

Wizard of Odd, LLC
715-233-0635
wizodd@gmail.com

"Designing the Future"

And it harm none, do as ye will.

Opinions expressed are just that: opinions and are owned by those stating them. They are in no way to be taken as representative of current or future belief and are subject to withdrawal or modification at any time.

Facts accurate to my recollection or knowledge at the time written.
Copyright Wizard of Odd, LLC.

Charles Bristow — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Charles Bristow Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 In a time where everything goes so fast and news cycles are 24/7, we don't need to slow down reporting to 6 months at a time. We need accurate information at least every quarter. If not even sooner. There is no reason to change the reporting twice a year. My name is Charles Bristow and nd I'm an invest independent investor.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Charles Hayden — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Charles Hayden Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 If anything, they should be reporting monthly or weekly. This would actually be an easy do with AI. Maybe not a complete report report, but at least an abridged version. 3 months is too long.

Charles Henry James — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Charles Henry James Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 NO WAY!

Charlotte Illis — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Charlotte Illis Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I want to see my reports monthly, why world you limit that except to help people steal from the American public. I guess people in the SEC are now controlled by Trump and on the grift, like him.
Charlotte Illis
Insurance Agent
Why, it's my money morons

Charlotte Illis
Illis Insurance Agency LLC

Cher Armstrong — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cher Armstrong Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Corporations should be required to provide transparency, full stop. It's bad enough that they price gouge on things people have no choice but to buy because it's needed to live. Anyone getting massive breaks like mega corporations needs to have it all out in the open

---

Cheryl Gregory — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cheryl Gregory Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Cheryl Gregory, retiree. Please keep the quarterly reports so I can live off my retirement savings. The longer period just benefits the corporations and puts my investments at greater risk. I worked as a pharmacist for 38 years to accumulate my savings and would like to see the present regulations continue. Thank you.

Sent from my Galaxy

Cheryl Follett — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cheryl Follett Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 44 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.
C. Follett

CLF

Cheryl Garin — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cheryl Garin Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Why should companies be allowed to keep their information closed for six months if they have nothing to hide. Bade idea and shady.

Sent from my iPhone

---

cheryl klemp — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: cheryl klemp Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 In today's economy, I need to know where my money stands. Cheryl Klemp

---

Cheryl Prince — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cheryl Prince Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I want to see how my investments are performing quarterly, NOT semi annually! Don't make it harder for people to see how their investments are doing by allowing companies to give us LESS feedback. It's our money and we have the right to see how it's performing at LEAST quarterly!
Cheryl Prince

---

chimera black — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: chimera black Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Laurel Harris/Retired stop trying to hide from the people. we demand fair monthly reporting.

China Nolan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: China Nolan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Stop dismantling common sense regulations and hurting businesses and consumers. China Nolan, Founder, ClearComUSA.

China Nolan
Owner/Founder
Clear Communications

_____Legal Disclaimer_____
The information transmitted is intended only for the person or entity to which it is addressed and may contain confidential and/or privileged material. Any review, retransmission, dissemination or other use of, or taking of any action in reliance upon, this information by persons or entities other than the intended recipient is prohibited. If you received this in error, please contact the sender and delete the material from any computer immediately.

Chris — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chris Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 NOT a good idea to eliminate qrtrly reporting... opens up TOO MANY avenues for FRAUD !!!

'69 NECPA Command Post Floating WH/Pentagon DFM/DCPO/NavQM

Chris Weber — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chris Weber Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Retired but active in the market. Six months gives too much opportunity to hide and manipulate data. NO to six months!!
Chris Webber

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Chris Barnes — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Chris Barnes Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Stop trying to fix what isn't broken. Quarterly reporting ensures investors of the financial health of a company and can indicate potential concerns much faster than semi-annual reporting. You'll never see a situation where less data points is desirable statistically

Sent from Proton Mail for iOS.

Chris Belton — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Chris Belton Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 SEC,

"We tried this once, between 1955 and 1970. Less transparency came with lower returns and lower valuations. For an ordinary investor, a return to those days could mean losing a third, or even half, of your life savings."

Who does this benefit?? Clearly not the everyday investor. Working class people are counting on our investments and pensions. Want to encourage folks to pick up pitchforks? Move forward with this ill-advised plan....

Chris Belton, public school teacher, Philadelphia, PA

Chris Brantley — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chris Brantley Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am a retired association executive and family investor managing both my retirement funds and my father's family trust. I value quarterly reports and the media reporting associated with them when making decisions about our investments which are our primary sources of income. They provide a degree of transparency for ordinary investors like me at a time when markets are increasingly volatile and driven by programmed trading and insider rotation strategies. I would urge you not to adopt a biannual reporting requirement. My name is Chris Brantley and I live in Columbia, Maryland.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sent from my iPad

Chris Budinick — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chris Budinick Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Maintain quarterly reporting as it has been for decades. Changing to a longer reporting structure does nothing to benefit the investor and sews the seeds of future financial calamity.

-Chris Budinick
Network / Telecom Sr. Specialist

Chris Clayborne — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chris Clayborne Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is an excuse to allow fraud. And gives companies the ability to hide money. This can't be allowed.

Sent from my iPhone

Chris Fleeman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chris Fleeman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The public has every right to know what publicly traded companies are doing and how they are performing. Stretching out required filings to twice a year is a disservice to the public and only benefits companies and those who engage in insider trading.
Thank you,
Chris Fleeman
Computer engineer

“Unless someone like you cares a whole awful lot, nothing is going to get better. It’s not.” - Dr. Seuss

---

Chris Jones — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chris Jones Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Companies must have transparency to their investors. Quarterly statements allow investors to see inside thecorporate bubble. I advocate for keeping quarterly statements.

Christine Jones

Chris McMeen — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chris McMeen Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 If anything, the standard should be going up, not down, in reporting. In the technological age we are in, we should be able to see live account views of the companies we own. There is no reason whatsoever for them not to be doing more reporting, not less.

Sincerely,

Chris McMeen

Chris Rakoczy — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chris Rakoczy Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Chris Rakoczy, a professional photographer in CT. As both a small business owner and an employee of a large corporation, I understand our ultimate responsibility as a business is to our customers and our community. Changing the reporting rule would allow companies to dodge this responsibility and prolong or avoid altogether accountability to the people that matter the most. Do NOT alter the SEC reporting timeframe.

Chris Rakoczy

Chris Thomas — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chris Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting is the absolute minimum acceptable. I propose monthly reports. It is clear thus is a rule change to benefit the criminal Elon Musk and further his fraud. If passed, you will be added to the list of folks to be prosecuted when the current coup is ended.

Beware he who would deny you access to information, for in his mind he dreams himself your master.

Christina Pocrnich — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christina Pocrnich Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Public companies need to continue filing their AQ reports on a quarterly basis.

Christine Behan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christine Behan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 C.Behan, MD, Tracking and reponding to trends quarterly is more effective over all. Given the current atmosphere of obfuscation and out right lies, I don't trust ANY changes executed under this regime

---

Christine Kelly — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christine Kelly Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I used to work in the financial industry and find that quarterly reporting helps keep you informed of what is going on in the companies you are investing YOUR money in. Having them go dark adds undue risk for investors. It is unfair and will make me change where I put my money. Christine Kelly

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Christine McDowell — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christine McDowell Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 No, just no, on keeping info secret for 6 months!!!! No one can make informed decisions with old data and info. Completely unfair.

Christine McDowell

Christine Schroeder — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christine Schroeder Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026 Leave things the way they are, with quarterly reports, please

---

Christopher Holfeltz — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Christopher Holfeltz Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This makes no sense, we need more transparency, not less!

Please don't let this change go through

Chris Holfeltz

Christopher Squier — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christopher Squier Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting provides transparency for investors so we can make more informed decisions. Requesting that this be kept in place.

Thank You,
Chris Squier

Christy Hitchens — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christy Hitchens Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We deserve something honest and aboveboard. Now the SEC wants to hide from actual and potential investors so only a few billionaires can see what’s going on. I object!

Sent from my iPhone

Chuck Thornton — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chuck Thornton Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I don't like being kept in the dark by corporations!

Sent from my U.S.Cellular© Smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Chuck Hayden — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Chuck Hayden Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 If anything, they should be reporting monthly or weekly. This would actually be an easy do with AI. Maybe not a complete report report, but at least an abridged version. 3 months is too long.

Chuck Henry — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chuck Henry Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Dear Security Exchange Commission,

Please end the quest to reduce corporate earnings from 4 to 2 times per year.

By reducing the reporting window would place small, but significant in size, investors at a disadvantage than those larger entities and insiders with access to information I now receive quarterly to make decisions.

Longer gaps create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders.

Furthermore making it "optional" doesn't fix the problem because companies that opt in are often the ones whose investors most need frequent updates.

It appears the overall savings to companies isn't worth the cost to me, or other individual investor.

Finally, the individual investor, particularly those with retirement plans, have over $49 trillion invested in the market, not so small impact to us.

So please reconsider this move that puts me and others in the dark for 6 months - at a time when the market and the public companies are moving and changing at a much more rapid pace.

Respectfully,
Charles Henry
Mesa AZ
Retired

Chuck Johnson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chuck Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting for publicly traded corporations is, in my opinion, the minimum investors should expect. Openess and the free-flow of information is the lubrication of healthy, efficient markets. With pace of change in national and world events 6 months is an eternity to wait for information about how well companies are navigation those changes.

Cindy Alfrejd — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cindy Alfrejd Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I strongly object to this proposed change. Stockholders deserve information in a timely manner to effectively manage their stock portfolios. Please continue making this available quarterly. Thank you.

Cindy Baetz — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cindy Baetz Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 There is far too much corruption in this country now and too many corrupt individuals ready to cheat, lie, and steal from the people. This hiding of profits and assets cannot be allowed.

Sent from my iPhone

Cindy Borgmeyer — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cindy Borgmeyer Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Cynthia Borgmeyer, retiree and private investor: My stock holdings may not be huge compared to those of wealthier individuals and market insiders, but they're keenly important to my future and that of my family. For that reason, I monitor them closely, and I fail to see why my ability to do so should be curtailed. Any savings to the corporations involved in this effort to minimize reporting requirements would be meager, but losing the ability to carefully follow what's happening with my holdings and react accordingly could greatly and negatively affect my portfolio. Do NOT allow this proposed change to move forward.

Thank you for seeking public input.

Cynthia Borgmeyer

Cindy Griswold — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cindy Griswold Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As a small investor who utilizes investing as a way to supplement my retirement income I need to be able to follow the companies I invest in. Small investors shouldn't be the last to find out information about our companies. Please keep the quarterly reports.

Cindy Timmerman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cindy Timmerman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We the people who have done everything correctly need to be kept well informed as we have been for nearly 50 years. This 6 month reporting scheme smacks of criminal intent.

Cindy Timmerman

CJ Barber — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: CJ Barber Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the reporting as it is! Oligarchs don't deserve more ways to screw us.

Claire Currie — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Claire Currie Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Public companies should be held accountable on a quarterly basis at a minimum. Transparency and integrity are paramount for making financially responsible decisions.

Sent from my iPhone

Sent from my iPhone

Claire Marie Mullin — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Claire Marie Mullin Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I do not agree with the idea of less frequent reporting. I hold stocks that are intended to supplement my social security monies for retirement and need information to keep that safe or I will need to find other vehicles for my savings. Please rethink this!

Sent from my iPhone
Claire Marie Mullin PT,DPT
(She/her/hers)

Claire OConnor — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Claire OConnor Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Claire OConnor child psychologist. I think quarterly reporting should continue as twice a year allows too much time to go by before errors or unlawful actions are caught and remedied

Sent from my iPhone

Clyde Rolston — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Clyde Rolston Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is a bad idea! Quarterly reporting should be public and immediate! Vote no on hiding the reports!

Sent from my mobile office

Cody Clemens — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cody Clemens Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Bad idea. Accountability doesn't live behind obscurity. In a perfect world, I would hope that managers would use this reporting window to adopt a longer term mindset, but we all know that's not going to happen. Fraud will perpetuate with less visibility and scrutiny and small investors will get burned. This is bad for Main Street and Wallstreet alike.

Don't let this happen.

/s/

Cody Clemens
Managing Director (M&A)

Colette Hughes — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Colette Hughes Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026 Quarterly reporting protects investments for our retirement. Do not extend SEC filing requirement times. Colette Hughes, retired teaching assistant

Sent from my iPad

Connor Rilling — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Connor Rilling Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep publishing quarterly earnings. It's more transparent and prevents investors from being misled by less frequent earnings reports. Do not change this rule.

Constance Carruthers — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Constance Carruthers Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep companies reporting quarterly. It's easier to detect fraud. It benefits the public investor to know what's going on with a company's finances.
Companies have always reported quarterly and it's worked fine, no need to change.
Thank you,
Constance Carruthers

Constance Hoffman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Constance Hoffman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Constance Hoffman and I am a retired CIO from an international law firm. This matters to me as an individual investor. Public company reporting should remain quarterly because I rely on quarterly information to make investment decisions. Longer gaps for information create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders. Thank you.

Constance Hoffman
St. Louis, Missouri

Corey Holmes — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Corey Holmes Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the same quarterly schedule that has been happening for 5 DECADES

Craig Hogma.net — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Craig Hogma.net Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Leave it Quarterly. Don't F*ck With a Working Model.

Get Outlook for Android

Craig C — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Craig C Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 You have no right to take information away from us as investors in the equity that we own.

Craig Campbell

Sent from Proton Mail for Android.

Crystal Blankenship — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Crystal Blankenship Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please continue to require quarterly reports. This could change how I manage financial stability during retirement. Thank you. Crystal S Blankenship, Pharmacist.

Curt Lashbrook — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Curt Lashbrook Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Navigating retirement in these uncertain times is challenging enough without allowing LESS transparency from the companies which represent a large portion of our IRAs and 401ks. I'm afraid that knowing they have up to six months to fix a bad decision will make those companies less averse to risk in those decisions.
Curt Lashbrook
Retired
Toledo, Ohio

---

curt spiel — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: curt spiel Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The quarterly reports are necessary tools for all investors, do not change to to six month reports.

Curtis Spiel
Sesttle, WA

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Curtis Burga — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Curtis Burga Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 35 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Thank you,

Curtis Burga
Travis Voice & Data

6801 Broadway Extension, Suite 101
Oklahoma City, OK 73116
www.travisvoice.com

How Did I Do Today?

NOTICE: This email and any files transmitted with it are confidential and intended solely for the use of the individual or entity to whom they are addressed. If you have received this email in error please notify the system manager. This message contains confidential information and is intended only for the individual named. If you are not the named addressee you should not disseminate, distribute or copy this e-mail. Please notify the sender immediately by e-mail if you have received this e-mail by mistake and delete this e-mail from your system. If you are not the intended recipient you are notified that disclosing, copying, distributing or taking any action in reliance on the contents of this information is strictly prohibited.

Curtis Mooney — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Curtis Mooney Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Small investors are already at a disadvantage . Don't change the reporting to 6 months . Keep it at quarterly . It will help maintain faith in the system .

Sent from my iPhone
Curtis Mooney

Cynthia McCullough — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cynthia McCullough Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Cynthia McCullough - Retired Compliance Associate. Responsible for monthly, quarterly and annual 1940 Act Mutual Fund Trading Compliance reporting. Over 30 years experience in Investment Management working for major players in Investment field. (MS, BLK, STT) I have seen the disasters that deregulation has caused. In my view, quarterly is the bare minimum. Think about it. Why do investment firms have consecutive two week minimum vacation times for investing personnel? Answer: To uncover unscrupulous transactions. As it is, Quarterly reporting is like a bikini. Shows alot but can hide important information. Now, whomever, want a one piece. Disaster in waiting Decide quarterly is bare minimum.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Cynthia Eason — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cynthia Eason Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Cynthia Eason and I am a personal investor. Since greedy corporations have killed true pension programs I am trying to build retirement funds. I count on quarterly reports to make decisions on where to invest as well as how to vote my shares. It is important to keep them quarterly so that stockholders are not blindsided by bad management, and so they have opportunities to speak up or get out before a company gets to far off track. Semi-annual reports have not worked well for other countries and have actually increased volatility. They also make it easier to hide unethical behavior and corporate greed by reducing public accountability. Regular reporting is also vital to people making important decisions about our country's economy and financial institutions. I urge you to reject any notion of less frequent reporting. It is important to be transparent with current and potential investors, as well as for economist and policy makers.

Cynthia Farren Small business owner — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Cynthia Farren I am writing as an individual investor to express my strong opposition to the proposed rule that would allow public companies to switch from quarterly to semiannual financial reporting. Reducing the frequency of corporate disclosures harms retail investors in two distinct ways: • Severe Lack of Transparency: Waiting six months for certified financial data leaves individual investors completely in the dark. A company's financial health can deteriorate significantly in 180 days. Without quarterly Form 10-Q filings, retail investors cannot make timely, informed decisions to protect their hard-earned capital. • Increased Insider Trading Risk: A wider, six-month information gap creates a breeding ground for information asymmetry.

Corporate insiders will possess material, non-public data for much longer periods. This drastically increases the risk of opportunistic insider trading, leaving retail investors at a severe structural disadvantage. The current quarterly reporting system ensures a fair, transparent, and orderly market. I urge the Commission to reject File No. S7-2026-15 and maintain the quarterly reporting requirement to protect individual investors.

Cynthia Kanipe — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cynthia Kanipe Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Cynthia Kanipe. CEO Casa de Kanipe-West. Knowledge of a company's financial health is important to me and other investors. Quarterly financial reporting is the best measure, at this time.

Cynthia Philipone — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cynthia Philipone Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I live on my retirement savings. It's my money. I worked for it, I paid taxes or pay them now when I withdraw it. Treat all hard working Americans like they matter and protect us.
Cynthia Philipone

Cynthia Smith — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cynthia Smith Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am concerned that companies may be allowed to report earnings 2 times a year. So much can happen in 6 months that could change the the value and outlook of stock that would blindside the small investor...retirement investors. Cynthia Smith

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

D H — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: D H Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am a regular investor & practicing how to invest to ensure my retirement since social and Medicare will be gone. In this fast paced, global economy, 6 month reporting does not provide adequate information to make educated investment changes. Quarterly reports are key. I would lose more money in the long run and the money saved, benefits me little. Insider trading would rise because only people “in the know” would now become gatekeepers. I would be pused out snd unable to make informed investments.
I’m old enough to appreciate the paper statements so watching out for my future is not a luxury. It’s a fact that I need to engage regularly to ensure my future.

D'Arcy Smith — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: D'Arcy Smith Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Make companies report their earnings every quarter.

We need our companies to compete for shares, for business, and profit.

Keep America competitive!

D'Arcy Smith

Dahlonega Peck — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dahlonega Peck Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have my life savings and IRAs invested in the stock market. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Thank you,

Dahlonega Peck, retired
Gainesville, FL

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Dan Eastwood — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dan Eastwood Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The plan to let public companies hide their financials for six months can only hurt small investors and give greater advantage to insiders. KEEP REPORTING QUARTERLY, or even increase it to every 6 weeks.

Dan Eastwood

"Information itself has a liberal bias."
- Steven Colbert, 28NOV2006

Dan Hoogterp — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments From: Dan Hoogterp Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To whom it may concern:

As a former executive in a public company and having worked with many small and large companies, I know the reporting and operational burden that quarterly reporting presents. The reduction in administrative and regulatory load by itself has appeal.

However, severe drawbacks arise if the reporting window is increased.

There will be an increase in variance in external predictions vs actual performance during the reporting interval. The less consistent public information between reporting will be more closely followed and introduce more opportunities for misinformed investors, whether deliberately or otherwise. Some firms may use the "longer leash" to leverage to favor management and insiders over outside investors in violation of fiduciary duty.

These effects combined will translate to increased risk assessments and likely lower market pricing, as the added uncertainty risk is translated to lower prices.

I recommend retaining the reporting interval for consistency and recognize that as a good compromise between administrative overhead and duty as a public company.

With Regards,
Dan Hoogterp

Dan W. Kemper — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dan W. Kemper Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To whom it may concern, Allowing companies to report less frequently will degrade the function of our markets, significantly increase volatility and harm the most vulnerable and least sophisticated market participants the most (i.e. retail investors). We should be moving toward more transparency not less. Even well intentioned 'insider trading' laws had the unintended and perverse effect of reducing the accuracy of information conveyed by prices. The more we try to 'help' markets the more we hurt them and harm the very foundation of our free market.
Daniel Kemper
Treasury Director
EnergySolutions LLC
299 South Main Street, Suite 1700
Salt Lake City, Utah 84111
Office (801) 303-1690
Cell (435) 659-5498

Dana Hanna — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dana Hanna Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Corruption at every level of the trump organization. This would be making our K shaped economy into a giant K. Again, helping the Rich get richer and to help with the little guy. Disgustful! Money rules.

Sent from my iPhone

Daniel Blatter — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Daniel Blatter I have significant stock investments in my retirement accounts and need accountability information to be as up-to-date as possible.

Daniel Felice — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Daniel Felice Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports going. Nothing more.

Sent from my iPhone

Daniella DiMarco — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Daniella DiMarco Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Daniella Dimarco. Grocery store clerk. I've saved and put my money onto our company 401k. I've been told I shouldn't rely on social security because, even though I've paid into that, it won't be there for me when I retire. I have no choice but to pay into that. I have made my decision to pay into the 401k and now that might not be there either. Who will be there for me when I retire? Is someone going to give me money? I've been trying to be responsible and save for myself. These people that want to take what little bit I have should use their own money. I have about 15 years before I retire. I feel as if I will never have the funds to do so because everyone wants their share of little bit i have managed to scrape together. DO NOT dip into every day people's 401k. Use your own money for your projects that will cost me and regular Americans more money than we have as it is!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Danielle Brooks — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Danielle Brooks Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Danielle Brooks, Financial Advisor
The quarterly reports available to my clients often do not include investment options available to them and require hurdles to access by signing in to an account with several clicks. There are charges to receive a mailed statement. Reducing information to investors, often for their largest account, should not be want the SEC encourages.

Sent from Samsung Galaxy smartphone.
Get Outlook for Android

Danielle Wilson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Danielle Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not allow public companies to hide important information. They already receive too many benefits beyond regular people.

Darlene Steele — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Darlene Steele Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I rely on quarterly reports to make decisions about my retirement savings. This would only benefit those that have insider information, not the common investors. Please do not change this rule.

Darlene Steele

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Darrell Scoggins — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Darrell Scoggins Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Insiders already seem to have info first, no need to make it worse for the little guy.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Dave Fenton — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dave Fenton Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep real time reporting requirements. A rule like this proposal will only benefit the undertaxed rich. David Fenton. US Army Vietnam era veteran.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Dave Cole — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dave Cole Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Bad idea going to reporting every 6 months!

DAVE SIPES — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: DAVE SIPES Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting is crucial to keep track of and deal with problems with a company. To go six months without reporting is out of tune with modern technology and will allow abuse and potentially illicit behavior in the company. This is totally Trump motivated, there must be honest regular reporting and consequences for illegal activity.

Sent from my iPad

DAVE WILKEN — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: DAVE WILKEN Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please consider the small private investors in your decisions and in this case keep reports quarterly
I'll be voting for those that support keeping it quarterly

Sent from my iPhone

David G. Mills — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David G. Mills Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is insane to allow corporate financials to be withheld for six months. Insider trading is getting worse and worse. And this will certainly make it worse. More and more trust will be lost.

David G. Mills, Retired attorney, first license in 1977.

Sent from my iPad

David Kipfmiller — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Kipfmiller Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 David Kipfmiller, retired. I am an individual managing my own retirement accounts. I need to have timely information to make informed decisions for my stock portfolio. Six months of flying blind, with no news on these companies will make my decisions more risky and less fact-based. This will cripple my ability to manage my portfolio -all to benefit in a slim way the corporate boards. The small investor also needs transparency so fraud and bad business practices can be exposed on a timely basis. Six months is way too long for accountability.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

David Kurrent — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Kurrent Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is a bad idea. Investors need timely information. Confidence in the stock market will plummet if you do this.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

David Chambers — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Chambers Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is fraud, plain and simple. If you allow companies to hide financials for half a year many, many investors will be affected. Please don't do this.

David Chambers

David Deming — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Deming Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Bad idea

---

David Fleming — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: David Fleming Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Every investor deserves timely reporting of the returns and status of the companies in which they have invested their personal resources. In 2026 “timely” should not be less than quarterly as has been the custom since the last half of the 20th Century. Less frequent reporting by companies led to poorer overall results for investors and likely fraudulent actions that deprived investors of their proper share of the returns expected from the performance of their business investment. In this age of easy obfuscation and deceptive business practices, loosening required reporting practices will lead to greater cheating of investors. DO NOT IMPLEMENT THIS CHANGE!

David W. Fleming
Qualified Investor
Sent from my iPhone

David Jaffrey — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Jaffrey Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Absolutely essential to maintain quarterly reports to ensure honesty and transparency.

Sent from my iPad

David Kaldahl — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Kaldahl Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the reporting rules! Or maybe make the whole thing transparent.

David Larkin — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Larkin Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please p pool reserve company quarterly reporting requirements.
As an investor I need the most current information possible to identify and act upon company strengths and weaknesses as soon as possible to preserve my investment.

Thank you,

David Larkin
Parker, CO

David Limburg — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: David Limburg Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have a small investment portfolio that will fund my retirement, which is coming soon. Even with Social Security, I will need money from those investments, to live on and to pay my mounting medical expenses. A roughly 33% loss would not just put the comfort of my modest retirement in question, it might actually cut my life short because I would not be able to afford medical care beyond the coverage Medicare provides. I have done nothing to deserve to have my retirement and my health compromised by a government gift to the major players in the financial industry. Cutting financial reporting in half is a bad choice for me, and for the country.

David Limburg

David Mallin — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: David Mallin Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Fiscal reporting Must be kept quarterly, please don’t not roll back this investor protection. This was tried before with disastrous results that harmed investors

Thank you

David

Sent from my iPhone

David Morgan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Morgan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 David Morgan , retired , I need the quarterly reports to manage what little IRA after obummer and dementia biden stole most of it

---

David Nguyen — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Nguyen Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the SEC
I rely on quarterly information to make decisions. Longer gaps create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders. "optional" doesn't fix the problem because companies that opt in are often the ones whose investors most need frequent updates. The savings to companies aren't worth the cost. Please consider this to protect the small investor and keep the corporate insiders accountable.

K. Nguyễn

David Schreiber — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Schreiber Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 You’re facilitating fraud and the retail investor will be the big loser.

Sent from my iPad

David Skerke — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: David Skerke Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 No. Just No.

David Townsend — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Townsend Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Retain quarterly reports

David R. Townsend

David Williams — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Williams Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Come on SEC don't let crooks win!

Dawn Kiernan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dawn Kiernan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 44 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my IRA and Roth IRA accounts stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Sent from my iPhone

Dawn McGee — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dawn McGee Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 No question about it. 6 months is too long to go without information. Don’t change the rule and harm investors

Sent from my iPhone

Dawn Vezie — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dawn Vezie Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Dawn Vezie Researcher Concerned Citizen Corporations need more scrutiny and openness. Shielding Corporations from research and possible fraud is wrong. I have court cases coming up that would seriously change the outcome of the case detrimentalaly if I am unable to discern what's actually going on. SEC should protect the citizenry, not the Corporation from the citizenry. We, after all, are the ones footing the bill.

Dean Miller — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dean Miller Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Dean Miller, retired business manager, former trustee. I have managed educational trusts for minors and find this proposal unforgiveably one-sided.
So many elements of the financial markets already favor the biggest players. For small trusts, the manager needs to keep his wits about him to move swiftly when signals are clear.
Taking those signals away increases the odds the small funds manager will not react in time to protect funds from a downturn, or seize an opportunity spelled out in the quarterlies.
Mega funds have direct access to many companies and employ legions of analysts. This longer reporting cycle increases their advantage.
I suspect that’s the purpose. Large investment houses seek advantage and SEC is all-too-willing to accede to their demand.

Don’t do it. Show some spine and keep the plating field at least somewhat level.

Dean Miller

Deane Nettles — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deane Nettles Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Deane Nettles, professor; the SEC reducing reporting to me specifically worries me about corporations like SpaceX where their upcoming IPO is suspicious at the outset. They will need close scrutiny to make sure they aren't just bilking the public, and that will be impossible if they only have to report every 6 months. Given that a run on a stock can happen in miliseconds, I want to keep the current 3-month reporting.

Deanna Speicher — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deanna Speicher Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep reporting quarterly!!! I'm now retired, living off Social Security benefits, while watching my IRA, along with a broker, to hopefully build my investment. Last Friday, that account lost over $10,600 in one day!!! Today's "recovery" was only $1450. My broker and I recently discussed the goals for my account and we agreed to continue to grow the account so that I will have a higher payout when I reach the mandatory age to start receiving regular dispursements. Without being able to see the quarterly trends, I don't feel that the Broker will be able to manage my account as well and make adjustments to ensure my account keeps growing. Thank you.

Deanna Speicher, Retired Neonatal Intensive Care Nurse

Sent from my iPhone

Deb Gaughan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deb Gaughan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Do not kest this pass, what a terrible thing to do ,keep businesses transparent!

Deb Hatfield — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deb Hatfield Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The reporting should be kept at the current rate so families can make up to date, informed decisions with their investments. D. Hatfield. Retired

---

Debbie Botto — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debbie Botto Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 QUARTERLY! Debbie

Botto. Retired. Transparency

Sent from my iPhone

Debby Mittelman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debby Mittelman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I check my 401k mutual fund holdings regularly, and required quarterly reports are essential for investors. Do not allow publicly traded companies to move to six-month reports.
Debby Mittelman
Attorney, licensed in Arizona

Deborah Eubank — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deborah Eubank Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Transparency and being above board is best for business!

Deborah Kaplan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Deborah Kaplan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
As an investor, I feel that it is important to understand what the companies I invest in are doing in a timely fashion. Quarterly reports are the minimum reasonable time period. Anything less does not give individual investors, mutual fund managers, and analysts sufficient information to make informed decisions. Please maintain the quarterly reporting requirement.
Thank you,
Deborah J Kaplan

---

debra calicchio — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: debra calicchio Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Debra calicchio, retired, and it doesn’t make any sense not to watch your finances on a continual basis. Please do not take away quarterly reports.

Sent from my iPhone

Denise — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Denise Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I'm retired but I worked in banking for over 20 yrs. Why make things easier for corps when greed and fraud are the goal of the day under this regime. What your suggesting is giving businesses the additional time to fudge numbers. Now it's not the time to rely on honesty in the Corp world. And if they aren't incentivised to look long term because they must report their numbers, maybe they should not exist. I believe humans paying taxes doesn't incentivize most people to work but yet we still force them to file once a year.
D Harris

Denise Bossert — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Denise Bossert Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As a Senior, living on a fixed income, I have to keep an eye on my money. Six month reporting is unacceptable.
Denise Bossert, Retired.

Get Outlook for iOS

Denise Burchard — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Denise Burchard Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I'm retired, so all my money is in the stock market. I need to see those reports quarterly, and monthly would be even better. Please make sure the quarterly reports keep us informed!! Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Denise Carney — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Denise Carney Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is another system of checks and balances that is needed to keep business honest and let shareholders know current data when investing. PLEASE DO NOT DISRUPT THE CURRENT REPORTING REQUIREMENTS.

Denise Hazelwood — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Denise Hazelwood Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 WT(EL)F! The last thing that this country needs is more insider trading! No secrets! Full disclosure of everything!

Sent from my iPhone

Denise Lovse — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Denise Lovse Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep companies that are part of the SEC doing quarterly reports as this can affect everyone who invests in the stock exchange to the accounting firms that handle taxes for businesses. Keep America working.

Sent from my iPhone

Denise Moorehead — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Denise Moorehead Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly disclosures help me make informed decisions about my investments, ones critical for the funds that my nephew will need for college, my mom needs for assisted living, and I will need for later retirement. Do not take vital information away from me as you plan to do with corporate reporting changes.

Thank you.

Denise Rabbass — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Denise Rabbass Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please keep the SEC reports available to all citizens of the US on a quarterly basis. Those of us who have worked hard all our lives and have some savings invested in companies need to be able to keep track of how these companies are operating.
I am a recent retiree and feel it's important that companies bottom lines are transparent to their current and potential stockholders.

Thank you,
Denise Rabbass
Bloomfield IA

Sent from my iPhone

Denna Comatov — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Denna Comatov Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026 I thought it’s very important that you report your earnings quarterly! It’s called being fully transparent!!!!!

Dennis Webb — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dennis Webb Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It not in the investors best interest to wait 6 months for a report on their investments. I personally don't like that and would be pulling my stock market investments if it came to that.

Thank You,
Dennis Webb

Denny Payne — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Denny Payne Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Just…no. The only reason to do this is to enable regular investors to be defrauded.

Diana Noble — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Diana Noble Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Diana Noble, retired. It is vital to ‘keep’ quarterly reporting to be sure to keep companies accountable to their stock holders. Do Not let corporations change to game in their favor!!

Sincerely-

Sent from my iPhone

Diana D — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Diana D Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Diana Dupree
KEEP IT QUARTERLY

Diana Jones — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diana Jones Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To whom it may concern
~

I am a single woman in her 60s. All I have saved for retirement I earned honestly through hard work and sacrifice. I need more information, not less, to make solid decisions for my future. Your efforts are better spent stopping the blatant insider trading rather than keeping the general public in the dark.

~Diana Jones

Diane Pires — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diane Pires Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly to keep companies honest!

D. Pires
Sent from my iPhone

Diane Ruffner — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diane Ruffner Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have the right to know what's going on with my investments. There should be no secrets when they're using my money. Do not let this go through. It is a huge betrayal to the American people.

Sincerely,
Diane Ruffner

Diane Blackwood — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diane Blackwood Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I want quarterly reporting on companies so that I and my advisors can make sound decisions.

Diane J. Blackwood, PhD

Diane Haggard — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diane Haggard Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026 I need the quarterly report to keep track of investments. Absolutely important to making financial decisions while things are changing fast !

Diane Henk-Duffy — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Diane Henk-Duffy Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Diane Henk-Duffy. retired. With trump's economy, we can't afford to lose our savings. What you are suggesting will encourage fraud.

Diane Padlo — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diane Padlo Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 CHECKS & BALANCES… WATCHDOG… OVERSIGHT FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE PUBLIC… that is your job SEC. Protect us, not the entities that want 6mos. of info blackout. A lot can happen in 6 months and you are around to safeguard PUBLIC interests.

KEEP IT QUARTERLY!!

Diane Padlo
Manalapan NJ

Diane Rierden — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diane Rierden Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I believe that quarterly reports should continue to be required. Diane Rierden, retired accountant.

Diane Rybinski — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diane Rybinski Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 20 years. I highly value receiving quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my portfolio and respectfully request that quarterly reports continue to be sent out for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Diane Rybinski
Federal Employee for 23 years with both TSP and private retirement accounts

---

Diann Garagiola — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diann Garagiola Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 40 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 401K stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Diann Garagiola

Dianne Flanagan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dianne Flanagan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Investors should have constant access to data from companies they invest in. NO ONE should have to wait six months EVER to observe how a company and is doing with their investments. No one investing should have different information or access.

Dianne Martz — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dianne Martz Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Dianne Martz, Sales Consultant.
I worked in financial services for decades, and I have studied the history of market crashes. We need all the transparency we can get, as frequently as possible. Do not water down the reporting requirements, this will lead to another market crash and probable Great Depression. Learn from history.

Best,

Dianne

Dick Mattis — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dick Mattis Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As a stock owning Americans i do not want the Government slowing up corporate reporting. If they do so they better bar any stock transactions by anyone associated with the company. We don't need to legalize insider trading like congress repeatedly is guilty of.

Thanks,Richard Mattis

Dinah Miller — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dinah Miller Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reports are necessary for spotting trends. Only twice a year reports would be a disaster for regular investors like me. And the entire market!
Dinah Miller

Donald Ayers-Marsh — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Donald Ayers-Marsh Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I strongly object to the proposed change to reporting only twice per year. It would be frustrating to not have timely information when making investment decisions. There is also a public benefit to more transparency. I also see no great benefit, as reporting is not as labor-intensive a task as when twice-per-year was last enacted.
Donald Ayers-Marsh

Donald Kinner — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Donald Kinner Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Why on Earth would one revert to something largely ineffective "from1955"?.

Donna Winter — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Winter Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is absolutely a play to allow corruption and keep from reporting the on money that DOES NOT BELONG TO YOU! Keep the quarterly reporting in place so that people can keep watch on the only thing they will have control of for their retirement years. History shows that the last time reporting was extended it took more than a decade for the economy to recover!
My husband and I are in our late 70s and need to having frequent accounting so that we can plan for whatever years we have left. Changing the reporting pulls the little sense of security we have left during this chaotic and uncertain time this crazy administration has created. Don’t be part of contributing to the corruption and lack of honesty this administration promotes.
Donna Winter

Sent from my iPhone

Donna Comcast — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Comcast Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As a former public accounting auditor of publicly traded companies, I can’t believe that anyone could think this was an intelligent move. There is already so much fraud out there. Let’s not make things worse.

Donna

Donna Dotson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Donna Dotson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

You shouldn't be allowed to hide information even temporarily from the American public. You're trying to use our own government against us. Enough already. Life is hard enough on average people.

Donna Frederick-Neznek — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Donna Frederick-Neznek Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Donna Frederick-Neznek, retired teacher Connecticut. I am disabled with an incurable cancer. I sacrificed thru the years to make contributions for my retirement. I cannot afford to lose any money because of this.

Donna Riley — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Riley Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Reporting should be easier than ever with all if the automated reports. This is just laziness or an attempt to hide when companies are experiencing issues. Do not let them drop quarterly reporting.

Donna Smith — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Smith Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Corruption already runs rampant!!!
ENOUGH!!! DO NOT makes changes to the current quarterly reporting!!!

Donna Williamson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Williamson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The public deserves transparency, especially stockholders! No hiding the facts.

Get Outlook for iOS

Donnastrin3 — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donnastrin3 Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I'm retired, and meet with my financial advisor quarterly. I rely on quarterly reports to inform my discussions with my advisor and the decisions made regarding my investments. Although my background is in nursing rather than finance, I served as quality improvement director at my last two positions, and understand very well the impact of transparency and accountability across all settings and disciplines. Quarterly reporting enhances both. Please support the continuation of this practice. Thank you.

Sent from my Galaxy

Donny Rhode — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donny Rhode Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 weekly reporting would be a better idea the semi-anually. there must some very dishonest people behind the proposed change.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Dorianne Almann — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dorianne Almann Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Halving SEC corporate reporting requirements is bad for several reasons.

Firstly, isn't this administration about transparency? At least that's what I hear touted by spokespeople. Lengthening the time before info becomes available to the public makes a mockery of the admin's claim.

Furthermore, while large institutional traders have other data sources, info access for me, Main Street Dori, is made harder as info gaps increase. Main Street investors scour periodic filings. Reducing disclosure requirements will almost certainly translate into a reduction in analyst coverage, leaving me with even less professional guidance.

On top of the additional challenges I'll face as an investor, fraud is sure to increase as dicey management teams have a longer period of time to hide fraudulent actions and/or mismanagement.

On top of negatively impacting Main St investors, I read that changing to semiannual reports could encourage institutional investors that rely on real-time financial metrics to look at investing in more highly regulated, transparent foreign markets.

I fail to see how squashing Main St's interest in investing in US companies while simultaneously dampening interest by the big guys in doing the same is at all beneficial.

Dorianne Almann.

Doris Anderson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Doris Anderson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Doris Anderson,

Arkansas Information Technology Council Member (retired)

Quarterly SEC filings dramatically shorten the window in which FRAUD can fester before someone outside the company can see it. Keep the SEC filings quarterly for transparency. Six months allows time for TOO much damage and deception.

Doris Anderson

Dorothy G. — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dorothy G. Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please keep the SEC filings quarterly. I rely on quarterly information to make decisions. Longer gaps create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders, "optional" doesn't fix the problem because companies that opt in are often the ones whose investors most need frequent updates. The savings to companies aren't worth the cost to us all.

Thank you,
Dorothy G.

Dorothy Keller — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dorothy Keller Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I strongly disagree, how can stockholders assess the state of a company without timely information.

Doug & Sherry Wagoner — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Doug & Sherry Wagoner Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 No, No, No!!!!

Doug Guthrie — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Doug Guthrie Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Gee it would be too bad if the 10 % of the population that owns 90% of the stock list a few bucks

---

Doug Wiser — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Doug Wiser Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Oversight should count

---

Douglas Pickarts — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Douglas Pickarts Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Absolutely NO on 6 mo reporting!

Retain quarterly disclosures!

D Pickarts
Hilo, Hawai'i

Douglas Russell — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Douglas Russell Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep it Quarterly!

Sent from:

D. Floyd Russell
30600 N. Pima RD., Lot 109
floydrussell@mac.com
602.315.3033

Ed Enos — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ed Enos Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Do not change the status quo you bunch of Trump criminals

The American public will demand your incarceration if you tamper

Sent from my iPad

Ed Tellis — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ed Tellis Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 6 months is too long.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Eddie Barnett — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Eddie Barnett Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep our savings with quarterly notices

EB+ ----------
Fr. Edwin Barnett
1232 Timberline Dr.
Benbrook TX 76126

Eddie Mencke — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Eddie Mencke Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Ed Mencke Retired
It's important that I have up to date investment data so I canake the best decisions for my retirement accounts.

Edward Belanger — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Edward Belanger Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To ensure the ongoing, robust management of my investment portfolio, I kindly request the continuation of our established quarterly reporting. These comprehensive reports are critical for providing the necessary financial data, performance analysis, and strategic insights that enable informed decision-making, effective risk assessment, and alignment with long-term financial objectives. Edward J Belanger

---

Edward Magowan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Edward Magowan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Small investor. I prefer quarterly reports. The odds are already stacked against us, why make it worse (unless that is the intent)?

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Eileen Becker — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Eileen Becker Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Eileen Becker and I am a retired dental hygienist. I am currently living on Social Security and my investments saved from my years in the workplace. I follow the stock market regularly to keep an eye on my investments. Allowing companies to go 6 months between reports would mean people like me would be essentially blindfolded as far as our investments are concerned. It would be twice as easy for bad actors to fool us, and cause us to make bad financial decisions. Please keep the reports quarterly.

Eileen McKeel — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Eileen McKeel Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reports. It is easier to keep track of my stocks.

Sent from my iPad

Eileen Tollis — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Eileen Tollis Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I want to continue to receive my QUARTERLY FINANCIAL STATEMENTS for ALL of my investments!!!! If you change it, we will vote you out!!!
Eileen Tollis
Parma, Ohio
Retired (& saved damn hard for my investments)!!!

Elaine B — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elaine B Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Integrity in financial records and reporting is essential to running a business. Changing the timing doesn't help anyone!! Not investors, business owners or management.
As a financial manager with fiduciary responsibilities I support keeping reporting quarterly.
E. T. Bailey

Elena Flores — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Elena Flores Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Taking away quarterly vital information would hurt regular investors that want to stay informed about the companies they are putting money into. Do not change this rule.

Elizabeth Calhoun — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elizabeth Calhoun Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please continue quarterly reports. I want to know what’s happening sooner than every six months. Elizabeth Calhoun, Retired.

Sent from my iPhone

Elizabeth Lindorff — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elizabeth Lindorff Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Who benefits from this shift from 3 to 6 months?
Not the working class, middle class, small investors.
I don’t approve or accept that this will improve anyone’s financial standing or offer any benefit to 90 % of working Americans.
It’s not justifiable.
Elizabeth Lindorff, retired public school teacher

Elizabeth Rivera — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elizabeth Rivera Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This needs to be transparent for ALL investors. To do otherwise is to let fraud and abuse perpetuate in financial markets! The common man needs to be protected!

Ellen Murphy — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ellen Murphy Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Ellen Murphy - Social Worker. Please do not keep us in the blind for 6 months. Very unfair.

Ellie Etter — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ellie Etter Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It is important for the financial integrity and the protection of investors that quarterly reporting requirement remains. All investors and potential investors should have this information quarterly, not just inside investors.

Em Turner Chitty — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Em Turner Chitty Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Em Chitty. I live in a rural area of Middle Tennessee. I am retired from a career in teaching. I live primarily on my Social Security allocations, but I have savings as a backstop and they are invested in various financial instruments, including, at times, the stock market. I am 71. If the stock market crashes or if there are significant losses, I am too old to be able to ride things out until the next bubble. I will crash with it.
We need to have quarterly reports to be able to guide our investments intelligently. Semi-annual reports or annual reports reduce our ability to understand what's happening with the little money most of us have.
Please do not allow companies to report less frequently. If people lose half or more of their savings, either they go on the public charge or they die. A country whose cities are littered with dying people is not a great country, no matter how rich its oligarchs are.

Emily Cleath — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Emily Cleath Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I'm a mother and a nonprofit communications professional who is sickened by all the corruption in our government related to insider trading, and the policy and laws created just to boost corporate profits and shareholder wealth. Making the SEC less transparent and publicly accountable will only facilitate that, which is, no doubt, why a switch to semi-annual reports is being proposed.

People can see right through everything this administration is doing for the donor class, the 1%, and foreign fascists, and there will be consequences in November.

Emily Cleath
Pittsburgh, PA

Emmy Fearn — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Emmy Fearn Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Retaining Quarterly Reporting is essential to maintaining our financial stability.

Best,

Emilene J. Fearn, PhD, MBA, MA
Retired professsor and ATT employee

Composed on my tiny iPhone keyboard

Emory Martin — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Emory Martin Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is wrong on so many accounts!

Sent from my iPhone

Eric Parks — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Eric Parks Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 DON'T LET COMPANIES HIDE THEIR BOOKS FOR SIX MONTHS AT A TIME !!

Err Eek — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Err Eek Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Further delaying release of company books makes investing more dangerous for average investers, promotes insider trading (remember Enron?), and privileges the wealthy, who already benefit from the privilege of differential access to info.
DO NOT CHANGE THE REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

Esther Read — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Esther Read Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports. These inform investor decisions, whether they're large corporate decisions or small individual decisions. Keep the stock market healthy, don't crash it.

Esther Read

---

estherlangmft — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: estherlangmft Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reports should continue. They benefit the investor & the investments.
The current administration wants to make the change so it can hide market info. This is dangerous and undemocratic. The more you give in, the more he will cheat. Stay Quarterly!

Sent from my Galaxy

Evalijah Kerr — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Evalijah Kerr Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It is imperative that full disclosure be available in a timely reported window. Please retain current quarterly reporting as is the current requirement and do not permit a change to reporting/disclosure greater than every three months.

Eva Kerr

Sent from my iPhone

Evangelos Sisalouis — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Evangelos Sisalouis Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Evangelos Sisalouis and I am an attorney in the cleveland area. Quarterly returns are important for transparency, democracy and for the good of the market overall. Do not change the rules

---

Evelyn Leo — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Evelyn Leo Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the info public

Sent from my iPhone

Flor Siqueiros — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Flor Siqueiros Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I belive that the new SEC proposal cannot possibly be beneficial for those who invest, do business, the public and the employees of companies that would go dark for six months at a time.

I hope that you take my opinion into consideration.

Thank you.

Flor Siqueiros, Executive Producer / Director, C. Communications, Beverly Hills, CA.

Frances McFate — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Frances McFate Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Not being able to review corporate earnings for 6 months would be a blow to private investors. The world changes even faster now. We need access every 3 months. !!!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Frank Acton — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Frank Acton Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Transparency appears to be in decline recently; let's not make it worse here

In nili, nisi

Frank Doernbach — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Frank Doernbach Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 maintain the reporting obligation as they are valid now...Shareholders have a right to be informed ..thanks in advance...no flight by night investments..

Frank Lucas — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Frank Lucas Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Do NOT block our access to information!

Frank Segura — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Frank Segura Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 criminals on display governing themselves to steal money

Sent from my iPhone

Frank Sheridan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Frank Sheridan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We should have a voice and a opinion that should not be ignored. The fate in companies following rules comes from you
Taking the quarterly report is like walking blind into a room, Then find your way out, this would only hurt retail investors the most

---

Fred Reaman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Fred Reaman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please keep the reporting quarterly. Transparency is one of the hallmarks of the US Financial system and the markets. Now is not the time to take a step back and create a haven for more nefarious and illegal activity.

F.R.
Financial Trustee.

Frieda Fisher-Tyler — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Frieda Fisher-Tyler Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Reducing transparency is counter intuitive. Bad idea. Letting folks have more time to pivot and hide is a bad idea. I'm a retired Public Health Administrator in state government, and Health & Safety Director in pharmaceutical research and development. The guardrails are there forel good reason in the industries I worked in. They are even more important in finance, where the interests of every investor are at stake. Especially importand for retirees on fixed income, taking income from retirement accounts. Maintain quarterly reporting, at least try to keep them honest while they know someone in authority is looking.

Sincerely,

K. Frieda Fisher-Tyler
State of Delaware

G Odom — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: G Odom Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This leaves companies blind stretching or collapsing production and reinvesting in materials and supplies.

Gabriel Truitt — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gabriel Truitt Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting is a cornerstone of modern investing. It's deeply stupid to halve the frequency of this reporting. The only possible justification is to hide information from the American people, to the benefit of a privileged few.

Sincerely,
Gabe Truitt
Senior Engineering Manager

Gabriella Soto — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Gabriella Soto Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
ENOUGH IS ENOUGH. Time for transparency.

Gail Beaulieu — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gail Beaulieu Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Our investments matter! Quarterly reports are important! Gives us the opportunity to make a change especially if you are on a fixed income!

Get Outlook for iOS

Gail Swift — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gail Swift Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I want to see quarterly reports, not only seminnualy! I am retired and like paper copies still for my records!

Gail Swift

Gary Egolf — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gary Egolf Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I want to have quarterly reporting. That is even slow in time the way the market moves.

Sent from my iPhone

Gary Geiger — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gary Geiger Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I strongly disagree with the proposed change of time frame for financial reporting. The role of the SEC is to protect investors, not bow to corporations. Gary G. Geiger Maintenance Engineer

---

Gary Gromet — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gary Gromet Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 At the present time, changes are occurring faster than ever. Considering that fact, corporations should not be allowed to delay reporting any longer than 90 days in fact, 60 days would be more appropriate not 180 days if changes need to be made.

Gary Gromet
10424 Southwest 115 Court
Miami, Florida 33176
305-807-5337

Gary Kelly — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gary Kelly Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reports provide valuable information on public companies to both investors and customers. Keep these as required filings.
Gary Kelly, CPA

Gary Smith — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gary Smith Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I support keeping the quarterly reporting. With the constantly changing markets, increasing the time between reporting periods puts investors at a disadvantage. Current technology makes reporting easier so there is no need to increase the reporting period.

Gavyn Mutman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gavyn Mutman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I rely on quarterly information to make decisions. Longer gaps create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders. "Optional" reporting doesn't fix the problem because companies that opt in are often the ones whose investors most need frequent updates. The savings to companies aren't worth the cost to me. Companies get enough breaks as it is.

Gemma Geluz — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gemma Geluz Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 There needs to be transparency on Wall Street, not insider trading.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Gene Rosintoski — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gene Rosintoski Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 SEC are you totally under the influence of the Trump admin? Sure looks like it! What happened to your obligation to the American people and NOT JUST THE WEALTHY!

G. Rosintoski
self employed

Geniece Hawkins — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Geniece Hawkins Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Part of my 401(k) is money I contributed. I have the right to check thate balance whenever I want. Furthermore, as an almost retiree, I pay attention to the entire balance in my account. If I want to make changes in how it's invested, I need to have access to my account at least quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

Geoffery Shisler — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Geoffery Shisler Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The reporting should be kept on a quarterly basis. As a senior with limited funds it is important to me to keep a close watch on investments. Six months is too long a period without review. P W Shisler, Florida

---

Geor LiSooey — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Geor LiSooey Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I need to see my reports quarterly. Please keep it that way.

Geor

Geraldine Benigsen — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Geraldine Benigsen Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Stop trying to screw the little guy! I need my quarterly reports!

Geri Inama — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Geri Inama Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It profoundly saddens me that y'all are proposing to step back quarterly reporting. Can you get any more lax in your responsibilities? Anymore derelict to your duties to protect the American public?
I am Geri Inama, a retiree from Anchorage, Alaska. We need more visibility, not less.

Germain Lockwood — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Germain Lockwood Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Michael hall, IT administrator, I want to continue my quarterly reports to keep updated on my holdings in my 401 K. I watch carefully how my stocks and bonds are reacting in this volatile environment. Especially given that not everyone contribute 6.2% of they are complete salary equally to social security fund.

Gerri North — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gerri North Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Corporations need to be responsible and transparent. They need to pay their fair share, not hide it. I have paid my takes my entire life, they should do the same. Stop changing the rules. Gerri North, retired educator

Gerri

Ghali Mazzouri — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ghali Mazzouri Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Ghali Mazzouri
Sr. Manager - Blings
This is highly immoral, no net benefit and will only lead to a large crash. Please, I advise you to not make this change

---

Gil Glover — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gil Glover Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am a retired individual who invests for income and hopefully building some inheritance for my children and grandchildren. But I have growing reservations about investing in publicly held companies through the conventional markets, i.e., stocks and bonds of public companies. If I decide to stop investing, and a lot of other individuals make the same decision - not to mention institutional investors like pensions, endowment funds, etc., what happens to the markets? I'd say they will crash and burn - destroying a lot of wealth along the way. That's why enabling public companies to shield info from public disclosure is a terrible idea.

Gil R. Glover
Dallas, Texas USA

---

gillian hough — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: gillian hough Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As a retired CPA and investor, it is impossible to make good investing decisions without accurate and timely financial information from publicly traded companies.

Sent from my iPhone

---

glospreys — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: glospreys Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Honest numbers on a timely (quarter) basis are critical to investor confidence in the Market. Don't kill the golden egg goose!

Sent from my Galaxy

---

gold3n 1961 — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: gold3n 1961 Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Fair is fair. If you allow anyone to have access to pertinent information more often than six months apart, then you must allow all people access to the same, as frequently. Moreover, investors of all stripes need access to the information more often and regularly in order to prudently determine which investments to make or to sell. Keep public access quarterly, or more frequently.

Gordon Bannon — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gordon Bannon Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Gordon B. I work as an analyst, I know what companies do when unobserved. They haven't done anything to gain our trust, they will not operate in our favor if they're not willing to do it now.

Sent with Proton Mail secure email.

Gordon Johnson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gordon Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 When a company has achieved a size at which they've issued stock, they are putting the public ar risk. Doubling the time before next report harms the public. As automated as things are, businesses now should be able to assemble their reports more easily in a more timely matter. And the SEC want to go the wrong direction and make time between reports longer?!?!
Gordon Johnson
Web programmer

Greg Banschbach — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Greg Banschbach Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Greg Banschbach. This proposal to allow any company to hide their accounts, or ignore the current rules concerning the disclosure of their profits or losses, means that nobody will have any real ideas about the current fiscal health of a company or stock. This should never be allowed to happen. No sane person would buy stock like that. It is asking the public at large to risk their life savings at a time when Social Security is also at risk. Anyone who is hoping to retire could lose everything if this passes. I ask the SEC TO REJECT THIS PROPOSAL!

Sent from my iPad

Greg Luce — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Greg Luce Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting is necessary for owners to review the performance in a balanced manner. Don't extend the reporting requirement.

Get Outlook for Android

Gregg Marxmiller — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gregg Marxmiller Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Gregg Marxmiller, fisherman, Ive seen the effects of deregulation in the airline industry and in the banks in my lifetime that were notable flops.

It is your responsibility to protect American people. Its incredible to think that regulators have abdicated their responsibilities to the people and handed over unnecessary deregulation to the industry. I can’t believe we’ve entered this age of foolishness and capitulation to corporations that do not have the public in mind. They are set up and will only continue to work in their own interests. It seems with this issue before us it is a clear indication that you serve a small part of our society and it is not the people. Things like this really erode my faith in our government to protect any semblance of the American dream. Essentially you are willingly serving corporate interests against a well informed citizenry.

Show some backbone and remember why you applied for this job in the first place. Remember the high ideals of working for the public and do not sully yourself by allowing this to go through.

Gregg Miller — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gregg Miller Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I and my spouse are actively involved in the stock market, and have been for the last 38 years. We count on quarterly reports of the companies that comprise our retirement stock portfolios. We request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Sent from my iPhone

Gregory Fitzgerald — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gregory Fitzgerald Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Do not change the quarterly reporting!

—- From Gregory Fitzgerald, Traverse City, Michigan

————————————
- Greg Fitzgerald

Gregory Olson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gregory Olson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please continue quarterly reporting, an important assessment tool for maintaining transparency and probity. Our financial institutions should strive for simple and time-tested reporting methods, especially in this quickly changing world. The public continues to place their hard-earned money in your care. Please do not abandon trusted norms in this increasingly volatile world.

Sent from my iPhone

Gretchen Schmidt Bishay — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gretchen Schmidt Bishay Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 How can less information for investors possibly be a good thing? With today's computing power, it should be easier than ever to report. Reducing reporting to only twice a year would be a ridiculous change. Please do not make this change.

Gretchen Bishay
Production Support Analyst
Lexington, KY

If this was overly brief, it's because it was sent from my phone.

Guess Who? — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Guess Who? Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Corporations are already allowed to hide too much information from the public. This will lead to more consumer fraud that will be harder to deal with. Say no to dising financial reports.

Tina

---

h s — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: h s Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Maintain quarterly reporting for corporations. This accountability is essential for transparency and investor understanding.

Haley Mack — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Haley Mack Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 On Rule S7-2026-15, maintain quarterly filing. Corporations already have too many ways to manipulate stock prices & hide information from the public

-Haley Mack

Sent from Proton Mail for Android.

Harlan Rosenthal — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Harlan Rosenthal Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Harlan Rosenthal, retired engineer, embedded systems and heavy machinery controllers.
Being retired I am dependent on my investments. The information that companies have been required to report for decades came about precisely because companies in trouble were hiding information and defrauding their shareholders. With so many people depending on the clarity and honesty of the securities market we should be maintaining the current reporting requirements.

Heather McRae — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Heather McRae Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Reporting should absolutely remain quarterly. Companies have to keep records anyway and everyday investors with 401k plans and other retirement deserve to know what the companies do.

Sent from my iPhone

Heather Muir — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Heather Muir Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is unconscionable. People need to show transparency.

Hector A. Willars — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Hector A. Willars Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Yeah, let's make it easier for companies making billions to hide from investors. Wtf?

Hector A. Willars, CPA

Heidi Hartnett — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Heidi Hartnett Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting is essential for knowing the full story. Why are insiders given the benefit of knowledge while we are not?
Heidi Hartnett

Retired insurance processor.

Heidi Madden — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Heidi Madden Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This proposal is not what we need. More corruption!!

Thanks, Heidi

Heidi Schultz — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Post financial results every 3 months From: Heidi Schultz Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Hello! I'm a full time, hard working nurse and I'm about 20 years from retirement. Please continue to report financial results every 3 months and do not increase this to 6 months postings.

I absolutely do not want my retirement funds going into any business that has not proven to be profitable and has been rushed through the process of earning its way into an investment index. Do not allow spaceX or any debt riddled company to abuse our investments.
Thank you.
Heidi Schultz kc mo resident.

Helen Goss — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Helen Goss Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Enough of gaming the system for the big guys to make bank. The masses are getting close to revolting, enough already.

No black out period!!!

Helen Goss an investor and taxpayer

Helen E Lang — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Helen E Lang Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Ridiculous! Do not allow companies to forego quarterly reporting!

Sent from my iPhone

Helen K Plunger — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Helen K Plunger Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 There is no justification for changing the reporting requirements. This would leave the "average" investor operating in the dark while the high dollar investors can operate with basically insider information. This is just another 1%er way to rig the system.

Helena James — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Helena James Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please don't change the requirements--Quarterly reporting is best, both for the Company, the Investors, and the Regulators.
Helena James
part of the Investor class.

Hillary Davidson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Hillary Davidson Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026 Keep the PUBLIC involved in Public Companies - quarterly, if not more frequently! I pay attention to these reports!

--- Hillary Russell Davidson, investor

Hiram Montes — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Hiram Montes Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Public disclosure should not be restricted.

HM Winkler Analyst, University of Florida — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: HM Winkler I'm a retail investor and have very little pertinent financial data available as it is for the the companies I'm able to invest in. Making reporting semi-annual would harm me by removing a valuable tool that could alter my financial future. This would add an additional barrier to further keep folks like me in the dark. Quarterly reporting is one of the most valuable tools we as small time investors still have left to help inform our decisions. We are being squeezed out of insights into market dynamics and financial health more and more every year and this would be another big loss for retail investors. I am against this proposal and feel it only further stacks the odds against my ability to make the best financial decisions possible. Thank you for your consideration.

Holly Rowland Johnson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Holly Rowland Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 With the state of the world and how things change so quickly, quarterly reporting is necessary.

Be safe,
Peace, Joy, & Laughter,
Holly Rowland Johnson

---

holly sandrey — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: holly sandrey Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please do not put individual investors at an even greater disadvantage by eliminating quarterly reporting. Making this change will only allow insiders to profit even more than they do now. People are counting on their investments please do not make it more difficult to monitor the health of our investments

Sent from my iPhone

Hope Peterson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Hope Peterson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We the people demand accountability and transparency. We are tired of Big Government doing dirty midnight dealings. If these companies are honest there shouldn't be a problem and their books should be public, nobody's above the law, not billionaire corporations, CEOs, Presidents or anyone else!

Horace Moning — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Horace Moning Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Im fore keep it real at lease

---

Ian Lesser — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Ian Lesser Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Esteemed representatives of the Securities and Exchange Commission:

As a formerly licensed and now license-optional employee of an industry-leading brokerage and retirement firm for the last 14 years, I know that our clients have come to expect transparency in financial reporting. Indeed, it's one of the most fundamentally important features of equity markets as well as of the funds and more complex instruments that depend on them. For years, quarterly reporting has been a cornerstone of the right to inspect books and records. These rights have become increasingly more important in a post-Sarbannes-Oxley and post-Dodd-Frank environment.

The move to semi-annual reporting will ultimately do a disservice not only to the investor public, but to the institutions that support them. Beyond the reduction in transparency, one must consider the impact in time and expense to update numerous industry-wide systems used for maintaining audit trails and ensuring the availability of financial records to the end client as well as to other stakeholders.

I ask that you consider these burdens and move to preserve quarterly reporting as a requirement. Doing so would go far to enrich public confidence in efficient markets.

Sincerely,

Ian Lesser
Senior software engineer, institutional wealth services, Denton, TX.

Ian Shelley — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ian Shelley Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please do not change to half yearly reporting. We need to maintain the current level of visibility into the investments and companies we own.

Ian Shelley
Portland, OR

Ileana Vasquez — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Ileana Vasquez Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Please stop the corruption. Investors all proper and necessary information to make successful and trustworthy decisions.

Ilene Mack-Zaghloul — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ilene Mack-Zaghloul Keep the reporting quarterly, please

---

Ingrid Schaefer — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ingrid Schaefer Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We all know eliminating quarterly earnings will only increase and encourage corruption . Isn’t it enough that we have insider trading going on ! We the people are tired of taking away safeguards and protecting criminals instead of citizens .
Ingrid Schaefer
Sent from my iPhone

Ira Erbs — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ira Erbs Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We need more transparency, not less. Tax payers are asked to bail companies out. We need to have a clearer idea about how they are doing.

Ira Erbs
Milwaukie, OR

Irene Douma Professor Emerita, Montclair State University — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Irene Douma I request the current quarterly format for financial reporting be maintained . Transparency and accountability is necessary to maintain trust in our economy. No one should have to wait 6 months for financial reports. I would prefer to see shorter reporting periods.

Isis Charest — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Isis Charest Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I prefer you keep reports quarterly.

J DeBacker — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: J DeBacker Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 55 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges. Richard DeBacker

Sent from my iPhone

---

j e — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: j e Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I'm a former RIA. The SEC did not bow to the power of billionaires back in those days. Please protect all citizens as you have all these years. Sound judgement hasn't gone out of style. These rules have been in place for decades to keep all of us in the industry honest. Don't change them now, for the benefit of just a few.

J Ford — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: J Ford Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 If the current regime isn’t tampering with my SS now it’s my 401 .

Sent from my iPad

J Heafield — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: J Heafield Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Insider trading activity is rampant now, as seen in big sums won in prediction markets. How much more is being made illegitimately on the markets? Transparency needs to be enhanced, not slowed down. I used to write quarterly reports and 10-Qs. These do not require any more staff to prepare than 6 month reports would. Don't fix it, it isn't broke!

J.M. Pena — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: J.M. Pena Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Retain the status quo! It may benefit your reputation in the long term.

Get Outlook for Android

Jack Cuoco — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jack Cuoco Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting has worked well for a long time. There is NO need to change this. J Cuoco engineer Northborough ma

Sent via the Samsung Galaxy S22 5G, an AT&T 5G smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Jack Sorbettor — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jack Sorbettor Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 With all of the lies coming from the Trump Administration down to talking heads on financial TV, citizens get precious little information under penalty of perjury from business as it is. With the advent of and access to AI for even the smallest of businesses, there is no reason to think that the cost of quarterly reports will ever be oppressive. This also goes for crypto businesses, not-for-profits, and any others who receive funds or other benefits from the public.

Jack Sorbettor Jr.

Jackie Lyle — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jackie Lyle Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Changing the rules will make financial management impossible. Please do not make this change.

Jacob Green — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jacob Green Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Hello, an abrupt change to the status quo was not asked for and is dangerous. And we should remember why these rules are in place to prevent fraud! Please reconsider this rule change. And maintain quarterly reporting as the standard.

Jaime Hiddinga — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jaime Hiddinga Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Hello!
I am someone with a vested interest in keeping reviews quarterly. I deserve to know where my money is going and how my money is being used. Keep the quarterly reviews!
Thank you,
Jaime Hiddinga, RN

Sent from my iPhone

Jake Wyatt — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jake Wyatt Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Timely updates to company information and reporting are critical to market stability - the requirement for quarterly reporting is absolutely needed. Removing it would prove the SEC is not acting on behalf of the American public.

Jacob Wyatt
Private citizen

James Connor — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment. Keep it Quarterly, please. From: James Connor Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Hi SEC,

My entire life we've had quarterly reporting—protecting investors with quarterly transparency. If you remove it, you'll be willfully leaving investors like myself blind for 6 months.

Our best response will be to pull money from the market—because you made us more unsafe.

If you want to crash the markets and reduce public investment, pulling back 56 years of quarterly protections likely will do it.

Best wishes,

James Connor

P.S. I'm a regular person with a job who puts my savings into the stock market to plan for retirement. Please don't blow up my and other people's futures by destroying the greatest stock market in the world.

James Engler — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Engler Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is insanity and only helps insider trading

Sent from my iPhone

James Ensor — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Ensor Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is James Ensor, I'm a Consulting Manager at Accenture and I rely on quarterly reporting to make personal investments. The semi-annual cadence would benefit institutional investors over individuals, and the savings to companies isn't worth the costs in transparency. Please consider this email my comment of opposition to S7-2026-15.

Thank you,
James

James Flint — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Flint Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I don't think it's asking too much for these companies to provide quarterly reports. Part of my income is from investments; I want to know.
Jim Flint, retired

James Hilton — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Hilton Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Public corporations should be required to report financial results quarterly as they do now. To much can change in six months especially in bad economic conditions or with bad management.

Sent the IPad of James Hilton (extraordinaire🤩)

James Jackson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Jackson Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026 This is ridiculous. It obviously make no sense other than to assist in companies in kicking the financial can down the road. Shameful direction this country is headed in

---

James Klahr — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Klahr Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Frances Klahr, retired government worker - the fact that you think its appropriate to hid our information from us for half a year is ridiculous. Yet, you're allowing massive insider trading by the current administration and his cronies - DO YOUR JOB - and protect our investments!

James Knaur — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Knaur Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Recommend continuing requirements for quarterly publication of public company financial information to ensure transparency to investors.

Sent from my iPhone

James R. Borchert — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: James R. Borchert Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please do not make this change- all investors will likely lose value. Our retirement investments are already tenuous enough. Markets are already shaky enough, with significant swings with every news item about war or energy or consumer confidence. Don't do it. Thanks for your consideration. Jim Borchert, Procurement Sourcing Manager, Hanover, NH

---

james semar — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: james semar Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Don’t eliminate current reporting requirements. Most Americans don’t have the wealth to play the markets. Employer plans offer the primary option for many employees.
James E. Semar, CEBS
Employee Benefits Professional

Sent from my iPhone

Jan Brady — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jan Brady Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Jan Brady, retired biochemist. Keep the three months. Information is important. Hiding information is dangerous.

Sent from my iPhone

Jan Byrne — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jan Byrne Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Part of my 401(k) is money I contributed. I have the right to check that balance whenever I want. Furthermore, as a retiree, I pay attention to the entire balance in my account. If I want to make changes in how it's invested, I need to have access to my account at least quarterly. Jan Byrne, St Louis, Mo.

Jan Hervert — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jan Hervert Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 A lot can happen in a quarter of a year. I believe it is necessary to require quarterly statements.

Jan Knostman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jan Knostman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Jan knostman, retired nurse. It matters as I have the right to know this information for my investment portfolio. It is not fair for some to have the data while others struggle to invest wisely

Sent from my iPad

Jan McCutchin — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jan McCutchin Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We, the investors, do not support a 6 month SEC blackout. The more transparent, the less room for fraud to happen. Protect Investors!

Jan McCutchin, Independent Investor

Jan Tarter — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jan Tarter Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Information is the basis of knowledge needed for investing. Having to wait an extra quarter for information increases risk and makes investing less desirable. Keep the quarterly report information updates.
J Tarter
Retired

Jan Titsworth — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jan Titsworth Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Every investor has the right to know how their investments are performing regardless of wealth,or position.
Jan Titsworth Retired struggling to make the money last as long as we do, and gave up on leaving a legacy of money for the kids

---

Jane Eagle — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jane Eagle Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We are mad as h*ll! And we are not gonna take it anymore!

Sent from my iPhone

Jane Shults — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jane Shults Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Do not eliminate quarterly statements. Retired people like me depend on getting regular reports on our investments to provide necessary data that guides our spending and adjusting our portfolios.

If you eliminate quarterly reporting you are deliberately choosing to harm normal, hard working American investors.

Janet Linden — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janet Linden Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Yes ,we need this to stay quarterly ,yes, absolutely. Too much corruption going on we've got to stay more on top of things. ...

Janet Hazen — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janet Hazen Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Why change it? Keep it as is!

Sent from my iPhone

Janet Hirshberg — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janet Hirshberg Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This hurts individual investors.

Sent from my iPhone

Janet Hovland — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janet Hovland Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Janet Hovland, retired. I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 20 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 401K stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Janet Hughes — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janet Hughes Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Janet Hughes Retired Teacher jazzyjhughes@yahoo.com I am a Retired Teacher and I want companies to continue to send reports every 3 months. I rely on my pension, my savings, to survive and live. I am almost 73 years old and need accurate information as I have limited resources. The balances in my annuities are important and affected by how well companies are doing as I will be forced to take RMD.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Janine Kwarcinski — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janine Kwarcinski Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It's ridiculous to go to 6 months, it's our investments not yours. Quit being crooked and continue to advise us quarterly.

J. C. Long, retired

Sent from my iPhone

Janis Schreiber — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janis Schreiber Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The world is changing faster than ever. Moving statement releases from quarterly to biannual just obscures information at a time when we need it sooner, not later.

Jany Sabins — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jany Sabins Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is a rue that has no need for change. So don't change it.

Jany Sabins

Jason Ormand Senior Software Engineer — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Jason Ormand Less frequent reporting reduces transparency in reporting in OBVIOUSLY a terrible idea which would make it more difficult to make informed decisions. Flamingly blatant stupid ass idea.

Jason Palmer — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jason Palmer Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I urge the SEC to keep the Quarterly Reporting Standard.

Even Quarterly reporting is insufficient given the instantaneous responses to world events. By the time the Quarterly report is released the data is already too old to make an effective decision. Changing this to Annual would be detrimental and make Financial reporting nearly useless except for historical context of what happened last year. Investors need near real time data to make well reasoned decision and to hold companies accountable.

Jason Palmer, CPA, CFP, CGMA, CISSP, CMMC LCCA

Sent from my iPhone

Jay Hiltgen Jay Hiltgen Electrical Service Person. 401 Ks are workers main source for retirement and security after retirement especially since Pensioms are going away. Why would the SEC want to handicap the work g class of this country. — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Jay Hiltgen Why would the SEC handicap workers in this country from being able to manage their funds.

Jay O'Brien — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Jay O'Brien Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly would work just fine in continuum. Thank You.

---

jay smith — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: jay smith Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 More transparency is needed not less. Especially with markets heading towards 24 hour trading. Apps are making this possible. Publicly traded Corporations should not be allowed to “hide information from share holders .

Thank you for YOUR ATTENTION TO THIS MATTER!!!!!

Jaye Stover — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jaye Stover Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Jaye Stover, retired Small Business owner without a pension. Quarterly reports help me live as I retire, dependent upon the stock market. Keep reports Quarterly.

Jc King — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jc King Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 JC Delettrez, ESL teacher. This raises the opacity of Wall Street to an even more exclusive insider level. FTS.

JD Williams — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: JD Williams Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The slippery slope continues. Next comes restrictions on broker/client relations.
Fascism is coming and Domocracy is fading away. Did you vote for this by failing to vote for freedom? Trump even sounds like a Mussolini.

Jean Kozma — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jean Kozma Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reports are critical to management investments effectively. Please do not change this. It in the best interest of stockholders and individuals!

Jean Kozma

Jean Meckauer — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jean Meckauer Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 If it ain't broke don't fix it. Protect consumers. We all actually keep the economy going.

Sent from my iPhone

Jeana Borman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeana Borman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting should remain the practice. Make it so.

Jeane Helms — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeane Helms Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Jeane Helms, retired, work for THE People and not maga!

Sent from my iPhone

Jeanne Cipollini — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jeanne Cipollini Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Transparency through quartet reporting has strengthened our country, not held it back. Do not move away from quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Jeff Miller — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeff Miller Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Maintain Quarterly reports to promote fairness in investment

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Jeff Oliver — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeff Oliver Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Wall Street is hoarding more than enough money already, and it isn't necessarily being used in the nation's best interest. Let's not exacerbate it by giving them a biggee screen.
We neet to retain quarterly reporting!
Jeff Oliver
Retired Health Care Manager

J oliver

Jeffrey Dodds — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeffrey Dodds Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Insider trading is illegal and needs to be strictly enforced. No one is above the law.

Sent from my iPhone

Jeffrey Park — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeffrey Park Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Dear SEC

Do not change the reporting period from quarterly to twice a year.
Companies need to be open with their shareholders. Going dark for six months at a time is not the way to do it.

Jeffrey Park, Yale University.

Jen Estg — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jen Estg Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Jen Storg

Sales specialist in a retirement community.

Stop the "Scamonomics"! Americans deserve quarterly statements, full disclosure, and full control of what happens with our earned and prepaid Social Security and Medicare!! Stop this extremist behavior and act with INTEGRITY. Remember integrity? Ethics? Stop the scheming and behave ethically. Please!!!

Jen Van Gelder — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jen Van Gelder Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The financials for a company can vary too much from month to month, never mind semi-yearly. And more frequent reporting means that inconsistencies can be found and addressed more regularly, leaving stakeholders with greater transparency and less liability. Please continue to mandate quarterly reporting.

Sincerely,
Jennifer Van Gelder

Sent from my iPhone

Jenni Ohnstad — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jenni Ohnstad Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am a small business owner in Nashville, TN less than 15 years from retirement. I want to keep tabs on my investments quarterly. -Jennifer Ohnstad

Jennifer Logue — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jennifer Logue Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am an accountant. I am against companies failing to inform consumers quarterly. If anything you should inform the monthly.
We need more transparency not less.
Thank you
Jennifer Logue.

Sent from my iPhone

Jennifer McDaid — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jennifer McDaid Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I support quarterly reports and am deeply uncomfortable with biannual reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Jennifer Willman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jennifer Willman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 While I certainly understand that the SEC wants to stay within the current administration's good graces, it's your job to do things in the best interests of Americans… ALL Americans.

Please don't make accountability more difficult.

Jennifer Brown — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jennifer Brown Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Why do you want to continue to destroy this country with every new business deal? Literally every other day, is a new way that shows you hate this country. You don't want anyone to ever get ahead. You only want to keep your group of colleagues rich or keep access to help out of reach. When did you sell your soul? Literally, people are just trying to make ends meet. You messing with more regulations companies obviously need, to not be reckless with money that they gamble with. When did you go from wanting to serve this country, to serving the devil? That's all this is. You serve money. Not sure how you sleep at night, knowing you sold out your fellow people. Wake up and stop screwing over the American people. It's disgusting. - J. Brown, Bay Area, California

---

Jennifer Crawford — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: SEC regulations From: Jennifer Crawford Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reports keep companies honest. How is the public supposed to believe that they are being truthful if the accountability is blind? Our stock market/all markets work because of the reporting to the public! If bad behavior and recklessness are not punished what happens to the trust the public puts into these markets, it plummets. Take away trust and the markets will plunge, don't allow this to happen. The public already is struggling to trust what is happening in this country, without the public companies reporting, the people won’t have the information they need to make sound decisions. Please, don’t take everything away from the people!

Sent from Yahoo Mail for iPhone

Jennifer Frandsen — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jennifer Frandsen Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is insanity. Keep public records required and available for the people who are investing.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Jennifer Irvin — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jennifer Irvin Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is wrong. Don't go public if you don't want to keep secrets.

Jennifer Lamielle — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jennifer Lamielle Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is our retirement. Do not hide it

Sent from my iPhone

Jennifer M. — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jennifer M. Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Jennifer and I work in customer service for a fortune 500 company. It is important to continue with the quarterly disclosures because accounting scandals are enabled by having gaps in financial disclosures. Fraud won't be completely prevented by quarterly filing disclosures, but it will shorten the window in which it can happen significantly because the public will be able to see it more often and be able to catch the differences in what is happening vs. what is being presented as happening by the companies that may be engaging in fraud.

Jennifer P — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jennifer P Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Past has taught us that visibility is needed for companies. Not for this.

Jennifer

Jennifer Pulikkan — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jennifer Pulikkan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As I approach closer to retirement in the next 10 or so years, I need to know how the companies I am investing with are doing. We talk about transparency and keeping at least quarterly is the best way to achieve this for investors like myself. Thank you for ypur consideration.
Jennifer Pulikkan, MS CCC-SLP

Sent from my iPhone

Jerry Bokamper — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jerry Bokamper Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Our 401K is our future, and we need transparency from corporations to know what that future is. Continue the quarterly reports! Jerry Bokamper, Forney, Texas

Sent from my iPhone

Jerry Mastriano — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jerry Mastriano Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Rule S7-2026-15 will keep investors away from vital information for too long, while those who benefit from hiding data get a big boost. This is not a good idea, and it seems like the SEC is encouraging a cynical scheme to mislead investors. The managers of my pension need, and should receive, quarterly reports.

Thank you
Jerry Mastriano (retired)

Jerry Pendergast — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jerry Pendergast Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Jerry Pendsergast, Writer. Wall Street trade needs to be more transpar4ent, not less.

Jerry Roesch — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jerry Roesch Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Letting light shine on, what should be public information, is always referable. Good and stable corporations will not be inconvenienced.

Sent from my iPhone

Jerry Wagner — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jerry Wagner Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Whatever happened to tansparency? Any savings are overstated and not worth the effort to keep the pubic in the dark. I thought the SEC was above the moves by other agencies to hide information from the public

---

Jess Coulter — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jess Coulter Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Jess Coulter, I'm a teacher, and companies need to be held accountable for their spending. Hiding their reports breeds corruption.

Jesse Krizenesky — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: SEC Rule S7-2026-15 comment From: Jesse Krizenesky Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep earning reports to 4x/year.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Jil Daniel — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jil Daniel Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I don’t wanna change your thing that makes it easier for people in the 401(k) to have their money.
Deal with this it…

Sent from my iPhone

Jim — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jim Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the quarterly report. Keep investors informed. Keep the playing field level.

Sent from my iPhone

Jim Dougslas — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jim Dougslas Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 You lousy P0S ought to stay the f*ck out of our business!! Or we are can make you our business!

JIM FINNEGAN — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: JIM FINNEGAN Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It is mandatory to keep reporting every three months
This gives us a clue as to how a company is doing
This is a no-brainer

Sent from my iPhone

Jim Jensen — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jim Jensen Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 it is NOT IN THE BEST INTEREST OF CITIZENS, to stop quarterly reporting !!!!! WE NEED to know what these INC's are DOING !!!!

Jim Stark — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jim Stark Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I like the quarterly post on how my investments are doing so I can keep an eye on them. James L Stark-e-mail at xxxx@gmail.com

---

Jim Stark — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jim Stark Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 what I worked hard for to help me make it through the Golden years, I am now living off S. Security, I can't afford to keep losing money because S. Security barely keeps me a float especially if I have to keep up with, medical bills, upkeeps on the house, property tax's, insurance ect...

---

jim x — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: jim x Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is going to lead to more fraud and more economic misery for all of America.
With the advances in technology companies should be able to report in less time - not more.
Average American here and it seems like the proposed changes with hurt us, i am 100% against this.

Jimmy Harris — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jimmy Harris Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please retain our transparency to protect our investments.

James Harris
Cornelia, GA

Sent from my iPhone

Jinan Strickland — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jinan Strickland Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is ridiculous. Quarterly Reporting provides data that is up to date for their shareholders. Failure to require this would result in lax corporate culture & action to insure honest reporting.

Jinan Strickland

Jo Ann Robinson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jo Ann Robinson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I saw the fallout from Enron and actually worked with several people whose portfolios were devastated. Quarterly statements are absolutely necessary to keep owners informed. Please continue to require that statements are sent to owners at least quarterly. Consumers need this protection.

Jo Ann Robinson

Sent from my Galaxy

Jo Ann Fenton — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jo Ann Fenton Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep quarterly filings.

Sent from my iPhone

Joan Barr — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joan Barr Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I want quartly reports to continue!

Sent from my iPhone

Joan Null — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joan Null Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I've been invested in the stock markets for nearly 50 years. Please keep the reporting requirements on a quarterly basis. Too much can happen in a longer time span that could affect a buying/selling decision.

Joan Null

Joan Bonfich — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joan Bonfich Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Joan Bonfich
Husband had. 401 k for years. Those quarterly reports were important to help us keep tabs on our account! Please keep!

Sent from my iPhone

Joan Fuhry — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joan Fuhry Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The idea of fewer reports does not permit insight into operations. Do not permit this to happen. Investors have the right to transparency. Keep existing reporting requirements!

Joan Fuhry
Private iinvestor and CalPERS retiree.

Joan Stephens — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joan Stephens Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep SEC reports quarterly. Is this government for the people or government for the profit of corporations? We have a right to know. Joan Stephens, RN

Sent from my iPhone

Joanna Clapham — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Joanna Clapham Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Joanna, retired licensed science and social science educator in Colorado.
One of the main principles I have emphasized in my career related to democratic-style rule and capitalist-based societies is that governments and markets work best with fairness and transparency (with clear and consistent communication and regulation). These ideas are foundational to democracy and relate to the rule of law. And without question, the rule of law supports strong, sustainable markets. Corporate quarterly reporting is part of that transparency. It gives the public greater confidence in the market. With this timely communication, corporations are held accountable by both shareholders and consumers. It is good for management to face the music four times a year, rather than once. It is good for competition. It definitely benefits the average investors. And doesn't put an undue burden or corporations as quarterly reports are not audited.
With market disruptions becoming much more frequent, in general, annual reporting is even less adequate now than it was in the 1950s. Mid-course corrections can be made more effectively, resources (capital and labor) can be aptly acquired or liquidated, and profits realized or losses mitigated. Lowering the reporting from four to one time per year only benefits insiders/moguls. The proposed change will not benefit the majority of investors. In fact, it would likely lead to a significant depletion of wealth across the American public, only widening the largest wealth gap in our country's history.
Thank you for upholding the public comment policy, which is yet another example of assuring faith in government, which further secures faith in markets.

Joanna Ware — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joanna Ware Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 JoAnna Ware, retired APRN.
Keep the quarterly statements. Let us have information on our portfolios.

Sent from my iPhone

JoAnne Eschweiler — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: JoAnne Eschweiler Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is JoAnne Eschweiler, I am a Registered Nurse and I want reports on my 401K to remain quarterly so I can monitor my gains and losses. There is no reason to lessen oversight of my money!

JoAnne Eschweiler

Get Outlook for Android

JoAnne Yurcaba — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: JoAnne Yurcaba Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Joanne Yurcaba, retired. We the People need to know this information more often, not less. This Administration spoke regularly of transparency and do the opposite. What are they trying to hide? More deceit, more deception, more fraud, more ripping off of We the People.

Jody McOsker — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jody McOsker Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 So much can happen in 6 months. How can I invest without real information. Half a year? Insane. Or just corrupt? Please leave the 3 month reporting.

J McOsker

Joe V — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Joe V Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Im a training supervisor in a manyfacturing facility located in NC. After my last plant closed down I worried about my retirement, im less than 15 years away. I have no family and will likely be in an assisted living home at some point. I began trying to max my contributions so I would be able to support myself. Even with max contributions my end years will be tight. Losing 10's of thousands of dollars would be catastrophic. I can't fathom why this would be considered an option with all the evidence showing it not working. I can only guess that this somehow makes some sliver of our population money.
Joe V.

Joe Gosar — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joe Gosar Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026 Stick to quarterly reporting.

Joe Moffa — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joe Moffa Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This matters because transparency is necessary for investors.

Joe Page — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joe Page Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Joe Page, attorney, I am getting close to retirement, this rule change will not help investors like myself whatsoever and likely will only lead to serious problems.

Best,

Joe Page
Joe Page Law Firm, LLC
TEL: 573 616 2527
FAX: 866 874 3601
612 Washington St.
Jefferson City, MO 65101

Email: jpage@joepagelaw.com

This e-mail and any attachments are intended only for use by the addressee(s) and may contain information that is legally privileged, confidential, or both. If you are not the intended recipient of this e-mail, you are notified that any dissemination, distribution or copying of this e-mail and any attachments is strictly prohibited. If you have received this e-mail in error, please immediately notify me by return e-mail and permanently delete the original, any copy of this e-mail messageor attachment and any printed originals and copies.

Joe Sobel — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joe Sobel Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This isn't the SEC I know from experience. This is a mandate from a failing administration taking advantage to further increase insider trading benefits. This is detrimental to all other investors and wreaks of the administration's efforts to do away with transparency where ever possible.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Joe Wolfarth — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joe Wolfarth Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 401K Accounts Belong to THE EMPLOYEE - NOT The "Company" Or the Stock Market!!!

Joel Eatmon — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Joel Eatmon Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting provides greater transparency for more accurate valuation and safer investing. I rely on my investments for my retirement income.

Joel Eatmon

Joel Mikell — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joel Mikell Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Any reporting delays longer than a quarter is disservice to the public. We count on these reports to make timely investments decisions.

Concerned,
Joel Mikell

Sent from my iPad

John Ginger — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Ginger Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 John Ginger, retired- "quarterly reports help me so much with my financial and life planning. And 6 months is such a long time period since my health and life circumstances change monthly or even weekly. Please stay quarterly!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

John Beck — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Beck Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reports are absolutely necessary for investors. As an investor you are a proprietor. You have a right to these records. Any stock openly traded needs to be transparent.

On another note insider trading needs to abolished.

Sent from my iPad

John Bradley — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: John Bradley Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting is a foundational driver of corporate transparency and accountability.

As a retired American whose livelihood depends on strong market performance, I urge you in the strongest terms to NOT allow the SEC to move to a biannual reporting scheme as it would gravely harm the financial security of all Americans.

Biannual Reporting has already been tried and was abandoned for very good reasons. Please don’t cave to special interests and force American citizens to relive that disastrous era.

John Bradley
Indianapolis, IN

John Coffey — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Coffey Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Name: John Coffey Title: 401K Holder
Before retiring, I implemented financial reporting software for companies along the east coast. Reporting is easy! Back then, the reporting requirements could be done with the touch of a button. It was massaging the numbers to fit the target audience (IRS vs Stock Holders) that took up all of the time! This was all the way back in the aughts (2000 - 2010.) I can't imagine quarterly reporting getting any easier than pressing a button, but I'm sure it has gotten easier as in, "Hey Siri, generate a quarterly report."
Now with AI, the data massaging can be done on the fly with very little effort. Any publicly traded company has easy access to very powerful software that can crunch the numbers. Chief Financial Officers can monitor the status of their companies in real time. The cost savings for financial reporting are overblown. This is money they are already spending. Please don't make the USA any easier for Bernie Madoff lookalikes to prosper. Thank you.

Sincerely,

John Coffey

John Coffey — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Coffey Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Name: John Coffey Title: 401K Holder

Before retiring, I implemented financial reporting software for companies across the east coast. Reporting is easy! Back then all of the reporting requirements could be done with the touch of a button. It was massaging the numbers to fit the target audience (IRS vs Stock Holders) that took up all of the time! This was all the way back in the aughts (2000 - 2010.) I can't imagine quarterly reporting getting any easier than pressing a button, but I'm sure it has gotten easier as in, "Hey Siri, generate a quarterly report."

Now with AI, the data massaging can be done on the fly with very little effort. Any publicly traded company has easy access to very powerful software that can crunch the numbers. Chief Financial Officers can monitor the status of their companies in real time! The cost savings for financial reporting are overblown. This is money they are already spending. Please don't make the USA any easier for Bernie Madoff lookalikes to prosper. Thank you.

John Cork — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Cork Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is John Cork and I'm a licensed exam writer at Comanche Peak Nuclear Power Plant. Transparency is more important than ever and quarterly reporting should remain.

---

john delgiudice — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: john delgiudice Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Retired former Wall St. And Government employee in the IT field. Companies can now run their businesses on a real-time basis. With that kind of information access they should be reporting monthly. With less frequent reporting, there is likely to be greater stock volatility that is good for traders but not investors.

John L Knutsson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John L Knutsson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 John Knutsson, retired Quarterly reports are critical to decision making on securities and must be continued.

John Knutsson

John Lunt — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: John Lunt Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Why would anyone be ok with letting businesses report less frequently????

Keep the reporting quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

John Martin — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Martin Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 John Martin, Electrical Foreman. This matters cause I followed my investments daily and have changed made based on company's decisions as well as their stock & how it is doing! I need to see more not less! This is more bullshit to screw the avg American & help the rich hide their failures from us! That's all it is is helping them hide mouse shit from investors! Fk that shit. Not why we elected Trump

---

Johnny Jr — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Johnny Jr Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The elimination of the 3 months financial results reporting requirement is detrimental the average investor .What is the logic of increasing the period to 6 months?

Joi Whipple — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joi Whipple Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please don't allow corporations more power to manipulate earnings reporting more than they already are capable. Life is hard enough for those of us who aren't in the upper class.

Joi Whipple
Old Town, FL

Jolyn Vita — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jolyn Vita Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I'm 78. I want transparent investing so my 401ks, 403bs, and IRAs are still there when I need them. Quarterly reports provide transparency. Don't cut back on reporting.
Jolyn Vita, Tax Professional
Sent from my iPad

Jon Benson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jon Benson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Corporate transparency is imperative. Corporate corruption has already gone too far.

Jonathan Eldridge — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jonathan Eldridge Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This sort of crap does not support the investors.
Please work on the common people's good.
Thanks
Jonathan Eldridge

It's time for big business to be banned from lobiests in all states.

Jonathan Friedlieb — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jonathan Friedlieb Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Data shows that increasing the interval between company reports increases corruption and costs shareholders money. Leave the report interval as is. As a retiree I depend on an honest market.

Sent from my iPhone

Jonathan W — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jonathan W Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I need to have trust in the stock market. I won't invest if they do this.

--
Sent with mail.com Mail app

Jonathan Wells — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jonathan Wells Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Jonathan Wells, HR Business Partner, Illinois. I strongly urge the SEC to keep the quarterly reporting as it is. As someone with significant investments to power my retirement, it is critical that the market remain transparent so that I can be assured of having my money in the right companies. American business prospers in an atmosphere of trust, and the quarterly reporting forces companies to be upfront about their status, far more so than bi-annually. This change would simply enable greedy corporate scams and pump-and-dump schemes at the expense of the American worker. For the sake of the working and professional class, it is critical that quarterly reporting remain in effect.

Jonathan Wells
HR Business Partner

Jordan Varghese — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jordan Varghese Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am a pastor in NYC. Financial results should be reported every 3 months for the sake of transparency and integrity. A large number of my congregants work in finance and banking, and this is concerning to them as well.

Jordan Varghese

Joseph Hitchcock Sr — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Joseph Hitchcock Sr Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Joseph Hitchcock Sr Information Security Analyst. I am hoping to make enough money to return someday. Please don't remove quarterly reporting. It would be devastating to most working people who have some money invested in the future of the country

---

Joseph DeeringDDS — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joseph DeeringDDS Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly Transparency is Absolutely Needed to Protect Investors and prevent defrauding the Public. Even protects Companies from mismanagement.

Joseph Russo — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joseph Russo Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Stop the CORRUPTION!

Sent from my iPad

Josephine Ryan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Josephine Ryan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I strongly object to permitting reports every six months instead of quarterly. I need up to date metrics to make informed decisions about my investments. I don't know who wiuld benefit from the change but I'm sure it's not the average investor.

Josephine Ryan

Sent from my Galaxy

Joshua W. — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joshua W. Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Joshua Webster Accountant
We need more accountability and transparency, not less. This will hurt people and has very little benefit for corporations outside of a bigger window to commit fraud.

Joy Clough — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joy Clough Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Joy Clough, Welder 3. The deck is already heavily stacked against a majority of the population. This only makes it worse. We need the quarterly reporting to stay in order to give the attempt of transparency. It's obvious to every American citizen paying attention that there are two different versions of America. One with insider trader & the other for the rest of us. Let's the quarterly reporting stand & stay. - Joy

---

Joy Inskeep — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joy Inskeep Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This country is going to hell economically for all but a small percentage because of decisions like this foolishness. There needs to be more oversight, not taking away more again. Too much has been allowed in practices & in law!. This by far has been the most irresponsible, Robber Baron oriented government I know of in US History. Stop this before we are completely ruined!!
Do not pass this bill!

Sent from my iPhone

Joyce Kemp — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joyce Kemp Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Joyce kemp, retired costumer, this is just another way for big companies to do some big stealing

Sent from my iPad

Joyce Richey — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joyce Richey Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Joyce Richey here. Why is every 6 months even proposed? Who does this serve? So the little man or woman gets hurt and the rich get richer? I'd like to know more.

Judi Jones — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judi Jones Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please keep transparency in the market! We need information so we know our futures.

Thank you!

Judi Jones

Judi Zrebiec — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judi Zrebiec Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We like our quarterly reports. We are retired and my husband and I depend on them to provide direction for our future trades, etc. Please do not change the timing of our reports .

Sent from my iPhone

Judi Zrebiec — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judi Zrebiec Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We like our quarterly reports. We are retired and my husband and I depend on them to provide direction for our future trades, etc. Please do not change .

Sent from my iPhone

Judith Kamp — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judith Kamp Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is another way for insiders to have an unfair advantage over the public investor. Judith Kamp, Retired Financial Advisor for over 30 years.

Judith Prats — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judith Prats Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My husband and I are retired teachers, and we are concerned not only for our own financial stability but also for that of of our children and grandchildren. We are also concerned for all investors. Do not reduce quarterly reporting to twice-a-year reporting. As we have seen over the past year and a half, we seriously need more transparency and more oversight of corporate transactions. I smell a rat when I am told to blindly trust in the “system.”

Sincerely,
Judith Gatton Prats

Judy Johnson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judy Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Reporting should remain at 3 months. Or perhaps it should be increased to monthly, due to all of the blatant insider trading that is not being prosecuted.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Judy Morris — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judy Morris Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Americans must receive quarterly reports of their investments. Please maintain this requirement for all investments.

Judy Wallace — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judy Wallace Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I'm a retired corporate executive. This change is a very bad move. It gives companies too much time to "massage" the books.....

Julia — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Julia Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I do not agree with changing this rule. Six months is a very long time to be able to hide things from the public. This rule change will not benefit the public and very well could lead to harm, much like citizens united

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Julia Punch — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Julia Punch Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 More, not less accountability and reporting. If making a change-go monthly! At LEAST every three months at a minimum!!
I am a self employed teacher. If my retirement benefits had done better, earned more? Maybe I wouldn’t still be working at age 76. People need to know what is going on especially with their investments!!

Sent from my iPhone

Juliana Olinka — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Juliana Olinka Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I'm too old (retired from an executive position in the entertainment industry) to wait 6 months between reports. Decisions need information in a timely manner.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Julianne Miles — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Julianne Miles Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Julianne Miles and I am a retired teacher and veteran. My retirement savings is invested in the markets that you regulate. This change to fewer reporting requirements seems to me a terrible thing for small investors. What gets checked gets done. Lack of visibility of what is going on at a company makes it incredibly hard for people like me who rely on that public reporting. Don’t do this!

Sent from my iPhone

Julie Browndavis — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Julie Browndavis Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Reporting should be at least quarterly if not monthly or weekly. As an investor, within a quarter is the rise and fall of my assets, and the electronic age is nanoseconds.

Sent from my iPhone

Julie Falkenberg — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Julie Falkenberg Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Shame on you. Quarterly reporting is very important! That's how we know if you are screwing us over.
Julie Falkenberg, retired

Julie Frankino — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Julie Frankino Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Wall Street needs more transparency, not less. My lower middle class parents lost most of their net worth due to the insider gutting of G.E. The stock my mother had earned as part of her compensation as a G.E. secretary in her twenties and held onto for decades of growth virtually disappeared around the time she retired as the wealthiest shareholders raided the company. Allowing companies to report less frequently benefits the wealthy elite with insider knowledge at the expense of everyone else. Ultimately, more middle and lower class people will lose their wealth, continuing our nation's race to the bottom. Corporate transparency is critical to a thriving democracy and a prosperous society. Please do not decrease corporate reporting requirements!

Julie Hohmeister — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Julie Hohmeister Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep corporate reports quarterly for the protection of investors and transparency. We have a right to this information in timely manner. Sincerely, Julie Hohmeister

---

Julien Robson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Julien Robson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I'm a retail investor and I rely on quarterly reports to make decisions about my retirement savings. This change will make things less transparent and will only favor insiders.

Juliet Headrick — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Juliet Headrick Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Even as a writer I rely on accurate information and this simply destroys truth and accountability. Please don't make corporations more "person" like while people with less rights to access information on the forces that control us, our health, and our environment. Thankyou for voting your conscience and not your wallet.
Juliet H.

Sent from my iPad

Justin Prentiss — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Justin Prentiss Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Justin Prentiss, Auditor. Quarterly reporting is essential component for investors and shareholders of publicly-traded companies alike. Maintaining tfhe quarterly frequency of reporting is essential for holding companies accountable to timely and accurate reporting. In this digital age, timely reporting is ever so meaningful. Exte ding the reporting frequency would simply invite fraud and potentially mislead investors.

K B — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: K B Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 K.B. here and I'm curious why corporations and their profits (or lack thereof) matter more than me and my livelihood?

K Tungate — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: K Tungate Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We want it quarterly. Stop enabling corruption.

Sent from my iPad

K. Dean-Crowley — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: K. Dean-Crowley Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting provides transparency for investors and others about the condition and solvency of companies.

As an employee of Silicon Valley Bankwholost a job, investment value and a feeling of safety, better and more frequent oversight is needed to prevent failures of more systemically important companies, investment firms and financial institutions.

There is no reason to reduce oversight and transparency in an environment that is moving faster than ever and AI is in the picture. The faster transactions go,the more frequent oversight, disclosure and reporting is needed.

Reducing disclosures is irresponsible and will lead to more failures, fraud, insider trading...all of it.

Regards,

Kelley Dean-Crowley, PMP

K. R. — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: K. R. Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is even more shady and secretive than the current administration. I'm sure the president started this idea or friends of his. I propose it be shortened to every 2 months or even monthly. Kevin- retired. Saved in markets for many years, but they manipulate the numbers. Please keep them under scrutiny, power may shift left in 5 months.

Kandy Hunt — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kandy Hunt Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The SEC needs to stop trying to make new rules that only benefit the insiders. Absolutely the wrong time for this. The public is being continually screwed by the big corporations. It needs to stop. Vote no to 6 months leave it at 3.

Get Outlook for iOS

Kang Tone — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kang Tone Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Anthony Ryan Jr
Route Driver
We need to keep these companies transparent! If they fail,they fail!

Anthony K. Ryan Jr.

Karen Arnie — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Arnie Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We have been investors for over 40 years, and the quarterly statements are invaluable for us as we manage our retirement portfolio. Please do not eliminate the quarterly reports that are essential for us to make prudent investment decisions. Thank you.

Sent from my iPhone

Karen Byers — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Byers Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Karen Hull-insurance agent. I can't best advise clients without proper reporting.

Karen Chaikin — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Chaikin Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is Karen Chaikin, retired software developer/tester. I have a stock portfolio (not large but not tiny) and I do not want to be left holding worthless paper. I would like the quarterly reports to continue to be generated and provided to stockholders.
Thank you for your time.

Karen Crockett — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Crockett Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I check my 401K on a regular basis, especially considering the state of the world right now. Publicly traded companies should not be able to hide

---

Karen Hibbs — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Hibbs Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Do not extend the reporting period. We need MORE transparency, not less. Your job is to protect citizens, not the companies!
Karen Hibbs, I am a citizen investor.

Karen

Karen Vitelli — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Karen Vitelli Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It is reasonable to require companies to report 4x a year. I do not support the change to only 2x a year. That would make it much more difficult to manage investments.

Karen Vitelli

Kari Miller — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kari Miller Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Hold the standards we have now or make them tougher for Wall Street. Biannual reporting is just another crooked way to siphon more money to the top. Maybe the SEC should consider monthly reporting requirements instead, to make insider trading less lucrative.
Kari Miller, Assistant to the County Judge

Karin Moseley — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karin Moseley Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Another way to keep the investors uninformed. It's already the biggest gaming platform online!

Stop rigging the system against the public at large!

Sick of unregulated - regulated government, finance and corporate get away with anything the attorneys can ✍ write up!!!!

Depends on who is paying the attorneys that's all!

No changes to quarterly reporting!!'

Sent from my iPhone

Karl & Gail Richter — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karl & Gail Richter Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Terrible idea!
The Richters. Retired.

Sent from Richter's iPad

Karl Pearson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karl Pearson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This push to eliminate and/or reduce information makes us an ill informed populace. Without information we cannot make rational decisions for ourselves and our families. NO CUTTING OF THE DISTRIBUTION OF DATA!!

Sent from my iPad

Karla Fouts — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Karla Fouts Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Less transparency, the more corruption!!

Karla Schroder — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karla Schroder Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This would be a bad idea in any administration but is critical with the current unbelievably corrupt administration. Trump, his «advisors », the Trump family and the SCOTUS have demonstrated over and over that they have no interest in the welfare of the population as a whole if there is an scam to enrich themselves. This is another Projrct 2926 scam. Most people contribute to these plans to insure they have adequate funds to support their retirement. Allowing any group unsupervised influence here, especially by grifters and cheats, is certain to cause harm to normal working people.

Kat Vance — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kat Vance Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Kathe Vance - investor - The EC needs to keep reporting on a quarterly basis. If companies are able to cloak their issues for 6 months at a time, that will mislead investors, who are partial OWNERS of those companies.

Kate Lindsay — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kate Lindsay Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Stop this hijacking of transparency!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Kate McElligatt — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kate McElligatt Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Washington wants to let every public company stop reporting its results each quarter and disclose just twice a year. We tried this once, between 1955 and 1970. Less transparency came with lower returns and lower valuations. For an ordinary investor, a return to those days could mean losing a third, or even half, of your life.

Require quarterly reports!

Kate Woulfe — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kate Woulfe Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Do NOT increase the reporting time to 6 months for these accounts! So much can change and/or go wrong during those extra three months and we will have been completely unaware.

Thank you.
Kathryn Woulfe

KATHERINE BUCK — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: KATHERINE BUCK Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Companies should continue to report their financials quarterly to ensure investors are informed in a timely fashion. The work is already being done internally likely monthly. The timeline is not broken and does not need fixing. It is unfair to keep investors in the dark for six months.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Katherine Endacott — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Katherine Endacott Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reports are our check on investments. We need transparency and real time information. I am retired, a former educator and educational software chief executive. I served my investors with monthly updates. They deserved transparency. All investors deserve transparency and real time information.

Katherine Endacott

Katherine Endacott — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Katherine Endacott Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reports are our check on investments. We need transparency and real time information. I am retired, a former educator and educational software chief executive. I served my investors with monthly updates. They deserved transparency. All investors deserve transparency.

and real time information.

Katherine Endacott

Katherine Southworth — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Katherine Southworth Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Don’t we have enough corruption?
This is why this matters to me.

Sent from my iPad

Kathi Konklin — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathi Konklin Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I'm borrowing from another comment because it is exactly what needs to be reiterated. This is important for all of us.

THINK: Enron. WorldCom. Madoff. The run-up to 2008. Every major modern accounting scandal was enabled by gaps and opacity in financial disclosure. Quarterly filings don't prevent fraud, but they dramatically shorten the window in which it can fester before someone outside the company can see it. What if Enron only had to cook their books twice a year? There is no arguing with this. None.

Kathie — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathie Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am a retiree that rely on quarterly reports to stay informed and make decisions on my investments. The longer gaps in information create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders and prevents me from having updated information to manage my portfolio. Finally, "optional" doesn't fix the problem because companies that opt in are often the ones whose investors most need frequent updates and the risk to investors outweighs the minimal savings for the companies.

Regards,
Kathie Walthall
Memphis, TN

Sent from my iPhone

Kathleen Mcdonald — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathleen Mcdonald Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Now you want to steal my 401k much easier. The billionaires are eating us alive. Leave the reports quarterly.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Kathleen Prater — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathleen Prater Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Shades of Madoff. Make reporting MORE often, not less. Do your job and protect the small investor.
Katie Prater
Florida

Kathleen Carlson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathleen Carlson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Those public companies seem to be able to issue financials quarterly. Let's keep info coming so the little people have a chance to get a heads up from the big companies at least every 3 months. Every 6 months will be too little, too late.

Kathleen A. Carlson

Kathleen M Meyer — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kathleen M Meyer Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To Whom It SHOULD Concern:

My husband and I have been retired for 12 years and 9 years respectively. Each of us worked hard for more than 45 years--I started my first job at age 15, he at 16. We sometimes struggled to save some of our earnings whenever we could, which wasn't often, until we found jobs that offered 401k accounts. Those 401k accounts, that we re-invested into IRAs after retirement, are now keeping us living comfortably, despite the continually rising costs of food, gas, utilities, taxes, health insurance, and home maintenance.

Neither of us receives enough Social Security to survive on that alone, and neither of us are healthy enough to go back to full-time work, even if we could find jobs at our age. Should the current administration succeed in cutting Social Security, we would need to use even more of our IRA distributions than we already are, putting ourselves in jeopardy of having much less to live on for the rest of our lives. Our financial advisor is doing his best to monitor our investments, but even we understand that this proposed switch from quarterly reporting is BAD NEWS.

I strongly urge you to leave quarterly reporting alone--pay attention to history, statistics, and common sense--and pay attention to those of us who will lose our hard-earned retirement money for a change that is definitely not needed these days. Please consider what life would be like for you, if you were in your 70's, unable to find a job, and living in fear of losing your home.

Thank you for your sincere attention to this crucial issue, and think of us middle class retirees before you take our future life styles away.

Sincerely,
Kathleen Meyer
3113 Christopher Ln
Indianapolis, IN 46224

Kathleen Ode — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathleen Ode Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Our government has allowed too much leeway to Corporations to hide their Illegal activities and now uou want to let them hide their books even longer? I say NO WAY! European Countries have tried this & it Did Not Work! I VOTE NO!!!

Kathryn — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathryn Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Enough of letting the monied few fleece the rest of us.
Keep the reports quarterly not biannual.

Sent from my iPhone

Kathryn Blalock — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathryn Blalock Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Dear sirs:

The current geopolitical climate have businesses & local government under pressure by gas prices, demands for AI Centers, rural development, agri-business…that affect us all. Trying to predict growth & profits & info for investment, become more like gambling without accurate timely information. With current information systems giving real-time financial & inventory status, there is absolutely no reason they should need 6+ months to report. Accurate Data is a necessity for investors at all levels. There is so much fraud in bureaucratic controlled companies, and government employees becoming millionaires overnight. Without timely reporting we, the public, feel you and the companies are trying to resist reporting or hiding fraud, negative news & criminal activity.

Please reconsider these changes in your reporting requirements. Transparency & definitive deadlines are important in business & investment decisions.

Thank you for your kind attention to my input.

Kathryn Blalock

Sent from my iPhone

Kathryn Taubert — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathryn Taubert Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Kathryn, I'm a retired management executive. This matters to me because I have investments and I honestly do not believe that you should invoke this new rule which gives the investor less information than is needed to make legitimate choices. Only insiders will benefit

Kathryn

www.kathryntaubert.com
https://www.linkedin.com/in/kathryn-taubert-80189651/

Kathryn Walsh — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathryn Walsh Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Kathryn Walsh, Higher Ed Administration.
This matters to me because I've worked in the non-profit sector my entire adult life. I don't have a lot of money, but I have the right to protect what I do have. Without quarterly reporting, funny business can go on for 6 months without anyone seeing it, reporting on it, calling it out. You can't tell me it's not worth the cost to have quarterly reporting, when it's been done that way all this time. This is another power grab: a way to hide malfeasance.

Kathryn Wong — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathryn Wong Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please DO NOT change the rule so companies only have to report results every six months.

KEEP IT QUARTERLY! We deserve to know what's going on in the companies we invest in!

Thank you,

Kathryn Wong

Kathy Petty — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathy Petty Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Kathleen Petty. I'm retired with a pension and a retirement fund. In order to monitor my accounts properly, I really believe that the SEC needs to continue publishing the information quarterly. Please do not change to semi-annual. Thanks.

Kathy Chamberland — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathy Chamberland Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reports give everyone more transparency. Vote NO on six month reports!

Kathy Chamberland - sent from my iPad

Kathy Memoli — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathy Memoli Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Transparency and accountability are essential!

Kathy Renwick — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Kathy Renwick Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Do not put in the dark that which should be in the light. These companies use our money and we should have clear information about the companies our money is invested in.

Kathy Renwick

---

kathy sizemore — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: kathy sizemore Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Kathy Sizemore, retired. Im tired of the working class having the odds always stacked against them. I have zero respect for the Republican party and I think Trump belongs in prison, the sooner, the better. I also have the barest sliver of respect for Democrsts. They have left their base without a party to represent them for decades now. They may not be herding us into fascism like the Reoublicans, but they have done nothing but kick the working class under the bus while rewarding the billionaire class with everything they desire. Im warning the Democrats that with their kind of representation we may as well quit them. This is just one more scheme to scam anyone from the working and middle class out of what little money they can spare, to keep them in poverty permanently. Pass this bill and it will just be one more nail in your coffin politically. We arent fooled by Dems pretending to be against something but miraculously just enough Dems will defect across the aisle to allow the Republicans to win and screw us over every time. I call that Democrats taking a dive because both parties are working for the billionaires. Why dont you shock us this time and do whats right for everyone else for a change. You all suck.

Sent from my T-Mobile 4G LTE Device
Get Outlook for Android

---

kdbinmpls — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: kdbinmpls Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting is needed to maintain transparency. These are "public" corporations after all.

KDS — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: KDS Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Kevin Saderup, Retired. Transparency in public companies should be ensured through government regulation. Especially given predominance of such investments in retirement accounts and long term investment. I am no believer in big government. But this is an area where government plays a fundamental part to ensure good and effective corporate governance that protects the investing citizenry.

Keha Espo — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Keha Espo Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keha Espo, retired,
I do not wish to wait six months to find out how my retirement fund has performed. I want information that is as timely as possible rather than too late to make changes to my investments. I believe this is a move to time the reports in a way that would be more beneficial to the party in power, particularly during election season.
Do not change the ways things are right now. IT WORKS FINE!

Keha

---

keith landis — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: keith landis Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Tired of being run down and run over by the elite. Working people want an opportunity to live and grow and a chance for our children. Sec is run by the same people. Time to end.

Keith Ward — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Keith Ward Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I believe it is imperative to continue quarterly reporting to allow adjustments to our 401k contributions and overall mix of funds. An active review of fund performance should not be every 6 months.
Sincerely, Keith Ward

Sent from my iPhone

Kelly Wright — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kelly Wright Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The federal government under the current regime is busy finding more ways to screw Americans out of their savings, it seems.

I will vote, and I will convince all my friends and family, to vote against any person or political party that endorses the idea of providing less information on our money to Americans. Stop this at once.

Kelly Wright

Get Outlook for iOS

Kelly Makenna — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 DONT EVEN TRY IT From: Kelly Makenna Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 You rich welfare queens would be nothing without the working class. You dont get to buttfuck-us-with-no-lube without us getting to see you epstein-class scumbags coming.

Kelly, Art Teacher, IT MATTERS TO EVERYONE

Kelly Taylor — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kelly Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Do not drop quarterly reporting. Private investors need to know how their investments are doing just as much as executives and inner circle administrators do.

Kelly Taylor

Kelly Johnson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kelly Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Kelly Johnson, Airport Director/COO I Recently retired after working in the aviation industry for 40 years. I have no defined benefits plan, only 401 and 457 investments. That said, I need to know what is going on with the companies where my money is invested. They have to be required to report to those of us who have a vested interest and investments we are counting on for our income and future financial stability. Please DO NOT ALLOW THIS CHANGE.

Sent from my iPhone

Kelly Kucharczyk — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kelly Kucharczyk Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 From: Kelly Kucharczyk
Title: Principal Consultant
Location: Michigan

Dear SEC,

I am writing to comment on S7-2026-15. Accurate and timely reporting holds companies accountable to the investors that provide their capital. Moving from quarterly financial reporting to a twice-a-year model is a massive step backward for market transparency.

Six months is an eternity in the modern business world. Forcing investors to operate in the dark for half the year will only increase market volatility and leave everyday investors at a severe disadvantage. Furthermore, the regular discipline of quarterly reporting keeps corporate management honest and ensures tight internal controls are maintained year-round.

While cutting down on compliance paperwork is a nice idea, it shouldn't happen at the expense of investor protection and market trust. Please maintain the current quarterly reporting cycle.

Thank you for your time and consideration of these points.

Sincerely,
Kelly Kucharczyk

Kelly Manning — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kelly Manning Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026 This is just another way for the Rich to get richer and leave the rest of us behind. Don’t let the system get even more rigged than it already is.

Kelly Manning
Occupational Therapy Assistant

Ken Moffat — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ken Moffat Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is an absurd ruling, and only benefits those who do not need the benefit! Keep the current status.

Kendall Mellem — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kendall Mellem Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly for transparency and accountability and to maintain consumer confidence! It’s good business.

K. C. Mellem

Sent from my iPhone

Kenneth Barker — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kenneth Barker Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I worked for 55 years in sales and sales management, saving and investing every dime possible for our quality of life. The more information I can get to follow our investments and protect our standard of living the better. We need to keep the quarterly earnings reports.
Ken Barker
Matchbook Wine Company, Retired

Ken Barker

Kenny Van Horn — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kenny Van Horn Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Do not change reporting requirements, if we can't trust you we will pull our cash out

---

Keri Moss Stearns — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Keri Moss Stearns Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Retail investors need clear, accurate and timely information to make informed investment decisions. Insiders and institutional investors will always have the resources and relationships to get the information they need. Without quarterly reporting, retail investors are on an unlevel playing field, with no way to get timely information about public companies.
Quarterly reporting is one of the most important tools for retail investors to get information. A lot can go wrong in half a year: Ballooning debt, lawsuits, vanishing customers. Quarterly filings force it into the open.

Kevin Jacques — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kevin Jacques Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is absolutely ridiculous another way for the insider trading to continue and companies to hide there failures!

Kevin D Jacques

Keyao Pan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Keyao Pan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Dear Securities and Exchange Commission,

I am writing to share my perspective on the importance of quarterly disclosures for investors. These regular updates provide a crucial window into the financial health and operational progress of companies. By reviewing these disclosures, I can assess trends, identify potential risks, and better understand the company's strategic direction. This consistent flow of information allows me to make more informed and timely investment decisions. Consequently, I believe these quarterly reports are invaluable for maintaining a transparent and efficient market. Thank you for considering my feedback.

Kim Abatangelo — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kim Abatangelo Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Reporting should be required/kept quarterly. Companies want people to invest and have faith in them, they need to show good faith and report. Twice a year is not enough.

Kim Abatangelo

Kim Sandin — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kim Sandin Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Don't do this.

Kimberly Avila — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kimberly Avila Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We the people are weary of the scams. This is unconscionable and plain ridiculous. But you already know that. Grow a spine and stand up for Americans working hard and stashing away their PENNIES in 401k's hoping not to be homeless when they retire. No further explanation required because you already know its wrong.

Kimberly Avila
Mother Grandmother
American woman.

Sent from my iPhone

Kira Soto — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kira Soto Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 In a time when more transparency is needed in dealings with the public (not less), the American public really cannot benefit from having less insight into their investments. Please don't put blinders on the little people in favor of billionaires by changing SEC quarterly reporting to bi-annual. We pay all of your salaries with taxes, and ultimately are to whom you report for your jobs. Let's not forget that part please!

---

kktmom — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: kktmom Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Many people rely on those quarterly reports!! Don’t screw with the Anerican public and investors! Keep sending quarterly reports! Seriously!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Klaus Heise — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Klaus Heise Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 There should be MORE disclosure, not less!

Knoxann Armijo — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Knoxann Armijo Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I requested everything be open. This investment of a 401(k) is my money as well as the employers. Everything should be available as this is a tax deferred income through the statute ERISA.

Koco Stewart — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Koco Stewart Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have been an investor for more than 30 years. My TRUST in this system has been that I can review my investments based on quarterly reports and required SEC filing. Pulling the shades down now, during a period where faith for investors is pretty shaky already, is a bad move. This has a stench to it. The only parties who will benefit are the bad actors and people's retirement savings would be placed at great risk. Please continue quarterly reports so that we can be well informed and keep our hard earned savings secure.

Sincerely,

Kimberly O'Connor
Pacific Junction, IA

Kris Alderman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kris Alderman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Kristen Alderman. My retirement savings is in the stock market. I'm an investor that the SEC is supposed to protect. I'm one of the people that the proposed semi-annual financial disclosure rule is meant to defraud, abuse and malign. I say NO to this proposed change!!!!!

Kristin Edmonds — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kristin Edmonds Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It is obvious that more frequent stock filings are fairer to investors. Please keep them quarterly.

Kristin Edmonds MM MA CCC-SLP

Kristine Miesner — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kristine Miesner Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Kristine Miesner, Retired
This is catering to large companies & giving them time to commit an illegal act & then cover up the illegal act. We need more transparency not less!

---

kstyhg6 — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: kstyhg6 Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We are depending on quarterly reports so we can keep on top of our investments. Please don't keep us in the dark by changing to bi yearly.

Sent from my iPhone

Kunnigunda Biener — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kunnigunda Biener Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am an old lady who worked all my life to be able to retire. I need my savings to be able to live. Please help protect everyone like me not billionaires. Kunnigunda Bienet

Sent from my iPhone

Kyle Justin — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kyle Justin Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I do not appreciate fraud being rewarded and unethical business practices lauded.

We are at the precipice of feeding a large number of American's retirements into companies that lose billions with no path to profitability, that have become the center of our economy by obscuring their costs.

We have just come off of some of the largest frauds in years in the crypto industry.

The idea that we should move public companies towards thos edysfunctional businesses in levels of disclosure is horrifying. Removing quarterly reporting requirements would be a mistake.

Kyle Justin, PsyD
Clinical Psychologist.

Sent from my Galaxy

Lana Southwick — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lana Southwick Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please keep the public filing quarterly. The cost of quarterly transparency is minor; but can make a huge difference to the investor.

The fact that this is even being discussed is disturbing. We have few safeguards in place and we can no longer trust business and government to consciously do what is right. Reporting twice a year will allow fraud to go grow unchecked.

Thank you for continuing to require quarterly reporting.

Thanks,
Lana

Lance Abla — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lance Abla Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Lance Abla, Technical Consultant, Maine. I have worked my whole life to build savings for retirement. Moving to semi-annual makes no sense to me at all. The pace of change is accelerating, which is why this change would blind me to the impact it is having on the health of the companies I want to invest in. If anything, I would move some companies to monthly reporting if they have had legal issues or are new for the first few years after their IPO. This move would likely move me out of stocks altogether, for the safety of my investments.

Thanks,

Lance

Lance S — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lance S Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please do NOT change the rules for quarterly reporting. Only reporting twice a year will grotesquely affect the trading markets - - and everyone's life savings. Doing so promotes too many opportunities for companies to withhold bad news, or alternately, promote the great news a company may have during a given quarter. How can this NOT have a major negative effect to the bottom line? Why would you do this to the American people? It's not broken - - there's nothing to fix. Most respected experts agree that reporting should be left as it is and done quarterly. We tried doing this semiannually in the past, and it was a big mistake. Please don't make the same mistake again. Thank you.

Lanny goyn — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lanny Goyn Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026 Maintain quarterly accounting requirements. To do otherwise would corrupt the markets and jeopardize investor confidence.

Lanny Goyn
Personal investor
Retiree

Larry Atkinson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Larry Atkinson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Corruption easier to hide

Sent from my iPhone

Larry Davis — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Larry Davis Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As a Citizen who has investments in a broad sector of our economy, I would appreciate your continued support in release quarterly reports.
Thanks,
Larry Davis, Retired

Larry F — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Larry F Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 People need to know what is happening with companies. Communities need to know what's happening with companies. Stockholders need to know, too!

Sent from my iPhone

Larry Schweiger — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Larry Schweiger Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As a retiree, I want to know how my investments are doing. This hides the ball and is anti-consumer protection.

Laura & Michael Curtis — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Laura & Michael Curtis Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Laura Curtis, Airline Crew.
Michael Curtis, Lt. Col.

Why would you want to return to a proven failure system, proof from 1955 to 1970, which causes losses across the board. More likelihood of fraud, money commingling, falsifying books, every imaginable fraudulent activity under the sun. It's already difficulty to track and control and you want less transparency. NOT GOOD IN ANY WAY, SHAPE OR FORM.

PLEASE DON'T DO IT. Large or small, all businesses are subject to fraud at any level and this change will give them the key to break the law.

We Vote NO.

Laura & Michael Curtis

Laura Afifi — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Afifi Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Continue quarterly reporting.

Respectfully,

Laura Afifi

Laura Cottam Sajbel — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Cottam Sajbel Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It's our money, and we deserve to have transparency over how it is managed.

Any "hiding" amounts to a chance for corruption behind the curtain--without any benefit to investors.

Laura Cottam Sajbel

Laura Goetz — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Goetz Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My entire net worth is in the market because I am retired and SSI doesn’t begin to pay my bills. Every shareholder deserves the exact same rights. We are paying the exact same dollars to own the exact same shares of stocks and bonds and we should have no fewer rights than any other owner of those securities. The people with additional information can sell out before we know we should then we are left having stock worth less than it should be because we had not been informed but others had taken advantage of information which was withheld from the rest of us. Frankly, shame on you for considering this!

Sent from my iPhone

Laura Hill — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Hill Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Laura Hill, pharmacist, Denver: The market moves way too fast for data releases to be slowed down further! Please keep reports quarterly rather than allowing companies to share their data only twice a year. It is virtually impossible to make educated investment decisions in the dark, except for those with insider knowledge. Can’t believe this is even being seriously considered.

Sent from my iPhone

Laura Jarrell — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Jarrell Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Good day,

The supposed savings are tiny, and they don't go to you.
Companies still have to keep their books. They still have to brief their boards. The actual savings from skipping a public filing are modest legal and accounting fees, and those savings flow to the company and its executives. The cost of worse information falls on you, the person whose 401(k), IRA, or college fund holds the stock. That's a bad trade for ordinary investors

Regards

Laura J
Building inspector

Laura Lee-Walrond — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Lee-Walrond Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026 I am a retired teacher, and my investments allow me to be retired. Bi-annual reporting does not cut it when one’s financial well being is at stake. Keep the quarterly reporting system and rules currently in place … For god’s sakes, the rich already have more than enough, do something to protect the average citizen

Sent from my iPad

Laura Logan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Logan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is a horrible proposal which is obviously intended to protect corporations over people. It has the potential to financially ruin those who can least afford it. You know it’s wrong. Don’t do it. No! Just no.

Sent from my iPhone

Laura Real — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Real Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To Whom It May Concern,

As a full time W2 employee, in the healthcare arena, actively saving for retirement, I rely on quarterly information to ensure I am meeting my retirement savings goals. Additionally, I am a mother of 3 saving for my children to attend college. Changing the reporting requirements makes my job of providing for my children's education and well-being harder. In this age of digitized information, quarterly reporting should remain the minimum requirement for companies. The information is readily available at their finger tips and it should remain readily available to consumers as well. Shame on you for attempting to obfuscate information from the public!

Sincerely, Laura Real, Kerrville, TX

Laura E. Real, CRNA
402 Crest Ridge Dr.
Kerrville, TX 78028
210-823-8059
laura.e.real@gmail.com

Lauren — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lauren Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 What are you thinking!! Should be monthly

Sent from my iPhone
Lauren

Lauren Admire — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lauren Admire Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Absolutely not-this is an appalling attempt to be able to hide things from the public. We depened on quarterly reports to make decisions regarding investments and without that we don't have theost up to date information. This seems like an attempt to shift more wealth and power away from the middle class and back towards higher ups with inside information. The rich will get richer and the rest of us will be flying blind.

Lauren Noether - Ken Norton — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lauren Noether - Ken Norton Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Dear SEC,

I write in strong opposition to the plan to cut the quarterly business reporting. As a career prosecutor, including serving as an elected DA/CA and then a Senior Assistant AG in Consumer Protection, this plan is disastrous for the citizenry. It will seriously encumber proper and timely investigation and allow more victimization to go undetected until it’s likely too late. Please do not make this change that essentially gives criminals a head start on economic crimes. These cases are difficult enough to bring without further handcuffing law enforcement and consumer protection efforts.

Respectfully,

Lauren Noether, Esq.
Sent from my iPhone

Laurie Fillman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laurie Fillman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I want to see my reports quarterly-actually monthly. Laurie. RN

Get Outlook for Android

Laurie Moody — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laurie Moody Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026
Transparency in our systems is being reduced. With increased instability and uncertainty, the time in between the release of financial information needs to remain quarterly. If anything it should be more often not less.

Laurie Sorensen — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laurie Sorensen Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The inequality gap is huge! Yet nothing stops the greed of those with more to spend than they have time. Stealing from gran and gramp's retirement accounts so they starve or freeze is inexcusable.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Lawrence Kale — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lawrence Kale Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Cut the shit out and allow the American people some sense of security when it comes to the money they have invested. We have the right to know what is going on within the walls of those companies and whether our investments are being handled appropriately.

Lawrence A. Kale, MD MPH

Leah — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leah Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Public companies should be Public. Keep the mandatory quarterly reporting. Don't allow the corruption to sink in. You should be focused on all of the illegal insider trading going on now instead of hiding it for longer periods.

Leanne McDaniel — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leanne McDaniel Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 NOT A GOOD IDEA .
WE WANT TRANSPARENCY !!!! NOW AND ALWAYS .
STOP CORRUPTION AND FRAUD ! IT'S LIKE INSIDER TRADING !CRIMINAL! NOT PREVENTION OF FRAUD, ENCOURAGES FRAUD !! WE ARE TIRED OF THE 2 TIERED SYSTEMS ! ALWAYS INVITES CORRUPTION . WE WANT The SAME OPPORTUNITIES AS ALL INVESTORS. STOP CR*PPING ON US .
WE ARE THE FORGOTTEN MAN

Lee Darnell — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lee Darnell Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 SEC should not ge working for Corporate America as their aide-de-camp! Your core mission is to protect investors from fraud and maintain fair markets for all. This does neither but works alternately! Keep the quarterly!

Leo Valeri — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Leo Valeri Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Leo Valeri, Business Owner, New Haven CT.

Half of my earnings and my retirement fund sits in the market. I am not comfortable with zero transparency, nor am I comfortable with old wealthy idiotic politicians influencing my future stability without my consent. Fix this.

Leota Shimabukuro — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leota Shimabukuro Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep them honest as possible. Make them accountable. Keep the public safe from their shenanigans.

Leslie Ruby — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leslie Ruby Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Leslie Ruby. I am retired, and actively track and pursue knowledge regarding the management of my investment accounts. I have been involved in the stock market throughout the last 50+ years. I value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock, Roth, IRA and general investment portfolios.
I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.
Please keep everyone honest by keeping information transparent and accessible.
Thank you
Leslie Ruby
Middletown, Maryland

Leslie Wharton — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leslie Wharton Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting is the transparency our economy needs.

Sent from my iPhone

Leslie White — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leslie White Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026 We need our quarterly reports to stay on top of our finances. Please do not do this! Thanks!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

LILA BRIGHTBILL — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: LILA BRIGHTBILL Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The nation's CEOs are too interested in enriching themselves and hoarding the nation's wealth. That's why they want to keep vital 401k information from investors. It's time for the SEC to say NO to their corrupt practices. Say NO to this plan to hide their activities from the American people.

Lila Brightbill
Retired Educator

Linda Colloran — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Colloran Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Linda Colloran, retiree with savings in 401K.

I've seen financial mismanagement at so many levels and predatory policies that management uses to line their own pockets since I started reading the WSJ 50 years ago. In a world where financial information is tracked by computers and stock prices near record highs, disclosure is not difficult and provides valuable guidance to investor. Don't give the con artist in chief and his minions another way to cheat us out of our savings.

Linda Glaser — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Glaser Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Linda Glaser
Admin for a non-profit
The public’s right to know supersedes the corporate intent to hide financial data.

Linda Glaser
Ellijay, GA 30540 USA

laislanetwork.org

Linda Holloway — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Holloway Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I do not agree with only 2 times a year.
I invest on a small scale and want information quarterly.
Linda Holloway retired homeowner

Linda Miyakado — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Miyakado Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep them HONEST. KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTS

Sent from my iPhone

Linda Morris — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Morris Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Is this so those in power can do their INSIDER TRADING in private? Because it certainly looks like it! Companies are well equipped to provide quarterly earnings reports - nothing fancy, just information. So stop tap dancing! Continue providing the information!

Linda Potter — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Potter Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 44 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Linda Potter
Northville, MI

Linda Schenker — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Schenker Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Linda Schenker, citizen. I believe we need all the information we can get quarterly. I am older and retired but try to stay informed.

Sent from my iPad

Linda Stickney — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Stickney Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This administration has screwed us enough n now they are allowing this to happen to us ... Rich b*stards in the loop n reg Americans left up in the air. Disgraceful n disrespectful. Stop it.

Get Outlook for Android

Linda Usher — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Usher Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I worked my way through college to get my degree as a Pharmacist and after 37 years full-time accrued my 401k that I count on for my retirement. I need this to make it through my old age to not be a burden to my kids and grandkids. The SEC NEEDS more accountability, not less

---

Linda Vilmain — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Vilmain Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 In the interest of fairness, the books need to be open all of the time!

Linda Williams — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Williams Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Linda Williams
Retired Business Owner
Extending reporting to 6 months is ludicrous. I would not have ignored the trajectory of my companies financial health by looking at it only every 6 months, why would you expect an investor to. Stop messing with people’s ability to manage their investments and financial health.

Sent from my iPhone

Linda Zak — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Zak Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I'm a retired person with a small investment portfolio. I need information with which to make decisions. I also have to question why there's a sudden need for such secrecy about Financials. Abandon this move to obscure public information.

Linda Zak. Pennsylvania

---

lindsay Liberto — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: lindsay Liberto Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is top level insanity, and another mechanism by which unelected corporate oligarchs can manipulate and control ordinary citizens with an unbelievable potential for financial harm. Granting companies six months to report major losses would severely undermine U.S. securities laws that require prompt disclosure (typically within four business days via Form 8-K) to ensure fair and informed markets. This extended window would enable insiders to sell shares or hedge at inflated prices while the public remains unaware, facilitate market manipulation through continued optimistic guidance, stock buybacks, or debt offerings, and encourage accounting fraud to conceal or defer losses. It could also allow accelerated executive payouts before the truth emerges, eroding corporate governance and market integrity. When the delayed revelations finally hit, they would likely trigger sharp sell-offs, contagion, and broader loss of investor confidence.
This would particularly harm the average investor, who often lacks access to timely non-public information and could end up buying or holding shares at artificially high valuations, suffering outsized losses in their retirement accounts, 401(k)s, or brokerage portfolios when the bad news drops.

These are a lot of what ifs, but if the past several years give indication as to how elites in our society behave. They will use this to the full extent to enrich their pockets and to hell with anyone else.

Sent from my iPhone

Lisa Bagnall — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lisa Bagnall Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Lisa Bagnall, Premium Auditor. Please do NOT change from Quarterly reporting. The American people deserve better. Why recycle something from the 1950s that DIDN'T work then and could be even more disastrous now!!! We have all worked hard to earn our pay and most have been diligently saving for retirement. The last of the boomers are of retirement age. Please do not do something that could wipe out a good portion of their savings.

Sent from my iPhone

Lisa Lique — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Lique Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Why stop at quarterly? I have to have my checkbook and accounts balanced daily to know if I'm in the black. They should to. Say no to six months. 3 isn't even enough in the current economic climate.

Lisa Lique

Lisa Dawson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Dawson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I believe mandated transparency, quarterly if not monthly, is best to help keep small investors safe. We are not wealthy. Being new empty nesters, we are thinking about retirement and what we will be doing the next 30 years. Our quality of life depends on the investments we have made in our respective 401ks and other retirement accounts. It has some consistancy with the current rules in place. Lisa Dawson, Program Director

Sent from my iPhone

Lisa Gilman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Gilman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It is information I want to have because my money is invested. This information should open for everyone to have, and monthly would be great. Don't take away quarterly.
L. Gilman-retired

Lisa Hahn — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Hahn Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 In the digital world, where information is readily available on a more frequent basis than ever before it makes no sense to have less transparency and less frequent financial information available. This harms investors, consumers and the general public.

It makes audits harder and longer as they now have twice as much information to plow through. The result is that they are less likely to identify concerns timely, reducing their effectiveness.

The same information is shared with the board of directors, making the board less informed and their job of effective oversight more difficult.

All of this harms investor confidence and allows for more opportunity for fraud.
Lisa Hahn, Audit and Compliance Professional in Financial Services

Sent from my iPhone

Lisa Hammermeister — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Hammermeister Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly for more information.

Lisa Marie Davis — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lisa Marie Davis Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Name: LM Davis
Job Title: Director, Compute Platform Engineering
Location: Covington, WA

To the members of the SEC:

To be frank, this proposal is a terrible idea and yet one more example of this current administration deciding that public accountability and transparency isn’t necessary. I would argue there’s never been a more critical time for transparency and accountability than now, especially when the hard-earned investments and carefully saved financial nest eggs of millions of American citizens is involved.

Additionally, the current administration's vocalized ideas of opening social security and 401k's to less secure investment strategies, is another reason to be alarmed about this proposed change. This is nothing more than the Trump admin and the Republican Party trying to claim oversight of everybody else's money in a "just trust us" model of self-dealing.

For at least 50 years now, Republicans have repeatedly proven they cannot in fact be trusted where financial matters are concerned. And this current administration has proven to be uniquely unqualified, untrustworthy, corrupt, and plainly incapable of making good decisions - especially financial decisions. This last point alone should have been reason enough for this idea to be filed in the dustbin of history, yet here we are - debating an idea that should have never been allowed to see the light of day.

I'd be happy to testify before the commission and will be sure to include the entire fact-checked laundry list of poorly conceived financial decisions and plain old financial malfeasance, that have so negatively effected the American people for the last 50 years.

Sincerely,

Lisa M Davis
Concerned Citizen

Sent from a secret underground bunker...

Lisa O'rrell — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa O'rrell Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 SEC Leadership,

All of Trump Administration leadership have been deceptive to the American People whose taxes pay for each and every agency - its leadership, and the essential's allowing the agency to exist.

WE THE PEOPLE DEMAND MORE TRANSPARENCY NOT LESS!

Thank You,

Ms. Lisa Orrell

Lisa Primrose — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Primrose Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Lisa Primrose, Retired
I spent my entire career working and saving for retirement. Keep earnings reports quarterly! In fact, I think companies should be reporting earnings monthly!

Lisa Witham — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Witham Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Sirs,
What a great way to turn the Stock Market completely into a Ponzi Scam for regular folk investors. So how much do you think weasels like Trump, corporations, and billionaires will cheat, fiddle the market and skim off the profit? Im thinking even more than they already do. This absolutely definitely is a bad idea.

Sincerely Lisa Witham

---

lise triggs — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: lise triggs Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 No!!

Sent from my iPhone

Liz Epstein — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Liz Epstein Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I'm an English teacher in Kansas who manages her investments. I need information to do that well. This proposal only benefits wealthy insiders. Don't do it!

Liz Vigoda — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Liz Vigoda Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Democracy dies in darkness. Do not reduce our access to important information!

Lonna Malmsheimer — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lonna Malmsheimer Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The SEC should not extend the quarterly report requirements governing corporations to six months. Investors in organizations already in legally over-privileged status should not be kept in the dark about the financial status and activities of organizations that have the fiduciary responsibility to act both legally and ethically. Investors rights must be respected by timely reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Lori Sager — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lori Sager Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Lori Sager, Social Worker. Transparency is key to investing and rebuilding trust. Six months between reports is easy to miss with busy schedules. Quarterly reviews are working so continue with tried and true reviews.

Sent from my iPad

Lorna Elmer — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lorna Elmer Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Name: Lorna Elmer Retired: Raytheon-Hughes Aerospace and Defense

My husband and I contributed to our funds throughout our careers with this company. And, throughout that time, we have diligently watched the status of those funds, taking into account changes and actions required that took place over those years. We were both able to retire with enough money to take care of ourselves for years to come - hopefully. We would not have made some decisive changes to our portfolios without the information that quarterly reports provide. Now, with electronic reporting, there are no longer printing and mailing costs associated with these quarterly reports. There is no reasonable excuse for affecting our ability to have more timely information with which to "correct course" when the markets are stormy.

Corporate America pushed us into managed 401ks to save themselves money. The least they can do is allow us the visibility and ability to try protect those funds. Please do not allow them to drop quarterly reporting. We have the right to continue what oversight we have Thank you.

Luann Nelson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Luann Nelson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As a retiree without much of a Social Security check, my investments are an important source of economic stability and, I hope, something to pass on to my children. The playing field is already very slanted toward “insiders.” Do not further abuse the ordinary investor by limiting access to information.

Sent from my iPad

Lucinda Coulter — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lucinda Coulter Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 KEEP QUARTERLY REPORTS for the sake of a fair democracy and fairness in trading for individual investors. Quarterly reports are part of what has made this nation able to prosper and have been in place for nearly 50 years. I strongly object to the proposed change, one that would be extremely damaging to this nation.

Sent from my iPhone

Luis Juarez — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Luis Juarez Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Luis Juarez retired Cement Masons. 44 years in the union. Quarterly reports are essential for us retirees. 29th23

Luis Morales — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Luis Morales Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It’s bad enough as it is. Keep it Quarterly

Sent from my iPhone

Lux Æterna — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lux Æterna Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I absolutely do not think this is okay. American citizens can’t hide anything income related. We’re taxed to absolute death on every penny after only $600, so companies and corporations shouldn’t have more rights than private citizens have. Corporations aren’t people. Vote this down or get voted out.

Sent from my iPhone

Lynden Fasso — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynden Fasso Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Lynden Fasso and I'm a Diagnostic Medical Sonographer.

My 401k lost value in the first 3 months of the year, and I needed to know that in order to make the decision to change my investments in order to protect the little money I've been able to put away.

I disagree whole-heartedly with the choice to hide my 401k outcomes from me. It it's my money and it's crucial to any possible future I have not working until the exact day I die. Not disclosing 401k earnings and losses is unethical and does not indicate trustworthy practices by the companies responsible for managing the funds.

Lynn — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynn Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Regarding proposed Rule S7-2026-15, this proposal is jut kicking the can down the road. Moving to a six-month reporting interval limits the amount of verified financial data investors receive. It creates extended gaps where investors are forced to rely on speculation rather than concrete financial metrics. Widening the window between public disclosures heavily favors insiders and institutional entities that have direct access to management. This increases the risk of information leakage and potential insider trading, to the detriment of everyday retail investors who lack alternative data sources.

Lynn Melton — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynn Melton Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I want more transparency with public companies, not less. If we switched to data every six months, we'd have less information to judge these companies on. It would be detrimental to the stock market and to my portfolio. In the Information Age, it would actually give me less information! That's insane.
Keep the SEC filings every quarter (not every six months).

Thank you.
Lynn Melton, retired
NC resident

Lynn Minich — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynn Minich Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Lynn Minich, retired from a 34-year media career. Please REJECT SEC proposed rule S7-2026-15. Quarterly reports from my 403b plan and Roth IRAs are essential measuring and planning tools for managing my short- and long-term retirement goals. I strongly object to reducing report requirements from quarterly to semi-annually. The potential cost savings are negligible and benefit corporations, not investors.

Lynne Hook — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynne Hook Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 There is no justification for this rule change. We investors need the quarterly report to make adjustments to our portfolios. Less information for the investor is never a good thing.

Lynne Hook

Sent from my iPhone

Lynne Metzger — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynne Metzger Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Hard to know who is taking our money while promising earning us money. Trump and the kalshi poli betting groups with insider trading. Trumps Market manipulation. If you reined in trumps huge cash pipelines maybe lessen suspicion of corporations.

Sent from my iPhone

Lynnette Davis None — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Lynnette Davis Just leave things alone. Americans are getting the shaft enough. Stop already!

Lynnsey Nicole — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lynnsey Nicole Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Dear SEC,

I am writing to express my strong opposition to the current proposal File No. S7-2026-15.

I am deeply concerned by reports that this plan could result in a one-third loss of my savings. For those of us who are retired or nearing retirement, these funds represent our primary financial security and the ability to live with dignity.

Furthermore, I am dissatisfied with the lack of transparency regarding this initiative. Semi-annual reporting is insufficient; I require more frequent and detailed updates to properly monitor my investments.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Lynnsey Patterson
Educator
Wyoming

M D — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: M D Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We worked hard and long to have something to live on these days, and want to be able to pivot with our portfolio strategy. This is akin to another form of money laundering. MAINTAIN THE QUARTERLY SEC REPORTING!!

--
Sent with mail.com Mail app

M Spence — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: M Spence Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This benefits the commission, not the investor . Seems that the contract between commission and investor would eliminate this loss .

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

M. Halliday — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: M. Halliday Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Gentlemen ,

I read and assess quarterly reports for all of my investments.

Quarterly reports give a “heads up” to trends within each company I’m invested in.

Every six months is not sufficient for an information trend. My money is too important to suffer a six-month lag in information.

Please do not lengthen the quarterly reports into six month reports.

Thank you.
M. Halliday

Get Outlook for iOS

Maggie Dickison — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maggie Dickison Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Another way for big companies to hide behind illegal rules. Please don't let this happen. We have been hoodwinked before and we will be hoodwinged again if we let this go forward thank you

Maggie

Maggie Hagen — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maggie Hagen Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It only makes sense for the richest of the rich. For manufacturing companies, retail etc it's not helpful. DO NOT DO THIS!!!

Mags AD — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mags AD Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Greetings,

This is a concern for me as I rely on quarterly information to make decisions. Also, the longer gaps can create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders and "optional" will not remedy the problem because companies that opt in are often the ones whose investors most need frequent updates! The proposed savings to companies are not worth the cost to me. Thank you for your consideration.

Margaret D.
Insurance Account Executive

Maranda Jackson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maranda Jackson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 If im constantly being ignored and dismissed and blocked from every whichway and to add no body comes direct cant get it done 😤 😡..

Marc Devin — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Marc Devin Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Don't make it easier for companies to manipulate the public

Marc Schnapp — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marc Schnapp Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It's hard enough to keep tabs on corporate operations. As a retire, I depend on reliable and timely information. With technology companies becoming an ever larger portion of the economy, developments happen faster than ever. Six months is too large a gap.

Marc Smason — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marc Smason Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Investors need their quarterly reports!

Marc Whittemore — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marc Whittemore Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 H*ll no on S7-2026-15. SEC knows its corrupt. Why are we even here?

---

marceen Bloom — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: marceen Bloom Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 No reason to change anything.....important.
Please don't mess with our economy to please the trump money machine....

Marcia Brown — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marcia Brown Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Do not extend financial reporting to twice a year. Please keep the present policy of companies reporting every 3 months

Sent from my iPhone

Marcia Conrades — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marcia Conrades Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My husband and I are retired; we depend on our Investments for much of our income. We want companies to keep reporting every quarter! Six months is too long; a lot can go wrong in six months and companies can hide bad news before investors can do anything about it.
Do not change the rules, SEC.
John and Marcia Conrades

Sent from my iPhone

Marcia Douglas — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marcia Douglas Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 If 3 months is working, leave it be. Changing it to a longer time suggests the need for some to have time to 'cook the books.'

Marcia Foosaner — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marcia Foosaner Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I base all my investing and finances on a quarterly report. I look forward to them. Another government take down of another institution. I’m sick of it.

Sent from my iPhone

Marcia Haskin — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marcia Haskin Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 A lot can go wrong in half a year. Failed product launches, ballooning debt, lawsuits, vanishing customers. Today the law forces companies to surface that information every quarter. Under the new rule, they can sit on it for six months at a stretch. Plenty of time for insiders to quietly sell their shares to you (or your ETF) before the bad news tanks the stock.

Marcia Haskin
Investor

Marcia Spear — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Marcia Spear Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We do not need retro rules so companies can take advantage of investors and consumers. My name is Marcia Spear and I am a retired teacher and church musician. I don’t have a fancy portfolio, just a small one that can’t take any more hits.

Marcie Miner — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marcie Miner Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This should matter to everyone. Reporting helps is all. Please keep regulations in place. Marcie Miner Managing member

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Marcie Norton — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marcie Norton Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Hello
My name is Marcie Rex Norton. I am a public school teacher & at a point in my life where what happens to my retirement account really matters for my future well being. Quarterly reports are important to make that possible. Keep the reporting window as it is - every 3 months. I don't trust companies without such accountability.

Marcie Rex Norton
Teacher, Tennessee

Margaret St. John — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Margaret St. John Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It is essential to track things quarterly. Changing it would help add ways to commit fraud more easily. We need transparency in business records.

Thanks
Margaret St. John

Sent from my iPhone. Please forgive any mis-spellings or improper auto-corrects.

Margaret Gerberding — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Margaret Gerberding Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Margaret Gerberding, Library Assistant. Secrets equals dishonesty. If you have to hide you are doing something wrong.

Margaret Goldsberry — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Margaret Goldsberry Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 53 years. I very much appreciate, depend on and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my IRA stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Sent from my iPhone

Margaret Jurgensen — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Rule change regarding corporate financial reporting From: Margaret Jurgensen Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Margaret A Jurgensen and was recently informed of a proposed rule change related to corporate financial reporting requirements from quarterly to every six months. This change is not acceptable and I oppose this change. I need that information quarterly to protect my financial interests as a retiree. Withdraw the proposed change that is simply another step to prevent the transparency needed by the small invester.

Maria Ayers — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maria Ayers Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is not acceptable, stop changing your rules! We need this information to invest safely! You are suppose to be independent from corporate influence!

Sent from my iPhone

Maria Colon — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maria Colon Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Stop f#$%ing with our retirement funds and keep our quarterly report!! I worked for over 30 years to save for my future!

Sent from my Galaxy

Maria Thomas — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maria Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 U

Mariane Herndon — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mariane Herndon Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Mariane Herndon Retired Quit trying to diminish my income! Still need to pay mortgage, maintenance, taxes, etc, all of which is increasing. Hard to keep up when income is dropping. If inside traders can access the information quarterly, it should be available to ALL traders.

Marianne Farley — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marianne Farley Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This new rule should be totally illegal, no group should be able to hide their books. My name is Marianne Farley. Stop the wealthy from stealing from the rest of us!

Sent from my iPhone

Marie Renaud — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marie Renaud Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 continue quarterly reporting. six months is too long.

Sent from my iPhone

Marie St. John — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marie St. John Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As a shareholder I want to know how well companies in which I have investments are using their resources. Lengthening the reporting interval is not in the best interest of investors, private or institutional. I am retired and don't have the long recovery window that younger investors might have. Marie St John

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Marie Strahan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marie Strahan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Marie Strahan, Retiree. Comment: I am a middle income, retired, single senior and I depend on quarterly financial information to make large repair and purchase decisions for me and my family. I know increasing the gap in reporting will provide unfair advantage for corporate insiders and I am sick to death of always giving Corporate America more power over our lives. Isn't it time we protected the individual against corporate interests? Please do not extend the reporting period, do not enact these new proposed rules.

Marie Strahan,
Lawrence, KS

Mariel Q Davis — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mariel Q Davis Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Mariel Davis. I'm a retired public school teacher. I believe that the public must be kept current on the economic state of affairs of publicly traded companies, especially during unsettled times. I have no doubt that those companies would be willing to take risks that regular public scrutiny would forestall, if they could keep that behavior hidden for 6 months. This is completely unfair to shareholders, particularly those in a 401 (k) or 403 (b). PLEASE don't remove this safeguard.

Marilyn Borchardt — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marilyn Borchardt Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We need these quarterly reports.

Sent from my iPhone

Marina Sonder — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marina Sonder Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Maria Sonder, CFO. Keep the Quarterly Reports, six months is too long. We need to keep an eye on our investments performance to make educated decisions on potential losses.

Sent from my iPhone

Marina Doerfer — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marina Doerfer Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 No. This new rule goes against transparency! People need to know what's going on w their investments more frequently as negative changes can occur and may require action sooner than 6 months!

Marisa Munoz-Vourakis — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Marisa Munoz-Vourakis Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Marisa Munoz/Retired/Raleigh, NC - Do not eliminate quarterly reporting of financial data by companies. This lack of transparency will only hurt investors' portfolios like me. We Do Not Need to Go Backwards to the 1950s. This is an outlandish idea and Should Not Be Passed.

Marisa Munoz
MsMet22@yahoo.com

Mark Henry — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Henry Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Who does cutting reporting requirements help? Smells like corruption.

Mark Henry retired. and tired of the grift.

Mark Miscowitz — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Miscowitz Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I’m an investor and I want quarterly reports to continue so I can see what companies I invest in are doing .
Mark miscowitz

Sent from my iPhone

Mark Ames — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Ames Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission.

My name is Mark Ames, and I'm an Operations Manager for a large plumbing company, and we have been using quarterly numbers effectively to adjust our business since forever.

I can't even IMAGINE why a publicly traded company would not want to publish to it's stockholders the health or risks from the previous and upcoming quarters to allow transparency for planning and adjustments.

Making this change is absolute insanity that will discourage investment and create distrust in US companies and markets. Do not make this change.

Regards,

Mark Ames

Mark Onstad — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mark Onstad Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Let's stay with mandated quarterly reporting for transparency and to prevent insiders from gaining additional advantage over ordinary people. Mark Onstad, retired small business owner in San Diego, CA, who depends on stock performance to maintain my retirement income.

Sent with Proton Mail secure email.

Mark Renton — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Renton Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 ENOUGH with this let-the-millionaires-and-billionairs run roughshod over everyone else BS!!

--- Mark Renton

Mark Sandy — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Sandy Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 If it works, and it does, do NOT change it.

Mark Smith — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Smith Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reports keep Wall Street transparent and more honest. There's absolutely nothing to be gained by changing it, and much to be lost.

Mark Zellers — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Zellers Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 You do this and many of us will put pressure on our companies to look at greater foreign investments for our 401k. Withdrawing our investment in America companies!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Marlene Alva — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marlene Alva Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Stop you F bull shit!! We are sick and tired of of the wonton dis regard for Americans and the highway robbery and criminality!!
Impeachment is not a question, it is a fact article 2 Section 4 immediately!!SAVE US and AMERICA!

Sent from my iPhone

Marlene Blossom — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marlene Blossom Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Marlene Blossom..

salon owner..I vote No. There is already to much political fraud and corporate scandal. It needs to stop. Why open more cracks for them.

Marry Ann DeHart — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marry Ann DeHart Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026 Keep the financial reports every 3 mos!

Marsha Cardinal — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marsha Cardinal Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly, yes please

Sent from my iPhone

Marsha Frederick — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marsha Frederick Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly. Simple as that.

Marsha Liebl — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marsha Liebl Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I prefer quarterly reports. I would like to know why there's a push to change a system that works just fine. Who benefits from withholding this financial information? It isn't the average person!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Marshall Blumenthal — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Marshall Blumenthal Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I rely on quarterly reporting to keep portfolio stable and earning income I need to live.

Martha Klems — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Martha Klems Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Continue QUARTERLY reports. Many of us use the info in them to guide our decisions about our retirement accounts. We depend on our government for timely, unbiased data.

Martha Klems
Retired Computer Science Professor
Macomb IL

Sent from my iPad

Martie Abeles — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Martie Abeles Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 What the hell are you folks doing there? Stop hiding the truth and do not allow this not to happen. Martha Abeles citizen with concerns for our country. I am 76 years old and this will add to the demise of democracy as I was taught and have read in the Constitution.
Do your job honestly.

Martie

Mary Cadigan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Cadigan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Mary and I plan to retire in 3 years so I need to see quarterly statements so I can ensure I'm financially prepared.

Mary Cadigan

Mary Sweet — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Sweet Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Mary Sweet,Legal Admin

Retention of quarterly statements is crucial to keeping investors informed and limits fraud with accountability and regulation on a more frequent basis.

Sent from Mary's iPhone

Mary Clark — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Clark Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Don’t be daft. More information is beneficial. Do not change to half-year reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Pitts — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Pitts Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please do not change the quarterly's reporting. It is the right and fair thing to do. We need more transparency not less. Can we please do things that are in favor of the average people?
Thank you,
Mary Pitts Registered Nurse

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Ann Quinn — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Ann Quinn Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Mary Ann Quinn, retired teacher. Reports need to be quarterly so people can make wise decisions based on transparency.

Mary Brunski — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Brunski Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As a former financial advisor, the quarterly reporting needs to stay in place. Average folks have no clue and to further hold off news is unconscionable. Please consider people over companies!

Mary Brunski, BFA™
Sent from my iPhone

Mary Curry — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Curry Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reports are wanted and needed ! Keep reports asis ..

Sent from my iPad

Mary DeNoyer — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary DeNoyer Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As a small investor depending on being able to manage my investments the quarterly reports are a necessity. They need to stay in place. Mary DeNoyer, investor

Mary DeNoyer

Mary Feldmeir — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Feldmeir Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 When the playing field is rigged and uneven, it only adds an additional notch against any society. At some point, the majority of people will have nothing to lose… this does not end well .

Sent from my iPhone

---

mary haley — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: mary haley Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep quaterly

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Helsaple — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Helsaple Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Retired Private owner/ executive of international small business. Doing due diligent on the status of our company was essential to our profits and success. Diminishing quarterly reporting will severely impact us to navigate our collateral and investments. Do not mess with the guide rules of our limited business opportunities.

M. Helsaple
Manitou Springs, Colorado

Mary Jardon — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Jardon Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I'm a retired 75 year old and I want to be able to see clearly what is happening to my retirement account. Quarterly meets my needs and the atmosphere of trust in this country can only be improved by open sharing of information!

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Kelly Bowling — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Kelly Bowling Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reports, not semi-annual!! I need to have this information!

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Powers — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Powers Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Stop feeding the gaping hole of greed. I'm not ever going to make millions on my 401k. So let me have the information I need to barely scrape by if I can ever retire. Give us our quarterly statements!

Mary Powers
Medical authorizations specialist

Mary R Pirrello — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary R Pirrello Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Mary Pirrello retired.

I have benefitted from the quarterly reporting. Makes no sense to stop doing this. Investors rely on it for decision making. Continue to require quarterly filing.

Mary Pirrello

Trying to leave the place a little better than I found it!

Mary Rumsey — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Rumsey Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I object to this proposal as I believe more frequent filings increase transparency and decrease opportunities for corporate misconduct. I don't want my small investments to be placed at risk for lack of information. I am retired and that money is important to me.

Mary Rumsey

Mary Simek — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Simek Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have received quarterly reports from my investment company for over 10 years. I want quarterly reports to continue.

Sent from my iPad

Mary Stewart — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Stewart Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I don’t support this proposal because locking audits into a rigid quarterly schedule could reduce flexibility and slow down necessary financial oversight. It feels more like a political tactic than a practical improvement, so I’d rather keep audit timing adaptable to real needs.

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Tanamachi — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Tanamachi Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Mary Tanamachi, retired. My only income is Social Security and from my 401K investments. We deserve as much information as possible, not less, to make informed decisions.

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Tulenko — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Tulenko Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026 Quarterly reporting is the only acceptable process to track any company's financial information. Semi-annual reporting makes it too difficult to follow any issues. Keep the quarterly reporting standard that has been in place for decades.

Maryann G — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maryann G Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As an investor in the stock market I support the requirement for quarterly reporting and am against reducing the frequency of reporting. i believe this is critical information for investors for good decision making to protect our investments

Maryann

MaryEllen Mayes — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: MaryEllen Mayes Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 40 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Matt Bloodworth — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Matt Bloodworth Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Absolutely should require quarterly reporting.
Matthew B.
President

Sent from my iPhone

Matthew Bloodworth
Southern Industrial Linings, Inc

Matt DePersis — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Matt DePersis Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: I still want access to quarterly results so I can make better decisions about my personal investments. Why should only large firms get knowledge?

Matt Gullatta — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Matt Gullatta Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Removing a quarterly reporting period would eliminate trust in the US market, the SEC, and investing in our country. You'd be handing business to Chinese markets and smaller economies to eclipse America ad the economic leaders in the world. Quarterly reporting inour age of technology is a minimum, and faster means of promoting transparency and confidence in the American economy should be priority #1.

MATT KLIPPER — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: MATT KLIPPER Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I like getting the figures quarterly, and I hope that stays.

Matt Ulwelling — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Matt Ulwelling Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have family members whole livelihoods that depend on accurate quarterly reporting.
This is clearly a cash grab, it offers no positives or even neutral positions from the people you are tasked with protecting.
Matt Ulwelling

Matthew Korpela — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Matthew Korpela Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Matt Korpela, Engineer, Northern Illinois. As part owner of every company I invest with I would like reports for transparency and so I am informed on what and where my money is. This reminds me of the old adage "dont fix something if it isnt broken". In any system less transparency opens the door for fraud and shady business. Right now investors in the market are already being taxed out of the market, why put there investment at risk?

Matthew Saville - Photographer — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Matthew Saville - Photographer Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 How dare you think we would fall for this grift! No, absolutely not.

Take care,
=Matt=

Matthew Wilson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Matthew Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It's absolutely insane to think that doing things in the dark is an ethical or good idea. We need MORE accountability and transparency, not LESS. This just gives crooks even more opportunities to commit fraud with impunity.

Sent from my iPad

Maureen Burns — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maureen Burns Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 for those of us that are retired it is necessary to be able to keep track of our investments on a consistent basis. Only having access to these statements twice a year does not serve the interest of the public.

Sent from my iPhone

Maureen Higgins — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maureen Higgins Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the reports quarterly. I use these to plan my investments. Semi-annually is to long a period to be in the dark re what is going on.

Maureen Higgins

Sent from my iPad

Maureen Sheeran — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Maureen Sheeran Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Hi! My name is Maureen Sheeran, and I live in Atlanta, Georgia. While I am fortunate to make a good living, I am not independently wealthy and will rely on my Roth IRA and 401(k) to fund my retirement. Please do not relax reporting standards for public companies.

We saw from 1955-1970 that less transparency came with lower returns and lower valuations. For an ordinary investor like me, a return to those days could mean losing a third, or even half, of my life savings.

Please protect ordinary investors by maintaining the current reporting standards. Thank you!

Maureen Sheeran

Max Liu — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Max Liu Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I do not want to disclose my personal information, but I will say this. Even with quarterly reporting, as an investor, I already feel uncomfortable with being kept in the dark for three solid months, plenty of time for company-wide fraud to occur, unless the management for the firms that I invest in are generous enough to provide information before they have to. And even then, little of the information is substantive data. If I have to stay in the dark for 6 months, giving fraudsters twice as much time to act, cover up, disguise, explain away, etc., I would hesitate to invest in all but the most reliable, spotless companies with records of perfect, total, absolute honesty and moral standards - which are few in number, if any, rarely worth investing in due to their expense relative to their earnings, and would severely limit my options for investment. If the SEC is interested in keeping the securities market healthy, strong, active, and capable of catching fraud and maintaining investor trust, keep the Quarterly Reports.

Meg Erickson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Meg Erickson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Do not change from quarterly reporting. Business moves quickly. I like to regularly know how my investment is doing. I certainly don't want companies to have a longer time to make and hide poor decisions and to line the CEO's pockets. I rely on my investments for income now.
Mary Erickson, retiree.

Sent from my iPad

Meg Erickson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Meg Erickson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Do not change from quarterly reporting. Business moves quickly. I like to regularly know how my investment is doing. I certainly don't want companies to have a longer time to make poor decisions and to line the CEO's pockets without making it known. I rely on my investments for income now.
Mary Erickson, retiree.

Sent from my iPad

Meg Nelson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Meg Nelson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quit screwing working class!!!!!!

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Melaina Balbo — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Submit Comments on S7-2026-15 From: Melaina Balbo Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The SEC was established to PROTECT INVESTORS. Allowing companies to effectively HIDE their financial statements for 6 MONTHS, does exactly THE OPPOSITE.

Inside actors would be able to protect themselves and bail out when things go bad, but average investors would remain IN THE DARK. You would, in effect, creating a 6 month insider trading window.

Let me repeat your obligation is to THE INVESTORS. The Commission's purpose is to ensure that publicly traded companies provide TRANSPARENCY. Changing the reporting from 3 months to 6 months IN NO WAY contributes to transparency. On the contrary, it creates obfuscation.

KEEP REPORTING QUARTERLY and UPHOLD YOUR OBLIGATION TO INVESTORS.

Melaina Balbo

Melaina Balbo — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Submit Comments on S7-2026-15 From: Melaina Balbo Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The SEC was established to PROTECT INVESTORS. Allowing companies to effectively HIDE their financial statements for 6 MONTHS, does exactly THE OPPOSITE.

Inside actors would be able to protect themselves and bail out when things go bad, but average investors would remain IN THE DARK. You would, in effect, creating a 6 month insider trading window.

Let me repeat your obligation is to THE INVESTORS. The Commission's purpose is to ensure that publicly traded companies provide TRANSPARENCY. Changing the reporting from 3 months to 6 months IN NO WAY contributes to transparency. On the contrary, it creates obfuscation.

KEEP REPORTING QUARTERLY and UPHOLD YOUR OBLIGATION TO INVESTORS.

Melaina Balbo
917-374-2333

Melanie Hauf — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melanie Hauf Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 No changes! People deserve information about their investments.

Melanie Moore — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melanie Moore Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We need more information not less. Im a retired veterinarian and worked very hard for every penny I saved. I dont want everything to fall apart economically just due to lack of oversight. WAKE UP! AMERICANS ARE TIRED OF FEELING RIPPED OFF BY DEPLETED GOVERNMENT.

Melissa Hapke — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melissa Hapke Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Are you kidding me? The tax loopholes aren't enough???!!! Melissa Hapke, retired

---

Melissa Hufford — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Melissa Hufford Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: we need more accountability not less!Stop allowing criminals to make the rules.

Melissa Smith — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Melissa Smith Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Aloha- I am Melissa Smith, retired RN and I've worked Dan hard all my life to have a reasonable retirement. ANYTHING that interferes with my rightful acquirement of interest, dividends or other benefits is totally unacceptable and should continue to be illegal. Just how greedy can this world get?

Melody Grigar — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melody Grigar Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My husband and I are retired. The majority of our life savings is invested in the stock market. I monitor market performance as well as data and performance reports on specific companies regularly. I request that the SEC continue with quarterly reporting requirements. The information is available and being reviewed by company insiders on a monthly and quarterly basis. Stockholders deserve access to that valuable information. Thank you. Melody Grigar

Sent from my iPhone

Melody Rosser — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melody Rosser Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Melody, project manager and portfolio owner. It is imperative that reporting remain quarterly for transparency to investors.

Thank you,
Melody

Melody White — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melody White Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I can't believe you are even considering this. We are literally out here investing our life savings and now you want companies to be able to cook the books for 6 months before the stockholders find out. The quarterly earnings reports are literally the only thing we have to make our choices on what we invest our money in.Billionaires who are buying whole companies can get all the info they need, but those of us who are buying stocks rely on the earnings reports to choose where we put our money. Do not change them to every six months.

Melody White

Sent from my iPad

---

mgimel — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: mgimel Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am a small investor. Reporting quarterly is the best way to see what's going on with companies. I need my investments to live on in retirement. Please don't change the reporting!

Sent from my Galaxy

Michael Ott — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Ott Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 An old saying, "If it isn't broke, don't fix it". As an American and as an investor it's always been bad to roll back regulations that took years to implement. Those regulations were created across party lines and they are always meant to even the playing field. That is what makes America great. Don't experiment with what works. If you want companies to look long term - then get rid of the idea that CEO's have an obligation to only their shareholders. They have obligations to their employees and to the country as well; and if you think otherwise, then you are becoming a communist or fascist country like China and Russia. Both state-run economies. There is a reason this SEC proposal doesn't provide data on cost savings - because this proposal is based on political pressure. Vote to maintain the status quo.

Sincerely,
Michael Ott
Lake Havasu City, Arizona

Michael Phillips — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Phillips Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Theres FAR TOO MUCH fraud and bookcooking already! To allow them to perpetrate it in the shadows is CRIMINAL NEGLIGENCE on the part of the SEC & counter to your reason to exist!

Michael Phillips
Weatherford, TX

---

michael dally — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: michael dally Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The longer I think about this proposed SEC rule change, the angrier I get! The SEC is supposed to protect investors....not make life easier or more minimally profitable for corporations. This proposed rule change allows for corporate fraud on small investors and is a dereliction of SEC responsibility.
Michael Dally
Appleton, WI
(Retired)

Sent from my Galaxy

Michael Mix — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Mix Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The public needs full disclosure, semiannually is not enough. We do not need to return to a system which was abused and disfunctional. Stop sending this country backwards.

Sent from my iPhone

Michael Bezold — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michael Bezold Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 keep companies honest by reporting quarterly .investing is hard enough without reducing earnings requirements , conference calls and other reporting. this would hinder all forms of investment but particularly retail investors who are already disadvantaged.

Michael Cole — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Cole Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting is essential for common investors . Only insiders would benefit from less transparency. Keep quarterly requirements.

Michael Corleone — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michael Corleone Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Peter J Cresci’s,

Lawyer, Newark, NJ. This proposed SEC would be a detriment to investors- less info- less disclosure- less compliance. We cannot go back to the 1955-1970 era.

Michael Cox — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Cox Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I demand accountability of my investments in a timely manner.

Bi-annually is far too infrequent a reporting period to make informed decisions.

I am a common man, not a high stakes investor. Quarterly reports are infrequent enough.

Making the interval any longer disadvantages the small investor.

Please do not allow this change.

IF: Presence ≠ IMPACT,
THEN: ABSENCE ≠ Difference

Michael Holmes — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Michael Holmes Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: we do not need or want a further errosion of compliance. The SEC's mission is to protect investors, maintain fair, orderly, and efficient markets, and facilitate capital formation. It ensures that public companies tell the truth about their businesses and that market professionals treat investors honestly. Rule S7-2026-15 would be counter to that mission of protecting investors and ensuring public companies are telling the truth about their business with the upmost transparency. This opens the door to fraud which erodes capital formation and destroys markets. Vote down this proposal!

Michael Jones — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Jones Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 At a time when trust in large corporations and the oversight of them is at an all time low this change would only further the problem. Everyday Americans rely on on quarterly reports for own investments and insights into the health of companies. Even has an electrician I read quarterly reports of my employer to understand the reality of the business and the market. Companies are already tracking this information so changing to 6 months only helps them hide problems. The SEC is here to protect consumers not further shift the balance of power towards business.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Michael O'Byrne — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael O'Byrne Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Like all investments, I check reports quarterly. Those reports help drive my decisions concerning not only my investments but also politival opinions that relate to conservation, natural resources, and the economy. By changing to semi- annual reporting, I will remove funds from companies that may be worth while but I can't get accurate, timely informaiton from. Tie the hands of investors, and you will tie the hands of the companies and the economy.

Michael Strassman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michael Strassman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This has been tried and failed in the past. Transparency is good for investors, better for the long-term health of companies (by forcing them to operate above board, despite the overly short term focus). Do not destroy shareholder value and the life savings of millions of Americans with this bad idea.

Michael Thomas — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I believe quarterly reporting needs to be done so all investors are informed, I believe this wouldn't even be thought about if the rule didn't change about day trading

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

---

michaeldally — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: michaeldally Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Michael Dally (Retired) We demand that the SEC continue to require quarterly investment reports. Reducing the frequency of quarterly reports only serves to disadvantage small investors vis a vis powerful jnstitutional investors!

Sent from my Galaxy

Michal Osier — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: The SEC’s plan to halve its quarterly reports From: Michal Osier Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I’m a retired community mental health professional, 72. Throughout my working life, I’ve saved and invested, with the goal of reaching this age without having to worry about having enough money for what remains of my life - hopefully, many years yet, with my family, my volunteer work, and my friends.

From your website: "The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) oversees securities exchanges, securities brokers and dealers, investment advisors, and mutual funds in an effort to promote fair dealing, the disclosure of important market information, and to prevent fraud."

Any action that the SEC takes to limit access to information on fraudulent activity and the SEC's enforcement of fair rules in the stock and bond market jeopardizes my future - and that of all other older Americans who have worked, saved, and invested throughout their lives. Thank you. Sincerely, Michal Osier, MA

Get Outlook for iOS

Michele — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michele Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Absolutely this should not be happening. Keep access to the market available and as it is!

Michele Berg — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michele Berg Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Hey, SEC, have you not heard of HISTORY? Semi-annual reporting has been done before, AND IT DIDN'T GO WELL. We already know that this is bad for the stock market and investors. I'm assuming, this only applies to US companies? So, wouldn't this push investors to put more money into FOREIGN companies, thereby removing investment in the USA economy? Doesn't sound very AMERICA FIRST, does it? Of course, the billionaires would still have access to the financial information of US companies anytime they wanted, so THEY wouldn't suffer, I'm sure. How about you make the RIGHT decision this time, learn from history, and stop screwing over the 99%?

Michele Berg
Oregon

Michelle Geil — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michelle Geil Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the people informed please! This is our money. Keep reporting current.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Michelle Ryan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michelle Ryan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As a retiree, I can’t afford to find out 6 months too late that a company is going downhill. With the current political climate and its effect on our daily lives, it’s important to keep my investments transparent and profitable.

Sent from my iPad

Michelle Gaffney — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michelle Gaffney Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Michelle Gaffney, Managing Editor
I need to be able to see my account balances on a quarterly basis as I reach retirement age to help me keep track of my finances.

Michelle Makinson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michelle Makinson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reports are essential! Otherwise I will invest in guns and bullets because chaos is coming given the government is gearing up to take the American people's money after blinding us! This is nothing but a MAGA scam.

Sincerely,

Michelle Makinson

"Great minds don't think alike." - Mullaly Hunt

Michelle York — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michelle York Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The American people should have all the information, not just a part of the information ! This administration believes that withholding information will allow them to get away with stealing from the American people ! This is why they are trying so hard to limit the press, ignore the facts and falsify the information we get. Nothing good will come from this !

Sent from my iPad

Mickey Gilsdorf — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mickey Gilsdorf Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I appreciate quarterly reports. I am a senior citizen and I want to see all this. I expect transparency in all transactions. Mickey Gilsdorf, retired.

Mihaela Riposan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mihaela Riposan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is outrageous. Keep the reports every quarter. At least. Actually, they should come more often than that.

Regards,
Mihaela Riposan

Mike Jones — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Jones Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting is one of the few mechanisms that ensures all investors receive material financial information at roughly the same time. Reducing disclosures to every six months would create larger information gaps, increase the advantage of insiders and sophisticated market participants, and leave retail investors operating with less current information. Markets are most efficient when transparency is frequent and broadly available. The solution to regulatory burden is improving reporting processes, not reducing investor access to information.

Mike Jones

Mike Garris — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Garris Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 John M. Garris, retired. This plan is elitist at the expense of the average citizens. One more example of the great need for term limits and holding politicians and bureaucrats accountable for the ridiculously high bank accounts they have tied to insider trading and "donations".

Mike Garris

Mike Smith — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Smith Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The SEC needs to stop with this proposal. Inside trading in Congress and within the Trump administration is bad enough. People are losing faith in government and with this will lose faith in the stock market too. It's bad for the economy and only good for crooked investors and insiders. I am retired and all my assets outside my home are in the markets. If I have to I will switch to previous minerals.

Michael D Smith
Retired
Fenton, MI

Mike Waugh — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Waugh Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Just more greasing the pockets of the financial sewer scum.

Sent from my iPad

Mike Akervik — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Akervik Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As I approach retirement and have watched my 401K ride a rollercoaster of epic proportions, I believe that rolling back quarterly reports will make it even more difficult to make informed investment decisions. There needs to be some sort of accountability for companies using my money with some consistent line of sight.
Please let the current process stand for those of us that are counting on using our reportable investments to support our unknown SS payments.
Thank you,
Mike Akervik

Mike Mason — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Mason Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quit allowing corporate thieves to steal from hard working Americans.

Mike Rejmenczak — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mike Rejmenczak Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am CW4 Mike Rejmenczak, a 24 year US Army Officer. I am heavily invested in the market for my families' retirement savings. A move like this would destroy my ability to provide the comfortable life my family has earned with our service to this great country. Letting big companies hide their financials from investors but 2x per year would reduce the amount of information investors have to make sound decisions. This also allows big corporations to hide issues better and allow the people responsible for devaluing a company to get out early while leaving the American public holding the bill. The requirement to report earnings only semi-annually has already been tried and has failed miserably. Those who refuse to learn from history, ARE DOOMED TO REPEAT IT! PLEASE do not repeat this failed time in American History.

Mike Schnieders — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Schnieders Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Mike Schnieders, retired,
I do not like to change the reports to twice a year because I have investments that I would like to keep track of and make changes as I see fit. Doing it your way, I could lose hundreds, if not thousands by going twice a year.

Thank you

Mike Sikora — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Sikora Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I need to know how a company is doing every quarter! Why would I want to wait for that information. Do not change the system, it works fine as is!

Mike Whitney — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Whitney Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 40 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Mike Whitney

Mike Will — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Will Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Less shells more game. Keep the Quarterly Reporting

---

Millie Fryman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Millie Fryman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 No no no no

---

Mischa Gee — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mischa Gee Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting keeps companies financials clear and up to date. Six months is too long to suddenly find out the firm is insolvent or someone has been stealing profits.

Do not change what does not need changing.

Michele Gulino
Retired Workers Compensation High Value Claims Specialist

Mitchell Gorsha — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mitchell Gorsha Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 M G

Everyone must be held to account.

<mpg />

---

mk38134 — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: mk38134 Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Bad proposal. All investors need timely info.

Sent from my Galaxy

Mo Brann — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mo Brann Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Multitudes are already talking about not paying ANY taxes. Making us pay more will result in an uproar/non compliance.

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Molly Faure — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Molly Faure Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I object to removing quarterly reporting requirements. Time and time again it's been shown that deregulating companies and demanding less transparency leads to bad outcomes. There is no basis for removing quarterly reporting and last time this was done it was a disaster. Just don't do it!!!!!

Mary Hackett

Sent from my iPhone

Molly Wyrostek — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Molly Wyrostek Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 John Wyrostek, Retiree, Two Rivers, WI
This is a terrible idea and should not go forward. We as small investors and retirees demand 100% transparency.

Monique Robidoux — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Rule S7-2026-15, From: Monique Robidoux Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Monique Robidoux

Professional Artist

As a retired person Social Security and my 401K retirement income enable me to sustain a decent lifestyle. The quarterly window is essential for my retirement savings to grow. I strongly suggest keeping this quarterly window to sustain a livable lifestyle. Thank you.

Monique Robidoux
Monique Robidoux Art & Design
www.moniquerobidoux.com

Sent from my iPhone

Morayma Barron — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Morayma Barron Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Morayma and as an accountant this is opening a huge can of worms. This could lead to bad actors trying to conceal negative results and having the time to do so. Quarterly reporting keeps good financials. This would be a huge step back and damaging.

Thank you for your time.
Morayma Barron

Morgan Raymond — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Morgan Raymond Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We need more transparency, not less.

Muchen Jacobs — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Muchen Jacobs Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I trade individual stocks in both my standard brokerage account and Roth IRA.
Removing the quarterly reporting requirement will harm everyday small retail investors like myself saving for my retirement. The quarterly reports are the only things we have access to, while corrupt inside traders will now have an even larger trading window where they can leverage insider information and take advantage of the market.

I strongly would like the SEC to reconsider this decision, and keep the everyday individual investors safe in these unprecedented times.

Muhammad Rahman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Muhammad Rahman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please leave it as quarterly! It is important that we must have clear idea about company performance sooner .
Thank you 🙏🏾

Sent from my iPhone

Myself — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Myself Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Stop being pathetic. Quarterly reports only.

RPC

N Michael Thomas — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: N Michael Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Any reasonable business will review their progress statistics at least quarterly. Requiring the publicly held businesses to share the information with shareholders is not onerous nor is the cost significant since there are many other reasons to prepare the information regardless of the reporting duty.

Thanks,

N Michael Thomas
US Citizen
Stock Investor
Etc.

NAN KARL — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: NAN KARL Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I'm retired, partially living off investments. I count on quarterly reports to respond to the market. Moving them to every six months is a terrible idea that does not benefit smaller investors at all.

Sent from my iPad

Nancy — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep Quarterly! No 6 mos black out!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Nancy Ries — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Nancy Ries Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am a retired person and a small but knowledgeable investor with my IRA. I am terrified about this potential change and it might cause me to move out of many stock market positions. I demand accountability, transparency, and up-to-the moment knowledge about my investments. Do NOT make this change, SEC, unless you want many of us to withdraw from a market we no longer trust.

Nancy Ries, age 71
Hamilton, New York

Nancy Fattlar — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Rule S7-2026-15 From: Nancy Fattlar Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I do not support the rule change for companies to report semi-annual reporting, and want to keep it at quarterly reporting. We do carefully follow our investments, and six months is simply too long.

Please reconsider putting this into policy

Regards
Nancy Fattlar

Nancy Sitarz — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Sitarz Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please don't make it easier for companies to hide their failings. Quarterly reports are needed to keep companies accountable.

Best Regards,

Nancy Sitarz

Sent from my iPhone

Nancy Bowen — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Nancy Bowen Why don't we the people matter? Why is it always the companies and the billionaires who are profiting? Who were the small stones that made you what you are today? Nancy Bowen, retired and just getting by

---

Nancy Lile — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Lile Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As retired teachers, our own money has been contributed towards our stock exchange investments. Quarterly statements should continue so that we may be kept current as to our investments' values. Thank you.
Nancy and Philip Lile

Nancy Parker — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Parker Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To be a true market, customers [investors] must have accurate information to compare. Quarterly reports are the only consistent source. Do not let companies hide bad results for a full half-year!

Nancy Parker, retired, investor.

Nancy Parker

Nancy Peterson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Peterson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am an investor and quarterly reporting is vital to know what's happening with the company. Six months is far too long. How often do you look at your accounts? In this day and age they could issue monthly reports. Upper management is getting the reports. Why keep investors in the dark? We need quarterly reporting.
Nancy Peterson Retiree

Nathan Grant — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Nathan Grant Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Nathan James Robert Grant. I am an HR analyst and former research director located in Maine.

Throughout my career I have invested through retirement accounts tied to US stocks and index funds. I hope to retire by the year 2045. The new SEC guidelines requiring companies to only report twice a year jeopardize my retirement portfolio and the portfolios of millions of hard-working Americans who are dependent upon accurate and timely corporate earnings reports in order to make informed decisions about where to invest their money.

In the United States, there is no longer a such thing as a pension benefit guarantee. We all must now save a large portion of our earnings in pre-tax or post-tax Roth funds that intimately connect us to the economic prosperity of these United States. We are all more reliant on the economic performance of our nation that ever before in history. That history shows what when companies do not need to report as often, such as in the mid 1950s, stocks suffer as a result. The Securities and Exchange Commission, as well as the nation, cannot afford such glaring blind spots in financial reporting and disclosures. That would be like playing Russian Roulette with the financial future of the nation.

I implore the SEC not to make what will be remembered as a colossal historical blunder if SEC adopts semi-annual reporting over the current quarterly reports. Millions of Americans are counting on the SEC to make the right call. Major financial heavyweights like Citadel, Fidelity, Two Sigma, and D.E. Shaw have already warned that weakening disclosure frequency damages market efficiency, creates asymmetrical market information that can harm firms unable to afford other methods of gathering these data, and could very seriously harm investors. A mix of quarterly and semi-annual reporting would also create an economic analysis nightmare with peer-to-peer and industry comparisons becoming unreliable for both firms and investors. The sacrifices are not nearly worth the savings in compliance costs.

Semi-annual reporting is a solution in search of a problem that doesn't exist. The result will be a longer dark widow for insider trading, more market inefficiencies, compromises to market liquidity, and an increase in fraud and errors at firms - putting the entire national economy at risk of failure. If the SEC takes the massive step backwards towards semi-annual reporting, then I will be taking my money out of the US markets and putting it in other stable markets with better transparency, oversight, and accountability to the investors.

Wishing you wisdom,
- Nathan J.R. Grant

Nathan Landrum — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Nathan Landrum Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Nathan Landrum. I am an author and educator from Kentucky, reliant upon investments to help my small business progress. Accurate, consistant, and frequent information is absolutely essential. Quarterly reports are vital so that I can make informed investment decisions. It's incredibly wreckless, and a disservices to to people the SEC is supposed to serve to attempt to restrict information by lengthening the timeline between reports. It smack of 3rd world corruption and a failing economy. Please do the only responsible thing a functioning Economic Commision would do and maintain quarterly reports.
Thank you,
Nathan W Landrum

---

ncgirlie_2000 — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: ncgirlie_2000 Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Stop trying to find more ways to screw over, and steal from hard working americans who have been forced into investing in the market.

Sent from my Galaxy

Newton Whitman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Newton Whitman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Lacking timely financial information, how am I as an average investor going to have any trust in the markets?

Twice a year is insufficient and will erode trust. It will bring about more large swings as bad news is delayed and compounds.

This change will encourage corruption and weaken not just our markets but our country as well.

Nick Pritchard — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nick Pritchard Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Nicholas Pritchard, Director of Compliance, we need more transparency, not less. There's too much corruption and too much hiding of taxes. And we need to have people reporting and making sure that they're following the law.

Get Outlook for iOS

Nicki — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nicki Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Let's stick with quarterly reports—the frequency is designed to provide timely information for investors. While I understand that it's a burden for corporations, in the current administration, a reduction in reporting frequency just looks like another Trump crime syndicate grift. Probably because it is.

Sent from my iPhone

Nicole Geffre — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Nicole Geffre Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Nicole C. Geffre
Attorney licensed in MN
It is my understanding the proposed change set forth in S7-2026-15 would require publically traded companies to report twice a year instead of quarterly.

Based on data, it appears this would have negative effects on the stock and bond markets. Given the high inflation and related economic struggles most American families are currently facing, harming one of the only strong parts of the economy will likely create irreparable financial harm to individuals and the American economy as a whole. My husband and I have many investments and a dramatic slow in the market would effect us and our children. If this would impact us, it would assuredly negatively impact not only middle American but also the wealthiest of Americans. It would also decrease tax revenues.

I see no reason to proceed with this change based upon my current understanding of the anticipated reprocussions and the limited time saved reducing the amount of fillings.

Sincerely,

Nicole C. Geffre

Nicole Hilfiker — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nicole Hilfiker Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 In this day and age, there is no reason for less transparency. Quarterly reports are a minimum standard. If this goes through, it paves the way for further actions and less accountabilty. Let's NOT repeat Enron. Let's keep markets accountable and keep up investor trust.

Nicole Rapone — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nicole Rapone Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am Nicole Rapone, government worker abbe I believe reporting should remain quarterly. I am concerned with the growing power of corporate America and this oversight is necessary to keep them responsive to their investors.

Sent from my iPhone

Niko Smrekar — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Niko Smrekar Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is ludicrous! How are regular investors supposed to know what is going on with companies? This is some trust-reducing idiocy.

Niko Smrekar

No Name — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: No Name Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Transparency!

NorahDavid Howland — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: NorahDavid Howland Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Being transparent is critical for investors. The SEC should block these rule changes from going forward. Reporting quarterly is required to keep companies honest.

Noreen Jediny — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Noreen Jediny Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 At this time of great volatility, this would be a very foolish mistake to only require reporting twice a year. Please leave the reporting recommendations that are in place today. Best regards, Noreen Jediny retired RN, BSN, RCIS.

Sent from my iPhone

Norm Burke — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Norm Burke Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Norman Burke, Realtor Agent. Why, Why, WHY? does our Government continue to allow and HELP the Big Corporate interests and the Billionaires get Richer and Richer at the expense of Americans as a whole? STOP the Government-assisted GREED!! WHY?

Norman R. Case — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Norman R. Case Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To Whom It May Concern,

I am an dividend investor for over 20 years. This new regulation will stretch the interval for me being able to mitigate a dividend yield reduction to six months instead of the current three months. Good for business's but very bad for the investor. Another example of government helping big business and stepping on the individual in this country.

Norman R. Case, 20 Year Food Service Management, and another 20 years of Inventory Control Management - - Retired

---

Olga Nix — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Olga Nix Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To whom it may concern,

I am writing to advocate for the continuation of quarterly reporting. These reports are essential for preventing undetected fraud and ensuring that company financials remain transparent to the public.

As an individual investor, I rely on this information to make informed decisions regarding my retirement savings. Maintaining this level of transparency is crucial for protecting investors and the integrity of the market.

Sincerely,

Olga Nix

Olga Skorapa — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Olga Skorapa Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting is essential to keep corporations honest and protect consumers and business partners. Lowering standards is not in the public interest. This proposal is not the way forward for American corporations.

Olga Skorap, PhD

Pam Kriner — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pam Kriner Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We gotta keep it honest. This is the way.

Pam

Pam Lovall — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pam Lovall Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Many of us feel a little shaky even being in the market right now. You want to hide for 6 mos. I can take my money out now.

Pam Lovall

Pamela Chewning Bravard — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pamela Chewning Bravard Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Pamela Chewning-Bravard
Administrative Assistant, Retired, Financial Crimes Enforcement Network.
I worked in the Federal Government for over thirty years. I helped research and create budgets and contributed to many quarterly and annual reports for our bureau and the agency.
Any federal bureau or agency that is funded by Americans' taxes should be held to the highest standards of oversight. Quarterly figures are how our various departments share information with our federal partners and the public, hopefully preventing surprising downturns or failures. Our primary directive to the public is to perform at the highest levels, so shortcutting the standard reporting methods is akin to lying to our colleagues and the American public.
SEC should have the staff expertise to continue releasing quarterly reporting. If they need help, a few divisions within the Treasury Department could certainly assist them.

Pamela Jackson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pamela Jackson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Everything about this administration is suspect. This just proves to me transparency is the last thing they are interested in providing to the American citizens.

Pamela M Harrison — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pamela M Harrison Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Pamela M. Harrison, retired TTA, VZ. My retirement is already in jeopardy. It has been removed from the government protection under ERISA. These funds are offshored at great risk. We need to be vigilant. Six months to hide fraud is ridiculous. Companies need to report more frequently, not less.
Do not entertain this move.

Pamela Tomkinson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pamela Tomkinson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 42 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my retirement stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges. Pamela Tomkinson, retired C-level professional.

Pat Baker — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pat Baker Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Six months is too long. Way too many things can go bad, or extremely well in that length of time. Investors deserve access to timely information that impacts the value of the company. Please retain the current quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPad

Pat Dvorak Taber — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pat Dvorak Taber Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I and my spouse are actively involved in the stock market and we count on quarterly reports of the companies that comprise our retirement stock portfolios. We request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges. Please stop the steal of quarterly reports.

Pat Tyson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pat Tyson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 More than ever we need to keep a watch on these big corporations. Keep the reports quarterly.

Patricia Lestz — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Lestz Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is wrong! Your job is to help the people and this does not do this!

Sent from my iPhone

Patricia Bennis — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Bennis Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Patricia & Ronald Bennis, retired IT consultants. We depend on our investments to fund our retirement and timely information is critical to intelligent decisions.

Patricia Blochowiak — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Blochowiak Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Transparency is essential to democracy.

Patricia Blochowiak, M.D.

Patricia Corcoran — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Patricia Corcoran Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We need transparency, they e already proven themselves unable to stay honest. With pensions no longer being the norm, real people rely on these investments through 401s. We can't afford to count on them to keep it honest. How much more do they require to fund their lifestyles.

Enough is enough...hold them accountable
Patricia Corcoran

Get Outlook for Android

Patricia Gailey — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Gailey Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 If it's my money, and it is, then I should have access to the value at any time. Quarterly is the absolute minimum. I am a responsible citizen, and when information is withheld, I cannot take care of myself as well. Patricia Gailey.

It's never the wrong time to do the right thing.

Sent with Proton Mail secure email.

Patricia Heath — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Patricia Heath Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Transparency is the bedrock of a free and fair stock market. Corporate scandals where investors lose their money are often the result of gaps in financial disclosure. Quarterly filings don't prevent fraud, but they dramatically shorten the window in which it can fester.

Patricia Johnson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Patricia Johnson, retired school teacher. My husband and I have substantial retirement accounts. We want them to be well-managed using complete and timely data. Changing reporting requirements to twice yearly gives a much less complete picture of a company's finances. The SEC is supposed to be protecting investors not making life easier for corporations.

Patricia Kimerling — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Kimerling Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As a retiree, it is very important to me to have a close monitoring of my Investments. I strongly urge to maintain quarterly reporting. Patricia Kimerling

Sent from my iPhone

Patricia Leone-Thiel — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Leone-Thiel Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Patricia Thiel, public investor
To the SEC:
I firmly believe that holding corporations accountable is critical to our financial system's good health. Reporting every quarter is good business for investors and the cost of doing business for corporations. Transparency with reporting is the goal and hiding the financial facts from the public for 6 months at a time will allow for nefarious activity hidden for large chunks of time and possibility of market manipulation behind the curtain of time. Keep reporting the way it is now.

Regards,

Pat Thiel

PATRICIA LESTZ — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: PATRICIA LESTZ Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 What is the purpose other than hurting investors? No to this!

Sent from my iPhone

Patricia Noack — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Noack Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As investors we have the right to know what companies are doing. Quarterly reporting is a standard that has proven effective for half a century. Certainly reporting is easier in the age of computers. Require reporting quarterly!
Trisha Noack
Retired Investor

Sent from my iPhone

Patricia Prime — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Prime Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I respectfully request that companies continue to submit quarterly reports. I feel it’s important information for individuals to be able to be able to make informed financial decisions.

Sent from my iPhone

Patricia Schmeltz — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patricia Schmeltz Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To Whom It May Concetn,
As a prior registered stock broker as well as a manager of brokers, (Series 7 and 8), if you allow companies to avoid quarterly reporting, too many people will be affected negatively. This is not in the best interests of investors, shareholders, employees and the company's own financial health. Please do not make this change.

Patricia Schmeltz, retired

Patrick Amo — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patrick Amo Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Not only no but h*ll no!

Patrick Byrne — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patrick Byrne Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please reconsider any attempt to reduce results. , 6 months is to long. Transparency in viewing and reporting market reporting is vital !

Patrick Derrickson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patrick Derrickson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting is important for investors to know their investments are doing well. Please protect or increase the level of information flow. People's futures depend on it as well as your credibility.

Patrick McMullen — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Patrick McMullen Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Patrick McMullen, and I'm a Management Consultant in Portland, OR.

I'm a millennial who worked hard to be the first generation to graduate from college and then grad school. I had to support myself throughout and learn the bit of financial literacy I could along the way. Now, after years in the business world and the completion of an MBA, I truly understand the importance of transparency in financial reporting. Increasing the window between financial reporting will harm everyday investors first and then the rich and powerful after middle class spending erodes and retirement savings are wiped out. Do not move to semi-annual reporting.

Patrick Meadows — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patrick Meadows Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 No to extending reporting time. With today's computers, reporting could be daily.

---

patsy carothers — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: patsy carothers Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports. They are important for us to monitor. We need them!

Patti Faucheaux — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patti Faucheaux Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Report quarterly. Period.
Patricia Faucheaux

Sent from my iPhone

Pattie Mayfield — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pattie Mayfield Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have had various types of 401's for over 50 years. This is my money - worked hard to put it there and watch it closely. If the SEC removes my ability to receive quarterly reports - and access to control over my accounts - I will simply cash them in and move them to other forms of savings.

Get Outlook for Android

Patty Cody — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patty Cody Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Absolutely not! This how fraud starts. Do Not allow this to happen. There is already to much power in the top 1% and we see how they are covering for one another .
Thank you
Patricia Cody
Sent from my iPhone

Patty Quinby — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patty Quinby Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Patricia Quinby and I am retired. I practiced pharmacy in hospitals for over thirty years.
I know that more information is always better when you must put your trust in the people who have more power. When you invest your money, you need to have some trust in the folks holding your money. Keep the financial reports quarterly. To change the reporting to every six months obviously benefits only one party.
Sincerely,
Patricia Quínby

Patty Quinby — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patty Quinby Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Patricia Quinby and I am retired. I practiced pharmacy in hospitals for over thirty years.

I know that more information is always better when you must put your trust in the people who have more power. When you invest your money, you need to have some trust in the folks holding your money. Keep the financial reports quarterly. To change the reporting to every six months obviously benefits only one party.

Patty Quinby — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Patty Quinby Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Dear [Recipient Name],

My name is Patricia Quinby. I am a retired hospital pharmacist with over thirty years of experience.

I am writing to express my opposition to changing the financial reporting frequency. When investing, it is essential for clients to have transparency and trust in those managing their funds. Access to information is vital for the protection of the investor.

Moving from quarterly to semi-annual reporting only benefits the institution and reduces necessary oversight. Please keep the financial reports on a quarterly basis.

Best regards,

Patricia Quinby

Paul Ellis — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul Ellis Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I'm a small, retail trader. Quarterly earnings reports are an important part of my research before deciding to invest in a company. Allowing companies to hide their financials for 6 months would be massively detrimental to me and many other small traders and investors. What makes it feel even more unfair is the idea that institutional traders and wealthy investors could still gain normal access. Please do not allow this new rule.

Thank you for your consideration.
Paul Ellis

Paul Banecks — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul Banecks Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep quarter reporting
There is to much fraud already

Paul Beach — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul Beach Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Stop destroying accountability. Keep the guard rails for truth to survive.
Paul Beach
A private investor who will stop,

Sent from my iPhone

Paul Jenkins — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul Jenkins Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the 401k information the way it is now. Paul Jenkins retired. We need to know where our 401k stands

---

Paul Winders — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paul Winders Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please do not extend the disclosure period . It should be shortened to 60 days . Investors deserve timely data .

Sent from my iPhone

Paula Rengers — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paula Rengers Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It's my money, not yours and I should be able to see how it's handled at least quarterly! I am retired and YOU work for us and it's our hard earned money. Our livelyhood depends on our retirement fund so do your job and keep us updated, no secrets!

Paulette Salem — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paulette Salem Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 STOP 🛑 Gaslighting the American people through your manipulative threats ! You should be held accountable EVERY month not just quarterly ! Certainly NOT every 6 months !

Sent from my iPhone

Paulette Woodard — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Paulette Woodard Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Paulette Woodard Invester

This is not a fair way to do this! Certainly not without the approval of all involved. It would be a betrayal of those who invested without this possibility.

Paulette

Peggy Rackstraw — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peggy Rackstraw Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Really, 6 months. NO. Just say no. Ordinary citizens don’t get 6 months, why should businesses? If you are a public company, keep your data public-you are owned by shareholders.

Sent from my iPhone

Peggy Weber — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Peggy Weber Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Peggy J Weber, retired. Rolling reporting back to 50's will especially threaten the investments of retirees and those near retirement who are not in a position to make major changes to their investments. Please, protect the investments of those least able to protect them.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Peggy Huckel — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Peggy Huckel Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I worked in civil service. I am retired and therefore rely greatly on my investments to get by. Please do not make this change, which will hurt people like me and benefit investors who have inside channels. This is a critical issue! Margaret Huck

---

Peggy Palmer — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peggy Palmer Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 OBLY stupid evil and wicked people would do this to snare you

---

Penny Carson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Penny Carson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Penny Duchene-Carson, retired.
Quarterly Reports are essential for anyone planning their future. This administration is hiding so much data; we can’t let another metric disappear.

Sent from my iPhone

Perrine Anderson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Perrine Anderson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As a recently retired nurse practitioner, maintaining the value and returns on my savings is critical. Please leave quarterly reports in place.
Perrine Anderson

Sent from my iPhone

Pete Baker — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pete Baker Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 40 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Pete Salisbury — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pete Salisbury Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My small 401 and IRA are my only hope to afford to retire. In 2008 my 401 crash landed in less than a month. I am now more attentive but in a 6 month blackout I could possibly lose everything or miss the opportunity to hit the mother load. NO to the 6 month rule.
Pete Salisbury
School noon-time supervisor

Peter Gaglio — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peter Gaglio Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Hiding statements from my investment companies for 6 months instead of every 1/4 leads me believe they are hiding my money and committing fraud that can't be stopped as soon as it starts. Company's charge me enough fees to produce a report every quarter that's what the contracts calls for. If they want to change that contract they need to close out of the fund with a cash payment to all investors and start again.
From: Peter Gaglio, retired investor

Peter Turner — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Peter Turner Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Why would public companies want to hide their financials? So they can get wealthy off of insider trading. -Peter Turner, Children's Librarian.

Phil Sikes — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Phil Sikes Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My wife and I have about 1,000,000 combined in Fidelity mutual funds , IRA. At one time we were mailed a report every month, now it's every quarter. Even though I can access the information online, my preference would be to get a report mailed every month.

Phil Sikes

Philip Buff — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Philip Buff Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 For God’s sake, stop stealing from me! You’re rich enough without having to resort to more subterfuge.
Regards
Philip Buff

---

phillettal — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: phillettal Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting is a part how American companies dominate in terms of investors and traders. With many foreign companies doing far less reporting, these gaps are often actually a problem. This also leads to long dividend waits making those companies less attractive. Etc.

When faced with similar opportunities between an American Company and a Foreign based one, reporting and dividend pace are huge factors. Even if the foreign company appears marginally more attractive, the lack of updates for a regular investor make them riskier all else being equal.

This will also drastically harm smaller companies who will feel pressured into this new normal, companies dealing with any issues become far riskier and less likely to be dealt with. Hurting the shareholders and the ability in some cases to raise as much capital as they might currently be able to.

In the end, it will make otherwise similar American companies lack the same edge they currently have in terms of investor choices.

Phyllis Bennett — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Phyllis Bennett Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Don’t change the SEC quarterly report. Changing to 6 months is too long between reports. The stock market moves too fast . But you already know that, don’t you? Phyllis Bennett, retired, trying to keep my 401k

Sent from my iPhone

Phyllis Ianniccari — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Phyllis Ianniccari Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I very much appreciate quarterly reports. It keeps the companies on their toes and we, the investors informed.

Phyllis Ianniccari

Pokor — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Pokor Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As an individual investor I want to make rules on companies to stave off fraud more stringent and not less stringent. Please do not enact the six month rule change.

Polly Zetterberg — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Polly Zetterberg Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We Americans have every right to know the information included in the SEC reports, and in a timely manner. Plese Keep the current reporting deadlines in place.
Polly Zetterberg

Poni Scofield — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Poni Scofield Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Corporations already have too many privileges, advantages, and leverages. Keep them transparent. Advocate for the ordinary citizens, for whom trickle-down stupidnomics does not work.
Poni Scofield, retired accountant

R A — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: R A Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 How much more nonsense is the sec willing to tolerate We are tired of tge well to do getting away with under handed shenanigans. The 1/4 reporting must stay as law or else the credibility of our financial instruments will lose their credibility and threaten or financial system

---

R Baillou — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: R Baillou Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The SEC should be on the investor's side, not the company's. Its job is to protect regular people who put their money into the market, and that only works if companies have to stay transparent and keep reporting regularly.

If the SEC cuts back on reporting, it helps companies more than investors. Investors need timely info so they can spot problems early and make smart decisions. Less reporting means less accountability, and that's not what the SEC is supposed to do.

Reynard Baillou
rpbaillou@gmail.com

Rachael Coleman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rachael Coleman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please maintain quarterly earnings reporting of all publicly traded companies. Also, if they miss a quarter or have to restate a quarter, make their reporting monthly for a year until the accounting is sorted out.
Thank you for reading

Rachael Zahler — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rachael Zahler Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Rachael Zahler, teacher and investor:
Preserve quarterly reporting to protect us from graft, corruption, and fraud.

Rachel Payne — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rachel Payne Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As an information professional, I know it is vital we have more data about companies, not less. -Rachel Payne, Public Librarian

Rachel Payne

Rachel W — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rachel W Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We, the American People, DEMAND that Corporations continue to Share their Data Quarterly, and NOT semi-annually.
We consumers have a RIGHT TO transparency in our Economic Decision-making.

Rae Tay — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rae Tay Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY!

R Taylor

Into the forest I go - to lose my mind and restore my soul. John Muir

---

RagingSnail — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: RagingSnail Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 A lot can go wrong in half a year. Failed product launches, ballooning debt, lawsuits, vanishing customers.

Don't screw over investors.

Rana Dayal — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rana Dayal Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please keep the reporting quarterly

---

Randy Grein — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Randy Grein Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 You have to be kidding. Free markets require full dissemination of information. Anything less is a rigged casino. This rule would prove communists right about how Capital is all about taking, not creating. And yes, it will generate far less wealth, and none at all for normal people than honesty and integrity. 5is matters to me because I have watched rules and protections be eroded ove my working lifetime. We do not have to be corrupt in business.

Randy Grein, network engineer

Sent from my iPad

Ray Hersey — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ray Hersey Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Public companies are public, so the public can see how they're doing, 6 months isn't acceptable for public companies' records to be held from the investors. If they don't want to put their quarterly reports out, they should no longer be public, it's that simple. Take your company private and off the stock exchange. You're supposed to be working to protect investors, not companies. DO YOUR JOB!
Teresa Hersey

Ray Tschudy — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ray Tschudy Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly earnings reports are needed to properly evaluate the company’s business performance and its profitability. By contrast with no regular reporting or extended timeframes will allow more confusion or even fraud and theft

Sent from my iPad

Ray Winters — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ray Winters Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am, frankly, tired of the rules being rigged to favor companies and not the public that invests in those companies. Quarterly reporting MUST REMAIN INTACT. The rules are already rigged against the public and this rule would make it possible to steal even more... I am going to begin harassing my Rep and Senator over this. SEC is becoming a tool against the people.

Raymond Engelman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Raymond Engelman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As one humble American, I feel that this reporting is critical for our planning for best outcome of leaving a legacy for our kids and grandchildren.
I didn’t realize it for the first 27 years of my life but, I wish I had paid more attention!
I grew up on a farm in Wabash County, Indiana. At the age of twelve I was run over by our big DMI gravity wagon filled to the brim with soybeans that had to be loaded into the truck. I rode on the wagon. I worked my way up to the front and then climbed down the ladder to the PTO shaft and had a quick chat with my brother and his girlfriend, Nancy. He was driving the tractor which pulled the wagon and me. I fell and the wagon wheel ran straight over my head!
Then, after college and living in Colorado for all of 2 years, my new fiancé and I moved back to Indianapolis, Indiana area and got married. We bore 5 wonderful kids. As I was working as much I possibly could often out of town on a project for the State of Indiana to modernize the FSSA childcare and benefits system, often through tornados and floods in opposite corners of the state. My wife had given birth to our third child, another boy and 7.5 weeks early!

Moving on. I continued working there until I got an offer for my dream job and I took it! I got to travel first class to wherever I flew to. It was pretty good 👍🏻. Coming back from Germany the last time was somehow different.
I had a horrid pain in my back right between my shoulder blades but, I shrugged it off as having carried my laptop and power supply, probably 25# in my backpack.
I drank 3 fingers of scotch and a bottle of beer and I slept until we touched down in Indy. I went to dinner with my team from work and then home to kiss my kids goodnight 🌙.
Got a text from a friend that invited me over to hang out around his campfire 🔥 and have a beer or three. We did that among others and then I came back home.
The house was fairly quiet as all were in bed. I ensured that I had locked up and turned off remaining lights and headed to bed.
I realized that my back pain had come back with vengeance! I laid down in the living room and tried twisting my back to get it to pop….
I awoke as I heard my wife speaking to a gentleman over me. Next thing I know is that I'm being carted away for this and that. I had, at the youthful age of 43, a widow maker!!!
From that awful heart attack, I suffered an anoxic TBI due to lack of oxygen to my brain 🧠. I'm much better now and beginning to find my footing in the game again. I think taking such valuable information that people who have worked so hard for to take the money that they have left and try to save it for an investment that they can't get any more information from than a bathroom stall wall is absolutely ridiculous!

Sent from my iPhone

Rebecca Culvey — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rebecca Culvey Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Rebecca Culvey, retired Physical therapist assistant. I anticipated a better return on my savings when I retired, but the present administration is screwing g up the stick market.
I want to be able to keep an eye on my portfolio every quarter.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Rebecca Greene — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rebecca Greene Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:

we need more honest information for organizations and companies, not less. The system is already stacked against regular people. Why make it even more imabalanced?
please protect our democracy by keeping accountability and transparency.
Thank you,
Rebecca Greene

Rebecca Guthrie — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rebecca Guthrie Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Oligarchs do not belong in a democratic society. SEC must monitor companies that derive their profits from citizens.

Rebecca Martin — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rebecca Martin Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 More reporting, not less. Make the basics count. Please do not support this change

Sent from my iPhone

Reed — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Reed Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Corporate transparency is paramount for investors to make educated decisions. Allowing publicly traded companies to obfuscate this information creates a two-tiered system and erodes confidence in the market.

Thanks You,
Reed Edwards

Regina Whitman Retired Business Owner — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Regina Whitman I'm a retired business owner. I manage my own IRA and brokerage accounts. I will not be able to compete with the big brokerage houses and insiders who will have this knowledge long before the retail investor. There is enough trading going on these days among people with privileged information. Do not take away basic information that gives retail investors a chance to be successful. Otherwise the markets will ONLY be for big brokerage houses with research staffs and those individuals that access privileged information before it is made public which used to result in prison sentences.

Relkin50 — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Relkin50 Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We need accountability. Leave it at three months. No reason to change unless you want more insider trading.
THREE MONTHS IS LONG ENOUGH!!

Sent from my iPhone

Rena Bender — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rena Bender Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Hello, my name is Rena Bender and I am retired. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges. It gives me time to adjust my portfolio, if needed and keeps me apprised of how my stocks are doing. Quarterly reports are a tremendous help as bi-annually leaves too much time in between to be helpful should any adjustments needed to be made.

V/r,

Rena Bender

Renato Perez — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Renato Perez Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is a shaft towards individual investors, and will further let institutions control peoples money

---

Renee White — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Renee White Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I do not think a 6mo dark period is safer for anyone. If I pay for financial advice, I want to know the information I receive is current so I can make informed decisions. Certainly a wide group of sophisticated investors would know if things were good or deteriorating but the average layman who handles their own money would not know what is real or rumors. ENRON was wild but hopefully no double set of books are common, but being dark for 6 months while cheerfully reporting 1/2 truths in interviews or CNBC is certainly very similar! Why return to the wild west days. Give the smaller guy a chance! Don't take visibility away. Why? Is it just to benefit the billionaires again?!

Rewolf503 — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rewolf503 Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This assault on our financial well being is indicative of a ploy to hide financial transactions that may affect our bottom lines! Less control is more of an opportunity to steal from investors!

Sent from my Galaxy

Rex Helwig — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rex Helwig Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I question the SEC's objectivity when you are trying to make it easier for corporations to hide their financial status. The investors should be who the SEC is protecting. The current financial rules wouldn't have been put in place if corporations were inherently honest and good corporate citizens.

Rex Helwig

Rhonda Garner — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rhonda Garner Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Rhonda Garner. I'm a retired Internal Auditor for the world's largest credit union. Keep the quarterly financial requirement, please. In my opinion, less compliance reporting isn't better or a time saver in the long run. Longer reporting cycles can lead to "mistakes" or incorporate outright incorrect information that tries to hide unscrupulous shenanigans.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Rhonda Wells — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rhonda Wells Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Absolutely do not want quarterly reports dropped for 6 month reports! Would prefer every other month reports! My name is Rhonda Wells and I believe that we already experience a certain amount of non-disclosure. Receiving only 6 months reports would give companies an even broader amount of time to hide information from the General Public, Investors, from competitors and YOU, the governing agency. How in the world does that ever make sense?

Ric Fulop — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Ric Fulop Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please dont make america like europe

Sent from my iPhone. Please excuse typos.

Rich Glesmer — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rich Glesmer Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Rich glesmer retired please keep the quarterly reports.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Richard — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the quarterly reporting requirement. It is no less important in protecting private investors as the more recent SOX requirements.

Richard Amato — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Amato Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Dear SEC,

I am retired and I need every penny from my retirement accounts. I want my quarterly reports to keep track of how my money is doing, so I can make adjustments as required. If a fund is under performing, I need to know as soon as possible, so I can change it out for something else.

Sincerely,

Richard Amato

Richard B Eggson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard B Eggson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is a bad idea currently they are numerous cases of fraud and mischievous by both brokers and investors/lawyers. This is a bad idea for six months quarterly reporting. I said no let's keep calling reporting as a stand three months.

Richard Grace — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Grace Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As a technology consultant and small investor, I strongly recommend you keep reporting requirements in the quarterly timeframe. This will open the door for massive fraud, and is an attempt to fix something that isn't broken. This "reform" isn't necessary except in the minds of a few billionaires. We need to continue being able to have reasonable transparency into our investments' activities.

Sent from my iPhone

Richard Liston — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Richard Liston Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Dear SEC,

I am a retired medical professional. I began investing in qualified retirement plans in my early 30s and in non-qualified plans about ten years later.
I have invested almost entirely in low-cost mutual funds (and later in ETFs). Disciplined savings and low-cost index fund investing have allowed me to achieve ~10% annual rate of return over my lifetime. This has been important for my wife and me, as we have no government or private pension. For our financial support, we depend upon our investment portfolio (and eventually our relatively modest social security payments at age 70).
I have a strong family of Alzheimer's disease. Our investment portfolio is the only protection that my wife and I have to meet possible long term care needs when I am older.
Finally, I am very proud of my daughter and her husband who have both chosen a life of service in ministry. My financial portfolio is an important source of support for them, as their ministries, while extremely important, are not financially remunerative.
For all of these reasons, the quality of life for my family and me depends upon the security of our financial investments.
These investments will be imperiled by the changes that the SEC is considering. Stock valuations are the single biggest determinant of the value of my financial portfolio and those or tens of millions of middle class Americans who have spent decades building a future for our families that depend on our portfolios.
Decreasing the accountability of corporations to be transparent with their investors while cause harm. For this reason, I do not support any moves to decrease reporting requirements of publicly-traded companies.
I urge you to continue to require quarterly earnings reports from publicly traded companies. Transparency is good for markets. Do not muddy the waters.
Sincerely,
Richard Liston, MD
Bellbrook, Ohio.

Richard Salitra — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Salitra Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Richard Salitra Individual investor

I’m not an expert but have been involved in SEC reporting for client companies before. Less reporting means less transparency which is never a good thing. And as someone who has experience with SEC reporting, the cost savings to large corporations are minimal as they will have to maintain the books and staffing levels regardless. And for mid size and smaller companies, reduced frequency will encourage looser interim record keeping standards resulting in both poorer quality reporting and more potential issues that are discovered later.

Sent from my iPhone

Richard Shelley — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Richard Shelley Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the reports quarterly. Transparency is critical.

Rick Berger — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rick Berger Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Rick Berger - I'm a therapist, educator, and international traveler. With the rampant corruption of the President and the enabling of the GOP, there is all the more need to keep monitoring corporations with Quarterly reports.

Rick Martin — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rick Martin Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Hello SEC. My name is Craig Garrett, and I am a casino worker. I have ALOT of money invested in the stock market, and as you do, I need to constantly SEE, and MONITOR, just what's going on in the stock market. To keep investors BLIND while the inside traders KNOW what's going on is CRIMINAL and UNCONSTITUTIONAL! It's OUR MONEY, and we need to know what's hsppening wit the stock market ALL THE TIME!! DO NOT...REPEAT... DO NOT MAKE US BLIND TO OUR OWN MONEY We, the people, will hold all those accountable in this criminal act. KEEP THE STOCK MARKET REPORT OPEN TO ALL!!

---

rickielocke — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: rickielocke Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 90 days has worked forever. Companies have been in trouble before. Keep them honest. Keep faith in the market

Sent from my Galaxy

Rita Cohen King — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rita Cohen King Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Rita King

I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 45 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my various retirement accounts in my stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Rita Siegel — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rita Siegel Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep quarterly and it should be live, 24/7

Rob Hart — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rob Hart Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The public needs to know public company results quarterly. If they want access to our money they publicly disclose how they are doing quarterly. They can become private companies if they do not want to continue to comply. Maga will fall and you will be held accountable for this vote in the future.

Robert Callis — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Callis Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 American investors deserve to be provided quarterly reporting. Do not extend this period out to 6 months. This will diminish confidence in stock investments.

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Bender — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Bender Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Dear SEC
Please ensure that publicly held companies are required to reveal quarterly earnings. Without earnings reports, retail investors will be blind to inside progress or retraction from financial goals.
Best,
Rob Bender 48176

Sent from my iPhone

Robert Frye — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Robert Frye Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Why in the world would you allow this? Seriously. How much is enough for you f*ckers?
Robert Frye
Operations Mgr

Robert Jordan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Jordan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Retaining quarterly reporting is necessary to maintain effective market information pool.

Sent from my iPhone

Robert LaRosa — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert LaRosa Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To whom it may concern,

Maintaining a quarterly reporting cycle is essential for preserving transparency, reducing market risk, and enforcing corporate accountability. A 90-day pulse check provides the timely visibility needed to track a company's financial health, spot deteriorating trends before they compound into structural failures, and ensure corporate insiders do not hold an unfair informational advantage. Furthermore, regular and predictable data drops allow the market to price assets incrementally, smoothing out the wild, volatile stock price swings that would inevitably occur if investors were left guessing in six-month information vacuums. Ultimately, quarterly reporting levels the playing field for everyday investors, ensuring that management remains disciplined and continuously answerable for their strategic execution.

Respectfully yours.

Robert Podlena — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Podlena Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Don’t you dare stop quarterly reporting!! You scumbags are continuously gutting checks and balances and giving everything to the rich! This sh*t stops now! You aholes want a revolution and it’s damn sure going to happen at this rate!!

Robert Podlena

Robert Ramirez — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Ramirez Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Making the reports regularly gives the investor a better idea to decide what to do. This favors the corporations rather than the public

---

Robert Sowers N/A — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Robert Sowers This is counterproductive, will negatively impact every IRA negatively and we have proof of this - it's written in our history. The stupidity of this proposal makes me think that RFK Jr. is also in charge of the SEC as clearly, whoever came up with this whacky-ass idea has zero education in market history, much as RFK Jr. has zero education in anything related to human health. Please stop this madness. We've all had enough of experimenting with "bold" ideas that turn out to put more of us in debt, screw over our retirement potential, kill growth in our economy and on and on.... Please! Fire the people that concocted this extremely bad idea. They have no clue what they're doing. BAD BAD BAD BAD

Robert Tillotson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robert Tillotson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 No you may not hide profits and losses tied to 401k. If we are to trust you with our retirement you then prove it with frequent updates. You are not the corrupt Trump family about to get prison terms which hopefully go for life. If you want to be put in a third world prison or hunted then you are making clear what you desire. We are clear, dont [REDACTED] with it.

Roberta Arbuckle — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Roberta Arbuckle Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 PLEASE KEEP REPORTING TO QUARTERLY! ROBERTA ARBUCKLE, REGIONAL MANAGER

Sent from my iPad

Robin Cohen — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robin Cohen Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Are you FREAKING NUTS?
Yeah, you’re probably trump suckers, don’t do it. The child rapist in the oval works for pooty, they want to crash the economy.

Sent from my iPad

Robin Johnson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robin Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I ask that this change not be implemented. Nothing good ever comes from removing controls that were put there to protect the people and, in this case, the economy. I have seen how corporations are willing to do the wrong things, harmful things, to squeeze another penny out of the process. Cutting the reporting requirements by half at least doubles their ability to hide their harmful decisions or nefarious actions. Let the sun shine on their actions, don’t take away what safeguards there are, especially in conjunction with the IRS cuts that already minimize the possibility of illegal or irresponsible actions that are contrary to the greater good being detected and corrected.

Robin Meares — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Robin Meares Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Do not approve reporting twice a year instead of quarterly. This could hurt people who saved their entire lives to save for retirement o

Sent from my iPad

Robin Renzenbrink — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Robin Renzenbrink Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Do not change to semi-annual reporting from quarterly!

Sent from my iPhone

Robin Trostad — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Robin Trostad Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Some regulations are good- like filing four times a year. The filings are one of my most useful tools as a small investor. Don’t give ALL the breaks to the big guys, just keep one common sense one for all of us! Thank you.

Rochelle Swenson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rochelle Swenson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It concerns everyone that a government agency meant for the common oversight is seeking to do less oversight. Allowing for more hidden activity, endangering our financial safety.
Private citizen, Rochelle Swenson, retired.

Roger Brath — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Roger Brath Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please keep the very important quarterly reports. Roger Brath, homeowner and investor

Sent from my iPhone

Roger Martens — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Roger Martens Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Roger Martens. Retiree.
I'm 72 years old. I get a monthly pension of $174.00 and a social security payment of $875.00 (before my Medicare payment is taken out). By far, the bulk of my income comes from what my investments earn. I need to keep up with them, and I need timely reports from the corporations I own stock in so that I can make wise investment decisions. If you allow these corporations to hide their operations and maneuverings from people like me for 6 months at a time, you make it harder for us to insure the success of our investments, while allowing insiders to continue to enjoy quarterly reports and information. Please don't go through with any plan that reduces the timeliness, the amount, or the accuracy of the data I receive from the companies my investments support, and whose earnings I depend on.

Rona Demmy — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Rona Demmy Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission: if I can not see my returns or losess every quarter then how am i to know if I should continue or remove my money and put it elsewhere?

Ronald Bennett — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ronald Bennett Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 44 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Sent from my iPad

Rosa Munguia — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rosa Munguia Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As an employee of the financial sector, please keep the industry’s integrity. I look forward to my quarterly reports. Thank you.

Sent from my iPhone

Rosalba Schmidt — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rosalba Schmidt Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026 It’s good to be able to keep track of where investments are going

---

Rose — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rose Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Definitely need quarterly reports.

Rose Marie Fructuoso — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Rose Marie Fructuoso Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is very important to me. Keep the reports on a quarterly basis.

Rose Marie Fructuoso
Retired

Sent from my iPad

RoseAnn DiVincenzo — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: RoseAnn DiVincenzo Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As a financial advisor, it is important and imperative that financial reporting transparency occurs in a quarterly basis. The investment markets depend on accurate and consistent financial reporting.
Roseann DiVincenzo

Sent from my iPhone

Ru Engel — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ru Engel Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Retired investor, low income. Reporting should be monthly

Be at Peace

Learn from the past, Plan for the future .Live in the present.
Do not look back You are not going that way.

Russell Calvert — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Russell Calvert Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 If you want accountability in this country, you don't let publicly-owned businesses have more room to break the rules, defraud investors, and manipulate the markets. We've seen what happens when money people have room to cheat, bubble after bubble after bubble. And what's more, the only ones that end up paying for their transgressions are the public, and that is not right. Don't let this happen again.

Ruth — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ruth Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Hiding companies profits is what Russia, China and other authoritarian regimes do. You will be making it more difficult for financial institutions/markets to attract investors and cripple the economy more than has already been done.

Ruth Ayres

Sent from my iPhone

Ruth Rivera — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ruth Rivera Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I urge the SEC to reject the proposed six-month reporting rule. As someone who relies on the transparency and accountability provided by regular reporting, I believe extending the reporting period would leave investors and the public in the dark for too long. Timely disclosure helps maintain trust in our markets, allows investors to make informed decisions, and protects against surprises that can have significant financial consequences. Reducing transparency benefits only a select few while increasing risk for everyday investors. Please preserve strong reporting requirements that keep our markets fair and accountable.

Ruth Roberts — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ruth Roberts Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am 80 years old and invested and have been for decades! I have a right to see a quarterly report! Do not succumb to this corrupt administration to benefit their supporters!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Ryan Crognale — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ryan Crognale Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Ryan Crognale, Self Employed.

There is already a lot of manipulation in the financial markets. Retail investors are already at a disadvantage. Insider trading happens all the time. Quarterly reports at least give us some tools to make informed financial decisions. Doubling the time only puts us in the dark for a longer period and puts our money at greater risk. Something adverse happens, insiders sell at high prices because retail thinks all is well, only to see the stock tank so many months later when a bi annual report comes out? No thank you. If a corporation feels the need to only put out two reports a year, they clearly don't want to be held accountable for their actions and don't care about their investors. The idea you even want to support it gives question of you existing "for the people".

Ryan Pochop — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ryan Pochop Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Do not let Wall Street hide their books.

Very Respectfully,

Ryan Pochop

S B — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: S B Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 NO

S Cooke — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: S Cooke Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I think quarterly filing isn't even enough. So, making it biannual seems like science fiction. Keep it the same, or tighten the timeline!

S Liebowitz — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: S Liebowitz Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Less transparency means more corruption and less accountability for the public. We've tried this in the past and it hasn't benefited those most affected. Do not reduce the timeframe for reporting.

Thank you,
Susan Liebowitz
New Hampshire

S McIntosh — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: S McIntosh Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am a personal investor in various stocks & funds. Quarterly Reports are vital in keeping investors aware if a company's financial status. I would much prefer monthly, but certainly NOT 2x per year! That would be CRAZY. Thank you for your time in reading this. Sharon McIntosh in NC.

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

---

s r — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: s r Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please allow quarterly reporting. Don't change a law that is/has been fair to small business.

Get Outlook for Android

S Sprinkle — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: S Sprinkle Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Do not drag our savings down. Retain quarterlies and maintain transparency.

Get Outlook for iOS

Sally Leach — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sally Leach Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Why do you think any level of secrecy, or non- reporting is acceptable? You want my money, you need to be transparent in your reporting, and quarterly is as close as you have achieved. I am strongly in favor of more reporting and scrutiny, not less. This is one of the worst ideas, ever. Sally E. Leach Investor and registered voter.

Sam Krneta — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sam Krneta Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Do not change reporting frequency. Quarterly is just fine.

Sam Krneta

Sent from Gmail Mobile

Sam McGivern-Cowan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sam McGivern-Cowan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Samuel McGivern-Cowan, Customs Broker This is just another greedy tactic by the Trump administration to further ruin the transparency of the use of funds by giant corporations. Please find your sense of decency and start serving the American public again.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Samra Olofson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Samra Olofson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Samra Olofson Retired I believe that this new rule is not beneficial to the public, and it fact harms us. There is basically no benefit to us if this new rule goes ahead, and in fact will be harmful.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Samuel Grossinger — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Samuel Grossinger Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I rely on investments for my retirement income. Without quarterly reporting my ability to make informed decisions will be severely impaired. Please keep the current quarterly reporting requirements intact.

Samuel Grossinger

Sandra Decker — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sandra Decker Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 No, I want to know quarterly what my returns are.

Sandra Donovan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra Donovan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reports on our 401(K)s and do not let companies keep records a secret for six months. This matters to me as I depend on the benefits I earned from my jobs and do not want them kept a secret. Thank you, Sandra Donovan, retired journalist

---

Sandra Vaughn — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra Vaughn Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We need good regulations. Bring back FDRs regulations.

Sent from my iPhone

Sandra Whisler — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandra Whisler Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We are retired. I taught college biology and my husband was a biologist with DOD. We depend on quarterly reporting to follow what is happening to our retirement money. Please retain quarterly reporting.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Sandy Lerman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandy Lerman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Sandy Lerman
Mental Health Nurse Practitioner-retired
I don’t see a benefit to the proposal to extending the reporting time frame for financials other than to protect those with personal knowledge of a specific company/stock. It’s akin to flat out making insider trading OK. Transparency is important to maintain a healthy economy and avoid eliminating the middle class. I vote NO to extending the time frame for financial information.

Sent from my iPhone

Sandy Pittinaro — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandy Pittinaro Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Sandra M. Pittinaro, retired and this matters to me because of the amount of corruption we are experiencing in plain sight! I can't even imagine what can happen when no one is looking for 6 months! This system has worked fine for a half a a century. It does not need to be changes now!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Sandy Schroeder — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sandy Schroeder Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Transparency is absolutely needed in a democracy. Corruption happens without it!

Sent from my iPhone

Sara Stern — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sara Stern Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep financials quarterly!

Sara Stern
CEO Trinetics Group

Sent from my iPhone

Sara Wehr — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sara Wehr Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am a widow and what little life savings I have are in my retirement account. This smacks of just another greedy grab, stealing money that belongs to someone else. Call it what is its an attempt to legalize theft! Bunch of greedy criminals!

Sara Wehr — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sara Wehr Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am a widow and what little life savings I have are in my retirement account. This smacks of just another greedy grab, stealing money that belongs to someone else. Call it what is its an attempt to legalize theft! Bunch of greedy criminals!

Sarah Chambers — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sarah Chambers Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I want quarterly revelations or more. If we are investing our money for a future or our pension to protect us old age, we need more transparency and not less. We also need an equal playing field, rather than insiders knowing more and able to make more or prevent loss. Please protect the consumers and our investments and pensions Thank you. Sarah M. G. Chambers

---

Sarah Sparks — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sarah Sparks Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 With our economic situation in flux the last thing we need is less clarity in reporting. I am quite sure that others will state this better than I can. Sarah Sparks/ Retired California Teacher/80 years old and concerned!

Sent from my Galaxy

Sarah Sparks — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Change in time of reporting From: Sarah Sparks Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Sarah Sparks here. I am a retired California Teacher who only last year was able to receive Social Security benefits. I have a personal advisor for my investments. With our economy in flux it would be foolish to get regular reports LESS often. I am sure you have gotten comments which have been better stated. This news has me as an 80 year old investor truly worried. Please reconsider!

Sent from my Galaxy

Sarah Chase — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sarah Chase Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am the controller and director of finance at a privately owned manufacturing company, but worked in accounting, primarily at publicly traded businesses, for years before SOX was a standard. Please remember that regular reporting identifies trends, makes balance sheet errors stand out, and creates a record of behavior that helps hold people accountable.

Sarah H Gordon — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sarah H Gordon Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Regulation and transparency keep the market healthy. No to the plan to reduce disclosures.

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Sarah Orantes — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sarah Orantes Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I have been working in the securities industry with individual investors for the last 35 years. Quarterly reports of the companies that comprise retail investors stock portfolios should remain for those companies that are a part of the U.S. stock exchanges as they provide vital and important information that must be timely to be useful to small investors.

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Sarah Towne — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sarah Towne Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 There is no reason other than greed and corruption to pass this rule. The public has the right to see these records and a 6-month window to hide the evidence is reprehensible. Please vote NO.

Sarah Towne

Saralynne Precht — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Saralynne Precht Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Saralynne Precht
Boutique owner
Quarterly reports on my portfolio help me keep track of what's happening. 6 months is too long. As well as the fact that we should know as much as the people " in charge".

Best,
Saralynne

Sent from my iPhone

Scott Costello — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Scott Costello Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 NO! NO! NO! Companies must NOT be able to hide any part of their books at any time. This is corruption at its finest. Businesses want this so they can rape the system and leave investors with debt. NO!

Our great nation has been stripped of so many great things under the current administration. The looting must STOP!

Scott Costello, middle class engineer.

Scott Broam — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Scott Broam Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I believe it is important to keep the current quarterly reporting requirements. Reducing the frequency is not serving transparency or honesty.

==========

Scott Elling — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Scott Elling Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It’s just another scam to allow the people who run these companies to take advantage of their misuse of profits for the further gains for the “super rich to put their foot on the necks of working class Americans.”
This must stop forthwith!!

Scott Mutchler — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Scott Mutchler Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 SEC team,

This is about maintaining integrity in financial reporting, integrity in company leadership, and the trust it engenders. Failure to maintain that integrity erodes public confidence and weakens participation in market capitalization.

Scott Mutchler, retired corporate leader.

Sean Cooper — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sean Cooper Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I'm active duty military, which is only relevant because I know some things about earning trust. Honest reporting is one of the cornerstones of public trust. Why would you reduce the amount of public reporting for publicly traded companies? How does this benefit the public?

Sean La Chapelle — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sean La Chapelle Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It is bad enough that companies get TAX Dollar bail outs...that is NOT how capitalism is supposed to work. Now U want to allow them to not file public quarterlies. This is BS. Stop making laws for the rich.

Sean La

Sean White — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sean White Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Dear Sir or Madam,

I am a US Citizen, active participant in the economy, and small retail investor, and a close follower of technology startups in the US. I encourage the SEC to NOT relax the rules on frequency of financial reporting for new publicly traded companies. A perfect and very recent case in point that supports not relaxing the rules is that of Fermi, Inc. - one can look up the opaqueness and lack of financial controls that led to lots of investors losing substantial sums. Thanks in advance for your thoughtful consideration of my comment.

Sean White,

Sean White — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sean White Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Dear Sir or Madam,

I am a US Citizen, active participant in the economy, and small retail investor, and a close follower of technology startups in the US. I encourage the SEC to NOT relax the rules on frequency of financial reporting for new publicly traded companies. A perfect and very recent case in point that supports not relaxing the rules is that of Fermi, Inc. - one can look up the opaqueness and lack of financial controls that led to lots of investors losing substantial sums. Thanks in advance for your thoughtful consideration of my comment.

Sean White,
Aiken, SC

See Baker — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: See Baker Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Why?

Shane Majesky — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shane Majesky Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Shane Majesky, Retiree. Publicly traded companies should have to file quarterly reports to the SEC. Investors should have the right to know..

Sent from my Galaxy

Shar Wood — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Shar Wood Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 ABSOLUTELY NOT! This is a LICENSE TO STEAL.

Shar Wood

---

shari graves — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: shari graves Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 MORE transparency in corporate shenanigans not less! If corporate actions impact the lives of humans, their planet,vhealth, well being everything must be exposed & judged for help or harm' to all living creatures.
S M. G.
CT USA

Shari Wessler — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shari Wessler Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 There is no good reason for this. It does not serve the public good or transparency.

Until next time,

Shari Wessler
201-446-0332 cell

(No trees were destroyed in the sending of this message. However, a significant number of electrons were terribly inconvenienced.) ;-)

Sharon Ritzman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Ritzman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 There is enough theft, incompetence and corruption going on already. This will certainly increase the amount of illegal activity under cover of darkness by changing the criteria. STOP the corruption now, do not facilitate more.

Sent from my iPhone

Sharon Rutter — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Rutter Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The SEC is not doing their job by allowing companies and corporations permission to hide earnings from investors. Truthful reporting must be timely. Do not allow this change in reporting to occur.

Sharon Rutter

Sharon Avery — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Avery Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am an accountant so I do trust the company accountants and auditors to highlight any problems. This, however - 2026- is not the time to make changes to our financial integrity systems.

Sincerely,
Sharon Avery
Topeka, Ks

Sharon Gary — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Gary Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please keep corporate quarterly reporting intact.

Do not postpone oversight to every 6 months, which is a long period of time for financial shenanigans to go unnoticed or unwatched.

Corporations need constant oversight to avoid malfeasance.

Signed,

Sharon Gary
New York, NY 10012

Sharon Gremald — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Gremald Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting. I was at court reporter for years at the SEC doing hearings and procedures. The SEC serves a great purpose in rooting out corruption in this day and age. It seems to me we need more not less.

Sent from my iPhone

Sharon Hutt — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Hutt Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly is the way things should stay!!

Sharon Larkin — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Larkin Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Sharon Larkin Consumer
Keep It Quarterly. Six months is too long to be hiding financial information. Quarterly has worked for many years, and needs to be continued.

Sent from my iPhone

Sharon Parker — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Parker Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As a retiree I need to be sure my money doesn't evaporate. Inflation is eating on one side so being able to keep an eye on investments is key to being able to sleep at night. Please don't make this harder.
Sharon

Sharon Powell — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Powell Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am close to retiring and I will rely on my 401k to support me. If this law is approved, I feel corporations will have the opportunity to hide their real financial situation from shareholders. This will impact stock prices more widely and wildly as anyone can tell. This is dangerous to the small investor. I have worked in corporate America for many years and I see the danger with this rule change. Sharon Powell

---

Sharon Stoneman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sharon Stoneman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We need quarterly reports. Period. It gives citizens a clearer picture of the financial health of our economy. Too much can get missed if reports came out only every six months. In the name of transparency, we need to retain quarterly reports.

Sheila Leander — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sheila Leander Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As investors, we deserve access to company performance information. Keep the reports quarterly, please!
We need access as to how our monies are being used.

“If you want to go fast, go alone.
If you want to go far, go together.”
– African proverb

Shelley Bryan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shelley Bryan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Even as a small (but long time) investor -- being prevented from knowing, quarterly, how my investments are doing would be injurious to both my financial health and peace of mind. I cannot believe there is any GOOD reason to keep stock owners in the dark in that way.

Shelly Carson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: KERP REPORTING QUARTERLY!!!!!!! From: Shelly Carson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Sent from my iPhone -Shelly carson, purchasing agent for a public school district. I’m nearing retirement age and making sure my funds are not being mishandled is a very high priority for me. 6 months between reporting is completely unacceptable. The world is a volatile place financially and extending reporting times just makes it harder to make a change when necessary.

Sheri Kaupa — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sheri Kaupa Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To quote a catchy line from Jerry McGuire, “SHOW ME THE MONEY.”

Cutting transparency in the age of waste, fraud, and abuse?! That is ABSURD.
I come from working in education, where unnecessary paperwork bogs down teachers and doesn’t directly improve student performance. (Yet they are held to a standard, for public information on standardized tests- so that people can buy houses in the best school districts) If it’s important to disclose how a 3rd grader misses a passing score in Math standards… then- FOR THE LOVE OF GOD- please understand that financial information is important on a regular basis- a frequent, regular basis.

Investments, valuations, and FRAUD have gone hand-in-hand… and ABSOLUTELY must- at a minimum- be reported quarterly. Anything less increases risk- a longer window for fraud and abuse of the system- a higher risk in the long run.

Information impacts markets. This is like pulling the wool over investors and giving the insiders more time to take advantage. Making business decisions and deals, studying the economy and the job market-

If you don’t provide data, there’s nothing “BAD” to report- but it will weaken our country’s global posture if we’re blindly assuming we’re “#winning” because our president says so. (We can assume that means someone else is winning.)

I want receipts.

I want proof.
I want the data.

Why would anyone invest without first looking at performance data?
What is the worst that could happen? I don't want to find out. I want to keep the standard. I see this almost as another line of defense- or consumer protections.

Transparency is key: If the administration succeeds, we all succeed AND we will have the proof to show it. If policies fail, we will have the data so pinpoint patterns needing change and move forward by addressing data points.

If waste, fraud, and abuse, were actually a target of this administration, they would be transparent regarding "all of the winning" being done.

You know what's frustrating? Not having proof. Not having data. Not having access to data.

Is this the part of democracy when citizens are told to "trust the government," blindly?

It feels a bit like being blindfolded but then told to carry our money bag through New York City? What could go wrong? We can peek every 6 months, so what's the big idea?

Sherie Niebauer — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sherie Niebauer Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 A good accountant and AI tools would reduce costs and could increase disclosures to once a month. The SEC is supposed to protect the investors, ALL if them, not just a select few. I want to know about any possible problems now, not six months after the fact. Sherie Niebauer Retired

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Sherri Hanna — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sherri Hanna Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Sherri Hanna recently retired. I absolutely request that reporting rules remain quarterly in order to keep my investments well informed and safe. This is critical for all Americans

Sherri

Sent from my iPhone

Sherry L Skogstad — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sherry L Skogstad Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 At a time when there is already a deepening divide between the top 1% and the rest of our country, it is unconscionable for the SEC to allow the loss of returns of our 401K's. Working people are being squeezed from all directions and inflation, this administrations tariffs and the possible loss of income from social security will make life much harder for all of us. We have spent our wokrking years trying to make certain we could live comfortably in our retirement. Increasing profits for shareholders will not make a great difference to their lives, just their bank accounts. It will be incredibly detrimental to those who have worked so hard to provide for themselves in their later years.

Sherry Skogstad, retired

Sent from my iPad

Sherry Priest — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sherry Priest Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 There is no reason for any trust worthy company or entity to “go dark” It leads one to think that unethical or illegal practices are being committed.

Sherry Priest
Retired Educator

Sent from my iPhone

Sheryl Simons — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sheryl Simons Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 S. Simons, Retired
This information is necessary for me to make informed decisions about my investments. There’s no need to change this process. Don’t we have enough broken processes in our country?

Sent from my iPad

Shirl Ruesch — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shirl Ruesch Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Shirl R.
Retired
Need to have quarterly statements to handle my bills.

Shirl
Sent from my iPhone

Shirley — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shirley Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 STOP! NO, NO, NO!
This is very self serving.. Keep peeps investing in the dark so they can't make intelligent decisions about their investments.. isn't it enough you got yourself out of the pension business, now, more screwing around?? Always insulting the pu lic ..

Shirley Lambertson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shirley Lambertson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 STOP! NO, NO, NO!
This is very self serving.. Keep peeps investing in the dark so they can't make intelligent decisions about their investments.. isn't it enough you got yourself out of the pension business, now, more screwing around?? Always insulting the pu lic ..

Shirley Lambertson, retired.

Shirley Ruane — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Shirley Ruane Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is more Trump crap to screw Americans. This is your money you should have access at any time to it

---

SM Connors — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: SM Connors Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Sharon Connors, retired H*LL NO. We want and deserve 100% transparency. No more "favors for businesses and corporations. while you give WE THE PEOPLE NOTHING. We are sick of loopholes, corporate welfare, tax breaks, political "donations (pay for play) and all of the other BS these people get away with. NO NO NO NO NO NO NO. ONE MILLION TIMES NO !!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Soheeb Wains — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Soheeb Wains Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Hi I'm Soheeb and am an AI Engineer

I'm writing to say this proposal reducing company oversight and only enforcing companies to report financial results every 6 months is a terrible idea.

This will only enable companies to make more poor decisions and also keep millions of working class investors from making informed decisions with their investments.

This matters to me because I lived through Enron, the 2008 economic collapse of which subsequent investigations revealed were enabled by lack of oversight and transparency.

History repeats itself, and this change will do absolutely much much more harm than good. If passed, millions of working class Americans will be impacted negatively.

Please understand that the American people want more transparency and oversight into large corporations as the common man has a vested interest in promoting the common good of society. The reverse is true for large corporations, they don't benefit from transparency, they benefit from the lack of it. And what the benefit from will harm society as a whole as we've seen time and time again (Enron, 2008 economic collapse just to name a few)

Sent from my iPhone

---

sondra roe — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sondra Roe Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026 Semi-annual reporting proved to be a terrible plan for investors when it was the standard before. There is absolutely no good reason to change back to the system that failed before. Information needs to be as up to date as possible. Without it, investors are shooting blind. The quarterly reporting plan provides a much clearer picture of the health (or not) of the business.

Sonny Nelson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sonny Nelson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am tired of the powers stripping our power of knowledge. SEC you seem to allow to much pass by your eyes and allow politicians, rich and the privileged to make money without any consequences because it seems your eyes are closed to them. I personally feel people of America need to be free to all ways of gaining wealth without being stiffed by SEC.

Stacey Mokotoff — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stacey Mokotoff Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Thus must not happen. We need more transparency not less

---

Stacey Wallace — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stacey Wallace Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please stop working for the 1% and start working for the tax payers. We are tired of the corruption and greed. Look at Italy, Albania, & other countries. Albania has 300,000 people, we have over 300 million, about 50% of this are ready to stop feeding the beast that is Wall Street. When it happens, I would want to be on the side of the people, not some billionaire who wants another way to hide money! How about you stop benefiting them and start benefiting the American people. You may be on the side of good or evil, that is a clear choice. People are no longer going to allow the games that divided us in the decades past. Stop protecting Wall Street.

Sent from my iPhone

Stacey Bevis — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stacey Bevis Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Stacey Bevis-- i do not personally have a 401k but I know a whole lot of people that do. Too much can happen in 6 months. And with our crooked government led by an even more crooked leader, it definitely will. Not saying that it won't happen in 3 months time, however hopefully the damage that they do will come to light faster and some form of action taken to avert damages.

Stan Rynex — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stan Rynex Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I believe that this is a bad idea. The more timely information a person has, the better they can make investment decisions. Do not change the current laws.

Thank you. Stan Rynex

Sent from my iPhone

Stan Houk — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stan Houk Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 NO, NO, NO !!!!!!!!

Stanley White — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stanley White Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026 As an upcoming retiree this change would affect me and the savings I'm supposed to live on. Do not give companies time to hide bad news.

Starlyn D'Angelo — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Starlyn D'Angelo Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Hello,

I am a resident of NY. I value quarterly reporting for my 403B investments. I need more regular reporting for decision making purposes and transparency.

Quarterly reports have been standard for decads and adequately met information needs. There's no need to reduce access to timely financial information. Please do not implement 6 month reporting.

Thank you.

Starlyn D'Angelo

Stefan Bartelski — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stefan Bartelski Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Stefan Bartelski, retired business systems implementor. There is little or no reason to change the current system, "if it ain't broke, don't fix it." With today's computerized business systems, the cost of reports are minimal. Not reporting to the public regularly increases the chances of fraud, see MN, OH and other states.

Stefan Bartelski

Stefanie Koewler — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stefanie Koewler Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026 KEEP THE QUARTERLY REPORTS

Quarterly reports allow consumers to have information in a more timely manner, so they can make more informed decisions regarding their investments and finances.

Stefanie Koewler, Community Builder

Stella Ginis — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Stella Ginis Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting should be 4 times a year. Quarterly reporting prevents hiding money; it shows transparency, and it shows health or sickness of a company as it happens. In this day and age, why scale back to semi-annually???? I honestly am just confounded by this possible change.

The SEC is supposed to be an independent federal government agency that regulates the U.S. securities markets, enforces federal securities laws, and protects investors. Do your job and protect investors. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Stella Ginis

Stephanie Compton — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephanie Compton Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is beyond corrupt…. Public trust needs to be respected, protected and restored.

Stephanie Mohr — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephanie Mohr Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 SIMPLY BY THE DESIRE TO MAKE THIS CHANGE YOU ARE TELLING THE WORLD WHAT YOUR MOTIVES ARE.

Stephanie Nagel — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephanie Nagel Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting works well. Investors follow their portfolios quarterly. It is important that ALL investors can do this. I will be apprehensive of investing if this changes. Maybe the 1 percent does not care but the rest of us do. Keep the quarterly reports.
I am retired. Millions of us retired like the quarterly reports. If it changed I will probably shift $ from my investments into bank cds. Imagine the impact of retired people doing this if the quarterly reports stop. !!!!!!
I am Stephanie Nagel

Sent from my iPhone

Stephen Baxter — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephen Baxter Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Stephen Baxter, retired. Ithaca, Ny. Your job is to PROTECT the public not facilitate corruption and insider trading!

Stephen Lester — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephen Lester Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 WTF is wrong with you SEC! You are to stop fraud and we need more reporting not less to actually combat it. Reporting should be done monthly!!!!!

Thanks,

Stephen Lester

Stephen Mencik — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephen Mencik Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Six months is sufficient. Maybe we'll get Execs looking more for long term growth again, instead catering to "what have you done for me lately" speculators.

Stephen R Smith — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Stephen R Smith Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Subject: Support for Quarterly Investor Communications

I support maintaining quarterly notifications as the minimum standard for investor communication. In a period of market volatility, less frequent reporting would leave investors with outdated information and weaken transparency, which is especially important for informed decision-making and market confidence.

My name is Steve Smih, and I am a Budget Analyst in Georgia. From my perspective, quarterly reporting is the lowest acceptable cadence for public-company investor communication because it gives the market timely updates without creating unnecessary delays in disclosure.
Thank you for considering this comment.

Sent from my Galaxy

Stephen Small — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stephen Small Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To whom this may concern:
This is yet another affront on the transparency that account holders of their retirement savings have to suffer for the sake of those who control other people's money. And I say NO to this change.

Yours truly,
Stephen Small

Steve Clouthier — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steve Clouthier Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Steven Clouthier. I can think of no good reason why quarterly reports should not be kept as is. The common investor is already disadvantaged enough. Who in their right mind would think it is a good idea to reduce the sharing of information by 50 percent? It is ridiculous that this is even being considered.

Steve Dallas — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steve Dallas Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Why would someone who invests their hard earned money not deserve regular reporting of their accounts? Is that just for millionaires, billionaires and politicians?

Sent from my iPhone

Steve Dossick — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Steve Dossick Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Stephen E Dossick

Software Engineer

Quarterly filings are essential to allow investors to really dig into the financials of a company. Too much can change over the course of half a year.

-s

Steve Doucette — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Steve Doucette Affiliation: Jun. 9, 2026 Simply consider this analog. Would you like your grade/high school kids to report their grades to you just 2 times a year? If your running a private business would you like your accountant to only report your balance sheet and financials to you only twice a year? Timely transparency is everything to be able to make good sound decisions about a private business and to help your kids make timely decisions about their academics so they can course correct if needed. Who ever thought that less transparency from our public companies was a good idea. We tried this experiment once in the past and it failed miserably. Why do we think it's going be any different this time around. Please wake up from your dreamscape and use the history lessons learned from the past and nix this asinine idea before it goes any further. Steve Doucette, WA State, Retired Commercial Manager

Sent from my iPhone

---

steve lara — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: steve lara Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please stop favoring politician insider trading that is illegal for the average American. I support freedom for equal opportunities for everyone. The upper class is allowed criminal activity which is an attack on the country.

Sent from my iPhone

Steve Minor — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steve Minor Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 No don’t extend it for six months!

Steve Phillips — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Steve Phillips Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 WTF? Joseph Kennedy must be rolling in his grave. In what universe does delayed performance data help investors?

This proposal appears to be a charade, a Trojan horse that will allow bad corporate managers to fleece investors.

You should be ashamed of yourselves.

Steve Ruth — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Steve Ruth Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Comment in Support of Maintaining Quarterly Reporting
I support maintaining the current requirement for quarterly financial reporting.
Quarterly reporting provides investors with regular, timely information about company performance. This transparency helps investors make informed decisions and supports fair and efficient markets. When information is provided more frequently, risks can be identified earlier and addressed before they grow into larger issues.
Reducing reporting to twice per year would create longer gaps with limited visibility. This increases the likelihood of sudden negative surprises and larger market swings when results are finally disclosed. More frequent reporting helps smooth this effect by providing a steady flow of information.
Quarterly reporting also helps ensure a level playing field. Large institutions and insiders often have access to more frequent insights through other channels. Public quarterly reports are a key tool for everyday investors to stay informed and participate fairly in the market.

While reducing reporting frequency may lower some administrative burden, the tradeoff is reduced transparency and increased risk to investors. The benefits of consistent, reliable information outweigh the cost savings.
For these reasons, I recommend maintaining the current quarterly reporting framework.

If you want, I can tailor this for a formal SEC submission tone or make it shorter.
Provide your feedback on BizChatYou said: Make it more formal for SEC submissionCopilot said: CopilotHere is a more formal version suitable for an SEC comment submission:

Re: File No. S7-2026-15 — Comment in Support of Maintaining Quarterly Reporting Requirements
I respectfully submit this comment in support of maintaining the current requirement for quarterly financial reporting by public companies.
Quarterly reporting is a foundational element of transparent and efficient capital markets. Regular, timely disclosure of financial information enables investors to evaluate company performance, allocate capital effectively, and respond to emerging risks in an orderly manner. The consistent availability of quarterly data promotes market discipline and supports informed decision-making across all classes of investors.
Reducing the reporting frequency to semi-annual intervals would materially decrease transparency. Longer gaps between required disclosures increase the likelihood that adverse developments accumulate without visibility, potentially resulting in more significant market disruptions when such information is eventually released. More frequent reporting mitigates this risk by providing incremental updates that allow for a more continuous and measured price discovery process.
Quarterly reporting also supports fair access to information. Public filings serve as a primary source of reliable data for individual investors and smaller market participants. Extending the reporting interval may widen the informational gap between these investors and larger institutions or market insiders, who may have access to alternative channels of insight.
While a reduction in reporting frequency may provide modest cost savings for issuers, those benefits should be weighed against the broader impact on market transparency, investor confidence, and capital formation. The existing quarterly framework has operated effectively for decades and remains integral to the integrity and competitiveness of U.S. capital markets.
For these reasons, I respectfully recommend that the Commission retain the current quarterly reporting requirements.

Stephen Ruth

Steve S — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steve S Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I believe this rule will put small investors at the mercy of insiders. The proposal should contain a circuit breaker procedure in the 5 trading days after an earnings report. A stock can only move +-2% daily. This prevents corrections of 10-15% in the first HOURS after an earnings report that only insiders can be prepared to take advantage of. Without it, investing turns into playing a casino game twice a year. Corporate guidance should be required to be issued every 3 months, as is done now.

Steven Freitas — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steven Freitas Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Investors deserve complete transparency of the financial state of publicly traded companies. Have we forgotten the reason this was implemented in the first place? Do not reduce the requirement of quarterly reporting. SARBANES OXLEY was created out of a tangible need.

Thank you,
Steve Freitas

Steven Jones — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Steven Jones Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Steven Jones. Teacher. This makes no sense not just for investors but also for retirees and the economy as a whole

Sent from my iPhone

Steven Wyckoff — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Steven Wyckoff Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 So what is next? The banks start letting you have a bank statement twice a year?

Sent from my iPad

Stuart Jones — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Stuart Jones Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting is a must. Please maintain that consistency.

Sue Braden Hull — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sue Braden Hull Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I need to keep my eyes on my 401k and IRAs quarterly reporting is necessary in this fluctuating market

Sent from my iPhone

Sue Byrd — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sue Byrd Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please do not keep the hardworking, honest investors in the dark! The quarterly reports are vital for a well-informed investor to wisely maintain their portfolios! We have placed our trust in the SEC to be forthcoming with us! Thank you for attention to this matter!
Sue Byrd, retired, Southern Pines, NC

Sue
🦜

Sue Jennings — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Sue Jennings Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am submitting comments to urge the SEC to keep the quarterly reports. Accurate and timely information is the lifeblood of financial markets. It enhances investor decision-making, increases market efficiency, and lowers the cost of capital.

When public filings go quiet, big institutions and insiders still find ways to gauge how a company is doing. However, it is the everyday investor, like myself, who gets left in the dark.

Reducing the frequency of reporting risks curtailing investment.

Personally, as a retiree living off of my investments, quarterly reports are vital to my financial planning, especially in these times of unpredictability, and high gas, food, and medical care costs. As the "Oracle of Omaha" has said:
“I like the figures quarterly, and I hope that stays.” (Warren Buffett, Chairman & CEO of Berkshire Hathaway).

Keep the quarterly reports!

Thank you,

Sue Jennings

Sue Russ — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sue Russ Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Public companies should make their financial reports quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

Sunil Khanal — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sunil Khanal Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Dear SEC,
Knowing how the public companies we are invested in are performing is not a luxury for the common people, it is tied to retirement and critical life decisions for ourselves and our children. As a father, I’m constantly thinking about how to ensure my son can afford college, or how I am going to be able to afford retirement. Reducing the reporting frequency is not good for everyday people like myself. I sincerely request that you do not reduce this reporting frequency.

Respectfully,
Sunil Khanal
California

Susan Shields — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Shields Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Susan Shields Retired. Longer spans of time between postings is disadvantageous. I'm concerned about fraud events. I like to stay u to date in real time. I need to watch my money closely. Thank you.

Susan Bala — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Bala Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Susan. I am a small business owner. Please Keep It Quarterly. Thank you.

Susan Bell — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Bell Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This can only happen in the era of the biggest film-flam man ever to be president. Cheaters in charge in Congress, the SEC, SCOTUS. I'm ashamed of my country.

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Capps — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Capps Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the quarterly report coming guys
sincerely
Susan Capp

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Center — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Center Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please keep the reporting of our stock market numbers quarterly so that we the the people have access and better/more control. Thank you for your attention to this matter!

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Cummings — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Cummings Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We need quarterly reports! Why would they be reduced except to keep us out of the loop! There is no upside to this for average Americans

----
peace

Susan Endres — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Endres Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the SEC,

I have been actively involved in the stock market for many years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

V/r,
Susan Endres
NJ, USA

Susan Fletcher — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Fletcher Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I do not need to receive statements every 6 months I need to know how a company is doing on a quarterly basis at a minimum This is my right as a stockholder through my 401K I need this information so I can adjust as needed for my continued financial forecast on my savings Key word “MY”savings Do your job serve the customers not the executives

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Kelley — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Kelley Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As a senior citizen, I need timely reports in order to manage my investments. Six months is much too long to wait for reporters.

Sent from my iPad

Susan Lee — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Lee Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 There should be MONTHLY reports. Not semi-annual, not quarterly but MONTHLY.

Sent from my iPad

Susan M Boyle — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan M Boyle Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It is deranged to suggest that publically traded corporations be spared standard quarterly reporting requirements. It would obscure trends and prevent investors from properly assessing a corporations financial health.

Sent from my iPad

Susan M Whyble — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan M Whyble Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Susan M Whyble.

Retention specialist - close to retirement. The economic world turns on the edge of a dime. If I had my way they would report monthly. Quarterly is the MINIMUM they should be reporting to us. I can promise shareholders won't like twice a year.

Susan Rappaport — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Rappaport Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Are you crazy? People need information to make responsible decisions about their investments. Quarterly reports are the least companies can do. Susan Rappaport, retired widow

Sent from my iPhone

Susan Schechter — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Schechter Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My retirement is in the stock market. Reporting quarterly keeps companies accountable to shareholders like me. Please leave quarterly reporting.

Susan Schechter
(765)413-3040

Susan Stine — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Susan Stine Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 We need transparency in all matters. The meetings and deals done behind closed doors are giving too much away that should being paid.

Sent from my iPhone

Suzanne Smith — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Suzanne Smith Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Suzanne Smith retired
In the fast-paced world of modern finance, transparency and timely information are not just desirable – they are essential. Yet, a growing trend towards less frequent, or even entirely optional, corporate disclosures threatens to undermine this fundamental principle. This shift, often framed as a burden reduction for companies, comes at a significant cost, particularly to individual investors, and demands a strong stance against such a retreat from openness.

Our reliance on quarterly information to make informed investment decisions is already a compromise. The business landscape is no longer a slow-moving river; it's a dynamic, constantly shifting current. Quarterly reports, by their very nature, present a snapshot of a company's performance that is already weeks, if not months, out of date by the time it reaches us. Major events – unexpected product launches, significant legal developments, shifts in consumer demand, or geopolitical disruptions – can unfold and impact a company's trajectory between these reporting periods.

To make critical decisions about buying, selling, or holding an investment based on information that is inherently lagging is to navigate with a rearview mirror. This delay amplifies risk, making it harder for individual investors to react swiftly to changing circumstances and potentially widening the gap between smart money and everyday participants. If even quarterly information feels insufficient, pushing it back further is a step in the wrong direction.

When the flow of crucial information is throttled, corporate insiders inevitably gain an unfair advantage. Those within a company – executives, directors, and their immediate associates – often possess material non-public information long before it's disseminated to the broader market through official channels. Longer reporting gaps exacerbate this disparity.

Imagine a scenario where a significant, undisclosed problem is brewing within a company. While the public waits for the next quarterly report, insiders, privy to the developing situation, can discreetly adjust their holdings. This isn't just about perceived fairness; it's about the integrity of the market. The principle of equal access to information is a cornerstone of a healthy stock market. Extending reporting periods erodes this principle, empowering those with privileged knowledge at the expense of every other stakeholder.

The argument that "optional" reporting can mitigate this problem is a misleading one. Companies that choose to opt in to less frequent reporting are precisely those whose investors often most need frequent updates. These might be smaller, growth-oriented companies with volatile revenue streams, or those in industries undergoing rapid technological change. Their investors are typically more sensitive to news and require more regular reassurance or warnings.

Furthermore, the "opt-in" approach creates a two-tiered system. Investors will need to meticulously track which companies have opted for less frequent disclosures, adding another layer of complexity and diligence. This also incentivizes companies that might be facing difficulties to reduce transparency, further shielding the very information their investors need to assess risk. It's a strategy that prioritizes corporate convenience over investor necessity.

Finally, the purported cost savings to companies from reducing reporting frequency are, in many cases, not worth the cost to investors. The resources a company dedicates to preparing financial reports are an investment in maintaining credibility, attracting capital, and fostering trust. For individual investors, the ability to access timely, reliable information is paramount to protecting their hard-earned savings and building wealth.

The value of informed decision-making, the reduction of information asymmetry, and the maintenance of a fair and transparent market far outweigh the incremental savings a company might achieve by publishing less frequently. The cost to investors is the potential for significant financial loss due to uninformed decisions, the erosion of confidence in the market, and the feeling of being at a perpetual disadvantage.

In conclusion, the move towards less frequent, or optional, corporate reporting is a dangerous step backward. It jeopardizes informed decision-making, widens the insider-investor gap, creates a misleading "optional" solution, and places corporate convenience above investor protection. We must advocate for robust, timely, and consistent financial disclosures as a bulwark of a fair and functioning market, rather than allowing it to erode under the guise of corporate efficiency. The cost of silence is simply too high.

Sent from my Galaxy

Sybella Pope-Sears — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sybella Pope-Sears Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It is wrong to allow companies to hide the financial information from their shareholders and employees for 6 months! No absolutely NO

Trust in the Lord and do good. Psalm 37:3
Still pretty good advice, even for these scary political times.
God is bigger than the boogie-man. I am grateful.

Sylvia Foltz — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sylvia Foltz Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I want quarterly statements. Every 6 months will not be sufficient.

Sylvia Kladko — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Sylvia Kladko Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep the quarterly report. Keep it honest for the investors sake. There's tools little honesty left these days.

Sent from my iPhone

T Gabbert — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: T Gabbert Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Tim Gabbert, Retired Professional Photographer
DO NOT APPROVE SEMI-ANNUAL REPORTING
I rely on the quarterly reports to adjust my retirement investments. Semi-annual reporting needlessly delays the data and allows for companies to hide crucial info. Other countries have toyed with this model and good things have not happened. Public trust in the SCC will erode if you approve this.

Sent from my iPad

Tabassam Shah — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Tabassam Shah Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Taking away quarterly information would leave me investing with a blindfold on, hurting the investment decisions that shape my financial future. Quarterly disclosures help me make informed decisions, and the SEC shouldn't take vital information away from all investors.

Tamara Hale — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tamara Hale Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 SEC, continue quarterly reporting. We need investment transparency.

Thank you!

Tamara Kettlehut — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tamara Kettlehut Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Tamara Kettlehut, small business owner. I am very much against the proposal to move away from quarterly reporting to biannual reporting. Not having the knowledge of how my investments are performing will prevent the small investor from reacting in a timely manner to preserve my financial future. This is not acceptable! Keep the quarterly.

Sent from my iPhone

Tamara Strahan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Tamara Strahan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please continue quarterly reporting, its worked well for me.

Tami Jones — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tami Jones Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Tami Jones, RN
It matters greatly to me that frequent disclosure is done in order to protect me at retirement which should be soon.

Tammy Newton — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tammy Newton Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Businesses need to be help accountable and transparency is the only way. Please continue with the quarterly reports

Sent from my iPhone

Taylor Burton Edwards — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Taylor Burton Edwards Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Transparency is vital in all financial markets. For those of us not invested in funds for our retirements, that is already limited to four times per year. Do not make the transparency worse for us and those who help us manage these investments!

Sincerely,

Taylor W Burton Edwards

Teacher Mayes — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Teacher Mayes Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please continue to keeps reporting frequent and timely for small investors like me. I'm in an investment club and this information is vital. - ES Mayes Grayson, GA

Temple — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Temple Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Enough of this crap. Keep the reporting quarterly. Every investor should know what’s happening with their investments.

Sent from my iPhone

Teresa Louis-Tomlinson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Teresa Louis-Tomlinson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Teresa Louis-Tomlinson. I am a retired teacher and my survival depends upon my investments. You must protect the people of this country! Do not let this happen!

Terry biebel — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Terry biebel Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Terry Biebel. Professional pilot
It did not work before. Please give me one good reason why this should be changed. I’m at retirement age and I have worked very hard. Why and WHO wants this? Can you please share names of companies and individuals within the SEC that are promoting this disaster for the average American? I’m educated and a 25 year professional pilot. Give the average American citizen more credit than this. Please explain the benefits to me.
Thank you

Sent from my iPhone

Terry Moore — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Terry Moore Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Appreciate quarterly reporting . Helps with decisions Terry Moore business owner

Sent from my iPhone

Terry mullins — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Terry mullins Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
We need more disclosure for public companies

Terry Oden — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Terry Oden Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am retired. My retirement income comes from a retirement fund that invests in America by investing in American companies. Assurance that those companies are playing fair and above board warrants maintaining the currently required quarterly reporting

Terry L Oden
Santa Rosa, CA

Ideas are acts of understanding; they involve clearing away old delusions, not erecting new ones; they are inherently open, not closed, and their effects are always to some degree surprising.
— Matthew Stewart, Nature’s God: The Heretical Origins of the American Republic

---

Theodore Darid Mauro — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Theodore Darid Mauro Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I'm a small investor who just puts whatever extra I have to spare from raising my family in the market in hopes of investing in the American dream. I don't have the advantages of a major brokerage firm, I don't work on Wall Street, I can only rely upon what information I receive by SEC filings. I am very hesitant to consider continuing to invest in the United States markets if there is this change. As of this time no one has shared a particular reason why this will improve investor relations. We all rely upon these reports and to decrease them decreases the likelihood that I'm going to continue to invest. With e-trader and other online investing opportunities in a global scale I have other options, please do not make these changes it will not benefit anyone and could hurt the US markets in major ways. The SEC's purpose is oversight, this change is against the very job you have.

Theresa Casey — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Theresa Casey Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am a retired education professional. I want to know where my retirement money is and how it's being invested, not 6 months down the road when it's too late to make changes. I worked hard and saved for retirement. BE ACCOUNTABLE AND TRANSPARENT NOW not in 6 months!
Theresa Casey

Sent from my U.S.Cellular© Smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

THERESA CRAGAN — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: THERESA CRAGAN Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 WTF is wrong with you people

---

Theresa Hawkins — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Theresa Hawkins Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 There should be no dark windows period! It's my money

Sent from my iPhone

Therese Thompson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Therese Thompson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 How does this benefit anyone but the ultra-rich insiders? NO!!!

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Theresia Shearer — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Theresia Shearer Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reports at the very least!

The market is volatile and subject to insider trading and manipulation by the very people in our government that should be protecting us.

Every company has internal monthly reports. Quarterly external reports should be the vey minimum.

Thomas Newton — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Newton Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am a recently retired Registered Investment Advisor (RIA) and am highly against against any reduction in statement frequency. If any changes are made, the change should be to Monthly Statements. More visibility, not less.
Sincerely, Thomas Newton

Thomas Roberson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Roberson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I frankly have doubts of the integrity of some reports now and don't wish my ability to follow up on any investments i may have to be delayed for another 3 months i fact I'd like monthly updates!

Get Outlook for iOS

Thomas Stokes — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Stokes Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Not fair to retail investors.
Thomas Stokes

Sent from my iPad

Thomas Vander Ziel — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Vander Ziel Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Keep quarterly

Sent from my iPad

Thomas Witte — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Thomas Witte Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Thomas E. Witte, retiree.

Shifting away from quarterly reporting will only lead to more volatility when earnings are reported. Just look at Broadcom last week and their report was mostly positive. Letting things go for six months will only allow the prices to rise and a handful of poor results will have even greater selloffs.

Tim Nanof — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Tim Nanof Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is Tim Nanof and I am writing personally and not in my official employment capacity.

I am the EVP of Policy & Government Affairs for the American Nurses Association.

I am a citizen and resident of Maryland.

Transparency is critical in financial decision-making.

There is no reason quarterly reporting should be replaced by semi-annual updates.

Our economy and the business environment is too volatile to rely on semi-annual reporting.

Quarterly reporting should remain the standard in the best in years of consumers, taxpayers and our economy.

Thank you for considering my perspective.

--- Timothy Nanof

Get Outlook for Android The contents of this message, together with any attachments, are intended only for the use of the addressee and may contain confidential or proprietary information that may be exempt from disclosure. If you are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that any dissemination, distribution or copying of this message or any attachment is prohibited. If you have received this message in error, please contact the sender by return email and delete this message, along with attachments, from your computer. Thank you.

Tim Wallace — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tim Wallace Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Don't let them hide the books, it immoral, unethical and disgusting.

Thanks,
Tim Wallace

Timothy Fitzpatrick — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Timothy Fitzpatrick Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please keep current reporting requirements!

Sent from my iPhone

Timothy Thomas — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Timothy Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Tim thomas, vp prod mgt at Bank of America: do NOT DO THIS. It has been tried twice before and caused real losses. I am near retirement and do not wish to see those kind of losses.

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

ToastedCheezer — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ToastedCheezer Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 What? Are you nuts at the SEC? If it works, quit trumping with it!

Sent from my iPhone

Todd Downing — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Todd Downing Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Less transparency? Really? That's what I want with my retirement nest egg? That this is even a proposal is ridiculous on its face. Plus it builds zero confidence in US investments with the rest of the planet. Keep financial reporting quarterly!

Todd S — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Todd S Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is outrageous. Insiders are already screwing the American worker, taxpayers, and everyone else, now we want to let them hide the telephone pole they are using to do it.

Tom Blessing — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom Blessing Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Taking away quarterly reports will not help me or others investors make good decisions about companies and I'll take my money to places that do. This decision will hurt investment in the US.

Thomas Blessing IV
Film Producer

Tom Hansen — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom Hansen Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Less frequent reporting increases the opportunity for fraud and corruption. With the current administration, there’s already more than enough of that. Can we please at least try to keep things as transparent as possible? Sincerely, Tom Hansen,Retiree living on my investments.

Tom Johnson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Tom Johnson, retired. Insider trading is bad enough now, with no reporting honest investors are at a disadvantage. Transparency is curtailed. Do not change reporting requirements.

Thomas Johnson

Tom Manger — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom Manger Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Do you want to destroy any remaining sense of trust with the US financial system and the overall economy?

Do you want Donald Trump's next bankruptcy filing to be for the USA itself?

Our financial systems are already run by a bunch of ruthless greedy bastards. The only thing that keeps them honest is a fear of jail time. Changing reporting from quarterly to semi-annually will only make it easier for them to rob investors blind.

This. Is. A. Bad. Idea.

In the meantime, I'll be taking my investments out of the stock market and steering my money into my trustworthy assets. Overseas investing is looking like a safer bet these days.

Tom Manger
Retired IT Director

Tom Rottmayer — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tom Rottmayer Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 No reason to change the current reporting interval. .

Tom Wilcox — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Tom Wilcox Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I see no sense in adopting a policy that we know has failed before. I have seen no groundswell of demand from middle class shareholders. That to me is a big red flag.
Tom Q Wilcox

Toni Hanson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Toni Hanson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Don't do it SEC. We need current information to not just GAMBLE.

---

towerdog33 — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: towerdog33 Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 A lot can go wrong in half a year. Failed product launches, ballooning debt, lawsuits, vanishing customers. Today the law forces companies to surface that information every quarter. Under the new rule, they can sit on it for six months at a stretch. Plenty of time for insiders to quietly sell their shares to you (or your ETF) before the bad news tanks the stock. I vehemently say NO and the SEC should also!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Tracey Schneider — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tracey Schneider Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Absolutely not! Every employee with Retirement, 401/k, pension or IRA investments has a right to make informed decisions about these invesrments. Quarterly reporting is the standard. This reporting will still go on within every company, making it public holds them accountable for honesty. There is no reason to stop it for anything other than dishonesty. When there is no light honesty goes away. Enron proved this. Taking away any light is unfair to the public investors & unacceptable. No way, no how, not ever. This is shady anyway you look at it. This can not be allowed!

Magically beamed to you by Samsung Galaxy

Traci Gundersen — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Traci Gundersen Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Tracy Molyneux — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tracy Molyneux Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Tracy, Teacher. No business should be able to hide their books.

Tracy Hicks — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tracy Hicks Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Enough is enough!

Wall Street & Big Banking have turned today's business world into their personal game of highway robbery - and it's the only game in town. They're the only ones winning, so we need MORE transparency, not less!

Respectfully,
Tracy Hicks
Small Business Owner

Tracy Sanders — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tracy Sanders Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 The quarterly reports are important and should not be changed. If you want nonprofessional investors, you must help keep us informed with quarterly reports. I don't check the exchanges every day and rely on the quarterly reports for information.

Lawrence Sanders
Broken Arrow, Oklahoma

Tracy St. Pierre — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tracy St. Pierre Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This 6-month rule does not pass the straight face test. It is not good for investors or consumers. The rule was put in place for a reason. It should not be changed.

Trevlin Six — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Trevlin Six Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 More transparency, rather than less is necessary for me to be secure in the knowledge that companies aren't wasting my money. Please do not roll back this rule, it will not help anyone but fraudsters.

Tricia Logan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tricia Logan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Fiscal responsibility should be the most important responsibility of any public corporation. Not profit. Not manipulating numbers. Not hiding from investors. A lot can go south in six months. If public monies are used for any business, the public has a right to see financial data quarterly. In point of fact, the public has no faith that the SEC will monitor these businesses to protect public funds.
T.V.Logan
RN and high school CTE instructor

Tulasi Sisti — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Tulasi Sisti Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
When businesses are shrouded in secrecy they lack the requisite legitimacy to remain alive.

---

tyking35 — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: tyking35 Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Why would you make insider trading easier? Just stop and leave it the way it is! I'm just a small investor but we already have enough fraud in the government with the president and all his minions getting away with insider knowledge.

Toni King
Dover Oh

Sent from my Galaxy

Tyler Hargrove — Jun 9, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tyler Hargrove Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is truly asinine to try to change this to a 6 month reporting, and it will undoubtedly lead to deceptive practices. The quarterly reporting is needed to accurately outline how companies are doing and have stocks reflect this. Do not change the rule.

Thank you,

Tyler Hargrove
Texan, US Citizen, Investor

Tyler Stringer — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Tyler Stringer Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Dear SEC,

There is no reason to decrease reports, and I can only see this as harming consumers more than it helps.

Thank you,
Tyler Stringer

Ulisa M — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Ulisa M Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Dear Sirs and/or Madams, My husband is currently the only person who can work in our house. I have medical issues as well as our two adult children. This country is losing everything from corruption. We cannot allow for the quarterly report to change. The corruption it would certainly invite would severely harm families like ours. We need and deserve quarterly reports to be able to keep track of our retirement.
Ulisa Marek, my husband works in a refinery in the Midwest.

Valerie Anderson — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Valerie Anderson Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It is not acceptable to report financial information less than quarterly. That is the gold standard and has been for some time. I will move money overseas if you do and so will many other investors.

Sent from my iPhone

Valerie Rucinski — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Valerie Rucinski Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I am Valerie Rucinski, an Army veteran, resource manager, and aunt. My family has been slowly growing our future with careful saving and investment strategies- money planned for retirement, the hope of sending my nieces to college, and rescuing huskies.

My family's finances and wellbeing rely on governmental protections helping ensure the stock market and financial institutions remain safeguarded and fair for small and average investors. Removing a quarterly reporting requirement is the start of a dangerous precedent of loosening protections we need. Please leave them in place and ensure the rules help protect Americans' financial futures.

Valerie Trowe — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Valerie Trowe Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Valerie J Trowe. Retired I do Not agree on this change. All your going to do is commit more fraud on the people. That means you get Richer!

Vanessa bugge — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Vanessa bugge Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Former trad wife, now single mother, working up to 70 hrs a week in the past few years, investing what I can into my retirement account. I am way behind where I need to be at my age, but working hard to be able to retire. Please do not change the reporting. I need my funds to grow as fast as possible.

Vanessa

"Today is the golden tomorrow that you dreamed of yesterday~ and so it will be until the end of time. This day then, is your day of opportunity"

Varine Thayer — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Varine Thayer Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Varine Thayer - Individual - It matters to me due to not only being a citizen or American, wherein, I have lived under the rules of somebody's else's hidden agenda. Its time for all to be honest and upfront, it's what this country was established on honesty by the framers for everybodies prosperity and health.

Now before anybody asks what does the above paragraph have to do with the SEC new rule, well it's from a perspective on a different standing.

This rule basically grants more time and heads put together to cover up possible wrongdoings and don't "We The People" have the right to know how they earn their living and how much, as its the everyday americans, that, through their investments providing their incomes there on wall street. I mean after all they earn it while residing in America and I think it gives the right for "We The People" to know.
I beleive this is what the SEC was established for to be a watchdog sort of speak for the country by regulating and auditing the financial statements of banks, trading platforms, corps, and etc.

So this new rule is very beneficial for big money opportunities more so than what usually possibility already happening.

I thank you for this opportunity to speak on this rule, I think it's really unfair on terms of being honest and forthright.

Varine Thayer

Varine Thayer

---

vdruhe — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: vdruhe Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly public statements are the foundation of accountability for corporations and responsible investing by individuals.

Vernon Hurd — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vernon Hurd Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please do not eliminate quarterly reports. There are far too many examples of issues that might go unnoticed and harm investors. As shareholders, we deserve the current level of visibility into the companies we choose to invest.

Vernon Hurd, Executive Director

Vicki Gibbons — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vicki Gibbons Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Vicki Gibbons, retiree Quarterly reports with my financial decisions.

Sent from my iPad

Vickie Fadness — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Vickie Fadness Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
I do not have the investigative or legal skills to check transparency and hold accountable of businesses. I need to have access as does my financial adviser to evaluate businesses and make solid investments. The standard predictable reporting requirements of the SEC protects individuals and businesses as financial decisions are made. America needs Market Integrity and Trust - quarterly requirements are a necessity!!!

Vickie Ronchetti — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Vickie Ronchetti Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Making it every six months makes changing investments more difficult and more likely to lose money. But that’s what the president wants isn’t it? For the American people to lose.

Sent from my iPhone

Victoria Murad — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Victoria Murad Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Victoria Murad. Investor Transparency is needed and that includes quarterlyreporting

Victoria Murad

Cell: 818-281-3311
Email: victoriamurad1@gmail.com

Linked in: https://www.linkedin.com/in/victoriamurad

Victoria Penneman — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Victoria Penneman Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I do not want LESS than quarterly reporting for my 401K-a lot of bad stuff can happen in 3 months-much less 6 months and be in the dark.

Victoria Penneman

Viki Von Fumetti — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Viki Von Fumetti Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 There is so much fraud in the financial industry these days that I wouldn't feel safe with a change in the quarterly reports. More time without transparency, more time for frauds to be hidden. Hold them ACCOUNTABLE!

Sent from my iPhone

Viola Pando — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Viola Pando Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 SEC attorneys need to remember that Trump will not be around forever. And when he's gone, the attorneys that have been behind, this kind of behavior are going down. At the end of the day, attorneys took an oath to follow the law. Being clever to break laws is not an exception or an excuse.

Sent from my iPhone

VirginiaS Moe — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: VirginiaS Moe Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reporting is better than semi-annual reporting. Monthly reporting would be even better. Do not go back to semi annual boarding which we know is a failure.

Virginia S Moe

Ward Hinds — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ward Hinds Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Only an idiot (or someone wanting to make a but of $$) would want companies to be able to hide their book for as long as 6 months, while those in the know skip town. Ward Hinds, MD MPH, retired Public Health officer.

Wayne Kaelin — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wayne Kaelin Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Mr Kaelin,
Keep the quarterly reports, everyone needs to know how the companies are doing- not just the insiders

Sent from my iPhone

Wayne Randall — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wayne Randall Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 If it ain't broke, don't fix it you morons

Sent from my iPhone

Wayne Socha — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: s7-2026-15 Comment From: Wayne Socha Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Small investors like me need timely financial information. Waiting 6 months is a bad idea and increases the risk of fraud.

Wayne Socha

Weiming Wu — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Weiming Wu Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Quarterly reporting is crucial to allowing individual investors stay informed about their investments.

Removing this requirement will reduce the amount of information that investors have about the markets, by definition. This is not the way to let markets be more efficient.

Transparency is a good thing. Letting people make informed investments is a good thing. The system should protect individuals, not cater to corporate convenience or tilt the scale towards insiders.

Wendy Bain — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Wendy Bain Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 My name is W Hanson and I am a retired engineer in Minnesota. I want the SEC to maintain quarterly reporting for companies because it assures more timely and therefore more accurate information on which to base investments.

Wendy Baker — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wendy Baker Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 WENDY BAKER RETIRED

DON'T STOP QUARTERLY REPORTING, KNOWING WHAT'S HAPPENING TO OUR INVESTMENTS IS CRITICALLY IMPORTANT

Wendy Hovey — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wendy Hovey Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Please keep our quarterly reports. We have a right to know what’s going on.

Sent from my iPhone

Wendy O'Leary — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wendy O'Leary Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is an outrageous idea that fits in well with the constant stream of CORRUPTION made possible by the trump administration. Of course when only the rich make the rules, the country quickly becomes an oligarchy. With a touch of FACISM, you've got what our country has become: a shame. Stop SEC corruption.
Wendy O'Leary
1147 18!th St W Apt 1
Billings MT 59102
(307) 399-4586

Sent from my iPhone

Wild Billy — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Wild Billy Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 William Koeth
SCPR Site Supervisor

This change puts the average investor at a distinct disadvantage to the corporate entities. We demand to be treated fairly and equally.

William Lewis — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Lewis Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Stop continuing the Trump lies and the attempt to hurt the American people further

W. L."ZEV" WEXLER

aka F.O.B.
Entertainer & Comedy Outlaw

---

william bowling — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: william bowling Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Bill Bowling- Retired. We need to continue to require quarterly reports for all public companies. In todays economy, six months is an eternity and listed companies can be hemorraging before investors have a clue.
Of course during that time, those on the inside can/would be selling out. And like always, the average investor would be left holding worthless stock.

Bill Bowling

Sent from my iPhone

---

william eng — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: william eng Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarter reports are of utmost importance! They pay quarterly taxes and it requires some figuring already so a few more numbers isn’t that difficult, correct? So why should investors be kept in the dark?

William Irwin — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Irwin Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 As a smaller investor I feel this change would keep me less informed as to what is going on with specific companies that I have invested in. Thank you. William Irwin, Educator

Sent from my iPad

William Kidd — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Kidd Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Quarterly reports are necessary. Do NOT change to six months. That's lazy and bs.

Sent from my iPhone

William Koeth — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Koeth Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 William Koeth
SCPR Site Supervisor
This change makes the avereage investor at a distinct disadvantage to the corporate entities. We demand to be treated fairly and equally.

William Linas — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Linas Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 It is absolutely essential that quarterly reporting is maintained so we can keep light on the activities of these companies and not allow insiders to make all the money.

WILLIAM LOTZ — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: WILLIAM LOTZ Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Absolutely not the rules are to lenient to begin with companies are getting away with to much to o begin with the quarterly current system works well enough.

William Marks — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Marks Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 I really am in favor of monthly reports, ant activity that is up to 6 months is useless for making a decisions about any finicial matter.

Sent from my iPhone

---

william maughan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: william maughan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Nothing good will come from that at all! And why should people just turn over their savings to a malintended company for six months of not knowing anything of their practices. Hell no! It's probably a good time to move one's money out of the US.

Sent from my iPhone

William Pecic — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: William Pecic Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 From :
William Pecic
Retiree (High Tech Middle Mgmt) - NC

Please continue to require companies to report their quarterly financials and discuss their outlooks with analysts.

The information provided to me and my financial planner regarding my retirement investments has enabled us to better navigate the dot-com bubble bust, the Great Recession, and Covid pandemic era and intelligently grow my portfolio over time.

Properly-informed investors who can trust the system are the foundation of fair capitalism which fuels the American economy.

I urge you to maintain corporate transparency and not relax regulatory financial reporting requirements to ensure that all investors have timely and accurate information needed to manage their portfolios.

Sincerely,
William Pecic

WisePati — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: WisePati Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This administration wants people to be accountable for their own retirement. One way people do that is through investments. If you remove the quarterly reporting, how are people supposed to keep an eye on and manage their investments so that they do not end up needing to rely on public assistance?. If you want people to be responsible, then you need to give them the data that they can use to be responsible.

WISHD Brazelton — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: WISHD Brazelton Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 This is an abomination and should be stopped. There is no advantage to anyone but the companies and millions of investors will be harmed along with pensions and 401ks

Sent from my iPhone

Your Grace — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Semi annual reporting From: Your Grace Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Why is the government going backwards on everything? If you're going to go backwards, work with the Indians and give back their land and gold to the ppl Americans especially George Hearst stole from the Black hills in violation of the Ft Laramie treaty. The govt is dirty compromised Israeli assets trying to rip the American ppl off . TREASONOUS! Biggest robbery in history happening right now by American president and politicians

---

Yvette Harris — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Keep It Quarterly From: Yvette Harris Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Participant investment direction expanded in the 90s and resulted in companies requirement to participant education requirements & value the plans no less than twice a year to give employees opportunity to review the prospectus for rebalancing their portfolio of assets, as deemed necessary. That expanded to quarterly & eventually daily platforms were normalized to give employees more control over investment selection. To reverse course gives opportunity for a repeat of an Enron fraud scandal where stakeholders can withhold vital information about a company's financial health & losses for employees & investors. In the current climate, this is not a good idea.

Yvonee Fneiche — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Yvonee Fneiche Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 You need to keep companies accountable, we need an economy that functions for all not just the top of the top 1%. If you let them hide there mistakes for 6 months it will be impossible to correct later and everyone's 401ks will get hurt in the process. You owe it to the people who keep this country running!

Yvonne Fneiche

Zach Willette — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Zach Willette Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Hello,
I'm a Public Safety Telecommunications Supervisor in Washington State. Less transparency in publicly owned and traded companies can result in nothing less than the public being taken advantage of. I am fervently against this change as all Americans who value their hard earned money and investments should be. If this institution truly has the protection of America's financial institutions at heart it will dissolve further attempts to travel back in time.
Respectfully,
Zachary Willette

Zhi An — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Zhi An Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
Stock price has been manipulated too much by some and the quarterly report, required to be audited by external auditors, is the only protection against that for small retail investors. Please do not take that away!

Z

Zoë Ryan — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: My view on Rule S7-2026-15 From: Zoë Ryan Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission:
The quarterly filings from public companies help me to make informed decisions about my investment accounts. Please do not enact this new rule.

悟 川口 — Jun 9, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: 悟 川口 Affiliation: Jun. 09, 2026 Giving the insider trading committed by Trump administration in regards to Space X & potential for fraud based on misinformation & misreporting in the past I do not feel companies should be allowed a 6 month reprieve granting them an opportunity to hide financial data.

Mors Venit

4FreeeAmerica — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: 4FreeeAmerica Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Government is to preserve and protect the rights of the people, not corporations. Here is an opportunity to do this

---

A. H. — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: A. H. Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 There is no real reason to change the current setup. NONE.
Please don't change it. Thank you.

Aaron Johnson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Aaron Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I can handle moderate risk, but I did not sign up for the fundamentals like quarterly reporting to change into semi-annual reporting; this increases the chance for fraud or other things to destroy my investments. We don't invest money with the intention of losing it, so why should it be easier for us to lose?

Aaron Muller — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Aaron Muller Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quartly reporting should remain the standard.

Aaron Muller

Sent from my iPad

Aaron Opheim — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Aaron Opheim Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly at a minimum, should probably be monthly.

Adrian Melendez Figueroa — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Adrian Melendez Figueroa Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Adrian Melendez Figueroa
As a retiree I disagree with changes to the quarterly reporting. Every penny counts when on a fixed budget.

---

akf7777 — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: akf7777 Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep this as it is. Stop taking our rights away. We need to know what the companies are doing on a quarterly basis. If we are investing our money that is our right! Andrea Fetsko retired.

Thanks so much-Andrea

Alan Theriault — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alan Theriault Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Alan Theriault, I am a letter carrier for the USPS. I have been an investor since 1999. I strongly believe that individual investors need more access to information regarding their investments. I believe that the quarterly reporting system is providing accounting information that is essential for good investments and peace of mind.

Sincerely
Alan Theriault

Alan Theriault — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alan Theriault Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep these reports they are providing accounting information for last 50 years.

Pace

Alan Theriault — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alan Theriault Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Alan Theriault, I am a letter carrier for the USPS. I have been an investor since 1999. I strongly believe that individual investors need more access to information regarding their investments. I believe that the quarterly reporting system is providing accounting information that is essential for good investments.

Pace

Alan Upperco — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alan Upperco Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep the quarterly statements. I receive them via U.S. mail and file them for quarter to quarter comparison. I am retired and I vote every election.

Sent from my iPhone

Alane Bronson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alane Bronson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Make the reporting monthly. 6 months is too long. Companies need to balance the books every day every ,week, so every month.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

---

albert emerson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: albert emerson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 this sounds like a window into more blatant corruption . we don't want any more corruption we are full up here.

Albert Savage — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Albert Savage Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Hello,

My name is Albert Savage. I work developing medical devices for cataract surgery in Southern California. Previously in my career, I started out in accounting, working on financial systems and consolidation systems that generate quarterly and yearly reports for public companies. These weren't a significant cost or effort to the company, and was so valuable to those that read them, including me.

I'm an individual investor that follows the financial statements and quarterly calls for every company I invest in. This change would result in less transparency, allowing opportunities for corruption where the general public will have EVEN LESS information to know what is going on or where their money is going. It increasingly feels like retail investors are kept in the dark while insiders know what is going on and find ways around enforcement mechanisms, and does EXACTLY THAT! We need to provide MORE transparency, not LESS!

Kind regards,
Albert Savage

Alesia Hanson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alesia Hanson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As a person looking at retirement in the next 10 years, I NEED to see how my holdings are reacting in this increasingly volatile market. Quarterly reports are vital to my financial advisor and to me as I monitor my investments. Increasing the interval of reports significantly decreases transparency and accountability. Increased intervals between audited, comparable disclosures greatly reduces oversight and significantly weakens governance pressure. This creates more room to defer recognition of adverse developments and smooth results across periods, which will only serve to harm the investors like me.
The baseline should absolutely remain quarterly reporting. This reinforces accountability, supports price discovery, and maintains investor confidence. Moving to 6 month reporting will increase gaps in information, increase costs, and decrease trust.
Markets run on confidence. Confidence is built by information. When the flow of accurate and reliable information is decreased, the system loses efficiency and trust.
Alesia Hanson, MHA, RPh, BCSCP

Alexander White — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Alexander White Affiliation: Jun. 8, 2026 As a securities lawyer for a public company (subject to periodic reporting requirements), I am writing to express my strong support for retaining the current quarterly financial reporting requirements for publicly traded companies, and my opposition to any move toward semi-annual reporting.

Quarterly reporting is a cornerstone of investor protection and market transparency. It gives individual investors — not just large institutional players — timely, reliable information to make informed decisions about their investments. Reducing reporting frequency to twice a year would create longer windows of uncertainty, leaving ordinary investors more exposed to information asymmetries that favor insiders and well-resourced professionals over the general public.

Markets function best when information flows freely and frequently. Quarterly disclosures help detect emerging risks, financial deterioration, and material changes in a company's condition before they become crises. A six-month gap between reports is simply too long in today's fast-moving business environment.

While some argue that quarterly reporting creates short-term thinking, the solution is not to reduce transparency — it is to encourage companies and investors alike to take a longer view. Transparency and long-term thinking are not in conflict.

The SEC's mission is to protect investors and maintain fair, efficient markets. Quarterly reporting serves that mission directly. I urge the Commission to preserve this requirement.

Alexander White

Alicia Breaux — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Alicia Breaux Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 It's past time to require accountability.

---

allen moody — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: allen moody Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep 1/4ly reporting alive if you truly want to keep the economy humming along. Otherwise the Greedsters are going to take it all. They can't help themselves

---

Ally Comcast — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ally Comcast Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Allyson Haag here, homemaker. No way, cut your responsibility in half! During the most blatant corruption in this country's history, the least you could do is stand as a stable resource for the market. When the regime is over, we will not forgive those that helped hide these crimes.

Sent from my iPad

Alyce Walker — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Alyce Walker Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 We require transparency in our government. The fact that privatization of that governance via corporate, private entities, funded with our tax dollars allows for theft and looting-- stock market manipulation to occur that citizens have no knowledge of until it's too late. This rule will put pension plans in jeopardy, as well as small investors, and lacks any transparency. In short, it reeks of potential corruption, and is a danger to US citizens. It's a bad rule. We the people say NO.

Amanda Huff — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Amanda Huff Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Transparency only.

Amanda Huff

Amanda Kostner — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Amanda Kostner Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Both my husband and I are in our fifties. Retirement is still years away for us, this will shift it even further into the future and limit our 401k funds for when we cannot work any longer.
Changing the rules to benefit one economic class over the other isn't right. I'm sick and tired of this administration pushing debt, poor health, and environmental crisis on the majority working class in the name of making money for its big business political supporters and trying to limit our congressional and voting power to voice our needs.

Amanda Kostner, Distance Education Specialist

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Amanda Kurz — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Amanda Kurz Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Don't screw over the US citizens and let companies report twice a year. I know the S&P 500 just held up its year-waiting period. We need to keep regulations on these companies. I feel like we are getting very close to a 2008 crash. I'm a student just trying to get by.
Amanda Kurz, Cleveland OH

Amber Turner — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Amber Turner The requirements currently held by the sec, force companies to reveal how they are operating to remove these complex fillings and replace them with a statement would be grossly injust on the american people. The 1955 rules worked because companies paid for their employees retirement. That is no longer the case. This a is a horrible idea, a stab in the back of the american working class, and will only serve to benefit the ultra wealthy.

Amy Greenhoe — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Amy Greenhoe Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Amy Greenhoe, Director of Audit Services

Reporting should be kept on a quarterly basis. A company's finances can change quickly.

Amy Swanson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Amy Swanson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I am an accountant by trade, I have worked in public and private accounting for 20+ years. If companies are trading on public markets with private citizens' money, it is imperative that audited financial statements are issued quarterly, AT MINIMUM. I cannot believe that you are even entertaining this new grift.

Amy Swanson

Ander Belategui — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Quarterly Reporting From: Ander Belategui Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Dear Securities and Exchange Commission,
I am writing to express my strong opposition to any proposal that would shift public companies from quarterly to semi-annual reporting. As an investor, I rely on the regular cadence of quarterly earnings and Form 10-Q filings for the transparency and accountability necessary to make informed, responsible decisions.
Quarterly reporting is a cornerstone of market integrity. In today's fast-moving economic environment, three months is a lifetime. Extending the reporting interval to six months would create dangerous information vacuums, increasing the risk of sudden, volatile market corrections when long-hidden issues finally come to light.

Furthermore, moving to semi-annual reporting would be a terrible disservice to everyday investors. It would widen the information gap between corporate insiders—who monitor real-time performance—and the public market. Less frequent reporting reduces corporate accountability, gives management too much runway to obscure poor performance, and ultimately undermines trust in US financial markets.
Please protect investors and maintain the current, essential standard of quarterly reporting.
Sincerely,

-Ander Belategui

Andrea Loughlin — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-08 From: Andrea Loughlin I cannot even believe this is being considered. There should be no time when a company is publicly held that they should be allowed to report any less than quarterly. Wall Street knows everything and the investing citizens should too.

Andrea Preciado — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Andrea Preciado Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Andrea Preciado and I am against reducing compliance from quarterly cadence to twice a year.

We should be demanding MORE transparency and accountability, not less. As someone who has worked in food service, tech recruiting, and arts & education, I have seen a few things. Per this topic, I have seen reduction of transparency and accountability lead to problems and lack of trust while increasing those standards of visibility and regular updates improved morale and could rebuild broken trust and reputation.

KEEP IT QUARTERLY. Maintain (or ideally increase) the level of transparency that is shared so the general population can make an informed decision on what to do with their money.

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,
Andrea Preciado

Andrew Castellanos — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Andrew Castellanos Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Andrew James
Self employed AZ
Stop the thieves of Wall St from robbing us blind 🤬🤬🤬🤬🤬

Sent from my iPhone

Andrew McReynolds — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Andrew McReynolds Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Andrew, Enginner, Connecticut: this is a mistake that has already been made in the past. There is no need to repeat this at the expense of everyday investors who believe they are being responsible

Sent from Proton Mail for iOS.

---

andrew miller — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: andrew miller Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please don't do this.

Sent from my iPhone

Andy Blackburn — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Andy Blackburn Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This does nothing to improve company efficiency, and allows fraud to fester longer.

ANDY GELMERS — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ANDY GELMERS Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reports are essential to due diligence.

Sent from my iPhone

Angie Bonds — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Angie Bonds Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Leaving the door wide open for corruption to be hidden further. Transparency is a key element to our democracy. With this-Intellectual property rights are also on the table.
Angela
Business owner

Sent from my iPhone

Anissa Roberts — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anissa Roberts Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I need to be able to monitor the stocks in my 401k portfolio to ensure they're growing to my benefit. I insist the SEC continues to require quarterly reporting!

Anissa L. Roberts

Anita Nethery — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anita Nethery Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep the reports quarterly! Keeping consumers in the dark is NOT a good thing. Thank you.

Ann Newberry — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ann Newberry Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Retired for 10 years. Thankful for 401ks. I know we need the SEC to try to contain, discourage and eradicate the corruption that is rampant in our country.

Ann Newberry

Ann Briggs — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Ann Briggs Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Blocking transparency allows corruption and destroys confidence in the market. Evil doers would gain while most investors would be blindsided.

Ann Briggs
Clearwater FL

Ann Combs — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ann Combs Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 We need reports to stay the same we need transparency in corporations

Sent from my iPhone

Ann Lindie-MacNeil — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Ann Lindie-MacNeil Stop messing with everything! Corporations do not need any more “help”. The greed in this country is disgraceful.

---

ann malachowski — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ann malachowski Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Anne Malachowski I'm a dining services director and 3 years away from retirement. Timely reports from companies are increasing important to me as I approach my retirement . I do not see how delayed reports benefits the consumer in any way. Please keep reporting the way it is. I appreciate your attention to this matter, Anne Malachowski

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Anna Hey — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Anna Hey My name is Anna Hey. I am commenting against the regulation change because I am very concerned what this proposed rule would do to to discourage investment and further destabilize the stock market, and ultimately bankrupt American families. At a time of incredible dishonesty and market manipulation by insiders in the corporate and government worlds, average Americans need frequent reporting to make informed decisions and protect their investments. Most Americans rely on regulation to protect them with good reason. Many stand to lose their retirement savings. Companies and bad actors looking to cash–in should not be given free reign to rip Americans off by withholding information that is vital to their investment decisions. Market manipulation only benefits insiders. Thank you.

Anne Desantis — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anne Desantis Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quartly reports are important to me, I rely on them to make decisions about my retirement savings. Changing anything now makes no sense.

Thank you for your time.

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Anne Gabriel — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anne Gabriel Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Do not stop quarterly reporting

Anne

Anne Kerr — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anne Kerr Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reporting must stay! It is fair and necessary and reduces the possibility of fraud and company hijinks. The SEC should not be helping companies to avoid accountability. Keep the 3 month reporting requirement. Anne Kerr, retired investor

---

Annette Reed — Jun 8, 2026

Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Annette Reed Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Annette Reed, retired Lab Director, Logansport IN. I writing to you in the hopes that your reporting remains quarterly. Changing to twice a year is going to put many people at risk to losing their hard earned savings. I'd think if one of the greatest investors Warren Buffett thinks it's a terrible idea…..it probably is! This administration is trying to turn back the time on the way things are done. I don't know why they would think less info for investors is better…. I know my market money will be withdrawn if this happens!

Sent from my iPad

---

anonimo — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: anonimo Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I am a Finance PhD. Changing to semi annual reports is done only for the benefit of insider trading. Especially politicians benefit.

Michael Nisen,
PhD.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I'm a retired secondary teacher and all I have is invested in the market. I meet with my advisor quarterly to make decisions. Six months is too long to keep information from us.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep it QUARTERLY! Trust is eroded when information is withheld. No change, please!

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Matthew, disabled veteran. No one should be able to hide their financial dealings, especially large powerful corporations.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Mary Strom retired FNP/C

Stop your nonsense.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Stop with messing with people's 401k's.

Sent from my Galaxy

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Dear SEC, Don't put the public at risk while the insiders make arrangements to minimize their losses. That leaves the public holding the losses.

Sent from Proton Mail for Android.

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 It's important to investors the publicly traded companies keep transparency.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Dear Sir/Madam, I am 68 years old but not yet able to retire. My husband and I have a small business that is struggling. We employ our son and 2 other employees, and have not given ourselves a raise in 15 years. My husband is 77 and we have already gone through most of his IRA and 401k funds because we had to make major repairs to our home. We live in Dallas Texas, and I had to replace our HVAC, water heater and roof this past year.

We depend on the investments in our retirements accounts to support us now and in the future. I humbly request that you, the policymakers at the SEC, do not relax any of the reporting requirements for the companies who we, senior citizens, count on for our retirement income. It is hard enough to try to make sound investment decisions as it is even now, and cutting in half the information provided to investors will only make things much more difficult. Thank you for listening to my concerns, sincerely, Mrs. R.P.

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous The implementation of this rule will undermine SEC's core mandate on investor protection and have direct effect on investor confidence.

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Hello! I am not a professional investor. I'm a normal person whose main path to investing is a Roth IRA. I believe that moving from quarterly to twice-a-year is bad for me, bad for the average investor, and bad for the average American. Not only do people like me rely on accurate reporting to make decisions about which companies to own parts of, but having a shorter gap helps keeps companies transparent. Having a longer gap gives an unfair advantage to company insiders, and hurts the "average Joe" investor like me. Not only that, but letting companies go dark for longer periods of time would allow companies to be less transparent and fudge their numbers more... the companies that opt-in to reporting twice-a-year would be the ones most likely to abuse the extra time they can be in the dark to do unscrupulous things.

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous SEC Rule S7-2026-15 would let public companies hide bad numbers for six months at a time. Insiders dump their shares before disclosure, retail buys the bag. I find SEC Rule S7-2026-15 to be a crime. Fraud, misleading information, insider trading, and theft of way too many for the benefit of way too few

---

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep the SEC accountable.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 It’s not realistic for consumers to make good decisions on companies who aren’t reporting quarterly. In fact they should report more frequently. I hope this is not supported, we don’t need to try something that already failed in 1955, the billionaires are rich enough, please stop. This is exhausting.

Thank you

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reporting is needed. Please don't make the time between reports longer. If anything make it shorter. This matters to me because, naturally, I'm interested in my retirement funds which are invested and how they are doing. My name is Virginia Moe and I am a church musician.

Sent from my iPad

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I don’t think I’ve seen a dumber financial policy since the new deal from my least favorite president FDR.
Signed veteran that learned from the government, to not trust the government to do anything important.

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 James Houston, factory operator
I thought you guys were supposed to look out for the little guy. Transparency helps us make informed decisions and not get scammed. I don’t think people are looking for guarantees but just an opportunity to fairly participate in this system. Giving insiders an opportunity to hide information erodes what little trust people have left in this system.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Why in heavens name would you think this is good for America? I’m a 67 yr old white retired woman who has to live with my daughter and her family. I can’t afford a lot of things and here you think doing this is ok? I’m embarrassed to say amerikkka is a shithole country and if you do this you will prove it!

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Erin Geer, Community Association Manager, if you move to 6 month reporting, you’re removing the (already flimsy) guardrails that are supposed to keep us out of another Great Recession.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep corporate reporting quarterly. We need timely information for the public. Not just insiders

Kevin Hefty

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I cannot believe the SEC would work to destroy hard working Americans retirement accounts with a six month CLOSED window on company's financials. When I worked on 10Q's and 10K's we were always under pressure to get it done, correctly, accurately and ethically. Do you really want to destroy all of that??

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Dawn Walker. In addition to my own portfolio which I worked myself back from a medical bankruptcy to acquire, I now work in corporate credit.

Changing the disclosure rules ONLY benefits the super rich and certain corporations- the rest of us will be left paying for the inevitable lies and deceptions that will occur when companies have six months between reporting periods to cook their books. How anyone with a shred of integrity could look around at the world today and think "gee the billionaires and corporations need MORE opportunities to screw the middle class!" Is beyond comprehension. The SEC's ONE responsibility is to endure fairness and transparency. Obviously someone at the top is engineering another massive cash grab. Stop this insanity!! Hold companies accountable to quarterly reporting!!
Dawn Walker
Richmond Virginia

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please do the right thing and stop this.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I'm urging the SEC to retain the requirement for quarterly reporting of financial performance and positions. I am a retired individual who depends on the income from a modest investment portfolio (401K, annuity, mutual funds) to supplement my Social Security retirement payments. The quarterly financial reports provide necessary and timely information about a company's business operations and future plans that inform my initial and continued investment decisions. Reducing the frequency of these reports may save the companies money (although that is probably minimal in their overall expenditures), the impact for investors, regulators and the public would be a loss of transparency, a likely dissembling of compliance within even good companies (what is being watched gets done), and a longer time before wrongdoing becomes detectable by the SEC or gets reported by whistleblowers. The monetary costs should be secondary to the ethical ones, especially at this time when trust in government institutions and agencies is at an all time low. Keep the quarterly reporting requirements in place. Thank you.

Valerie Fuldauer, MSHL, BS, MT(ASCP)
Healthcare Compliance Officer, retired

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 It is essential that you continue to supply quarterly reports. 401ks are probably the second largest asset that a family has. We need to learn how to manage them and learn how to promote good financial management. Part of that is doing quarterly reports. I insist for the future of average Americans that you continue with the Good housekeeping of quarterly reports.

Get Outlook for Android

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Marsha J Holbert, I am retired (66) however, it still matters to me for the SEC to KEEP IT QUARTERLY! Americans deserve to know which direction OUR country is moving.

Sent from AOL on Android

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Martha Martin Retired Trust is important. In this USA we live in today trust is being eroded every day. There is trust in reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please don’t change the rule requiring companies to to open their books and report on their business quarterly. A lot of fraud, mismanagement, or just poor business practices can occur over six months and the private investors would be the last to know

Sent from iPhone of Nancy Davis. Kindness is the language which the deaf can hear and the blind can see -Mark Twain

---

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Good morning! I am writing to comment on the Commission's recent proposal regarding changes to periodic reporting requirements to periodic reporting for public companies.

I respectfully urge the Commission to retain the requirement for quarterly reporting by public companies.

I am a retired trauma nurse with years of experience in high-stakes, time-sensitive decision making. In trauma care, timely and accurate information is not a luxury - it is the difference between stabilization and deterioration. We rely on frequent monitoring to detect subtle changes before they become life-threatening. Delayed data can obscure emerging problems and limit the ability to intervene quickly.

I believe the same principle applies to financial markets. Quarterly reporting provides a regular, structured cadence of information that allows investors, analysts, and regulators to identify trends, assess risk, and respond appropriately. Reducing the frequency of required reporting risks creating longer periods of opacity, during which problems may compound, unnoticed.

While I understand concerns about short-termism, the solution should not be less transparency. In my field, we do not monitor patients less frequently to encourage long-term health. We monitor closely and interpret data responsibly.

Maintaining quarterly reporting supports informed decision making, market integrity, and investor protection. These are foundational to public trust.

Thank you for the opportunity to comment.

Cathy Glenn, BSN, RN, CEN, TCRN, EMT-P
Retired from the job, but not from the work

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Natilee Duning — Retired
I'm retired and living off my Social Security and investment accounts. It's impossible to make informed decisions without information. We need quarterly reports. Please do NOT change the rules at this point.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Do not change quarterly reporting to twice a year. This is walking backwards and people (every day people) will lose money!

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Did you learn nothing in 2007-2008? Or from Bernie Maddoff? The only good bank/investor is a well regulated one. Quit trying to take our meager savings and handing it over to your billionaire overlords. Bezos, Musk et all don't need any more money. Do your damn job and quit trying to make it go away.

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 MartinLipschutz Taylor here. Professional musician. Phila.PA. My life savings investments require constant monitoring, and twice a year statements do not give me an opportunity to respond to financial trends. Only insiders sill be able to quickly respond, and their reaction re-allotments will bring down the value of investments before I get the word! I will lose a large portion of my investment value with only 2 statements a year. For God's sake don't do this!!!!!!!

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Patricia von Knorring. I am retired. Please continue quarterly reporting.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As someone who has a 401K and other investments, I rely on quarterly reports to monitor existing investments as well as others I'm considering. Quarterly reporting also aids my broker when he recommends buying or selling a particular stock. My financial security depends on having the best picture available of a company's performance and risks. Like the risks involved when investing in stocks, would you have better results driving on the highway with your eyes closed for 15 seconds/minute or 30 seconds/minute?
Paul Wells

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 William Haynes, retired

It seems in the name of integrity and an informed investor that sunshine be maintained ie. quarterly report

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As a private equity attorney who reviewed quarterly reports for accuracy and relied on them for up to date information on portfolio companies, I believe that quarterly reports are fundamentally important to protecting investors and giving the markets confidence in American companies. If there is a mistake in the reports, it needs to be caught and corrected quickly. If this system is working great, why are we "fixing" something that isn't broken? Spend your time and resources protecting the public, protecting investors.
Sameena Karmally, Attorney, Dallas, Texas

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Jackalie Blue, Retired We live in volatile times. I am not trained to understand all the daily movements of .stock, but I use these quarterly reports to keep up with my investments. Please don't take them away. 6 months is too long to go without financial reporting.

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I do not want to go back to the 70's we changed the rule of reporting for a reason. I did not work this hard to get my retirement stolen from me by this man who is currently in charge of the US. Sincerely Lisa Neighbors. I live in Oklahoma and work as a bookkeeper and secretary for our local Technology Center.

Sent from my iPhone

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Dorene M, retired.

We have heavily invested in the stock market for the last 40 years. Our choice of equities have been predicated on the quarterly reports, not only the financial numbers, but on the company information that potentially will affect future earnings.

If you change the rules, then the information we, and others like us, will be so out of date as to be useless. During our years in corporate America, we know that every company follows the cash on a daily basis, and routinely monitors the competition and the opportunities for expansion. So there is no hardship in sharing that information with the investment community on a quarterly basis.

Don't change the quarterly reporting rules.

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My husband and I have always kept a close watch on our investments. Now that I am retired I need to be as vigilant, if not more so. I rely on quarterly reports to keep me informed!

Christine Ecker
Retiree

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Good afternoon, Given the recent revelations of self-dealing, digital versions of mortgage credit swaps (aka computational tokens), and the continued revelations of both the lack of antitrust investigations and the general mood of the citizens of this country that government exists to make the rich richer, quarterly reporting MUST remain in place. Enough is being done right now to destroy America's reputation to be a safe place to invest, please do not add to the downfall of that reputation. Vote NO on any change in current reporting requirements

Sincerely,
Brook Riddick
Kent, Ohio

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I DO NOT support allowing my 401K reports to become less than quarterly. I monitor my investments and my portfolio and this is NOT acceptable!!
Linda Wright
US Citizen

Anonymous — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Anonymous Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Do not take away any measure by which investors without inside knowledge can know the health of a company they invest in. This stinks of corruption.

Arria Guterl — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Arria Guterl Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 We don't need less oversight, we need more REGULATIONS. Runaway Capitalism is crushing everyday Americans and this will only make matters worse. How can you have an economy when no one has money to spend?

Terrible idea!

ASBC Allen — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ASBC Allen Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 There is no good reason to alter the standard reporting regime. I work with small businesses and midsize corporations, and easing financial reporting expectations will trickle down from publicly traded companies in a negative way.

Sincerely,

Allen Bernard, ASBC®
Ambright Consulting Ltd.

Ashley Malik — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ashley Malik Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Ashley. Teacher. Please don't make it easier for these predatory companies and billionaires to commit fraud. Average Americans always foot the bill of corruption.

Astrid de Parry — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Astrid de Parry Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This is just plain wrong! Shame on you!

Get Outlook for iOS

Athena Contreras — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Athena Contreras Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Athena Contreras. I'm in West Linn, Oregon.

Transparency is so vital for the functioning of markets. Transparency is honesty, transparency holds people to a higher standard, enabling well-functioning markets.

This is a very risky proposition and it endangers our entire country, our economic system, and messes with every tradition that has formed make investors better informed.

Who does opacity serve?? Why is this under consideration at all???

Please do not let this happen because there will be ripple effects throughout the economy here and through the world.
Thank you!!!

Sent from Proton Mail for iOS.

---

atouk — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: atouk Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I'm a retired physician and like many other retired professionals, I'm living off investments which must be followed closely. Quarterly investment reports are vital to managing the funds. Executives and larger investors are privy to this information and taking quarterly reports away from myself and other smaller investors clearly puts us in a precarious and even more disadvantaged position. Please don't allow this grossly unfair practice to occur.

Augusta McCrory — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Augusta McCrory Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reports are not only valuable to me as a consumer but are required to keep companies honest. Especially today, graft is a constant and must not be allowed to flourish. Quarterly reports are the only a small investor like me can hold a company accountable. Please don't give corporations more of a chance to separate me from my investment money.

AVID GRIM — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: AVID GRIM Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Let’s learn from history and not cut down the hard working Americans who are the backbone of this country. Do the right thing and make sure publicly traded companies are filling at the current rate.

Barbara — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I rely on quarterly reports to effectively manage my portfolio.

I do not support moving to semiannual reports.

Sincerely,
Barbara Laurent

Barbara Andrews — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Barbara Andrews Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports. More information is always appreciated and required.

Sent from my iPad

Barbara Bobb — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Bobb Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Accountability is the only thing that garners trust, for an investor. And there is very little trust with corporate America right now. They need to be showing what's going on quarterly. What are they trying to hide?!

Barbara Brown — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Brown Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 With this change, we would be flying blind for six months. More time for fraud to grow. “Optional" is a trick. The supposed savings are tiny, and they don't go to us. That's a bad trade for ordinary investors. Signed: Barbara Brown, a voter who pays attention what government is trying to do.

Barbara Gillan — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Gillan Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Barbara Gillan, retired educator, widow. I absolutely do NOT approve of the SEC doing away with Quarterly Reporting. Those of us existing on hard earned retirement funds cannot sit in the dark for 6 months wondering what is happening to our hard earned money...we need information allowing us to control our funds.

Barbara Harrison — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Harrison Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I want my 401 and IRA quarterly. Please do not change this policy. Only reporting every six months can hide fraud and make it much harder to find the cause/possible corruption!

Thank you!

Sent from my iPhone

Barbara Hyk-Zimmer — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Hyk-Zimmer Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Unacceptable. Disgusting to keep us in the DARK about OUR MONEY!!!

Barbara Perle — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara Perle Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Barbara Perle. I make financial decisions based on the information I get from quarterly reports. We the People have the right to know a minimum of 4x/year how the companies and our investments are doing by receiving these quarterly reports. Do not reduce the current frequency.

Sincerely,
Barbara Perle, Investor

Sent from my iPhone

Barbara York — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Barbara York Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Companies on the stock market are public. That means they are in part owned by people who by stocks to own a piece of them. Therefore, they should be required to report their earnings and other venue activity to the people who own them.

Sent from my iPad

Beatrice Shoughrow — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Beatrice Shoughrow Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please do not change the quarterly reporting. It is important to me to view what my portfolio is doing in a timely manner. 6 month spacing is too long, I want to stay more up to date .
Beatrice Shoughrow/retired

Sent from my iPhone

Beck Taylor — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Beck Taylor Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 It is unconscionable to allow companies to determined when people can see their investments. This IS still America and businesses are NOT in charge of employees investments.

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Ben Claase — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ben Claase Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I respectfully request to maintain the current quarterly reporting.
Investors / retirees need to have this visibility.
Thank you,
Bernardus Claase

Sent from my iPhone

Benjamin Casey — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Benjamin Casey Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 The whole economy (and national security) collapses when you cut the legs off. What do you think happens to the lucky ones who claw the way to the top? You can find out by reading a book or even just asking Claude.

The main difference from my perspective is that timelines move much faster in the Information Age.

Like it or not, everybody needs everybody these days. There is no out group. Or if there is one, then we are all at most one election away from joining them. In that light you fall neatly into one of two groups: those that care about the world after you leave it and those who don't. I think that may be the one true dividing line. So which group are you in?

Benjamin Casey, Pharm.D., RPh
E-mail: ben.a.casey@gmail.com
Phone: 512-913-1232

Beth Brancheau — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Beth Brancheau Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I believe in quarterly reports for better accounting.

Beth Devine — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Beth Devine Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This is absolutely criminal. They need to be reporting to their investors quarterly so we can keep an eye on what they are doing. This cannot go through. We tried this in the past and the investor always paid the price for this, not the company. There needs to be MORE transparency NOT LESS. The SEC needs to make this a priority for any investor, person that will be impacted. The SEC is responsible to the people. My name is Beth Devine and I work in Town Government and know how things can go awry when not under strict reporting. This matters, because the people matter and losing a third of any savings one might have is too great a price to pay and with less transparency, we are all vulnerable.

Sent from my iPhone

Beth Kociba — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Beth Kociba Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Beth Kosch, Occupational therapist
We need MORE oversight in these matters, NOT less. The potential for fraud is already high, and the longer we go between reporting the higher that potential becomes. As per usual, the winners are big business and the wealthy, the losers are the average members of the public. Your job is OVERSIGHT. Keep doing that job!

Beth Waylett Ryan — Jun 8, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Beth Waylett Ryan Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I'm Elizabeth Ryan. I'm a teacher. I work hard for this, really, really, really hard. I deserve to be able to review the financials of companies I am invested in or intend to invest in every quarter. Do not extend this even one minute more.

Thanks! Beth Ryan

Bethany McDonough — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bethany McDonough Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As an investor in publicly traded companies for which the stock changes everyday, I feel the need to evaluate on an ongoing basis, the changes in earnings and revenue to understand what is driving the at daily changing stock price. Once of every six months is simply not often enough to be able to make investing decisions. For instance, six months time is enough time for a company to have serious problems that cause it go bankrupt. As an investor, I would never know that was coming without quarterly reporting. As an investor, I have a right to Know if a company is failing-or, alternatively, engaging in fraud. Please do not change the quarterly reporting requirement.

Sent from my iPhone

Bethany.Vann — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bethany.Vann Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 When businesses are afforded the opportunity to get more money by being a bit more shady, they take it. I am 57 and hoping to one day retire - and this potential change would put that in jeopardy. I am writing to express my strong feelings that quarterly reporting should remain the norm.
Thank you.

Bethrina Smith — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bethrina Smith Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly!! Transparency and frequency essential!

Sent from my iPhone

Beverly Wallrauch — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Beverly Wallrauch Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Beverly Wallrauch and I am very concerned about this proposed legislation. As a person nearing retirement I am very concerned about how my investments are progressing. Without my retirement funds, I will most likely lose my home so having that additional information is extremely important to me . Why this change is suddenly necessary does not make sense. I am in strong opposition to this and will make my voice heard.

Bi ll Stevens — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bi ll Stevens Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I and a lot of people lost a lot of money on Enron and that was quarterly reporting. If you allow companies to be less accountable then more unscrupulous people will exploit it to the point of financial ruin for many Americans and foreign investors. I'm more interested in why a company would want to be less accountable to their shareholders. It does not make sense.

Bill Peters — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bill Peters Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reporting has been the foundation of trust in the business sector. Keep it in place. I would not trust any of my investments in businesses otherwise, and would probably liquidate them. Bill B Peters, PhD

---

blake shurtleff — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: blake shurtleff Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please allow the public to not be scammed and scarred of investing their fortune into the stock market, if this changes it will allow companies to not show profitability with due diligence, I feel as if every company has a fiduciary responsibility to disclose to the public. What is their health? In a whole, bad, good or eh situation.

Thank you,
Blake S
5 year investor

Bob Love — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bob Love Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Stop the obfuscation

Bob Love

Bob Love — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bob Love Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Stop the obfuscation

Keep free and open markets

Bob Love

Bob Rasgaitis — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bob Rasgaitis Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 To the Securities and Exchange Commission,

I am writing to formally express my strong opposition to any proposal that would transition public company reporting from a quarterly to a semi-annual schedule.

As a professional in the automotive dealership industry, I maintain that quarterly reporting is essential for market transparency. Regular access to data regarding earnings, cash flow, and sales is fundamental to informed decision-making across the sector. For example, sales reports from publicly traded dealerships serve as vital benchmarks for the broader industry, providing necessary insights even for those without direct positions in specific securities.

Reducing the frequency of these disclosures would diminish corporate accountability and weaken market oversight. I request clarification regarding the origin of this proposal to ensure it is not being driven by interests seeking to reduce corporate liability or transparency.

Maintaining the current quarterly reporting requirement is necessary for the continued health and integrity of the financial markets.

Sincerely,

Bob Rasgaitis

Bob Shapland — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bob Shapland Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Robert Shapland and I want reporting to continue coming out quarterly

---

Bobbie Falls — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bobbie Falls Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reports help this old lady keep track of my portfolio. Waiting 6 months allows to much to get by. Tired of the bastards trying to nic me

Sent from my iPhone

Bonnie Bellino — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bonnie Bellino Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Bonnie Bellino-retired. As a widow who relies on income from stocks and investments, this is a red flag for disaster. If a company is performing poorly we should be made aware of it before the value of stock plummets without our knowing. It makes it easier for intrading to occur. My husband and I set up an education fund that is paying for my granddaughters college. If money is lost from the investment firm that controls the disbursement of funds, then she would be unable to attend. Do the right thing for the people, and not for the big companies or politicians.

Bonnie Sterling — Jun 8, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bonnie Sterling Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Sarbanes-Oxley Act (SOX)
Corporate and Criminal Fraud Accountability Act (18 U.S.C. § 1519) criminal Penalties for Altering Documents (18 U.S.C. § 1520)
Corporate Responsibility for Financial Reports (18 U.S.C. § 1350)
Rule 10b-5

Brad Battles — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brad Battles Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 To Whom It May Concern,
Quarterly Reports allow investors, both professional and amateur, to be informed on the companies they have invested in. Going to bi-annual reports would harm amateur investors and limit transparency in the market.

Don't limit what people have access to.

Brad Battles

Bradley Tisdale — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Bradley Tisdale Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I want to keep the quarterly reports! Six months is too big an opportunity for corruption, especially in this administration!

Get Outlook for iOS

Brande Way — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Brande Way This is a beyond wrong, we should have access to our information and make decisions immediately versus months later. Shame on you.

Branden Boutwell — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Branden Boutwell Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reporting has been shown worldwide to be beneficial to market traders, strategists, and companies. Would be silly to go back to the old ways. Everyone will agree. Why would you ever propose this?

Sincerely BB

Sent from my Galaxy

Brenda Campbell — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brenda Campbell Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Both my husband and I have fairly recently retired. Our lives change quickly and we need to know and understand what is happening with our money and investments!

Please continue to require quarterly reports to help us make better decisions.

Thank you.

Sent from my iPhone

Brenda Dixon — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brenda Dixon Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 We need more transparency not less. Quarterly reporting should remain mandatory on 401k reporting

Brenda Dixon

BRENDA REED — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: BRENDA REED Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 There's absolutely no reason to change from quarterly reports. It only makes it harder for the average investor to keep up with their investments. Unless of course that's the intention.

Get Outlook for iOS

Brendan Luecke — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brendan Luecke Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Investors require more information not less. This is misguided and will only further compound the disadvantages faced by retail investors.

Brian — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brian Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I should be able to access my financial information whenever I want

Brian — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brian Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Transparency must be maintained for public utilities so that bad performance can be spotted early. Please vote no on this proposed change for reporting

Sent from my iPhone

Brian Cusson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Brian Cusson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reports keep companies focused and investors informed

---

Brian M. Smith — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Brian M. Smith Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 No!No! Do not change the quarterly reporting! Handing more money to billionaires is what happened last time it was changed to twice yearly. No!!NO!!

Brian Schill — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brian Schill Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 The only people who want to drop quarterly reporting are the big operators who will exploit the change at everyone else's cost!

Sent from my iPhone

---

bricktowncasey — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: bricktowncasey Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 There is no good reason to change from quarterly to every six months..this change creates a greater time period for fraud to exist. The IRS requires 1040 taxes be paid quarterly and filing of taxes, if not done monthly, are filed quarterly for both state and federal. Changing to every six months helps no one and only keeps us in the dark. It's a very bad idea..

Sent from my iPhone

Brigitte Olivier — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Brigitte Olivier Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep sharing quarterly results!

Sent from my iPhone

---

bruce hansen — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: bruce hansen Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 DO NOT MAKE THIS CHANGE! Listen to small investors for once. People work hard for their families' future and deserve a fair playing field.

Sincerely,
Bruce Hansen

C Espinoza — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: C Espinoza Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This is outrageous and a way to avoid the responsibility to the shareholders. Disrespectful of the protections that this agency is supposed to uphold. SEC needs to hold businesses accountable and protect the people.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

C. H. — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: C. H. Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This is our money being manipulated. Quarterly is necessary to allow investors insights into how our money is being handled. NO on extending this.

Sent from my iPhone

Caleb Coleman — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Caleb Coleman Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This is an idiotic pro-billionaire rule. Pass it and we'll be eating your babies.

Caleb Coleman | Caleb-Coleman.com

(817) 247-2816 | Dallas, TX

Cara C — Jun 8, 2026

Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Cara C Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Hi, I'm Cara, a designer from Texas.

It's tough out there. I'm one of the few in my generation lucky enough to have enough spare nickels to invest in the market. The common American is getting screwed every-which-way possible, and listen... folks can only get pushed so far and sucked so dry.

You know the whole "bread and circuses" thing where you have to keep us unwashed, idiot masses distracted so you folks can mantain power? Well, TicketMaster and LiveNation screwed us out of circuses with those bonkers ticket prices, and this is one of the very last sources of bread for the very last demographics that still have a few shinies to rub together.

People start to act real, real funny in large groups. They act even funnier when they've missed a few meals. I implore you to reconsider these changes. There's no point in having rules that benefit businesses when there's no purchasing power left or business to be done.

Cara

Carmen Mortenson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carmen Mortenson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Carmen Mortenson Retired, Director - AT&T Supply Chain I don't understand how any investor could make informed decisions in a timely fashion without the ability to track performance via quarterly reports.

Bi-annual reports pose greater risks to non-institutional investors and runs the risk of fostering distrust.

I sincerely hope the volume of responses persuade you to reconsider this decision.

Carol Bennatti — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol Bennatti Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As a retired teacher, I depend on my investments. I am alarmed that the SEC is proposing reducing the frequency with which companies will be required to file reports. Investors deserve transparency. A lot can change in six months and investors shouldn't be the last to know. Protect our investments and continue to require quarterly reports. Sincerely,
Carolyn Bennatti

---

carol bonds — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: carol bonds Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 It should be the duty of government to protect the people. So who protects the people from the government? I hope the SEC will work to keep companies more honest and open regarding their finances.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Carol Bradstreet — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol Bradstreet Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Carol Bradstreet, retired federal employee. Full of possible fraud. Do not allow this.

Carol Colombo — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol Colombo Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As an investor, I rely on the quarterly financials of my stocks. Allowing a company to hide a potential problem for 6 months is unacceptable. They give quarterlies now and your job is to protect the INVESTORS. Not allow fraud to flourish for months prior to discovery.

Carol Dutcher — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol Dutcher Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Carol Dutcher.

Really? This is the moral high ground? Your children will look back on your role in this SEC action with shame should you choose approve it.

Sent from my iPhone

Carol Mace — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol Mace Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I am a retiree and rely on quarterly SEC reports to guide my retirement investments. This rule change will negatively affect those of us who rely on such reporting while enabling corporations to hide any shady dealings. The SEC was established to protect the public not, protect corporate profits! Carol Mace, retired manager

---

Carol MacPherson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carol MacPherson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Why are you planning to change the frequency of reporting? It is important for everyday Americans like me. Please either provide a good reason for this or do not change from quarterly reporting. Thank you.

Carol MacPherson

Carol Olivier — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Carol Olivier Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Carol Olivier, retired Nurse-Midwife
Burien, Wa 98166
I am not wealthy enough to lose a significant portion of my retirement because of unreported corporate activity. History shows when returns were published 2x yearly, people lost retirement savings and when quarterly reports were mandated, individuals profited more. We must continue with some sort of transparency.

Sent from my iPhone

---

carol wooten — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: carol wooten Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Carol Wooten, small business owner. There is no reason to move away from quarterly reporting except to hide monkey business. Don't fall for it.

Carole Bennett — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carole Bennett Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I'm a teacher, not a business person, but my retirement investment is important to me. Keeping me in the loop allows me and others to make better choices. I don't watch CNBC, and knowing what is happening is important! Carole Bennett, teacher

---

Carole Mushkin — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carole Mushkin Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As an investor I need more frequent reporting than this plan for semi annual proposes. I am retired but pay attention to my investments and those that manage my accounts do also.

Carole Mushkin

Carolyn Hancock — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carolyn Hancock Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Carolyn Hancock psychotherapist.
What are you trying to accomplish here. It appears that you have abandoned your mission of SECURITY, to kowtow to a madman.

Sent from my iPhone

Carolyn Karn — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Carolyn Karn Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Qurterly reporting has worked for three and a quarter centuries. If you want to change it now there is something nefarious going on. I am simply a stockholder.

Sent from my iPhone

Carrie Rosenthal (JEL) — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Re: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Carrie Rosenthal (JEL) Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 > On Jun 8, 2026, at 7:19 AM, carrie Rosenthal wrote:
>
> Our country is now being run like the mafia. It HAS TO STOP!! YOU HAVE TO STOP THIS!!
>
>
>

---

caryl mathews hodgdon — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: caryl mathews hodgdon Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 We ,the public, have enough trouble keeping you in line with quarterly. Keep it as it is or you will surely succumb to even more corruption. Thank you. Caryl Hodgdon investor and citizen of this country trying to save it.

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Cathy Helms — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cathy Helms Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Do not reduce quarterly reporting requirements.

Cathy Helms Retired

My mom and I live on threatened social security earnings and what's left of 401K savings. Its hard enough to make decisions around current environment without removing or changing institutional responsibility.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Cathy Peceny — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cathy Peceny Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 The SEC is suppose to protect the individual investors. If you pass this proposal, you are just as corrupt as Trump. DO YOUR JOB ! With the interests of those you are there to protect.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Cathy Radke — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cathy Radke Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 BEYOND Unfair to the average workers whose monies are already at a precarious position because of the corporate greed, evident at levels never imagined. The American PEOPLE deserve transparency at quarterly intervals. This isn’t rocket science- you know the technology is already in place to provide the reports as easily quarterly as what is being bantered.

Sent from my iPhone

Cathy Sugden — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cathy Sugden Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name Cathy Sugden, a citizen, and do want the quarterly SEC reports to continue
Everyone knows the decrease in data reporting will afford others to benefit.
The entire administration at this time doesn't care about hibesty, transparency or the citizens not billionaires.

🌻🌻🌻

Cedric Cheng — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Cedric Cheng Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 In order to ensure that the investing public knows what is happening with their investments, the need for continued quarterly reporting on securities and stocks is needed still. Common sense and transparency is the only thing to ensure we know what and where and who our money is going. Keeping things under wraps or opaque only will make us withdraw our money from the market for other opportunities. Some of which will not grow as much as our markets will do over the long term. And that's because we have quarterly reporting of the financials that helps us determine how we invest our money. Cedric Cheng, Small Business Owner, San Francisco Bay Area. Concerned about the SEC rolling back reporting which you should move forward to improve things for the investors, the American public.

Cedric Cheng — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Cedric Cheng Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 In order to ensure that the investing public knows what is happening with their investments, the need for continued quarterly reporting on securities and stocks is needed still. Common sense and transparency is the only thing to ensure we know what and where and who our money is going. Keeping things under wraps or opaque only will make us withdraw our money from the market for other opportunities. Some of which will not grow as much as our markets will do over the long term. And that's because we have quarterly reporting of the financials that helps us determine how we invest our money. Cedric Cheng, Small Business Owner, San Francisco Bay Area. Concerned about the SEC rolling back reporting which you should move forward to improve things for the investors, the American public.

Cedric C. Cheng

If receiving a proof via email. PLEASE PROOF READ CAREFULLY. It is the responsibility of the customer. Cedric Cheng Design is not responsible for typesetting errors (spelling, grammar, punctuation, typos, etc.). Thank you.

_____

Celia Spivack — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Celia Spivack Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 3 months is a long time between info reports. 6 months is far too long. Celia Spivack, retired.

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Chadwick Streid — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Chadwick Streid Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I like getting the figures quarterly, and I hope that stays.

Sent from my iPad

Chandra Reddy — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chandra Reddy Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Chandra, IT professional and long term investor. It is very important to have accountability and visibility from publicly listed companies to report every quarter which sheds light on their core business. Quarterly reporting keeps them accountable and creates checks and balances that are needed for publicly traded companies. Cost of reporting is minuscule when compared to cost of investment degradation for retail investors who put their hard earnings into stocks. Most of the companies have automated processes to generate quarterly reporting, hence cost and time shouldn't be major driving factor. When companies list publicly they are accepting the fact that their business need to be transparent and visible for public to decide whether to invest or not. If company deems it doesn't have to report, then it should be delisted and go private.

Charles Knuffke — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Charles Knuffke Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Finance has worker perfectly fine with quarterly reporting. To allow significant changes and corporate results to not be reported for a full half year is ludicrous.

You’re playing with people’s finances and retirement funds. This change should not be allowed.

Sent from my iPhone
Charles Knuffke

Charron Myers — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Charron Myers Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Charron Myers - I'm a Business Process Program Manager.

I am writing to express my opposition regarding the proposal to make quarterly reporting optional for companies.

As an individual investor, I rely on quarterly information to make informed decisions. Longer gaps between reports create an unfair advantage for corporate insiders.

Furthermore, making these updates optional does not resolve the issue, as companies that choose to opt in are often the ones whose investors require the most frequent updates.

Ultimately, this involves my personal capital, and any perceived cost savings for companies do not justify the loss of transparency to the investor.

Best,

Charron Sweat-Myers
801-919-7833

Cheri Lundstrom — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cheri Lundstrom Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 It is imperative that quarterly reports remain in place. Corporations are already hiding assets and avoiding taxes

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Cheri Meil — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cheri Meil Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Absolutely not. This opens up the capability for companies that are fraudulent to seek out investments without being accountable.
Cheri

---

cheryl bancroft — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: cheryl bancroft Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Going backwards to what is a known worse situation for investors?? WHY?

CHERYL HOCHHALTER — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: CHERYL HOCHHALTER Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reports are essential in monitoring investments. Stretching that to 6 months will make it much more difficult to stay informed and make changes in a timely manner.
Cheryl Hochhalter
Private investor

Cheryl Kirby — Jun 8, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Cheryl Kirby Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Cheryl M. Kirby Citizen

Dear Gentlemen and Mesdames:

It seems obvious that routine oversight is necessary to monitor and prevent fraud. Twice a year would be inadequate. Please consider this decision judiciously.

Regards,
Cheryl M. Kirby

Cheryl Marie Craft — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cheryl Marie Craft Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Cheryl Craft, Historic Site Interpreter, and former agricultural researcher.
I have no retirement plan other than my annuities and stocks. I need to be able to track what's going on with them and know what to expect, especially as I approach retirement. Please do the responsible thing and continue to require quarterly reporting.

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Chris Gipson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Chris Gipson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I don't agree with the rule change. Keep the reporting rules.

Chris Mechanic — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Chris Mechanic Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I’m disappointed that elected officials would even consider such a dumb change. Quarterly reporting is more than fair. Public companies know the cost of being public before hand. If they are whining about reporting, tell them to s it up, or take the company private. This is BS. Not worth my time to even write this note.

Christina Moxley — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christina Moxley Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 We need to address our financial status in our 401ks before it's too late. Going six months without an update will harm individual investors.

Christina Sormani — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christina Sormani Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep in quarterly! I’m an investor. I won’t invest inncompanies that only report twiceper year.

Sent from my iPhone

Christina Werner — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christina Werner Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly financial reporting from publicly traded companies helps keep those companies accountable to stockholders. Please don't change a rule that has worked well.

Chris Werner
Retired IT professional

Christine Andrews — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christine Andrews Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Have you all lost your minds and any conscience that you had? You should be ashamed. When this it is out of the White House, you'll never be able to show your faces.

Christine Andrews

Sent from my iPhone

Christine Joyce — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christine Joyce Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I take my retirement investments very seriously and can not risk ignoring a downturn trend or change in earning estimates. Quarterly reports are essential to my determination on whether a company is staying healthy enough to warrant my continued financial investment or if I need to reallocate.

Issuing biannual reports do not provide a full enough picture and might potentially hide the negative trending that stockholders and investors need to make informed decisions.

Christine Katsch — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christine Katsch Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 44 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Sent from my iPhone

Christine Weiss — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Christine Weiss Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Christine Ventura, Consultant, Boston. The transparency that quarterly reporting provides to investors is essential to guide financial decisions. I disapprove of the change to semi-annual reporting requirements.

All the best,

Christine

Christine Williams — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christine Williams Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Dear Folks,

A lot can go wrong in six months. Failed product launches, ballooning debt, lawsuits, vanishing customers. Today the law ensures companies produce that information every quarter. Not so under this proposal.Is this better for the investors?

More time for fraud to grow. Enron. WorldCom. Madoff. The run-up to 2008. Every major modern accounting scandal was enabled by gaps and opacity in financial disclosure. Quarterly filings don't prevent fraud, but they dramatically shorten the window in which it can develop. Is this beneficial?

Once large companies start filing twice a year, smaller competitors face pressure to follow. They can't justify "more compliance than the bigger guy." Investor expectations adjust downward. Is this better for any of us?

The supposed savings are tiny, and they don't benefit retail investors. Companies still have to keep their books. They still have to brief their boards. The actual savings from skipping a public filing are modest legal and accounting fees, and those savings flow to the company and its executives. The real cost of less information falls on the small investor, the person whose 401(k), IRA, or college fund holds the stock. That's a bad trade deal.

Help everyone by saying no.

Sincerely,

Christine Williams
Retail Investor

Christopher Morris — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christopher Morris Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This rule is reckless. Keep companies honest.

— — — — —
Chris

Christopher Poe — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christopher Poe Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Christopher Poe, Field Sanitation Investigator. Transparency in the public square is critical for our systems to function for the good of the public. Don't let those who rely on our funds to hide from our scrutiny.

Christopher Singh — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christopher Singh Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I want quarterly reporting to stay. It's the only check we have to see company progress and my investments are my future retirement.

Thank you,

Chris

Christy Beldin — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Christy Beldin Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 The Sec should not let this happen.

Sent from my iPhone

Chuck Thompson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Chuck Thompson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Stewart T., Retired public servant. I actively manage my retirement fund depending on market trends. I need up-to-date information on my investment.

Clara Nydam — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Clara Nydam Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I want the SEC to retain quarterly reporting. The markets that went to 6 months reporting have performed more poorly and some have enabled fraud to go undetected for a long time. It is unfair to the individual investors that insiders can benefit while others are deliberately kept in the dark.

Clara Hurd Nydam

Claudia Brice — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Claudia Brice Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reporting is important to investors. The insiders benefit and regular Americans lose.

Clay Blackwood — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Clay Blackwood Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I'm retired don't screw up my savings.

Clyde Cavanaugh — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Clyde Cavanaugh Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 We need quarterly reporting, otherwise accountability is decreased and volatility will increase

Clyde

---

comcast — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: comcast Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Christopher Popik , retired, I need the facts about the companies I invest in right away when they're available and not to be hidden to help me in my investment decisions. Everything should be done for the retail investor and not the banks and hedge funds. I've been in the market for over five years investing AMC, i'm very important for me to know that they're doing better each quarter and what the facts are in order to give me invested so that I don't take a very big loss. Weather reports some companies are very important. Do not do anything to hide them for six months that would be terrible. I would be flying blind.

Sent from my I phone
Christopher Popik

Connie K — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Connie K Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Can we get monthly financial disclosures instead of quarterly? It's easy enough now to manipulate expenses to hide a failing company for an extra quarter, twice yearly would let them slip by for an extra 6 months. Everything is getting more automated, it should be easier to report monthly now more than ever before. Make those companies stay on top of their game instead of slacking. I want monthly finicial reports signed by the CEO.

Connie Shipman — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Connie Shipman Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 We are all told to invest in 401ks and it is a battle to keep value in them with this administration. Keep the reporting quarterly! Connie Shipman Software License Management

---

Constance Ryan — Jun 8, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Constance Ryan Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Connie - IT professional - it matters to me because my 401k is fluctuating daily, and I am concerned with following the manipulations going on with the market.

Sent from my iPhone

Cora Impenna — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Keep quarterly reports From: Cora Impenna Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Enron. WorldCom. Madoff. The run-up to 2008. Every major modern accounting scandal was enabled by gaps and opacity in financial disclosure. Quarterly filings don't prevent fraud, but they dramatically shorten the window in which it can fester before someone outside the company can see it. What if Enron only had to cook their books twice a year?

We need the financial markets to be more transparent, less.

Best,

Cora Impenna

Corey Davis — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Corey Davis Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Investors need more reporting on what is happening to their money, not less. There should be monthly statements just like a bank. Reducing the level of accountability to shareholders amounts to fraud and theft.

Corey Newman — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Corey Newman Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 To Whom it May Concern,
My name is Corey Newman. I live in Virginia. I'm a detailer for a collision shop that provides a 401k plan to employees. The 3% profit share provided could one day grow into a real retirement for me. Or it could grow into half of a retirement, if the companies I'm invested in decide they'd rather hide their profits. It's easier to do so when you only have to report twice a year. I used to own my own small business, so I'm familiar with what quarterly reporting is. If I can do it as a sole proprietor, it is certainly possible for a larger company. Let's keep companies honest and help everyone's 401k stay on track.

Best Regards,
Corey Newman

Craig J beres — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Craig J beres Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Craig

Beres; my wife and I are both retired and live in Southern California. I cannot imagine how less than quarterly reporting would benefit anyone other than poorly performing companies. As retirees we depend entirely on the returns from our investments. I think it is critically important for us to know if there are emerging problems in the performance of those companies we have invested in. Quarterly reports should continue to be a requirement.

Sent from my iPhone

Craig Peters — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Craig Peters Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 The only entities removing the quarterly reporting aids are corporations. This would be a terrible change for individuals wanting to stay more current regarding the value and the policies of corporations they invest in or may invest in.
Craig Peters, Retired
3384 Monticello Avenue, Waterloo, Iowa.

CubanMuslGuy — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: CubanMuslGuy Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 The U.S. has already tested this approach before, from 1955 to 1970. During that period, reduced transparency was tied to weaker returns and lower company valuations. For everyday investors, going back to that system could put a major portion of their savings at risk — potentially a third, or even half.

Sent from my iPhone 17 Pro Max

---

cyndi slover — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: cyndi slover Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 For transparency for investors, professors, economists, and others, please keep financial reporting quarterly. I understand this creates additional costs to companies, but current reports aid transparency and outweighs the costs to produce them. Most reports are auto generated, so I am not sure the cost argument is totally accurate.

CYNTHIA BLACK — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: CYNTHIA BLACK Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I'm just a lone investor. It's clear that in the past this would not have served me. I say no. No bi-yearly. We are losing too much already under this administration. Do not compound it!

Cynthia Black

Sent from my IPhone

Cynthia Duvall — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Cynthia Duvall Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 They should have to report monthly

---

cynthia e — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: cynthia e Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 44 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Sent by Cynthia 🐾

Cynthia Hanke — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Cynthia Hanke Please keep the quarterly filing requirements. Our country, our citizens, deserve to be informed by the companies they invest in.

Cynthia LaChance — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15: We need quarterly reporting From: Cynthia LaChance Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I worked in corporate America for 30 years and I also have an MBA. I've studied the SEC and also work for several registered companies. Quarterly reporting is the way to do it.

Cynthia Woodham — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Cynthia Woodham Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Stop insider trading. Keep the reports Quarterly. It is in the Outside Trader's best financial interest. The common man.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

D Bruce — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: D Bruce Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 No, ABSOLUTELY AGAINST, this 6-month reporting for SEC!

---

d ferranti Jfr — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: d ferranti Jfr Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This is not a Surprise; but Waiting and Watching when this would happen AGAIN...

D Yalogue — Jun 8, 2026

Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: D Yalogue Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please don’t let this happen. I’m months away from retiring and this has the potential to really hurt my life. I’m not going to retire a millionaire, I will need every penny I can scratch up.

Take responsibility, enforce accountability. I don’t want them squandering my money so they can play foolish games.

Have a great day.

D'Ann Stone — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: D'Ann Stone Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 With the increased pace of business, biannual reporting is unacceptable. In fact, with the increased use of technology we should be expecting reporting to move to every other month!

DAmbrosio Family — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: DAmbrosio Family Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Bad idea

Sent from my iPhone

Dan Cahill — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dan Cahill Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 We are watching what you do as well!

Dan Spock — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dan Spock Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 We need more transparency and regular reporting in this time of economic hardship and shrinking trust.

Daniel Spock

Dana Underwood — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dana Underwood Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 First - The potential for fraud is large. A lot can go wrong in half a year. Failed product launches, ballooning debt, lawsuits, vanishing customers. Today the law forces companies to surface that information every quarter. The new rule gives insiders plenty of time to sell their shares to you (or your ETF) on the QT and before the bad news tanks the stock.

Second: The savings are minimal. Companies still need to keep the books. They still report to their boards. The cost savings are from accounting fees and any savings flow to the company and the executives.

The math is not mathing.

Dana Underwood

Daniel Brown — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Daniel Brown Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Public companies must have open public records, should be a monthly requirement. Allowing them to hide results for up to six months just enables insiders to get rich while the public investors lose.

Dan Brown

Daniel Franks — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Daniel Franks Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Why would this even be considered, we should make companies report earnings more often not less, with all the automation possible now it should be easy for transparent companies that have nothing to hide to automate regular reporting, it should be changed to every other month or every month, instead of quarterly, the only reason I can think of to change this to twice yearly is to benefit poorly run companies or companies breaking the law, this isn't good capitalism , it's corruption?!

Daniel Mays — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Daniel Mays Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 No no no

Sent from my iPhone

Daniel Parry — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Daniel Parry Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 In the era where AI can generate financials "on the fly" with increasingly less cost, reporting should move toward monthly or weekly for large businesses. Continuous reporting should be the goal. This is the opposite of what should happen.

All this will do is give an edge to insiders and hedge funds that, with access to alternative data, can estimate what the quarterly statement would be. Retail investors get the shaft.

Daniel Parry — Jun 8, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Daniel Parry Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 In the era where AI can generate financials "on the fly" with increasingly less cost, reporting should be moving towards monthly or weekly for large businesses. This is the opposite of what should happen.

All this will do is give an edge to insiders and hedge funds that, with access to alternative data, can estimate what the quarterly statement would be. Retail investors get the shaft.

Daniel Porter — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Daniel Porter Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Owners (insiders) know the quarterly numbers, so as a stockholder (owner) I am entitled to the same information. Business climate changes too fast to be uninformed for six months.

Sent from my iPhone

Daniel Wasewicz — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Daniel Wasewicz Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Daniel Wasewicz Software Engineer

It's confusing to me that a regulator for protecting investors and reducing fraud in securities would argue for less information that makes it easier to hide fraud for longer and will hurt investors. Quarterly filings are not a huge hassle so it's double confusing. The only companies that would seem to benefit are ones trying to hide information for longer? How lovely. The American stock market is strong cause of trust and freedom of information not reducing information.

Dar — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Dar Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please no no. I have little money, what I do have is invested in companies of the United States. I need to see how they're doing. Dar Wolford, citizen of west Michigan, who loves how mkts have created wealth.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Darby Hall — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Darby Hall Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This is a disastrous decision,,history tells you what will happen. Do not be pressured into this.
Thank you,
;o) Darby

Darcey Penner — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Darcey Penner Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Especally during volatile times , 6 months is too long. Quit fixing things that dont need fixing and focus on our many other problems

DARCEY PENNER

Dave Dickson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dave Dickson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quit trying to screw the common man. Keep the reports quarterly!
Thomas D Dickson, retired

Sent from my iPhone

Dave Lenweaver — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Dave Lenweaver Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Dave Lenweaver, retired. Upstate New York. Don't mess with the reporting parameters. I'm retired and can't afford to have my retirement accounts played with. There's no solid good reason to change reporting schedules unless it's to hide inside trades. Leave it alone.

Dave Orloff — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dave Orloff Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I am David Orloff, a Remote Sensing Technologist with TxDOT. This would be a disastrous step backwards. I am the first to protest government overreach, but quarterly reporting is prudent and necessary.

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

David Addison — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Addison Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 The This would open the door for even more corruption. Dave Addison, biologist, Naples, Florida

Sent from my iPhone

David Bell — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Bell Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Investors need more frequent information that just every six months. I am retired, and the bulk of my income comes from investments, so I (and my financial advisors) rely on quarterly reports to stay informed for purposes of investment decisions. This proposal seems designed to let corporations hide changes in business status for longer periods of time, which will reduce the efficiency of markets.

In short, it helps senior management (reduced cost of reporting), and hurts investors. While the Trump administration has taken corruption to new heights, the job of the SEC requires truth and clarity: to ensure that publicly traded investment vehicles are subject to clear requirements that protect investors and ensure smooth functioning of markets. This proposed rule would do the opposite of what the SEC was created to do.

In addition, the increased length of time between reports would make it more difficult for senior managers to buy or sell stocks in that it would reduce the opportunities to trade without running afoul of insider trading limitations.

Please abandon this proposed rule.

My name is David Bell, from Cleveland Heights, Ohio, a retired environmental lawyer.

David L Bell

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

David Bunce — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Bunce Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 We have enough grifters in the system now! Don’t enable more! David Bunce

Sent from my iPad

David Craig — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Craig Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This is important so we know how companies are doing so we know where to invest our money why would you want to take that away? I am 100% because this. This is does not make dollars or sense.

David Floren — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Floren Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 It's impossible to understate the high priority that the current White House and its Cabinet have placed on fraud and deception as positive social and cultural values that Americans should embrace as moral goods and incorporate into their daily business practices. Likewise it is hard to detach this new ideology of "fraud is good" from the purpose of eliminating two out of every four annual public disclosures on the part of publicly held companies. While the White House is occupied by a convicted felon whose 34 felony crimes are all crimes of deception and fraud. While many of the recent subjects of presidential pardon are folks who've been convicted of one or more criminal frauds, a fact that can mean that among the true purposes of these pardons is a strong desire on the part of the Felon-in-Chief to promote in the national mind and culture a largely positive attitude towards fraud and deception as positive business tactics that are not only not bad, but definitely should be used frequently for self-interest purposes and should never be prosecuted as wrongdoing. To turn a blind eye and shove one's head into the sand ostrich-like in the face of these incredibly strong (even if we don't like them) realities of our current political culture and this significant change being actively forced into our national morality is to ignore the underlying purpose of eliminating two out of four annual public reports. Namely, the advancement and promotion of fraudulent deceptive behavior On the part of entities subject to investor safety regulation, and the glorification of misrepresentation and all forms of con artistry as the highest form of social good that can be accomplished by any real American. Ignore these political culture realities at your peril when assessing or analyzing the appropriateness of certain changes that objectively harm investor knowledge.

Best Regards,
David Floren

David Johnstone — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: David Johnstone Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Maintain quarterly reporting. It is working just fine. leave it alone!

Dave J

David Kin — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: David Kin Quarterly reporting is an essential part of any public company's fiduciary responsibility to its shareholders. Reducing reporting benefits no one. Keep mandatory quarterly reporting in place.

David L Walls — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David L Walls Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep what you have in place, to be honest

---

David Lederman — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Lederman Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep quarterly corporate reporting. This keeps financial information most current for all investors. It is especially critical for smaller investors to have the most current information to make the important decisions about moving or not moving their investments.

David Turner — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Turner Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 David D Turner, retired I live on limited income as a retiree and my small investments are necessary. With never ending inflation I need to monitor my resources very carefully. I need the tool of a quarterly report.

Sent from my iPhone

David Wright — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: David Wright Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reports are essential for every investor, from the individual to the banking and corporate investor. Keep the playing field honest and fair.

David B. Wright, RT R

DAWN HOLLIDAY — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: DAWN HOLLIDAY Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 No delaying facts. And accountability!

Sent from my iPad

---

dblais32145 — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: dblais32145 Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 There should be quarterly reporting to ensure transparency. Only corporations benefit from this. There is no real need to make this change.

Sent from my Galaxy

Dean Vandall — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dean Vandall Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Anything that errods the transparancy that is already lacking is a huge no go. I say ney on any changes to the 1/4 report

---

Deb Cabell — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deb Cabell Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 The world is moving very quickly. A six month reporting period is an eternity. Personally I feel reporting should be more often, not less.

Deb Chevalier Stonebraker — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deb Chevalier Stonebraker Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Continuing to show data quarterly is part of the transparency process that needs to be upheld. Corporate greed and fraud happens too often now delaying reporting will only make it worse

Sent from my iPhone

Deb Chevalier Stonebraker — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deb Chevalier Stonebraker Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Continuing to show data quarterly is part of the transparency process that needs to be upheld. Corporate greed and fraud happens too often now

Sent from my iPhone

Deb Kempert — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Deb Kempert Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 They should do it every single stinking month in my opinion so NO 6 months is way to long. So much more manipulation and hiding can go on. 6 month data can easily be out of date..

Deb Schaffer — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deb Schaffer Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As an active investor, I request that quarterly reports remain. Waiting 6 months for company information is too long. Investors can't make informed decisions with old data. D. Schaffer, President, ProProject Manager, LLC

Deb Tipton — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deb Tipton Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Debra Tipton Channel Manager. Please leave reporting quarterly!

Sent from my iPhone

Deb Wilson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deb Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 AI and automation have greatly improved the speed of close and costs. Quarterly reporting could be moved to a monthly reporting cycle, so why the need to extend it?
Any extensions will erode investor confidence.

Deborah Craycroft — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deborah Craycroft Affiliation: Jun. 8, 2026 I've been paralegal for 35 years working with tax attorneys and can tell you from experience that this would be terrible for the IRS. Businesses are unable to pay their taxes quarterly will be insolvent in the future because they won't be able to make up the back taxes they will owe. Penalties and interest alone on IRS matters make our country a ton of money and we should not be giving it away to people who do not want to maintain their books..

Deborah Derrick — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Deborah Derrick Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please do not enact this semi-annual reporting requirement! My husband and I are both retired and have spent a long time building our investment portfolio with the help of our financial advisor. We rely on these investment funds to help support my disabled sister financially and help us when we need long term care. The quarterly reporting requirement helps ensure that our funds are kept safe by investors and companies without any foul play or mismanagement. This kind of frequent reporting is needed for the transparency necessary to instill confidence in investing.

Mrs Deborah B Derrick, retired grant manager, Omaha. Nebraska.

Deborah Douglas, Saint Louis University — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Deborah Douglas My name is Deborah. I'm a full professor with a 403b and am nearing retirement. The move to report only 2 times a year will devastate workers like me. The harm this may cause to non- multi millionaires+ is serious and I have to wonder if that is exactly your point.

Deborah Haaf — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deborah Haaf Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Deborah Haaf, Artist, it should remain mandatory for companies to file quarterly financial reports. The risk of losing years of savings due to semi-annual reporting is too great.

Sent from my iPhone

Deborah Manofsky — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Deborah Manofsky Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 WHY? What is the real reason for dismissing quarterly reporting? Can you say it out loud? The REAL reason.
Debbie M
Retired
Columbus, OH

Deborah Morgan — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deborah Morgan Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reports keep people informed about their money and what is going on, changes and who making the decisions. Waiting six months can be disastrous for some individuals. We need to be able to control what is ours.

Deborah Pike-Thomas — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deborah Pike-Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Changing reporting to every six months only allows any burgeoning problems to fester in darkness. Shareholders & the public need information in a timely fashion to make financial decisions. Keep the reporting quarterly.

Deborah Powell — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deborah Powell Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 We've seen what "more time" does in covering up fraud, from this current administration and their supposed Supreme leader. The crooks hire more crooks who are willing to do whatever it takes to cover things up and/or create new fraudulent transactions. It's like a cancerous tumor left longer in the body! I urge the SEC to rethink this for the health of investors of all levels, not just the upper echelon.

Deborah Thomas — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Deborah Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As a retail investor knowledge is power. We need the quarterly reports to continue. Twice a year just is not enough.

Deborah Thomas Gummere

Debra Cote — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Debra Cote Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I need Quarterly SEC reports.

Sent from my iPhone

Dee Manross Winter — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dee Manross Winter Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This is OUR money! It does not grow without OUR contributions. I want to see it each quarter.

Delia Winter, investor
Shell Rock, Iowa.

---

deerx — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: deerx Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Dr. D. Nobles-Knight, retired pharmacist Public companies should not be allowed to hide anything from the public. Why would this even be necessary unless they had something to hide? If business is being conducted fairly and legally, there is no reason to conceal facts about the financial status and health of the company. It allows for informed public decision-making in regards to investing, purchasing goods and/or services, employment opportunities, and use of funds within the company. Our government regulators are supposed to be looking out for the interests of the public, not those of the corporations they are regulating.

Sent from my Galaxy

Denise Erickson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Denise Erickson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Another example of the rich keeping the rich wealthy and the average man in the dark, not being able to make o

Money in the stock market. This is a MAGA mTove. to have a.
2 class system the wealthy and the poor. The Heritage found
Spells it out Take away everythingt
This is an unbelievable idea corrupt
Denise Erickson
I
Nurse practitioner

Denise

Denise Gray — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: SEC's new co release of profits From: Denise Gray Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Kindly provide my investment reports quarterly.

Sent from Yahoo Mail for iPhone

Denise Klein — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Denise Klein I am worried about how this could impact my personal retirement savings. I am totally reliant on my own 401(k) savings plan and have no defined benefit retirement plan (traditional pension). Social Security, if it can even remain solvent, is estimated to only replace 1/3 of my pre-retirement income, and the rest will need to be from those defined contribution plans that I have savings in, the vast majority of which is index funds. I am not a stock broker or have any expertise at all about investing, so I fear what will happen to my savings. Will these index funds tank due to the loss of transparency that results from this new rule? Will we have another Enron-like fraud debacle due to loss of transparency? While I understand the desire to encourage public companies to engage in more longer-term thinking/planning, I do have serious doubts that this proposed rule change will actually achieve that goal. The idea that this rule change even could achieve its stated goal is a mere hypothesis, with no evidentiary support, so why should we err on the side of risk, when it's my (retirement) life you're risking

---

Denise Modrell — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Denise Modrell Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 DA Modrell, retired. I want to keep as much transparency in my investments as possible so I can make good decisions with MY MONEY.
It sure seems like the SEC wants to hide the bad news that will inevitably screw investors.
KEEP THE QUARTERLY REPORTS!

Dennis Cialini — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dennis Cialini Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 There's no credible reason why public companies shouldn't have quarterly disclosures.

Sincerely,

Dennis P. Cialini

Derek Nelsen — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Derek Nelsen (Individual) The SEC has failed the investing public time and time again. They allow Hedge funds to blatantly control pricing using off lit market exchanges and naked short which hurts transparency and the investing public's ability to determine actual sentiment, and real stock prices, as well as Corporations ability to raise capital. In essence, those that work to create are hindered by systems set up to scrape profits by those who do not. The idea that Corporations should be less transparent in their filings and have to report less information less often is just another failure of the SEC to consider how it affects the investors who are actually funding these companies (passively through retirement accounts or actively through investing). Against puts the desires of the system ahead of those who pay into it. Do better. Andrew Left is just the tip of the iceberg. Heavily fine and imprison abusers of the system beyond the gains they made in order to stop the abuse. Lengthening the time between filings just helps the abusers create false narratives and profit more off a broken, unaccountable, unregulated system at the expense of the working class taxpayer who funds the SEC to protect the value of our retirement accounts.

Desiree Abraham — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Desiree Abraham Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This is not 1955 where you have rooms of accountants crunching numbers for corporate reporting. We need a minimum of quarterly reporting in our stock market. More data, not less, keeps investors funds safer and instills confidence in the US Market. Tinker with it and you will doom confidence in the market. Investors like myself will take my funds out of out market and place it overseas where politics has less an influence on it.

Desiree Abraham

Diana Dow — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diana Dow Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 The idea that you would change rules about reporting bad financial numbers right before Elon Musk's SpaceX IPO is insane. You know he's all smoke and mirrors, you know retail investors will already be hurt. If you are just bowing down to the Epstein class, know that history will not be kind to you. Search your souls for corruption and do NOT sell out the public you are supposed to protect.

Sincerely,

Diana Dow

Diana K Kelly — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diana K Kelly Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 To Whom It May Concern:

Diana Kay Kelly, retired. I have some stocks that I use for my retirement funds. Our economics change too quickly to go any less then quarterly.

Diana K Kelly

Diane Barksdale — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diane Barksdale Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Diane Barksdale, retired teacher who depends on quarterly reports to manage investment. The US market is volatile and being manipulated. I need reports to stay quarterly.

Get Outlook for Android

---

diane blair — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: diane blair Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As my husband and I approach retirement, with most of our retirement funds in the market. The thought of LESS accountability reminds me of what led to the mortgage crisis. At a time when we are seeing the market being swayed by tweets and billionaires making trades on insider information now is NOT the time to reduce accountability.

Diane Kassner — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Diane Kassner Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This has been done before and didn't work. Why would you go back to a failed policy. I am adamantly against this.

---

diane pittman — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: diane pittman Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 More " transparency " ? This is blatantly sneaky ! Let's stick with TRANSPARENCY !!! Imagine if the average American tried this . We want transparency from American businesses , more than Ever !

Diannal — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Diannal Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please keep the reporting as is. We need less chaos and more stability at this time in our country.

Sent from my iPad

Dierdre Smith — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Dierdre Smith Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Dierdre Smith, 59, Palm City, FL. Quarterly reports keep companies accountable to the shareholders, and to themselves.
A school would never grade a student just twice a year, as most of their grades would drop and many would fail. The accountability is not there, and by the time any corrections are made, the curve is too great.
Learn from past mistakes, and keep the quarterly reporting in place.

Dierdre Smith
(she/her)

Dinah Henderson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dinah Henderson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I am 81, on Social Security, and have an IRA and a small investment fund. There is no reason why the financial condition of firms should be sheltered from the public eye. Do not change the rules!
Thank you

Dinah Henderson

Dinora Cardoso — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dinora Cardoso Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 It helps me to keep an eye on my investments to have quarterly reports. Please do not change reporting. Thanks for you attention to this matter.

Dinora Cardoso

Sent from my iPhone

---

djlangfive Email — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: djlangfive Email Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 REALLY??!!!!! Come on. Corruption seems to have no bounds anymore.
My name is Diana lang. I am an investor and I don't appreciate you giving favored insiders an advantage over the rest of us

Sent from my iPhone

Don and Karen Henricksen — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Don and Karen Henricksen Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 We want quarterly reporting.

Don Blaisdell — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Don Blaisdell Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep the reports quarterly. Sounds like we are getting grifted again

-Donald W Blaisdell III

Don Quest — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Don Quest Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep reporting QUARTERLY!!!

Donald Rowat — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Donald Rowat Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Donald Rowat. Retired. Folcroft, Pa 19032. History shows us that this would be detrimental to investors and the SEC shouldn't be bowing to a power grab by the markets. Because working folks don't get a decent return for accessible savings, like we did back in the 60s and 70s, we ended up in the market risking what we toiled for just to see that diminished as well. We, the people, deserve better from our government. The United States is better than this proposal. Those associated with the grifting of our fellow citizens will be held accountable, just keep that in mind.

---

donna goldstein — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: donna goldstein Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 The savings to companies isn’t worth the cost to me. Businesses are gleaning RECORD PROFITS and it is insulting to suggest businesses need more and more and more profit, while more and more and more Americans suffer financially. This is yet just another one of Wall Street’s money grabs from Main Street!

---

donna goldstein — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: donna goldstein Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 It is insulting to suggest that corporate America, already making RECORD WINDFALL PROFITS, needs to reduce expenses.! This is yet just one more of Wall Street’s money grabs from Main Street. 2008 was bad enough but now while average Americans are hanging on by our toenails the audacity to suggest this is beyond measure!!! GREED IS DESTROYING THIS COUNTRY!

Donna Johnson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 "Securities and Exchange Commission" must be administered by a neutral party who keeps the SEC SECURE! I don't believe that the rump's nominee is the one we want guarding against fraud and abuse! He will enable it.

Donna Ludwig — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Ludwig Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 [REDACTED] no....

Get Outlook for Android

Donna Lynn Price — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Lynn Price Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Companies still have to maintain their books and answer to the board. Keep it fair and open, don't get evil.

Donna Pagan — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Pagan Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This is outrageous! It should not happen!

Sent from my iPhone

Donna R — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Donna R I am writing because I disagree with the proposed decrease in the frequency of earnings reports to investors. Many of us have retirement accounts tied to the market and would stand much to lose and nothing to gain. In fact, this road has been taken previously by the SEC and the result was dismal for investors. The SEC changed the reporting to twice per year in 1955. Investors lost big and the SEC corrected its course in 1970. This has resulted in gains for investors, which not only allows us to live better, but to better support the economy. Our families, including mine, depend on reliable quarterly reporting. Such reporting is not a burden to business. We cannot afford, especially in the economy we are living in, to see steep decreases in our gains, not individually, as families, and as consumers across society at large. If you look at the facts across countries with reporting frequencies of twice versus four times per year, the proof that quarterly reporting is better for everyone is obvious.

Donna Rogers — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Rogers Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 No we need to see your earnings quarterly,no whenever the people

---

Donna Wielgolewski — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donna Wielgolewski Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 It is important I know what is going on with my investments.

Sent from my iPhone

Donnamarie Tonelli — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Donnamarie Tonelli Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 If I understood your rationale in keeping quarterly reports quiet, perhaps I'd give it a second thought.. yeah, yeah, NO.
My name is Donnamarie, retired from Clinical Research at JnJ. I prefer total transparency and I think quarterly reporting maintains that level for all involved. TIA for your consideration of my opinion.

Sent from my iPhone

Doreen Bonner — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Doreen Bonner Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As a former compliance officer I cannot support this rule. Too much can go wrong within the six month timeframe.

Sent from my iPad

Dorothy Caldwell (Dotty) — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Dorothy Caldwell (Dotty) Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I am Dotty Caldwell, retiree and stockholder, and I object to extending corporate financial reports to six month intervals. Six months between financial reports is ripe for helping insiders gain wealth at my expense, and the expense of every one of us who rely on our financial investments to maintain a decent, not extravagant, lifestyle and to not be a burden on society or our children. Given all the concern about Social Security not being sustainable - it would be a disaster for many seniors, and a clear indication that this administration does not give a whit about any of us. It should not be implemented.

Dorothy Reinhardt — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Dorothy Reinhardt The pace of business is much faster now than in the 1950s. I want to have quarterly reporting to be maintained. I'm retired and I don't want my retirement savings to have less value.

Doug Flint — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Doug Flint Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Stop robbing from the poor to give to the rich.

Get Outlook for iOS

Douglas Needham — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Douglas Needham Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Why is it that everything we spent a century or more learning about and putting in rules to protect us from those things happening are being dismantled? I guess this is once again a case of the flawed idea that corporations are good at self-regulating, even though the evidence from history shows otherwise. But unlike things like removing the protections from corporations polluting, this one will actually hurt the oligarchs, since before the rules were changed from what is being proposed they be returned to to what we have today, corporations did not fare as well. And if the corporations do not fare as well, neither do the oligarchs nor the common person, whose retirement savings are often tied up in the same corporations.

Please don't change things back to the way they were. Say no to your petulant boss in the White House, and protect everyone in this nation.

Drew Admin — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Drew Admin Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Dear SEC,
I don't have a large portfolio, but I do have investments in a handful of companies. This thing about changing the reporting from quarterly to twice a year sounds like another Wall Street scheme to deprive us of our own oversight. I vote NO on this and ask that you will as well.
Andrew Gage,

Tucson

---

druad — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: druad Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Allowing companies to hide their books for 6 months is criminal! Why would you allow this?

Don't let this pass!!

Sent from my Galaxy

---

druad — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: druad Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Allowing companies to hide their books for 6 months is criminal! Why would you allow this?

Sent from my Galaxy

---

duff westbrook — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: duff westbrook Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Donot eliminate quarterly reporting. Enough is enough.

Eadie Kelly — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Eadie Kelly Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This is disastrous to ordinary investors. And, corrupt.

Eadie

Earl Coppinger — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Earl Coppinger Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Do not change quarterly reports.

Ed Cataldo — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Ed Cataldo Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Edward Cataldo from South Bend, Indiana. The evidence provided by KIQ clearly shows that a change from quarterly reporting to biannual increases shareholder investment risk. The SEC must not backtrack on its oversight of reporting transparency by allowing corporations relaxed requirements. Since the SEC was created in 1934 it has been their core responsibility to protect shareholders not provide advantages to corporations. Trump's 2nd administration Executive Orders are an attempt to weaken SEC independence. The potential for corporate and Executive Branch corruption of long standing norms is hanging in the balance if the SEC can not maintain its oversight independence on a quarterly basis.

Sent from my iPhone

Edward (Ned) Fitzgerald — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Edward (Ned) Fitzgerald I strongly disagree with the Trump Administration and the current SEC that this proposed rule will make for a less burdensome environment for companies in the American Stock Exchanges. History is littered with companies that have failed between investor reporting times. Example: https : / / www . thisismoney . co . uk / money / news / article-1525994 / Marconi-reaches-end-of-the-line . html The semi-annual audit is simply not enough to protect investors, particularly in today's fast-moving markets. Please reject this proposed rule change.

Edward Rollins — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Edward Rollins Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 We live in a financial jungle. No. We live in a well regulated society that can become a jungle if regulations are lax. Consumers will lose if we are not keeping miscreants from being mischievous. Keep the rules.

Edwin Kuprienko — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Edwin Kuprienko Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 SEC, keep quartely reports.

Edwin Kuprienko

Eileen Alces — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Eileen Alces Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Dishonesty. Fraud. Reasons not to do it. Quarterly is best.

Ej — Jun 8, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ej Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Emil, disabled, this matters to me because it's only going to hurt the people, the economy and the country. It's only going to help big business and the insiders with privileged information. It's just another way to make the rich richer and the poor poorer. The market and the country will be ruined. But what do I know, I'm just an autistic genius.

Elaine Cornacchia — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Elaine Cornacchia Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 elaine cornacchia, paralegal, catskill, new york. as you know, this is ludicrous and benefits no one except corporations...who are not people. Hiding the truth so CEOs and the like can take their golden parachutes and ride off into the sunset before anyone's the wiser. SEC must be governed by crooks and losers because this is only something a den of crooks would want... ask ONE REAL, LIVE AMERICAN if they want this!

Elaine Nuhn — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elaine Nuhn Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I'm a retiree depending on my investments for my daily living. Who would this benefit? Why does this look like pandering to the rich, or worse - moving to corruption?
Elaine Nuhn

Elizabeth A Scully — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elizabeth A Scully Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I’m very disturbed by this. As if you people aren’t bending the rules in every which way. We need accountability. You need accountability. Nothing good comes from not having accountability.

Sent from my iPhone

Elizabeth McManus — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Elizabeth McManus Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Elizabeth McManus, RN, CT. Keep the quarterly reporting! Hard working Americans can't afford to lose our retirement and our life savings. What is going to happen is there will be a large number of people selling and leaving the market, possibly causing a crash. How that works out has been well documented. Stop trying to hide bad news about the stock market and the economy by irresponsible tricks. Keep the reporting quarterly!

Elizabeth Neer — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elizabeth Neer Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I respectfully request that quarterly reporting be preserved, for smarter investing.

Sent from my iPad

Elizabeth Nuzum — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elizabeth Nuzum Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 my name is Beth and I am a lighting supervisor at a live theatre venue. this matters to me because I have a right to know what my investments are doing quarterly. thank you.
Beth Nuzum

---

elizabeth perkins — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: elizabeth perkins Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Do NOT change quarterly reporting. It's there for a very good reason. Accountability. Deter fraud. Satisfy investors.

Sent from my iPhone

Elizabeth Wright — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elizabeth Wright Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout the last 35 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my 403.B stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Elizabeth Wright

Sent from my iPhone

Ellie Mueller — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ellie Mueller Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Come on, keep the three month reporting. Corruption is unchecked as it is. Retired and need to keep information current as possible. Eleanor Mueller

Sent from my iPhone

Elliot & Mitzi Malet — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elliot & Mitzi Malet Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Financial security needs to be audited and watched carefully

Sent from my iPhone

Elliot & Mitzi Malet — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Elliot & Mitzi Malet Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please don't change the checks that insure no cheating.

Sent from my iPhone

Emily Moss — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Emily Moss Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Recommend continued Quarterly reporting.

Eric Furr — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Eric Furr Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I'm a retired teacher and support required quarterly reporting. Many people do not routinely monitor their investments' performance. Six months is too long to go without a required report.

Sent from my iPhone

Eric Jensen — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Eric Jensen Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Eric Jensen, American citizen,
Texas Resident:

I OPPOSE this rule change because it further removes public accountability of public companies, a disturbing trend in our day.
This is a terrible rule change proposal.

Soli DEO Gloria!

Eric Stubbs — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Eric Stubbs Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Dear SEC,

Transparency is crucial for a healthy investment climate. Making information less available reduces investor confidence and creates unnecessary challenges and barriers. It also lowers trust in how the U.S. economy is really doing, which will have a lot of negative effects. Please keep required reporting quarterly.

Regards,
Eric Stubbs

Erik Lamb — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Erik Lamb Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This would be a disastrous change for retail investors and retirees that rely on quarterly filings to adjust portfolios and make life altering financial decisions. We need more transparency not less! Do NOT do this!

Erik Westland — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Erik Westland Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Hello,

Keep the existing quarterly financial reporting rules in place! Companies should NOT be allowed to obscure financial conditions (bad or good) for multiple quarters.

Thanks

Erik Westland

Ethan Marsh — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Ethan Marsh Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Hi,

My name is Ethan Marsh, I'm manager of a Technical Publications department at a mid sized telecom company in NJ. I've heard about the proposal to drop quarterly financial reports to semi annual, and I find this alarming. Companies are already accustomed to quarterly reporting. The main impact to changing this that I can see is that it will benefit insider investors who will have more awareness of internal financials in between reports than the general public.

The claimed benefits of semi-annual reporting is that it may help smaller and mid sized companies have less reporting overhead. This is probably true, but as written, large companies could still take advantage of the semi-annual reporting option. If the intent was to benefit small and midsized companies specifically, then the rule would be tailored so that only they could take advantage. This was not done, so I can only conclude this is not the true purpose of the rule change.

Additionally, American firms have prospered under a quarterly reporting framework for decades. That being the case, I don't how else to see this besides as a gift to insiders at the expense of retail investors. And that would be bad policy almost by definition. Deregulation like this feels less like an informed strategy and more like religious dogma, and that is alarming and upsetting. I urge you to reconsider and stay with a quarterly schedule, and not allow optional semi-annual reporting.

Sincerely,
Ethan Marsh

Evelyn Hanauer — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Evelyn Hanauer Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Evelyn Hanauer, Legal Assistant-- it is very important to me to receive quarterly reports regarding my investments. Thanks.

Faith — Jun 8, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Faith Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 F Alexander
No to q6 month reporting. More frequent oversight will lessen chance of defrauding public.

Thank you,

Faith Alexander

Faith Fleming Catering — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Faith Fleming Catering Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 More than ever we need more timely oversight and accountability from our government!

Faith Fleming

Faye Stutz — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Faye Stutz Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Faye Stutz, Industrial Rehab Director.

We need to have quarterly reports, so the blackout period isn't harmful to those making investment decisions for themselves and others. We need more transparency, not less. Thank you.

Fep — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Fep Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly system stops insider trading. Keep it.

Sent from my iPhone

Fish Ofiesh — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Fish Ofiesh Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Stop stealing my money. We know you know you are theives. STOP IT. Everyone is sick of this!! I have worked since age 15, am 67. Contributed to my savings all my life.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Flights Of Fantasy — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Flights Of Fantasy Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep it QUARTERLY!!!

Sent from my iPhone

---

fouwat — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: fouwat Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 C.L. Watson, Healthcare Provider. Transparency is something that this current administration seems to frown upon based the policies it rails against as well as the actions which it favors. Transparency encourages honesty and fair transactions. I feel that this proposed action to allow a reduction in corporations reporting their activities to the SEC is merely a breeding ground for increased corruption and unfair treatment towards the average working person. Please stop the assault on John Q Public. This democracy cannot continue to exist if the average American is getting beaten financially at every turn.

Fragrant D — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Fragrant D Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 There is no sound reason to change the reporting requirements. This will make it harder or more costly to find fraud.

Fragrant D — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Fragrant D Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 There is no sound reason to change the reporting requirements. This makes it easier for fraud to happen and longer for it to be found. Do not change the reporting rules.

Fran Grzybowski — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Fran Grzybowski Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Dear SEC members, I rely on quarterly earnings statements for planning my budget during retirement. Keep this transparency for all individuals who have worked hard their whole lives to save these earnings for the future. If this 6 month reporting goes into effect, it will encourage corporate corruption and keep consumers in the dark.

Francis Shurina — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Francis Shurina Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reporting is essential to keep the accountability of mangers of peoples accounts and to keep the owners of these accounts informed in a timely manner. NancyHughes-Shurina
Retired

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Frank J Perruccio — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Frank J Perruccio Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 There is far too much fraud in our country, from the very top on down! Granting fraud a longer window of anonymity defies logic, has no basis in sound financial management, and is a benefit only to to those committing fraud. Please don't allow this disastrous plan to become the next albatross in our financial system.

Frank J Perruccio

Sent from my Galaxy

Frank J Perruccio — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Frank J Perruccio Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 There is far too much fraud in our country, from the very top on down! Granting fraud a longer window of anonymity defies logic, has no basis in sound financial management, and is a benefit only to to those committing fraud. Please don't allow this disastrous plan to become the next albatross in our financial system.

Frank J Perruccio — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Frank J Perruccio Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 There is far too much fraud in our country, from the very top on down! Granting fraud a longer window of anonymity defies logic, has no basis in sound financial management, and is a benefit only to to those committing fraud. Please don't allow this disastrous plan to become the next albatross in our financial system. Frank J Perruccio. Owner, Surf Dog Enterprises LLC

Sent from my Galaxy

---

frank powell — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: frank powell Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 We need more transparency not less!! Keep reporting requirements quarterly.

Fred Justice — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Fred Justice Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Do it!

Fred Zickrick — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Fred Zickrick Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reporting is more important than ever, espeecially now with more insider trading violations.

Frontier Security — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Frontier Security Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 DON’T change the reporting schedule!!😡😡😡

G A Tubo — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: G A Tubo Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Already a lot can happen in the months between reports, cutting down to every six months is not adequate
Ali Tubo
Outreach Manager for public agency

G B — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: G B Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly trends provide reviews into a company's strategic plan and how their executing when compared over time.

If you don't have that view then Insiders are more able to to delay information, data and the outcomes while their able to sell their internal stockholdings

---

G B — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: G B Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I’m Gary Blower. A factory worker from Kentucky. I hope you will not change the quarterly reporting of earnings. I’m losing faith in a system that continually promotes the interests of big business and billionaires and leaves behind average, ordinary citizens.

Gail Battaglia — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gail Battaglia Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Don’t change the way things have been done. Keep the reporting quarterly.
Gail Battaglia

Sent from my iPhone

Gail Hanson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gail Hanson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Gail

Hanson. My husband and I are retired. Our net worth is about $1M, which includes our still-mortgaged home and a managed portfolio. I think lengthening the report runway increases the opportunity for shenanigans and actually makes the process of reporting more complicated. I think reporting should remain quarterly. Thank you.

Gary Ryan — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gary Ryan Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Gary Ryan, retired, as an individual investor data is everything. Do not cancel quarterly corporate reports

--
Gary Ryan
[REDACTED]

Gary Daniels — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gary Daniels Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Continue monthly personal details of the businesses do not ignore any businesses… We need to have someone on the outside checking up on every business to keep them honest.

Gary OConnor — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Gary OConnor Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 The growing lack of transparency and accountability among publicly traded companies is very troubling, and this proposed change would add to that trend. As companies focus more on short term profits at the expense of R&D, it is increasingly difficult for investors to select companies focused on long term growth, especially when hedge funds and private equity firms can gain control of companies and strip their assets relatively quickly. As a retired CFP I am acutely aware of the need for timely and accurate information on which to base investment decisions.

I have lived, worked and invested in rural East Texas away from financial centers too long to not be aware of the need for timely reporting of company information and increased, not decreased public availability of transparent information.

Gary R. O’Connor

Sent from my iPad

Gary ryan — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gary ryan Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Gary Ryan, retired, as an individual investor data is everything. Do not cancel quarterly corporate reports

---

Gary Stauffer — Jun 8, 2026

Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Gary Stauffer So, you want to change the quarterly reporting requirement? Why? What will be the net benefit to investors? If the history of semi-annual reporting is even remotely correct, and semi-annual reporting was discontinued in 1970, then it appears that there could be a catastrophic drop in investment value. So, where does that 'value' go? If it is not coming to me in some form, it obviously is going to someone else. Can you tell me to whom that might be? Like my grandpa liked to say, "if it ain't broke don't fix it".

---

gayle partmann — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: gayle partmann Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please retain quarterly reporting… don’t give corporations more time to manipulate their numbers without oversight.

Gayle Partmann

Gene Rochelle — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Gene Rochelle Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I’m retired I’ll pull my money out so fast it will make your head spin and so will millions of people. That makes it something like Dow 25000

Gene Rochelle

Gene Smith — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gene Smith Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reporting! Nobody needs a free pass to hide what they're up to!

~GeneSmith~

George Sullivan — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: George Sullivan Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Maggie Sullivan, Retired administrator. I’m not in favor of this change. It will reduce transparency and allow for fraud to go undetected for a longer periods. It will reduce investment data so important for determining how stocks are performing and whether they should be included in stock choices. Such could be devastating to investors and retirement accounts. In addition, optional implementation means it is not serious and will only be desirable to shady investment managers.

Gerard Jones — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gerard Jones Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 What is wrong with transparency? White all the insider trading we have witnessed over the past few years, why would you do this? Blinding the public is not the way forward! I expect answers to my Questions.

Sent from my iPhone

Gina Griffith — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gina Griffith Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Us history majors know how subtle but horrendous the econimuc results of big corp deceit can be!

Gini Mauchly Calcerano — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gini Mauchly Calcerano Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I recently retired from a career in rais8ng money for non profit colleges. In this world where data is collected and analyzed in real time, there is NO REASON that overall results should be hidden from publication. Regukar folks who are small investors in PUBLIC companies are owners who deserve to know what's going on. I have heard no compelling reason thar reports should be limited to bi annual, something that will benefit insiders greatly. Billionaires win again! Please don't change the rules. Signed, Gini Calcerano in Pennsylvania.

Gini Mauchly Calcerano

Ginna Schenk — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ginna Schenk Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I depend on quarterly reports for my finances. Please continue our quarterly notices.

Sincerely,
Virginia Schenk

Sent from my iPhone

Ginny Brien — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ginny Brien Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reporting gives investors more clarity on what companies are doing. We should keep it.

Grateful for rain that splatters rose colored leaves, for courting lizards with party balloon necks,
for laughter and tears and time in this beautiful world.

Glenn Coogan — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Glenn Coogan Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Stay in the Light, too much can happen in 6 months

---

gpfeiffer1 — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: gpfeiffer1 Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Really std idea. Why is less information better than more information. Investors have a difficult time as it is keeping up with how and what companies are doing. Now the SEC wants us to get even less. This is absurd.

George Pfeiffer
Retired Professor of Economics and Investor

Greg — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Greg Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep the current rules Sad to say corporate managers are not to be trusted. There must be transparency

Sent from my iPhone

Greg Henderson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Greg Henderson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Greg. I am a data analyst in Maryland. This matters to me because companies need to provide transparency to the public so they can make informed decisions with their dollars about future profitability, risks, etc. They are a public company. If they wanna not disclose things, then be private.

Sincerely,

Greg Henderson

Greg Sousa — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Greg Sousa Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 For crying out loud, why do we have to make the same mistake over and over again? Quarterly reporting. That’s the standard, don’t lower the standard.

Greg Thomas — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Greg Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Greg Thomas, Cumberland , md
Everyone knows this is criminal and those involved, like those in the Epstein files, will soon be brought to justice.

_____
Greg Thomas

Gregory O — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Gregory O Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Gregory--teacher
It's almost as if capitalist and bureaucratic elites want to erode trust in the financial system. Otherwise, what could possibly go wrong decreasing transparency! Shameful!

Greyling Gentry — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Greyling Gentry Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 The corruption and shameless thefts perpetrated by Trump and his criminal cabal are outrageous.

Quarterly reports are our only peek into the operations of financial behemoths that keep most of us solvent through old age. Greed must not be allowed to threaten solvency.

NO CUTS TO QUARTERLY REPORTING!! The SEC should monitor even more closely to reduce risks to the nation's financial health.

Sincerely,

Greyling Gentry, retired Regulatory Affairs professional

Guy Ivester — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Guy Ivester Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 From:
Steven Ivester
Retired stockholder

Changing reporting requirements to biannual instead of quarterly is a blatant capitulation to corruption and theivery. Put this proposal in the trash can where it belongs.

Sent from my iPad

Gwen Innes — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Gwen Innes Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please keep reports quarterly! Transparency is essential. I live in Tacoma, Washington, and my husband and I are retired living on retirement income. This matters to us!
Gwen Innes

Sent from my iPad

Hambre Lives — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Hambre Lives Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This is crazy. They should no be allowed to hide bad data. -Mike Harper, Project Engineer.

Sent from my iPhone

Hamza Fahad — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Hamza Fahad Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Dear SEC,

My name is Hamza Fahad, and I am a warehouse worker in Chicago. I have been a market participant for 4.5 years now, and I depend on quarterly reports to make investment decisions. Cutting this in half would be a disaster for me.

Best Regards,
Hamza Fahad.

Harry Spratlin — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Harry Spratlin Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Harry Spratlin, U.S. Citizen
Our country is being overwhelmed by corrupt people who want to take illegal shortcuts to wealth. Let's close the door on this obvious unacceptable overreach. Protect quarterly reporting!

Heather Kelly — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Heather Kelly As a small business I know better than most that quarterly reporting puts a bit more work on the docket for businesses. I DO think it is imperative that you keep the quarterly rule in place especially since INVESTORS are involved. It would be one thing if the business was beholden to no one, but any business that gets government money or has other businesses rely on them for reporting to make financial decisions, please continue to have them REPORT. You must keep the scales balanced. I would be happy to comply when my business allows me to work with investors. We need the law to benefit everyone and not just the insiders. I vehemently believe the USA needs to keep the quarterly rules in place heather killeen — Jun 8, 2026

---

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: heather killeen Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This is a terrible idea for PEOPLE.
Corporations arent known for their integrity and forthrightness.
We have crooks buying politicians with corporate money, and you think this is a GOOD THING?
MAYBE FOR BILLIONAIRES, ALL 10 OF YOU.
TERRIBLE FOR THE PEOPLE.

Heather Smiley, Candidate, U.S. Rep in Congress, MI-6 — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Heather Smiley If DOGE has taught the government anything, it is the power of data and how it can be used to expose waste, fraud, and abuse. Quarterly filings are ‘pulse checks’ for companies, their boards of directors, investors, and stakeholders, but are also a means to enhance credibility, attract investors, enable access to funding, ensure market sector(s) security/solvency, etc. Where International Financial Reporting Standards, Generally Accepted Accounting Principles, etc. exist as foundational criteria, so should quarterly reporting. If/when looking for opportunities, it should be on multinational harmonization opportunities - NOT reporting frequency. Because accounting/reporting software, and infrastructure already exists to file quarterly, there is no appreciable cost savings to businesses to file biannually, but there is a continued benefit of corporate & public transparency. I am strongly against transitioning to biannual reporting (optional or otherwise), and respectfully request that the SEC cease & abandon consideration.

Heidi Arbury — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Heidi Arbury Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I’m Dr. Heidi Arbury, and I am still working as a substitute teacher because of financial necessity. Even though I am almost 67. I don’t want another market crash like 1929. Do your job and protect us by insisting on more transparency. Not less.

Sent from Heidi’s iPad

Henry Bremers — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Henry Bremers Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Financial transparency is key to financial integrity. Keep the quarterly reports.

Heywood Sloane — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Heywood Sloane Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Transparency let's inevitable bubbles, fraud, and bad management get discovered and corrected faster. There is no reason not to require monthly reporting to improve that. It's not like the information isn't available internally and even daily. The SEC is supposed to protect investors, not protect inside traders, criminals, and incompetent managers.

Hillary Burwell — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Hillary Burwell Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I am so sick and tired. People of power need to stop working for more corruption and more screwing over consumers to line their pockets. This provides the robber barons of 2000's ways too rob citizens and in the end of it all of this greed will lead to another depression. Just stop this 'ish

---

Holden — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Holden Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I'm Reece, a simple, financially savvy line cook in Michigan. I am frugal and max out my ROTH retirement contributions every year. It's very hard to save that much, but I do it for my future. Please don't squander it.

Quarterly corporate reporting helps to keep everyone accountable.

Holly Hellberg — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Holly Hellberg Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Every publicly held company should continue to be required to make quarterly reports to the public and their shareholders. This ensures transparency and compliance.

Howard Lazoff — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Howard Lazoff Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I have been an investor since I was 14 years old, more than 50 years ago. I don't have a fancy research department and newspapers are less reliable than they once were. All I have to go on are quarterly reports for the purpose of research. More data adds to better conclusions. So, please do NOT change the standard of quarterly reports.
Signed, Howard Lazoff
Data acquisition at UPS

Howard Prager — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Howard Prager Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Reprehensible

Sent from my iPhone

HUGH MC DOWELL — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: HUGH MC DOWELL Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keeping the reports quarterly will insure transparency and responsibility. Most companies report to their stockholders quarterly so it is a task they would already be doing. By sending in quarterly reports to the SEC, it will add credibility and trust to those companies, two qualities we can never have too much of.

Sincerely,

Hugh McDowel
527 W 14th St
Tempe, AZ 85281

Hushmail — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Hushmail Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Yes, semiannual is a good thing. Manufacturing of all kinds is driven hard to meet or exceed projected earnings, internal and external. This means that time horizons for mid and upper management won’t even attempt to see beyond their collective noses. It would be a boon to all industry to make more moves for the longer term benefit of everyone affected.

Sent from my iPhone

Ian Hyde — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ian Hyde Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Dear SEC,

Quarterly reporting is necessary for investors to be able to make informed decisions when choosing to back a company; and for the public to keep corporations accountable and transparent. Please reject any proposed rule changes which allow for less frequent reporting to the SEC.

Respectfully,

Ian Hyde

Ian O'Briant — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Ian O'Briant Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Good morning,

I am Ian O'Briant. I am a father of three, working as a software sales account manager in the State of South Carolina.

I'm writing to strongly urge the Securities and Exchange Commission to reject any idea that less transparency and reporting from business interests in the USA will have positive impact on the systems that the majority of working Americans rely on for retirement savings and wealth generation.

Any proposed or perceived benefit from less frequent reporting from corporate interests in the USA is far outweighed by the potential risk of loss to ordinary Americans that trust your authority to hold those institutions accountable to the truth of their ongoing revenues and business performance on a quarterly basis. Historically, semi-annual reporting has led to risky moves that can be hidden without the requirement to report financials, leading to diminished returns and loss for the average investor.

Please leave the rules as they are. The American people are counting on you.

Many thanks,

Ian C. O'Briant
Public Sector Account Manager | The Carolinas | Georgia

Ilana Pratt — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ilana Pratt Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I think companies need to be more transparent, not less. They already get up to shady things in a three month span, broadening the period to every six months would embolden even more bad financial behavior.

Imran Malek — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Imran Malek Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Ron, I am an attorney in Boston and I strongly believe that quarterly reporting provides a necessary level of transparency and oversight for public companies that allows investors to make informed decisions. With innovations changing the market so quickly, why would we want the American public to kept in the dark for half a year?

Ir Ritant — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Ir Ritant Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This a poor proposition. It will only result in opaque reporting and obfuscation. Investors will be shortchanged. This did not work before and won’t work now. Stop the madness.

Jim Hampson

Iris Nielsen — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Iris Nielsen Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 No you've messed up enough things. Leave this alone

---

ixelbalamke93 — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: ixelbalamke93 Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I'm a retired. I need to know how the markets are doing for my investments. Keep them at quarterly. What is it that you are trying to hide if you don't offer quarterly reports.

Lisa Coffin
St Michael MN

Sent from my Galaxy

J Gail Schwartzer — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: J Gail Schwartzer Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Dividends should be on a quarterly basis!! All shareholders deserve quarterly information @ a minimum!

Sent from my iPhone

J- Reed — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: J- Reed Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 A bunch of crooked criminals!! Stop the nonsense and insider trading!

Sent from my iPhone

Jack Pearlie — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jack Pearlie Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 STOP the criminals from stealing mote wealth. If they can't live on their salaries and benefits, send them home!

Jackie Langlois — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jackie Langlois Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I want to be informed up to the moment of where my money is so no more delays on reporting.
JCLangloisRN,MSN

Jackie

Jackie Ortega — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jackie Ortega Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Do not take us backward and please hold companies accountable to at least quarterly financial statements. Who is this to benefit? Protect consumers and investors.

Jacob Ray Gilman, CTO — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Jacob Ray Gilman We went to semi-annual and then quarterly reporting for a reason, companies should be transparent about their financials to investors. Financial markets perform most efficiently when there is not an information asymmetry.

Jacqueline Bubes — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jacqueline Bubes Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 No. I want open accounting accessible quarterly. I won’t invest in anything that HIDES the state of the investment

---

Jacqueline Figueroa Morales — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jacqueline Figueroa Morales Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I need to keep my money for retirement please don't steal from me.

Jacquelyn Smith — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jacquelyn Smith Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 No needs to be quarterly

Sent from my iPhone

James Burns — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Burns Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 James Burns, working in a public traded uniform service company. Allowing companies that use their own stocks or are traded in 401Ks to hide internal issues harms those who have a smaller amount of funds that dont have the access as those higher up. The public needs reliable and timely information so my retirement is have invested in is not ripped away

James Burns

James Dallas — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: James Dallas Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Dear Commissioners,

I have a Fidelity 403b account through my employer, Vanderbilt Health. It is invested in several domestic stock index funds.

I believe less transparency on the part of public corporations is bad for all investors. Even for passive investors such as myself, changing reporting rules affects us because less information harms the market overall. Paradoxically, less public information means that insider information will become more valuable, thereby incentivizing insider trading and other fraudulent behavior.

Please do not change reporting rules!

Thank you,

James Dallas

James Eick — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Eick Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Carol Eick, retired, from Michigan. Quarterly reporting needs to stay! Please keep the transparency we deserve so Americans can make informed decisions.

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

James Fancher — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Fancher Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 We are quite used to quarterly reporting by now; but if we had our 'druthers', we would get reports every month. My financial advisors report to ME every month; for a corporation, monthly would likely REDUCE some of the burden, because quarterly reporting leaves a longer period during which adverse (or positive) changes need to be explained... In any event, SIX MONTHS IS TOO LONG!

James Gillette — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: James Gillette Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Going from quarterly reporting to semi-annual reporting is a really really really std idea. I am frankly surprised it wasn't proposed earlier.

James Hay — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Hay Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Companies are committing enough infractions as it is. Rehire all those people you let go so you can continue quarterly monitoring.

James M. Langer Jr., Professor and Artist/Actor — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: James M. Langer Jr. As a longtime investor, I believe we must have quarterly reports to safeguard our ability to make informed decisions. I mange about $4 million in retirement and other funds. I would be suspicious of buying stock in companies that avoid quarterly reports.

James Oltmans — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Oltmans Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I'm James Oltmans a software engineer. I sometimes do retail trading.

I don't think anything good will come of the new Form 10-S filings and that the decreased frequency will harm consumers. Please do not adopt this rule change.

James Orlet — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: James Orlet Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is James

Orlet Sr, and I am a retired public school administrator. I live in Milford, Michigan just outside of Detroit. I am writing to request that you continue the requirement of quarterly reporting. This has proven to be the most effective way of keeping investors updated and informed of developments, both in their portfolios and in the market. Please consider this as you go forward with decisions about our investments. Thank you for your consideration in this matter

Sent from my iPhone

James Thomas — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: James Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As an engineer who invests, I do not support letting companies go six months between reports. This lets them hide things, gives insiders another advantage, and puts workers at more of a disadvantage.
James Thomas

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

James Wise — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: James Wise As a small investor I believe more frequent and closer scrutiny is warranted. This is especially true with the current levels of insider trading being reported.

Jamie Curtis — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jamie Curtis Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Mrs. Jamie Curtis Retired military widow. PLEASE consider the common investor.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Jan Pienezza — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jan Pienezza Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My husband and I are retired. We want to continue receiving quarterly reports to determine if we need to change where our money is being invested. Having to wait for 6 months is too long. Thanks. Rocky and Jan Pienezza.

Jan Pollard — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jan Pollard Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Janice Pollard, retired with savings in stocks. Please don’t do this. The stock market is scary enough without these shenanigans.

Sent from my iPad

Jan Rahmani — Jun 8, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jan Rahmani Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reporting is the only way that makes sense in order to keep companies accountable. Shareholders need the information in today's fast moving world.

Janet Rahmani's I Phone

Jan Smith — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jan Smith Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reporting provides a time-honored way to ensure rules are followed, honest mistakes are caught and dishonest mistakes are prevented. Quarterly reporting must remain in place so that every company is following the same principles.

Sent from my iPhone

Jandi Glaze — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jandi Glaze Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Everyone must be given their fair share. If this blackout isn't, then go back to the drawing board, or don't fix what isn't broken.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Jane Broussard — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jane Broussard Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 From: Jane Broussard-Retired Teacher, current investor-Re: Continue to mandate quarterly reporting.

To Whom It May Concern:
Please continue to mandate quarterly reporting. Six months is a long time to hide financial information about a company. All kinds of things will go wrong if you allow companies to hide their financials for increasingly longer periods of time-It gives them time to commit fraud, continue fraud, hide debt, hide lawsuits, and it will be the investors who are in the dark who will be hurt by this. Insiders will know to sell or to buy and everyone else will be left holding some bad stock. Can you imagine if Enron would have not reported their financial information for 6 months? Longer periods of no transparency will make fraud grow for longer periods of time. Don’t let this happen. This will become the norm if the SEC allows it. Don’t allow it. There is very little money to be saved by a company for only showing the financials twice a year and the losses are likely to be felt by people who are not involved in insider-trading. I’m asking you to protect investors like me, so that we don’t lose our retirement to some shifty business practices.

Jane Broussard

Jane Teply — Jun 8, 2026

Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jane Teply Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please do not change back to reporting only twice a year, especially because it threatens investors returns!

Sent from my iPhone

Janet Freed — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janet Freed Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This needs to remain at 3 months. We need as much transparency in this as possible. 6 months provides way too much room for corruption!!!

Janet McIlwee — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Janet McIlwee I am vehemently AGAINST S7-2026-15. As an individual investor, this rule will make it impossible to make timely decisions about investments. While I utilize the services of an investment advisor, with our life savings at risk, I follow our current and potential investments closely. That includes company quarterly reports. This rule eliminates timely informed decision-making and only benefits the companies that sell investments in their companies publicly. These companies could have serious downturns and investors would have no idea for months. In my opinion, it would allow for more corrupt insider dealing; is that the SECs end goal? This administration seems hell-bent on profiting the wealthiest while leaving everyday citizens to wallow in fears of affording essentials not just today, but in the future. My family is a Hard NO" on S7-2026-15

Janet Skinner — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Janet Skinner Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep the reporting as it is. Less frequent reporting is ripe for corruption by this administration!

Janet Skinner
Palm Harbor, FL

Janice Menear — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janice Menear Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As a stock holder I do not think it is a good idea for this bill to pass. It would delay current information and allow possible time for corruption which is prevalent enough as is. Please vote against this bill. Janice A Menear retired teacher

---

Janie Jones — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Janie Jones Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reports are the bare minimum. In this fast-paced world, more and more occurs in a shorter period of time...both good and bad. Please don't allow longer periods of time for required reporting to become the norm.

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Janna Lipstein, MBA — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Janna Lipstein, MBA I am commenting on the proposal as an individual investor. In our current environment (financial, economic, technical and political), change is happening rapidly and investors should be aware of the state of a corporation more often, not less. With the current pace of change, 6 months is an eternity. With less information, investors are unable to make informed decisions.

Jason — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jason Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Jason, Tech Support, I need that information to make informed decisions on investing

---

Jay Carr — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jay Carr Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Transparency is essential for maintaining a secure retirement system. Please continue to require quarterly reporting.

Jean — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jean Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 We have a right to know what is happening with companies our futures are invested in. You do not have a right to hide what you're doing. The only reason to need this is to hide fraud ans corruption

Sent from my iPad

Jean Morris — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jean Morris Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Jean Morris, retired corporate marketing and communications executive.

There is no reason to change SEC reporting to bi-annually except to benefit insiders and protect companies making poor decisions.

Please keep SEC reporting on a quarterly basis. This is the only way stockholders can keep abreast of changes within companies in which they hold stock.

Respectfully,
Jean Morris

Sent from my iPhone

Jean Anthony — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jean Anthony Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 No continue quarterly reports. I want to see what is happening in my 401's at least 4 times a year. It is a disgrace you want to make this change.

Sent from my iPhone

Jean Cataldo — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jean Cataldo Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Nope

---

Jean Mills — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jean Mills Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Jean Mills
Disabled

Quarterly reporting is important to investors and analysts because of its role when gauging a public company's current financial position and its projected long-term health. These reports can also be used to compare previous quarters to verify the stability of the company to date. Answers found in these frequent reports can help guide

Quarterly reporting on publicly held companies is an invaluable tool when determining where to invest one's money.

this matters to me because I worked in the banking/stock industry. In particular, we all had to keep clear of anything remotely connected to even the possibility of insider trading. Whenever a company can hide for any lengthy period of time it just adds fuel to the idea that one can get away with illegal moves. Plus, is there a undeniable reason to change the reporting requirements -OR- is this another request from DJT and his regime?

Jeanne Joers — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jeanne Joers Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Just another BLOW from a WANNABE dictator in the OO…Looking to squeeze the dwindling middle class out of their pittance of savings or any ability to stay in the game of life. It's the killing of the common folk trying to survive this sorry excuse for leadership.
These are my own words that probably won't mean a darn thing or go any further than the first person to read them.
..The Market is RUN AND RULED by those with money who CANNOT GET ENOUGH.

Sent from my iPad

Jeannie Gard — Jun 8, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeannie Gard Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Kerp this quarterly! How the hell can we make decisions about our 401K if we only have information twice a year? No company would allow this for their own business!

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

---

jeff Burton — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: jeff Burton Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This is criminal fraud to allow any entity to hide their financials for 6 months!

Sent from my iPhone

Jeff Tapper — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeff Tapper Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 If you want my hard earned investment money, I need immediate transparency. Without shareholders, you are nothing.

Jeff Tapper

Jeff Tieger — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeff Tieger Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reporting keeps investors informed in a timely manner. 6 or 12 reporting keeps investor in the dark until the negatives have taken place.

Jeffrey Jenkins — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeffrey Jenkins Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Do NOT approve the change from quarterly to semi-annual filing!
Enron. WorldCom. Madoff. The run-up to 2008. Every major modern accounting scandal was enabled by gaps and opacity in financial disclosure. Quarterly filings don't prevent fraud, but they dramatically shorten the window in which it can fester before someone outside the company can see it. What if Enron only had to cook their books twice a year?

Jennie Whittaker — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jennie Whittaker Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Jennifer Whittaker, Retired Executive Assistant, I have retirement savings stored in investment accounts and mutual funds. People simply must be able to track their savings more than TWICE a YEAR. Especially with the volatility of the markets with our current administration, that causes wild and sudden swings in the value of our savings that we LIVE ON, so we can plan things like selling or purchasing a home, traveling, holiday expenses, even monthly budget planning, etc etc etc. Please do not reduce the reporting requirement to twice a year ONLY - too many retirees like me could wind up suddenly BROKE - but NOT EVEN KNOW IT. This is irresponsible and lazy, and not in line with accurate financial reporting, in any sense of that phrase. Thank you.

Jennifer Gilley — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Jennifer Gilley I already deeply dislike and distrust the idea of a 401k to begin with. It is extremely limiting with its choices enforces me to invest in things that I don't believe in.. Blocking out six months at a time of reporting is just going make it worse. I don't have to invest in a 401k I can invest in literally anything else. If this passes, I will fully no longer trust the system , and I will invest in something else that is not stocks or bonds or treasuries or businesses. You don't get to borrow my money if you're this bad with it and then want to hide how bad you are with it. The employer match is not worth this idiocy.

Jennifer Jenkins — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jennifer Jenkins Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I will not be able to exist on what they've done to Social Security. My deferred compensation account with NYS retirement is something I will need to survive. With the age discrimination, I don't see a rosy retirement in my future. Leave my account alone!!! Jennifer Jenkins, elder looking for work...

Jennifer Maassen — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jennifer Maassen Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Investors must be informed, not kept in the dark at any time! This proposal is blatantly wrong and reflects the rampant corruption in the government, the corporate sector, and the financial sector. Where is your sense of decency?

Jennifer Jordan
Sent from my iPhone

Jennifer P — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jennifer P Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Jennifer Patel wife, mother, nurse
Keep companies reporting at minimum quarterly - should be more often!!

Jennifer Peery — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jennifer Peery Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 keep quartet reports! da it.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Jennywrensthreadnest — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jennywrensthreadnest Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reports matter! Don’t let fraud waste and abuse slip through the cracks. Accountability is vital to ensuring we have a strong economy.

Sent from my iPhone

Jeremy — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jeremy Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly updates are so very much important in being able to see whether a company is performing well or not. Without it it becomes more guesswork and deciding on what stocks and how many shares to hold on to.

Jerry Collins — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jerry Collins Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 No you people screw the people enough, while all of you make millions we make pennies, why don't you have the companies let the people make more instead of loosing more than we gain

---

Jerry Papania — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jerry Papania Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Transparency is required for investors to make informed decisions. Quarterly reporting enhances investors’ decision making process. Reducing reporting requirements benefits corporations only and limits information available to investors. I am a retiree with most of my assets invested in equities. Timely information is necessary to make informed investment decisions.

Jim and Marilee Rhoads — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jim and Marilee Rhoads Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reports are important to me in reviewing my portfolio. I want those company’s to continue reports quarterly.
Marilee RHOADS
Retired

Sent from my iPhone

Jim Kutz — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jim Kutz Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep the quarterly reports.

Jim Kutz

Jim Stuller — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jim Stuller Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 require more corporate financial reporting

Thank you

Jim Stuller

---

jimrabe1 — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: jimrabe1 Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As an investor, removing this requirement gives companies more time to hide fraud. Please don't institute this policy.
Thank you
Jim Rabe

Sent from my Galaxy

JJ Hackenburg — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: JJ Hackenburg Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Hello,

My name is JJ Hackenburg from Columbus, Ohio, and I am writing in support of keeping quarterly reporting. Quarterly reports keep our economy transparent and fair, reducing fraud, corruption, and insider trading that would weaken our economy and erode our financial institutions. Everyday Americans deserve to know up to date information on the companies they are investing their hard earned savings into, so the proposed rule changes in S7-2026-15 would be a disservice to the American people that primarily benefits select individuals in the know of any given companies' actual performance. I could see the potential merit in adjusting the rules for very small companies for which the reporting is a genuine burden to growth and innovation, but that is not the case here, as the rules changes are too broad and destructive.

Best,
JJ

Jo Higgie — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jo Higgie Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Jo Higgie, retired computer analyst. Keep companies accountable to the public. As a customer of many years, I was witness to the failure of Washington Mutual, a once respected company. Had there been more transparency this might have been avoided.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Joan Cichon — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Joan Cichon Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Time has shown that more frequent reporting is better for the economy. Don't go back to old laws that didn't work. Knowledge is power.

Thank you,

Joan Cichon

"New beginnings are often disguised as painful endings." — Lao Tzu.

Joan Fred — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joan Fred Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Juanita Fred and I am retired. I have been involved in the stock market for many years. I look forward to seeing the quarterly reports of my investments. I am requesting that quarterly statements remain as is. I find this as one of several tools used for making decisions about investments. Thank you for your time.

JoAnn Wright — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: JoAnn Wright Unless changing reporting time-line benefits the American public keep the reporting intervals at quarterly.

Joanna Rucker — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Joanna Rucker Please keep the quarterly reports.

Joanne Chicco — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joanne Chicco Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Can I pay my taxes every other year. Stop this stupid idea that has nothing to do with saving money. It's a necessary business expense like some taxes. NO. TO THIS IDEA. So that's what the new fed promised the PIG in exchange for the job. It wasn't the interest rate that PIGGY was trying to manipulate no nono no no no

Joanne Chicco

Austin Tx

Joanne Hankin — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Quarterly Reporting Proposed Changes From: Joanne Hankin Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Joanne Hankin
As a retiree I depend on my CFA to advise me quarterly.
Therefore; please maintain quarterly reporting.
Thank you

Sent from my iPad

Jodi Marken — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jodi Marken Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Im sick of oligarchs and sycophants running ruining our economy and destroying our country put checks and balances back in place!!!

Joe Chasse — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Joe Chasse Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Why WOULD YOU change this rule? What the HELL are you people thinking?

Joe Kennedy — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Joe Kennedy Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I, like many Americans, rely on an investment management company to maintain my retirement savings. I also own some shares of corporations myself, and I read the disclosures. The less transparency, the more I worry.
I'm not alone.
If the SEC moves away from quarterly disclosure, I will work to convince all investment firms to move away from stocks. Gold, silver, bonds,... these are all perfectly legitimate investments.
Ultimately, this will hurt US corporate competitiveness.
Joseph Kennedy
Instructional Designer
Fargo, ND

Joe parrott — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joe parrott Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Joseph M. Parrott, retired. My funds for retirement are mainly in S&P index funds. I feel 6 months is too long to wait for financial reporting. I also object to another proposed change; we should not revert to the 1955 reporting criteria.

Joe Smid — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joe Smid Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reports. In these fast times we can't turn the lights off reporting for longer.

Joe Tirado — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Joe Tirado Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep the quarterly, going to semi-annually costs the investors money while the corporations rake in the bucks!!! STOP BENEFITING THE CORPORATIONS WITHOUT THE PEOPLE YOU HAVE NOTHING WITHOUT THE INVESTORS YOU HAVE NOTHING!!!

Joel M. Thomas — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Joel M. Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 The evidence from countries that only do semi-annual reporting seems to show that quarterly reporting is important for a healthy market that prevents companies from hiding worsening news and limits insider trading. Forecasting, however should not be necessary.

John — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: John Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Results should be made public each quarter. Do not start a semi-annual reporting.
John Livingstone

John Amer — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Amer Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 More time that you don't know whats going on!!! You are broke by the time your next statement get to you!!!

John Atwell — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Atwell Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 The Republicans and billionaires care ZERO for the American people!!!! Much more regulation is needed.

---

john Barrett — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: john Barrett Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As a former bank VP, and having been trained as an economist, I can confidently say that this is a very counterproductive idea. Solid decisions require data as current as possible.

Sent from my iPhone

John F Meshna — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John F Meshna Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Peole have a right to know what is being done in their name with their money. we are admeocrsayc ntio an oligarchy. Keep the reporting time pride as they are go further by making sure they are very granular so everyone can see what's gong on,. any tea approach means you are protracting criminal behavior and you are criminals as well. Our government is supposed to be for and about us, not protecting royal money.

John Meshna
Cecily Andrews
River Meshna

John Fleck — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: John Fleck Affiliation: Jun. 8, 2026 John Fleck
School Counselor
Tarrytown, NY

This is a bad idea. And with so many Americans struggling right now a lot of us have already dipped into retirement savings, to potentially lose half would be devastating. Also my parents are 81 and 85 years old and this could potentially wipe them out. Don’t do this, please.

Sent from my iPhone

John Gibson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Gibson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 John Gibson, Sr. Tecchnologist-Solutions Architect, Engineering & Recording, Inc. The propsal will create “less than attractive”, and limited data harvesting for accurate economic forecasting. It is simply a bad and potentially disruptive idea with poor timing while on the verge of AI manifestation.

John Gibson
_____

John Kelly — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Kelly Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 No

Sent from my iPhone

John Meshna — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Meshna Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Peole have a right to know what is being done in their name with their money. we are admeocrsayc ntio an oligarchy. Keep the reporting time pride as they are go further by making sure they are very granular so everyone can see what's gong on,. any tea approach means you are protracting criminal behavior and you are criminals as well. Our government is supposed to be for and about us, not protecting royal money.

John Morrow — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Morrow Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I am confused as to why transparency is not being a top priority. I see no reason to allow any entity to conceal negative information. Please do not allow this. John Morrow

JM

---

john petersen — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: john petersen Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reports are necessary for transparency

Sent from my iPhone

John Spence — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Spence Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 John spence, carpenter/ industrial mantinance tech,it's not fair for all the big companies that already control a big piece of wall street to get that much more it'll hurt yall in the alot comes from a come up

---

John Williams — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: John Williams Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As a retired person I person who supplements my living costs with investments I urge you NOT to reduce reporting requirements for public companies. You need to strengthen the oversight to decrease insider trading, not loosen it

---

Jon Gundling — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jon Gundling Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please do the right thing and care about the average guy, not just the billionaire.

Jon Kline — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jon Kline Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reporting is a cornerstone of accountability. Accountability is what has made the US market the world leader. We should not be making changes that reduce companies accountability to investors.

Jon Kline
Cinematographer

Jon Spangler — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jon Spangler Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please DO NOT REDUCE corporate reporting and accountability requirements.

As an investor in the US economy and former stock owner, I want to see even more transparency from corporations than we have now. Reducing the reporting period from quarterly to twice a year takes us BACKWARDS. This would be unwise in the extreme.

Investors need to be able to fully track their investments and the companies they own for fraud, competence, performance, environmental and social responsibility, and other metrics. Publicly-traded corporations need to show their performance at least every quarter to the public and their investors for us to have continuing confidence in the companies in which we invest our hard-earned dollars. Transparency and accountability are key requirements to the continued success of US-based publicly-traded companies: they are patriotic values that should always be furthered and expanded, not restricted, for our continued economic health and vitality.

Quarterly disclosures are one of the normal and acceptable costs of offering publicly-traded stocks to investors.
Please DO NOT REDUCE corporate accountability and transparency from the current quarterly requirements.

Thank you for your consideration and fidelity to the public trust.

Jon Spangler

Linda Hudson Writing

"The bicycle is just as good company as most husbands and, when it gets old and shabby, a woman can dispose of it and get a new one without shocking the entire community." — Ann Strong (1895)

Jonathan Wingo — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Jonathan Wingo Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Why should the SEC allow businesses to only report twice a year to investors while the IRS requires quarterly reporting and payments from businesses and many individuals?

Jonathan Wingo
Vice President, Hilton
Florida

Jonelle Hilleary — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Jonelle Hilleary In this current investment environment we need more transparency, not less. "Investors" like me, the ones who have worked for years to build up 401(k) balances and hope for pension planners who are honest and cautious stewards about where they park our money, depend on the Securities and Exchange Commission to honor their role in keeping corruption out of our future. My name is Jonelle and I'm turning 71 in a few months. I'm close to being able to start drawing my retirement savings. I'm trusting what I've worked hard for and planned on will still be there... intact! This proposed change violates that trust. Full transparency is our only leverage against unscrupulous insiders and deal makers that don't care of we lose on their trading. Don't make this change, please. Thousands of my colleagues, neighbors, and our families are depending on you.

Joseph DiNicola — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joseph DiNicola Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep reporting profits quarterly
Joseph DiNicola Ceo DiNicola Enterprises

Joseph Pena — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Joseph Pena Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Don’t allow it ! It is just another of Trump’s pump and dump Scams.

Sent from my iPhone

---

joseph penton — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: joseph penton Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 [REDACTED] NO!! This Oligarchy is corrupt and shady enough.

JOSEPHINE CONTY — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: JOSEPHINE CONTY Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This is dangerous for everyone because if the consumer does not have as much disponible income they will not be able to buy goods and services which will also harm the Stock Market. Let remember the 1929 market crash when no rules were in places. Money has to flow so all ships will rise.

Sent from my iPhone

Josh Phillips — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Josh Phillips Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Josh Phillips, Senior Management Analyst at a major hospital, and I have been investing since my teens in the late 80's. Investing doesn't work without accountability. Reporting quarterly is the bare minimum requirement for a company that requires investment. In my career, reporting weekly on progress is the minimum to ensure business is on track, and that is also how progress goes off track, week by week. I need visibility into a businesses status on a timely basis so that I know that business is being a good steward with my money and results are as expected. Just as I am asked to deliver results and document them regularly, I expect the same of any business that I place my trust.

Thank you for your consideration.

Joshua Geek — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joshua Geek Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep the quarterly filing as an investor it make a lot more sense to have frequent filings so I can track my investments better

---

Joshua Rasmussen — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Joshua Rasmussen Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As an investor and a corporate finance professional, I can say without a doubt, this is a terrible idea. We have seen over the years that without proper guidance and regulation corporations are incentivized to push the envelope and push boundaries. Quarterly reporting is working just fine, don't fix what isn't broken.

Josh Rasmussen

Joyce L. Walton — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joyce L. Walton Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Joyce W., retired Healthcare Worker. STOP trying to hide what companies are doing and what the amount of money they make. We have a right to know!!! We help build and keep these companies running, IT IS OUR BUSINESS TO!!!

J. L. W.

Joyce Newman — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Joyce Newman Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My husband and I want to keep our quarterly reviews. We are retired and we keep a close eye on all investments.

Sent from my iPhone

Judith Koch — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judith Koch Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Responsible reporting is critical to the Financial Health of OUR nation! STOP allowing lies, graft, etc.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Judy Fox — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Judy Fox Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please don't change the current reporting requirements. Quarterly reporting will hurt small investors.
Not everyone has online access to these accounts.

Judy Lawson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judy Lawson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 There is absolutely no reason to change from quarterly reporting except to try to hide nefarious dealings from the public. Stop this now and stay with quarterly reports.

Thank you!

Judy Palmieri — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Judy Palmieri Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reports are already minimal

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Julia Smith — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Julia Smith Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please leave the reporting as it is. We citizens are tired of being ignored. Please don't add to our frustration. Keep the SEC as it is. Julia Smith, Monroeville Indiana

---

Julian Christopher Geritz — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Julian Christopher Geritz Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Julian Geritz, and I've been a Senior Sales Specialist for REI, at their Berkeley location, for more than a decade. Transparency is the most necessary element when it comes to investing: it allows those participating the option to make more timely adjustments to their portfolios, and most importantly, it encourages those in senior positions at companies to consider the impact of their decisions (and therefore, take less risk with what amounts to the wealth built on the backs of investors) more regularly throughout the year.

The statistics and data are clear: quarterly disclosure is better for investors, and foments stronger, healthier relationships between companies and their shareholders, which is the backbone of American business.

Please maintain the quarterly system, not only for the investors now, but for the investors (and the country) of the future. We will all be better for it.

- Julian Geritz

Julie Solwold — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Julie Solwold Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reports are crucial to one's ability to determine the strength of one's investment dollars, and critical for successful financial security over the years. Why would you change the opportunity for consumers to have access to timely information on their dollars invested? It's their security, not yours.

Sent from my iPhone

Julie Thanem — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Julie Thanem Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 It's more Americans Bank Robbery !! Why is this even a possibility! Blindly stealing & no tax to support our country! Wrong on every level!

Juliet Headrick — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Juliet Headrick Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please don't bow to big companies. Keep this a Democracy.

Sent from my iPad

Jx Fx — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Jx Fx Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 If you allow this to happen those of us not in high positions of the federal government or friends of those in high positions will be hurt irreputably. This reeks of corruption to the highest level.

Sent from my iPhone

Karen Drexler — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Karen Drexler Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 If Warren Buffett objected to changing quarterly reporting - then I'm with him! I have investments that I am relying on in retirement. The history is pretty clear on the fact that that twice a year reporting will reduce my earnings. Six months is too long to be in the dark.
Karen Drexler
Gastonia, NC

Sent from my iPhone

Karen Gayda — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Gayda Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reporting is necessary for investors to know how their investments are performing in a timely fashion. Without it, they cannot respond to market changes quickly enough

---

karen girard — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: karen girard Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Karen Girard, retired, living in Massachusetts. I want to have quarterly updates on companies I am invested in.

Karen Huysers — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Karen Huysers Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Karen Huysers, school secretary, NJ. As an investor, I want to see quarterly statements. I can't be privy to the day to day operations of a company I invest in but I can see how they did on a 3 month basis. To switch to a 6 month report means 3 months of malfeasance could go on without anyone being aware. My investments are the key to my retirement and don't want to take a chance on that. Regulation is not always bad!

Sent from my iPad
--

This transmission is intended only for the party to whom it is addressed and may contain privileged and confidential information. If you are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that any use, dissemination or copying of this transmission is prohibited. If you have received this transmission in error, please notify us immediately by telephone and return this transmission and copies to us. Thank you.

Karen Klink — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Klink Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 No to changing Sec from quarterly please

Karen Klink

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Karen Materise — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Materise Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep the reporting quarterly
We do not need any further fraud, waste and abuse.

Karen Materise

Sent from my iPhone

Karen Nelson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Nelson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Karen Nelson, and I am an ordinary person. Information matters, and hoarding it is only useful for those wanting to hide something. This attempt to hide this information cannot be allowed.

Karen Nelson

Karen VanWettering — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Karen VanWettering Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 To be fair and transparent to all investor types, the quarterly reporting must continue. Quarterly reporting is good hygiene for both corporations and investors alike.

Karen Van Wettering

Karen Waurzyniak-Hogg — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karen Waurzyniak-Hogg Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep the reports quarterly. My husband would miss them and so would I.

Karen Waurzyniak-Hogg
James Hogg

Karyn King — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Karyn King Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please DO NOT amend the SEC quarterly reporting rules with an extension of the accounting for retail businesses. As a retired Customer Service Representative and investor in stocks and bonds, the reporting rules project a modicum of confidence in best practices. All profit and loss decisions should be made with an eye to ongoing growth. Your oversight is essential to safeguard the public welfare. Vote NO.
Karyn King

Karyn King

Kat Kingsley — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kat Kingsley Affiliation: Jun. 8, 2026 I am a wheelchair user so out of the gate I'm concerned about knowing which officials healthcare corporations and insurance companies are supporting. If these officials get elected they will 'owe' the companies that supported them. Which means voting against policies that will protect and improve my healthcare, my neighbors healthcare, my mother's healthcare along with everyone else.
As the wife of a train conductor, for one of a handful of railroad corporations, I'm concerned about who these companies may support with their corporate money and the unsafe policies they will try to push through. For instance, currently on freight trains there must be at least a two person crew. Many railroad companies would like to see this changed so these massive trains carrying what could be dangerous material to a one person crews. They could then fire half of their engine staff while putting the other half in elevated safety situations, while increasing their profit margin.

As citizens we must know in a timely manner what corporations are supporting candidates with millions/billions of dollars. Those candidates will be working for us if elected. However, time and time again we've seen representatives backed by gun lobbyists vote against gun reform while the number one cause of death in children in the US is gun violence. We've seen representatives backed by health insurance companies vote against healthcare reform even though the number one cause of bankruptcy in the US is medical debt. We've seen representatives backed by industrial, coal and tech corporations who vote to pull back environmental protections and regulations along while denying climate change and disregarding the value of clean air, clean water and natural ecosystems. We must stop giving corporations and their wealthy benefactors a pass. Please, do not change the policy regarding these financial releases. For the good of the entire nation we must be informed of what companies are funding various candidates so we know who these candidates owe and the policies they will support.

Kat Kingsley
40, Elkhart, IN Disabled
Domestic Engineer

Kate McInnerney — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Kate McInnerney I urge you not to allow publicly traded companies to report only twice per year. As a retiree, I rely on those reports to manage my investments.

Kate Sparks — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kate Sparks Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This change would allow fraud to go on longer before discovery. And would also give an advantage to insiders over the average John Doe stock holder.

Katherine North — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Katherine North Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This rule effectively expands the insider trading window and should be illegal.

Kathi Geukes — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathi Geukes Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Kathi Geukes retired factory worker….I am so tired of big corporations screwing over the workers so they can get richer!! How much money can you take to your graves its?? ENOUGH ALREADY!!!!!!!!

Sent from my iPad

Kathleen Bartholomay — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kathleen Bartholomay Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 NO! Why should Trump get to erase our money while constantly taking ours for his personal use? ABSOLU. TELY NOT! What gives him this right to destroy lives??? If he does this we should all sue to regain our financial stability. This impacts actual lives, its not some abstraction! This would potentially tip us into poverty! And for what??? Using what law?? Kathleen Bartholomay 12834

Kathleen Burcham — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathleen Burcham Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly earnings reports are imperative for investors, analysts, and the stock market. Many things can happen in a short amount of time, and six-month intervals are too long. I worked 26 years as an accountant, and these quarterly reports should continue.

Kathleen Burcham

Sent from my iPhone

Kathleen Dolan-Valdes — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathleen Dolan-Valdes Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Kathleen Dolan atty. That's outright theft and an invitation to MORE dishonesty. Takes long enough to make an SEC complaint and now you want to give thieves time to transfer ill-gotten gains until they can't be traced!!! You KNOW it's foolish AND WRONG!

Kathleen Sainsbury — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathleen Sainsbury Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 We need to maintain quarterly reporting. It’s in the best interest of the people. People first! Do not pass that!
Kathleen Sainsbury

Kathryn Harper — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kathryn Harper Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Tried it once? Don’t try it again.
Must you destroy everything?

Sent from my iPhone

Kathy — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathy Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 No

Sent from my iPhone

Kathy Gray — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kathy Gray Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 PLEASE DON'T ALLOW THIS TO HAPPEN. AS A RETIREE THIS WOULD ONLY LEAD TO CORRUPTION AND THEFT OF OTHER RETIREES' MONEY AND WOULD CAUSE GREAT ECONOMIC DEPRESSION.

Kathy Lloyd — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kathy Lloyd Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I’m retired and worked hard. I want to know there is oversight. Keep monitoring quarterly please

Sent from my iPhone

Kathy Pearson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kathy Pearson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 At a time when oversight is at an all time low bordering on nonexistence, do not reduce it further. This industry needs tighter, closer oversight, not less. The temptation to cheat and lie becomes too great for the best of them, which we are all pretty sure is a low enough number, indeed. Do your job the way you're supposed to. This administration will come to an end and it has afforded the majority of American voters a tremendous learning opportunity, which if we're lucky, will begin a period of political enlightenment. I understand the temptation to steal as much as everyone can before the door of opportunity slams closed but do your job as intended or you may be required to answer for it.

Kathy Phelps — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kathy Phelps Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Do NOT let this regime break anymore systems that have been working for the good of OUR CITIZENS Investors!! They do NOT know what they are doing!!
This matters because I am retired and cannot afford a drastic loss on my investments to my 401k or Roth accounts!!! Please STOP this regime from damaging us further!! KEEP the Quarterly Reports and do NOT change anything!!
Thank you!
Kathy Phelps, Lakewood WA

KATHY SOLBERG — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: KATHY SOLBERG Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 If my Social Security gets cut by $500 a month in 6 years and then my retirement account also gets cure by 1/3, it'll be welcome to the Poo rHouse for me.

Kathy Solberg — Jun 8, 2026

Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kathy Solberg Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 If my Social Security gets cut by $500 a month in 6 years and then my retirement account also gets cure by 1/3, it'll be welcome to the Poor House for me.

Kathy Stahl — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kathy Stahl Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As a retired teacher, I am 100 per cent AGAINST the idea of Congress voting to reporting active workers' and retired workers' income only every 6 months. A better plan would be to report our income every 4 months. The best report plan would be every 3 months. Kathryn M. Stahl, M.A. , retired school teacher. I taught French and Spanish in junior high and high school Ohio & Michigan from 1974-2014. Now I live in California. a2kathy@yahoo.com. Cell Phone: 734-353-0456.

Sent from my iPhone

Kay Bruening — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kay Bruening Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Publicly traded companies in the USA must continue to disclose on a quarterly basis to protect the retirement investments of millions of Americans. The SEC must continue its role in keeping investors informed so that they can make intelligent decisions about their life savings and protect their families' futures. KS Bruening, associate professor, central NYS

Sent from my iPad

---

kayandel piterpater — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: kayandel piterpater Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reporting is very important as an individual stock holder for my decision making and to keep companies honest.

Keith Farthing — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Keith Farthing Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep the reporting as is or make it monthly and eventually weekly.

Keith E Farthing

Keith Williams — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Keith Williams Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reporting is an integral part of keeping investors informed. Dropping the quarterly reporting requirements will hurt investors and have a negative impact on the economy. This will hurt more people than it benefits. Quarterly reporting requirements should be kept.

Kelly & Eric Luther — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kelly & Eric Luther Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please continue the act of quarterly reporting for all publicly held companies. It’s timely and helpful for investors.

Colleen Luther, CPA
West Chester, OH

Sent from my iPhone

Kelly Hall — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Kelly Hall In a nation where it's routine and unremarkable to get multiple status notifications for the delivery of a box of goods or even the delivery of a meal, it's preposterous to consider mere quarterly filings an onerous business activity. Companies have been efficiently complying with the existing rules for over 90 years, from when the noun 'computer' was a job title, decades before electronic data processing let alone artificial intelligence. If publicly-owned companies want to participate in our nation's widely trusted and world-renowned securities markets, it's trivial to require them to disclose quarterly their relevant business data. If companies do not wish to disclose such data, these companies remain free to enjoy private ownership or to take advantage of other securities markets in the world.

Ken Fetting — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Ken Fetting Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reporting needs to be retained. Businesses are better run when their reports are created quarterly.
Kenneth Fetting, Facilities Manager

Kenneth Johnson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kenneth Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Any move in the direction of LESS transparency is a bad idea in my book. Please reconsider this course of action. Investors need more info, and more transparency, so we can make educated decisions about our retirement portfolios.

Kenneth J, Colorado Springs, CO

Kenneth Kennerly — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kenneth Kennerly Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Dear Congressmen: please vote to keep the current quarterly reporting of investments,Americans are already economically struggling. The preceding time when bi-annual was tried was. A disaster!

Kenny O'Brien — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kenny O'Brien Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Corporate greed has to stop! Corporations like people (since the court case giving donation rights to corporations!) have to be held accountable!

---

kent taucer — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: kent taucer Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 How in the world can the current governing board of the SEC think that it is an advantage to either the Public at large or the smaller investor (whose 4O1 K's and small pensions are largely tied to both the price of Treasury Notes and Bonds and directly to the performance of private companies) could benefit from doubling the time frame when those instruments are required to report their earnings or losses? ...This can only help the investment groups who, out of the gate, would love more time that they can play fast and loose with the investors savings , before their mismanagement (or even possible malfeasance) comes to the attention of their investors...Retired Health Care Worker who worked 45 plus years taking care of sick or injured Americans in underserved areas of the West, and who has been a conservative investor for all those years..Kent Taucer MPA, OTR

---

kentucky parkis — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: kentucky parkis Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Karen Parkis. I work for the NYC DOE. They invest in Wall Street back to companies. We need quarterly reports so that we know our investments are going in the right place. Keep the quarterly reports. You work for the people not the people work for you.

Get Outlook for iOS

Kermit Severson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kermit Severson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I think companies need to do quarterly reports to keep shareholders informed.

Sent from my iPhone

Kester Bruno — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kester Bruno Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly

Sent from my iPhone

Kevin Fortune — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kevin Fortune Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 We need Quarterly checks on where our investment(s) lie. We can't allow them to lie to us by omission for a second.

KEVIN KELLY — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: KEVIN KELLY Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I am a proud member of the Republican party however, this grifting needs to be STOPPED. Congress sits on the hill and takes advantage of insider trading. Having said that, affording corporations an additional three months to manipulate their numbers and increase their personal wealth. I have a nice portfolio of stocks and real estate that I worked very hard to build using annual reports and other public information. Most citizens do not receive a hand out.

Sent from my iPad, Ginna Kelly

Kevin Maranville — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kevin Maranville Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Are you crazy? No group, organization or industry that self regulates ever does what's good for the consumer or customer. Keep 1/4 Lu reporting.

Please excuse any spelling or grammatical errors as this was Sent from Kevin Maranville's iPhone

---

Kevin Swallow — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kevin Swallow Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please keep reporting on a quarterly basis. Less accountability would be a disaster.

KIM DEVITO — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: KIM DEVITO Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Why are you giving insiders time to dump their stock while screwing American's? This is blatant corruption towards American's yet again! You already slow companies like black rock to break all laws while you screw American's. This would allow more of it! Disgusting!
Kim Devito

Sent from my iPhone

Kim Easley — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kim Easley Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please keep our reports quarterly for proper transparency.
Kim Easley (retired AP French teacher)

Kim Gilman — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Kim Gilman Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Kim Gilman. I am a private school teacher in Las Vegas, NV. I will not receive a state pension at retirement. My retirement is self- funded by my investments and 401k contributions. I am already at a disadvantage for having been out of the work force for 13 years to raise children and care for aging parents. I need quarterly reporting to be able to protect my investments so I don't end up living in poverty after I retire. Keep the public accountability of quarterly reporting mandates.

Sent from my iPhone

Kim Randall — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kim Randall Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reports help consumers make important decisions about their financial futures. This practice needs to be continued. Kim Randall, retired, Montana

---

Kimberly Rolina — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kimberly Rolina Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Kim Rol, sec needs to maintain quarterly reports because it is the only way investors can knowledgeably guide their investments. A lot can happen in 4 months.

Sent from my iPhone

Kirsten, retired — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Kirsten Please do not change quarterly reporting investors should be able to see how a company is performing before deciding to invest.

---

kl_meyer — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: kl_meyer Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep the reports quarterly. We have a right to know how our investments are doing in a timely fashion. Kelly Meyer, retired Registered Nurse.

Sent from my Galaxy

Kris Barnes — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kris Barnes Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 The proposal to end quarterly reporting in favor of semi-annual financials is dangerous, wholly unnecessary, and insupportable. This action would reduce confidence in the SEC, public company financials, and the stock market. Speculation would rise as hard economic financial data became less timely. The SEC would be implementing a policy which would tilt the market towards inside information (and likely wealthy investors) at the cost of the base populace. Its institution would reduce market transparency, increase market bubbles, and may generate substantially more market instability.

Christopher Barnes
Retired Financial Professional with 45 years experience

---

krista toups — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: krista toups Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 ABSOLUTELY NOT!! This waa tried before and it cost the investors, not the govt.!! These companies have been able to produce their documentstion for 50 years and are paid to do so. This would put the little bit of my hard earned money in jeapordy. ABSOLUTELY NOT!!!
Krista Toups
Locations Scout
Thibodaux, La

Kriz Family Mark — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Kriz Family Mark Affiliation: Jun. 8, 2026 I am a self-investor and NEED my quarters to make sound financial decisions. I DO NOT want to have to wait six months to see a report, a lot can happen in those months. Stop, Stop Stop thinking.

Mark Kriz
813-843-4020
1411 East Comanche Avenue
Tampa, Florida 33604

L D — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: L D Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Sorry, after the Great Depression of 1929 and the financial collapse in 2008 both under Republican leaderships, I may add, the public does not trust these public companies because of the "liberal" manipulation of "insider trading and fraud" that the public will not be aware about. Financial disclosure is important here. This "commission" is supposed to enforce laws against "market manipulation" and Trump is trying to get rid of the law and not be held accountable to the People! We will not be a part of, yet, another "crime" scene of his! This "commission" is on public grounds and the public has a right to know about "insider trading and fraud" in our markets. Transparency seems to be missing word in all of this. Enforce our laws in a civilized society! Mrs. DeRosa, veteran widow of WWII.

L Swan — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: L Swan Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 6 months is too long to wait for information. This doesn't save companies money. It only costs small investors. Retiree - L Swan

---

Larry McLaughlin — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Larry McLaughlin Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Don't let companies hide their results1

--
Larry McLaughlin

Larry Trencher — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Larry Trencher Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep the transparency and accountability of quarterly reporting.

Larry Trencher

Laura Clark — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Clark Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I think it would be a terrible idea to switch to bi-annual reporting for stocks. This is a great way for everyone to lose faith in investing in the stock market without insider trading festering for even longer than it does now.

Please don't make things worse.

Dr. Laura Clark, San Diego

Laura Crisco — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Crisco Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Such a bad idea. This will help companies hide bad business practices. Fraud, insider trading and corruption are basically encouraged by allowing companies to hide reports. There’s no accountability for companies, they are only rewarded with big tax breaks while U.S. citizens struggle.

LC

Laura Jones — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Laura Jones Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Laura Jones, Michigan, Investor.

I, and much of my family, are invested personally in the market. We are rethinking our investments within the US for two reasons; the NASDAQ rule to permit unprofitable recent market entries into it and this proposed change to reporting. Both of these rules have the effect, unintended or not, of making smaller investors lose value. Confidence will be lost, and reliability removed. The Us market will cease to be a place of solid investments. We will see eroding shareholder value and eventually wealth transfer up to poorly managed companies.

The point of the SEC is, in part, to act in ways that exactly do not create this result. The proposed rule change seems counter to your duty and charge as a commission. I think proceeding with this rule change is foolish and the long term consequences for the entire market severe.

Laura Jones

Laura Korte — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Korte Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Laura Korte, Retired. As an investor, I require the quarterly report to assist me in making decisions with my portfolio. Keep the quarterly report!

Laura McHenry — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Laura McHenry Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Stop. Just stop. Leave it well enough alone.

Laura Riegel — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Riegel Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As a retired person it is very important for me to keep track of my investment portfolio. Market conditions can change quickly, quarterly review is necessary to keep track of company performance.

Laura Riegel

Sent from my iPad

Laura Williams — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Williams Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Laura Crick, disabled. This is an extraordinarily terrible idea. This era of abandonment of oversight has already led to record-setting corruption. This foolishness will only exacerbate that issue.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Laura Wirkkala — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laura Wirkkala Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Protect the people, not private business. This can ruin retirement accounts and so much more. We need transparency.

Laura Wirkkala

My motto is, " When in doubt, add twenty more colors!"

Kaffe Fassett, Glorious Knitting, 1985

---

lauren benjamin — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: lauren benjamin Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This seems like a recipe for disaster. We need more oversight of unhinged corporations, not less. -Lauren Benjamin, educator

Sent from my iPhone

Lauren Holden — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lauren Holden Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 If the American public over concern about this pulled savings to protect it disastrous things would ensue. Protect our savings !

Sent from my iPhone

Laurie Giampietro — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Laurie Giampietro Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Don't do this to normal American citizens who are dependent on these reports to keep our tiny investments on track for retirement. Hedge fund money management has enough of the wealth.

Laurie Hines — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Laurie Hines Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I'm Laurie and I'm retired. I want QUARTERLY reports because I need to keep my nest egg safe. The more we know the better decisions can be made . Billionaires should not be the only ones who get timely financial data.

Lawrence Lambert — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lawrence Lambert Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As a longtime individual investor, both through IRA accounts and a stock portfolio, I am urging you to maintain quarterly reports. This policy has worked for individual investors for over half-a-century and there is no viable reason to change it.

Lawrence Lambert
Architect
New York City

Lea Luckett — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lea Luckett Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As a 25 year financial services industry professional and someone who held Series 24, 7, and 63 licenses, this proposed rule change is beyond unacceptable. We have been down this road of deregulation before and it ended in disaster for the retail investor. Your job is protect the public from dishonest and unscrupulous behavior in this industry. Do not make this change to appease the billionaire class. The key to making investing accessible to the average investor is frequent, accessible, and accurate data. This rule change is the antithesis of that principle.

Sincerely,
Lea Luckett

Lee Ann — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lee Ann Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Full transparency! The more frequent the better.

Lee Courtney — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lee Courtney Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I started a company in Silicon Valley during the 1987 recession. Ran that company a successful exit in 1999. Experienced the dot.com bubble disaster up close at another (successful) technology start-up, along with the 2008 financial crisis.

This change in reporting is 100 times worse than those financial calamities, and directly lead to more financial loss for ordinary Americans, and accelerate the already increasing pace of income inequality in the U.S. Reporting requirements are already minimal and an integral part of corporate financial processes. This reporting changes accomplishes nothing more than making the financial system more opaque and prevents informed investing by and solid returns to most Americans.

Do NOT make this change!

Lee Courtney

P.S. Why are we allowing the Space-X IPO to go forward with such flimsy and unsupportable assumptions that will only benefit a SMALL group of insiders and share-holders? There should be a robust and comprehensive standard for the honesty and transparency of IPO assumptions that are based in reality and sound financial thinking. Not wishful inflated estimates.

Lee Erwin — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lee Erwin Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please don’t alleviate the quarterly reporting, especially for public companies. We have the Sarbanes-Oxley Act for a reason. Business do financial reporting to the leadership as a rule. It’s nothing for them to share that with you, the entity responsible for their oversight.
Sincerely,
Vernie Erwin
Retired Engineer
Huntsville AL

Sent from my iPad

Leo Erickson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leo Erickson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Its very important to know what is happening in order to make decisions. Please maintain reporting as it is. My family depends upon it.

Sent from my iPhone

Leo Ruzicka — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comments to From: Leo Ruzicka Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Leave reporting alone, just gets things messed up. Only the end people lose out!

Leon Mooney — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Leon Mooney Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I'm retired and these quarterly reports are extremely useful to my wife and I to keep track of are retirement money. Please keep the quarterly statements for reporting our retirement status. Thank you. Leon Mooney

Sent from my iPad

Leonard Koberg — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Leonard Koberg Quarterly reporting is critical to managing my financial well-being.

Les Gorsuch — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Les Gorsuch Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Hi SEC, Making this change is another example of hurting the working people and favoring the corporations. Enough is enough!

LESLIE ANN TREMAYNE — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: LESLIE ANN TREMAYNE Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As an investment professional, I find this idea reprehensible and unfair to the average investor. Continuing quarterly reports is important to fairness in the investment industry and holds investment professionals accountable for their investment advice and support at all levels. Weakening this only benefits the wealthy and industry insiders.

Sincerely,

Leslie A. Tremayne, ST278
Regional Leader

NMLS ID #: 2175476 CO License #: 100531256

Direct Phone: 720-613-4483

Mortgage Branch Office: 6105 S Main St, Suite 200 B, Aurora, CO 80016

Representing: Primerica Mortgage, LLC, Colorado Mortgage Company Registration, NMLS# 1723477, Regulated by the Division of Real Estate
EQUAL HOUSING OPPORTUNITY
https://nmlsconsumeraccess.org

In the US (except in NY) term life insurance products are underwritten by Primerica Life Insurance Company, Executive Offices: Duluth, Georgia. In NY, term life insurance products are underwritten by National Benefit Life Insurance Company, Home Office: Long Island City, NY. Securities are offered by PFS Investments Inc., 1 Primerica Parkway, Duluth, Georgia 30099, member FINRA [www.finra.org]. If you wish to opt out of future commercial emails, please reply with the subject "Opt Out" to this email address and copy us_marketingadvisory@primerica.com.

Leslie Todd — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Leslie Todd Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Leslie Todd. I live in Texas. Twice a year reporting didn't work out well. I'd like my investments to make money and quarterly reporting helps investors.

Sent from my iPhone

Lewis Smith — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lewis Smith Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Lewis, college student (Veteran), KS. Absolutely not! Quartly reports are the only reason I am even remotely going to invest my savings in a corporation. Special rules for thee and not for me. The SEC has repeatedly failed to regulate a fair and transparent economy while millions are struggling in America. Billions of dollars are being slashed for corporate billionaires while they lay off thousands they have officially became a net negative for the general populous.

What are they producing? not jobs
If we did see job growth what was it from? H1Bs not even americans
Who contributes more taxes? not billionaires

If this ruling goes forward liquidation comes next.

Lexi Schwartz — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: SEC Comment From: Lexi Schwartz Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Alexandra Schwartz soon to retire. Budget will be even more important to know how my 401k is doing.

Lexi Schwartz

Lezlie B. Lopez — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lezlie B. Lopez Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Too many companies, institutions and public figures work to keep their financial records from public scrutiny. This needs to stop. . It erodes public confidence in all of these public facing entities. Stop the slide, keep reports quarterly.

Libby Claridge — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Libby Claridge Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please, let's learn from history. Quarterly reporting is imperative to the economic health of our country & the future of the country.

Elizabeth Claridge
Retired
Tucson, AZ

Sent from Proton Mail for Android.

Lili Ehrlich, Data Scientist — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Lili Ehrlich When public filings go quiet, big institutions and insiders still find ways to gauge how a company is doing. It is the everyday investor, working from what is public, who gets left in the dark. No doubt the Everyman will suffer financially from this recklessness.

Lillian Romero — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lillian Romero Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Lillian Romero, account executive
This issue is important to me because as I get closer to retirement I want to know how the companies I'm investing in are performing. The ability to make financial decisions with accurate and timely information is critical.

Linda C — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Linda C Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Wall Street wants to creinvestos& the little guyli

Robert & Linda Capps

Linda Dienberg — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Linda Dienberg I am retired with what I thought was enough for a good while. This change to filings will impact my (and everyone's) ability to grow what little money we have. My expenses have already gone up so much, I can't imagine what I'd do if my income decreased. Please don't do this! Linda Dienberg Retired after 54 years of work

---

Linda Franzman — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Linda Franzman Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 There is absolutely zero justification for reducing reporting! Im retired and living on a pension. They need frequent reporting to estimate risk! When this happened in the 1950s, our savings were reduced by a third. Reduced reporting would not benefit anyone… unless, there is something to hide.

Is that why they want to do this? Is someone hoping to play games and get away with something before anyone has a chance to find out??

Isn’t the current administration supposed to be “ the most transparent administration in history”??

This change would be the exact opposite of transparency. I will pull all my investments if this moves forward.

Please do not change the reporting period or requirements.

Thank you,
Linda Franzman
Florence, Montana.

Linda Fulton — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Linda Fulton Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Do not ruin America savings for the rich to get richer,hold companies accountable.

Linda Goodrich — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Linda Goodrich Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please respect the investors, we want more transparency, not less.

Linda Henry — Jun 8, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Henry Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Dear WEIMC, I am retired and of course on a limited income. I would want to keep watch over our public utilities quarterly. I think it only right we see these issues as they happens and can address them in a timely manner, thank you. Sincerely, Linda Henry

---

Linda Langford — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Langford Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 If anything, the public needs more access to investments in these time. I am retired and I need to know what is going on with the market. Our leaders seem to want to hide what they are doing. There more and more sneaky gigantic companies working together behind the scenes to make more money.
Linda Langford, retired.

Linda Lotz — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Lotz Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 In this new digital world in which AI helps with micro-buys on the stock market, the investing public needs more information, not less. This move could reduce trust in companies choosing to report twice a year compared with those who decide to continue reporting quarterly. LL, Marlton NJ (retired and monitoring the market)

Sent from my iPad

Linda McDonald — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Linda McDonald Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 L. McDonald retired Forensic Scientist, IN. Investors need timely financial updates, waiting a full year can be too risky. I prefer watching for operational issues or growth trends BEFORE an annual report. Plus transparency reduces surprises to my portfolio.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Linda Saiidifar — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linda Saiidifar Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Linda Saiidifar and I am a retired educator. I strongly disagree with changing the reporting period to once /six months. That is entirely too long. It needs to remain a quarterly process to ensure transparency and honest reporting. I appreciate the opportunity to express my opinion and hope that you will not extend the reporting period to just twice a year. Thank you.

Sent from my iPhone

Linda Shields — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Linda Shields Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Continue with quarterly reports. I have a right to that information.

Linda Shields M.S.N.
Family Nurse Practitioner
Aurora Advanced Healthcare

Linea Anthony — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Linea Anthony Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 NO MORE CORRUPTION
WE DEMAND TRANSPARENCY

Lisa Chibis — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa Chibis Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 If you want my hard earned investment money, I need immediate transparency. Without shareholders, you are nothing.

Lisa K Wyatt, Producer, Member of the Television Academy — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Lisa K Wyatt Letting problems go unreported for six months seems like a bad idea. It's not a global standard. It hasn't worked well in the places that tried it, and many are considering reverting to quarterly reporting. The companies still have to keep their books, so it's not a big savings to report semi-annually. I've been investing for decades in the hopes that I would actually get to retire at some point and would appreciate you refraining from tanking my nest egg completely unnecessarily. The insiders will still know what's going on and will shed stocks ahead of reporting deadlines on the unsuspecting public. Semi-annual reporting gives extra time for fraud to fester. The government is supposed to work for the people, not just the billionaires. The SEC is supposed to protect the public. So do that. Scrap this plan before you do irreparable harm to individual investors.

Lisa Marcella — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lisa Marcella Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 There is enough corruption on Wallstreet and in Washington. We need more disclosure, not less. 2x a year will not be sufficient. The scandals and losses due to shading corporate and political dealings the public has had to endure is too much for this investor. U.S. culture doesn't work on integrity. We need quarterly disclosure to try to hold companies accountable.

Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Lisa O'rrell — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa O'rrell Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 UNREAL The level of corruption during the 2nd @realDonaldTrump, and his Administration @ SEC is UNPRECEDENTED.

Absolutely NO.

Ms. O'rrell
WA State

Sent from my iPhone

Lisa OConnor — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lisa OConnor Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I have benefited and participated in the quarterly reporting for 50 years. The accountability for these reports is crucial to the healthy functioning of our business environment.
Lisa M OConnor, CPA

Lisa Smeraldi — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lisa Smeraldi Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Let's stop repeating the errors of the past. Please stick with quarterly reporting.

Lisa Smeraldi

Lisanne Leeds — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lisanne Leeds Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 We tried this before between 1955 and 1970 and return on investment went down. Right now my 401k is doing quite well. If I were to loose 1/2 my money then my husband and I won't be able to retire in 10 years at age 68. Our retirement money already took a hit during the 2008 financial crisis. It's just now really rebounding to a healthy amount of money. My husband's well paying job was eliminated in 2023 so we lost a year of contributing to his 401k and also social security contributions. We can't afford to lose half of our life savings and 401k retirement. Please leave quarterly reporting alone so that hard working Americans like us don't lose our money we've carefully saved for retirement

Sincerely

Patrica Leeds

Sent from my iPhone

Lita Olbrich — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lita Olbrich Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I'm a shareholder and a financial journalist and a mother and from military family we need to keep transparency it's what made us great and it's belongs to our democracy it belongs to our capitalistic free market system and it’s what led to the great prosperity on Wall Street and throughout all industries of this country

Thank you
Litajo Olbrich
Naples, Fl 34108

Sent from my iPhone

Liz Freeman — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Liz Freeman Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 No no no no! More rape & pillage & grift. I am Liz Freeman, 79, fully registered & active voter & though we are ALL immigrants to North America, my lineage is more anglo-saxon, & my family has been here since early 18th C. Stop the stealing!

---

lnovotny55 — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: lnovotny55 Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Lisa Curenton
Retired
I believe in fostering honesty and transparency and not assisting criminal behavior.

Sent from my Galaxy

Lois Witte — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lois Witte Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Lois witte, retired. I rely on my 401k, and I want to know profit reports every 3 months

Sent from my iPhone

Lonnie Spinozza-Johnson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lonnie Spinozza-Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Lonnie Spinozza-Johnson, retired government employee. Comment: Companies must report regularly. Secrecy leads to immoral and possible illegal actions. Accountability is essential!

Lori Andrews — Jun 8, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lori Andrews Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Lori Andrews, retired accountant. I depend on quarterly reporting to make financial decisions. I don't see the need to drop the reporting to six months except I think it would be easier for people in those companies to "get out while the getting is good ". They would have information earlier than the rest of us and that gives them an advantage.

Lorie Schaefer — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lorie Schaefer Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Why would anyone want less information from the SEC on these matters. What is the agenda here? I will join any class action that is taken against this move.

Sent from my iPhone

Lorna Moritz — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lorna Moritz Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please keep reporting on 401Ks etc quarterly. Semi annual is not enough time to make up for losses. Also to make sure that the company is accurately managing the fund.

Lorna Moritz

---

louann kindlund — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: louann kindlund Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I'm 69 years old. I have only what I have. I live on social security and am trying not to draw from my IRA until I'm 72! It's not a fortune but I'm trying to let it grow as much as I can. I challenge any of you to make ends meet with what I have! Keep It Quarterly!

Lou Elliott Kindlund

---

louise clara — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: louise clara Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 The SEC needs to continue to report its activities at least every three months. The country is already suffering damages from governmental lying, hiding, and hurting people in this country. As a retired nurse practitioner, dependent upon my investments, I want clarity, not obfuscation. Louise Clara

Sent from my iPad

Louise Phetteplace — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Louise Phetteplace Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please continue quarterly reporting requirements for Companies in the stock market. I read my reports just like I read my children's report cards which were quarterly reports. It's human nature to slack off on the important things that affect all of us. Don't let them be lazy, please keep the reports coming in a timely fashion that shows real responsibility.

Love and Peace,
Louise

Lydia Kading — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lydia Kading Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 STOP BEING SHADY, WORTHLESS LEECHES. BILLIONAIRES SHOULDNT EXIST. GREEDY PIECES OF TRASH. HISTORY WILL NOT LOOK KINDLY UPON YOUR WICKED SOULS.

---

lynda barber — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: lynda barber Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Hello: I am a retired woman who lives off of my savings, most of which is tied up in an IRA. It is vital to get timely reporting from all companies. In this fast changing world, market shifts can occur without warning, especially when execs are hiding bad news. Please keep existing reporting requirements. Lynda Barber, MBA University of Chicago

---

Lynda Hough-Bryant — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynda Hough-Bryant Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Investors REQUIRE current information to make future decisions. Less information equal less SECURITY!!!

Lynda Hough-Bryant

Lynn Cook — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynn Cook Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I am urging the SEC to keep in place quarterly filings in order to protect the investing public’s interest,-my interest in timely financial information. Quarterly filings shorten the window that helps prevent opacity in financial disclosures. Please stop corporate interest over the needs of everyday individuals.

Thanks for taking time to consider my opinion.

Lynn Cook
Bookkeeper

Sent from my iPhone

Lynn DeBroeck — Jun 8, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynn DeBroeck Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This rule does nothing but harm the consumer who is left in the dark about corporate dealings and leaves us all vulnerable to fraud and the whims of corporations who care more about paying CEOs than helping people.

Sent from my iPhone

Lynn Hannblom — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Lynn Hannblom Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep company financial reports quarterly! I worked hard for many years and saved a little for retirement. As a retiree, I can barely make ends meet each month. Semi-annual reporting would cause lower returns and no regular retiree can afford that. Everything is so expensive right now. This would cause us to have to decide between paying for electricity, or medication. Please don’t make this change. Thank you for listening.

Lynn, northern CA, retired and broke already.

Lynn

Lynn Neff — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynn Neff Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I'm a retired widow, my husband passed four years ago. My retirement account is invaluable to me and I need every opportunity to manage it as best I can. That means I need to be extremely well informed and up to date. Something that receiving information at 6 month intervals is not going to allow me to do. I am strongly against this change and the blatant move to put people like me at a disadvantage. We are already being severely challenge under this administration, we don't need yet another callenge

---

Lynne Abt — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynne Abt Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Do not allow this change. Why are you all trying to ruin our finances and allow this gap of time to allow serious discrepancies. Lynne Abt

Sent from my iPhone

Lynne Rush — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynne Rush Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please keep financial quarterly reporting as it currently stands. I rely on quarterly information to make informed financial decisions with my investments. Longer gaps between reports creates unfair advantages for corporate insiders. Six months between reports makes me blind to possible issues that I may want to address sooner.

Lynne Rush

Lynnie Harding — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Lynnie Harding Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Hello, I have been actively involved in the stock market throughout my working life, the last 40 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies comprising my 403B and 401K stock portfolios. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges. Transparency helps maintain trust in the system and trust in those keeping the score.
Thank you.

Sent from my iPad

M Barkan — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: M Barkan Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Investing is dependent on information. Smarter investing requires ever more information. Reducing the flow of information increases the risk assumed by the investor. Too many unknowns may very well result in fewer people willing to put their money at risk; cancel "may very well" and replace with "defintely would". At today's valuations a surprise announcement delayed by five months will likely cost the marketplace many billions of dollars. I favor at least keeping quarterly reporting and perhaps expanding it to every 90 days if not monthly. Let us bring back the concept that open books - a.k.a. sunlight - is the best disinfectant. Knowledge is power.

M BS — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: M BS Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Macha Bennet-Shephard, Special Ed Assistant for LAUSD; this matters to me because I already have the cards stacked against me- I make very little money and will be retiring in 4 years. I can't afford to have what little I have, taken away from me.

We require transparency in our government. The fact that privatization of that governance via corporate, private entities, funded with our tax dollars allows for theft and looting-- stock market manipulation to occur that citizens have no knowledge of until it's too late. This rule will put pension plans in jeopardy, as well as small investors, and lacks any transparency. In short, it reeks of potential corruption, and is a danger to US citizens. It's a bad rule. We the people say NO.

M Fiorito — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: M Fiorito Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reporting is barely enough. No to Six month reporting!!!!

M Spence — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: M Spence Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep it like it is , the unexpected consequences of changes will hurt the majority of people invested .
I feel the change is consequences of current administration attempt to save money

. At the cost of the we the people .
Thank you .
Mark Lee Spence

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

M. O'Connor — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: M. O'Connor Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I advise to keep all financial information transparent and readily available to the public. Otherwise you are a public enemy. People finally understand there should be no mercy for our enemies.

MacKenzie Tervol — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: MacKenzie Tervol Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I can't afford to give another dime to billionaires. I can't afford to give another dime to giant corporations. Do not allow them to play fast and loose with our money. Do not allow them to create slush funds. And please investigate the president I'm pretty sure that slush fund is against the law he's in violation of dozens of federal laws and people need to stop looking the other way.

---

maddie teller-kook — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: maddie teller-kook Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I want the SEC to continue quarterly reports. Changing this to every 6 months will keep critical information from investors. A lot can occur in 90 days. I am retired and need those reports to make educated financial decisions.

Madelyn Teller-Kook, Pharm.D.
Austin, Texas

Sent from my iPad

Madeleine Sutherland — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Madeleine Sutherland Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Madeleine, I have a PhD in chemistry, and I’m an aspiring research software engineer. I plan to start a business with tools I am developing. I don’t think businesses should be able to keep secrets for six months, because unfortunately people are more likely to be dishonest the more incentive they have to do so. I grew up in the LDS Church and SEC filings are part of how we have found out the institutional church lies to its tithe-paying members, which is a very serious issue. Universities that run on endowments also have to explain what they pay their top executives because of SEC filing requirements. When I start a tech collective, I don’t want to be playing in a field where other companies can have a secret executive for three months and nobody ever finds out… that feels unfair and counter productive.

Sent from my iPhone

Maisha G — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maisha G Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Maisha Gilyard, private citizen: I may not always read the quarterly reports, but when I do, it is because I need to plan my finances with the most up-to-date info. Do NOT report less frequently!

Manh La — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Manh La Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Leave the 10-Q alone

---

Maralyn Wilchynski — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maralyn Wilchynski Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Stop this! Companies must report their quarterly earnings. We have a right as investors to know what is going on.
Maralyn Wilchynski
Ret. Captain American Airlines

Sent from my iPhone

Marcia Gannon — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marcia Gannon Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Retired and I watch the quarterly reports closely. Keep them!

Retired and I watch quarterlies carefully. Keep them!

Marcie Jones — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marcie Jones Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reports means more transparency and accountability. Don’t modify this.

Marcie Jones
Employee
Newton, KS

Sent from my iPhone

Marcus McMiller — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marcus McMiller Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 It is important that we have transparency in the market. Allowing firms to report every 6 months is plain not smart. Let’s be smart.

Get Outlook for iOS

Margaret Ann Michels — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Margaret Ann Michels Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Do not let companies hide their finances for 6 months at a time. Three months is already too long. If they enjoy the benefits of being publicly traded, they should have to keep the public informed.

Margaret Ann Michels

Margaret Ann Niven — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Margaret Ann Niven Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Margaret Ann Niven Retired librarian Transparency is always the best policy.

Margaret Doiron — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Margaret Doiron Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Margaret Doiron Retired

To the SEC:

Public companies need to remain accountable -keep reporting requirements at quarterly. We already have too many companies flaunting or ignoring rules and cheating their investors. Don’t make things easier!

Regards,
M G Doiron

Margaret Hyder — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Margaret Hyder Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Margaret Hyder, I would like to continue to see company financials quarterly, at a minimum.

Margaret Sully — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Margaret Sully Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 No of course this administration wants us to psy for earthing so the rich dont have. Its a HARD NO!

Margaret Sully

Margaret Sully — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 From: Margaret Sully Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep it transparent , they 've made it clear they cannot be trusted !

Margaret Sully

Margaret Temple — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Margaret Temple I, for one, prefer more transparency. If my money is tied up with a company‘s stock, I want to know as often as possible how that company is faring financially. Please stop rolling back important rules and guardrails for big business. Thank you for your time .

Margo Alderson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Margo Alderson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Transparency is the most significant issue when it comes to investments. We don't need LESS transparency, we need MORE! It has become pretty clear that the lack of oversight and transparency has already done harm to ordinary citizens trying to navigate current economic situations. It should be the goal of the SEC to protect ALL investors, not make their attempts to advance even more difficult!

Sent via the Samsung Galaxy S10, an AT&T 5G Evolution capable smartphone
Get Outlook for Android

Marguerite Matera — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: SEC proposed rule change From: Marguerite Matera Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Marguerite Matera
Investor
I object to this proposed rule change to require reports at 6-month intervals (instead of the current 3-month intervals) because for the last 30+ years I and other workers in the USA have been responsible for saving for and growing my own pension. To take care of myself in my retirement years. I am accepting that obligation so that I can contribute to the economic health of the USA. In order to do that I require current information about the companies whose stocks make up my IRA. The existing SEC quarterly report requirement is essential so that I am informed about companies that form the basis of my future income. For my financial needs and the needs of all those similarly situated the SEC should keep and enforce the quarterly report requirement.

Maria Lemons — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maria Lemons Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I am Maria when I was young I use to watch the markets and help my mother's friends with suggestions to invest me being able to research constantly helped them invest and improve their portfolio. This sounds like another way to screw the investor ,for the top people in these companies to get massive amount of money. Being transparent is not an option when it comes to investments.

Marian Morris — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marian Morris Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep the reporting QUARTERLY!!! If businesses cannot handle it quarterly then maybe they ought to get the hell out of business!

If the SEC actually had real balls, they would be making it more difficult instead of easier!

Marianne Bosshart — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marianne Bosshart Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY. STOP THE GRIFT.

---

marie coz — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: marie coz Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This is ILLEGAL, UNFAIR AMD PURE THIEVERY

Sent from my iPad

Marie Peacock — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marie Peacock Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please keep the quarterly reports. They are essential.

Marietta LaBauve — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marietta LaBauve Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This is bad!! Stop it!!

Marijean Snowden — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marijean Snowden Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Six months is way too long cause things can go really downhill before we could show proof of it happening n change course.

Sent from my iPhone

Marilyn Whitesides — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Marilyn Whitesides Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 It seems obvious that quarterly reporting is advantageous.

Sent from my iPhone

---

marilyn zickrick — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: marilyn zickrick Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reporting is more important than ever, especially now with more insider trading violations.

Marisa De Hazes — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Marisa De Hazes Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I am a retired teacher depending on my hard earned savings in one of the costliest places to live in Sunnyvale, Ca. With many economists in the family our understanding is that this action could be devastating to many, and history bears this out. Do the right thing and leave reports quarterly so we can react accordingly and in a timely manner-we are not all billionaires who don't need to keep an eye on our life savings!

-Marisa De Hazes

Marjorie Hamilton — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marjorie Hamilton Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Don't change what ain't broke. It's not like it will save labor… As a bookkeeper this will double my work . Please

Sent from my iPhone

Mark Anderson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Anderson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reporting protects the investors. There is already too many companies operating without full disclosure. This is important for all investors, as well as for our market's standings in the world arena. It's simply a bad idea that only benefits the companies, not their investors. The SEC exists to provide stability to our markets, not to make malfeasance easier to hide.

Mark arrowood — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark arrowood Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I count on quarterly reports to meter my investments. If anything, monthly reports would be better

Sent from my iPhone

Mark Bray — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Bray Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I am a self employed occupational therapist and I believe it's very important to be able to have this information every quarter as a way to continue helping me towards retirement and other financial goals.

Sent from my I Phone
Shelley D. Bray

Mark Hein — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Hein Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 The right to do business is a public trust.
In the electronic age, daily reporting is easily possible.
Reducing transparency only serves the oligarchs.
--Mark Hein
Citizen Investor
Topanga, CA

Mark Riley — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Riley Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 08 June 2026
Ladies and gentlemen: "Sunlight is the best disinfectant". This applies to business as much as it does to human health. Investors who are not insiders will not blindly put their money into companies whose fiscal health they can only guess at; they have the right to know whether their chosen company is doing dirty deals to gain contracts or market share. Quarterly reporting is the only way investors won't get taken to the cleaners when insiders are allowed to cover up malfeasance in six-month spans.
Mark W. Riley
Little Rock, AR

Mark Scheman — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mark Scheman Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I depend on the quarterly reports for my investments. Please keep these.

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

Marsha Kwong — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: New SEC proposal for 6 mo financial reporting From: Marsha Kwong Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I am Marsha Kwong, and it is a priority for me that I be able to track the state of the companies I invest in on an ongoing basis. Too much can happen in the span of six months, and this is something that is too risky when it comes to my finances. Please do not consider this.

Regards,
Marsha Kwong

Marsha Swartz — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Marsha Swartz Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Things need to be transparent. Since Trump I feel everything is being hidden. I'm a retired nurse who worked hard for my savings.

Sent from my iPad

Martin Reynolds — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Martin Reynolds Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 No, stop this bill. There is no need to cut quqrterly reporting.

Marty Hansen — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marty Hansen Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This makes no good sense at a ll. Please dk not let this be inacted Marty Hansen

---

Marty Theresa Kleinbeiner — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marty Theresa Kleinbeiner Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Transparency builds trust! No hiding!!

Marty Williams — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marty Williams Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This is a big NO. Bad for all investors and bad for the public in general.

M. Williams

Sent from my iPad

Mary Clabo — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Clabo Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Stand up to the rich and for the American people!!

Mary Coelho — Jun 8, 2026

Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Coelho Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Stop changing laws/ rules to help the rich take more from the regular people!

Sent from my iPhone

Mary Kaufman — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Kaufman Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 It is literally your job to protect investors. The decision to make reports semi -annual is NOT in the best interest of everyday investors, and likely will create a negative financial impact on them. Do your job, and keep the reports quarterly!

Mary Kaufman

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Mary Robinson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Robinson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 "It isn't just American history. Look across the world today. The markets that demand quarterly numbers command the richest valuations. The markets that settle for twice a year sit at a discount, right alongside where America sat during its own semi-annual era.

This statement tells me that a low average investor has a more fair opportunity as high stake investors.

Mary Rogers — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Rogers Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I'm Mary, 63 and retired. I want money I have invested over my working career to have the best opportunity to grow and supplement my lifestyle in my last years.

Mary Schmidt — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Schmidt Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Mary Schmidt I'm retired. I disagree with this . There should be transparency. If they have nothing to hide . They should be open . There would be more trust .

Mary Striebich Brown — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mary Striebich Brown Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As a retiree in this volatile economy, I need to keep abreast on my portfolio investments and stay informed with quarterly reports. Keep them coming.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Mary Turner — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mary Turner Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Do NOT switch to quarterly reports. It's 2026, we have the technology to gather and report information quarterly with ease. Investors deserve more information, not less.

---

mary willis — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: mary willis Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 MC Willis - MRI Technologist. I've been investing my hard earned wages into an investing system that I believed would support me through my retirement without being a burden to my country or community. Quarterly reports reinforces my relationship with my investments and doubles as warning signs in a way a 6 mth report cannot. Everything is moving so fast and I feel the need to stay ontop of my financial decisions now more than ever. A quarterly review provides that security - I support maintaining the status quo.

Marylee Yaeger-Pierson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Marylee Yaeger-Pierson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This plan leaves those trying to responsibly save for retirement in the dark. Pensions gone. Social Security is at risk. This leaves many ay risk to make poor planning decisions. MaryLee Yaeger-Pierson nurse case manager mastellone — Jun 8, 2026

---

Subject: Retain quarterly reports From: mastellone Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Being 85 years of age I have watched as Washington—both Partys—have permitted corporate America take greater and greater control of the federal government, graphically putting profits well before the people and the nation. You can draw a line in the sand and say “No more”. End the takeover now. Hold the line on retaining quarterly reports.

Max Mastellone

Get BlueMail for Mobile

Matt — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Matt Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I’m Matt. I work as an electrical engineer from Michigan, pretty early into my career. I rely on appropriate transparency from companies in order to ensure my retirement money is invested safely and where I want it. Too many companies already get away with pumping their valuations on hype with no real substance. Giving them more leeway to avoid public scrutiny over their financials is just going to make it easier for large companies to take advantage of us to leverage their stock prices for the wealthy, while we all lose out

---

Matthew Heimberg — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Matthew Heimberg Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I do not think it's a good idea to make these changes to the existing law. It seems like it would help fraud and scam artists to hide information. Please keep the reporting frequency as it is.

Sent from AT&T Yahoo Mail on Android

Matthew Heimberg — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Matthew Heimberg Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I do not think it's a good idea to make these changes to the existing law. It seems like it would help fraud and scam artists to hide information. Please keep this reporting at its current frequency.

Maureen Drdak — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maureen Drdak Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I have been involved in the stock market throughout the my last 50 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Maureen Drdak
Visual Artist/ Product Designer

Maureen Pescaia — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Maureen Pescaia Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 No! Stop penalizing the middle & working classes! 😡 We see what you're trying to do to us.
Maureen Pescaia

Get Outlook for iOS

Maureen Sabo — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maureen Sabo Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Horrible idea for the consumers confidence! Please reconsider this rule before people lose confidence in USA companies and pull their investments

---

Maureen Thomas — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Maureen Thomas Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My portfolio is mostly individual stocks. Quarterly reporting is essential for the non insider owners of companies.

They have an absolute right to this information. I served an inside and outside corporate counsel for several public companies. Good companies that are well run have no problem providing quarterly information to their shareholders. All this does is help the bad ones hide information to benefit the executives at the expense of their shareholders. I'm sick of Trump's administration changing laws to benefit his fat cat friends. This will be immediately undone when the Democrats take over and will just cost companies more when they have to go back to quarterly report. Stop with your std ideas.

Sent from my iPhone

Mavis Rhoades — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mavis Rhoades Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Transparency is crucial. Our lives depend on up to date information, and the health of the economy. What is the reason to change quarterly reporting? Just another way corporations will cheat their way out paying their fair share in taxes, wages etc. It leaves the common person at a constant disadvantage, with every decision benefiting corporations and mega wealthy.

I'm a 65. Everyday is a struggle to stay positive and believe (which I don't) that we live in a country that cares about its citizens, the PEOPLE. Real PEOPLE. Who are being crushed by a corrupt and greedy government who've turned its back on us but gives every advantage to corporations and the wealthy. It has not only turned its back, it's breaking us.
Our government is keeping everyone uninformed, fearful, and has become a criminal enterprise, and this is just another way cheat and reap all the benefits of our labor and leave us slaves.

I'm ashamed of our government and its embrace and encouragement of corruption.

We need transparency to survive.

Do not change the SEC quarterly reporting!

Mavis Rhoades

Mavis
Sent from my iPhone

MCDP Maury County Democratic Party — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: MCDP Maury County Democratic Party Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Dear Commissioners,

I have a Fidelity 403b account through my employer, Vanderbilt Health. It is invested in several stock funds.

I believe it is bad for all investors to have less transparency for corporations. Even for passive investors such as myself, less accurate data harms us because it harms the market overall, by reducing the amount of information available to the public (which paradoxically increases the value of insider information, thus incentivizing insider trading).

Please do not change reporting rules.

Thank you,

James Dallas

Megan Gibbard — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Megan Gibbard Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Megan Gibbard, RT(R). We need accountability. The people cannot afford to be robbed by corporations anymore.

Megan Hall — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Megan Hall Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 What are you trying to hide? We know you're all corrupt.

Sent from my iPhone

Melanie Wagner — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melanie Wagner Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Proposal S7-2026-15 will ultimately only benefit "insiders". This proposal will prove devastating for individual investors. The SEC has a three-part mission: to protect investors; maintain fair, orderly, and efficient markets; and facilitate capital formation. This proposal goes completely AGAINST the first two mission statements. The fact this was even proposed to begin with should be investigated. If this proposal is passed, the SEC should expect large costs due to inevitable court challenges. It's plainly obvious who will benefit from this proposal and it's not individual investors.

Melanie Wagner
President

Melissa Davidson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Melissa Davidson Quarterly reporting is essential to financial decision making, and therefore the financial health of my family, and everyone's.

Melissa Robins — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Melissa Robins Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please decide to protect my investment that I depend on. Choose what is best to protect rather than choose risk.
Thank you,
Melissa Robins

Memorandum from the Division of Corporation Finance and Office of the Chief Accountant regarding a June 8, 2026 meeting with Representatives of the Institute of Management Accountants Financial Reporting Committee — Jun 8, 2026
MEMORANDUM

To: File No. S7-2026-15
From: Division of Corporation Finance and Office of the Chief Accountant
Re: Meeting with Institute of Management Accountants Financial Reporting Committee
Date: June 8, 2026
On June 8, 2026, staff from the Division of Corporation Finance (Heather Rosenberger and Melissa Raminpour) and Office of the Chief Accountant (Taylor Pross, Gaurav Hiranandani and Virgina Fritz) met with representatives of the Institute of Management Accountants Financial Reporting Committee (Brian Stevens, Christin Calaway, Danielle Fontaine, Mark LaMonte, Michele Clarkson, Rita Dhir, Brad Smith, Aleks Zabreyko, Alison Spivey, Carla Nunes, Eric West, Marc Siegel, Alex Eng, Kristin Bauer, Brandon Coleman, Kirk Silva, John Stewert, Jeff Ellis, and Angela Fergason) to discuss, among other things, the proposed rulemaking Semiannual Reporting (Release Nos. 33-11414; 34-105368; 39-2563; IC-36140; File No. S7-2026-15).

Merlene Smith — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Merlene Smith Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 KEEP IT QUARTERLY!!

Sent from my iPhone

Merlene Smith — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: KEEP IT QUARTERLY! From: Merlene Smith Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Sent from my iPhone

---

Merry Cameron — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Merry Cameron Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please do not change the quarterly reporting. This information is essential for individual investors who depend on truthful news to invest

Sent from my iPhone

Michael — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reports are important!

Michael Broderick, Retired citizen — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Michael Broderick The current rules on disclosure have been in place for many years and are not oppressive. Relaxing them harms the public. Relaxing them harms companies that seek to do the full and honest disclosure that they are supposed to do. The only beneficiaries of relaxing requirements as proposed in this change are companies that wish to hide or an obfuscate negative information that is critical for investors to know. It is shameful and to the agency's discredit that this rulemaking has reached this point. It should be withdrawn and no part of it reintroduced.

Michael Carey — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Carey Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Do not change the reporting procedures.

Get Outlook for iOS

Michael DiMartino — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michael DiMartino Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Why fix something not broken? I am against this action. Transparency has been our sucess. Why mess with it?

---

michael donahoo — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: michael donahoo Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Many retail investors deal with tight finacials which require more information updates in shorter times. This is clearly a way to advantage the big boys. And we have enough of that.

M Donahoo
Filmmaker

Michael Fleming — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Fleming Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 NO, no and no😡

Michael Frith — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Frith Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Hello

My investments plus my social security — I hope — will keep my wife and I afloat.
Losing control of the big variable (shares) by having to wait six months to see if a covered-up event is going to have a impact on my holdings, would put me in a precarious position.
If this change is enacted I will have to join the stampede to get out of the market and find less unpredictable investments.

Michael Frith, retiree

Sent from my iPad

Michael Garrett — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Garrett Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This is absolutely ridicules. As a product manager I have worked for many startup software companies. You need to protect both employees and investors. This is absolutely insane. This will benefit the wealthy minority and hurt the majority of the public.

Michael Garrett — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Garrett Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This is absolutely ridiculous. As a product manager I have worked for many startup software companies. You need to protect both employees and investors. This is absolutely insane. This will benefit the wealthy minority and hurt the majority of the public.

Michael Gonos — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Gonos Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 There is no reason for this change. It can only benefit the crooked. It will not only encourage bad actors, but damage our economy as whole because of declining confidence in business institutions. Stop!

Michael Gonos
Seattle, WA

Michael Hall — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michael Hall Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Please leave the reporting requirements as they are, on a quarterly basis. Less accountability is not a good thing for the public and there is evidence for that.

Michael Hall
Bookkeeper

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Michael Halloran — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michael Halloran Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Don't do it!!!

Mike Halloran

Michael Hassall — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michael Hassall Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Michael Hassall, retired, Gainesville, Fl.

Changing the reporting requirements for publicly traded corporations will deprive me of the ability to properly evaluate my portfolio. It will result in increased financial risk and the anxiety that comes with it.

It is a foolish idea.

Michael Huber — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Huber Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 To Whom it May Concern at the SEC, I'm a retired Ohio & US citizen depending on my meager savings , pension and SSI. THIS PROPOSED RULE CHANGE from Quarterly to biannual is a disaster in the making for the American Public the Common Citizens. Thank You, for your consideration of this matter, Michael P Huber

---

Michael Kissi — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michael Kissi Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Michael Kissi, software engineer. Public companies already make it difficult to decipher their health through opaque accounting methods. Allowing them to only share information twice a year would mean even more ways for companies to hide their health. This would make it harder for investors to make informed decisions on where to invest their money. It is an extremely bad idea with no benefits to the investor.

Michael Mills — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Mills Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This " cloking opportunity" must not be allowed - history reminds us that too much darkness allows wrong-doing and, yes, possible criminality.
"Trust, but Verify" is still good advice.

Michael Milne — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Milne Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As retired healthcare workers, my wife and I rely on trusted and timely information to manage our pension choices and make prudent decisions. Quarterly reporting is the gold standard. Delayed information results in worse outcomes, in any setting.

Michael O'Brien — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michael O'Brien Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 The more transparency the better. We need more information, not less. But, of course, less transparency allows for mor corruption, and more insider trading from a kleptocratic administration and its friends.

Mike O'Brien
Citrus Heights CA
retired and invested in mutual funds for that retirement

Sent from my iPad

Michael Sparks — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Sparks Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Keep the accountability! Don’t change the rules!

Sent from my iPhone

Michael Spencer — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Spencer Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 More nefarious maneuvers, by a regulatory body that supposedly protects investors, to allow companies to hide malfeasance.
If they have nothing to hide...

Regards
Michael Spencer

Michael Wilson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michael Wilson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Remember Enron? WorldCom? Madoff? The run-up to 2008?

Every major modern accounting scandal was enabled by gaps and opacity in financial disclosure. Quarterly filings don't prevent fraud, but they dramatically shorten the window in which it can fester before someone outside the company can see it. What if Enron only had to cook their books twice a year? Semi-annual SEC disclosure harms everyone, except for those trying to get away with fraud. Quarterly reports are highly informative, especially for small investors who care about what companies of all sizes do with their money. Without them investors of all sizes fly blind, and allow the grifters, fraudsters, and con artists that try and manipulate the system room to get away with bilking us.

Michael Wilson, Private Investor, former Day Trader

Michele Frank — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michele Frank Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Soon to be retired psychologist, NYC, why this matters. If SEC’s motive is to use silence as a form of economic and political control, you are right in step with the tech giants.

What else will you employ thereafter? End FDIC as we know it? It’s rampant greed, disturbingly familiar to all. 1928 could be around the corner, but not for Thee. Exploit America for gain, karma could follow you, too.

Sent from my iPad

Michele Mercer — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michele Mercer Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I have been actively involved in the stock market for more than 30 years. I very much appreciate and value the quarterly reports of the companies that comprise my retirement stock portfolio. I respectfully request that quarterly reports remain for those companies that are a part of the various U.S. Stock Exchanges.

Michelle H Boyd, Division Accounting Manager Fortune 250 company — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: File No. S7-2026-15 From: Michelle H Boyd Keep the reporting quarterly. It’s been a while since we have had an Enron level financial mid-statement Don’t create an opportunity especially when the economy is bad and the temptation is huge.

Michelle Merritt — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Michelle Merritt Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 We the people, at least the intelligent people, do NOT want to go backwards in our country. Stop protecting the main p3dle and traitor in the WH! We need to have fair and honest reporting in investments and in the news.

Michelle “Dovefree” Gumm — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Michelle “Dovefree” Gumm Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reports as currently required should remain the law.

Sent from my iPhone

Mick J Johnson — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mick J Johnson Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Hi there my name is Mick Michael Johnson, semi retired. I tried to invest in SpaceX thru Nasdac Private Investing (Second Market) and was told I was not approved as a accredited investor. I have a net value over $1,000,000 . I asked them thru text how they determine acredibility if it was thu 506(b) or 506(c) and they haven't responded in three days. They inform customers that they always respond within 2 days I meet 506(c) criteria. I'm not sure what I can do next to get approved barring giving them my personal/ finance info which I'd rather not can you help please and thank you for your time...
Mick J.

Mick J

Micki Skrip — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Micki Skrip Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Michelle Skrip, small biz owner, qualified retirement plans. There is more reason than ever to fight corruption, & reducing transparency is criminal. People are hurting, & have been for decades. I see over & over people work their entire lives for minimal pay, are forced to withdraw from their 401k plans to live, & end up retiring in their 80s with $1,500 to their name (before processing fees). That's cruelty against humans for corporate gain. Why despise hardworking people to build wealth for obscenely rich billionaire narcissists? Will you have some sort of breathing & water machines when it all collapses, because those billionaire "job creators" aren't inviting you into their bunkers or phallic rockets. Do what's right for humanity, we need you.

Mike Burrowes — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Burrowes Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 What in the he are you guys trying to cover up. Let the Quarterly reporting remain as is.

Sent from my iPad

Mike DeLong — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike DeLong Affiliation: Jun. 8, 2026 Michael DeLong Manufacturing Manager
My 401k and investments are already too much at the mercy of people whom I have to put my trust in to make sure I can retire. To make the reporting structure of the companies my retirement is invested in have less transparency is not good for me or anyone else working to provide goods and services to the American people. Keep the quarterly reporting for the betterment of the rest of us, not for the benefit of those who are already well off enough to not be hurt by the change.

Mike Mashman — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: Comment on S7-2026-15 From: Mike Mashman Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Mike Mashman IT Professional - quarterly earnings will deter fraud, and will encourage more accountability with public companies. The financial landscape changes rapidly, and sometimes environment, international pressure, and current administration will determine market swings.

Mike Russo — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Russo Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Quarterly reporting is the appropriate time frame for accountability. Resist the change.

Sent from my iPhone

Mike Sheridan — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Sheridan Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 The proposed reporting change is anti-investor, anti-consumer, and quite plainly anti-American. Stop it!

Mike Sheridan
Manitowoc,WI

Mike Wood — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mike Wood Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Not a good idea to illuminate potential scrutiny.

Sent from my iPhone

Miles Hawthorne — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Miles Hawthorne Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 A six month reporting period doesn't provide investors enough oversight of the company and doesn't give potential investors enough information to perform due diligence research before investing. There is no legitimate reason to deviate from what has been the standard for business accounting for decades, only illegitimate reasons.

Mindy Birdwell — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mindy Birdwell Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 This is a disgrace to the American people. These companies, corporations need more oversight not less. Why would you even consider changing the rules during such a disturbing time?

Sent from my iPhone

---

mindy pickard — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: mindy pickard Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I am an acupuncturist and I believe in full disclosure. Quarterly reporting keeps companies more honest, making it more fair for us little guys.

Mindy Pickard, MS, LAc, Principal
Pronouns: She/her/hers

Misti Fillingame — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Misti Fillingame Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Your whole purpose is visibility and accountability. You work for the taxpayer. Leave the quarterly reports intact.

Mollie Testani — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mollie Testani Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 My name is Mollie and I am a retired para-educator. Quarterly reports matter in the decisions I make to safeguard my money. Those with insider info would have an unjust advantage and companies could hide info. Quarterly reports should not be eliminated.

Get Outlook for Android

Monica Dechering — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Monica Dechering Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Hi, my name is Monica Dechering, a retiree with a 401 k plan and other investments. I think biannual reporting is a bad idea because I need the quarterly information to make good investment decisions. Twice a year reporting gives insiders unfair advantages. This biannual reprting that is being touted as the new normal inother places in the wirld, is being walked back in the places it was tried. Please do not adopt this as the new standard.
Thank you,
Monica Dechering

Mutatis — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Mutatis Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 I am writing to express strong opposition to any rulemaking that would reduce the frequency of mandatory periodic reporting for U.S. public companies. Quarterly reporting is a foundational element of U.S. capital-market integrity, and weakening it would materially harm investors, impair price discovery, and increase the information advantage of insiders over the public.

1. Quarterly reporting is essential for market efficiency and investor protection
Academic research — including surveys of leading economists from the University of Chicago Booth IGM Panel — consistently finds that less frequent disclosure widens information gaps between management and outside investors. Several panelists noted that eliminating quarterly reports would increase the ability of insiders to trade on non-public information and reduce the ability of markets to discipline poor performance.

Quarterly reporting is not a bureaucratic burden; it is a core safeguard that ensures investors receive timely, certified financial information.

2. Annual and bi-annual reporting is far too infrequent for modern capital markets

Markets today operate on real-time information. Moving to annual or bi-annual reporting would create long periods during which investors have no verified financial data. As Nobel laureate Bengt Holmström noted in the IGM survey, “one year is far too infrequent for well-functioning markets.” This view reflects a broad consensus among economists that transparency must match the speed and complexity of today’s markets.

3. Reducing reporting frequency increases the risk of mispricing, volatility, and fraud

Quarterly reporting provides regular checkpoints that limit the accumulation of undisclosed risks. Without these checkpoints:

Management could delay revealing operational or financial deterioration.

Investors would face greater uncertainty, leading to higher volatility and wider bid-ask spreads.

The probability of fraud or earnings manipulation increases when oversight intervals lengthen.

The SEC's mandate is to protect investors and maintain fair, orderly, and efficient markets. Reducing reporting frequency would undermine all three objectives.

4. Claims that quarterly reporting causes "short-termism" are not supported by evidence

Empirical studies show that short-termism is driven primarily by compensation design and market incentives, not by the existence of quarterly reports. Moreover, quarterly reporting reduces short-termism by forcing management to confront operational realities regularly rather than allowing problems to compound over a full year.

If the Commission wishes to address short-term pressures, targeted reforms to executive compensation or guidance practices would be far more effective than reducing transparency.

5. The U.S. should not weaken its disclosure regime relative to global competitors

The strength of U.S. capital markets rests on transparency and investor confidence. Reducing reporting frequency would move the U.S. in the opposite direction of global best practices and could erode the competitive advantage that has historically attracted capital to American markets.

Conclusion
Quarterly reporting is a critical pillar of market integrity. Reducing the frequency of required disclosures would harm investors, impair price discovery, and increase systemic risk. I urge the Commission to maintain — and where appropriate, strengthen — quarterly reporting obligations rather than weaken them.

Thank you for considering this comment.

Sincerely,
Miguel A. Schmidt
CAO

Nadin Merali — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nadin Merali Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 We need to keep companies reporting quarterly. If you want to reduce this, it should be for smaller companies not large corps that can easily do this and we cannot afford for them not to.

Thanks,

Nadin

NanaNan — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: NanaNan Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 As a retired person with investments that I depend on to survive financially, I think that quarterly reports reasonable and necessary for investors. If I was using someone else's money I would expect to report to them at least quarterly. There is too much that can change in six months to not receive quarterly reports.

Nancy Pierce

Nancy — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Do not make it easier for big companies to make us pay more and for them to be manipulating the stock market.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Nancy — Jun 8, 2026
Subject: S7-2026-15 Comment From: Nancy Affiliation: Jun. 08, 2026 Do not make it easier for big companies to make us pay more and for them to be manipulating the stock market.

Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

